School 2 Hazardous, Says Chief

Board Is Warned Again of Safety Measure Needs

Fire Chief Carl F. Hundertpfund has ruled — again — that the auditorium at School 2 presents a safety hazard.

Monday night the chief made his report in a letter to Town Manager John R. Burnett which said the third floor auditorium would constitute a severe safety hazard for any group larger than 40.

The fire chief has made the recommendation regularly, he said, but the auditorium has been used by pupils anyway. The latest inspection of the school came at the request of concerned parents and members of the PTA who packeted the Board of Education recently in an effort to call attention to the auditorium.

It's a Hazard

Two Top Comedy Hits Coming To Local Theater

Peter Sellers, one of the world's top comedy performers, stars in "Heavens Above," both of which are now playing at the Capitol Belleville Theatre, Cinema V, re-releasing these two hits.

"I'm All Right Jack" is a deft satire which pokes fun at big business, labor unions, TV shows and international affairs. Sellers plays a righteous trade union leader who finds himself unhappily tangled in an impossible situation.

"Heavens Above" is about a vicar who nearly causes a religious revolution. Sellers, as the Reverend John Smallwood, comes to a small English town, in a matter of days, manages to have his parishioners mock him, praise him, and then hate him. Smallwood causes so much trouble that England's prime minister is called in to help find a solution.

"I'm All Right Jack" co-stars Sellers with Ian Carmichael, Terry Thomas, Richard Attenborough, Dennis Price and Margaret Rutherford. "Heavens Above" co-stars Cecil Parker, Isabel Jeans, Ian Carmichael and Erick Sykes. In addition to Sellers.

Telephone Co. Presents Talk For Classes

Mrs. Mary S. Williams, a customer training consultant for the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, visited the sixth and seventh period senior secretarial and transcription classes at Nutley High School, Tuesday, December 7.

"Fashions, Fads and Phones" was the title of the lecture presented by Mrs. Williams. Basically she discussed telephone technique not only for use in business offices but for home use as well.

The students had common sense applications of using the phone as an instrument of communication presented to them.

Commenting on Mrs. Williams' chairman of the Business Education Department, remarked, when a speaker possesses personality plus, the talk goes over exceptionally well.

Police Seize 3 Men In Robbery Attempt Friday

A young Belleville cop and Nutley police surprised three New York thugs during a robbery of the Vee Bee Esso Service Center at 389 Franklin Ave. early Friday morning and, after a chase throughout the area, arrested all three and charged them with armed robbery.

The trio had waved a gun at Bruno E. Latkowski, a night station attendant, bound him with fan belts, and were preparing to loot the cash register when the cops arrived on routine patrol.

One of the men, later identified as John J. Monroe, 35, of 592 Beech Terr., fled with Patrolman Martin McNish in pursuit. The young patrolman, who had been on the force less than a month, captured the suspect a block away. Meanwhile Latkowski emerged from the station yelling "Hold up!" and as startled cops looked his way Robert Sanella, 28 of 351 West End Terr. and a juvenile took off.

Sanella, Latkowski reported, wore a trenchcoat and had the gun. They were later captured about 4:15 a.m. in Belleville by (Continued On Page 15)

O'Connor's Pay Scale Is Set AT $1,000 Minimum

The controversial Bernard O'Connor appointment as part-time plumbing inspector took another turn Monday night at Town Hall when the council introduced an ordinance amending the salary for a $1,000-1,200 salary range.

The proposed amendment opposed vehemently by Town Manager John R. Burnett and passed by a 4-1 vote, is set for a public hearing Dec. 21.

Burnett told the council that fixing the lower pay scale amounted to a reduction in pay for O'Connor, who now earns $1,200 as part-time plumbing inspector. The entire matter would be thrown in the realm of politics, he cried, if the amendment proposed by Councilman Ralph A. Casale were approved.

No Pay Cut
Casale declared the wage adjustment did not necessarily mean that O'Connor's salary would be cut. Councilman William Cullen said there was nothing in the administrative code which forbade the council from

Routine Transfer Is Vetoed By Councilmen

The outlook for a merry Christmas looked bleak today for 21 town employes after the council refused to approve a routine transfer of 1965 current budget accounts.

"Unless I have the money, I can't pay them," said Francis McCoy, town treasurer, adding that he was only acting under the council's decision.

Councilman William Cullen had vetoed against the transfer and was joined by Councilmen James R. Golden who abstained, Mayor Nuncio R. Pico, and Councilmen Robert Westpy and Ralph A. Casale voted for its approval.

A Negative Vote
Was Councilman Cullen aware that his veto (four votes a transfer) would mean a stoppage of municipal salaries for 21 employees during Christmas week?

"I was not," said Cullen. He had voted against it because he thought it was improper, he said. It was an error in judgement, he suggested, but there was a solution already in sight.

"I have a feeling the mayor will call a meeting soon," he said. "They'll get paid," he predicted. Had the mayor called such a meeting? No, not yet, but he felt sure one would be forthcoming.

The Explanation
"We count every penny," said Town Manager John R. Burnett, who said it was just normal business practice to transfer funds from one department which had an excess to one which had a shortage. There was nothing illegal, he said.

It took McCoy to explain the mix-up.
There was no provision in the 1965 budget made for the pay increase made for Magistrate Abramson after July 1.

When former town attorney Leslie Finch left town service after two months at the beginning of the year and Jack Soriano was appointed, there was six months salary due and only four months funds to pay it with.

They're Affected
There were also salary increases for the signal superintendent and his assistant, said McCoy, plus the return of a former employee to the payroll.

The transfer had been voted down Nov. 22-31, with Golden killing the move with the single vote.

Affected by the shortage were members of the law department headed by Town Attorney Jack Soriano, the signal division, three members of the municipal court, and the finance department.

O'Connor, a committeeman, has been under fire from town politicians led by Mayor Senatore, Democratic chairman here, and a bitter foe of the plumbing inspector. He was appointed by Burnett Nov. 8 and has been criticized for not resigning his committee post as required by a dispositive motion by Burnett in 1963 which forbids employees to play politics during business hours.

Won't Be Fired
Burnett says he has no reason or authority to suspend O'Connor at this time, and added that his post was only active during election campaigns.

O'Connor, in an interview recently with The Belleville Times, said as long as he was not actively engaged in politics, there was no reason for him to resign. In any case, he said, the Senator woman also had a post which was only effective during election time and that he therefore had no one to submit his resignation to.

Belleville Couple Guilty of Libel

Neither Dany Writing Defamatory Letters
Jerry Capaneer and his wife Connie of 155 Franklin Avenue, were convicted of libeling a State Superior Court Judge after a two-day trial at Essex County Courthouse Dec. 7.

