CHAMBER SUES TOWN ON FEES

Parley Set Today with Heavy Users

The Belleville Town Council and representatives of major industrial firms will meet this afternoon to discuss steps to conserve water during the present drought emergency.

The Town and industrial leaders will be joined by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce also invited to air its views on water conservation.

The decision to call a meeting of the representatives of major industries, which are the heavy users of water in Town, was reached last Thursday night at a special Council meeting called on the water emergency by Mayor Nuncio R. Pico, following Newark Mayor Hugh Addonizio's directive to reduce the Town's water service by 50 per cent.

Newark took the action, Mayor Addonizio said, because Belleville was one of the six Towns served by Newark who was using more water at present than it did for the first six months of 1964.

Mayor Pico suggested the meeting with heavy industrial users of water and met instant approval of the councilman. Mayor Pico said it may be possible to have some of the plants shift vacation periods from late fall or winter to the present time to eliminate or reduce the amount of water being used by local industries.

The Mayor pointed out that 62 per cent of the amount of water used by the Town is being used by industry. He also noted that while Newark was comparing present use figures against 1964 that the Town has reduced its daily water consumption by 76,000 gallons since the present emergency restrictions were issued in May.

Councilman James R. Golden suggested that the Town contact Jersey City to see if the Town could purchase water from that community. He said Jersey City water pipes ran under Belleville.

Acting Manager Charles B. Tedesco told him that Newark had been purchasing water from Jersey City but that its contract expired as of tomorrow and that Jersey City would not provide Newark with any more water. JC officials informed Newark that the city had only enough water to take care of its needs and could not supply any water to other communities.

A member of the engineering department said that the Jersey City water pipes that ran under

Seven Alarms Answered by Town Firemen

Two house fires and a blaze in a factory were among seven alarms answered last week by Town firemen.

A total of 22 ambulance runs, 12 emergency and 10 service calls were also reported.

The first fire alarm came from the Air Reduction Corp. at 638 Main Street on July 9 where a surge of pressure triggered the alarm. There was no fire.

On the same day the firemen were called to the home of T. Del Grosso of 10 Bremont Street, where a blaze began in an electrical fixture. There was no damage.

On July 11 the men responded to an alarm at Union and Belleville Avenue to a fire in the home of Jackie Rega which damaged the interior and furniture.

On July 12 the men used a booster to extinguish a fire in an automobile owned by James

Only four pre-schoolers greeted their three teachers on the first day of the eight-week program designed to prevent "culturally-deprived" youngsters from becoming future school dropouts. By the end of the first week, eight of the 20 classroom seats were still vacant.

Despite the problems, the children who attend now are starting to realize that people care about them and about their future.

A late start is causing several minor administrative snafus.

The class which meets for four hours each day at School No. 1 in the center of the low-income "Valley" area of Belleville is financed by a $3,900 poverty grant from the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

Belleville contributes its required ten per cent of the cost by donating the classroom and custodial care and the services of project coordinator Michael Rosamilia, who is also assistant superintendent of schools for curricular and acting superintendent of schools.

Rosamilia was sure the class would be filled by press-time. There are more applications than places, but Rosamilia tried to fill the class with kids from families earning less than $3,000 (the government requires only 85 per

Louis Bruno, chairman of the sponsoring Belleville Youth Evaluation and Employment Commission, notes three cases in which parents just wouldn't be bothered to get their youngsters ready for the summer class. Rosamilia also said welfare agencies were reluctant to give out names of their clients.

Several clergymen who serve low-income congregations are working to recruit pre-schoolers for the class.

A late start has caused most of the difficulties. Bruno's commission didn't sign a contract to operate the summer session until July 2. The classes started July 6.

13 Charges Listed in Civil Action

The Chamber of Commerce filed suit in Essex County Superior Court yesterday against the Town of Belleville, demanding that the controversial license fee ordinance be declared unconstitutional, illegal and invalid and a judgement ordering the Town to repay any and all fees paid by local merchants.

The chamber action, filed by Attorney George J. Baumann of the firm of Wolf, Baumann & Burstein, listed 13 complaints that the merchants have with the ordinance.

The plaintiffs listed in the civil action include: Belleville Chamber of Commerce; Michael Mercurio, trading as Abbots Drug Store; Parisio Brothers Furniture Co.; Charles Jewellers; The Glass Company; Frank Altieri, trading as Greylock Pass Service Station; Wilfred Yudin and Freda Tikes, trading as Yudin's Paint Store; Paul Brandman, trading as Paul's Shoe Shop; George H. Mead Inc.; and Leonard Chevrolet Inc.

