Rev. Fred L. Long To Act As Leader Of Fund Committee

The Rev. Frederick L. Long, rector of Christ Episcopal Church said this week he would be proud to head the committee in charge of the Educational Defense Fund for the eighth present and former members of the Board of Education who were indicted last week by an Essex County Grand Jury on various charges, including the withholding of a letter and a report from the public. The fund was established by The Times-News immediately after the Grand Jury's action became known.

This newspaper has already received contributions toward the defense of the board members, and has also had many communications commending it for its stand.

Rev. Long is asking Belleville citizens who feel as he does to come forward and serve on the committee he heads. He may be contacted personally or through The Times-News.

In taking over the chairmanship of the committee, Rev. Long issued the following statement:

"I consider this action against these fine citizens of Belleville to be one of the most reprehensible things that has ever happened to decent people. I have never objected to honest differences of opinion. In fact, I will defend any person's right to hold differing views on the same subject. But this particular indictment has transcended the bounds of all bearable behavior. I am sure that if the Grand Jury had been in possession of all the facts that they would not even have considered taking the action they did."

"When people of integrity try to serve their community, they should be encouraged and likewise protected from such vicious and unfounded attacks as this."

"I am proud to be asked to assume the leadership of a committee such as this and will do my best to help these people in their time of need, and try to show them that the decent people of Belleville appreciate their efforts and support them completely."

Rev. Long is a graduate of Upsala College, East Orange, and holds a Master of Divinity from the Episcopal Divinity School in Madison. He has done graduate work at Columbia University. He is executive producer for radio and television of the Episcopal Diocese of Newark.

Belleville Ready For Tussle With Irvington On Saturday

By AL MCCLURE

The Belleville High School football squad, fresh from a resounding 48-20 victory over West Side High School, is ready to take on a tough Irvington squad this Saturday. Last Saturday's victory over West Side gave the Bellboys an overall season record of 2-1.

Irvington, however, presents a much greater threat than West Side, since it is a much bigger team, averaging about 210 lbs. per man from tackle to tackle.

The superior size of the Irvington squad should put the running attack of Coach Tom Festa's griders to a real test. The Bellboys are a comparatively light team and are used to giving a weight advantage to their opponents. West Side's interior wall was considerably heavier than Belleville's but the Rough Riders were still unable to contain the Bellboy's swift backs.

Offensively, Belleville has proven it can score big, as it did last week. Halfback Rich Luzzi and Quarterback Joe Latoro are the keys to the Belleville offense. Luzzi scored 18 points last week on two touchdowns and six conversions, while Latoro ran the Bellboy's attack until the final outcome had been decided. In Luzzi & Latoro along with backs Tom Greco and John Senesky, Belleville has one of the county's most potent running attacks. It was this ground game that destroyed West Side and will give Irvington headaches before the sun sets on Saturday.

The Bellboys threw only two passes last Saturday but nevertheless have a potent air attack. One of the two passes against West Side resulted in a touchdown. Normally, however, the Belleville griders will stick to their ground game and use their backs to full advantage, but if Irvington should hold them on the ground they may take to the air and unleash what has proven to be an effective passing Rabbi Cohen instructed the Director of Welfare to prepare and send to the Bureau of Assistance, Department of Institutions and Agencies, Trenton, the Status Report and Request for State Aid for Public Assistance for 1962 in order that Belleville may continue to receive State aid. When approval is given from the State, Belleville will qualify for reimbursement at the rate of 40 per cent for all approved relief commitments.

The member of the Local Assistance Board are: Rabbi Victor Cohen, 29 Lloyd Place; Mrs. Barbara H. Gagnon, 26 Mertz Avenue; Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph M. Kelly, P.A., 155 William St.; Rev. Henderson E. Goldston, 32 Academy Street; and Mrs. John Connolly, 30 Marion Court.

Welfare Council To Scan Town's Available Services

Alan H. Bernstein, president of the Belleville Community Welfare Council has announced the decision of that group to conduct a comprehensive survey of that town's available health and welfare services. The Council, which was organized shortly after Belleville's inclusion in the United Appeals' campaign in Newark, Irvington and West Hudson, has been in operation for three months.

"We feel reasonably certain that there are many human services which our town needs but does not presently have," Bernstein said. "In addition, there are probably areas of common concern where several agencies, working closely together, might do a more complete job. The purpose of our survey will be to determine, qualitatively and quantitatively, the kinds of services available to Belleville residents as well as those needs which are currently going unmet."

Bernstein said that the experience of other communities was a major factor in the decision of the Belleville Community Welfare Council to conduct a survey. Newark, Irvington and West Hudson, completed a survey of services in that area in 1960.

The Newark Council of Social Agencies, of which the Belleville Council is a part, has offered its resources and facilities to implement the study.

The group's Program Committee is now considering the immediate steps which must be taken to launch the undertaking, according to Bernstein. The former Belleville United Fund supported 12 voluntary health and welfare services, although help is now available to Belleville residents from all 13 agencies, included in the United Appeals drive in Newark, Belleville, Irvington and West Hudson.

