Council To Pick Manager

30 Applicants From Throughout Country Seek Belleville Post

Belleville Town Council has some 30 applicants from which to choose for the post of town manager, said Charles B. Tedesco, acting town manager Tuesday night during their regular meeting.

Town critics had claimed there would be difficulty in getting a replacement for ousted former town manager William A. Sommers.

"Some were from as far as west of the Mississippi," Tedesco said.

Topic Stirs Discord

The controversial topic of a new town manager raised some heat among the councilmen and stirred disagreement among several of the audience.

Councilman Thomas P. Green said he was not in accord with his colleagues plan to hear all 30 of the applicants in person. (They had been notified, said Tedesco, that they could come to Belleville for the interview "at their own expense.")

Reduce The Field

"We need one now," said Green. It would take considerable time to screen all these applicants, he said, and thought it would be expedient to reduce the number by a preliminary screening of the prospective managers, and personally interviewing the remainder.

The salary, according to the administrative code, is $14,000 to $17,000 a year.

In other business, the Council: Appointed Ralph M. Allaire, 69 Floyd Street to fill the unexpired term of William Abomson, who resigned from the Board of Adjustment.

Cops, Firemen In Pay Raise Dispute

Team Effort Broken

Belleville firefighters saw red last week when Police Benevolent Association officials complained of their individual effort to gain a pay raise from Town Council.

All pay increase petitions were to be a joint effort, said Fire Chief Carl F. Hundertpfund, and the cops had let them down by making their request alone. Most firemen and policemen were on equal pay levels throughout the county, he observed.

Friday Michael V. Marotti, president of PBA Local 28, said "There was no feud and I have no comment to make" after reading the account of the firemen and police officers separate paths to economic security.

Cops In Separate Try

He said the local's executive board had made the decision of appealing for the policemen only. "We will work alone," he

Duncan M. Freely, 76 Van Houten Place, has agreed to be a judge at the Third Hudson County Science Fair to be held at the Jersey City State College, Hudson Boulevard, Jersey City, March 19.

Freely will serve along with four other judges in this area of scientific endeavor.

School Board Announces A $2,982,000 Bond Sale

The newly reorganized Board of Education met Monday night at School 4 and approved a resolution calling for a school district bond sale of $2,982,000, tabulated by the Board of Education.

It was, as Max M. Schwartz, Board attorney said, "a classic example of a business meeting without name-calling and personal recriminations."

One Member Absent

Mrs. Thomas F. McCool, the disident representative of the seven member Board, was the only person absent. She telephoned Board secretary Mary Shader at 8:22 p.m. and said she would be unable to attend. She offered no explanation.

In an opening statement, Nicholas S. Juliano, newly elected Board president, warned in the oblique reference to members of the Citizens' Tax Council, that he would not tolerate "irresponsible and obvious attempts to belittle the Board."

He would prevent, he said, the abuse of the democratic process by those who would "pervert it to irresponsible use." However,

Juliano added, he and the Board members would welcome intelligent comment and discussion from the public.

Even in her absence, Mrs. McCool's presence was felt by the members which led to a 50-minute discussion of her reasons for abstaining from voting on the school budget January 28. She had claimed pertinent information had been withheld from her, without which she could not make an intelligent evaluation of the issue.

Ernest S. Arvidson, vice president of the Board, sought to

Unanimous Vote One Of The Quietest So Far

In one of the briefest annual re-organizational meetings old-timers could recall — some nine minutes — the Belleville Board of Education unanimously elected Nicholas S. Juliano president of the Board, and re-elected Ernest S. Arvidson vice president, February 18 at School 8.

There was none of the personal recrimination that have marked previous board meetings and there was no objection to the selection of the two men for the offices.

Richard H. Drake, a 6 foot four inch, soft-spoken insurance executive who had held the post of president for the past year, declined the nomination offered by Mrs. Thomas F. McCool.

Juliano Accepts Office

Mrs. Mary Shader, board secretary who opened the meeting and supervised the voting relinquished the chair to the new president.

"I intend to stimulate a year as fruitful as my predecessor, Richard H. Drake," Juliano told his audience to applause. "Belleville can progress and continue the school expansion program now that I and the entire board, have been given an overwhelming vote of confidence by the public."

In the audience sat two former board presidents, Mrs. Violet F. Rochau, 53 Fairview Place, and Dominic A. Lally, 287 Franklin Avenue, now president of the Board of Adjustment; Mrs. Daniel A. McCarthy, 228 Ralph Street and president of the Consolidated PTA's in Belleville; several representatives of other PTA's and the "Alert Belleville Citizen's" committee.

Decorum Rules

To Mrs. Rochau the peaceful changeover in board leadership came as a pleasant surprise. She was the first unanimous vote in ten years, at least, she observed.

Education Defense Fund Group Meets With 'The Eight'

The eight former and present members of the Belleville Board of Education under indictment by an Essex County grand jury met early Monday evening with members of the Education Defense Fund committee and discussed various matters connected with alleviating the financial burden which the eight must assume individually for their legal defense. The gathering took place at the For-Hills Restaurant.

The joint meeting came about at the suggestion of the Defense Fund committee, headed by the Rev. Fred L. Long. Following an exchange of ideas, the five present board members at the meeting left to attend the Board of Education meeting regularly scheduled for the fourth Monday of the month. The three previous board members also left.

