Council OK's Special Items For Revenue

Greco Abstains In 4-1 Approval Of Resolutions

Belleville Town Council met Monday night and passed by a 4-1 vote four resolutions in a brief meeting before one spectator and two reporters.

At a special meeting the Town council introduced the 1963 municipal budget, which increased taxation from $140,634 up to $1,981,809.00.

The budget approved was up $179,17 7over last years' budget. An increase of $27 or 6.7 would be made on a $7,000 house, for example.

The council also announced a public hearing on the budget for March 12 at 8 p.m. at Town Hall.

Acting on the first budget under the new council-manager form of government, the members, in a rare display of unity, approved the financial arrangements.

Only Councilman Thomas P. Greco abstained, explaining that he was reluctant to vote on resolutions which weren't clear to him.

Councilman James R. Golden, who usually allies himself with Greco, declared the councilman was merely delaying a routine

$3,000 Cut Made In Board Budget By Town Council

The Town Planning Board lost $3,000 from its proposed $10,000 budget last week that immediately aroused the wrath of board chairman, G. Fred Burlazzi.

The cut, objected Burlazzi, would limit the board to its contractual obligations and very little else. The cut was made in the board attorney's salary and various publication fees during a board caucus meeting February

Chamber Plans Spring Membership Campaign

James Devaney, president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce announced this week, membership campaign will be held May 13-27.

Devaney has appointed the following members of the board to act as a "steering committee." Vice presidents Frank J. McFadden, F. Douglas Wadsworth and C. Robert Horsefield, board chairman Arthur Jackson, membership chairman William Mc Dowell and executive director Harry T. French.

The campaign will be directed by the National Fund Raising Service.

Shopping Center Construction Is Opposed Here

Residents Say Center Would Endanger Kids, Infringe Home Areas

The future of Belleville's latest shopping center was in some doubt today after the Belleville Board of Adjustment reserved decision on an application for a variance for its construction at 345 Franklin Avenue.

Board members hesitated after several members of the audience of some 50 residents objected to the new center, which was designed and will be constructed by Westlake-Belleville Inc., Newark.

Thirteen stores in three buildings had been planned near the intersection of Joralemon Street and Franklin Avenue, with 225 parking spaces becoming available.

A Few Objectors

Main objections were leveled at buildings, now located in a "business zone" which would overlap into a one-family residential zone at the rear of the plaza.

Harry L. Cox, president of the corporation, said the town would benefit from the new center by attracting local shoppers who now patronize other towns.

Daniel Del Tufo, 253 Forest Street said 20 stores were already vacant on Washington Avenue and additional construction would only increase the number of vacancies.

A Road Block?

Another resident objected to the danger presented to children who would, he said, play in the area.

Mrs. Rose Ferrara, 17 Barnett Lane, said she might block construction by denying use of the right of way on the lane. A legal opinion from the town attorney, Thomas A. D'Avella would be asked, said board president Dominic A. Lally.

Birthday Party For WashingtonFeb.22

Some 35 Belleville merchants have joined the Town Council in a two - day "sell - abration" of George Washington's Brithday February 22 and 23rd, announced Michael A. Pariso, chairman of the group.

Purpose of the "birthday Party" is to make Belleville buyers conscious of the many bargains available in Belleville.

"Buy In Belleville" is the theme adopted by the merchants.

A $50 U. S. savings bond will go to some lucky Belleville resident during a raffle February 25 at Town Hall.

All the Belleville shopper has to do is sign a slip of paper, drop it in a box which will be in each cooperating store, and await the results of the drawing.

A temporary truce will be drawn between the Belleville Police Department and the public, announced the Town Council. For the two-day event all parking meters will be out of operation —no tickets.

Cooperating merchants will have an identifying banner on store fronts. Banners and bunting will also grace store windows.

In addition to many bargains, some stores are offering a one-cent sale.

'Mothers March' Exceeds Highest Hopes In Drive

Marching Mothers raised $2,825 in Belleville Thursday night, January 31, during the one-hour, one - night, house - to - house "March" for the 25th Anniversary March of Dimes.

This figure is $100 above last year's total of $2,724, said Mrs. Anthony C. Izzo, Mothers March Chairman in Belleville.

She expressed her thanks for the generosity of the townspeople, the work of her volunteers and the support of this newspaper.

Harry J. Sullivan, Belleville's general chairman, commended Mrs. Izzo for the many hours she and her associates spent in preparation. He expressed the hope that families who were not at home last Thursday would mail their 1963 March of Dimes gifts to Charles B. Tedesco, Treasurer at Town Hall, Belleville.

Recreation Department Seeking Listings Of Clubs, Organizations

The Department of Recreation is seeking the names, addresses, and leaders of all-Belleville social, service, and church organizations for inclusion in a listing for use by interested persons wishing to contact certain clubs and organizations.

A complete list will not be given to individuals to assure that such club names keep off the mailing lists of business concerns, said a department spokesman, who added that there are over 48 organizations in Belleville now registered with the State Department.

Information may be sent to the Department of Recreation, 407 Joralemon Street, said Robert Cook, superintendent.

Driver Education Not All It's Cracked Up To Be, Says This Disgruntled Taxpayer

Is it worth Belleville public schools' time and money to teach those pesky kid drivers the rudiments of driver education?

Elmer Bagnel, a retired businessman who lives at 147 Linden Avenue, asked the Board of Education this question Thursday night during the public hearing on the proposed 1963-64 school budget. He claimed it was a waste of money.

He was quickly set straight by a school principal, a former board president, and a board member. They agreed it was not a waste but a savings.

So commendable were the aims of the driver education program, said Mrs. Edward A. Rochau, a former board president who attended the hearings, that "It is the aim of the P.T.A. to have driver education in every school in New Jersey."

"It's actually very cheap," countered Raymond Smith, school principal. It has also received the endorsement of law enforcement officials and educators everywhere, he said.

Ernest S. Arvidson, board vice president, told Bagnel it was the most important course of all. "Insurance companies give lower rates to young drivers who had received drivers' education training," he said.

"That's a matter of opinion," snapped Bagnel. "It certainly doesn't show up with all the accidents caused by under 18 drivers."

School 7 PTA To Hear Hulme Perform

Donald Hulme, Belleville's accordion player, will perform for the Parent-Teachers Association of School 7 Monday evening, February 18, at the School Auditorium, Joralemon St. and Passaic Avenue.

Mrs. Dee Freedman, program chairman, said that Hulme would play upon his return from a cruise on the liner Bremen, presently in the Caribbean.

The program for the evening will honor the Founders of the Parent-Teachers Association. All members and friends of the P.T.-A. are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served by the third grade mothers.

GREYLOCK PTA MET MONDAY

The Greylock School P.T.A. will meet Monday, February 4, at 8 p.m. at the school. The educational budget for 1963-64 was discussed. Dr. Frank M. Durkee was present. Also, the report of the Nominating Committee was given. A card party is set for April 26.

Heart Fund Drive Now Under Way; Goal of $5,500 Sought

Joseph B. Grosch, 1963 Belleville chairman of the Heart Fund Drive, said today his forces were ready to go.

As vice chairman he will again be assisted by Ernest S. Arvidson, second ward; William Chapman, third ward; and Mrs. Robert M. Laterza, fourth ward.

Assistant chairman is Robert Cassim, who is assisted by Allen Riggin, Phyllis Restaino, Jane Cuozzo, Eleanor Arthur, Mrs. Walter E. Frazier, Mrs. Everett Denning, Mrs. Angelo Couzzo, Michael Nardiello, Patricia Manlione, and Major Clyde Trowbridge, USMC.

Grosch said some 500 volunteer workers would be required during the month - long drive for funds. Heart disease, he said, was responsible for 54 per cent of all deaths in Belleville last year.

