BELLS WERE RINGING Thursday night at BHS when students presented their annual play in the auditorium. Here Diana Peck sings "If I were A Bell, I'd be Ringing!" to a somewhat startled Bob Fersch, who unweasly adjusts a loose tie, Diane (an innocent Sarah Brown and Fersch (Sky Masterson, gambler par excellence) provided the love interest in the Broadway production — which was transferred to Passaic Avenue last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday — by Belleville High School students. ### Our BHS Guys And Dolls Display A Flair For Comedy And Music

By GORDON F. ADAMS

"Guys and Dolls" quietly erupted in the Belleville High School auditorium for three evenings last week, and what made it popular on Broadway made it equally popular on Passaic Avenue. That was a cheerful abundance of youthful inventiveness, some sprightly dancing, and melodic felicity from some surprisingly good actors and singers at the high school.

Leading the weird assortment of Broadway denizens — as Daymon Runyon called them in his comic fable — was David Bukuria as Nathan Detroit, who turned out to be a Groucho Marx-like character in both manner and appearance. His long-suffering paramour was Gail Cronauer, a brassy-voiced Miss Adelaide, who can belt out a song with the best of them while creating sympathy for her serio-comic role as the Broadway chick engaged to a matrimony-dodging card sharp for 19 years or so.

The two opposites who attracted in the play were Bob Fersch, a slim, handsome, and honest gambler par excellence who lands in the feminine snare set by Diane Peck, as Sarah Brown.

She's Convincing
Miss Peck, an innocent-looking missionary at the Save-A-Soul Mission, sang with charm and conviction, especially in the "If I were A Bell" number near the end of Act I. She created an air of serenely controlled self-confidence that deteriorated into subject misery after finding out Sky Masterson (Fersch) has taken her to San Juan on a bet.

Bob Fersch did a creditable job as the wiry hard-as-nails gambler who never wretched on a bet — no matter what the consequences. He will never make the stage of the Metropolitan Opera with his light tenor, but until a better Sky Masterson shows up at BHS, he's the man. Fersch turned in the only believable performance of the evening, despite a few lapses of memory which caused a momentary faltering delivery. Fersch made his first appearance before the public Thursday night, and it might be his last. He's a senior. It would be nice to see him again in another performance.

NEA'S PROCEDURE HELD DOUBTFUL, SAYS CRISP

Civil Defense Begins A Search for Members

Committee Seeks New Ways Of Reopening Durkee Case

Allen Crisp, co-chairman of the Fair Play Committee raised six questions anew today when he again charged the National Education Association with bias in the hearings held in Newark which, said Crisp, heard testimony from persons named by the Board of Education, and neglected to call witnesses for Dr. Frank M. Durkee.

Preparation Is The Password In CD Program

When the lights begin to flicker out across most of the Great Northeast Nov. 9, it suddenly dawned on a lot of people that the loss of even the most routine conveniences can become a serious matter. But just exactly how serious, only a few can really understand.

In Belleville, there is one man who does understand its seriousness. That's John Dean, a police sergeant who took over recently as director of the Civil Defense Disaster Control here.

"People thought we set off the black-out on purpose just to emphasize the opening of our drive for new members," said Dean with a chuckle last week.

The Nov. 9 meeting had been designed as the first of a series of meetings whose avowed purpose is to attract new members — stir interest in former members whose training would be invaluable; and to generally rejuvenate the Civil Defense program.

Former members, said Dean, would be invaluable to the program with their understanding of CD procedure. "They're already trained — although they may be a little behind with new projects now in use — and with a little brushing up they could perform their duties with no trouble."

Under the present set-up, Dean would assume control of Belleville in the event of a disaster, and set in motion a well-knit organization designed to reestablish disrupted communications, centralize medical facilities, and lay this, he points out, was just a brief electrical failure. With a little imagination, the troubles can multiply fast in the event of a real disaster.

Dean's main effort right now is recruiting volunteers — it's all volunteer work.

"It might appeal to young men with an interest in police work," Dean said, since the new member would be working with a trained patrolman. It could conceivably lead to future work on the town police force.

Women are also sought by the CD program. They can provide the necessary clerical work needed to organize records, type the many cards which will be put into use, and, in a limited way, serve as policemen, although that won't be their main service.

They can also tabulate and file away the names and addresses of doctors, nurses, and other key personnel who would become the front line of emergency work. Dean has plans for the CD program here.

Also needed are radiologists (for fall-out), and persons that can be trained in other facets of the CD program who can, in turn, teach others.

"We hope we never need this service," Dean said Saturday afternoon. "But that's what's in the back of our mind." Preparation units is the password. The recent blackout was a comparatively minor inconvenience when placed beside a nuclear attack.

Pay Hikes Are Sought By Police

Firemen Join In Plea For Higher Minimum Salary

When the next year's municipal budget is made up, the town's police and firemen would like a raise to meet living costs.

The increases would amount to some $350 to $450 per year for both departments.

Town manager John R. Burnett said the salary wages, if OK'd by the Council and included in next year's budget, would add up to an increase of $32,000 per department.

The requests were made by the Policemen's Benevolent Association, and the Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association which, said Burnett, implied an increase in yearly salary minimums, although none have been asked.

GORDON F. ADAMS

SOONER OR LATER a newspaper reporter sees it all. And Thursday evening I saw a performance at BHS which matched some Broadway productions for which I had paid some good wampum to witness. ("The Smell of the Greasepaint, The Roar of the Crowd," for instance.) With but a little professional direction our students could better that ill-timed performance. But back to the topic at hand.

Maureen Gaudio made a brief, but fascinating appearance Thursday night as a Cuban dancer, which you may have read about on page one of today's Times. Well, back in the days when I was just learning my trade as a staffer on a west coast newspaper, I had the opportunity to visit a movie studio as a reporter. It had a scene similar to Miss Gaudio's.

