

Further Tests Show Added Structure Needed For School

Results of further test borings on the site of the proposed new Belleville High School have recommended "the use of pilings in a limited area under the gymnasium and part of one adjacent classroom wing."

In a prepared statement read at Monday night's Board of Education meeting, Richard H. Drake, board president, assured citizens that the condition "is not serious." Drake's explanation of the history of the borings and the results follows:

"In the early part of 1961, the Belleville Board of Education employed Alfonso Alvarez as architect for the proposed new High School. In preparing preliminary plans, the Architect had access to the results of test borings, prepared in 1955, of a portion of the property to be used for the new school. These borings had been analyzed in September of 1955 by a firm of consulting structural engineers, and the report of this analysis had indicated that the soil was ample to support a two story school on spread footings, without resorting to a pile foundation.

"As his plans developed, the Architect requested authorization from the Board to have additional test borings made, including at least one of a portion of the proposed site not studied in the 1955 series. These additional borings were completed in April of 1961. The borings taken in the areas previously tested gave support to the findings of the earlier series. In addition, the borings in that portion of the site not previously tested, while indicating land less suitable than

Former Board President Slams Tax Council Talkers

Mrs. Violet P. Rochau, former president of the Board of Education, attacked Citizens Tax Council members Tuesday for monopolizing the school board meeting Monday night with "recriminations, harangues, sarcasm and innuendos."

"Although I have been off the Belleville Board of Education for over two years," she said in a statement, "I still retain a very real interest in the youth of our town and their education. Because of this interest, I try to attend board meetings when ever possible."

At the meeting on Monday, April 23, there were four pages of resolutions on the agenda. To my considerable disgust, I did not hear even one of these resolutions acted on because of the dissensions of members of the Citizens Tax Council. I wish to register my very strong objection to having to listen to their recriminations, harangues, sarcasm, and innuendos for one hour and fifteen minutes when as they showed no signs of stopping I left.

NOT CTC MEETING

"This was supposed to have been a meeting of the Belleville Board of Education not a meeting of the Citizens Tax Council. This small, but vociferous, segment of our population, who so obviously seek to run our community, should not be allowed to so harass our Board of Education that they must be mentally and physically tired before they even start on the business at hand."

"Also at these meetings there are college students, student teachers, who are required to attend meetings of the board. These young people need their rest that they be mentally alert next day. It is not fair to them to subject them to these long drawn out meetings."

"We urge citizens to attend board meetings and know their schools. P.T.A. people are told that they should have representatives at these meetings. They are not allowed to do so. This is a very serious matter. We urge citizens to attend board meetings and know their schools. P.T.A. people are told that they should have represen-

Two new town chairmen were elected Monday night to head local parties.

Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan easily won the Democratic chairmanship, as expected. He succeeds Ralph Vara who held the post for the past 14 years. Vara's ticket was defeated in the primary last week, winning only 12 seats. Sullivan forces captured 33.

Third Meeting Tonight At School 7 On Master Plan

The third in a series of information meetings sponsored by the Planning Board will be held tonight at School Seven at 7:30.

The purpose of the meetings is to provide a complete review of the Master Plan and its sections.

The final meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 1 at School Four. The meaning and purpose of the Master Plan will be stressed. The meetings include question periods.

The first informational meeting at School One last Thursday night ended in discord between Ralph Visco, board chairman, and several citizens.

Salvatore R. Calabro, councilman at-large candidate, attacked the cost of the two-year study conducted by the Planning Board. He insisted $36,000 was a waste of money and argued that "the edict of experts" should not be accepted by the board over the feelings of the residents of the Valley. The experts Calabro referred to were the Urban Planning Associates of New York consultants to the board.

Theresa Scotti and Roger Wartell will serve as student narrators. Demonstrations will include square dancing, tumbling, wrestling, modern dance and social dancing, among others.

Herman B. Wishe is director of the Physical Education department.

Farm and Little League Final Registration

The Recreation Farm League will hold final registration — tomorrow, Friday, April 27, 10 a.m., at Belleville Municipal Stadium.

All boys who have not signed up for Little League or Farm League must do so if they want to play baseball this year.

James R. Golden, candidate for councilman at-large, repeated his condemnation of the Planning Board and his hope to have it abolished.

"The Planning Board will sell the people of the Valley down the river," he predicted. Golden's tirade brought applause from the more than 100 persons attending the meeting.

Theodore M. Wells of 13 Quinton Street, a Valley spokesman, warned that with the advent of council-manager government in Belleville, a housing authority, with the power to condemn, could be created. Valley residents would be forced to leave their homes under a Federal Urban Renewal program, he said.

Visco answered that the Planning Board only made recommendations. Only the Town Council would have power to make new zoning ordinances, which would be law, he said.

Wells has been fighting the land use proposal for an industrial park in the Valley.

He urged Visco to hold another public hearing on the land use

Sullivan Asked To Withdraw From May 8 Race

Thomas F. McGill, one of Belleville's town critics, asked this week that Harry J. Sullivan, commissioner, Democratic town chairman and at-large candidate withdraw from the May 8 race, because of his political ties.

"Fellow citizens, we here in Belleville have had a municipal form of local government for many years that is of a non-partisan political nature," said McGill.

"This in my opinion is as it should stay. Recent changes in the local Democratic party may endanger our non-partisan local government and this must not be allowed to happen."

"Commissioner Harry Sullivan has been elected as Town Democratic Chairman and is also a candidate for councilman at-large under our new form of council-manager municipal government. This I maintain borders on or is a direct conflict of interests."

DISMISSIVE

"How can a man in this position stand among partisan politics into our non-partisan local government? By his very actions Commissioner Sullivan is doing a disservice to the town of Belleville."

"Based on this and for the best interests of Belleville, I hereby request Commissioner Harry Sullivan to withdraw as a candidate for a council seat."

MAY 4 MEETING

The meeting was to have been the final session before the May 8 election. The commission, however, authorized a meeting for Friday morning, at 9 o'clock on May 4.

Max N. Schwartz, attorney for the Board of Education, said he would propose at the next meeting the school board's request for title to the entire municipal stadium site. The property is now administered by the town Parks and Public Property Department. Schwartz had intended to present the proposal Tuesday night, one night after it was adopted by a vote of six to one by the school board. The commission requested the delay because the full board was not present.

Commissioners Robert C. Gruhin, acting as mayor, George F. Kiernan and Nuncio R. Pico were at the meeting. Mayor Isadore J. Padula and Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan were absent.

TWELVE ACRE TRACT

The commission earlier decided a portion of the stadium site to the school board for the construction of a new high school. About 12 acres, including the land on which the stadium stands and adjacent fields, are involved in the latest request, according to Richard H. Drake, school board president. He said the commission indicated it would accept such a request.

James R. Golden, town critic and councilman at-large candidate, charged that the commission had decided to hold a morning meeting immediately prior to the election in order to "railroad" through legislation without full public discussion. It is impossible for many citizens, including himself, to attend daytime meetings, he said.

Thomas F. McGill, a Citizens Tax Council spokesman, promised he would be at the next meeting to find out if the municipal stadium was being properly cared for by the Parks and Public Property department.

plan, similar to the one held on Feb. 15.

Visco, in his opening remarks, said the objectives of the plan were to maintain neighborhoods, provide adequate parking facilities, and make clear district zoning. He said it will also study the town's recreational system and determine Belleville's future financial outlook. Visco added since there is little undeveloped land remaining in Belleville, any population growth would come through redevelopment.

He described the informational meetings as a chance to give citizens an understanding of the Master Plan, rather than to give them only a chance to debate its merits.

The second meeting was held Tuesday at School Three.

ming before the Council shall be five minutes. The minutes, these minutes to be made public, with copies available at Town Hall for any interested citizens.

$600 SALARY

"I recommend that each councilman receive a salary of $600 per year, no more, no less."

"There are several criteria by which I shall cast my vote for the selection of a manager."

"1. He will be academically trained for his job."

"2. He will have had at least 3 to 5 years experience in another town as town manager, or this amount of training of a manager of a large city."