The remaining group then consolidated the thinking of the evening and planned to go ahead with several activities aimed at raising funds for those indicted.

One of the more important projects planned is a Vote of Confidence dinner, which the citizens of Belleville would be asked to attend as their testimonial to eight public servants whom they believe have been unjustly accused.

In the meantime, donations to the fund are coming in regularly. Dr. Long reported there were more donations since the last previous meeting of the committee only a few days ago.

Present at the gathering were present board members Ernest S. Arvidson, Nicholas S. Juliano

Richard Drake, Arthur M. Pico and Dr. Frank DiRugiero; previous members Mrs. Edward A. Rochau, Michael V. Albertine and Dominic Lally, and Defense Fund committee members Rev. Frederick L. Long, Rev. Arthur W. Stevens, Rev. George Van Leuven, Allan Crisp, John Gualtieri, Mrs. William Taffett, Mrs. James V. Cataldo, Edward T. Nowak, and Walter J. Storms.

Belleville Elks Contribute To Institute Funds

The Crippled Children's committee of Belleville BPOE Lodge 1122, made a contribution of $100 to the Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation in support of its Program for disabled children. Representing Belleville Lodge was Edward Strat, Past Exalted Ruler and chairman of the Lodge Board of Trustees, and Michael Gaydos, chairman of the Elks Crippled Children's Committee.

The Elks have made other contributions in support of the institute's work and on behalf of individual children who have come to the Institute from the Belleville community.

The gift was received by William K. Page, Executive Director of the Institute, and Belleville Lodge representatives toured the Institute's facilities.

She Picked A Winner

That little slip of paper you see in pretty Patricia Flynn's hand belonged to William T. Bowers, a 22-year-old student at Glassboro State College, and it made him last week's winner of the George Washington's Birthday sales contest and a $50 U. S. Savings Bond. He had been attracted to Belleville by the sales and because his father's birthday was February 23rd.

Student Is Pledged

Alex Iaculla, Belleville High School graduate attending Susquehanna University at Selinsgrove, Pa., was recently pledged to Iota Eta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Adjustment Board To Meet Tuesday Evening

Belleville Board of Adjustment will meet Tuesday, March 5 at 8 p.m., at Town Hall and will consider all pending applications, said Dominic A. Lally.

Young Adults Will Meet Next Wednesday

Young Adults of Holy Family parish will hold their first meeting of the year March 6 at 8 p.m. at the CYO building. Those 18 to 26 are invited to attend.

CTC: Unauthorized Names Used During The Campaign

The Citizens Tax Council, a group who claim to represent a large segment of the town's taxpayers, came under fire from outraged Belleville residents last week.

They charged the CTC with the deceptive use of their names in a two-page advertisement in another newspaper endorsing Paul J. Francisco as a candidate for the Board of Education.

Among them was a president of School 7 PTA and other active workers for school progress, who said they not only did not know Francisco, but were opposed to his election.

But Francisco, a former president of the "council" lost anyway, even with the bogus endorsements.

Their "Endorsement" A Surprise

Mrs. Sidney Ruggan, 115-Cella Terrace, president of School 7 PTA, said she was surprised to see her name listed in eleventh place on the advertisement.

She and her husband had signed the petition endorsing Francisco "mostly to get rid of the man" who was circulating the list. "If we had known he was a CTC president, we definitely would not have signed for him," she declared.

Mrs. Violet Hildebrand, 56 Cella Terrace, said she didn't know Francisco nor did she endorse his platform. "Why I didn't even know it was there," she said when told her signature appeared in the advertisement.

PAUL J. FRANCISCO

"quote me!" Mrs. Misuriello said she had been working for school progress, and was concerned about the reaction of friends who may have thought she had changed her mind after seeing the advertisement.

Both women said they recognized other names in the list whom they had suspected were unauthorized because of their past record of pro-school policies.

Also on the list was an "R. Drake." President of the Board of Education at that time was Richard H. Drake. "And it certainly wasn't me," Drake said, "I endorsed Juliano and Arvidson."

Old Mailing List Used

Mrs. Thomas Reid, 236 New

Street, telephoned Francisco to complain of the improper use of her name in the advertisement. She was told that another family with the same name lived at 33 Van Buren Street. "I want people to know it wasn't me who signed that thing," she said.

A third woman, who asked not to be identified, said she had joined the CTC when it was first organized and had donated a dollar for its use. Later, she said, when she became aware of the CTC's real purpose, she dropped out.

The Number Variables

"They weren't interested in helping the school program," she said. "They were against everything."

Apparently, she said, the organization had kept her name on the roll to pad their membership lists numerically.

Attempts to verify the CTC's membership count by this newspaper have varied by 36 actual count, to some 365 by Lee Garson, CTC spokesman. The list of names "endorsing" Francisco numbered 251.

Francisco had made two other attempts to win a seat on the Board of Education, each time backed by the CTC, of which he is a former president. After his defeat at the polls February 13, he announced his intentions of ending his career in politics.

"The Tax Council is finished," he said.

They're Compact and Inexpensive . . .

