21 ARRESTED IN DOPE RAID

2-Month Watch Ends Dope Center in Town

Directed Arrests

A two-month long watch of a suspected narcotics center in Belleville paid off with the arrest of 21 persons and the confiscation of a cache of heroin and paraphernalia in a St. Patrick's Day raid by Town Detectives aided by men from the Essex County Sheriff's Department.

Directed by Detectives Hugh O'Toole and Hank Oliveri, 16 men from the Sheriff's Department in eight cars and a van, kept in contact with a radio net, staked out about one-square mile around the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Costa, 62 Naples Avenue, for almost the entire day and netted 21 persons. Detective O'Toole, who commanded the raid, said that more arrests will be made in a few days as a result of the quizzing of the persons arrested and said that if the State law would have allowed the police to hold the prisoners without contact with the outside for any length of time that the bag would have been much larger.

From our two-month watch of the house we know that certain persons came to the house on certain days. However, since we had to allow the persons arrested to call their attorneys or relatives we had no way of keeping the raid a secret," said O'Toole.

Being held on $10,000 bail each are Ronald and Phyllis Costa of 62 Naples Avenue. Ronald, 27, is charged with illegal possession. (Continued On Page 5)

Fire damaged a house at 156 Fairway Avenue Sunday afternoon.

Firemen said that heavy smoke was coming from the roof and kitchen wall of the home, owned by Mr. and Mrs. P. Grippaldi, when they arrived at the scene about 3:33 p.m.

Trucks 7 and 8 fought, the blaze, which spread to the second-floor bedrooms and penetrated the walls to the ceilings of both the second and first floors. A call for additional help brought Engine 3 and the next

Dual Control Move Faces County Review

To implement last month's establishment of a dual control administrative setup, the school board has abolished the position of assistant superintendent in charge of business and named the former holder of that post, Harold A. Dufford, school business administrator.

The new position must be approved by County Superintendent of Schools William S. Twichell, State Commissioner of Education

Frederick M. Raubinger and the State Board of Education.

The local board has requested a meeting with Twichell, who vetoed the board's request to establish the position in October, 1963.

A two-hour debate marked by fiery exchanges between resolution sponsor, Nicholas S. Juliano and chief opposition spokesman Mrs. Norma McCall. When contacted by The Times, Twichell had not yet received official notice of the board's action. He said he rejected a similar request in 1963 "because I thought the system they were operating under was superior. The problem is in the nature of the organization itself. When there are two heads they may or may not work well together. If they don't work well together, serious problems are created."

Since the statute authorizing the board's action was created

Teachers Boycott Classrooms; Picket Town Hall in Protest

Belleville's teachers abandoned their classrooms Friday in a one-day protest against the $277,900 reduction in the proposed school budget by the Town Council and picketed Town Hall.

The School system's 263 teachers assembled in the Elks Club at 251 Washington Avenue, instead of reporting to the classrooms. They were joined by 11 principals who first reported to school by order of Superintendent of Schools Dr. Frank M. Durkee, but later joined the assembly of teachers at the Elks Club.

The schools were closed by the Board of Education at a meeting late Thursday night after they were told by Dr. Durkee that the one-day walkout was almost complete. The Belleville Education Association had informed the Board of Education of their plans for a boycott of the classrooms by telegram several days earlier.

The teachers had coffee and doughnuts at the Elks Club and heard a brief talk by George Nucera, president of the NEA, and Frederick W. Branca, field representative of the New Jersey Education Association, before marching on Town Hall.

Nucera cautioned the teachers before they departed from the picket duty, returned to the Elks Club to await their turn at carrying the signs and walking in a parade short on the sidewalk in keeping their children home.

The letter said: "Dear Parent: We are in receipt of a telegram from the Belleville Education Association to call off the protest demon-

A Walk of Ignorance

Some 260 teachers in the local school system boycotted their classrooms Friday, halting the education of our youth, in a senseless demonstration against the reduction of the proposed school budget for 1965-66 by the Town Council.

The educators claimed the protest was not the issue of their salaries but rather a protest against the effect the reduction in the budget would have on the local educational program.

The walk from the Elks Club to the Town Hall and the day-long picketing of the educators taught two lessons and made it obvious that the educators were in need of additional education.

One lesson was learned by the Town voters. That is that the members of the Belleville Education Association believe they are above the wishes of the voters and are arrogant enough to believe that they can dictate to the people of Belleville.

The other lesson was learned by our youth. They were taught by their teachers to ignore the due processes of State statutes and to take to the streets, carrying banners and posters aloft, anytime they don't like the rules set down by the proper authorities.

We believe the educators unmasked themselves by tossing aside the protection of high-sounding slogans in which they have made a habit of parading and revealed themselves to the taxpayers as just another trade union that will go to any extremes to get what they want, despite the wishes of the voters.

The irresponsible, careless, follow-the-leader clannishness that was demonstrated by the teachers is a good example for our youths to look at and reject. We trust and hope that our youth has the sense to do as the teachers say, rather than as the teachers do.

We believe the Board of Education should set up a special course for its teachers where they can be taught responsibilities to the Town and our youth.

They have proven by their "Walk of Ignorance" that they would fail any test in civic responsibility. FCW.

Teachers Jam Town Hall In Silent Budget Protest

More than 250 teachers jammed the Town Council chambers in Town Hall to capacity, filled the upstairs hall, the first-floor hall and overflowed to the outside Monday night in a silent protest demonstration against the $277,900 slash in the 1965-66 school budget.

It was the second demonstration in four days by the teachers employed in the local school system, protesting against the reduction made in the school budget after it was twice rejected by the voters.

George Nucera, president of the Belleville Education Association, said it was the last demonstration of the type planned by the group, "although it is likely are apprehensive for the welfare of their children under this condition, they might be well-advised to keep their children home from school on this day.

