Business Lags As Meetings Of Commissioners Near End But Hot Flow Of Politics Continues

The strictly business part of the meeting of the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night, was transacted in a few minutes, but verbal exchanges between persons active politically occupied enough time to bring the length of the session to nearly two hours.

The principal item of business was the introduction of an ordinance providing that any municipal employee having been in the continuous service of the Town of Belleville for a period of at least 30 years shall be entitled to receive the maximum salary as provided in the salary schedule adopted January 24, 1961; provided, however, that the payment of any increase shall not be construed as mandatory, but shall be granted only on recommendation of the employee's department head.

A public hearing on the ordinance will be held on Monday, June 11, at 9 a.m.

The hearing was held Monday instead of the customary Tuesday evening because the following day will be Election Day in Belleville.

Following the June 11 meeting, there will be only one more official meeting of the Board of Commissioners. That will be on Tuesday, June 26. The new Council-Manager form of government takes over on July 1.

James R. Golden, at-large candidate, made a plea for a smooth transition from Commission to Council-Manager government. He stressed the importance of cooperation on the part of all concerned with the change-over. He particularly emphasized the role the present Commissioners should play in the transition.

Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin remarked that it was interesting that those who were considered so incompetent before the election are now considered so necessary.

"You always get in a disparaging remark. That's what contributed to your defeat," Golden said.

Mayor Isadore J. Padula said his personal cooperation would be freely given.

Kenneth D. Smith, another at-large candidate, sparred verbally with Gruhin over Ralph A. Varra, superintendent of public works. Smith said he had been given a day off on May 17 to follow Varra and had not been able to discover him doing any work but did find that he spent at least an hour at Golden's home.

"I suggest that as a last parting service to the Board, you put this man to work," Smith said. "I'll convey that note to my successor," Gruhin said. "Or, if you're elected, you won't need a note."

Varra said there was a good reason why he didn't work. "It's because they're trying to saddle me with responsibility without the authority," he said.

Golden said it was correct. Varra had spent some time with him on the day mentioned. "And West Orange General Cohen told him, 'Varra, there's nothing sure if I'm elected, you'll go to work.'"

Second Ward candidate John Bass attempted to get Commissioner George F. Kiernan to discuss reports relating to the Department of Public Works. Kiernan said he would be glad to go over the reports with Bass in his office at any time but was not prepared to do so at the meeting.

Times Map Page Contest Won By Public Employee

Walter Storms Is News Editor Of Times-News

The appointment of Walter J. Storms as news editor of The Belleville Times-News was announced this week by Frank A. Orsolin, editor and publisher. Storms, who succeeds Miss Rosina Bernstein as head of the Times-News editorial department, has been in newspaper work in the weekly field nearly all his life. He owned and edited a weekly neighborhood newspaper in a section of New York City while he was still attending Evander Childs High School. After graduation from high school he switched his activities to Bergen County, New Jersey, where he received employment as editor of the Park Ridge Local and Westwood Chronicle. He soon became a partner in the firm publishing these papers and later established a third paper for the group, the Hillsdale Herald.

Several years later Storms sold his interest in the three papers and went to work as editor of the Community Press Corp., a publishing firm with a printing plant and newspaper in Hoboken, N.J. The owners later established the Belleville, Bloomfield, Newark, Nutley and surrounding area.

It is anticipated that the new building will be ready for occupancy Feb. 1, 1963. It will mark another forward step in the development program of the hospital in the formation of a health center for the benefit of the residents of Belleville, Bloomfield, Newark, Nutley and surrounding area.

When the owners sold the business in 1952 to J. Parnell Thomas, former Representative of New Jersey's Seventh Congressional District, and former Chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, Storms was asked to continue as editor but declined.

Storms went from Ridgewood to the copy desk of the Bergenfield Times-Review an allied paper owned by Joseph Daniels, editor of the Bergenfield Times-Review. Storms came to Belleville. Storms has also done considerable work in public relations, much of which was not directly related to his newspaper work.

Winfield Is Named Scout Weekend Director

Harry Winfield, Belleville District Scout Commissioner, was named one of the directors of Robert Frost Council's Scouters Memorial Weekend at Camp Mohican on June 2 and 3. This was announced by Harry Nees, chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee.

Lyman Stockman Takes PR Post

Lyman A. Stockman of 119 Hawthorne Avenue, Nutley, will take office as vice president in charge of public relations of the Cerebral Palsy School and Treatment Center, Belleville, at its annual meeting May 31 at 8:15 p.m. Stockman, who previously served as treasurer, is assistant advertising manager of Oraganco Inc., West Orange.

Two other Nutley residents named to new terms on the board of directors are Edward Lenihan of 84 High Street and Alfred Eville of 210 Rutgers Place. Guest speaker at the meeting will be Dr. Sidney Carter, chief of the pediatric neurological service at the Presbyterian Hospital Medical Center, New York, and professor of neurology at The College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University. Dr. Carter will discuss the importance of neurological examinations for the cerebral palsied child.

Joseph M. Thuring, center treasurer and chairman of the meeting, will introduce the speaker. A special award will be presented to volunteers who have served at least 100 hours at the Belleville center during the year.

