SECOND PLACE IN 25-MILE WALK — Ronald Kulik, a Belleville High School social studies teacher, shows the trophy and silver medal he won by placing second in the National A.A.U. 40-Kilometer Walk, held at Long Branch, N. J., Sunday. Kulik, one of 30 competing in the event, spent six weeks practicing for the walk.

Board to Hire 3 Teachers With Surplus

Expansion of the elementary school teaching staff to relieve over-crowded classrooms was tabbed the top priority use for surpluses left in the school budget at the end of the past school year.

Consensus of the board at Monday night's conference meeting favored adding two extra teachers at School No. 2 and one additional teacher at School No. 1.

The surplus in the current expense budget will allow the board to split in half three classes with expected enrollments of 36 to 38 pupils. Cost of the three additional teachers is $16,000.

Additional teachers had been requested in the proposed budget submitted to the voters last winter. When the budget was twice rejected by the voters, the board was forced to drop its plans to expand the teaching staff.

Surpluses available to restore some of the items cut from the budget total $50,000. In addition to the $16,000 for three extra teachers, the board has already exceeded budgeted amounts in other areas by $13,000. The remaining $21,000 of available surpluses will be kept unspent to meet emergencies such as major school repairs that might develop during the year.

The actual surplus figure on the board's books at the end of the past school year was $134,000. But $94,000 of this figure is a reserve which is carried over from one year's books to another. If the board has to dip into this $94,000 — and the need could possibly arise if a major unforeseen expense develops — the school tax rate would have to be raised next year to make up the difference.

At the public meeting preceding the conference, board members Rocco Saletta Jr. and Dr. Frank W. DiRuggiero felt that cuts in the size of the school maintenance staff should also be restored. But the majority evidently felt more teachers was the most pressing need.

Included in the $13,000 of surpluses already used by the board were unanticipated expenditures of $2,400 to rent space to house the School No. 2 kindergarten pupils at Montgomery Presbyterian Church, and $500 for air-conditioning the high school office.

In addition, the board has exceeded budgeted amounts for transportation by $6,000, for salaries by $2,000 and for landscaping at the high school site by $1,500.

(Ed's Note: Frank Walsola has served four years as editor of "The Sportsman's Herald," a weekly New York State newspaper devoted to hunting, fishing, dogs and conservation, and has served as dog correspondent for American Field, the national field trial magazine. During this period, he visited hundreds of private and professional kennels in New York and Pennsylvania.)

We parked in front of the huge sprawling barn-like structure that serves as home and headquarters for the dog pound in Lodi, N.J., which has the contract to collect stray animals in Belleville.

We walked to the side of the building, and knocked at a screen door. A young German Shepherd dog came dashing into the room. We carefully placed our hand against the door to be certain that the screen remained between us. The dog was followed by a young lady.

Special Times-News Report

"Is Mr. Grohman available?" we asked? After being informed that he was not at the establishment I explained that I was representing The Times-News and wanted to take some photos of the place.

"Go ahead," was her reply. "The kennels are over there," she said pointing toward a building to the left.

Our surprise visit was made as a follow-up to the different receptions given three members of the Town's inspection committee, who were not allowed to check the kennels, and the wide-open reception given to three public officials.

The first impression one gets of the kennel area is the natural beauty of the setting. The entire area is a lush green, thanks to a ready supply of water from a branch of a river that runs along side the property. It was obvious from the first-rate condition of the grass, shrubs and trees that the drought had not affected this area at all.

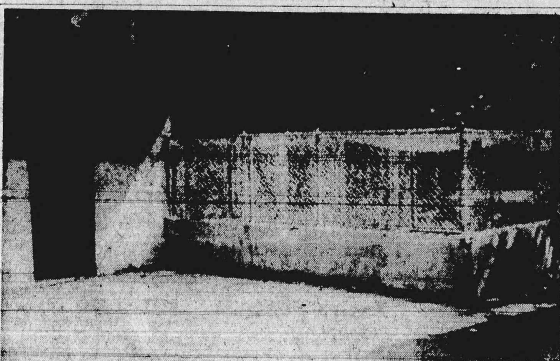

We walked down the paved driveway toward another low, white building which is decorated with silhouettes of various animals in black. We passed through the gate, walked past the ever-present black box in which unclaimed strays are gassed and entered the kennel.

The first room is used as a supply room and the stacks of name-brand dog food was evidence that the animals are not being fed scraps or refuse.

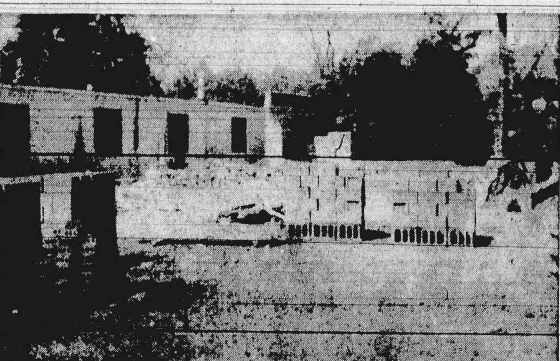

The all concrete floor had a

Board Units Named to Find Facts

The future of School 2, located on Mill Street, is being pondered by the Board of Education. Ernest S. Arvidson, president of the Board, said the Board is aware of the inadequate facilities at School 2 and is considering the many possible solutions to correct the situation.

Arvidson said that the Board members decided at a recent special conference on the School 2 problem to form a committee as a whole to study the problem. He said two fact-finding groups have been established to study different solutions and present their findings to the Board. The Board will evaluate the fact-finding groups' reports and then present what it considers the best possible solution to the citizens.

