Gruhin Prepares Two Proposals In Retaliation

Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin, reacting to the commission's confirmation of a complaint to the county tax board for an omitted tax assessment on former synagogue property, prepared two proposals of his own Tuesday night. One would have the effect of canceling one commission complaint.

The Board of Commissioners with four votes adopted a proposal ratifying the action of William J. Friel, tax collector, who made a formal complaint to the county that taxes be assessed for 1960-1961 on 317-319 Washington Avenue, formerly owned by Congregation Ahavath Achim, and now owned by Mrs. Gruhin. Gruhin abstained from voting.

Gruhin's first proposal was to rescind tax assessment for 1960 against Congregation Ahavath Achim. The former synagogue property was sold Dec. 1, 1960 to Mrs. Robert C. Gruhin. The assessment complaint would charge Congregation A.A. for real estate taxes from July through December 31, 1960.

The proposals will be introduced at the next regular meeting of the commission, Gruhin promised. The delay would give the commissioners time to study them, he explained.

TAX ON PARSONAGE

The second proposal concerned taxes the Congregation A.A. paid for its parsonage in 1960. The Congregation owned the house at 110-112 Cedar Hill Avenue, and

Building Proposal Passes By 81 Votes

Belleville voters accepted a school building program for a new senior high school for $2,337,000 and addition all-purpose rooms for Schools One and Four costing $252,000 by a vote of 2,438 to 2,357—a margin of 81 votes.

A light vote in all districts was seen to be the key to the proposal's success. At the last referendum on the two questions, then presented separately, a heavy turnout defeated the proposal for the high school, 3,568 to 2,836. The additions were also defeated with 3,127 votes against and 2,998 votes for them.

Ward Three, voting in Schools Three and Five, again turned down the proposal. This section is considered the highest income area of town. The vote at School Three was 369 to 376. At School Five it was 422 to 479. The margin was smaller than it had been on the Oct. 17 voting.

School Five is considered the home area of the Citizen's Tax Council, outspoken opponents of a new school. The group waged a vigorous campaign during the last voting, but this time limited efforts to an attempt to stop the referendum by a court injunction. The group has charged the Board of Education with overstatement of arguments in the last referendum. A hearing on these charges was postponed until January on request of the group's lawyer.

RUTAN ESTATES

The Rutan Estates, voting in School Seven, also repeated opposition to the proposal by a vote of 494 against it and 402 for it. Observers had expected this because only 25 per cent of the children from that area attend public schools. The rest are en-

Durkee Appeals November Action By Middle States

Says Building Program Warrants School's Being On Accredited List

Appeals have been made to the Middle States Association to continue accreditation of Belleville High School. Dr. Frank M. Durkee, superintendent of schools, asked the association immediately after last Thursday's successful high school referendum, to reconsider its decision to withdraw Belleville from the list of accredited schools.

"We think we met your demands," Dr. Durkee told the association. He later said "It is possible that Middle States will feel actual construction must take place before accreditation is resumed."

Middle States withdrew accreditation last month, after a referendum for a new high school failed on Oct. 17. Belleville's term of accreditation expires at the end of the year and Middle States said it would not be renewed.

The association took this action after issuing a warning in January, 1961 that limited and

Students Honor Kittle On Eve Of Retirement

By MARLISE JAMES

Belleville High School students honored Hugh D. Kittle, their principal, at an assembly last week. Kittle, principal since 1933, will retire at the end of the year.

He was given a standing ovation from the students when he entered the auditorium. In a short statement he told them that what Belleville High School will be is up to the students and the faculty. He ended saying, "It's hard to say good bye."

Students presented him with a television set as a gift. Making the presentation was W. Ralph Correll, faculty member, who also gave Kittle a Santa Claus doll "to smile at him" and a five-pound box of candy "for his sweet tooth."

At the same Dec. 21 assembly the Music Department sponsored a program in which several of the school's musical groups participated. The Bakers Dozen, Choir, Glee Club and newly formed Hourglass sang seasonal songs, from popular to traditional carols.

The orchestra also performed, along with the B.H.S. Balletinas who presented their interpretation of Sligh Ride. Gwen Gaudio danced The Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy from Nutcracker Suite.

