

SULLIVAN ENDORSES NEW HIGH SCHOOL

AN EDITORIAL

"We Knew The Figures Were False"

"We knew the figures were false, but we figured it was one way of smoking out the Board of Education to give us the facts."

The quotation is from the lips of President of the Citizens Tax Council, The place, Parrillo's Restaurant, Harrison Street, Belleville. The day, Tuesday, August 8th. The time — 12:45 p.m. The occasion — a special meeting of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce's Board of Directors called to listen to both sides of the proposed new school.

The Citizen's Tax Council's spokesman was referring to a circular distributed by the group at the last minute just prior to the last school board election containing two pages of misrepresentations and falsehoods.

There should be a law against this type of campaign tactic.

Up to this moment the Citizen's Tax Council has distributed to our voters two circulars regarding the proposed new high school and in both instances outright falsehoods and misrepresentations were resorted to.

We are told another circular will be distributed by this same group over the weekend — just before Tuesday's new school vote — and too late for responsible authorities to reply.

If the past is any indication of what we may expect this weekend the unsuspecting Belleville voter will be treated to another circular full of falsehoods, misrepresentations, and half-truths.

They should be shown the contempt they deserve. Regardless of the high-sounding motive this group ascribes to its effort, the result is to cheat you of your vote by feeding you misrepresentations and half-truths.

And there may be other sources of misinformation concerning the new school project. In the closing hours of Tuesday's campaign for a new high school, vicious rumors spoken in saloons and unsigned circulars may be given circulation reciting "absolute facts" when they are merely the product of a sick mind or the poisoned slander of the hibel, a thief in the night who would steal your vote by lies. If we hope to attract good citizens to the support of projects to improve "Belleville the Beautiful" we must protect them against such liars who pay no tribute to your intelligence by foisting lies upon you.

Teen Wears Unico Crown

VERY MERRY in a 1901 model Oldsmobile. Miss Belleville Unico, Barbara Racioppi, is ready to ride in the Columbus Day Parade today. With her is Gary X. Martin, master of ceremony of the Belleville contest that she won.

A brown-haired, brown-eyed sixteen-year-old with an enchanting smile will represent Belleville today in the Columbus Day Celebrations.

Barbara Racioppi, a high school junior, was crowned Miss Belleville Unico last Friday afternoon on the steps of Town Hall by Peter S. Coccia, contest chairman, after being selected over six other candidates. The judges were John Kondreck, Eugene Muscara and Peter Paladino. Paladino is sergeant at arms of Unico.

The ceremony was preceded by a parade of the high school band, under the direction of Ned Trautman the twirlers and the cheerleaders.

The other contestants were Maria Ann Sprella, Claire Tortorello, Jacklyn Melius, Nina Pipitone, Mary Jane Richter and Barbara Bailey.

The Miss Belleville Unico is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Racioppi of 341 Main Street. She is a dance enthusiast — especially for rock and roll. She enjoys cheering for Belleville High in football and basketball games and hopes to be a cheerleader. She is also interested in dramatics.

"Barbara was on the high school modeling board at Bamberger's for one year. She wants to be a buyer for a department store."

Gary X. Martin, columnist for the Italian Tribune, was master of ceremony for the contest. Danny Hope, executive director of the celebration committee, Thomas Magliano, co-chairman of the contest and Dick Marchitto, president of Belleville Unico were joined on the grandstand by Arthur Malango of Unico, Mrs. Vin-

Drop Two Charges Made By Tax Group

The Citizens Tax Council refused an invitation to make a statement about the proposed high school for this issue of The Times-News.

Two of the three complaints brought against the Board of Education following a pretrial conference last week in Trenton before Eric Groeninger, assistant state commissioner of education. Max Schwartz, attorney to the board, moved for a dismissal of the remaining charge at the session. Groeninger will rule on the request following receipt of an answer to Schwartz' motion from the Tax Council. The council had charged that the board acted illegally in taking action on public matters in private session.

Schwartz said the board min-

Durkee Rebuts Arguments Made Against School

Objections to the new high school building expressed during a survey by The Times-News of a cross-section of Belleville residents this week are outlined below. A point-by-point reply by Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Superintendent of Schools, is also given for the guidance of voters in next Tuesday's referendum.

"(1) 'If the present building is inadequate, what is going to make it adequate for a junior high school?'

"Answer: The present high school building, without any improvements, will give grades 7 and 8 very much better education than they now get scattered among nine different schools. As the school is used as a junior high school, as proposed in the referendum, improvements — including a much-needed guidance de-

Greco Gives Resignation After 13 Years Service; No Action From Gruhin

THOMAS P. GRECO

Thomas P. Greco, building inspector since 1948, has submitted his resignation, effective Oct. 14, in order to accept a position in private industry.

Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin, in whose department of Public Works Greco is employed, said Tuesday night that if Greco resigned, Daniel A. Valente of 209 Brighton Avenue would act as temporary building inspector until one could be appointed permanently.

Commission Votes To Improve Sewer

The sewerage improvements costing $2,500 authorized by the Town Commission at Tuesday's meeting in the Commission Chambers, will protect 20 homes on Fairway Avenue in the event of power stoppage, according to Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin.

The appropriation provides for the building of a manhole approximately six feet from the existing one on Fairway Avenue north of Overhill Road. The auxiliary manhole would contain a motor to pump sewage in an emergency. This is the only sewer in Belleville not operating by gravitation flow.

In other action, Commissioner George F. Kirman, director of Parks and Public Property voted against an ordinance proposing the purchase of $22,500 worth of equipment for snow removal and street cleaning. The proposal

Board Members Express Views On School Vote

Belleville voters were urged by school board members this week to heed the warning contained in the State Education Department letter on Belleville High School.

School Board President Dominic Lally said that a decisive "yes" vote in the October 17 referendum is the "best" way to save money available to Belleville taxpayers.

"The best bargain for any community is good schools. For a few pennies a day Belleville can have a new high school and

New application forms were forwarded Oct. 1 to those persons who previously filed for the tax year 1961. Applicants who intend to file claims for exemption for

Good Defense Needed To Stop West Side Team

BY ROGER WARTELL

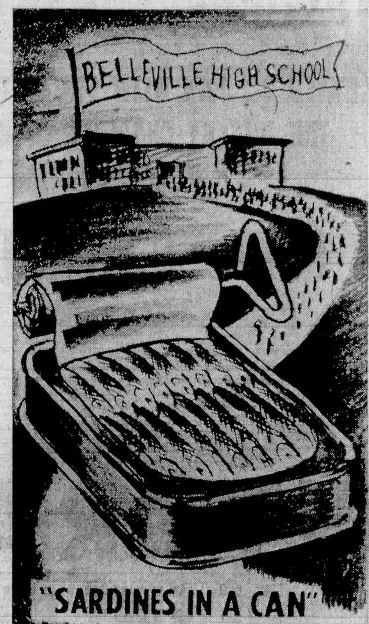

This Saturday, Belleville High's football team will play host to West Side High. Both teams have the identical record of 13-10. Belleville has so far been playing tougher competition. West Side will be led by fullback Anton Pawlowski and will mainly use a ground attack. The Bellbells, after suffering their eighth straight loss to Nutley, will hope to patch up their weaknesses in time for this game.

The loss to Nutley will be more of a mental handicap than a physical one for the Bellbells. How well they are able to do against West Side might determine the outcome of their future games. Belleville's past defenses seemed to suffer more from injuries than had been previously thought. The loss of Vince Sorrentino on the line and Richie Luzzi in the backfield might have made a big difference in holding back Nutley's onrushing line. Al-

Chides Tax Council; Says Belleville Needs Genuine Civic Pride

AN EDITORIAL

"The business education department (in Belleville High School) is unusually crowded, and when one counts the number of typewriters, desks, and occupants in a room, one is REMINDED OF SARDINES IN A CAN."

