Fine Family Reputations At Stake in Golden-Led Effort

Councilman James R. Golden and his friends seeking the ouster from office of Mayor Robert M. Laterza, Deputy Mayor G. George Addonizio, and Councilman Vincent T. Strumolo, claim the three officials whose ouster they seek have organized themselves into a voting bloc much to the detriment of Belleville.

Mayor Laterza is a third generation Bellevilleite, graduated from Rutgers University School of Pharmacy, and since his active wartime service with the United States Navy, has conducted a pharmacy on Union Avenue.

As a druggist Laterza, age 45, enjoys the confidence and respect of thousands of Belleville citizens whose aches and pains he has catered to with tender care. There are politicians, led by James Golden, who are out to oust Laterza from public office and thus bring shame and dishonor upon an honored Belleville family name.

The next target of Golden and his cohorts is Deputy Mayor G. George Addonizio, one of the first men of his ethnic origin to graduate from Harvard University Law School. Addonizio, age 64, is a highly respected attorney and member of the New Jersey Bar Association. The Addonizio family traces its origin to Italian nobility. Addonizio has many clients who are Belleville citizens. And again — in his case as with Laterza, Golden and his crowd want Addonizio out of office at any cost, even if it means sacrificing Addonizio's fine reputation — a heritage from a noble past.

The third target of Golden's recall attempt is a native son of Belleville who has made good in the business world, First Ward Councilman Vincent T. Strumolo, a son of the Silver Lake soil.

Strumolo owns a neighborhood store, sells meats, groceries and table delicacies to his neighbors. He has prospered in his business — owns a large apartment house — and one can say that Strumolo — a humble young man — by any standards is a respected, successful businessman.

All three of them — Laterza, Addonizio, and Strumolo are family men.

Mrs. Laterza is a school teacher in the Belleville school system assigned to School Number Seven. The Laterzas have two children, Eugene, 16, and Robert, 14.

Addonizio and his wife Sally have two children, a son, Denis, who is a junior at Villanova University, and a married daughter who has two children.

Strumolo, married to the former Helen J. Petrillo, has four children, Thomas, 16; Josephine, 14; Vincent, Jr., nine and Nicki-Ann, four.

Laterza, Addonizio, Strumolo — these are respected names in our community — and before anyone attempts to bring dishonor upon them in the form of ouster from public office via the recall route it would be well to pause a moment to determine the validity of the alleged charges being made against the trio by Golden and his associates.

What are the charges listed in the petition seeking to throw out of office these men with time-honored family names? Let's read them direct from the recall petition. Here they are —

"That he (name of Councilman is cited) acted in conjunction with two other councilmen to create a majority voting block which negated the value of the minority of the remaining two councilmen. This action served to nullify the effectiveness of the minority as representatives of the people.

"It also resulted in the usurpation of the functions of the manager and the passage of ordinances of questionable legal validity which are not in the best interests of the people of the community; this conduct being generally in violation of the spirit of the council-manager form of government."

The foregoing are the charges — and anyone who signs the ouster petitions is actually taking the above words and putting them into his own mouth. Verily, do our citizens actually know what the voting records are of our Councilmen? In the belief that few, if any citizens know the actual voting records of all Councilmen, including Golden and former Councilman Thomas P. Greco, The Times-News, as a service to our readers, will publish the entire voting record for the first year's service of all Councilmen.

After reading the record our citizens will have the actual facts to rely upon in arriving at decisions regarding the desire of the Golden-led crowd to oust from public office public officials whose personal and family reputations should be treated as if they were our very own.

As for the charges that Laterza, Addonizio and Strumolo allegedly usurped the powers and authority of the Town Manager and legislated ordinances "not in the best interests of the community," we shall treat them in depth at the end of the voting record series.

For the moment, suffice it to ask the following question — who is it among us that charges Laterza, Addonizio and Strumolo "passed ordinances not in the best interests of our community?" Golden? Calabro? What are the ordinances which are not in the best interests of our community? The people have a right to know.

As we said at the beginning of this editorial, starting next week we will publish the voting record of the Councilmen since they assumed office on July 1, 1962.

See No Plan For Filling Greco's Seat

There will be no interim appointment to the Town Council vacancy cause last month by the resignation of Thomas P. Greco.

This became clear at last week's council meeting when two requests for such an appointment — by a citizen and the other by Councilman James R. Golden — were virtually ignored.

Kenneth Bauer of 16 Montgomery Pl. asked that the council "take a five — minute recess" and fill the vacancy, since Belleville's administrative code requires that such vacancies be filled "as soon as possible."

Golden stated that the council had no option but to fill the seat. The law he said, does not say that "it shall" be filled, but that it "shall" be filled — with the word "shall" interpreted as "must," in Golden's opinion.

Obviously Mayor Robert Laterza and Councilmen George Addonizio and Vincent Strumolo declared privately that there would be no point to filling the vacancy, since there will be only one council meeting in August.

"We'd as soon let the voters fill the seat in November," he said. "Why appoint a man for just a couple of meetings?" The only avowed candidate for the seat in the November election at this point is Bernard O'Connor, a Democratic town committeeman who has written the council asking that he be appointed until the balloting takes place.

The Belleville Times continues its concise condensation of the Town Manager's report on Belleville's first year under Council-Manager government.

The activities of the Public Library, office of the Town Clerk and Purchasing Agent, and Civil Defense & Disaster Control were as follows:

Public Library: Ben E. Grimm, director, and John R. Abram, assistant director. The library has a full-time staff of eight and contains 40,005 volumes, an increase of 3,371 books over the previous year. Total circulation from July, 1962, to June, 1963, was 412,210 — an average of 3.2 books per resident and 15 per registered borrower.

Ground-Breaking Ceremony Slated Sunday for Holy Family Church

Ground will be broken Sunday afternoon, August 4, at 3 o'clock, for the construction of the new million dollar church of the Holy Family in Nutley. The first spade full of earth will be turned by the Right Reverend Monsignor Anthony Di Luca, P.A., LL.D., who has been the pastor of the parish since 1953.

Invited have been the pastors of the neighboring Catholic parishes in Nutley, Belleville, and Bloomfield, the Mayors of Nutley and Belleville, the Commission-ers of Nutley, the Chief and Deputy Chief of the Nutley Police Department, and the Nutley building inspector. The presidents of the various organizations of the parish and the church trustees have also been asked to attend.

The ceremonies will consist of the blessing of the ground, a short talk by Monsignor Di Luca, and the actual turning of the ground.

Architects for the new structure are De Sina and Pellegrino of New York. The general contractors are Rieffle Constructors of Belleville.

The new church will be of contemporary design, will be air conditioned and will have a seating capacity of 1,120. Its length will be 150 feet, its width 90 feet, and it will rise to the height of 65 feet. The facade will be of brick and stone, and the side walls of brick. The roof will be of clay tile. On the facade will be three statues made of cast aluminum of the members of the Holy Family, Jesus, Mary and Joseph.

The building will be erected on what is at present the upper parking area of the church's present property and will face in the same general direction as the church building now in use.

The present structure will be eventually converted for classroom use, for the parish school, which in the coming academic year will number approximately 1,000 students.

The interior of the new church will have 84 rows of pews and spacious aisles. The sanctuary will feature a main altar and two side altars, both of imported marble, and will be enclosed by a communion rail of solid gold.

Accidental Shooting Victim Listed in 'Fair' Condition

The victim of an accidental shooting, Mrs. Gary Batchelder, 22, of 44 Overlook Avenue, Belleville, was reported as "doing very nicely" Monday morning following the removal of a bullet Friday at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Hospital authorities listed Mrs. Batchelder in fair condition. Shot in Face

Mrs. Batchelder, mother of a 7-month-old baby, was wounded July 29 at about 7:30 p.m. when a revolver held by her husband, Gary, 25, accidentally discharged while the couple was involved in some horseplay in their kitchen.

Investigating officers Detective Sergeant John Deane and Detective Ken Place said the .32 bullet entered the right cheek just under the eye, arced over the roof of Mrs. Batchelder's mouth and lodged in her left cheek.

Detective Place said Batchelder told them the couple had been drinking and that she was cleaning his revolver on the back porch and when completed, went into the kitchen where his wife was doing dishes.

The couple began fooling around and Mrs. Batchelder was drying a dish and placing it in a cabinet, turned around and snapped her towel at her husband.

"The next thing I knew the gun went off and she was bleeding from the face," Batchelder told police.

Batchelder called an ambulance but police arrived first and rushed her to the hospital. Batchelder was charged with atrocious assault and battery and was released on $2,500 bail for appearance in court August 1.

Burnett Says Workers May Sign Petitions

The directive against municipal employees participating in the current recall movement was clarified last week by Manager John Burnett.

To a question put to him by Councilman James R. Golden, Burnett said municipal employees may sign petitions and attend meetings but may not become "protagonists" for either side.

"Our counsel assures me that I'm on reasonable ground in issuing this order," Burnett said. "My authority is the state section of the (Faulkner) act. In an election such as this (the anticipated recall) I don't believe town employees should attempt to influence the public; they are the servants of the people, not the masters."

In the recall movement, backers of former councilman Thomas P. Greco and Councilman James R. Golden are attempting to unseat Mayor Robert Laterza and Councilmen George Addonizio and Vincent Strumolo — charges that they have constituted a political machine" which is "not working in the best interest of Belleville."

Burnett agreed with Golden's statement that "before municipal employees are charged with being citizens, with the same inalienable rights that other citizens have."

Recall Move Seen Quieting Council Meet

The quietest and most orderly Council meeting in many months past, remained relatively quiet — quiet to the extent that, in a surprise move, he voted for the reappointment of Thomas D'Avella for his fourth one-year term as town attorney.