Golden Asks For Legal Opinion On Wage Practices

A legal opinion on salary practices in the department of Public Works was requested by James R. Golden, who last week asked the county prosecutor to investigate a long-standing 44-hour pay scale for men working 42½ hours in the department. Golden, of 62 Tappan Avenue asked that the mayor instruct Thomas D'Avella, town attorney, for an opinion "to clarify this matter."

Nuncio R. Pico To Run For Councilman At-Large

Commissioner Nuncio R. Pico, director of Public Affairs, will seek election to an at-large council seat in the new council-manager government. Commissioner Pico said this week he would run in the election May 8.

Already in the race is Commissioner George F. Kiernan, director of Parks and Public Property, who said last April he would be a candidate for one of the three at-large seats.

The new form of government was adopted by voters last Spring. A five-man council and town manager will replace the present five-man commission.

Vincent T. Strumolo has also announced his candidacy for South Ward seat. Strumolo was

School Board Members Happy In Success Of Referendum

As the tally of votes came in last Thursday night, there was jubilation among Board of Education members and citizens who had worked for the passage of the high school referendum. The referendum passed by a vote of 2,438 to 2,357—81 votes.

"I am extremely happy," said Dominic A. Lally, Board of Education president, "and I want to express my deep appreciation to the citizens of Belleville for making such a wise investment in our children. This is a vote in the right direction. I am assured that we will be one of the best school systems in New Jersey."

Michael V. Albertine, board vice president, agreed it was a "step in the right direction." He added "this is a great day for education in Belleville."

Tots Ponder Very Weighty Problem About Santa Claus

Santa Claus is mighty fat, agree the children in the preschool division of the Recreation Department. Just how fat though, invites discussion.

"Well, I know he's bigger than my father," offered Brian Seidel. "Santa Claus must weigh 300 pounds," decided Kenneth West. "Or about 131," insisted Robert Shaughnessy.

"I think he weighs 10 pounds," concluded Allan Weston. "I weigh about 30. I guess, but he's much bigger than I am." He paused, pondered and finally pronounced, "His 10 pounds make him a lot bigger than my 30."

The problem came up at the Christmas party for the 35 children of the class at the Recreation House on Joramelon Street. A visit from Santa Claus was the highlight of the Friday morning party. He came through the door, jangling a string of bells and

1950 STUDY

In 1950 the Institute of Field Studies, Teachers College, Columbia University recommended the erection of a senior high school and the adoption of the 5-3 system of education. In 1959 the Division of Field Studies and Research of Rutgers University recommended the same thing to solve "Belleville's urgent need for improved school facilities."

Dr. Frank W. DiRuggiero, board member, was then president of the board. One hundred persons were appointed to study the recommendation. The committee accepted them and the Board of Education unanimously adopted them on June 21, 1960.

A first referendum for a new high school had been defeated April 26, 1955. At that time proposals for additions to schools Three and Seven were passed.

FIRST SINCE 1932

The new high school will be the first new school in Belleville since 1932 when School Ten was built. The present high school was built in 1916. Additions were added in 1922, 1928 and 1938. "It has been a history of additions," said Dr. Durkee, "that's been what's wrong with it."

The present school was built to house 1,000 students, although 1,200 would not overload it, according to Dr. Durkee. It is now being used by 1,561 students. The new school is designed for 1,000 students of grades 10 to 12. Facilities will hold 1,232 students comfortably. The present school will become a junior high school, grades 7 to 9.

When the new school opens it will be for about 1,166 students, according to the Rutgers Report. About 1,006 will be in the junior high school. By 1965 there will be 1,002 at the junior high and 970 in the senior high. After that, the report shows an upswing in the high school population between 1,000 and 1,200 for a period.

said December, 1959. The new owners were taxed. The new owners at 29 Lloyd Place was so taxed, its tax status as of Oct. 1, 1959.

Grub-in argued that although the Congregation was entitled to one exemption in 1960 for a parsonage, none was received.

The case is pending before the State Board of Taxation on appeal. The county board affirmed the assessment in action on Nov. 10, 1960.

