

Drake Sees New High School Not Ready Till Fall Of '64

Belleville's new high school may not be ready for occupancy until September 1964, Richard Drake, president of the Board of Education, told an audience of 40 persons Monday night at a special meeting of the board. The original schedule called for opening the school a full year sooner.

"Even the most optimistic estimates would seem to indicate that the building cannot be ready by next fall," Drake said. "There is a possibility it might be ready at Christmas vacation time, but it might be impractical to make the transition during the school year."

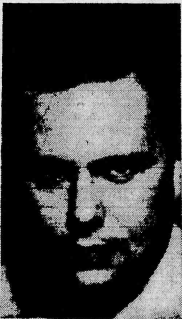

Drake said the actual construction schedule would depend on how quickly bids can be awarded for the work, how rapidly contractors operate, and various other factors.

Board Attorney Max Schwartz said four pieces of property still have to be acquired for the high school site, probably by condemnation proceedings.

"Even if everything else were ready to start in the construction operation, not a shovel can be put to the ground until title to these properties has been acquired," Schwartz said.

The board gave final approval to plans and specifications for the new school, as prepared by Alfonso Alvarez, architect, and authorized their transmittal to the State Department of Education for review and approval.

Board approval of the plans came late in the session after a half hour recess during which the board discussed the subject behind closed doors. Mrs. McCool abstained from giving the plans approval, but the other six board members voted affirmatively to send the plans on to Trenton.

Police Chief Gives Traffic Safety Warning

Police Chief Charles H. McGinnis today issued a warning to all motorists to heed the rules of the road over the Labor Day weekend and stated that the local police department will strictly enforce the Motor Vehicle laws with special emphasis on Speeding, Disregard of Stop Street Signs, Disregard of Traffic Signals, Drunken Driving, and other major violations.

"The State of New Jersey, and particularly the County of Essex," Chief McGinnis stated, "are greatly alarmed with the high increase in traffic deaths and have come to the conclusion that all of us must join together in the strict enforcement of the Motor Vehicle Code in an all-out effort to minimize the alarming increase in traffic deaths in our County during 1962."

He added, "The Belleville Police Department will strictly enforce all violations henceforth, and we will seek this enforcement immediately on the eve of the Labor Day weekend. We in Belleville have recently witnessed a tragic traffic death, and steps will be taken now to curb violations leading to such tragic situations."

"We implore all of our citizens," Chief McGinnis concluded, "to drive carefully as they leave our town for the long weekend as well as on the return back to our municipality. We intend to do our part in seeing that violations are kept at a minimum in our area over the weekend as well as in the future."

Raymond Smith Appointed Head Of High School

Raymond O. Smith, a native of Belleville and a former vice principal of Belleville High School, was appointed High School Principal by the Board of Education Monday night.

It was the second time in less than a month that the board filled the position. Dr. Ward R. Young, to whom the job was given August 7, later notified the board he would accept the superintendency of the school system of Morris Township instead.

Mr. Smith for the past three years has been principal of the Manville, N. J., High School, a grade 7 to 12 school with 1000 students. In Belleville he will receive the same salary offered Dr. Young, $13,350 annually.

The new principal is 49 and married. He has two daughters and is presently living in Round Brook.

His appointment did not receive the unqualified endorsement of the entire board as had the appointment of Dr. Young. Richard H. Drake, board president, together with Ernest Arvidson, Nicholas Juliano and George Brown voted approval for Smith, but Norma McCool, Dr. Dirigiero and Arthur M. Pico abstained when the vote was taken.

Smith was recommended for the position by Superintendent of Schools Frank M. Durkee.

The new principal is a graduate of Belleville High School, obtained his B.S. from the University of Virginia in 1936, an M.A. from New York University in 1947, and earned 45 credits beyond his M.A. from N.Y.U. in 1952. He also earned 63 credits at the University of Michigan, 1944-45, and vocational education credits at Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

Mr. Smith had teaching and administrative experience in Belleville for more than 18 years. He was teacher of social studies, grades 7 and 8, 1941-42; teacher of social studies, grades 9-12, 1947-50; department head, social

Spreading The News!

