

A Recommendation

We recommend to the voters of Belleville that come Tuesday June 12, they visit their regular polling places — vote early — and at the Ward level consider casting a ballot for the candidates designated B8.

In the First Ward the B8 candidate is local businessman Vincent Strumolo. Our interest in urging the electorate to vote for Mr. Strumolo is based on the simple desire to see elected to office some council candidates who have managed their own businesses successfully.

Mr. Strumolo is a successful businessman. He has demonstrated his awareness of our taxpayers' problems by his eagerness to answer The Times-News questionnaire containing 20 questions pertinent to the operation of our government under a new Town Council.

Strumolo has offered to serve the people of Belleville in the same manner that other public spirited citizens are now serving our town — without pay, i.e. the Library Board, the Board of Adjustment, the Planning Board, the Board of Education — the list is endless.

Strumolo says he makes a comfortable living from his business therefore he needs no money from the public payroll. This attitude is a welcome change from some of the past sentiments coming from city hall occupants.

Strumolo has proposed a personal program for progress while his opponent has been relatively silent on his plans for a better Belleville.

At this writing Strumolo has received the public endorsement of two highly respected opponents eliminated in the May 8th election, former school board president, Dominic A. Lally, and youthful Joseph Sooy. In a hotly contested election such as the May 8th affair, contestants have a better opportunity to appraise each other than the public at large. That Sooy and Lally decided to vote for and support Strumolo, an opponent only three short weeks ago, represents a testimonial from an unusual source — the people that know him best. The impact of these endorsements contributes substantially to influencing our own decision.

Mr. Strumolo's opponent is not as well equipped by experience to handle the business of government as is Strumolo.

Moreover, Raimo has failed to answer The Times-News questionnaire. He explains this action by saying he was awaiting the arrival of information from out-of-state sources. We would point out to Raimo seven other council candidates had ample time to answer the questionnaire, including his opponent. This lack of interest on the part of Raimo to tell the public his views on questions such as the salary to be paid a Town Manager, the salary to be voted councilmen, the question of picking up the tab for councilmen's expenses — these and the other 17 questions have a direct bearing upon his fitness to serve the Belleville taxpayer.

Raimo's open embrace of Mayor Padula does not stand him in good stead with many voters. His belated effort this week to disown Padula's support is somewhat contradictory behavior for a Raimo who on April 20th publicly stated, "Mayor Padula is top man in Belleville, undisputed." The truth is that Raimo welcomes Padula's support — and what is equally important is the fact that Raimo believes he is entitled to Padula's support since he (Raimo) supported Padula in three council elections.

Padula has a right to support Raimo. But Raimo leaves open to question just what he tries to prove when in April he showers Padula with affection and in May he makes every effort to walk away from Padula — unless of course his utterings in April were the brainchild of a ghostwriter.

However, whomever Mayor Padula supports in the First Ward should be of no consequence to the voters. What is important is which of the candidates has the superior qualifications.

At any rate — First Ward voters are presented with one easy question at the ward level — for whom to vote — Strumolo or Raimo — on the basis of the individual records and the needs of our new Town Council we have no hesitation to recommend to the voters of Belleville the election of Vincent Strumolo, B8 on the ballot.

For Ward Two Councilman the voters will find it easy to vote for a third-generation Belleville citizen, Robert Laterza, B-8 on the ballot.

Laterza is a registered pharmacist, and for many years has operated his own pharmacy at two locations on Union Avenue. Bob Laterza can truly be called a Belleville product. Born here, Laterza is a graduate of the Belleville school system. His whole life has been — Belleville — Belleville — Belleville.

A young man of sterling character, Laterza will bring to the new Town Council a young man's aggressiveness required to get Belleville moving again. He is no Johnny-come-lately to the Belleville scene.

The only criticism made of Laterza by his opponent is that Laterza has not attended Town Commission meetings, hence he is not as well qualified to serve the citizens of Ward Two. If attendance of Town Commission meetings is a criterion of first-class citizenship we are afraid that by the application of such a yardstick Mr. Bass would bestow upon 99 per cent of Ward Two residents a second-class citizenship, for few people ever attend public meetings at town hall.

