

COUNCIL READY TO TAKE OFFICE SUNDAY

An Editorial

Forward March!

"A community cannot be happy in one part and unhappy in another. It's all or nothing, no patching any more forever." The quotation is from "Kippes," an H.G. Wells novel written in 1905.

We believe it best expresses the tone our people would like our new Town Council to establish during the four opportunity-packed years that lie ahead.

Five new men, new to Town Hall and to government will take office Sunday at twelve noon. They carry into office the hopes and aspirations of a tired, troubled citizenry.

Members of the new Town Council are: Mayor-designate Robert M. Laterza, Councilmen-elect James R. Golden, Thomas P. Greco, G. George Addonizio, and Vincent T. Strumolo.

These men have the capacity to bring into office the personal traits which have made them rise above the crowd, and made them winners—compassion, humility, wisdom and personal integrity. They take office enjoying the honor, respect, affection, and well wishes of citizens interested in decency in public office.

The heritage of our new Council presents it with an unparalleled opportunity. For the past decade Belleville has not kept up with the times. The march forward will not be easy. The road will be uncertain, difficult, and mined.

The new five, entrusted with the awesome burden of caring for 35,000 people and having custody over $168,000,000 of property owned by hardpressed taxpayers, will need the aid and understanding of our citizens if they are to successfully discharge the obligations of their public trust.

More important they will need your continued faith and trust, for as William Blake observed, "If the Sun and Moon should doubt, They'd immediately go out."

The personal sacrifices of the new Councilmen will be many. Serving probably without pay, a new departure for Belleville municipal officials, they will spend countless hours away from their jobs and businesses and many nights away from the loved ones of their families. Most of these sacrifices will not be remembered by future Council critics, puffed up with their own importance and only interested in projecting a public image that might stand them in good stead at future elections.

Today our new Town Council faces the greatest challenge our town and people have ever known. The Councilmen are the trustees of our town's future. They have the task of restoring to Belleville its rightful place in the community of respectable, progressive towns.

There is the task of restoring the literal meaning of our town's name — "The Town Beautiful" — or as it has been handed down over the centuries — "Belleville the Beautiful."

The Town Council must think and act big. It must have "Greatness" as its goal. As Disraeli said, "Life is too short to be little."

For the new Council members and their families we ask God's blessings and guidance as the men undertake the heavy, troublesome, burden of public office.

The Commissioners Say Goodbye

Sunday at 12 noon the Commission form of government which has ruled Belleville since 1914 will go out of existence. In its place and stead we will have a form of government legally known as Council Manager Plan D, consisting of five Councilmen.

Expiring with the old form of government will be the terms of our incumbent Commissioners, none of whom will serve on the new Town Council. Four offered their names to the electorate — and they were rejected. Commissioners George Kiernan and Robert Gruhin at the May 8th election and Commissioners Harry Sullivan and Nuncio Pico at the runoff election held June 12. Mayor Isadore Padula, just before the deadline for filing in March, withdrew from the Council race, thus leaving to the politicians to wonder whether or not he would have met the same fate as his colleagues.

Perhaps it may be well at this point to wonder what manner of men made up our Town Commission for the past four years.

Basically, as individuals, they were all good men. As public officials some of their judgments on the important decisions during their term of office did not meet with public approval.

Thousands of words have been spoken and written about their shortcomings, so let's take a look at the other side of the ledger.

Commissioner Robert Gruhin in our judgment is a public official of strong mind and personal integrity. There was nothing wishy-washy about him. Everyone knew where Bob Gruhin stood on every important issue. It remains our judgment that Gruhin continues to be one of Belleville's best attorneys, certainly better versed in municipal law than any other local attorney. Despite the treatment at the polls accorded him by the voters we believe Gruhin still has much to offer to our community.

It is much too young and much too brilliant to be cast out like an old shoe.

Commissioner Harry Sullivan is undoubtedly the most popular member of the present Commission. In our judgment he rose to his greatest heights as a public official not as Public Safety Director but in his public espousal of a new high school. The project — involving

Laterza To Be Named Mayor; Post For McCoy

Belleville's new five-man Council will assume office at noon on Sunday. The ceremony will take place at the meeting chamber in Town Hall before what is expected to be an overflow crowd. Provisions are being made to provide as many seats as possible in the not too spacious room.

Robert M. Laterza will be named as Mayor. The choice was made at a meeting of the five Councilmen on June 20. The other four Councilmen are Thomas P. Greco, James R. Golden, G. George Addonizio and Vincent Strumolo.

Francis M. McCoy will be appointed acting Town Manager. He is a long-time town employee and has been Town Treasurer for four years. It is reported that he was asked if he would be able to assume the additional duties temporarily at no additional salary, and he consented. His knowledge of town finances made him a logical choice. Members of the new Council have committed themselves to choose as a permanent manager someone from out of town.