This is what the Rutgers University experts said on Page 48, paragraph 3 of their 56 page report about one phase of our present high school operation. The observation should make us all feel proud of "Belleville the Beautiful."

For the adults — a shiny new car, a new winter coat, an extra shot of hard liquor or an added can of that sparkling ale, perhaps a new suit or dress, and "maybe we'll buy that new automatic washer-dryer combination for Christmas."

For our high school children — they should be like "sardines in a can."

And what did the Rutgers University experts have to say about our seventh and eighth graders? Just listen a minute — Page 46, paragraph 3. "The most apparent and some of the most critical weaknesses in the Belleville school program are found in grades seven and eight."

"If all the seventh and eighth grade children were brought together in one building, there would be more opportunity for teachers to teach their specialty, thus permitting greater depth in teaching and better preparation for high school. . . with grades seven and eight scattered among eight buildings, it is difficult, if not impossible to group these students for the best type of instruction, instruction according to their needs and their abilities."

Survey Says Students Agree Change Needed At High School

And according to all 50 teenagers who were interviewed at random during school lunch periods on Friday, something must be done to improve conditions at their school.

"If the referendum were left to the student body, it would be passed," said Tom Turro, a junior.

Warns Ostrich Attitude Makes An Empty Town

By HARRY MCGOWAN

Public Safety Director Harry J. Sullivan last night urged Belleville voters to vote "yes" for a new high school in next Tuesday's referendum. His ten-minute talk before a sparsely-attended rally in the high school drew prolonged applause and lived on otherwise quiet meeting.

TOWN HALL 'STIGMA'

Sullivan — the only commissioner to show up at the affair, although all were invited — said that the blessing of Town Hall on any project "usually means the kiss of death, because there's a certain stigma attached to being a politician in this town." He said he was speaking "as a private citizen who was puzzled at the scant turnout."

Optician And Lion Finds Rewards In Both His Jobs

The most difficult prescription of his parents and myself the better part of half an hour to pry him loose from the glasses," Smith recounted this week. The child is now a happy three-year-old whose sight is improving steadily.

Smith opened his first store in Belleville March 15, 1949 at 334 Washington Avenue. He has been at his present address since May 1, 1955. He married the former Margaret Wilson of Belleville, and has a son, William C., Jr. His career in the optical field began with the American Optical Company in Newark. He started work as a messenger boy there in 1924.

FORMER LIONS' PRESIDENT

A former Lions' president in 1955, Smith has been secretary of the group's Camp Roll for ten years. Although he cheerfully admits it's tough to find the time and energy to run a business and his Lions' projects as well, Smith says he finds it worthwhile in many ways.

"For example: You'd be surprised at the number of Belleville kids who salute me with a cheery greeting when they see me on the street," he says appreciatively. He's amused when some of his nine-year-old friends like to point him out to their pals as "the guy who sent me to camp."

Smith is also a former Community Chest chairman in Belleville. His "vices," he claims, are an addiction to a good "stogie" and an inclination to dream about Lions most of the time.

Dental Care For C. P. Children At Local Center

School children attending public school classes at the Cerebral Palsy School and Treatment Center, Sanford Avenue, Belleville, will never have dental problems if Dr. Fred W. Jaker of Maplewood and Dr. Lelloy E. Schiller, South Orange, can prevent them.

When Mrs. Aurora LaGasse, senior elementary school teacher at the Center, scheduled "dental hygiene" as the subject to be covered in the period set aside for "health," the dentists, who perform dental services each Wednesday for the youngsters, offered to instruct the class in proper dental techniques.

Until Dr. Jaker and his colleagues undertook to provide dental treatment, most of the children had not been exposed to it. The fact that many of them have serious neuro-muscular involvement compounds not only the problem of maintaining good oral health, but lacking proper preventive measures, they develop nutritional problems and tooth decay, the same as all other children.

Paul Schmaline

Paul Schmaline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Schmaline of 33 Adelaide Street is undergoing recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The nine-week program of instruction ranges over topics from cold weather training to naval history, and includes military drill, physical fitness and swimming. Schmaline, 18, was graduated from Belleville High School in June 1961.

Greco

Greco's plans until James R. Golden of 62 Tappan Avenue, introduced the subject, demanding that some written statement be made by the Commission recognizing that "Tommy Greco was one of the most conscientious and objective persons." He suggested Greco be appointed to the Planning Board.

Golden insisted that "the records show that Greco was never anything but diligent in his work, even though those who are diligent are never appreciated."

Grubin demanded to know if he forced to accept his resignation with reluctance. He said he wanted to leave the way open for Greco to return if he changed his mind.

Greco, however, has already written a statement to Grubin, dated Oct. 5, about his plans.

In announcing his decision, Greco said, "My position has become quite burdensome without proper assistance. Belleville is the only town that doesn't provide the building inspector with an assistant." He had asked for salary increases, as well as for an assistant. The job of building inspector pays $6,850.

Commissioner Silevnt No mention was made in Tuesday's Commission meeting of Golden were accusing him of contributing cause to Greco's resignation.

Greco said he would leave his job with pride at having contributed to the progress of Belleville. "My only hope," he said, "is that enforcement of the building and zoning codes will be continued in the same manner as was established in my tenure."

Greco was appointed to his job 13 years ago after Civil Service examination. His office was abolished in 1955 by Kenneth D. Smith, then Commissioner of Public Works, with the explanation that it was done for reasons of economy. "Informed sources then, however, said it was done as a political reprisal against Greco, who would not submit to political pressure."

COURT DECISION

The Civil Service Association brought the case to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court, which handed down an order requiring the Commission to reinstate Greco. The court said, "what was done here under the guise of 'economy' was... colorable and illusory, and in essence an evasion of the Civil Service Law." The real objective stands exposed to view—to get petitioner out of his building inspector's position without abiding it or giving him a hearing on charges.

The court pointed out that "One particular incident throws light upon and explains in good measure the strained relations existing between King and Greco. In November 1954, a short time before petitioner was discharged, Belleville held a referendum on the question of adopting a new form of government. The attempt proved unsuccessful. Greco had been in favor of the change; King naturally favored retention of the commission form."

Greco was born and raised in Belleville. He and his wife, Florence, live at 2 Morse Place with their two children, Thomas Jr., 14, a student at Essex Catholic High School and Janette, 11, a pupil at Family School.

a better school system from top to bottom. But we must act now." Richard H. Drake, another board member, said the "time has come to take a positive step forward, rather than continue providing the minimum we can get by on."

Speaking at a meeting, another board member, Ernest S. Arvidson, said:

"We should look upon the modest cost of the new school program not only as an investment in our children, but — equally important to all of us — as an investment in the future of Belleville. The quality of the town in the future will reflect the quality we put into our schools today."

He urged a "yes" vote on Oct. 17.

Michael V. Albertine, vice president of the board, declared:

"The future belongs to those who prepare for it. The country with the best schools is the country of the future. Either we build our schools now or our children will pay for the lack of them later."

Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero, another board member, said:

"Education is our children's passport to freedom and knowledge to keep forever. It is our investment for the future. Belleville certainly can afford a new high school."

Board member Nicholas Julian urged all those "who are interested in good education for Belleville children" to continue their efforts to put over the school building program "right down to the wire on Oct. 17."

He said he was pleased to see so many people working for the future of the town.

Commission

was not present.