Mayor Isadore J. Padula argued the commissioners could not take action on a case that would be resolved by the state board. Grub-in said there had been an indication made that the commission could act. The town could waive the payment, he said. He made it clear he was not acting as spokesman for the Congregation but was acting as a commissioner attempting to right a wrong. The Lloyd Place property should have been exempt for 1960, he said.

HEARING TODAY

The assessment on the Washington Avenue property was scheduled for a hearing this morning before the county tax board. Grub-in would not say, Tuesday night, if he would appeal the assessment at the hearing. He has said the assessment was extremely high. Town records value the building at $52,000 and the land parcels at $13,000. This would mean a yearly tax bill of $2,231 under present rates. Grub-in and Congregation officials said the building and grounds were purchased for $1,000.

It was expected the Congregation would be represented at the hearing. Jack Orinsky, president, however, was not available for comment.

The synagogue was assessed for six months because its tax-exempt purpose had terminated, according to Emanuele DeNoia Jr., tax assessor.

By its action, ratifying Friel's complaint, the commission formally affirmed a decision made earlier, on Wednesday, Dec. 13. At that time the commissioners met with the tax assessor and Thomas D'Avella, town attorney, to discuss the property. Grub-in, although he had called for a meeting with the mayor and the tax assessor and attorney, did not attend. He later insisted the "meeting and any action taken at that time were improper."

Grub-in said the issue was becoming "political in nature." The manner of adding the assessment had been "completely improper."

Padula originally defended Grub-in, saying Grub-in, a lawyer, "knows his law." The mayor also said "it was not unusual for buyers to take time recording transfer of deeds." Grub-in's deed was not recorded until Dec. 6, 1961, one year after the purchase.

Padula now appears to have abandoned Grub-in on the synagogue tax controversy. He said at a Nov. 23 meeting he would introduce a proposal asking that Friel be authorized to file a complaint with the county tax board.

Albert Guglielmo of 75 Lake Street announced this week he might run. He said he was considering his candidacy since the school building program proposed by the present board was passed by the town in last week's election. Through the campaign he was in opposition to the plan.

The Citizens' Tax Council, organized opponents of the referendum, said it would support a slate of candidates. There has been no announcement yet who they will be.

Applications for military and civilian absentee ballots for the Feb. election are being accepted now by Mrs. Mary B. Shader, secretary of the board.

said Dr. Frank W. DiRuggiero, board member, "will give the Town of Belleville a big boost, not only in the educational field, but in other areas." The Rutgers Report, of 1959 which recommended a new school, was conducted under Dr. DiRuggiero's presidency of the board. "It makes me doubly happy," he said, referring to the initiation of the report, "to have helped give the children of Belleville a lasting gift."

"Belleville has given its children the best Christmas present possible," said Nicholas Juliano, board member.

"This is certainly encouraging," said Richard H. Drake, board member. "Now we can be looking forward. We have been stalled for so long by this," he said about the old school. "It has been the chief stumbling block to improvement."

Arthur M. Pico, board member said he was very happy about the outcome of the election. "It is now up to all of us to fully support the school program," he said. "The voice of the people has been heard."

Board member Ernest S. Arrison said: "It has been my privilege to have been associated with many of the dedicated people who, during the past decade, have persisted in their endeavors to make our much-needed high school a reality. Those who were members of the Better Schools Committee, all P.T.A. people and all, who in spite of bitter disappointments, continued to labor for this cause should have a feeling of personal satisfaction in this result.

MANY WORKED

"While praise may be heaped on those in high places for the outcome, the success was in large measure brought about by these people who spoke to their neighbors and friends and convinced them that our children deserve better education. I am sure our children appreciate our efforts."

"It's wonderful," said Mrs. Mary B. Shader, secretary of the board. "We are all very, very happy."

Mrs. Anthony C. Izzo, who had formed the Mothers Committee for the New School to get endorsements for the program, said, "Nothing could have made me happier. We have waited for this for so long we have no words to say—we can only stand around and look giddy."

Calvin Peck, of the Citizens' School Building Advisory Committee, smiled happily and admitted, "I'm speechless."

added to each day in lieu of Saturday," Grub-in said. The week has consistently been a 42 1/2-hour week since then, Grub-in said.

