Marriages, Complaints, All In A Day's Work For Pico

Traffic Tickets Also Occupy His Time, Money, too

On an average day at Town Hall Mayor Nuncio Ralph Pico, spreads himself pretty thin meeting the extremes of judicial conduct demanded by his office.

One day last week he married a young couple from Greece, paid a traffic ticket someone had sent him to be "fixed" and discussed town problems with town Manager John R. Burnett — and all at a weekly salary of $23.29.

He visits the various departments under his jurisdiction, listens to complaints, and tried to figure out which of the many social events he could attend if he had the time. If he attended them all, he wouldn't have any time left for his wife Anna, who he married some 35 years ago.

His problems range from the district leader who entered his office with a fistful of traffic tickets he wanted Pico to "fix" — (Pico threw him out), to a widow who wanted to get married — if Pico would give her husband a job with the town, to a tour of the town with Burnett.

Most of the municipal problems tossed to him by the public, he refers to the Town Manager, then he follows them up. He holds office hours every Thursday morning from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. before taking things over with Burnett.

The Mayor, who started school at Silver Lake, has lived at 491 Joralemon St. in a one-family brick home for the past 15 years. He was born in Madison, but moved to Belleville when a ninth child. He graduated from Belleville High School in 1922, and later graduated from Newark College of Engineering which landed him a job with Western Electric, where he is a supervisor. He has been for the last 30 years.

He has a son, John, with the probation office in Essex County, and a daughter Maureen, who now attends the Berkeley Secretarial School.

LOVE AND MARRIAGE occupied the mayor's time last week when Miss M. Genadopoulos became the bride of Soterios Papademas, of 29 Washington Ave., in a civil ceremony performed at Town Hall by Mayor Nuncio R. Pico. It marked the 57th time the mayor has married young couples

School 2 Auditorium Use Limited; 'Digging For Dirt,' Says Minasian

The third-floor auditorium of School 2 has been ordered into restricted use by the Board of Education following a report by Fire Chief Carl Hundertpfund, who said its construction and location presented a hazard to students.

The chief said he had made the recommendations routinely in a temper tantrum, charged a news reporter with "digging for dirt" when asked if a sign warning of the limitation had been placed on or near the stairway. "My students and teachers know of it," he snapped. "That's (Continued On Page 11)

Key Club Issues Books To School

Wednesday, Dec. 21, the Key Club assumed the responsibility of distributing reading books to children throughout the town of Belleville and to the Garden School.

James Canceloski project chairman; Joseph McGuire, treasurer; and Russell Mattoon directed the program of distribution.

The books that were given to these young people for Christmas were originally collected through the efforts of Michael Rosamilia, acting superintendent of Schools, Belleville High School Parent-Teacher Association and Essex County Youth and Economic Rehabilitation Commission.

Young Bicyclist Killed Sunday In Kearny Accident

Nels Pierce Dies After Being Struck by Auto On Belleville Turnpike

An 11-year-old student at School 9 died Sunday afternoon following an auto accident during which his bicycle collided with a car on the Belleville Turnpike.

Hudson County Police said the victim, 11-year-old Nels Pierce, 34 Tappan Ave., was pronounced dead on arrival at West Hudson Hospital in Kearny where he had been taken in a police ambulance.

Patrolman Patrick Brady of the Hudson County Police who investigated the accident, said young Nels was weaving his way through traffic which had stopped for a traffic light at Passaic Ave. and Belleville Turnpike and had crossed the north bound lane when he was struck by a car driven by Leonard Maraglia, 20, of Lyndhurst who was in the south bound lane.

Maraglia was released on a technical charge of death by auto.

The boy was a fifth grade student at School 9. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Pierce, a brother and sister. The family had moved to Belleville from Cleveland, Ohio a year ago.

Sunday Morning Fire Damages A Belleville Home

The second fire of the week damaged the D. Krause home at 159 Smallwood Ave. early Sunday morning when Krause lit a cigarette, flipped an exploding pack of paper matches onto a couch and which in turn set papers on the floor ablaze.

After the curtains went up in flame, Krause ran next door to call firemen.

Firefighters confined the fire to the living room where damage was later estimated at $8,000 by Deputy William Fabian.

The house is owned by Mrs. Oland, 358 Passaic Ave., Nutley. Four fire trucks responded to the call, reported Fire Chief Carl Hundertpfund.

Paper's Status OK'd By 3-2 Council Vote

The Belleville Times was named the town's official newspaper Monday night at Town Hall by 3-2 vote which returned legal advertising to the paper after some eight months of divided patronage by the Council.

"I feel we would be doing an injustice to the people of the town," said Councilman Ralph A. Casale, if the legal advertisements were not given to the newspaper with the largest circulation and coverage.

Seconding the resolution moved by Casale was Councilman Robert P. Westpy, who agreed, but with reservations.

Westpy Warns

"I have no objections, gentlemen," he told the council, but warned that if he felt the newspaper was not performing its duty properly, he would introduce legislation which would, in effect, restore the deal patronage by the council.

"What happens to the Belleville Telegram?" he asked. Would it be cut off from all advertising? Do we have any intention of advertising in the Telegram?

"Yes," replied Casale, "We'd give wider coverage in both newspapers. That's my theory." But he said the majority of the legal advertising would go to The Belleville Times.

Discrimination?

Councilman William H. Cullen, who cast a negative vote, said against the other paper, and by only advertising whenever the council needed more coverage coverage was "throwing the Telegram a bone."

In this day and age when anti-discrimination is the keynote, he said "We're discriminating against the Telegram and any other legal newspaper."

Councilman James R. Golden, voted against the measure, explaining that he wasn't doing so because The Times has given him much unfavorable publicity, but that he thought it was unfair.

A Political Paper

Westpy said he was in favor of awarding the legal advertising to The Times, instead of The Telegram, because the Telegram was little more than "a tool of the Democratic party."

It's not fair to the taxpayers," he said. "We have greater cover-

Board Splits On New Apartments

The Belleville Zoning Board denied a variance Dec. 21 for the construction of a 19-family garden apartment at 743-753 Mill Street by a 2-2 vote — three votes were needed for approval. Board Chairman Norman Lauterette disqualified himself because of possible association with the Contr. Inc. of 345 Centre St. who planned to build for some $1,000.