The drive, which began February 1, will last throughout the month, reaching a peak Sunday, February 24 on "Heart Sunday." Goal for the drive is $5,500.

Insurance Student Returns Home Again

Ted Del Guercio, 89 Rutan Road, has returned home after completing four weeks of technical study at his firm's home office at Bloomington, Ill.

Del Guercio is a claim representative for an automobile insurance company.

School 10 PTA Observes Founders Day Tonight

P.T.A. of School 10 will meet this evening at 8 p.m. in the in observation of Founders Day.

Mrs. F. Masters, chairman, will present a skit featuring Mr. and Mrs. T. Holton with Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, highlighting the important part P.T.A. plays in the school system.

Pre-School Program Will Change Names This Week

Robert E. Cook, Superintendent of Recreation announced this week that the name of the "Pre-School Play Program" has been changed to "Recreation Play Program."

The change has been made necessary because the name seems to imply that the program is a school.

Cook explained that the program is for children of four years of age and is by no means a school. It is, rather, an activity where youngsters of similar age have the chance to play together.

Children learn during the program as children always learn from their experiences. They are also conditioned to a regular schedule and become adjusted to group activity.

The play program will pave the way to an easier adjustment to school for the youngsters. Some skills are acquired in the Play Program, such as, coloring, cutting, marching, games. Other activities are also offered under the guidance of group leader, Mrs. Edna Verhagen.

Recently the Recreation Play Program has gained such popularity that thought is being given to scheduling a second session to accommodate more children.

At present the group is restricted to 25 children.

The next session of this program will begin in October.

American Legion Dignitary Schedules Visit To Post 105

HENRY W. RYAN

Henry W. Ryan, Trenton, Department Commander of The New Jersey American Legion, with members of his staff, will make an official visitation to Essex County Thursday, February 21, meeting with officers and members of the county's 41 Legion Posts at the Home of Belleville Post No. 105, at 621 Washington Avenue, at 8 p.m.

Commander Ryan will address the county Legionnaires on the numerous state and national programs of the Legion, including the current membership campaign being conducted throughout the state.

John R. Garrity, Newark, Essex County Commander of The American Legion, will preside at the meeting in Belleville.

Greylock Parkway Extension Under Study By Town Council

The mile and a quarter length of Greylock Parkway may soon be extended another three blocks eastward if all goes well between Belleville and the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad.

The two have resumed negotiations after a 12-year truce begun by a former town council who sought to have the barrier, a block east of Washington Avenue, removed.

The action was dropped by the council who found that the cost would be too much for the city to pay. It included grading the crossing, plus paving and reconstruction of the railroad track.

The crossing, which in effect make a cul-de-sac of Greylock Parkway at the railroad crossing with an aluminum barrier, would cost an estimated $30,000 to $35,000, said Charles B. Tedesco, acting town manager. The town is now seeking an accurate estimate figure, he added.

Several residents along lower Greylock Parkway are now forced to use a round-about route to get to and from Washington Avenue, Tedesco pointed out.

Public Utilities Commission would have to give permission for the proposed improvement, which would include a flashing red light.

Laterza Advances Plan For A Third River Diversion

Army Engineers may soon be examining a plan advanced by Mayor Robert M. Laterza which would, if found feasible, divert the troublesome Third River near its source, and eliminate both Nutley and Belleville's perennial flooding problems as well as providing extra town tax ratables and perhaps a recreational area too.

The Third River is a placid little stream with headwaters in Great Notch Reservoir seven miles northwest of Belleville high atop the First Watchung Mountain.

From an elevation of 279 feet, it drops gently southward through Upper Montclair, Bloomfield, Nutley, and Belleville where it swings northward emptying into the Passaic River 12 miles and 240 feet below its source.

Embraces Two Extremes

As it meanders south is passes through two golf courses, two country clubs, four parks and four ponds. At its mouth is a sewage disposal plant.

With a single exception, it presents an idyllic scene.

But several times a year the Third River becomes swollen with the muddy waters of seasonal storms which sweep the area with rain and snow. Then it goes on a rampage.

The Mayor's Concerned

In the wake are left flooded basements, debris-strewn banks, and property damages in the thousands of dollars.

To Mayor Laterza this has been a matter of mounting concern. He has, since taking office last year, been making private inquiries regarding the possibility of diverting the Third River and its mercurial flow.

Army Engineers had, he noticed, outlined a plan for its diversion by means of a 46-foot tunnel under Nutley and into the nearby Passaic River. This, the army said, would eliminate the multiple problems presented by the river.

Two Towns Plagued

Nutley, too, has a flooding problem, despite the fact the town has spent in excess of $500,000 in a futile effort to eliminate it.

Bellevillle's overflow occurs annually at the bend of the river south of Glendale Cemetery where it turns north. In lowlands, that may have been an ancient river bed along Fairview Avenue, most of the flooding occurs.

Last year irate citizens along the avenue flooded Town Hall with a verbal flood of charges that the Town failed to protect its citizens with fast action when another floodcrest rolled down the Third River and into some 23 basements of homes along the river's edge.

Temporary Measures Taken

Later a channel was dug, deepening the steam bed south of the Joralemon Street bridge but the measure was temporary and not overly effective. Rutan Estate residents keep wary eyes on the little stream.

Mayor Laterza took a close look at the 39-page Army report and decided that an even greater cut in the river's course could be made. He forwarded this plan to the Engineers, who could then check its feasibility.

Since Great Notch is near the top of a mountain, reasoned Laterza, and the Passaic River lies just below less than two miles away, why not make the tunnel near or at the reservoir, digging downward to the Passaic and eliminating extensive construction in both Nutley, and solving Belleville's flooding problem at the same time.

Nothing Definite, But. . .

With the threat of flood gone, Laterza said, ratables tax and perhaps additional recreational facilities could be developed along the former course of the unstable Third River.

A plan to "wall the river" would cost an estimate $750,000 to $1 million dollars, said Mayor Laterza after exploring various avenues of control over the river. But even that would give no guarantee that the flooding would be eliminated

Salons Approve Plan

Congressman Peter W. Rodino Jr. and Senator Clifford P. Case have expressed approval of the plan and offered any help in the matter they may be able to give.

If all goes well, the Third River may become part of the Passaic River Valley Flood Control plan and thus become available for federal aid in solving its problems.

But, the Mayor emphasizes, nothing has been definitely scheduled beyond an assurance that the Army Engineers are taking a close look at his plan for flood control.

Library Adds 23 New Volumes Of Love, Adventure, And Television For Readers

What with Valentine's Day today, the visit by the famous Mona Lisa portrait in New York City, and the recent flights by Telstar, the Belleville Library maintains a literary parallel by acquiring related books on the subjects this week, announced Ben Grimm, library director.

Available to card-holders, and the casual reader who drops in for some fast reading, are "Love, Love, Love" by Helen Hoke, a collection of love stories for the ladies.

"The Story Behind the Painting," by Leo Rosten, offers a revealing insight behind some of the world's greatest painters.

"Telstar," by Louis Solomon, will tell readers how TV pictures were bounced back to earth from overseas television transmitters.

But there's something for everyone.

"The Windfall Child" by Louise Field Cooper. — A touching novel of two families, a twelve-year-old child who "belongs" to both of them and the events that lead to the decision of his future with one or the other.

"Fiorello La Guardia" by Bella Rodman.—A new biography of the beloved "Little Flower" and the colorful era of the 1900's.

"Love, Love, Love," stories selected by Helen Hoke.—A Valentine of famous love stories by some of your favorite authors—Betty Cavanna, Mary Stoltz, Fred Gipson and many others.