No effort on the part of his opponent can downgrade Bob Laterza. Laterza is a young man of utmost integrity and devotion to his community. With confidence the taxpayers of Belleville can place in the hands of Laterza the future security of their homes and their families.

We are pleased and proud to recommend to the voters of the Second Ward the candidacy of Robert Laterza, B8 on the ballot.

And — lest you forget — election day is June 12 — remember the date — and the number, B8.

Raimo Explains

Nicholas Raimo this week explained how it came about that some of his more elaborate billboards displayed the slogan "Legislator-Administrator."

According to Raimo it seems as though his sign painter took an editorial license with Raimo's prepared billboard copy. "It was an error on the part of the sign painter," says Raimo, candidate for First Ward Councilman. "I am not and never was a 'Legislator,' and I do not lay claim to having been a business 'Administrator' although I have had some experience in business matters," concludes Raimo.

Raimo contends that he had no knowledge his billboards recited his experience as a "Legislator" and "Administrator" until he came under attack for these allegations by his opponent, Vincent Strumolo. Soon after he read of Strumolo's attack Raimo said he visited the billboards and was disturbed to learn that Strumolo's attack was correct. Swiftly he phoned the sign painter and complained of the error, meanwhile making no effort to eliminate the misrepresentations.

For the present we are happy to note that Raimo makes no claim to being a "legislator" or "administrator" and let us hope sign painters of the future commit no such errors which might prove so embarrassing for a candidate.

Twenty Years To Go

The alumni president of a college fraternity recently said that certain obligations must be kept by those who believe in our way of life or it will "be completely swept aside by the mass movement of creeping apathy which is developing in our country." As a convincer, he added, "the average life of a democracy is 200 years, and there are only approximately 20 years left on our lease."

This gentleman was using the above remarks to inspire his fraternity brothers to take a greater interest in their organization by attending an alumni meeting. But his words could well have been addressed to the nation.

Public interest in individual opportunity and free enterprise must be maintained at the grassroots level, if we are to prevent loss of our liberties through apathy toward centralization of government.

EAST DUBUQUE, ILL., REGISTER: "A government is not an earner—but merely a spender — a distributor of our taxes. Anything that President Kennedy or any President for that matter, says he will give to the people, he must first take from them. In such a process we inevitably grow poorer for the vital point that many miss, is that money comes from all of us."

CUERO, TEX., RECORD: "When politicians forget principles of government in order to gain votes, representative government inevitably loses ground."

LIKES ARTICLES BY FRED PILKIE

To the Editor, The Times-News:

May I say I do not think the Fred Pilkie articles are comely. I have lived in town 58 years and knew him from high school. Perhaps he may not remember me, as I believe he graduated in 1921 or 1922, whereas I graduated in 1923.

As for Conrad Niebel, the spelling was wrong in the paper. I well remember him, fat and jolly with his horse and buggy. In fact, I am sending the article to his remaining son who now lives in Bonadventure.

I too remember "Poppy Gerard," as we called him when he was back and dear Miss Smith. I have a few pictures my father took in 1905. They are very precious to me, but if you care to use them some time, you may.

Raimo Denies Financial Aid By Padula Group

"In the May 3rd issue of The Belleville Times, Mr. Strumolo made the following statement:

A vote for Mr. Raimo is a vote for Mayor Padula. Now, let us see if this is true or not.

It is estimated that in phase 1, enough shelter spaces were selected to take care of about 3,750 persons, and as previously announced, the Federal Government would provide food, medical and water storage supplies, along with radiological instruments to take care of that number from one to two weeks.

These supplies will be stored either in the shelter areas specified, on the basis of one person per person, or if necessary in a warehousing distribution point.

In order to expedite the shipment of these supplies from the Federal Government to Belleville, Director Pesa, Director the license agreements be returned promptly. He also sent the following letter to each licensee:

"Your building has been selected by the Federal Government as a potential community shelter. You understand, of course, that with your cooperation the government will mark and stock shelter space in your building."

