Mrs. Barnes Quiet On Quiz by Police

A local housewife who was questioned by a high police official March 29 on remarks made at public Town Council meetings Tuesday said she would not discuss the matter at this time on the advice of her husband.

Mrs. Joan Barnes of 174 Cedar Hill Avenue, Belleville, who is a constant critic of Town Municipal government, was questioned March 29 at her home by Deputy Police Chief Donald Smith on a statement she made at a town Feb. 23 session that she would not take or allow her children

Mrs. Barnes 'Very Sorry' Says Official Police Report.

(Ed's Note: Below is printed the official police report submitted to Police Chief Charles H. McGinnis by Deputy Police Chief Donald Smith on a conversation he had with Mrs. Joan Barnes on March 29 that has led to charges of police state tactics against Town Manager John R. Burnett, and Mayor Nuncio R. Golden by Councilman James R. Golden.)

Subject: Mrs. Barnes 174 Cedar Hill Avenue.

I hereby report that at 3:45 P.M. 3-29-65, I interviewed Mrs. Barnes, at 174 Cedar Hill Avenue. In reference to remarks she had made at a town meeting, the night of March 8th, 1965.

Mrs. Barnes' remarks at this meeting were as follows: I would not take or send my children to Branch Brook Park with all the rapes and muggings going on there. Mrs. Barnes stated, at no time did she refer to Belleville Park. Mrs. Barnes said that this

Burnett, Mayor Blasted On Police Use by Golden

Belleville Councilman James R. Golden last week described the police action of having Mrs. Joan Barnes, frequent critic of the Town Council, questioned by a police detective after her public remarks at a Town Hall meeting in which she made reference to a "sneak meeting" as improper use of police power characteristic of a police state.

"Had either Mayor Pico or Mr. Burnett any question as to the propriety of Mrs. Barnes' publicity made utterances they had ample latitude through civil action to challenge her harmless statement, rather than resort to offensive police state methods inimical to our American concept of government.

Golden strongly denounced both Mayor Pico and Town Manager Burnett, who is Director of the Police Division for employing Gestapo - type tactics in an ob-

Palm Sunday Services Listed

Belleville churches will observe Palm Sunday, which officially opens the liturgical observance of Holy Week, on Sunday, April 11, with the blessing and distribution of palms, the presentation of cantatas and special programs of music to commemorate the day.

Palm Sunday marks the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem amid the acclaim of the people, many of whom cut branches from the trees, throwing them in His path, while others spread their cloaks on the road.

Services in the town's Protestant and Roman Catholic churches will be as follows:

Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church

Palm Sunday services of worship will be at 9:30 and 11 a.m. at the Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church, Union Avenue and Little Street. Mrs. Hazel L. Hulme, the church's organist, will play the hymns. The church choir director has announced that music for the morning will be comprised of the following:

Organ prelude, "Behold, the Savior of Mankind," Van Hulse; solos at 9:30 and 11 o'clock Miss Pamela Coon and Miss Ruth Lurie, with both singing "Open the Gates of the Temple," by Knapp.

At 9:30 the Junior choir will sing "A King in His Glory," German traditional anthem, and at 11 the Chancel choir will sing "Draw Nigh to Jerusalem," Williams. The postlude will be "Gloria March," by Mendelssohn.

Pastor George L. Van Leuven will continue the pre-Easter series on "The Seven Words From the Cross." New members will be received at the 9:30 hour of worship. At 7:30 p.m. the congregation will join with Grace Baptist and Wesley Methodist Churches at the latter church for the sixth in the series of tri-church pre-Easter union services.

Wesley Methodist Church

At Wesley Methodist Church Sunday morning at the 11 a.m. Worship Service, the pastor, the Rev. William L. Dike, will have for his sermon topic, "God's Defeat and Man's Triumph." ## Tax Rate Set Officially at $3.97 - $100

The official tax rate for the Town of Belleville for 1965 was announced Tuesday by Town Manager John R. Burnett. The $3.97 per each $100 in assessed valuation on real estate and $5.11 on personal business property.

This is the first time that the Town will have two tax rates. Under Chapter 51, which allows each businessman to assess his own personal property, the state allows each Town to set a separate rate on the business property to insure that no Town loses revenue because of the change in assessing procedures.

The $3.97 tax rate on real estate is an increase of twenty-three cents above the $3.74 rate charged last year.

Burnett said a breakdown of the tax dollar includes: 26.23 cents to the county; 40.99 cents

Fire Chief Says Golden Wrong on Old Trucks

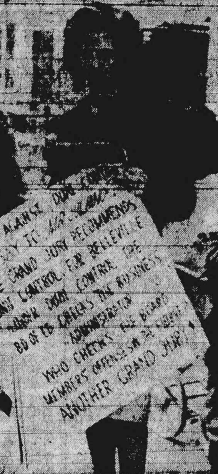

Fire Chief Carl F. Hundertpfund will see that I have spent over thirteen hours at fire headquarters on Sunday over the past several weeks. If he needs proof of these breakdowns he need only read the vouchers for automotive parts for the fire department for the last year. We also have a log at fire headquarters detailing all the work performed on our vehicles.

In a prepared statement Fire Chief Hundertpfund said:

"In last week's issue of the Belleville Times there appeared a news item which contained statements by Councilman Golden regarding our old fire engines which are not true. His statements would lead anyone to believe that when the town signed contracts for new fire equipment our old engines suddenly became very efficient and trouble-free. Nothing could be further from the truth.

"Over the last six months, it has been a continuous struggle to keep this old equipment running and no guarantee it would stand up under a prolonged period of pumping. Captain Dunleavy has been doing nothing else over the past six months except repairing our old engines.

"If Councilman Golden cares to come to Fire Headquarters he can read our ledger and there he

Local Kiwanis Club 'Best in 1964'

The Belleville Kiwanis Club was selected Monday as the "Outstanding Club in New Jersey" for 1964 at the Spring Conference of the New Jersey Division of Kiwanis International at Point Pleasant.

The club also won the award as top ranking club in Division 13. The awards were presented on the basis of achievement. There are 173 clubs in the state competition and 17 in Division 13.

Thomas McLaughlin, past president, who guided the local organization in 1964, said among the many achievements of the service club last year were: starting a new club in North Arlington, sponsored a record - breaking White Cloth for Cancer campaign, Youth Evaluation and Employment Commission, construction of the bus shelters at Clara Maass Hospital, and Institution of the Juvenile Delinquency Award to outstanding youths in the community.

The local club scored 99 out of a possible 100 in the competition for the "Outstanding Club" Award.