They were found guilty on three counts of criminal libel against Judge Walter H. Conklin in letters sent to Gov. Hughes, Atty. General Arthur J. Sills and former Superior Court Judge Alexander P. Waugh in 1962-63. Waugh has been an assignment judge in Essex County at the time.

The letters concerned a decision made by Judge Conklin Feb. 24, 1959 admitting the will of Mrs. Capaneer's father to probate. The decision was upheld by the Appellate Division on appeal. The will was favorable to Mrs. Capaneer's brother.

A handwriting expert testified that in his opinion the Capaneer's has signed the defamatory letter which neither denied writing. Capaneer handled his own defense for a good part of the trial, maintaining that the libel action was an infringement on the rights of a citizen to complain about a public official.

During the 1959 trial the will approved by Conklin was favorable to Mrs. Capaneer's relatives. After the two-hour trial the jury handed down the guilty verdict and Essex County Judge Charles Barrett Jan. 27 for sentencing.

The couple could be sentenced to a maximum of three years, plus a $1,000 fine on each count.

Variance OK'd For $110,000 Apartment

A variance for the construction of an 18-unit garden apartment at 614-620 Mill St. was approved by the Town Council Monday night. Frank Racioppo, 14 Janet Ln. Springfield is the builder. The 3 1/2 room units are in a B residential zone.

Refresher Nurses Course Is Offered

Newark Beth Israel Hospital, as a public service, will participate in a new statewide program to solve the nursing shortage by giving a special Free Refresher Course for "inactive graduate professional nurses at the beginning of the new year."

While the basic principles of Nursing have not changed, many inactive nurses hesitate to return to nursing work because of the multiple developments in drugs and medications, changes in medical care, and development of new equipment, explained Miss F. Katz, R.N., Director of Nursing at Beth Israel.

Newark Beth Israel's Refresher Course will bring such nurses up-to-date so that they will feel confident and enthusiastic about returning to active nursing. The course will start January 24, 1966 and will continue for 8 weeks on Monday, Tuesday and Friday, from 8:30 A.M. to 3 P.M. There will be no fee for the course.

COURTESY-MINDED residents living near the proposed nursing home at 9-11 Forest Ave. met at Town Hall Monday night to check the latest developments. Spokesmen for the 15 residents was Mrs. Erva De Luca, 40 Sanford Ave. and her neighbor Mrs. Penetti, shown here speaking to Town Attorney Jack Soriano (back to camera). He assured the group their interests were being protected by the appeal being made on the ruling.

After a full course dinner, Santa will make an appearance and distribute gifts of clothing and toys. The officers will also give the home a new portable TV set. The PBA is led by president Michael V. Marotti, co-chairman Frank Gingerelli and Ed Mead, and committeemen John Marotti, James Mundy, Bart Rossi, Nicholas Berrigan, Anthony Fantacone, and Joe Matera.

Law Requires Persons To Give Serial Number

Federal tax law requires that individuals receiving dividends or interest income furnish their social security numbers to organizations paying the income.

Most taxpayers have already supplied their numbers to banks, savings institutions, life insurance companies and corporations in which they own stocks or bonds. An intensive campaign to obtain any missing numbers is currently being conducted by these dividend and interest payers.

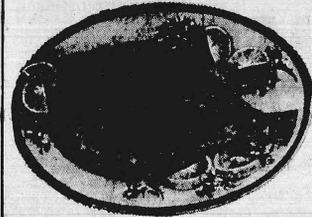

The law provides penalties for both business firms and individuals who do not comply.

Nice for company: cauliflower-erets (cooked) served with brown butter sauce and slivered toasted almonds.

Pucciarello Leads The Bellboys To Victory Over Garfield 70-59

By STEVE CHAREN

Rich Pucciarello poured in 32 points mostly on long jump short to come within four points of the school scoring record as he led Belleville to a 70-59 victory over foul-happy Garfield in the season's opener.

The Boilermakers had made it close before losing steam by moving to within six points of the lead three times during the hectic final quarter. Pucciarello kept the Bellboys alive by depositing 14 points and Garfield finally collapsed when four Boilermakers (including Keven Rusnak) who made 18 of his 21 points during the second half comeback bid, fouled out during the final two and a half minutes.

Pucciarello's effort put him third on the all-time BHS high scoring list right behind Dom Klein, with 36 points, and Bill Rush with 31. Hitting equally well from the corner keyhole, the 6-foot senior guard clicked on 11 of 21 field goal attempts. "Pueh" also connected with 10 straight free throws — eight under pressure in the final period — after missing the initial one.

Consistent Lead

Starting evenly with six points in each of the first three quarters, Pucciarello steered the Bellboys until wrapping it up with his fourth quarter onslaught.

Ken Fulmore also played a major role in the Bellboys efforts by accounting for 20 points and nine of their 36 rebounds. Nine of Fulmore's points came during the second quarter Belleville attack which widened the margin from five to 16 points by half time.

Other than these two players, the Bellboys were generally disappointing. After drilling on defense for over a month, the Blue and Gold were below their expected form.

Sheridan's Foul

A battle between Art Sheridan and Rich San Filippo for the guard spot opposite Pucciarello never materialized when San Filippo turned up on the sick list. Complications set in when Sheridan got into early foul trouble. Jim Catalano got the call for three quarters of spot duty before Sheridan finally fouled out with four minutes remaining in the game.

Bob Paterson started at the forward spot opposite Fulmore before being replaced by Nick Pizzuto, who saw limited action due to a back ailment. He was later expelled on a technical foul.

Harry Baker played most of the game at center hauling down rebounds, but sat out most of his final quarter as first Paterson, and then Don Wedekind replaced him in the defense.

Good, But Slow

Despite the win, the Bellboys were a generally disappointed group Friday night after most stumbling over the lightly-rated Boilermakers.

At this point the starting lineup is still up in the air.

After breaking away from a 10-10 tie, Belleville had moved to a 17-12 first quarter score. Then with 6:00-2 Fulmore collecting nine of his 20 points, the Bellboys poured it on to spur ahead for a 37-21 half-time margin.

A spread that's really savory, easy to prepare and different is made with 1 family size can of deviled ham, a 3-ounce package cream cheese, 1 tablespoon horseradish and a half teaspoon onion juice. Mound on serving dish and garnish with a rim of chopped parsley — like a "sweat."

Hub persistent grease spots and stains with thick suits, then sponge with cold water before putting in the machine. If a spot is still there, use a stain remover.