The 13 charges listed in the complaint include:

1. The Ordinance, which the plaintiffs allege, violates the Ordinance under the Ordinance have already been preempted by the State and the persons owning from the State or one of its agencies issued pursuant to specific enabling State law to carry on such business or profession.

2. The license fees charged against certain businesses, particularly those set forth in Section 19, being based on a square foot floor area, are unreasonable and far exceed the regulatory costs.

3. The requirement that certain licensees pay fees on a square foot total floor area is discriminatory in that smaller stores doing a greater volume of business and earning a greater profit and containing less square foot area than others pay a lesser fee.

4. The Schedule of Fees, set forth in said Section 19, for Food, Department and furniture stores, markets and all stores wherein merchandise is sold at retail and accepting those specifically set forth in the Ordinance, is arbitrary, unreasonable and discriminatory in that they are required to pay considerably more than other retail stores mentioned in the Ordinance and regardless of the amount of volume of business transacted.

5. In Schedule 19, a license fee of $50.00 for each Milk Machine is required to be paid, whereas a vehicle selling and delivering milk is required to pay but $5.00. This large differential between the fee for vending machine and milk delivery vehicle is unjustified, arbitrary and discriminatory and therefore unconstitutional vendors equal protection of the law.

6. The conducting and operation of businesses and establishments, such as, retail furniture, department, children's wear, stationery, greeting cards, jewelry, shoes, clothing and similar types of merchandise do not, present any threat to the health, safety, welfare and morals of the public and are not subject to regulation under the police power. Plaintiffs therefore allege that the license fees are not for regulation but levied for revenue only and therefore contrary to established law.

7. The ordinance is discriminatory and adversely affects the retail stores established in the Town selling items listed above in that no other municipality in the County of Essex, or other adjacent counties or municipalities, imposes such a burden, nor does any other municipality in the State do so.

8. The standards for obtaining a license and the information required for obtaining a license are not uniform in the County of Essex, or other adjacent counties or municipalities, imposes such a burden, nor does any other municipality in the State do so.

9. The standards for obtaining a license and the information required for obtaining a license are not uniform in the County of Essex, or other adjacent counties or municipalities, imposes such a burden, nor does any other municipality in the State do so.

10. The standards for obtaining a license and the information required for obtaining a license are not uniform in the County of Essex, or other adjacent counties or municipalities, imposes such a burden, nor does any other municipality in the State do so.

quired for obtaining a license are not uniform in the County of Essex, or other adjacent counties or municipalities, imposes such a burden, nor does any other municipality in the State do so.

Head Start Stake in Future

The dozen youngsters seated in a circle on the floor of the Operation Head Start classroom rolling a large rubber ball back and forth looked like any bunch of kids playing together.

If Operation Head Start works, the four and five-year olds in the room will turn out to be like any other youngsters. If it works, their names will appear on high school diplomas in 1978; if not, the names will appear on police records and welfare rolls.

So the game with the ball is serious business, for citizens of North Essex, if not for the children themselves. The simple bit of supervised play was intended to teach the youngsters discipline, and getting along with others, to develop language skills by getting the children to call their peers by name.

"Culturally-deprived" is what educators call these children from low-income families. How to with the society they live in. Head Start tries to get across ideas like sharing, discipline, and telling right from wrong.

The children's progress will be checked by giving them the same oral test at the end of the summer that they took last week near the beginning of the program.

Field trips to local parks and police and fire stations are planned.

Thrown in are medical and dental check-ups for the youngsters, a catered lunch each noon (budgeted at 35 cents per meal), and a social worker who'll spend one day a week advising the parents how best to help their youngsters get that head start.

No-one really knows how much Operation Head Start can counter the ingrained effects of poverty. Empty seats in the Head

Durkee Airing Set Tuesday

The State Commissioner of Education will hear the appeal of Superintendent of Schools Dr. Frank M. Durkee against his suspension by the Board of Education Tuesday morning at 10 at Trenton.

The Board of Education relieved Dr. Durkee of his duties and named Assistant Superintendent Michael Rosamilia to take charge of the school system pending the results of an investigation of the school system by the National Education Association's Commission on Rights and Responsibilities.

