

Council-Elect In Conference

Belleville's five Councilmen-elect met Friday night and again Sunday in an effort to work out a few of the many problems coincident with changing over to a new form of government.

The meetings were called by Thomas P. Greco, at-large Councilman-elect and high man in the June 12 election. The others attending the sessions were James R. Golden and G. George Addonizio, the other two at-large Councilmen-elect; Vincent Strumolo, Ward I Councilman-elect; and Robert Laterza, Ward II Councilman-elect.

Greco told The Times-News he

Strumolo Says He's Grateful For Large Vote

VINCENT STRUMOLO

First Ward Councilman-elect Vincent Strumolo thanked First Ward voters this week for his victory at the polls on Tuesday, June 12th. Strumolo defeated Nicholas Raimo in the run-off election.

"It is difficult for me at this momentous time in my life to find words adequate enough to express appreciation to the wonderful people of my native First Ward for their support which made possible my decisive victory," he said.

"My campaign manager, Barney O'Connor was magnificent," he continued. "Throughout the campaign he made his business secondary to my campaign requirements. His wise counsel and quiet confidence was most reassuring at the critical times in the campaign. I look forward to his continuing counsel and confidence."

"I promise the people of Belleville that I shall keep faith with them and my campaign promises. I shall never let them down. While I was elected from the First Ward my concern will always be what is best for Belleville as a whole."

Strumolo is the only Councilman-elect who is not interested in the mayoralty. "I am not interested in being Mayor," said Strumolo. "It is most flattering to even think of the high honor but the fact is that I want to devote my entire energies to the tremendous job every Councilman has in trying to effect the transition of our municipality from a Commission form to a Council-Manager form. I am more interested in doing a job for our people than I am in the honor of public office."

The answer to The Times-News Map Page question last week was $15, and it was won by a bright little 11-year-old school girl who was smart enough to figure out how to obtain the answer and quick enough to be the first to come to The Times office with the information.

The question was, "How many books are there in the Belleville Public Library?"

We said in the front page story about the Map Page last week that the answer was an exact one, not approximate, and that it was obtainable from an official source. That source, it is logically, was the Library itself. We arranged with Ben C. Grumlin, Library director, that the official figure on the number of books would be given out to any Times-feels that for the amount of work necessary to effect a smooth transition the law allows too little time. The Council-Manager government succeeds the Commission government on Sunday, July 1.

The new administrative code is already being considered, and there has been discussion of the possible appointment of a temporary Town Manager until a permanent one is selected. Greco said he will call another meeting in a day or two to go further into important business.

The question of who will be chosen Mayor has still not been determined.

Monday morning the members of the new Council met at Town Hall in response to what they believed was an invitation by Mayor Isadore J. Padula to sit down with the Commissioners, all of whom are going out of office, and discuss matters pertaining to changing over from one form of government to another. However, when the Councilmen arrived there was nobody there to greet them. Commissioners Harry J. Sullivan and George Kieran were in their offices and chatted briefly with the newly-elected men, but the full meeting originally called never took place.

Scout Council To Carry Out Summer Plans

A series of meetings will be conducted by Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, in its seven districts to carry out previously made plans for summer activities and to prepare fall programs for 24 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts, Sea Ships and Air Squadrons.

The Belleville District will meet at Christian's Restaurant on June 26 at 8 p.m. Ernest Arvidson will preside. The representatives from each chartered institution or group and members-at-large will attend. Reports will be made by the representatives. District officers and Operating committees, Mr. Arvidson said.

Plans for a joint session of Scout commissioners, committee men, leaders and assistants, and Club Den Mothers in July will be announced.

Exhibit Of Art And Sculpture Set For Weekend

Belleville's second annual outdoor art exhibit will be held this Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The affair, which was rated a great success last year, will be a many times larger this year, according to Frank Megaro, chairman.

As many as 100 artists and sculptors will have exhibits along Washington Avenue, Megaro says, with 50 to 75 from Greenwich Village alone, and there will be approximately 1,000 separate pieces of art on display. Some of the art will be for sale.

Local artists will also have their work on exhibit. All are welcome to enter, and there is no entrance fee. Headquarters for the art show is Bigelow Motors, 50 Washington Avenue.

News reader who called and requested the information.

The little girl, who was first with the answer was Diana Kozlupa of 4 Hunkle Street. She attends St. Peter's School, where she has just been promoted to the 7th grade. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kozlupa. She first called the Library and then visited it in person to confirm her information before coming to The Times office.

This is not the first time Diana has won a prize for her ingenuity or talents. Two years ago she won an A.A.A. prize for the idea and art work for a safety poster. This week's new question will be found on the Map Page. The first correct answer submitted

Andrew Takes A Step Forward

DIPLOMA MARKS NEW STEP for Andrew Berger, 5 son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Berger of 277 Branch Brook Drive, Belleville, local graduate of the Cerebral Palsy School and Treatment Center, Belleville, at center ceremonies. Congratulating young Andrew, who is now ready to enter public school classes, is Miss Edith A. Aynes, center executive director, "Inches Make the Mile" was the subject of the Commencement address by Miss Aynes. Diplomas were presented by Miss Phyllis Burgess, clinic coordinator at the Belleville Center.

Hallelujah!

The people did it! They took matters into their own hands and wrote a new page in Belleville's proud history.

The people revolted against the machine on Election Day, Tuesday, June 12th, and swept into office five brand new men.