Kiernan explained his vote to Grubin in a letter which Grubin referred to at the meeting. Kiernan said the appropriation would carry over into the new form of government coming into Belleville in July. He did not think it was proper to tie the hands of a future city manager, and commit future councils to such an expenditure.

Thomas D'Avella, town attorney, submitted a decision advising Francis J. McCoy, town treasurer, to pay the second installment of $7,896 on a paving contract.

A dispute was begun last week when McCoy requested an opinion about the payment. At issue was a 100 per cent clause in the contract, which permitted the Commission to increase the work and extend the contract from $5,735 to $14,879.

In a three - page letter to Mayor Isadore J. Padula, D'Avella said the clause was justified. He quoted a court decision which said, "In repair work of this kind, it is probably impossible to state accurately all the work that may be required."

He pointed out, "It must be borne in mind that the original contract was duly preceded by bidding."

Mayor Padula, Director of Revenue and Finance, said he would not sign the voucher until the County Prosecutor's Office completed a preliminary investigation of the contract. The investigation was begun at the request of James R. Golden, 62 Tappan Avenue.

The co-chairmen of the Special Gifts Committee of this year's United Fund Campaign, B. Thomas Aitken and F. Douglas Wadsworth, reported that they were encouraged by the response from industry and the larger contributors making up this phase of the campaign. The contributions were running well ahead of last year. Many who are regular contributors were still to be heard from.

The Residential Campaign, under the direction of Seymour Grossman, will get underway next week, Thursday, Oct. 19. Grossman said it was essential that the house-to-house contributions also run well ahead of previous years if the goal of $88,000 was to be reached.

This goal, represents the minimum budget that each of the 12 agencies making up the Fund requires to carry on its particular part of this overall welfare and philanthropic program. If this goal is not reached, it would mean both a reduction in staff and a curtailment of the activities, which when lumped together help to make Belleville a better community in which to live and work, agreed members of the Campaign Committee.

Durkee Rebutts

partments—would be made.

(2) "What is the need for a school when the post-war baby boom is at its peak now. Enrollments will drop, since the boom babies are finishing school now."

Answer: More babies were born in Belleville last year than in any previous year. Even if enrollments should drop, more space is needed for improvement of curriculum and to alleviate overcrowded conditions at the high school.

(3) "When an addition was made to the high school, it was said then that provision was made for an additional two stories. Why are officials not considering this now?"

Answer: The Rutgers Report, page 49, deals with this very question. The report indicates that such an addition would cost "well in excess of one million dollars." If this money were spent on such a patch-work solution, it would not help the critical curriculum problem in grades 7 and 8.

ADDITION CHEAPER?

(4) "What is wrong with an addition? It would be cheaper."

Answer: Added to the objections outlined in the answer to question 3, it is very unlikely that the State Department of Education would approve a makeshift "cheap" solution.

(5) "The present high school is in a bad location for a junior high school. The street is dangerous, especially for seventh graders."

Answer: These conditions also apply to the high school. Since junior high school students will not be driving cars to school, the site area can be prepared for a play area. Seventh and eighth graders who live 2½ miles from the school will be given transportation to school, just as high school students living that distance away are given now.

TAXES TOO HIGH

(6) "Taxes are already too high. The price of one pack of cigarettes a day multiplies for a year."

Answer: It should be pointed out here that the tax rate in 1955 — when the citizens last rejected a new high school — was $7.02. The 1961 tax rate has risen 163 points to $8.65 and we still do not have a high school. Belleville schools receive only 40 per cent of the tax dollar, compared to many other progressive Essex communities where as much as 68 per cent of the tax dollar is spent on schools.

EXPERTS AGREE

(10) "The pictures of conditions are exaggerated."

Answer: The conclusion that the high school is sub-standard is not based on pictures taken at the high school. It is based on an absolute summary laid down by the State Department of Education, which determines the number of square feet per student needed for proper education. The experts agree that the high school building can function effectively for about 1000 students. The present enrollment is 1551.

EXTRA COST

(8) "What about the extra cost, not only for a new school, but also for hiring new teachers?"

Answer: When a person buys a better home, certainly the cost of maintaining it goes up. All the experts agree that Belleville needs better education, as was clearly indicated in the reports of the Middle States Association and the State Department of Education. Our students need better schools if they are to compete with students now getting better education in other communities.

(9) "Why is there no answer from the Middle States Association or the State of New Jersey about an addition?"

Answer: The Middle States Association does not dictate to a school system how to solve its sub-standard system. It merely points out the conditions required to merit recognition. All the studies conducted in Belleville by Rutgers University, the Columbia Survey and the other experts who have studied the problem indicate the solution is to build a new senior high school at the Passaic Avenue site. All alternatives were duly considered by the Board of Education.

Experts agree that the high school building can function effectively for about 1000 students. The present enrollment is 1551.

punished if they fail to do so. Many of the objectors to the new school admitted they were concerned chiefly by the cost of the new school. They were agreed that "it would be a fine thing if it were free."

Dr. Durkee said he agreed wholeheartedly with the latter sentiment, but added:

"Despite what the song says, the best things in life are definitely NOT free."

A board member was even more succinct:

"The only thing that's free nowadays is advice."

Requiem Mass For Paul McCoy At St. Peter's

Paul L. McCoy of 182 Union Avenue, a lifelong Belleville resident, and brother of Francis H. McCoy, Municipal Treasurer of the Town of Belleville, died at his home Saturday, Oct. 7, after an illness of eight months. A Solemn Requiem Mass was offered Wednesday morning in St. Peter's Church, and interment was in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Mr. McCoy was a pressman with Strawberry Hill Press, Queens, L. I. He was a member of St. Peter's Holy Name Society and the Printing Pressmen's Union, A. F. of L., New York and New Jersey.

Surviving besides his brother, Francis, are his wife, Mrs. Kathleen McCoy, a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Maureen) Snyder of Lyndhurst; a son, Paul, Jr., at home; three other brothers, Joseph H. McCoy of Newark; Richard T. of Union and Lawrence R. of Washington, D. C. and two sisters, Mrs. Vincent (Zita) Galvin of Monson, Mass., and Mrs. Charles (Mary) Hahn of Belleville.

the conditions, I would vote for it," Laura De Rogatis, a sophomore, agreed.

One argument for the new building has been the overcrowded facilities of the old.

Beverly Bender, a junior, took issue with anyone who might disagree with this reason. "I would like to go into those taxpayers' homes and take them here and let them battle through the halls," she said.

"And let them try to change in the gym lockers," added another junior, Sylvia Francesco.

Dennis Villano, a junior, described moving through the school halls. "When I was a freshman, it was hard work. When I was a sophomore it was worse. Now it's murder."

"BIG BOO"

"It's on a big boo," said Jim Torrieri, a junior, in summation.

Many argued that a new school would be too expensive. Myra Linet, a senior, insisted it would be good business. "A new school would bring more people into town to live because education standards would be high. This would encourage more businesses to move in."

JoAnn Matraxia, a junior, pointed out that "a double session would be an increase in taxes too." There has been a threat of two sessions to ease crowded conditions.

"Taxes are high anyway," said Maria Farber, a senior. "We might as well have something to show for it."

"Well," declared Nick Meola, a junior, "we want to keep up with the Russians. Education is worth more than war is."

The students were quick to agree that the teaching staff was excellent at the high school. They also agreed that crowded classrooms, inadequate equipment and old-fashioned facilities were robbing them of instruction they wanted. The most obvious deficiencies appeared to be in the teaching of science. Many cited the sharing of microscopes, lab desks and tools as a problem.