Golden, who has been recommending the appointment of Theodore Bellet, Walter Finch, Nicholas Brescia or Robert Grubbs to the post, explained his switch by pointing out that D'Avella, and other local attorneys, is eminently qualified to serve in his post.

Golden's later comments were taken to mean that he favored D'Avella as a local man over the possibility of hiring an outsider, such as Michael Querques of Orange, who last year represented the council in its dismissal of Town Manager William A. Sommers.

It was obvious during the meeting that many antagonists, including Greco and his followers, were working for or against the recall movement, rather than sitting in Town Hall needing one another.

5-Man Unit Opposed By Golden

The Belleville Planning Board was re-created at last week's Town Council session.

The council, with James R. Golden in the minority, adopted an ordinance for a five-member board — the mayor, a councilman, and three citizens to be appointed by the mayor.

The board replaces the seven-member body which was abolished last March by a 3-2 vote.

Backed by Chamber

The council thus backed a plea by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce which, through executive director Harry T. French, asked for the board's reinstatement on grounds that it is "essential to orderly progress and growth" and it is "vital to the future of the town."

For the past several weeks, Town Manager John Burnett has been asking for the return of the board, which he termed "the conscience of the community." Such a body is necessary, Burnett said, to adopt a master plan, to participate in federal and state aid projects, and to act on land subdivisions.

In voting against the board, Golden said town planning is a trend which can lead to "planning for evil as well as good." Such boards, Golden added, tend to be high-handed and often take actions which "boomerang and lead to white elephants."

Councilmen George Addonizio and Vincent Strumolo, who in March voted to abolish the existing board, explained that Burnett has, since then, convinced them of the necessity of town planning.

Supports Manager

"I go along with the manager's opinion," Addonizio said.

Golden, who said he also fears that a Plan Board will mean the end of Silver Lake and the Valley as residential areas, recommended to the council that Theodore Wells, a Negro who was on the previous planning body, be appointed to the new board since he knows the problems of the Valley and would be "highly qualified" to serve on the new board.

Honor Students Named At Fairleigh Dickinson

Dean Byron C. Lambert of the Evening Division of Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford, has announced the names of local students whose scholastic achievements during the past semester earned them places on either the honors list or the dean's lists.

Those having a B plus average appear on the honors list, and those having a B average appear on the dean's list.

Miss Irene Wallinski of 70 Sanford Avenue, Belleville, and Miss Eleanor Mason of 304 Branch Brook Drive, Belleville, are honors list students.

Paul Seligman of 2 Belleville Court, Belleville, is on the dean's list.

Charles Bruce Cook

An eight pound, six ounce son, Charles Bruce, was born July 19 in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Merwin Cook of 83 Bremond Street, Belleville. He joins Linda Kathie, ten, and William Mark, nine. Mrs. Cook, the former Katherine Vailo, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vailo of Clifton. Mr. Cook is employed by the Sun Chemical Company, Nutley.

Chamber of Commerce Requests Formation of Parking Authority

The creation of a Parking Authority was requested at the Town Council meeting in the form of a resolution from the Chamber of Commerce.

The council took no action on the proposal until it can study the suggested program.

Harry T. French, chamber executive director, said the resolution had been adopted at a meeting of the Chamber Board of Directors earlier in the day.

The resolution said:

"Whereas Belleville Merchants, particularly those on Washington Avenue, but not confined to that street, are losing thousands of dollars in sales because prospective customers cannot find parking space and;

"Whereas the present situation if allowed to continue will lead to more and more empty stores on our business streets and inconvenience to our citizens through the loss of possible sources of supply and;

"Whereas a line of empty stores can only lead to vandalism and a further deterioration in the appearance of the town now therefore;

"Be it resolved that the Chamber of Commerce strongly recommends to the Town Council that legislation leading to the es-

Cadet Completes Air Force ROTC

ROBERT A. REILLY

Cadet Robert A. Reilly recently completed the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) summer encampment at Langley Air Force Base, Virginia.

Cadet Reilly, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Reilly of 44 Berkeley Ave., Belleville, observed and took an active part in various phases of base operations during the encampment period.

A member of the AFROTC program at Rutgers University, he will be eligible for appointment as an Air Force second lieutenant upon graduation from college.

The cadet is a graduate of Carier High School, West Orange, N.J.

ZIP SPEAK

ACTING POSTMASTER EXPLAINS 'ZIP'

To the Editor:

Recently the Post Office Department, after many months of planning, introduced a new system of mailing, using a series of numbers, called ZIP. The initials stand for — ZONE IMPROVEMENT PLAN.

I only wish that it might be possible to discuss the use of ZIP Code with each patron personally, but I will attempt to set forth in a few paragraphs the reason for its development.

ZIP was born of necessity. The United States today handles some 68 billion pieces of mail annually — more than two-thirds of the world's volume. In addition, we know that by 1970 we will be processing some 90 billion pieces annually.

Fifteen years ago we had ten to fifteen thousand mail carrying trains in operation. Today we have less than fourteen hundred and we are losing more regularly. Sheer bulk alone precludes transporting all mail by air. Trucking mail on a transcontinental basis is too slow.

Consequently, with an expanding population and an expanding mail volume, we are faced with the problem of constructing more facilities and hiring more manpower which could result in higher costs and eventually with increases in postage rates.

ZIP was originally intended for use by large volume mailers using automatic or electronic data processing equipment which has the ability to pre-sort mail in code sequence. This would mean by-passing the numerous distribution handlings at the point of entry, thus going directly into the transportation system and speeding it to its final destination for delivery. Presently, a letter must be handled some eighteen different times, on an average, from deposit until delivery. Mail presorted in ZIP Code sequence will eliminate many of these handlings. Its use will also aid in manual distribution of mail. This means faster service, fewer errors, and containment of rising postal costs.

Our national coding plan does not mean that each of our customers will become "just another number." ZIP code identifies places not people. A single ZIP code number may be assigned to a delivery unit serving as many as 5,000 homes and offices.

We have asked for the cooperation of all postal customers, large and small, in using ZIP Code in their return address in hope that their correspondents would then incorporate it in the mailing address on future communications. In the not too distant future we will have optical scanning equipment that will be able to read these numbers and automatically sort mail into direct dispatches, thus moving it rapidly and accurately from one point to another.

This is a voluntary program. We need everyone's help now if we are to be able to contain costs while meeting the needs of the mailing public.

I hope this at least partially explains the "why" of ZIP Code and that all patrons will cooperate with us in the months ahead.

Firemen on Four Weekend Runs

The Belleville Fire Department was busy with four runs last weekend.

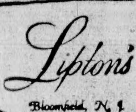

Saturday afternoon firemen checked out a bathroom fire at the home of John Jakes, 131 Linden Avenue, at 3:45 P.M. The blaze had been extinguished by Jakes, but he requested the department check the area to be certain the fire was completely extinguished.

Also Saturday the department was called to 535 Union Avenue to flush down gasoline that had leaked from an automobile.

Sunday at 12:05 A.M. an electrical fire was halted without major damage at the home of Gabriel DeBartolli, 183 Stevens Street. The fire was caused by a short in a socket.

The Department was called out on a smoke scare Sunday. Children reported smelling smoke but no fire was discovered.

A man seldom knows what he can do until he tries to undo what he did.

Dear folks—

When old friends come a-visitng, you just naturally expect to have to do some entertaining, don't you? Unless you have a friend like my "Alice-from-Chicago!"

"Just take me to see this Lipton's you're always writing about," says she, as soon as we'd disposed of all the "remember-when's!"

She's a mighty smart gal; my friend Alice — she noticed right away that Lipton's are featuring the "Textured" look that is the important news in fashion for fall, and that was exactly what I'd been planning to tell you about this week!

Take a fur-trimmed coat, for instance (I did!)—the bigger-than-ever collar looks even more opulent when the coat itself has a thickly brushed or patterned surface, and the new knits have an air of being an entirely new fabric! (Alice just loved a Kimberley in a new Berry shade, that just wouldn't have been the same at all, at all, if it hadn't been for its texture!)

Yes, the emphasis is all on texture this year—Look for it in everything—even hand-bags and hosiery and notice what it does to color—Makes it more subtly alive and interesting, that's what!—Just like Lipton's!

Sincerely
Letty

P.S. Mr. Sprang promised me a peek behind all those new brick walls next week—I'll be reporting to you!

"Letters from Letty" bring you "news" from Lipton's every week.

Cool Playground Customers

Belleville youngsters beat the heat at Number 4 Playground by jamming around the tables where free ice cream sodas were passed out by members of the town recreation department.

Softball, Ice Cream Fetes Top Playground Activities

The week of July 15 was an active one at the Recreation House. The Softball team played two good games at Clearman Field in competition for the inter-playground championship even though the hot sun added to the difficulties of the games.

Thursday, the younger set was treated to a Story Hour given by Mr. John Abram of the Belleville Library. The response was an enthusiastic one and most of the children already showed literary leanings by borrowing books from the special playground branch of the Library located inside the Recreation House.

The climaxing event for the week was a Turnabout Party. Even the Directors couldn't tell which of the children were boys masquerading as girls and girls masquerading as boys. Following the contest of Turnabouts, there was a peanut hunt, candy, marshmallows and watermelon.

Msgr. Kelly Playground can boast of a successful week of activities. Thursday morning July 18 the softball team beat the Recreation House with a score of 21 to 1. The boys were thrilled with their game and celebrated with lemon ice.

Another event of the week was the Dress Up Ice Cream Soda Party. The party was enjoyed by all especially by those who had three ice cream sodas each. The Dress-Up contest followed with Ben Casey, a hula dancer, tap dancers, and old woman, Little Miss America and Big Bad John, among the contestants. Patricia Lynch, the hula dancer, won first prize; John Poppa as Ben Casey won second prize and Little Miss America won third prize. The party ended with watermelon, a great way to end a hot day.