Joseph T. Fornarotto of 122 Union Avenue was so happy when his wife Jeanne gave birth to their fourth child, a girl, at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, August 19, that he wanted to spread the news rapidly. He did it by lettering this sign and placing it on the front porch of his home. It has attracted a great deal of attention from friends, neighbors and passers by. The pair and son Joseph are seen in the picture. The newborn, named Jeanne after her mother, was asleep inside at the time the photographer called. Mr. Fornarotto is an employee of the Public Works Department of the Town of Belleville.

Former Mayor Padula Will Be Deputy County Clerk

The Times-News has learned that Former Mayor Isadore Padula will be sworn in as Deputy County Clerk Tuesday, September 4, at 11:00 a.m. The appointment will be made by County Clerk Nicholas Caputo, and County Judge Ferdinand Muscucci will administer the oath to Belleville's former mayor in the Essex County Court House.

Post 105 Slates Paper Drive

Once more during the fall and winter months Belleville Post 105, American Legion, will conduct a pickup of old newspapers and magazines the first Sunday of each month starting Sunday, September 2.

Residents of Belleville are urged to clean out their old papers, bundle them up and place them at the curb for a 9:00 a.m. pickup.

Padula was first elected to the Belleville Town Commission in May, 1954, finishing high man in that contest. At the organization meeting his colleagues selected Padula as Mayor. In 1958 Padula again won reelection to the Town Commission and again his colleagues selected him to serve as Mayor.

At the expiration of his term this past May Padula was the only incumbent Commissioner to decide against seeking a seat on the new Town Council.

Former Mayor Padula lives with his wife and son Vincent at 193 Fairway Avenue.

Furious Councilmen Walk From Meeting As Probe Is Pushed

Council Sets Municipal Investigations

The Town Council Tuesday night authorized investigations of the office of Tax Assessor and of the office of Revenue and Finance.

An appropriation for expert help in conducting the investigation was eliminated after Councilmen James R. Golden and Thomas P. Greco quit the meeting in a huff. Town Attorney Thomas C. D'Avella ruled that four affirmative votes are needed to pass a resolution involving an expenditure of money.

Mayor Robert M. Laterza will appoint three Councilmen to conduct the investigations.

D'Avella was authorized to retain Aurnhammer, Jesse and Aurnhammer, consulting engineers of Summit, to provide engineering information in testimony in New Jersey Superior Court in the case of the Town of Belleville vs. Rutan Estates. He was also authorized to engage additional legal counsel to aid him in his court presentations.

The Council introduced an ordinance creating a Municipal Board of Alcoholic Beverage Control, to be composed of three members, no more than two of whom are to be of the same political party. They will serve without compensation.

The governing body of Belleville previously acted in the capacity which will now, upon final passage of the new ordinance, be given to the new board.

Two ordinances were passed on final reading. One pertained to the regulating and controlling of noise. The other related to the Board of Adjustment.

Golden, Greco Quit Session Because of Investigation

Two Belleville Councilmen, fuming with anger over a move to investigate alleged use of town property, facilities and personnel in pre-election campaigning, rose and shoved their papers in their briefcases and stalked out of the Council chambers in Town Hall Tuesday night, a full hour and a half short of the past midnight adjournment of the regular Council meeting. Several members of the audience left with them.

The Councilmen were Thomas P. Greco and James R. Golden. Greco was the first to make the move to leave, although he was not directly involved in the allegations. He merely said he was "sick of the whole thing." Golden, who tried desperately earlier in the evening to have the investigation quashed, threatening suits of criminal libel if it was not followed by Greco's suit. "I'm leaving, too," he said.