Top man was native born Thomas P. Greco, member of an illustrious family. Greco was Belleville's Building Inspector for 14 long years. In that trying office Tom established a reputation for himself with the people of Belleville — and the politicians as well. He was Belleville's "Untouchable." Crooked builders knew they couldn't touch Greco with a payoff. They had received the "word." Politicians eager to perform favors for major contributors quickly found out to their sorrow Greco was no man from whom one could seek a political favor. Greco's election brings integrity and clean government to Town Hall.

James Golden, for eight long years a critic of every Commissioner at one time or another, has established for himself a reputation for fighting City Hall. In this role he performed well — saving taxpayers thousands of dollars. Beginning July 1 Jim will be wearing a different hat. No longer the critic, in the future his constructive work will carve out for Golden a new reputation. In the process Golden will find it more difficult to establish a reputation as a responsible public official than he experienced in winning the reputation of town critic.

G. George Addonizio, a Harvard Law School graduate is a creditable addition to our Town Council. Coming into office with no political obligations whatsoever, Addonizio can be relied upon to bring to the judgment of the Council his years of experience as a successful lawyer.

First Ward Councilman-elect Vincent Strumolo, unsuccessful in a try for a Commission seat four years ago, survived the May 8th election, coming through as top man. On June 12th he duplicated his May 8th feat, beating his opponent by a 1,000 vote margin, in a fiercely fought contest.

Strumolo was the target of foul campaign tactics. Determined to run a clean campaign, youthful Strumolo, a native of Silver Lake, utterly ignored the scurrilous literature circulated against him.

As the campaign developed Strumolo grew in stature. Postelection developments further enhanced his stature. Strumolo has a good, sound mind; capable of superior judgment. Time will prove the people voted right in electing Strumolo on June 12.

Second Ward Councilman Robert Laterza blazed through his campaign, crumbling his opposition. Laterza won by a margin close to 1,500 votes. Quite an imposing majority.

Laterza too, was the victim of last minute attacks

Laterza Thanks Citizens For Confidence

ROBERT M. LATERZA

Robert M. Laterza, Ward II Councilman-elect, issued a statement this week thanking the people of Belleville for honoring him with their confidence at the polls.

In a statement to The Times-News, Councilman-elect Laterza said, "I am humbled by the tremendous vote the fine people of Belleville gave me on Tuesday, June 12. I appreciate the high honor thus shown me. I am eternally grateful to the hundreds of this crusade to restore dignity to workers who worked selflessly in our community. With God's help I shall devote my every effort to serve the people of my community honestly and loyally. In this gigantic effort I will need the cooperation of our people."

Heart Fund Is Doing Very Well, Grosch Reports

To date, contributions for Belleville to the 1962 Heart Fund campaign amount to $5,300. This exceeds last year's total, it was announced by Joseph B. Grosch, Belleville chairman.

"With a few more canvasses for increased coverage next year, this total will continue to increase," Mr. Grosch said. "Let me urge those residents whom we failed to contact to send a donation now to the Essex County Heart Association, 120 Evergreen Place, East Orange, to insure that their vital work of research, education and community service continue as in the past," he added.

Mr. Grosch thanked those who assisted in the campaign, especially Ernest S. Arvidson, William Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laterza, and Miss Phyllis Restagno. He also thanked Belleville business and industry and employee groups whose donations totaled $3,650.

Barnett Will Be Co-Host As Clerks Meet

Eugene G. Barnett, Town Clerk of Belleville and president of the Municipal Clerks' Association of Essex County, will be co-host of the quarterly meeting of the Association today (Thursday) at Forest Hill Field Club, Bloomfield. Serving with the Belleville Clerk will be H. Joseph North, Town Clerk of Bloomfield.

Guest speakers at the meeting will be Joseph W. Katz, special assistant to Governor Hughes and William L. Kirchner, counsel to the Governor. The topic will be "Pension Legislation."

Bus Driver Honored For Safe Driving

Michael Mealla of 543 Joralemon Street, a bus driver for Public Service Coordinated Transport, was honored at a dinner, among 15 other drivers, for having driven a bus for 20 years without a chargeable accident.

Each of the honored operators was presented with a gold watch by Herbert E. Harper, president of Transport.

Outgoing Town Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin said this week he has no intention of withdrawing the libel suit he filed June 1 against James R. Golden. The fact the election is over and Golden is now a member of the new Town Council will make no difference whatever in the status of the complaint, Gruhin said.

Golden To Sue Over Circular Printing Charge

James R. Golden has served notice on former Commissioner Kenneth D. Smith and on the Belleville Telegram that he will institute a lawsuit for libel against both.

JAMES R. GOLDEN

Golden said in a statement that he is bringing suit because of an advertisement published in the Telegram over Smith's signature. The weekly throwaway is made defendant for printing and distributing the ad.

The ad was headed: "Smith Exposes Mistake of Town Property." It read:

"No doubt many taxpayers and voters have received a circular under the heading, 'A Word to the People from James R. Golden, candidate for Councilman-at-Large,' which was intended to help promote the candidacy of James R. Golden for the June 12th runoff election."

"Do you know that thousands of these political propaganda sheets were printed in the offices of Commissioner George F. Kierman at Town Hall by Town employees using Town paper and machines during hours normally set for the discharge of Town business?"

"Do you know that this was done with the full knowledge and approval of Mr. James R. Golden?"