"However, before we can proceed with this task, which the Federal Government, our state and town officials hold as most vital in the nationwide preparedness program, it will be necessary for you to execute the enclosed fallout shelter license. Please bear in mind that under the New Jersey Statute P.L. 14, the owner is free from liability should accidents occur while the building is being used as a shelter."

"The license form, in addition, points out that the shelter space in your building will be used in an actual emergency caused by enemy attack."

"Therefore, will you please fill in and sign the three enclosed copies, returning the original and one to this office and retaining one for your files. Following the execution of the license, an Architect and Engineering Firm engaged by the Army Corps of Engineers to make the survey in Belleville, N. J., will proceed to properly mark the shelter space with official insignia. This office will mark the second route."

"On behalf of the Mayor and the town council, I extend to you our deep appreciation and sincere gratitude for your cooperation in a program that President Kennedy has described as . . . of direct concern to every citizen and at every level of government."

"If you do not choose to participate in this program we would appreciate your reasons."

"I take this opportunity to point out an erroneous wording on several of my campaign posters. Among my qualifications listed for publicity purposes were civic leader, veteran and state legislator."

"For the sake of brevity in preparing the poster the term state legislator officer was misinterpreted and the word legislator was substituted. Fortunately there are many different signs and posters all donated — clearly indicated thereon — by various friends and the error appears on only a few."

James R. Golden, candidate for councilman-at-large, has received the endorsement of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motorcoach Employees, Local 819, AFL-CIO. Golden, a bus driver for Public Service, is a member of the union which has approximately 850 members in Essex County.

Otto R. Hauser, president of the local, stated that letters supporting Golden's candidacy are being sent to all members who reside in Belleville. Hauser said that Golden always had "upper limits in his mind" anything that he could do for his fellow union members and the citizens of Belleville.

C.D. Director Urges Return Of License Forms

Ludwig R. Pesa, director of Belleville Civil Defense, announced that U. S. Federal Government fallout shelter license applicants have been mailed to owners or their representatives of a number of public and private buildings in Belleville which the Army Corps of Engineers and their representatives have designated as suitable shelter areas.

It is estimated that in phase 1, enough shelter spaces were selected to take care of about 3,750 persons, and as previously announced, the Federal Government would provide food, medical and water storage supplies, along with radiological instruments to take care of that number from one to two weeks.

Nicholas Raimo, Ward 1 candidate, yesterday issued the following statement:

"I take this opportunity to point out an erroneous wording on several of my campaign posters. Among my qualifications listed for publicity purposes were civic leader, veteran and state legislator."

Bass Issues Challenge To His Opponent

John Bass labeled as "empty and irrelevant" a statement by his opponent that he was going to town meetings long before Mr. Bass knew where town hall was located.

"I must repeat my challenge to Mr. Laterza to show the people of this community what he has done to better Belleville," Bass said.

"I have lived in Belleville four years, and for nearly three of them I have been thoroughly active in civic affairs. Laterza may well have lived in Belleville a long time. This is all the reason why there should be some evidence of his civic activity. I am still not aware of anything he has done to help improve the town," Bass said.

Bass said that if Laterza had, indeed, attended town meetings a long time ago, "he still has to demonstrate to the voters — many of whom are relative newcomers to Belleville — what he has accomplished."

Beck's Column

Did you ever hear about Masers and lasers? It has nothing to do with the building trade or with diligence or rather the lack of it. Probably you didn't, unless your work is with microwave electronics. You won't even find anything about it in an Encyclopedia, unless it is the latest issue.

Now what are masers and lasers? Masers (devices based on Microwave Amplification by Stimulated Emission of Radiation) and lasers (masers that operate at infrared invisible light frequencies) open up new horizons for a wide variety of fields. A laser beam could almost be compared with the "death rays" featured in one comic strip. Such a beam is intense enough to pierce steel or even diamonds. Extremely high powered laser beams may knock missiles out of the sky by burning holes in them.

Laser beams will be used to carry radio programs and telephone conversations. They will be used in surgery, many applications in physics, chemistry, biology and numerous other fields.