Bernstein emphasized that the Council is not a "protest group" but rather one which seeks to cooperate with all groups for the improvement of the community. It is interracial, non-sectarian and bi-partisan.

TAX COUNCIL PROTEST TOO MUCH

To the Editor, The Times-News: One of the most fascinating developments in the tragic school situation is the frantic and even pathetic efforts of the Citizens Tax Council to get out from under responsibility for allegedly precipitating the events leading to the indictment of the school board members, past and present.

Like Shakespeare, "He thinks they do protest too much." Harry T. French 263 Little St.

Former Resident Creates A Unique Lucite Rocket

A research engineer at Lockheed Technology Corporation plant 40 miles south of San Francisco has caused quite a stir in rocketry circles. The engineer is former Belleville resident Alan Holzman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Holzman of 17 Van Heyper Place.

The following report was made by William Hines, a science writer.

Mr. Holzman is a graduate of Belleville High School and Newark College of Engineering. He received his Masters at the University of Delaware. Mr. and Mrs. Holzman, who is also a graduate engineer from N. C. E., are the parents of one daughter, Leslie, age two and a half.

In a day of multi-million-dollar rockets, elaborate launching pads, endless delays, far-out safety rules and maybe - so reliability, it is a pleasure to watch Allen Holzman's rocket engine work.

He claims the gadget is the world's most reliable - and its only transparent - solid fuel rocket. It generates thrust by burning lucite in the presence of oxygen. Lucite is the glass-like stuff of which airplane windows and decorative transparent rods are made.

At the drop of a hat, Mr. Holzman will fire his rocket for you and happily take your bet on whether it will work next time. In literally thousands of firings, he hasn't had to pay off yet. Sometimes he can win faster than the dealer at Las Vegas simply by starting and stopping his little rocket up to 100 times a minute.

Has Practical Applications

Like so many engineers' brainstorms, Mr. Holzman's "Minnie Mouse" started as a research tool and later was found to have some practical applications that have the dollar signs dancing in his bosses' eyes. They believe Minnie is just the thing for precise trimming of a spacecraft's attitude in orbit or on the way to the moon.

The little rocket - its fuel charge about 6 inches long and an inch in diameter - was devised to help scientists learn about the burning characteristics of rocket motors. The scientists needed a transparent material that would burn along a central hole just as a regular solid rocket fuel does. All solid rockets are opaque.

Mr. Holzman lit on lucite as a promising material. He fed oxygen under pressure into the central hole, ignited the lucite in the oxygen's presence by creating a tiny electrical spark and let her go.

Has Great Thrust

The engineer discovered that, so long as oxygen was being provided, the little lucite rocket blazed away merrily, creating thrust many times its 4-ounce weight. To a rocket designer, this thrust - over-weight advantage means a flyable rocket.

Not only would the lucite burn fiercely with oxygen, Mr. Holzman found, but it would snuff out instantly as soon as the oxygen was cut off. By rigging a device that would create a spark automatically every time oxygen was fed to the lucite, Mr. Holzman had a "pulse" rocket; in other words, he could turn it on and off as fast as he wished - or as fast as he could push a button.

Kiwanis Club Wins 3 Awards At Convention

The New Jersey District of Kiwanis International held its 45th Annual Convention in Atlantic City with a total registration of almost 1400 Kiwanians and their ladies. This was one of the largest and most successful N. J. District Conventions ever held. Of the 160 Kiwanis Clubs in the District, 137 clubs were formally registered and in attendance.

Very much in evidence was the Belleville Club. It won first prize for most members present and also first prize for having more wives accompanying their husbands than any other club.

A special award - the Golden Key Emblem - was presented to the Belleville Club in recognition of its effort in increasing membership within the last six months. In addition to conducting annual district business, new officers were selected for 1963.

New Jersey District Governor-elect is Francis A. Rochford of the Morris Plains Club.

Belleville Club President John Zepka reported he was especially impressed with the JD program. The District is urging its clubs to start. In this instance JD stands for Juvenile Delinquency and its aim is to give credit and recognition to the many good things the youths of our town accomplish each day. This is in direct contrast to the publicity one little juvenile wrong always attracts. This will be one of Belleville's projects for next year.

Next year's New Jersey District Convention will be held at the new Robert Treat Hotel in Newark, October 4, 5 and 6.

Council Manager Plan Is Popular Form Of Government

Charter revision committees in two major California cities - San Diego (573,000) and Oakland (368,000) - have recommended retention of the council-manager form of government. Both cities have had this plan for 30 or more years.

Fifty-six of the 131 cities of more than 100,000 population in the United States have council-manager government. Only 15 cities have the commission plan and 60 the mayor-council plan. Four of the 56 council-manager cities have populations over one-half million - Cincinnati, Ohio; Dallas and San Antonio, Texas; and San Diego, California.

Sixty United States cities and towns have adopted the council-manager plan since last January 1, and a total of 1,874 local governments now have this plan.