Paperback Books Serve Dual Purpose At Public Library

The ubiquitous paperback took over the stands at Belleville Public Library this week when 60 of the tiny books, part of the Home Reference Library, went on display. They're not only compact they are inexpensive, said Library Director Ben E. Grim. The paperbacks have a retail value of $10 as compared to $83.00 for hardcover books.

John R. Abram, Assistant Library Director, said the exhibit was prepared to demonstrate the wide range and excellent quality of informational books now readily available in inexpensive editions.

"People still tend to think of the paperback as primarily a cheap piece for light reading," Abram said. "Something to read then forget and toss away. But, he pointed out, "There are many titles now being published which have a lasting usefulness for homemakers and hobbyists as well as students."

Reference paperbacks now available on the library display include the following:

Random McNally pocket World Atlas, (75c.) Shorter Bartlett's Familiar Quotations, (50c.) Merriam-Webster Pocket Dictionary, (35c.) Kodak Home-movie Camera Guide, (35c.) Guide to Tropical Fish, (60c.) Fannie Farmer Cookbook, (95c.) Office Encyclopedia (50c.), Bullfinch's Mythology, (35c.) Encyclopedia of House Plants, (95c.) Roget's Pocket Thesaurus, (35c.) Book of Camperdown, (35c.) Harvard Brief Dictionary of Music, (60c.)

In addition to the reference books, the library this month added 72 new popular titles to its paperback collection.

Since its inception last July the collection of paperbacks has had a phenomenal popularity with the library's users and has served two important purposes, Abram said. First, it is an inexpensive way of duplicating titles in the regular collection which come into heavy short-term public demand, usually due to a group reading assignment given in the schools or to the focus of public attention because of some current event.

Secondly, the library is able to purchase some "quality" titles in paper covers which simply are not available in hardcover editions or whose hardcover editions are so expensive as to be prohibitive in terms of the library's book budget.

The library now has a total of 305 circulating paperbacks, and their popularity with Belleville's library users may be judged from the fact that they are borrowed at the rate of 87 per cent turnover each month.

Robert De Pass Earns His Eagle Scout Badge

Robert DePass, a Belleville Boy Scout, achieved Scouting's Highest accolade February 19 when he was awarded the Eagle Scout badge during a Court of Honor held by Scout Troop 331 at Grace Baptist Church.

Other scouts also received awards from Scoutmaster Robert Rudin. Robert lives at 2 Marion Court.

Arvidson, a manufacturer, makes his home at 178 Floyd Street and has been vice president of the board for the past year. He is also very active in Belleville Boy Scout affairs as well as other civic organizations. He recently was chairman of a four-school investigative report.

One Final Effort

Mrs. McCool, a bitter opponent of the two men, made one last effort to sidetrack the election of at least one of the men by nominating Drake for re-election. She failed.

She also renewed her pledge to guard the public welfare by opposing programs and policies by the board which she felt were lacking in merit.

"If I remain on the Board," she added cryptically. There have been rumors she may have outlined her willingness to the Citizens Tax Council and may tender her resignation.

Cops

The recent reduction 14 hours in the work week for firemen was granted by voters last May. This reduction, Marotti said, was the same as a $1,500 pay raise. "They didn't petition the council for a raise as we did," he said, "but they expect to reap the benefits."

Position Jeopardized

Hundertpfund said the police were unfair to make a separate effort to get a raise after making a "promise."

"Since they have tentatively been granted a raise," Hundertpfund said, "there is no reason for them to be peeved at us."

Meanwhile, Councilman James R. Golden took the view the firemen's request would jeopardize the cops position.

Marotti explained that the police department sought the raise in the belief the firemen were satisfied with their reduction in working hours.

Council tentatively approve a budget item giving the policemen a $250-a-year increase bringing their annual salary to $8,350, while firemen would remain at the $5,200 level.

Heard Thomas McGill, 12 Forest Street, disclaim any connection with the Citizens Tax Council, as he proposed consideration of firemen getting a raise when the Council studies the Police Department's request for a raise.

balance the minutes of that meeting by having Mrs. McCool's remarks stricken from the minutes. (She had requested the remarks be made part of the record.)

Arvidson said that a categorical refutation of the remarks by six other members had gone unrecorded.

Let Minutes Stand

Rather than "edit" the minutes, said Schwartz, it would be advisable to include the other members' remarks in the record to balance the testimony, to which the members agreed.

George H. Brown, an attorney and Board member, suggested that "Mrs. McCool's folly" be kept on the records for posterity because it was readily "recognizable for what it was."

"It has been refuted and branded for what it is," agreed Schwartz. But, he added, she is still a member of the Board even if the public approved "having such a person on the Board."

School 4 Report

A Board committee report came under discussion from parents at School Four. Had the Board intentions of acting on the recommendations of the report handed down several weeks ago?

Juliano explained that the new Board was in its formative stages, but would consider the report at a later date. No, he could not say just what the Board would do as yet, but the matter would be studied.

Payment for tests to be made at the site of the new high school were laid at the door of architect Alfonso Alvarez after members examined the two testing services offered for their consideration. "Select the best," said Schwartz, "as long as the architect is paying." New Jersey Testing Laboratories got the job.

Resolution Tabled

A resolution asking the Board to adopt a salary guide was tabled and later remodeled after it was found the provisions of the guide might "hamstring" Schools Superintendent Dr. Frank M. Durbin's negotiations with prospective school employees.