Many companies are engaged in exploration of maser and laser applications. The entire field has been described as one of the most revolutionary tools of advanced science.

We have written in this column often about the almost miraculous developments which we will experience during this fabulous decade. The fields of masers and lasers is only one phase of it. Space travel will be common place some time in the not too distant future. And electronics will have a dominant part in all these new developments.

G.G. Addonizio

1. I will vote for a Town Manager selected from a list taken from the 1962 rolls of the International City Managers' Association.

2. The compensation for the Town Manager would depend upon the salary schedules inaugurated by the International City Managers' Association.

3. As a member of the new town council, during the term of office, compensation to me would be of secondary importance. I derive my income from my private law practice.

4. The intent and spirit of the Council Manager Plan places all persons elected after June 12th, on an equal footing. I, therefore, would give consideration to any member of the Council that would be qualified.

5. There is much to be desired in the transportation facilities in the Town of Belleville today. I do not believe facilities are presently adequate, and as a Municipal Councilman, I would request a complete survey and I would be in favor of granting additional franchise, if necessary.

6. I believe Belleville shoppers need off-street parking. I would suggest that the Municipal Council and the merchants in all areas of the Town of Belleville form a joint committee to study, suggest and provide for off-street parking, in adequate areas.

7. I favor the relocation of the area commonly referred to as the Knigman-De Petro tract in the general area of Fairway Avenue and Third River.

8. Plans to remedy the Third River flood conditions are presently in effect.

9. I do not favor the purchase of the old telephone building on Washington Avenue for use by the Town of Belleville as Police Department headquarters or for any other municipal purpose.

10. The manner for implementing the 42-hour week for the firemen requires a complete study to determine the costs, and how the financial condition of our Town could carry this additional cost without impairing the financial structure of the Town.

11. I would effect economies in the operations of the Town Hall, by causing to be made a complete study of all municipal jobs, expenditures and elimination of all wastes of unnecessary positions.

12. I favor the elimination of any position in our municipal government from any consideration of politics.

13. I favor our Town joining with other towns in municipal garbage disposal.

14. I would be in favor of requiring public bidding on all purchases over $1,000.00, even though the law permits purchase without bid over $250.00. I would favor the opening of such bids in public at a pre-determined hour.

15. As a councilman, I would oppose specifications that are written to favor a pre-selected vendor. This is contrary to law, and I most certainly oppose it.

16. I am in favor of a strong central purchasing department. As to the personnel, that would be under the jurisdiction of the Municipal Manager.

17. I was in favor of the adoption of the Council - Manager Plan D last May.

18. I do not approve the creation of an assistant manager's position.

19. I do not favor expense accounts for councilmen.

20. I was in favor of the adoption of the Council - Manager Plan D last May.

21. I do not approve the creation of an assistant manager's position.

22. I do not favor expense accounts for councilmen.

23. I was in favor of the adoption of the Council - Manager Plan D last May.

24. I do not approve the creation of an assistant manager's position.

tion for our newly adopted government.

19. No. Not at present. Since this government is new to us all, we will have to wait and see whether an assistant manager's job will be necessary or justified.

20. I do not favor fixed expense accounts for councilmen. However, I believe compensation should be made for any expense incurred while on official business beyond the regular councilmatic duties.

Nuncio R. Pico

1. The Town Manager should be trained and experienced in municipal government and should be selected from a recognized association of city managers, called the International League of Municipal Managers.

2. The compensation for a town manager depends upon his experience and qualifications and should be left to the judgment of the new council.

3. The compensation for councilmen should be determined by members of the new council and manager based on their knowledge of the Town's financial status.

4. The Mayor should be selected from the entire council.

5. Transportation facilities can always be improved. A thorough survey of the transportation problems should be made by a competent authority in this field. Action on their recommendations should be instituted as soon as possible.

6. Off-street parking is fundamental to the business of the community. A parking authority should be instituted to make a definite and comprehensive study of the parking problem throughout the Town's business areas. Their recommendations should be started on a gradual basis as soon as a feasible plan is adopted.