Nothing disrupts a movie set as much as a strip teaser. Forgotten is the authority of producer and director when a peeler is wriggling around in a spotlight. Crew members and extras behave like unruly ringsiders in a burlesque house, botching up the day's schedule.

It happened on the set of "Breakfast At Tiffany's." Stripper Beverly Hills had a small role in the picture, and all eyes were glued to her curves, which you will admit are quite impressive, and most of which were photographed nude for the foreign version. Domestic moviegoers were limited to a relatively modest belly dance.

ON HAND WERE a mixed crowd. Cowboys working on TV shows over at Paramount Studios drifted in. Messengers, bit players from other pictures, and a few executives and guys from the accounting department came running. And so did a reporter wearing a Leica — me.

It was as if someone had discovered gold on the sound stage floor. The director asked his assistant directors to clear the set. There wasn't room to move the cameras with the panting assemblage pressing for vantage points. "All right, everybody off the stage," the director yelled, "Only the people in this scene are allowed on this set."

A few faint-hearted onlookers wandered away from the scene. But five minutes later were back in force. When Beverly began shedding her garments to the beat of a sexy blues number you could have dropped an atom bomb and no one would have moved a muscle.

Wriggling frantically, Beverly peeled down to a scant brassiere and brief panties when the inevitable voice from the kibitzers hollered a "Take it off!"

"Cut," shouted the director in a rage. He held a whispered conference with his assistants, who again admonished the group to leave. This time a larger group of art lovers slunk away to the dark reaches of the huge set. I stood my ground. I am a newspaper reporter. I only watched out of a sense of duty.

ONCE AGAIN THE MUSIC blared and Beverly, somewhat unnerved, began shedding her clothes. By the time the "take" was completed, the director was astonished to see the same old gang, eyes bulging, packed five deep around the set. He had had it.

This time he called a studio cop.

In a booming voice, the man in blue herded the dejected mob behind a barricade of scenery where they could see nothing at all. Up came the music again and Beverly began squirming around like mad, grinding here, bumping there — all very high class and artistic. It was spectacular and semi-private compared to the other takes.

Halfway through her exotic moves, to the point where she had removed her dress and gloves, a shadowy figure emerged from the gloom behind the scenery.

It was the cop.

Gradually he intently moved in closer, ever closer. A few yards behind him the vanguard of off-limits peepers assembled, then the more timid group. Within a few minutes the entire crowd was back, stronger than before.

The director, fighting mightily to maintain his calm, said "Let's take a break. I've got to get a grip on myself." Beverly, standing nearly nude before the cameras, asked "Can I put some clothes on? It's embarrassing standing here like this."

Show biz, there's nothing like it — unless it's newspaper reporting.

Election Post-Mortems

The 1965 gubernatorial election is now history.

Republicans are asking themselves what went wrong.

Democrats are chortling over their good fortune. They too are asking themselves questions. They want to know what they did to earn so much luck as to draw two successive Goldwater-type elections.

In 1964 Lyndon B. Johnson swept everything in sight, even electing to office three members of the Bergen Board of Freeholders.

In 1965 Governor Richard J. Hughes repeated Johnson's 1964 victory, but in the process transferred control of the Bergen County courthouse that beats everything attempted by the three modern greats of the Democrat Party — F.D.R., J.F.K., and L.B.J.

The Republicans deserved to lose big this year. They chose a gubernatorial candidate who was a "can't win" candidate from the moment of his endorsement by the all-powerful GOP state selection committee.

GOP hopeful Wayne Dumont is one of the finest persons who has ever held public office in New Jersey. A man of sparkling integrity, Dumont was out of character when he promised to appoint a Negro to his cabinet if elected Governor. Dumont was out of character when he promised Polish clubs he would appoint one of their number to his cabinet if elected Governor.

Despite his public statements we believe Dumont convicted by the Genovese case not out of conviction but because he was sold a bill of goods by advisors who have yet to win a major statewide election.

Most county and state GOP leaders are hanging on now in anticipation of a big win next year behind the expected candidacy of U.S. Senator Clifford P. Case, whose second six year term expires December 31, 1966.

Many will recall that the last time out, bucking a trend to J.F.K., Case won re-election by a plurality of 332,000 votes while the GOP Presidential candidate, Richard Nixon, was losing the state by 22,000 votes.

Republican leaders up and down the state are wondering what they can do to insure a big win next year. The way back is not easy. President Johnson and Governor Hughes will marshal every resource at their command to topple the GOP Champion, Clifford Case. It is a huculean task but the Democrats think they have the winning formulae.

At this point and time in history Case goes into the campaign with a divided party. Conservative Republicans will never forgive him for his failure to endorse and campaign for Barry Goldwater.

Almost every county GOP treasury is in the red. The state GOP, in common with our federal government, has adjusted itself to live comfortably with a seemingly permanent red figure, its political philosophy notwithstanding.

So — Cliff Case faces a reelection bid with a state party bankrupt of money, lacking in inspirational leadership, and suffering from a state of disintegration at the county level. And despite all these negatives Case may be just foolish enough to run for reelection.

To say that our state and nation needs Cliff Case in the United States Senate is to give voice to the obvious.

In some of its most troubled hours Cliff Case has served well our state and country. For eleven years Case has served us in the United States Senate as an American and not as a partisan Republican.

We believe Johnson and Hughes will recruit an opponent for Case who will bring to the campaign a liberal record and a candidate who is not too closely identified with the day-to-day operations of the Democrat party.

Johnson and Hughes want to win next year's election. So does every Democrat county chairman. It would not surprise us to see the Democrat party attempt to induce a former Republican like Douglass Dillon to take on Case in 1966.

Dillon has a tremendously impressive record. He served with distinction in the cabinets of Eisenhower, Kennedy, and Johnson.

Matching that inimitable public record are financial resources which place Dillon among the top ten richest men in America.

Dillon has money, brains, and looks. If the Democrats bag him Case is in serious trouble.