Some difficulties may be found in choosing someone quickly. Laterza told "The Times-News," the National City Managers Association reported a few days ago, he

Greco Says He Has Deep Sense Of Gratitude

Councilman-elect Thomas P. Greco this week said in a statement that he felt a deep sense of gratitude toward those who supported him in the recent election.

"It is with deep gratitude that I extend my appreciation to the voters of our Town in selecting me as a member of the Town Council," he said. "My most profound thanks go to my many friends who assisted me through this election, during the long and rigorous campaign, in promoting my candidacy."

"Many words cannot express my warm feelings towards my close campaign associates, who, ungrudgingly as they were in the ways of politics, handled all the organizational details with remarkable adeptness."

"I wish to reaffirm the fact that I will make every effort to assure the success of our new government, and I earnestly solicit the cooperation of our people to achieve this goal."

At this time McCool deplored the fact that the details of hiring school personnel are being thrashed out in executive sessions.

At a vote on hiring MacArthur, Brown and Juliano voted no.

Tercentenary Committee Plans Historical Society

By ALLAN H. CRISP
Chairman of the Belleville Tercentenary Committee

In 1964, New Jersey will celebrate its 300th anniversary. In enacting the law calling for this celebration, our legislature noted that "such a commemoration, with careful planning, can be of enduring rather than transitory worth to the people."

It therefore seems fitting that Belleville, with a rich historical heritage, should mark this 300th anniversary in a manner that will be of lasting value to our community. The Tercentenary Committee is making its prime objective the formation of the Belleville Historical Society, for which organization papers are being drawn up by Max N. Schwartz.

Belleville was known as Second River prior to July 4, 1797, and was settled by the Dutch, who moved out from Bergen (now Jersey City) long before New Jersey's settlers came to New Jersey. Over the years, our industrial development along the Passaic River, and now the Connecticut River, has wiped out almost every vestige of colonial days.

It is extremely important to preserve for the generations to come the rich historical data which at present remains in the memories and attics of some of our older residents.

One person who brought in an answer gave both dates and explained the difference, but mentioned only the year of incorporation.

One person who brought in an answer gave both dates and explained the difference, but mentioned only the year of incorporation.

We expect to be organized by September and will then conduct a community-wide treasure hunt for old letters, photographs, flags, manuscripts, tools and utensils. We will probably enlist the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts in this search.

Until we have a building of our own, Belleville Library will serve as a rallying point. Ben E. Grimm, librarian, who is technical director of the Tercentenary Committee, will furnish the necessary leadership of this phase of the program. In the meantime, if any residents have information and items which they think will be of interest, Mr. Grimm or I will be glad to consult with them.

We expect to enlist the support of every civic, social, church and PTA organization in this community project and will welcome pledges of support from organizations and individuals.

Map Page Prize To Be Given To Fund

Belleville became a municipality on April 8, 1839, but it was not incorporated as a town until November 16, 1914.

The latter date was the correct answer to the question on

The Times-News Map Page last week. A few contestants made the mistake of giving the first date instead of the date of incorporation.

An Open Letter To Dr. Durkee From Graduates

An open letter to Dr. Durkee: We feel that we speak for the overwhelming majority of the graduating class of 1962 when we express our appreciation for the courage shown regarding the decision to hold graduation exercises at Municipal Stadium.

May we thank you on behalf of our relatives and friends for this opportunity to be present at our big moment.

We recognize the fact that this decision had to be made earlier in the afternoon and was based on an optimistic report by a reliable weather forecaster.

It is our feeling that it would have been even more uncomfortable to have held the ceremonies indoors with the restrictions as to the number of guests allowed (2) and the realization that these guests would, in all probability, be wearing wet clothing. Perhaps for future graduating classes some plan for providing a rain date could be considered.

In conclusion may we again state our deep appreciation and respect for your leadership.

School Board Will Modify District Plan

Parents who sat through a five and one half hour session of the Board of Education Monday night in an effort to get the board to abandon its controversial redistricting plan went home disappointed. However, the board did vote for a modification of the redistricting resolution of May 28, eliminating 25 children from the 72 originally affected.

The "district line" is re-established along Washington Avenue from Holmes Street to the Nutley line, continuing students on the west side of Washington Avenue in Schools 3 and 5 but requiring students on the east side of Washington Avenue to transfer to School 9.

The modification was supported by Richard H. Drake, board president; Ernest S. Arvidson, vice president; George Brown and Dr. DiRuggiero. Voting no on the grounds that the plan needed further study were Norma McCool, Arthur M. Pico and Nicholas Juliano.