7. The new council should undertake a study of the recreational facilities for the entire Town and include the Knigman-De Petro tract in their plan. Appoint a non-salaried Recreation Board from all parts of Town to make the study and set up a plan.

8. An engineering survey has been completed making the necessary recommendations for the Third River Flood Control Program.

9. The cost of the plan would depend on which method is selected for the building of the project.

10. No purchase of buildings or property for this purpose should be negotiated until a master plan has been developed and approved by the people of the Town.

11. The location of parking lots should be referred to a parking authority and should not be located in a strategic arrangement to suit the individual interest of any one establishment.

12. The new council should refer this problem (42-hour week for firemen) to the wisdom of the new manager, who will determine the most efficient and economical arrangement, that will fill the needs of the community. A study should be made to determine if the volunteer force should be enlarged to defray the cost.

13. Under the new plan of government the manager must undertake a survey of all the operations at Town Hall and his recommendations must be supported by the new council.

14. There should be no politics in the selection of Town Clerk and Magistrate. They are selected by the majority vote of the Town Council.

15. The garbage disposal service should be continued to be let out on bids thereby eliminating the possibility of creating a political dynasty for the person in charge. Present arrangement satisfies the needs of the town.

16. Any purchase of $500.00 or more should be made through public bidding. However the opening of bids would be done according to law.

17. Yes.

18. The practices and operations of the municipal purchasing department should be reviewed by the new manager and council and a mutually agreed procedure should be established.

19. I was elected by the people to the Commission form of government and felt it my duty to uphold it. I believed that a charter study should have been made to select a new form of government.

20. My candidacy is based on my record in office. An efficient, economical operation of the Department of Public Affairs - only a four-point increase in taxes in four years, no additional employees and a determined effort to hold the line on taxes. I believe my four years experience in municipal government, educational background and experience as an administrator will be of great help to the new government.

21. Absolutely not.

trucks, maintenance, wages, insurance, etc. This is not a matter to be lightly considered, but I would institute serious study of the question.

15. I would definitely favor public bidding for all purchases over $500. In fact, I would see to it that all purchases, regardless of amount, would be made on a strict competitive basis, such purchases to be made from sources offering the same quality at a lower price. This is one of the ways in which economy in government can be effected. Also, all bids should be opened publicly.

16. Absolutely. Allowing this sort of practice is conducive to financial chaos. This policy should never be permitted.

17. I am in favor of a central purchasing bureau, properly supervised, with periodic spot checks made to make sure there are no favored sellers and that purchases are being made on a strictly competitive basis. It is more feasible to control one source of purchasing than several.

18. I did not. As a matter of fact, I consider myself a pioneer in the promotion of this type of government for our Town. In 1954, and the record still stands, I urged the Charter Study Commission to make a recommendation

Beautiful Bucolic Belleville

Tradesmen And Stores As They Were In Bygone Days

By FREDERICK J. PIXLEE

This week's column will be devoted to the various stores and traveling vendors of the Belleville that I know of as a boy.

In 1909 there were practically no stores on Washington Avenue north of Holmes Street. The chain store was unheard of and the only thing remotely resembling today's supermarket was the old Center Market in Newark.

However, most of the local houses were glad to take orders and make deliveries. I remember chiefly the local butcher, Harry Fallows, whose store was originally in North Newark, near Verona Avenue. In later years, Mr. Fallows built the store and apartment building that still stands on the northwest corner of William Street and Washington Avenue. If one looks closely at the firework surrounding the small cupola on the roof the initials H.F. can still be seen.

COULD SLEIGH RIDE

Mr. Fallows's delivery wagon was ably piloted by a personable young man by the name of Harry McGregor. In the winter young McGregor used a one horse sleigh, and he gave me a ride in it over his delivery route. The only thing that I remember about the ride was that I was terribly cold and some kindhearted lady somewhere in Soho permitted me to come into her home to warm up and gave me something warm to drink with some cookies.

When Rossmore Place was opened up between Hornblower and DeWitt Avenues, Mr. Fallows built a palatial home on the southwest corner of Hornblower Avenue and Rossmore Place. Both he and his wife were well liked in town and were considered valuable acquaintances and friends.