Republican county and state leaders would serve their best interests if they move quickly to nominate Case by acclamation. And the very next step the GOP leaders must take in the long, hard fight up the comeback trail is to organize and mobilize the grassroots power of elected municipal officials who claim GOP affinity.

Will the GOP leadership move in this direction? For the sake of a strong two party system they better had. F.A.O.

Ex-Senator C. Robert Sarcone

In one of the major election day upsets C. Robert Sarcone of North Newark lost his bid for reelection to the New Jersey Senate to relative unknowns.

Two years ago Sarcone won a smashing victory, defeating the popular former N.J. Assembly Speaker Elmer Mathews by a plurality of 15,000 votes. At the time Sarcone and his friends insisted the victory was due solely to the personal magnetism of candidate Sarcone.

Well two years as the incumbent Senator should have strengthened Sarcone's claim to the office and in the process increase his personal magnetism. The voting result seems to have burst Sarcone's personal magnetism bubble.

On November 4th Sarcone just didn't have it. His greatest weakness was his two year effort to mix the state judiciary and partisan politics.

To his sorrow Sarcone should have learned by this date that Essex County citizens dislike the Sarcone Cocktail — they just didn't cotton to his chemistry or Sarcone's formulae.

Sarcone is a good fellow. He would have made a better Senator if he didn't share the authority and responsibility of his office with shortsighted, stupid political advisors, transient accidents upon the Essex political scene.

Sarcone may have a future in the political party of his choosing but he must overcome the burden of his provincialism and his little ring of little advisors. F.A.O.

Congratulations, Mr. Carey

Well, congratulations are in order again for Dennis Carey, Democrat leader of Essex County.

Carey has been leading his party to successive victories ever since he was called to its leadership in 1954.

Inheriting an insolvent party Carey has worked indefatigably to build a party organization second to none in the nation.

Essex Republicans each year foolishly introduce Carey as an issue in every campaign — and each year voters go on merrily returning the Essex County Court house to Democrat control.

GOP election-time spokesmen would have one believe Carey is the very devil himself. This perennial GOP exercise in futility fools everyone but the voters.

We think Carey has given his party the best leadership that man is capable of providing. He gives his party winners. Who can quarrel with that result? His candidates have given us honest government at the Court House. His Congressional winners have given their districts progressive leadership. Is it any wonder voters ask themselves "Why Change?"

For the good of the Republican party we just hope there can be found a Carey to lead it out of its losing ways.

Mr. Carey, you who God has endowed with an abundance of Irish wit and humor, and who the Republicans would destroy, we salute you. We greatly admire a keen, political leader. F.A.O.

Guidance Notes

By HERMAN KNUFFEL

This is the third in a series of articles written about Monistitutional Financial Aid Programs that should give parents and students more information about opportunities for financial aid. National Defense Student Loan Program: The only general program of undergraduate financial assistance through the Federal Government.

Undergraduate professional and graduate students carrying at least a half-time academic workload are eligible to borrow from the colleges and universities participating in this program.

The amount of the loan cannot exceed $1000.00 for undergraduates or $2500.00 for professional and graduate students for any one academic year, or $5000.00 in total aid for undergraduates or $10,000.00 in total aid for undergraduate and graduate study.

No interest is charged while the student is in school. Repayment of the loan plus 3 percent interest begins one year after the student is graduated or leaves school and must be completed within 10 years.

If the borrower becomes a full-time teacher in a public or non-profit private elementary or secondary school or a full-time teacher in any institution of higher education, a maximum of 50 percent of the loan (plus interest) may be canceled. Cancellation takes place at the rate of 10 per cent of the amount owed at the time the individual enters teaching and an additional 10 per cent each year for the next four years if he continues to teach.

Loan application forms should be secured from the appropriate official of the participating institution.

Has Education Gained? Readers Say It's So

To The Editor: Belleville Times: In the matter of Dr. Durkee, I would like to go on record as saying that I do believe the true importance of this issue has been completely overlooked.

The important thing is whether or not education has flourished under Dr. Durkee or not. In answer to this, may I state that friends who have moved to scattered areas have found their children to be ahead in their studies.

This speaks for itself. MRS. JOSEPH BERGER, 277 Branch Brook Dr., Belleville, N.J.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK
A couple of weeks ago we wrote about transistors in general and their use in those small battery operated radios. They have stood up exceptionally well for this purpose.

The Magnavox Company began 3 years ago to use transistors in their radio phonographs, years ahead of other manufacturers, which only recently began to catch up. Now the same company offers a full line of TV sets with transistors. There is only one or two factories which try one TV model using transistors instead of tubes. Heat is very destructive to the various parts used in TV sets, particularly condensers, resistors and transistors. In addition, transistors in TV set uses a lot less electricity than a tube set. Electricity is very cheap in this section of the country though and this is only a minor factor. Wouldn't it be a blessing if the claims for transistors, to be indestructible, would be true and the days of the need for a TV repairman would be over? Well, this day is possibly in the distant future, if at all.

N.J. Boystown Makes Annual Year Appeal

It cost $200,000 annually to operate; if you have little send a prayer for the Boystown Boys. This is the plea of Monsignor Egan, director of Boystown in Kearny in his annual appeal for funds to care for his boys. It cost $200,000 annually to operate Boystown and that means cutting things to the bare minimum where possible. It doesn't mean cutting down on the care, food, shelter and education which Boystown provides to its citizens. In these appeals, the 100 youngsters at Boystown get the best that Monsignor Egan can provide.

THANKSGIVING IN BELLEVILLE:

Local Traditions Add to Holiday

By BARBARA GAGNON
Family — food — fun seems to be the 1966 tradition of Thanksgiving in Belleville. Bellevillites are looking forward to sharing a table laden with their own holiday specialties, traditional to their heritage and nationally, surrounding the American tradition, turkey. For many, the annual Belleville-Orange football game will be the highlight of the day.