Baretski Lashes Out At JFK's Political Stump

Charles Allan Baretski, Republican candidate for Congress in the 10th district, lashed out this week at President Kennedy for being more concerned with political power and personal prestige than with national honor and a strong stand against Communist aggression throughout the world.

"While the crisis deepens in Berlin and we retreat again, as our troops leave Laos tricked again, as Castro arms and threatens our hemisphere unopposed, and as sparks fly in the Middle East, the President is on a political stump to further increase his already overwhelmingly Democratic majorities in the House and Senate," he said.

"This one-man echo chamber," the candidate continued, "seems determined to wreck the two-party system in this nation - one already in danger from Democrat domination of the three branches of the Federal government."

"While this man spins around the country casting half truths and innuendoes about the record of the current congress and the line-up that helped to pass some legislation and defeat some of it, our economy continues to flounder and our prestige as a nation decline."

"The record of this Congress is open. Democrats voted against many administration bills and Republicans voted for many administration bills. Republican support for many bills was the key to their passage and Democrat opposition to others, the seal of their defeat. It seems to me that congress has been remarkably non-partisan in their approach to a great deal of the President's program. Why then, is the President turning this record into a distortion of fact worthy of only the lowest gutter politics?"

Citizens' Highest Claims

Rev. Frederick L. Long, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, this week accepted the chairmanship of The Belleville Times-News Education Defense Fund. It was with an enthusiastic fervor that Rev. Long responded to our invitation to serve his community in this very special and sensitive assignment.

Rev. Long's well known sense of justice impelled him to seize this opportunity to continue in the service of his fellow man. People of less courage and no convictions might have sidestepped this assignment with a plea that controversial issues and personalities were involved. Not so Rev. Long. His immediate response was a firm "yes."

We are witnessing the hour of Belleville's greatest need.

Last week eight Belleville citizens were indicted by an Essex County Grand Jury. What did the indictment state? Were the accused eight involved in misappropriating public funds? Were they accused of using school property for personal use? Were they accused of using school personnel for personal gain?

The answer to all these questions is NO!

The indictments involve two basic charges—

A. An alleged suppression of a technical report on the results of borings conducted on the proposed site of the new high school.

B. An alleged failure of school board members to diligently perform their duties, which if performed allegedly would have brought to light the alleged sub-service conditions of the new high school site.

In addition to the foregoing, Mrs. Violet Rochau, former School Board president, was accused of suppressing a letter she received from an official of the American Institute of Architects, New Jersey Chapter. This notwithstanding the fact that the contents of the letter were published in The Belleville Times-News.

Our school board members serve without pay. To defend themselves against the allegations requires the engagement of competent attorneys. The indictments are not a finding of guilt. Only a trial jury can make such a determination.

Belleville is a tortured city. In the hearts of some hate has replaced love.

In their unscrupulous efforts to gain or hold public office in Belleville others grope blindly in the dark, stumbling and stepping over the warm, live bodies of good citizens exposed to their character assassination attempts.

Belleville has a slumbering conscience—but once awakened unleashes a power that destroys every ugly thing in sight.

During the past few days we have seen evidence of Belleville's conscience on the move—no longer is it slumbering. An aroused citizenry is on the march. Woe to the demagogic politicians who may try to make political capital out of the misfortunes of others.

School Board members—unselfishly serve the interests of our school children and make plans to serve future generations still unborn. This they do in the name of civic duty.

The Times-News would have no patience with any public official or employee who took graft, or who misappropriated public funds, or who used town facilities or employees for personal gain. However, again we wish to repeat this is not the problem which confronts our eight indicted citizens. As we see it, the central question involved in the basic indictments is the use of judgment by the individual board members. This charge represents inadequate grounds for us to turn our backs upon citizens who have unselfishly served our community at great family sacrifice. Our sense of fair play demands we come to their defense.

We are gratified with the tremendous citizen response to last week's announcement of the creation of a Times - News Education Defense Fund.

We wish to publicly thank Rev. Long for accepting the assignment to head up a committee of citizens to coordinate the activities of the defense fund. In accepting the post Rev. Long responds to a citizen's highest calling—aiding a neighbor in distress. In this instance Rev. Long not only serves the eight accused—but of equal importance he is serving the best interests of our school children and our community.

Anyone wishing to volunteer their services for work on the committee may do so by calling Rev. Frederick Long at Plymouth 1-1930 or leave word with The Times-News by phoning PL 9-3200.

Anyone desiring to make contributions to the fund may do so by drawing their checks payable to The Times-News Education Defense Fund and mailing or delivering them to The Belleville Times-News, 246 Washington Avenue.

A Politician Reacts

Since last Friday Salvatore Calabro, defeated council candidate at the municipal elections held last May, has been making great efforts to disclaim any responsibility for the Prosecutor's action which led to the indictment of eight Belleville citizens.

Mr. Calabro says that "a formal vote was not taken by the Citizens Tax Council and I am not personally responsible for the prosecutor's action." Calabro further states "there is a difference between seeking administration chastisement and criminal punishment."

