Belleville Children Busy with Play, Carnival as Charity Fund Raisers

Two groups of Belleville children were busy recently with a spirit of charity prevailing over their activities and the Belleville Fresh Air Fund and the anti-muscular dystrophy campaign gaining the fruits of their labors.

One group, headed by nine-year-old Mary Oertel of 179 New Street, Belleville, and ten-year-old Kevin Daily, 8, Marcy Daily, 7; Bobby Barnes, 7; and Peggy Beresford, 5; and Carol Baldwin, 12.

The entire proceeds from the play and sale of refreshments amounted to $4.36 which was donated to the Fresh Air Fund.

Mrs. William Lapham, case aide of the Belleville Family Counseling Service, accepted the money for the fund and thanked the children. She noted that the purpose of the Belleville Fresh Air Fund was to send children to camp and to provide them with a total of 40 children attended camp this summer with Fund assistance.

Costs Cited

"It costs a minimum of $50 to send a child to camp for a two week period," said Mrs. Lapham. "We always seem to have more children wanting to go to camp than we have funds available."

Mrs. Lapham noted that the same group of children had sang Christmas Carols last year and collected about $40, which they donated to the Muscular Dystrophy campaign. This year the group will sing along with assistance from several adults who have volunteered to join the group and the proceeds will be donated to the Fresh Air Fund.

Second Carnival

The children on Walnut Street held their second carnival for the aid of the muscular dystrophy campaign with Bonnie Allen serving as ringmaster. She was assisted by Rita Alexander, Joy Brechtill, Sally Floria and Billy Fasselli.

The carnival featured a variety of games and prizes and was held in Bonnie's backyard at 40 Walnut Street.

The real money-makers were the hot dogs, hot and cold drinks were donated by Mrs. Sal Floria, Thomas Fasselli and Mrs. Henry Allen.

Hall to Face Jury on Two More Charges

Trouble continue to pile up for a Washington Avenue Auto Body Shop owner.

Already facing Grand Jury action on seven counts, he was ordered held for jury action on two additional charges by Magistrate Edward J. Abramson at the August 15 session of Municipal Court.

John Hall, 28, of 18 Walnut Street, Bloomfield, who operated the J. & L. Auto Body Shop at 573 Washington Avenue, Belleville, was released in the custody of his attorney after he was ordered held for jury action on the two new counts.

The new charges were altering the serial number of an automobile and possession of a stolen automobile.

On July 18 he was ordered held for jury action on four counts of possession of stolen property involving three automobiles and one motorcycle and counts of altering the serial numbers of automobiles.

Cop-Biting Charge Hearing Postponed

The hearing of charges of assault and battery and disorderly conduct against a woman involved in the biting of three Belleville policemen was postponed to August 21 by Magistrate Edward J. Abramson at the August 15 session of Municipal Court.

Charges were filed against the woman, Mrs. Thelma R. Robinson, 245 Fairmont Avenue, Newark, after patrolmen were sent to investigate a commotion outside 146 Heckel Street, Belleville.

Mrs. Robinson was continued on $500 bail.

Citizens' Information Aids Police Nab Thief in Hurry

Police officials gave public assistance most of the credit for the fast solving of an entry and the theft of $41 from a Fairway Avenue home last Friday.

Police said Mrs. Alice Mancinelli of 111 Fairway Avenue, Belleville, reported Friday afternoon that her home had been entered and $41 taken from her pocketbook.

After the report of the theft, police found another person in the house who was reporting the theft, another woman halted a police car at Liberty Avenue and Melvick Street and reported that a suspicious man had knocked on her door and asked for "Harry Smith". She watched him enter his car, and gave police a detailed description of the man and his vehicle.

At the time Mrs. Mancinelli was reporting the theft, another woman halted a police car at Liberty Avenue and Melvick Street and reported that a suspicious man had knocked on her door and asked for "Harry Smith". She watched him enter his car, and gave police a detailed description of the man and his vehicle.

Belleville Fair Housing Council Unit To Join March on Washington

The Belleville Fair Housing Council will send a large delegation to join the "March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom" on August 28th.

The March is sponsored by various national civil rights, fraternal and religious groups, and expects to draw anywhere between 25,000 and 100,000 demonstrators to Washington D.C. on August 28.

Purpose Noted

The purpose of the March is by a massive, peaceful, and democratic demonstration in the nation's capital, to provide evidence of the need for the Federal Government to take effective and immediate action to deal with the national crisis of civil rights and jobs that all of us, Negro and white, are facing.

The Civil Rights demands include: Passage by the Congress of effective and meaningful civil rights legislation in the present session. Immediate desegregation of the nation's schools. An end to police brutality directed against citizens using their constitutional rights of peaceful demonstrations.

Demands Listed

The job demands include: A massive Federal Public Works Program to provide jobs for all the unemployed, and Federal legislation to promote an expanding economy. A Federal Fair Employment Practices Act to bar job discrimination by Federal, State and Municipal governments, and by private employers. Also, broadening of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act to include the uncovered areas of employment where Negroes and other minorities work at slave wages, and the establishment of a national minimum wage of not less than $2.00 per hour.