The parents crowded into the small board room and flowed out into adjoining rooms. Some stood nearly throughout the entire session.

The parents were heard at various times during the meeting, starting almost at the beginning, and continuing when there were breaks in the other business, and also while the board members were discussing the redistricting. Several different methods of dealing with the problem were gone into, and several were voted on but were turned down.

All members were in favor of the need for redistricting on some scale, but the extent to which it should be done, and how soon it should go into effect was debated lengthily.

Arvidson said at one point that the problem was being solved on a basis of emotionalism and fear.

TWO TURNED DOWN
Two important administrative appointments were tabled by the board. Austin J. MacArthur was denied approval for the post of vice principal of the High School.

Dr. Frank M. Durkee was attacked by Brown on the grounds that it was doing things backwards. "Let's get the head coach before you get his assistants," he said, referring to the fact that a high school principal has also to be hired but has not yet been chosen.

Juliano said he had nothing against MacArthur but had not been given a chance to interview him. He had a warm exchange with Dr. Durkee over this point.

At this time McCool deplored the fact that the details of hiring school personnel are being thrashed out in executive sessions.

At a vote on hiring MacArthur, Brown and Juliano voted no.

Branch Brook Manor Charge Is Dismissed

A complaint against the Branch Brook Manor restaurant at 13 Washington Avenue and its proprietor, Joseph Carpel, was dismissed by the Board of Commissioners, sitting as an Excise Board, Tuesday night.

The complaint, which charged the proprietor with not exercising proper supervision over departing guests, was made in the form of a petition signed by 38 residents of the area.

John F. Rush, 106 Mill Street, who said he had resided in Belleville for 30 years, and Bernard J. Tinsdale of 110 Mill Street, a Belleville patrolman, acted as spokesmen for the petitioners. They said "Branch Brook guests, after leaving the premises, hooked horns, sang loud songs and made general nuisances of themselves in the early morning hours, and that residents of the area had to exercise supervision over these guests with no help from Carpel."

G. George Addonizio, attorney and Belleville councilman - elect, defended the charge on behalf of Carpel. He said the same charge could be made against any tavern in Belleville. Carpel had no force, and he asked for an investment of more than $200,000 in the place, the attorney said, and during his ownership had greatly improved the appearance of the corner, which had formerly been occupied by a stable. He said the petition actually had no force, and he asked the board to dismiss the complaint. He said that Carpel, on his part, would try to retain departing guests from over-exuberance.

The board, following a closed-door deliberation, voted unanimously to dismiss the charge, taking note of the promise to exercise supervision.

STORY BOOK HOUR
A Story Book Hour for children ages 4 to 10 will be held at the Belleville Public Library Friday, July 6, at 10 a.m. in the Children's Department.

The board, following a closed-door deliberation, voted unanimously to dismiss the charge, taking note of the promise to exercise supervision.

POST TO SULLIVAN
Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan on Monday was appointed undersheriff of Essex County at a salary of $9,500 a year. He will be sworn in Monday before County Court Judge John Crane.

Juliano said he had nothing against MacArthur but had not been given a chance to interview him. He had a warm exchange with Dr. Durkee over this point.

At this time McCool deplored the fact that the details of hiring school personnel are being thrashed out in executive sessions.

At a vote on hiring MacArthur, Brown and Juliano voted no.

Scouts Will Leave For Camp Mohican On Sunday

Robert Treat, Council Scouts and Explorers will "check in" at Camp Mohican at Blairstown, N. J., on Sunday afternoon, July 1, to open the camp's 36th consecutive summer training session. Council officials said nearly 600 Belleville, Irvington and Newark boys and young men will attend for one of the two week periods. Leaving for camp Sunday will be members of the following Belleville District Troop 361, Wesley Methodist Church and 375, St. Peter's Church.

To date 48 Troops have made reservations for a minimum of 600 members and 27 adult leaders. The 35-member central staff to serve the entire season, including cooks, program, Scoutcraft, aquatic and other directors, their assistants and counselors, and a nurse are already in camp.

Charles W. Harlow, the Council's Director of Program is the Resident Director. Assistant Director is Alfred J. Peters, a District Scout Executive.

On arrival the Scouts will be given a medical and physical checkup by members of the Council's Health and Safety Committee. After assignments to a tent or cabin on a Troop campsite each will receive a swimming ability classification test. Beginners and non-swimmers will receive special instruction from the waterfront staff. As they qualify, the Scouts and Explorers will use the camp's fleet of boats and canoes at Kwanis Lodge. Each will be trained in safe and proper boat and canoe handling. Meals will be served in Rotary Hall.