There were several other vendors at that time that are worthy of mention. I remember a very stately young Italian girl who would carry a large basket of peas on her head and sell them from a quart measure that she also carried with her. The girls of today could take lessons in posture from her, for she could carry this basket on her head with ease and never put her hand to it except for removal to show her wares.

VEGETABLE VENDOR

Then there was Mrs. Lombardi and her daughter, Della, who sold vegetables from horse and wagon. They lived on Passaic Avenue near the Nutley line. Also living on Passaic Avenue was Mr. Martin who sold eggs. I have mentioned his name in a previous article.

Mr. Bennington, who sold old fashioned crullers from his wagon, is also worthy of mention. There were several bakery wagons, but the names of the companies that owned them have escaped the writer's memory.

One of the most important figures in those days was the ice man, particularly in the summer. My people dealt with the Diamond Ice Co. John Manning, one of the partners in the business, was the driver. He was always catching cold from being around the ice, he said, and was inclined to imbibe in liquid refreshments to ward it off. He had a tremendous respect for my aunt, Mrs. May Pinckney; who was a very strict Methodist. She would give him a lecture on temperance and the evils of the Demon Rum that would make Carrie Nation look like an amateur. So poor John would promise to stay on the waterwagon forever and aye; which he did, and he was some time again. The store of that period were mostly situated in the block on Washington Avenue between William and John Streets; the latter of which is now called Belleville Avenue. Otto Groner's meat market on the west side of the avenue about in the middle of the block is deserving of mention.

FIRST LIBRARY

Somewhere in this neighborhood in a little building in back of these stores stood Belleville's first library, but I am not sure of its exact location today. Perhaps some of our older readers might be able to enlighten me.

On the other side of the avenue in the same block there stood the old post office, now occupied by the Crescent Press. John Breen's mortuary establishment was also nearby. There was also a drug store, presided over by Mr. Klein. There was a very good hardware store which was ably operated by John Battis & Son. This, I believe, was later taken over by Barnett Yudin, whose son still operates the establishment.

There were several stores on Main Street between Rutgers Street and the Newark City Line. Of these I remember only Mr. Osborne's drug store and the general store of Mr. Du Puy.

BAKERY STILL THERE

Stores were finally erected on Washington Avenue in the block between Joralemon and Essex Streets on the east side. This was about 1912. Frederick Gissell was the first owner and operator of the bakery that is there to this day.

Actually, this is of a later period than the author has been in the habit of reminding about, but there are several individuals who have made their mark on the pages of Belleville's history.

In the summer of 1912, James Kenworthy's young nephew, Samuel S. Kenworthy, came to visit him. He was an actor and originally came from Denver, Colorado. During the summer of that year the grounds around School Three were extensively landscaped and Mr. Sam, as I called him, supervised the construction of the concrete retaining wall that still can be seen there.

CHILD CON CARNE

About 1913 Sam Kenworthy opened a grocery store in the Washington Avenue block mentioned above. He introduced the dish child con carne to the people of Belleville. At that time it was a strictly western dish and unknown here. His aunt, Mrs. Margaret Kenworthy, prepared several gallons of it daily and for a time it was not only a novelty, but a huge success.

The further back we scan Mr. S. Kenworthy as Mayor of Belleville for several years is too well known to go into detail in this column. His career was cut short by his untimely death in 1940; but he remains in my memory as a benevolent and respected gentleman.

In conclusion I cannot neglect mentioning the butcher store operated by Henry Kuntz, the hardware store of Matthew Richards, whose daughter married the late S. S. Kenworthy, and the tailor shop conducted for over 40 years by the kindly Samuel Levine, who only recently retired from business.

MORE TO COME

I know that I have only lightly touched on the subject of the stores that catered to the residents of Belleville in those early days and that I have no doubt neglected to mention stores that may have been of prime importance at the time that I write of. After I make some research into the subject, I may continue this discussion in some future articles.