"No child will be considered absent on this date if parents notify the school at a later date that the child was kept home by the parent."
Mrs. Norma McCool, Board of Education member, opposed the teacher boycott. She said:

"I am very much against it during school hours. It could have been done after school."
The Council had cut the budget after it was twice defeated by the voters. The Board of Education had sent the original budget back to the voters following its original defeat.

Nucera said the protest was not because of teacher salaries. He said the teachers were protesting the reduction of funds for supplies, additional personnel and possible curtailment of bus service to students.
He said the cuts planned by the Board of Education were detailed for members of the Association, although they were not made public. (Copy of proposed cuts are on Page 3).
"The outlook of education in Belleville this year will be a poor one because of the budget cut," said Nucera.

Town Manager John Burnett, who watched the demonstrators from his first-floor office window for a few minutes with Councilman William H. Cullen, said:
"The demonstration is the heard yet. This is certainly a poor example to set for pupils whom they (the teachers) are supposedly interested in teaching. The Town Council did not ask for the budget. It was rejected twice by the public as being too high."
Many of the children given a surprise holiday took advantage of the parade to get a look at all of the system's teachers. They lined the street and waved at the teachers they were familiar with.
Several citizens opposed the teachers demonstration and termed it a disgrace and a

Kosinski Finishes Food Service School
FORT KNOX, Ky. — Pvt. Thomas G. Kosinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kosinski, 25 Davidson St., Belleville, was graduated from a food service school at the Army Armor Center, Fort Knox, Ky., March 18.
During the eight-week course Kosinski received instruction in the preparation and serving of food in military kitchens and in the field. The fifth and sixth weeks were spent obtaining "on-the-job" training in an Army mess hall.
Kosinski is a 1961 graduate of Belleville High School.

Town Council Explains Cut In Proposed School Budget

The Town Council released a statement on the reducing of the school budget that has drawn the protest of the Belleville Education Association and was dramatized in a classroom boycott and mass picketing demonstration in front of Town Hall last Friday.
The Council's statement said: The School Budget for the last half of 1965 and first half of 1966 was rejected by the Belleville voters on February 9, 1965.
It was resubmitted to the voters without any change on February 23rd, and again rejected.

Under state statutes it then became necessary for The Belleville Board of Education to present this budget to The Belleville Town Council, who in turn were required to review the defeated budget and submit the sum which, in their opinion, would be needed by the Board of Education to provide for primary and secondary education in Belleville during the school year 1965-1966, to The Essex County Board of Taxation. The Town Council neither asked for nor wanted this assignment.

The Board of Education is elected by the people of Belleville to represent them in school matters. The majority of those who voted the first time on this budget by their ballots told the members of The Board of Education that they did not approve of the amount proposed to be expended. Instead of heeding the wishes of the electorate, the Board made no changes but sent the budget back for a second vote. The people again rejected it.

We were required by law to accept the defeated budget from The Board of Education and then we did on Saturday, February 28, 1965. We were required to make our determination in ten days or by Tuesday, March 9th. In the meantime, we were presenting our own town budget for public hearing on the night of Monday, March 8th. This meant that we had to make our decision on The Board of Education Budget prior to March 8th or face the possibility of prolonging the public hearing on the Town budget thus adjoining our meeting past the legal date for the return of the School Budget to The Essex County Tax Board.

We met to reach a conclusion on The School Budget on Sunday, March 7th. We had never announced and never intended to hold public hearings on The School Budget. The ten day time element was an absolute bar to such a hearing or any series of discussions. To begin with, we had only been given by the Belleville Board of Education a copy of the public notice for the budget hearing and copies of the explanation of the budget pamphlets distributed by The Board of Education to the general public.
At the meeting with The Board of Education, we were told there were no minutes available of The Board of Education discussion on the budget.

We do not even know who prepared the budget and it was obvious to us that the entire board was not in accord as to the reasons for all of the budget requests. We thanked for the series of data which should have been available to all board members during their budget discussions.
Four days later we were forwarded a list of teachers and employees plus general explanation as to budgetary items. No experience pattern as to previous expenditures was included nor any estimates as to cost for proposed capital outlay items. No committees, or individuals charged with the making of the Board of Education Budget nor employees of The Board of Education volunteered their services to help us with facts or considered opinions on budget requirements.
Each of us made our own studies on The Budget. On Thursday night, March 4th, we met prior to our regular public hearing meeting to discuss our conclusions as to the Board of Education Budget.
We were unanimous in our belief that the public had given a mandate to the Town Council to reject the budget.

We were unanimous in our belief that certain appropriations were either unnecessary or inflated.
We were in general agreement that the new teachers salary plan, adopted by The Board of Education, was necessary to keep Belleville in a competitive position with other communities in the general area.
We varied only in our individual opinions as to the amount the budget should be cut, our estimates ranging from $150,000 to $300,000.

The Town manager was then asked for his analysis of the budget. His response showed questionable budgetary appropriations in the amount of $277,900. He was requested to transcribe these notes and send a copy to each councilman for their consideration.
We then proceeded with our own conference on Town Affairs and met Sunday, March 7th, to arrive at our determination as to The School Budget.
The manager's notes were helpful and his suggested reductions by line item were reasonable and proper in the opinion of the Town Council. Our final reduction was $227,800, as to appropriations plus an additional $50,000. We believe should be taken from the budget balance of the 1963-1964 budget. Finally, we wish to point out that the present allocated budget is $1,111,800, or approximately $50,000 higher than last year's budget for all school services and employees.