The Board president listed five possible solutions to the School 2 problems. They are:

1. Build a new centrally-located school and combine the present student bodies of Schools 2 and 4, which is located at 30 Magnolia Street.
2. Demolish the present School 2 and build a new school for the present students.
3. Construct an addition on School 2.
4. Transport the School 2 students to other schools.
5. Consider transferring School 2 students to School 14, located at 307 Belleville Avenue. If a bridge were constructed across the river and railroad tracks.

Arvidson said the last possibility was not being considered seriously by the Board as it has no authority to construct or request construction of a bridge.

The Board was divided into two fact-finding groups with the following members and assignments:

One group includes Richard Drake, chairman; Arvidson and Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, which will study the possibility of combining Schools 2 and 4 into one centrally-located school.

The other group includes John B. DiRenzo, chairman; Nicholas Juliano and Rocco Salatta which will study all other proposals except the construction of the bridge, which is not in the Board's power to have done. Arvidson noted that Mrs. McCool has been working on the selection of possible school sites, but has not issued a report as yet.

Board Balks On Sewer, OKs Heating

A reluctant school board authorized a construction project of its own but postponed giving the green light to another project of the Town's at a special meeting Monday night.

The board agreed to start work on $1,900 worth of alterations to the high school heating system, although several members felt the board wasn't responsible for financing the change, and tabled a request from the Town for permission to construct a sanitary sewer line across high school property.

The heating work is designed to connect radiators in the gym locker rooms and in second floor classrooms. To guarantee that the work is done by the time cold weather comes, the board authorized the change, with the understanding that a possible lawsuit to recover the cost might be instituted later.

No one can explain why the building's heating system isn't adequate. The contractor's heating installations have been rechecked and found to be what the specifications called for.

The heating engineers, Visco Frantblau Associates, say they drew up the specifications in ac-

3-2 Vote Vetoes Payment For H.S. Sheet Metal Work

A bid by a sheet metal contractor to receive an extra $3,330 for work on a basement storage area at the new high school was turned down by the school board at its last meeting.

The school's architect had certified that the work for which the Bonland Sheet Metal Company submitted a bill was over and above the work required in the firm's contract specifications.

Voting against payment were board members Dr. Frank W. DiRuggiero, Nicholas S. Juliano and Rocco Saletta Jr. Favoring payment for the work were board president Ernest S. Arvidson and Richard H. Drake, while John B. DiRienzo abstained.

The bill dated February 12 was first considered at the July 20 meeting, but was tabled. At that time board members generally agreed that insulation for the sheet metal airducts was improperly installed. Those members favor payment argued for requiring the contractor to correct the faulty work before receiving payment.

There is no question that the work represented by the bill has been done. But no change order to authorize the extra work was ever made. A change in location of pipes in the high school basement allowed expansion of the storage area, requiring longer air ducts than originally specified.

In other school maintenance action, the board awarded contracts to Gabriele Brothers of Nutley for replacing the sidewalk in front of James G. Shawger School (No. 4) for $1,695, to John J. Baum Inc. for 400 cubic yards of top soil for the new high school grounds for $1,600, and to Nutley Oil Burner Supply and Tool Corp. for eight new boiler safety valves for Schools No. 3, 5 and 7 at a cost of $249.

Auto Bounces Off Utility Pole; Teenager Hurt

A Belleville teenager was hospitalized overnight when the car in which he was a passenger careened off a utility pole on Washington Avenue in Nutley Sunday afternoon.

The passenger, Thomas Bergersen of 129 Garden Avenue, was released from Clara Mass Hospital Monday after treatment for a deep head laceration suffered in the one-car accident.

The driver, 18-year old Frederick Cuccolo of 26 Bell Street, Belleville told police a car passing his while heading south on Washington Avenue appeared to veer toward his car, causing Cuccolo to veer to the right.

The car went out of control, knocking the utility pole in half, striking a parks department bench on the curb, then bounced across the street, coming to rest at another utility pole on the opposite side of the street. The mishap occurred near the McKinley Street intersection.

School Board Expands Size Of Business Advisory Group

An advisory business and industry committee to recommend improvements in business and vocational education programs was established by the school board at its last meeting.

Lay membership on the Business and Industry Curriculum Advisory Committee was increased from a proposed five to seven. Also serving will be five school staff members and one school board member.

Increasing lay membership was suggested by board member Nicholas S. Juliano, who felt that representatives of the business community should have a majority of the votes. The increase was passed by a 5-1 vote with Richard H. Draks opposed.

The amended school board rules provide that the BICAC "shall be concerned with such areas as expansion of curricular offerings in the fields of business and related arts, participation in state and federally approved programs, work experience for in-school youngsters, preparation for out-of-school employment for our students, and community relations related thereto."

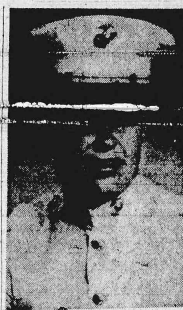

Board president Ernest S. Arvidson says he'll make the one-year appointments "immediately" so the committee can be in operation which school starts. The board rules provide that the seven lay members shall include at least one from each of the vocational areas covered by high school courses.

One minor disagreement developed at the board meeting when Drake proposed that appointments to the committee be made with "the advice and approval of board members." No other board members supported Drake's opinion, although Drake was joined by John B. DiRienzo in another toned-down, unsuccessful amendment which would have required the board president to "consult" board members before making the appointments.

Drake emphasized he was confident that any board president would make conscientious appointments, but felt that the board should be consulted because the vocational education program was so important to the town's youngsters.

The other lay advisory school group, the Advisory Athletic Council, was also expanded from five to seven members at the June board meeting.

Swimming Instructions, Safety Featured at Camp

Swimming instructions and safety in the water are the new emphasis in the program at Camp Mohican, the summer training center of Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Each year the Council qualifies hundreds of Newark, Irvington, and Belleville boys in aquatic achievements. This was announced today by Edward W. Bonnet, chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee for the Belleville District.