"The Ballad Mongers" by Oscar Brand.—Lively anecdotal history of the rise of the modern folk song and its status in the world of pop music today.

"The story Behind The Painting" by Leo Rosten.—Unforgettable stories about the world's greatest painters and their masterpieces with over 139 illustrations—many in full color. (Look Magazine series).

"Cooking For Many On Holidays and Other Occasions" by Charlotte Turgen. — Recipes and menus for 10 to 200 people covering brunches, luncheons, teas, buffets, dinners, parties, receptions, celebrations and barbecues.

"America And Russia" edited by Oliver Jensen.—The dramatic story of the 15-year-old relationship between the two great powers of the modern world as seen by a group of eminent historians. (American Heritage book).

"Poppo" by Josef Berger.—The true tale of an enchanting nine-year-old urchin who decides to adopt a middle-aged Brooklyn couple as his parents.

"Travelers And Travel Liars 1660-1800" by Percy G. Adams.—A collection of travel pieces—some hoaxes, others true by the great and near great people of this exciting period of history.

"America's Greatest Hit Songs" compiled by Lyle Kenyon Engel. —A hit parade album of the most popular music of our time — words and music of 62 songs by America's top composers.

"Your Social Security" by J. K. Lasser.—A guide and explanation of your benefits under Social Security Act with information on the latest changes and what they mean to you.

"The Berlin Wall" by Deane and David Heller.—"The full story of the Berlin Wall—its background, drama, and implications for the future.'

"The Statistical Method in Business" by Frederick Ekeblad.—A broadly-based, detailed introduction to business statistics with emphasis on the practical applications of probability and inference to business situations.

"Telstar" by Louis Solomon.—An account, in text and photographs, of the recent communication break-through by satellite, how it was accomplished and what the future holds.

"Phil Hill: Yankee Champion" by William Nolan.—The action-filled story of racing driver Phil Hill, the first American to win the driving championship of the world.

"Land Where Our Fathers Died" by Marion Starkey.—Lively, readable and authoritative account of the settling of the thirteen original colonies. (In the "Mainstream of America" series).

. . . And for the mystery and detective fiction fans two favorite authors have new books:

Margaret Sherf — "The Diplomat And The Piano."

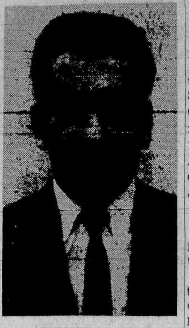
Amber Dean — "Deadly Contact"; plus five new British mysteries.

'Blue And Gold' Dinner Planned By Pack 360

Newly organized Cub Scout Pack 360 of Belleville will hold its first Blue and Gold Dinner, Sunday, February 17, at 1 p.m., at the Belleville School and Treatment Center, 7 Sanford Avenue. The troop, composed of five cerebral palsied youngsters, have earned their uniforms and have attained first-grade Cub rank.

Mrs. Edward Scardelli, den mother, and Mr. Leonard Sawyer, cubmaster, will be assisted by Alfred Eville, institutional representative and Samuel Sarno, pack committee chairman.

Belleville Man Receives Award



ANTHONY J. AMEO

Anthony J. Ameo, 8 DeWitt Avenue, an employee of the electric engineering department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, was awarded $25 for his suggestion involving the re-use of copies from previous stencils by engineers when sending information to the file room of the company.

This information is used in cutting a new stencil to stamp succeeding issues of foreign blueprints.

Ameo graduated from Belleville High School in 1957. He started with Public Service during 1957 in the electric engineering department, where he has served continuously, except for the two years he spent in the Armed Forces, when he served in Munich, Germany.

Scout Council Instructs Leaders In Rudiments Of Scout Management

Belleville Scout leaders, commissioners and committeemen assisted recently in the formation of additional Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer units to provide needed opportunities for boys to join the Boy Scout movement, announced Ernest S. Arvidson, Belleville District Chairman of Robert Treat Council.

"The Council," Arvidson said, "held a 'together' dinner for institutional heads and selected representatives of prospective sponsors in Robert Treat Hotel, February 6."

Churches, synagogues, P.-T.A.'s, schools, clubs, veteran posts, and other organizations were invited to send five selected men to attend the dinner and to learn how to set up a new unit.

"They were joined by an organizer and a Scout commissioner who assisted them in forming one or more Scout units to accommodate boys and young men from 8 to 18 years in a three-level program."

William H. Keith, president of the Robert Treat Council, presided.

The Robert Treat Council will provide training for adults in each new unit as part of the organization process.

In Belleville, Newark and Irvington nearly 150 churches, temples, synagogues, schools, P.-T.A.'s, housing projects, men's Clubs, and other organizations and groups are using the program. Some 250 Cub packs, Scout troops, and Explorer units are in operation with a membership of nearly 10,000 Scouts and adult workers.

Mayor Laterza Is Honorary Chairman

Mayor Robert M. Laterza, has been named Honorary Chairman of the Third Annual Ice Circus to be presented by the South Mountain Figure Skating Club at West Orange on March 9 and 10.

The theme for the first half of the show will take you "Around the World in Eighty Days" and the second half to Fantasyland for "Peter Pan." The Arena on Northfield Avenue will be brightly decorated with flags of many foreign countries. Show starts at 6:45 p.m.

YOU AND YOUR INSURANCE

(A public service column about all forms of insurance.)

DRIVER EDUCATION PAYS BIG DIVIDENDS

"My local Board of Education is considering dropping the driver education program from our school curriculum. How would this affect my teenage son's auto insurance premiums?" a father asks.

The lack of standard driver education courses in many of the public high schools is costing the nation's young men—or their parents—an extra $7.7 million a year in automobile liability insurance premiums, merely because many youthful drivers cannot take advantage of the 10 per cent premium discount for driver education.

Male drivers under the age of 25 have the poorest driving records, according to records of safety authorities. They therefore pay the highest insurance premiums. By contrast, young women pay the same premiums as adults because they do not cause more than their share of accidents.

A recent countrywide study by the Insurance Information Institute disclosed that driver education courses meeting national standards were available to only 39 per cent of the more than one million male public high school students who reached the legal driving age during the 1960-61 school year.

The cost of a standard driver education course in various school systems ranges from $41 to $60 per pupil. On the other hand, automobile liability insurance savings average from $90 to $150 from the time the young man completes his driver education course until he reaches 25.

Driver education unquestionably saves money, but even more important it teaches good driving habits which may save lives.

School Girl, 16 Struck By Car Thursday Night

A 16-year-old Belleville High School girl was badly injured Thursday night when she was struck by a car as she crossed Washington Avenue near Howe Avenue in Nutley.

Police said Lydia Kravcenko, 533 Washington Avenue, was struck by a car driven by Anita L. Hogan, 53, of Weehawken.

Miss Hogan told police the Kravcenko girl had stepped from a parked car and ran into her path. A passenger, Mrs. Valetti, confirmed the report, police said. No charges were filed.

Miss Kravcenko was admitted to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. Her condition was reported as "fair" Monday morning.

She's A New Officer

Mrs. Mary Shader, secretary of the Belleville Board of Education for the last seven years, was elected secretary of the Essex County School Business Officials Association January 30.

After 15 Years He's Promoted To Manager Of The Local Office

Leonard J. Gigantino has been named manager of the Prudential Insurance Co.'s Newark North district office, 383 Washington Avenue.

In his new position Gigantino will head a staff of 51 persons, who service Belleville residents. He succeeds James A. Mankie, who was transferred to Union.

Gigantino joined Prudential as an agent at Union in 1948, and was promoted to staff manager there in 1951.

During WW II, he was an Army sergeant, serving in Europe, and is now a member of the Elks.

He is married to the former Helen Reppert of Newark. The couple live at 843 Savitt Place, Union, with their two children: Barry, 16; and Gail, 12.