For some, this Thanksgiving will be an special event, for others, it means a special day and a tradition of their own. One of the nicest traditions which occurs in Belleville, falls on Thanksgiving eve for the members of the Wesley Methodist Church and the Congregation of Ahavah Achim. "Annually," explains Mrs. Paul McDonnell of 33 DeWitt Avenue, "the members of both faiths foster brotherhood by sharing services. This year Rabbi Price will preach a sermon in our church and then everyone will go to the synagogue for refreshments."

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Verhagen of 112 Hornblower Avenue, always attend church services on Thanksgiving morning at the Reformed Church. "Then we can really enjoy our turkey dinner with the family," commented Mrs. Verhagen. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibbs of 140 Rutgers Street, the family dinner is always served on a yellow cloth complemented by brown napkins. "A big bowl of fruit and nuts serves as a centerpiece and plum pudding with hard sauce is their traditional dessert."

Mrs. Anthony Moro of 80 Watessing Avenue serves a menu, typical of Belleville's Italian population, to her husband, their four children and the large family clan which gathers in their home. "We eat all day, starting with antipasto," said Esther. The courses which follow the antipasto are escarole chicken soup, lasagna or ravioli, turkey and potatoes. For dessert, there is a real Italian treat, roccota sweet pie.

A family heirloom brought over from Ipehand has the place of honor on the Thanksgiving table in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford White of 557 Washington Avenue. "The platter is over 100 years old and was brought to this country by my grandmother McArt, (who settled in Belleville)," related Mrs. White. "It just wouldn't be Thanksgiving without it," she added. The also use a soup tureen that is over 200 years old and was given to their family by good friends. Charles, Steven, Lynn and Jeffrey O'Neill are the family tradition for Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Neill of 33 Division Avenue. With no relatives nearby, the O'Neill family look forward to the holiday and the company of each other. Mrs. Joseph Tremel of 135 Smallwood Avenue is celebrating her birthday on Thanksgiving. "Joe and our five daughters are planning a special day," said Mrs. Tremel, "but they're keeping it a secret."

A Bar Mitzvah is a very important event in a Jewish family. This Thanksgiving will always be remembered by the family of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fuchs of 60 Lloyd Place, for their son, Martin Ives Fuchs, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Thanksgiving. Following services, a kiddush will be held in the Temple. The reception will be at the Richfield Caterers in Verona.

"Thanksgiving will be especially nice this year for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neimeyer of 175 Hornblower Avenue. They are going to New Shrewsbury to see their new niece, Alycen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Heggie. Alycen's father is a former Bellevillite.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank DiRuggerio of 42 Van Reper Place and their daughter Frances celebrated Thanksgiving a week early this year. They took a few days off and visited their daughter, Judy, and her family, Judy is Miss Alice Fleming, daughter of Lafayette, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. James Constantino of 138 Heckel Street are planning a welcome home feast for their son, Reverend Mister Rocco Constantino, who is studying to become a Priest at Darlington Seminary. "It's a rare

'Roman Holiday' is Theme Of Annual BPW Card Party

A meeting was held last Friday at the home of Mrs. Leslie Griffin of Walnut Street, Nutley, to outline plans for the annual card party of the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. The card party "Roman Holiday" is to be held on Friday evening, April 22, 1966, at North Junior High School, in Bloomfield. Mrs. Griffin is general chairman, assisted by Miss Alice Fleming and Miss Ruth Williamson. Sub-committees are being chaired by off premise raffish, Miss Anne Boehmer and Miss Elsie Ciccone assisted by Miss Margaret Dillon and Miss Helene Matt; tickets and publi-

WHITER TURKEY

When roasting turkey for a holiday feast, basting the bird with lemon juice will help keep the white meat moist. It enhances the flavor of the bird, too. A plastic squeeze lemon makes an especially convenient baster for the inside. During roasting, baste the outside of the turkey with lemon juice and melted butter.

FRESH CRANBERRY CHEESE TARTS: It's fresh cranberry season, say these luscious, easy-to-make cranberry cheese tarts.

Autumn Cranberries Add Traditional zest

The nip of frosty air puts red cheeks on cranberries just as it does on youngsters scuffling through crimson autumn leaves. An early frost in Massachusetts, largest of the five cranberry-growing areas, has given especially gay color to berries from Cape Cod. The yield is somewhat less than promised by the billions of pale pink blossoms in late spring. The same thing can be said about the New Jersey crop—fine quality, but not quite the quantity that has been anticipated.

With Wisconsin, Oregon and Washington adding their bounty to that of the eastern states and the two Western states blessed with bumper crops — a total harvest of some 129,600,000 pounds will add tart-sweet tang and color to future meals.

CRANBERRY CHEESE TARTS

Since November brings 53 percent of fresh cranberries to market, now is the time to try these good recipes.

4 pkgs. (3 oz. each) soft cream cheese
3 large eggs
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
½ teaspoon grated lemon peel
12 unbaked tart shells, each 3 inches in diameter
2 cups fresh cranberries
½ cup water
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Beat cream cheese until light. Add eggs, the ½ cup sugar, pure vanilla extract and lemon peel.

Combine sweet potatoes, bread cubes and celery. Put onion and cranberries through food chopper, using coarse blade. Add sugar. Stir in salt, ground black pepper and poultry seasoning. Cut sausage links into ¼-inch pieces. Brown and add to the mixture. Discard fat. Melt butter or margarine, toss lightly to mix well. Stuff loosely into crop and body, cavity of 10 to 12 lbs. turkey. Close openings with skewers and jacinets.

YIELD: Sufficient stuffing for a 10 to 12 lb. turkey.

A PLEASANT SWITCH from the usual cranberry jelly is the combination of this tart fruit with brown and serve rolls to form a Quick Cranberry-Orange Coffee Ring.

Quick Cranberry Orange Cake Ring
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup light brown sugar

8 brown and serve rolls
½ cup halved fresh cranberries
1 teaspoon grated orange peel

Melt 2 tablespoons of the butter in a 5½-cup (8½-inch) ring mold. Sprinkle 2-cups of the brown sugar over bottom; top with cranberries. Combine remaining butter, brown sugar and orange peel. Mix well.