Senator Stamler Is Right

Leaders of both major political parties are being asked to join hands to elect a bipartisan group of delegates to the Constitutional Convention which will attempt to solve the problem of congressional and legislative reapportionment. Senator Nelson Stamler, Republican of Union County, has urged leaders of both political parties to exclude incumbent legislators from serving as delegates to the convention. Senator Stamler believes incumbent legislators may have a self-serving interest which would be difficult to ignore as they sit to deliberate the fate of the convention. We completely agree with Senator Stam-

ler. We believe no present legislator from Essex should serve as a delegate. The suggestion that we should seek their service in order to draw upon their experience is simple nonsense. Judging from some of their experiences we can well do without them. In a county that boasts a million population it would appear to us that political leaders responsible for the selection of Constitutional Convention delegates would have no difficulty in discovering a score of citizens of the calibre necessary to insure success for next year's convention. Foist Period Honore Role

We have been opposed to the imposition of a state sales tax and personal income tax. We remain so. Broad-based taxes of this nature start off at very low rates and they have a habit of becoming the targets of pressure groups seeking greater state benefits. An examination of the case histories of other cities and states burdened with either or both of these broad-based taxes proves the point — once levied the tax is never removed — and once levied the rate moves in one direction — up. Governor Richard J. Hughes is recommending a state budget which will require additional funds. There is much merit to the Governor's proposal to expand state services to citizens.

We believe progress can be purchased for New Jersey without a new tax. We believe special legislation should be enacted combining the operations of the State Highway Department, Garden State Parkway and the New Jersey Turnpike. Such a merger would effect substantial savings. Legislation creating the merger should include a stipulation to divert the huge surplus funds of Garden State Parkway and New Jersey Turnpike for new and broadened state services. We would also purchase progress through modest bond issues — a technique long employed by governors of our proud state. F.A.O.

Flouridation Receives OK Of The Irish Public

Ireland's successful battle against tooth decay was dramatically outlined at a public foundation seminar at Rutgers University. The story of the first national flouridation program was presented by Michael Stanley, Assistant Principal Officer, Department of Health, Dublin. Stanley, chief speaker at the seminar, played an important role in the enactment of Ireland's Health Act of 1960 which requires flouridation. He predicted that by April, 1966, citizens of most Irish cities and large towns will be enjoying the benefits of this modern public health measure.

Controversy raged in the Emerald Isle before and after passage of the law but came to an end in 1963 when Justice Kenny of the Irish High Court ruled that the Health Act does not infringe any of the rights guaranteed by the Irish Constitution. At that time the Court ruled that objections of the measure failed to refute the evidence that flouridation is not only the most effective method but is indeed the only effective method to control the regrettable state of dental health suffered by the great majority of Irish children. Dental decay was considered by the medical community to be the most urgent health problem in Ireland.

Stanley spoke for Dublin's Department of Health in stating that "flouridation of public water supplies is now firmly accepted as a proven, necessary public health measure without which it would be impossible to cope with the widespread amount of serious dental decay in the population at large." The seminar was planned to educate responsible citizens of New Jersey to the efficacy, safety and comparative inexpensiveness of flouridation. It was sponsored jointly by the New Jersey State Dental Society, the New Jersey State Department of Health and the New Jersey Public Health Association. Coordinator of the program was P. Richard Wexler, D.D.S., Chief, Chairman of the Dental Society's Steering Committee on Flouridation and Chairman of the Dental Health Committee of the

New Jersey Public Health Association. "In July of this year," Dr. Wexler reported, "New Jersey ranked 44th among the fifty states in the percentage of its population benefiting from water supplies with the natural or controlled flouridation. The Seminar was planned to educate the public to this modern health miracle and to stimulate its adoption by communities throughout the state.

"Compared with air pollution, schools, sewage disposal, juvenile delinquency, urban renewal and the dozens of other problems with which a community's governing officials must deal, flouridation is strikingly simple. It has been proven beyond a shadow of a doubt to be beneficial, cheap and easy to engineer. For the sake of the children of all future generations it cannot be adopted and implemented too soon."

Representatives of the three sponsoring agencies provided strong endorsement of the measure. The panel of speakers, besides Mr. Stanley, included Clarence Schweidkard, D.D.S., Dental Consultant, Division of Welfare; Abram Cohen, D. D. S., J.A.C.D., Assistant Director of Medical Services in charge of Dental Services, Philadelphia Board of Education; Louis H. Sogaro, D.D.S., Supervisor, Dental Health Program, New Jersey Department of Health; and John Cane, D.D.S., Secretary, New Jersey Public Health Council. Dr. Cane recently returned from Ireland where he observed, firsthand, that country's successful flouridation installations. He was instrumental in inviting Mr. Stanley to participate in the Seminar.

While American children are putting their gifts beneath the tree, Slavic youngsters go to sleep on a bed of straw and hay on Christmas Eve, to share in Christ's humble birth. A special treat for kids of some generations so might be the privilege of a ride on the Yule Log as it was dragged into the manor or castle. A favorite game was Snapdragon — in which players tried to snatch a raisin from a bowl of burning spices

Legion Comdr. Talks Over Membership Rules

With the American Legion in the forefront of the drive to bring Vietnam receives a Christmas Gift, there have been many inquiries by local veterans on joining the Legion and also what stand the Legion is taking concerning the Vietnam veteran. Regardless of what words are used to describe the hostilities in Vietnam — "The American Legion realizes that we are engaged in a real shooting war. The Legion is asking Congress to extend to Vietnam Veterans readjustment benefits similar to those provided under the GI Bill of Rights for World War II and Korean War veterans.

In addition, National Commander L. Eldon James has appointed a special committee, headed by past National Commander J. Addington Wagner of Battle Creek, Mich. to iron out the technical and legal problems of extending American Legion membership eligibility to the new generation of war veterans in the making.

The Legion is chartered by the Congress of the United States and its membership eligibility requirements are specifically established in the charter. The special committee has the task of drawing up suggested changes in the Legion National constitution, and in the federal charter which would permit Vietnam service men and women to join the organization after their discharge from service or after the cessation of hostilities.

The plan is to distribute the committee's report to all state organizations of the Legion by next March so that action can be voted on it at state conventions with final action scheduled for the 48th National Convention of the American Legion Aug. 26-Sept. 1, 1966 in Washington, D.C. Changes in the Legion constitution can only be adopted by a two-thirds vote of the delegates to the annual Convention.

Current eligibility for membership in the American Legion World War II: Dec. 7 1941 to Sept. 2, 1945; and Korean War: June 25, 1950 to July 27, 1953. With a membership in excess of 2 1/2 million, the American Legion is recognized as the world's largest veterans organization. Veterans in Belleville who are interested and meet the requirements are welcome at our Post Home, 621 Washington Ave. Belleville. Post 106 meets each Monday of each month.

Four Guys And Dolls Thank The Press . . .

To the Editor, Belleville Times: We, the stars of "Guys and Dolls" would like to thank you for giving our production the great amount of publicity you did. Our fellow students expressed their concern over the review published in your paper, but criticism is not needed at this time, only thanks for a splendid coverage.