Members of the Belleville Fair Housing Council will leave Newark's Penn Station by chartered train at 5 a.m. on Wednesday morning, August 28th. Participants are asked to bring enough sandwiches and water to last them through supper, as Washington's facilities will not be able to handle such a crowd. Round trip train tickets cost $7.50.

Anyone agreeing with the aims of the March, and willing to abide by its discipline of non-violence, is invited to join the march on its trip to Washington to March for Peace and Freedom. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Gladys Meagher.

Warns Against Council Spending Town Funds

A confident Councilman James R. Golden all but ignored the report of a possible recall campaign against him by the Belleville Veterans Town Committee, but took issue with the name of the group.

"The group has a right to speak for themselves," Golden said, "and they have a right to recall me if they believe I am not doing a good job. However, they have no right to imply that they represent the majority of veterans groups in the town, which they do not."

Golden protested we can not spend ourselves into prosperity nor stability in economy. "We were elected to hold the line not engage in profligate extravaganzas. I recognize the public put me in office to serve as a watchdog and I'm determined to continue in that role. Waste is out and so too must be those who advocate it," he said.

Raimo Plans Campaign for Council Seat

Nicholas Raimo of 115 Small-bay became the second candidate for the vacant seat on the Town Council in November's election.

Raimo picked up petitions in preparation to filing for the November race for the seat vacated by the resignation of Thomas P. Greco.

Raimo is an experienced politician, who almost was elected to the council in the July election. Seeking the seat from the First Ward he was defeated by Councilman Vincent Strumolo in a runoff ballot.

A truck driver by trade, Raimo is active in Italian American in Veterans Post affairs. He will be opposed by at least Democratic Town Committeeman Bernard E. O'Connor, who announced his intention of seeking Greco's vacated seat several weeks ago.

Police Plan New Bureau On Juveniles

Belleville's Juvenile Department will be physically separated from the Police Department, Chief Charles H. McGinnis, said yesterday.

"We are going to move the juvenile section out of the detective bureau, where it is now, up to the top floor of Town Hall," said Chief McGinnis. "This will do away with bringing the juveniles into police headquarters and is more in line with the recommendations of Juvenile Court officials."

In charge of the bureau will be Detective Michael Marotti, who is the present juvenile officer. The bureau will handle all juvenile complaints and investigations, except for motor vehicle violations.

Chief McGinnis explained that under New Jersey law all persons up to and including 18 years old may be treated as a juvenile except for vehicle violations which require an open court appearance of 17-year-olds.

Raps Officials

"It is time to 'stamp out' all doubts regarding whom the Councilmen are elected to serve," said Golden. "The long have Belleville's harassed and overburdened taxpayers been victimized by a calloused disregard for their interests by public officials who have the plans available to them at a big savings to the taxpayers."

Golden's reference to the prospect of the majority's loss of control of town administration was interpreted as a lack of confidence of the success of the recall movement being directed against Mayor Robert Laterza, Councilman Vincent Strumolo and Councilman G. George Adonizio. Both Golden and Strumolo resigned his July 1st, are supporting the recall movement.

Home Entered, Jewelry Taken

A Belleville woman reported her home ransacked and jewelry stolen when she returned from a two-week vacation.

Mrs. Ann Rubino of 73 Hill Street, Belleville, reported to police August 14 that her home had been "ransacked" and several wristwatches stolen. She had returned home that afternoon from a vacation trip which began July 29.

Mrs. Rubino had not informed police that she was leaving on vacation and her home would be unoccupied.

Detective Harry W. Windfield said the police department urges all persons leaving on vacation to call and notify the police they are leaving their homes unoccupied.

Another pilot was killed, one man is missing and three others were injured in the crash of the two B-26 bombers last Wednesday at Irwin, Iowa. Macchelli was a co-pilot on one of the planes which were on a training mission from Schilling Air Force Base at Salina, Kan.

An Irwin fireman said he found Macchelli lying in a field. Macchelli reportedly asked to be taken to a hospital.

Police check all reported unoccupied homes and apartments twice each day while the owners are away. Owners are asked to report their return to the police to halt the checks.

Director of Chamber Issues Warning on Bogus Sales

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce today exposed a vicious new racket — the use of official-looking "Public Notice" mailings to sell so-called "dis-tress" merchandise.

Harry T. French, Executive Director of the Chamber, said that the Public Notice headings are similar in style to legal notices and auction a bankruptcy announcements. The implication is that the merchandise is being sacrificed at a fraction of its worth to satisfy the claims of creditors.

"Actually," French stated, "this is merely a ruse to hoodwink the public."

In a typical example the mailing notes that "several tons of a sacrifice because their company brand new cookware with a price of $199.50 must be sacrificed means of home demonstrations."

of $33, impliedly to satisfy creditors' claims.

"This merchandise is being regularly sold throughout the country in large volume for $33 by means of this deceptive gimmick," said French, noting that the list price of $199.50 is "wholly fictitious."

The Chamber Executive Director said that these "Public Notices" are the latest in a series of deceptive sales stratagems employed by certain cookware promoters to fool the public.