Ground Breaking Ceremony Held For New Professional Building

The first spadeful of earth was turned over to signify the start of construction of the new Clara Maass Professional Building in an appropriate ceremony at 6:30 p.m. last night.

Officiating were William F. Blanchard, president of the Wm. L. Blanchard Co., prominent Newark builders and John F. Kidde, president of the Board of Trustees of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. Also participating in the ceremonies were Isadore J. Padula, Mayor of Belleville and R. E. Remondelli, M.D., president of the Medical Staff of the Hospital. Others in attendance were members of the Board of Trustees, officials of both the hospital and the builders and members of the hospital staff.

This is the architect's drawing of the new Clara Maass Professional Building which will be built this year at Newark Avenue and Magnolia Street. The ground breaking ceremony was conducted last night.

Questionnaire Is Mailed Candidates By The Times-News

The Times-News has mailed a questionnaire to each of the ten candidates in the June 12 runoff election asking them their position on several issues of interest to the public. We requested that the replies be returned to us in time for publication in next week's issue.

1. Do you pledge yourself to vote for a town manager selected from the list of professional town managers as prepared and maintained by the Professional Association of City Managers?
2. As a member of the new town council, what compensation would you establish for a town manager?
3. As a member of the new town council, during your term of office what compensation do you favor for councilmen?
4. Would you limit the selection of a mayor from the at-large councilmen or would consideration be given to the ward councilmen?
5. In your judgment, are the transportation facilities available today adequate for our needs? If not, how would you plan to improve them?
6. Do you believe Belleville shoppers need off-street parking? If so, what are your plans for providing off-street parking and where are the areas of town that would receive top priority?
7. Do you favor the creation of a playground in the area commonly referred to as the Krugman-De Petro tract lying in the general area of Fairway Avenue and Third River?
8. What plans do you have to remedy the Third River flood conditions?
9. How much would your plan cost?
10. Do you favor the purchase of the old telephone building on Washington Avenue for use by the Town of Belleville as Police Department headquarters or for any other municipal purpose?
11. Do you favor the creation of an off-street parking lot at the top of Rutgers Place as voted upon by the present town council in the area known as Cardiac Hill?
12. What are your plans for the future?

Bass Charges Foe Skipped Public Meetings

John Bass, second ward candidate for council, has challenged his opponent, Robert M. Laterza, to explain to the people of Belleville what he has done to better the community he lives in. "In my nearly three years of civic activity and accomplishment," Bass said, "I have never seen my opponent at a town hall meeting, I have never seen him at a board of education meeting, I have never seen him at a planning board meeting. I have been at those meetings. 'How then can he claim, realistically, that he has suddenly become concerned?' I say he cannot."

"How can he expect voters to believe he is interested in municipal government when he took no active part, one way or the other, in our struggle to change the form of our government? I say he cannot."

Bass charged further: "The

Public Affairs Head Makes Dramatic Move In Election Campaign

Commissioner Nuncio Pito, Director of Public Affairs, in the most dramatic development of the Council campaign to date yesterday urged Belleville voters to vote for James Golden and Thomas Greco.

Lauding Greco's integrity, Pito called him an honest, sincere, capable administrator.

Of Golden, he said, "He has been a tribute to the people of Belleville, looking out for the taxpayers' interest at all times."

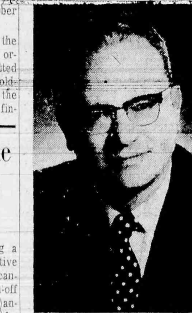

In his own behalf he stated, "I stand on my record."

The Nuncio Pito endorsement of Greco and Golden is the first major break in the incumbent facade toward Council member challengers.

Commissioner Pito enjoys the support of a strong personal organization, which, if committed to the election of Greco and Golden, will insure the election of the popular challengers. Golden fa-ished high man while Greco placed third, one vote behind second, place Commissioner Harry Sullivan, in the May 8 election.

Both Greco and Golden have conducted independent campaigns and will remain unbracketed. The only bracketed candidates were those sponsored by the Citizens Tax Council, all of whom were defeated on May 8th. A

Times Will Make Ward Choices Next Week

The Times-News is making a careful appraisal of the relative qualifications of the various candidates for the June 12 runoff election and will be ready to announce its recommendations for each of the town's two wards in the May 31 issue.

In the June 7 issue, the last before the election, this paper will make its recommendations for the three at-large positions.

Golden Voices Concern Over Jetport Plans

James R. Golden, Councilman-at-large candidate in the June 12th runoff election, has voiced concern over announced plans of the Port of New York Authority to transform Newark Airport into a modern jetport with a remodeled and doubled capacity which is to be pushed ahead for early completion.

Golden, who has served on Mayor Padula's committee to combat the nuisance of low flying planes and aircraft noise, said that any contemplated expansion program that would aggravate the growing complaints against present augmented flights over this area must give assurance that regard for the safety and peaceful content of Belleville residents would be observed.