"3. His reputation as a manager or assistant will be good. This reputation to be determined by contacting residents of the town in his present town of employment."

"After analyzing the salaries paid to City Managers throughout the country, and, considering the size and location of Belleville, I think we should be able to obtain a good manager at a starting salary of approximately $12,000 to $15,000 per year."

FLEXIBLE

One of the major attributes of the council-manager form of government in New Jersey is its flexibility. The number of departments and the functions to be staffed within departments are left very much up to the Town Council. It is possible that instead of having five departments as we do now, we might have only four, or even three. It is also fairly common for the manager himself to assume the direct supervision of one or more departments.

"This obviously requires organizational and personnel planning. I will always stress that changes in town organization be gradual and only when the benefits can be demonstrated to bring about either better service or lower costs, or both."

EMPLOYEE

"This brings up the question of town employees. As a businessman, I know that you cannot keep anyone on your payroll unless he performs a function and renders value to your business. The same should hold true for government employees. If a man is not performing a full time job, his duties should either be expanded or his job should be abolished and his duties given to another town employee who has the time and capacity to perform them. There will be no one employed by the town who does not put in a full day's work. We should also compensate our full-time hard working, conscientious town workers fairly. I have always thought that the reason municipal workers salaries were low was that no-show, political job-holders put too much of a strain on the budget.

main stems. These would bring the town sizeable increments of taxable property while not overburdening us with the need for services and school space. We have to get more taxables to decrease the tax rate. Apartments would do that. In Belleville, apartments would attract New York business couples because of our fine transportation facilities. They'd have to be luxury apartments to keep the school situation from getting out of hand."

Simulolo challenged this contention of the Mayor. He raised the question, "Is Padula now backing Raimo in this race in return for a promise from him to back the Krugman & De Petri Fairway Area apartment project?"

Belleville for the past 23 years. He is the President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and associated with the office of Leslie Blaz, Essex County Freeholder. Burlazzi has been engaged in the real estate field for the past seven years and also instructs for Rutgers University Newark.

BEST REPRESENTATION

On accepting the appointment:

Burlazzi said "I feel that people of the First Ward will have the best representation by electing Mr. Simulolo. I have known Vincent for a number of years and have studied the other candidates."

"My conclusion is that Mr. Simulolo is the only candidate in our ward that will truly have the people's interests at heart. I recommend without reservation to all my friends and associates that they vote for Mr. Simulolo."

"Mr. Simulolo has lived in town all his life and has stood up numerous occasions that have proved to be sound reflections of his judgment. His integrity is above reproach."

"We have to elect a person that has been with the people in the past not any Johnny come lately."

had a rapid rise to the top position. He has served as chaplain, jr. vice commander and sr. vice commander, a stream of offices that usually require four years' membership in the organization. A veteran of World War I, Guadio served in Europe for 2 campaigns through England, France, Italy and North Africa. With the First Allied Airborne Command, 480th Troop Carrier Group Headquarters, he made paratroop jumps with the 101st, 506th and 328th Airborne Divisions, Infantry Paratroop.

He served as flight surgeon's assistant, reaching the rank of sergeant.

SEVEN BATTLE STARS

He obtained seven major battle campaign stars and was awarded the Soldiers Medal for action beyond the call of duty, the American Theatre Ribbon, Presidential Unit Citation and was also given the Good Conduct Medal three times.

Guadio is a master sergeant in the U.S.A.R. in the 324th Ordinance Group Headquarters, Headquarters Co.

Here in Belleville he is a former member of the Citizens Tax Council who helped launch the government change to council-manager form. He was the organizer of the Save Our Schools committee, which battled for the passage of the high school referendum. He is also a former Democratic County Committee member.

Guadio said he resigned local activities in order to "devote more time to benefit the V.F.W. post."

He said he "believes all veterans who served overseas should join V.F.W., to better the vets." He added, "I welcome all to join up with Post 275."

Other officers to be installed Saturday are: James Lary, sr. vice commander; Tony Monte, jr. vice commander; Ernie Alden, Q.M. Jack Regg, chaplain; Bob Smith, post advocate; Mike Resciniti, post adjutant; Dr. Benjamin Jacobson, post surgeon; Vito Mili and Lou Savarese will be installed as trustees.

KIERNAN'S KORNER

During the past four years I have been privileged to serve you as Director of the Department of Parks & Public Property. In this time I have come to know Belleville's children thru the function of the Recreation Department. I remain concerned for the welfare of our children. It is imperative that there always be an alert guardian dedicated to protecting the children's heritage, a right to play and a place to do it. Play is a vital and necessary function in childhood. Many of the old places to play have long ago disappeared in the flood of urbanization. Existing play areas must be protected.

As you know, I am a candidate for the office of Councilman-at-Large in the May 8th election. If you see fit to again place me in office I assure you I shall continue my concern for the welfare of our children.

If you agree with me that Belleville, with its fresh new form of government, is on the threshold of a new era, an era of pride and spirit and energy, you will probably agree as well that your selection of leadership at this time is the most important choice in our town's entire history. It is my deepest hope that you will judge me worthy by virtue of my record and experience and that you will vote A-3 on May 8th.

conditions the cost of the town government ought not to be increasing. "The welfare of the people of the Second Ward must be considered. The property of the people of district one and two belong to the people. To take it from them by industrialization cannot be justified. Unless this principal is recognized district one and two are no longer secure; our people no longer free," Caracciola said if elected he "will fight for the people to preserve their rights with justice."

Structure

in the other areas, gave little indication at that stage that any significant "foundation" problem was posed by the nature of the land. Consequently, plans were continued with the anticipation that no extraordinary cost would be involved in making the land directly usable.

FURTHER BORINGS

In December, 1961, the voters of Belleville approved the referendum authorizing the new High School. As detailed construction plans were developed, a more detailed analysis of the previous test borings was made by the Architect's consultants. This analysis indicated the desirability of obtaining still further test studies in one area of the proposed site to determine the most economical type of foundation for the building in that area.

"These further studies have just been completed. They indicate that the basic sub-structure of the entire area is a decomposed shale, excellent for construction with respect to both support and drainage characteristics. They also indicate, however, that at one corner of the proposed building there is a larger area of organic matter overlying this shale than had previously been indicated. On the basis of these studies, the Architect has recommended to the Board the use of pilings in a limited area under the Gymnasium and part of one adjacent classroom wing.

BEST SOLUTION

Despite previous attempts to label the whole High School site as a "bog" area and the consequent sensitivity of some portions of the public to the word "pilings," the Board feels that the Architect's recommendation represents the best solution to this problem.

"The basic plans for the new school are in no way affected by these findings, and the Board has the reasonable assurance of the Architect that the additional construction costs incurred in meeting this problem can be absorbed in the existing provision for site development and by means of economies already anticipated through the use of improved constructional methods.

Touch said, "In my platform I am called 'Only One Man.' We all know that overstaffing is one of Belleville's greatest evils. We hope to accomplish this one-man plank by eliminating political appointments. This must be done if we are going to clean up the mess that has plagued Belleville since the politicians have been in control.

"We can't reduce taxes and continue this trend. If I am elected, I shall make every effort within my power as a servant to the taxpayer that this is carried out. This must come to a halt.

JURISDICTION

"The Water Department has been used more or less as a sugar plum.

"The elected officials have done an injustice to the taxpayer in this area.

"For example, I shall go back a few years. To cite just what has happened, the figures quoted are a matter of record at Town Hall. In 1953 the Water Department showed a surplus of approximately $380,000. In 1954 the commissioner's first year in office that surplus dropped to approximately, $14,000. In 1956 there was over expenditure of $20,000. In 1957 the over expenditure was $28,000. No wonder the commissioners refuse to turn over a Water Department breakdown to the public.

"The sale of water had increased greatly, so that the surplus in that account should be greater now than in 1953. I ask you Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer, Where Did The Money Go? This I hope to pursue.

"Then to add insult to injury, they, the Commissioners had the gall to raise the water bill 51 per cent.