Dr. Durkee's appeal will be heard by assistant commissioner Eric Groezinger, who is in charge of controversies and disputes.

Commissioner Groezinger will report his findings to the State Commissioner, or order Durkee

Nine Men Beat Four In Route 21 Battle

Four men were beaten by nine unidentified men on July 17 in Route 21, Belleville. Louis Cavaluzzi, 38, of 33 Montclair Avenue, Newark has been reported in fair condition at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital after suffering head injuries in the beating. Police said, Cavaluzzi, Fredrick Meier, 27, of 129 N. Arlington Avenue, Orange, and Thomas Washington, 21, of 19 Humboldt Street, Newark, were passengers in a car driven by William Holder, 28, of 81 Montclair Avenue, Newark.

Holder told the police that he was driving north on Route 21 when a car with four men cut him off. After a slight argument, he drove 1/2-mile down the road where two cars hemmed his car in.

Police said that Holder and his friends could not give any information on the men who attacked them or their cars.

He further stated that nine men got out of the two cars and came to his car and started to beat him. They also dragged Washington from the front seat and gave him a beating, causing his left eye to become black and blue. Cavaluzzi and Meier, sitting in the rear, were punched and kicked by the men.

While the fighting was taking place, one of the men smashed all the windows on Holder's car with a tire iron.

An unidentified motorist noticed the trouble on the highway and stopped his car. When he did this, the nine men got in their cars and drove away.

Police said that Holder and his friends could not give any information on the men who attacked them or their cars.

A U.S. Senate committee, under the chairmanship of Senator Edward V. Long, conducted a nation-wide investigation of the IRS investigative methods and procedures. Working under the handicap of a slim budget and with only one investigator and one lawyer, Senator Long's current public hearings have elicited admission from IRS agents that:

- 1) The national office of IRS maintains an electronic school in Washington, D.C. to teach IRS agents the art of wiretapping, installing hidden microphones, picking locks, and how to use burglary tools.
 - 2) Wire taps were extensively installed.
 - 3) Conference rooms occupied by IRS were equipped with hidden microphones to permit tax agents to listen in on private consultations between taxpayers and their lawyers.
 - 4) Microphones were concealed in desk drawers, under chairs, room air conditioners, window frames, hotel room walls, to spy upon taxpayers, witnesses and IRS employees.
 - 5) Homes and offices of private citizens were illegally broken into by IRS agents to search the premises for possible evidence in tax cases.
 - 6) Private homes and offices were broken into to conceal electronic devices including a transmitter concealed in the base of a telephone instrument in a lawyer's office.
- The public hearings are underway in Washington, D.C. and as Senator Long observed two weeks ago at the opening session, "They may well continue until the frost is on the pumpkin."

The sworn testimony of IRS officials is being placed in the public record by two of America's outstanding public servants — U.S. Senator Edward V. Long of Missouri and his committee's extremely able and dedicated young Chief Counsel, Bernard Fensterwald, Jr. By involving themselves in the risky business of disclosing un-American practices and procedures of the IRS, both Senator Long and Mr. Fensterwald have earned the eternal gratitude of all patriotic Americans who continue to believe America is the land of the brave and the home of the free.

A Congressional Committee has proven without contradiction that some IRS practices and procedures are wrong. In the process, the nation has acquired two unsung heroes — Senator Edward V. Long and General Counsel Bernard Fensterwald, Jr. For their work in defending the Constitutional rights of Americans, they have earned the Congressional Medal of Honor.

To his everlasting credit, Internal Revenue Commissioner Sheldon Cohen, recently appointed to the post, has pledged himself to eliminate the bad practices.

Commissioner Cohen explained that he never had personal knowledge of any illegal uses of electronic devices by IRS. We believe him. It took a great deal of courage for Cohen to admit publicly that his department violated the constitutional rights of citizens.

We find comfort in Cohen's promise to purify the bureau's practices and procedures.

The Parking Problem

Our Town has been plagued for some time by the lack of adequate parking facilities for shoppers.

For many years our Town fathers have been talking about the problem and doing next to nothing. The longer they talk the more complex the problem becomes.

It doesn't take a prophet to see the lack of adequate parking slowly strangling the Town as the years go on. If anyone had the opinion that if we closed our eyes to this problem it would go away, they are mistaken.

A recent spokesman for the U.S. Department of Commerce has estimated that by 1980 there will be 139 million licensed drivers. It estimates that by 1976 there will be 95 million private automobiles in the nation.