"Other versions exposed by the National Better Business Bureau include the sale of cookware from a hotel suite for a few days by hit-and-run salesmen who claim to be disposing of their goods at a sacrifice because their company brand new cookware with a price of $199.50 must be sacrificed means of home demonstrations."

You and Your Insurance

(A public service column about all forms of insurance.)

COMPREHENSIVE AUTO INSURANCE EXPLAINED

"I have comprehensive insurance on my automobile. Does this provide all the insurance I need?" a motorist asks.

No. Comprehensive coverage is only one of several components that go to make up your automobile insurance protection package.

Comprehensive insurance includes fire and theft coverage, provides payment for damage caused by windstorm, floods or hurricanes; covers you for broken windshields, vandalism and even for damage incurred if animals crash into your auto.

Under a comprehensive policy, you are paid for damage or loss to your car. In most areas $50 deductible comprehensive insurance can be purchased at a substantial reduction in premium. This means the policyholder pays the first $50 of the loss and the insurance company pays the rest.

Other important automobile insurance coverages include bodily injury and property damage liability insurance, which pays claims that are made against you if you injure persons or damage property; collision insurance, which covers collision damage to your own car; medical payments insurance, which provides for hospital and other medical costs for you and your passengers; and uninsured motorist coverage, which covers you in the event a driver without insurance injures you or your passengers.

A New Breed Of Children

In her column "Every Day Is Mother's Day" in the September Good Housekeeping Magazine, Marjorie Brophy repeats a unique conversation overheard in a department store.

The conversation was between a mother and her engaged daughter who had just selected a white satin sofa for her new apartment.

"The mother begged the bride-to-be to reconsider her choice," "arguing that a white sofa is 'sheer nonsense if you plan to have children.'"

"She and I exchanged the amused glances of veterans, when her daughter said loftily, 'Mother, my children aren't going to be dirty.'"

CAMPUS KINGS AND QUEENS

Ex-Belleville Cheerleader
Caldwell College Leader

Battle to Keep Hospital Bills Down
Keeps Clara Maass Officials Busy

Phyllis Pitrelli, the captain of the 1960-61 Belleville High cheerleading squad, is a happy and successful student at Caldwell College for Women.

At B.H.S. Phyllis was active in all of the girls physical education activities as well as junior and senior senate, Student Council and the Spotlight. She has continued many of these activities in college and has added some new ones.

Phyllis is a cheerleader at Caldwell, however she says, "Cheerleading is entirely different at my college. There is no glory in it. We cheer for our girls basketball team and it is a lot of fun and a way to meet new people." She plays intramural basketball.

Her class elected her as chairman of the Big Little Sister program, which is designed to acquaint freshmen with the college. The International Relations Club and the National Federation of Catholic College Students are two more organizations to which she devotes her time. She has also headed several committees that planned social events and was in the sophomore class Christmas play.

Phyllis cautions freshmen in college to "stick to one or two activities at first until you learn how much you can handle. One of the pieces of advice you hear constantly and which is so true is to budget your time wisely, especially your study hours. Phyllis qualifies as a good counselor on budgeting study hours since she has a B plus average and has been on the dean's list for three of her four semesters. She is also a Siena scholar, which means she is a member of an honors program you enter in your freshman year, and this entitles her to do independent projects as aspects of certain fields.

Phyllis commutes to the college and she wishes to speak on what she feels is a great misconception. "There seems to be a feeling that you must get away from your family by boarding at school and that it is necessary to live away for college. However, independence does not breed maturity or responsibility. If the seeds for these "qualities aren't there at home they won't be sown when you go away; Phyllis doesn't feel cut off from activities because she commutes. She feels "There is always something to do after classes and having a car pulls you into more activities."

Phyllis says, speaking on the social aspects of a woman's college "There are many activities with the boys colleges around you so your social life is what you make it."

She also feels "College is so challenging because you meet so many people and learn outside as well as inside the classroom." She also thinks, "No matter how much advice you get in high school, you are not really prepared for college, however you should heed the advice from counselors and people who know about college but keep an open mind."

Thomas Mowen of 259 Hornblower Avenue, Belleville, finance director at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital (left) and Emil Horak of 569 Oliver Terrace, Union, assistant director, review methods of reducing hospital costs in order to maintain patient charges within reasonable limits.

Running up a large hospital bill is not as rare as many people may think. A 3 or 4-week stay at the hospital could certainly deplete the down-payment on that new car, wipe out a vacation fund or delay the purchase of that new home that you have saved for many years. For that reason, Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, your community hospital in the park, is constantly on the alert to use modern methods and cost-cutting techniques for greater efficiency and improved patient care.

The hospital is a non-profit institution governed by volunteer community leaders. These men your neighbors, are legally and morally responsible for the operation of the hospital in the best interests of the community. These Board members are a group of civic-minded, dedicated men, not one of them receiving compensation, who are responsible for protecting the health and welfare of the hospital patients. However, without community support, they cannot serve the people of Belleville and surrounding communities.