"Remember the year 1959?"

Strumolo's Ten Point Program For Progress

- (1) Maximum economy in our new form of government through strong financial controls to effect a reduction in Taxes.
- (2) Selection of a professional town manager with NO POLITICAL TIES.
- (3) The right of a direct voice in our town through an "Open door policy".
- (4) The need for building a greater civic pride among our people.
- (5) A constructive program to attract ratables.
- (6) More positive action in obtaining state and federal aid.
- (7) Better parking, street lighting, and more reliable transportation facilities.
- (8) Improvement of town standards and codes.
- (9) The establishment of a council of Belleville organizations (P.T.A.'s, church, and civic groups) to aid in the suppression of juvenile delinquency.
- (10) Establish a lay committee between Board of Education and council to closely screen budget requests to further economies.

For the past eight years I have seen the tax rates in Belleville spiral upward with complete disregard for the working men and women in Belleville, long enough have the smooth talking politicians raised our taxes without any increase in services. My program for progress is certainly not a cure-all for the mess our town is in, but it is a constructive start. I urge all the citizens of the 1st ward to study my proposals, to compare them with others and select your choice for councilman based on his record, business experience, and concern for you, your children, and your home.

Keglers Aid In Cancer Crusade With Tourney

Local bowlers are participating this week in a "Beat the Champs" contest designed to help raise funds toward Essex County's goal of $200,000 in the Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society.

The contest is part of a national "Bowl Down Cancer" campaign being sponsored jointly by the ACS, the Bowling Proprietors Ass'n of America and manufacturers of bowling logs and equipment. AMF and Brunswick, nineteen Essex County bowling lane proprietors are cooperating in the effort.

Each bowler enrolled in the tournament pays a 50-cent fee which the bowling lane owners are contributing entirely to the cancer fund. The scores are being recorded, and at the end of the national tournament, they will be matched against the scores registered by Dick Weber and Shirley Garmes, national winners of the BPAA's 1962 all-star tournament, who are contributing their services in the fight against cancer. There will be male and female divisions.

Each of the two top national winners will receive a Ford of Chevrolet and a trip to Europe.

Cindermen Defeat Orange And Drop Meet To Passaic

By ROGER WARTELL
By coming through in the final events of the day, Belleville High's cindermen claimed their first victory of the season when they defeated Orange 56½-51½ at the windswept Municipal Stadium.

The sprints found Tom Greco taking two second places with Harry Armstrong grabbing first for Orange. Belleville took first and third in the mile and 440 yard dash, but Orange came back in the half mile and weight events. The Bellboys took first and second in the pole vault easily and placed two other men in a tie for third. The high jump and broad jump also went to Belleville with Bob Byers taking the high jump and Bob McGowan the broad jump.

The same situation occurred in the 220 yard dash with Perry winning in a time of 22.5 on a muddy track. Passaic took a first in the 440 with John Visco and Joe LaTore coming in second and third in the race.

BLOOMFIELD CENTER

Are You Voting Tuesday, May 8th?

Yes, are you planning to vote Tuesday, May 8th? 11 Council candidates for the three At-Large seats are asking voters to select them to govern our town for the next four years.

Five candidates in the 1st Ward (the general area from the Newark line to the south side of Joramelon St., excluding the "Valley" section), are vying for the one seat in the 1st Ward.

Eight more citizens are contesting for the one seat in the 2nd Ward, consisting generally of the area beginning at the north side of Joramelon St. to the Nutley line and including the "Valley" section. The Times-News will make its recommendations in next week's issue.

All three contests thus far in the campaign have been more or less popularity contests. If the voters are confused over their choice of candidates they should be — for the challengers — the outs — have failed to make it clear as to what changes they would initiate to bring about a lower — or low — tax bill. This comment is particularly true of the At-Large candidates.

Why should the voters of Belleville "throw out the rascals" as the "outs" are asking? What alternative is available to the people of Belleville? Greater change is needed and the voters of some challengers leave much to be desired. The reaction of many voters is that they know what they have but they do not know what they will get if they vote out the incumbents.

Meanwhile why not plan to vote Tuesday May 8th? Were you one of the 5000 that didn't vote four years ago? Will you be one of the 5000 that will fail to vote Tuesday, May 8th? We hope not.

The Selling Of Town Jobs

The current Council Election campaign has developed its quota of rumors. As in most municipal campaigns one hears talk about job promises made by candidates seeking office.

Of course it is illegal to make such a promise — but in a campaign some candidates and their supporters don't care too much about the law — the important thing is to win.

What concerns us is the constant recurring rumor that the Town Clerk's job under a new Town Council will be up for grabs. Many rumors continue to persist regarding the ousting of the present Town Clerk, Eugene Barnett.

Barnett is not covered by Civil Service, July 1, the date the new Council takes office, could very well be the end of Barnett's service. A political crony of a new Council majority undoubtedly would be picked to replace Barnett. To illustrate, if the Tax Council will be three seats on a new Council, we can be sure Barnett's head will be one of the first to feel the political axe.

As Town Clerk, Barnett has done a reasonably good job. We believe his experience will benefit a new Town Council governed by a set of new laws. Barnett is probably more familiar with the provisions of our new form of government than any other person in Belleville. Certainly no one knows more than Barnett does about the legislation which will govern the reorganization of our community government.

Barnett has been an honest and dedicated public servant. While we disapproved of his salary schedule it is our opinion his job should not be made a political pawn in the current election.

Candidates seeking the confidence of the voters should tell the public where they stand regarding the reappointment of Town Clerk Eugene Barnett — and the people should be told where the candidates stand regarding the reappointment of our able Magistrate Edward Abramson.

These jobs should not be sold for political services.

The best interests of Belleville would be served if all candidates agreed to remove both positions from the spoils system which no one doubts will be part of any government we have in Belleville, even after the May 8th election.

Juliano's "Needle" Didn't Work

Since Mrs. Norma McCool was elected to the School Board last February, Nicholas Juliano, school board member whose term expires next February, has lost no opportunity to "needle" Mrs. McCool for her votes which involve the expenditure of public funds.

Juliano thinks he is cute when he speaks of "persons who campaign on a platform of economy," with an obvious reference to Mrs. McCool.

Despite Juliano's needling and baiting, Mrs. McCool didn't bite. Listen to her words of wisdom, "I ran on a platform of economy but I realize too it takes money to run a school system."

We admire Mrs. McCool's ability to recognize political pitches and give them the indecent burial to which they are entitled.

In the two months that Mrs. McCool has served on the board she has brought credit upon herself. She has displayed a sincere interest in fighting the factionalism of the Juliano-led block which is out to obstruct the work of our highly competent school superintendent, Dr. Frank Durkee.

We congratulate Mrs. McCool for having the courage to stand up and fight for the things she believes are right, Juliano's needle notwithstanding.

Mrs. Rochau's Indignation

On page one of today's Times - News Mrs. Violet Rochau, former School Board President expresses indignation over the antics of various Tax Council spokesmen who exhausted her patience at Monday night's school board meeting.

Mrs. Rochau complains that Tax Council spokesmen, each covering the same ground, consumed an hour and a half of valuable time in what appeared to her to be attempts to delay the new school program, with utter disregard to the rights of other citizens attending the meeting.

Mrs. Rochau explains in her statement that she attended the school board meeting prepared to observe school board action on items contained in a four-page agenda. Instead, she was compelled to listen to irresponsible speeches obviously made for political purposes.

Protesting the waste of time resulting from the seemingly endless speeches by Tax Council spokesmen Mrs. Rochau took leave of the meeting and went at 9:30 p.m., unaware that the meeting would not adjourn until 1:30 a.m.

Mrs. Rochau's point is well taken. We agree with her one hundred per cent. Implicit in the "performances" by school board critics at meetings is public notice some of the critics will be candidates for school board seats at the next election.

Mrs. Kasper Pietela

Mrs. Emma Mary Pietela of 177 Stephens Street, wife of Kasper Pietela, died on Tuesday April 17 in American Legion Hospital after a brief illness. She was 74.