Coming closer to home there are at present 2,750,000 automobiles in our state, and estimates make it appear that a sea of bumper-to-bumper automobiles will be on the roads by 1990 as more and more people join the urban areas such as ours.

Our State Highway Department is trying to prepare for this increase in the number of automobiles and licensed drivers by building super highways to handle the traffic.

What we seem to be forgetting is that automobiles are on the roads normally when they are going from one place to another. When they reach their destination they must have places to park or they must keep moving along the highway until they find a place to park.

The Question

The Town Council seems to have been placed in the middle once again by the request of Bernard E. O'Connor and Marie A. Pasquariello to conduct a block party on Hewitt Avenue in September or early October.

It seems that the problem is complex since the Council has granted approval to church and veteran groups in the past to have streets temporarily closed for celebrations.

Councilman James R. Golden was opposed to the measure, citing "additional burden on our police department". Mayor Nuncio R. Pico said he was concerned because of a possible request for a flood of similar requests and the problem of youths and narcotics.

Councilman Robert Westpy said he was in favor of such parties and said he believed the Town residents should be encouraged to get together and enjoy themselves.

We support Councilman Westpy's views 100 percent. In this day of increasing juvenile and criminal problems, one of the main points brought forward when law officials attempt to explain this increase is the breakdown of the family as a unit.

We believe a neighborhood block party, where adults and youths, mothers, fathers and their children, can join together with their neighbors in good, clean wholesome entertainment can only be an asset to our community.

One of our major problems as a com-

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

The month of June is a very busy month in the TV and Phonograph industry. The factories show their distributors and dealers the "new" models which will be sold this fall. Also there is the National Music show at the end of June in Chicago.

As in previous years, we are going to report on the "new" models of the most important factories.

Everybody in the industry expects a shortage of color TV sets this year. We have mentioned this in a recent column. The reason for it is the expected shortage of color tubes. The demand for color TV has been very high and there is no inventory at the factories, hardly any at the distributor level and very little in dealer's stores. And this is in spite of the fact that there definitely was a great drop in business during the last month because of the pending repeal of the excise tax. This has gone through in the meantime. So the prediction of a color TV shortage may well come true.

We have maintained for several years a large stock of color TV sets, in fact one of the largest in the state. Allotments are expected to be made on the basis of previous purchases. If this is the case, we will get a much greater share than many others, who jumped on the bandwagon lately. We have sold the first color TV set 11 years ago and, of course,

We're sticking what we sell. Beck's Radio, TV, Hi Fi, New York, 667-2373

"LEFTOVERS"

There's but one good place in the home for "leftovers." That's the refrigerator — and the "leftovers" should be foods, not medicines.

Medicine that "leftovers" are risky at best, and often downright dangerous. The medicine your physician prescribed a year or so ago was intended to be used then, not now. Avoid serious danger — dump old medicine at once.

Each illness requires scientific diagnosis — and, usually, specialized medicine is indicated. See your physician. Let him decide what's best. Call on us to provide your medication.

Women Big Spenders On Clothing, Says U.S. Dept. of Commerce

The U. S. Department of Commerce has confirmed what every housewife trying to balance a check-book knows: women spend more on clothes than their male counterparts.

Almost 30 per cent of the sales instead of flour on the pastry in New Jersey department stores board for a sweet sugary crust were of women's and girls' clothing on pie crusts.

Miss Hermine Schlindwein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Schlindwein of 125 Tappan Avenue, Belleville, and Anthony K. Scragg, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Scragg of Totowa Boro, were married Sunday, July 11 at St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, Paterson. The Rev. Alan H. Taylor officiated at the 4 o'clock double ring ceremony. A reception for 115 guests followed at Schweiguth's in Clifton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of organza and lace, with seed pearl and sequin trim. A double tiered crown of imported Alencon lace held her silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade of white majestic daisies and orchids.

The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Siegfried Schlindwein of Succasunna, who wore a full length orchid gown of peau and lace with deeper orchid accessories. Bellboys Whip Irvington, 4-1; End in Fifth

By STEVE CHAREN

With a chance to finish with fourth place money, Belleville's out 106 had the Essex American Legion League slam the door in its collective face forcing a tie for a fifth place finish. Instead of being allowed to finish their season with ninth place Irvington on a tenth place East Orange, the Pinstrippers were stiffly told by the "Big Brother" County chairman, Cal Ebehart of Livingston, that the season was over as of July 16. The Bellboys had planned to wrap the campaign up

Legion Picks Luongo as Star Catcher

Len Luongo was Belleville Post 106's representative of the 1965 Essex All-Star team chosen by the league coaches. It was the second straight year that Luongo has been selected for the 20 man team, last season Art Sheridan also represented Belleville.