That Mr. Calabro is anxious to disassociate himself from the indictments is understandable. Since his defeat last May his friends have been priming Calabro for the next Ward Council election and the eight indicted citizens have a great number of friends in the First Ward, a possible Calabro target in the 1964 municipal election.

But what are the facts concerning the background for the charges investigated by the Prosecutor? Calabro claims July 1961 was the last date he had anything to do with the charges. Calabro's explanation does not jibe with the facts. Calabro called most of the shots in the events leading up to the Prosecutor's investigation. He gave testimony to the Prosecutor. He testified before the Grand Jury. It was Calabro who was constantly advising Mrs. Norma McCool, as to what she should do and say in the pre-Grand Jury days.

Calabro infers that he was seeking administrative chastisement and not criminal punishment. This is strange talk from a man who a short three weeks ago visited the Prosecutor's office demanding an investigation of the Town Council alleging irregularities in the language of the Town's Administrative Code. And only last Tuesday night in a voice so loud that one could hear him a block away, at the Town Council meeting Calabro threatened the Council with another visit to the Prosecutor. In Calabro's own words, addressing the Town Council Tuesday night he said, "Gentlemen, I shall make this matter amendment A in my charges with the Prosecutor." This from a man who claims his primary interest in preferring charges against school board members was "administrative chastisement."

We think Mr. Calabro is mixed up with his values. If a public official committed a criminal act he should be so charged. Citizens have an obligation to transmit knowledge of wrongdoing to the proper authorities whether or not they were seeking "administrative chastisement or criminal punishment." The distinction between the two is made by the Grand Jury and not by Mr. Calabro. An "administrative chastisement" can be handed down by a Grand Jury in the form of a presentment without waiting for advice from Calabro.

Because of the facts Calabro's painful efforts to divorce himself from the events leading up to the Prosecutor's action will not succeed.

Now what about Mrs. Norma McCool, the Citizens Tax Council member who sits on the present school board? An out-of-town daily paper has published stories fingering Mrs. McCool as the person who triggered the events leading to the indictment. And so, Mrs. McCool is made the scapegoat. It must be remembered that Mrs. McCool is presently a member of the Board of Education which will be required to approve plans and expenditures for the new high school. For this reason Mrs. McCool has a peculiar exposure uncommon to others.

The problems which led Mrs. McCool to the Prosecutor's office related to the construction of the new school in her role as a school board member. Knowing some of the facts we see no impropriety attending her visit to the Prosecutor. In the circumstance Mrs. McCool had no other choice.

The quarrel, if any, is not with Mrs. McCool but with the findings of a Grand Jury.

Meeting Of Elementary School Heads

George Baird of West Orange, president of the Essex County Elementary Principals Association, announced that the first professional improvement conference for county principals and administrators will be held at the Hartshorn School on Tuesday, October 23, at 9 a.m.

Due to the existing trends in mathematics in the secondary and elementary schools, the professional improvement committee, headed by Earl Nissen of Caldwell - West Caldwell, has selected as the theme, "Mathematics in the Elementary Schools."

A panel of three speakers will be involved. Dr. Ernest Duncan, Professor of Education at the Graduate School of Education at Rutgers University will make the initial presentation which will include an overview of modern math, latest trends, relative direction in which the schools should be heading and teacher training. Dr. Duncan has recently spent one and half years in New Zealand setting up a new math program.

Louis Dughi of Essex Fells will describe a two year in-service course in mathematics for classroom teachers that is being conducted in Essex Fells.

Recently developed math materials will also be displayed. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of: Earl Nissen, Chairman; Jerome King of Newark and Miss Ella Cruise of Glen Ridge.

"Get Acquainted With Your Gun" Program To Begin Oct. 19

The Recreation Department this year will sponsor a "Get Acquainted With Your Gun" program. With hunting season coming fast, it is felt that many youths who may be hunting for the first time this year might profit by some practice and training with their guns.

Any young man who is a resident of Belleville is welcome to attend. Starting Friday, October 19 the group will meet at the Municipal Stadium at 7 p.m. Guns are restricted to shotguns and 22 calibre rifles. Everyone who brings a gun to the stadium is expected to exercise extreme caution. Rifle bolts should be removed and shotguns broken.

Any shooters under 21 years of age must be accompanied by a parent.

Matthew J. Callahan will direct the program, giving any advice or guidance needed. Mr. Callahan is an N.R.A. instructor and is also director of the Recreation Jr. Rifle Club.

This is not the Hunter's Safety Course required for a license. It is just a chance for new hunters to get the feel of their guns prior to the hunting season.

Judging by the number of questions still asked about the matter, there still seems to be a lot of confusion about the need for a TV antenna. Every TV set needs some sort of an antenna. If you live close to a transmitter or some distance away in a very high spot, you may get good reception on the built in antenna. The disadvantage of this type of antenna is, that it is a fixed position tag and of course it can't be rotated in any direction. Then there are rabbit ears antennas with built in switches, which work again somewhat better than the plain type without a switch.

A considerable improvement in reception is available by the use of an antenna installed in the attic, provided the attic is not insulated by the aluminum foil type of insulation.