It is our firm and considered opinion that the reduction we made in the School Budget will in no way impair the educational efforts and quality of the Belleville School System.
(The Board of Education budget, as presented by Town Manager John H. Burnett, as originally proposed to be raised through our local tax levy.
The additional appropriation of $187,337, to be raised in the local tax levy for "Debt Service" is a mandatory item, and has already been certified by the Secretary of the Board of Education to the Essex County Board of Taxation, the Director of Local Government and the Essex County Superintendent of Schools, under date of February 26, 1965. A copy of this certification was also forwarded to our Tax Assessor, and is in his current files.
Beginning my analysis, I find that the average daily enrollment shows little change for the three years' period from 1963 - 1965. The number was $271.1 for the 1963 - 1964 year, a projected 5348 for the 1964 - 1965 school year and a continuing projection of 5388 for the 1965 - 1966 school year. I believe experience alone in the 1964 - 1965 figure will more closely approximate 5301 with little increase probable for the 1965 - 1966 year.
The number of students and the same involved result in a per pupil cost to the Belleville taxpayers of $600. per year. The actual per pupil cost, considering State and Federal aid, is approximately $690. per year.
The operational increase in the defeated Budget, now under consideration, amounted to $324,440.50. The largest single item of this increase is the $173,848.20 in the Line item for "Teachers Salaries." Granting that it is necessary for the Board of Education to establish a salary guide to place Belleville in the proper competitive position to attract the best teachers, I do not believe that the need has been clearly demonstrated for the requested 11 new teachers, the junior high school guidance counselor, the elementary school librarian and the additional clerk in the junior high school office.
Using the minimum salary of $5350. yearly, established in the new guide, I, therefore, believe that the sum of $74,200. can be removed from this Budget without interfering with proper educational procedures.
While the salary guide increases were necessary for competitive purposes as to teachers, the same does not hold true for administrative salaries. No turnover can reasonably be anticipated, and, therefore, the sum of $11,500. can be eliminated.
No need has been shown for the increase in "Teaching Supplies" and, certainly not in the amount requested, because the high school has already been operating for a full year, as has the entire school system. Therefore, I believe the sum of $12,000. can be eliminated from this Line item.
The catchall appropriations, listed under "All Other Expenses," apparently contains considerable duplications, and again there is no apparent justification for the increase over the previous CONTRASTING STYLES — At Monday's often fiery school board meeting, members exhibited diverse strategies. President Ernest S. Arvidson (top right) displayed a "discretion" retreat when faced with pointed questions about the board's stand toward boycotting teachers. Mrs. Norma McCool (bottom right) demonstrated frontal assault tactics when she said the school budget cut was "no catastrophe," and later led the opposition against a dual control measure in a two-hour debate. "I believe in going down fighting," said the indomitable Mrs. McCool toward the end of the nearly five-hour session.

Board Undecided on Protest Action

School Board President Ernest S. Arvidson side-stepped questions from two citizens about the board's action in the face of last Friday's teacher boycott at Monday night's board meeting.

"The board hasn't had a chance to consider the matter," said Arvidson in reply to Mrs. Daniel A. McCarthy's query as to what steps the board will take to prevent a recurrence of the walkout, and to Vincent Vecchione's question whether Belleville teachers will be paid for the day of the walkout.

The board is expected to consider the boycott matter at a conference session next Monday night.

Board member Mrs. Norma McCool agreed with the statement of another citizen, Thomas A. Holton, that the extent of the school budget cut made by the Town Council was exaggerated. "It's not a catastrophe. We don't have to throw panic but

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF BELLEVILLE

The Belleville Teachers Association in its recent action demonstrated its courage of conviction and dedication to an ideal. It takes courage to decide on an action which will forcibly bring home to the citizens of a community that existing needs in the schools can no longer go unmet. It takes courage to stand up in the face of criticism and defend quality education for its prime importance to society. It takes courage to speak out in support of the needs of schools when the town council seems willing to turn its back on the problem. It takes courage to ask the citizens to consider the problem of safety for boys and girls when they seem willing to ignore its existence. It takes courage to run the risk of reprisals, both as individuals and as a teacher group, in order to make a community listen to the needs of their own children.

The Belleville Teachers Association has shown such courage. Their unity of purpose, their dedication to what is in the best interests of their pupils, their support of quality education, and their personal unselfishness have shown the people of the community that they put the welfare of pupils and the school program first in their consideration of a professional job to be done.

Ideals are the standard-bearers of the teaching profession. By them, progress and growth are measured. With them, education moves ever forward in the work of instruction and of guidance. Each new generation of children who enter the public schools benefit from them. And in defense of ideals, teachers are quality education for its most precious possession, the children of the community.

With best wishes for mutual understanding and cooperation, with and for all concerned,

Rose Kosches, President
Essex County
Education Association

Kindergarten Signup Lags

It appears from the number of children registered for kindergarten for September, 1965, that parents may be still unaware of the fact that children should be registered at the various elementary schools now.

Parents who take their children to the schools for kindergarten registration should present immunization records for polio, smallpox, and diphtheria and a birth certificate. These papers, of course, can be supplied at a later date if they are not at once available.

It is important, however, in planning to know the number of children who will be in each kindergarten. So far, only 336 children have been registered for kindergarten, as follows:

School
One	19
Two	16
Three	41
Four	41
Five	58
Seven	69
Eight	27
Nine	26
Ten	26

To be eligible for kindergarten a child should be five years of age by December 31.

A Lesson For Voters?

The 260-plus members of the Belleville Education Association attempted to teach something to the Town Council and the voters last Friday in a one-day demonstration that involved the boycotting of all schools and a picket parade in front of Town Hall.

We believe the voters learned much from the demonstration, but not what the teachers had hoped to teach.

The senseless, irresponsible act of walking out of their classrooms Friday — without consideration for the effect their action would have on the Town's school children — in protest against the reduction of the proposed 1965-66 school budget revealed to all that our educators still have a lot to learn.

The Town Council was handed the school budget with a mandate from the taxpayers to reduce it, after the Board of Education had submitted its original budget to the voters for the second time and had it rejected for the second time.

The members of the Council, Mayor Nuncio R. Pico and Councilmen William H. Cullen, Robert Westpy and James R. Golden, who approved the reduction of the budget as recommended by Town Manager John R. Burnett, should be applauded for living up to their responsibilities as servants of the voters. They proved to the taxpayers that they were willing to do their bidding, even though they were aware of the abuse that would come from a biased minority.