Approving the variance were Ralph M. Allaire and John Conato. Opposing was Thomas R. Colatrella and Arthur Rosania.

The board adjourned until Jan. 4 to consider the $2 million, 230 unit garden apartment building for construction by the Pinus & Tamburro Development Co.-110 Halsted St. E. Orange.

The board also reversed decision on a variance for a 27-family garden apartment at 675-679 Joralemon St. to be built by John Dwork of Belleville.

Special Meeting

There will be a special meeting Monday, Jan. 3 to consider resolutions for budgetary purposes; resolutions setting forth a temporary dedicated water utility budget for 1966; and a temporary 1966 general budget.

The Town Clerk's office will also be open from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Dec. 3 to register voters in the forthcoming school board election.

Don't Bet On School Elections: Offenders Lose Time And Money

Don't bet on school elections. State school law says you can't win, but you can lose time and money.

New Jersey's Education Code brands anyone betting on a school election "a disorderly person" who may be punished by a $500 fine and imprisonment up to one year, reports the New Jersey Education Assn.

It also declares that all such "contracts" are void. Any loser who has paid off can sue to recover the bet.

State law further prohibits any bet made with a voter "to procure the challenge of such voter or to prevent him from voting at the election."

Protection for the public against election chicanery begins long before election day and continues until after the voter has left the polls.

School "law" forbids anyone from publishing, exhibiting or distributing printed matter related to an election unless it bears the name and address of the person causing it to be published. If an organization pays the cost, the name and address of the person must also be published.

Any person who violates the law may be fined $500 or imprisoned for 12 months, or both.

Printers are forbidden from making extra ballots for a school election, and unauthorized persons may not duplicate or even possess ballots.

School law prohibits anyone from including a voter to refrain from registering. One statute specifically prohibits promising a voter a job to persuade him not to register. Others prohibit offering or accepting money or "valuable consideration" for the same purpose.

School law prohibits the same inducements to persuade a person to vote in a particular way.

Also forbidden is intimidating a voter by injury or threat of injury — direct or indirect — to from voting or to retaliate for the way he voted.

School law also protects the working man from election intimidation by management. Management may not even enclose political argument intended to influence employees "about a candidate or a public question. Nor may management, within 90 days of an election, exhibit any placard containing threats about loss of work or reduction of salaries based on the outcome of a forthcoming school election."

No one may interfere with any polling booth, obstruct the entrance, interfere with any voter, solicit votes, loiter, electioneer or distribute political buttons within 100 feet of the polls, or rob the ballot box. Even stealing pencils from the polling booth is punishable by a $500 fine.

No person may obstruct or interfere with an election official performing his duties. School law forbids a person to give money "or other thing of value" to an election official "because of his holding such office." It is also illegal for an election official to accept it.

No voter may knowingly vote any ballot except the official one, and no person may carry any official ballot from the polling place, except an officer authorized to do so.

A voter must mark his ballot in the polling booth and must not show it to anyone. Election officers are barred from trying to discover how a person voted. If they happen to know, they are forbidden to reveal this knowledge.

It is illegal for a person not entitled to vote by try to do so, or for anyone to vote more than once.

Convicted criminals who have lost their right to vote are barred from school elections.

ARMY MISFIRE: Mrs. PAUL SCHLALINE, 53 Adelaide St., called to report that she has no son named Thomas J., as the underline identified him on page one of last week's Times. "I was kinda surprised," she chuckled, "when my neighbors called to ask about my 'new' son — I don't have a new son."

Somewhat the U.S. Army, who probably has another Pvt. Schalline somewhere out there in a foxhole, sent the Times and picture and a short story about him training up there in Fort Devens. But he isn't Belleville's Schlaline.

She said she did have a son, though; Paul is back home after a hitch in the Navy, and is a linesman for Public Service in Jersey City. He's the only one she has, though.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY: Dr. MICHAEL O'GRADY, who has offices at 50 Newark Ave., here, says he wants all his friends and acquaintances to know that he's alive and kicking — despite reports to the contrary.

Last week a man with the same name died in Newark, and reports filtered back to Belleville that he had contracted a severe case of rigor mortis. It's not so, declared the Doc Monday afternoon. He's grateful for the many queries regarding his demise, but he wants it made clear he's breathing regularly and is reasonable happy.

If he wanted to, he could tell his friends, "The reports of my death have been greatly exaggerated." — just like Mark Twain.

THE SITUATION: The School 2 auditorium has been ordered to limit its use by the Board of Education following a report by the Fire Department.

THE QUESTION: Has a sign to this effect been placed on or near the stairway leading the auditorium?

THE PURPOSE: To take a picture, if so, demonstrating that the principal was on the ball. If not, forget the whole thing.

THE REPLY: "You're digging for dirt! I know how you operate!" Then, four times in rapid-fire succession, "That's a stupid question!" And finally, before the telephone slammed down, "You can go to H. . ."

THE FACTS: The Times has, since September under its new editor, assigned three school news columnists to cover their particular field; Mrs. Toni Maroni, Herman Knuppel, and Steve Charen. A series of photo's of your children at their studies have been published, and more are on the way. This newspaper is trying, within the limits of honesty, to present education in as favorable a light as possible. The only unhappy school news we carry in the affairs Durkee — which we didn't create but merely reported?

WHO SAID IT? Mr. Henry Minasian, principal of School 2, who should know better because his school had had a full-page of favorable coverage, plus more of recent date. Despite his attempt to censor news of his school, we plan more coverage there.

FOR A PRINCIPAL, to interpret news of potential danger to his students as "digging for dirt!" is unworthy of a man charged with their safety. His aversion to newsmen seems to date back some 10 years when he became embroiled in a student-principal school hassle during which the Board of Education considered transferring him.

The Belleville Times duly reported the matter. Just as it plans to do in similar cases anytime in the future.

It Isn't All Play At College, Say Former BHS Kids

Belleville High School seniors got a preview of collegiate days Dec. 28 when BHS graduates returned to tell of their experiences in colleges across the nation — and learned some surprising things about education on a higher level.

It's not all play by a long shot, said Joe Cervasio, who is attending Cornell University. "You're biggest enemy," he said, "is time. You have to budget your time . . . you've never done . . . there's always room for more study."

Janice Misuriello, who is attending St. Mary's at Notre Dame, Ind., described the new dormitories for women as being too cold and impersonal. "They lack the old home comforts," she said, adding that "we all have our stuffed animals around the room."