Council members planned to make up the deficit by utilizing the services of Town Attorney Thomas A. D'Avella.

Burlazzi also sought a clarification of the authority his board has over sub-committees studying building, housing, and zoning codes. His purpose, he declared, was to keep various groups from working at cross purposes.

The master plan, he explained, would divide lower Belleville into two distinct parts; residential and industrial. An urban renewal plan is also under study for the area, he said.

matter for unknown purposes.

Golden Asks Questions

"What," he demanded of Greco, "are your questions? These questions should have been asked during the formation of the budget, not now."

Greco said he hadn't had time to fully analyze the figures, but wanted to clarify in his mind the validity of the figures and a better explanation of their use.

No Time for Study

"It's (the budget) one of the best shakes the town of Belleville will ever get," declared Golden. It had come closest to an "austerity budget" of any he had ever seen in 12 years as an observer of Town Hall management, he added.

Greco said he would abstain without prejudice and hoped his abstention would cast no reflection on either the town manager, who made it up, or the councilmen who voted for its approval.

Resolutions Approved

The council approved a resolution that the New Jersey Division of local government be petitioned to consent to an anticipation of some $12,704.32 received as overpayment from Nutley for sewage services rendered, as a special item of revenue in the 1963 budget.

A second resolution sought similar approval for $60,000 anticipated from surplus revenue as an item of general revenue in the Water Utility Fund.

A third item was for $6,000 from the General Capital Fund Surplus be declared an item of general revenue.

The fourth asked that $19,000 be declared general revenue from the Trust Assessment Fund Surplus.

Sitting alone in the front row of the council room was Angelo Pesc , 60 Harrison St., the lone spectator.

Julia Knodel And Peter Franchino Marry In Belleville Reformed Church

MRS. PETER N. FRANCHINO
Former Julia A. Knodel

Belleville Reformed Church was the setting for the marriage Saturday afternoon, February 2, of Miss Julia A. Knodel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Knodel of 380 Stephens Street, to Peter N. Franchino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius M. Franchino of Ridgeview Avenue, West Orange.

The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Thomas Ten Hoeve. Mrs. Verna Yurkovich sang, accompanied by Miss Alice Stager. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Royal Hawaiian Palms in Lyndhurst.

Mr. Knodel gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a full-length long-sleeved gown of satin, enhanced by an embroidery of lace and seed pearls around the neckline. Her finger-tip veil fell from a satin pill-box and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Mrs. Louis Davenport, sister of the bride, was matron of honor,and bridesmaids were Miss Eileen Dunn of Newark, Mrs. Joyce Travers of West Orange and Miss Marie Franchino, sister of the bridegroom.

The honor attendant wore a street-length dress of medium-blue satin peau de soie, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and three - quarter sleeves. She wore a matching pillbox and carried a cascade of light pink carnations. The bridesmaids were similarly attired in gowns of a lighter blue and they carried dark pink carnations.

Louis Davenport of Belleville, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man and ushers were Albert Hayward and Robert Travers of West Orange and Nino Franchino, brother of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of blue lace over taffeta with accessories to match and a pink orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige gown of lace and chiffon with olive green accessories and an orchid to match.

The bride is a graduate of Belleville High School and is employed by the N.J. Bell Telephone Co., Newark. Mr. Franchino, a graduate of West Orange High School, is attending Fairleigh Dickinson Uniersity. He has served four years in the U. S. Air Force and is employed in his father's construction business.

After a two-week honeymoon in Miami Beach, Florida, the couple will make their home in town.

Roberta Frank Weds Anthony Baldino; Honeymoons In Florida And Nassau

MRS. ANTHONY M. BALDINO
Former Roberta May Frank

In a late afternoon ceremony in Holy Family R. C. Church, Nutley, on Saturday, February 2, the marriage of Miss Roberta May Frank to Anthony M. Baldino was solemnized. Rev. Matthew Pesaniello performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Bow and Arrow Manor, West Orange.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frank of 27 Church Street, Nutley. Mr. Baldino is the son of Mrs. Patsy Baldino of 8 Lincoln Terrace, Belleville, and the late Mr. Baldino.

Mr. Frank gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory peau de soie, fashioned with long sleeves, dome-shaped skirt scalloped at the bottom, and chapel train. The bodice, shoulders, skirt and train were ornamented with appliques of Chantilly lace. Her three-tiered elbow length veil fell from a matching peau headpiece, and she carried a cascade of baby orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. David Mekeel of San Francisco was matron of honor and Miss Carolyn Frank was maid of honor; both are sisters of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Lorraine Sensale of Nutley, Miss Joan Clawson of Harrison and Mrs. Willis Baker of Parsippany.

All the bridal attendants were identically attired. They wore full-length gowns of red velvet, designed with scoop necklines, long sleeves, and dome-shaped skirts. Their headpieces were red velvet bows. The honor attendants carried bouquets of red and white carnations trimmed with ivy. The bridesmaids carried white fur muffs trimmed with red and white carnations and ivy.

Armand Palmisano was best man and ushers were James, Peter and James W. Baldino of Nutley, cousins of the bridegroom, and John Doherty, cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of blue silk organza with white accessories and a corsage of white roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of pale pink roses.

The couple are both graduates of Nutley High School. The bride is assistant manager of the Nutley Travel Service. Mr. Baldino is a partner in United Clay Products, Newark.

After a three-week honeymoon in Florida and Nassau, the couple will make their home in Upper Montclair.

"Surprise Night" At The Masonic Temple

Belleville Lodge No. 108, F&AM, held a "Night of Masonic Surprises" at the regular communication of the lodge last night, at Belleville Masonic Temple, 126 Joralemon Street.

The program was designed to help members understand more about Freemasonry. Two of the events involved participation by members of Belleville Lodge, with Masonic gifts as prizes for the winners.

Alvin W. Outcalt, Worshipful Master of Belleville Lodge, opened the lodge at 7:30 p.m.

Household Hints . . .

SUPER SANDWICH FILLING

Carrots and ham pair well in this sandwich filling that's tasty for afterschool or lunchtime sandwiches. Combine 1 cup ground cooked ham with ½ cup grated raw carrots, ⅓ cup salad dressing, 1½ teaspoons prepared horseradish, ¼ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Try it on white, rye or whole wheat bread.

SPEND TIME TO SAVE TIME

Spend a little extra time putting foods away after you shop, and you'll save preparation time later. Wash and trim fresh vegetables, package foods for freezer storage in quantities that you'll use, organize cans and packages on shelves so you can find them quickly. This saves storage space and quality of foods, as well as time.

Mount Carmel Sodality Installs Slate Of New Officers

The Mount Carmel Sodality of Holy Family Church recently installed officers. They were elected for a one-year term and were officially put into office in a brief but beautiful church ceremony.

The new officers are Mrs. Sylvia Di Furia, president; Mrs. Grace Rusignolo, vice president; Mrs. Grace Stellatella, treasurer; Mrs. Ann Silvestri, recording secretary; and Mrs. Lee Gaccione, corresponding secretary.

LIONS CLUB DINNER

Belleville Lions Club members will hold an old fashioned beef steak dinner February 20 at Christians Lounge, 751 Washington Avenue. "Judge" Isadore Bookbinder, well known raconteur, will be guest speaker.

TIPS FOR MODERNS

Q— All my friends who dropped out of high school have wheels and money to spend, and they don't have to work as hard as I do. They say I am a jerk to listen to my folks and others who tell me to stay in school until I graduate. I am beginning to believe them because they are having all the fun, while I have to beat my brains out studying, and I don't know for what. Can you give me a good reason for it? —Peter H.