The Rev. Robert L. Siegal, pastor of Bethany Church, officiated at funeral services on Thursday, April 19 at William V. Irvine Home or Funerals. Interment was in Glendale Cemetery.

Born in Finland, Mrs. Pietela was a Belleville resident since 1912 when she came to this country.

In addition to her husband, she leaves two daughters, Miss Martha Pietela, at home, and Mrs. James Simons of North Arlington, and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Herbert Murphy

Mrs. Emma Hayward Murphy of 95 Belmont Street, widow of Herbert H. Murphy, died Monday, April 23 after a long illness. She was 85.

The Rev. George L. Van Leuven, pastor of Fewsminth Memorial Presbyterian Church, officiated at funeral services at Wadsworth Funeral Home Wednesday, April 25. Interment was in Crest Haven Memorial Park.

Born in Maine, Mrs. Murphy was a Belleville resident for the last 35 years. She was a member of Fewsminth Church and of the Order of Eastern Star in Ashland, Me.

Mrs. Murphy leaves a daughter, Mrs. Bernice M. Taggart, of the same address, and a grandson.

"This kind of knowledge could be applied in any one of the numerous sports, either as an amateur or in later years as a professional. It could be invaluable training to the student who wishes to pursue a career in physical education (teaching). If for no other reason, the rewards for having a physically fit body manifest themselves a thousand fold in the later years of our lives."

"Another reward, a perhaps more immediate one, is that of public recognition. In February of 1961, a noted American entertainer, Bob Hope, put on a 'Special Sportsman Award Show'. Various figures in the sports world were presented with 'Physical Fitness Awards' for achievements in their respective fields of endeavor. At that same time, Bob Hope also was presented with a 'Special Fitness Award' for his demonstration in promoting physical fitness across the nation. The awards were presented by President Kennedy who strongly advocates body fitness."

have a new form of government coming to Belleville and only the well qualified should serve. A large number of voters on May 8 is the answer to the question. Only then will the people have spoken."

"A vote for Dominic Lally is a vote for a better Belleville. Our town has stood still some time. Let's get Belleville moving again in the right direction. The voters in the First Ward have taken a good look at the other candidates, I am sure. That is the proper thing to do."

PROPER GROWTH
"Along with efficiency in government, the next thought uppermost in the citizen's mind is to properly channel the growth of Belleville. A progressive Belleville will increase commerce and industrial ratings, improve recreational facilities, town services at a level equal to the ability of the town to pay, are all objectives that can only be achieved by proper planning."

"If elected, I will support, with thought of personal gain, all projects that will accomplish these earnest desires of all taxpayers."

"I am confident that with the support of all the sensible Belleville voters, we can bring a rebirth to Belleville and once again allow us all to say with pride - 'I'm from Belleville, a nice place to live.'"

ed candidates continue to mislead their friends by implying that all the decisions will be their individual doings. This is not so. The only way the councilman may act decisively is by majority council vote, publicly taken.

"TAL MATTER"
"The selection of the vital manager becomes the first vital matter affecting our town's new governmental leaders. In my opinion we must choose only someone from out of town, who will be free from political commitments and who will do a well qualified and dedicated job."

"It is alarming that so many wild stories are gaining circulation to the effect that it begins to look like one of our present political leaders might be revisited for the job of community boss, through close bonds with the men whose poor records are perhaps largely responsible for the voters' toward boss controlled political leaders and the present politicians."

Sooy stressed his recorded designation on the ballot is the only one to sport the pledge of "Appointment of professionally trained manager." This he insisted establishes his independence and freedom from boss control.

Sooy's family has been in Belleville for 100 years. His grandfather, Michael J. Flynn, was Belleville's first policeman and later Belleville's first Police Chief. Sooy is in business with his father in an automobile repair service.

kers who take their duties seriously and who give full value for their salaries."

EMPLOYEES HARASSED
"I know that the most important element in any organization, business or municipal is the morale of the employees. Too often in the past, town employees have been harassed, I among them, by commissioners motivated by political considerations. The results were disastrous to morale. I pledge that, if elected, each employee shall have such full opportunity to work with dignity as shall be in my power to provide."

"The problems facing the council-elect are numerous and perplexing and will require either men who are experienced in municipal functions and planning, or those whose qualifications lend themselves to beneficial contributions to common objectives."

I believe that my experience as Town Building Inspector will be invaluable in town planning and that my knowledge of governmental functions will ably assist in properly launching the new government.

TAX BURDEN
"Aware that the tax burden is growing ever heavier, I am determined to examine our tax structure, root out unnecessary expenditures, practice every economy consistent with satisfactory services, and strive to stabilize and control the tax rate. I will endeavor to attract new taxables to ease the tax burden and will plan constructively for the future."

The problem of the citizen will be the problem of the Council. I will maintain an open door policy and will encourage any aggrieved citizen to discuss his grievance with me. I will do my best to rectify any justified complaint.

"I will accept the endorsement and support of all voters who believe that I am qualified to become their representative and who subscribe to policies and ideas I have outlined."

Greco has named Michael J. McEvers as his campaign manager. McEvers is employed by Crucible Steel Co.

The name Cortlandt Street in New York for many years was synonymous with everything pertaining to radio. This section of New York became known the world over as "radio row." If you could not get a part anywhere else, on Cortlandt Street you got it. It won't be long now and this landmark of the electronic age will have to give way to the downtown New York trade center, which is going to be built at a cost of about $270 million.

The merchants fight a losing battle to be left undisturbed. Of course they won't have a chance, you just can't "fight City Hall." Progress is inevitable and the small fellow does not have a chance when big things like this tremendous project is planned.

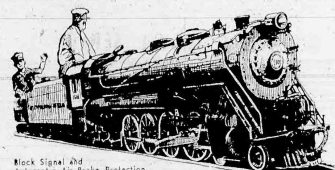

There have hardly been any changes on Cortlandt Street over the years. The appearance of the so-called "discount houses" brought no fear to the merchants there. Business was always highly competitive on Cortlandt Street. Discounters might have served their purpose, but as is inevitable when there are so many stores right next to each other selling the same items. You had to know your stuff if you wanted to "buy on radio row" otherwise you could get stuck — but good, as many people found out.

All that will soon be a thing of the past. There are a number of large stores handling the same items of merchandise scattered all through New York. There will never be a concentration of so many radio stores in such a narrow area in New York again.

FREE RABIES VACCINATION CLINIC

FOR ALL DOGS TO BEGIN

MAY 1st AT TOWN HALL

Commissioner Nuncio R. Pico, Director of Public Affairs and Health Officer Edward G. Burdy announced that the Belleville Health Department will hold its annual free rabies vaccination clinics at the following places and dates:

May 1—Town Hall, rear 6-8 P.M.

May 2—Washington Ave. Firehouse 6-8 P.M.

May 3—Silver Lake Franklin St. Firehouse 6-8 P.M.

According to information received by the local health authorities from the State Department of Health, New Jersey has not had a case of rabies in humans since 1955, and very few cases of verifiable rabies in dogs during this period.

Health Officials and specialists in animal diseases transmissible to a man, say this is the result of widespread immunization of dogs. They also say that unneared for dogs, which are not immunized constitute a potential reservoir of infection.

A case of rabies among dogs would spread quickly, and from them to cared for pets which have been immunized against the disease.

The Health Department urged that all dog owners, in order to protect residents of the Town, bring their dogs to be vaccinated with anti rabies vaccine at the free clinic, at the time and places above designated.

istical Tables for Design Engineers to render his services to our town. Does this sound like a politician to you?

"It becomes readily apparent that one who throws innuendoes and slurs as his first campaign strategy is not the type of individual who is worthy of a public office. If a candidate cannot be constructive during a campaign, what can he be expected to do in office if elected.

ASSOCIATION

"It is interesting to note that this candidate (Mr. Strumolo) has had his own variety of a political machine in the form of a personal political association named after him. His desire to be in politics is certainly known, for all since he ran for commissioner and lost in the last election.