Stressing he was not opposed to the progress and growth of modern aviation and the development of a second election day working arrangement among Sullivan-Smith workers was expected by most local professional politicians to give Sullivan a majority vote, making unnecessary a second election. Sullivan, on May 8th, lost almost 2200 votes from his vote of four years ago.

Mayor Isadore Padula is reported urging his supporters to vote at-large for Sullivan, Smith, Adonizio, and in the first ward, Nicholas Raimo.

Pito's complete statement follows:

"I have carefully studied for the past several days, the council race at large and I feel that a very important decision must be made by the voters of Belleville on June 12th when they go to the polls to elect five councilmen—three at-large and two in the wards. With the adoption of the new type of government that will take effect on July 1st, people should consider the election of men who will have the interest of all the people at heart and who will be truly sincere and non-political in their decisions on town business.

"I have known Thomas P. Greco for a good many years. During my term in office as Director of Health, Education and Welfare, I had the pleasure of doing town business with him and have

Pico Serves His Town Well

The most dramatic turn of the Council campaign came this week when Commissioner Nuncio R. Pico shocked the local political fraternity by endorsing James Golden and Thomas Greco for At-Large Council seats.

This endorsement could very well lead to the elimination of Pico himself from the charmed winner's circle come June 12th. If Golden or Greco finish third with Pico trailing in fourth place, the vote difference may very well be traced to this week's action by Pico.

Pico is well aware of the risk to his own success the endorsement of others presents. Pico's endorsement of Greco and Golden was a deliberate act. Frankly, we believe it took much political courage for Pico to arrive at the foregoing decision.

As Pico points out in his statement, Greco and Golden have, in their own personal ways, served the public.

Belleville has had — and has — honest public officials — elected and paid — but none more honest than former Building Inspector Thomas Greco.

If honesty is a voter's measure of the worth of a public official then Tom Greco should receive the vote of every voter on June 12th. His 14 year record as Building Inspector is a history of law enforcement without fear or favor.

Everybody was treated alike by Tom Greco. The law was the law — and that was that. He was beyond the reach of politicians and payoffs. Such is the measure of candidate Greco, endorsed this week by Commissioner Pico.

As for Jim Golden, our peerless Town Critic, we would like to pose one very simple question — how many citizens would plan on using their day off from work to visit town hall and bury his head in official books and records to make sure that taxpayers were getting their dollar's worth from our elected public officials?

Golden has. Golden works on Saturdays, hence his day off from work usually falls during the week. It is on this day, (a day the ordinary wage-earner spends around the house with his family and home), Golden examines the records at town hall and compiles information used as a basis for his question period at the semi-monthly Town Commission meetings.

Golden has hit pay dirt several times with his interrogatories. He has saved taxpayers thousands of dollars.

That Nuncio Pico has endorsed Golden and Greco is a tribute to his political integrity and perhaps what is of equal importance is the fact that Pico has placed his town's welfare ahead of his very own. This is unselfishness of the highest order.

Even if Pico loses on June 12 he has served his town well by his endorsement this week of Greco and Golden.

Will Candidate Raimo Reply?

Billboards advertising Nicholas Raimo's candidacy for Ward One Councilman tell us that Mr. Raimo is a "Legislator and Administrator."

As we understand it a "legislator" is a member of a legislature which makes laws. We assume this is the common definition most citizens associate with the term "legislator."

Mr. Raimo has never been a member of any legislature.

As for his claim of being an "Administrator" in the sense that the term is associated with administration in the business world we would like Mr. Raimo to tell the people more about his business background.

The people are entitled to a further explanation from Raimo concerning his use of the terms "Administrator" and "Legislator" as he applies them to himself. His opponent, local businessman Vincent Strumolo has publicly called upon Raimo to speak up on this question. Three weeks have gone by and Raimo has maintained his silence. His failure to speak up publicly on this question can only lead the voters to assume that Raimo is deliberately associating his name with high-sounding terms merely to gain status and hence mislead the public.

If this is true we leave it to the good sense of the voting public to judge a candidate's worth.

Refreshing Change

President Kennedy's transportation message to Congress, which is certainly one of the most important proposals of its kind in recent years, has been called a plan for rescuing the railroads from the financial doldrums. But it is much more than that. It is designed to put the country's whole transportation system on a sound basis — a basis on which all the agencies will be able to compete more freely for traffic, using their own inherent advantages as the inducements.

President Loomis of the Association of American Railroads said of the message: "The recommendations, if adopted, will bring order to a large degree in the transportation field, and will go a long way in helping develop a sound over-all transportation system. The constructive and positive leadership shown by this Administration in dealing realistically with transportation policy will further the nation's economy and security."

You don't have to look to transportation spokesmen for praise of the message. For instance, the American Retail Federation — which represents chain and other stores which are huge users of commercial transportation — said that it "should be welcomed by retailers, and other shippers. The general underlying theory stresses less Federal regulation and subsidy. The change is refreshing from the increasing tendency of Congress and regulatory agencies to seek more and more Federal control."

That underlines the big point — more emphasis on fair competition, less on regulation. It's now up to Congress.

Do You Want "Big Brother?"