It is a challenge to know that there is a real critic in the audience, and that our performances are to be judged by a professional. In our first presentation, "My Fair Lady," there was no publicity before the production, and only one small article after the show. Your coverage of the show was most extensive, and through pictures and articles, possibly increased our house both for "Guys and Dolls" and our next presentation. Again, we would like to thank you for your time, and the coverage we received, and we do hope to see you in the audience for our next presentation in May of 1966.

We hope you enjoy our work as much then. Dave Bukunus

Reader Decries Wasted Time During Meetings

To the Editor, Belleville Times: The Board of Education secretary is quoted in a recent news story as having commented, "It's too bad they can't all be that way." The reference was to the tardiness of the meeting at which Michael Rosamilia was appointed acting superintendent.

Observing the lady sitting at her desk head bowed in seeming concentration, it comes as no surprise that her mood is not only one of boredom but of impatience as well. She will find many a citizen agreeing that hour upon hour of senseless harrasing and harranging of the superintendent has certainly consumed and wasted much precious time. For instance on the agenda at the last regular board meeting was the resolution designed to exert some control over the entrance of strangers into the school building who might be contemplating harm to a child. (The PTA's had requested it.) In little under a minute Di Ruggiero was accusing the superintendent of ulterior motives and what not. Then persecutor Juliano took over. He scowled and scoffed at the preparation, the presentation and kept referring to the hazardous wording because it did not specify "Who was considered a visitor?"

Finally the board attorney aroused himself to offer the earth-shaking opinion that "even a board member could be considered a visitor since he did not actually work in the school buildings," and would be required to report to the principal's office to secure a badge.

Nearly an hour was wasted while the majority indulged in it's favorite sport of badgering and belittling the superintendent with their hateful innuendos and slurring accusations. The disgusting exhibition continued until it became unmistakably obvious that the concern was not the protection of children, but their own selfish desires to preserve for themselves the privilege of entering a school building unobserved, and which might cause even the most partisan principal or staff member to wonder what kind of monkey business is going on?

Time is money, and unlike money lost time can never be found. Juliano and Arvidson have wasted enough time and taxpayers money. Their defeat at the February election will remove these two drawbacks to education and relieve the source of irritation which prompted the boards secretary's lament.

BECK'S COLUMN

We continue to get calls from customers complaining about ghosts on stations, where they did not have them before. Sometimes the antenna may have been turned by a heavy wind. Just about everybody knows in which direction his antenna pointed. This is the first thing that should be checked. We had numerous complaints after aluminum siding has been attached to a house. This, as a rule, has a profound effect on TV reception.

Another cause for considerable change in TV reception is the construction of high buildings. A typical example here in Belleville is the large steel and glass structure of Hoffmann Lo-Roche. We mentioned some time ago, the changes due to the New Holy Family Church, not to mention the apartment building on River Road. Public Service ran a new string of power lines and these changed reception in some sections considerably.

Sometimes one can do something about these changed conditions by installing a different kind of antenna. In most cases the trouble is a poor image (or ghost, as it is frequently called). This is not the fault of the set, it comes in through the antenna. Often there is nothing to be done and one has to live with it.

Kyle Rote Gives The Kids Some Good Sports Advice

By KYLE ROTE

The regular high school and college football season has finally come to an end and, with the exception of those who may play in the post season bowl games, it's the end of the line — seniors leaving high school to go to college, and some of course will have to forego college and go to work immediately.

A few of the college seniors will go on and take post graduate work — a very few may play pro football; but most will be venturing into the business world for the first time. This brings our thoughts to the men who have been most instrumental in preparing these boys for their next big step — the high school and college coaches.

I think it can be reasonably concluded that a boy's coach is in many respects, closer to a youngster than even the youngster's father — a tremendous responsibility — and although a coach's professional career unfortunately often depends upon how many victories his team collects, he also must live with HIMSELF — and, thus, at this time of the year, it might weigh heavily on the coach's mind — how successful was he in equipping his players for their future BATTLES?

Was he able to impart to his boys not only the RULES of the game, but even more important, that these rules are the BASIC rules for ANYTHING the boys may do — that you must sometimes throw a block to spring the other fellow loose — that you will not always win, but that you should not shoot for anything less — and that anything is possible within the established boundaries.

As these seniors make their way into the world, it is to be hoped that the coach usually known better than anybody else whether or not he has fulfilled his obligation — a responsibility that doesn't show up in the von and lost columns.

As is customary at this time of year, we'll see where some high school and college coaches will be replaced — coaches who really were winners, but whose records failed to reflect this.

Correspondingly, I'm sure a few coaches with winning records will be retained although, in reality, they were not that victorious.

Taxpayers Asked To Review Their Tax Papers Now

All taxpayers should review the withholding exemption certificate (Form W-4) filed with their employers sometime during the month of December.

The information on this certificate is used by your employer to determine how much Federal Income Tax to deduct from your pay. Therefore, it is important that the information on it be accurate and up to date at all times.

If your present certificate is correct, it need not be changed. If it is in error either because your exemptions have changed, or for other reasons, get a new certificate, fill it out and return it to your employer.

Usually your exemptions change when you get married or divorced, when a dependent is born or dies, or when you begin or stop supporting a dependent.

Be careful to avoid claiming any exemption that the law does not allow. Any taxpayer who knowingly claims a false exemption is subject to prosecution.

If you expect to owe more income tax for the year than will be withheld if you claim every exemption to which you are entitled, you may increase the withholding by claiming a smaller number of exemptions or you may enter into an agreement with your employer to have additional amounts withheld. This is especially important if you have more than one employer, or if both husband and wife are employed.

When you check your exemption certificate or prepare a new one, you should also check the Social Security Number reported on it with the number shown on your Social Security card.

This is important because your tax records are identified by your social security number. Last year the Internal Revenue Service found that thousands of taxpayers had reported the wrong number to either their employers or to the Internal Revenue Service.

If your earnings are not credited to your exact number, you may have difficulty in claiming your Social Security benefits.

For forms and further information, consult your employer or any Internal Revenue Service officer.

Save Taxes Year-Round Says Financial Writer

At least one author has reduced the complex subject of your taxes to easily understood advice with ideas — some new and some obvious — that can mean money in your pocket. He is Tax Editor Milton Christie, of The Kiplinger Washington Editors, whose Changing Times Library book has just been released in revised 1966 edition.

Christie writes not only to help the average person meet his April 15 tax deadline with money saved, but also puts tax savings on a year-round basis to apply both before and AFTER the deadline for filing individual returns.

"You and Your Taxes" is for anyone who would like to make a substantial saving in his budget. The author suggests you probably have not really tried to save in the easiest way of all and go on to show that it is "by cutting the taxes you pay."