Split rolls 4 but not through bottom crust; fill with orange-brown sugar mixture. Arrange rolls, sugar upside down, over cranberries in pan. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until well browned. Cool for a few minutes, until bubbling stops; invert pan onto serving plate. Let stand a few minutes; remove pan. Serve coffee ring upside down.

YIELD: Makes 46 servings.

It's Our Last Chance; Can Bellboys Edge Out Hard-Hitting Orangemen?

We Lost Last Year So Revenge Is Tops With The Bellboys

By STEVE CHAREN

The schedule-maker gives the Bellboys an extra five days to lick their wounds before closing their season next Thursday in the annual Thanksgiving Day battle with Orange.

With revenge still smarting over last year's stunning 6-0 loss in the Turkey tilt, Belleville will be trying to even matters against the best Tornado team the Testa-men have faced in their four year history.

The 1964 finale was a study in frustration as the Bellboys completely demolished Orange offensively, rushing for 300 yards to the Tornadoes' 33, but still lost to climax a disappointing year.

Most of the key men who halted five Belleville drives inside the 20 and brought in that lone score will be returning for this year's rematch; among them Art Retino whose interception set up the TD.

The '65 Tornadoes are an erratic squad having shut-out three opponents and being shut-out three times themselves enroute to a 4-2 record. Orange games have resulted in anything from 33-0 and 36-0 wins over Hoboken and Weequahic to 6-6 and 0-0 battles with Irvington and West Orange, to a 27-0 spanking in the hands of Nutley.

The key to the Tornadoes' success has to be feet footed half-back Bob Alexander, who has scored three-quarters of the Orange points, is the leading rusher, handles the extra points, and at times boots field goals. In his most recent endeavor Alexander single-handedly whipped Hoboken by galloping 96 yards in ten carries, returning an interception 88 yards for a score, and booting a field goal and four extra points for a total of 19 points.

Backing up Alexander's efforts, the Tornadoes have quarterback Andy Varanelli directing the ground attack and peppering it with an occasional pass to Lou Gubitosa or Tom White. On the ground, Willis Byrd and full-back Mike Paris back up Alexander.

An Edge For Us

This crew could possibly cause trouble for the Bellboys sleeping giant defenders who have yet to rack up a shut-out. But, a weight advantage up front should give the Bellboys the edge.

Meanwhile offensively, the Bellboys potentially potent attack will have its last chance to explode. All season long the Bellboys have come within one fumble, interception, penalty or missed block of opening up while playing squeaker-after-squeaker.

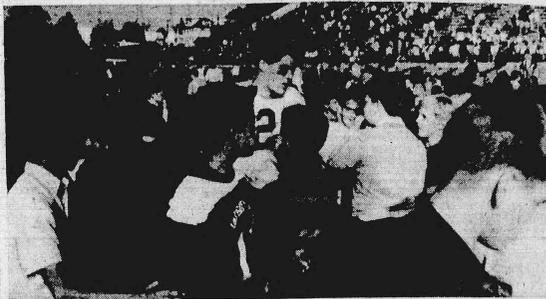

Now the possibility arises that Belleville's offensive power may never be turned loose in '65. If so it will be an awful waste of ability.

Gazing into the crystal ball that has managed an .875 mark season, it appears that Belleville will slow the rampaging Tornadoes and finish with a 7-2 mark, the big question seems to be if the Bellboys will finally reach their potential and win a shutout.

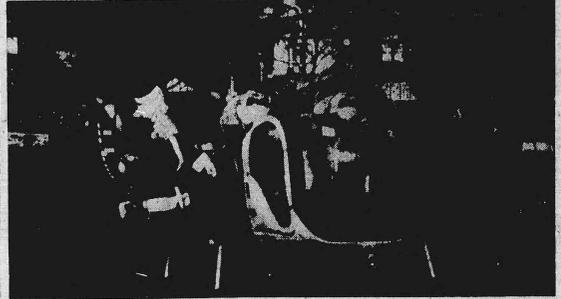

It is doubtful that the Orangemen can pull a repeat of their '64 upset.

Airman Capetta In Air Force

Airman Michael Capetta Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Capetta of 58 Wilbur St., Belleville has been selected for training at Keesler AFB Miss., as a communications specialist. He is a 1965 graduate of Belleville High School.

THEIR HERO Charles Godleski, a familiar name to the sports-minded in Belleville, walks Bellboys of the year. Hard on his heels was wearily from the field after a hard game against Belleville foes. Shortly after this photo was taken, Godleski broke a bone in his foot, effectively ending his career as one of the names to the sports-minded in Belleville, walks Bellboys of the year. Hard on his heels was the damaging loss of Jim Corino, who busted a collar bone. (Photo by Adams)

A PREVIEW OF COMING attractions. This Santa Claus as he appeared last year shortly after his arrival in Belleville from somewhere up north. He will again show up Nov. 26 at Clearman Field on special invitation from the Chamber of Commerce. Here he takes a look at the helicopter which brought him here; the same one which will bring him here again next Friday.

Bogione Comes In First To Give Belleville A Third Place Berth

By WILLIAM MCCARTHY

Following an exciting race in which Bob Bogione ran to a fine first, the Belleville High Harriers have found themselves assured of a berth at the State Group IV Championship meet this Saturday.

With the fog and rain quite evidently impeding the schools (a total of eighty-four boys ran) all had slow times, comparatively, to other meets.

Bob Bogione ran a slow race up to the mile mark. Bill Fraser of Central High was the race will surely tell which after falling, Bob "floored it," leaving Fraiser behind, while winning with a 12:38 time.

