NEA Fact-Finders Check Local School Problems

Two National Education Association representatives and a New Jersey Education Association aide conducted a two-day fact-finding mission in Town early this week to determine whether or not the NEA will conduct an investigation of the local school system.

West Punched By Brother-in-Law

Councilman Robert Westpy was punched in the face in the middle of Monday night's Town Council meeting.

Westpy was attacked by a brother-in-law, Howard Barnett, 31, of 136 Belmont Street, Belleville, about one hour after the session started while Mrs. Joan Barnes was speaking during the hearing of the public session of the meeting.

Barnett, came into the Council chamber on a sneaker-clad feet, walked past the patrolman and stroled through the gate in the fence that divides the Council from the public.

He walked up to Westpy's desk and punched him in the face.

Divert Water to Area, Council Urges State

The Town Council Monday night authorized a water waste survey of the Town water system and called on the State Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development Robert Roe to take whatever action necessary to divert any available water from any source available to the City of Newark and the neighboring Towns that it provides with water.

In two separate resolutions approved by the Council at its regular meeting in Town Hall the Council authorized the filing of ate secretary of the NEA Rights and Responsibilities Commission, and NEA Commission attorney Richard Morgan met Monday and Tuesday with several local school officials, members of the Board of Education and Dr. Frank M. Durkee, superintendent of schools who has been relieved of his duties with full pay pending an investigation of the system by the local Board of Education. Louis Applegate, director of NJEA public relations served as liaison between the NEA officials and local parties.

The NEA officials met Monday afternoon with the four members of the Board of Education who requested the investigation and voted to relieve Dr. Durkee of his duties. . . . Board President Ernest Arvidson, Nicholas Juliano, Dr. Frank DiRugiero and Rocco Saletta.

Following Monday night's special Board meeting at which the offer of the NEA and the NJEA to "conduct and supervise" the inquiry was accepted by a 5-0 vote, with Board member John B. DiRugiero abstaining and before Member Mrs. Norma McCool arrived, the NEA officials met with the three members who had opposed the investigation and suggestion of Dr. Durkee.

Applegate explained Tuesday that the meetings with separate factions of the Board was a matter of following a policy of the NEA Commission.

Tuesday the NEA officials interviewed several individuals, including Dr. Durkee, at their headquarters in the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark.

Applegate said late Tuesday afternoon, after the NEA officials, had completed their interviews, that they had talked with "six or eight" individuals. He declined to name the individuals interviewed.

Thompson and Morgan said they were doing preliminary groundwork for a possible investigation. They said they will be (Continued On Page 11)

Town Council Moves to Regulate Going-Out-of-Business, Fire Sales

An ordinance regulating Going-Out-of-Business sales was introduced by a unanimous 5-0 vote Monday night by the Town Council at its regular session in Town Hall.

The ordinance which is designed to reduce the possibility of fraud, was introduced by Councilman William B. Cullen and seconded by Councilman Ralph Gesselle.

Cullen said he introduced the measure to protect the residents as well as local businessmen from unfair competition. He said he checked and found that the County and State had no specific law governing false sales except the statutes. He said most towns have municipal laws on going-out-of-business fire sales to protect their

Charges on Ambulance Termed 'Lies' by Chief

"It's all lies," exploded Fire Chief Carl T. Hundertpfund Tuesday morning. He was referring to charges leveled at the Fire Department operated ambulance service Monday night at the Town Council meeting by Mrs. Mary V. Senatore, Town Democratic leader.

Mrs. Senatore told the Council that the Town ambulance arrived with only one man, no oxygen and no blankets. The patient Hugo Bucco of 10 Riverdale Avenue, was pronounced dead on arrival at Clara Masses Memorial Hospital on July 4.

Mrs. Senatore asked if this was typical of the ambulance service being provided by the department.

Town Manager John R. Burnett investigated the matter early Tuesday morning and will report (Continued On Page 11)

1,000 Petition State To Reinstate Durkee

State Education Commissioner Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger was informed by wire Monday that 1,000 residents have signed a petition urging the reinstatement of Dr. Frank M. Durkee to his post as Superintendent of Schools and that the signature campaign is being continued.

Mrs. Anthony Izzo, chairman of the Fair Play Committee's petition drive said that as of Friday July 23, 1,000 citizens had signed the petitions being circulated by the Fair Play Committee urging Commissioner Raubinger and the Belleville Board of Education to reinstate Dr. Durkee.

Dr. Durkee was relieved of his duties with full pay, several weeks ago by the board of Education, pending the outcome of an investigation of the school system informed by a committee from the Trenton Education Association and the New Jersey Education Association.