"After the many loud tirades directed against Town officials for using tax dollars for necessary Town expenses every taxpayer cannot help but be amazed at the fact that the very one who blasted officials has used tax-purchased materials and tax-supported employees to further his personal political career!"

"Do you wonder whether this brazen misuse of Town property and personnel before election might become common practice after election, should James Golden succeed in his hand?"

Asked by The Times-News if he was preparing to answer the suit, Golden answered in the affirmative. He said he recently conferred with his attorney and arranged for drawing up a defense.

Gruhin is an attorney with offices at 252 Washington Avenue. Coincident with the change over from Commission to Council-Manager government in Belleville, on July 1 he will end several years as Town Commissioner and director of Public Works.

In his complaint filed in Superior Court, Trenton, Gruhin charged Golden with having libeled him in a campaign circular. The Commissioner said the literature issued in connection with three public issues, had held him up to public ridicule.

The issues involved an assessment dispute over a former synagogue property, a town paving contract, and the method of paying Public Works Department employees.

ROBERT C. GRUHIN

Gruhin's complaint said specifically:

"The defendant (Golden) willfully and maliciously designed and intended to defame the plaintiff by creating a false picture of the Town of Belleville, as a corrupt city, 'mismanaged,' and its officials 'dishonest' and 'corrupt' and 'to the extent of wrongdoing' and 'endless'."

"These statements, as same pertain to plaintiff (Gruhin) as a member of the governing body of the Town of Belleville, were willfully made by the defendant with the knowledge of their falsity, with the intent that the plaintiff be held up to public ridicule, damaged in the public esteem and be denied re-election to public office."

"The method and means and tactics adopted by the defendant in fact nothing more than the constant repetition of statements false in fact, repeated again and again and with varying innuendoes in the technique of 'the big lie'."

Gruhin maintained in the complaint that Golden knew at all times that Gruhin "as a member of the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville and

Board Staggered By Sky High Bid

A bid of $34,500 for temporarily shoring up the east wall of School 4 staggered the Board of Education Monday night. Members promptly rejected the bid, the only one submitted for the job, and ordered a search for new bidders.

Van Howling and Sons Inc., of Wallington was the bidding firm. The shoring material itself would cost an extra $4,000 if purchased or $10 a day if rented, according to the company's bid.

Amoroso R. Vico, engineering consultant to the board, who discovered the weakness in the school wall when making a survey of the school for several improvement projects, had estimated a figure of approximately $1,500 for the shoring job.

He said he had found it very difficult to get firms to estimate on the shoring up work.

A delegation of parents from the area of Washington Avenue and Joralemon Street protested the planned redistricting of approximately 72 children. The parents said their principal objections were to a more hazardous walk for the youngsters and the emotional factor in moving a child from one school to another. The redistricting was planned to achieve a better balance in class sizes. School 9 would gain most of the redistricted children.

Lee H. Garson, chairman of the Citizens' Tax Council, repeated the same plea he has made several times previously, for the naming of a lay committee to investigate the shoring up of the new high school. Board President Richard H. Drake heard the plea but made no commitment on appointing the committee.

De Witt Savings Marks Its 20th Anniversary

It's celebration time at De Witt Savings. This June, the Belleville thrift and home financing institution celebrates a double milestone—20 years of operations and 20 years of insured savings accounts.

"We are extending an invitation to the entire community to visit our offices," said Robert M. Williams, executive secretary of De Witt Savings. "Each visitor—saver and non-saver will receive with our compliments a beautiful desk memorandum pad and pencil to commemorate this occasion."

De Witt Savings and Loan Association originated in June 1942 as the result of the merger of five associations—a milestone event for the financial needs of Belleville and neighboring communities. The newly founded De Witt Savings quickly received the approval of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, indicating that De Witt had passed the rigid requirements necessary to secure for its savers the insurance protection afforded by this agency of the Government.

When De Witt first opened its doors in 1942, it was located at 290 Washington Avenue. Savings numbered approximately 500, while assets amounted to a modest $600,000. By 1962, De Witt's popularity as a thrift institution was underscored by the fact that it had outgrown its quarters and was ready to move into its own new building at 463 Washington Avenue, at the junction of Washington and Tappan Avenue, its present location and a community landmark.

With the opening of this beautiful new building, De Witt's assets stood at the $775-million mark. Then, on October 1, 1956, the business of the former North Belleville Savings and Loan Association was merged with De Witt, adding further to De Witt's flourishing growth. Today, 20 years following its organization, De Witt's assets have reached $17,500,000.

Of course, the growth and success of an institution of this nature is a reflection of the quality of its management team—and De Witt has been truly fortunate in this respect. Guiding De Witt's destinies are men who have made solid individual impressions in mercantile, financial and professional circles. Successful businessmen they have brought to the management of this local institution a priceless fund of knowledge and experience. Under their stewardship, De Witt has attained a recognized position as one of the soundest of financial institutions, with reserves at a high ratio to members' savings and total liabilities.

Heading the roster of management personnel at De Witt is president Walter G. Gilyb, George D. Haslam, Charles R. Lommen, George E. Miller, Charles M. Nutt, August Plenge, Jr., John L. Planson, H. Willard Sawyer, and Harry Zeigler. Counselors for the association are Harry Giffing, Smith, Kramer & Morrison, Keenan & Finch, and Charles A. Gebhardt. Auditors are Trien and Trien.