John Albers, immediate past governor, lauded the local organization, stating that "the award was based on the outstanding activities and record compiled by the local club in 1964 and praised McLaughlin for his outstanding leadership in 1964."

Petitions Circulated To Curb Board Move

Citizens Against Dual Control kicked off their drive Saturday to obtain signatures on a petition opposing the move by four Belleville Board of Education members to return Dual Control to Belleville's school system despite the findings of a 1964 Grand Jury Presentment which recommended Unit Control for Belleville and which has been working well.

Saturday morning and Tuesday afternoon there appeared on Washington Avenue women carrying signs reading, "Loose and careless business practices waste the taxpayers money" and another asking Nicholas Julliano the chief Proponent of the change, "If the Board members check up on the business administrator, who then checks up on the Board members? Another Grand Jury!"

The petition urges County Superintendent William Twichell to reject dual control for Belleville, quoting the eleven points stated in the Presentment.

When asked about their chances of winning this fight the ladies said: "That if the people of Belleville would wake up and pay more attention to the shenanigans of certain Board members who act as though they were performing above and beyond the call of duty there is no doubt that Unit Control would be saved. Most people remember the Grand Jury investigation quite well and declare it is unthinkable that any responsible official would want to return to the discredited dual control system."

Mrs. Daniel McCarthy and Mrs. Anthony Izzo said the organization met last Thursday and made plans for the petition drive. Attending were Mrs. Norma McCool, Board member; Mrs. Patty Walsh, Mrs. Bernice Dunn and Sally Hood, and several others. Also lending support are other people throughout town who will also be circulating petitions.

The citizens group hopes to collect enough signatures to convince the County and State Authorities that the people of Belleville do not want Dual Control. The majority of the Board of Education voted a return to the dual control system late in the February by naming Assistant Superintendent of Schools Dufford responsible to the Board of Edu-

Easter Seal Mop Up Set

Final "mop up" of still un-completed Easter Seal Parade assignments over the coming weekend will assure success of the Easter Seal Parade in Belleville, according to Councilman Robert Westpy and Miss Marion Mat-corn, township Easter Seal Parade co-chairmen.

"Most Belleville Easter Seal Paraders already have completed their collections," Westpy said, "and have reported a good response from their neighbors. The margin to assure a record result in this program — and so help make possible improvement and expansion of Easter Seal services for handicapped people — now rests with the Parade volunteers who still have not collected and reported."

The Easter Seal Appeal is principal source of support for the statewide program of services for handicapped people conducted responsible to the Board of Edu-

Dr. Durkee Attends State Meeting of Superintendents

New Jersey School Superintendents celebrated the centennial of their Association at a banquet meeting at Rutgers University Commons, Tuesday evening, March 30.

Guests at the meeting were Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger, Commissioner of Education, Harold T. Kaplan, President of New Jersey Federated Boards of Education, Frederick L. Hipp, Executive Secretary of the New Jersey Education Association, and past presidents.

Dr. Warren G. Hill, president, Trenton State College delivered the major address. Listing milestones of educational progress, Dr. Hill discussed (1) "The separation of schools from politics," pointing out that better leadership resulted, and (2) "The successful separation of school administration and Board policy making." He stressed the force of increasing education of teachers as the principal thing that forced school boards, with few exceptions, to get out of administration of schools and to confine themselves to policy making.

Looking to the future, Dr. Hill deplored the decline of local school boards that seems likely with the rise of greater and greater state and federal support of schools.

Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Superintendent of Schools attended this significant state meeting and had as his guest, Frank A. Spotts, principal of School Four.

Temporary Emergency Door Located at Clara Maass

As part of the expansion program going on at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, the Emergency Room was temporarily relocated last week in order that the facilities that have served over 15,000 patients since the hospital moved to Belleville in 1957 could be enlarged.

Harold C. Widman, the hospital's Director of Public Relations, reported that Emergency vehicles will continue to use the same driveway as in the past, and the new temporary entrance opens out into the doctor's parking lot, as previously designated. He further stated that although the quarters are somewhat smaller than their previous quarters, the Emergency Room will move to larger quarters just as soon as possible.

The new Emergency Room facilities, Widman continued, will be increased to about 3 times its present size, and will include 2 emergency rooms, and 2 observation rooms. A larger waiting room, office and equipment

OBITUARIES

Jesse Smyth

Funeral services for Jesse Smyth, 48, of 27 Parkview Avenue, Belleville, were held Saturday morning, April 3, at the Wadsworth Funeral Home, 524 Union Avenue, Belleville.

Mr. Smyth was crushed to death by his own car in front of his home on Tuesday, March 30, when the small foreign car slipped off a jack and fell on his chest.

Born in Troy, Ala., Mr. Smyth lived in Jersey City for 30 years before moving to Belleville six months ago. He had been employed for 24 years as a locomotive engineer for the Jersey Central Lines.

Mr. Smyth was a member of Adoniram Lodge 236, F.A.M., of Rutherford, Salaam Temple of the Shrine of Livingston, the Fez Club of Hudson County and the New Jersey Central Level Club. He was a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason and a member of the Valley of Jersey City of the New Jersey Consistory. He was a member also of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Smyth; two sons, Jesse, Jr., of El Cerrito, Calif., and James, at home; his mother, Mrs. Gennie Smyth of Troy; and two brothers, Marsdon of Valley Stream, L.I., and Henry of Odessa, Tex.

Motorists Hit Parked Cars, Leave Scene

Three Belleville drivers have been accused by Nutley police of leaving the scene of three separate auto accidents last week.

All three were issued summonses after striking parked cars.

Twenty-one year old Patrick J. Fernicola of 47 Mt. Prospect Avenue was apprehended by an investigating police car a quarter of a mile away from the scene of the accident on Union Avenue Thursday morning.

Police following the direction of skid marks found Fernicola's vehicle outside of 39 Weston Avenue when damage to the right side of the car prevented him from going further. He was also charged with reckless driving.

Witnesses provided information leading to summonses for Lucille B. Coon, 43, of 208 Forest Street and Gordon Potts, 17, of 188 Linden Avenue. The Coon vehicle inflicted heavy damage on a parked car which had to be towed from the scene and then backed into another car Friday afternoon. The Potts car struck a parked vehicle on Franklin Avenue Sunday afternoon.

Council May Shift Parley To Mondays

The Town Council may do away with its Thursday night pre-meeting conferences which precede regular Monday night Council meetings.

Mayor Nuncio R. Pico recently sent a letter to the four other members of the Town Council stating that he would like to shift the pre-conference meetings back to Monday nights as they had been until the new Administrative Code was adopted several months ago.