Mrs. Izzo said the following telegram was sent to the Commissioner:

"Dear Sir: As of today, Monday, July 26, 1,000 signatures have been affixed to a petition urging reinstatement of Dr. Frank M. Durkee as superintendent of schools. This campaign will continue. The people of Belleville have for sometime taken a dim view of the acts of their Board of Education majority. They now appeal to you to invoke the law (Continued On Page 11)

POST-MORTEM — Dr. Frank Durkee discusses his reinstatement hearing on the steps of the state education building following the 45-minute session Tuesday morning, as his attorney, Joseph V. Cullom, relaxes with a plastic-tipped cigar.

Illegal Suspension Charged by Super

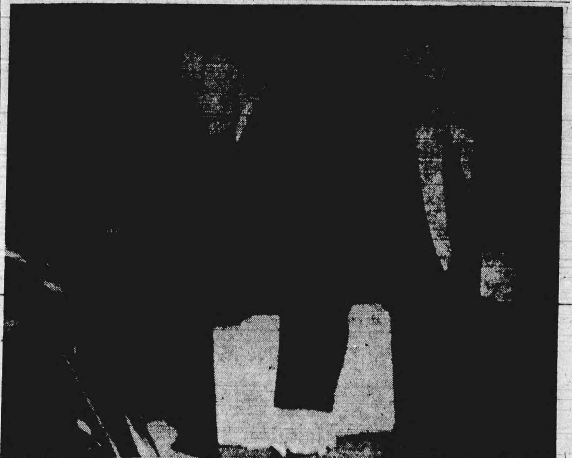

A hearing on a move to reinstate ousted Superintendent of Schools Dr. Frank M. Durkee at the state education offices in Trenton centered on Durkee's present legal status and the issue of the majority.

Attorneys for Durkee and the board of education presented oral arguments and rebuttals for 45 minutes before Eric Groezinger, assistant commissioner of education for controversies and disciplinary charges to Trenton. "Dr. Durkee hasn't had a vacation in years," he noted. "If our intention was to humiliate and humiliate the superintendent, we would have filed formal charges."

Cullom claims Durkee has in effect been suspended without pay through the procedure of filing formal charges with the commissioner of education, which is required by state law. Schwartz says Durkee isn't suspended, and the board has the right to put him on paid leave of absence if they so desire.

Cullom called the ouster "pussyfooting" and a deliberate and arbitrary violation" of procedures established by law. He says the board's intention was to humiliate its superintendent by relieving him of his duties.

Schwartz disputed the humiliation charge, saying there has been no ridicule of Durkee. In had adopted dual control, More Schwartz's view, the suspension (Continued On Page 11)

Playground News

Fairway Avenue Playground

Exciting is the word to describe our Amateur Show. The children set up a stage and decorated the playground with signs and criss paper. The show opened with Linda Giordano telling several amusing jokes. Carol and Diane Giordano sang songs from "Mary Poppins", they were followed by the Lady Bugs. The Lady Bugs consist of the following girl boppers: Diabie Gierla, Patty De Laurentis (on the drums) Janice Amey, Peggy Glevy, Michele Gierla and Mary Ann Glevy. Our Lady Bugs sang some of their favorite Beale songs. Our last and very exciting act was performed by Henry DeFrance. He played rock 'n' roll songs for the audience. After the children had performed, they were all surprised with a sing-along. Claudette Nadeau sang and played the guitar for the children. Our guest, Claudette, entertained them with several popular folk songs. The children were additionally surprised with cookies and lolly pops.

Fairway has had a week of games. These consist of softball, kickball, and other games of lower organization. In the balloon contest the winners were: Carol Molinaro, Robin Kelly, and Jay Messina. These three children had very exciting and original balloons. The children at Fairway Avenue would like to extend an invitation to the children at the Stadium to attend our circus-day. We will have games, prizes, treats, and an art display. All the children must dress in circus costumes. The circus will be held on July 31. See you there!

Recreation House Playground

We began our week with a cleanup contest on Monday which certainly made our playground spottless. The winners were Mark Corino and Susan Narucki. Another highlight of the week was our Amateur Show on Tuesday. Many children performed and sang. Those chosen most talented were Janice Sheldon and everyone was busy with wirecraft and making hot plates and other various decorations. This week's winner of the ping pong tournament was James Giney. We ended the week with a watermelon and cupcake party on Friday, everyone enjoyed themselves.

Msgr. Kelly Playground

This week was declared tournament week at the playground. The champions were: checkers-Barry Ocello; horseshoes-Mike Wallace; kish-Victoria Neapolitano; ping-pong-Albert Casaleto; Rummy-Ocello, Pat Smythe and foal shooting-Albert Casaleto. On Monday the girls and boys had fun decorating balloons. There was quite a variety of ideas presented. Barry Ocello won a badge for his balloon entry. Kick ball seemed to be the most popular game of the week. There were many exciting competitive games played. Leather pocketbooks were the favorite project in handicraft this week. Everyone is looking forward to making paper mache animals the coming week.