On their arrival at the camp, the Scouts are classified according to their swimming ability. All swimming is carried out under adult direction and with the supervision of teams of lifeguards.

Scouts who are unable to swim are given special instructions in a shallow water-non-swimmers area until they are able to graduate by swimming 50 yards any stroke and turning both right and left in the water. A Scout reaches the designation of "swimmer" by being able to jump into the water, swim 100 yards using three different strokes, and to float motionless.

The non-swimmers, beginners, and general swim areas are distinctly marked and each is under supervision. Scouts swim set.

Belleville High To Be Evaluated Late Next April

Belleville High will be evaluated by a team from the Middle Atlantic States Association of Secondary Schools late next April.

The evaluation will take three days, and will be done by approximately 23 educators. It is required every ten years for accreditation purposes.

Cost of the evaluation to local taxpayers is about $2,000.

The school board has added four one-o'clock dismissals to the high school schedule for next year so that teachers may prepare for the evaluation. Exact dates of the early dismissals or the evaluation itself haven't been set.

Only a Surface Calm

The past few weeks have been unusual to say the least as far as Belleville political circles go. There has been hardly a cross word, let alone an actual charge fired at one or the other of our local politicians.

However the calm is only on the surface. Actually most of the action taking place now is small unpublicized meetings between one political group or another. The top is likely to rip off soon after the bells announce the return to the classrooms by our children.

Most of the behind the scene action taking place now is centered around the approaching May election when three members of the Town Council will face the voters. Mayor Nuncio R. Pico, Senior Councilman James R. Golden and Councilman William H. Cullen all must seek re-election in May or give up their Council seats. Political observers believe that all three will make a bid for re-election.

Mayor Pico is almost certain to seek re-election. Having served on the old Commission form of government and the present Council-Manager form he may have difficulty lining up solid support if proposed change of government groups launch active campaigns as threatened. It would seem likely that Mayor Pico might enter the May election as part of a slate composed of himself, another former commissioner and an unsuccessful commission candidate.

Golden can be expected to run on his campaign platform of filling the role of the watchdog for local taxpayers. We believe he has filled this role completely, and despite the discomfort his lengthy speeches may have caused for fellow councilmen and some of the citizens who attend the long Council sessions would seem to be the strongest candidate of the three to regain his seat.

Councilman Cullen has only filled a part of a term and seems likely to seek re-election. We don't think he will make too much noise but will run a dignified campaign based on the belief that he is capable and willing to serve the public if the public wants him to serve.

Residents can expect a basket full of other candidates, all entered mainly to cut into the strength of one candidate or another.

The election alone will provide residents with many laughs and food for thought. However if the other groups, now busy mapping plans, should come to life the entire Town will be filled with charges and counter-charges.

At present there are three groups actively seeking support for pet projects. One of the most serious is a campaign to recall Councilman Robert Westpy as soon as the May election is completed. This campaign is being directed by experienced politicians and Westpy can expect to have his hands full if their plans should materialize.

Two other groups are interested in changing the present form of government. Either or both groups can possibly get a vote scheduled on a change if the number of voters dissatisfied with the present form of government can be brought together.

All in all residents should be thankful for the lack of words from politicians during the past few weeks. They can be sure that they were just marshaling the wind to launch into the next campaign which guarantees to provide us with a long winter and a wordy spring. . . F.C.W.

A Congressional Tribute To Brig. Gen. Jannarone

(The following tribute to Brig. Gen. John R. Jannarone was presented to the House of Representatives by Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr. of New Jersey. The text is taken from the Congressional Record.)

BY PETER W. RODINO

Representative of New Jersey

On June 19, I had the honor of joining 500 fellow New Jerseyites at a testimonial dinner for a distinguished constituent Brig. Gen. John R. Jannarone, newly appointed dean of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

As Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves has so aptly remarked, General Jannarone exemplifies the "rarest of individuals who combines high intelligence, wisdom, and judgment with force and determination."

He was chosen over nearly a thousand other colonels for Presidential appointment to the deanship and for promotion to the rank of brigadier general — certainly military escalation of a noncontroversial variety. These twin honors have been well earned.

His outstanding Army career dates back to 1938, when he stood first in his West Point graduating class, having compiled a distinguished record identical to that of the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He achieved the rare honor of graduating from the Academy as a cadet captain. A leader in campus politics and a three-letter man in athletics, he is remembered as a "regular guy," proficient in poker and — notes The Nutley Sun — "as willing to tutor less successful students as he was competitive on the playing fields."

Decorated more than a dozen times during his Army service, General Jannarone held command assignments during World War II in New Guinea, the Philippines, and Japan. After the war the scientist-administrator contributed his talents to the Manhattan project, which pioneered American research in atomic energy. In 1947 he returned to the Point to teach physics and chemistry, and served as professor and chairman of both departments since 1957. From 1950 to 1957, during a leave of absence from the faculty, his administrative works as scientist and engineer covered the areas of aerospace research, flood control and river basin development projects, and modernization of the Nation's military capacities.

West Point has become a way of life for the Jannarone family. The general assumed his duties as dean on the first of June, just in time to officiate at the graduation of his eldest son, Jack, himself a winner of the Point's coveted Academic Star. And recently I received the good news that a second Jannarone son, Robert, whom I was pleased to nominate for an Academy appointment, has been officially accepted and will enter the ranks of cadets this year.

Indeed, excellence has long been a family trait; the general's mother, Mrs. Concetta Jannarone, of Belleville, was honored at the dinner by the Daughters of the American Revolution as one of the area's most outstanding naturalized citizens. Mrs. Jannarone received the DAR's Americanism Medal and certificate for trustworthiness, service, leadership, and patriotism, an award "well deserved because of her influence in seeing that her son received the education necessary to reach the post he has achieved."