Mohican is the largest boys camp in New Jersey, having an area of 1,738 acres situated atop the Kittatinny, seven miles from Blairstown. It is owned and maintained for year round use of Newark, Irvington and Belleville Troops and Explorer Posts, Sea Ships and Air Squadrons. Reservations are made at the Council's office or service center in Newark.

During the camp period Scouts will hike and camp on the Appalachian Trails, practice campcraft and Scout crafts, earn merit badges and qualify for the second, first class and high ranks.

Visitors days are Sundays. The Council's Executive Board, Committees and Commissioners and

Three Games Played Saturday In The Little League

In the first game in the Little League on Saturday the White Sox trounced the Clippers 3 to 0.

The second game saw another shutout. The Aces did this by a 5 to 0 score over the Indians. Pat Fredo was the winning pitcher. Tim Hicks taking the loss. Bill Oskney and Leroy Polite Jr. homered for the Aces.

In the third game the Yanks, behind the pitching of Walter Brown, edged out the Bombers 7 to 6 in extra innings.

Youth On Bike Rode Here From South Dakota

A former Belleville youth visited his home town briefly last Friday after a 1,450 mile bike ride.

He was Andrew Boyajian, 21, now a resident of Hasbrouck Heights, who lived in Belleville from 1941 to 1954. He attends Wesleyan University at Mitchell, S.D. The Mitchell Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored the youth's trip from Mitchell to New Jersey for publicity purposes.

Andrew started the trip June 4 and made excellent time. His best day, he reports, was June 20 when he made 133 miles. People were helpful and friendly all along the route, he said in Belleville.

He stopped here specifically to have his bicycle checked at DeBacco Brothers Sports Center on Washington Avenue, and spoke at length to Joe DeBacco before completing his trip to Hasbrouck Heights.

Recreation Unit Opens Summer Play Program

The Belleville Recreation Department has opened its Summer Play Program. Supervised playgrounds are at the Stadium, Recreation House, William Street, Montgomery Place, Fairway Court, School 9, School 1 and School 4.

As usual, a very intensive program of handicrafts being offered at all playgrounds under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Serriella. Special Twirling classes will be conducted at the Stadium by Miss Phyllis Resiano. Archery will be offered. Each of the playgrounds will feature special events, parties and softball teams.

Perhaps the highlight of this summer's activity will be an intensive swim program which will be conducted at the Friendly House. There will be open swimming, learn-to-swim classes, life saving classes and splash parties.

For the teenagers there will be several dances, splash parties and other activities.

Additional information about the various activities may be obtained from the directors at any of the playgrounds.

develops its historical potential. After all, 62 veterans of the Revolutionary War lie buried in our Reformed Church cemetery. In speaking before many groups, I have been impressed by the intense interest of our school children, who seem anxious to be proud of Belleville and its history.

It is my personal opinion that our children absorb the bitterness and hostility of community squabbles over such things as improved educational facilities and elections for a new form of government.

Furthermore, Belleville is in one of the most strategic locations in the metropolitan area. By channeling the town's efforts into positive, affirmative, constructive activities such as this, we can help to build a BETTER BELLEVILLE.

MacArthur is a business education teacher in the Belleville High School.

Hyde's proposed appointment was denied by much the same vote as that accorded MacArthur. The objection here by those voting no was that the necessary creation of an Industrial Arts Department had not been provided. Arvidson made much of tion, not the full date. This was an early entry and would have won except for the omission.

The first contestant to bring in a correct and complete answer was Mrs. W. N. Lapham of 19 Fairway Avenue.

Mrs. Lapham works for the Family Counseling Service of Belleville. When she was informed that she had won the contest and would be receiving a check, she said at once that she would donate it to the Belleville Fresh Air Fund.

There were many sources from which readers could have learned the date needed for a correct answer to the Map Page question. Mrs. Lapham said she had consulted the Belleville-Nutley director and had found the information there.

Incidentally, the answer to the question on the Map Page the previous week, which should have been mentioned with the story of that week's winner, was inadvertently omitted. The correct figure, as compiled by the Belleville Public Library, was 37,604—the number of books in the library.

This week a new question will be found on the Map Page. The first correct answer submitted according to the rules will be worth $5.

There is only one correct answer to the question, and when a winner is announced the source for that answer will be revealed.

Please note that the answer must be delivered in person at the office of The Times, 244 Washington Avenue, or by mail. Phone calls will not be accepted. The prize will be awarded to the one who first submits the correct answer.

A decision by The Times as to the winner is final and may not be disputed.

Only one person in a family may submit an answer.

The contest deadline is 5 p.m. on the Monday following the publication of the contest question.

If no identification is made by that time the prize money will be added to the following week's award.