The individual teachers who quit the classrooms and their pupils to take part in the walk on Town Hall were about as uninformed on the school budget and the financial aspects of the school system as it is possible to be.

Several of the teachers in the march claimed that the budget reduction was responsible for their pupils not having a large enough paper supply. Another said her students were working with too few rulers. Still a third said his class had been refused a $65 film to be used as a teaching aid.

It seemed none of the teachers we talked to were aware that the present budget does not have any effect on the school system until July of this year.

It seemed that none were aware that the budget for 1965-66 is still larger — after the $277,900 reduction by the Town Council — than was the 1964-65 budget on which the schools are presently operating.

It seems that few, if any, are aware that the Board of Education has a surplus of $82,000 on hand at present and that an additional $50,000 surplus is anticipated from the present operating budget.

If the students are short of supplies and teaching aids then, the teachers were picketing the wrong place and the wrong group. They should have been picketing the Board of Education, demanding that the surplus funds be used to buy the students the necessary supplies.

However, we don't believe the educators were protesting the budget reduction from the point of loss of educational material or program, but rather from a sense of a superior complex that has them believing that as educators they have only to ask and the taxpayers must give — all in the interest of education.

It would appear that economics is no longer taught in our temples of higher learning. It would seem to an outsider that the educators believe fully in the theory that: The more you spend, the more you earn. Almost any housewife can tell them that the theory doesn't hold up.

1965 Legislative Election

Thanks to the ineptness of the leaders of both major political parties, at this writing it appears that the New Jersey Supreme Court will be obliged to determine on what basis members of the New Jersey Legislature will be elected this year.

More than a score of reapportionment plans have been considered without a single one enjoying the votes of a majority of New Jersey legislators. The New Jersey Legislature, even appointed a special Reapportionment Committee headed by former Governor, Robert B. Meyner. The recommendations of this commission have been practically ignored.

The easiest thing for the Supreme Court to do at this juncture is to order an At Large legislative election. This will be necessary to guarantee to each citizen equal voting representation. The Supreme under practical application.

Although we saw the teachers walking down the street with their posters held high, we can't believe that most of the teachers were there unless they were misled and misinformed. We believe the Board of Education must share the blame for the public spectacle that the educators made of themselves. We can't believe they would have been on the sidewalk instead of in the classrooms if the Board had given an honest appraisal of the budget as approved by the Town Council.

While we do not believe the Board of Education actually directed the teachers to take the absurd step that they took, we do believe the Board was lax in attempting to stop it.

The letter that Board of Education President Ernest S. Arvidson sent to all parents advising them that the teachers would not be in the classrooms Friday and cautioning them on the welfare of their children if they were not kept home, actually aided and abetted the teacher walkout.

The second paragraph which said: No child will be considered absent on this date if parents notify the school at a later date that the child was kept home by the parent," encourages an illegal act.

We believe President Arvidson and all other members of the Board are aware that the New Jersey Supreme Court has ruled that parental protest is not a valid reason to absent a child from school.

We believe the Board is aware the attendance register by law must show the days absent and the days present. This record can not be falsified even by order of the Board of Education as it is the record for payment of state-aid to education.

The last-minute act of the Board of Education late Thursday night in closing the schools for the day without making an effort to have the individual teachers fulfill their contracts is also questionable.

The proceeds of the demonstration add up to a complete zero unless you give credit to the blackening of the name of Belleville that was given in the press and on television and radio; or the lesson in irresponsibility given to our youth; or the knowledge that our educators will take to the streets rather than protest by petition, which is the method taught in most classes on democracy.

The only value, if any, gained from the demonstration was by the voters. They now must question the sincerity of the educators when they speak of advances of education for our youth to see if the statement is fact or just another angle to promote another benefit for the educator.

They must question each member of the Board of Education to see if they can place public service above petty politics.

Finally they must, individually and collectively, consider if the present Board of Education has any channel of communication with the teachers and administrators in our school system or has politics closed all communications and trust between them.

If the Board has no means of keeping the teachers from taking to the streets, either by respect of Board decisions or by punishment for the civic irresponsibility displayed, then the taxpayers of this Town should explore the possibility of reverting to an appointed Board of Education.

The image and respect of our educators suffered a tremendous loss. We don't believe it can take another such blow and still provide any benefits for the youth of our town.

—FCW

Court will make every effort to avoid political decisions which necessarily rise if it involved itself in determining election district lines. An At Large election will provide the escape hatch for the Supreme Court from involvement in this political entanglement.

In a likely event that an At Large election will be ordered, the Jersey voters will face a November ballot with at least 60 candidates for the New Jersey Assembly and 21 candidates for the State Senate — not to mention numerous county offices up for grabs.

Incidental to the November election is the election of a governor so — we can look forward to a November ballot containing at least 100 names — and for this we can thank both the Democrat and Republican parties.

year's budget. I, therefore, believe $4500 can be eliminated.

Under "Health Services," there is no demonstrable need for this item has been increased over national employee, for which no clear need has been demonstrated. I believe $4500 can be eliminated from this item.

Under this category, I find "Contracted Services, Utilities and Supplies" items have been increased to absorb anticipated cost, as have the items under "Maintenance of Contracted Services and Replacement of Equipment." I believe $10,000 can be safely deleted.

I see no logical reason for the catchall budget item of $25,000 under "All Other Expenses." A more reasonable contingency should be applied. I therefore, believe you should consider a reduction of $20,000 in this line item.

Under "Fixed Charges," there is a budgetary appropriation item in the amount of $10,000, which should be removed because the reason for it is apparently eliminated by increased itemized cost throughout the Budget.

Under the "Capital Outlay" section of the Budget is a $25,000 item without specific estimate. The general purposes as shown appear to warrant no more than a $10,000 expenditure. I believe that $15,000 can be safely removed.