All the students were gravely concerned about the possible loss of accreditation by the state and the Middle States Association. Both have urged that improvements be made. The state has granted approval only until June 1962; the Middle States Association, until Dec. 1961.

ACCREATION

And if the high school lost its accreditation? "I would go to another school," said Beth Ann Alber, a senior. "It would be ridiculous to even go to this school said a senior across the table, Jo Ann Chasser. "I would transfer," said Barbara Underwood, a senior. "With no school standing, how are you going to get into college?" questioned Ken Benavista, a junior.

Through much of this discussion was the hope of something better — and the shame that things were as they are. "I felt a little bit embarrassed about all this loss of accreditation," said Myra Linet. "I don't like to hear that things are bad here. I want to be proud of Belleville."

And said June Di Rienzo, a sophomore, "We need something to really be proud of."

Survey Says

each captain. All of the workers made upwards of ten telephone contacts during the survey.

The results showed that sentiment for the new school was strongest in school Districts 1, 4, 8 and 10, with School areas 2 and 9 still in the "doubtful" column at press time. A summary of the conclusions of the survey-takers follows.

School 1: Good, large "yes" vote expected.

School 2: Opposition strongest here, but showing a definite decrease in past few days.

School 3: Many voters undecided here: about 50 per cent of those contacted favor school.

School 4: Looks "good" for a "yes" vote, survey indicates.

School 5: About half of those asked said they would vote "yes." Many others said they had "doubts."

School 6: No trend noticeable. Majority contacted were in favor, but some "doubtful."

School 7: Most activity here, with resistance to school noticeable. Majority contacted were in favor.

School 8: Prospects of "yes" vote here described as "very good." No "no" votes recorded, but some "doubtful."

School 9: Problematical area, survey reports.

School 10: "Very good" according to survey. No opposition reported.

Mrs. Rochau predicted a "yes" vote in the election by a 500-plus plurality.

here now...for 62 FOUR NEW THUNDERBIRDS starring a smart Sports Roadster and a sophisticated Landau

This year Thunderbird's unique flair is expressed in four great originals! The crisp beauty of the four-passenger Hardtop, the swift-lined Convertible, the new Landau, an ultramodern town car version, with leather-trimmed vinyl top... and fourth, the limited-edition Sports Roadster. Sleek as a racing hydroplane, this is the most exciting invitation to two-passenger travel ever issued! Removal of the tonneau cover reveals the standard rear seat when four must journey.

All four are pure Thunderbird, graced with the individual ease that is Thunderbird's hallmark; the creative touches from "floating" rearview mirror to separate, molded foam rubber seats that set this car apart; the velvet authority of Thunderbird V-8 power. All four are attuned to Thunderbird standards of extraordinary quality and polished perfection of performance—a perfection you will want to see and sample at your Ford Dealer's now.

The slip-stream headrests of the Sports Roadster are an integral part of the lift-off tonneau cover (which can remain in place while the top is raised or lowered). Standard equipment includes chrome wire wheels.

A gleaming traditional 5-bar on the leather-trimmed vinyl top distinguishes the new Landau. It has the power steering and power brakes and are standard on all Thunderbirds.

"SARDINES IN A CAN"

"Children at these grade levels urgently need a well-equipped and properly staffed library. Such facilities are not obtainable in eight separate schools. Certainly the seventh and eighth grader who does not have the opportunity to use and appreciate books, to seek information and answers in individual projects and research... has had something much less than the best possible education... Finally the Belleville children in grades seven and eight are handicapped in their education program as a result of the lack of adequate music and art rooms."

Of our high school the Rutgers University experts on page 47 of their report said, "Weaknesses in the junior high school educational program spring from two causes — extreme overcrowding (1551 pupils in a school built for 1000) and the educational inadequacy of the building for a high school program."

"The building is presently so overcrowded that each subject and each class is in some way affected... Relieving the overcrowding in the high school would not solve the basic problem of the serious inadequacies of the building's facilities — facilities which were not designed or which are lacking altogether for the type of program which Belleville should be giving to its high school pupils."

So — the question before Belleville taxpayers and voters Tuesday is not whether we should spend or save $2,700,000.00. The question is how best do we obtain the needed additional space and modern facilities — a need pointed out by educational experts.

The problem is how should we answer the question—

1. Double sessions at the high school?
2. Build additions to the high school and eight grammar schools?
3. Build a new high school and utilize the present high school for our seventh, eighth and ninth graders?

A hard working school board, elected by you the people, and serving without pay — but with honor — night after night — in conferences with the best educators money could buy — examined all the alternatives, (including the most popular alternative, adding a wing to the present high school), and finally decided to recommend to the people of Belleville the answer they believed would give our children the best for the least cost to the taxpayers, the construction of a new high school.

We agree with the decision — hence we have urged our citizens to vote YES on Tuesday.

To those citizens who favor an addition to our present high school we underscore the fact that construction costs for such an addition will cost "well in excess of a million dollars" (page 49, para. 3, line 3 of Rutgers University report).

And such a solution does not provide the answer to the question of what to do with the equally serious problems of our seventh and eighth graders in eight different elementary schools. The comparable construction costs of the proposed new high school is estimated to be $1,980,000. But building a new high school will also solve the problems confronting our seventh and eighth graders.

The easiest course of action, requiring no conviction and less courage, for our unsalaried Board of Education and our capable Superintendent of Schools would have been to ignore the findings and recommendations of educational experts. They could have simply closed their eyes to the "SARDINE CAN" mess at the high school and remained silent about the educational needs of our seventh and eighth grade children.

Fortunately for our community we have a Board of Education and a Superintendent of Schools interested more in the next generation than in the next election. They have courage and conviction. They are acutely aware of their public trust. Voters should not lose sight of the fact that the unsalaried members of the Board of Education also own homes and pay taxes.

In the proper discharge of their responsibilities to this and future generations of school children, and mindful of their obligation to spend wisely taxpayers' money, the Board of Education has asked the voters to accept its recommendation and vote YES Tuesday.

The annual cost of the new school will be much less than our Town Commission voted in raises to town employees this Spring. The Padula administration voted over $220,000 in annual raises for employees of only two municipal departments (we have five). The annual cost of the new school will average $176,600.

It is easy to see that the financial cancer of the community is at City Hall and not with the Belleville Board of Education. Don't penalize our children because of your anger with City Hall.

Next Spring with a new Town Council and an honest City Manager more money will be saved than is needed to pay off a new high school.

Moreover, since 1954 our ratables jumped from FORTY NINE MILLION DOLLARS to SIXTY THREE MILLION DOLLARS TODAY. And they will continue to rise.

This year the State of New Jersey contributed $79,380 to our school system. A few years ago the state contributed nothing. Both major parties are committed to increasing the amount of state aid to education. Belleville is assured of more state aid in the future.

The principle which motivates us to take a firm stand on the controversial issues of our times is simply our desire to join with the vast army of sincere citizens interested in saving our community from a green group of power drunk politicians.

The longer we put off new school construction the more it will cost. New school construction is inevitable. Since new construction will cost more it is why not pay less now?

Regardless of your vote on the question we urge voters to remember their priceless American heritage — the right to vote — visit the polls in convincing numbers and leave no doubt about where a majority of Belleville voters stand on the question of a new high school.

School polls are open Tuesday, October 17th from 2:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Make it your business to vote.

Believing in a great future for Belleville, this newspaper endorses the building of a new senior high school and multipurpose rooms at Schools One and Four.

That Pregnant Paving Contract

In recent weeks a storm has raged around a paving contract which Commissioner Robert Gruhin awarded to a company to repair various community streets. The original bid as advertised by Gruhin fetched a low bid of $5,735.