A. Don't be a Drop-Out, or you will regret it all your life. Your friends might seem to be having a good time, but they face an uncertain future. In 1962 this State alone had 17,000 drop-outs. This means that 17,000 more unskilled, untrained and partly educated persons are added to the many thousands of others competing for the lowest paying jobs in the State. Do you want to be one of them? Even those who have jobs will be the first to be laid-off when business gets bad or a recession occurs, or automation introduced. Your high school diploma will set you apart from these and make you eligible for better jobs and pay. Before you make any decision, the first thing you should do is to see your high school guidance counselor. He is a specialist, whose advice is of great value. It is his profession to know what is the best way to guide you toward a career in which you will be able to make a living. Ask his advice and follow it, you will never take a more important step in your career.

Q. I am seventeen and a high school senior. I am confused about what I should do because the family needs the money. We can't afford college for me, so I will have to get a job when I get out. They say I should continue in school until I get my diploma. What's the use if I can't go to college anyway? Vincent M.

A. Although it is taking some sacrifice on your part, do everything you can to stay in school until you graduate. Your diploma is a passport to greater opportunities for employment and higher salaries. You might even get your chance to go to college later. The person who knows most about this is your high school guidance counselor. He will explain to you the value of continuing in school and back it up with facts and figures. No person is better qualified than he is to evaluate your situation and to advise you on what is best for your career. He can guide you in a direction that will make the difference between success and failure for you. That is his profession and he is specially trained for it. Education is a precious possession that cannot be taken from you or lost once you have acquired it.

Q. Since I left school ten years ago, I have been working in various jobs in shipping rooms, factories, offices, etc. When business is slow I am among the first to be let out. Automation cut me out of my last job after four years with the company. Now I am 27, with a wife and child to support, and I have to start all over again. How can I get out of this rut without anything to offer? Anhony D.

A. Don't be discouraged. You can still acquire a skill that is in demand, and thus gain security against being squeezed out of a chance to make a decent living. I am talking about private vocational schools. The one I know most about, of course, is Wilfred Academy, Newark, where we teach all there is to know in the beauty culture field to prepare our diligent students for a successful career in a high paying field that is depression proof. Our school is conducted on the highest educational principles and has a record of more than forty-five years of continuous operation during which we have launched our graduates into outstandingly successful careers. It is important to know this, because private vocational schools are not controlled by official standards of education. Before wasting any more precious time, investigate by visiting our school and looking into the possibilities of the profession. You can arrange an appointment by telephone for any day or evening, and there is no obligation.

The Devil's Invention

At public meetings everywhere, there can be found perceptive, responsible citizens who offer constructive criticism of township affairs and the officials who administrate them. They are usually quietly effective and many times uncover unwise or even corrupt action by town fathers.

Also attending these meetings are professional critics who find fault with monotonous regularity. They rarely offer a solution to the many "problems" they profess to uncover, leaving that minor detail to their peers.

One member of this strangely motivated group is a slender, graying man named Lee Garson, a Citizen Tax Council spokesman. He can be found at most public meetings perched at the edge of his seat on the front row. His civic world is one of trouble, suspicion, and vocal denunciation of public officials who are trying to do the job they were elected to do.

He has never raised his voice in praise of the present administration, the past members of the council, or School Board members. His policy is to destroy.

At one meeting he loudly accused a Belleville Times-News reporter of printing lies. It was but one of his latest mistakes.

The reporter unlimbered his ballpoint, asked Garson to repeat the "lie", and said he would see that Garson's version of the unvarnished truth appeared in the next edition of The Times-News.

Caught flat-footed, Garson stammered the usual platitudes about a controlled press, but was unable to put the finger on a single untruth. "But I could go on for hours," blustered Garson, so lengthy was the list of "lies" appearing in The Times.

The reporter again assured Garson his story correcting the "lies" would be printed in full if he would but name them. Again Garson back-tracked.

The reporter made a third and final effort to have Garson throw a spotlight of shining truth on the black list of "lies printed by a controlled press."

Garson's silence was deafening.

Voters may recall that Garson was a candidate for a school board vacancy two years ago. In a field of four, he came in last, an eloquent testimony to the public's interpretation of Mr. Garson's role as a school board critic.

But making the press a whipping boy for politically ambitious critics is not an invention of Garson's. It is an invention of the devil's — and as long as that evil fellow remains among us, we may expect more "whipping boy" roles by this newspaper.

So be it.

Questions And Answers On Social Security

Q. I'm 74, and I applied for social security retirement benefits in October 1961. I was turned down because I had not worked long enough under social security to qualify. Would voluntary payments into social security made by me be acceptable?

A. No. Voluntary contributions cannot be accepted since the Social Security Law makes no provision for this arrangement. You must work on a job covered by social security or have self-employment income from your own business in order to pay the social security tax and get the credit.

Q. My husband died last month, and I am his only survivor. I am 59. Will I receive widow's benefits each month in addition to the lump-sum death payment?

A. No. Not until you reach 62. To qualify for widow's benefits before age 62, you must have children entitled to benefits in your care. Since you have no children who could qualify for benefits, widow's benefits cannot be paid to you at this time. You should get in touch with your social security office now about filing for the lump-sum death benefit.

Q. My son and I have both been receiving survivors benefits for 2 years. I understand my son's benefits will stop when he becomes 18 in November 1963. I am 50. Will my widow's benefit stop at the same time?

A. Yes. Since you are under 62 your benefit will be terminated. Your widows benefit will be resumed when you reach 62, if you have not remarried.

Q. I've notified the local post office of my new address. Will this notification be sufficient to change the address on my social security checks?

A. No. You should also notify your local social security office. If your notice is received by the Social Security Administration before the middle of the month, your next check will be sent to you at your new address.

SPEAK UP

HE'S AGAINST THE BUDGET

To the Editor, The Times-News:

No one can deny that the most important ingredient in education is the teacher.

A modern school house, well equipped classrooms, the most modern scientific instruments and laboratories alone mean absolutely nothing.

In themselves they are absolutely useless. But who on the other hand can also deny that without them, in this rapidly advancing modern space age can say that the teacher alone can carry on this overwhelming task. As you are all well aware of, we here in Belleville have only one high school, (and that one unaccredited) to participate in this race for better education.

Therefore, I say to you, let's concentrate not on our personal wants but on the long term problem of better education, in a better system, in an accredited school for all of our children, I am not in an effort to discredit our teachers request for another increase, (they requested and received one only last year) but I do wish that they would have tabled this request for at least another year or two.

The absolute need for so many more things should take precedence over any pay raises. Our Federal Government has recommended an education-aid proposal in their present budget of more than $6 billion dollars.

I feel sure that Belleville can count on some of this aid in her budget planning for the coming fiscal school years. Until this federal program has been passed, and we are certain of our share— I again ask you to be patient in your request for this pay raise.

Since it is common knowledge that teachers salaries command at least 70 per cent of our budget, I suggest nothing be done about this until actual construction of a new building is started. Six dollars a week per teacher, subject of course, to all of its reduction, such as social security, withholding taxes, etc., can result in very little real income to you as individuals, but this same six dollars thrown into the budget pool for our proposed construction can go a long way in realizing our need and hopes for the new high school.

In this budget it also ask for some additional equipment of which one half will be paid for by the federal government and one half by the taxpayers — where is this equipment, of any kind going to do?

It also ask for two or three additional people in the guidance departments — where are they to take up there full time positions?

You people proved to me and I have seen the shortage of space at our high school in both these departments. Until I can see and learn how this additional equipment and additional teachers can be used effectively I can not and will not support this year's budget.

However, this view point on your present proposed budget does not in any way effect my continue support of your programs and present members, Ernest S. Arvidson and Nicholas Juliano, candidates for the board of education.