The Mayor said the Thursday night sessions are not too feasible. Very few people come and in the course of business there's not much that requires immediate attention. We feel we can take care of everything in an hour before the regular meetings.

"If an ordinance does require more extensive study we could always call a special meeting," he pointed out.

The subject of shifting the meetings back to Monday night will be discussed at tonight's pre-conference meeting.

State Evaluation Set May 25 at High School

Belleville High School will be seeking a five-year accreditation by the State Department of Education, May 25. At that time an evaluation committee, headed by Dr. William S. Twichell, County Superintendent of Schools, will visit the high school.

Goals of the evaluation are: (1) to secure full State accreditation to validate the local diploma and assure transfer of credits to other schools and colleges; (2) to secure professional advice and counsel from the State Department; (3) and to encourage the staff to assess needs and to develop plans for improving.

The High School has been on a year-to-year accreditation because of "overcrowding" and "lack of facilities," Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Superintendent of Schools, indicated, but with the new high school the State will find that these problems are gone.

Improvement of the quality of education, however, must be a continuous process.

The High School staff, under the leadership of Principal Raymond O. Smith, is getting ready for the State Committee by a self-study program.

EARLY PREJUDICES

People acquire prejudices during a lifetime. Since the earliest impressions and experiences happen in the home, it is the home that is the first and most important source of bias.

Adults often are not conscious of the many casual influences they exert on children. Father says he doesn't like a certain vegetable. Junior refuses to eat it. Mother comments on the carelessness of a worker in a specific category or race, color, religion or ancestry; the child believes that everybody of that category is careless.

A youngster generalizes from little information. Even when the parent is not prejudiced, it is easy for the child to take a careless remark seriously.

If a person is careless or ignorant, why not say exactly that? There is no need to add "Mother comments on the carelessness of a worker in a specific category or race, color, religion or ancestry; the child believes that everybody of that category is careless."

make the meaning clear.

This announcement was made recently by Hampton P. Abney, the Academy's director of dramatics. "My Three Angels," an engaging three-act Broadway comedy written by Sam and Bella Spewack, tells how three bad men — convicts, in fact — become the good angels of a sadly-harassed household.

The Man Who Cried 'Wolf'

The charges of abuse of police power and police-state tactics made last week by Councilman James R. Golden in the wake of a report that Mrs. Joan Barnes, a Town critic, had been questioned by a police officer, reminded us of the story of the boy who cried 'wolf' once too often.

We were present at both Town Council meetings when Mrs. Barnes made statements in connection with rapes and muggings in the County parks and the "sneak" meeting on the school board budget.

We were present when Mrs. Barnes was escorted off the floor by a police officer after the 10-minute rule was invoked by the Council, and she continued to ask the same politically-loaded question of Mayor Pico — even after she was informed that she would be allowed to return and speak after all other citizens wishing to speak had been granted their right to be heard. And she did return to speak again before taking a seat in the audience.

The questioning of Mrs. Barnes by Deputy Chief Donald Smith, who was not in uniform, seems hardly a case of police-state tactics. We are not familiar with all police procedures, but we believe it is good police work to check on any and all complaints voiced by our citizens. Any cop will tell you that a tip from a citizen is the most effective weapon against crime.

We have not seen or heard of any complaint from Mrs. Barnes and expect that she will continue in her role as a Town critic. If the official police report, printed on Page 4 is accurate (and we believe it is) we do believe she will weigh her words more carefully in the future and become more effective — not less — as a critic and a more valuable asset of our community.

However, Councilman Golden's irresponsible charges — which he made on the strength of a report, before checking the facts — seems to us to be a case of crying without cause.

As a highly vocal minority on both the present and past Council, we have expressed our belief that he has served our community well as a watchdog on municipal affairs.

However, there is a difference between serving as a watchdog and irresponsible barking at shadows for political gain at the expense of the Town's image.

We believe Councilman Golden, as a responsible public official who has served our community well in the past and who, we expect, will continue to do so in the future, should refrain from crying wolf until he has checked the facts.

A few more false alarms and he could be — The Man who cried 'Wolf' too often ...

Dual Control: Board Irresponsibility

Reeling from the one-day teacher walk-out from their schools March 19, the community was treated to further irresponsibility by the Board of Education itself at its meeting March 22.

The Arvidson-Juliano bloc pushed through by a 4-3 vote Juliano's resolution to create the position of school business administrator to bring back to Belleville dual control administration of the schools. In the face of the evils of dual control set forth in the grand jury presentation of 1964, Juliano tried to reassure the citizens that the evils would not recur with an elected board.

How this board member has changed his tune since his statement in the Belleville Times-News, January 21, 1960: Here is what he then said:

"You can and must prevent a return to dual and divided control if we are to protect the integrity of the school system. Our school system would be exposed again to public censure and stigma as it was in 1954 if you allow the personal status seekers to go unchecked." Juliano apparently uses both sides of the same coin to serve himself at a given time.

Juliano and his supporters attempted to make this dual control position in 1963 and their request to the County Superintendent of Schools was denied. This time they ignored the law that requires prior agreement by the County Superintendent as to the "necessity" of a school business administrator.

Now they are asking the County Superintendent to be their rubber stamp and make a sham of the authority of his office. It is hard to believe that the County Superintendent will be a party to the arrogant irresponsibility of this board bloc.

This newspaper has always opposed dual control administration of the Belleville schools. Two-headed administration cannot be efficient. It leads to Board interference in administration and Board politics and patronage in the schools. A re-reading of the 1964 Grand Jury presentation makes clear the evils of dual control and the need for unit control.

The re-appearance of the dual control issue does, of course, raise some questions about Harold Bufford, assistant superintendent for business. Has he sought to enhance himself through seeking dual control? Is he a pawn on the chessboard of Board politics? Is he a loyal member of the superintendent's staff? How can he be more efficient as a dual control administrator than under unit control?

Perhaps it is time to have a joint committee of citizens and professionals study and report on the efficiency of the schools' whole business operation.

Petitions

its attorney that Dufford was still responsible to Dr. Durkee as assistant superintendent.

At the following meeting the Board abolished the assistant superintendent's post and named Dufford to the position of Business Administrator. However the new post must be approved by County and State Education superintendents.

County superintendent William Twichell is presently studying the situation and is expected to rule on the new position soon.