Bids for the bonds will be received March 20 by the Board. The board is duty bound to carry out plans approved in the referendum and construct the multi-purpose rooms.

The disputed guide granted pay increases of more than $80,000 for the system's 235 teachers — who could get a $326 average annual increase — and some 30 custodians, who would get some $200 per man in increases.

A School Four survey was tabled when members sought to have separate surveys made of the schools regarding a multi-purpose room.

Social Security Refunds Due In Some Cases

Edward J. Sinder, Social Security District Manager, emphasizes that if you worked for two employers during 1962, you may be entitled to have any excess social security taxes you paid refunded, or applied to reducing the income tax owed.

In 1962, he said, you as an employee had 3% percent of your earnings up to the first $4800 a year deducted from your wages by your employer. Your W-2 Form should show no more than $150 deducted from your wages in the F.I.C.A. box even if you were paid more than $4800, the maximum creditable for social security.

Mr. Sinder pointed out that if you worked for two or more employers during the year and the amounts in the F.I.C.A. boxes on all of your W-2 Forms add up to more than $150, you have some money coming back.

Richard H. Drake

Steering a schoolastic ship through financial seas beset by underwater indictments and piratical potshots fired by irresponsible critics from a safe distance is not an easy chore.

But Richard H. Drake made an admirable pilot during the past year in which he served as president of the Belleville Board of Education. Soft-spoken and gentle, he nevertheless arbitrated with skill the many problems brought before the board.

At times his patience may have been sorely tried by the antics of splinter political factions who used freedom of speech as a launching platform for defamatory torpedoes aimed at the board. Each time Drake dispelled these attacks with quiet logic. No one ever accused him of seeking personal gain during his four years on the Board of Education.

We should have more like him. Well done, Mr. Drake.

The Sound And Fury

"It's wonderful," the Chinese ambassador remarked last year after observing the democratic processes at work, "how you Americans can change governments without killing anybody."

The graceful compliment is welcome; but American restraint should not be put down to national virtue — especially in Belleville. It is a matter of population density.

The School Board elections last week were a disappointment to many who did cast their votes. Many, perhaps, were disgusted at the low tactics of certain political factions which seem to infest our Town.

Numbering a mere 35,005 in this enormous county of 923,545, Belleville residents are practically shoulder to shoulder, and in the event of political war, as frequently happens here, the route marches through traffic-clogged streets would be so tedious that the troops would be bored stiff before a shot could be fired.

There is also the point that little more than a few feet separate our residents, but even so we cannot afford to lose many of them permanently in a political brawl. And our residents, willingly or not, pay the municipal tab each year.

So if we do not shoot one another during elections, it is not that the idea has never occurred to anyone, it's simply not economically feasible.

They're Doing Their Best

The Belleville Times does not advocate a colorless, bland, or cozy compact between our legislators, the men who carry out their mandates, and the public-at-large. Not only would it be non-productive; it would be humanly unattainable.

But we cannot emphasize too strongly the critical need for unity of purpose among town administrators. Those harboring serious political ambitions would be wise to make the public's welfare paramount.

The injection of business and professionally oriented men in our town's administrative bodies have served to benefit the town's future—despite the haggling and apparent discord which marks all public meetings.

Scratch any sincere councilman, school board member, or other public servant and good, rich, American blood will ooze forth. They all mean well.

READER CAN SOLVE ALL BELLEVILLE'S PROBLEMS

To The Editor, The Times-News: I would like this considered an open letter to the Belleville Town Council, and will invite The Belleville-Times to print it since it is of great interest to the Belleville taxpayers, who appear to be invited again to shut up, and play the forgotten man.

I will for the time being only touch on fundamental principles, covering our new council-manager form, and this letter shall only express disappointment and justified criticism of the taxpayers, and not be an outright condemnation of your performance as elected councilmen.

Belleville changed from a miserable commission form to the council-manager with the one and only purpose that we must have relief from the outrageous tax carnivals, politically inspired to serve the interests of certain minority groups of one kind or the other.

Belleville had enough of those $25 to $50 increases every year, imposed by the self-styled potentates. A repetition of this will not be tolerated, and there are means to set things right the hard way, if it cannot be accomplished the easy way.

Your proposed budget is an outright insult to the taxpayers and a betrayal of their confidence and above all a default of your election pledges. We are having enough trouble with the three-month mania flap, and now you have seen fit to have a city employee stick try to play manager and make up the town budget.

Without malice, I do not think that Mr. Tedesco with his Town Hall background is qualified to make up the budget. The not very bright idea of the council not to wait with the budget, and let a qualified, experienced, efficient manager do it, smells to me like somewhat very confused thinking, (kindergarten style).

The very talkative Mr. Golden says the budget represents the best shake in 12 years. I wonder what the ones that follow will look like.

You councilmen, all or only some are on the wrong track, and you better do some switching. After nine months in office, you should know that the voters elected you to keep the taxes down, the yearly pay-rise carnivals of the town employees must come to an end, and plain "NO'S" in this respect are now in order. It does not take a bright man to know the old sickness in Belleville was "overstaff, underpaid, and overpay."

There are enough $10,000 or so clerks around, they could not command $4,000 in the open market with their qualifications.