A leader in yielding profitable returns to its savers, De Witt is currently paying dividends at four per cent per annum—the highest rate on insured savings in Belleville. "A point to note," says president Gilyb, "is that this rate is paid on every single dollar in each account, from the start. De Witt imposes no one-year waiting period requirement—moreover—dividends start every month here, and savers receive by the 15th day of any month their earnings from the 1st."

In addition to insured savings, De Witt also offers these financial services: money orders, travelers' checks, gift checks, mortgage loans, home improvement loans, acceptance of gas and electric bill payments, and the newest service—foreign remittances. The Association is open daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; also Monday evenings from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

campaign tactics?" "With this thought in mind, I considered if my duty as a taxpayer and in the interest of public welfare generally to forward a copy of the tax-financed political propaganda to the Essex County Prosecutor's office and ask for a full investigation."

Golden charged that the ad distorted the truth and injured his reputation. He further said that although the ad appeared in the issue dated June 8, the date on the page on which the ad appeared was June 1, "leading" said Golden, "to the logical conclusion that this was a premeditated plot to falsely state the alleged incident before it ever could have happened."

Golden announced his suit at the June 11 meeting of the Town Commissioners. Commissioner Kiernan in answer to a question, stated there had been no wrongdoing in his office.

Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin said several times he would be very much interested in seeing a copy of the circular which had caused the furor. Golden ignored the remark. Finally Gruhin asked him outright if he had a copy with him or knew where he could get one. Golden said he was unable to help the Commissioner.

Florence Honey's Four Honey Girls, glamorous acrobats, and the Grimadis, English couple renowned as musical clowns, round out the new week's show. Scores of school groups will be among audiences for this circus at 4 and 9:30 p.m. daily. Traditionally this is the week when church and school children's organizations have outings at Olympic. There are reduced rates for groups. A few vacancies remain in the 1962 teen-agers' program at the Olympic Park pool. There will be weekly talent and beauty contests and daily social and aquatic activity.

You and Your Insurance

(A Public Service Column About All Forms of Insurance)

Use Of Your Automobile May Affect Car Insurance Rates

A reader in a new job writes that he now uses his car for business in addition to pleasure driving. He asks: "Will this affect my insurance rates?" The answer is yes.

The possibility of being involved in an accident is increased and the auto insurance premium goes up to cover this situation. If it did not, those policyholders who use their cars for pleasure driving only would also, in effect, be paying for some of the higher insurance premiums necessary for insuring cars used in business.

When a car is used regularly in a profession or business — say by a doctor or salesman — this fact must be reported to the insurance company.

Insurance rates also may be increased if the family car is used to commute to and from work, or to a train station.

Here again, because the risks are greater the insurance rates are somewhat higher in certain areas.

This column will be glad to answer any question you may have about any insurance matter. Send it to The Nutley Sun, to the attention of Carl A. Orechio, or write

Torture Test Of Nylon Rug Being Waged

Have you ever driven your car over a living room rug? If not, here's your chance.

A nylon carpet has been placed on the driveway of the Vee-Bee Service Station at the corner of Franklin Avenue and Joramelon Street, Belleville, one of the busiest service stations in the area.

The rug was placed there by Meads-Miller Company Inc., of Franklin Avenue, Nutley, to prove its claims that the Nylon 501 rug made by Barwick Carpet Mills, is the most advanced synthetic carpet being manufactured today.

After 30 days of torture, the rug will be rolled up and cleaned and will be placed on display at the showroom.

The carpet, the firm claims, is most proof water resistant, stain resistant, and abrasive resistant. The colors are fast, and the manufacturer claims the rug will repel the forces of weather for an indefinite period of time.

Beautiful Bucolic Belleville

Some Landmarks Of The Past Have Vanished From Scene

By FREDERICK W. PIXLEE

In this issue we will try to trace some of Belleville's long vanished landmarks.

There was a small pond in the hollow where Essex Street runs now, known locally as Miller's Pond and again as Fuller's Pond.

This pond disappeared as early as 1906, but there was a spring in a small ravine just west of Washington Avenue that was called Dr. Fuller's Spring. Water-cress grew in profusion around this spring and was a favorite spot in which to gather this tasty salad dish. A rather high earthen bank surrounded the spring on both sides and may have been what was left of a small dam.

Miller's Pond, which could have been poetically described as a "tarn", extended from just west of Washington Avenue almost back to Linden Avenue. There is a slight dip in Linden Avenue to a day between Joramelon Street and Division Avenue, and Essex Street is somewhat lower in elevation than its two parallel neighbors.

OLD ESSEX STATION

The author has inquired in vain as to who both Dr. Fuller and the only tangible evidence of the elusive pond, was piped from the pool down to the old Essex Station of the Erie Railroad and supplied the drinking water there for many years. A large sign above the ever running drinking font proclaimed it to be "Dr. Fuller's Spring."

The overflow of this water was taken care of by a deep ditch on the north side of Joramelon Street and this extended from the railroad crossing to the Passaic River. At this point it was quite a sizable brook. There were culverts at Cortland and Stephen Streets; and each house on the north side of Joramelon Street had a little bridge over the ditch to accommodate the occupants.

Practically all traces of the pond and the spring west of Washington Avenue disappeared when Essex Street was cut through in 1913. The water was then piped underground in a large storm sewer. Tons of fill were required near Washington Avenue to bring Essex Street up to its present level.