Chris Schult, a Newark college of Engineering student, spoke of the fraternities and their affect on the average student. "You either study or become a member of a fraternity; you can't be both," he said. Social life and study don't mix, he told his audience.

For Al Paganelli, a student at Pateran State College, it meant the emphasis in sports at the university. "There's more emphasis placed on sport," he added. "They even recruit athletes to keep pace with other colleges."

He believes there should be more emphasis placed on study — "after all that's what you go to college for," he added.

"Do your work before it mounts up," declared Robert Moore and a group in St. Vincent, a student at Cincinnati University.

"Don't leave it till the last minute," he said, "you'll never make it." She also added a word of warning against the use of barbiturates while doing late night studying. Many times she said, "The study increased by the use of barbiturates, only backfires and causes a mental Charlie that loses you more than it gains."

Jack Indent, attending Lehigh University, reported the need for some heavy reading before coming to college. "Read a lot," he said, "the professors expect it of you."

Ray Fersko, who once wrote sports for the Belleville Times, said the amount of study needed for college was unbelievable.

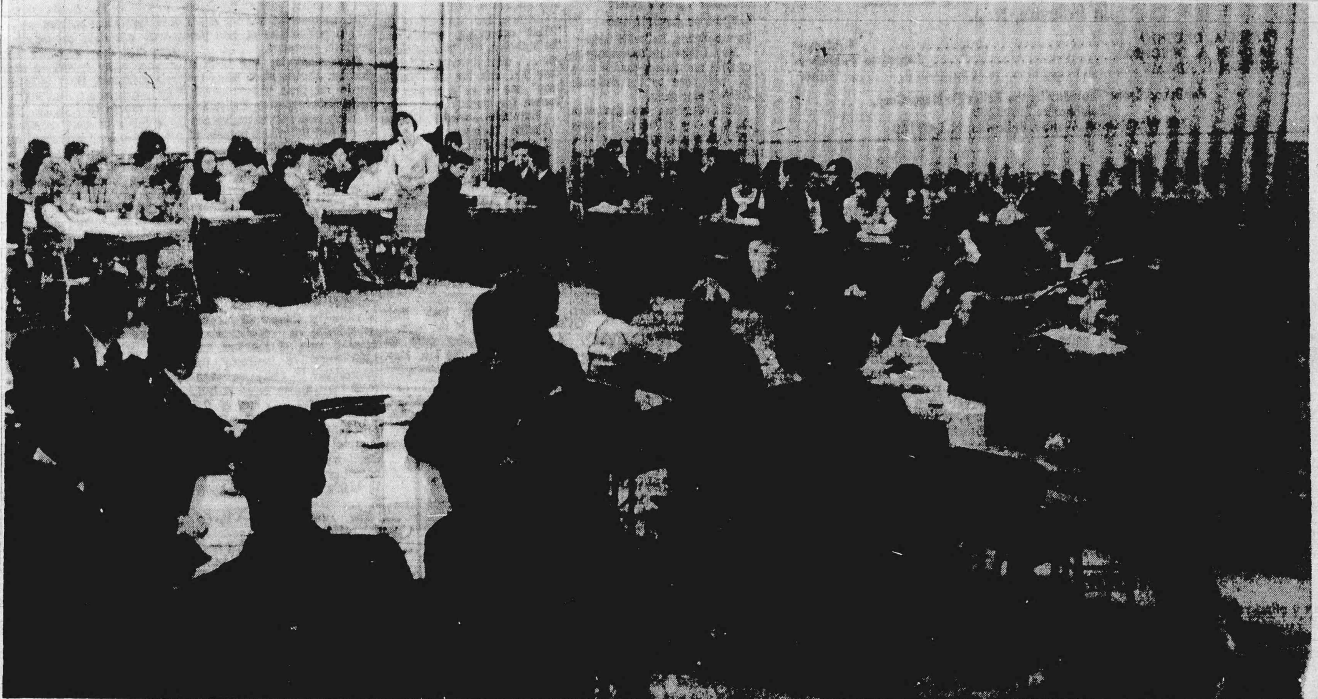

"Up to 15 hours of study for one exam was nothing," he said, adding that he didn't study that much. He recommended a few hours study per day, instead of burning the midnight oil.

Most college students find that self-discipline is a must, said Schult. "It's all up to you, no teacher will tell you to get going. Study at night instead of watching the idiot box," he warned.

After the hour long program of questions and answers, the students ranged up around the college kids and the questioning really got under way.

It was a program which probably changed many minds about the fictional frivolity of college life.

Mistletoe was a sacred symbol where the early Druids were concerned. Forests in which this precious plant grew were dedicated to the gods. Legend says that Druids cut mistletoe sprigs with a golden knife and hung them over their doors so that no evil would enter the house.

GUIDANCE TEA attracted some 45 former Belleville High School graduates last week when the Guidance Department under Herman Knuppel invited them to describe their experiences while attending college, to seniors who will soon be entering centers of higher learning. At right stands Gail Gronauer, who was Mistress of Ceremonies for the event. She asked questions regarding study habits, social life, and the various trends at college and got some surprising answers from her students. At center background, a student warns her audience against allowing homework to mount up.

Others told the seniors to plan study time and allow recreation to fill in the holes. "After all," said one, "you're in school to learn."

Want To Join The School Board? Here's How To Get Named

EDITOR'S NOTE: New Jersey's Education Code contains school elections, school budgets and school boards. This is the second article in a six-part series prepared by the New Jersey Education Assn. to help acquaint the public with them.

So you want to be on the board of education?

In most communities, you have to run for the office. In others, the post is appointive.

To be qualified for the school board, a person must be able to read and write, must have been a resident of the community for at least 2 years, must be 21, and must not be "interested" in any contract or claim against the board — directly or indirectly, says the New Jersey Education Assn.

The appointed school board exists in districts governed by Chapter 6 of New Jersey's Education Code, intended for use in cities. The mayor appoints board members, thus giving the dominant political group considerable control over the schools. The appointment, except in Newark, are made between Jan. 2 and Jan. 15 each year. Terms of office begin Feb. 1. In Newark the appointments are made in June and the terms begin July 1.

After the hour long program of questions and answers, the students ranged up around the college kids and the questioning really got under way.

It was a program which probably changed many minds about the fictional frivolity of college life.