After recognizing that just filling out the return is about as close as most taxpayers want to get to the subject of taxes, Christie offers the first of many statements which brings the complex subject down to earth.

He knows the average person considers the return confusing, the instructions barely understandable, the tax law for lawyers. "What most people don't realize," points out Christie, "is that the tax law consists mainly of hundreds of pages of special treatments and exceptions to the basic rates."

The next mistake, he says, "is to assume that these relief provisions are designed mainly for the rich, who can afford to hire high-priced tax advisers to help them." Nothing could be further from the truth, according to this authority.

Best of all, regardless of your circumstances, the provisions of the tax law "can be used on a do-it-yourself basis. Constructing a sound tax program for personal use is no more complicated than any other home project. The final result — no matter how formidable it may look — is made up of simple parts put together step-by-step."

"You and Your Taxes" shows the steps, including listing of all your deductions, being certain you claim your exemptions, taking advantage of tax angles on investments, knowing what's taxable so you don't overpay and saving with little known features of the tax law.

Planning how to fill in that tax return through the previous year is the Kiplinger guide's way to avoid being one of the millions who overpay their taxes. The situation that fits you may not fit next month or next year.

Arranged by broad topics — your income, exemptions, contributions, medical expenses, investments, housing and so on — this book also includes easy-to-follow forms.

But get started. "The person who does nothing about his taxes until he sits down to fill out his return one evening in April probably is spending more money than he has to."

Christmas Is Family Celebration

In the midst of the Christmas rush, we often overlook the real importance of Christmas as a family celebration. This is the season to continue family tradition or begin to build patterns we will remember and cherish.

Some families hang a wreath on the door, give each other a present, eat a turkey dinner, and call it a day. What kind of memories will these occasions leave?

A Christmas to remember begins long before Christmas Day: All members of the family have a share in planning. Each person prepares little surprises for the others.

Trimming the tree in a special way or with treasured ornaments that have a family history are some ways to help children establish a feeling for the past.

Children can get more pleasure from preparing for Christmas than from just receiving many presents. Their own efforts and participation bring joy and satisfaction.

To look forward only to receiving presents is to lose the best that this season has to offer. Parents worn out with preparations for Christmas are often disappointed because their efforts are not appreciated. They are discontented and regard the children as selfish and inconsiderate.

The youngsters need a real opportunity to participate, help with decorations, presents, and special festivities.

Christmas can be a day to celebrate family traditions, which give meaning and sense of continuity.

'Convenience, Confidence' Is The Aim Of Christmas Seal Drive

Something new has been added to the traditional Christmas Seal Appeal by the Essex County Tuberculosis League, according to Leslie Blau, Christmas Seal Campaign Chairman. Yesterday, at the League's headquarters with Norman P. McGrory, President. Blau demonstrated how to use the new all-in-one mailing piece to distribute Christmas Seals and seek contributions.

"Convenience and confidence are 'musts' in financing voluntary health services and the Essex County TB League is actively promoting both," said McGrory, who is the executive vice president of The Howard Savings Institution.

More than 5,000 residents of Belleville will receive the new appeal in the County-wide mailing starting November 15, the round-trip envelope with a detachable letter will replace the customary Christmas Seal package of items which included a separate letter and return envelope.

"It makes it easier to give, and at the same time cuts the cost of raising funds, so that more money goes directly to our community health programs," Blau said.

Essex County contributors have shown their confidence in the League's year-round educational and service programs," Blau added, "and this action to trim costs can only add to that confidence."

Tuberculosis is still very much with us. In 1964 Essex County ranked first in New Jersey in the number of new cases reported—500. To this number must be added its 43,170 existing TB cases.

Welfare Council Hears Question Of Philanthropy Discussed Here

"Philanthropy in the United States is 'big business' which realized a total of $10.6 billion in 1964, yet the standards of agencies benefiting from these funds vary from excellent to extremely questionable."

This was the statement made by Frank D. Oblinger of the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce to the Belleville Community Welfare Council Dec. 6. Oblinger, Service Bureau Manager of the chamber spoke on the solicitation review program of his organization.

He pointed out that members of the business community are prime prospects for any organization seeking to raise funds. Not only are they asked to contribute money, but often to assume positions of leadership in the different agencies.

He said that it was neither feasible nor necessary for business and professional persons to become experts in philanthropy. Instead, the Chamber has set up a central service to conduct such an examination and furnish information to its constituency.

In rendering such a service, the Chamber helps to keep faith with three vital groups:

- 1 The contributors numbering some 50 or 60 million across the country.
- 2 The volunteers, numbering in the millions, who provide their services without remuneration, and
- 3 The general public who opt through government, a helpful tax exemption.

Horace D. Baldwin, Council vice chairman, presided.

Red Cross First Aid Will Minimize Fire Hazards

Fire, which ranked third nationally among accidental killers in 1964, will receive special attention in first aid classes conducted in New Jersey by the American Red Cross, said Howard C. Camp, Jr., area director of Safety Services of the Red Cross.

The 7,700 deaths in the United States attributed to fires and burns by the National Safety Council, last year, were exceeded only by those from motor vehicle accidents and falls, Camp says.

Fires from matches and smoking are responsible nationally for 22 per cent of the fatalities, with misuse of electrical equipment a

That Beautiful Snow Can Cause Some Ugly Problems For Hearts

Deceptively innocent looking, like the legendary Lorelei, snow goes on luring men to their doom, season after season. The occasional devastating avalanche is the most dramatic manifestation of snow's power to do harm.

But even more insidious, the Essex County Heart Association warns, may be its fluffy white blankets and drifts, lying beautifully passive when they fall on your driveway and walks — just asking to be shoveled away.

And the middle-aged sedentary American householder, bestirring himself from his cozy hearth to heft his trusty shovel and have a go at the stuff, may be asking for trouble.

For men in the age group between 40 and 74, the Essex County Heart Association advises:

- * If you have heart disease, don't shovel snow without your doctor's approval.
- * If you are over 40 and healthy, you may shovel, but take it easy. Snow-shoveling is strenuous exercise, and can kick back at the heart of a person who is unaccustomed to regular physical activity. Cold weather intensifies the strain on the heart.
- * It's better to shovel before eating or wait an hour after eating, as you should for most vigorous exercise. AND don't smoke while working; tobacco causes constriction of the blood vessels, just as cold air does. The combination can be dangerous.
- * Never shovel to the point of exhaustion. Don't let the invigorating air or a warming spot of whisky fuel you.
- * Dress warmly in loose, comfortable heavy clothing, muffling ears and throat, keeping hands and feet dry.
- * When you shovel, lift with your entire body (each shovel-full of dry snow weighs four pounds plus the weight of the shovel; wet snow is much heavier). Let your back and leg muscles take some of the strain off your arms.
- * If you become breathless, rest until breathing is easy. If you feel a tightness in the chest, quit.
- * Last, and probably the best word of advice: hire the neighbor's boy to do the job for you.