Planners Playground

Our swim parties could not have been planned at a better time considering the heat wave last week. On Wednesday afternoon the boys went to the Friendly House and on Thursday afternoon the girls. Both boys and girls had a very good time and are enthusiastic about another swim party soon. In handicraft the children finished up the leather from the previous week and went on to more creative things. The wire craft proved to be quite successful. Most of the finished products were of a modern art nature and were called "Its". In addition, we also decorated balloons by painting water color faces, round balloons and also pasting bits of colored paper on the long balloons. Our softball team is now 1-1 losing to the strong No. 1 team by a few runs. On Friday we had a Talent Show. Entries were duets, vocalists, quartets, and comedians. First prize was won by Debbie Curran, a vocalist. Debbie is placed in the top three of each of our special events so far. Second prize went to Donna Reid and Rose DeAngelis, a duet who also performed individually. Third prize was had by Harold Rigid who told jokes and sang. Afterwards an ice cream, cookies and lemonade party was held.

School 2 Playground

A new and thrilling event in the past week was a day decorating contest held on Monday. Children of various ages searched for interestingly shaped parts of trees. Equipped with imagination, the contestants set out to depict their findings. Renee Bernardo's entry was served as a doll. A bottle cap dressed as a hat, while pipe cleaners adorned for its outfit. Jackie Martella, second place winner, dressed his twigs as a gypsy. His head was made of a sock. Third prize was earned by Ellen Lukowick. Her twig baring charms appeared to be an Oriental masterpiece. The winners of the event were awarded small prizes by Jim Arvidson, judge. Other outstanding entries were Rudy Petrole's hanging man and Danny McGraw's ghost.

School 4 Playground

We began this week at the playground by having two Kalai tournaments. Many of the children had never played the game before and consequently there has been a great deal of interest in it. The champions of the tournaments were Susan Iovino and Beverly Uptigrove. On Wednesday afternoon we held a balloon decorating contest. Prizes were awarded for the prettiest, funniest, and most original balloons. This week we instituted a physical fitness program. Each morning we do a number of exercises. Remembering President Kennedy's concern for physical fitness has made many of the children enthusiastic. During the time reserved for arts and crafts the children made more leather purses, wallets, and pocketbooks. On Thursday and Friday the children worked with the colored wire and produced some interesting and imaginative objects. On Friday afternoon we all said (Continued On Page 7)

Mayor Warns Industry of Water Crisis

The Town must cut down its water consumption or face rationing by the end of October, Mayor Nuncio R. Pico issued the dark warning to representatives of 25 major local industries and businesses last Thursday afternoon at a meeting in Town Hall.

Mayor Pico said the present water supply is very critical and noted that the Town is served by Newark entirely, and Newark just doesn't have the water.

He said he and the members of the Council decided to call the meeting with industrial and business leaders after a check of the records revealed that 15 industries alone are using 42 per cent of the amount used by the Town.

The Mayor said that unless there is a big rainfall by October it appears definite that there will be water rationing by the shutting off of water for certain periods of time.

He also warned that the water restrictions would be enforced for all residents. He said:

"The time has now passed for warnings. We must crack down on water violators and summons will be issued."

The big problem facing the area, Mayor Pico said, was the spring of 1965. He said the water supply has been dropping for the past five years, and that unless we have a wet spring it will be gone. He hoped that when a reservoir dries up the pipes will deteriorate and rust away.

The Mayor asked for ideas from the assembled industrial and business leaders on how to improve water conservation.

One representative asked if the Town had considered drilling wells to add water to the Town's system and asked how far the salt water table extends under the area?

Town Manager John R. Burnett told the men that wells once used by the Town are now too old to be of any use to the Town. He said he did not know how far the salt water table extended.

The representative said his firm had drilled a well but the water was brackish.

Cleyn Shepherd, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said he believed that more water could be saved by the homeowners and suggested that the Town have some signs printed that could be placed in store windows and inside bags of shoppers.

Mayor Pico said the signs are already ordered. He said the big problem is how to get the people to turn off their taps.

"We would need an army of people to check on the homeowners," said the Mayor. "The only thing we can do is continue to stress the need for water conservation and urge our people to cooperate."

Another representative of industry said his firm was trying to find a treatment for its well water to make it possible to use it in its manufacturing process. However he said to date the firm had not been able to find any suitable treatment.

Councilman James R. Golden suggested that industry appeal to its labor unions to help reduce water consumption within the plants.

Golden also urged that every-one stress fire prevention to help reduce the Town's water consumption.

Councilman Ralph Casale said the aim of the meeting was to reduce water consumption. He said industry was using water for cooling and recommended that any industry which was not set up to reuse the water make every effort to make arrangements to reuse the water. He pointed out that this would be an economic measure for the plants involved.