According to Francis J. McCoy, Town Treasurer, the bid contained an unusual clause — it permitted Gruhin to increase the amount of the work called for under the bid specifications by 100% — thus enabling the contractor to perform $11,470 of repairs instead of the original $5,735.

McCoy says in his 27 years of experience at Town Hall his recollection is that clauses concerning increased quantities under a bid document usually provide for an increase of 50%. "This 100% clause is unusually high," says McCoy, an employee at Town Hall for more than a quarter of a century.

If that was all there is to the controversy most of us might shrug it off as a peculiarity of this particular contract. But there is more. Gruhin presented for payment — and Revenue and Finance Director approved — an invoice amounting to $14,879, or an amount 150% more than called for in the original bid.

Picking up Town Treasurer McCoy's refusal to approve the bill for payment, James Golden, local critic has requested the Essex County Prosecutor to examine the situation to determine if a violation of law exists. We believe Golden's action is proper. A swift answer should be forthcoming from the County Prosecutor — in fairness to the taxpayers and Commissioner Gruhin.

Thomas P. Greco

Thomas P. Greco, life-long Belleville resident, this week tendered his resignation as Town Building Inspector to his superior, Public Works Director Robert C. Gruhin.

It will be a sad day in Belleville's life if Commissioner Gruhin permits Greco's resignation to take effect.

Greco is an incorruptible public servant. There have been and there are good public servants in Belleville's employ — but none more honest and dedicated to his job than Greco.

In a job extremely sensitive — a job vitally important to the well-being of our community and its homeowners — a job everyday exposed to the lure of "pay-offs," Greco has unflinchingly enforced the laws of our community without fear or favor.

Like a military leader Greco referred to the book — and no exceptions. Of Greco it can be said no one could "reach him."

Honest to the core — Greco is tired of carrying the unfair load placed upon his shoulders. During 11 of the 13 years in the job Greco served as a one-man department. It was only two years ago that he was given secretarial assistance. He has no Assistant Building Inspector.

It is inconceivable that a town employee could single-handedly operate a major municipal department, issue and supervise construction involving 1,489 building permits covering $2,825,074. in a single year! But Greco did!

Perhaps the best testimonial on record concerning Greco is a comment made not too long ago by a former Public Works Director, "Greco is too strict in his enforcement and it isn't good politically."

Gruhin is under compelling obligation to the community to do everything in his power to retain Greco.

Risoli Charges County Bossism

Ralph M. Risoli, Deputy Registrar of Belleville, an Independent Democratic candidate for Essex County Freeholder, charged his major party opponents today with neglecting to discuss the vital issues of the current campaign.

Risoli said it was apparently taken for granted by the county bosses — "especially Boss Carey" — that the selection of their hand-picked county slates is tantamount to election.

Risoli, who is the Belleville resident on the November ballot, said, "When elected, I promise to persuade the Essex County Board of Freeholders to release Belleville, county land upon which a firehouse, civil defense headquarters could be erected on the corner of the grounds of the Isolation Hospital (Soho) owned by the County of Essex."

He attacked what he termed bossism in the county. "At the moment, a tremendous amount of the 22 municipalities' tax dollars are pouring into the County and what are the getting for it in return?" he questioned. "Nothing! Because of the constant bickering of County bosses and politicians fighting for power and control of our County, millions of dollars of taxpayer's money is being spent in the duplication of jobs that can be handled by our municipalities or, on a State level. It is interesting to know that a breakdown of the state-wide figures show that of 22 Essex County municipalities, nine pay the county a fee exceeding the Municipal appropriation. As County expenditures soar, increasing shares of the local tax dollar is being taken for support of County government."

Another question came from a man who gave his name as "Mr. Chapman." He asked how the estimated cubic foot cost ($15.50) of the proposed new school compared with that of schools in this area. William Boyd of the architect school budgeted the average cost in the area was "about $18.50."

Members of the board of education — all of whom are actively working for the new school — present included: Dominic A. Lally, president; Michael V. Albertine, vice-president; Ernest S. Arvidson, Dr. Frank N. DiBurgio, Nicholas S. Juliano and Richard H. Drake.

A serio-comic note crept into the proceedings when 17-year-old Lucy De Bacco asked if her high school diploma "will be worthless if we don't get a new school." After being reassured, she rejoined about a dozen of her fellow high school seniors, all of whom groaned every time a "no" questioner got up to speak.

One of the teeners remarked: "If we are denied a new school in next Tuesday's election, they should publish the name of every parent who voted against it." She didn't specify who "they" were, nor explain how the publication could be accomplished. But her friends all agreed with her.

De Noia also noted that it was the responsibility of all applicants to obtain the new form and file it with him no later than Nov. 1, 1961.

BECK'S COLUMN

Since Magnavox came out again with a 27" TV set last year, they have really sold. Elderly people and others with eye defects were delighted to be able to buy a large screen set.

We heard the most enthusiastic reports from our customers who had bought 27" sets, about the fun of watching the sports series. It is really a pleasure to see sports events on a large screen.

Still we hear once in a while that some people think that a 27" picture is too big. They change their minds quickly though, when they see the excellent, clear and sharp performance.

Another objection we hear frequently is the price of the picture tube. Most of the objection don't know the price, but they say it anyway. The present price for a new 27" picture tube is $69.50, while a new 23" tube lists for $70.

Magnavox has a 27" set which is sold for $229.50, which is less than many 23" sets. Of course all Magnavox 27" sets carry the Gold Seal warranty. That means that you do not have any expense for one year, neither for parts nor for labor.

Before you buy a smaller screen TV set we would suggest that you have a look at a 27" set. You will find the picture excellent and the prices most reasonable.

We service what we sell.

DISMISSAL PREDICTED

Groe-zinger has three choices open to him when he gets an answer from the Tax Council on Schwartz' motion. He can dismiss the charge, ask for briefs or hold a full hearing. It was freely predicted in Trenton that the charge would be dismissed.

School officials said the Tax Council move was a last-minute effort to discredit the school board and arouse opposition to the school building proposal to be voted on in Belleville Oct. 17. A reported threat by Garson to vote the matter before Essex County Prosecutor Brendan Byrne was discounted by school officials.

Byrne was unavailable for comment yesterday.

Fire Instruction At Clara Maass

Student nurse Nancy Lemke extinguishes a flammable liquid tub fire under the watchful eye of Fireman Joseph Cancelliere of Belleville.

National Fire Prevention Week was appropriately observed in a number of ways this week by the staff at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

In addition to fire drills, both the employees and nurses were given instruction in fire protection by Captain George L. Meyer of the Belleville Fire Department, about the types of fires for which the various extinguishers had been designed, the nurses were given practical instruction in the operation and use of the extinguishers on demonstration fires.

A special feature, which actually is a part of this program even though it will be held next Monday, Oct. 16, will be a lecture

The Council was formed last week to press for a stronger county-wide law enforcement program. It is backing the candidacy of Assembly Speaker LeRoy J. Miller is an employee of the Nudley Corporation, Eastwood. He is married and has four children.

ture and demonstration on "Fire and Explosion Hazards in Hospitals and Their Control" by Dr. George J. Thomas of the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. Dr. Thomas, who is Emeritus Professor and Chairman of Anesthesiology at the University has been active in the research on the prevention of fires and explosions with flammable anesthetics since 1938.

Although there is a very low incidence of fire and explosions in anesthetics, it was felt that the staff at the hospital must directly concerned with anesthetics should be properly schooled in the safeguards against possible explosion. The demonstration will show how static electricity which is the cause of a high percentage of these explosions may be generated and what steps should be taken to prevent such explosions and fires in hospitals.