You gentlemen were elected in good faith to set Belleville in order with a professional manager, not the Charley McCarthy type. If you want to start a new political gravy-train, you better think twice, and mend your ways because you are expendable and the Belleville taxpayers will finally get their way, either in a way you have promised to do it or otherwise with a new council.

I wish you well, and I hope things can straighten out. Taxes in Belleville must come down with a budget based on sound economy.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

The following is an excerpt from a statement by Philco as printed in a number of leading newspapers. It is aimed at the only remaining major manufacturer of handwired TV sets and his claims about this manner of wiring:

"It's time somebody challenged the misleading propaganda about 'hand wiring' in TV sets. The simple truth is that the much touted and advertised 'hand wiring' in some TV sets is an outmoded type of construction, not to be compared for reliability and trouble free performance with modern copper engraved circuit boards." The article continues to state that hand wiring with its hundreds of hand operations and solder connections at one time was the only method known. Every service man will tell you his troubles with "cold solder connections."

Space technology made a more reliable and uniform assembly technique than hand wiring imperative. The industry developed special raw materials, components, production equipment and techniques which have resulted in the development of copper-engraved boards far more reliable than hand wiring. Nevertheless this one manufacturer continues to the effect that "hand wiring" means better performance, fewer service problems and greater operating dependability. It stands to reason that all electronic equipment used for rocket and space technology would be handwired, if this would make it better or more reliable. You won't find hand wiring in this equipment. The joke is that this manufacturer uses already copper - engraved boards for some of his radios while still using hand wiring for TV sets.

"Hand wiring," because of the implied association with "hand made," sounds very good, but it does not make the best television sets.

Our Annual Magnavox Clearance sale runs now for the second week. We still have a good selection of drastically reduced sets, some are one of a kind. If you are in the market for a new TV or Hi-Fi, here is your once in a year chance to buy the best for less.

We service what we sell.

THE SIDELINES

By RAY FERSKO

The Bellboys lost to South Side 65-48 in the Essex County Tournament. As the buzzer sounded the season closed with a 5-10 record. Characteristic of the season, the South Side Tourney game was a poor one. The defense did not hold and the offense was not patient enough.

Through the year the team has seen that if you have a strong defense, your offense will come. However, in the last contest the team had neither. The Bellboys gave the boards away too easily and South Side had their season's best night for shooting, as Larry Johnson pumped in 22 from 16 feet away from the hoop.

Coach Lo Balbo is still working with the freshmen and sophomores until March 1, when the season is legally over. The squad went over defense and all other important phases of the game.

Right now, Belleville has a lot of up and coming freshmen and sophomores appearing on the scene. This season a main problem was lack of depth. However, the underclassmen received a great deal of invaluable experience this year, and should benefit the squad in the future. Next year will be a lean year in which the Bellboys will begin building, but in two years Belleville should have the horses to run with plus a very strong bench of Juniors. As I have said before, with Coach LoBalbo holding the reins Belleville is on its way up in basketball.

Del Guercio, Moisenko, and Valse Reach Semi-Finals

Coach Stan Scher's grapplers have officially closed his pioneer season of wrestling. The team entered in the District 10 State Championship Wrestling Tourney. Other schools represented in the match were such powerhouses as Morristown, Caidwell, Parsippany, Bloomfield, Montclair and Verona.

Nine Belleville boys reached the quarter finals and three made it as far as the semi-finals. Pat Valse, who was third seeded in the meet, won two matches and then lost the third, which he entered even though he had taken sick. Oleg Moisenko went into his third match and lost on a two-point decision. Joe Del Guercio, who ended the season with a 7-1 record, lost by one point in the semi-finals.

The season was very successful. The final record was 4-2 for the varsity and 2-2-1 for the J.V.'s. The next few years will be hard for Belleville as the competition is getting tough. Next year the team will have 10 matches and it will also enter in the Passaic Christmas tournament. The Bellboys have firmly placed their foot in the door now, and the squad shows a lot of promise for the future.

Good Potential Is Seen In Wrestling

By AL MCCLURE

Few high school wrestling coaches can look forward to a new season as happily as Coach Al Scher of Belleville.

After a successful initial year Coach Scher finds that 10 of his 12 varsity grapplers will return next season. Next year's potential was very evident in the District Wrestling Tournament, where the Bellboys placed 7 of his 12 entries into the quarter-finals and three into the semi-finals.

Those wrestlers making the quarter-finals of the tournament were Chip Lepre (136 lb.), Danny Bivona (129 lbs.), and Rich (115 lb.) and Dave Ebert (122 lb.). Bivona and Lepre decisively won their preliminary bouts to reach the quarter-finals while the Ebert brothers were awarded byes. However, Belleville was unfortunate in the seedings and the Eberts each wrestled the man who was to eventually win the championship. Both brothers came close to upsetting the champions, before going down to defeat by scores of 1-0.

Captain Joe DelGuercio (157 lb.), Vase Moisenko (157 lb.) and Pat Valse (147 lb.) were more fortunate and were able to reach the semi-final round. Del Guercio, one of the finest 156 lb. wrestlers in the area, lost a heartbreaking 1-0 decision. His opponent eventually became the new champion.

Valse, also a promising young wrestler, was suffering from a virus on the day of the tournament and was no match for his opponent. Moisenko, in his first year of wrestling, lost to a wrestler with far more experience.