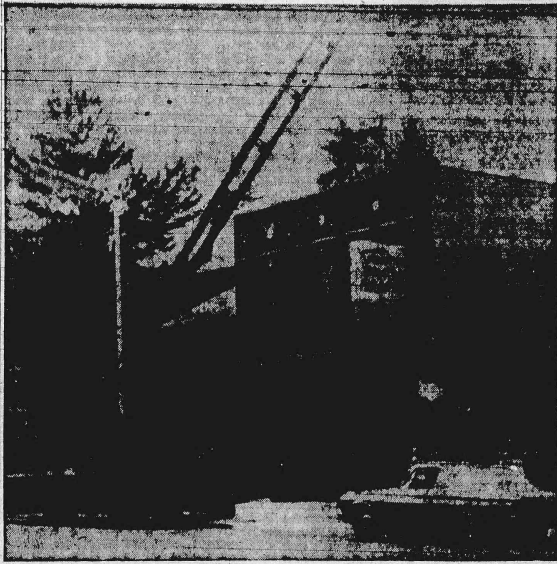

Councilman William Cullen recommended that the plants consider moving their vacation periods forward so that the water consumption would be reduced at the summer dry period.

The Mayor said that any amount saved will be of help. He said a saving of five gallons or one million gallons would help in the present crisis. The Mayor also stressed that it is the civic duty of all individuals to respect water. He said you're not a squealer if you report a waste of water as it is the duty of all residents to do all they can to help to make our present supply of water stretch through September.

"There is no more," said the Mayor. "We must make it stretch."

Attending the session in addition to the Council members was a committee from the Chamber of Commerce.

The man who succeeds profits by observation—and never repeats the mistakes of others.

Board Vetoes $1,875 Bill

Payment was refused by the board of education Monday night on a two-year old bill amounting to $1,875 for engineering work in connection with the new high school.

All but $163 of the invoice from Joseph Ward, Inc. was in connection with an explanation to the board of inconsistencies between Ward's report of subsoil conditions at the school site from 1962 borings and conditions found at the site by contractors a year later.

The engineering firm was paid $3,700 for the 1962 report, of which some $70 was for analysis of the borings. Most board members felt the $700 figure should have covered the explanation to the board.

Board president Ernest S. Arvidson voted to pay Ward for work in connection with the explanation to the board, while board members Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, Nicholas S. Juliano and Richard H. Drake voted no.

On a second item of $163 for consultation with the architect on redesigning the slab at the site, Drake voted for payment since it was an emergency situation due to approaching cold weather which would hamper construction work. On that one DiRuggiero, Juliano and Arvidson voted no.

On both votes new board members John B. DiFenzio and Rocco Saletta Jr. abstained because they weren't familiar with the situation.

The License Fee Dispute

The Chamber of Commerce has tired of waiting for the Town Hall to make promised amendments to the controversial license fee ordinance and now the Town is facing another costly legal action.

We wonder if the Town could have been saved this unnecessary expense to the taxpayers if some of the Town employees and the Town Council had acted in good faith with the representatives of our business community.

At least one part of the Chamber's argument with the ordinance must be amended, according to all sides involved. This involves the dropping of the licensing of establishments such as beauty parlors, gas and oil dealers and a few others which are already licensed by the State. Both the Town Attorney and the attorney for the Chamber have agreed that this section of the ordinance must be removed as it is illegal.

The decision to remove at least this section, was made in early April and yet nothing has been done and it is still in effect.

Acting Town Manager Charles B. Tedesco said last week that the amendment to the ordinance was being prepared to remove the illegal section. However he has been telling the Chamber officials for months that the amendment would be presented and has delivered nothing for the Council to act on.

We can see why Chamber officials have decided to go to the courts for satisfaction as they no longer have faith in promises coming from Town Hall.

We wonder if the Chamber would have gone to court if the Town officials had treated their demands with respect and had made even one little effort to show that they were not just making empty promises, designed to stall the Chamber from taking action.

As far as the question of whether basing the fee amount on a ratio with the square footage of the establishment is legal or not is a question that only the courts can decide.

However, we do believe that a little more consideration and a lot more action on promises could have delayed, if not halted the court action which will now be an additional burden on the taxpayers.

The small merchants and businessmen are the backbone of every community and must have faith in the Town government if the Town is going to progress.

The charge that the Council pays little attention to private citizens has been made on several occasions on the Council chamber floor. Now it appears that the present government, headed by Mayor Nuncio Pico, is also paying little attention to the promises it makes to the businessmen of our community.

The present Council should note that in the past when the individual citizens and the business community lose faith in their government it is only a short time before the people march to the polls and change the government.

A word to the wise is usually sufficient. It's time the Council and Town employees make notes of their promises and at least attempt to fulfill them.

The American public is accustomed to politicians making empty promises during election campaigns. However, once a government is in office it must earn and keep the confidence of the citizens.

Failure to do so is usually fatal. . . FCW

The Water Picture Gets Darker

"How are we going to get them to shut off the taps?"

Mayor Nuncio R. Pico was speaking about local residents and the current water crisis to representatives of 25 of the major industries and businesses in Town.