One right after another, the Wide-Tracks have introduced the style that's been the year's most looked at and longed for. Iron Dukes Swamp Plainfield; To Meet Miners Here Oct. 14

CARL BORINO

Back in the Iron Dukes defensive lineup when the Belleville-Nutley team meets the undefeated Franklin Miners Saturday, Oct. 14, will be Carl Borino, a 1955 graduate of Nutley High School. Dukes Coach Bill Madara let this be known during the week. Saturday's game will be played at Park Oval, Nutley, at 8.

Saturday night, October 7, the Belleville-Nutley Iron Dukes came back behind to defeat the Plainfield All-Stars 36 to 18. After spotting the All-Stars to a 12 to 0 first quarter lead, the Dukes defense tightened and the offense led by the passing of Quarterback Cary Wills, quickly evened the score.

The All-Stars took Ted Jones' opening kickoff and returned the ball to their own 30-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, halfback Levern Hunter raced 70 yards for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was blocked by Mike Guerrieri.

Following the Plainfield kickoff, Nutley moved the ball to the All-Stars' 34-yard line. On the next play Wills, running the option play to his left, was hit hard as he attempted to lateral to Tom Boykin. Plainfield defensive line backer Jerry Ridley picked up the loose ball and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. Once again the extra point was blocked.

IN NUTLEY SATURDAY

The Iron Dukes will meet the Franklin Miners at Park Oval, Nutley, Saturday evening, Oct. 14, at 8. Early in the season the Miners defeated the Dukes, 26-6. The Miners are at the top of the Eastern Pro Football Conference with a 4 and 0 record. The Dukes are second with a 3-1 record.

In the second quarter Nutley's defensive line, led by Carl Borino, Bill "Animal" Lapadula, Donald Munford, Don Pomponio, Tony Barron, Lenny Munford, Gene Mitchell, Thom Davis, Frank Barnes, Lenny Cook and

Ice Skating Begins At Branch Brook Rink

Branch Brook Rink opened for the 1961-62 ice skating season on Saturday, Oct. 7.

Resident student card holders may skate free twice a week on Monday and Thursday afternoons. Student cards, available to residents of Essex County from kindergarten through college (pre-schoolers included) for a fee of one dollar, offer savings of approximately one-third regular admission prices.

A hockey clinic will be conducted by Park Commission personnel for boys through age 15 every Wednesday afternoon from 3:30-5:30. The program is designed specifically to teach fundamentals of hockey to youngsters. The only equipment a boy must have is a suitable pair of hockey skates.

Branch Brook's schedule includes morning sessions on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays starting at 9:30; afternoon sessions every day with the exception of Wednesday; and evening periods Monday through Saturday starting at 8 p.m. A special family night program is conducted every Friday evening from 6-7:45.

A pass from Wills to End Chick Crosley brought the ball to the 32 yard line. Chuckie Munford then took a hand-off and, with a beautiful display of broken field running, carried the ball to the one yard line. On the next play Chuckie crashed into the endzone for the fifth Dukes score. The try for the extra point was blocked by the Plainfield interior line.

Following the kickoff and a penalty, the All Stars had possession of the ball on their own ten yard line. Quarterback Bill Land faded back to pass. Tony Barron, Nutley defensive end, put terrific rush on Land, causing him to fumble, and Barron recovered in the endzone for a Dukes touchdown. Joe Brooks, quarterbacking the defensive team, attempted the extra point with a quarterback sneak. The attempt fell inches short of the goal line.

The All Stars scored their final touchdown late in the third quarter. With Coach Bill Madara substituting freely, Plainfield marched 60 yards in seven plays to score the final touchdown with Len Hunter going the last six yards. The try for the extra point was low and the game ended with the Dukes winning 36 to 18.

In addition to the defensive unit, the Dukes offensive line, consisting of Rich Mackin, George Dutcher, Nat Revis, Jay Easterday, Fred Sperduto, Nick De Beneditto and Chick Crosley played an outstanding game, opening up holes for Wills, Boykin and Bo and Chuck Munford.

Joe Brooks came to life, forcing the Plainfield offense to make repeated mistakes. With the All-Stars in possession of the ball on their own 40-yard line, Quarterback Bill Land was hit hard by Carl Borino and fumbled. The fumble was picked up by Duke Tackle Bill Lapadula, who carried the ball to the 24-yard line. Bo Munford, Gary Wills and Tom Boykin alternated in carrying the ball, with Wills finally scoring on a one-yard plunge. The try for the extra point was blocked.

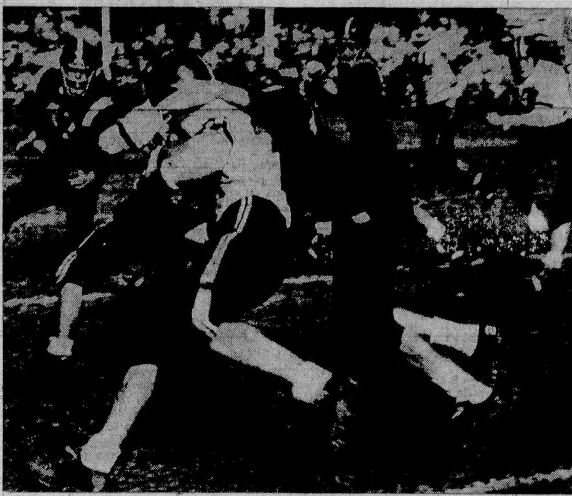

Following the kickoff the All-Stars were forced to punt. Tom Boykin returned the ball to the Plainfield 36-yard line. On second down Cary Wills faded back and threw a 31-yard pass to Bo Munford and the speedster ran the remaining five yards for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was wide and the half ended with the score tied, 12 to 12.

Frank Barnes, Nutley's fleet-footed defensive ace, took the second half kickoff in the endzone, faked two All-Star players out of position and raced 102 yards for a touchdown. Two fine blocks by Fred Sperduto and a Tom Boykin enabled Barnes to break into the clear. A pass attempt by Cary Wills for the extra point was incomplete.

Late in the third quarter Mike Guerrieri recovered a Plainfield fumble on its 32-yard line. Chuckie and Bo Munford carried the ball to the 16-yard line. Wills then faded back to pass and, although pressed hard by two All-Star linemen, threw a perfect 16-yard bullet pass to Bo Munford in the endzone. The try for the extra point was low.

Early in the fourth quarter, Frank Barnes returned a punt 20 yards to the All-Stars 46 yard

Belleville Scoreless Against Nutley

One of the many thrilling plays which marked the grid contest between Nutley and Belleville High Schools at Park Oval, Nutley, Saturday afternoon, Oct. 7, is shown above. Venroth, Nutley player in foreground, rounded end for several yards before being besieged by Belleville tacklers. The game ended in a shutout for the Nutley Maroon Raiders, 20-0.

NUTLEY PLAYER is tackled by Belleville linemen while circling the end.

Making use of a fiercely fighting line, Nutley High School completely overran Belleville last Saturday 20-0. The Belleville offensive was stymied by the Maroon Raiders' hard-rushing line, and never penetrated further than the 20-yard line. Tom Malloy and Sylvester Moore led the Nutley defense in all but nullifying Belleville's passing attack. Joe Lafore, Belleville quarterback, was dropped eight times behind the line of scrimmage resulting in a loss of about 70 yards.