Citing the Academy's "major contributions to the leadership of the military forces which are defending the liberties of democratic governments and free people throughout the world," and noting our State's pride in the honors bestowed upon a native son, Gov. Richard J. Hughes proclaimed June 1, 1965, as John Jannarone Day in New Jersey.

It is fitting that we pause here to reflect on the crucial role played today by men of the caliber of John Jannarone. The escalation of the bitter strife in Vietnam, and the intervention of American troops in the Dominican Republic to prevent another Cuba, are fresh reminders of the Nation's reliance upon military preparedness.

To General Jannarone, I offer my sincere congratulations. And I share the well-merited confidence of Academy Superintendent, Maj. Gen. James B. Lambert, that "the future of our country, largely dependent upon the training of our young military leaders, is in good hands in the safe hands of John Jannarone. Certainly, under his eminently qualified supervision, tomorrow's officers will receive the best education and the best training possible to prepare them to carry out our Nation's program of peace through preparedness and strength."

MEDICARE PLAN SLAPPED BY READER

To The Editor, Times-News: The new programs being sponsored to stimulate the economy, and give the people more spending money are becoming quite a problem, they do not meet the needs of the needy.

Half of the battle is lost at the start, each new program has nice fat payroll at the expense of the people.

The medicare plan has its good points but does not go far enough. It is only for those people 65 and over, and does not benefit the working people under that age who must pay the bill by an increase of their F.I.C.A. tax rate.

turn from $174 to $277, a loss in spending money of $103. The plan should benefit all needy people regardless of age. The poverty bill, another clever idea, with a tremendous payroll is not for the little people; if there is any money left they will receive the crumbs.

President Johnson's reduction of the excise tax is up for grabs by the states; another set-back for the people.

I do not question the operation of the new program Head Start. I feel it has merit, but I do object to the hiring of school teachers as baby sitters at $9 per hour.

The teaching profession is one of the best paying jobs in the nation, and the teachers are well paid for a work year of only 180 days. With the closing of schools for the summer months and with many teenagers seeking employment, consideration should have been given this group of boys.

Some day the teenagers will also be voters.

Sincerely yours,
Albert Guglielmo

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

If you are sensitive to commercials and who insist you don't dare listen these days to most radio stations. According to rules and regulations the stations are allowed a maximum of 12 minutes out of an hour for advertisements.

It would not be too bad if they would give it to you 5 or 6 minutes at a time, one would know what to do about it. But the majority of the smaller stations have a commercial air practically every record. Often they interrupt even that, and break in with a commercial.

In an effort to get away from this very irritating practice, more and more listeners turn to FM radio. There are still lots of people who have no idea what FM means. It is the abbreviation for "Frequency Modulation", while regular radio is "Amplitude Modulation" (AM). What's the difference? FM does not reproduce static created by atmospheric conditions like thunderstorms. There is no interference from neighboring stations, the tone quality is far better than on AM sets and there are hardly any noises by man-made apparatus like electric motors, fluorescent lights and other electric devices which are very disturbing on AM. And last, but not least, there are some stations on FM which do have any advertising and a few which have very little of it. FM radio is becoming increasingly more popular and for good reasons.

We service what we sell.

It is surprising what strangers know about Belleville. While vacationing near Seaside Heights, I asked many people I encountered, "Have you heard of Belleville, and if you did, what is the most interesting fact you know about this town?"

Out of about 40 people interviewed, almost half never heard of the town. Of the 50 per cent that knew the town, there were some interesting comments.

June Vencarelli, a junior at Wall Township High School, said, "Connie Francis came from there, didn't she?"

Mrs. Doris Spach from Union City told me that she knew that Belleville was famous for its beautiful cherry blossoms. Guy Roman, who lives in Morrisville, N.J., said, "Yes, just about five seconds ago. What is it? You're going to run out of water pretty soon, aren't you?"

Mrs. Linda Salute said she just knew someone from the town. Louis Pichinson said, "It's near Newark, isn't it?"

A group of Belleville boys, John Domenech, Don Gabriel, Joe Masas and Michael Vander Swan were just coming out after a dip in the ocean when confronted. John, a student at Essex Catholic High School, said, "It has a point."

Dan, who attends St. Benedict's High School, replied, Jimmy

Catalano is some ball player. Joe, a recent graduate of BHS, said that the senior court is "great" and Michael, an Essex Catholic student exclaimed, "It's boss!"

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Irvington replied, "Our son was once editor of the Belleville Times. Now, he is a public relations man at Rutgers University in Newark."

Art Lucas (Pieria Amboy) said he just heard of it, and Doris Rhoades (Metuchen) replied, "There's a hospital there, but that's all I know."

Mr. John Boyle from Pennsylvania thought I was talking about Belleville, Illinois. He did not know one fact about Belleville, N.J.

Craig Loniewski (Milltown) exclaimed, "Yes, you just mentioned it to me!"

Another group of Belleville guys, Tony Festa, Joe Resano, Joe Villano and Sal Vitiello were also on the beach. Tony thought Belleville was great, and Joe said it was better than Newark.

Bob Bramble from Lake Hawsa heard it was a "hood town", and Charles Papp of Clifton "stays away from it."

Jack Gesemeyer from Levittown heard of Newark but not Belleville and Barbara Walota replied, "No, not really, but I've gone shopping there."

Congregation of Witnesses Ready for N.Y. Assembly

Members of the Nutley Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are leaving early next week to represent the area at the group's "Word of Truth" District Assembly in New York's Yankee Stadium, August 24-25. Philip W. Dacko, overseer of the congregation, will lead the local delegation.

According to Dacko, more than 50,000 persons are expected to attend the six-day Yankee Stadium gathering, which is the last in a series of 18 conventions held in the United States this summer by the Witnesses.