Golden made his earlier threats during a dramatic episode in which he left his Council seat and strode outside the hall that enclosed the space where the officials and press are seated. "I'm now Jim Golden, plain citizen," he said, "and I'm going to talk to you Councilmen as I used to talk to the old Commissioners."

He said he knew that a resolution was going to be introduced at the meeting to investigate him for alleged use of town property, facilities and personnel. He said that if the resolution were passed it would constitute criminal libel against him.

Golden then switched his tactics by intimating he would involve two other Councilmen with him if the resolution were introduced.

"I'll say this," he said. "Councilman Strumolo and Adornico are alleged to have used town material alleged to have come from Commissioner George Kierman's office."

This brought Deputy Mayor G. George Adornico to action. "I was prepared to vote against this investigation of you," he told Golden. "But now I am going to vote for it, and I want to amend the resolution to include the names of myself and Councilman Vincent Strumolo in the investigation."

Golden seemed taken aback at this turn. He hesitated a moment and then said he would like to make his own amendment to the resolution. He was ruled out of order by Mayor Robert M. Laterza.

"You're on the wrong side of the ball for that," the Mayor reminded him. "You're just plain Jim Golden, remember?"

Golden dropped the amendment angle. He retook his seat at the Council table, and the subject of the investigation did not come up again till later in the evening.

Spectacular Fire Destroys Nereid Boat Club

A spectacular fire that lit the night sky in Belleville shortly before 8 p.m. Tuesday reduced to ashes the 100-year-old Nereid Boat Club at 30 Main Street.

Fifty firemen with seven pieces of equipment fought the blaze for more than two hours. Five of the firefighters were treated at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital for minor cuts and burns.

The building, once a fashionable and exclusive boat club, was unoccupied and was about to be sold to the State Highway Department for Route 21.

A bright 12-year-old lad with a Savings & Loan account is the lucky winner of our Map Page contest.

He is Joseph Guadagnino of 101 Malone Avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guadagnino.

Joseph spotted the picture on the Map Page last week and recognized the person in the circle as Mrs. June Sim, an employee of De Witt Savings & Loan Association, and the place as the office of the Association.

"I have an account there, and that's how I knew who she was," Joseph told The Times-News proudly. The Cooperating Merchant last week was Abbott's Drug Store.

Joseph attends School 3 and will enter Grade 6 next week. This week, of course, a new contest is under way. Turn now to the Map Page and test your skill of identification. This week you may be the lucky winner. The new Cooperating Merchant is The Times-News itself. But be sure to follow the rules.

Identify the person circled in the picture by giving his or her full name, and also state the place where the picture was taken.

The answer must be delivered in person to the office of The Times-News, 216 Washington Avenue, or it may be sent through the mail. Telephone entries will not be accepted.

The prize will be awarded to the person who first submits a correct identification of the subject in the picture and the place where the picture was taken.

SPORTS . . .

. . . TIMES

John Macrae, president of the Scottish Games of New Jersey Association and a resident of Belleville, sends word that his group will hold its annual games at the Danish Homes, Amboy Avenue, Metuchen, on Labor Day.

Games start at 10:00 a.m. and feature highland dancing, bagpipe competition and other Scottish events. The best pipers and dancers in the United States and Canada are expected to compete. The bands will compete for the William Nimmo and Malcolm Forbes trophies. The massed bands will parade on the sports field at 4:00 p.m. and according to John, is a sight worth going miles to see.

The champion individual piper will be awarded the Jams Bremner Memorial Medal. The winner of the Pibobachreid competition will hold the Peter Dodds Memorial Trophy for one year. This trophy was presented for competition by the Benjamin Franklin School Faculty & Associates, Westfield.

The dancing competition will consist of highland fling, sword dance and Shean Truibhais. The champion highland dancer will hold the Gil Carmichael trophy for one year.

Sports events will be open to anyone wishing to compete and include 100-yard dash, high jump, broad jump, shot put, tossing the caber and six-a-side soccer. Also events for the ladies and children.