LAST VESTIGE LOST

The author has inquired in vain as to who both Dr. Fuller and the even more elusive Miller were, but to no avail. Some old timers said that a large duplex house that formerly stood on the east side of Linden Avenue just north of Joramelon Street was once Dr. Fuller's barn. No trace remains of his house or his practice. The last vestige of any of these landmarks—utterly disappeared when the old Essex Station was demolished.

In the southwestern section of the town there are two more vanished landmarks that are worthy of mention. They exist in name only today and even one name is fast on its way to oblivion.

There used to be a station on the Greenwood Lake Branch of the Erie Railroad called "Soho." This was a very remarkable structure known locally as the "Mushroom Station." It was merely a shelter in the form of a mushroom built around a tree at the now abandoned Mill Street crossing. It was only a short distance west of the Forest Hill Station and was used for the convenience of passengers who might want to visit the Essex County Isolation Hospital and for the few residents in that vicinity.

BELWOOD PARK

In fact there are very few people who use this name today in referring to the section. They seem to prefer the name of Belwood Park, the name of the present railroad station. I believe the Essex County Hospital has also dropped the name of Soho. The name was peculiar and not particularly melodious, but it had existed since Colonial times. It was also used by school children of another section as an opprobrious term in referring to the inhabitants of that vicinity and I suppose that is another reason why the name declined in popularity.

The other landmark is the completely vanished Silver Lake. This exists only as a station on the Orange Branch of the Erie Railroad and even this railroad has abandoned passenger service completely.

Some other authors have tried to write up treatises on the location of Silver Lake, but they haven't met with much success. Silver Lake as an actual body of water disappeared long before the author was born, so no attempt will be made to try to locate it.

cale exactly where it was. Examination of the territory has failed to disclose any hollows that might have been any type of lake bed, nor are there any streams or springs visible in that vicinity. The author would appreciate comments from some of the older inhabitants of Belleville as to the information disclosed above, since he was only a small boy at the time that Dr. Fuller's Spring was in existence and the story of Miller's Pond or Fuller's Pond has been gleaned by conversation with still older inhabitants of our "Beautiful Bucolic Belleville."

Schools Close But Learning Will Continue

School buildings are closing for the summer in New Jersey communities, but students and teachers will continue to learn and develop, says the president of the New Jersey Education Association.

Most parents should see that their children keep receiving responsibility and direction while teachers are away, writes Lenora E. Feuchter, vice-principal of Union High School, in the NJEA REVIEW.

The Prosecutor Will Be Busy

Every Belleville election brings with it subject matter that may be within the province of the Essex County Prosecutor.

The June 12th election is no exception. Let's take a look at some of the new problems. On the eve of the election and too late for a candidate to reply, a mimeographed "questionnaire" was distributed to voters of the First Ward. It called for the defeat of Councilman-elect Strumolo and the election of defeated candidate Nicholas Ramo. Question number four reads as follows, "What deals were made by Mr. Strumolo in the First Ward?"

Now, anyone who knows Councilman-elect Strumolo knows he is a man of integrity and not a wheeler and dealer. Moreover, they know him to be a successful businessman and a clean campaigner. Question six on the unsigned questionnaire asks, "Why is Mr. Strumolo willing to work for a dollar a year when thousands have been spent on his campaign?"

These questions are among ten listed on the unsigned mimeographed notice. The above questions were obviously intended to lead the reader to believe there was something sinister in the Strumolo operation. Whatever the intention, the effect was to defame Mr. Strumolo in the eyes of citizens who read the scurrilous literature and didn't have personal knowledge of Mr. Strumolo.

As some people know, it is against the law to promise anything of value for political support. We have confidence in the integrity of Councilman-elect Strumolo. The Prosecutor should run down the author of the unsigned literature, prove the falsity of question number four, and put the criminal behind bars where he belongs.

And what about former Commissioner Kenneth Smith's charge that James Golden permitted Town Hall facilities, equipment, manpower and material to be used in mimeographing and mailing his campaign literature eight days before election? Shouldn't this charge be investigated and the answer made public for all the people to know the guilt or innocence of Golden. Golden should desire this investigation, if only to clear himself.

A Monumental Task

The job of drafting a municipal code under our Council-Manager form of government is a very imposing one. On June 30 most top appointive offices expire with the outgoing Commission. So does the budget. So do the appointive Boards, i.e., Town Planning Board, Zoning Board.

The new Council will find it impossible to accomplish all that is legally required prior to July 1. Temporary measures will be necessary.

The Council will need the patient un-

Diplomas Given For Technical School Courses

High School or Adult Technical School diplomas were awarded to Belleville residents who have completed courses in the various departments of the Essex County Technical High School and Essex County Adult Technical School.

Carpentry graduates were William Jones of 52 Nollon Street and Dominick Colarusso of 72 De Witt Avenue. Thomas Adams, Jr. of 131 Overlook Avenue, Joseph Fontana of 17 No. 7th Street and Frank C. Tice of 10 Chestnut Street completed the Tool and Die-making course. Electrical Construction and Maintenance graduates were Roy Greulich of 31 Stephens Street and John Filardi of 402 Belleville Avenue. Carl L. Mickens of 50 Wilbur Street and Vincent Ferragamo of 40 Wilken Place completed the Machine Shop course.