Albin H. Oberg, Executive Director at the hospital, recently stated at a meeting at the hospital that the most important service that we can render to the community is to give the best patient care. It is a proven fact that one out of every 8 people will receive hospital care this year — yet few people care much about the hospital that serves them until they need professional care. Then, and only then, do they realize exactly what it takes to run a hospital. Last year, Clara Maass Memorial admitted 12,444 patients and treated 5,728 emergencies.

Each month a different group of people is invited to a meeting and taken on a tour of the hospital to acquaint them with the variety of skills and equipment required to render professional care. In addition, monthly Maternity Teas are held at which time expectant mothers who will be future patients at the hospital are given a briefing on the hospital facilities.

To operate this complex "city within-a-city" requires not only more personnel but more highly skilled people. At Clara Maass better than two-thirds of every dollar spent is distributed in salaries.

Few people realize that several job categories in the hospital today require not only undergraduate college degrees but in many cases the employees must have an advanced degree. Competition for the services of both skilled and semi-skilled workers from industry has also been reflected in more competitive wage scales in hospitals during recent years, thus making the cost of hospital care higher.

To care for its patients around the clock and to provide emergency treatment whenever it arises, Clara Maass — like hospitals across the country — must employ an average of two people for each patient. Because many of these are engaged in "behind-the-scenes" services such as laundry, dietary, maintenance, business office, and a host of others, the average patient or visitor is unaware of the magnitude of the hospital operation. "There is little chance of 'cutting down' through automation," Mr. Oberg said, "because of the hospital's personal service nature. Primarily, we are helping people." In other words, elevators can be made automatic and machines can be installed to process bills; but it takes people to empty bed pans, administer hypodermics, feed patients, change diapers, etc.

Amid outcries against the high cost of hospital care, few people stop to analyze what today's hospital dollar buys. In addition to the obvious services this includes such as bedside nursing, meet special requirements often three meals a day prepared to suit by the physician, drugs, etc.

2 Sentenced On Counts of Narcotics Use

Two Belleville men were sentenced to six months in the Essex County Penitentiary on charges involving the use of narcotics by Magistrate Edward J. Abramson at the August 15 session of Municipal Court.

Gerald Natale, 22, of 69 Heckel Street, Belleville, and Raymond Anderson, 20, of 90 Harrison Street, Belleville, pleaded guilty to charges of illegal use of narcotics and illegal possession of a hypodermic needle.

Magistrate Abramson sentenced both men to six months in the Essex County Penitentiary on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

The court was told that Natale had earlier applied for voluntary treatment at the Federal institution at Lexington, Ky.

Recall Group Predicts Victory, Lacks Figures

The Belleville Committee for Recall is starting to excite an air of unbounded confidence.

In fact, if high words were signatures the recall of Mayor Robert Laterza and Councilman George Addonizio and Vincent Strumolo would be an assured fact.

With the words, however, came no new light on just how many signatures the group has gathered as they met for the third time last week at American Legion Hall.

Figures Lacking

Neither Robert Westpy, chairman of the group, nor former councilman Thomas P. Greco, a behind-the-scenes leader, would reveal current totals, although both agreed that there "no doubt" that their drive would succeed.

"The only way these three men can beat us is if we are lax," Westpy told the 70 persons who attended. "Mayor Laterza said we couldn't get 3,000 signatures in a year. I along with the committee and the citizens of this town will make the mayor eat his words. I will not deny the 3,000 figure that has been published. I feel we are well in excess of 3,000."

Greco said the figures have not denied the 3,000 figure that has been published. I feel we are well in excess of 3,000."

Greco said the figures have not yet been compiled because of the mechanical problem involved. "I'd like to announce the number I think we have but I can't at this time."

The group needs 4,208 signatures or 25 per cent of those who voted in Belleville's last election, to unseat Laterza, Addonizio and Strumolo, who they have charged with constituting a "mafia bloc" which is "NOT WORKING in the best interests of Belleville."

During the meeting, Westpy charged Laterza with trying to intimidate recall workers and petition signers through his statement that he would ask the town clerk to publish the names of all those who sign petitions.

"Why did he make that statement," Greco asked the group, "That's the big question. I think he should be asked publicly why he wants them printed? It is not needed. Those names will be certified by the town clerk."

The committee, which meets again August 27, has until September 6 to file signatures in the Town Manager's office if they are to meet their goal of a November recall election.

Mrs. Senatore Raps Westpy, Backs Mayor

Mrs. Mary Senatore, Belleville's acting Democratic chairman, last week came out in opposition to the current drive to unseat Mayor Robert Laterza and Councilmen Vincent Strumolo and George Addonizio.

In her announcement, Mrs. Senatore termed the recall drive a "campaign of hate" by men who have either lost to the three recall targets or who are "seeking ed" in the campaign.

Mrs. Senatore, appointed acting chairman by county Democratic leader Dennis Carey last month, asked in her statement if the recall drive "is another revengeful stunt" on the part of Robert Westpy, leader of the Belleville Committee for Recall.