Danish Homes is well shaded, says John, with plenty of seats and tables for picnic parties.

Sounds interesting!

GOOD FISHING AHEAD

Some of the best fishing of the year will be the bait to lure anglers to the Jersey shore during September and October. Good fishing for many species, in fact, continues right through November and December.

Shore communities from Sandy Hook to Cape May are offering prizes in a variety of contests in which anglers of all ages may compete. Prize catches by novice fishermen have proven repeatedly that skill and experience are not always essential when it comes to fishing. Anyone able to hold a pole and crank a reel can get lucky.

RECREATION FOOTBALL

The call is out for the 1962 Recreation Football season! All boys from 10-13 years of age who wish to play uniformed football this year are advised that the sign-up will be at the Municipal Stadium on Tuesday, September 4, at 6:00 p.m.

Recreation Football has had seven successful years to its credit in Belleville.

All injuries are held to an absolute minimum because of the definite steps taken to protect the boys. All players are given thorough pre-season conditioning. Players are divided by age and weight and are then placed in either the lightweight or the heavyweight league on carefully balanced teams.

Fatigue is prevented by the fact that two teams play one half, then rest while two other teams play their first half. Then the first two teams complete their game followed by the second two. This half game rest for all players plus a good pre-game warm-up holds the injuries down. In addition to this the officials are charged with constantly checking the boys for any signs of undue fatigue or shaking - up, in which case they must call for a replacement.

Games are played to be won but fair play and clean sportsmanship are demanded of the Recreation Football players. These players are also expected to maintain their scholastic standing and will be dropped from the League if they let their school work slide.

Parents are advised that there is no hospital - medical insurance covering the players in the league which means that any accident occurring in the normal course of a game or practice will be the responsibility of the players' family.

Experience has shown that this carefully organized football produces many less injuries than sand - lot ball and gives our young boys a wonderful opportunity to enjoy a great game as participants.

SUBURBAN AQUATIC SOCIETY

The recently organized Suburban Aquatic Society will hold a business meeting at the Belleville Recreation House, Jerusalem Street, on Wednesday, September 5, at 8:00 p.m.

An interesting program is planned following the meeting including a film relating to exotic fish. Refreshments will be served. Guests and prospective new members invited and welcome.

Hunting Seasons Are Approaching

New Jersey hunters are reminded that the fall hunting seasons are rapidly approaching. An announcement today from the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development points out that the rail bird season opens September 1, raccoon hunting starts September 20 and the bow and arrow deer season on October 6.

William P. Coffin, Chief Conservation Officer in the Division of Fish and Game says, "Once September rolls around the license dealers get rushed. Those that sell sporting goods, as most hunters are, are doubly crowded." "These dealers have stocks of both firearms and bow and arrow licenses now. Hunters will get better service if they avoid the rush. Juvenile hunters, applying for their first license, should contact a Hunter Safety Instructor. They must pass a safety course before they can hunt."

Coffin also noted that hunters interested in taking a bonus deer under the Party Permit System will want to organize parties of four now. Applications for these permits will be accepted if they are postmarked between the dates of October 1 and October 15.

The top portion of the four hunting licenses must accompany the application. Further details about applying will be outlined as the date approaches.

Welcome, Mr. Sommers!

September 1 the day-to-day operation of our community will be placed in the experienced hands of Belleville's new Town Manager, William A. Sommers, who has held a similar post in Franklin Township, Somerset County, N.J.

Mr. Sommers comes to Belleville with unusual credentials. He has been very successful as Town Manager of Franklin Township for the past three years. 35 years of age, Sommers is a native of Duluth, Minn. A graduate of Middlebury College, Vermont, Mr. Sommers majored in political science and public administration. He received his master's degree in public administration from Harvard University.

His experience includes; research associate for the Colorado Municipal League, personnel director and administrative assistant to the city manager of Peoria, Ill. where he served for three years. Before assuming the assignment at Franklin Township in 1959 Sommers was named Town Manager of Bensalem Township, Pa. in 1957 when that community changed its form of government to the Council-Manager type.