Nutley scored early in the first quarter after a blocked punt. The Belleville defense held the Nutley drive on downs, and Pat Moreno was sent back to punt. George Olsen charged in for the Maroon Raiders and blocked the punt. Sylvester Moore picked up the ball and returned it to the Belleville 21 yard line. From there the Nutley squad moved the ball down to the 13 yard line where Ben Hawkins went around end for the score.

The Belleville contained the Nutley attack for the remainder of the half but couldn't seem to get a drive started. With about three minutes left to go in the second quarter Belleville finally got rolling. Moving the ball past mid-field with a combination of passes and runs it looked as if the Belleville might score. But time ran out on them just when they were within striking distance.

Nutley came charging back in the third period scoring twice in succession. Receiving the kickoff at the 41 yard line, the Maroon Raiders marched for the score in 10 plays. Pete Klaus slashed over guard for the final 14 yards. The Belleville were unable to pick up a first down after the kickoff and were forced to punt. Pete Klaus took the kick on the Belleville 42 and ran it back to the 33 yard line. Using off tackle runs, Nutley brought the ball down to the 17 yard line. Bill Mease then connected on a pass to Jack Spencer at the five. Two plays later Pete Klaus again tallied for the Maroon's last touchdown.

	Total
Nutley	7 0 13 0 20
Hawkins 13 run (Malloy kick good).
Klaus 14 run (Malloy kick good).
Klaus 3 run (Kick failed).

Freshman Team Downs Nutley For Third Win

BY RAY FERSCO

The Belleville Freshmen went against tough competition Saturday and defeated it 14-0. This made their third consecutive win leaving them undefeated. Hal Avalon and Lenny Longo represented the team and chose to receive. The ball was caught by Ron Orsini, who ran it up to Belleville's 45. From here on in the Belleville, fighting pressure, continually moved the ball up the field. This resulted in a 15-yard run up the middle by Lenny Longo for a touchdown. The extra point was thrown by Joe Cervasio and caught by Bill Mamay. During the next quarter both teams played hard but neither one scored.

The next half was mostly pass plays by Nutley and hard hits by Belleville. Toward the middle of the third quarter, Belleville continued moving the ball up field and scored a touchdown by an end run from the 45 yard line. The touchdown was scored by Cervasio with the extra point thrown by Sorrentino and caught by Bud.

In the fourth quarter Belleville had the ball again, pushed its way up field but penalties and a fumble on the 15 yard line caused Nutley to recover. However, Belleville's defense refused to let Nutley score a touchdown.

Tony Sorrentino, Joe Cervasio, Lenny Longo and Chuck Oesi in the Backfield and John De Vito, Vaseo Sampaio, Eddie Carney, Hal Avalon, Nick Grande, George Bud and Bill Mamay on the line. Up and coming players to look for are Ron Orsini, Paul Carsillo, Joe Lafause and Mike Torso.

1. Fred Williams, Kearny; 2. Jim Debesis, Belleville; 3. John Mitchell, Kearny; 4. Jim Harvey, Belleville; 5. Ed List, Kearny; 6.

Parent-Teacher Groups Solidly Behind New High School

PTA Drive Is In High Gear

The drive by Belleville's Parent-Teacher Associations to enlist support for a "yes" vote in Tuesday's referendum continued this week with meetings at Schools 2, 5, 7 and 9 in the spot light.

The School 7 group, headed by Mrs. Michael V. Albertine, attracted an overflow crowd of parents and taxpayers to hear architect Alfonso Alvarez and other experts explain the proposed new school plans. A question-and-answer session followed.

Mrs. Herman De Jongh, Jr. of 87 Melvex Street, said School 7 "is one of the best grade schools in the state. I'm for the new high school because I want my children to attend a high school of comparable caliber." She also appealed for support for a Book Fair to be sponsored by School 7 P.T.A. Nov. 15-16 in the school.

BACONIAN THEORY

Mrs. William Eberling of 72 Glass Avenue reminded her hearers that it was Lord Bacon who said:

"Education is power." She urged support for the new school.

Mrs. George Ross of 71 Jefferson Street, secretary to the P.T.A., pointed out the deficiencies of the present curriculum. She said her son, a freshman at the high school, was unable to get a mechanical drawing in this year. She said the only solution for the overcrowded classrooms at the school was a new plant.

Board of Education Replies To Tax Council's Charges

A series of charges leveled against the proposed school building program by the Tax Council in its "throwaway" newsletter got a point-by-point answer from the Board of Education yesterday.

A summary of the allegations made by the anti-school group and the answers issued by Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Superintendent of Schools, follows.

SCHOOL NEEDED

(1) TAX COUNCIL: The Middle States report indicates that Belleville does not need a new high school.

DR. DURKEE: The report was made in 1955, when enrollment was 1237 students; enrollment now stands at 1551. A line graph used in the Tax Council "throwaway" sheet appears nowhere in the Middle States report. A supplementary report by the accrediting body warned that, unless plans were made to improve building facilities "the school is in danger of losing its accreditation."

(2) TAX COUNCIL: Declining enrollment in Belleville school system indicates that a new high school is not needed.

DR. DURKEE: Enrollment at present high school is still climbing. In Sept., 1960, it was 1355; now it is 1551. The Rutgers report indicates there will be about 1000 students to occupy a new high school from grades 10-12, and the same number to occupy a junior high school from grades 7-9. Enrollments of 416 in the system's kindergarten indicate an upward trend in enrollments.

JUNIOR - HIGH ENDORSED

(2) T A X COUNCIL:

"The Junior High School program is on the way out, say most educational experts, such as Dr. James Conant, president Emeritus of Harvard University."

DR. DURKEE: The Tax Council could not have picked a stronger supporter of the Junior High School than Dr. Conant. In 1960 he noted on page 41 of his "Education in the Junior High School Years" that "this is the most common type of separately-organized junior high school (three-year junior high school, grades 7-9). The full attention of the faculty and administration

"can be devoted to young adolescents aged 12-15, a very special group in terms of growth and development. Because of large enrollments a broad curriculum with specialist teachers and facilities can be provided at minimum cost."

(4) TAX COUNCIL: The average class size in elementary schools in New Jersey is 29 pupils and Belleville should bring its average class size to this average to save some money on teaching staff.

DR. DURKEE: The authoritative 1961 edition of "Basic Statistical Data of New Jersey Schools" shows average size of classes in New Jersey to be 26.3, not 29. In Essex County, the size is 25.6. In Belleville, not counting 10 Special Classes, the average class size is 23.4. The more pupils a teacher is responsible for, the more thinly the curriculum is spread, and the less the pupils get out of it.

(5) TAX COUNCIL: Belleville does not have a well-documented plan for school improvement. There is a call for further study, DR. DURKEE: This is not only false but demonstrably absurd. The Columbia Survey, the Rutgers Report of 1959 and the recommendations of the Middle States Association and the experts from the State Department of Education all give the lie to this charge.

(6) TAX COUNCIL: The needs of the elementary schools are being neglected.

DR. DURKEE: Here the Tax Council is up to its old game of playing off one group against another. In this case the elementary school parents against the high school parents. The overall school building plan provides for improved curriculum and facilities in every elementary school by using the classrooms released by grades 7-9. The improvement can be made gradually through the annual school budget, on which the people pass every February.

(7) TAX COUNCIL: Overcrowding in the high school has been overestimated.

DR. DURKEE: If the Tax Council had taken the trouble, as the Chamber of Commerce did, to visit and tour the high school while in session, it would have learned of conditions there first-hand. The Council might even have followed the lead of the Chamber and endorsed the school program as the latter body did.

(8) TAX COUNCIL: Belleville can improve its schools at a minimum cost by abolishing schools such as School 2, 4 and 10; and constructing one large central elementary school.