"If Mr. Strumolo desires to continue his campaign of mudslinging he may do so but shall ignore him from this time on because I do not believe it will serve any useful purpose.

"In concluding I will repeat that I have made my position perfectly clear that my main interest will be to insure economy in government, to safeguard the taxpayer's dollars and to provide for the needs of the people by supporting a planned approach to the future development of our town by seeking out new revenue and cutting down on unnecessary expenditures so that the homeowner's burden will be relieved."

"Remember to vote for 'Economy minded candidates' your choice for the First Ward should be Chris Albanese B-12."

Won't Make Deal

Abramson. "Judge Abramson's administration of justice from the bench, has never been questioned and any public servant performing his duties should have no fear of political reprisals in the new government. As a matter of fact, such public officials should be given assurance that they will be recognized in the scheme of things when the new government rolls up its sleeves and goes to work."

NO POLICE COMMISSIONER

Laterza emphasized that he sees no need for a police commissioner. "Some candidates are dangling such creative posts under the new government as a vote-getting gimmick. A town the size of Belleville does not need a police commissioner in the first place, and equally important, the supervisory force in Belleville's police department is capable of running that department."

"Only a survey by the new council and city manager after they take office will accurately determine what is needed and what is not needed in the way of personnel. If the survey discloses job overlapping and uncovers political sinecure living off the taxpayer without performing any duties, appropriate action will be taken to ease the tax burden on Belleville residents."

"For instance, if a survey discloses there are too many employees and three of the employees are doing the same thing, the four is standing the machine, this leaves two alternatives. The need for more typewriters if the work load is justified or reduction in personnel."

Bass

tween the town government and the people.

"Belleville an open-door policy and encourage residents to air their suggestions, complaints and constructive criticisms."

"Serve the people without fear or favor with the int'l. at times, people first in mind at all times."

"Explore the possibility for play areas for all sections of the community."

"Protect the people, their homes, investments and convenience whenever a change in times, planning may affect their lives."

THIRD RIVER

Bass also attacked actions of Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin, who is also seeking election.

"Fully two years after I insisted that the developer of Rulan Estates pay for flood protection along Third River, the Belleville Town Commission finally has a 'written commitment' from the builder that it will be responsible for some of the work," Bass said.

"I am grateful that at last retaining walls may be erected and paid for by the builders of Rulan Estates."

"But why now, only several weeks before the election, do we find an ordinance proposed authorizing the work."

"Because it may be to the political advantage of Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin, who said he had the builders' commitment."

DO JOB IMMEDIATELY

Bass said he felt that when a job needed doing, the time to do it was immediately—not just before election time "in order to deceive the people into believing that so much is being done to their benefit."

"Frankly," Bass said, "I do not believe it required two years, or even two months, to enable the adoption of this important measure."

"It is typical, of course, that politicians have only the people's interest in mind immediately before an election. To me, this is reprehensible and someone that should like nobody into feeling they at last have honest, constructive government," he added.

NO POLITICAL TIES

Bass also said about the Belleville manager that "It is imperative that Belleville's town manager be a person who has superior administrative ability, personal integrity, and no political ties, whatever, in the community."

Bass said that the people of Belleville "must have confidence in the impartial and unclouded judgment a capable, trained manager can bring to the community."

"It is a matter of sorry record, he said, what consequences partial, un-popular and prejudiced decisions have had in Belleville."

"It is not enough to say that it is time for a change. Clearly, a change is long overdue. A change, now, is mandatory. If Belleville is to be swept clean of corruption and a political breeze that has had little or no regard for the people."

DESTROY MONSTROSITY

"To be self-respecting citizens, we have to face this political monstrosity, destroy it, and keep fighting it wherever and whenever it may arise," Bass said.

Bass said that one way to do this was to elect men, like himself, "who are independent and without political ties, men who can afford to be objective, men who have no obligation to give a favor for a favor."

"Part of this freedom to act in the people's best interest will be to select an able town manager who will be devoted to his work and, therefore, devoted to the community."

"Without that kind of freedom," Bass said, "Belleville can't hope to have honestly representative government regardless of the form that government takes."

Golden

strong mayor-council form of government had been beaten out in a race for petition signatures to put the manager-council proposal on the ballot. Latching on to the change movement in the expectation that he could benefit from the false impression he championed the cause, still does not alter the fact that he continues to want not the manager-council form of government, which the people voted in, but mayor-council type, which could best serve his (Kiernan's) ambitions to become Belleville's Mayor."

REPORTS RUMORS

"This seems to be indicated now, if persistent reports of a Kiernan backed combine, including himself and a candidate from each of the two wards whom the Kiernan Plan smiles upon, should win. Then, then, could name Kiernan honorary Mayor as presiding officer of the new council and if they took instructions from him, rule and ruin the new form of government in such a manner that the people would despair of its worthiness and then might look to Kiernan's long sought after mayor-council type as a remedy."

Golden asserted, "It would be risky to entrust the new form of government to such hostile minded candidates who have either outrightly opposed the new council-manager form as did Pico, Gruhin and Sullivan or as in the case of Kiernan, merely rendered lip service, and reluctantly described the move as a 'step in the right direction.'"

Golden pledged he would dedicate every effort to make the new government form a "workable, efficient and economical type of administration bent upon serving the needs of the people, not the politicians. Waste, inefficiency and political sinecures would be the prime targets of the economy axe. Free telephones and needless car allowances would be cut also."

"Give the new government a fresh start with new officials friendly to its future success, not disappointed politicians angry that the kind of government they would have preferred didn't win out," Golden pleaded. He added, "New brooms sweep clean, and Belleville needs a good house-cleaning at Town Hall."

Golden also took sharp issue this week with the local Planning Board's Master Plan proposals as they affect the Valley and Silver Lake areas.

Golden, a strong opponent of a local planning board, charged the group with "irresponsible defiance and ruthless disregard for the welfare of the residents of these sections which the Planning Board would declare 'blighted' and ultimately force the designation of industrial park or multiple-housing area for these sections which now consist of many expensive and cozy homes."

Golden said, "For years now this board has suggested projects that have been gathering dust on the drawing boards."

Golden charged that the people, schools, public safety and employment should not be overlooked.

IGNORED NEEDS

"The present planning board has ignored the immediate needs of the people in passing rosy dreams about Belleville of tomorrow."

"It is about time that the Belleville citizen begins to have something to say about renewal programs and about where he is going to live."

Golden said he would call for an immediate study on the feasibility of a redevelopment agency, staffed by outstanding citizens and leaders of both the Valley and Silver Lake sections, who are familiar with the needs of their areas and who would assure that if any subsequent Housing Authority were established, that representation of all groups was provided for.

Golden insisted it is "undemocratic to have high-handed authorities, staffed with out of town so-called experts, mapping out the town's future on a piece of paper while ignoring the welfare of so many of our well established and dedicated citizens. While progress is desirable it need not wantonly disrupt the lives and comfort of our present day inhabitants, merely because some planning expert doesn't feel that those in older sections of town can fit into his grandiose schemes for a dream world that may look good on maps, but knocks for a loop the plans and contentment of our smaller, individual citizens."

"SILENCE" CAMPAIGN

Golden, who has received an endorsement from Local 819, Public Service bus drivers union, also attacked incumbents and candidates for the upcoming election, charging that they were conducting a deliberate campaign of "silence."

He charged these men, "fearful of the wrath of the aroused and disgusted public who have lost faith in the sincerity of the local politicians, are conspiring to prevent the issues of the campaign from being brought out into the open. A quiet, serene campaign best serves their needs by lulling the voters into indifference while their organization workers and town employees concerned over their jobs work feverishly to get out the vote for them."

Pointing out how ten years ago he started "pruning the political tree of Belleville of its twisted twigs, then the branches and boughs," Golden pleaded for voter support to enable him to finish the job, now that he has gotten at the roots of what troubles Belleville politically.

"Much interest has been shown lately by various people who paid little attention in the past to the way our town was run. Apparently, they were satisfied, then, to leave the criticism and recommendations of how our town should be operated to Jim Golden."