Spirit ran high at the stadium this week. The playground directors, Gerry Serio and Ellen Cuniff were kept busy Thursday dispensing three gallons of ice cream to more than forty children. Mouths smeared with chocolate, strawberry and vanilla, shirts splattered with pineapple and chocolate toppings and the second and third helpings made the ice cream sundae party here a resounding success.

Blank Foes

The softball team shocked itself and its fans with two shut-out victories. The 29-0 defeat of the Recreation House and 1-0 fall of Fairway Playground elated the team and raised their hopes of winning the town championship. Bagio Alessio deserves honorable mention for pitching a no hitter and giving up only one unearned run in the three games played so far.

Number 2 playground was the site for many activities. While the girls were making pin cushions from felt the boys had a horse shoe tournament. The whole playground participated in a tug of war contest and in softball games. The week concluded with a refreshing shower and an ice cream soda party.

Wednesday afternoon, July 17, an art contest was held on No. 1 Playground. John Toscano took first place with his chalk drawing of a boat serenely floating on the water with land and trees in the foreground. A calm atmosphere was portrayed. An entry of a single rose done in pencil won second place. The effective drawing was sketched by Maria Cameron. Third place was taken by Maria Toscano. She presented a ray crayon drawing of a vase holding many brightly colored flowers.

Many members at No. 1 Playground find red-headed Ray Brubaker a surprising character to watch. Ray's skill lies in his horseshoe throwing. He presents a challenge to many other members defeating them often. Ray's small size is no clue to his polished ability.

Dennis Boyce and Leroy Knight are two boys who match their skills in many games. They present even competition to each other in their fight to build up their scores. Dennis won the ping-pong tournament Thursday, however, Leroy triumphed in the horseshoe tournament. Stimulating games were played in both contests.

Funny Faces

Even the intense heat of the week of July 15 didn't keep the children at Planoson playground from creating and preparing funny faces to enter in the funny face contest which was held on Friday afternoon. First prize was awarded to Colleen Dries for her "pumpkin head", designed from a nose and grapes as eyes. Janet Orsonoff took second place with her creation of a "man from outer space." Her lemon-faced monster with its button eyes and tooth-pick nose, was crowned with an antennae of sticks stretched in a fanlike arrangement. The children hungrily awaited the end of the judging in order to begin eating their entries. John Angrisani couldn't quite make it! Even before the winners of the contest were announced he had half of his orange eaten.

Twirling instructions began at Clearman Field Monday, July 15 at 10 a.m. Gay Andersen, twirling director, taught the drag, two-hand front and strutting. Among the girls who attended twirling instructions were Michele Gaeta, Maria Galante, Florida Lamorie, Lorraine Vessine, Michele Nessine, Mary Waleska, Ann Williams, Darlene Wesneski and Linda Wesneski. Twirling instructions are held every Monday at 10 a.m. at Clearman Field.

Beat Heat

The activities on Clearman Field this week were highlighted by Friday's Sprinkle Party. A hose and sprinkler were provided for the playground in order to beat the heat, and everyone surely took advantage. "Clearman's" Baseball fields were temporarily converted into beaches for sunbathing & resting. Games such as Sally in the water and follow the leader were played among the showers. You can be sure during this hot summer more sprinkle parties will take place.

Story hour has been a very successful part of the playground activities. The following is a list of the playgrounds and the time where story hour will be held.

Thursday — August 1, Stadium, 2 p.m.; Friday — August 2, Recreation House — 2 p.m.; Tuesday — August 6, Fairway, 2 p.m.; Wednesday — August 7, School 1, 2 p.m.

YOU AND YOUR INSURANCE

(A public service column about all forms of insurance.)

AUTO INSURANCE POLICIES PROVIDE COVERAGE FOR MEDICAL EXPENSES

A mother who participates in a car pool asks: "Would my auto insurance pay the medical bills for my passengers if they were injured in an automobile accident that is my fault?"

Yes, if medical payments coverage is purchased with your automobile insurance, coverage pays medical bills for the passengers riding in your car, and also, it pays the bills for you and all members of your immediate family, whether you are riding in the family car or in any other auto.

Under the terms of the policy, the insurance company agrees to pay all reasonable expenses, incurred within one year of the accident, for necessary medical, surgical, X-ray and dental services, ambulance, hospital, professional nursing and funeral services, up to the limits declared in the policy. Payment is made regardless of who is at fault.

The choice of limits ranges from $500 to $5,000 for each person injured. The cost is surprisingly low. You should check with your insurance agent or broker to determine the amount of coverage appropriate for you, and its cost.

This column will be glad to answer questions you may have about property and casualty insurance. Send them to:

"Stupid Government" - And A Chance

Councilman James R. Golden last week characterized Council - Manager government as "stupid government". Golden's observation comes at a time when some individuals, for reasons best known to themselves, have prepared petitions to throw out of office Mayor Robert M. Laterza, Deputy Mayor G. George Addonizio, and First Ward Councilman Vincent T. Strumolo.

In view of Golden's condemnation - forgetting for a moment his record in office as a public official - it would appear to us that the petition-circulators are attempting to remove from office the wrong public officials. At least Laterza, Addonizio, and Strumolo believe in Council - Manager government, Strumolo having actively campaigned for the change back in 1961.

In view of his belief that our new form of government is a "stupid" form, perhaps Golden should give serious consideration to submitting his resignation from membership on the Town Council.

Congratulations To Our Kiwanis Club!

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville has been doing a notable job along the line of community service. We in town have been aware of this for a long time. However, it is nice to know that recognition is not just local. Recently the club was the recipient of a first place award in the

How can we expect a new form of government to succeed when the loudest and most cantankerous member of the Council is out of sympathy with its aims and objectives?

Perhaps in disclosing his attitude toward Council-Manager government Golden may have given the whole town his underlying reason for actively seeking during the past year to embroil the Council in endless controversy. Perhaps with Golden off the Council Belleville may move ahead much faster.

It is an open secret that Golden never got over the fact that he failed in his bid to become Mayor of Belleville. He continues to plan efforts which may give him the job of Mayor.

What would the people of Belleville rather have - Mayor Robert M. Laterza or Mayor James R. Golden? Yes, the choice may be that simple if Golden gets his way and ousts Laterza, Addonizio and Strumolo from office.

Specialists At Work

There was a time when a stock exchange was an institution of mystery.

That time has passed. Wider knowledge of economic matters on the part of the public has helped. Also some 17 million people, largely in the middle-income brackets, are now stockholders, and their number steadily increases.

The stock exchange, as is generally realized, is a place where one can buy or sell listed securities at any hour of any business day. The price is determined, and solely determined, by what a prospective seller demands and a prospective buyer is willing to pay. And the exchange does much more than offer that essential function. Due to its complex, enormously efficient mechanism it is a stabilizing influence in times of stress.

Such a time last occurred in May,

Make Your Car Safer

Want to make your car safer? Here are a dozen suggestions that will make your car a safer place to live in while you're in the driver's seat.

1. If you don't have an outside mirror, get one before all else. They are essential to safe-driving.
2. Get a flashlight and mount it with clamps beneath or alongside the steering column, so it is always available immediately in case of an emergency.
3. If you frequently trailer a boat, arrange to have heavy duty brakes and shock absorbers. Normal brakes particularly on smaller cars, will not long take the tough wear of a car and a trailer.
4. Use seat belts and seat harnesses. There is no question that they save lives, even of people who normally drive at moderate speeds in urban areas.

1962. Prices moved drastically and volume was enormous. Without one of the most important elements within the exchange mechanism, and one of the least known and understood, a person who wished to sell might not have been able to do so. That element is the specialist. Without going into the intricate mechanisms of his work, he is the professional who by conducting transactions at strategic moments keeps the market fluid and effective under all conditions, including the most difficult. He can't control price, of course - no one can. But he can and does make sure that a market exists and that all orders will be consummated.

This is just one example of how the exchange services a free enterprise economy. It provides a certain market for stocks. Without such a market few would be willing to invest.

5. Put a wide strip of reflective tape on your bumper, in case of mechanical failure on a heavily traveled road at night.

6. If you car isn't equipped with a spray unit to clean your windshield buy one. They can be the difference between seeing the road ahead and crash into something in front of you.

7. Buy a slow-me-down-please-meter. This is an imaginary unit probably never seen even in the Wizard of Oz books. It is a piece of advice that every driver should carry to make his car safer. In brief, it is advice that will insist that, when you are driving too fast, hurrying to beat another car to an intersection or even driving thoughtlessly fast on an urban street where control. This piece of equipment might be better than all the others combined.

These Statistics Are Startling

Statistics have a reputation for making dull reading. However, figures pertaining to accidents, their frequency, the various types there are, and the economic loss sustained when they occur are something that so vitally concerns all of us that, dull or not, they should be read and digested. The figures that follow are compiled by the New Jersey State Safety Council. Actually the extensiveness of accidents is so startling that the figures aren't dull at all.

Two thousand, four hundred and seventy lives were lost and 317,692 persons were injured in all types of accidents in New Jersey during 1962. The death toll is 171 more than recorded during the previous year and the number of persons injured shows an increase of 15,971 above the injury toll of 1961. Included in the toll are 117 accidental deaths.

The economic loss is estimated at approximately $308,416,000. It covers both fatal and non-fatal accidents and includes wage losses, medical expenses and overhead cost of insurance for all accidents, production delays, damage to equipment in work accidents and property damage in traffic accidents.

Traffic accidents took a toll of 910 lives, an increase of 131 more than recorded in the previous year. The mileage rate (rate for each 100 million miles of vehicular traffic) was 3.4 compared with 3.00 for the previous year. The estimated economic loss was $163,800,000, an increase of $22,680,000 more than in 1961.

CAMPUS KINGS AND QUEENS

Joe Cernero Studies At Rutgers University

By MARIE JAMES

Joseph Cernero, a 1961 graduate of Belleville High School, is an active member of the student body at Rutgers University in New Brunswick.