- * If you have heart disease, don't shovel snow without your doctor's approval.
- * If you are over 40 and healthy, you may shovel, but take it easy. Snow-shoveling is strenuous exercise, and can kick back at the heart of a person who is unaccustomed to regular physical activity. Cold weather intensifies the strain on the heart.
- * It's better to shovel before eating or wait an hour after eating, as you should for most vigorous exercise. AND don't smoke while working; tobacco causes constriction of the blood vessels, just as cold air does. The combination can be dangerous.
- * Never shovel to the point of exhaustion. Don't let the invigorating air or a warming spot of whisky fuel you.
- * Dress warmly in loose, comfortable heavy clothing, muffling ears and throat, keeping hands and feet dry.
- * When you shovel, lift with your entire body (each shovel-full of dry snow weighs four pounds plus the weight of the shovel; wet snow is much heavier). Let your back and leg muscles take some of the strain off your arms.
- * If you become breathless, rest until breathing is easy. If you feel a tightness in the chest, quit.
- * Last, and probably the best word of advice: hire the neighbor's boy to do the job for you.

SAN JOAQUIN EMPEROR COLE SLAW: Cole Slaw with a difference; halved and seeded Emperor grapes put a delicious note of variety in this San Joaquin Emperor Cole Slaw.

Silvered berries, leaves, seed pods and sprays of ivy may be made by pouring a small amount of aluminum paint into a deep container almost filled with water. The paint floats on the water. Dip the material to be silvered into the water and draw it out slowly. Hold it over the container until it has stopped dropping. Then hang it in a dry place for 24 hours. Aluminum paint for metal surfaces works best.

Dispite Some Flashes Of Brilliance, It Was A Slow Game Over Garfield

Sideline Byline

Steve Choren

CRUCIAL GAME: While in the midst of searching for the right combination, the Bellboys will run into one of the most important games of their season next Tuesday when they invade Orange.

Besides trying to avenge the school for a grid upset, Al Lo Balbo's cagers will be running up against one of the leading contenders in the eight team dog-fight for the Big Ten Conference crown. A successful rebuilding job during last seasons 3-15 campaign saw the Tornadoses improving at year's end, while their Junior Varsity went through the calendar smashing opponent after opponent (including Belleville) by a 73-32 count.

THE VETERANS: Returning from the Varsity group Coach Huddy Mahon will have Ron Jennings a 5-foot-11 senior who averaged 14.4 points a game as a junior, plus Doug Jones (5-11), Morris Billingslea (6-3), and Rich Estell (5-8).

Up from that potent JV squad, several big boys such as Ben Mitchell, Steve Daniels, and Bob Butts will add to the Tornado cause. This one game could go a long way in deciding the Big Ten title.

TOURNEY: TIME: The wrestling team goes into action tomorrow at Bloomfield's Invitation Tournament. Jim Silvestri's charges will be hoping to bring home some trophies — especially in the light weight division.

Intersquad battlers during this week were literally the deciding factor in which grapplers would represent the Bellboys. Among certain starters are returnees Nick Di Domenico (98 pounds), Frank Morgan (122), Bill Buist (130), Joe Villano (136), and Mike Oliveri (147). With a little bit of luck, several of the Bellboys could win their weight classes, and Belleville could walk off with the Tourney crown. Let's Hope!

NJIAA REBUKED: Combined efforts by schools throughout North and Central Jersey were successful in beating back New Jersey State interscholastic Athletic Association recommendations that, among other things, would have killed the Essex County Basketball Tournament, and the Greater Newark Baseball Tournament while limiting regular diamond games to 18 and tourney participation to the IAA version.

Gathered in a coach-clanque at the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark, the state's scholastic powers led the way to the measure's massive defeats. In so doing the NJIAA's bid to bring their tourneys to a position of pre-eminence was killed.

DISAPPOINTED: Despite their opening triumph, the Bellboy cager were disappointed in their showing at Garfield. After drilling in defense for over a month, the Blue and Gold weren't too impressive while fouling frequently.

With Nick Pizzuto being expelled after taking part in a melee during the game, and Art Sheridan fouling out, the player position was still a question mark after the game.

MARATHON: Plans for the Marathon Basketball Game continued to materialize when the Board of Education agreed to the use of the Junior High School Gym if appropriate adult supervision, medical care, and insurance precautions were available.

Help from some local civic group will probably be enlisted along these ends.

Ken Fulmore Adds Spice To Boilermakers Defeat

Boilermakers came back to outscore Belleville 19-11 in the third quarter. As Garfield threatened to pull within six points of leaders a quarter later, foul trouble came up with them. Rusnak was the first to go with 2:20 remaining. He was followed in rapid succession by Pete Vagell and Jim Scotta. Both had accounted for 12 points, with the Bellboys freezing out the clock. Jim Saganiec became the final Boilermaker to foul-out.

In the preliminary contest, the Bellboy Junior varsity triumphed 42-33. Sparked by four juniors plus soph Jim Bailey, the Junior Bellboys pulled ahead 12-4 in the first quarter and never relinquished the lead.

Capt. Smith Is Awarded Medal

Marine Capt. Robert W. Smith, son of Mrs. Stanley W. Smith of 92 Charles St., Belleville, was awarded the Air Medal in ceremonies at Marine Air Group 16, DaNang, Viet Nam, while serving as a member of Marine Observation Squadron-2. "For meritorious achievement in aerial flight."

The squadron, a unit of the First Marine Aircraft Wing, flies the Marine Corps "Huey" helicopter as escort for heli-borne assault missions.

A graduate of Rutgers University entered the Marines in March 1963.

Four Teams Lead Rec-Basketball Senior League

Donald K. Brady, who was faced with charges of assault and battery on a Parsippany-Troy Hills Township patrolman Nov. 4 after he sped through four towns and struck a bus while trying to escape, was fined $75 and had his license revoked for 60 days.

The 40-year-old Belleville man told Magistrate Fairfield Rueben Appet in Municipal Court Dec. 8 that he had only been driving "about 50", but the skeptical magistrate decided in favor of Patrolman Stephen Filipow, who said he picked up Brady after he entered Fairfield more than 100 miles pershour.

The assault charge came after off-duty Patrolman Walter Witt said he was struck by Brady's car believed him to be too drunk to drive. He was thrown some eight feet as Brady sped off, he said.

Patrolman Filipow told the court he apprehended Brady, who lives at 79 Smallwood Ave., only after he struck the bus, which had stopped for a traffic light.