HE READS THE TIMES; AND NOW HE'S IN IT

To The Editor, The Times-News:

As a resident of Belleville for the past 11 years I have read many issues of The Belleville Times, and may I say that I have enjoyed each and every issue. I have had very few occasions, though, to use your newspaper for my own personal services until now.

I am a junior at Rider College, Trenton, a management major, and a brother of Zeta Beta Tau, a national social fraternity. This past week I was awarded the Beta Mu Fifth Anniversary Award of $250.

It is awarded to the undergraduate on points of need, scholarship, and activities in the fraternity.

I would be more than honored and thrilled if the article would appear in your weekly edition of The Belleville Times.

Thank you for your time and trouble.

PLEASE START AGAIN SOON, MR. PIXLEE

To the Editor, The Times-News:

I feel that an explanation is due to both The Belleville Times and to the citizens of the Town of Belleville as to why my articles under the heading of "Beautiful Bucolic Belleville" have not been forthcoming since the beginning of 1963.

I have been under terrific pressure of personal obligations along with a reoccurrence of a chronic disability that forced me to retire from active business last year.

Due to financial circumstances, I have been forced to sell my home at considerable loss. This, coupled with the fact that I have been ill most of the past month, has prevented me from doing the proper research work that is basically necessary for the preparation of any historical articles.

I regret that this situation will not clear up until April or May; at which time I hope that I will be in a position to resume my avocation which has caused so much favorable comment from the readers of your newspaper.

I hope that the above explanation will be satisfactory to you and the readers of our community newspaper.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

It appears as if the size of TV pictures reverts back the original 10" size. The old RCA 630 TS chassis with 32 receiving tubes and a 10" picture got TV off the ground. The set weighed "a ton," or at least that's the way it felt to the serviceman who had to lug them to the shop.

Now you see the beginning of portable TV sets again, with 10" picture tubes. These sets operate on electric current or on rechargeable batteries, although for not more than about 4 to 5 hours on one charge. They weigh just about 10 pounds plus a few pounds for the battery pack. This can only be the beginning of battery operated TV, because they have to last a lot longer on one charge than just a few hours. The price for these small sets is still very high, about $250. In time we will see more and more low power consuming transistors used for portable equipment which will make it lighter and the batteries will last much longer.

There are now some 16" portable TV sets on the market which weigh around 22 to 25 pounds. This is a lot less weight than a 19" "portable" Zenith set weighing 53 pounds. Many people who see the ads on TV how slender ladies tote these sets around with the greatest of ease don't believe that these are the same sets when they come to the stores and try to lift them.

The new 16" portables are so "new" that nobody knows as yet how they will stand up. Many of the 17" and 19" sets became a headache when they were used quite a bit. There were frequent breakdowns under prolonged use.

Dave Hatch Places Winning Foul Shots

By RAY FERSKO

An all-out effort by the ever improving Bellboys defeated Seton Hall 67-65 Tuesday of last week. Undoubtedly, this was Belleville's best game. Led by Byers and Hatch, the team played hard-nosed defense and a fast but patient offense. The Pony Pirates came into the game with an 11-2 record, and it was common opinion they would take the game hands down. However, the Bellboys proved their strength throughout the contest. It is interesting to note that Seton Hall has only beaten Belleville once out of the past 8 times on the the Belleville court.

The Blue and Gold took a quick lead in the second quarter as they led 35-23. They were not threatened once in the game except for the final minute when they tied 65-65. But Hatch went to the line, sunk 2, and took the game away for the jubiliant Bellboys.

Belleville did slow down at various intervals in the second half. This was partially due to the weak bench. Seton Hall was strong on the court and had a lot of depth on the bench along with a great deal of manpower. It was the Pirate's depth and Belleville's third quarter lull that may have attributed to the closeness of the contest. At any rate "from the sidelines" there was no doubt that Belleville had the game all the way.

With the glitter of the Seton Hall game in the past a new threat arose in South Side. The Streaks visited Belleville last Friday and went home with a 73-52 win. The Streaks were led by Larry Johnson, who scored 26 points. There isn't much to say about the game except that South Side's baskets went in and Belleville's didn't. The "balanced" South Side shooters shot from all over the court and hit.

The best defense in the world cannot stop a 20 foot jump shot. Not only were they good from the outside but they also shot 21 for 26 foul shots. Belleville didn't have any board control in the game and the offense was inconsistent.

Harmon's 5 fouls and Byers 4 didn't help the situation either.

Tomorrow at 7:15, Belleville will play its first tourney game in refacing South Side at East Orange High School. South Side, which is seeded 4th in the Essex County Tournament, co-sponsored by Seton Hall and the Newark News, will present a problem for Belleville. However, the only way South Side could get hotter than last Friday is by not missing, while Belleville can and in all probability will show a vast improvement.

East Orange's big court will mean that the Bellboys will have a tougher time on defense. This game will count a lot, and I feel confident that the cagers will really help. The court may be big but the hoop's the same size. Belleville turned the tables on Seton Hall, and with the determination and will that Coach Lo Balbo has instilled in the boys, they may very well pull a repeat Seton Hall performance on the Streaks.

JV'S Down Orange as they Head for Tournament

The JV's, led by Bill Rush and Rich Pucciarello, did a fine job last Friday as they slipped past the Orange Tornadoes 41-39. Both teams played even ball in the first quarter as Rush scored 6 and Oese 2 for 8 points. The Tornadoes scored the same, but the scoring was more evenly distributed. Freshman Pucciarello came in during the second quarter and hit 10 of the 16 points scored. In the next half Orange outscored the Bellboys, thus tying them at the end of the game proper. Lew Visco finally took it away in the overtime with an underhand layup. Thus the game ended 41-39 Belleville.

The J.V.'s following the example of the Varsity, will be included in this year's J. V. tournament. They will face their first opponent, West Orange, this Saturday at 11 a.m. in Irvington High School.

St. Benedict's Fall to Mighty Frosh, 63-32

Nick Petty's abounding freshmen, led by Ed Gutknecht and Frank Mineo, continued to win as they slaughtered St. Benedicts 63-32. The game was Belleville's all the way. Pucciarello and Wedekind began the scoring juggernaut as they each went for 8 points in the first quarter. The team's most improved player, Bob Paterson, also hit 4 that period. The rest of the game was easy for Belleville as the whole team continued to stuff in baskets.

This year's freshman team, under the fine leadership of Nick Petty, is the best to come along in Belleville's history. The team has a lot of depth and shows a great deal of promise. They have been very successful in their past performances and should continue to do so in the future. The team's high scorer is Rich Pucciarello. Frank Mineo, Ed Gutknecht and Bob Paterson have also been a big help. The main reason for the squad's success is their willingness to learn and their hustle and desire. They deserve a great deal of credit and will definitely be instrumental in these coming years of trial.

Bellboys In Essex County Tournament

By RAY FERSKO

Led by Dave Hatch and Bob Byers the Bellboys upset a mighty Seton Hall team 67-65. This win was very big for Belleville as it placed them in the Essex County Tournament. At the same time it proved to be a big loss for Seton Hall as it dropped this team from first to second seeding.

The Pony Pirates took the lead as Schoenhaus hit a jumpshot from floor. Harmon retaliated with a similar throw and Byers drove under for two. Schoenhaus hit another jump shot and Morrison followed suit. Steve Fox then grabbed a rebound and went down court for a Belleville layup. He then grabbed a Setonian pass and converted it into another deuce.

Both teams played even ball until the last few seconds when Tomashewski dribbled down for a bunny and Belleville took a 20-18 lead.

Hatch and Byers combined forces in the second quarter as Belleville tallied a precarious 35-23 lead. In the second period, the Blue and Gold defense was superb as the Hall scored a mere 5 points, 3 by Morrison and 2 by O'Brien.