Board members are elected in regional school districts and communities whose schools are organized under Chapter 7 of the Education Code, including those in consolidated school systems. The would-be candidate's first step should be a visit to the school administration building to vote in the election. The signaboard secretary will help the candidate meet two other legal requirements: a declaration that he is qualified and will serve if elected, and a verification by one signer that the petition is genuine.

Here are some of the statutes governing the election of school board members:

NOMINATING PETITION: The petition nominating a candidate must be addressed to the board secretary, must give the candidate's address, and must state that: the signers of the pe-

Belleville's Legal Newspaper

Since 1909 The Belleville Times-News has been Belleville's official newspaper.

During those 56 years The Times-News has chronicled family and community events.

Ownership of The Times-News has been only privilege and our responsibility for only six of those years.

A few months ago the Town Council reviewed the matter of an official newspaper in our community and decided to have no single, year-round, official community publication.

At the Town Council meeting Monday night a majority of its members decided to restore The Belleville Times-News as our community's official newspaper.

Anything or any organization that bears the proud name of Belleville should be worthy of such distinction. Two years ago The Belleville Times-News was judged by the New Jersey Press Association as the second best newspaper in its class. We believe this proud attainment was an honor not awarded lightly.

That we were designated as the community's official newspaper made us very proud. Such designation carries with it a high measure of prestige. We believe by producing and maintaining a first-class newspaper we have earned the designation.

The Times-News is engaged in a never-ending quest to be objective and complete in its reporting. In the main it is our firm conviction we have been the most objective observer on a scene which has very few, if any, neutrals.

Our editorial policy will continue to reflect a firm conviction of what is best for Belleville.

Naturally, not everyone will agree with us but if our editorials accomplish nothing but serve to provoke the attention and thought of our readers something worthwhile has been achieved. FAO

An Alarming Statistic

In a news release of December 21st, Essex Freeholder Director Albert M. Salduti announced the County probation department plans to increase its staff by 118 during the next five years. This would double the number of probation officers now working in the department.

The increase came to Salduti's attention by a resolution of the County judges under whose supervision the probation department operates.

This is indeed an alarming statistic. Not only are we concerned with the million dollar additional expense to Essex County taxpayers but of equal importance is the fearful realization that our County judges expect crime to increase 100 per cent within the next five years.

We would rather see a million dollars spent on crime prevention efforts rather than on treatment of criminals.

At any rate, have we not reached the opportune moment for our County Freeholders to conduct an investigation of ways and means by which crime prevention efforts can be expanded and are the 118 new employees really necessary? FAO

Mickey Mantle

Recently New York Yankees' General Manager Ralph Houk announced that Mickey Mantle's contract with the New York Yankees will be renewed for the next season at the same rate — $100,000.

Because of illness last season Mantle played in less than half the games. Taking recognition of this fact Houk said: "I can't see ever cutting Mantle. After what he has been to baseball as long as he plays he will receive the same money. Fellows like that, no matter what you pay them, somewhere along the line have been underpaid. You make it up to them toward the end."

Mickey Mantle has been more than just one of baseball's immortals. He has been and continues to be an inspiration to the youth of our nation — and in this role organ of baseball will never be accused of overpaying Mantle — even when he plays half the season at $100,000. FAO

Our New Year's Wish

The heart of Belleville is bleeding from internal dissension. The beloved community of Belleville labors under a tarnished reputation visited upon us by the clashing personalities — clashing ambitions — of elected and appointed public officials.

As the world strives for a cease-fire in Viet Nam, prideful Belleville citizens are praying for a New Year's cease-fire among our elected and appointed officials in Town Hall and the Board of Education. In a turbulent, troubled society such as that in which we live the task of maintaining our equilibrium becomes more difficult. It is for the strong of Belleville to rise above the psychological and practical problems of these unsettled days and lead our citizens out of the jungle of despair into a brighter future whose pathway is lighted by a glorious past. It's Budget Time Again

It's budget time in New Jersey, the State Taxpayers Association reminds us this week, "and time for taxpayers to become alert as plans for next year's governmental spending are outlined for the consideration of local governing bodies early in 1966."

With municipal budgets, county budgets, local school budgets and regional high school budgets all coming up, this is good advice. And advice that works to the benefit of both the official body drafting the new budget as well as the taxpayer who must assume the costs approved.

There are, of course, two reasons for this mutual benefit from "alert" citizens:

The taxpayer who listens carefully to the preliminary budget discussion and participates in the public hearing which precedes adoption of the new appropriations becomes a well-informed citizen who (1) can contribute suggestions that may be helpful and (2) will understand how the financial needs were arrived at and therefore will either, out of full knowledge, intelligently oppose specific expenditures or cheerfully assume the tax share.

And this eliminates the most distressing of all citizens — the complainer who really doesn't know what he's talking about.

So let's all take the advice of the Association.

Management Club Sets Four Winter Courses

The Industrial Management Club of Newark and vicinity is taking registrations for four winter courses in management.

The courses will be held on eight Wednesday nights, Feb. 9 through March 30 at the YM-YWCA of Newark and vicinity's downtown Branch at 500 Broad St.

Dr. John D. Hickey, City College of New York professor, will teach the course in "Management Problem Solving," an advanced study in modern supervision. The course will emphasize leadership and personnel problem solving. Class participation will be utilized to solve typical problems confronting every supervisor. Such areas as giving course aims to help supervisors analyze some of their problems which arise from poor communications and to discuss good communication techniques. Major topics will include the human relations aspect of communications, problems in face-to-face communications, counseling employees and leading group meetings.

Ronald F. Morhart, value analyst of Receiving Tubes Operation, Radio Corporation of America, Harrison, will teach "Value Analysis." Mr. Morhart will describe techniques used to seek out and remove unnecessary costs from parts, processes and assemblies.

He will point to mean for orderly utilization of alternative materials and creatively developing other means of performing the functions. Alternatives that will provide for performing functions at lower total costs will be considered.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader Thanks Our Cops For Assistance

To the Editor, Belleville Times: May I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks for a job well done by the Belleville Police Department. This afternoon two gentlemen came to my office on business and, unfortunately, one of the men became ill and required your services. The response was tremendous — the ambulance arrived at my office three minutes after the call was placed.