In fact, experience was the keynote of the day. Belleville wrestlers this season have shown that they have several of the ingredients that make an outstanding team. They have spirit. They have conditioning. They have good wrestling skill. However, there is one thing they lack. That is experience.

In their initial varsity year most teams fail to win a single match. Belleville won three matches. This is a successful season.

Next year they will still have spirit, drive and conditioning. Coach Scher will see to that. But they will also have the one ingredient that separates the runners-up from the champions. That is experience.

Only one warning can be given to the opponents who must meet this Bellboy team next year and that is "Beware."

Freshmen Rout
Irvington Team
By 69 - 20 Score

By RAY FERSKO

The Freshmen, under the direction of Nick Petty, ended a highly successful 11-4 season with a 69-20 romp over the Irvington Campers.

Belleville took a quick lead right from the start as Pucciarelli went down court twice and came up with 4 points. Frank Minco then stole a camper pass and went under for a 3-point play. He then stepped back and sank a bunny from the line. Irvington's Newman hit a deuce from the outside, but Pucciarelli rattled off another two buckets. Camper Aiello then hit from the line and the first period ended 11-3 Belleville.

Irvington played its best in the second period as it went for 8 points. Three were by Magnelli, who took a Bellboy pass, converted it to a deuce, and having been fouled on the way up, shot another one from the line. Aiello went for two. Feingold one and Lauria and Newman two. Belleville hit 13 in the second quarter, 3 by Laungo, 3 by Minco, 4 from Pucciarelli and 1 by Peterson.

The second half score was 43-7 and Belleville dominated for the duration. Baker started Belleville's rampage with a quick deuce, Irvington's Governelli came back with a popper from the high spot. Then Minco, Pucciarelli, Gutknecht and Patterson each scored successive field goals. The Campers gained another three points on foul shots and Belleville gained 14 more on field goals by Visco, Pucciarelli, Minco, Gutknecht and Corino.

As Belleville moved into the final quarter the defense was superb. Irvington scored one field goal against Belleville's nine. Finally, three foul shots successfully wrapped the game up 69-20, Belleville.

KEGLERS KOLUMN

MONDAY NIGHT 5:00

The first place Yankees were surprised by Belleville Paint who were bowling one man short and lost the first game to them. They quickly recovered to take the next two games and maintain their six and one half game lead over the rest of the league.

Joe Risoli was high man for the Yankees with (227) 537 and Capmen Fortunato's (201) 553 led the Belleville Paint squad. Second place V. Strumolo Association fired a new high three game set 278 but only took two games from Branch Brook Manor. As the charged up Branch Brook Manor squad outshot Strumolo 977 to 959 in their first match. It was Strumolo all the way in the next two games. Richie Lowack sparked Strumolo's with his fine 626 series including a 222 and 220 games. Lowest man on the Strumolo squad had a 527 series. Nick Gaccione led Branch Brook with a fine 589 (227-212) series.

Robson Plumbing outlasted La Fede Foods to take the first two games dropping LaFede back to fourth place. LaFede salvaged the last game by a good margin. Vinny Fortunato (204) 569 and Joe Lang 584 were high for Robson while Charles Paul 583 (212) and Jerry Schiazzano (226) 547 led the way for LaFede. Dell'Omo Construction caught the low bowling Star Wire squad for two games with one man shy in their lineup. Lou Stefanelli (207) 568 and Jules Dell'Omo (206) 550 led the way for Dell'Omo.

OLYMPIC TWIN MAJOR

Parkview House of Lyndhurst was victorious in 2 of 3 games which enabled them to hang onto first place by a mere game in Belleville's Olympic Twin Major League. Led by Windy Antonio's 590, Parkview House defeated Andy's Sport Shop twice after dropping the first game by a narrow margin.

Meanwhile, Basile's climbed in to second place by blanking Cerrato's Plumbers quite handily. The onslaught was led by V. Stolfi (232, 185, 223-620), A. Mirabile (192, 209, 221-622), and S. Antonelli (189, 213, 201-603).

Other whitewashings were administered by Porcella Jewelers to Olympic Bowl and All Butcher to Sunrise Dairies. High scores among these four teams were Dom Cerrato (184, 214, 233-631), Al Porcella (211, 210, 180-601), C. Serio (175, 223, 203-601), Ron

Short Tips On Beauty

TO KEEP MAKE-UP FRESH

To keep your make-up looking fresh, try this! After applying make-up, soak a tissue or cotton pad in cold water - wring it out and gently press it to your face.

Your make-up will keep a dewy, fresh glow.

LIP CARE

To protect your lips from chapping, drying out or cracking during the wintry months wear the creamiest lipstick you can buy. Then at night - use one of the special colorless anti-chap lipsticks to keep your lips feeling soothed and smooth.

PREVENT SMEARING

Mascara and eyeliner won't smear on your face if you dust your lids and eyelashes with powder before applying eye make-up.

FOR SATINY SKIN

Beautiful while you sleep! For soft, satiny skin... use a moisture cream or lotion at night. Winter-dryness and flakiness are smoothed away. If you've been skipping night creams because of that "greasy" feeling... get the "vanishing" type moisturizer in either cream or lotion form.

AVOID SLOUCHING

If you tend to slouch, think "tall." You'll be surprised how much better your sitting and standing posture will be... and you'll feel better, too!