The petition being circulated by anti dual control residents says:

PETITION TO THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Whereas the undersigned ask you to reject the efforts of four members of the Board of Education who on March 22, 1965, voted to establish dual control administration of our schools by creating the position of School Business Administrator, responsible only to the Board of Education;

On April 6, 1964 the Grand Jury found sufficient cause to submit a presentment against the Belleville Board of Education with respect to the following practices. We quote:

"1. Loose and careless business practices in the general operation of the Maintenance Department of the Board of Education.

"2. Loose and careless business practices in the purchase of supplies.

"3. Lack of inventory control so that no accurate record of supplies stored at the school plant was regularly available.

"4. The Belleville Times-News, Thursday, April 8, 1965

4. Loose and careless procedures in the handling of time cards resulting in inaccurate payroll procedure and irregularities in overtime payments.

5. The use of employees of the Board of Education for the personal benefit of Board members.

6. Lack of supervision of Board maintenance employees resulting in employees leaving their regular assignments at will.

7. The use of equipment, such as truck, station wagon, waxing machine and others for personal use.

8. The passage of resolutions for the purchase of new automobiles without obtaining competitive bids, without separate or independent appraisals of the value of cars given in trade by the Board of Education, without inquiry into whether or not a more advantageous purchase could be made elsewhere.

9. The purchase of members of the Board of Education cars traded in by the Board of Education.

10. Keeping Board automobiles in the garage of the Business Manager.

11. The members of the Board of Education receiving a salary increase without having exercised powers and duties which they should have exercised themselves, and they accepted established practices of prior boards without inquiry into their validity and desirability.

According to the presentment "Another feature detrimental to good and harmonious relations between the Board of Education members and those in charge of the school administration is the "dual system" of control. Testimony before the Grand Jury indicated that the dual "system" as it operates in Belleville has resulted in the division of the Board of Education into two factions: those who favored the Superintendent's recommendations and those who sided with the Business Manager."

derogatory towards the Councilmen, or Mr. Burnett, said she was very sorry, and wished she had the words back.

She told me that in the future, she would weigh her words very gently before she speaks. I spoke up for the first time, and told Mrs. Barnes that for all concerned, I thought that this would be the best policy to follow.

Mrs. Barnes has lived at the above address for only two years.

Early the tax rate had been estimated at $4.08 per $100. However, the slash in the school budget reduced the rate to its present official figure.

Cook of The Week

MRS. HARRY HELLWIG

'Grasshoppers' to Cheese: Unusual Pies Win Twice

Mrs. Harry Hellwig becomes the first two-time winner in the Times Cook-of-the-Week contest with today's recipe for Cherry cheese pie.

The winning recipe made "a great cheesecake fan" out of Mrs. Hellwig's son-in-law, Ronald Chapman of Leonia. The husband of daughter Joyce, "never liked cheesecake, but cherries are a great favorite, so I was able to talk him into trying my recipe. Now he's continually asking my daughter to 'make the recipe,'" explains Mrs. Hellwig.

Today's winner is still getting calls from Belleville housewives who tried and enjoyed her first winning recipe for "Grasshopper pie". The first winning recipe, which is a great conversation piece as well as a tasty dessert, is made from the same ingredients as a grasshopper cocktail.

Mrs. Hellwig is proud of the fact that the grasshopper pie recipe has traveled as far as Alaska. She got a letter thanking her for the recipe from an Army wife whose mother sent the "Times" prize-winning recipe to Alaska.

Mrs. Hellwig first got the grasshopper pie recipe at a retirement party for her son Robert, who recently completed a 22-year career as an Air Force major and now lives in Ohio.

Today's double winner likes all types of cooking, but she excels at desserts.

Mrs. Hellwig likes to combine cooking with church work at the Wolff Memorial Presbyterian Church in Newark, where her husband has been a member for 50 years. "I'm hugging cookies and cake down there for lunch every all the time," says Mrs. Hellwig with a smile that shows she considers such work a pleasure, not a chore.

Mr. Hellwig is a toolmaker in Bloomfield. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hellwig are Newark natives. They've lived in Belleville 17 years.

The recipe for which Mrs. Hellwig wins her second $5 prize follows:

CHERRY CHEESE PIE
2 1/2 cup Zwiebach (16)

1 lb. melted butter
1 tsp. cinnamon
Crush Zwiebach. Mix in other ingredients. Press into 10" pie pan. Bake 10 minutes in 350 degree oven.

1 lb. cream cheese
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs

Beat ingredients in mixer for 15 minutes. Pour into cooled crust. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool 10 minutes. Pour 1 can cherry pie filling over top and chill.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

The few days of warm weather in the beginning of the week brought the first calls for air-conditioning. It won't be long and everyone will complain about the heat.

Here are a few tips for the maintenance of your air-conditioner. A little service goes a long way.

The units have copper coils with fins attached in the front and in the back, similar to the radiator in an automobile. If the space between the fins is filled up with dust, you won't get any cooling. The unit will overheat and cut out. If you are lucky, or the compressor will burn out. If you are not, the same goes for the fan motor. The fan motor is a good idea to keep just about any electric motor in good working condition for years. However, if a motor overloads, the windings will burn out.

Usually there is a pan underneath the front cooling coil, which catches the condensed water. This is diverted towards the rear part of the air-conditioner, and thrown out by the fan motor. If the tube is clogged, the water will overflow in the front, and the water will drip out. There is always some dust settling in the pan which is bound to clog the tube in time. It is obvious that the pan has to be cleaned, at least once during the period of use.

There are a number of switches and relays in an air-conditioner with contacts which may corrode. This is particularly true regarding the thermostat. It is very important that these trouble points will be checked. Then there is the all important filter. Some of these are made of metal mesh. They have to be cleaned and replaced. Others are made of paper. They are so inexpensive that there is no excuse for not replacing them. If a unit is used much, this should be done twice or even oftener, depending on the location and circumstances.

If you can't or don't want to, do this work yourself, you can have it done for a relatively small charge, usually around $7.50 to $9.50. It is money well spent.

We service what we sell.

Get Tax Help By Telephoning Special Number

Thursday, April 15, 1965 is the deadline for filing Federal income tax returns. New Jersey residents must file their returns with the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Newark, N. J., 07102 on or before that date.

Telephone assistance for taxpayers with last minute problems is provided by local Internal Revenue offices from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. each weekday at 645-3850.

Many New Jersey taxpayers must also file a Declaration of Estimated Income Tax for 1965 on or before April 15. All self-employed individuals as well as others who anticipate receiving income not subject to withholding amounting to more than $200 on which taxes of at least $40 will be due, fall into this category.

Walters and other workers who receive a substantial part of their income from tips, investors with dividend and interest income, domestic employees, private duty nurses and taxi drivers are examples of other taxpayers in this group.