Purpose of the "Word of Truth" assemblies, according to Dacko, is to strengthen faith in the Bible. "The keynote address, which will be presented on August 24 at 2 p.m., is titled 'God's Word Keeps Your Faith Alive,'" he said. "We will review some of the fundamental Bible doctrines, of course, but of special interest will be the instruction on how the Bible can guide us in our everyday living, helping us make important decisions involving our lives correctly."

Highlights of the convention include a mass baptism at Orchard

Beach, Long Island, on Friday, August 27, and a special public Bible discourse Sunday, August 29, at 3 p.m. At that time Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Watchtower Society, will speak on the subject "World Government on the Shoulder of the Prince of Peace." Knorr has just returned from Europe, where he spoke at ten different "Word of Truth" conventions.

The area delegates will take along their entire families, since the Witnesses believe in training children right alongside the adults. Many will be volunteer workers in operating the large gathering.

"Officials for the convention estimate that 10,000 volunteers will be needed to staff the twenty or more departments of operation," Dacko said. "Many of us have written in, volunteering to work, and some have already received assignments. Whatever it is, we're pleased to help out."

Locally, the Witnesses meet three times a week at their Kingdom Hall, 475 Franklin Avenue, Nutley. "Our meetings are all free, just as will be all the sessions of our convention."

Marines Lance Corporal Robert L. Torres and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Torre of 4 Smith St., and Private Thomas J. Kimball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kimball of 312 Washington Ave., both of Belleville, had their unit inspected by Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Wallace M. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Speaking before the unit, General Greene emphasized the necessity of maintaining a constant state of readiness. He spoke of already committed units of the Third Division in South Vietnam and told the Marines of the BLT "to be ready to go" if called upon.

BLT 2/8 has been serving in the Mediterranean aboard the ships of the Sixth Fleet since its command staff aboard the USS Francis Marion (APA 249). In addition to participating in numerous training exercises, the BLT Marines have visited such liberty ports as Izmir, Turkey; and the French Riviera cities of Monte Carlo (Monaco), Ville Franche, Cannes and Nice.

The BLT will shortly be relieved of its duties in the Mediterranean for return to its home base at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Pietrykoski Earns Corporal Stripes

Marine Corporal David P. Pietrykoski, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pietrykoski of 402 Belleville Ave., Belleville, was promoted to his present rank July 16 while serving at Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance, and his knowledge of selected military subjects.

Corporal Pietrykoski is currently serving as a radio operator with First Air Naval Gunfire Liaison Company, a component of Fleet Marine Force Pacific. Corporal Pietrykoski entered the Marines in March 1963.

LEAVING BELLEVILLE

We are sorry to hear that the Robert Greenes of 46 Van Rye-er Place are moving in September from Belleville to Madison. However, Stephen, Ruth and Eric promise to come back often to see their friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Elbelsheuer of 10 Washington Street and their daughters Sandra and Madeline had a thrilling vacation which started when they boarded their first flight for their first visit to Miami Beach, Fla. While in Miami Beach, they stayed at the Surfside Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tuchman of 219 New Street spent their vacation in Wildwood Crest.

Shortly thereafter, their daughter, Gail, arrived home from camp to celebrate her thirteenth birthday which was July 16. For her birthday, she received a guitar from her parents and her first lesson by that guitar swinging a go-go "pro" Sam Panasky. Happy birthday Gail!

Gail is now spending some time with her grandmother in Brooklyn.

Former Belleville Linda Hinkel was seen vacationing in New Hampshire, Vermont and Canada recently. However, Linda was back in Belleville in time to celebrate her twenty-first birthday on August 6. A family party was held at the home of grandmother, Mrs. Howard Virtue of Merz Avenue.

... but now expressions of weariness and exhaustion can be seen on the faces of the remaining two riders-out of the original ten in this grueling bicycle marathon. 107 . . . and finally one is dropping out and we have the winner — Dave Swinford — second Frank Russomanno, third Steve Moraski and fourth John Lynch.

In addition to the marathon the older boys also had a 100 yard "race." However, the winner was not judged on how fast he could ride but by how slow he could go without stopping or putting his foot on the ground. Our winner — the last over the finish line was Fred Iannini.

On Thursday the winners and everyone else on the playground enjoyed a watermelon party. There were also softball games in which everyone participated either as a player or spectator. Other activities of the week included Kite Flying, Tug-of-War, Running dashes, Football, and of course Nok Hockey.

STADIUM PLAYGROUND — This past week at the Stadium the children enjoyed two new games: Slap jack and keep away. Leathercraft and macaroni bottles were made during the handicraft periods.

Bob Bagin and Sal Mineo won tournaments in checkers and Bob Bagin also won in Nok Hockey. Wednesday we had a bicycle parade and Mary Lisa won 1st prize for her decorations.

The children played kickball and softball during the week and Friday a pizza party was held.

FAIRWAY PLAYGROUND —
We had a week of skill testing. Our playground champion in most events is Bobby Valentino. The girls champions in running races are Michele Gierla, Peggy Gleavy, and Janice Aмео. Other champions among the boys are Dave Valentino, Mark Cosenzo, Selby Messina, Mark Cervaseo, Gregg Cuasa, and Peter Binky.

Bike Skill Riding was another favorite event among the children at the playground. Diane Gierla, Janice Arneo, and Donna D. won medals in the girls events. The winners among the boys are Rocco Maritti, Anthony Padula, Dennis Ricca, Selby Messina, and Frank Arneo.

Since Softball is one of the most popular games played at Fairway, the only logical answer is that we should have excellent softball teams. The boys Junior League at Fairway play Kelly's Junior League on Thursday. Our Junior League won the game by a score of 4-2. Our captain Jay Messina did a wonderful job. Congratulations Boys!!!

The boys at Fairway have made three equally matched softball teams. The Mustangs, Jay Messina, captain, played the Ferraris, Joe Binky, captain, last Friday. The Ferraris won with a score of 14-9.