Sommers is a professional administrator with no political strings. This is good for Belleville.

Among his first order of business will be the requests by our Public Safety heads for additional manpower. The police department wants 8 more men. The fire department wants 22 more men. God only knows what the other departments want.

We welcome Mr. Sommers to our community and we assure him that if he performs as well for Belleville as he has for the people of Franklin Township he will enjoy the unanimous support of the responsible citizens and public officials of our community.

Welcome to Belleville, Mr. Sommers!

Three Town Hall Investigations

A majority of Town Council Tuesday night authorized three independent investigations. They cover the Revenue and Finance Department, the Office of Tax Assessor, and the charge by former Commissioner Kenneth Smith that Councilman James R. Golden used town facilities, material and personnel to prepare some of his campaign literature.

If the departmental investigations have achieved their objectives an evaluation of past municipal practices in terms of recommendations to effect future changes they will serve a most useful purpose.

The course of the investigations will be determined by the makeup of the investigating committees to be appointed by Mayor Laterza from the membership of the Council.

The investigation of the Smith charge against Golden should be carried out with dispatch. The investigation should be neither a witch hunt nor a white wash.

For eight years Councilman James Golden appeared at the Town Commission meetings, night after night, inveighing against Town Commissioners for what he termed "needless expenditures." Smith now charges Golden with using town-owned facilities, materials and personnel for printing of some of his campaign literature for the June 12 election.

The charge is serious — especially as it applies to a Councilman who formerly relished the role of town critic.

Councilman Golden has made vigorous efforts to stop the investigation. Tuesday night he even threatened Council members with malicious libel. Golden has also made this threat against The Times-News. Former Commissioner Kenneth Smith also has been threatened with a libel suit by Golden.

Why Golden, who professes innocence, attempts to prevent a probe that can gain vindication for him is beyond our comprehension.

With his unusual zeal for probes — displayed during his eight years as a Town Critic — it would appear that Jim Golden would be the first in line to welcome a probe of the charge made against him that he used town-owned facilities, material and personnel to print some of his campaign literature.

At Tuesday's Council meeting Golden made a veiled inference that Deputy Mayor G. George Addonizio and Councilman Vincent T. Strumolo used town-owned facilities for their campaign literature.

Registering indignation and anger Deputy Mayor Addonizio insisted a resolution be adopted authorizing an investigation of the Golden accusation. The Addonizio amendment was adopted with Strumolo providing the second.

It is obvious that Addonizio and Strumolo have nothing to fear from an investigation of the Golden charge. Their example should have been adopted by our former reformer, Councilman James R. Golden.

At long last — and over the objections of Councilman James R. Golden — the people will finally get the answer to the question — did candidate James R. Golden use town-owned facilities paid for out of taxpayers' funds for his political campaign?

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital

This month Clara Maass Hospital, "Hospital in the Park" marks the fifth anniversary of her location in our community. 92 years young, in her own silent way her contribution during the past five years to the health and welfare of our citizens has been unmatched by any other institution.

Some of our citizens wouldn't be alive today if it weren't for Clara Maass. It is a grateful community which pauses today in its march forward to give thanks to Clara Maass for its humanitarian contribution to our citizens.

Behind every good institution there will always be found a group of good, dedicated men.

The man who leads this dedicated group is John Kidde, President of Clara Maass Hospital.

Without the contributions of the Kidde family we would have no Clara Maass hospital in Belleville today.

A community salute to the Kidde family for its unselfish contribution to the betterment of their fellow man.

Bread Is Bread, But?

The President has urged that drugs be given simple, common names in order to avoid confusion and to enable the purchaser to buy the quality drugs he actually needs at the lowest competitive price. It could be inferred, from this statement, that no efforts are being made at present to give drugs simple, common names in addition to their brand names and that, if this were done, prices would drop. But that inference would not be correct.