Back several places, Bill McCarthy, Don Saunders and Dave Grigoris followed his method, as they picked up many places on the back stretch. McCarthy whipped across the line in seventh place, while Dave came in fifteenth and Don Saunders sixteenth. Then, Don Johnson and Alfonso Freda came in further back to round out the Bellboy

Jolly Cleaners Clean-Up With A Championship

The Recreation Department's football season came to a thrilling end last week with the Jolly Cleaners as Heavyweight Champs and the Lions Club taking the lightweight crown.

In the final games of the Lightweight League the Varsity Club defeated the Kiwanis Club, and the Lions beat the Elks to become undefeated champions. This was a come back victory for the Lions who never hit the win column last year.

Final standings were: Lions 6-0, Varsity 3-1-2, Elks 2-4, and Kiwanis 0-1-5. Final standings in this League were: Jolly Cleaners 5-1, American Legion and Devon Electric 3-3, and Aircro 1-5. The season was unmarked by injuries.

A GOOD SPORT is Joseph Resciniti, 34 Clinton St. Belleville, who bagged this 175 lb., 6-pointer in Maine Nov. 13. His hunting pals were Nick Nicoletti, Belleville, and Frank Sasso and Danny Greco, both of Nutley. Now they won't have to go to the meat market for the next year.

Varsity Club Honors Teams

Dec. 2, The Varsity Club honors The Bellboys and Track men at their 21st Annual Football Banquet to be held at the Robinhood Inn in Clifton. Tickets are available from Belleville High School and other outlets. Help make the team proud and attend.

Cub Scouts Spotlight Progress

The Cub Scout achievement plan and Paul Bunyan's skills for Boy Scouts shared the program spotlight during November in 91 Cub Scout Packs and 111 Boy Scout Troops of the Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America. This was announced by James H. Schaefer, Scout Commissioner of the Belleville, District.

"Achievement Parade is the Cub Scouting theme for Cub Scouts," the Scout Commissioner reports, "with the object to acquaint boys and their parents with the many opportunities for personal growth offered through the Cub Scout achievement plan." Dens in each Cub Scout Pack will prepare skits to dramatize parts of the achievement story. Dad-and-son exhibits will be developed in one or more elective areas available to the 8-10-year-old boys. The monthly Cub Scout Pack meeting will feature opportunities for parents to try out the Bobcat requirements which a boy must meet when he becomes a Cub Scout and the 12 requirements for the Wolf rank which 8-year-old boys achieve.

Most of the Boy Scout Troops in the Robert Treat Council will include a court of honor during November along with the program highlight, "Loggers' Hood-down," as a part of the Paul Bunyan theme. The outdoor activity will include competitive events based on the skills of rope-work, loadings, and safe use of knife, ax and bow saw.

Explorer Posts and their high-school-age members will select from a variety of suggested activities. Many of the Explorer Posts will be conducting the first of four sessions to qualify Explorers for the "Ready" program of emergency preparedness. The first session covers training in mobilization and communication.

Greatest Growth
Nutley experienced its greatest growth from 1920 to 1930, according to the League of Women Voters' new booklet, "Know Your Town."

THAT WATER SHORTAGE — Senator Clifford P. Case, (R-N.J.) greeted former Belleville resident William T. Picora, at left, who is now director of the U.S. Geological Survey. The two met in Sen. Case's Washington office recently to discuss the water shortage. Picora assured the Senator that he would continue to explore the feasibility of drawing water from the Atlantic Coastal Plain as the Senator had suggested.

Oldsmobile Toronado Named Car of the Year

Oldsmobile's Toronado, a revolutionary six-passenger coupe with front-wheel drive, has been named the 1966 Car of the Year by the editors of Motor Trend Magazine. Announcement was made at Ladd Oldsmobile, Belleville.

Harold N. Metzler, Oldsmobile general manager and a vice president of General Motors, accepted the magazine's Car of the Year award — a two-foot engraved marble trophy — on behalf of Oldsmobile and all its people.

burglary at the Purdy Food Market, 334 Belleville Ave.

Patrolmen Edward Mead and John Donnelly spotted the youth shortly after 6:30 a.m. Friday, as he opened a cash register in the deserted market. The boy made an attempt to escape by diving through a front door window. He ran west on Belleville Avenue with the policemen in close pursuit.

The two officers said the youth came to a fast halt when they warned him they would shoot. Investigation of a small bag the youth carried revealed a set of burglary tools, including an acetylene torch, two glass cutters, and a pinch bar, among other tools.

"He looked like an adult and worked like a professional," said Deputy Chief Donald Smith. The youth stood over 6 foot tall and weighed some 170-pounds.

He was charged with breaking and entry and larceny, then taken to the Essex County Youth House in Newark where a Juvenile Court Hearing will be held. With the arrest, police apparently cleared a series of burglaries. The boy admitted three other Belleville burglaries and robberies last Sunday which netted him some $160 in loot.

A second juvenile was taken to police headquarters after patrolmen found him sitting at curbside on Mt. Pleasant Avenue near the burglarized market. The boy, also 15, was cleared of any involvement in the case and later released in custody of his parents.

Electricity is today's biggest household bargain
Although your electric bills may be higher now than they were back in 1940, consider all the appliances you've added in the last 25 years — appliances which spell the difference between old-fashioned drudgery and modern living. In fact, the average home uses more than four times the amount of electricity today than in 1940. But the combination of rate reductions and increased use of electricity has resulted in a 43% decrease in the average unit cost of electricity in the last 25 years. Yes, by bucking the trend of soaring prices, we've been able to maintain electricity's position as your biggest — and best — household bargain.

Juvenile Court Proceedings Opened to Press Coverage

New Jersey has lifted its ban on press coverage of juvenile court proceedings.

The State Supreme Court amended the former rule to permit coverage at the discretion of individual judges. Under the new rule, newspapers may print the names of young offenders, their pictures and other identifying information, if the judge permits.

The aim is to foster public understanding of juvenile court procedures and problems, with the hope of stirring public opinion over the lack of sufficient rehabilitation facilities for the juvenile offender.

Radio and television reporters are covered by the same ruling, but broadcasting from the court room will be prohibited.