He has played on the freshman and junior varsity football teams and he hopes to continue with these sports if time permits. He is a member of the Scarlet Key, a club that shows visitors and visiting athletic teams around the campus grounds, and of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

He holds the only office at his frat house, that of head waiter. In this capacity he has the responsibility of overseeing the serving and clearing up of meals.

Rutgers is the state university. Joe thinks this is an advantage because "You get better teachers and the facilities are always good because." "In a large college, such as Rutgers, which has 4000 students, you get to meet more people through a fraternity. You have about sixty boys who live in the same house and new boys come in every year. By living in a frat house, you learn how to get along with other guys and how to live with them. You also learn responsibility. When you're in a fraternity, you always have someone to go to and something to do."

The absence of girls has another, perhaps unexpected, effect on college life. Boys are less interested in sports in college because "There is not that much prestige in them since girls are not around to make a hero out of someone who does well on the football field." Joe also thinks that boys are more interested in their studies in college and are willing to sacrifice sports for them. He says, "At

Thomas A. Haney, 74, Former Organist Here

Thomas A. Haney of 218 Grove Street, Montclair, former organist at St. Peter's Church, Belleville, died Wednesday, July 24, at his home, after a short illness, he was 74.

Mr. Haney was organist at St. Columba Church, Newark, for several years. He had played at St. Peter's Church for 27 years and at Immaculate Conception Church, Montclair, for 14 years.

Born in Union City, Pa., he lived in Montclair since 1949. He was a graduate of the Guilford Organ School, New York. He was a member of Belleville Council, Knights of Columbus.

A High Mass of Requiem was offered Saturday morning, July 27, in Immaculate Conception Church, and interment was in Immaculate Conception cemetery, Montclair.

Mr. Haney leaves his wife, Mrs. Florence Etzel Haney; two daughters, Mrs. Maureen H. Lanzetta of Pearl River, N.Y., and Mrs. Patricia H. Filman of Monterey, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Adrew Downs of Hartford, Conn., and nine grandchildren.

Mrs. Voorhees, Long Active in Youth Work

Mrs. Tallulah de Rosset Voorhees, 64, of 174 Smallwood Avenue, Belleville, and Blairstown, who served for 30 years as director of the Newark Girl Scout Council, died Sunday, July 28, at the Park Manor Nursing Home, Bloomfield.

Mrs. Voorhees was the wife of Alexander H. Voorhees, traffic manager for Gerli & Co. of New York City. She was active most of her life in youth work and served with the Bloomfield Girl Scouts before becoming director of the Newark Council. She retired from the latter post four years ago.

Mrs. Voorhees was a long-time member also of the Essex County Council of Social Agencies. Born in New York, she had made her home in Belleville since 1919. Her husband is her only survivor. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, July 30, at George Van Tassel's Community Funeral Home, Bloomfield, with the Rev. Robert A. Jewett of Christ Episcopal Church, Belleville, officiating. The Rev. Albert Eastburn of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Hope, conducted graveside services in Cedar Ridge Cemetery, Blairstown.

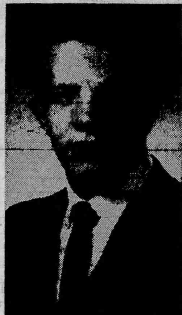

Thomas J. Meehan

Thomas J. Meehan, 72, died suddenly on Saturday, July 27, at his home, 36 May Street, Belleville. A High Mass of Requiem was offered Tuesday morning, July 30, in Holy Family R.C. Church, Nutley. Interment was in Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Montclair.

Born in Jersey City, Mr. Meehan had lived in Belleville for the last 37 years. He had been employed by the Paragon Co., Newark, before his retirement seven years, and since that time had worked part time for Oil Trades Supply Co., Newark.

Mr. Meehan is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ella Baechler Meehan; two sons, Thomas R. of Princeton and Raymond C. of Basking Ridge, and two grandchildren.

The Kiernan Funeral Home, 101 Union Avenue, Belleville, was in charge of funeral arrangements.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

The second manufacturer to show new models is Magnavox. This company has a unique picture in the market. While others come out with a completely "new" line every year, although the "new" may consist only of the change in knobs for instance, Magnavox has carried some models, which had good customer acceptance, sometimes for several years without any change. This is sound policy, since the savings reflect in lower prices to the consumer.

The "Magnolux" feature, a little adjustment control and brightness controls, has been used now for several years. This and the chromatic lens are features which make Magnavox TV sets stand out in the whole industry. The picture quality of Magnavox sets with the chromatic lens is far superior. You have to see it next to other sets to believe it. Reflecting the over all better quality of Magnavox products are the extensive guarantees that go with these products. Gold Seal sets for instance carry one year parts warranty on everything, no exception, plus one year service. In addition to the first-year warranty, the picture tubes on Gold Seal sets are pre-tested for the second and third year. The stylus on Magnavox phonographs is guaranteed for 10 years.

The amazing part in the whole Magnavox picture is that these things do not cost more, in fact in many instances are considerably lower than competitive merchandise. The reason for this is the policy of the factory to sell directly to the retailers. This eliminates the profit of the middleman, it goes into your pocket instead of his. Several years ahead of the whole industry, Magnavox last year introduced the first tubeless Hi-Fi phonographs. This fall you will see the first reluctant entries by other manufacturers of "solid state" amplifiers. This is a fancy name for transistors. It won't be long and the use of tubes for phonographs will stop completely.

It is no wonder that more and more people who want something better turn to Magnavox.

We service what we sell.

Rutgers, there are just a handful of real athletes and they are all good students. You can't get by just being an athlete. Professors won't pass you in a course because you are needed on the football team. The only people who are compelled to participate in sports are those who are attending college on athletic scholarships."

Joe is majoring in economics at Rutgers but is considering attending a dental school after he graduates. He found that "The work in college is one hundred per cent harder than that in high school. It is hard to adjust to studying as much as you should. You must go to classes and then spend at least three hours a night studying. There is a lot of reading you must do especially in the liberal arts course. It is essential that you keep up with the work and don't let things ride. There is a lot of stress on mid terms and finals. If you flunk them, you are liable to fail the course. There is much emphasis on writing in college. The starting with freshman English, which is a difficult course. I'd advise anyone going to college to study more in high school so you'll get in the habit and it won't be that big a jump between high school and college."

Joe, who is a fraternity member, thinks that fraternities are good because, "In a large college, such as Rutgers, which has 4000 students, you get to meet more people through a fraternity. You have about sixty boys who live in the same house and new boys come in every year. By living in a frat house, you learn how to get along with other guys and how to live with them. You also learn responsibility. When you're in a fraternity, you always have someone to go to and something to do."

ON PICNIC COMMITTEE

Undersheriff Harry J. Sullivan, former Public Safety Director, of 5 Bell Street, Belleville, New Jersey, has been selected by Lt. John J. D'Aloia for the Reception Committee of the Special Deputy Sheriff's Division annual picnic and outing. Sullivan has been very active in many local, county, and civic endeavors.

SHEER DELIGHT

A drive in the mountains can be sheer delight but some of the drops at the roadside are just plain sheer. The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company states that motorists unaccustomed to driving in the mountains should follow these suggestions: Keep your eyes on the road, do not scenery gaze while moving, for best car control, use second or low gear when climbing or descending steep grades; do not stop on the road; use appropriate turnouts and parking areas.

Jersey Lightning Division In Training at Fort Dix

FORT DIX - The 78th Division (Training), US Army Reserve, under the command of Major General H. Russell Morris Jr. of Summit, is in the midst of its annual summer training period here.

About 2,500 members of the unit, the "Jersey Lightning Division," are at Fort Dix to learn teaching techniques and the functions and operations of an Army training center. In the event of mobilization, the 78th would assume operational duties at a facility similar to that at this South Jersey post.

The men of the 78th, the state's only Reserve division, in most cases are attached to Regular Army units here. The reservists help instruct in the basic and advanced infantry units and in specialized training areas. At the same time, the citizen-soldiers are learning the Army's latest training methods.

Early Start

In many cases, the training day starts at 5 a.m. for the reservists and does not end until the conclusion of night training problems.

Sometimes the day's activities include long marches to distant firing ranges where marksmanship is tuned to peak efficiency. Physical training, hand-to-hand combat, and bayonet classes are also included on the schedule during the two-week period. Some units of the division will spend most of their time camped in the field.

Administrative personnel, meanwhile, are faced with solving the problems of running the division, including feeding, housing, clothing, transportation, and arranging training schedules. Present commanders of division units are Colonels Harry J. Rockefeller of Massachusetts, 399th Regt; Marion B. Richardson of Livingston, 310th Regt; Danforth C. Washburn of Livingston, 311th Regt; Paul M. Nugent of Summit, 312th Regt, and Harry W. Holman of Mendham Township, 78th Regt.

Nine From Belleville

On NCE Honors List

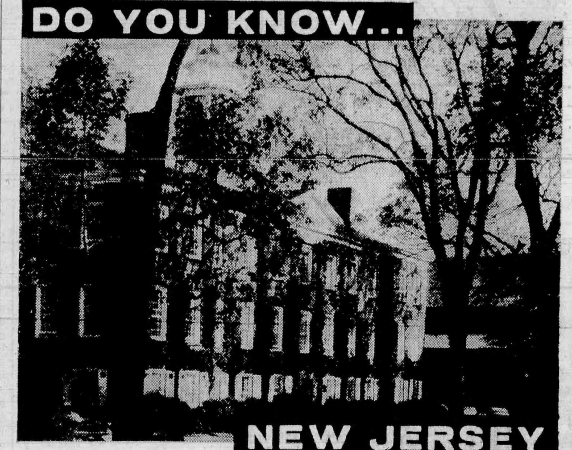

Nine Belleville students were among the 603 Newark College of Engineering students who qualified for academic honors for the term that ended in June. They include Robert J. Bittel, 121 Malone Avenue; Richard Burfazi, 18 Mt. Pleasant Avenue; Nunzio E. Cernero, 56 Emerald Street; Robert J. Gieson, 121 Rutgers Place.