The Mayor pointed out that the biggest problem faced by officials dealing with the water emergency on local, county and state levels was to convince the people that there really is a water shortage.

The Mayor stressed over and over again that every little drop that is saved is important. He pointed out the little water we have at present is all that we can expect to have until the end of October. He stressed that we must make it stretch and there is little use talking about what could have, or should have been done years ago or at present.

The Mayor is correct, and the residents must realize that this is not just political talk. We are in a very critical situation, and there is nothing we can do at present except conserve water and hope for a wet spring next year.

If residents would save all of the water possible it could avert water rationing, which will be a pain-in-the-neck to all concerned, users and officials.

It is time that residents, men, woman and child, quit expecting some miracle that will take care of the present problem. We can expect none.

As some citizens have said, it is true, that we have lived for many hundreds of years in this area and the water supply has always managed to meet the demand. It is also true the billions and billions of gallons of water that make up the Atlantic Ocean are at our shores.

However, we must remember the population is getting greater each year and industry is growing with each passing season. Both place a greater strain on our water supply.

As far as the Atlantic Ocean goes, the water is all but useless to us at the present time because of the salt content. A plant to desalt the water would take time to construct and make water a very expensive commodity. What's more, the nearness of the ocean gives much of this area a salt water table that makes much of the water below the ground all but unsalable.

If anyone continues to doubt the need to be concerned about our depleted water supply, Mayor Pico reported two items to the group of business leaders of which everyone should be aware. He said:

1. "If there is no big rainfall in this area by October, it appears definite that we will have water rationing by shutting off the water for certain periods of time."

2. "For the past five years in the reservoir has been less each year. The Spring of 1966 is the big problem. Unless we have a wet spring the reservoirs will be dry. This means pipelines will deteriorate, rust and become useless, even if we should get water later."

How much darker a picture must be painted for our residents to get the message? We can not afford to depend upon our neighbors to save the water we waste. The time has come when we all must save every possible drop.

The choice is clear: Save water now, or face a dry October.

Joseph Benucci

The U.S. Senate this week made it official—Joseph Benucci, our Acting Postmaster for the past 30 months, is now the permanent postmaster. Benucci was nominated by President Johnson and on Monday the U. S. Senate confirmed the nomination.

Joe Benucci has spent a lifetime in public service. For many years he was an important member of the Newark Public Department and took a leave of absence from that post to serve Congressmen

Peter W. Rodino, Jr. as district secretary. 30 months ago he left that post to take on the heavy responsibility of running the Newark Post Office. The Newark Post Office includes the towns of Belleville, Nutley, and Irvington. This is quite an imposing responsibility and Benucci has discharged it with vigor and ability.

We congratulate President Johnson and the U. S. Senate in giving us a permanent postmaster for whom we have the greatest respect.

EDITORIAL LAUDED BY NUTLEY READER

To The Editor, Times-News:

With great pleasure I read your editorial in the Belleville Times on "dog napping." The proposed legislation is much needed and it is good to know that those with access to organs of opinion are willing to speak in favor of it.

May I also thank you for the space you give to the concern of humane groups. Animals, which must rely on the decency and compassion of human beings.

With best wishes,
Very sincerely yours,

FAIR PLAY COMMITTEE WELCOMES NEA PROBE

The acceptance of the N.E.A. as the investigating agency by Arvidson, Juliano and Di Ruggiero and Salletta going along for the ride should be viewed as a victory for the Fair Play Committee and the voice of the people in Belleville.

When Mr. Richard Drake first suggested the National Education Association immediately after the controversial resolution was passed by the majority bloc, Arvidson and Co. flatly refused to even consider it. The resolution reads: "an outside private investigating firm who do not reside in Belleville, and to the question as to who would pay for it. Mr. Arvidson, consistently answered, "Taxpayers." The retreat came when it was made crystal clear that the Fair Play Committee would initiate a taxpayer suit.

An informed source quotes the letter from the N.E.A. as saying, "The Rights and Responsibility Commission's investigation would be done without cost to the taxpayer so as to insure a more objective result." Most residents now welcome the investigation and feel that the damage done to the reputation of the school system by Arvidson, Juliano, Di Ruggiero and Salletta is far more disastrous than the loss of accreditation. The accreditation at least was to be regained through the mere expansion of buildings and facilities, at a cost of more than three million dollars of hard earned taxpayers money.

The Fair Play Committee and the Anti Dual Control Committee also welcome the investigation because an impartial and unbiased report will confirm what they have been contending all along and will finally answer all the questions and doubts created by the personal vendetta being waged by the Arvidson-Juliano Bloc for control over the school system which at the moment are only suspended.

1. That the Belleville school system has progressed considerably under Unit Control as compared to the stagnation and disgrace it suffered under Dual Control.

2. That Dr. Frank M. Durkee has been working against impossible conditions by bringing quality education to Belleville and his efforts have been seriously impaired by the unrelenting personal dislike of him by some members of the present Board and a few Principals and Teachers.