Golden pointed out his "record is second to none in attending town meetings and speaking on vital issues."

Michael Tree Will Play With N. J. Symphony

Michael Tree, violinist, will be the featured soloist with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra Saturday night, April 28, at the final concert of its Newark Symphony Series at the Music Theater, Newark. An innovative and enthusiastic audiences of several thousands at previous performances.

The Mendelssohn violin concerto will be played with the personal association of Mr. Tree. As an eight-year-old boy he played this work in his first performance with a symphony orchestra, the Newark YM-YWHA Orchestra under the direction of Mark Silver.

Conductor Frank Socozzo of Bloomfield will direct the orchestra in Bizet's "Carmen Suite", Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess Suite" and Sibelius' "Finlandia". The American premiere of Andrzej Panufnik's "Polonia, a Suite of Polish Dances," will be a highlight of the program. Mr. Tree will also be heard in Kreisler's "Tambourin Chinois."

Your Heart HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Almost everyone, at one time or another, has played with a garden hose. When you turn the nozzle wide open, the water sprays broadly and close by; screw down the nozzle and you can hit a far-off target with a great deal of force. The smaller the nozzle opening, the higher the pressure of the water in the hose. This same principle is at work in high blood pressure, according to Essex County Heart Association.

Blood pressure (we all have it) is the force of the blood against the artery walls. This force is generated by the heart as it pumps or beats. It keeps the blood moving through the arteries, the vessels that carry blood from the heart to all parts of the body.

Arteries come in various sizes. Think of the largest one, the aorta, as a tree trunk. The main arteries branch out from the trunk into smaller and smaller ones that end in microscopic twigs called "arterioles."

These tiny arterioles are involved in high blood pressure. For various reasons, arterioles may become constricted or narrowed, and as happens in the case when the nozzle is screwed down, the pressure behind them — in the arteries — goes up. When this increased pressure persists, the condition is called high blood pressure or hypertension. An estimated 5,000,000 Americans suffer from some degree of hypertension, according to Essex County Heart Association.

In the garden hose, the increased pressure is unimportant. The water is forced out in the open, and the pressure is relieved. But your circulatory system is a closed circuit; and persistent, high blood pressure uncontrolled over a period of time can have your blood pressure. A visit to the doctor is important because past ten years or so, many people with hypertension aids have been developed to help the physician diagnose and treat hypertension, including a wide variety of new drugs.

You can learn more about the condition and the progress which your doctor to decide whether a is being made against it by asking Essex County Heart Association for a free copy of "Newly revised booklet, "High Blood Pressure before serious harm is done. Firemen Receive Support Of Over 100 Local Groups

Belleville firemen have received the support of more than 100 groups, representing religious, business, union, and civic organizations, Theodore Del Grosso, chairman of the firemen's 42-hour week committee said this week.

Endorsements included support from all three principal faiths, Del Grosso said. "The clergymen urged support of the 42-hour referendum on the grounds that it is a reasonable request in an era when the 42-hour week has been accepted as a common standard," he said.

Support from civic leaders and civic organizations include James H. Leary, chairman of the Veterans Council of Belleville; Bernard E. O'Connor, vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Allen H. Crisp, who has organized another group of supporters of the Firemen's Referendum; Raymond Milasius, commander of Veterans of Foreign War, Post 225, Salvatore Vioro, president of the Belleville Master Barber Association; and Leslie Finch and Lawrence E. Keenan, Belleville attorneys.

LABOR SUPPORT
Labor support includes Locals 408 and 447 of the I.U.E., AFL-CIO of IT&T, Larry Luparello, shop steward of the Belleville local of the United Association of the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry of America and Canada; Vincent Boardingham of Local 410 AFL-CIO; Alexander De Masi, union steward of Local 50 United Mine Workers; and James Buono, president of the Associated Musicians of Greater Newark, Local 16 of the American Federation of Musicians.

The businessmen included Edward J. Luttig, manufacturer of wood products, 58 Scuyler, Belleville; Henry Walters of Walters

Bass Issues 8-Point Program; Scores Gruhin On Third River

John Bass, Second Ward candidate for the Belleville council, has issued an eight-point platform, saying he solemnly pledged to implement each point if he is elected.

Bass said that "as a man of my word, and a person who has been elected on a promise, I will expect every citizen of Belleville to hold me to my campaign pledges, and make me personally responsible for everything I say I will do to make the town of Belleville a place of pride, rather than the place of pathos it is today."

As his platform, Bass said he would:

"Select a city manager, not from Belleville, but from the National City Managers Guild;

"Practice every economy in municipal expenditures and hold the tax line;

"Explore every possibility to attract new tax payables to ease the tax burden of the community."

Golden Warns On Electing Charter Change Opponents

Fear was expressed this week by councilman-at-large candidate James R. Golden for the success of the new manager-council government "should candidates unfriendly to it be elected."

Golden cited what he called "strong unified opposition offered by Commissioners Pich, Gruhin and Sullivan in joining Mayor Padula's fight to defeat the charter change," and raised "strong doubts of their ability to adapt themselves to the tempo of the new administration."

Under the new government Golden pointed out "the role of elected officials is that of legislators, not administrators as under the old commission form. These men have compiled a proven record of poor, messed up legislation for Belleville in the past. It is inconceivable that they are apt to change under the new form."

"Commissioner Kierman, another incumbent also running, jumped on the band wagon for the change, but it was only after it became evident his move for a

Caracciola Sees Danger In Industrial Park Plans

"The greatest single danger to district one and two of Ward Two is an industrial park proposed by the Planning Board," Second Ward councilman candidate Nunzio Caracciola said this week.

In a denunciation of what he called the "easy way out" Caracciola pledged "to fight for a return to the basic concept of honesty and integrity to the people for their just rights as citizens."

"The installation of an industrial park would send the town back 150 years," Caracciola said.

"Homeowners would be overcrowded, playgrounds would disappear and this will increase the tax burdens of the people."

The need for economy in public expenditures at the present time cannot be overestimated," Caracciola declared. "I am against every unnecessary payment of the money of the taxpayers. The burden on the taxpayer in the Second Ward must not be increased."

Caracciola said the cost of commodities is diminishing; under such conditions, the cost of living is decreasing. The cost of commodities is diminishing; under such conditions, the cost of living is decreasing.

Council Decisions Not Made By One Individual, Says Sooy

Joseph Sooy, councilman candidate from the First Ward, said candidates have been and will be issuing statements of the effect that, "if elected they will do many things for the people of Belleville and especially for the respective wards they are seeking to represent."

Sooy said this week, "If these men were being honest with the people they would come out stating that the job of councilman is to run the town in collaboration with the manager on the basis of the manager's urgings and recommendations, not theirs."

"Under the new government," Sooy said, "the manager is to make all the operational decision it, is disturbing to note that so many of the apparently uniform-

Albanese Charges Strumolo With Using "Smear Tactics"

Chris Albanese, First Ward candidate, answered Vincent T. Strumolo, an opponent, for statements against him and Salvatore R. Calabro, an at-large candidate and his organization, The Citizens Tax Council.

Strumolo said last week that the tax council had become "nothing more than a political machine" and that "the purpose of electing the bosses of that machine in the person of Messrs. Albanese and Calabro."

"It was indeed disappointing to read the remarks made by Mr. Strumolo with respect to my character and that of Mr. Calabro," said Albanese this week.

"Apparently since Mr. Strumolo has no constructive comments to make he is resorting to the old political trick of attempting to discredit me in order to gain votes."

"SMEAR TACTICS"
"I refuse to stoop to Mr. Strumolo's low level and smear tactics. I feel that my past record of civic interest and the accomplishments of the Tax Council speak for themselves."

"Apparently many business and professional people do not agree with Mr. Strumolo's derogatory statements about the tax council since these outstanding people have openly endorsed my candidacy and that of Mr. Calabro."