Such fast and efficient service deserves the thanks of all of us, and I personally want to thank the men who answered our call. Raymond J. Cooney, General Sales Manager, Walter Kiddle 1 Co.

Belleville Officer Asks For Thoughtful Drivers

To the Editor, Belleville Times: Drunken teenager drove 65 mph through a car through a divider on the parkway smash-ed into three oncoming cars and was instantly killed as he was engulfed in the flames of the wreck!

What is your first reaction? Perhaps horror that such a tragedy could befall someone. But is it a tragedy? Yes, it is. Consider the other innocent drivers who must live with the idea that a boy was killed. Also the boy's parents who let him use the car, and now must realize their son is dead.

But, where the boy is concerned, the better term might be sheer stupidity. Before even heading for the divider he had two strikes against him, not only speeding but also drunk. For a few moments he felt like a big man whipping past the other "creepers" — a feeling he'll never "enjoy" again.

This is a terribly incident, yet seems similar to this can be read in the paper almost every day. In fact it is estimated that in 1965 a total of 50,000 people will be killed by autos! Over 500 jet planes would have to crash in the next year to kill that many people, about ten every week! Can you imagine the public reaction to this? And yet who takes notice to the total of fatal traffic accidents each year?

A 15 percent of the drivers are under 25 years old and yet they are involved in one-fourth of all fatal accidents. Is there any way to stop these rising tolls? Well let's just keep that tiger in your tank and not behind the wheel. And just because you use that irrefragable hair cream, and she can't restrain your passes to the drive-in movie.

Concentrate on the road and don't "scream tiger" while driving. The maniac driver is usually showing off for a girl, but if you look at her when he's doing 80 on a bridge, she's slowly turning a pale white! Of course there's always the girl-staring type, known as the "gawking boobies." But don't fret cause the girls stare right back when he's way up a tree.

These statements represent cautions, idiotic, nonsensical maneuvers which can be easily prevented and yet make up 80 percent of all accidents on record. Thus in 1964, 3,300,000 casualties of the 3,880,000 could have been avoided. So it's up to you, the driver. When new licenses are acquired the attitude that "I'm a great driver because I passed my test" has turned too many driver's licenses into licenses to kill!

Commissioner Strelecki of the "Your community streets and the highways will be as safe as you want them to be." Next time you ask for the "family heap" use it as a means for weapon for tragedy and death.

Reader Challenges The Charges Against Durkee

Dr. Durkee, an educator of 30 years' experience, has been subjected to every conceivable insult and humiliation from the majority bloc and his ordeal is far from over.

However, now that their "charges" are out in the open, it is obvious why they were not strong enough to file last May. They did not involve corruption.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

It is hardly believable that just about a year ago an official of CBS implied in a speech that color TV "was still a long way off."

Well, the future came at break-neck speed. The CBS program ratings began to slip. Madison Avenue worked overtime to find the reason, which was clear enough for anybody to see who took the time to look at different TV stations. It was the terrific impact of NBC's color transmissions.

There followed the sudden "resignation" of CBS' former president and the complete turnaround of the anticolor policy. Nobody expected CBS to start an expanded color broadcast schedule at the time when they had been speculating that this might happen in the beginning of 1966.

As we reported in this column before, the demand for color sets virtually hit the industry like an explosion. Stocks at the factories, distributors and dealers dried up almost completely within a few days. The total production capacity is estimated to be about 2.5 million sets. This is the amount of picture tubes the industry can produce this year.

Customers ask us why don't they make more sets? The manufacture of a color TV tube is very complicated and difficult. A color tube contains really 3 picture tube systems or "guns" as they are called in the industry. Each gun emits a tiny electron beam which hits the phosphorus coating in back of the front glass plate, and all three beams have to hit almost the same spot. If only one gun is the slightest bit out of line, the tube is not useable. Furthermore there is a metal plate in the back of the viewing glass surface which also has to be extremely accurate. It contains hundreds of thousands of tiny holes and the electron beams from the guns have to line up perfectly over the whole surface of the metal plate. A color TV tube factory can not be built overnight. It is anticipated in the industry that the shortage of color TV sets will last for at least another year.

immorality or inefficiency. Some are simply ridiculous. Others are procedural matters that could have been cleared up in conference with Dr. Durkee if board majority had not been conducting a vendetta with the superintendent of schools. Also at the same time, encroaching into the duties and responsibilities of paid professional educators.

Don't think for one moment that Dr. Durkee alone bears the burden of their vicious attack. Belleville's taxpayers, Belleville's teachers and administrative personnel and Belleville's parents all share the burden of his persecution.

Here is the price that Belleville's taxpayers will pay: There is a deadly comparison between the adventure upon which the majority bloc has embarked and a similar one involving the superintendent of schools in Chatham Township in 1961.

A board majority tossed their superintendent out and filed twenty-eight charges of conduct unbecoming a superintendent. After 3 days of hearings and 5,000 pages of testimony the superintendent was found guilty (cost the Chatham board $3,750), the superintendent's lawyer Dr. Durkee has and I might say parenthetically that one of the best school lawyers in the state) succeeded in getting dismissal of 13 counts and parts of 11 others, or 4 of the original 8.

The commissioner finally ordered the board to reinstate the superintendent with full back pay. In his decision he said that he could not find in the superintendent's actions "A pattern of behavior which demonstrates unjust cause for dismissal."

Further, that he "can reach no other conclusion than that the responsibility for the current unhappy state of affairs lies with the board of education."

Further, "testimony reveals clearly that some board members exceeded their functions as policy determiners and attempted to assume administrative responsibilities."

Further, that there was evidence of "deliberate harassment" of the superintendent by some board members and "attempts to force his resignation are clearly established."

Chatham Township taxpayers were stunned to find that when the superintendent's back pay, legal fees and other expenses, the board's unsuccessful attempt to unseat the superintendent had cost this year by the town council, the cut was reflected in sharp curtailments of necessary school expenses by the board.

Belleville's taxpayers prepared to pick up the tab when the folly of the majority bloc's "fishing expedition" against Dr. Durkee is finally exposed?

Belleville's teachers and school administrative personnel will pay a price for Dr. Durkee's persecution. Parents have seen in the town. For unless his authority to progress of their own children the positive results of Dr. Durkee's improvements in the learning process and facilities. The majority bloc could not safely attack his administrative ability or successful maintenance of quality education in spite of unbearable interference and opposition.