Up to the present writing I have not consulted anyone nor looked up any material in any history book for the information given in my articles. The stories that I have related are those that I have retained in my memory since I was a child. I would appreciate any sort of criticism, corrective or otherwise, from the reading public.

Abromson Will Be Toastmaster At Spatz Dinner

Magistrate Edward J. Abromson will serve as toastmaster at the 10th annual dinner for the Chief George Spatz of the Belleville Police Department to be held at the Fountain on June 28.

David Connelly and George Riepe, ticket co-chairmen have issued the following statement: "Because of the many friendships Chief Spatz made among all walks of life, tickets for this dinner are moving quickly. We strongly urge those who wish to honor him to obtain tickets from members of the dinner committee while they are still available. No tickets will be sold at the door."

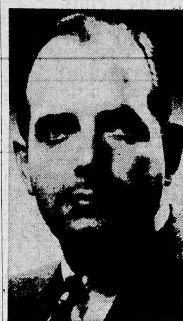

Bankers Will Attend Stonier Banking School

The school, which is conducted by the American Bankers Association, will be attended this year by nearly 1,100 bank officers from 45 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and Venezuela.

Martin Bucco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Bucco of 63 Preston Street, recently passed the comprehensive examination for the Doctor of Philosophy degree in English at the University of Missouri.

An honor graduate of Belleville High School in 1948 — where he was a varsity halfback, president of the senior class, and Times-News correspondent — he holds the B.A. from New Mexico State and the M.A. from Columbia University. CARMEN ORECHIO

WOLFARTH HONORED AT MARIETTA COLLEGE

Bob Wolfarth, former Maroon three sport standout, was recently honored at Marietta College's annual sports banquet by being awarded the Dutch White plaque for the outstanding freshman on Marietta College's varsity football squad.

Bob, who played left end, was a varsity regular participating in every game for the Ohio eleven. Wolfarth, a fierce competitor, managed to be on the receiving end of 11 passes for 160 yards while scoring one touchdown as well.

Concentrating his talents on the diamond now, Wolfarth appears to have a varsity berth clinched on Marietta's fine baseball squad. A former all-stater while performing for the Maroon, Bob is being alternated at first base and behind the plate. Wolfarth, a long ball hitter, figures to play a key role in Marietta's baseball fortunes.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wolfarth of Warren Street, Bob is in a liberal arts curriculum majoring in history.

CINDER SQUAD HOLDING ITS OWN

Coach, Lou Zwirak and his assistant Tom Taylor are well on their way to having a fine track squad for next Spring, especially if the sophomores maintain a normal rate of progression.

Currently sporting a 3-3 mark, sophomores Jim Badamente and Pat Keating have been most impressive with the former competing in the one fourth mile event while Keating is Zwirak's chief threat in the high and low hurdles. Keating, possessed of tremendous natural ability, excels in basketball and football as well and more should be heard from this young man in the future.

Football stars Tom Malloy, George Olsen and Tony Pietoso have been the top point scorers for Zwirak thus far. Malloy, who handles the shotgun and discuss chores for the Maroon, shattered his own record in both classes of competition this season. Tom put the shot 54-3 and threw the discus 145; quite an accomplishment for a schoolboy. Olsen, the dash man, competed in the 100 yard and 220 yard dash events while Pietoso was Zwirak's ace broad jumper.

Handicapped because of a dire need of facilities, it's a wonder the Maroon track units do as well as they have. As we understand it, though, the Essex County Park Commission is devoting some of its property behind Vincent Methodist Church for this purpose. At this point, even limited facilities would be welcome.

WIN FOURTH STRAIGHT

Romeo Madeo, braintrust of the Holy Family Junior CYO nine, is apparently on his way to another great season. Over the weekend, Holy Family vanquished Montclair Immaculate at Brookdale Park, Bloomfield.

Richard Pucciariello, Madeo's ace fliker, throttled Montclair on three hits and struck out 13 batters. Pucciariello added his own cause by collecting two hits and batting in three runs. Madeo's son Robert, made a worthwhile contribution by garnering three hits and hitting in four runs to lead all the hitters.