Medical Assistant graduates were Carol Falcone of 55 Naples Avenue and Eda Silvio of 1000 W. 1st Street. Beauty Culture graduates were Donna Maria Garzilli of 185 William Street and Roseanne Harris of 30 Mt. Pleasant Avenue. Mary Ann Valentine of 77 Lighthouse Street and Patricia Lamb of 81 Florence Avenue completed the Business Machines course. Various other graduating of a considerable public. Remember, with your votes you placed our new Councilmen in office. No Councilman to our knowledge is a magician. It will take time to right the wrongs of years of maladministration. Give the boys a chance.

They need your help—they need your cooperation.

The election of a new high school next year will add $350,000 to $400,000 to our annual tax burden. This year the school and town budgets used up $550,000 in surplus money which may not be available next year. 10 or 22 additional firemen to implement the 42 hour work week may add another $75,000 to $140,000 to the tax burden. These expenditures will prove a severe handicap to the new Councilmen when they seek reelection in the years ahead — events over which they have no control.

Dynamic leadership and drastic action will be required if our tax rate is to be contained within reasonable bounds.

Already we hear talk of a Recall election — most of the cries emanating from disgruntled office seekers. In fact the shouts for recall commenced after the results became known on the night of May 8th, the initial election.

They will continue to be heard, for some people, ambitious for office, will stop at nothing and stoop to anything to embarrass the newly elected Council.

Let us hope the Council for its part will conduct itself in a manner that will gain for its members continuing high regard and esteem of our people which was dramatically reflected in the June 12 voting results.

Sam Vuono

Last Thursday evening a surprise testimonial dinner was tendered to Sam Vuono, proprietor of Vuono's Tavern at Passaic Avenue, close by the Nutley line. The occasion was to celebrate the 29th year of Vuono's ownership of the local business enterprise.

The occasion was a rare one indeed, for how often does one hear of a truly, surprise, testimonial dinner? And especially for the occasion recited above?

The testimonial dinner attended by more than 125 persons, was tendered Vuono not because he owned a tavern for 29 years, or because he was able to hang on to a business for 29 successive years. The testimonial was a tribute to the man — it could have come on his 19th business anniversary or his 35th. Sam Vuono is a member of a very distinguished Belleville family. Sam Vuono's personal traits are the traits of the Vuono family. The good character, the integrity and outstretched helping hands — the Vuono coat-of-arms—is legendary with the Vuono name.

When Sam's 125 friends gathered the other night to surprise him with a testimonial they unknowingly were paying tribute to a great family name—Vuono—those family members who were present as well as those who were absent.

We join his friends in saluting Sam on his 29th Anniversary and we hope God will endow him with many more years of health and happiness. Throughout his life Sam has shared his happiness and his wealth whenever a friend needed a helping hand. God bless him.

Camp Ro-Li Will Soon Be Ready For New Season

Marking its 17th continuous year of operation, Camp Ro-Li at Bloomingdale, will open on Saturday, June 30. Thousands of Belleville children have stayed at this excellent camp during past years. At a cost of only $20 per week, boys and girls have a wonderful camping experience. Archery, hiking, cookouts, crafts, movies, swimming and boating are but a few of the many activities provided.

Jointly operated by two Belleville service clubs, the Rotary Club of Belleville and the Belleville Lions Club, the camp is sponsored by the Belleville Foundation. Any Belleville boy or girl eight through 15 years of age is eligible for enrollment. Parents can obtain an application blank from the Camp Ro-Li secretary, William C. Smith, 140 Washington Avenue. The girl's season starts Monday, July 30.

Located on the shores of beautiful Glen Wild Lake, the campers are taught swimming under the direction of American Red Cross water - safety instructors. Co-Directors William and Dorothy Sweeney, with a back-ground of many years of camping direction, head up the professional camping staff.

BACKS BARNETT FOR CLERK'S POST

To the Editor, The Times-News: Congratulations to your paper on the excellent degree of restraint it exercised in the now passed political campaign.

Restraint is especially commendable when the mood for change is so inherent one can only pray it will not be smothered. The great American educator, William Bennett Munro, once observed "People vote their resentment, not their appreciation. The average man does not vote for anything, but against something."

From the moment the votes are counted the winners are conscious of this fact and it requires the wisdom of Solomon to make the proper decisions. The only thing the winner can be sure of is that having gold in office the inevitable pain he will go through.

Congratulations also to the people. Their choices, whether by accident or design, insidiously renewed confidence in the method of democratic elections. An administrative and temperamental of a builder, a lawyer, two business men and a critic is abundantly blessed with the formula of success.

However, the concern of a great many people of this town at this moment is the fate and disposition of the office of Town Clerk.

This new Council can demonstrate its first act of good sense in business by reappointing Eugene Barnett, Town Clerk. Mr. Barnett possesses the experience, fortitude and temperament which is a rare quality among men who choose public service as their life's work and will be a great asset to the orderly transition of the new government.

His honesty, loyalty and devotion to duty is well known to every man on this Council for he is a life long friend, schoolmate and associate in every worthwhile organization and cause known or existent in this town.

In my opinion The Times-News suggestion to the questionnaire to the candidates that this important post be eliminated from the precarious position it is found in, was the one most constructive and contributing factor effecting the result of complete change in elective personnel.

His many friends breathed a little bit easier and even supported men who they felt would support your suggestion and in so doing neutralize the resentment of the losers. This one act could only our town so that we can proceed with the progress which I feel is spilling over our borders and up to this minute we have not taken advantage of the wonderful position and opportunity which is ours for the taking.