And then there is the outside antenna. As far as signal strength is concerned and elimination of interference by household motors and appliances, this is the best. In this vicinity we get along in most cases quite well with an ordinary type of outside antenna, since we have good signal strength. There are locations like Bloomfield Ave. in Nutley or along the river in Belleville where there is a ridge in front and one in back, which require a special ghost eliminating type of antenna. This is quite an elaborate gadget. You may have seen them in difficult reception areas as described above. There are some other difficult spots in this vicinity which may require this type of antenna. The only way to find out is to try the different types.

Few Frills In Education For Children 50 Years Ago

By FREDERICK J. PIXLEE

A recent issue was devoted to the paths that led to School 3. This one will contain some memories of the school as it was about 50 years ago.

How many people remember the ancient custodian Patrick J. Finn? When I first went there in the fall of 1909 he was old then. I do not know how he could perform all the duties that he did but a short time later one Mr.

SCHOOL BULLIES

Who remembers the "Black Hole of Calcutta"? It was a dark place under the stairs in the Boys Court. For an initiation the school bullies used to throw the little boys in there.

Howls of rage and hurt were heard and the little ones tried in vain to come out only to be thrown back again and again. Then some of the monitors like Ted Cyphers or Bob Slater came along and the bullies stopped after they received a few well deserved kicks and punches. Children were cruel in those days like they are today, especially to ones younger and weaker than themselves.

I will not mention the names of any of the so-called "bullies" because if I cannot say anything good about any other person, I will not mention their name.

I am not writing a chronicle of saints with harps of gold either, nor is it necessarily an anecdote of sinners. If anyone showed any good qualities of character, I shall certainly mention them. They were real boys and girls and have proven their worth today in being outstanding citizens of our community.

The school was already old and the rooms and desks dark, battered and dingy. There was very little of the decoration that we could see in our classrooms today, although some of the teachers made an effort to display the work of their pupils.

BELL TOWER

The one interesting feature of the school was its bell. High in the tower that once faced Joram Street its claxon tones could be heard all over the western section of the town. This tower has been demolished and the bell now belongs to a small church on Summer Avenue in Newark.

The "first bell" rang at 8 a.m. This was followed by the "second bell" at 8:40 and by the ominous "last bell" at 8:58. There was one strange phenomenon of sound that I never could quite understand. If you were standing next to the school on the East side, the bell could not be heard. Only the running of the others denoted the fact that the "last bell" was ringing.

At 9 the doors were closed and the lines proceeded from both the Boys and Girls Courts to the respective classrooms. Single file and in step we marched and made faces at the unfortunate ones looking in the closed doors. They were the ones who were late.

The tardy ones were in for a royal reception. The first offenders were in for a lecture by Miss Lydia M. Smith, the vice principal. One did not want to lose face before Miss Smith. The frequent offenders were sent before the august personage of Mr. George R. Gerard, the supervising principal. They were really in for it!

ASSEMBLY HALL

After going to class and answering the roll call we went to the assembly hall on the third floor of the old building. This smelled of disinfectant and furniture polish but we liked it just the same.

A few songs were sung under the able direction of Miss Agnes Wharton, whose deep contralto voice was a pleasure to hear.

The Miss Smith read the required reading from the Old Testament and we all recited the Lord's Prayer. There was one person who dared to question the right to do this in those days. We knew it was part of what the school stood for. Perhaps it was the only religion some of us received but it certainly did not do us any harm. That is the way it was and that is the way it should be.

History has proven that moral and religious degeneration of nations has ultimately proven the fall of those nations. Babylon, Egypt, Greece and even Rome fell and the United States should profit by their example. There must be more moral and spiritual education among young people if our nation is expected to survive.

FEW FRILLS

There were few frills about our education. It was really work and study hard. I was no outstanding scholar in the school. I was just about average. What were my best subjects? History and Spelling. What were my poorest subjects? Grammar and Arithmetic. Yet I went to work for the Prudential Insurance Company of America, where for 38 years I did nothing but arithmetical problems and for the last 15 of those years was a paymaster for that organization.

Miss Marguerite Coogan also had trouble with her Arithmetic. I met her one day at the Internal Revenue Office where she was employed. Doing what? Auditing Income Tax Reports!

Now I am in the grammatical field again. Perhaps to many my grammar is atrocious and if someone should ask me to parse my sentences, I am afraid that I would be a tremendous flop.

I hope that my literary efforts will give some one happiness and that I will be able to continue these small anecdotes for a long time to come.

ROAD SENSE

By CLYDE A. TROWBRIDGE

PART I

A glancing look as I left the bar and saw a man waiting at his car. The light turned red on my arriving. And this car pulled up behind; looked like the Devil driving.

The instant before the light turned go, with blinding horn he did blow. He flashed up beside me one hand on the wheel and gave me that thumbs down deal.

I could see trouble coming and slacked off the gas, but this damned fool driver would not go past. He crowded me over and did it quite well; shook his fist at me and yelled, "GO TO BLAZES!"

Then he raced on before and sharply out in, and the brakes almost put my car in a spin. I could see in his mirror a terrible grin, he looked me over and spat at me then.