The common names of drugs are decided by a system in which national and international agencies of the highest repute participate. Names chosen are as simple as possible, but they must adhere to basic principles of scientific nomenclature. Otherwise, they would be meaningless to doctors and scientists.

Moreover, the use of common names has little if any influence on the drug prices. The Rhode Island Division of Public Assistance established this fact when it examined 10,000 prescriptions for welfare recipients. It found that the use of common names would have resulted in a cost saving of less than five per cent.

In sum, quality and cost of drugs involve much more than a simple, common name. Bread is bread, but some brands of bread are more palatable to some consumers than others.

A POEM

Do you ever sit and meditate about the years done spent?
About the things you've saw and did and places you have went?
Do you e'er recall to memory the things you've plumb ferret,
Like songs you Mammy sang to you when you was just a tot?
And think about the times you went a-fishin' in the brook,
And how it felt to slip a little earthworm on your hook?
And how the sandwich tasted that you'd took along to eat,
And how the grass felt cool and soft beneath your shoeless feet?
Do you ever git to thinkin' 'bout the nights when you was scared
Because of spooky shadows and the noises that you heard?
And how you couldn't bare it, so you yelled out for your Ma,
And 'woke the whole durn family and scared heck out your Pa?
And how the breeze in summer kissed your cheeks and made them cool,
And how it felt when you went swimmin' naked, in the pool?
So many things return to mind about the years done spent,
And if compared with nowadays, you wouldn't give a cent
For all this modern livin', but go back to all you'd did
When simple things was so much fun, and you was just a kid.

UP SPEAK

URGES THAT SAFETY RULES BE APPLIED TO THE EDITOR, The Times-News: Did you ever hear of "Bonehead" Merkle?

He was a great baseball player many years ago — but in his first full game in the majors, he forgot to touch second base. Forgetting this rule of baseball not only cost his team the game, but also the National League pennant. They called him "Bonehead" for the rest of his career.

Rules mean a lot in life. Several years ago, a famous golfer was leading the field in the final round of a national tournament. But . . . something happened. He was penalized for violating a rule of golf by picking up his ball. Because of this he lost the tournament and the winner's money.

Wherever you go, whatever you do, there are rules to be followed. For example: In church you learn rules for right living — rules designed to help you live a fuller, happier life.

How far would you get on your Sunday drive with the family if you ignored traffic rules on the highway? Probably no farther than the nearest hospital.

Safety rules on the job are no different. Like the rules of safe driving, they protect you and those around you. They are the result of past experience, common sense and "know - how" — all combined to safeguard you and your fellow employees from injury.

Knowing safety rules is not enough. They must be applied . . . the same as in golf, or baseball, or while driving an automobile. You must use your "Know-how" and help see that those around you do the same.

When you do this on the job every day, in every way . . . You Can't Lose!

CALLS CURVE DANGEROUS

To the Editor, The Times-News: Whenever a dangerous situation exists the normal routine is to take remedial action, within reason, to do away with the danger in its entirety, or if this cannot be done because of various reasons, then every practical effort is taken to minimize the danger with whatever means are available.

I refer to the curve on Joralemon Street directly opposite Passaic Ave. and adjacent to Number 7 School. It is becoming more apparent each day, and particularly so when there is rain, that this is one of the most dangerous street areas in Belleville.

There is an unsuspected slipperiness here that is not taken into account by drivers when approaching and rounding this corner. This is primarily due to the worn slick surface of the concrete, oils and a very deceptive and unusual reverse banked curve.

Excusing the personal reference, I have seen numerous cars slide, slip, twist and turn in every direction on this corner every time a drop of rain falls. Cars go up and over the sidewalk, upon the school lawn and even go out of control as much as three houses up the street from the center of the curve. It is only by the grace of God, or unadmitted luck, someone has not been killed or injured while walking on the sidewalks, let alone what could happen on the street itself.