Although he alternated between first base and catching, Len was chosen as a backstop wood to Montclair's Dave Driscoll. At the time of his selection, Luongo was batting .300 with 6 RBI and four extra base hits.

In the Essex Union All-Star tilt, Luongo handled the final two rounds of the eight inning game. He was the only player to be whiffed in his lone batting appearance; Driscoll had struck out three times. Thanks to Lou Pirello's key blow, Essex won the game 5-3.

The Bellboys lack of games played at the time of the Star selections undoubtedly has caused several other deserving Pinstrippers to be left off the team.

There was some controversy surrounding the selection of the team that was dominated by five Livingston players, three each from Montclair and West Orange, and two from Cedar Grove. Only one representative was chosen from each of the remaining seven league teams.

Little League Stars Named

The Little League Coaches have announced the 1965 All-Star teams. The players include:

National League

American League

Bellboys Wallop E. Orange, 9-2

By STEVE CHAREN

Ricky San Filippo lashed a base clearing double to break up a close game and ignite a five run rally as the rollicking Bellboys battered East Orange, 9-2 last Thursday.

San Filippo's clutch hit came with the Bellboys leading the tenth place Panthers by a slim 2-1 margin in the fifth inning. Following the blow, two more runs came in on errors as the score ballooned to 7-1.

Although the eventual nine Belleville tally was a season's high (they've had eight runs three times), the Pinstrippers had only their own cocky base-running to blame for keeping the score down. The Bellboys ran into three double plays and were out-stealing twice as they collected 11 hits, walked eight times, and stranded five runners. Art Sheridan earned his record at 2.2 with his sharp five-hit performance. Two double plays helped Sheridan out, but he really didn't need it as only three balls made it to the outfield including the hits. Sheridan narrowly missed a shout as one at Orange run was unearned, and he with a July 17 twin bill. Taking the fresh news of their nailing the Pinstrippers headed Irvington on the fateful sixteenth, hoping to salvage their season. Upon arrival, the Camp-towner coach, Charlie Reitz, agreed to play the scheduled game plus one of the black-balled tilts in a two-night double-header. After thinking the proposition over, Reitz reversed his decision, deciding to play one seven inning contest rather than the two fivers. (In the Irvington game that was played, the Bellboys coasted to a 4-1 victory behind Bruce Sincow's four hitting hurling. Art Sheridan's long two-run homer paced the ten hit Belleville attack.)

Topping off the injustices, was the East Orange story. Just the night before (July 15), the Bellboys' coach, Tony Pratola, had been told to schedule the final E.O. game for Saturday; then, the Panthers won't come and Belleville would gain two valuable points via forfeit rather than play a repeat of the 9-2 romp. These points were disallowed by the league though, for they were to be gained on the seventeenth.

It seems that on July 15 after the Belleville-East Orange tilt there was a high level league meeting that was attended by nearly all of the eleven Essex teams. Belleville was not one of them. The instrip brass wasn't even informed of the discussion. At this coaches' conference, complaints were lodged against the Belleville players' behavior at E. O., and the deadline to end the Pinstrippers attempted damage from tenth to third places was cemented.

As far as the complaints go, the Bellboys have been quite "joyful" lately, but only among themselves. At that fateful E.O. game the Pinstrippers were "mucking" each other and nailing the bases in some weird fashion, but they did not make

Bellboys, Pucciarello Tipped by Montclair

For the second week in a row, Ricky Pucciarello followed a scintillating Saturday performance by getting bombed out on Monday. This time it was with Montclair and Art Sheridan wound-up as the eventual goat as the Bellboys fell, 5-4.

Sheridan replaced Pucciarello on the mound in the second inning with no-outs, five runs in (two from the first inning), and two on. Art promptly retired the side and went on to set down seven men in a row twice allow-

Rec Board
The Board of Education, by making additions to School 4, has seriously cut into the area previously used for recreation purposes in this locality. After much discussion and deliberation this Board recommends that the Town Council give serious thought and consideration to the acquisition of Lots No. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25. This would give School 4 the balance of the block North of it bounded by Magnolia Street, Cross Street and North Belmont Avenue. Lots No. 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25 are now vacant. This area is sorely in need of recreation space and while the obtaining of this property, at this time, may seem to be more than is needed it would also be available for further expansion of, and additions to, School 4.