Fireworks Factory Blew Up One Afternoon In May 1911

By FREDERICK J. PIXLEE

This week's article will be devoted to two fields used by the "sporting men" of a past era, and a recollection of the day the fireworks factory blew up with the loss of several lives.

Northwest of the intersection of Joralemon Street and Union Avenue there was a large wooded tract of land that was locally called Joralemon's Woods. This place could be considered a veritable wilderness, for there were no streets north of Joralemon Street in the Town of Belleville. Passaic Avenue was the only through street on the western boundary of this tract and that could not be reached because of the Peat Bog where the present School Stadium stands now.

There was a clearing on some level ground about where Reservoir Place, Van Rensselaer Place and Division Avenue are presently located. Here the town "sports" had a trap shooting range. How well I remember them with their black derby hats, their mustaches and their dark suits with collar and ties and vests! This was the sporting garb of that day. All of them had large gold watch chains with hunting case watches in their vest pockets.

PRECISE APPAREL

Compare these clothes with the simple sport clothes today. If anyone dared to show up in those days in other than the precise clothes described above, he would have been summarily ousted from the club as a rube and a crook.

The only members of the Shooting Club that I knew were the two Eugene Gaveys, father and son. Mr. Gavey senior worked for Tiffany's and Mr. Gavey junior was a successful real estate agent and later Town Registrar. I would appreciate hearing from anyone who was a member of this old Club.

It was very interesting to see the clay pigeons go flying from the shooting trap and watch how often the men hit them with the shotgun shells. I used to wonder how they could hit such a small fast moving target at all, until my father told me that a shotgun scattered its bullets over quite a large territory.

Due to the fact that streets had been cut through and buildings were being constructed, the Club had to move from this territory about 1910 or 1911. I believe that sporadic attempts were made to continue the trap shooting from time to time up around the Peat Bog, but interest had declined in this sport. It is almost non-existent today.

STREET SIGN

I recall taking a walk with my father through the deep woods north of this field and coming upon a street sign. It said "Toona Avenue" and "Forest Street." That was all, and no sign of any streets at this so called intersection; not even a "cowpath."

My father had a good laugh about the sign at the time, but the present residents of that neighborhood know how well built up the territory is now. Of course, this spelled the doom of anything as hazardous as a trap shooting club.

I was once asked to give an example of a "plateau" in our geography lessons at Number Three School. I knew that a plateau was an elevated plain and that a plain was a flat piece of land. So I told Miss Dunlap, the teacher at the time that the trap shooting field was a plateau. She reprinted in the affirmative that it was a small one.

OLD BALL FIELD

The other field that I would like to mention was the old ball field on Hornblower Avenue south of Holmes Street. Lloyd Place was west of it and Van Houten Place ended at Hornblower Avenue. About opposite Van Houten Place there was quite a large wooden grandstand, fully roofed over, and rather commodious. Every Saturday afternoon in the spring and early summer there was a baseball game, probably by a Semi-Pro League. I do not remember what the names of the teams were that played there, for I was only about five years old at the time and was more interested in the peanut and ice cream vendors than in watching the ball game. I do remember the score cards and cardboard baseballs for the "cladins to keep score" being sold, and the grandstand was always crowded.

In the rear of the grandstand there was a large building built of corrugated iron. This was a fireworks factory. Imagine such a structure in an area that was beginning to look urban today! Of course there were no zoning regulations of any nature in 1909. There was some grumbling about the factory, but nothing was done.

The final and abrupt end came to both the fireworks factory and the grandstand one May afternoon in 1911.

FACTORY EXPLODED

The fireworks factory blew up with a roar that was heard all over the town and the fire that ensued destroyed the grandstand completely. It is fortunate that this disaster happened on a week day and the grandstand and the field were not in use. The list of casualties was confined to the fireworks factory itself, where several employees were killed. Several houses nearby lost all their windows, but no one in the homes was injured to my knowledge.

interest in Semi-Pro baseball waned. The field was used by the Belleville High School baseball and football teams until 1936. From 1916 to 1924, football was banned by Belleville High School because of the death of one of the players after a game. Baseball continued, using the field until 1922, but there were absolutely no conveniences for the spectators and as a consequence the interest declined considerably.

The entire area was developed by builders in the early '20's and the playing field was moved two blocks west when School No. Eight was constructed.

The author would appreciate hearing from some of the older residents who might perhaps remember the names of the baseball clubs that used the field and also if anyone remembers the still older Trap Shooting Club.

Commissioners Say Goodbye

the expenditure of a sum near $700,000—was never popular with many of our people. Despite the unfavorable exposure a public stand on the burning issue would present to Sullivan he shocked the political community when he appeared at a public meeting called to discuss the new school project and called for its approval.