In addition, juvenile court judges will be permitted to issue statements regarding the disposition of cases in their courts.

The Supreme court's amendment is based on the report of a court-appointed committee of 13 judges, lawyers and probation officers, known as the Supreme Court Committee on the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court. It studied the problem of press coverage for a year.

Garden State Milk Firm Official Praises Results of Lowering Consumer Prices

A year and a half of lower consumer milk prices has shown New Jersey's milk industry that it can operate without the "chaos" it predicted, Pete Sandfort of Garden State Farms asserted today.

Sandfort said the pace of dairy business failures has slackened sharply in the first 18 months of the state's new system of lowering milk prices to reflect prices paid to farmers plus reasonable markups for dealers which have improved consumption and sales.

Since April, 1964, when the Office of Milk Industry's price Order 64-1 took effect, dairies have charged minimums fluctuating monthly from 76 cents to 86 cents a gallon, as opposed to a fixed $1.02 minimum in the previous order.

"One of the scarecrows that old-line milk interests repeated in the four-year controversy over milk prices was that the industry would be in 'chaos' if it had to lower its prices to consumers. 'Guarantee profits,' it said, 'or we'll go out of business.' That hasn't happened," Sandfort said, in issuing a summary of the 1½ year operation of the state's new milk pricing system built around the scientific cost studies that Case & Co. of New York made for the Dept. of Agriculture in 1963.

Sandfort said the number of firms in the industry decreased only 3½ per cent in the last year and a half. He added that this "dropout rate is much lower than in past years."

"It certainly doesn't indicate from this rate that the industry is in any chaotic state which it sid would prevail," stated Sandfort, jug milk dairyman who fought for the lower consumer milk prices. He said the 3½ per cent figure was "A healthy one," when compared to decreases of 35 per cent in the number of dealers from 1960-1963.

raise the annual maximum to $6,800.

Their most recent requests were for annual salary maximums of $6,950 in 1966, and $7,100 the next year. Firemen asked for $7,100 in 1966, and $7,250 in 1967.

The PBA requested paid hospitalization to bring the force up to minimum strength. The department now has 65 men.

The PBA requested paid hospitalization for retired members, 12 paid holidays (there are no paid holidays for policemen), and overtime pay if legally possible.

Mayor to Object?

The FMBA also called for three additional fire captains and four extra firemen for next year. The department recently won its fourth deputy fire chief, and Mayor Nuncio R. Picco told the Council then there would be no more firemen "while I am mayor."

The 24 special street crossing guards also asked for a daily salary increase of $1.50 per person, plus overtime pay of $2.50 an hour, and eight paid holidays.

The guards are now earning $7.50 a day for 3 hours duty with no overtime and no paid holidays.

ork for the hearing.

1. Why was the Arvidson bloc permitted to present a secret report containing charges against Dr. Durkee which the minority board members and Dr. Durkee were not permitted to see?

2. When the Committee did not hear staff personnel listed by Dr. Durkee, why did they hear instead a number of retired school personnel with known grudges against their former boss? Why was he not given an opportunity to refute their testimony?

3. Dr. Durkee and the minority members of the board requested the Committees to grant him the sacred American right to answer charges made by his enemies. Why was he denied this privilege?

4. When the efficiency and effectiveness of the Superintendent of Schools was at issue and he was held responsible for his actions since his appointment in 1961, why did the Committee "listen to old wives' tales" from the days of his predecessor?

5. Why were so few witnesses listed by Dr. Durkee called to testify?

6. Why was the President of the 1961 Board which appointed Dr. Durkee only given eight minutes to testify? And why were two other former Board members during Dr. Durkee's administration not heard at all?

Guys And Dolls

Jawed, stiff-backed Nicely-Nicely Johnson in a disjointed manner.

Top Lead

But the show went to Bukunus as comical impresario who kept a crap game floating for years, and in an emergency was never afraid to let discretion overcome valor. Except for a habit of playing to the audience, Bukunus did a fine job for the second time in as many years. His performance was highly enunciated and just a bit brittle as the Marx-like character who promotes a game but never takes part.

His poker-faced innocence concealing a worldly outlook on the Broadway life came across the Broadway intact.

A real show stopper was provided by lovely (what other word is there?) Maureen Gaudin, who was a small role as a Cuban dancer, Nicely filling a bright red skin-tight, er, costume?

Maureen wriggled across the stage like a snake caught in a tennis racket to the accompaniment of a banging snare drum and crashing cymbals. Funny? Hilarious! Some art lover in the audience hollered a non-scripted "take it off."

Worth Fighting For

Undulating in a choreographic frenzy, Maureen made it from left to right, and back again before a fight took place between a Sky Masterson and a drunk, who tried to grab the bouncy Cuban bombshell. But you could have dropped a bomb on the joint and no one would have looked up. All eyes were glued on Maureen.

Miss Gaudin not only has a figure, she has them in her head. She did the choreography for the production and dances in the first act. Her sister, Gwen, is a former Cherry Blossom in Queen, and is now attending an acting studio in New York. It's in the family.

Smaller roles were well done by Mario Papa, a big, tough gambler named Big Jule — long on muscle and short on brains. "Who are you?" demands Lt. Branigan, an equally tough cop acted by Gerald Patterson. "Duhh, I'm a Boy Scout," says Papa. "Well, I wouldn't want you helping my mother across the street!" says Patterson.

Everybody Helped

Beverly Golden, a cute 16-year-old, took the part of General Matilda B. Cartwright, a Salvation Army officer, who arrived to deliver the message at the Sava-A-Soul Mission.

Richard Dougherty had them giggling in his brief scene as a common drunk who wobbled his way on stage, only to be tossed out by waiter Joseph Rodriguez. Harry The Horse was Bill McCarthy.

Bob Wing, bandmaster at Belleville High School was credited with much of the success the play gained. "He's really given them spirit," said one school official.