Also Harry M. Healey, 11 Bellevue Court; John P. McWilliams, 164 Mill Street; John L. Pellek, 83 Baldwin Place; John J. Rosinski, 60 Bremond Street, and Gerald D. Uttrach, 250 Greylock Parkway.

Students qualify for honors on attaining a B average with no grade lower than a C, while taking at least 75 per cent of their credit hours in a regular course of study.

New Jersey takes a back seat to no other state when it comes to higher education. Our state has a proud list of 29 4-year degree-granting colleges and universities, all of which are turning out exemplary graduates. Practically every field of study is offered by these colleges and virtually all carry on research in the sciences and humanities.

In addition, New Jersey boasts of having 11 junior colleges which do a splendid job in preparing young men and women for courses in business or for continuation of study in higher education.

The outstanding educational facilities in New Jersey give all of us one more reason why we can be proud of our state. It's great!

Fishing Near Barnegat Light

"Old Barney" lighthouse quickly became an affectionate symbol of the Jersey Shore, as in this 1886 drawing from Gustav Kobbe's "New Jersey Coast."

Old Barney Vs. The Sea

Every time a newcomer showed up in Barnegat City during a northeast storm a half century or so ago, natives could not wait to lead him up the spiral staircase that wound to the top of Barnegat Light.

Sometimes the leading was easy. A newcomer justifiably might look at the red-and-white lighthouse against the low-flung clouds and get the notion that the beacon swayed.

"Music Man" At Gladiators Arena

"The Music Man," Meredith Wilson's endearing musical comedy about a singularly lovable con man, opened a week's engagement at the Gladiators Music Arena on Tuesday July 30, with Jack Sterling, popular CBS radio personality playing the title role.

Bowling one of the most hand-clapping scores in all the annals of Broadway, "The Music Man" gave the American marching band one of its most popular routines, a million - selling "Tombstones." Other memorable melodies from the show include "Till There Was You," "Good Night My Someone," "Trouble," "Marian the Librarian" and "Gary, Indiana."

backing, for engineers who completed Barnegat light in 1888 said that a gale would have to blow nine times harder than any known wind before the lighthouse would show the slightest tremor. Natives ignored that, among themselves, for often experience tells more than slide rules.

One hour after "Old Barney" in a northeast storm prove wrong engineers might be. Up there, the tower DID sway. A favorite trick was to have a newcomer place a full bucket of water on the floor during a wild storm. The swing of the lighthouse would stop a third of the way over the sides within minutes.

"Talk about 'Old Barney' during a northeast sometimes got around to the first lighthouse, and what the elements did to that. Congress appropriated $6,000 for that lighthouse in 1884 and workmen raised the 40-foot beacon on a spot 300 feet south of the inlet where Barnegat Bay meets the Atlantic.

The 300 feet of sand between inlet and lighthouse disappeared within 20 years and the first light fell into the waves on November 2, 1887.

Good riddance, at that, for by then a new light was abuilding 75 feet to the south of the original structure. Designed by Lt. George Gordon Meade (who later commanded the Union Army at Gettysburg), the new tower would give Barnegat Light "a first class light."

Such a lighthouse! It rose 150 feet from base to top, and a 17-foot high chamber for the original structure. Designed by Lt. George Gordon Meade (who later commanded the Union Army at Gettysburg), the new tower would give Barnegat Light "a first class light."

The light-current came from France. Henri Lepaute of Paris assembled 1,024 separate prisms into 24 huge bull's-eye lenses, so precisely set that they could cast a light visible from a matheo 30 miles at sea. The assembly weighed five tons, yet Lepaute balanced everything so delicately that the light could be rotated with the little finger.

Without ceremony, the light went into commission at sunset on January 1, 1889. Lightkeeper James Fuller climbed the 217 steps to the top to ignite the last oil lamp for the first time. His assistants followed to tug up the oil and "wind up the lens."

"Winding up the lens" called for powerful arms. The lens mechanism revolved by means of heavy weights on long cords—much like old clock mechanisms—and the cords and weights had to be wound and re-wound during the night. On stormy nights, the lens had to be rotated by hand.

"Old Barney" never faltered in serving those at sea, in foul weather and fair. Shipmasters welcomed the sight of the faithful beacon. So did birds: each morning in fall and spring the ground around the base of the lighthouse would be strewn with wild geese, brant and ducks which died as they rammed at full speed into the wire mesh around the light.

Faithful "Old Barney" always worked — but so did the im-

"Old Barney" lighthouse quickly became an affectionate symbol of the Jersey Shore, as in this 1886 drawing from Gustav Kobbe's "New Jersey Coast."

Old Barney Vs. The Sea

Every time a newcomer showed up in Barnegat City during a northeast storm a half century or so ago, natives couldn't wait to lead him up the spiral staircase to would wound the top of Barnegat Light.

Sometimes the leading wasn't easy. A newcomer justifiably might look at the red-and-white lighthouse against the low-flying clouds and get the notion that the beacon swayed.

"Sway? Old Barney sway?" the natives would ask with tongue in cheek reassurance. "Never! Not in a little blow like this!" They might have cited official backing, for engineers who completed Barnegat Light in 1858 said that a gale would have to blow nine times harder than any known wind before the lighthouse would show the slightest tremor. Natives ignored that, among themselves, for often experience tells more than slide rules.

One hour atop "Old Barney" in a northeast storm prove how wrong engineers might be. Up there, the tower DID sway. A favorite trick was to have a newcomer place a full bucket of water on the floor during a wild storm. The swing of the lighthouse would stop a third of the water over the sides within minutes.

"Music Man" At Gladiators Arena

"The Music Man", Meredith Wilson's endearing musical comedy about a singularly lovable con man, opened a week's engagement at the Gladiator's Music Arena on Tuesday, July 30, with Jack Sterling, popular CBS radio personality playing the title role.

Sterling, who for the past ten years has been the man who helps wake up a large percentage of the Metropolitan New York population via his early morning program of music and chatter, will portray Professor Harold Hill, a charming con man who fleeces his way through life outfitting and training town bands.

Boasting one of the most hand-clapping scores in all the annals of Broadway, "The Music Man" gave the American marching band one of its most popular roles, the million-selling "76 Trombones." Other memorable melodies from the show include "Till There Was You," "Good Night My Someone," "Trouble," "Marian the Librarian" and "Gary, Indiana."

TOWN ORDINANCE
PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the following Ordinance was passed on second and final reading at a meeting of the Town Council of the Town of Belleville, held Tuesday evening July 23, 1963, having been read in its final form at least one week prior thereto and in accordance with a law authorizing publication as follows:
AN ORDINANCE TO AUTHORIZE THE CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW BRIDGE OVER THE RIVER AT THE INTERSECTION OF THE RIVER AND THE AVENUE IN THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, N.J., BY THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, N.J., AND TO APPROPRIATE THE SUM OF $10,000.00 THEREFOR.

COUNCILMEN

Talk atop "Old Barney" during a northeast storm sometimes got around to the first lighthouse, and what the elements did to that. Congress appropriated $6,000 for that lighthouse in 1854 and workmen raised the 40-foot beacon on a spot 300 feet south of the inlet where Barnegat Bay meets the Atlantic.

The 300 feet of sand between inlet and lighthouse disappeared within 20 years and the first light fell into the waves on November 2, 1857.

Good riddance, at that, for by then a new light was abuilding 75 feet to the south of the original structure. Designed by Lt. George Gordon Meade (who later commanded the Union Army at Gettysburg), the new tower would give Barnegat Inlet "a first-class light."

Such a lighthouse! It rose 150 feet from base to top, and a 17-foot-high chamber for the light surrounded that. Twenty-seven feet across at the bottom, the lighthouse tapered gracefully upward, a thing of beauty as well as a utilitarian savior of ships.

The light-crown came from France. Henri Lepaute of Paris assembled 1,024 separate pieces into 24 huge bull's-eye lenses, so precisely set that they could cast a light visible from a distance of 30 miles at sea. The assembly weighed five tons, yet Lepaute balanced everything so delicately that the light could be rotated with the little finger. Without ceremony, the light went into commission at sunset on January 1, 1859. Lightkeeper James Fuller climbed the 217 steps to the top to ignite the lard oil lamp for the first time. His assistants followed to lug up the oil and "wind-up the lens."

"Winding up the lens" called for powerful arms. The lens mechanism revolved by means of heavy weights on long cords—much like old clock mechanisms—and the cords and weights had to be wound and re-wound during the night. On stormy nights, the lens had to be rotated by hand.

"Old Barney" never faltered in serving those at sea; in foul weather and fair. Shipmasters welcomed the sight of the faithful beacon. So did birds: each morning in fall and spring the ground around the base of the lighthouse would be strewn with wild geese, brant and ducks which died as they rammed at full speed into the wire mesh around the light.

Faithful "Old Barney" always worked—but so did the implacable sea.

Within 10 years the 75 feet of sand between inlet and lighthouse was nearly gone and 200 tons of stone were dumped to protect the tower in 1866. The next year 331 tons of stone went in, followed by 1,220 tons in 1868, and so on for years. Every annual report recognized the danger that the sea must soon win.

By World War I it became common knowledge that the federal government had wearied of saving the old light, valuable though it was to seafarers. Then, in 1920, the government announced that the light would be abandoned to the waves, and replaced with a lighthouse at sea.

Natives living near the base of "Old Barney" reacted in shock. They raised their own decorative rather than useful, but nothing along the entire Jersey shore better symbolizes the never-ending battle between "their" lighthouse. That affected mankind and the sea.