3. That the cooperation so necessary to efficient and effective administration by the entire staff of school personnel has been strained to the point that distrust, dislike and downright disgust within their own ranks is clearly evident in the cautious answers on any question put to them by even the most innocent of queries.

4. That the brand new high school building and additions to existing school buildings are now and will forever remain only tools in the hands of competent, qualified and dedicated instructors and alert ambitious and sincere students. The final proof of a school system is the number of successful citizens it places in the great big wonderful world.

5. And finally has the elective system recommended by the 1964 Grand Jury Presentation failed to accomplish the objectives hoped for and should Belleville change to the appointive system with appointments the responsibility of the governing body who must answer to the people for the whole operation of the town.

This is the message anxiously sought by the people of Belleville.

SALETTA EXPRESSES VIEWS ON EDITORIAL

To the Editor, Times-News:

After reading your editorial in the July 8th, 1965 issue of the Times-News titled "Another New School", I got the feeling that this article was just another of these articles discrediting the Board of Education making them look like monsters, menhaden, releasing the pressure on our local government.

Let's start with your last sentence Mr. Editor which says: "That our school board needs new men with better business sense—even if it means an appointed board." Mr. Editor, I and I doubt if any other citizens from our town would want their young children bussed if they were in the same situation.

A committee was formed in 1962 to evaluate the No. 2 school situation. This committee stated in their report that School No. 2 was structurally sound but lacked a plan for art, music, remedial to the school board. It wouldn't mean that these appointed men would be more qualified, more sincere, and more dedicated individuals than the ones elected by all of our citizens and not political plums handed out by our town politicians. The citizens of whom you speak so highly of and seem to have the great concern for will have less and less to say about their town and their tax money. Is this really what you and your newspaper want for our town? I don't think so. I want this for our people either.

Getting back to the point of the whole editorial Mr. Editor, I doubt very much if the so-called monsters on the school board are trying to deceive the public again as you say and build a new School No. 2. The decision to rent a school with a stage at the Montgomery Presbyterian Church was passed by a majority vote of the board (not only the bloc) after many alternatives were eliminated because of the exorbitant cost of the taxpayer.

The children at School No. 2 have been deprived of many activities that all of the other children in town are getting. The facts and all gathered we town deserve to get the same benefits for their children as all other taxpayers get for theirs.

The assembly programs at School No. 2 are curtailed because of the lack of a suitable auditorium. Their assembly programs must be held at School No. 10.

They don't have a kindergarten and these children must be bussed to School No. 10. You say the kindergarten should stay and the 6th graders could be bussed to School No. 10. Mr. Editor in my book I could never in good conscience go along with bussing any elementary school children and I doubt if any other citizens from our town would want their young children bussed if they were in the same situation.

A committee was formed in 1962 to evaluate the No. 2 school situation. This committee stated in their report that School No. 2 was structurally sound but lacked a plan for art, music, remedial reading and the auditorium was insufficient and a hazard. I have in discussions at board conferences on the No. 2 School situation have expressed my views on the situation. I've stated that now that NO. 4 School and NO. 1 School have had an all purpose room added that I would like to see an all purpose room and a classroom added to School No. 2. However, might I say, here and now, that School No. 2 does not have the enrollment that would warrant the expenditure of taxpayers money for a completely new school.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I would like to say that in my opinion many articles are written in papers without complete knowledge of the subject that is being written about. Many assumptions are made which are not true and because of the false assumptions communities suffer as do their citizens. (Let's not let this happen to our town—Belleville doesn't deserve it and neither does its citizens.)

Rocco H. Salletta
Member
Board of Education

(Editor's Note: We're still exploring the pros and cons of an appointed school board and when the facts and all gathered we will present them to our readers. One reference that Mr. Salletta made in his letter amazed us. He said: "The decision to rent a school with a stage at the Montgomery Presbyterian Church was passed by a majority vote of the board (not only the bloc) after many alternatives were eliminated because of the exorbitant cost of the taxpayer."

NEWSPRINT IN HIS BLOOD:

Would-be Editor Collects Papers

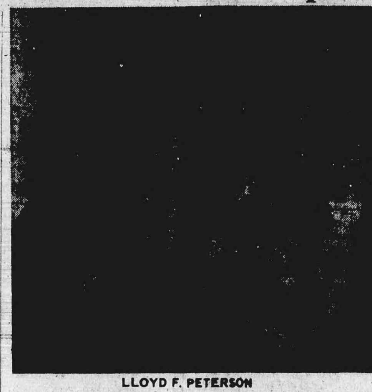

By Barbara Gagnon

Most people throw away their newspapers or save them for a favorite organization which is having a paper drive but not Lloyd F. Peterson of 264 Linden Avenue. A lithographer by trade, his hobby is collecting old newspapers and first editions, not only of newspapers but also magazines. "I'm really just a frustrated newspaper man," he said.