Belleville does not need an investigation of Dr. Durkee. What it needs is a little fresh air and light on the motives and actions of the majority bloc. We have had nothing but bickering, dissension and strife since February. When Rocco Saletta furnished the pivotal fourth board vote last February which permitted Dr. Durkee's enemies to go gunning for him.

In spite of the usual campaign mouthings about concern for improved education in Belleville, these men have permitted their burning, bitter hatred to sway their judgment. What is worse, they have used a trifling incident as an excuse to dig Dr. Durkee's fine community reputation and outstanding professional reputation through the mud. Stagnation which tarnish Belleville's reputation through the state as well.

To get at the root of his cancer, Belleville voters must defeat the two ringleaders of the majority bloc, Messrs. Arvison and Juliano, in next February's school election.

Unfortunately, Dr. Durkee, Belleville's taxpayers, Belleville's parents and Belleville's teachers must pay through the nose for the majority bloc's vindictive stupidity.

It's Count-Down Time On Budgets In New Jersey

In addition to the usual holiday customs and events associated with the beginning the New Year, Jan. 1 marks the start of the budget count-down in government.

It is the earliest date listed for introduction and initial approval of municipal and county budgets prior to processing through publication, public hearing and final adoption two or three months later.

It is also the signal for the budget makers at other levels of government to step up their budget drafting.

School budgets are scheduled for initial approval a short time later.

At the State House, the budget director has completed hearings of department requests and will assist the governor in pre-Legislature in mid-February.

In Washington the block budget among budgets is being prepared by the President for submission to Congress early in the 1966 session.

All in all government was a multi-billion dollar operation in 1965. In New Jersey, the school districts budgeted spending of $811 million; the municipalities $693 million; the 21 counties $280 million and the State government $641 million. The Federal for the 1965-66 fiscal year approximated $10 billion and is expected to climb much higher.

With all budget systems apparently in range as the target for 1966, the latter will be well advised to monitor the climb of local, county, state and Federal spending plans.

Bellboys Make A 50-42 Christmas Gift To East Orange Panthers

Pucciarello, Pizzuto Try, But Much Too Late

BY STEVE CHAREN

Getting into the true spirit of the season, the benevolent Bellboys, tried to find happiness in giving rather than receiving last Thursday. In the process, Christmas came a few days early for East Orange as the Big Ten leading Panthers went home with a 50-42 win.

Belleville made the Christmas gift in the form of an off night that saw the home owners sink only 14 of 44 (31 per cent) field goal attempts and an equally meager 14 of 27 from the foul line.

The game started rather slowly with both teams' shooting hindered by tight man-to-man coverage. Finco only after 41 had elapsed, E.O.'s Connie Purcell broke the ice with a test break. Within the next 15 seconds, Ken Fulmore deposited a free throw and Harry Baker came through with a layup to give Belleville the lead for the first, last, and only time at 3.

Orange Ahead
From here Ken Moss spearheaded a six-point rampage as East Orange moved ahead 10-7 by the end of the quarter. The fleet Panthers started the second period by running the Bell boys off the court and out of the game. Ken Macklin started the mayhem on the scoring end of a fast break; this was followed in rapid succession by a lay-up by Terry McGee, a jumper by Purcell, a bunny by Moss, and another jumper by Purcell as East Orange sepd out in front by 13 points. By half-time, the margin was 1 at 513.

A high scoring (?) third quarter saw East Orange bag 8 points to Belleville's 4.

Too Late

Then trailing by 16 points with the Bellboys made their move. As Rich Pucciarello and Nick Pizzuto came alive, the Blue and Gold moved to within six points before falling; it was just too little too late.

While extending their record to 5, the Panthers dominated both boards and put on an exhibition of sharpshooting. On defense, Haywood Wesley and Macklin while holding the high scoring Bell boy to 10 points; seven were in the final quarter as "Puch" hit on only 3 of 19 from the floor.

Irvington Campers Bow To Bellboys In A 58-42 Duel For Big Ten Win

With Rich Pucciarello continuing his scoring heroics, the Bellboys routed a young Irvington team last week to pick up that elusive first Big Ten win, 58-42.

In leading the Bellboys to their second win and first in the Conference, Pucciarello played sharp shooter by connecting with 19 of 20 shots, 10 of 11 in field goals and nine free ones, for 29 points.

A slow start had the Bellboys trailing 9-8 after one quarter as Pucciarello had only two points. Then as Rich poured in ten markers without a miss Belleville spurred ahead 24-17 by the half.

Although Rich missed a shot in the third, he finished in a rampage with 12 points in the final period.

Nick Pizzuto continued his stay performance for the winners while depositing 6 of 11 field goals for 12 points.

Meanwhile, the battle between Art Sheridan and Jim Corino for the playmaker spot waged on. Although Corino started, Sheridan saw the majority of the action playing all four quarters to Jim's two. Both are dept ball handlers and playmakers although Corino has shown some flashes

QUESTION BOX
Q. I have noticed while traveling on New Jersey highways numerous persons attempting to hitch rides. I was under the impression that New Jersey had a law prohibiting hitchhiking. Is this so?

A. New Jersey Motor Vehicle Law states that no person shall stand at a highway for the purpose of, or while soliciting a ride from the operator of any vehicle other than an omnibus or street car. Any person so apprehended would be subject to a fine or imprisonment or both.

Twelve grapes are a part of the gay Spanish New Year Eve celebration that takes place in the Puerta del Sol, Madrid's Time Square. As the clock strikes midnight, the grapes are held high overhead and eaten for luck — one for each month of the year.

IT'S ALL OVER NOW but these four Belleville belles were out there urging the BHS team on to greater effort, and now they're doing the same for the school cagers who are now well into their annual basketball season which (isd to say) isn't too good at this point. From left is Rose Branca, Laura Guibelo, Linda Waldren, and Nancy Gioffi.

MARATHON DIES: Belleville almost received some complimentary publicity this week from the hands of her youth. These teenagers had hoped to break the World Marathon Basketball Game record before their efforts were smothered in a sea of red tape.

All that was needed to make the project a success was some help from the town's adult populace; the young forces were already there. This was nearly provided when the Board of Education conditionally granted use of the Junior High School gymnasium for this worthwhile project.

While doing so, the Board set down the conditions that police protection must be assured 24-hours a day; there would be no smoking within the school vicinity; there would be constant parental or other adult supervision; a doctor was to be on call at all times; and all of the youthful participants had to have some sort of liability insurance.