Mrs. Hellwig's earnings, over $5,000 a year and filing separate tax returns as well as married couples earning over $10,000 in total income and filing joint tax returns will owe more than $40 in additional income tax for 1965. They should file a Declaration of Estimated Income Tax.

History of Town Fire Department Noted

By J. A. MURRAY JR.

With the recent delivery and testing of Belleville's new Seagrave pumpers many of the old members of the Fire Department as well as members of Belleville's older families look back over the time when our present Fire Trucks were new. They were replacing still older engines. Many others look further back to the days when Belleville was a volunteer town. Though there are no written records, the story went something like this:

The Belleville Fire Department many years ago, and prior to 1882 consisted of a "Coffee Mill" type pumping engine that was operated by a long forgotten Fire Company on Main Street between William and John Street. (Now Belleville Avenue) this fire house was destroyed in a block and fire in about 1912. There was also the Passaic Hook and Ladder Company that operated out of the Sussan Machine Shop on Cortlandt Street.

In 1882 two new Fire Companies were organized. The Eastwood Valley Hose Company was formed, they had their firehouse in the building that now houses the Younginger and Daily Post of the VFW at 15 Belleville Avenue. In June of 1882 the Eastwood Hose Company was formed. The hand drawn hose engine of the Valley and Eastwood Hose Companies were built in Newark by the Teatray Company. In 1882 Deputy Fire Chief James Murray's father joined the Eastwood Company and was Chief of the Belleville Department from 1906 till 1908. He retired from Active Fire service in 1923 when the Belleville Companies went paid. In 1897 Essex Hose Co. was founded. The Essex Hose House was located at Joralemon Street and Stephens Streets the present site of the Rafter Machine Company parking lot. In 1905 John H. Eastwood owner of a wire weaving plant bought and donated a hook and ladder truck to then changed its name to the Eastwood Hose and Hook and Ladder Co. This rig was the first white rig to be delivered to the town of Belleville. This rig was finished in a white with blue pin stripping and had a maroon undercarriage and wheels that were striped in gold leaf. This was drawn by horse or by hand pending on what was available at the

Fund Drive Assisted by Key Club

Twenty-one members of the Belleville Key Club volunteered their services for the Retarded Children's Drive Sunday. The Key Club is a youth group sponsored by the Belleville Kiwanis Club.

Thomas Mack, Donald Latore, and Edward Carney, Co-Chairmen of the drive sponsored by the Essex Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, jointly expressed their thanks to the Key Club and felt that their assistance helped make the drive a real success. They further stated that the acceptance of responsibility for problems in the community by this group spoke well for the level of leadership that they will provide in their adult years.

The headquarters for the Retarded Children's Drive was the Belleville Recreational Center. The funds raised will be used to support the facilities operated by the Essex Unit, and these include a diagnostic clinic, preschool classes, a summer day camp, sheltered workshop, day-care center for the severely retarded, recreational canteens, and Scouting programs.

time. This rig carried 500 feet of 2 1/2" fire hose as well as an assortment of fire fighting tools. In 1913 Belleville bought an American LaFrance pumping engine and hired three men to the rig. This rig was operated out of the present police department building at the fire hall in short order Valley Hose Company bought an old Taxi Cab and converted it to a fire engine. This was the start of many races between the paid company and the volunteer houses. The Valley's locomobile was a faster rig and would often pass the paid departments LaFrance and arrive at a fire first much to the dishonor of the paid company. In about 1919 the Essex Hose Company bought a Day Elder chemical engine which last served as a pump for the town's children at the Recreation house at Garden Avenue and Joralemon St.

In 1923 Belleville hired nine new firemen which manned the then new fire headquarters building on Washington Avenue as well as the Essex Hose Company on William Street and the new Firehouse Number 3 on Franklin St. Thus ended the era of volunteers in Belleville. The town then purchased two new Day Elder rigs and put them in service. In 1929 a Seagrave pumping engine was purchased and put in William Street to replace the towns 1913 La France pump. In 1930 Belleville purchased its last, for a number of years, red fire engine. This was a Seagrave pumping engine. In 1939 the town bought what is considered the biggest and finest piece of fire apparatus built, it was a big heavy duty Ahrens Fox piston pump fire engine that was outstanding for several reasons. This rig was painted white and had its positive displacement pump mounted out

Kidde to Purchase Weber Aircraft

An agreement to purchase Weber Showcase & Fixture Co., Inc. and Weber Aircraft Corporation by Walter Kidde & Company, Inc. was announced jointly by the two companies. The purchase will be made for an amount of common stock which will reflect a ratio of 10 shares of Weber Showcase for 8 shares of Kidde, which is traded on the American Stock Exchange.

In a joint statement, Kidde President Fred R. Sullivan and Weber President Karl F. Weber stated that "The joining together of the two firms will result in an annual sales level of more than $80,000,000 for the new combined company."

Weber, a 70-year-old producer of temperature-controlled display equipment, is also known for its aircraft and space vehicle pressure activated equipment, including the astronauts' escape devices for the Gemini manned space flight vehicle.

Kidde is a major producer of safety, security and scientific equipment, textile machinery, consumer products, and space systems and equipment. Space projects for which Kidde supplies flight control systems include Comsat's Early Bird satellite, the Syncom series and NASA's Lunar Landing Simulator.

According to Sullivan, "The combined talents of the two firms will project a new capability company into the field of safety, security and protection, until now a field without a dominant force in evidence." Weber will continue to operate under its present management group, as a division of Kidde, Sullivan said.

The agreement reached between the two boards is subject to approval by both companies' stockholders.

List Ten Top Teen Goofs In Grooming

The most glaring teenage grooming goofs have reduced to a list of ten DON'TS by the National Institute of Grooming.

1. DON'T rat your hair. It's strictly out. You'll be the only bald head at the basketball game.
2. DON'T keep shortening your skirts. Most knees can't stand the glare.
3. DON'T be the boy with sideburns. Even Elvis cut his.
4. DON'T wear the latest style unless it looks good on you. Wait'll next year and hope.
5. DON'T circle your eyes with charcoal eyeliner, and wear stark white lipstick. You'll look like a scared raccoon.
6. DON'T goot your head with a load of greasy kid stuff. The real lady killers do it with a dab.
7. DON'T wear your father's shirt unless you're digging potatoes. The boyfriend thinks it looks better on your father.
8. DON'T always expect HER to have her clothes pressed, hair combed, shoes shined, if you don't. She has to look at you, too.
9. DON'T overdress. When you go to a football game, be a sport. Give the black bench for the homecoming dance.
10. DON'T underdress. You can be just as casual at a recreation room get together in a skirt and loafers. And much prettier.