Seton Hall, legated by Morrison, continued to close the margin in the third period, but Hatch and Harmon kept Belleville ahead by 9 points.

The fourth quarter proved to be an exciting one as the Pirates finally cleared the gap and tied Belleville 65-65. The Hall scored 25 points this period, while Belleville went for 18. Sixteen of the 25 Setonian points were scored by Morrison. Finally, with seven seconds remaining in the game, Dave Hatch was fouled and went to the line to score 2 points, which sewed up the game for Belleville.

The Bellboys were hard at it again Friday night as Byers takes a high one that connected for another score against an outgunned opponent. A packed house watched the local team put up a good battle.

Map Mystery Man Is Identified

Lee Robbins, a clerk at the Boston Store at 538 Washington Avenue, apparently gets around.

Eleven persons identified him as the young man in last week's Map Page mystery contest. But first in line with an early datemark and correct identification was an old friend of his, Vince Palmieri, 125 Forest Street, who said he attended school with Robbins.

"I'm a graduate of Number 5 school," Palmieri said, "where I first met him. I recognized him immediately!"

Several other persons who correctly identified the young man, were disqualified for mispelling the name, while others were just too late in calling The Belleville Times with the information.

To Palmieri goes this week's five dollar bill.

Next week a smiling little blonde school girl will appear in The Times Map Page. Will you know her?

A new contest is now under way. Be sure you follow the rules.

Identify the person circled in the picture and name the place where the picture was taken.

Deliver your entry in person to the office of The Times-News at 246 Washington Avenue or send your answer through the mail. Telephone entries will not be accepted. No entries received later than noon on Friday of the same week that the picture appears will be considered, so submit your entry promptly.

The award will be made on the basis of correct and complete information. Give the full name of the person circled and make certain that it is spelled correctly. Name the business establishment (or other location where the picture was taken) with the officially correct title. Add any additional pertinent information which you may think interesting in connection with the picture. Such additional information may be a factor in awarding the prize.

A decision by The Times-News as to the winner is final and may not be disputed.

SUBURBAN WOMEN

With two-thirds of the season now completed, Tulane Ice Cream continues to hold on to their two and a half game lead as they bested Statmore's for two games in Suburban Women's League in action last Thursday evening.

Mencik's Market (Elaine Savino-500) took the odd game from Kavanaugh's to retain second place. Jean Collier (579), once again sparked her Le Fior Beauty team for a two-game victory over the Jetettes.

Clean sweeps of the evening were registered by La Monica's over the Prudential and Brook Gift (Carol Boland-500) over Allwood Pharmacy.

Other matches saw Garlock Liquors win two from Brookdale Beverages and Costa's Delicatessen and Betsy Ross Beauty end the evening with a tie game and one and a half games each.

Metal Relics Sought For Tercentenary Medallion

Do you have a New Jersey relic of bronze, copper, silver or zinc stored away in your attic or cellar that you would care to share with all Jerseymen? It could be some copper from the Schuyler mine which operated near Belleville in the 18th century or some zinc once refined from the Franklin ore mined in Sussex County.

A bronze Tercentenary Medallion will soon be struck honoring New Jersey's 300th anniversary in 1964 and the New Jersey Tercentenary Commission is looking for items containing non-ferrous metal that can go into the melt for the commemorative medallion.

All Jerseymen are invited to join the search for a hunk of appropriate metal by Paul L. Troast, Chairman New Jersey Tercentenary Commission. "The Tercentenary Medallion will be more than a souvenier of the State's 300th birthday in 1964," he said. "It will be a historic medallion for Jerseymen marking New Jersey's three centuries of people, purpose and progress."

The significance of the Tercentenary Medallion will be increased — especially for our young people — if the metal used in its making contains a fragment of some metal of significance in the growth of New Jersey. Anyone knowing where such a piece of non-ferrous metal can be obtained is urged to report the information to the New Jersey Tercentenary Commission, State House, Trenton.

Meads-Miller Group Scans Carpet Displays

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. David Meads and Mrs. Pearl Bates of Meads-Miller Co., Floor Coverings, 143 Franklin Avenue, Nutley, recently attended the showings of the new 1963 line of carpets displayed at 295 Fifth Avenue and at the Waldorf - Astoria Hotel in New York City.

Retailers, interior decorators and contractors in the floor covering field who attended were highly enthusiastic about the wide range of new colors and patterns being shown for this season. It was generally agreed that the new 1963 carpets are of better quality yard for yard than ever before.

Mr. Meads and Mr. Miller spent considerable time discussing styles and values, in order to be better able to serve the tastes and needs of their customers in the Nutley-Belleville area. "Meads-Miller has always taken great pride in the carpets we sell," observed Dave Meads, and he stressed that his attendance at this show was for the purpose of being better able to serve his customers in the area. In this regard, also, the firm is now in the process of enlarging its showrooms, and will soon take on the exclusive dealership for a new line of quality carpets and rugs.

Garden State Farms Charges OMI Conspiracy

Against consumer requests for lower milk prices, the Office of Milk Industry is acting in conspiracy with special dairy interests in refusing milk license applications, Pete Sandfort of Garden State Farms charged last week.

Sandfort's charge came in a statement issued after Governor Richard J. Hughes, state milk agency denied licenses to Garden State Farms' stores in North Haledon and Waldwick to sell milk. The North Haledon store was opened December 27, but OMI's controversial Regulation H-13 governing licenses has prevented the sale of milk, and forced postponement of the Waldwick store opening.

Garden State Farms' attorney Nicholas Martini will file an appeal from OMI director Floyd R. Hoffman's license refusal.

"We will challenge OMI's authority right down the line. If state controls can deprive consumers of freedom of choice and dictate to business as OMI has done, there is a threat to other areas of our life" Sandfort emphasized. "What is to prevent the state from saying there are too many gasoline stations, enough supermarkets and automobile dealers and so on down the line of all business enterprises? Whos' to say anyone can be free to earn a living for himself in an honorable business? This is clearly in defiance of citizens' constitutional rights.

"OMI has taken the dictatorial attitude it can rule who can go into business. We are strongly convinced that a state agency should not hold such authority. OMI flatly admitted at the hearing it failed to contact consumers, yet it now exercises its authority without regard to consumers. Such action must be challenged."

Profits Rise For Shop-Rite Parent Company

A gross volume increase of 56 per cent (to $41,101,088) and an increase in net profits of 149 per cent (to $439,409.) highlighted the annual report of General Supermarkets, Inc. of Passaic.

In a letter to stockholders released in the annual report, President Sanford Kesselman also announced that in the company's fiscal year, which ended November 3, 1962, the average stockholder's equity increased 46 per cent.

General Supermarkets owns and operates 11 very high volume Shop-Rite food super markets and the Shop-Rite Discount Department store in Paramus. Last year's record net profit resulted in earnings per share of 69 cents on the 636,844 shares outstanding, as compared to earnings of 28 cents a share for the year before.

The report announced that the company plans to open four more super markets in 1963, and that a number of other locations are under active consideration. Each of the new stores will contain at least 20,000 square feet of space.

Identify Your Tax Return In Legible Manner

"When will I get my refund?" is one of the questions most often asked of the busy tax assisters in the local offices of the Internal Revenue Service.

Frank S. Turbett Jr., said that failure to receive refund checks promptly is usually caused by illegible names or addresses.

Mr. Turbett said that it is permissible to sign your name at the bottom of the return in your usual manner, even though your signature is a hurried scrawl. At the top of the return, however, your name should be carefully printed. Your complete, current address should also be carefully printed along with your social security number. In other works, eliminate any doubt as to who you are and where you live.

Each year thousands of refund checks are returned to Internal Revenue offices because the postman cannot deliver them.