The "Buildings" item for has no estimated figures but appears to be $3000 high in its estimate of lavatories for School Four. There appears to be no immediate need for the $10,000 Fire Detection equipment item, and the electrical rewiring of the Junior High School should be sectionalized, as recommended in the 1965 report of a Special Committee, which would require no more than $5000, $17,200 less than budgeted. The Window Shade Installation item of $1500, is apparently a duplication. Therefore, $33,700 can obviously be eliminated.

The additional equipment, generalized only, appears to be excessive, considering the large expenditures in the past two years for this purpose, and the seemingly duplication of $18,000. I believe can be eliminated from this item.

The "Debt Service" as previously explained, is mandatory as to amount, and no change whatever can be considered.

However, the Fiscal Policy of the Board of Education has used only $50,000 from the available balance of $112,645.63, leaving an unjustified balance of $62,645.63. No demonstrable need can be shown for this method of financing because the balance results from concluded operations dated as of June 1964, and there are unquestionably balances accruing through the budget of the present year. I, therefore, believe that an additional $50,000 should be appropriated from this balance or reserve.

My conclusions, based on my analysis of the present Budget, with the limited statistics and information made available to me, would be that the sum of $277,900 can be eliminated from this Budget without any harm to the pupils or to the educational process, the salary guides of instructional and maintenance personnel or the necessary maintenance repairs.

UP SPEAK

COUNCIL RAPPED ON DOG CONTRACT

To The Editor, Times-News: We regret that the officials of Belleville gave the stray dog contract to the Lodi Contractual warden service.

At the rate of pick-up for 1963 quoted in the paper, the warden service could have received about $3,400 by selling Belleville dogs for research purposes. This in addition to the $2,600 contract makes a total of about $6,000. Multiply this by many other communities and you have BIG business — in pets. Contrast this with the Associated Humane Society. They operated at a loss in Belleville in 1964, but they were still willing to serve the community in order to provide humane treatment of the animals, and provide a facility where the citizens of Belleville who had lost their dogs would be welcome at regular visiting hours.

We sincerely believe this action of the city fathers is a disgraceful misappropriation of civic responsibility. We note that Mr. Golden, who seems to be somewhat of a "watchdog" of the city expenditures was watching out for the dogs when he voted for awarding the contract to the Associated Humane Society. He is to be commended.

If you can be of any help to us in stirring up the public conscience, we certainly would appreciate any support you can give.

Golden Criticizes Teachers on Picketing

Councilman James R. Golden commenting on the teacher's picketing of Town Hall last Friday, issued the following statement: "Were the teachers of the Belleville Public School system to expend the same energies in dedication and devotion to their pupil's instructional improvement, development and advancement as they displayed during their demonstration, which school Superintendent Dr. Durkso labeled illegal, it is apparent that the quality of Belleville's education would show a vast improvement.

"The students have been the unfortunate victims of this senseless, irresponsible and lawless act which if held, at all, should have been staged at a time that would not have interfered with the pupil's instruction."

Beck's Column

By MAX BECK

There is still an awful lot of confusion about the '82 channel' TV sets you read so much about in the advertisements these days.

It appears to be the aim of the Federal Communications Commission to switch all TV broadcasting operations from the present frequencies comprising channels 2 to 13, to a new band of frequencies. These are called UHF (Ultra High Frequencies) and the channel numbers go up to 82. Some people in the industry — optimistically — expect that the transition will take 10 years and that, then, the present channels, up to 13, will be given up.

Although there are quite a number of TV sets in operation presently which are 10 years old or older, most TV sets have had it "after 10 years of use."

In this vicinity there is just one UHF station, channel 31, operated non-commercially by the City of New York. Another UHF station, channel 47, is expected to operate in a few months.

Many UHF stations have had tough going for lack of support by advertisers. This will be the biggest problem around here, since the New York stations are competing strongly now already. It will take quite a while until a large enough number of new TV sets with UHF receiving facilities are in use. Unless a new UHF station has strong local support, it will be difficult to make a go of it. It is about time that our State of New Jersey has a TV station of its own. It is almost unbelievable that the programs we look at come from New York State (New York City) or from Pennsylvania (mostly Philadelphia). But none from New Jersey. UHF eventually will make it possible to remedy this situation, which exists in many other sections in the country.

We service what we sell. Beck's Radio, TV, Hi Fi, Nutley 667-2275

"The teacher's picketing spec-tee in view of this 'brash' tactic, patently devised in an effort to foster salary increases for themselves, despite claims to the contrary, could easily shatter the teacher's image in the minds of the child as the paragon he has been taught to look up to as a respectable law-abiding citizen, dedicated to sponsoring high regard for lawful pursuits and recognition of the sanctity of duly constituted authority."

"Our teachers, who teach democracy should practice its proper application. The voters, the people of this community, struck down this exorbitant budget. The Council merely implemented their registered protest. Do the teachers wish to bite the hand that feeds them?"

"ACTION" by the teachers. It is unthinkable to presume it will be permitted to go by unpunished. Certainly, an indifferent attitude by the School Trustees will be largely construed as a "lack of approval" of the questionable action.

"Our teachers, who teach democracy should practice its proper application. The voters, the people of this community, struck down this exorbitant budget. The Council merely implemented their registered protest. Do the teachers wish to bite the hand that feeds them?"

YOUR CHILD'S BREATHING

Croup is one of the symptoms of a throat problem. Breathing is difficult and there may be a spasm of the larynx with a wheezing sound. It may occur in acute laryngitis, a streptococcus sore throat or even diphtheria.

It is important to call a physician. While waiting, start a steam vaporizer near your child. Until the vaporizer begins to steam, turn on the hot water in the bathroom and expose your child to the steam there. For steam usually brings some quick relief.

'Hello Dolly' Composer Is Guest At Cocktail Party for Youth Aliyah

A noted Broadway personality came to Nutley Sunday evening, March 7, to be the guest at a gala cocktail party given for the benefit of Youth Aliyah when Jerry Herman, Tony Award winning composer - lyricist of the smash musical "Hello Dolly!" took part in festivities at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Blank of 83 Whitford Avenue.