City, who is representing the Chamber.

French said the Chamber recognizes that certain business operations must be licensed in order to provide the necessary supervision and control essential for the protection of citizens in matters of health, safety and morals. But he said state statutes already provide beyond and they are the only reasons for licensing. He said the section of the ordinance which applied a fee based on the total floor area in square feet would be deleted from the ordinance under the proposed amendment.

Senior Class Goes to Stratford

Approximately three hundred members of the Senior Class at Belleville Senior High School attended a performance of "The Taming of the Shrew" on Monday, March 22, at Stratford, Conn.

The group was under the supervision of five English teachers and a nurse, made the two hour trip to see what was, for many of them, their first stage production of a Shakespearean play.

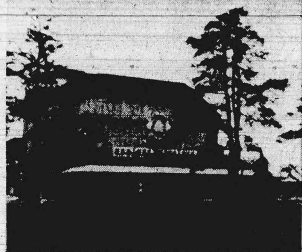

Having acquainted themselves with the play previously, the students knew generally what the story was all about, but the production far exceeded even their fondest expectations.

The performance of Ruby DeLoach as Petruchio, was outstanding and a strong supporting cast kept Shakespeare's animated plot going at even a livelier pace than was expected.

The cast of the comedy men with thunderous applause at the curtain calls. The audience, composed entirely of student groups, was enthusiastic, to say the least.

It was an enjoyable trip and an educational one. The interest shown by the students was overwhelming.

Who said that Shakespeare's plays can't be enjoyable?

Open Cage Sessions Big Success

In early February the Recreation Department began a new activity for boys and young men. This was the Open Basketball held at the Belleville Junior High School each Saturday afternoon from 1 to 4 p.m. and open to boys of 15 years and older.

In nature this activity was a pilot program testing to see if an expansion of the idea would be warranted. Only a few simple rules are enforced, sneakers must be worn, no smoking, no roaming, and no foul play.

After seven weeks Bob Cook, Superintendent of Recreation, reports that he feels the activity has more than proven itself. From the outset the young men have conducted themselves in an exemplary manner. Attendance has been high, growing from 35 to 70. The participants have frequently expressed their pleasure in the activity and have obviously enjoyed themselves.

Teen Eyes Prospects for Generation

(Ed's Note: Below is the first in a series of articles written by members of the Belleville High School Journalism Class in which they survey the world and the prospects it has to offer to their generation.)

(FIRST IN A SERIES)

By Claudette Nadeau

After the frustrating complexities of modern life, the youth often pauses to ponder his fate and the future that lies before all young people today. What can he expect to experience within the short span of his mortal existence? What demands, formed in the light of maturity, can be justly requested of a society as yet unknown? What energies of mind and body must be expended to meet the unending challenges of a progressive world?

These questions represent a very real problem to all conscientious young men and women. They reveal the active concern for the welfare of man which characterizes those who will soon become the leaders of society. Whether or not their hopes for the future are fulfilled, they depend on the wisdom and ingenuity of men at the present time. Throughout history each generation has left an indelible mark in the annals of time. Posterity will long remember the notorious and the splendid, the noble and the foolish. After we are gone, what will be the thought of our descendants when they view the accomplishments of our age?

The potential for success is higher in our generation than in any other in the history of mankind. Our young people, on the whole, possess the three essential ingredients that comprise the formula for progress: ability, opportunity, and desire. Through many long years of experience, educators have come to realize the importance of cultivating the individual abilities of each student. Often, in years past, these went unnoticed.

In discovering his own talents, the student develops a sense of personal worth and satisfaction as well as finding a true indication of his adaptability to a certain profession. His opportunities for further education and professional training are unlimited in view of the many scholarships and other sources of financial aid available to worthy young people. Finally, the light of maturity, can be justly requested of a society as yet unknown? What energies of mind and body must be expended to meet the unending challenges of a progressive world?

BUSINESS 1990? — Predictions of business conditions in 1990 are inserted into a 25-year time capsule commemorating the 125th anniversary of Worthington Corporation by employees of the company's Gamon Calhoun Meter Division in Newark, N.J. Left to right: Salvatore Giordano, 42 Suzanne Court, Belleville, N.J., Assembly Repairman; Division President William C. Flanders, 916 Lake Street, Newark; Carmen LaTorre, 53 Wallace Road, Summit, N.J., Assembly Foreman; and Bert Campbell, 207 Hickory Street, Kearny, N.J., Large Meter Foreman.

Predictions For Business In 1990 Good

Newark, — The familiar residential water meter, made of bronze today, will be plastic in the year 1990, will be a small clamp on meter that can be installed in less than two minutes without cutting the water pipe, and will last 30 years.

Factory wages will be over $6 an hour, with time - and - a half paid for more than 30 hours per week.

These were among predictions from the management of Gamon Calhoun Meter Division of South Street, Newark, placed in a 25 - year time capsule last week, commemorating Worthington's 125th anniversary.

The capsule, a small nickel-plated aluminum container, also received the predictions of Newark Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio of what the City of Newark will look like a quarter of a century from today.

The capsule is currently making the rounds of all Worthington divisions, located from California to Massachusetts, where other guesses about the future are being inserted into it. It will be brought back next month to the company's headquarters in Harrison and be placed on display in a sealed glass case until it's opening during Worthington's 150th anniversary celebration.

Worthington Corporation, founded in 1840, was a revolutionary pioneer in the manufacture of pumping equipment, and in 1855 its founder, Henry R. Worthington, invented the country's first practical water meter. His duplex reciprocating piston meter embodied the principle which today is standard for displacement meters. The company also pioneered in the 1890's in the development of the disc-type water meter, now produced at the Newark plant. The company's piston meters are produced at its Calmet Meter operations in Fort Worth, Texas.

Worthington is a major worldwide producer of equipment for liquid and gas handling and for the conversion of energy into useful work.

BELLBOYS DROP OPENER TO IRVINGTON, 10-1

Hurlers Rapped for 17 Hits

By STEVE CHAREN

The Bellboys finally made their belated debut Saturday at Irvington after the scheduled opener with Central was snowed (7) out. Things didn't quite work out as planned though, for the Camp towners rocked four Bellboy pitchers for 17 hits, with eight good for extra bases, en route to a 10-1 shocker.