In last weeks game in the Recreation Men's Basketball League the Oilhouse team continued its victory run by defeating the strong Kearny Yacht Club 35-23. Seventeen points by C. Bowen and 10 more by B. Zieler were the foundation for the Oilhouse victory.

The Devious Way Of A Councilman

as a town constable during the Nov. 22 meeting of the town council, but was unable to get a second for his appointment.

Why the councilman wanted Raimo for the non-paying job with no authority, a hold-over from an archaic municipal code, he didn't say.

But Mayor Nuncia R. Pico offered this explanation: "We couldn't appoint a man who works for an alcoholic beverage company as town constable." Raimo, he said was a driver for a beer distributor when he wasn't a part-time newspaper editor.

BHS Bowlers Hit A Fast Opening Season Victory

Belleville High School Bowling team opened its annual season with a win over Caldwell Dec. 9 in the Northern New Jersey Interscholastic Bowling League.

Led by Mike Rowitz and Doug McCumber, they downed a Caldwell team with B.H.S. members Don Basile and Nick Berkey. They were coached by Mike Sarzanulo.

Rowitz rolled a 265 game and a 375 series; while McCumber, tumbled 2 530 game for a 177 average. Bob Santin also rolled a 183 for second high game of the day.

Santa bug got you? Let Fidelity Help

There are so many ways to let Fidelity help at Christmas. Perhaps, for you, it's with a small personal loan to tide you over the yuletide. Or a United States savings bond, specially gift-packaged at any office. Or a low-cost money order to guarantee your gift of cash won't get lost. Or, for the foresighted, a 1966 Christmas Club. Really, if Fidelity did any more to brighten your holiday, one of our vice presidents might get stuck in your chimney.

Belleville Boy Scouts Prepare Their Christmas Parties

Scouts Make Holiday Plans

Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Scouts who recruited boys during the annual fall roundup that ends this month. "During the weekly den meetings which precede the Christmas round-up party," the chairman said, "Cub Scouts will learn the real meaning of the holidays." Cub Scout Packs will feature and of Cub Scout ideals. Den Pack leaders will stress the theme "Happy, Game, and world brotherhood and good will" and will cooperate with charter ed institutions in their service projects." Boy Scout Troops will follow the theme "Muscle Men" and will hold a "Fitness Party" during December as a part of the Fitness program of the Boy Scouts of America. Patrol and troop champions will be selected for such events as sit-ups, pull-ups, standing broad jump, and 50-yard dash. A highlight of the Fitness Party will be a Christmas gift exchange.

These special activities for December have been suggested for the high-school-age Explorers. One meeting may feature "first-hand reports" from alumni who are now in college or in military or civilian jobs and who will form a panel to report on their experiences. Another suggested activity is a night shift tour of the city to visit people who work at night. A holiday party is also suggested for December for the Explorers.

New Kiwanis Club Holds Organizing Meet December 7

The Branch Brook Belleville official organization meeting Tuesday evening Dec. 7 at the Galaxy Restaurant, Belleville, with a representative from the Chicago offices of Kiwanis International present to receive the petition for organization. All pledged their support and complimented the newly elected James Van Nuy of Manasquan at welcomed the new club along with the governor-elect for 1966 Mervyn Y.T. Haines, of Livingston. On hand to congratulate the new club were delegations from the sponsoring clubs of Bloomfield and Nutley, as well as delegations from North Arlington, Glen Ridge, Newark, Livingston, Caldwell-W. Essex, and Ironbound Newark.

Senior Grads Are Leaving Ranks Open To JV Boys

After starting the year with record-turn-out, Belleville's well-groomed "Minor League" grid teams have proceeded to rack up the best composite record in BHS history.

The defense-minded Junior Varsity turned in one of its best seasons by taking its last five games for a 5-2 mark. Meanwhile, the Belbo's outstanding sophomore squad was powering its way to a 5-1-2 season.

Eisenhard and Joe Shelesky plus fullback Frank Aiello into the battle.

This should develop into one of the more interesting battles at the '65 training camp' although Ferrughelli (who finished the year as Varsity corner-back) and Sertitella will also be in the running for defensive secondary posts.

New Christmas Bikes Demand Safety Talk

Don't buy your youngsters a bike this Christmas unless you can also afford the time to explain carefully how he must operate respect, and obey traffic laws governing the new vehicle, says the New Jersey Auto Club (AAA).

This Christmas over 700,000 American youngsters will receive bikes from their parents but less than ten per cent will be taught properly how to ride the bikes, according to AAA Club.

As a result, says the Auto Club, the yearly bike accident toll will not be diminished but will instead climb to over 700 killed and about 36,000 injured.

A hot sandwich with a sauce is a tasty meal. Make the sauce by combining cream of mushroom soup with two or three tablespoons of dry sherry. Then spoon it over thin slices of ham and tomatoes atop hot buttered toast.

State Hunter Safety Best In The Country

New Jersey's hunter safety program has been recognized as one of the best in the United States and Canada by the International Association of Game Fish and Conservation Commissioners.

The State Division of Fish and Game in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development recently received word from the National Rifle Association of its selection as a runner up in the annual Hunter Safety Awards Program. The NRA presents an award each year to the state or Canadian province whose program is judged best by a special committee of the Commissioners, Association.

Colorado was chosen for the top award. The listing of runners up indicates that New Jersey was picked fourth among more than 30 states and provinces which submitted entries.

Some 700 volunteer firearm safety instructors make the program possible. They are appointed and supervised by the Fish and Game Law Enforcement Section after meeting NRA qualifications. An additional 300 volunteers serve as bow and arrow safety instructors.

All youths between the ages of 14 and 21 must take safety training prior to issuance of their first firearm hunting license. Initial bow and arrow licenses must receive training regardless of age.

Over 10,000 New Jersey youths received gun safety training in 1964. The number of students trained since the program started in 1964 passed the 100,000 mark early in 1965.

Gun fatalities have been cut in half in New Jersey since the program's inception. Less than one New Jersey citizen in a million is fatally injured while hunting, and non-fatal accidents occur about one in 100,000. National Safety Council statistics list motor vehicles, falls, fires, drowning, poison and railroad as more common causes of accidental fatalities than firearms and explosives; fatalities result from hunting.

New Jersey's report was prepared by the Information and Education and Law Enforcement section of the Division of Fish and Game. Its receipt of honorable mention from the International Association's committee is described by Division Director Lester G. MacNamara as "a tribute to the dedicated efforts of our volunteer instructors in keeping a safe sport in New Jersey."

If you're buying living Christmas trees in large 12 to 14 inch clay pots, prepare a place for planting them outdoors after the holidays. Dig the hole where you plan to install each evergreen at a time when the ground is not frozen. Cover with board and you'll find the soil relatively easy to loosen when you're ready to plant the tree after the holidays.