OVERTIME PAY

Golden argued that salaried employees especially supervisors in the department were not entitled to the overtime pay they were receiving for extra hours work.

"There is not that much difference in hourly rate and salary," Grub-in answered. "If they work they get paid. I will draw no distinction." He added that the men worked on holidays and through the night to clear snow during winter. "They deserve commendation rather than condemnation."

Grub-in said he intended no change in salary procedure.

About This Time

What I Wanted For Christmas

By MARLISE JAMES
Presents have been exchanged for another Christmas season and the problem of "What shall I get for . . . ?" is put away for another year along with the box of Christmas tree ornaments. To file until the next season of Yule joy are some suggestions for the teenagers on your list.

sought someone "10 feet tall, black hair and orange eyes." Most males seemed to have other things in mind beside the opposite sex. But Ralph Casale, one exception, asked for "a good-looking chick." Bobby Puglio specified a beautiful blonde.

A CAR

A random sampling of Belleville High School students was taken with the help of Laura Jane Baker, Aileen La Mura and Joan DiFazio to guide buyers to what teenagers would like most to find in their stocking Christmas morning if they could have anything in the world.

The most popular item with girls seemed to be a boy. Maria Corino wanted something tall, dark and handsome because she was lonely. Pat McNamara wanted a Santa from Garden Avenue and Barbara Maguire's request good luck in the next marking period. Nick Grande looked to the future and requested a long-range scholarship. Eda Scheffer wanted a homeroom. Fourth period English wanted Eugene J. Westlake, who is leaving Belleville High to teach at Northern Valley Regional High School. Paula Zaccone wanted Westlake for English, homeroom and physical education classes. Joe Cervasio, Jackie Foster and Carol Brechtbill agreed they'd rather have Belleville's accreditation restored more than getting any other gift. Tony Pamio thought an advance paper reporting Belleville's victory in the Essex County Tournament was a perfect idea and Carol Colehamer wanted Virginia Tech in her stocking.

SOMETHING UNUSUAL

Sue Walters wanted a geometry answer book. Joan DeFazio and Elinor Mostello had their hopes on an A in algebra. Joan Hoffmann generally just wished for rush, sighed for "just a little peace and quiet." Cathie Jensen had designs on "a little dog named Herman." Janet Borino thought she was so bad she would have to settle for a piece of coal. Bob Byers decided that in his stocking he'd like to find his foot. Judy Tremel wanted a surprise and Ronnie Fazio said you'd be surprised at what he wanted.

laughing heartily. The children, all of them four years old, stared at him at first and then laughed heartily along with him and accepted gifts from him.
WHO'S THIS?
And after he left and they sat down to eat, several began discussing a red and white stick figure decorating each cup cake. "Oh, it's Santa Claus," Linda Giese assured them. "That's a scarecrow," interrupted Patricia Foley. "It's too skinny to be Santa Claus."
"You know why that can't be Santa Claus?" asked Joan Cass-in. "Because he doesn't have a white ball on his red hat, that's why."

"It's one of Santa's helpers," suggested Pamela Kiernan. She smiled knowingly and whispered, "That wasn't the real Santa Claus here before. That was one of Santa Claus' helpers too — a man dressed up in a Halloween suit." Santa Claus, she explained, is too busy right before Christmas to go to parties.
But such was the stature of that "man dressed up in a Halloween suit," that Pamela never realized it was her father, George F. Kiernan Jr. To her this Santa's helper was "the biggest man I ever saw."

By ED BONNET

I liked in Belleville this Christmas particularly the free apples given out at the Peoples National Bank and Trust Co.; the pleasant chimes coming from Mary's Alteration Shop on Washington Avenue; the large sleigh and reindeer on the roof of Loria Motors near Mill Street. I liked the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored umbrella of Christmas lighting around Town Hall, surrounding the Nativity scene there; the spritely Santa in the window of The Belleville Times, which stopped every youngster in his tracks.

I liked the decorations all over town on grounds and doorways of houses. I liked the gaily decorated porches on all the floors of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, lighting up the snow-covered park.