Meanwhile, as the Bellboys pitchers were having their problems, Jim Politan was breezing along with the help of three double plays and eight key strikes outs. After Politan's straight ball and curve lost their effectiveness, and the Bellboys finally scored in the seventh inning, Mike Rhodes came in to mop up for Irvington and whiff three more Bellboys.

Belleville made a battle of it for three innings with Art Sheridan spinning a one-hitter. But in the top of the fourth, Bill Kulikowski and John Manginelli got off with singles. After an out, catcher Pete Lanz unloaded a tremendous two run double to deep left-center. Sheridan got out of the inning when George Kiemle was cut down stretching and Ed Steel whiffed. As it worked out, that was the game for the Bellboys only managed to push one run across while standing eleven men.

Irvington scored four runs in each of the next two innings off Sheridan who was replaced, and Sal Tabi who was reached for six runs in 1 2/3 innings. (Mike Lanz's three run homer was the big closer). Rich Pucciarello (1-3 inning) and George Debrovski (2 innings) shut out the Campers the rest of the way.

"Home fields" were the difference in this game for two reasons. First of all, Irvington had the experience of being at home and took good advantage of the short fences in right and right-centerfields over which they had five ground rule doubles.

The Bellboys were at a double disadvantage because they have had no home field to practice on as yet. All practice has been in a lot in the park; so Belleville's pitchers have had no real experience on a mound (other than a few practice games at Nuley and North Arlington). If the Bellboys did have a field, they would have been better prepared for the opener.

In most towns, there is a rush to get the diamond ready for practice, but not in Belleville. Here there is a struggle to have the Municipal Stadium diamond ready for the opener. This may seem like a small thing, but in the course of a season, it makes a big difference. (Belleville was 5-2 home last year and 9-10 away.)

Why can't the field be ready for spring practice in the future? All the neighboring towns can manage; nearby Nuley has had a field since late in February. One thing must be admitted: during Nick Pett's years as coach the field situation has been on the up-grade. In his first year, there was no home field. Last year the diamond was finally ready by May 2. This season, thanks to the snow, Belleville's baseball squad will have a home field by April 6. Now, may be next year the improvement will continue and it will be ready for at least a few weeks of practice?

After one game, this season's edition of the Belleville Varsity is just the opposite of last year's which had fair pitching and good hitting, but a poor defense. The problems should straighten themselves out as soon as the pitchers come around. The hitting should take care of itself. At least the first two Belleville batters, sophomores Paul Fillipo and senior Jim Connell, were hitting well. Each had three singles to account for 6 of Belleville's 10 safeties.

Judging from the past performances of these players, Saturday's performance was an exception. Belleville should improve with experience.

Getting back to Saturday's game, in the fifth inning, the Irvington onslaught continued. Jeff Bosslett doubled, Politan singled, and Bob De Gerso doubled to start the inning, bring in the third run, and finish Sheridan.

Sal Tabi then came on in relief. Tabi walked Kulikowski before he started a home - to - first double play. Any thoughts that the Bellboys were out of trouble were quickly quelled though, for Mike Lanz's three run homer over the distant left field barrier to make it 6-0.

The sixth inning brought more of the same as the Campers sent nine players to the plate. Tabi was hit for three singles and two ground - rule doubles over the short fence before he was mercifully replaced by Rich Pucciarello. "Puchi" walked a man before he knocked down a wicked line-drive that almost decapitated him and fired to first for third out.

George Debrovski finished the pitching chores for Belleville. Debrovski shut the Campers out for two innings on three hits to hold the final to 10-1 score.

Globetrotters to Display Talents for Local Unico

Through the years Abe Saperstein, celebrated owner and coach of the Harlem Globetrotters, has been justifiably proud of the great arrays of added entertainers selected with care from all points of the compass to tour with his famed basketball team.

Now he has come up with his masterpiece. Accompanying the troupe, and to be seen in all their colorful glory at the Newark Armory, Sussex Ave., on April 15 sponsored by Belleville Unico, is one of the world's greatest ensembles, the Czechoslovakia State Folkdance Troupe, directed from Prague!

A company of 40 of that eastern Europe country's finest performers have been chosen for the American tour. Included are a nine - person string ensemble, brilliant soloists both vocal and ballet, and amazing male and female dancing groups. Their role on the tremendous doubleheader bill will take more than an hour, divided into two sections. The Czechs' first presentation will go on before the start of the Trotters' basketball game with the Washington, (D.C.) Generals and the second between halves of the

"This is an amazing group sure to delight all America," Saperstein says. "Their stirring Czech, Slovak and Bohemian songs and traditional dances, dating back centuries are something to see and hear."

The Trotters major demo himself became most impressed when he witnessed a performance of the great company when the basketball team played in Czechoslovakia during last summer's tour of Europe. He made a return trip to the country several weeks later in company with TV's renowned Ed Sullivan who also went into raptures over the ensemble and Abe immediately closed a deal for the troupe to tour America this winter with his game magicians.

Tickets are available at the Fountain and Muscara Music Store, Belleville.

New Highway Joining Method Announced by Local Company

Thompson Materials Corporation of Belleville, a division of The Eastern Company, announces a new joining forming method for concrete highway construction which incorporates a special tapered forming bar and double edged finishing tool. The new time-saving method guarantees sturdier, non-spalling joints by applying a slight radius on both joint edges.

A heavy duty contraction cap is installed on the joint support prior to concreting, eliminating any field assembly of small parts, giving the unit great strength during the critical concrete operation.

The recommended Eastern method for forming is to remove the precast heavy duty forming cap from the concrete and to install a special tapered, high strength steel forming bar. Then a double edged finishing tool is run over the top of the bar, forming the two radius edges on the joint. The reusable forming bars are removed from the concrete before curing blankets are applied. The next morning the curing blankets are opened at the joints and the neoprene joint sealer is installed before the joints have the chance to become contaminated. This eliminates costly routing and blowing of joints prior to the neoprene installation and produces finished pavement when the curing blankets are removed at the end of the curing period.

Some additional benefits claimed are substantial reduction of finishing costs; ease of neoprene installation and elimination of messy, makeshift flimsy forming strips. Also, preparation time is cut, enabling workers to do more with less handling plus the elimination of need for costly epoxy patching. Total benefits include improved uniform joints for smoother riding pavement.

TMC Eastern offers field supervision for the method procedure and supplies all necessary components and materials. This anti-spill method has been field proved on a large paving contract in the metropolitan New York City area and is scheduled for use on many of the 1965 New York State paving contracts.

State Legion Will Observe Child Welfare

The New Jersey American Legion, in conjunction with 57 other Departments of the Legion in this country and abroad, will observe the 40th Anniversary of the organization's Child Welfare Program during the month of April, according to an announcement by Stephen B. Lopes, Department Commander.