Born in Flushing, N.Y., he was educated in Elizabeth, and graduated from Jefferson High School in 1932. He first became interested in newspapers when he became the owner of a printing press at the age of 12. He printed his own weekly neighborhood news called "The Elmore Globe." Subscriptions paid for 50 cents.

He started collecting newspapers and magazines in 1930 with the first issue of the "Newark Free Press" dated July 1, 1930, edited by Richard Shafer of Belleville. At first he saved because of a headline on a story which he considered particularly newsworthy rather than for style and oddity. The oldest paper he owns is a "Whig" paper called the "New York Weekly Express" dated Saturday, January 7, 1843. It boasts that the "four pages of paper contain 56 columns of solid reading matter for $2.50." And solid reading matter it is, for it contains no headlines or advertisements. The print (the type was set completely by hand) is very small and difficult to read.

In an issue of the "New York Weekly Express" dated October

LYOYD F. PETERSON

31, 1845, announcement is made of the arrival of the great steamship "Western" from Liverpool, England. With 128 passengers on board, it made the crossing in 18 days.

He also has an issue of the "New York Daily Tribune" printed in 1844 which lists Horace Greeley as the owner and editor. These papers are in excellent condition and Peterson points out that the material used in the 1800's was a much better quality than the material used today.

During the brief interview, a quick scan of the newspapers revealed the following interesting items:

In the "New York Evening Telegram" in 1910, Glen Curtiss won $10,000 flying from New York City to Albany in a new record of two hours and 54 minutes. In an 1876 edition of the Worcester, Massachusetts "Evening Gazette," an advertisement for wigs and curls listed curls selling two for 25 cents.

They are advertised for "Agents Wanted for the Undeveloped West" and an item headlined "Soldiers entitled to homestead of 160 acres" could hardly go unnoticed.

In more recent years, a 1937 paper advertised Horn and Hardart Coffee at 29 cents a pound. Among his first editions of magazines are "Life," "Coronet," "Newsweek," "Holiday," "Peggy" and "Sports Illustrated."

A lot of readers will remember magazines like "Judge," "The Pathfinder" and "The Literary Digest." In "Harper's Bazaar" dated 1868, a forerunner of today's fashion magazine, "young ladies who affected the short skirt, are cautioned against the swishing hour of sundress."

Peterson and his wife, Jessie, have been married for 23 years and have two daughters, Ellen and Joan. They have lived in Belleville for the last 13 years. Comparing the "Belleville Times" of today with a ten year old issue, he feels the paper "has vastly improved."

A little known fact about Peterson is his ability to write job resumes. Many a man has won a position of employment through Peterson's help. Because of this adeptness, he recently has had published a booklet entitled "How to Write a Job-Winning Resume" which he hopes will be a big seller.

Peterson envies the editors of The marriage of Miss Diane Eve Bukowski, daughter of Mrs. Theodore J. Bukowski of 66 Elm Place, Nutley, and the late Mr. Bukowski to William Craig Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Carey of 138 Saticum Avenue, Nutley, was solemnized on July 11. The Rev. A matching pillbox held her shoulder length veil and she carried white daisies with babies' breath and trailing ivy.

Miss Leona Bukowski was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown was of white organdy over a yellow tulle with a matching cummerbund. She wore a circlet of yellow and white daisies with ivy and carried a bouquet of white daisies.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss June Marie Carey was bridesmaid in a gown matching that of the maid of honor.

good-by to Susan Iovino who was leaving for a two week stay at Camp Rod-1.

Clearman Field Playground — The activities this week were highlighted by inter-playground softball games. In the first game No. 1 Playground won a close one, 9-6. The second game, played on Thursday, Clearman defeated No. 9 with a score of 16-2. This game was close until the last innings when Clearman ran away with it.

The winners in these groups respectively were Kris Ortel, Ed Beresford, John Farese. The handicrafts this week included wire craft and leather craft. The children made various models of people and animals. The older boys conducted a ping pong tournament which was very competitive and is expected to continue this week.

1 Playground — Monday morning was the setting for a girls softball game between our playground and Fairway Playground. It was an exciting game. In the ninth inning Fairway was well ahead in runs. The score was 9-6. No. 1 was up at bat with two outs already against them. It appeared as though there was little chance of No. 1 winning the game. It was better up, the pitcher swung and the ball went sailing through the air to make a home run. From then on good luck followed No. 1. At the end of the game the final score was 10-9 with No. 1 as the winning team.

CONGRATULATIONS are in store for both teams. Each girl showed great team work and sportsmanship which made this game so exciting.

On Tuesday afternoon No. 1's boys baseball team played against Clearman Playground at Clearman Field. No. 1 won the

Bloomfield, Nutley Squads Eliminate Both Belleville LL Star Teams

The Bloomfield All-Stars scored five runs in the third inning and went on to eliminate the Belleville All-Stars, 8-1, from the District Little League series last week.