"With respect to the remarks made about Mr. Calabro I wish to outline my feeling in this matter. It is my feeling that Mr. Calabro did not wish to run for office, however there are many people who feel that a man of Mr. Calabro's background, experience, and qualifications would be an asset in forming our new council-manager form of government, and therefore they persuaded him to accept a draft under personal sacrifice."

"Let me outline it for you. His recent book titled, 'Reliability, Principles & Practices' published by McGraw-Hill Co. in February was delayed one year because of his outstanding activities which were a benefit to the community and now he is delaying another book on Mathematical and Stat-

Addonizio Says Candidates Must Be Completely Dedicated

G. George Addonizio, at-large council candidate, said this week that all candidates "must divest themselves of all feelings of personal self-glory and create within themselves a complete dedication to the duties imposed upon those candidates who shall be elected."

Speaking at a fashion show at the Branch Brook Manor, Addonizio quoted:

Greco Points To Experience As 14-Year Town Employee

THOMAS P. GRECO

Thomas P. Greco, formerly town building inspector, a candidate for councilman-at-large in a statement said:

"I want to make it clear at the outset that I am an independent candidate, and the views I express are mine alone, although they may be subscribed to by other candidates and the great majority of clear thinking voters."

"My many years of close association with Belleville's government have given me an intimate knowledge and insight of the responsibilities, problems and pitfalls inherent in municipal government."

MORALE IMPORTANT
"It is my conviction that the morale of the governing body and of the employees influences and molds the morale of the entire town. It can create or destroy civic pride and mutual respect, and can attract or repel prospective residents, business men or industrialists."

Greco resigned as building inspector recently after 14 years in the post. He entered private business.

"With a new form of government about to be initiated, I believe it to be of paramount importance that its executive officer, the Town Manager, must be a person who is not a resident, nor closely associated with the town, and preferably must be a person who has been trained especially for this position, and has been accredited by a recognized National Association of Municipal Managers," he said.

"Such a person, free from the influence, coercion or domination of power groups and not responsive to any political lies, can function productively in the best interest of the individual citizen."

"Through the years I have had an opportunity to know and assess every town employee, and I can assure the citizens of Belleville that the great majority of them are able, conscientious workers."

"These rules will spell out clearly such things as the order of business, the manner of voting, the manner of presenting resolutions, and the procedures by which speakers may obtain the floor to address the council. In general, the duties of the Council should follow the National Institute of Municipal Law Enforcement Officer's Model Ordinance on City Council Organization and Procedure."

"I personally approve of having council meetings twice a month in the evening so that the majority of citizens can attend. I shall also propose that all citizens, the number and title of all ordinance bills, the number and nature of all resolutions, and the nature of all petitions, communications, and other documents co-

Mitchell Sees Lally Gaining As First Ward Candidate

"As time approaches for the election of councilmen to represent the people of Belleville I find it very gratifying as the campaign manager for First Ward Candidate Dominic A. Lally to announce that Mr. Lally's candidacy is being accepted by a large majority of the people in the First Ward," said George K. Mitchell.

"Mr. Lally is an independent candidate with no political strings. This fact is being well received by our voters of the First Ward."

"The people of Belleville and the First Ward know the record of Dominic Lally in town affairs."

His honesty, integrity and experience will be of great value to the people in the conduct of running the town. Appointments, decisions have to be made in town government affairs and the ability have confidence in the ability of Dominic Lally to make them."

Crisp Insists Only Issue Is: Is 42-Hour Week Reasonable?

Allan Crisp, Belleville civic leader championing the cause of the firemen's 42-hour week referendum, gave his answer this week to Thomas McGill, critic of the firemen's request. "The only issue is: 'Is a 42-hour week a reasonable request?'" Crisp said. "Such matters as the time residents spend 'commuting' to New York, the charge of sub-standard housing, the new high school issue, the political records of former commissioners and the housing code are all interesting subjects in themselves. However, to use these elements in any discussion of the firemen's right to a reasonable work week is to employ red herrings to deprive firemen of the consideration which their dedicated service merits."

"It seems to me that Mr. McGill would be on much firmer ground arguing the pros and cons of his favorite council candidates than on the issue of the 42-hour week."

"Even cost is not within the province of our fire-fighters; it will be up to the new council to decide if they will work a 42-hour week. I am certain that we will elect officials who will do a good job in this direction, as have the elected leaders of our neighbors in Bloomfield, Jersey City, Harrison, Kearny and the Orange, all of whom have given their firemen a 42-hour week."

Belleville firemen now work 56 hours per week.

"In a democracy every man is entitled to his opinion, but I would like to point out that in opposing the 42-hour week, Mr. McGill finds himself on the opposite side of the fence from men and women of all walks of life, including priests, ministers, rabbis, businessmen, professional City, labor leaders, housewives and civic leaders," Crisp said.

"Mr. McGill states that many people in Belleville and many candidates are supporting the firemen's 42-hour week. In my humble opinion, he could do more on a program of good and efficient government and within his heart to support our fire-fighters on the same grounds. Who knows, they may sometime be called upon to save the life of some one he knows, or perhaps even his own life."

Firemen Receive Support Of Over 100 Local Groups

Belleville firemen have received the support of more than 100 groups, representing religious, business, union, and civic organizations, Theodore Del Grosso, chairman of the firemen's 42-hour week committee said this week.

Endorsements included support from all three principal faiths, Del Grosso said. "The clergymen urged support of the 42-hour referendum on the grounds that it is a reasonable request in an era when the 40-hour week has been accepted as a common standard," he said.

Support from civic leaders and civic organizations included James H. Leary, chairman of the Veterans Council of Belleville; Bernard E. O'Connor, vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Allen H. Crisp, who has organized another group of supporters of the Firemen's Referendum; Raymond Milasius, commander of Veterans of Foreign War, Post 257; Salvatore Viceri, president of the Belleville Master Barber Association; and Leslie Finch and Lawrence E. Keenan, Belleville attorneys.

LABOR SUPPORT

Labor support includes Locals 409 and 447 of the I.U.E., AFL-CIO of IT&T; Larry Lamparello, shop steward of the Belleville local of the United Association of the Plumbing and Pipe-fitting Industry of America and Canada; Vincent Boardman of Local 410 AFL-CIO; Alexander De Masi, union steward of Local 50 United Mine Workers, and James Buono, president of the Associated Musicians of Greater Newark, Local 16 of the American Federation of Musicians.

Bass Issues 8-Point Program; Scores Gruhin On Third River

John Bass, Second Ward candidate for the Belleville council, has issued an eight-point platform, saying he solemnly pledged to implement each part, if he is elected.

Bass said that "as a man of my word, and a person who has never reneged on a promise, I will expect every citizen of Belleville to hold me to my campaign pledges, and make me personally responsible for everything I say I will do to make the town of Belleville a place of pride, rather than the place of pathos it is today."

"As his platform, Bass said he would:

"Select a city manager, not from Belleville, but from the National City Managers Guild."

"Practice every economy in municipal expenditures and hold the tax line."

"Explore every possibility to attract new tax payables to ease the tax burden of the community."

Golden Warns On Electing Charter Change Opponents

Fear was expressed this week by councilman at-large candidate James R. Golden for the success of the new manager-council government "should candidates unfriendly to it be elected."

Golden cited what he called "strong unified opposition offered by Commissioners Pico, Gruhin and Sullivan in joining Mayor Padula's fight to defeat the charter change," and raised "strong doubts of their ability to adapt themselves to the tempo of the new administration."

Under the new government Golden pointed out "the role of elected officials is that of legislators, not administrators as under the old commission form. These men have compiled a proven record of poor, muddled legislation for Belleville in the past. It is inconceivable that they are apt to change under the new form."

Commissioner Kiernan, another incumbent also running, jumped on the band wagon for the change, but it was only after it became evident his motive for it

Colaninno Would Publish 'Rules Of Council' For Town

"One of the basic requirements for an efficiently run, adequately serviced, and fairly taxed town is an informed electorate. If the people don't care, then the politicians can do as they please," said Andrew F. Colaninno, Ward Two candidate. "To prevent this, the sincere officeholder must make it easy for the people to know what is going on in Town Hall. Therefore, if elected, I will propose, as one of my first resolutions, a resolution to be known as 'The Rules of the Council.' The 'Rules of the Council' should be printed in small pocket-size booklet form and available to all citizens."