KELLY PLAYGROUND — Sponge ball proved to be the highlight of this week's activities. Everyday a double header has been played in the afternoon and the two teams are now tied for their amount of wins.

On Thursday the teams combined their effort to play soft ball against Fairway Playground. It was the first time during the season that they had played softball so their defeat by 4-2 was not too surprising. However, the team feels that they will do better this Thursday. Congratulations Fairway!

The bicycle skill riding proved to be a successful event. Barry Ocello and James Minett came in tied in the obstacle race. Jimmy also won the slowest bike race. They received championship stickers for their bikes.

RECREATION HOUSE — Our new Noc-Hockey game kept the children very busy this week. A Tournament was set up on Monday and Tony DiGiacomo was our champion. On Wednesday another tournament was held and Bob Pigaro won.

Besides playing softball, kickball, tether ball, and hit-the-bat, we were very busy preparing for our display at the Library. The children showed much enthusiasm over our group handicraft project, "The Recreation House Pond". Swimming on the bottom you will see: Tony the Turtle, Sam the Snake, Freddy the Frog, Susan Starfish, and Gerry the Goldfish. Many more clothes pin bags and bottles covered with macaroni were made.

On Friday afternoon we had a Halloween in August. Over 30 children came dressed up in various costumes. Kim Walker won first prize for the prettiest costume. She was dressed as a ballerina; Mary Ellen Rooney won a

Belleville Team Gains In Essex Boys Tourney

Belleville's Recreation Department All-Stars stayed in the Essex County Boys League All-Star Tournament Thursday, August 12, by beating St. Francis Xavier's National League All-Stars, by a score of 6-2. By handing St. Francis its second loss, Belleville knocked them out of the tournament.

After two out in the first inning, Belleville's Delaterza walked and Vitale hit safely. Santin, the next man up, hit a long, high home run over the centerfield fence, thus giving Belleville a 3-0 lead.

Two errors on Belleville's part and a St. Francis hit gave them a run in the second; however, Belleville came back in the second with a hit and a St. Francis error to score two more to take the lead 5-1.

Belleville added another in the third, and St. Francis, one in the fifth, with the sixth scoring, bringing the game to a 6-2 finish. Caravetta went all the way for Belleville, striking out five and walking five. Condito, going all the way for St. Francis Xavier National League All-Stars, struck out nine and walked three.

Belleville's Recreation Department All-Stars are one and one in the tournament.

State Officials Expecting 'Fine Season' for Deer

Early signs point to a fine deer season for New Jersey bow and shotgun hunters, according to the Division of Fish and Game in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Good numbers of deer have been observed in the woods and fields by State Wildlife Managers. Another indication of deer abundance is the high number of damage complaints from landowners.

For first place with an 80 win over St. Anthony's, paced by Don Rothwell's triple and single. St. Peter's whipped St. Benedict's 6-171, behind the pitching of Don Worhola, and the hitting of Bob Sullivan and Bob Forcuck.

ers in some parts of the State, particularly those areas where the drought has affected vegetation.

An excellent acorn crop will contribute to the growth and condition of the deer and to antler development. Antlers are currently in the velvet stage, and numerous bucks show signs of producing fine racks.

Bow and arrow hunters will have the first chance to hunt deer during a five-week season opening October 2 and running through November 4. Licensed hunters may bag one deer, either sex during that period.

BEADS AND BAGS — While visiting the display at the library, Cora Fisher, of 65 New Street, and Kathy Skidmore, of 85 New Street, stop to look at beads and a clothes pin bag

As one of its culminating activities of the summer, the Belleville's Recreation Department's Playground Program set up a display of arts and crafts in the Belleville Public Library from August 11 through 18.

Keeping to the animal theme, each playground, working as a group, contributed a paper-mache figure to the display. Some of the figures were a giraffe, a swan, turtles, and a clown.

Very popular at the display were the macaroni vases. To make these vases, the children got empty bottles and pasted different types of macaroni on the bottles of different patterns. They painted the bottles with attraclive colored paint, and even inserted flowers in the vases.

New to the display this year were the soap sculptures, originated by Joy Fulmore, director of Playground No. 1. Using bars of soap as a starting structure, the children created such figures as cars and animals.

Smallmouth Bass Running in Delaware

Smallmouth bass are providing summer fishing enjoyment for New Jersey anglers. Good catches of smallmouths have been reported in the Delaware River around Raven Rock.

Anglers have been catching fish in the 11-16 inch class on shrimp bait and flatfish lures. Helgramites, crayfish and lamprey eel larvae are other standard smallmouth baits.

SOMETHING ADDED — Working in the library for the summer, Lois Yocum, of 94 Forest Street, finds that something has been added to the usual materials found in the library. As she holds a bread box made of pop sticks, she looks at other pop stick articles and macaroni vases.

HI, NEIGHBOR!

The neighborhood pharmacy has always been a focal point in the community. It's a grand old American institution.

Here, friends meet informally. They talk about the weather, how things are going in the sports world, discuss politics, grumble a bit about taxes.

When we fill a prescription for you, it's not just a business transaction. It's an opportunity to be of helpful service to a neighbor and his family.

Attention To Vocational Needs Grows

College Prep Efforts Send Record Crop To Campuses

There are two sides to the high school picture that stand out in high relief as the new term approaches this year, challenging the educational system to provide a wider diversity of instruction and evidence for the sharply increasing number of students.

On the one hand is the mounting pressure on preparation of teen-agers for admission to colleges which is sending approximately one half of this year's high school graduates to campuses this fall.

That both the high schools and the ambitious, serious-minded teen-agers have been doing a good job at this level is indicated by the fact that many institutions of higher learning, hazy pressed to make place for all the freshmen, are stepping up their admission requirements to cope with the situation.