The Portland, Oregon, Journal, has something worthwhile to say about the President's proposal for the most sweeping kind of federal laws to "protect" the consumer. These would cover a lengthy list of products in virtually universal use, including foods, drugs, cosmetics and so on.

No one objects to regulations dealing with such matters as proper labeling, safety, and honest claims. But, as the Journal puts it, the question now "is whether we are ready for the federal government to go beyond its traditional policeman's role of enforcing 'thou shalt nots' on manufacturers and merchandisers in competitive fields and to begin telling them that they must make specified products to specified standards."

Moreover, some of the proposals in the Presidential message seem to present practical impossibilities. Take, for instance, the provision applying to drugs. It would require manufacturers not only to prove that a drug is safe, which is certainly reasonable, but that it will also be effective. Inasmuch as in drug administration, as in so many other things, one man's meat may prove to be another man's poison, this would severely limit drug development and marketing, at an unknown but potentially great cost in health and human welfare.

Beyond that, the proposals, if accepted in toto, would substitute decisions of a bureaucracy for the decisions made, as of now, by the consumer, the producer, and the retailer. Big Brother would tell us what is good for us, and what we can and cannot have — whether the item in question is a medicine, a box of cereal, or a TV set. It's hard to believe the American public — or the American Congress — is ready for that.

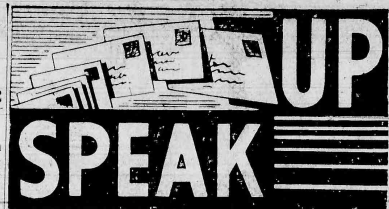

Speak Now Or Never

A leading oil company is presenting in letter form to interested and active citizens, an outline of important issues before the 87th Congress.

It lists fifteen important issues that are up-for-Congressional consideration. They involve questions relating to the proper function of the federal government. Billions in tax dollars will be required to finance the measures, and the lives of every citizen will be affected. Taxpayers and voters are urged to inform themselves on, and take an interest in the following subjects:

1. A new tariff law and the European Common Market.
2. Medical Care for the Aged under Social Security.
3. Tax Revision.
4. Federal Aid to Education.
5. Public Power Legislation.
6. Limitation of Patents.
7. Laws to Legalize Secondary Boycotts.
8. Retraining the Unemployed.
9. Revamping of Federal - State Unemployment Compensation System.
10. Revised Welfare Program.
11. Increase in Postal Rates.
12. An Enlarged Civil Defense Program.
13. Wilderness Preservation.
14. Foreign Aid.
15. Battle Act Revision, to allow some trade, at the President's discretion, with Communist dominated countries.

Now — not later when such proposals as these are either approved or defeated — is the time for an informed public to make its voice heard.

FINDS COMING RUNOFF MIXED-UP AFFAIR

To the Editor, The Times-News:

The first part of the important Belleville town election is now history, and although this time 12,000 voters came to the polls, the result is a rather mixed-up affair, and the intelligent thinking taxpayers, hoping for relief from a hostile Belleville, can find little comfort and encouragement now in the coming runoff on June 12.

Town elections are spiced more and more with rotten politics to deceive and fool the taxpayers. This election certainly is a typical case, and should be most warning for students in psychology. Four commissioners and a has-been, voted out for incompetence and bad management of the town affairs, are now seeking election in the council manager form. They did everything to prevent the change and denounced it as the worst thing for Belleville to have. Only confused, twisted minds expressing political arrogance and ignorance can have such a way of thinking.

Two of the artists have already received their second bounce, and I hope the other three will put their farewell ticket on June 12, for otherwise Belleville voters will make themselves look rather ridiculous, voting a bad thing out and afterwards voting it right in again.

Unfortunately there is another thing involved that must be of great concern to intelligent voters, and most likely will become an unpleasant surprise in the town affairs in the future.

The Tax - Council candidates have worked hard for over four years to make this change possible and have not received enough votes to be in the runoff. This is in my way of thinking very regrettable and bad. They should have been allowed a chance to finish what they started.

But 24 candidates in a free-for-all can upset many things, because there are the self-styled lovers of the town who have lifted a finger for the change of government, but jumped a variety of bandwagons, always with an eye on the money prospects involved. Some have missed the golden opportunity on former times in the old set-up, and are hoping for better luck in the new council form. They may be able to fool a lot of people but one way or the other, Belleville voters will now have to take their chances with the council form, and the waste of money to a bigger one, the waste of city hall brigade, and keep their fingers crossed and hope for the best. We must remember, however, election songs always change, town critics on issues never criticize their own set-up, and the theme song of the most brilliant rabble-rousers always changes to "Silence is Golden."

There is, however, a cloud with a silver lining on the horizon for the hopeful Belleville taxpayers, a professional, intelligent manager, free from all political strings and NOT a Charley McCarthy for the town council, otherwise there is very little chance left for good government in our town. I hope Belleville will be spared this dilemma. Our money must now ride on a good manager, and curtains for the town dictators and their privilege minded Tom, Dick and Harry associations. GOOD RIDDANCE."