Household Hints . . .

SWEET-SOUR BEETS

While beets are available all year their peak season begins in May and continues through October. To prepare sweet-sour beets, cook, slice and marinate them in equal parts of sugar, vinegar and water which has been simmered briefly with salt and a teaspoon or two of mixed pickling spice. Raw onion slices are a delicious addition. Let stand for several hours or overnight before serving.

I am dating a well-educated young man, but I never attended college. When we get together with his friends, they discuss books I am not familiar with and am left out of their conversations. What would you suggest to remedy my situation? Rosemarie V.

A. If you want to broaden your reading experience, see your local librarian. She is an expert in this area and has specially compiled reading lists that can help you begin a systematic program of learning. And don't imagine that it's drudgery, either. Classics and contemporary literature are alive, exciting and stimulating. I am sure that your young man would welcome the chance to advise you on this subject... he will be delighted to see that you are interested enough in books - and in him - to start reading seriously.

Q. For years my brother's best friend has visited our house almost every day. All this time I have had a crush on him. But he still thinks of me as the "kid sister" and never even notices me even though I'm around all the time. What can I do? Linda D.

A. Perhaps being around all the time is the root of your trouble. Seeing you almost every day, he has probably never really seen any change in you. I suggest that you make yourself scarce when he shows up, until he has a chance to miss you. Then, show up suddenly wearing a completely new hairdo, the most attractive outfit you can find and adopt a fresh, mature attitude. Act like a grown-up... learn more about his interests and get him started in conversations... and, above all, try and find some excuse for seeing him away from your

High School News

American Legion Oratory Contest

By JACKIE FOSTER
A few weeks ago Belleville High played host to the first American Legion Oratorical Contest held in Belleville. The school administration asked the senior history teachers for a list of prospective contestants. A group of five seniors were then asked to compete in the semi-finals. They were: Marjorie James, Marcia Peck, Judi Underwood, Susan Hoeh and John Peslak.
Each of these students were asked to prepare a ten to 12-minute speech on any phase of the American Constitution. This contest was held a few weeks ago in the school's seventh and eighth period history classes. The appointed judges were Mr. Miller, Mr. Jacone and Mr. Knuipple. Of this group Judi Underwood and Marcia Peck were chosen to compete in the final. Marjorie James was designated as second runner-up.
At the final judging each girl was to present a speech, ten to 12 minutes long, that dealt with the American Constitution. They were then called on to present an extemporaneous speech, the theme of which was unknown to the contestants until that moment. Miss Underwood spoke for five minutes on the First Amendment of the Constitution — the Freedom of Speech. In turn Miss Peck delivered a speech concerning the ratification of our Constitution.

The Girls March On

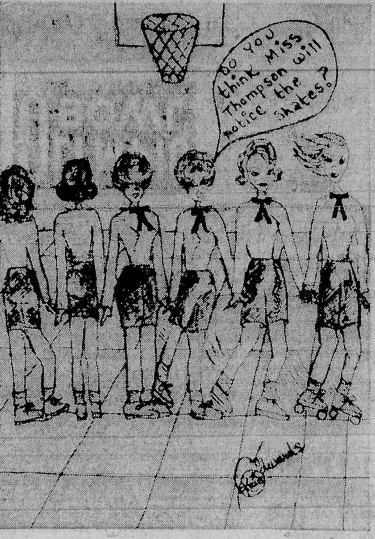

By JACKIE FOSTER
One of the highlights of the Belleville High Gym Show is the performance of the Drill Team. This group of 62 girls executes precision marching to the accompaniment of drums. This form of marching is achieved through much practice and concentration. The adviser of this group is Miss Ida Thompson, who founded it some three years ago. Miss Thompson has a great deal of confidence in her girls and has plans for the possible expansion of this program.
The Drill Team entertained this year between the halves of the Columbia and Nutley varsity basketball games. Here the girls performed their most intricate and precise drills to the enjoyment of the audience. The girls practiced every Tuesday night from 6:45 to 8 during November and December in preparation for these performances.
Members of the team are arranged in one straight line, according to size, from the shortest to the tallest. Each member must wear black Bermuda shorts, black sneakers, red knee socks, and white blouses, which are set off by red bows.
A great responsibility is on the shoulders of the two head girls. They must lead the other girls through the routine. If there is one wrong move, both lines are thrown off course.
The student body hopes to see more of this excellent team at both games and shows.
Another athletic organization is also setting up plans for the future. On Wednesday, March 6, the Belleville High Leader's Club will be host of an athletic Play Day. Invitations have been sent to the girls' athletic clubs of Riverview, Kearny, and North Arlington High Schools. This will be the closest activity to girls' interscholastic games in this area.
The Play Day will be under the complete supervision of this senior club of 20 girls. The program will start at 1 p.m., and an active schedule has been planned. Gym classes usually meeting that day will sit in the balcony of the girls' gym and observe the proceedings.
A hostess will be appointed to each group and will act as Belleville High's official representative. A basketball round robin will be held at the end of which a winner will be determined. Refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cookies, and milk, will be served in the cafeteria at the conclusion of the program. Entertainment by the various groups will be provided.
This program will give the girls a chance to get acquainted and have an enjoyable time. The girls will also be able to compare different basketball techniques and methods. This could possibly be one of the steps leading to the introduction of girls' interscholastic games in this area.