I see stanchions are affixed on the curbs at this corner and obviously it is intended at a later date to place signal lights here. This will be a much needed improvement and a necessary safety measure. But I wonder if this will increase the accident potential as drivers hurry to beat the light.

To say the least, this is a very dangerous corner, wet or dry, and something must be done to the road surface to give more traction for cars manipulating this curve.

So far we have reported on the "new 1963 model TV sets from RCA and Zenith. Today we write about Magnavox.

All Magnavox sets except the lowest priced portable, now have the "Magnalux Videomatic" feature. This for the first time makes a one knob control TV set possible. All one has to do is pull the on-off switch and change from station to station. The fine tuner is set once for every station and does not have to be touched again for months. There is a light sensitive device which automatically maintains the same level of brightness and contrast, even as the light in the room changes, also the volume is maintained at the same level. Knowing how difficult it is for a great many people to properly adjust a TV set, we consider the videomatic feature a real advantage.

Magnavox always had a large selection of 24" and now for 3 years again 27" TV sets. Most other manufacturers only make 19" portables and 23" sets. The Gold Seal feature, which means one year parts warranty and one year service, is unique in the whole industry. All 24" and 27" picture tubes are now guaranteed by Magnavox for 3 years, the last 2 years on a prorated basis.

Another exclusive feature of Magnavox Gold Seal sets is the "chromatic lens" which eliminates glare and gives excellent definition. This company does not change old models routinely every year. Changes are made only if there are real technical advancements. The economies of longer production runs are passed on to the customer.

The factory deals directly with the dealer, eliminating the middleman and his profit. Thus you get more for your money. As usual, there is a large variety of styles and finishes. Performance is excellent, as one would expect from a quality product of this kind.

School Costs Estimated At 18 Billions

Cost of furnishing the children of the nation with a public school education — from kindergarten through high school — was placed at $18.1 billion dollars for the past year by the National Education Association's annual study.

The figure is the highest to date, but so was the total enrollment which was estimated at 38,000,000 youngsters.

Both costs and enrollments may be expected to increase as hordes of beginners move into the school system, and also as dropouts in the high school area are reduced.

Big bulge in enrollment is in the high schools where the cost of education is more expensive, it is pointed out by Dr. Sam M. Lambert, director of NEA's research division.

With an average of 34,500,000 pupils in class daily during the past year, current operating costs involved in furnishing a pupil with a year's schooling averaged out at $414.

Motoring Even A Short Distance Was A Great Adventure Fifty Years Ago

Changing a tire on the highway was a commonplace frustration in automobiling in the 1910's when this photo was taken. Repairs were frequent and tedious. Road service was unknown and garages were usually miles apart. Every motorist carried a complete kit of tools and all needed repair materials.

This auto was on a "Pathfinder" trip for the American Automobile Association back in the days when directional signs were practically non-existent. A typical highway was a muddy road with ankle-deep ruts. The late Theodore Maxfield, who was well known in Belleville, pioneered the tours to mark roads.

Beautiful Bucolic Belleville

Early Days Of The Auto In And Around Belleville

By FREDERICK J. PIXLEE

And now we will come to that phase of transportation that revolutionized the entire system—the private automobile. The result of the addition of this vehicle to the travel scene was a decided decline in public transportation, particularly railroads. The first autos that I recall were weird-looking contraptions, to say the least. One of the fairly well-to-do families in Belleville had a big high Pierce Arrow touring car. They lived in one of the big houses on Rossmore Place. This was about 1909. In the winter they used to put it up on blocks.

Most of the small boys at that time used derisive expressions when they saw a motorist. The cars were called "gas buggies," "flivvers," "buzzwagons" and worse. "Get Out and Get Under" was a popular song of the day and cries of "Get a horse," were given to motorists in trouble—and they were in trouble frequently.

SPECIAL GARB

The motorists had a garb all their own. Both men and women wore linen dusters and goggles. The men wore caps and the women a hat with a sort of veil to hold it down on their head. Today's children would think they were creatures from outer space.