Almost without exception every local political brain said Sullivan committed political suicide by his action. The new school project divided our town almost down the middle. Scars of that battle were undoubtedly carried over into the May and June Council elections. Sullivan, dean of the Commission, with 12 years service, retires from the board with his personal integrity intact.

Commissioner Nuncio Pico is leaving office in much the same way as he came in — a stranger to politics. A successful engineer with Western Electric, Pico never understood the world of politics — and probably never made any attempt to understand it. A public official of utmost integrity he administered the Department of Health free of political interference or consideration. His departmental budget showed the lowest percentage of increase during his four years in office. Pico leaves office compiling a fine record as a dedicated and honest public official.

Commissioner George Kiernan during most of his four years on the board, was the victim of foul play. His independence on the Board of Commissioners made him a target for the more sinister political influences. He alone of all the Commissioners supported the government change move a year ago May. This decision required much personal courage — and this commodity Kiernan has in abundance. From Commission critics and public officials alike Kiernan was made the subject of malicious attacks, some of his detractors resorting to the Communistic technique of the big lie. Through it all Kiernan never stooped down to the gutter to meet his antagonists, a tribute to his character.

Although unable to gain the support of the voters at the ballot in May, Kiernan leaves office as a respected man, in the full knowledge that he gave to the people of Belleville four years of honest, dedicated personal effort, over and beyond the call of duty.

Mayor Isadore Padula rounds out eight years as a member of the Town Commission, all the while serving as Mayor. No one could accuse Padula of personal dishonesty, for in this regard he was always above suspicion. In the end perhaps some of the high salaries Padula established for his non-civil service employees may provide the new Council with the opportunity of attracting to town government a superior, non-political, public employee.

Padula, a personally likeable fellow, is a thoroughly seasoned, polite politician, most always saying the right thing at the right time. As presiding officer, Padula bent backward to give critics all the opportunity they desired to rap the Commission, often to the consternation of his colleagues. Padula has a gracious, gentlemanly manner which can be emulated to advantage by our new Councilmen.

As the outgoing members of the Town Commission retire from municipal office we wish them happiness and success in their respective fields of endeavor. Perhaps with one voice they would pass on to the new generation advice obtained from personal experience—municipal elected office is generally a thankless task.

Beck's Column

We dislike to be repetitious. Last week we wrote about the writer's experiences on a shopping trip for an air conditioner and the misrepresentation which we encountered.

However, since we received a number of repair calls for air conditioners which so easily could have been avoided, we would like to make a few suggestions for the proper care of these units. As usual, a little care goes a long way, and there is really only very little that is really new to keep these units in good working order.

The main thing is to keep the filters clean. A clogged filter obstructs the free flow of air. The unit can not cool and will freeze up. If this happens there will be no cooling. Also the fins on the cooling (evaporator) coils in the front and the condenser coils (in the rear) have to be kept clean in order to pass the air freely. These coils should be cleaned with a strong vacuum cleaner at least once a year, at the beginning of the season. Depending on the amount of use, the filters have to be cleaned or better replaced at least once, possibly several times during use. The drain hose has to be free from obstructions, otherwise the water taken out of the front part of the unit and leak into the room instead of being ejected by the rear fan to the outside. The fan motor requires just a few drops of oil. Some motors have permanently lubricated bearings and do not require oiling. A number of units are open at the bottom and these are favorite nesting places for birds. These openings should be covered with screen wire. A little opening to exhaust stale and take in fresh air, is screened. This wire in time corrodes and in come the mosquitoes. They find a fine breeding place in the water in the bottom pan. That's about all that has to be done to keep an air conditioner in working order.

Day Camp Will Be Provided By Palsy Center

An opportunity for handicapped children to participate in summer day camp activities will be offered by the Cerebral Palsy School and Treatment Center, Belleville, it was announced this week by George Isenberg, center president.

The program, consisting of two four-week sessions, will open July 2. More than 50 youngsters, selected from the center's regular enrollment, will attend the camp three days a week from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The camp, now in its fourth year, uses the center's complete facilities, including a fully equipped playground and swimming pool.

Folk dancing, dramatics, trips, gardening and a weekly camp fire will be highlights of the program patterned to resemble normal camping. Activities will center around the themes of world travel and the circus, culminating in illustrative programs for parents.

The entire center staff of trained therapists and teachers will be camp counselors, headed by Miss Phyllis Burgess, clinic coordinator. A special group of teen-age volunteers, who will serve as assistants, attended an orientation tea at the center, Monday, June 25.

Seems Only Yesterday

5 Years Ago

A testimonial dinner in honor of singing mainman Patsy Tortorella was staged at the Fountain. It was a "fantabulous" affair highlighted by the appearance of Claire Tortorella, Patsy's granddaughter, who displayed her dancing artistry.