Vocational Emphasis
On the other hand with vocational training the key to steady of good job opportunities, many teen-agers who are not headed for college, continue to provide the necessary training for them must be and are being emphasized. Each year educators find that the time has come when some thoughtful concern for students, plus the necessary supplementation of facilities for vocational training, would work some wonders in the high school and that of the nation as well.

In many business and industry are coming to the aid of high schools as well as colleges, in the area of specialized and technical training.

Of great significance here — as well as to elementary education — are the provisions for financial assistance in the historic education bill passed by Congress and signed by the President.

Increasing attention to this phase of high school education is considered important to solving the "drop out" problem. The potentials of more than 700,000 teen-agers a year, it is estimated, are lost because they many leave high school for lack of interest, or for financial reasons.

Programs including part time on-the-job training, put in effect with cooperation of business, have proven very effective here.

Meanwhile, as in all other areas of education, the secondary schools are beset by a shortage of qualified teachers and also by a shortage of class rooms.

More Electronics
Spreading use of electric devices such as closed circuit television, educational TV, movies, projectors and tape recorders will no doubt be noticeable everywhere in high schools as devices for carrying the skills of master teachers to more students.

Many more high school students may find themselves being introduced to the "new math" this year.

Comes in the new economy, designed to strip this subject of its mysteries for high school students also are being added.

Back to... School and on to... COLLEGE

A Guide for Parents and Students alike, in preparing for the new school and college term, soon to open...featuring What is New for this Fall at all levels of Education...

Well-Planned Study Area Can Encourage Learning

Back to school used to mean shopping for new clothes, shoes, books and school supplies. It still does. But another category is gaining increasing importance on the shopping and planning list. Efficient aids to home study, their location and arrangement in the home — the entire question of a proper home study set-up comes in for more attention these days. It's a simple case of cause and effect.

From the youngest grade schooler on up, children are bringing home more homework nowadays. Parents, concerned about what they can do to help youngsters meet the challenges of modern education, are trying to "help with homework" in the most practical way — by providing home surroundings that furnish the right facilities for study and that are conducive to learning.

The increasing pressures of homework and parents' concern with better home study areas are directly related to today's steadily accelerating demand for higher education. As opportunity for the inadequately educated dwindles, the importance of a college education mounts.

Yet, to be successful in securing admission to the college of his choice, the student must start early. In one sense, preparation might be said to begin with the child's earliest school days, since his approach to learning and the very first study habits he forms will help shape his destiny at college.

Small wonder, then, that the atmosphere in the home now assumes such great importance back to school plans. To get the most from school, students need — and parents want them to have — ample home study space, conveniently and comfortably arranged.

They're Expandable
When plans for the study area are being made, today's educational challenges often influence parents to look ahead. Study in the home starts early and continues at least through high school — longer for the student attending a local college. Consequently, parents realize that study space which grows with the student is essential.

Modern furniture and furnishings make it easy to achieve "expandable" study surroundings. For instance, several manufacturers now offer adjustable wall shelves, including desk and cabinet units, that can be arranged in almost any combination for the convenience of the student — and added to as need arises.

Another type of expandable study area might be planned around a corner desk in the children's bedroom, with matching storage places lined up along adjoining walls. Chests and cabinets can provide extra work space.

Quiet and Privacy Count
Convenience and comfort, quiet and privacy in the study area contribute to the speed and accuracy with which homework is done. What's more, the student who works in a quiet atmosphere, free from the distractions of family activities, is certain to get more out of homework — a major consideration, since the purpose is not just to get the work done, but to contribute to learning.

Finding a quiet, private place for the homework area is not always easy, but it can be done. The student's own bedroom is one logical location. A special area might also be created in attic or basement. Another solution is to set aside certain hours when the family room, or recreation room, can be used for homework only.

Correct height and placement of the desk or other working surface, correct positioning of the student's chair, proper lighting, "built over" work space adjacent to the desk, shelves for handy placement of dictionaries and other reference works and storage space for supplies are basic.

Time Figures In Teaching Pre-Schooler

Time figures two ways in the growing trend to bring the very young among the small fry into organized classrooms for pre-school training.

Having established the capacity of five and even four and three-year-olds to become interested in and to absorb learning, this is the time to offer as many as possible the stimulus of a new learning environment, many educators hold.

Public school kindergartens — pre-school classes — are considered especially important where home background does not afford the youngsters an opportunity to start stretching their mental muscles, or to learn how to associate with other children.

In these classes, one of the things that they begin to learn is the awareness of time and also how to tell time. This and other "game-like" instruction they receive can serve as preparation for math.

For example, one phase of the instruction, which also teaches them how to care for their own wearing apparel, points out that such things as shoes and gloves come in twos — and two make pairs.

Here they can also get a head start on reading through gain which help them to recognize words and to realize their meaning.

Some people may be surprised, educators report, at the amazing vocabularies many youngsters already have picked up from watching television.

Adult Education Also to Set New Record This Fall

Wise adults too — 28,000,000 of them on the basis of conservative estimates — are planning going back to school this year.

These folks, most conscious of the wisdom of improving their skills, learning new ones, or making their lives more interesting by acquiring more culture, will be heading for Adult Education classes now available in almost every school district in the land.

They are in addition to the 63,000,000 students who will enroll in regular elementary, high school and college classes this fall, thus bringing the anticipated total enrollment to beyond 80,000,000.

Yet this figure by no means tells the whole story. Add those in classes for employees conducted by sizable firms; and in special courses for executives, and the total of those going back to learning this year becomes astronomical.

Smart Grooming Calls For Smart Wardrobe Planning

Now they're calling it the new "smart look" — but back-to-school and college girls knew about it all the time. In fact, they inspired it.

Take today's earlier approach to fashion sophistication, as the junior high girl joins her high school and college sisters in becoming knowledgeable about wardrobe planning.

Take the busier pace of high school life, which engenders a growing awareness of the need for fashions to meet many occasions.

University of Rhode Island — a new required general education curriculum including an interdepartmental course called "Problems of Contemporary Society."