Your paper was very generous with the grandiose election candidates parade. Your "Speak Up" column was shining by its absence, the voters just had to listen and endure the humbug oratory. Now I hope you can muster enough fairness to let the taxpayers say a few words because they always pay the bill, and your paper can stand a little good will from them also, I hope you agree.

SMITH CRITIZES POLITICAL OPPONENT

To the Editor, The Times-News:

A candidate aspiring for public office in our Town of Belleville should be of the highest caliber and should not, in any event, lower his dignity by resorting to gutter-type politics and, in no event, should be listened to rumors. It is my opinion, and I believe it is of many voters, that a candidate who resorts to this type of a campaign will most certainly reject in the same manner should he be elected a seat on our most important Town Council.

I have not, in this present campaign, or in any other campaign in which I have participated, resorted to a "whispering" campaign, nor have I ever asked any of my friends to engage in such tactics. If I have anything to say to the voters of Belleville I am prepared to state my case directly to the voters in the proper manner.

The candidate who lowered himself in last week's issue of The Belleville Times, by resorting to this type of politics, should, if he has anything to fear from a "whispering" campaign, come out to the open and let all of the voters of Belleville know exactly what it is he fears.

KENNETH D. SMITH

KEEP IN MIND WAR SACRIFICES

To the Editor, The Times-News:

Next week, May 30, we celebrate Memorial Day.

This is the day when we should pay reverent and grateful tribute to the men who gave the full measure of devotion in laying down their lives to create and preserve this great nation.

Perhaps four to five hundred people will die in auto accidents across the nation in the mad rush to get the most pressure the short holiday will provide.

How many will pause for even a brief moment to remember those who lie beneath the crosses row on row in Florida's fields, or at Antietam, Gettysburg, Tawara, Salerno or a thousand other battlefields, whose names have faded from memory dimmed by the erosion of time.

If this year's exercises at the monument on Union Avenue or at the Rutgers Street Bridge run true to form a pitifully small handful of citizens will gather along with the faithful Veterans who will be there to honor their fallen comrades.

We who enjoy the fruits of their victory bought at such a high price owe it to those who died that we might live to constantly remind ourselves and especially the young who follow us that they are the beneficiaries made in the past and by devotion in the present to the ideals for which they gave their lives may we continue to give the freedom which is our heritage and pass it on to those who follow us.

Let us hope that this, our most solemn patriotic holiday, will be the occasion for renewed emphasis on the importance of remembrance, by a good attendance at Memorial Day exercises wherever held in this great land of ours.

ENDORSES GOLDEN, GRECO AND PICO

To the Editor, The Times-News:

I express my sincere thanks to the many people in town who voted for Jim Golden, the people's candidate.

Their faith and confidence in this man who has fought the political machine at the Town Hall for the past 15 years is solid proof that they do not want a political machine running the town. The outgoing administration was the worst in the history of Belleville.

Belleville voters made that vote the taxpayers millions of dollars.

We must unite to protect our interests, our homes, our jobs, our pocketbooks and our future. On June 12 we must finish the job now only half done.

Studying the field of the ten candidates seeking seats on the council I highly endorse the following:

At - large candidates — James Golden, Thomas Greco and N. R. Pico. First Ward Vincent Strumolo, Second Ward — Robert L. Lanza.

I have endorsed Mr. Pico for many reasons. This fine gentleman is well educated; he is honest, sincere, reliable; he is not connected with any political machine. As a member of the Commission he was in the minority, his hands were tied by the political bosses in the Town Hall. Salary increases to the employees in his department were less than $300 each. He is the only commissioner who took side with Jim Golden and insisted that the Clara Mass Hospital pay its water bill, which was settled. He has also taken sides with me when I protested free water to the hospital since we receive no billing in return. The charges pay the full amount, thanks to Mr. Pico. Clara Mass now pays half for the water they use. I hope the good people in town will take into consideration the predicament Mr. Pico was in and give him a vote of confidence. He was not a Paid-Backed candidate and should be re-elected. G. G. Addonizio, a lame duck Republican, was twice defeated for Congress by Peter Rodino. Since he could not defeat the political machine he joined it.

Mr. Sullivan and former Commissioner Smith are again running together as a team. With the backing of the Bosses he is still a member of that political machine that resorted to the stripping of the departments while they were in control at the Town Hall. Under the new form of government both were members of that same gang that gave away free Terry Field to the Park Commission, leaving the town holding the bag. The town lost more than a million dollars on that mistake.

Mr. Smith was defeated for reelection in 1958. It was in 1955 that Mr. Greco, then building inspector, was voted out of Mr. King's department by the Commissioners and into the department of Ken Smith, who fired Mr. Greco on the next working day. Under an appeal in 1956 Mr. Greco, a very fine gentleman whose reputation is of the highest standard, won reinstatement as building inspector. The verdict of the Superior Court was unanimous and ordered full back pay. The court accused King and Smith of conspiring together in bad faith.

Now those men are asking the voters of Belleville to elect them to office. They must not return. I am again appealing to the people not to vote them in power.

I hope the people all over town will go along with this ticket of Golden, Greco and Pico as at large candidates, with Strumolo in the First Ward and Lanza in the Second. It is a good one and will give protection and security and afford relief from wasteful spending of the taxpayers' money.