Belleville had two teams in the series, one composed of National League stars and the other composed of American League stars. Both have now been eliminated from the competition which will continue Friday night at 6 at the Belleville Little League Field.

Belleville's American League stars got into the second round of the series before being dumped by blanking the South Orange stars, 4-0. The Belleville National League team was eliminated in its first contest, dropping a 2-0 decision to the Nutley team.

Belleville took a 1-run lead in the top of the second inning, but Smith got in trouble in the bottom of the third. He loaded the bases with home out and the next ball dropped into right field to score two runs. Smith was relieved by Ziegler, but Bloomfield pushed three more runs across before he could put out the fire.

Bloomfield tied the game with three more runs off Ziegler in the bottom of the fourth before Marotti came in to hold them scoreless the rest of the way. John Goscinski pitched Belleville to a 4-0 victory over South Orange, allowing only three hits. Goscinski collected two hits and drove in two runs.

BASEBALL SEASON ENDS

Legion Competition Ends Year for Bellboys

By STEVE CHAREN
The long 1965 baseball season has ended with the completion of the Essex County American Legion League contests and the local Bellboys, headed by All-Star Leroy Luongo, can put away the bats and balls that saw them surprise the area by winning the Big Ten and Section IV championships as well as improving its Legion mark.

Belleville Post 105's representatives completed the winning cycle by rebounding from a 6-10 1964 campaign to compile a 9-7-2 mark, despite being forced to cancel games with two of the 11 team Essex County Legion League's weakest teams.

First year coach Tony Prati's squad finished in a tie for fifth in a loop that included high school and college players under age 19. The Bellboys' young squad consisted of three 1965 BHS graduates, six new seniors, and seven juniors; thirteen of the players from this Legion team will form the nucleus of the 1966 Varsity squad (now they have experience together).
Erraticness hindered the Bellboys throughout the season and prevented them from gaining the long winning streak needed to pull away from the .500 mark. The longest Pinstripe success was three games late in the season. Victories in the final reasons and logged just 12 innings work between them. This development boosts a pair of Legion hurlers, Mike Welsh (.361) and Rich Pucciarello (.324), onto the possible list. Both saw plenty of action in the outfield and could possibly alternate with Sal Taibi, who batted .373 as a pitcher for the Varsity but didn't play Legion as BHS fly hawk.

Speaking of pitchers, that should be an especially deep department on Pett's future squad. Seven hurlers will be available to the BHS mentor: five of them played for the Legion.

Pucciarello Stars
Out of the slow-balling Legion staff, Pucciarello with 42 1/3 innings work over 12 more than his nearest competitor, would have to be classified as the ace. The Bellboy work-horse appeared on the mound in half of the 18 games while making eight starts. Richie led the team in decisions at 3-2-1 both losses came on early bomb-outs following one day's rest from three hitless.

Puch, who had a 1.50 ERA and 5-1 record with the Varsity, had a Legion earned-run-average of 3.30, but excluding those two one day rest affairs that mark falls to 2.41. Pucciarello appeared in 17 games, six on the mound to be second there but mostly as a classy fielding third sacker. In all, versatile Art played five positions, turning in one game each at first, center field, and catcher. Sheridan, who was also overbooked in All-Star balloting, took two hard luck decisions on the mound as he compiled a 2-2 record and 1.86 ERA in 30 frames. Despite one spurt that brought him to .340, Art finished the season batting .296 after a slow start; he led the team in doubles with four and also had a triple and four-bagger.

Bruce Sincox, who was overbooked most of the season despite attending every game, came on strong at the end of the season, starting three of the last five games, to lead the staff in several important departments. In his 28 1/3 innings, "Big Sincox" allowed just four earned runs for a 0.98 ERA. Using a wide assortment of off-speed pitches, Bruce kept opposing hitters off balance well enough to be the only undefeated Bellboy at 2-0. Next season's outlook is bright for Sincox: the Legion might have been his last chance to prove himself, and he took good advantage.

Star of Future?
Another Bellboy hurler who has a bright future is junior southpaw Mike Welsh. For some reason or other he wasn't used in any of the last seven games after getting bombed by Vailsburg (to double his starting ERA to 3.50). Relief seemed to be Mike's specialty as he allowed just one run in 12 2/3 innings in that capacity (for a 0.55 ERA and 1.83 overall), at one point he relieved en-Belleville hurler, but he spent most of his time as an infielder. George made just three relief appearances for a 1.2 mark and 2.77 ERA. Two of his chores were against league champ Livingston to 3-0. He attended all 18 games to whom he split one run (Continued On Page 11).

allowed just four earned runs for a 0.98 ERA. Using a wide assortment of off-speed pitches, Bruce kept opposing hitters off balance well enough to be the only undefeated Bellboy at 2-0. Next season's outlook is bright for Sincox: the Legion might have been his last chance to prove himself, and he took good advantage.