No stranger to Nutley, Herman is a frequent visitor at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Weinstein of 33 Poverstone Road.

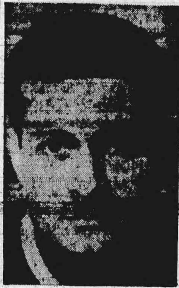

Mrs. Pauline Sachs resides with the Weinsteins.

Many Nutley and Belleville residents were introduced to Herman's talents when they attended a performance of his first revue "I Feel Wonderful" which introduced Pauline Newman.

He made his Broadway debut in 1944 as the youngest composer on Broadway in the hit musical, "Milk and Honey" for which he was nominated for a Tony Award and won the WPAT Gaslight Award for the song "Shalom" as the best song of the year '52.

Herman appeared in Nutley in 1959 when he entertained for the benefit of the Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Hadassah and he was also a guest at a breakfast for the United Jewish Appeal at Temple B'nai Israel, Nutley three years ago when Mrs. Weinstein headed the Women's Division of the UJA.

"Hello Dolly" has been play-

WRITES 'HELLO LYNDON'

The young composer was honored further when President Johnson asked him to write a parody called "Hello, Lyndon" which was used as a campaign song. After the election Herman wrote new lyrics to the song which was sung at inauguration festivities.

He has just been nominated for the Grammy Awards for both the song "Hello Dolly" and the original cast album. He is presently working on a musical version of "Auntie Mame" which is scheduled to open on Broadway in the Fall of 1965.

Mrs. Weinstein was chairman of arrangements for the cocktail party at the Blank home. She is Youth Aliyah chairman of the Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Hadassah, the principal agency in the United States supporting the program of Youth Aliyah in Israel.

Sponsors for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Blank, Mr. and Mrs. Weinstein, Mrs. Sachs, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Bergstein, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hamburger, Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Hogen and Mrs. Lewis Solomon of Nutley and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deane of Belleville.

Classes will be held in Room B-9 of the Main Post Office in Newark from 2 P.M. to 4:30 P.M. Benucci has assigned expert post office personnel to lecture, explain and answer all questions on postal matters.

"Last year's seminar was most successful," said Benucci, "and this year we expect a larger audience for we have a more comprehensive program."

The seminar is designed to meet the needs of the mailers. Lectures are arranged to better acquaint patrons with the latest innovations in postal equipment, improving mailing procedures, new rates and regulations, the advantages of the ZIP Code and other programs and new methods to reduce mail room and operational costs. The Department's newest film, "If the Mail Stopped," will be shown. Also, a tour of the Post Office will be given on the last day.

Board Undecided

parent Eugene Harvey, pleaded for an additional teacher to relieve overcrowding at School No. 1 despite the budget cut.

Board counsel M. Schwartz gave the board discouraging legal advice on the budget cut matter. Schwartz reported that the Council's budget-cutting meeting was legal despite its being held on a Sunday.

While in Schwartz's opinion an ordinance could not be legally passed on a Sunday, the emergency resolution form of action was valid on a Sunday since all council members agreed to meet on that day.

Schwartz also said that additional funds could be requested from the voters only for a state-certified emergency.

In other matters, the board split regarding policy for the summer school program. The board reinstated fees for residents taking non-credit enrichment courses over the objections of DiRienzo. Last summer no fee was charged. Saletta opposed the hiring of four teachers for the summer remedial reading program on the grounds that at least two additional reading teachers would be needed to handle the expected enrollment.

Winning Season Seen For Belleville Nine

By Steve Charen

Third Year Coach Nick Pitts Varsity Baseball team appears headed for its third straight winning campaign. The Belboys have been back through their paces for a couple of weeks now preparing for their April 2 season and home opener with Central and their April 3 Big Ten Conference opener with Irvington.

The outlook is bright, his year mainly because graduation only took four players and five starters are returning from the squad that went 14-12 and made it to the Group 4 Section 2 finals last year.

Among these returnees, catcher has to be the brightest spot of all. For All-State and All-County star, Lenny Luongo, is back for his fourth year of Varsity competition as captain. Big Len will have to take on a dual role: his year and supply enough power to make up for the loss of last season's starting first baseman John Senesky.

Joe Cervasio, who is returning for his third Varsity season, is the other co-captain. This great defensive fielder will patrol his usual center field section and

Klein Quits Coaching Post

Belleville High cross-country coach Domenick Klein submitted his resignation to the Board of Education Monday night.

Klein will remain as a physical education teacher with the school system.

The life-long Belleville resident resigned after one year of coaching due to pressures of a family business with which he is associated.

Klein's team had a 2-7 record last fall and placed seventh in the Big Ten Conference meet.

Klein was a three-letter winner at Belleville High. In addition to cross-country he was named to the All-State basketball team in 1958, when he played under former coach and present athletic director Herman J. Wische. He was a mainstay for the Belleville High baseball team as a pitcher. Winning a basketball scholarship to Seton Hall University, Klein played all three sports at the South Orange school, where he was a standout on the baseball diamond.

You and Your Insurance

(A public service column about all forms of insurance.)

LIABILITY INSURANCE FOR BUSINESSMEN IS OUTLINED

"I own a small toy factory," a businessman writes. "Is there a form of insurance that I can buy that will protect me in the event one of the items I manufacture somehow proves faulty and a child is injured?" he asks.

The form of insurance that would provide the coverage you describe is called products liability insurance.

Thirty years ago products liability insurance was virtually unknown. However, today this form of coverage is recognized as a business necessity for manufacturers.

It is a legal liability form of coverage whereby the insurance company agrees to defend and/or pay damages because of bodily injury or property damage caused by an accident arising from goods or products manufactured, sold, handled or distributed after they have been sold.

Products' liability insurance comes into focus after the goods or products have been sold or the service completed.