Now man or Devil I was getting mad, and pushed down the gas with all that I had. My car leaped forward as I took up the case, so foolish to be goaded into this race.

Each time as I pulled up to pass, he pulled to the middle and slacked off the gas. My fury in mind began to increase and I swore under my breath I would boil him in grease.

A blind man driving can't see the curve and the sound of the crash was the last thing I heard. Feeling strange, I awoke in some other place, standing laughing before me was the THING I had raced.

Obviously enough to see, it was the Devil on Earth who had done this to me. I quote, he said, "You, meaning me" are a silly fool for having joined my "Tempted Drivers Pool".

Right here this pretense could end because the Devil has won again. But since I was once a man on Earth I'll follow my tale for what it is worth.

PART II

The Devil went on explaining the facets of sin a driver must do to be taken in. Of course he said as he explained to me, "The primary requisite lies in the personality."

Here as the Devils word kept flowing, he categorically specified the three groups that drive. He emphasized those that live to drive, drive to live and those just going; he sympathized with number two but will take any one of you.

He further explained with so many driving cars, selecting victims is not very hard. He said, "So many of the victims he was dying to get were the careless and reckless or he wouldn't have them yet."

He told how his selection of victims are chose, all is based on compliance with Rules of the Road. One who is selected as an Honored Guest, is he who signals right and then turns left.

It is not the consistent offender he's interested in, this kind, he always gets him. It's the Fringe Driver, the occasional gambler that's his greatest delight, causing him and others peril and plight.

While talking the Devil made this lament, expressing a weakness in his net. His words, "ROAD SENSE is my one torment", meaning man can drive and still survive if using common sense.

I noticed as the Devil held his school, he evaded mention of the Speeding Fool. I guess the Devil accepts the fact, his quotas could be filled just gathering those, SPEED KILLERS.

PART III

I am now a REAPER, and in the Devil's words, this is a former victim sent back to Earth. The basic mission is to select, tease and tempt, and to cause more and more accidents.

Some Reapers specialize in catching those that drink and drive, while little thought or time is spent on drunken driver since they create their own accidents.

A special catch is considered made when a bragging No Accident Driver is engaged. For sure he doesn't know of any, but could he have been the cause of many?

The Oblivious Driver thinks the world is his I suppose. He forgets all the dangers involved on the road. The Reaper in this case does not have to goad, just waits and sends them to Hell by the road.

The Reaper is a constant rider with the Challenging Driver. He never lets a chance go by to challenge the right of the other guy. His downfall, and their end, is when another driver challenges him.

The "STOP" is a place he likes to wait for those without patience or running late. They hate to STOP, look, and then go; the results are carried on below.

The Reaper has a certain crave for all who pass on hill and curve. He holds them up at every chance while building up their urge to pass, and when they do, that is their last.

Would be "KID KILLERS" are warned, "BEWARE" and heed all children with special care. The Reaper believes this to be unfair and works overtime to get his share.

The Reaper has a burning demise for the Devil May Care who drive. This looking here and driving there can end in nothing but despair.

PART IV

By now you must surmise mistakes are made by all, who drive. Too bad a blessing has not been sent to harm only those at fault in accidents.

The Truth is, People are People and highway slaughter has no end. To help yourself and others, I recommend, keep your car in GOOD REPAIR, drive with UTMOST CARE and often say this DRIVER'S PRAYER:

DRIVER'S PRAYER

LORD as I turn this key
Turn your GRACE on me
Help me to drive the right of way
Guide me safely through this day
Amen.

Belleville In Romp Over West Side By 48 To 20

By RAY FERSKO

Belleville's strength was proven last Saturday when the grid squad ran over the West Side Rough Riders 48-20.

Richard Luzzi kicked off for Belleville and James Freeman of West Side ran the ball up to his own 32-yard line. The first two plays from scrimmage, the strong Blue and Gold Defense led by Lenny Loungo pushed the West Side attack back 23 yards. Belleville then took the ball and after two plays Luzzi raced 54 yards around the end for the goal. He also completed the placement.

Luzzi again kicked off for Belleville and West Side brought the ball to their own 30. The Rough Riders, once more stopped by the Bell-boy defense, got rid of the ball. Once more it took only two plays, a 4-yard drive by Senesky and a 50-yard run by Luzzi to score another Belleville touchdown. Luzzi again made the conversion.

Belleville kicked off once more and West Side ran up to their 40. They marched down to the Belleville 34, by a kick and a penalty, and as the first quarter came to halt so did their drive. Belleville had the ball for the first five plays of the second quarter and on the sixth, speedy Tom Greco zoomed around right end for a touchdown. Luzzi's kick was good. The Blue and Gold kicked off and West Side was stopped on their own 7. On the first play from scrimmage John Visco rushed in and intercepted a lateral and went for a touchdown. Luzzi completed the kick bringing Belleville's score to 20-0 at the end of the first quarter.