VARISITY CLUB ENLISTED: Along these lines the youth group spearheaded by BHS junior Bill Idenen enlisted the help of the Varsity Club and in particular Michael Marotti.

Now with the police protection, adult supervision, and most of the other conditions assured, all seemed ready for the 100-hour assault on the 72-hour World Record set in upstate New York.

PLATOONS PLANNED: Idenen's forces had planned to drive to the record by using a platoon system. With this system, each team would have from six to eight boys at the court at all times. These performers would play for approximately four-hours before being retired for over 24-hours with the arrival of the next platoon.

This idea spread like wild-fire when it was first rumored at Belleville High. Within a week of the announcement, upwards of 90 Bellboys and 1965 BHS graduates had expressed a desire to play.

LAST MINUTE FAILURE: All seemed ready last week, so Idenen called acting-Superintendent of Schools Michael Rosimila to make the final arrangements. In the process, Idenen was reminded that patrolman Marotti would have to bring the matter before the Board again to make it official.

A hurried search disclosed that Marotti has an unlisted telephone number. A call later, Idenen found that he had already left the police station and that his phone number couldn't be given.

In trying to reach Rosimila with an explanation of the circumstances, Idenen found that the superintendent had left for the weekend — which left the Marathon with no definite gym until it would be too late to contact the vacationing participants.

STILL HOPE: So Belleville is not going to hold the Marathon Record. But there is still hope for the future.

If last week's discouragements can be brushed aside and arrangements made well in advance, maybe the game can be held out of season during the Spring Vacation of April 8 through 17.

Where there's a will, there's bound to be a way.

Hillcrest's And Sam's Still Lead The League

Sharing the lead in the Recreation Men's Basketball League are the Hillcrests, the Sams, and the Stashes. Both the Hillcrests have a game to pick up.

In second place is the Oilhouse team at 3.2. Tied in the next place are K.Y.C. and Robsons with 2.3 records.

In last week's games the same pattern of intense action prevailed. The Oilhouse team playing minus Casey and Allen dropped one to the Hillcrests. Once again the Hillcrest's 81-40 victory was built on the scoring power of Higgins (26 points), Van Dyne (20 points) and Dattoli (18 points).

Bowen was the big point getter for the losers with 23 points.

Stretching their winning streak to four in a row the Sams ran in front of the BPSC all the way to win 54-44. Bill Rush accounted for 20 of Sams points and Seagione put in 13.

Also winning their fourth in a row was Stash's in a 60-42 win over the K.Y.C. Big scorers for the winners were...

Predict Heavy Outbreak Of Influenza This Year

When winter comes, can flu United States generally were in be far behind? Not this year, according to the nation's medical forecasters.

The prediction is for a heavy outbreak of influenza this year, based on the two-to-three year cycle typical of the disease. The Essex County Health Association last major outbreaks in the the doctor on the advisability of vaccination. Immunization with the flu vaccine has been recommended by public health authorities for a number of high risk groups. These groups include:

Persons of all ages suffering from chronic diseases, such as heart disease, diabetes, and chronic disease hospitals.

The vaccine developed for use this season offers a protection against five different types of virus, all capable of causing influenza. While it will not ensure complete immunity, vaccination has in past years produced a marked degree of protection for a large majority of those who received it.

When Thieves Couldn't Open Safe, They Took It With Them

Thieves who broke into a Whitford Avenue home had such a difficult time attempting to break into a bedroom safe, that they finally decided to take the entire vault with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Forte discovered the theft after returning home at 1 a.m. on December 18. The safe contained about $3,500 in bonds, gold bracelets, jewelry, camera lenses and an old coin collection.

Patrolmen Joseph Samples and William Postlewaite, who responded to the Fortes' call, say entry was made by smashing a front door window.

Mr. and Mrs. Forte left for the evening at about 7:30. When they returned, they found several rooms ransacked and in addition to the safe, a large picture over the fireplace missing.

The burglars found some tools in the cellar and worked on the bedroom safe with clawhammers and electric drills. Apparently unsuccessful, they decided to remove the safe altogether.

The safe was dragged down a hall through the kitchen and down an embankment leading to Irving Place where the vault was apparently placed into some type of vehicle.

Nutley Police Detectives are continuing the investigation.

We now recognize the year 1968
A.D. Use of the notation A.D.
(in the year of our Lord) was inaugurated by Charles III of Germany, who affixed the symbolism to the year of his reign in 878. The system of retroactively dating the years prior to the Saviour's birth and dedicating the succeeding years to His greatest glory was invented by a monk about 533 A.D. This marked the beginning of what is termed the Christian Era.

Sports Training to Develop 'The Whole Man'

Today's athletes have set amazing records because each detail of sports performance has been analyzed and improved, but athletics may be nearing the ultimate in part-by-part improvement of such things as skill, endurance, strength, and nutrition, said a speaker at the seventh annual National Conference on the Medical Aspects of Sports in Philadelphia.

In a paper prepared for delivery at the Conference, scheduled for Nov. 28 in Philadelphia in conjunction with the American Medical Association Clinical Convention, J. Kenneth Doherty, Ph.D., said that "human adaptation to stress, whether physical, emotional or mental, seem to be incredibly extensible, but we would be foolish to assume that it is unlimited."

Training Whole Man
Dr. Doherty, who is director of the Pennsylvania Relays, said that the time may be nearing when a return to the concept of training the "whole man" will be necessary. "We are living dangerously when we work with aspects (of performance) as though they were separate parts," he said. "We shall be wise to increase our medical surveillance of sports training during the next decade and those to follow."

Beginning about 100 years ago sports training began to emphasize such parts of performance as skill, strength, or endurance, and developed each by special methods, he said, and the "whole man" athlete, one who presumably could perform any task well, began to fade out of the picture.

However, he said, the upper limits of special-area training may be approaching, and "At some time in the not-too-distant future, we shall discover that we have reached the stage of what has been called 'exhaustion of the adaptation energies'."

Such exhaustion is evidenced not by a breakdown of the entire organism, but rather in terms of its weakest vital part, Dr. Doherty said.

He urged the development of new methods of training the whole man, commenting that "Physical readiness is a way of speaking, just as is physical medicine. Both must work with the whole man. To concentrate on parts is to belittle the medicine man's development, and man must be ready to use the medicine."