Because there is a wide range of liability coverages available to businessmen, it is important that they confer with their local independent insurance agent. He is best equipped to give advice about insurance requirements and often can offer money saving recommendations.

This column will be glad to answer questions you may have about property or casualty insurance. Send them to:

Annual Elections Coming Soon To BHS; Conventions Scheduled

The excitement of campaigning will soon be in the halls of Belleville High School in the form of the annual student government elections.

This year, the elections committee will once again employ the two-party system: The Blue Party and the Gold Party.

Each homeroom elected two representatives, one for each party. They will attend the party conventions.

The students may attend debates after school. The Blue Convention and the Gold Convention will be held on April 13, 14, and 15, will be conducted in almost the same manner as the national conventions.

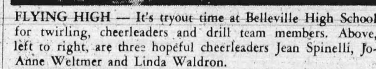

On the first day of each convention, the candidates will debate the prominent issues. The second day will be devoted with nominations. The third day will be the day when the votes are cast for the party's candidates for the offices.

The candidates for the presidency will be members of the class of '66. Their running mates will be members of the class of '67.

On May 11, the Student Council will sponsor an assembly that will better acquaint the student body with the students who may represent them.

The students will be able to vote only for Student Council officers and officers of their individual classes.

On May 14, the final election will be held. Weeks of campaigning will be rewarded, but wherever there is a winner, someone must be defeated. The experience gained is of vital importance to everyone concerned. Despite any disappointments, this is the major purpose of the school elections.

Pupils Vie In National Latin Test

By Margaret Foster

Some of the Latin students at Belleville Junior and Senior High School participated in the 34th Annual Association for the Preservation of the Study of Latin. Nationwide Latin Examination on March 28. Seventy-three thousand students in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Guam, Philippines, France, Italy, Spain, and several South American countries participated in the testing program.

Awards will be given the students who receive ninety points (or above) out of a possible one hundred - twenty points on the test. The students were given forty-five minutes to complete the test. The test consisted of translating Latin sentences into English and some English into Latin. Sixty points were for the English to Latin and sixty points for the Latin to English. The amount of sentences required depended upon how many semesters of Latin the pupil has taken.

Girls Making Bids For BHS Cheer Teams

Fingernails bitten down to the end, anxious phone calls, and long awaited letters are the talk of Belleville High School. Yes, anyone can tell that it is that time of year again. Tryouts for twirling, cheerleading, and drill team are primary sources of conversation.

These girls in their nervous and non-nervous states walk around with lumps in their throats, and very jittery fingers. To many at BHS, this time signifies something very important. It is a time for laughing, crying, and good sportsmanship. Just as football, basketball, and baseball promote a better feeling between team and players, so do the girls who participate in the half-time activities. They are, along with the losers, to be congratulated for their fine spirit.

Juniors Prepare For Prom

BY THERESA PEPE

Springtime is promtime. Time for new gowns, new hair styles and that once-in-a-lifetime dinner-dance, the Junior Prom. Belleville High is no different than any other, for the junior class has been working on preparations for the prom since September. Nevertheless, the time is drawing near too quickly, and the Prom Committee, a group of juniors chosen to organize the prom, will be working twice as hard till Easter time.

Arrangements have been made for the prom to be held at the Westmont County Club in West Paterson on April 20. However, the group has not decided definitely on the type of dinner to be served or the entertainment to be provided.

Even with these obstacles, the class of '66 is looking forward to the prom. In fact, many of the students of BHS are anxious for all have been invited to attend.

Bids have been priced at $20 a couple, and the Prom Committee has called for a deposit of $5 to be paid on Monday, March 15. The deposit will insure the students of obtaining a bid and will allow the committee to estimate the number attending.

Springtime is promtime, and how well the students of BHS realize it, for there are only five weeks till the Prom!

Teacher-Of-The-Week Travel Aids Graves In Teaching History

One of the most prominent and respected teachers in Belleville Senior High School is Richard Graves.

Richard Graves, who has been on the staff for six years, is quite active in school activities. Besides teaching history and being the chairman of the Social Studies Department, he finds the time to be the advisor to the Senior Class and the General Manager. Teaching summer school occupies his vacations.

Richard Graves is an alumnus of Belleville High School, and received his Bachelor of Arts degree in history and art from Sioux Falls College in South Dakota. He participated in many activities in college, including the varsity basketball team, the debating team, and the school yearbook, of which he was editor-in-chief.

He received his Master of Arts degree in social studies from Missouri State College.

During the Korean conflict, Richard Graves spent two years in the army artillery.

He is the proud father of two sons (ages 2 and 4), and spends his spare time in his hobby of painting, playing golf, refinishing furniture, collecting stamps, and traveling.

He has visited many historical landmarks throughout the United States. Among these are the Revolutionary and Civil War battlefields, Pike's Peak, Fort Ticonderoga, Gettysburg, Jamestown, Yorktown, and Saratoga. These experiences enable him to give his students a broader outlook on history.

Richard Graves, head usher of the Wesley Methodist Church in Belleville, is a well-rounded and well-educated man. He is popular with students, teachers, and administrators alike.

Teen-of-the-Week Miss Fitzpatrick Aims At Career in Teaching

Miss Cecilia Fitzpatrick, a BHS senior, is a girl who excels in everything. Having maintained a straight A average throughout her four years in high school, she ranks third in the Class of 1965.

Extra-curricular activities make Cecilia's leadership evident. She is captain of the Drill Team, assistant editor of the yearbook, and a member of the National Honor Society, Leaders Club, and Varsity "B" Club. She has been secretary of the Student Council and treasurer of the High School Red Cross.

Cecilia's services extend beyond school. As chairlady of the Young Citizens for Johnson, she helped organize many high school students, instilling in them some of her own enthusiasm and sense of duty. Cecilia's ability is manifested in the awards she has won. Because of an excellent speech on citizenship, she was awarded the Voice of Democracy Award. She has also won a Latin Award and an American Legion Award for Honor, Scholarship, Leadership, and Courage.