Named by Carey

This was an obvious reference to Westpy's as yet unsuccessful claim to the Belleville Democratic chairmanship. Mrs. Senatore, former Democratic vice-chairman, was given an interim appointment by Carey after Westpy and Addonizio finished in a tie for the position. A permanent leader is expected to be chosen this fall.

"As leader of the Democratic party of Belleville, I stand behind these three men (Laterza, Addonizio and Strumolo) who are registered Democrats," Mrs. Senatore said.

During the meeting, Westpy charged Laterza with trying to intimidate recall workers and petition signers through his statement that he would ask the town clerk to publish the names of all those who sign petitions.

Firemen Surprise Lenihan's, 7-6

Upset Gives K of C Shot At Loop Title

The Belleville Fire Department sparked by the hurling of 54-year-old Chief Carl Hundertpfund and the slugging of Al Lowack and Mike Fortino, took on the role of spoilers last week in the Belleville Mutual Softball League.

The firemen bounced back from a 4-1 defeat by Lenihan's a week earlier, to nip Lenihan's, 7-6, last Thursday and drop the league-leaders into a deadlock for first place with the Knights of Columbus. The Knights defeated the Elks last week by forfeit to match Lenihan's 8-3 record with one game each to go.

The Firemen will be cast in the role of spoilers again this week as they meet the Knights, who Lenihan's is scheduled to meet the Elks.

The Knights have won the championship for the five years that the league has been operating. A victory over the Firemen, coupled with the expected forfeit by the Elks to Lenihan's would create a playoff for the title.

Chief Hundertpfund, who has been on the bench since winning two games early this season, took the mound and went the distance to post a 3-0 record for the year.

The game was postponed from Memorial Day and it looked as though Lenihan's had sewed up the title when they took a quick, 2-0 lead in the first inning.

However, the Firemen came back in the third inning and with two men on, Lowack blasted a homer to left for a 3-2 edge. Two hits and an error in the fourth inning boosted the Firemen's lead to 5-2.

Lenihan's rallied in the fifth inning and tied the score at 5-5 as they scored three runs on three hits and one error. The big blows were a double by Butch Halprin and a triple by Charlie Yochum.

Fortino dashed Lenihan's hopes and kept the game for the Firemen when he blasted a 2-run homer in the sixth inning to give the lead back to the firefighters, 7-5.

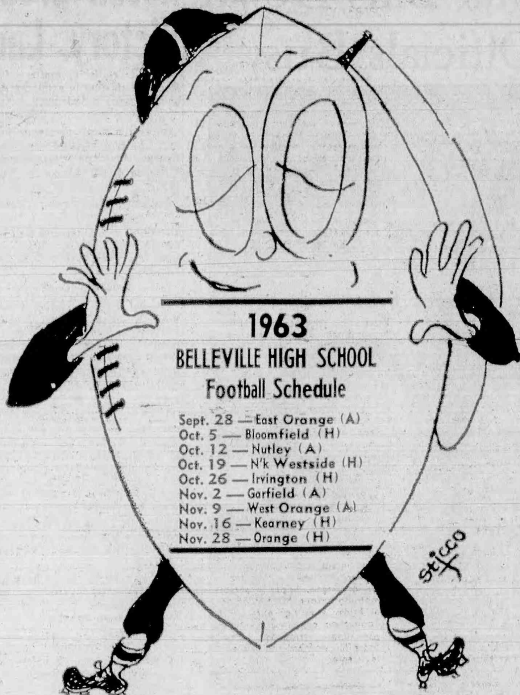

Lenihan's didn't give up and managed to slice their deficit to one-run, 7-6, by scoring a single run in the bottom of the sixth.

Lenihan's threatened in the seventh when Yochum lead off with a single. However, a great leaping catch of a line shot off the bat of Knute Meyers by first baseman Richie Hangeur which doubled off Yochum snipped off the rally and saved Chief Hundertpfund's victory.

Fireman 0 0 3 0 2 0-7

Current Compendiums Of Game Laws Ready

Compendiums of 1963 New Jersey Game Laws are now available according to the Division of Fish and Game in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Printing of the booklets was completed on August 9, the earliest date in history. They were delivered last week to hunting license dealers and municipal clerks where they are available at no cost.

A supplement, listing migratory bird regulations will be printed and distributed shortly. Adoption of seasons for migratory birds must wait until promulgation of federal regulations.

A leaping whitetail buck deer is pictured on the cover. The basic laws on licensing and hunting methods, a table of hunting seasons and bag limits by species and the addresses of all State Conservation Officers are standard features.

Physicals Open Belleville's Grid Activities August 30

Physical examinations and the issuing of uniforms and mouthpieces August 30 will kick off day arrives.

The 1963 football season at Belleville High School.

Coach Thomas A. Testa, who is facing his second season as head coach, will begin putting the boys through the paces with a double practice session scheduled for Labor Day.

Testa, who lost 17 members of last season's squad through graduation, and his coaching staff have been busy since early July planning the defeat of Belleville's nine opponents. Weekly coaching meetings have been held at Testa's home and the fruits of these sessions will now be put into practice at the "Proving Grounds", in an effort to find replacements to fill the holes in last season's powerful squad.