Contractors were expected to finish their work on the new Clara Maxwell Memorial Hospital within a month, and elaborate plans were in the making for official opening ceremonies.

The Colony Club presented a trophy to William Kintzing, designating him as outstanding athlete of the year.

Barbara Fern and Frances Esposito were chosen valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, on the basis of scholastic averages at Belleville High School.

10 Years Ago

The new Plymouth 9 telephone exchange at Washington Avenue and Holmes Street was being constructed. When completed, it would bring service permitting direct dialing of practically any telephone in northern New Jersey and New York City.

A survey revealed that the average annual family income in Belleville was nearly $2,000 above the national figure. It was $6,692, compared to $4,692 for the country's 44,719,400 families.

The Times-News endorsed the new system of revoking the driving licenses, based on a schedule of demerits, of New Jersey motorists who repeatedly committed traffic violations.

15 Years Ago

One of the most dramatic of post-war, revolutionary developments went on display to Belleville citizens at a local store. It was a wire recorder, radio photograph combination. According to A. J. Gerstein, Belleville was one of the first communities in the country in which the wire recorder was introduced.

The board of directors of the Belleville Chapter of the American Red Cross re-elected Thomas A. Atken chairman, Rudolph H. Doeljen, Mrs. Raymond E. Mertz and Harvey Thompson were all chosen vice chairmen.

Funeral services were held for Charles W. Watson, Belleville tax assessor. He had been a resident of Belleville for 38 years and had held the tax assessor post for five years, replacing John Coogan Jr. in 1942.

The Democratic County Committee re-elected officers at a re-organization meeting. George Christie was named chairman, Mrs. Mae Mead Mazza, vice chairman, Ralph Vaz, secretary, and Mrs. Alice Spillane, treasurer.

25 Years Ago

The existence of the Belleville Assessment Board was terminated by the Town Commissioners. John J. Barroet, the last Civil War veteran living in Belleville, had held the position for 30 years at a small compensation. The town was not to be done by a tax assessor assisted by the Public Works Department. Appointed to the new assessor post was John Coogan Jr.

A swarm of bees held a mass meeting on Bob McLaughlin's lawn. It wasn't until an enterprising friend captured the queen bee that the rest of the bees consented to move.

Among the busiest mail carriers in town were Jacob Hoffman, Joseph Cassidy and Wilbur Eckert. Cassidy patrolled the William Street district, and Hoffman and Eckert were in the Greylock section.

After several years of effort Commissioner Patrick A. Waters finally persuaded the WPA authorities to accept the proposed project to complete the Greylock Parkway storm sewer.

35 Years Ago

Director of Revenue and Finance Edward Nelson resigned from the Belleville Town Commission and James Gibson was named in his place. Gibson was formerly president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and was connected with the Gibson Musical String Company.

Local police failed to obtain the name of the driver of a silver whose machine turned over three times when it skidded on wet pavements following a drizzle. Witnesses said the man walked away uninjured after the mishap, the only noticeable effect being that his straw hat would have to be replaced.

"Dick White's Old Place," a local landmark for many years and formerly a popular hotel was burned to the ground in a spectacular blaze. It was the sixth fire in the building within a short time. It was located on the Passaic River near the Nutley line.

Rotarian Martin Thorman told fellow members that on his recent trip through Europe he learned that both England and France were in bad financial shape, but that of the two England was the worst off.

Civic groups urged that Belleville be changed from a town to a city, that a new Erie railroad station be constructed at Essex, that a government post office not a substitution, be established, that with the completion of the Holland Tunnel a definite plan for Belleville's growth be designed, and that Greylock Parkway be continued from the river to the Nutley line.

'SEEING THE LIGHT' HAS DEEP MEANING

To the Editor, The Times-News: About one month ago at a Town Commission meeting I raised a purely civic question about the Third River area. The reply received from Commissioner Robert C. Grubin was something to this effect: "You will be doing this in the Hall many times in the future when the new government takes over about this area." Then, as if every matter that is brought to Town Hall has to have political undertones, he added: "Some day you will see the light!"

There is only one light in this world. There is a promise made by this greatest source of all wisdom. It was recorded as a promise to all of the Faithful, but should have a deeper meaning for all of the faithful citizens of Belleville and especially for the members of the new governing body of the Town. The quote is made from the Holy Bible, Book of Isaiah, Chapter 58, Verse 12. It is as follows: "And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called The repairer of the breach. The restorer of paths to dwell in."

WILLIAM Y. RIEDEL, JR. 58 Plenge Dr.

RAIMO EXPRESSES THANKS TO VOTERS

To the Editor, The Times-News: May I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to my many friends of the First Ward, who gave of their time and effort in behalf of my candidacy on June 12th. May I also thank the 1,832 voters of the First Ward for their vote of confidence.