Under the headline, "The Repairman Talks Back," you find an interesting article which appeared in "Today's Living" and was condensed and re-printed in "Reader's Digest." It gives a run down of what makes up the "service charge," which is the cause of so many complaints.

A good mechanic gets at least $3.50 an hour, often more. Somebody has to take the phone call, figure out Social Security, taxes, unemployment insurance and keep the books. Not to speak of liability and accident insurance, let alone the purchase price and maintenance of the truck. Our service trucks carry about $2000. worth of parts, tubes and test equipment. It is not too difficult to figure out that all of these expenses necessitate a charge of at least $.50 to $.75 per call. And even with these charges, most service departments operate at a considerable loss. It is obvious that the charges have to be higher if there is much travel time between calls. For this reason we do almost all our business in town or within a few blocks of neighboring towns and keep our service charge down to only $.35. We feel that a customer does not get the most important item that goes with a purchase, if he does not get good service, directly from the person who made the purchase. Nothing is more annoying than to call for service and instead get the run around and empty promises.

If you call us before 2 p.m., you will get service the same day.

35 Years Ago

Harry Brumbach, president of the Parent Teachers Association, reported that a further investigation would be made into advantages and disadvantages before a definite decision was made on whether to recommend the establishment of kindergartens at the Belleville Schools.

A group of citizens circulated a petition to have a special election called to vote on whether or not the Board of Commissioners should be dissolved and a councilmanic form of government substituted. While there was considerable sentiment for a change, there was also strong opposition. A correspondent signing himself "A Citizen of Belleville," wrote editor of The Times: "Give the present administration a chance. They had to sweep clean after a very dirty Town Hall when they entered. If we find we have not progressed at the end of the present administration, then let us all with one voice, and not as now with the voices of only some, rise and change the form of our government."

A Sunday Afternoon Walk In 1909 When Area Was 'Out In The Country'

By FRED PIXLEE

Let us in fancy turn back the pages of time to the year 1909 when Belleville was "out in the country." On this fine Spring Sunday afternoon we will take a walk, which was the popular pastime of that age and place.

We are going to "walk out Jo-Joalem Street," to use the expression in vogue then.

The Sunday afternoon "company" always came from New York on the Erie Railroad on the train that arrived at the Essex station at 12:16 P.M. Much to the surprise of the people who had occasion to see that railroad, which was the butt of all would-be comedians throughout the land, this was one train that was seldom late.

The "company" in this instance were some friends who were school teachers from Brooklyn. Of course, to all residents of Brooklyn anything west of the Hudson River was not only rural, but practically uninhabited.

Jo-Joalem Street at that time was a dirt road at best, with sidewalks on one side of the street only. Once in a while they would coat it with a tarry substance which laid the dust, but was a nuisance to housewives because it was usually brought in on the feet of the foreign generation.

TROLLEY TRACKS

Our little party proceeded from the station up the hill and crossed Washington Avenue, with its trolley tracks on the side of the road and some semblance of pavement in the center.

On the north side of the corner where the present Prudential branch office now stands was the big house that at one time was the residence of John Henry Eastwood, son of the founder of the Eastwood - Neally Corporation. This was occupied by the family of Mr. Biller, a minister and his wife and several sons and daughters. In later years they resided at 12 Essex Street.

On the south side of the corner was the residence of the late Dr. Edward O. Cyphers, a well known and beloved physician. This house is still standing.

There were about five or six houses on the north side of Jo-Joalem Street, beginning with one locally known as "Kellsie's Place," which is just west of the Masonic Temple and ending with the house now designated as 154 Jo-Joalem Street.

On the south side of the street there was only one residence, occupied by the family of one Dwight Streeter.

One little party crossed Linden Avenue, passing vacant lots on the north side of the street and arriving at the house we lived in at that time which still stands on the northwest corner of Jo-Joalem Street and Hambrover Avenue.

SUNDAY WALK

After the ritual of the Sunday dinner, we decided to go for our Sunday afternoon walk. This is practically a lost art today and so is the study of nature in all its beauty. The family auto is responsible for this. Even this vehicle is no longer used for sightseeing. It is only a means to get somewhere, and the small fry are not interested in such prosaic things as looking at the Grand Canyon and use the back seat of the car as a boxing or wrestling arena at all other times.

Let us get back to our theme. After passing School 3, which was a lone and outstanding sentinel on the top of the hill, we crossed Union Avenue. This was another street of very indifferent pavement. Dust and mud would describe it perfectly. Traffic lights were unheard of and traffic was practically non-existent.

On the northwest corner of Jo-Joalem Street and Union Avenue there stood a large mansion belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Paul. In the rear of the extensive grounds there was a large stable, where Mr. Paul kept some very fine horses. He could best be described as a country gentleman, for he did not have any known occupation at that time and was said to be wealthy. Some of Belleville's older residents reported that he was a retired Prussian Army officer and his real name was Baron Von Paul, but he preferred using the Anglicized title of Mr. Paul. They were a childless couple, but of a very philanthropic and generous nature.