Director Turbett said that if the taxpayer has moved, he should show his new address to promptly receive refunds and other mail from Internal Revenue. If he moves after filing, a forwarding address should be left with the post office.

Tall Building, Low Satellite 'Going Steady'

The world's tallest building and the world's lowest "satellite" are going steady right in midtown Manhattan.

The building is the Empire State, of course, and its companion is a communication satellite simulator beacon tucked away on the 88th floor, 1075 feet above the city.

In participating in communication satellite experiments such as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Project Relay, ITT Federal Laboratories makes use of the satellite beacon to check out its ground communication station located on the company's Nutley grounds.

ITTFL's Space Communication Research Station is built to a basic space communications research concept and consists of two equipment - packed igloo-shaped buildings and a 40-foot parabolic antenna.

This station was the first to be assigned frequencies by the Federal Communications Commission for earth-space communication experiments.

The transportable ground equipment which was set up by ITTFL on the outskirts of Rio de Janeiro, and became the southern terminal of the 4820-mile Rio-Nutley Pan American communication bridge via the Relay satellite, was also checked out with the Empire State beacon while at Nutley.

The beacon atop the Empire State Building emits a low-power harmless radio signal which is picked up by the Nutley ground station. There, engineers of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation work with the transmission to "tune up" and calibrate the highly complex electronic equipment.

Such thorough advance system checks insure maximum performance from both men and equipment when the stations go into actual operation with satellites orbiting the earh miles in space.

The Empire State Building has been called, and justly so, the eighth wonder of the world.

The world's greatest TV tower tops the structure to reach 1472 feet above street level and beams programs into 5,200,000 sets in a four-state area.

The building's revolving search-lights can be seen for 300 miles.

Ships can be seen 40 miles at sea.

Spectators can gaze into five states from its heights.

And now a new accomplishment — acting as a satellite beacon to check out ground equipment that communicates across oceans and continents in a life in the space age.

No wonder over a million visitors from every state in the U. S. and nearly every foreign country visit the top of the Empire State Building each year.

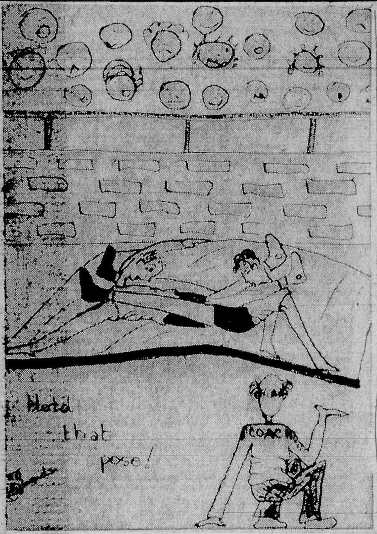
High School News



Representatives Visit Belleville High School

In the past two weeks Belleville High School Junior and Senior students have had the opportunity to hear speakers representing various types of schools. Repsesentatives from Berkeley Secretarial School, University of Miami, and the Eastern School for Physician's Aides visited Belleville High last week.

Mrs. James Chiavarou, admissions counselor of Berkeley School met with interested juniors and seniors. The following girls attended the meeting: Sally Domenick, Vicky Delmarmo, Connie Doumanis, Cheri Douglas, Laura De Rogatis, Janis Jannarone, Diane Kloneck, Audrey Lewis, and Karen Murray.

Mr. John Gerald of The University of Miami, Florida met with the following students: Robert Bonkowski, Ray Chapman, Joe Cecere, Emil D'Angelo, Roger Gaglione, Bill Long, Mike Liloia, Ray Morrison, Bill Napoli, Lee Robbins, Gail Ritchy, and John Senesky.

Mr. Charles Gordon, admissions counselor of the Eastern School for Physicians Aides, met with a group of juniors and seniors: Arthur Assantes, Jo Ann Androsiglio, Connie Doumanis, Vicky Delmarmo, Susan Gravante, Gail Ritchy, Jeanne Travers, Julie Travers, and Marilyn Velardi.

Other programs, arranged for in the near future by the Guidance Department, include visitations by representatives from Pennsylvania Military College, State Employment Service, Prudential Insurance Company and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

It Happens Next Week

By LAURA BAKER

FEBRUARY 18

The February Belleville High School P.T.A. Meeting will take place on Monday evening. The meeting will begin promptly at 8 o'clock in the Belleville High auditorium.

Detective A.M. Magnusson will be the guest speaker. The program will center around his talk on "Indecent Literature." He will discuss the problems and what can be done about this rising problem in our society.

Parents are urged to attend what will surely be an enjoyable and informative evening.

FEBRUARY 20

A Student Council Meeting of all the school representatives will be held on Wednesday. The meeting will take place during the eighth period.

The representatives will be able to offer any suggestions they have received from their homeroom.

FEBRUARY 22

School will be closed on Friday in commemoration of Washington's Birthday.

DANCE CANCELED

The Sweethearts Soiree, which was to take place on February 11, was canceled early last week. The National Honor Society and Student Council, which were cosponsoring the dance, are planning to give one in May in its stead.

MONAD NEARLY READY

Work on the Monad, the Belleville High School Yearbook, is completed for this year except for the section that deals with spring sports. The business staff for the book and the last payment had to be made on last Friday. The ad staff has also been very busy in the last week soliciting ads for the yearbook from local merchants.

Joe Del Guercio Leads Mat Team

By MARIA CORINO

Belleville High School's first Varsity Wrestling Team under the leadership of Head Coach Stanley Scher has scored impressive victories.

Outstanding in his own class is Captain Joe Del Guercio. Joe combines experience and strength in portraying a fine example of what a good body and mind can do. Joe was never handed a defeat, but says, "You can always tell if your opponent is good when you first touch him."

The team practices hard and looks up to Joe, as he has proven worthy with his fine abilities. Joe says, "The team is strong in every weight class all the way up from 95 pounds to the heavyweights." Joe adds that Mr. Scher is a good coach that never wants to lose. Del Guercio partipates in varsity football and track. His spare time is spent lifting weights and working on his car.

WHAT A MESS

When the Good Lord passed out brains—I thought he said trains and I missed mine.

When he gave out looks — I thought he said books and didn't want any.

When he said noses—I thought he said roses, and I ordered a big, red one.

When he gave out ears — I thought he said beers and I ordered two big ones.

When he said legs—I thought he said kegs and ordered two fat ones.

When he said chin—I thought he said gin and ordered a double. Am I a mess!

Virginia Apgar Will Speak Here

Parent Teacher Therapist Association of the Cerebral Palsy School and Treatment Center at 7 Sanford Avenue, will hold a regular meeting Thursday, February 14 at 8 p.m.

Dr. Virginia Apgar will speak on "Natal Factors in Cerebral Palsy."

Dr. Apgar is a noted specialist in the problems of newborn infants, and the creator of the "Apgar Score," a clinical evaluation made within 60 seconds after birth to determine normality or brain damage before or during birth.

Dr. Apgar is director, Division of Congenital Malformations with the National Foundation's medical scientific research staff and is the author of more than 40 written reports.

The meeting is open to the public.

Rogge Urges Rejection Of Portion Of Tax Reform Program

Property owners of New Jersey are urged by John A. Rogge, president of the New Jersey Association of Real Estate Boards, to prevail upon their congressmen to reject those portions of the Administration's 1963 Tax Reform Program that would curtail the present home owners' tax deduction of mortgage interest payments, real estate taxes and casualty losses.

The Realtor head notes that New Jersey property owners who at the current time, according to the 10th Tax Policy Study Commission report, pay the highest amount of real estate taxes of any group in the nation, would suffer immensely if the Administration's recommendations are not eliminated.