"Cappy" Barnett, as he is affectionately called by his friends, is loved and respected by all who know him, and no man can have a higher recommendation for any position in life than the one that comes from the heart of his fellowman.

The recognition of good material performance and good is the mark of intelligent thinking. I hope this Council can rise to this occasion.

WANTS BOARD TO OBTAIN FACTS

To the Editor, The Times-News: Your news article in the June 7 issue in regards to my position concerning the east wall of the James G. Shawger School Number 4 has created a misconception among your readers.

The quotation attributed to me about School Number 4 being "too set" are your words and not mine. The James G. Shawger school is well administered and the teachers and educational program are on a par with all others in Belleville.

My concern is with the building itself and my position on this question is set forth in my letter to my fellow Board of Education members dated May 29, 1962 as follows:

Dear Members: Recent developments to the building problem at School Four should be cause for some sober second thoughts. With the information presented to the Board on May 28, 1962, it may well warrant a conference of the Board to consider the overall situation at its earliest convenience. I am sure the Board members are pondering the problem. I am listing a few of the questions that occur to me: 1. Since the contemplated repairs will be fairly extensive, how much are other parts of the building damaged, and are we sure that other parts of the building will not need extensive repairs?

2. Shall we proceed with the repairs on which the Board has authorized Mr. Visko to prepare plans?

3. Shall we consider the building of an all-purpose room at this school in view of these needed repairs?

4. The Number Two school problem has not been resolved, and this will certainly require some construction. Would it not be advisable and more economical to construct a new school in an area suitable for the children of both these schools?

5. Will a savings in maintenance cost of these old schools be almost as much as a payment on bonds for a new school?

6. No. Four School has been called an eyesore, and the Board has been considering spending a considerable sum to improve the appearance. Would it be better to use this money towards a new school?

7. Would there be any savings in teaching and custodial personnel if these two schools were combined?

There are many other questions in the minds of all Board members I am sure. We would be well advised to find the answers before committing ourselves to any definite program.

ERNEST S. ARVIDSON

In short, my position is this: The Board of Education should first obtain all the pertinent facts and only after these facts are available should an attempt be made to reach a decision, and then base that decision on the facts.

To do otherwise could mean using the towns money foolishly and might conceivably be no better than using this money to build a statue to foolishness.

MAKES PLEA FOR FRESH AIR FUND

To the Editor, The Times-News:

The Newark News is presently conducting its annual Fresh Air Fund Campaign. This is a most worthy cause providing as it does an opportunity for underprivileged children to enjoy a week in the country, usually in a summer camp.

However, Belleville citizens should know that the Belleville Family Counseling Service has some 30 youngsters on its list who are greatly in need of a camp experience, but because the family has problems, such as illness of the father or mother, or income or unemployment, they cannot afford to send their children to camp.

The Family Counseling Service has no funds available to meet this need and while it did at one time receive funds from the Fresh Air Fund through the Female Charitable Society which administers the fund, this is no longer the case. Two years ago the Board of the Female Charitable Society voted to confine the allocation of campships to the area covered by the Newark Welfare Federation. Next year funds will be available to Belleville since Belleville's Social agencies will be members of the Newark Welfare Federation.

But the children need camping this year and to take care of this need, Belleville citizens may contribute by sending checks to Belleville Fresh Air Fund in care of the Chamber of Commerce, 246 Washington Avenue. The need is great and the time short. I hope Belleville citizens will respond generously.

POST-ELECTION COMMENTARY

To the Editor, The Times-News:

Spectacular victories were scored by Greco, Golden and Laterza in the last election. The victories of Strumolo and Addisio were just a wet bit less spectacular.

If precedent is followed, the mayor's mantle should be draped around the shoulders of Thomas Greco, easily the most experienced man elected and the one who polled the highest vote.

Our voters did themselves proud by electing a group of brand new men who are honest, sincere and dedicated to the task which lies ahead. Each knows what has to be done and each will tackle his job with vim and vigor.

Strange, isn't it, that the man who took the worst shelling in the last election was not even in the race. All his men were dumped, hard.

Poor Bass! In view of results, let cannot be said he put up a whole of a battle. By the same logic, Laterza's victory was no fluke. A carefully laid out plan, made Laterza's win a pike. Enough of this fish tale.

Most likely there will be changes in the positions of Town Clerk and Town Attorney. For Town Clerk any well qualified young man or young woman with a knowledge of shorthand should do. For Town Attorney, how about Leonard Rocco, a very capable young lawyer, or Leslie Finch?

From what I have been able to find out, the voters would want an out-of-towner for Town Manager. The list contains men who have been trained to carry out the duties of town manager. Only men possessing the highest type of ability, integrity and character make up these lists. The councilmen may interview all five, separately, and select the one who most appeals to them. In no sense will the voters stand for a previous commissioner getting the post of Town Manager.

Finally, let's give the new government a chance. These men will need a lot of encouragement. Criticism, if constructive, will be appreciated, but let's leave the boots to riotous fight crowds.

WRITES OPEN LETTER TO ROBERT LATERZA

To the Editor, The Times-News: Please publish the following open letter to Councilman-elect Robert M. Laterza.

Dear Councilman Robert M. Laterza,

The Saturday, June 16th edition of the Newark Evening News reported that you are the likely Councilman to be voted Mayor. I feel that the first governing body under the new form should not set a precedent by making a Ward Councilman Mayor. Wouldn't it be more democratic as well as ethical to support the premise that one of the At-Large Councilmen receive the titular honor.