"Our survey of the First Italian Baptist Church, Friendly House indicates the recreation department of the Town has had 'free' access to this area for a number of years without any agreement between the Church and Town. There are a number of facilities available at this location such as gymnasium, swimming pool and archery to name a few. The place, however, is far from attractive needing painting, etc. and needs an exhaust fan or two for ventilation. The Town cannot very well afford to lose this recreation area and it should, in return for continued use of the building and its appointments do a little 'Touching Up' or refurbishing of the premises."

favor of it. He said he wouldn't want people from other areas of Town holding a party on his street.
Laterza also engaged Acting Town Attorney Tedesco and Manager Burnett on the question of official during his term of office. He said he couldn't take action on it while in office as nothing came before the Council to be acted upon.
Councilman Westpy questioned Laterza as to why he did not initiate such a motion on reveal-ation. Laterza suggested he study this assessing.

In other action the Manager reported that Public Service had rejected a request to use its lines under the transmission lines for recreation and park purposes.
Town Democratic Chairman Mrs. Mary V. Senatore quizzed the Council on the traffic ordinance and was told it would probably move at the July meeting. The Mayor and Councilman asked Mr. Senatore to use her contacts in County government to get the County to accept certain provisions dealing with County roads in the Town.

tion, "I can't see increasing the salary of an administrator who would deliberately deceive this board."
He referred to what the majority terms Durkee's "denial" and later "confession" of the superintendent's part in using school equipment to duplicate anti-dual control petitions. The alleged deception was the basis for removing Durkee from his duties pending an investigation.
In a separate vote, Mrs. McCool and DiRienzo opposed the raise schedule for the other administrators. Mrs. McCool criticized granting full-ratio raises to teachers, but not to administrators. DiRienzo criticized the ratio system as applied to high salary brackets, and urged setting maximum salaries for each job classification with provision for cost-of-living adjustments.
Following the budget cut imposed by the town council after the voters twice rejected the proposed total, the board granted teachers the full scheduled increment up to a maximum of $960. Administrators — with the exception of Durkee — were given 7 per cent of their scheduled raise, but each administrator said a minimum raise of $800.
Mrs. McCool charged that the imposition of the budget slash was "being used as a tool to destroy the ratio system," thereby increasing the power of the board to withhold raises to administrators who don't go along with the board majority.

called at 112 Greyclay Avenue. The other woman was not identified.
Mrs. Izziary was employed as a floor assembly worker at the advertising novelty firm.
Raymond Minihone of 417 Bryant Street, Newark, engineer on the train which struck Mrs. Izziary told police that he had slowed to about 35-40 miles an hour as he approached the area. He said he saw the women dash across the tracks and had applied his emergency air brakes.
The Greyclay Avenue crossing had been used for many years before the railroad had placed high steel beams across the path, blocking off the unofficial crossing. Several years ago the beams had been removed. On the opposite side of the tracks a steel rail-type fence had been erected by a private firm with permission of the railroad on Erie property. However there is an opening between the fence sections at the site and area residents have been using the path as a crossing for some time.

If minutes of the conference sessions had been required, non-personnel matters discussed at the meetings would then have become a matter of public record under the state's "right-to-know" law.