Separates for the new semester rely strongly on casual, classic favorites, but there's plenty of news, too. In styling, it's ease and femininity that count, with the fresh liveliness of skirts — from pleated to dirndl — being welcomed by the busy young set. Heather tones and weaves vie with corduroys, plaids and madras for popularity. Leather, suedes and their look-alikes are going strong. Flannels, tweeds follow the casual line. Fabrics, colors and patterns mix.

FRESHMAN ASPIRATIONS
Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., reports that six out of 10 college freshmen plan to go on to graduate or professional schools.

Voters Stepping Up Approval of School Bonds

Disposition of citizens to approve proposed bond issues for improvement of local educational facilities, appears to be growing, according to a report from the U.S. Office of Education.

Well over $3 billion of school bonds were approved by voters in 2,100 communities throughout the land last year, for a new national record.

This was $45 million more than in 1963, a year that had set the highest previous record.

Growing High Schooler Has Problems, Dressing Right

"Tall, short, chubby, lanky. High school man come in all sizes.

So do their fathers and older brothers, of course, but there's this difference about the high schoolers. They're still growing by leaps and bounds, and a few years is likely to make a big change.

In the meantime, careful choice of clothes — colors, patterns, styles — can make a big difference right now for the high schooler who wishes he could change his appearance, suggests the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

Want to play down weight? Avoid screaming colors, too-increase height appearance. The tall, lanky high school man should choose clothes with an eye to creating an impression of greater breadth. Horizontal lines help.

Easy-fitting, long jackets with looseness around the waist and generous width at the shoulders are effective.

Patterns and types of fabrics are important. In over-plaids and plaids, for instance, the crosswise lines cut the vertical markings and tend to emphasize breadth.

Cuffs trousers do much to continue the vertical line when a tie is worn.

Morris County Fair Opens Tomorrow for Eight Days

Since the end of June, the 45 and hundreds of reams of paper and typewriter ribbons to make all systems "Go" for the Fair, 1965 opening tomorrow at 6 p.m. Some 50 muscular roustabouts completed erecting the tents and larger canvas pavilions that will house the Fair's perennial favorite—the livestock exhibits. On display for the public will be 431 winners and runners-up in all livestock categories . . . from multi-hued baby rabbits to poultry and Black Angus cattle.

The Fair's spacious Grandstand Pavilion stands all year long, and with a few coats of paint and some minor sprucing-up, stands ready for a great favorite with all ages—the rodeo events and western and English horse show events on Thursday, Friday and Saturday morning, afternoon and evening.

On Monday and Tuesday nights of the Fair, the ever-popular Miss Garden State Beauty Pageant will match some of New Jersey's loveliest young ladies in bathing suit and evening gown competition for the coveted title. The winner will enjoy a week long, all expenses paid vacation for two at the Princess Hotel in Bermuda.

Other activities and events include: sewing, pie-baking, and milking contests, commercial displays, rides, games, amusements, refreshment booths, and the displays of the County's news media, including radio stations WMTR, WRAN and WDHA, all of which will be broadcasting live from the Fair every day.

Fair Manager Swante Swenson of Denville points out the Fair's accessibility to the public. It is located just off Route 46 in Parsippany, minutes away from Route 10 on South Beverwyck. About 20 of the Fair's 45 acres is given over to a race track for the adults and 25 cents for children between the ages of 6 and 12.

SHORT-COUNT

Try to remember that half-way measures will be adequate only if you double the dose.

Baby Parade Scheduled at Olympic Park

Olympic Park's 30th annual baby parade will get under way at 2 p.m. Saturday, culminating in the award of trophies and the savings bonds to at least a dozen of New Jersey's handsoomest children. The Irvington Maplewood amusement park's competition is one of the oldest, such contests in the world and annually attracts hundreds of entries.

Bond, brunet and redheaded children, through 6, will vie separately with three winners to be selected in each category. In addition, there will be three winners in the division for decorated floats, which often are manned by more than one child.

A temporary grandstand will be erected for the public at the end of the parade route. Basile's Olympic Park Band and the semfinalists in the park's bathing beauty competition also will participate in the march.

A new circus will arrive Monday, featuring the Great Veno, world's premiere wire walker. Veno Bergami's feats include the ascent and descent of a wire angled at 45 degrees. The Cy-clonians, unicycle duo, and An-fels Witnow's Braves, trained circus troupe, round out the new bill.

"All the friends of Miss Irene Wirtz of Division Avenue will be glad to hear that she is home from the hospital and hopes to be good as new very soon."

The Gates...

Small tons of dog droppings leading into the second run were lined with individual cages in which a host of baying, barking dogs were separately caged. A third run leading out of the second was also lined with cages. The odor was strong as no disinfectant is apparently being used after the cages are washed.

The individual cages were lined with paper and apparently are cleaned daily.

Attached to the kennel are several running pens made of cinder block and chain fencing. The runs were clean as was the general area outside of the kennel.

Next to the running pens was a huge fenced area which enclosed at least four deer. The deer were tame and refused to move out of the shade of the overhanging pine trees, when we climbed atop the running pens to get photographs without the obstruction of the fence.

Surrounding our observations we would have to rank the kennel with some of the best in the business.

The only matters which we would recommend improving would be a practice of picking up the droppings as soon as the animal is caged and the widespread use of a strong disinfectant to overcome the heavy odor inside the kennels.

Wandering back toward the car we saw several workmen looking at us. Walking over we were told that they were constructing a new kennel which will be completely tiled.

When the new kennel is completed the Lodi operation will be equal to the best we have ever seen. The only tiled kennels we have encountered in visiting several hundred while working for The Sportsman's Herald were located at Cornell University's animal hospital and experimental station at Ithaca, N.Y. and the Kasco Dog Food kennels at Waverly, N.Y.