I feel that as a fair man, who gained the support of so many voters at the recent election, you can see the argument against making a Ward Councilman the honor-ary Mayor of the town when only half the town had the opportunity to vote for him. The At-Large Councilman on the other hand were voted for by all the town and logically should be the group to select the Mayor from.

LOOKING FORWARD TO PIXLEE ARTICLES

To the Editor, The Times-News: I was born and grew up in Belleville and remember every one and every place Mr. Pixlee writes about. I am looking forward to his next article.

MRS. J. A. WEISS
15 Hornblower Avenue

Beck's Column

The writer went shopping for an air conditioner. What an experience! We know, of course, that deceptive advertising is rampant. Still we did not expect such outright deception and deliberate lies. We started at a "discount house" on Route 46. They advertised a Westinghouse air conditioner under the headline "Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Specials" for $128. They had just one single, scratched, bent and beaten up piece. The first thing the attendant said was "You don't want this. I have a much better one here. It costs only a little more." This little more was $179.88.

The writer did not want to be switched and requested the ad to be advertised. After spending 45 minutes in the place we still were unable to buy it. Not even the floor model. They promised to have some new units that afternoon, but the price would be $146. It could not be picked up. It had to be delivered for $5.50. Also it could not be sold without the "mounting frame" for $15. A call in the afternoon revealed that there were no new units and again we attempted to switch. The other 2 air conditioners advertised they did not have at all. Allegedly the ads were set up in New York and "they must have gotten mixed up."

Then we continued to two places on route 46. There we attempted to buy an air conditioner which they did not have in stock, but could get tomorrow, at a price, which we knew was incorrect. In the next day's revelation that there was a delay and that it would take another day for delivery. An attempt was made then to switch to the store's own brand, which is known to be inferior. The following day they told us that they could not deliver the unit which we wanted and then they really turned into high gear and told us why the unit, one of the best known name brands, was no good and why their own brand was so much better and cheaper. The same thing was repeated in the second place on route 46, with variations, more lies and more deception.

One can only hope that action will be taken soon to stop these practices. People are lured to these places by promises of low prices for merchandise which they don't even have. High pressure salesmen den go to work and try to push something entirely different. We can only feel sorry for the poor people who get taken by these outfits.

You are far better off to deal with a local merchant. His prices won't be any more than the equivalent merchandise in these highway places and you won't be deceived. It is our contention that such merchandise should be bought only from stores that have their own service facilities.

We service what we sell.

Women College Grads Sought By The WAC
After 20 years of eliminating the rough edges, the present Women's Army Corps can proudly offer an active program to the college Graduate which encompasses good pay with normal promotions, travel, culture and other fringe benefits that cannot be duplicated in the business world.

Women Army Corps Officers come from fifty states, from large cosmopolitan cities, small towns, rural areas. This cross section of American womanhood has elected to serve a portion of their life in the military.

From their varied background, their skills afford the Army a means to continue operations at all time peak of efficiency. Their value to the country was proven during World War II when WAC officers wove a new idea into an honored military organization.

A bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university is the prerequisite for a young woman between the ages of 20-27. Because of the Army's high standards for WAC officers the qualification procedure also includes personal background review, letters of recommendations and an interview before a board of officers. If found qualified you may be selected for a direct commission as a Second Lieutenant.

The challenge is evident. If the 1962 graduate can accept it, a snappy salute will be forthcoming. Your army recruiter can give you all the facts for further information contact M. Sgt. Granville Marshall, 396 Bloomfield Avenue, Post Office Building, Montclair.

Ease Histories Reveal Why Children Need Camp Life

Some thirty Belleville boys and girls are very much in need of a camp experience this summer. Since Belleville children do not benefit from the Newark News Fresh Air Fund, whether or not these children will get to camp this year depends on the generosity of Belleville citizens.

Next year, with the Belleville United Fund merged with the Newark Welfare Federation and United Appeals, Belleville children will be eligible to participate in the Newark News Fresh Air Fund.

But children grow up only once and what happens to them now can determine what they will be later. To a ten year old 1963 is a long way off.

The Belleville Family Counseling Service will select the needy children and the camp to which they will go. Belleville citizens who want to help these children should make their checks out to:

his married brother and sister with all of these things right outside the door.

They aren't right outside Tommy's door though. He lives with his mother and father and seven brothers and sisters in a dingy home and a real mother to Nickie again. His father is away too. A grown man sometimes does things for which he is punished too often the real punishment falls on the innocent.

Nickie's brother and his wife do their best for the boy but they can't supply all of the love and affection he should be receiving from his own parents and sometimes they forget and even make Nickie feel he is really not welcome in their home. Nickie always seems to need new shoes at just the same time the baby needs something, or Nickie himself crowds the little flat too much and tempers fly.

Everyone needs a little rest and relief. Several weeks in camp could give Nick a sense of direction and belonging, and could give his brother and his young wife a little needed privacy and courage for the year ahead.

CASE THREE
Tommy is 10. He loves to read and every week he brings home books from the library about nature study. He reads about the stars, about minerals and stones, about insects and animals, and he reads about living in the country.

Will you help? Tommy is 10. He loves to read and every week he brings home books from the library about nature study. He reads about the stars, about minerals and stones, about insects and animals, and he reads about living in the country.