West Side received the kickoff and got rid of the ball. Belleville took it, but fumbled and Joe Senesky of West Side recovered. Belleville's second string led by Sorrentino gained possession of the pigskin and patterned up to the West Side 30, where the opposition took the ball and finally scored with a pass from Will Allen to Jim Freeman. The first team came back and controlled the field for the remainder of the quarter.

SECOND HALF

Freeman kicked off for West Side and Cervasio took it up to the Belleville 40. On the next play Tomaszewski broke through the line and ran 50 yards till halted by Archie Lewis. A penalty pushed the Bell-boys back, but they patterned upfield with a pass to Buyers and successive runs by Latore, Cervasio, Luzzi and finally a pass from Latore to Senesky. The kick by Luzzi was good. Belleville kicked off and the Rough Riders were pushed back to their 10 where Lenny Loungo picked up a fumble and scrambled across the goal for pay dirt. Luzzi's placement was successful.

Rough Riders Larry Thiry brought the next kick-up to his own 40. West Side slowly worked up field until Pat Vaise intercepted a pass. The Blue and Gold second team came back in and moved up field with runs by Ron Orsini, Jerry Lepre and John Senesky.

Belleville couldn't move so they kicked and Ron Jones maneuvered the ball to the 50 where he was brought down by Sophs Orsini, Raimo and Sorrentino. West Side attempted a pass, but alert Cervasio intercepted it. The Bell-boy second team marched down field and finally Jerry Lepre broke loose to score. The conversion failed.

Senesky kicked off for Belleville and West Side's James Freeman beautifully went 80 yards for a touchdown. The extra point by Clarence Swann was good. Lepre downed the next kick for Belleville on his own 47. Four plays later the Newarkers had the ball and marched down field to score on a quarterback option by William Allen. The placement was good.

Benechi received the next kick for Belleville and ran it up to the 50. Belleville patterned down field with runs by Cervasio and Oese and when the time ran out Belleville had won by a decisive 48-20 score.

These ladies bowl every Wednesday Afternoon at 1 p.m. at the Olympic Bowl.

Freshmen Win Over Kearny By 28-6 Score

Stan Scher's and Nick Pett's freshman squad played their opener last Friday against a heavy Kearny team.

The team, led by young backs, Mince, Tomaszewski and Dell-Russo, showed sparks of being another fine team such as last year's undefeated platoon.

The Bell-boys scored early in the game and kept a good lead throughout the contest. Kearny was not able to get inside Belleville's territory once the first team was in.

Some up-and-coming players to watch for are Giropoli and D'Brick. If the team continues to show the hustle and determination they are exhibiting now, the future for Belleville-High will be very promising.

Le Fior Leads Suburban League In Tight Race

Action last Thursday evening, October 11, saw the Suburban League tighten up. A spread of only five and a half games separates Le Fior Beauty in first place and Allwood Pharmacy, in the cellar.

Clean sweeps were registered by La Monica's over Stamoires, Betsy Ross over the Prudential and Menck's Market over Allwood Pharmacy.

Brookdale Beverages won the odd game from Brook Gift as did the Jetettes from Garlock Liquors. Kavanaghs, despite Ida Palenski's 549 series, lost two games to Tulane Ice Cream.

High single game, to date, is held by Shirley Kutzner with a 221. High series honors belong to Ida Palenski with 549.

School Budget-Making Is Under Way In Belleville

Dr. Frank M. Durkee, superintendent of schools, said this week that the process of compiling the 1963-64 school budget is under way and explained what is done before the Board of Education gets involved.

In some ways providing for educational supplies is one of the most complex parts of budget making, he said. There was once a time in Belleville when each teacher was simply handed a catalog of a supplier and told to make up an order, resulting in many kinds of the same item being ordered: 12 kinds of chalk, 6 kinds of blackboard erasers, 10 kinds of pencils, and the like.

Last year for the first time standard lists were prepared, reducing the number of items to be ordered, which each teacher checked for the department head, director or principal. Teacher orders were scrutinized and adjusted by principals and compiled into one order for the department or school. These composite lists were then reviewed and adjusted by the superintendent. The process provided the list of supplies needed and the sum required in the budget. This is the process used in many school districts and is being revised and put into effect again this year, Dr. Durkee said.

JV's Lose First Start Then Beat Bloomfield

The J.V.'s lost their first start of the season to East Orange 20-7. Led by Captain for the day Visco, they took an early lead in the first quarter on an end run by Sophomore Frank Raimo. The conversion was scored by Visco on a halfback drive play. The Belleville lead did not last long, for East Orange took over the ball in the next quarter and scored on a long pass to the left end. At the half, Belleville was leading 7-6. But East Orange came back in the second half with two touchdowns and two extra points to win the game.

Belleville met the Bengals at the Municipal stadium and downed them 19-0 last week. The Bell-boys made a combined team effort and showed a vast improvement over the previous week's game. In the first half, Belleville scored twice, by Visco and Cervasio respectively. They had a very good field attack and didn't allow Bloomfield inside their 20-yard line at all during the game. At the half the score was 13-0. Then in the next half Tom Greco scored for Belleville and the conversion was good, giving the J.V.'s their first win of the season.