The chorus and soloists were coached by Dr. Samuel W. Peck, who directs all musical affairs at the school as department head. Student director was, again, David Bukunus. Stage manager was Bob DePass.

The cast, (in order of appearance):

Nicely-Nicely Johnson, William Idendey, Benny Southstreet, Nick Pallente, Rusty Charlie, Joel Pisano, Sarah Brown, Diana Peck, Arvide Abernathy, Greg Hrper, Keith Harvey, Mission Band, Keith Harvey, Patrick Rudden, David Hilderbrand, Harry The Horse, Bill McCarthy, Lt. Branigan, Gerald Patterson, Nathan Detroit, David Bukunus, Angie The Ox, Leonard Izzo, Miss Adelaide, Gail Cronauer, Sky Masterson, Bob Fersach, Joey Biltmore, John Reilly, Mimi, Cynthia Richter, Gen. Matilda B. Cartwright, Beverly Golden, Big Jule, Mario Papa, Drunk Richard Dougherty, and Walter, Joseph Rodriguez.

The "Heat Wave Girls" who pranced and danced in that disreputable Cuban cafe were members of the BHS Twirling Squad. Somewhere under all those straw hats:

Members of the assembly were other students who did the bit to make the production a success. They are:

Kathie O'Toole, Cindy DeBonis, Linda Biondi, Pat Mercier, Sue Kurzna, Marie Ceres, Jennifer Abbott, Ellen Sanders, Elaine Marano, Joe McGuire, Janet Ferriol, Hedwig Atherton, Maureen Gaudin, Janet Banta, Joan Banta, Ellen Mann, Bonnie Brehm, and Sue Brisk, Francine Casale, Alyson Fleischer, Susan Nisocia, Corinne Hasl, Edward Albanese, Larry Jinks, Michael Forte, Joseph Monda, Mark Smythe, William Ray, Patrick Butler, Edward Kennedy, Richard Baker, Susan Long, Marilyn Torra, Annabella Costa, "Tammy."

"My studies at Wilfred Beauty School are sponsored by the Jewish Youth Council . . . and I just love it here.

"It does take time to forget how it feels to go to a temple with armed police officers watching your every move, not your friends.

"Would the Mizrahis like to return to Egypt some day?" "Never," says Mrs. Mizrahi.

"This is it. This is where I want my children to be raised."

Nutty Radio Is Future Forecast

The man of the future, on a beautiful tropical island, may plug in to a coconut and hear sweet music.

It may not be quite that simple, but engineers are experimenting with getting electricity from coconut juice and have operated a transistor radio for 50 hours during a period of 45 days.

By letting certain bacteria called eromonas formicans break down the palm tree juice into formic acid, engineers at the Thompson Ramo Wooldridge, Inc., Redondo Beach, Calif., have operated a biochemical battery with the electrical current formed in the acid.

Such sugars, fruits and yams also can produce this formic acid. Scientists are hoping to find that ordinary leaves and grass may also be a source of electricity. The coconut electrical system, known as a biochemical fuel cell, can produce 150 watt-hours per pound of juice if operated for 1,000 hours or longer, the engineers found.

You and Your Insurance
(A public service column about all forms of insurance.)

PERSONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE PROVIDES IMPORTANT PROTECTION
Are you running the risk of financial ruin by failing to carry personal liability insurance? The hazards of every day life are everywhere realized or appreciated until something like this happens:
A guest in your home slips on a highly polished floor and injures himself.
A meter reader trips and falls down the cellar stairs.
Your dog sinks his teeth into the substitute matinee.
These things can — and often do — happen. Even the safest of homes can be the scene of an accident for which you may be held legally liable.
Responsibility in any accident is for the courts to decide. As for insurance protection, personal liability coverage — whether it is part of a homeowners package or a separate policy — would satisfy any judgment levied against you up to the policy limits. Generally the basic policy limits $25,000; but limits may be increased at an additional premium.
Additionally, personal liability insurance provides for legal counsel if a suit is brought against you.
This insurance protects you not only at home, but wherever you may go. Of course, you are not covered when driving in your automobile. Were you to be held legally liable for causing injury, possibly as the result of a hunting or even a golfing accident, the claim would be paid.
This column will be glad to answer questions you may have about property or casualty insurance. Send them to:

Refugees Life Under An Egyptian Police

After years of enforced poverty and humiliation in Nassar's police-terrorized Egypt, Mr. and Mrs. Isak Mizrahi have found a new lease on life in Belleville. They live at 21 Branch Brook Drive.

Mrs. Mizrahi, who is presently studying beauty culture at Wilfred Beauty School in Newark, told her story of an impossible life for her family in Egypt. She continued, "Then the government would check up on this declaration and invariably find something wrong."

"The result would be immediate confiscation and many times jail. But I found the worst deal was the harassment of our two daughters, Lisa and Josephine, who are now five and three years old."

"People would treat them as undesirable because they are blind and obviously non-Egyptians. Women have gone as far as to throw things at them to show their scorn for these 'foreign' children."

"My parents, brothers and sisters fled to Australia, but HIAS, the refugee service helped us in Paris. Originally this was the goal of all our dreams. But it was impossible for us to get jobs in Paris, so we continued to America."

"The Jewish Counseling Service has been just wonderful to us... they helped us find an apartment, my husband is now back in his old trade, which is interior decorating."

A NIGHT NOT FIT FOR A DOG

Miserable weather . . . Battery run down . . . Fuel line frozen . . . Car bogged down in snow. That's the time to call your service station operator. He'll start your car, fix a tire, or tow you out of a jam pronto.

He expects to be called out on a night not fit for a dog. He expects to be more than just a fair weather friend. But he expects something from you, too.

Your service station operator hopes you will think of him the next time your car needs a new battery, or tires, or a muffler, or any of a dozen other replacement items he carries and installs. He deserves and needs your replacement business to enable him to continue to give you all the "fair and foul weather services" you're so accustomed to receiving. Buy from the man who cares the most about your car — all year 'round.