I like Scala Beauty Parlor on Franklin Avenue for having the initiative to be the first of your advertisers to use the new telephone code 759 in his ad.

OH, IT'S REALLY SANTA—Coming through the doorway to visit with the children of the pre-school division of the Recreation Department and their teacher, Mrs. A. H. Verhagen.

Our New High School And The Problems Ahead

The statistics of the special high school referendum have now become part of the glorious history of Belleville.

By a score of 2,438 to 2,357 Belleville voters, after two failures over six years authorized the construction of a new Belleville High School.

The total votes cast was disappointingly small. Approximately 28 per cent of Belleville voters took the time and trouble to visit the polls, this despite the fact that every single Belleville resident will be affected by the result.

In the light of the vote result it is our fervent prayer that the Middle States Association will reconsider its decision to drop Belleville High School from its accredited list. A restoration of our school system to the Association's accredited list will place our high school graduates on an equal footing with graduates from other high schools. Dr. Frank Durkee, School Superintendent has already petitioned the Middle States Association seeking restoration of our accreditation.

The tax burden to build the new school will not be levied for another year. Meanwhile economies can be effected in our school system and Town Hall to more than offset the cost, operation, and maintenance of the proposed new high school. The place to start wielding the economy axe is with the new budgets—school and municipal.

The budgetary actions of our school officials and city hall officials will receive a closer inspection from the general public than ever before. We are convinced the new school cost could be paid from combined savings in the operation of our present school system and the management of town hall by a new Council. Manager come next May. School and Town Hall officials have a year to put into effect the required economies.

From the present School Board we can expect a sincere effort to effect economies in the operation of our school system.

Wouldn't it be nice if we could say the same for the Padula-led Town Commission?

If the taxpayers who bothered to vote last May 2nd to oust the Commission form of government make a return trip to the polls come next May we are certain Belleville will have seen the last of the extravagant Padula brand of municipal government.

UP SPEAK

Expresses Appreciation For Service

Dear Sir:—Our son, Robert, sustained serious injuries to his leg in a fall at Hamilton College, Clinton, New York, on December 17.

May we express our heartfelt appreciation to First Aid Squad men Kenneth Nygaard and Thomas Nivocice, as well as Chief Carl Hunderpfund and Commissioner Harry Sullivan for making it possible for him to be transported by ambulance to St. Barnabas Hospital in Newark where he could be close to home and under the expert care of Dr. Paul Strassburger.

Belleville has reason to be proud of this fine, humanitarian service which goes far beyond the call of duty—rendered day and night, with skill, courtesy and consideration.

Sincerely,
ALLAN AND NANCY CRISP

Beck's Column

Sometime during the summer we wrote in this column, that the Federal Communications Commission has approved a new radio broadcast feature called "Multiplex."

This new expression does not mean anything to most people. Everybody knows the word stereo these days though, and that is what multiplex means, stereo radio. The name as stereo phonograph means 2 channel reproduction, multiplex means 2 channel radio. The effect is a depth and dimension which is not possible with regular one channel radio.

Several manufacturers of stereo instruments have provided a switch on their sets for multiplex. In this case it is possible to buy an adapter from the same manufacturer and attach it to the set. The cost is somewhere between $35 - $60.

This new feature will make listening to FM more enjoyable. It is not possible on regular (AM) radio. Presently there are about half a dozen stations transmitting multiplex. We are of the opinion that there is no need to rush into this new facility. As with everything new, there are usually some "bugs" in it and it is a good policy to wait until these bugs have been ironed out.

If you do not have a stereo-phonograph - FM combination, you cannot adapt your equipment for multiplex. In most cases it will be necessary to use an FM antenna for multiplex reception, since the signal strength on multiplex is considerably lower than on regular (monaural) FM.

All of this probably sounds very confusing. If you have any questions please come in and discuss it with the writer or one of our technicians.

We service what we sell.

SOS Message Received

The SOS, spurred on by the success of the high school referendum, will remain in existence to insure fine education in Belleville. Al Gaudio, president, said this week.

The group was formed to spread a Save Our Schools message to get a yes vote for the high school. Now we are going to protect the investment we are making by helping education any way we can, said Gaudio.