Won't Make Deals On Jobs For Votes, Says Laterza

Robert M. Laterza, independent candidate for council from Belleville's Second Ward, said this week he would not barter jobs or positions on civic bodies, such as the planning board and zoning board for votes in his bid for election. Laterza said that as an independent candidate he would not engage in political deals on the job issue, either in the promise of an appointment or the saving of a position which shows over lapping in duties.

At the same time, Laterza said he would "rid the taxpayers of carrying financial burdens where it is found that political securities are adding to the tremendous cost of government."

His candidacy, he said, is based on a program of good and efficient government and the people in my campaign are behind this program 100 per cent because they, like myself, are interested in returning good government to Belleville.

"The people have asked for nothing but good government, not jobs," Laterza said. "We are dedicated to a civic program, pinpointed to a platform of government of the people, and not what can my government do for me. A candidate needs no previous experience to carry out the new government. They have to determine that a flood condition exists when it was evident to all that there is and was such a condition."

SHOULD BE COMPLIMENTED

Laterza said, he sees no reason for replacing dedicated, civic-minded individuals, giving their valuable time without compensation on such bodies as the planning board. "If anything, these people should be complimented because they have been working under the handicaps presented by the now discredited city commission form of government," he said.

Laterza said, he sees no immediate reason for replacing such men as Magistrate Edward J.

Caracciola Sees Danger In Industrial Park Plans

"The greatest single danger" to district one and two of Ward Two is an industrial park proposed by the town Planning Board," Second Ward councilman candidate Nunzio Caracciola said this week. In a denunciation of what he called the "easy way out," Caracciola pledged "to fight for the basic concept of honesty and integrity to the people for their just rights as citizens."

"The installation of an industrial park would send the town back 150 years," Caracciola said.

"Homeowners would become over-taxed, playgrounds would disappear and this will increase the tax burdens of the people."

"The need for economy in public expenditures at the present time cannot be overestimated," Caracciola declared. "I am against every unnecessary payment to the money of the taxpayers. The burden on the taxpayers in the Second Ward must not be increased; it must be decreased. The cost of commodities is diminishing; under such respective wards they are seeking to represent."

Sooy said this week, "If these men were being honest with the people they would come out stating that the job of councilman is to run the town in collaboration with the manager on the basis of the manager's urgings and recommendations, not theirs."

Sooy said, "The manager is to make all the operational decisions it is disturbing to note that so many of the apparently uniform-

Maglio Endorses Expansion Of Physical Fitness Program

Michael A. Maglio, councilman at-large candidate, advocated this week a physical fitness program for Belleville schools.

"Since our school system is undergoing a program of expansion, I strongly advocate a broader physical education program in our high school curriculum," he said in a statement. "I would be very pleased to offer my assistance to the elected Board of Education in instituting such a program. The conversion of our present high school to a junior high school and the construction of a new senior high school will offer the basic physical facilities to enable us to institute such a program with our present curriculum."

"I believe a program of this type should be set up to emphasize bodily physical fitness. To teach our young people how to take the proper measures in keeping their bodies in this state of organized activities that will stimulate interest among high

Weinstein Cites Challenge To Run Without Machine

MOSES WEINSTEIN

"I have been inspired to run for public office by many who want good government in Belleville, and challenged by those who say that it is impossible, because of the strong political machines," said Moses A. Weinstein, councilman at-large candidate.

"I believe every voter in Belleville is a conscientious individual who will not be fooled by political baloney. He will instead, make inquiries as to the character, and general ability of each candidate, before casting his vote. I will be honored indeed, if he makes me his choice for a candidate at-large seat. If elected to this office, my ambition will be to make Belleville a Town You Are Proud to Live In."

Vote For Those Who Fought For New Charter, Says McCool

"Don't be fooled by the 'Me Too' candidates presently running for office who not so long ago claimed council-manager government would not work in Belleville," said at-large candidate Thomas F. McCool.

"The original slogan 'Fight for a Change,' used to successfully bring the new form of government to our town is just as valid today as it was then, and half a year ago when the change movement was reborn. I am depending on that large majority of voters who worked and fought to bring this government to Belleville, who understand how it works and want to see it succeed to carry on the fight by electing to office, those candidates sponsored by the leaders of the change movement, the Citizens Tax Council."

"In these days when the papers are full of political oratory and all candidates are making many promises to many people, I want to bring my remarks down to earth. Very simply, I believe that the new government, properly administered by a trained and competent manager will bring efficiency to town operations. Let's be honest - no taxpayer likes to pay ever-rising taxes, particularly when he feels his hard-earned money is being squandered. I have made it a

Emphasis On Taxes Shown In Calabro's 9-Part Program

Salvatore R. Calabro, councilman at-large candidate, pledged himself to a nine-point platform this week.

He said he would:

"1. Promote a critical review of budgets to achieve the lowest possible tax rate without loss of essential services."

"2. Vigorously seek presently available county, state, and federal aid and funds to reduce the burden of Belleville taxpayers and support any state bill which would provide additional tax relief."

"3. Promote the development of commercial facilities such as modern shopping centers, with off-street parking."

"4. To actively work with the surrounding communities for the orderly development of the area in problems of mutual concern, such as public transportation, traffic, safety, fire and police protection, civil defense and trash disposal."

"5. Insist that the town be run on a strict business basis by centralizing town facilities to the maximum possible extent."

"6. Promote the establishment of sound policies which will elevate the status of civil employees and provide for their promotion on the basis of performance."

Albanese Charges Strumolo With Using "Smear Tactics"

Chris Albanese, First Ward candidate, opposed Vincent T. Strumolo, an opponent, for statements against him and Salvatore R. Calabro, an at-large candidate, and their organization, The Citizens Tax Council.

Strumolo said last week that the tax council had become "nothing more than a political machine, dedicated to the cause of electing the bosses of that machine in the person of Messrs. Albanese and Calabro."

"It was indeed disappointing to read the remarks made by Mr. Strumolo with respect to my candidacy and that of Mr. Calabro," said Albanese this week.

"Apparently since Mr. Strumolo has no constructive comments to make he is resorting to the old political trick of attempting to discredit me in order to gain votes."

"Apparently many business and professional people do not agree with Mr. Strumolo's derogatory statements about the tax council since these outstanding people have openly endorsed my candidacy and that of Mr. Calabro."

"With respect to the remarks made about Mr. Calabro I wish to outline my feeling in this matter. It is true that Mr. Calabro did not wish to run for office, however there are many people who feel that a man of Mr. Calabro's background, experience, and qualifications would be a great asset in forming our new council-manager form of government, and therefore they persuaded him to accept a draft under personal sacrifice."

Addonizio Says Candidates Must Be Completely Dedicated

G. George Addonizio, at-large council candidate, said this week that all candidates "must divest themselves of all feelings of personal self-glory and create within themselves a complete dedication to the duties imposed upon those candidates who shall be elected."

Speaking at a fashion show at the Branch Brook Manor, Addonizio quoted:

Addonizio urged "the electorate of Belleville to look well into a candidate's background, ability and to elect those who are worthy and well-qualified and will in all sincerity work for the welfare of Belleville."

Addonizio said his candidacy for Councilman at-large has been endorsed by the American Federation of Labor Congress of Industrial Organizations, Federal Labor Union Local No. 22026; Teamsters Industrial and Allied Workers Local Union No. 97; The Essex County Veterans' Ticket Committee - Belleville Unit; and many other business and social organizations.

"I believe every voter in Belleville is a conscientious individual who will not be fooled by political baloney. He will instead, make inquiries as to the character, and general ability of each candidate, before casting his vote. I will be honored indeed, if he makes me his choice for a candidate at-large seat. If elected to this office, my ambition will be to make Belleville a Town You Are Proud to Live In."