Student Council Proclaims Mr. Gino Honorary Member
N.H.S. — We proclaim you an honorary Student Council member. Student Council 1964-65.
Mr. Gino Gino, head custodian at Nutley High, received a plaque with this inscription at the final Student Council meeting on June 9.
1964-65 Student Council president Robert Narucki explained the reason for the presentation. "Mr. Gino has done so much for every organization and individual in N.H.S. for so many years. He has grown close to many of us and has become an active member of each class. This is just a small token of the honor and gratitude he deserves for his readiness to serve and his contributions to all facets of N.H.S. life."
Obviously surprised by the presentation of the plaque, Mr. Gino stated, "This is the first time in all my years that the students have kept a secret from me. When they presented it to me I almost went through the floor. I have known other classes, but this one I think outdid all of them. That is another reason why I enjoy working in the school."
Mr. Gino has been at Nutley High since 1946. As head custodian he is in charge of all high school custodians, receives all equipment and distributes it to the correct people and places, sees that the building is properly taken care of and ready to operate at all times. Mr. Gino emphasized that this job is possible only through the cooperation of his superior, Principal David H. Broffman, the faculty members and the student body. Regarding the student body, he says, "Over all they are all good. I can't please every one of them, but from the majority I get good cooperation."
Mr. Gino continues, "I think the present faculty is one of the most outstanding we have ever had at Nutley High. That is why I think N.H.S. is the greatest. Without the cooperation of the faculty and the students this building wouldn't be as it is. I am very grateful for their help."
This year's Senior Class has an added attraction for Mr. Gino. His daughter Eileen graduated last week. Eileen will attend Berkeley Secretarial School in the fall. However, it won't be long before there is another member of the family joining the student body at the high school. His 13-year-old son, John, will be in his last year at Franklin this September.
Born in Rome, New York, Mr. Gino settled in Nutley in 1946. His reason for choosing Nutley was simply that his wife, the former Phyllis Vaglio, is a life-long Nutley resident. Mr. Gino is a member of the Nutley Elks and a charter member of the local Amvets.
His ability to speak several languages - French, Italian, and Spanish - goes back to his own schooling was in New York City, but he also attended school in Italy for five years where he began the study of languages.
During World War II he served in the U.S. Army. He spent 20 months in Panama and one year in Europe. His European service

Filmland Satire Cast Includes Local Students
Two local teenagers have roles in "Once in a Lifetime", the second production of the Sixth Annual Summer Theater Workshop of Montclair State College.
It opened yesterday and is presented tonight at 8:15 p.m. in the Memorial Auditorium on the campus.
The play is the first collaboration of Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. This famous satire on the beginning of talking pictures is described as "a fast-moving and riotous picture of the movie industry at its most colossal," by play director L. Howard Fox, chairman of the college's speech department.
Local members of the cast include Anita R. Clamund of 151 Highland Lane in the role of Miss Fontaine's maid, and Paul Goldberger of 8 Irving Place in the roles of Ernest and second cameraman. Both are sophomores at Nutley High.

"On June 7 the Glendale Street house was hit by a blaze in the bedroom of the Polchaks' apartment. Damage was limited to a charred mattress, but two firemen were overcome while fighting the smoldering fire, and smoke and water damage on June 7 totaled $200 according to Gallo's estimate.

10,000 Animals Are Born Every Hour in America
Probably the worst cruelty to animals in America is caused by animal overpopulation. These people are breeding more kittens and puppies than can ever be given homes, according to the Nutley Animal Welfare League.
The operation, reports The Nutley League, is simple and painless and does not make the animal any or otherwise affect his personality and physical condition. Most seeing-eye dogs are spayed females.
The Nutley Animal Welfare League urges that all animal owners cooperate in having their animals spayed or neutered, and pass on this information to others.

Water Ban Is Ruining Business Of Selling Pools

The above ground swimming pool industry including manufacturers and retailers of plastic type portable pools, filters, chemicals and accessory equipment has been hit hard by water use restriction orders imposed in the metropolitan New York-New Jersey areas.

An emergency industry committee, which met last week to consider the crisis, reported the anti-pool water edicts would kill virtually all retail sales in the area of low-cost pools and related products, with financial loss and serious damage to many businesses.

Martin Hoffinger, spokesman for the industry group, pointed out that manufacturers and retailers of pool equipment gear their entire year's effort to a single peak selling season of about 20 days from June 20 to July 4.

Hoffinger noted the industry includes a number of local producers for whom heavily populated New York suburbia is the principal selling market. The restrictions affect thousands of jobs and millions of dollars worth of business. For some smaller producers, he added "it can mean the difference between survival and perishing."

The 10 member pool industry emergency committee called on New Jersey's Governor Hughes and New York's Water Commissioner D'Angelis to reconsider the retail prohibition imposed on the filling of backyard pools.

Desalination Proposal Wins Rodino's Support

Rep. Peter W. Rodino, Jr. (D-10th District) today urged Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall to establish a pilot desalination project in New Jersey, where a critical water shortage has developed.

In a letter to Udall, Rodino wrote that "the immediacy of the problem cannot be exaggerated. Something must be done and done quickly to provide relief."

Rodino, dean of the New Jersey congressional delegation, pointed out that Governor Richard J. Hughes "has given much thought to the problem, and I am certain you will find his suggestions useful and workable."

His five-year drought is making every drop of water count. Do your part for water conservation.