GROVE OF OAKS

We are now up around the bend past New Street where the sidewalk stopped on the north side and continued on the south side. The only habitation near there was a small house occupied by an ancient widow by the name of Mrs. Hall. The north side was completely dominated by a large grove of oak trees. Some distance on there were two houses, occupied by John Pole and Emil Merz. A small dead end lane was called Merz Avenue, which of course still exists. The south side of the street was completely occupied by the East Jersey Water Company's storage reservoir; with its extensively landscaped grounds.

This reservoir was presided over by one Colonel Ruckey, a Civil War veteran. A short distance west on the opposite side of the street there was a rather peculiar structure, half dwelling and half stable. This also belonged to the East Jersey Water Company.

On the north side about where Jefferson Street is now, there were two sandstone houses occupied by members of the Rully family. They had a small dairy business and this is still kept on by some members of the family. There was a store well and mine on the south side of the hill. This was the local "Poor House," now the Belleville Recreation House. On the north there was a very large house known as the "Birches," which was usually rented out. One season was generally enough, for it changed hands very frequently.

Somewhat to the rear of this structure, which has been remodeled greatly in recent years, stood a large grove of oaks and chestnuts. The chestnut trees were dying and their gaunt branches stood out like white skeletons against the sky. Some years prior to the period of which I am describing this grove was used for revivals and camp meetings by our colored brethren.

The next habitation was occupied by Robert McKinley and family. There were no houses on the southwest side of Jo-Joalem Street between Garden Avenue and Passaic Avenue. There is a small hill on the northeast side and the three houses standing there still exist. The first one was occupied by a lady who was very short; almost a midget. I never knew her name, but would often see her driving a two-horse vehicle that I know now to be a surrey, for it was complete with the fringe on top. It was said that she had quite an extensive vocabulary of descriptive adjectives that were not used in polite society.

vehicles that I know now to be a surrey, for it was complete with the fringe on top. It was said that she had quite an extensive vocabulary of descriptive adjectives that were not used in polite society.

DENISON HOME

The middle house remains a mystery to me as to who the inhabitants were and the last house before reaching Passaic Avenue was occupied by the father of the late Mayor Denison and his family.

The corner of Passaic Avenue and Jo-Joalem Street was truly out in the wilderness. Large trees surrounded the intersection of two dirt roads. A short distance up Passaic Avenue was the stone house of a Mr. Martin, who sold eggs from a small delivery wagon.

There was only one house on the south side of Jo-Joalem Street between Passaic and Franklin Avenues and this still stands, being quite a distance away from the road.

On the north side about where Jefferson Street is now, there were two sandstone houses occupied by members of the Rully family. They had a small dairy business and this is still kept on by some members of the family.

There was a store well and mine on the south side of the hill. This was the local "Poor House," now the Belleville Recreation House. On the north there was a very large house known as the "Birches," which was usually rented out. One season was generally enough, for it changed hands very frequently.

Somewhat to the rear of this structure, which has been remodeled greatly in recent years, stood a large grove of oaks and chestnuts. erous lilac and dogwood trees here, which was a beautiful sight in the Spring.

CROSSROADS

The intersection of Jo-Joalem Street and Franklin Avenue was another rural crossroad. When we consider that the only public transportation at that time consisted of the electric trolley and the railroad; we can begin to understand why. Both of these were at least a mile away. This intersection, while a busy one today, was the last one to be modernized. For years there have been old country stands on the corners and only at the time of this writing has there been any trace of modern construction. The northeast corner will have two modern stores in operation very shortly.

We are near the end of our journey and shortly will be going back home. There is only one house between Franklin Avenue and the bottom of the hill. This is on the south side and is still standing. It was occupied by members of the Meyer family, as also was one standing a little way down the Passaic Avenue.

The other house on Barnet Lane was occupied by one Mr. Caspar Luchi and family.

Young Caspar Luchi, his sister and his wife Meyer, visited from this remote spot to School 3 every school day, and all of them were excellent scholars.

"WHITE BRIDGE"

"At the foot of the hill was the bridge over Third River which was called, for some unknown reason, the "White Bridge." To the north stretched the pleasant waters of Vanderbilt's pond, which extended almost to Harrison Street. Third River has been constricted within its banks so that now it is only a trickle compared with its former glory. After a rain it becomes a raging torrent and overflows its banks, much to the inconvenience of the present property owners.

The former millponds have all disappeared. Overzealous speculating builders are mainly responsible for this condition. Oak's Pond, Davis's Pond and Vanderbilt's Pond acted as a flood control system and there were no reports of inundation by floods in either Belleville or Nulley in those days like there are today.

The afternoon is waning and we traverse the long road home. Our walk is at an end. The pleasure was simple, but genuine and refreshing. We made our own entertainment out of God-created things, not artificially created pleasures.

Is Now Illegal To Refuse Work

Governor Richard J. Hughes has signed a bill making it illegal to refuse work to anyone in New Jersey on the basis of age. It passed both the Senate and Assembly without any dissenting vote.