Elks Gather Gifts For Town G's

Belleville Elks are busy with plans to send a Christmas gift to every Belleville boy serving in Viet Nam, but they need the public's help.

They are asking that persons having the names and addresses of Belleville members of the armed forces, submit them to Hagin or Frank Costender, 499 Franklin Avenue, Belleville.

The gifts will be sent, said Hagin, even though it might be too late for Christmas Day delivery.

November Rainfall Still Below Average

Rainfall in November totaled only 1.68 inches, which is 2.38 inches below the estimated normal of 3.68 inches, Harold Duflocq, meteorologist at the Union Junior College Meteorological Station, Cranford, said in this monthly report to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

November's total precipitation of 1.68 inches was the lowest since the UJC Meteorological station was opened in 1960. The greatest November rainfall recorded at the UJC station was 7.12 inches in 1963.

for improvement of the school property and the addition of a multipurpose room to house the kindergarten class now attending school a block away in a church auditorium.

"It is my opinion," said Chief Hundertfund, "that a gathering of large groups in this auditorium does constitute a severe life hazard in case of fire, and I therefore recommend that the use of this auditorium not be used for the assembly of any large groups."

While architecturally sound, the top floor auditorium is constructed of wood with one narrow hallway leading down to the second floor. There is a single exit emergency in addition to the stairway.

There have never been any fires of any kind at the school, said Hundertfund.

Police Seize

Nutley Police Capt. Donald Casciano and Patrolman John Bimi. The juvenile, 16 escaped again and was re-captured after police found him hiding under a car on Hillon St.

Latkowski told police the trio entered the station around 2 a.m. to buy gas. An hour later they their car had broken down under several blocks away.

As he started to make a telephone call for a tow truck, said the station attendant, they grab bed him and trussed him up.

In addition to the armed robbery charge made by Belleville police, the three were charged after they confessed burglarizing the Overlook Market at 86 Overlook Ave. several hours earlier. Police found a stolen carton of soap in their car.

No bail was set pending arraignment.

O'Connor's

"She's out to get me," said O'Connor, explaining that they had formerly been political allies, but for some inexplicable reason, she had switched camps. Senator, he said, wanted the job to give to her friends.

Divided Loyalty
Mrs. Senator declared she was loyal to her friends but when they went wrong, she had no compunction about abandoning them. What O'Connor had done to merit her displeasure, she did not say.

George H. Johnson, 122 Smallwood Ave., told the council O'Connor had a conflict of interest for two reasons. He said Johnson, required to inspect and approve his own work (O'Connor is listed as a plumber in newspaper advertisements), and he holds jobs with the county and town during the same working hours.

O'Connor, by way of rebuttal, said he is available for appointments before going to work in the morning, and after working hours in the evening.

"If anyone calls for me, I can make it over here within 15 minutes," he said. Most inspections are made visually, he explained, and any experienced plumber can make a quick determination.

Santa Has Postal Zip Code Mail

Santa Claus is asking all children to use his ZIP Code Number, 07110, when they write to him so he can be sure to answer all of them and perhaps pay them a visit for Christmas. As Santa Claus letters pour in at the Nutley Post Office, Assistant Postmaster Robert Macchia promised to answer every child who writes with a special Santa Claus letter.

This year, as in the past, Macchia is continuing with the plan in trying to bring a little of the Christmas spirit into the hearts of the many indigent children who have never had a visit from Santa.

Guidance Notes

HERMAN KNUPPEL

Dr. Don H. Spangler, president of the American Veterinary Medical Association is making a plea for more veterinarians. By 1970, 47,850 veterinarians will be needed, more than twice as many as we have today. By that date, the number of farm animals and pets will reach the billion mark.

The White House recently released a report from the Labor Department saying that Federal agencies will need 4,000 engineering graduates in June. They are needed in electricity, aerospace and in the mechanical areas. The report also comments on the urgent need for graduates in mathematics, physics, and chemistry.

For students who took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and received their scores, you can estimate your senior-year SAT-Verbal score from your junior-year PSAT-Verbal score, assuming that it will increase by the average amount, affix a zero to the PSAT-Verbal score and then add 50 points.

Thus, if your junior-year PSAT-Verbal score is 40, affix a zero to make it 400 and then add 50 points. Your predicted senior-year SAT-Verbal score will then be 450.

Parents should note that the financial statement of the New Jersey State Scholarship Commission is due Dec. 15. The high school report is due Jan. 15.

The financial statement required by College Scholarship Service is sometimes confused with that required by the State Scholarship Commission. Since CSS does not have an interchange with the State Scholarship Commission it must be remembered that this is a completely different program.

The following paragraph is a continuation of explanation of an institutional financial aid program. Junior GI Bill provides educational opportunities in approved colleges, vocational and business schools, and other educational institutions for approximately 175,000 children of veterans who died or were permanently disabled in or as the result of service in the Armed Forces of the U.S.

Applications must be filed by a parent or guardian with the Veterans Administration located in Newark.

Deadline date for Jan. 6, 1966 college boards — Dec. 4, 1965.

If a student is interested in applying to the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colorado he should make application to a nominating authority during the spring of his junior year. A young man who applies for a cadet appointment must be: A citizen of the United States; Of good moral character and unmarried; At least 17, and not have reached his 22nd birthday on July 1 of the year he would enter the Academy.

The following is an interesting quote from Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. in support of the arts and humanities in elementary and secondary schools:

"I am not a complete fan of this new technological impetus in our educational system. I am wondering — is the scientific community ultimately going to outweigh the humanities? I am concerned with this growing imbalance between the scientific and the artistic emphasis in our schools.

"I am concerned that my daughter is learning equations at the age of seven years. I am concerned that my daughter's homework is already crowding out the time for social adjustments and progress the arts are as important as they ever were — or they should be. I want to hear good music, to see a good play or movie, to see my daughter to have the same privilege.

JoAnn Bergamini, James Cancelosi, and Ronald Greeschler.

The following is a continuation of our articles on noninstitutional financial aid programs:

Modern Foreign Language Fellowship Program: This provides for awards to undergraduates, graduates, and post-doctoral students for advanced training in designated critical languages. No awards are made for the study of French, German, Italian, or peninsular Spanish. Undergraduates must have had at least one year of formal college work or the equivalent in the language or they propose to study.

Thus, if your junior-year PSAT-Verbal score is 40, affix a zero to make it 400 and then add 50 points. Your predicted senior-year SAT-Verbal score will then be 450.

THE DANGEROUS SECOND YEAR

Youngsters about two years old most often swallow poisons. About half of accidental poisoning of children is caused by excessive intake of aspirin and other medicines.

Store all medicines and household products away from children's reach. We permanently record the ingredients of every prescription we fill. If a child swallows one, call us at once so we can tell the Doctor its contents. He can then give the proper antidote.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shipping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?