Last season the Belleville eleven dropped its opening game and then rolled off eight straight victories. Testa would like to improve on the record this season and is doing everything possible to see that the boys are well drilled and ready when opening day arrives.

Two freshmen coaches, John Dursky and Mario Cochella have joined the coaching staff this season. Other Testa assistants are Pat Forte, Vincent Harris and John Jasone.

While several of last season's starters have departed the feeling is that Belleville will field far from a green team. Most of the reserves got in a lot of game time last season and will be ready for action when they move into the starting assignments this season. The most pressing need is a quarterback and everyone will get a chance to fill the post, which should make the practice sessions exciting.

Bears Face Springfield In Opener

NEWARK — Professional football returns to Newark after an absence of 20 years when the Newark Bears begin the defense of their Atlantic Coast Football League championship against the Springfield, Mass. Acorns at Schools Stadium, Roosevelt and Bloomfield Avenues, Saturday night.

The last professional football representation in this city was in 1943 when the Chicago Bears of the NFL had a farm team operating in the same stadium and also known as the Newark Bears.

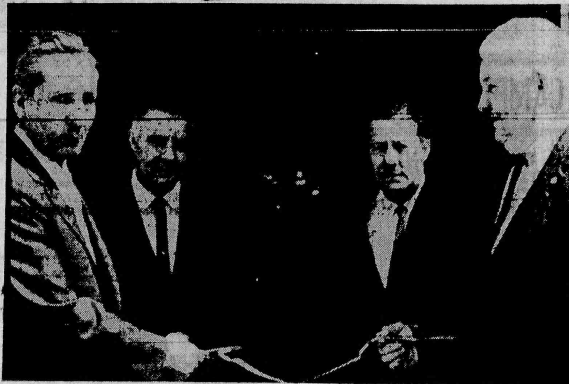

The Bears home tilts, besides the Springfield opener, will be the Pittsburgh Ironmen, September 7, Boston Sweepers, Sept. 14, Baltimore Broncos, October 5, Ansonia (Conn.) Black Knights October 19, and Harrisburg Capitols, Oct. 26. All are Saturday night games with an 8 p.m. kickoff.

The locals play away in Portland, Me., Sept. 1, Harrisburg, Sept. 21, Westchester, Sept. 27, Providence, Oct. 12, Jersey City, Nov. 1, and Pittsburgh, Nov. 9.

The Bears will lineup essentially with the same aggregation that won the championship while they were based in Paterson last year. Julian Malinski, former East Rutherford High School football sensation who was a member of the 1959 Scholastic All-America, will be a new face with the Bears. Mike Hagler of Washington will be another newcomer.

Richie and Bob Walsh, Rufus Chatman, Reggie Lee, Don Wernes of Bloomfield, Tom Gunderman and Neal Buckman of Franklin, Carmine Melignani will be among those who helped the team to the title to return.

Holding the ribbon is Hairy T. French, (R.) Chamber executive director. In the center are Babe and Chris Christian, co-owners.

Guys and Dolls Opening Draws 300

More than 300 persons attended the Grand Opening of Guys and Dolls, the plush purple and white fronted, family billiard parlor opened Friday afternoon at 652 Washington Avenue, Belleville.

The traditional ribbon-cutting ceremony, opening the new pool parlor, took place at 2 p.m. with Michael Pariso, chairman of the Retail Division of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, I offer the ribbon to officially open the doors.

Best Wishes

During the ceremony, Pariso said to Chris and Babe Christian, co-owners:

"On behalf of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, I offer my sincerest wishes for your success in this business venture. I am sure this beautiful establishment will be a source of great entertainment for the people of Belleville and also, it will be a credit to the business community."

Smash Hit

Guys and Dolls, a replica of plush billiard clubs of years ago, was a smash hit with the first women who attended the opening.

The pastel-colored table tops green with gold stripes wall to wall carpeting; he subdued light and soft music drew many admiring statements from the women.

The snack bar, with its chairs and tables reminiscent of the old-fashioned ice cream parlors and beautiful ladies lounge also were subjects of praise from the women.

The owners are well known in Belleville where they are connected with the family-operated Christian Lounge.

Refreshments were served to the opening day crowd.

Odd Accidents Involving Autos

As well as being a storehouse of valuable safety information, the National Safety Council once a year reports on some of the craziest accidents people become involved in. While this might seem like a light-hearted way to deal with a serious problem involving accidents, the council sometimes amusing-to-read pieces serve to alert a wide audience to unexpected dangers they might encounter.

Here are some of last year's tricky twists of fate turned up by the National Safety Council in its annual quest for the oddest and most unusual accidents involving automobiles.

In California police rushed to the scene of a smashed fire-truck and found much more than a column of water was rising in the air and a small car was balanced like a ping pong ball atop the water, some four feet off the ground. Eight men steadied the vehicle long enough for the passenger to get out. Then they let it go. The car shot 35 feet into the air, flipped over, and crashed into the street.