The stained glass windows will be constructed in this country; their subjects have not as yet been decided. The stations of the cross will be carved marble, produced in Italy and imported.

Lighting Noted
The lighting will be both indirect and direct. The indirect lighting will serve to bring out the architectural features of the cross and the direct lighting will be in the form of pendants. There will be an integral sound system to preclude any acoustic problem.

The exterior area around the new church will be terraced and suitably landscaped.

Reports Noted
bral Palsy Center and Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.
CD wearing cards were distributed throughout the town with the cooperation of the Boy and Girl Scouts, Police Department and CD mobile units.
Many town buildings are now being marked as fall-out shelters in conjunction with the Isolation Hospital, Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, which has been stocked with food, water, first aid kits, instruction booklets and radiological detection units.

Mayor Urges Youth Drinking Fine Increase

Mayor Robert Laterza last week asked that the fine for a juvenile found in possession of an alcoholic beverage be boosted from the present $50 to $300.

The request, which has been forwarded to the municipal Alcoholic Beverage Control Board for study, follows the State ABC clearing of Mayor Laterza's father of a charge that wine had been sold to a juvenile at the Laterza Liquor Store, 309 Union Avenue.

The Mayor said that on the day of the alleged illegal sale his father was not even in the liquor store, but was at home in bed recuperating from an eye operation.

He added that the present situation is unfair in that a juvenile can name anyone he chooses as the guilty party in an illegal sale.

Vets Group Rapped by Recall Head

Robert Westpy, chairman of the Belleville recall movement, recently charged that the Belleville unit of the Veterans Ticket Committee, which went on record against the movement, was only a "paper organization."

Westpy said he believed the organization had "No substantial support among any bonafide national veterans organization in Belleville. I would like to know who the members are and how many there are," he said.

Westpy said the recall movement was progressing nicely.

The movement headed by Westpy is seeking the recall of Mayor Robert M. Laterza and councilmen G. George Addonizio and Vincent T. Strumolo.

Interested In Writing Social News? Times Looking For Reporters

The Belleville Times is looking for neighborhood reporters to augment our editorial staff. We are especially interested in residents of the Valley, Rutan Estates, the Silver Lake district, Soho, and Big Tree.

Library "Bookonauts" Swinging Into Orbit

The Belleville Public Library will continue through the summer. All children going into school grades 1 thru 6 may register at the Children's Room of the library up through August 9.

Details and instructions are given at the time of registration.

On September 3, certificates will be awarded all children who complete the program (that is, read the 12 books necessary to complete the voyage), and a prize book will go to the "bookonaut" who reads and reports on the most books.

Action Seen On Pay Hikes

The Town Council is expected to act next month on two salary requests from Town Manager John Burnett - one for a raise for Hugh Welsh, acting building inspector, and the other for a $5,000 annual salary for Gerson L. Ram, recently appointed health officer.

Welsh who replaced Daniel Valase, will be increased to $9,000 a year - a $500 hike - if Burnett's request is approved. A public works employee for 37 years, Welsh is a licensed engineer who will also serve as administrative clerk in the department.

Burnett explained that Ram will work part-time with a stipulation that he work at least one full day a week and full time during the summer and his school's Christmas and Easter vacations.

Nutley Artist's Work to Be Presented To Pope Paul VI on Exhibit at Church

Pope Paul VI will soon join a growing group of world-famous celebrities who can boast that they own a Fanelli original.

The Pope will soon receive a large wooden plaque as a present from a Nutley artist, Alfred Fanelli Sr., of 128 Columbia Avenue, whose fame as a sculptor is world-wide.

The plaque, presently on exhibition at the Holy Family Roman Catholic Church, measures 30 by 21 inches and is a carving of Pope Paul VI with the inscription: "His Holiness Pope Paul VI ANNO MCMLXIII."

The 68-year-old artist has been a professional sculptor for more than 40 years. During this time he has worked in all types of material but has gained most of his fame for his wooden carvings which fall into the classification of primitive art.

It took Fanelli about four weeks, working day and night, to complete his work of Pope Paul.

"Some subjects take longer and others a little less time," he explained. "Wood is one of the hardest materials to work in as you must be careful of the grain and the center of the piece you are using," he noted.

Plans are presently being mapped to have the piece of art transported to Rome to be presented to the Pope by an official of the Newark diocese.

Fanelli's works include former president Franklin D. Roosevelt, thanks from President Roosevelt to Sir Winston Churchill, Antonio Segni, president of Italy, Cardinal Spellman, and Mrs. Jackie Kennedy, as well as special works for the Norwegian Royal House and several South American countries.

He has personal letters of the Bank of Nutley.

Girl Scouts Will Inaugurate Widespread Program Change Based On Research Survey

SHOW AND TELL - Senior Scout Carolyn Irwin of 125 Lakeside Drive, Nutley, representing the oldest age-level in the new Girl Scout program change, points out the stamens of a peony to second-grade Brownie Scouts Ginny Lodge (center) of 160 Alexander Avenue, Nutley, and Kathy Avery (right) of 57 Spruce Street, Nutley. Brownies are the youngest age group in the new four level organization of troops.

The American girl is changing, level adaptations: Brownie Girl Scouts (ages 7 and 8); Junior Girl Scouts (ages 9, 10, 11); Cadette Girl Scouts (ages 12, 13, 14); and Senior Girl Scouts (15, 16, 17).

In the past, most troops have been organized of girls entirely from one school grade, resulting in single-grade, single-age troops. Now a troop will be composed of girls of differing ages.

The troop of wide-age-ranges will provide the stimulus of a wider, somewhat different group from that in which the girl spends her school days. She and her friends together can enjoy and benefit from experiences involved in being part of a troop with girls from other home rooms, other grades, other schools, other social groups. The girl will learn from older girls and share her knowledge with younger ones.

Another aspect of the change which has already affected local Girl Scout leadership is the retraining of adult leadership. In line with the revised program, training was offered to the 200 or more adults in scouting in Nutley and Belleville.

Considering that there are 800-900 Girl Scout adult volunteers in the nation, this training program is a major educational effort. Increased assistance to the leader is built into the design, thus making the role of the Girl Scout leader easier, yet more challenging.

In the revised program, basic precepts of Girl Scouting have not changed. The six fundamentals on which the new program is based are: 1) the Girl Scout Promise and Laws; 2) Service; 3) Citizenship; 4) International Friendship; 5) International Health and Safety. There is increased emphasis at each age level on personal responsibility, citizenship and international friendship.

New handbooks for each age level, which embody the elements of the new program, and a new Leader Notebook, will go on sale September 9 at the local Girl Scout equipment agency for Nutley-Belleville. The Franklin Department Store in Nutley.

Rewriting and publishing five new books simultaneously for the older younger. Their development patterns are changing, and they move to new levels of interest and ability more rapidly than once was the case.

The studies also found that Girl Scouts are more mature socially and more aware sociologically than other adolescent girls, that Girl Scouts choose to serve others in their home, in their home town, and that they learn to live as useful citizens in the nation and in the world.

Three drivers lost their licenses on July 24 session of Magistrate Edward J. Abramson during the July 25 session of Municipal Court.

James Maxwell, 145 Main St., Belleville was sentenced on two counts as a disorderly person involving a family dispute.

Adjudged until August 15 was Joseph E. Barrett, 135 Tappan Avenue, Belleville, Patrolman James P. Brett and Police Sergeant John McNish.

Barrett, a school custodian, is facing two counts as a disorderly person involving an incident during the July 4 fireworks display at the stadium. The charges were lodged by Patrolman Brett and Sergeant McNish.

Barrett has filed a complaint against Patrolman Officer Brett.

Police Probe Ransacking of 2 Apartments

Thieves ransacked two apartments at 53 1/2 Division Avenue, Belleville, while the owners were on vacation taking a portable television set and several credit cards.

Police said the entries were discovered last Friday when Mrs. Mary Corbett returned from vacation and discovered her third-floor apartment ransacked. Investigating officers discovered that the thieves had also visited the second-floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Veit. The Veits were vacationing in Florida, but returned to Belleville when called by the police.

Both Miss Corbett and the Veits had departed on vacation credit cards missing. The Veits reported several credit cards and a portable television set missing.

Police estimated the date of the entry at about July 16. They noted that neither party had notified the police that they were leaving on vacation and that their apartments could be empty. Police Chief Charles H. McGinnis stressed the importance of any one leaving on vacation notifying the police so a check of the empty homes may be made.

Veterans Head Raps Campaign for Recall, Slaps Golden, Greco

A strong rejection of the current recall movement and a plea for Belleville citizens to give the Council-Manager form of government a chance was made last week by Vincent Vecchione, recently appointed chairman of the Belleville unit of the Essex County Veterans Ticket Committee.

In his first statement as chairman of the veterans group, Vecchione lashed out at Councilman James R. Golden and former councilman Thomas P. Greco, terming them "obstructionists."

He said that the veterans have acted in this capacity since they took the oath of office.

Noting that both Golden and Greco are supporting the recall movement aimed at unseating Mayor Robert M. Laterza and Councilmen G. George Addonizio and Vincent T. Strumolo, Vecchione said:

"The (Golden and Greco) never did give the new form of government a chance to get started in the year it has been in progress. But, in spite of this continued petty interference, our town did move forward because of the determination of our two 'Veterans Choice' candidates, Mayor Laterza and Councilman Addonizio, and Councilman Strumolo to make it click and to serve the voters who elected them to the council."

"We plead with the voters not to sign these petitions already being circulated in all wards in Belleville. Give the new form of government a chance and let us keep the tainted part of politics out of our council government in Belleville," said Vecchione.