DR. DURKEE: Such a central elementary school could be built, according to the Tax Council, for $1,400,000. What would this do for Schools 1, 3, 5, 7, 8 and 9? Nothing. What would it do for the overcrowded high school with its limited approval by the State Department of Education? Nothing at all. As for economy, the Rutgers Report says this is the most expensive approach to Belleville's school problems, and would yield the least satisfactory results.

Producer To Lecture

Dore Schary, Broadway and Hollywood producer and U. S. Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, G. Mennen Williams will speak here this fall under the sponsorship of Rutgers Alumni Community Forum.

Schary will discuss "Theater as Social Criticism." Oct. 16, Secretary Williams, former governor of Michigan, is to detail "The New Frontier in Africa," Nov. 6. Both talks, to be held at 8 p.m. at 15 James St., are open to the public without charge. Tickets, required due to limited seating capacity, may be secured from Rutgers Alumni Office, 31 Fulton St., Newark.

What's New At BHS?

BY MARCIA PEEK

Here at B.H.S. a high topic of conversation is football. The Pep Assembly, which were held to encourage school spirit and let the team know of the school's support, have been a huge success, thanks to the combined efforts of the twirlers, cheerleaders, physical education instructor, Lila, Marilyn Paganelli, Bartors, and Mr. Kittle. The student body has shown a great deal of confidence and faith in Sharon Puchalk. "We have been working very hard, and always, hard, arranging cheers for the team and the coaches. Newark PO Has 4 Weeks Of No Car Accidents

Postmaster Louis A. Relly has announced today that postal vehicle operators in the Newark Post Office chalked up a no-accident record for the four-week period August 19 to September 15, during which they drove 136,000 miles.

This is the first perfect score for the drivers since the Newark Post Office inaugurated its safety program about the middle of 1955. The closest they ever came to perfection was in June of this year and November 1950, when they experienced one accident each month.

Drivers in the Newark Post Office are thoroughly tested on psychological devices and must pass rigid road tests in order to qualify for the position. Postmaster Relly said. They also attend to - employment driver safety orientation sessions and receive on-the-job safety training by their immediate supervisors. Frequent safety talks on driver problems are provided by supervisors during short, stand - up meetings.

As professional drivers, they are required to drive defensively which means making allowances for the reckless and careless actions of others on the road and adjusting their driving to meet all hazards of weather, roads, traffic and other conditions.

Newark Postal drivers attained a better record for the fiscal year ending June 23, 1961, than the average rate in the Post Office Department's Philadelphia Region, comprising New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware. Newark's frequency rate was 3.28 accidents per 100,000 miles of operation as against the region's 3.40.

Vehicle operators in the Newark Post Office participate in the National Safety Council's safe driver award program. Last year 189 drivers won awards for driving 912 years safely.

School 4 PTA Urges Support Of New Building

Support for the school building program was voiced at a largely-attended meeting sponsored by School 4 PTA this week.

The occasion turned out to be a unanimous endorsement of the need for a new high school, as speaker after speaker urged a "yes" vote in the Oct. 17 referendum. Dr. Howard Matlin, public relations consultant and Bill Boyd of the firm of Alfonso Alvarez, architect of the new school plans, were among the speakers. School board members present who took part in a question and answer session were: Dominic A. Lally, board president; Michael V. Albertini, vice-president; Dr. Frank N. Di Ruggiero, Nicholas S. Juliano, Richard H. Drake and Ernest S. Arvidson. Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Superintendent of Schools and Frank Spotts, Principal of School 4, were also on the speakers' platform.

PROGRESS BEFORE DOLLARS

PTA President Joseph Granese said they ought to "put progress before dollars" in this atomic age. He said the new school was needed and ought to be supported Oct. 17. Mrs. George J. McGraw of 27 Wallace Street, whose two children, Cheryl, 6, and Roxanne, 11, attend School 2 and 4, respectively, because there are only five grades in School 2, said it was "about time Belleville moved out of the horse and buggy stage" in education. She urged a "yes" vote in the election.

Mrs. Peter Olivio of 152 Franklin Street said the program deserved support "particularly the all purpose room, which was badly needed at School 4." Her daughter, Cynthia, attends the school.

There are hundreds of bargains featured weekly in the advertising columns of the Times.

Durkee Sets School Issue As Referendum Vote Nears

Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Superintendent of Schools urged passage of the high school referendum. "One word characterizes all of the history of our great nation—progress. This progress begins with the individuals and communities that compose our nation. Sometimes an individual or a community lags behind. Hard as it may be on our pride, Belleville has not made the progress required in the 1960's in its schools. "Accredited only until December 31, 1961 by the Middle States Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, and granted only nine months extension of approval by the State Department of Education, to June 30, 1962, Belleville High School represents the bottleneck of progress in education in Belleville. Crowded beyond its capacity to function normally, Belleville High School is also inadequate to give our students a modern senior high school curriculum. "Belleville can build a new senior high school for grades 10-12, use the present high school building for a junior high school to give grades 7-9 the curriculum they need, and enrich the program of the elementary schools, grades K-6, by utilizing the rooms released by grades 7-8. Building a new high school can break the logjam of educational progress in Belleville. From building this one school, Belleville can not only solve the high school problem, but get well on the road to modernizing its whole school system. "Our citizens will never miss the five cents a day it will cost to build a new high school and the multipurpose rooms required to start a cascade of educational progress in Belleville. H.N.S. To Show AntiCommunist Film October 16

St. Mary's Holy Name Men Sponsor Showing Of 'Operation Abolition'

"Operation Abolition", a film depicting the efforts of the Communists to undermine the work of the House Committee on Un-American Activities will be shown in the auditorium of St. Mary's Church, Nutley, Monday evening, Oct. 16, at 8:30 o'clock, under the sponsorship of the Holy Name Society.

The film, which was made by TV and news photographers at the Congressional hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee in San Francisco on May 12 and 13 of this year, shows the Communist-inspired demonstrations by college students to disrupt and ridicule members of Congress in their investigation of the infiltration of communism.

educational opportunities they never had.

"The small investment we make in better education will return many times over to the taxpayer in better property values, better workers, better citizens, a better town, and a stronger nation."

munism in education and other fields, as well as other subversive activities.

Seen in the film, which has been shown in recent months throughout the nation are many well-known figures who have been identified as members of the Communist Party, and who were said to have gone into the San Francisco area and organized students to riot against the House Committee when it opened hearings there.

Giving a commentary on the film Monday evening will be Dr. Maurice Leashy, well-known lecturer, author and head of the Oriel Society of New York, which he founded 25 years ago for the purpose of preserving spiritual values in art, literature, music and other fields. The Society's efforts in recent years have been directed toward fighting communism.

Members of the Holy Name Society invite all parishioners to attend, as well as all others interested.

Mystery Teen

This week's mystery teen is an active member of the four B.H.S. bands, Marching, Concert, Dance, and Varsity Bands, playing first trombone. While music is his forte, he actively participates in many other school activities in addition. He is an avid golf enthusiast. Can you guess who this popular junior is?

Rabbi Cohen Urges Yes Vote

Rabbi Meier Cohen, spiritual leader of Congregation Ahavath Achim, urged an affirmative vote for a new high school.

In a statement made this week he said that physical facilities for education should be the very best. He was convinced that men and women of concern and knowledge had studied the present conditions and therefore said, "It is our duty to back their decision to the fullest."

Education must be above the consideration of finance alone, he said. "Let us take a step forward on Oct. 17 and be proud of our town, our educational system and our children," he urged. "In this world, our children need not be the best—but the very best."