In Allumiere, Italy, Mario Peretti was driving his convertible down a road when a bolt dropped into the seat beside him. The bolt had bolted from a car that had crashed into the passing car and crashed through the canvas roof. Neither driver nor horse was injured.

A North Carolina man got a king-size shock as he drove along Blue Ridge Parkway. A big black bear charged into his car, crashing in the left front fender. The bear then headed back to the woods.

Best Buys at your supermarket this month include canned tuna, turkey, especially the 6 to 16-pound sizes, and grapes—principally Thompson Seedless and Flame Tokays.

Excellent Small Game Prospects

Enthusiastic reports about small game hunting prospects were given at a recent statewide meeting of Conservation Officers of the Division of Fish and Game and the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, in Trenton.

Rabbit populations were reported to be excellent by all the officers. Officer Albert Wilbert of Sussex told, "there are rabbits by the millions." Officer Alfred Nasalek called Burlington's rabbit population "the best ever," and Officer Francis Jones said that cottontails are "way up" in Cape May County.

An abundance of pheasants were noted by nearly all officers. Officer Robert Burns was especially impressed with the many ring-necked pheasants in Warren County, and Officer Hershel Beebe reported a notable increase in Cumberland County.

Sizable quail populations were reported in every county from Burlington south. Officers Edward Carter of Atlantic and Bruce Young in Gloucester said that quail populations are exceptional.

Grouse populations were termed "in fine shape" by Officers George Aber of Hunterdon and James Parrish of Sussex. Officer Wilbert reported a substantial native woodcock population and Officer William Nevins said that raccoons are plentiful in Cape May.

Control Fishing Just By Counting

By B. F. GLADDING

There are plenty of sinking plugs and metal spoons on the market, yet very few fishermen use them to full advantage. Most start cranking the instant their lures touch the water, with the result that the latter seldom go down more than a few feet beneath the surface. In the meantime, especially in hot weather, most of the fish may be far down in the depths—and you must get your lure down to them to take them.

The secret of deliberate deep fishing is patience—patience to wait for your lure to sink, then patience to reel slowly enough to keep it down deep throughout the retrieve. A slow wobble, livened by frequent rod twitches, is all the action needed to bring strikes from deep-down fish—bass, walleyes, lake trout or what have you.

Fish may hug bottom, or they may lie at some undetermined intermediate depth. There's a simple way to prospect at all depths, and then to work your lure at the pay-off level once you find it. All you need is count! Your lure will sink at the same speed with each cast, so begin a steady, rhythmic counting when it lands and continue until you start your retrieve. To feel out deeper water simply increase the count, and vice versa. When you finally hit fish, note how neatly you now have things under control. Merely by repeating the count you can send your lure to exactly the same level. Keep it working there and business should boom!

Scene Of Feverish Activity On Jersey Shore

Tercentenary Tale

Railroad Spur Was Constructed Overnight For Dying President

By JOHN T. CUNNINGHAM

U.S. Attorney General Wayne MacVeagh telegraphed the Jersey Central Railroad on the morning of September 5, 1881, to ask: can the railroad build a new spur, a six-tenths of a mile long, to carry President Garfield's train from Elberton station to his beach-front cottage — and have it finished by tomorrow?

The railroad answered promptly: yes. There could be no other answer, for MacVeagh's question was in effect an order. It verged on the impossible, but the railroad must try, for the President's life could depend on it.

Felled by an assassin's bullet on July 2 as he prepared to leave Washington for Long Branch, President Garfield had weakened steadily as the feverish summer wore on in the White House. The Washington swamps in September posed an additional threat of malaria, and the President's doctors decided that he must be moved to the New Jersey shore. Garfield readily agreed, although he said: "I do not see how it can be done."

His doctors didn't see either. Every hand was needed; build the 3,200 feet of railroad overnight fell far outside the normal routine. A correspondent for Washington climate surely would kill him; the sea breezes might cure him. They decided to gamble on the railroad trip.

Whitehouse Aides carefully guarded against premature announcement, but all of Long Branch knew by September 4 that Garfield and his family would occupy the beachfront cottage owned by Charles G. Franchlyn of the Camard Lines. If there had been any doubt, it disappeared during the night of September 5 in an astonishing feat of railroad construction.

Surveyors and construction engineers left Jersey City immediately after the Jersey Central accepted MacVeagh's challenge. Orders went out of the Elizabethport yards to send ties, rails and laborers to Long Branch.

The right-of-way had been surveyed 6½ p.m. and 20 men shoveled the first sand soon after. Within two hours some 300 railroad men were at work. During the afternoon and evening local residents volunteered help, until more than 2,000 men labored on the spur.

Every hand was needed; build the 3,200 feet of railroad overnight fell far outside the normal routine. A correspondent for

Leslie's Illustrated Weekly wrote of the night:

"Crowds of ladies and gentlemen from the various hotels and cottages visited the scene and watched the laborers at work. Immense locomotive headlights from the railroad shops and hundreds of small lights and lanterns gave light... and every man worked with a will to get the road in readiness."

Wagons and carts for miles around were commandeered to carry away sand and dirt. Wagon made and served cool drinks and sandwiches. Big boys handed spikes to workmen and little boys held torches — supplied by local Republican and Democratic organizations from heat supply reserved for election parades.