"Councilman Golden and Mr. Greco call themselves the minority group of the town council, which they refer to as the 'Hidden Government.' They themselves made this possible by their own actions which are inspired by an ambitious political group in Belleville and in Essex County to take over, not only here in the movement in progress, but in several other towns and cities," charged Vecchione. "Do not let

Fund Drive Planned In Belleville, Nutley

Design and cost of a new boathouse for the Nutley and Belleville High School crews will be discussed by the trustees of the

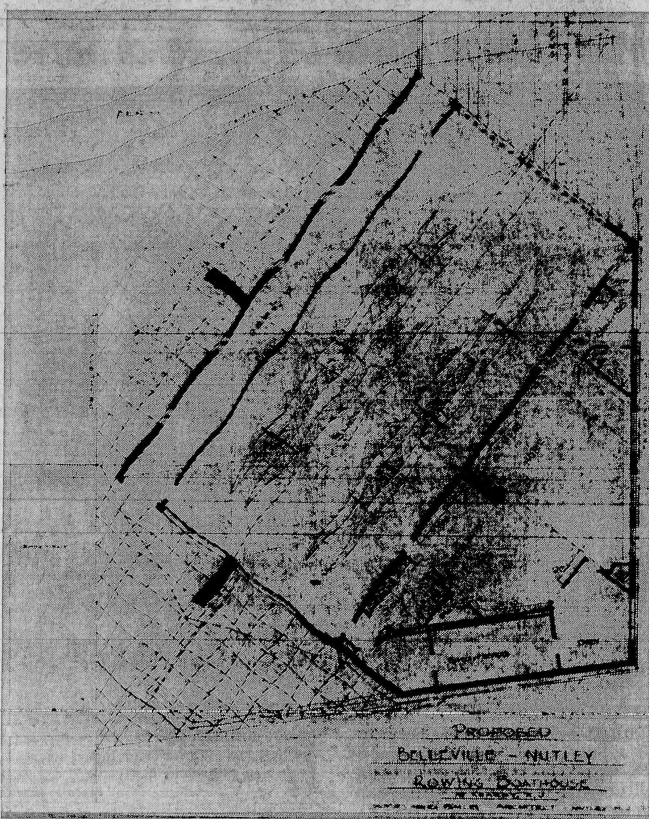

Teen Canteen TOPICS

By JACKIE FOSTER
Monday, July 22 is a day few Teen Canteen members will forget. For it was on that day Belleville teens had a surprise visit from that hobo man himself, Santa Claus. Santa was ably played by co-captain of the football team, Johnny Vito. This unexpected visit by Santa was to say the least the hilarious high point of the evening.
Santa Claus came on a most unusual mission, for instead of bringing gifts he came to collect them. On behalf of the Teen Canteen Santa collected toys to be given to the Essex County Emergency Children's Shelter. On Thursday, July 25 the members of the planning committee accompanied Santa to the Shelter for distribution of gifts for a true completion of our Christmas in July theme. This time Santa's true identity was that of Lee Anna Golden, a member of the Teen Canteen planning committee.

Dance Slated
If you missed the fun and excitement of the last dance don't fret about it for another is coming your way on Monday, August 5. Instead of bringing you to the North Pole this time we will sweep you away to an uncharted tropical island somewhere in the great Belleville Ocean. But don't expect an island such as Bermuda because we are inviting you to become a member of a survival party from the wreck of an ocean liner. For this Teen Canteen is to be a "Shipwreck Ball" complete with our tropical island and native villagers.
We hope everyone gets in the spirit of things and wears a costume that shows he was in a shipwreck and now marooned on an island. This costume can be anything from tattered clothes, the native dress of the island, a sailor's uniform, or a costume that tells what type of activity you were going when the ship began to sink. A king and queen will be chosen to reign over the island on a basis of most original costume. The queen will have the honor of having our island named after her. And the king will have the opportunity of dancing with a beautiful island native.
This dance will be held in Belleville High from 7:30 to 11:00 on the night of August 5. Refreshments will be served that are in keeping with a tropical theme. You can also enjoy both tropical and popular music played by an excellent band, that was also marooned on the island. And if we are lucky there might be a performance of a native dance. The admission is set at 25 cents for those in costume, 35 cents in regular dress, and 45 cents for non-members.

Plans Detailed
Bailey's plans, already discussed at previous trustees' meetings, call for the construction of the new boathouse on a site adjacent to the Sea Scouts' installation on the Kearny side of the Passaic River.
In this explanation to the trustees, Mr. Bailey stressed that in his plans he was guided by the specific suggestions made by Messrs. Stanley Scher and Edward Cummings, head coaches, respectively, of the Belleville and Nutley crews, who were joined in their opinion by Mr. Herman Wishe, Athletics director, Belleville High School, and several other trustees.
The coaches felt that the boat storage space proper should be 40 x 100 feet, to permit over-the-shells of visiting out-of-town crews.
It should be adjoined by a repair shop with a work area of eight feet in width, in addition to the necessary shower and toilet facilities.
The coaches further suggested a 35 x 40 locker room, large enough for the use of a total of 100 crew members and some visitors. A room of that size, the coaches indicated, would also allow space for the placement of one or two rowing machines, so that "dry-run" training could begin during the winter months.
The old dock, which was salvaged in the Nereid Club fire, has proven inadequate, however, and in line with the coaches' request, should be replaced with a new 20 x 15 foot floating dock. A ramp leading from the Passaic River up to the storage room would have to be 30 feet in width, to provide ample space

Proposed Layout for High School Boathouse

Trustees of the Belleville and Nutley Rowing Association, Inc., will study this week the tentative plans developed by Nutley Architect James H. Bailey for the new high school boathouse. For lack of suitable properties in Nutley and Belleville, the new boathouse is planned to be erected on a site at the northern end of the Riverbank Park in Kearny. The Rowing Association is preparing for a campaign to raise the necessary building funds by public subscription in Nutley and Belleville.

for swimming and manhandling the shells up the incline.
Eve Pre-Fabs
In order to keep building costs at a minimum, Bailey investigated the possibility of a prefabricated building. He reported that so far he had received only one bid from a firm specializing in that form of construction. The firm asked $26,000 for "just the bare shell of a building, without plumbing, electricity, or the cost of any other facilities or such work as grading."

Bailey indicated, however, that some cost may be saved by erecting a two-story building, with the showers and locker rooms located on the second floor, instead, as originally planned, all facilities on the ground floor.
It should be adjoined by a repair shop with a work area of eight feet in width, in addition to the necessary shower and toilet facilities.

Hunting Prospects Good

Wheatley Stable Nears Mark

Oceanport — Wheatley Stable, the home of Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps of New York and Palm Beach, has a chance to set a new record at Monmouth Park in the matter of earnings by one stable at a single meeting.
When Castle Forbes carried the Wheatley colors to victory in last Saturday's Sorority Stakes, the outfit earnings rose to $89,553. Slated to go in Wednesday's Longfellow Handicap on the turf and representing Wheatley Stable, is a Royal Record who won this race a year ago.
If the Royal Record can repeat, the winner's share in the Longfellow will something better than $20,000 and that will be enough to set a new mark. Ada L. Rice holds the record with $104,738, won last season when Della Judge was the winner of the Sapling Stakes.
Going into the final week of the meeting, Monmouth Park, is still ahead of 1962 figures although the terrific heat of recent days has cut down on attendance and wagering. For the first 50 days attendance has been 899,433 an increase of 8,742 over the 890,691 of a year ago or nine tenths of one percent. Wagering stands at $82,021,146 a jump of $3,494,440 over $78,526,706 during the same time last season. Here the increase is 4.4 percent.
Ice Cream Desert Sauce Chocolate dessert sauce stocked in the refrigerator comes in handy on a warm day when ice cream is in demand. Mix 2 eggs and 1/2 cup sugar in the top of a double boiler. Cook, stirring constantly until mixer is warm colored. Add 1 stick butter and 2 squares semisweet chocolate, melted. Continue heating, stirring, until butter is melted.

Testa Building Traps Now For Football Foes in Fall

Despite the fact that the baseball season has still to reach the boiling point, Thomas A. Testa, head football coach at Belleville High, is hard at work planning the defeat of his opponents this fall.
Since the beginning of the month every Monday night Testa assembles his coaching staff at his home and grid talk takes over the spotlight.
12-Month Job
"Football is a 12-month-a-year job these days," said Testa. "Although we don't open practice until September, our staff must be organized in advance. So it means I eat, and drink football all year."

In order to be prepared for opening day of the training, Testa and his five-man staff hold the weekly sessions and discuss scouting techniques and fundamentals and evaluate last year's performances by viewing game films.
"This way we are all going the same way offensively and defensively when the practice sessions began," Testa explained.
"From observing the individual performances in last season's games we can evaluate each boys strength and weaknesses and begin immediately to advise how to improve."

Two freshmen coaches, John Dursky and Mario Cocioli have joined the staff this season. Other members assisting Testa are Pat Forte, Vincent Harris and John Jacone.
Seeks Quarterback
Testa has his work cut out for him this year if he is going to maintain the winning pace he set last season in his debut as head coach.
After dropping the opener to East Orange the Bellboys reeled off eight straight victories. However, 17 members — including 10 lettermen — have been lost due to graduation and Testa can see gaping holes in his starting lineup.
His most pressing need is a quarterback, but all members of the squad will know why Clearman Field has been unofficially named "The Proving Ground" by the time they have completed the four scrimmages scheduled before opening day.