At Random

By JUDY FERRARA
Attention, New Yorkers! You're suffering but you're not doing it alone. The effects of the newspaper strike are widely felt. Even here at Belleville High we know what you're going through.
Teachers! How long has it been since you have seen a copy of the New York Times being thrown around your study-hall or being shoved by the dozens between the pipes of the radiator in your home? And at the end of the afternoon isn't there a void when there are no B-32's (constructed out of the financial paper) to be picked up from the floor?
The faculty isn't the only group hard hit by the strike. We, the students of History 3 and 4, have it pretty tough too. Imagine 300 news-starved students scrambling to get their hands on a copy of the New York Times. Let's face it, after all that pushing and shoving, who cares if Britain gets into the Common Market or not?
How about the hard-working cafeteria workers who depend on that paper to wrap the remains of a meal in? No self-respecting cook would wrap up any remnants in anything but a widely circulated paper.
So, please, Mr. Wagner, settle that strike. If you won't do it for the teachers and the workers, then, please, do it for us, the crossword puzzle, clowns, and those 300 flunking History students!

It Happens Next week

By LAURA BAKER
March 6
On Wednesday evening the Belleville High Music Department will hold its annual Band Concert. The concert will begin at 8 p.m.
Mr. Troutman will conduct both the symphony and the variety band. Belleville will also be the host to a talented vocalist from Nutley, Marion McMinis. Vicki Owen, B.H.S. Junior, will delight the audience with a piano concerto. The Twirlers will also be featured. The senior twirlers will go through a routine to the music of "Flashing Batons," with all the twirlers joining in to do a dance to "Mambo Magic."
Tickets can be purchased from any band member or twirler. All are invited to enjoy what will be a very talented program.
March 8
The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be administered on Tuesday, March 5, and then on Saturday, March 9. Students who want to be awarded the Merit Scholarship in 1964 should take this three-hour test. The scholarships depend upon the extent of sponsor participation.
The test scores will be returned to the school by May 15. The scores are used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college attendance and their particular field of study.
All semi-finalists will take a second examination. Winners of merit scholarships will be selected on a basis of school records, school recommendations, test scores, extra-curricular activities, leadership, and various outside accomplishments. The value of the scholarships are between $100 and $1,500.

Student Council Holds Its Monthly Meeting

By MARLISE JAMES
It was announced that the B-Hives dances that were held last year at the high school may be resumed again this year in the near future. This was one topic discussed at the Student Council meeting held February 20. Another announcement, concerning the mirrors for the girls room and locker room, said that they would soon be put up following some changes in the decor of these rooms.
I.D. cards, needed to get into any school function, will soon be passed out to all students. A sample of the cards was shown to the representatives attending the meeting. In its drive to improve the school, the Student Council will soon pass out questionnaires concerning the cafeteria and a "Keep Your School Clean" campaign will be under way.
A suggestion was made to have a school carnival in the spring. A committee, headed by John Matrazia, volunteered to consider the idea. Another suggestion was to have Belleville High sponsor a float for the Cherry Blossom Festival. Further consideration will be given to this suggestion before any action is taken.

New Municipal Plan Booklet Is Available

A new 46-page booklet listing services and publications of value for municipal planning purposes, and available from State and federal agencies, has just been announced by H. Mat Adams, commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development. It was compiled by the staff of the Division of State and Regional Planning.
B. Budd Chavooshian, director of the division, said the free booklet is a revised version of an earlier publication, but its contents are almost entirely new. "There is a wealth of information in the present publication which was not contained in the earlier 'Services from Public Agencies for Municipal Planning,' he said.
Curt J. Hubert, chief of the Bureau of Community Development, added that many persons are unaware that services of the division are supplemented by other government agencies, such as the Bureau of Parks and Recreation, the Division of Water Policy and Supply, the State Highway Department and the U.S. Housing and Home Finance Agency. These also can supply valuable aids and information, particularly with regard to specialized problems.
Some people know a lot more when you try to tell them something than when you ask them something.

Cherry Blossom Festival Will Have New Features

The Belleville Cherry Blossom Festival this year will have many new features. The drum and bugle corps concert and competition planned by Alan H. Bernstein will be a first for Belleville and a breath-taking spectacle. This contest will feature seven championship corps competing for cash prizes. There will be professional judges grading each corps on marching and maneuvering, bugling, drumming & general effects.
Two of the units participating are the St. Brendan's Cadets and the St. Joseph of Ironbound Cadets. The St. Brendan's Cadets of Clifton was formed seven years ago. The group has appeared in many parades, contests and exhibitions throughout the state and in sections of New York and Pennsylvania. The unit is composed of a 27-member home line and its drum section is one of the best in competition. Its 15 all-girl color guard is one of the youngest and oldest alike.

Rodino Urges Joint Budget Committee

Representative Peter W. Rodino Jr., in a speech on the House Floor again urged the adoption of his proposal for the creation of a joint committee on the budget. "Such a proposal is long overdue," said Rodino.
"The objective of my bill," said Rodino, "is to bring about an improvement in appropriations procedures which will produce real savings and economies in federal spending programs."
"The need for such economies," said Rodino, "is imperative since then."