James D. McCabe's "whole book, 'Our Martyre President'" detailed Garfield's last days, wrote:

"... When the cottagers awoke in the morning they found a railroad at doors, running through what was an orchard the night before. The locomotives were drawing armed soldiers over the flower-bordered lawns where ladies in white flannel suits were playing the previous afternoon. In a night, as if under the spell of a magician, this completely equipped structure had risen."

President Garfield began his long journey from Washington at sunrise on September 6 and, his speeding train reached Elberton station at 1:09 p.m. the same day. The hastily-built railroad spur couldn't carry the heavy locomotive, so a lighter locomotive was switched in to push the three-car train to the cottage.

Dense crowds surrounded the Presidential train as it neared the top of a slight grade on the "Franklyn Cottage branch." The little engine failed; the train stopped. Leslie's correspondent reported:

"Someone shouted, 'Put the men to it!'"

The ready workers scarcely waited to be told. In an instant 200 of them put their shoulders to the President's car, the engine's throttle was pulled open, and with a will, slowly and steadily the train was pushed over the grade.

"Not a shout nor a cheer was heard. There was no noise." Silent throngs lined the seaside bluff when the train halted in front of the cottage. Soldiers eagerly held them back for this was an orderly, respectful reception. Only newspaper correspondents dashed manly about as President and aides gently carried Garfield's emaciated body into the cottage.

The President rallied briefly at Elberton, but the seaside breeze couldn't succeed where medical science had failed. James A. Garfield died in the Franklyn cottage at 10:35 p.m. on September 19.

Two days later Rev. Charles J. Young of the Long Branch Reformed Church conducted a five-minute service before Garfield's body was removed to a waiting railroad car. The train puffed away over the 3,200-foot spur to begin Garfield's last journey home.

Town Playground Activities Featured by Picnic, Parties

On hot, humid summer days, when the asphalt burns through the shoes of the children and the exertion of pitching horseshoes seems overly depleting, the children at Playground 1 can usually find diversion and relief by witnessing candid and sometimes very strange humor afforded by several of its younger participants.

Johnny Van Tassle is the most talented and specializes in slapstick humor. He can do an excellent imitation of "crazy Guggenheim" however he prefers using his own comic material. Another playground comedian is Jonathan Poite, besides offering excellent situational humor, four-year-old Jonathan charms everyone with his monster stories which invariably have a very funny ending. Incidentally Jonathan would like to have it known that his chief ambition is to become a big-league baseball player.

Picnic Successful
The week of August 21th was filled with events for children of all ages at the Recreation House. On Thursday, a group of 23 youngsters enjoyed a picnic in Belleville Park. They left the playground at 10:30 a.m. and walked merrily together until they found a spot which won mutual approval. After playing games, they sat under a tree and ate their boxed lunches. Later relay races were held and points were given to the winners.

The children then took a walk through the park and later enjoyed ice cream. They returned to the playground at 3:00 p.m. exhausted from a very busy day. Thursday night, August 8 the first pre-teen canteen dance was held at the Recreation House. It lasted from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. Refreshments were served. A pizza shop was held on Thursday, August 15 at the Recreation House from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.

Who's Who?
"Girls will be boys!" This was the state of affairs at Fairway playground last week when they held a Turn About Contest. Boys were to dress as girls and girls were to dress as boys. Barbara DePhillips was the winner. She was dressed in navy blue slacks, a white shirt and a blue baseball cap. Her hair was pinned under the cap so that she made a successful

PFC HOWARD L. FISHER

Pvt. Howard L. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Fisher of 73 Bridge Street, Belleville, was recently promoted to Private First Class.

Fisher went into the army December 5, 1962. He received his basic training at Fort Dix, N.J. and has been stationed at Fort Bliss, Tex. since February 1963.

Pfc. Fisher is a 1960 graduate of Belleville High School and was with Public Service in Newark prior to entering the service.

Successful appearance as a boy. Joan Vander Swan came in second. She resembled an older fellow in her dungarees and white sweat shirt. Pam VanderSwan placed third. She wore a pair of light blue slacks, white shirt and a black derby.

Handicraft has been a major activity at Fairway, the children are working on something new. Using lanyard string, they have been developing several different methods of making bells. Some are two strands thick others are seven strands. The younger children make the two strand belts while the older children make the wider ones. Janice Amico, Peg and Maryann Cleavy, Linda Cassese and Joanne Borbone have excelled in this area. On August 21 the playground will have a Fairway Farewell Bar-B-Q.

Joint Event
August 7, School 4 playground invited School 2 playground to come to their playground for a picnic which proved to be a great success. Everyone brought their lunch and something extra for everyone to share. The table was filled with potato chips, marshmallows, donuts, cupcakes, pretzels, fruit, soda and much more. Language is no barrier to the children at School 4 playground. Each day school is conducted in and games organized by the directors. Adding to all this fun was the story hour. All the children gathered around and listened to stories told by a library representative. As a finale to a perfect day watermelon was distributed to all the children.