Daniel Keiser To Receive Nod As CPCU

The annual conferment meeting of the New Jersey Chapter of the Society of Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriters will be held tonight, Thursday, at 7 p.m. at Gene Boyle's Restaurant in Clifton.

President Kenneth Gesner announced that the following names will be on hand to receive their designation as CPCU's: Daniel H. Keiser of Belleville, James E. Kelly Jr., of Montclair, Richard D. Kretzer of Ridgefield, Arthur A. Kaplow of South Orange, David S. Sproul of Hackensack, Thomas W. Appleby of Asbury Park, Albert J. Wyman Jr., of Livingston, Hubert W. Koellhofer of Chatham, and Herman W. Hansler of Trenton.

These men have all successfully passed the five comprehensive examinations given by the American Institute for Property and Liability Underwriters, thus becoming eligible for the Society.

New Soph Team In 7-7 Tie At Bloomfield

The newly formed sophomore team led by Captains Ed Carney, Ron Orsini and Gerald Corson tied their first game with Bloomfield last Monday.

Belleville controlled the ball most of the game and only lost because of penalties and fumbles. In the first half Chuck Oesi ran 70 yards for a touchdown three times and each time was called back because of offside and clipping penalties.

Belleville finally managed to score with a quarterback sneak by Sorrentino. The extra point was scored by Oesi around the end. At the half the score was 7-0 Belleville.

Early in the next quarter Bloomfield scored on a pass in interception and their placement was successful. Belleville frantically tried to score but each time they came close they fumbled.

The squad looked good and they should have a good season, barring any more injuries. They already have suffered two severe losses by injuries with Ed Carney and Dan Bivona.

Ferrara Makes Charge Against Democrats

Gerard J. Ferrara, Belleville Republican Chairman, charged this week that there is confusion in the minds of some people as to their right to vote independently and that much of it has been fostered by Democrat party workers.

"The Democrats," he said, "have gotten people to register as Democrats in the Primary elections so that they could vote for the leader's friend in a district or ward contest. They have then led these people to believe that they cannot change their party or vote for Republicans in the general elections. This is, of course, untrue. Registered Democrats have no obligation to vote for Democrats they don't like in the general election. The general election is wide open and anyone can vote for anybody he wants — Democrat, Republican, Independent or Socialist.

Ferrara said he is supporting the Republican Union Freeholder ticket. Freeholders Anthony L. Cecere and Arthur N. Skeels are seeking reelection with Robert J. Ontell as their running mate.

BUDGETING FOR TEXTBOOKS

To each school the office of the superintendent sends a form showing the books for each grade and subject. On this form the principal with the aid of his staff indicates the number of books of each kind on hand, their condition, and the number needed for the next year. In areas requiring special study, the superintendent appoints a teacher committee to evaluate new textbooks and to make recommendations. This process results in the compilation of a list of books needed and the amount of money needed in the budget. By having the whole staff participate in the budget-making process, the budget is based on real educational needs, not merely on the estimates of top officials.

Library books, reference books, and magazines are provided for much as are textbooks.

MAINTENANCE AND REPAIRS

The assistant superintendent of business, Harold Dufford, secures from each principal recommendations for maintenance and repairs. He uses these plus some long-range study of building needs to determine what should be proposed for the budget. There has to be anticipated needs for painting, roofs, windows, equipment, floor covering, lighting, heating, and the like.

PERSONNEL

Needs for personnel in all categories are compiled. Meetings are arranged with various groups seeking salary increases. Calculations for normal increments are prepared. Ultimately the various groups send committees to present their proposals to the Board of Education.

After the staff work, the board works many months in many meetings to arrive at the budget which is presented to the voters in a ballot. The school budget is so developed that it is an expression of educational goals and needs, consistent with the financial ability of the community.

Dr. Durkee concluded.

VIEW FROM THE SIDELINES

By RAY FERSKO

DEPTH STILL A PROBLEM

Although the Bellboys won by a decisive margin (48-20) last Saturday, the season is still a tossup. Belleville should finish the season impressively as long as they are not plagued by any more injuries.

So far there are two players who will not finish the season. They are Sophomore lineman, Ed Carney, who suffered a broken knee cap, and Senior Joe Valvano. Young Carney was looking very impressive in scrimmage and should be an asset next season. Valvano suffered injury upon injury this year. During the pre-season he sprained his ankle, but with much determination he pulled himself together and played very well in the first two games. This past Saturday he broke his collarbone and will definitely be missed by the rest of the squad as he was a mainstay of the team.

The problem of depth is still quite apparent. Coach Testa was able to use underclassmen for most of the game. Saturday, but whether he'll be able to do this against such strong power as Nutley, Garfield or Irvington is still anyone's guess.

Next week Belleville will go against a strong Irvington team. The game will be a very hard fought contest between two of the State's best quarterbacks, the Camper's Bob Agilis and Belleville's Joe Latore. This could be anyone's game, but if the Bell-boy defense can combat the hard hitting Irvington drive, they should come out on top by a small score.