Cecilia wishes to become a speech teacher. Being a student tutor and a member of the Future Teachers of America has helped prepare her for her career. However, she does not plan to go only because of her outstanding record of accomplishments, but also because of her sensitivity, fine perception, superior intelligence, and wonderful personality. Cecilia plans to attend Montclair State College.

Wins Grant

The scholarship committee of Fairleigh Dickinson University announces that a scholarship for the school year beginning September, 1965, has been awarded to Miss Dolores Triquet of 79 Van Horsten Place, Belleville.

Miss Triquet, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor J. Triquet, plans to register as a medical technology major in the College of Liberal Arts. She is a member of the senior class at Our Lady of Good Counsel High School, Newark, where she belongs to the National Honor Society and is active in school affairs.

Parley Slated Tuesday Night With Parents

The Guidance Department of the Belleville Junior High School plans an important meeting for parents of eighth grade students on Tuesday at 8:00 P.M. in the school auditorium according to an announcement made by Louis E. McKee, Director of Student Personnel Services.

McKee pointed out the great importance of this meeting which will give the parents information that will enable them to help their children plan their courses and study for the last four years of school.

In the first eight grades, students are taught fundamentals. During the last four years, not only is teaching of fundamentals at a higher level continued but also the student has the opportunity to make choices which will prepare him for a particular career.

Wise choices at this stage enable the student to make the most of his abilities and special talents. The guidance counselors can advise and give information, but the decision is up to each student and his parents.

It was also stressed that good planning and establishing goals at this stage can help greatly in motivating the students and in reducing the number of potential dropouts.

3 Local Students Honored at FDU

Three Belleville students were recently named to the dean's and honors list for the Evening Division of Fairleigh Dickinson University on the Rutherford Campus.

Named to the Honors List were Leo Sylvester of 175 Bremont Street, and Edward Notlage of 50 Mt. Pleasant Avenue.

On the dean's list, sixth semester, was Lucille Barnett of 22 Quinton Street.

School Pupils Aid Appalachia Children

Through the Save the Children Federation Belleville school children are aiding school children in Appalachia.

Children in the various schools brought together wearable clothing and shoes in the amount of 2,265 pounds, 151 bags, and it was transported by the Federation to the processing warehouse in Knoxville, Tenn. The need is so great in Appalachia that in many areas, and especially in the mountains, a single coat or pair of shoes is shared by brothers and sisters - each taking their turn of a day at school.

leaving the house. We had to be very careful as on a job like this one slight mistake and you blow the whole job.

The two detectives worked day and night on the case. After putting in their regular tour of duty on general investigations they would continue checking the house and its traffic on their off-duty hours.

About one week before the raid, O'Toole decided that the time had come for the police to move in on the operation.

He briefed the Sheriff's men, and we rigged the area. However, something went wrong and they did not buy business that day. We walked away very disgruntled as we felt something had happened to tip them off. We laid off the house for three or four days and then when we checked we found that they were back in operation.

The police decided to move on St. Patrick's Day. All the men from the Sheriff's Department were briefed on location and as to when O'Toole wanted them in position. He had maps of the area prepared and passed them out showing clearly where each vehicle was to be positioned.

"Henk was the key man," explained O'Toole. "He was in an unmarked car. When I gave him a signal he would follow the car or person until he believed they were far enough from the house not to arouse suspicion and then he would notify the Sheriff's men to make the arrest."

"He was in on all of the arrests."

The police net worked to perfection from about 12 noon until about 9:30 at night when the men moved in on the house itself.

repossessing the car, not stealing it.

"We had to send one of our men to the house to notify the Costa's that the car had been repossessed. This didn't put him on guard as the car had been repossessed on other occasions for non-payment and it is routine for us to notify the person that his car had been repossessed."

"About 9:15 p.m. Costa and Oberg came out of the house and started walking down the street. We decided not to take a chance and to arrest them. When we picked them up Oberg had an 18-inch rubber bar in the sleeve of his coat. They said the bar was to be used to break into a garage where they knew the repossessed car was being held and they had planned to take it back.

"With Costa in custody and the keys to his house, which he had in his possession, I decided it was time to move into the house," said O'Toole. "We got Costa to go back to the house with us and he opened the door with his key. This helped as we got into the house before any evidence could be destroyed."

At home were Mrs. Costa, the Costa's two children and Ralph Belovero, a brother-in-law who lived upstairs.

The police searched the house and found heroin and a large quantity of barbiturates and two sets of narcotic gear which are used to take heroin.

While the police were in the house several people came to make purchases and were taken into custody.

One of the persons was Miss Vinci, who was searched on the spot by a police man who had been called to search Mrs. Costa. Police said they found in her possession a large bottle of barbiturates.

The police van was called and all persons were taken to the Sheriff's Department where they were given a medical examination by a doctor, fingerprinted and photographed. They were all held overnight until they could be arraigned in Town on the following day.

O'Toole said Costa said: "I knew it was coming." He said he was a heroin user and that his habit took about 15 bags a day. His wife used about five bags a day. Police said the normal cost is $5 a bag.

Police said Costa was doing business of about $300 a day and that he had paid $25 for his last load of heroin and also to the police said Costa showed little profit from the operation because of the habit of using the narcotics himself.

At a regular monthly meeting of the Board of managers of the Howard Savings Institution today, President John W. Kress announced that the Institution will now pay a cash bonus in the form of a dividend on all completed 1966 Vacation Club accounts.

Similar action was taken last November by the Howard on its 1965 Christmas Club accounts as a new improvement in a long-established service," according to Kress.

He said, "The unprecedented growth of over 5,100 new accounts in the Howard's 1965 Christmas Club has been attributed in good measure to our new dividend-paying policy on these club accounts. Now we plan to apply the same success story to the handling of our new 1966 Vacation Club program—that of paying attractive dividends on all completed clubs.