The bill, designed to protect people against job discrimination because of maturity or liability for military service, was sponsored by Senator Charles R. Sandman (R-Cape May) and Assemblyman Richard A. Lynch (D-Essex).

The bill permits employers to refuse to hire a person who already has received induction notice or orders to report for active duty in the armed forces, and contains a provision protecting existing pension funds. It is an amendment to the Civil Rights law banning discrimination in employment because of race, creed, color, national origin or ancestry.

(A Public Service Column About All Forms of Insurance)
Eliminate Home Fire Hazards During Spring Clean Up

Householders can take a big step forward in fire prevention by throwing out combustible trash which has accumulated in attics and basements or storage areas.

Last year 11,700 persons lost their lives in fires, an increase of about one life each day over the previous year. Tens of thousands of other persons were injured in fires - fires that in many cases could have been prevented.

In addition the National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that fire in the United States last year destroyed $1,200,042,000 of property, the largest dollar figure in history, and an increase of 9.1 per cent over 1960.

Fire losses for the past five years totaled nearly five and a half billion dollars.

This is a staggering total. With five and a half billion dollars we could have built 10 Hoover Dams, 30 Empire State buildings, and 50 Golden Gate Bridges, with quite a few dollars to spare.

It is almost as much as we will spend in the next year for space exploration and foreign economic and military aid combined.

It would buy three million compact cars.

Spring Clean - Up affords everyone an opportunity to concentrate on the job of eliminating fire hazards in the home, and thus keep fire losses and the loss of life from being even higher.

found him to be an honest, sincere, capable administrator in his endeavors. It is a known fact throughout the town that Tom Greco has always been unapproachable.

"I have heard of James Golden for eight years, plus four additional years that I have had much personal contact with him. During this time he has been a tribute to the people of Belleville, looking out for the taxpayers' interest at all times. He has been an unofficial representative of the people at all Commission meetings and I believe his presence at these meetings was instrumental in saving many taxpayers' dollars. I believe that James Golden has proven himself and should be given a chance to serve the people on the council."

"Bob" Golden and Greco are committed to select a Town Manager from the list of Professional Municipal Managers. If elected along with Golden and Greco, I pledge to vote with these gentlemen for the appointment of a non-political, strictly professional, experienced municipal manager.

"As for myself, I stand on my record. From the time I took office in 1958 until the present time, I have increased your taxes over 40 percent. Considering the purchase of two new trucks, new equipment, taking over the dental clinic at an additional cost of $7,000 per year, and giving moderate raises to my employees, I feel that I have tried my best. I also want to point out that from the time I took office until the present day, I did not add any additional employees in my department."

"I believe that my four years of experience in municipal government, plus my educational background and experience as an administrator will be of great help to this newly adopted government."

ment opportunities it affords. Golden, nevertheless, emphasized he would not stand idly by and countenance any unreasonable encroachment of the Port Authority's airport program that would discommode the public of Belleville.

"While we accept the fact that the jet age is upon us," Golden said, "we must not allow the dignity and serenity of the suburban home to be sacrificed to this ecophonous sky monster." He pledged maximum protection and assurance of minimum noise as a requisite of acceptance of any project undertaken. "It is the duty of public officials to see that the rights and welfare of their constituents are adequately protected in matters of this nature," Golden concluded.

Three Belleville Boys Receive Honor Grades

Newark Academy Head Master Robert M. Butler announces that three Belleville boys received honor grades at the Academy for the marking period just completed.

The boys are James A. Arvidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Arvidson, 178 Floyd Street; Gordon R. Schwermann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Schwermann, 76 Smallwood Avenue; and Van S. Kosowicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Kosowicz, 507 Greylock Parkway.

The average stay in a hospital for an appendectomy is four days. Twenty years ago the average was 14 days.

Civil Defense Makes Plans For Rescue Squad Expansion

An urgent appeal has been issued by Belleville Civil Defense headquarters for volunteers to participate in the organization's Light Rescue program.

All the present time squads composed of local high school youths have undergone extensive training under the leadership of Rescue Chief Joseph Roccasanto. The Rescue Team transportation resources are the Belleville CD station wagon and an ambulance which is now being readied for active use.

It is important in playing this fascinating game of identification to note these simple rules: 1) the winner must tell us who the person is whose photo is circled and where picture was taken. 2) Entries in the contest must be made in person or by mail. NOT by phone. 3) the prize will be awarded to the one who submits the first correct identification; 4) all decisions by The Times are final; only one entry per family is permitted; 5) contest deadline is 5 p.m. Monday. Failure to follow contest rules in all respects is cause for disqualification.

If no one identifies the circled photo and the place where picture was taken, the prize money will be added to the following week's award.

New Jersey's Air National Guard will organize a Replacement Training Squadron in preparation for the return to the State of the 108th Tactical Flight.
In making the announcement, Major General James F. Cantwell, the State Chief of Staff said that the purpose of the Replacement Squadron is to recruit and hold personnel who will later be assigned to units of the Wing.
Vacancies in the 108th can be filled by men having previous military service in any of the armed forces. The greatest need will be for jet pilots, electronics and ordnance technicians, jet engine mechanics, clerks and supply technicians.