Freehold Raceway Opens 60-Day Session Saturday

FREEHOLD, N. J. — Freehold Raceway launched its 60-day racing season today with a meeting Saturday afternoon with increased betting facilities, enlarged parking capacity and a new racing secretary. Management has high hopes of beating last year's record handle and attendance at the session.
The nation's oldest harness horse track has added 42 new betting booths in two divisions and expended the parking facilities to 9,000 cars. The plant that exceeds capacity at such a giant of harness racing as Yonkers Raceway.
These improvements, plus the additions of a modern totalizer board and last word in photo patrol and expanded air-conditioning in the grandstand, have given Freehold management cause for a rosy forecast. "We feel we will handle $1,000,000 for a single day on one race on one occasion at the coming meeting," was their comment.
A season ago New Jersey's only harness track smashed all handle and attendance standards for a single day on one race. The plant drew 389,341 customers who wagered $25,152,981. The averages were impressive too, with 6,339 patrons per day wagering $419, 216 per card. On the first Saturday of the meeting, 13,208 betters shelled $758,718, a high in each department.

to those having perfect attendance for the four weeks of July. Awards were presented to the outstanding students in each class: Gabriel Micchelli, Lynne Larcara, Joan Benko, Nicholas De Falco, Gary Bucca, Rosanne Amato, Joanne Franciose, Gregory Lardieri, Daniel Valvano and Barbara King. Student registration amounted to 220.

The two outstanding teenage counsellors selected were John King, Mrs. Marie Larca, Mrs. Josephine Martino, Mrs. Francis Restaino, Mrs. Camille Villalobos.

Mrs. Vincent Lessa directed the music program for the Vacation School. Miss Maria Grace Restuccia aided the seminarians in the religious instruction of the children. Seminarians were Charles McCusker, Romeo De Benedetto, Michael Hanley and James Holler. Rev. Michael Saltarello, Moderator of the Religious Vacation School, was surprised with a Spiritual Bouquet from all the counsellors.

Girls Depart Camp Ro-Li; 65 Boys Take Over Site

By ADELINE BREHM

Anyone visiting Glenwild Lake this week will find that the lake has taken quite a hit. You ask the reason for this strange phenomenon in the middle of summer? Any of the 64 girls who ended their stay there Monday, can tell you and most of their friends.

After their banquet on Saturday night quite a number of tears were shed at the thoughts that camp was over for these girls for another summer. It seems they were already becoming homesick for camp. On Sunday, July 21 the girls put on their annual water show for parents and friends and immediately afterward all were asked to pretend it was night and all the spotlights at the waterfront were off. At this time the girls put on their candlelight farewell to Camp. All the campers lit their candles and floated them out on the lake, and then joined hands in a circle with all counselors and directors to make their wish and sing "Good Night to You."

There were a few dry eyes on parents and friends and I doubt there were any dry eyes among the campers and staff. The children had a wonderful time and are all looking forward to camp next year.

Indian Arrive

The day after the girls left camp, the Indians arrived, 65 of them to be exact. They came by wagon (bus to you and I), and many traveled with their trusty ponies (Automobiles). They have taken over camp already and anyone traveling up that way is sure to spot their teepees in the Indian Village and their totem poles around the cabins and lodge.

Local Man Holds Key Air Job

Airman Norman L. Kesner, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kasher of 14 Belle Terrace, Belleville, an Air Guardsman with New Jersey's 108th Tactical Fighter Group, is playing a prominent role in intensive air operations conducted at McGuire Air Force Base, according to Colonel Francis R. Gerald, Group Commander.

The air operations began Saturday, July 20, and will continue until August 3. Airman Kesner is a Warehouse Specialist with the 108th Materiel Squadron.

The 108th fighter group is a unit of the 108th Tactical Fighter Wing, commanded by Brigadier General D. J. Strait. The wing was one of the first units recalled to active duty during the Berlin crisis, and served in France with distinction during this crucial period. It is scheduled to turn in its F-86 Sabrejet fighters for the Mach II F-105s early next year, according to air Guard officials.

Vacancies Noted

The last two weeks of camp for the 1963 season will begin on August 6 and continue until August 20. There are still a few vacancies if anyone is interested in sending their boys to camp this year. If so, contact William C. Smith, secretary, 140 Washington Avenue, Belleville, as soon as possible and make your reservation. Parents and friends are invited to visit camp on regular visiting days of Sunday, August 4 and Sunday, August 18 from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

The camp is still in need of a good second-hand piano. If you have one, which is unwanted, please contact Mr. Smith.

Wallwork Uses Potholders To Interest Kitchen Voters

James H. Wallwork, former Belleville resident, Republican candidate for the State Assembly, has gotten his campaign off to an early start with an unusual twist that is appealing to housewives throughout Essex County.

Jim stepped into the kitchens of Belleville housewives last week and handed them a personalized potholder requesting their support in November. According to political "oldtimers," this is a new approach for New Jersey office-seekers, and one that marks this candidate as imaginative as well as hardworking.

Jim hopes to have at least 5,000 of these potholders hanging in Essex kitchens by election day. The 32-year old West Point graduate distributes them at the rate of 40 to 50 each evening. He starts out at 7 o'clock each evening and works until 9 or 9:30.

HOUSEHOLDS ALERTED
He usually travels with a team of two or three Young Republicans who move along ahead of him to alert households he is coming. This is a very practical gesture that saves him enough time to visit an additional five or six homes each evening. When he reaches a home he introduces himself, chats a few moments and then explains his position on one or two of the major issues facing the electorate. Occasionally he will inject a partisan note, but in most cases he keeps the call very informal. In parting, however, he always reminds them that "WORK is part of my last name and I need your support to put me to work in Trenton."

An observer who accompanied Jim on his calls during a typical evening last week reports that he is very well received. People seem slightly amused, but quite pleased at the unusual gift, and most of them seem genuinely interested in having a chance to chat with a State-Level candidate.

It seems safe that Jim Wallwork will be remembered by some 5,000 housewives as they reach for that hot plate on the kitchen stove.

Naval OCS Graduate

ENS. MICHAEL BURKE

Ensign Michael Edward Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Burke of 127 White Oak Terrace, Belleville, has graduated from the U. S. Naval Officer Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island. Ens. Burke received his B.A. degree in social studies from Seton Hall University, South Orange, in June of this year.

He will now attend Naval Justice School in Newport, following which he will be assigned to San Diego, California, for duty aboard the USS Unadilla.

IRS Asks Aid For Banks on Tax Numbers

Banks and other savings institutions must include the Tax Identifying Number of each depositor on the information returns reporting interest payments of $10.00 or more made after September 30 which they are required to furnish to the Internal Revenue Service. For an individual depositor, this number is his social security number or a similar number assigned for tax purposes.

Almost all interest paying organizations in northern New Jersey have completed their initial efforts to secure Tax Identifying Numbers from their depositors. Some payers report having accounts for which they have no current addresses. Others have accounts whose owners, at the time the account was opened, requested that no mail be sent to them.

Frank S. Turbett, Jr., director of the Revenue Service's Newark District, requests that depositors who have moved without leaving forwarding addresses and those who specified "no mail" on their signature cards immediately contact institutions where they have savings accounts and supply their tax numbers. He also urges depositors who have neglected to answer requests for Tax Identifying Numbers from banks and similar institutions, to do so promptly.

Director Turbett added that depositors are required by law to supply their identifying numbers to banks or other firms paying them interest, and that the same law prescribes penalties for failing to do so.

Norge Village Owner Joins New Association

Bernard J. Hassen, owner of Norge Village, 322 Washington Avenue, Belleville, became a charter member recently in the newly-formed store owner classification of the National Automatic Laundry and Cleaning Council.

NALCC is the trade association of the self-service laundry and dry cleaning industry that is now doing a combined consumer volume of $600 million annually. Store owners, among their other qualifications for membership have agreed to uphold a code of ethics that calls for high standards of cleanliness, lighting, ventilation, and participation in community services. Store owners also must agree to permit inspections by NALCC to see if standards are being maintained.

Potholders Spearhead Wallwork's Campaign

James H. Wallwork, Republican candidate for the New Jersey General Assembly, presents a campaign potholder to Mrs. Harry Weeks of 127 Linden Ave. Wallwork, a former resident of 131 Linden Ave., Belleville is campaigning door-to-door with a goal of distributing 5,000 potholders to voters throughout Essex County before election day, Nov. 5. Looking on is Gerald J. Ferrara of 72 Perry St., Republican Chairman of Belleville.

Fire Protection Chart Available in Spanish

BELLEVILLE, N.J. — "El ABC de los incendios," a Spanish language version of the popular Kidde chart on the ABC's of fires and fire protection is now available at no charge from Wallace Kidde & Company, Inc., Belleville, N.J., or its agents in Spanish speaking countries.

The chart describes the three major classes of fires and recommends the proper types of extinguishers for each. Additional data cover extinguisher operation and maintenance.

Designed for use where extinguishers may be required and as general safety information for all potential extinguisher users, the chart is printed in red and black for high visibility. Its size, 8 1/2 x 11 inches, permits convenient mounting.

For copies of the ABC Chart of Fire Protection in its Spanish language version, write the local Kidde agent or Wallace Kidde & Company, Inc., Belleville, N. J. Copies in English are also available.

"Hootenanny" is Opening Event Of West Orange Repertory Group

Tickets are now on sale at won folk-singing contests in the Theatre on the Green for the past year. They plan to wind up the evening with an audience participation sing-along.

This is the first in a series of special artistic and cultural events planned by Theatre on the Green Repertory Foundation, Inc., Essex Green Shopping Plaza, West Orange. For additional information on coming events, telephone the box office.

Bob Considine will emcee the event. His popular radio show, "The Sounds of Folk Music" on Seton Hall's WSOU-FM is well-known to followers of the new wave of country music. Mr. Considine has been host to the Kingston Trio and other leading folk-singing groups in the country.

The "Hoot" is scheduled to begin at 8:30 and concludes at 11. There will be a short break for coffee and refreshments on the scenic patio.

The performing groups are talented college students who have

FIXED OBJECT COLLISIONS

A fixed object is something that cannot be moved by an automobile crashing into it at high speed. Fixed object collisions according to the Institute for Safety Living, are the fourth leading cause of accidents, killing nearly 4,000 persons annually. Guard rails, roadside trees or poles and concrete abutments are among favorite motor vehicle targets.