"Born from a demonstrated need to assist the widows and children of deceased and disabled veterans, our child welfare program has been broadened in scope since World War II to include all children," said Lopes. "The American Legion and its affiliated organizations have, since 1925, expended nearly $200 million dollars from their own resources in behalf of children. Of perhaps greater importance, however, are the many sound state and federal laws benefiting children which have been enacted through the initiation of, or support by, the Legion."

"With the addition of the Legion's Child Welfare Foundation in recent years' continued Lopes — "the total child welfare program has been expanded into the area of prevention. Through research grants, The American Legion is now seeking out some of the causes of social and physical ills which befall our children."

Commenting on the State Legion's plans for the observance

In April, Harry N. Weeks, Belleville, Child Welfare chairman, said — "Our 40 Posts in New Jersey are planning special child welfare activities or projects during the month to focus attention in their respective communities to the major problems confronting today's children and youth."

In a survey by the New Jersey Optometric Association, it is estimated that: (1) 20 per cent of teen-age drivers had visual problems; (2) 30 per cent of 20 year olds; (3) 40 per cent of 40 year olds; (4) 71 per cent of 60 year olds; and (5) 80 per cent of 80 year olds.

Jersey Bell Business Sets Mark in '64

On the average business day during 1964, New Jersey Bell Telephone Company customers made 14,700,000 calls, 4.4 per cent more than the 1963 average and a new high in the 38-year history of the company.

This is one of the highlights of New Jersey Bell's annual report for 1964, issued today by E. Hornsby Wasson, Company president. In the summary, Wasson said:

"We have achieved significant progress in making our service better as the customer measures it."

Characterizing last year "as a year of record accomplishment" for New Jersey Bell, he pointed out that:

"The telephone job in 1964 led us to undertake and carry out the largest expansion and improvement program in the history of the Company."

New Jersey Bell spent $134 million on new buildings and equipment during the year. Wasson observed that in addition to improving telephone service, these expenditures mean new jobs and new tax rates in the many communities served by the Company.

On January 1, 1965, New Jersey Bell had 3,485,000 telephones in service, an increase of 130,000 during the year. On the same date, the Company listed 2,010,000 business and residence accounts.

Operating revenues in 1964 totaled $439 million, an increase of 7.2 per cent over the previous year. Operating costs were $362 million, up 7.8 per cent from 1963.

The cost of telephone service included $146 million in taxes during 1964, which was approximately 33 cents for every revenue dollar. These taxes, which include the Federal excise levy, averaged $73.40 per customer for the year.

A reduction of $2.7 million in the Federal income tax was largely offset by the new state surtax on public utilities which amounted to $2.4 million, Wasson noted.

New Jersey Bell required some $75 million of new capital during the year. The company issued $35 million in capital stock to increase the total outstanding amount to $640 million. Debentures remained at $190 million, while short term debt at the close of the year amounted to $50 million.

The company eliminated toll charges on 111 intra-state routes in 1964.

in rate revisions that took effect in November. The changes meant wider toll-free calling for 750,000 telephone users in 87 exchange areas and together with accompanying reductions in other charges, will produce annual savings of about $2.7 million for New Jersey Bell customers.

New Jersey Bell moved forward in marketing new telephone equipment and services during 1964. Touch-Tone telephones, which feature push buttons instead of dials, were offered in 19 exchange areas and met with highly favorable customer response, according to Wasson.

Data communications services and Centrex, which are designed for business customers, also grew in popularity, said the New Jersey Bell president said. More than 100 new customers for data communications — telephone links between computers — were added

An agreement for Walter Kidde & Company, Inc. to purchase the assets of Columbian Bronze Corporation of Freeport, Long Island, N. Y. has been announced by Kidde Vice President Francis M. Ricciardi and Columbian President Bernard N. Ames. The purchase will be made for an amount of common stock which will reflect a ratio of 3 1/4 shares of Columbian Bronze for one share of Kidde, which is traded on the American Stock Exchange. Columbian Bronze is a major producer of marine propellers and a selective line of marine electronic devices, including gas turbine detection systems, radio-telephones, automatic pilots, radio direction finders, depth finders and rudder angle indicators. Among Kidde products for the marine field are automatic smoke and fire detection systems, fire extinguishers, fire extinguishing systems and self-powered voice communications and inter-communication systems.

The agreement reached between the two companies' boards of directors is subject to approval by Columbian stockholders.

NAT's Oyster Bar, 75 Main Ave. Delawanna for 28 years has been noted for sea food that is a "little bit better". All the preparation is under the direct supervision of Nat Miller. All Nat's sea food is fresh, not frozen except Lobster Tails which come from the coast of Australia and are flown here directly.

With the building of this new restaurant several new innovations were added. The charcoal pit is the newest and latest type. Our hours have been extended so you can enjoy a steak at NAT's after the theater. This menu includes bagels, lox, sandwiches, pastries and the like.

Brito to MC Beauty Pageant

Phil Brito, star of records screen and television, will be the master of ceremonies for this year's beauty pageant, held in connection with the annual Cherry Blossom parade.

Brito is a local product who has appeared throughout the world. He wrote and sold one million copies of his two best known recordings, "Mama" and "Come Back to Sorento". He has also appeared on the Ed Sullivan show and the Jackie Gleason show on television.

Some of the judges who will select this year's winner are Sandy Constantenoble and Thomas Tullio. Miss Constantenoble is a newspaper columnist, who was Connie Francis' personal secretary for three years, and presently is managing a rising young star Marie LaDonna. Tullio is registrar of the Park Beauty School in Newark.

Kidde to Make Beer Dispensers

Initial production contracts for 250,000 home beer keg dispensing units, plus carbon dioxide rechargers, have been awarded to Walter Kidde & Company, Inc. by Aluminum Company of America.

Alcoa is producing the new home dispensers for the Jos. Schlitz Brewing Co. and other brewers, who will distribute the product through their own marketing channels. Kidde will supply the dispensing units to Alcoa, and the "recharge" cartridges to the brewers. Schlitz has already begun test marketing the new product.

The 14-ounce aluminum container was designed by Alcoa to fit into the smallest refrigerator. Because it works under carbon dioxide pressure, like draft beer in taverns, the beer can be kept in the refrigerator without going flat.

The keg of beer is replaced when empty, but the clamp on dispensing unit is kept by the consumer for continued reuse. New kegs of beer purchased by the consumer will come with carbon dioxide cartridges for recharging.