I shall continue my civic activities for the good of the community as I have done in the past.

To the newly elected Councilmen I extend my very good wishes for their success in inaugurating our new form of Government. We the candidates who lost on June 12th should join forces to make the new Council Manager form of government something to be proud of and continue to work for the best interest of Belleville.

NICHOLAS RAIMO

A PARENT'S JOY ON GRADUATION NIGHT

To the Editor, The Times-News: Last Wednesday as we sat in the stadium and witnessed the graduation of Belleville High School, all around us there were complaints about the rain and how terrible it was for the graduates to have something like this to remember the rest of their lives. Sen. Case Reports

It is now some weeks since the nation became suddenly aware of Billie Sol Estes. The press and the air waves have been full of the case ever since. Yet all the words have heightened rather than dispelled the mystery of how and why the government lent itself for so long to Estes' manipulations.

Inquiries on various aspects of the case are under way in Texas as well as in Washington. In the House, New Jersey's Representative Florence Dwyer is the ranking minority member of the subcommittee looking into it. Late this month, the Senate Committee on Government Operations under the chairmanship of Senator McClellan will open public hearings. The committee's inquiries will be, I hope, the thoroughgoing investigation the American people want and expect. For the Estes case is important not only in itself but for the insight they should bring as to how we can better protect against recurrence of such gross wrongdoing.

It is significant that the case first came out in the open through the efforts of a small town newspaper editor. It is also significant that it was not until then that the Department of Agriculture belatedly began to move in the matter. At the same time it is unsettling to contemplate how long the elaborate manipulations of Estes might have continued, had it not been for the determined digging of the Pecos Independent and its small staff.

ONE STEP FURTHER

The value of an enterprising press and the salutary effect of public disclosure could hardly be more graphically demonstrated. The time has come, I believe, to carry the principle of regular public disclosure one step further.

Specifically, I have long advocated legislation to require top officials of the government, in the Executive Branch, to report annually their assets and liabilities and the sources of their income including gifts of $100 or more in value. My bill would also require that all communications to an agency, pertaining to a particular case pending before the agency, shall be made part of the public record.

The theory of the legislation is the old tried and true principle that if the facts are accessible, the public can judge the wisdom or propriety of any particular act or transaction.

BENEFICIAL EFFECT

In my judgment the beneficial effect of such a measure would begin even farther back. The necessity for making a report would tend to prevent the use of thinking offer or unthinking acceptance of say, a suit of clothes or various types of hospitality. Surely it would shapen anyone's awareness of the impropriety of receiving $100 money orders from persons doing business with the government.

Senator Maurine Neuberger of Oregon joined with me in introducing the bill in this Congress. We believe active consideration of the measure would be very timely, and have therefore urged the Senate Rules Committee to hold hearings on it.

It is impossible to condone the individual wrongdoing in the Estes case. But it is equally impossible to avoid the conclusion that episodes of this sort are an almost inevitable concomitant of the incredible farm program with which this country is burdened.

Few people realize that the Department of Agriculture is the second largest agency in the government, exceeded only by the Department of Defense. It now has an annual budget of nearly seven billion dollars and some 100,000 employees. The Administration's budgetary request for the Department of Agriculture in the coming fiscal year is nearly 800 million dollars larger than farm surpluses. It has placed the amount spent by the Department two years ago. The budget and contributed to the high cost for the Commodity Credit Corporation of food to the consumer, while the helping only those farmers who farm price support program, has leapt from 1.4 billion dollars expended two years ago to 2.5 billion dollars requested for fiscal 1963.

FARM SURPLUSES

This massive program unfortunately has made no real head in solving the problem of 800 million dollars larger than farm surpluses. It has placed a heavy burden on the taxpayer and contributed to the high cost of food to the consumer, while the helping only those farmers who produce some of the big staple crops. A big slice of our heavy farm expenditures has not helped the farmer at all, but has merely helped to develop a group of warehouse operators who get rich on storing government surpluses. That is why I supported the efforts of President Eisenhower and his Secretary of Agriculture along this line and why, when the farm bill was recently before the Senate, I voted against it. The Administration's program which would only get the government in deeper.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly we have borne with them when men suffered them, because we felt the security of them; because we considered them as the most likely to effect our Safety and Happiness. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce us to absolute Tyranny, it is our right, it is our duty, to throw off such Government, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.

History has taught us, that the people have the right to alter or to abolish their Government, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.

Resolved, that the thirteen united States of America, do hereby sever all political connections with Great Britain; that they do, in the name and by the authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all future support and protection must be sought from themselves.

And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.