Dennis Russionello and Lou Veltri rounded out the attack by chipping in with long doubles. Nick Lardier, stellar second baseman, made the fielding gem of the day with a brilliant back hand stab of a liner that was ticketed for extra bases. This incident resulted in the second inning when Montclair had an opportunity to ignite a rally that may have carried them through to victory.

Legion Seeks Funds For Baseball Program

BELLEVILLE POST 105, American Legion, is once again providing an American Legion baseball program for the youth of Belleville. Since this activity cannot be carried out without additional financial support, booster stickers are being distributed. They provide the additional funds needed to cover the various expenses of running a ball club. Above, John Iannedi (center), proprietor of John's Restaurant, 525 Washington Avenue, purchases the first booster sticker from John Throckmorton, general manager of the Legion effort. At left is John Kay, manager. Max Mert is coach. Stickers can be purchased from the American Legion baseball committee, or donations may be sent to Kay at 530 Washington Avenue.

Four Belleville Boys Honored At All-Sports Dinner

Four Belleville boys were honored with a desire to win, they among the athletes honored Tuesday night at Newark Academy's All-Sports Dinner.

The boys are George P. Worthington, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. George P. Worthington, 41 Van Reyper Place, a junior, who received a varsity letter for participation in baseball; James D. Wadsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Douglas Wadsworth, 524 Union Avenue, a junior, who received a varsity letter in baseball; Van S. Kosciwicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Kosciwicz, 97 Greylock Parkway, a freshman, who received varsity letters in football and baseball; and Alan S. Gaeta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gaeta, 36 Clearman Place, a sophomore, who received Jayvee letters in football, fencing and track.

Featured speaker of the evening, introduced by Head Master Robert M. Butler, was Alex Kroll, a 1961 All-American selection from Rutgers, the State University, who will begin his first year with the New York Giants next fall. In his address, Mr. Kroll stressed the importance of desire in athletics, indicating that the will to win often overcomes lack of experience.

"Obviously, conditioning and training are essential, but coupled with a desire to win, they form an unbeatable combination," he said.

Many Celebrities Top Thunderbird Entry List

On Wednesday, June 6, one of the greatest fields of professional golfers ever to play in this area will join top stars of the entertainment world in the Pro Celebrity Day charity kick-off of the Thunderbird Classic Invitational Golf Tournament at the Upper Montclair Country Club, Upper Montclair, New Jersey.

Among those who will play in the celebrity section on June 6 are Ed Sullivan, Lawrence Welk, Eddie Arcaro, Fred Waring, Phil Foster, Jan Murray, Nick Kenny, Bud Palmer, Toots Shor, Frank Blair, Jack Sterling and Kyle Rote, runner-up in the 1951 National Celebrity Invitational with a score of 71-75.

The 36-hole contest for $5,000 special prize money will also give golfing fans a preview of Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Gene Littler and 46 other leading pros who, from June 7-10, will be shooting for the $100,000 medal play purse donated by the Newark District Ford Dealers Association, Inc.

The entire proceeds of the Pro Celebrity Day, as well as the proceeds of the four days of medal play will go to the National Foundation for Neuro-muscular Diseases, a voluntary agency sponsoring medical research to find causes, treatments and cures for nerve and muscle disorders which afflict an estimated 5,000,000 children and adults in the United States.

Pro-Celebrity Day Chairman Allen B. DuMont, Jr. has announced that play on June 6 will begin at 8 a.m. "We have fifty tournaments scheduled in the area, and within a week we should be able to make available a complete list of the pairings."

Admission tickets for the Pro-Celebrity Day at $5 each can be purchased at the Upper Montclair Country Club, at most sporting goods stores in Essex County, or at the national offices of the MEND FUND, 250 West 57th Street, New York City. They may also be obtained by writing to the Foundation at PO Box 982, Passaic, New Jersey or PO Box 92, Garfield, New Jersey.

The Upper Montclair Country Club is located at the Junction of Route 3 and the Garden State Parkway. According to Jess White, President of the Club and General Chairman of the Tournament, parking space has been provided for 14,000 cars.