"We think of ourselves now as vigilante committee for good education," he explained. "The group will have a meeting at the Galaxy on Wednesday, Jan. 3."

Outstanding Player Award To Galioto

Phil (Red) Galioto, former half-back and quarterback on the Belleville 1959 Jayvee football team, received the Outstanding Player award at the close of the Forest Hill High Falcons season. Playing at halfback for the West Palm Beach, Fla. high school, he was honored for his fine competitive playing.

He accounted for more than half of the net yardage the Falcons gained rushing in their game with Palm Beach High. In that game he got off two long gains, which set up Forest Hill's

Top Grid Honor To Hollar

Bill Hollar, whose coach says he's "the best all-around back I've ever coached," has been named outstanding player on the Immaculate Conception High School football team. Hollar, 6'2" and 210 pounds, is co-captain of the Montclair school's squad. According to Joe Garvey, his coach, he is a good passer, a good blocker, an excellent defensive back and an outstanding competitor. Hollar was named to the All-State Parochial Schools third team. He was chosen outstanding Immaculate player by the sports staff of The Montclair Times in consultation with the school's coaching staff. He was guest of The Montclair Times at the Holman Memorial Trophy Dinner at the Downtown Athletic Club in New York City, last month. The dinner and ceremonies mark the presentation of the Holman Memorial Trophy to the most outstanding college player. This year's award went to Ernie Davis, Syracuse University half-back, who signed last week with the professional Cleveland Browns.

Hollar has played as a varsity regular at Immaculate for three years. He is also a regular on the basketball team. In addition he serves on the corridor patrol. He intends to go to prep school for one year before attending college.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hollar of 24 Smith Street. A brother, Tom, is a reserve lineman on the Immaculate team.

Last Minute Rally In Vain For J.V.s

BY RAY FERSKO
The Junior Varsity Basketball team met a rough Clifton team and lost by 17 points, 47-30. The starting five Joyce, Lilia, Bauer, Coppola and Benedicci opened the game with a beautiful offense and defense. In the first quarter, the Bellboys scored seven goals to Clifton's three.

In the next quarter a new Belleville team came in and switched to a man for man defense allowing Clifton to score 21 points, while they scored only 11. Most of the ball handling this quarter was done by Casar of Clifton and Lenny Luongo of Belleville.

In the third quarter the first team came back and scored seven points but Clifton widened the margin by scoring 11. The fourth quarter started with good defensive work but Clifton surged ahead with three successive field goals by Brady and three foul shots by Casar. With two minutes left, Jack Swerling and Jeff Bauer came in and helped stop the Clifton activity. Belleville started playing hard but they can't beat the time. The team's record now stands at one and one but with the help of such players as Jeff Bauer, Mike Lilia and Lenny Luongo, the J.V.'s should finish the season with an impressive record.

New Jersey is one of the few states with climate and soil suitable to the cultivation of cranberries.

Town To Buy Property At 64 Belleville Avenue

The Town of Belleville will buy property at 64 Belleville Avenue for $15,000. The two-family building will be used for Public Affairs department offices and Civilian Defense. The Town Commission unanimously authorized purchase of the property at Tuesday night's commission meeting.

Welfare office, located at 307 Union Avenue, will be transferred to the new location. The Civilian Defense center is now at 203 Washington Avenue. In addition, garage space would be provided on Belleville Avenue for three trade commission trucks.

Commissioner George F. Kieran, Director of Parks and Public Works, estimated that $3,000 would be saved in rentals from moving these offices to town-owned property. Commissioner Robert C. Gruhn, director of Public Works, called the purchase another step in the "future development of this square."

The commission passed on first reading an appropriation of $2,850 for the second floor garage to the fire headquarters addition, which is nearing completion. This appropriation would be an addition to two formerly made for the construction. The first was for $30,000 made on Feb. 28, 1961. The second, for $5,000, was made on June 27, 1961.

FAMILY HOSPITALIZATION
The commissioners also heard an appeal from police and firemen for family hospitalization coverage. The commission included it in the budget for next year. They pointed to a state law passed last year permitting the coverage. The town now pays for individuals, rather than entire families.