Motorcycles were also quite popular in 1909, and the garments worn for riding this vehicle were the same. I particularly remember Mr. and Mrs. Foster of Paterson coming down from there frequently to see Mr. and Mrs. James Kenworthy. They had a two-seater and Mr. Foster would have to pedal it for quite a ways just like a bicycle in order to get it started.

My best recollection of early motoring in the vicinity of Belleville was with Eugene Gavey, a kindly neighbor whom I have mentioned before. While still a young man he suffered a bad fall which crippled him so that it was next to impossible for him to walk any distance. In order to get to work he purchased one of Henry Ford's early vehicles about 1911.

RATTLING GOOD CARS

One of the timeworn jokes about the Fords were that they performed a great moral service by shaking the Devil out of hundreds of people every week. The roads helped that along too, being badly rutted with little or no paving. Cobblestones and Belgian block paving did little to improve matters. The combined forces of these two can be well illustrated in the following story.

One morning my mother sent me to the bakery at the corner of Washington Avenue and Jerusalem Street to pick up a lemon meringue pie. I was waiting to cross Washington Avenue with the pie when Mr. Gavey came along in his car and asked me if I wanted to ride up to Passaic with him. Forgetting everything else in my joy, I put the your eyes.

Another young lady I knew got her first license as soon as she was 17. She also bought one of Henry Ford's cars, the popular open touring. One day she asked me to ride with her mother and herself out Jerusalem Street to Glendale Cemetery.

WENT LIKE 'THE DICKENS'

As all Fords did then, it went about as far as De Witt Avenue in high gear and then crawled the rest of the way up to the Reservoir in low gear. Then down the hill past Garden Avenue, going, as the mother expressed it later, like the very dickens. The mother hung on as best she could hollering her daughter's name as we went over every bump.

We took the curve at Passaic Avenue at what seemed to be terrific speed and the daughter asked me how I was making out. I told her that I had left the first verse of the Lord's Prayer somewhere between Garden and Passaic Avenues. The early Fords had no speedometers and it was rather hard to judge how fast we really did go—but I don't suppose it exceeded 35 miles per hour. The rutted condition of the roads at the time caused most of the terrific shaking up we got.

What happened to Mr. J. and his many attractions? He accepted a commission in the Armed Forces and I never saw my little friend again. The daughter mentioned is still living down in Monmouth County where she is happily married.

In conclusion I will mention some of the early mechanics in Belleville. The pioneer of all of them is William Douglas, who entered this field as early as 1910 and later went into the broader field of aviation. He still resides in Red Bank.

Elmer S. Current, who had a Stanley Steamer about 1920, kept a store on Washington Avenue for many years specializing in automobile parts. His daughter, now Mrs. William Hirdes, still lives in the family home on De Witt Avenue.

"Red" Grange, also kept a shop on Valley Street. He was considered one of the best mechanics in Belleville. Today, of course, the auto is commonplace, but 45 to 50 years ago it was a very special occasion to ride in one, since there were so few of them.

CARD OF THANKS

SERRITELLA — Clementine (Dearly) Deeming it impossible to thank everyone personally, we wish to take this opportunity of expressing our sincere thanks for their many kind expressions of sympathy to our relatives, friends and neighbors for the Mass funeral services and the floral tributes received on the occasion of the death, August 4, 1962, of Dean Serritella. Especially we thank our thanks to Reverend Philip P. Mengus, Pastor and Reverend Joseph Affonso and Reverend Edward Scandone, Assistants of St. Anthony's Church, and we are deeply grateful to the Zarro Funeral Home and the staff for the efficient service rendered. Also to the Ladies' Aid, Regional Chairman of Deborah Hospital and all the members of the Belleville Chapter of Deborah. We also want to thank the nurses on the third floor of the Clara Mass Hospital for their kindness extended to Mrs. Serritella during her three weeks confinement in the hospital.