Another speaker at the sports conference, Martin E. Jazina, M.D., physician for the U.S. of California at Los Angeles, football team, said that football ball and shoulder pads fail to prevent some injuries—and may contribute to some—but the helmet, when properly fitted, does prevent head injury.

Dr. Blazina said that despite a considerable number of head injuries to UCLA team members during the past six years, there were no serious aftereffects attributable to helmet failure.

Injuries Recorded
From the fall of 1958 through the spring of 1959, there were 2,333 injuries recorded among UCLA football players. Of these, 145 were head injuries and 129 were neck injuries.

"There is a relatively high incidence of head injuries in intercollegiate football, but they are usually not serious," he said.
"Although the helmet does not prevent head injuries altogether, it appears to prevent serious head injury."

Albert S. Hyman, M.D., New York City, a founder of the American College of Cardiology, said that any cardiac patient should be carefully observed on his capacity to perform exercise, because in some cases, if he is in good condition, he may be able to perform better than the normal athlete with a normal heart.

"Every athlete has cardiac problems," Dr. Hyman said, "including the labored breathing, palpitation, and 'heart pain' caused by oxygen debt."

The "well" conditioned athlete with a cardiac condition may be better able to tolerate oxygen debt than a person who has a normal heart, but is in poor physical condition. Dr. Hyman said.

Emperor Grapes Add
New Color and Flavor
The Emperor is back! That large, dark red grape that makes such a handsome centerpiece and fruit bowl display is at the produce counter again. Now is a good time to start "cooking" with Emperors, too. They make delicious and eye catching additions to desserts, salads and sauces.

The Emperor grape and the cultivated grapes of California generally are descendants of varieties grown all around the Mediterranean - the so-called "European grapes." All are derived from one wild species, the Vitis vinifera, native to western Asia. The Mission Farmers began bringing cuttings of these grapes to California almost 200 years ago. Just when the Emperor grape arrived isn't known, but California grape historians believe it reached the vineyards of that state about a century ago along with 200,000 other grape cuttings.

To rate as a table grape the fruit must have eye-appeal. This year the Emperors have unusually high color and are producing larger, more fully packed bunches. Sweetness, and "bou-quet" are essential in an eating grape, but in the case of the Emperor, an exceptional sugar content makes it possible to store them safely at a low temperature for prolonged periods.

a stupid question?" How could he reconcile a query about student safety with "digging for dirt?" "That's a stupid question!" he yelled four times in quick succession. "You can go to hell!"

He refused to answer any questions about the school.

Mrs. Mary Valentiss, 61 Wallace St., chairman of the Special Committee, however, was more definite.

"If it's unsafe for over 30, it should be unsafe for all," she said, wondering how this degree of safety could be applied. It might be alright for older children, she reasoned, but what about the smaller children?

Mrs. Helen Grigoris, School 2 PTA president, thought the Board of Education, while more deliberate, was doing a good job. If the study of additional construction at School 2 wasn't completed in time for the spring referendum, it might be better during a special election at a later date, she observed.

"As part of a larger budget, it could be overlooked by people," she said. "On a special election it would receive more attention."

Meanwhile, Arvidson agrees that the school has a problem of inadequate space, and is busily making plans to alleviate the situation as fast as he can.

The First Fire At Belleville High School

PULLED UP BEFORE the front entrance of Belleville High School last week were two trucks of the town fire department who sped to the school shortly after 3 p.m. Tuesday to extinguish a fire which destroyed a tree which had been setup on the stage for a Christmas play. At right is Paula Petrole, 16, and her companion Judy Porecco, 17, who examine the blackened limbs of the burned out tree.

Belleville High School had its first fire last Tuesday afternoon when a 14-foot Christmas tree set up on a sag of h auditorium for a Christmas play caught fire. Damage was limited to the stage where a circular area about three feet in diameter was scorched.

Mrs. Kay Shaughnessy, a secretary whose husband is a fireman, quickly directed firefighters to the scene of the fire after Head Custodian Gordon Kennedy hurried to the burning tree and went to work with a hand fire extinguisher. Over-head sprinklers also went into action.

Most of the students had been dismissed for the day when the fire alarm sounded. On hand to check the damage was acting superintendent Michael Rosamilia, Principal Raymond Smith, Fire Chief Carl Hunderford, and Harold Dufford, business administrator.

She was a member of the Rotary Society of St. Peter's Church and a member of Court Santa Maria, 61, Catholic Daughters of America.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Catherine Davis of Nutley, Mrs. Ruth Monaghan of Belleville, Mrs. Josephine Coulter of Aclinton, Va., and Mrs. Doris Mykys of Miami, Fla.; four sons, Police Sgt. John J. Monaghan of Gettysburg, Md., Mrs. Arthur Marion of California, Mrs. Thomas McGill of Ireland and 19 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

If today's "Liberals" were true Liberals in the tradition of Thomas Jefferson, they would be doing the work that has fallen to the lot of today's conservatives." — Barry Goldwater.

Mrs. Farese, 58, Services Dec. 24

A High Requiem Mass for Mrs. Gertrude V. Farese, 58, formerly of Newark, will be offered at 9 a.m. Dec. 24 at St. Rose of Lima Church. The funeral will be from the Del Presto Funeral Home, 185 Clifton Ave., Newark.

Mrs. Farese, the former Gertrude Parker, died Tuesday in St. Michael's Hospital. Born in Newark, she lived there 53 years before moving to Belleville five years ago.

Mrs. Farese was active in the P. W. Rodino Ladies Auxiliary, American Legion Tri-County Hospital, Ladies Auxiliary, North Newark, and the Del Presto Civic Association.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Rita Gungleski and Mrs. Jane Cardinale, both of Newark; five brothers, John, William, James and Arthur Parker, all of Newark, and Charles Parker of Belleville; three sisters, Mrs. Hazel Peterson of Irvington, Mrs. Helen Fraser of Newark, and Mrs. Genevieve La Russa of East Orange, and three grandchildren.

Holly, like mistletoe, had special meaning for ancient Romans. Holly was used prominently in the December Saturnalia festival. Mistletoe was a symbol of peace and good will. For Christmas, there is symbolism where holly is concerned — Christ's blood (the red berries) and His crown of thorns.

Monaghan Rites Held Dec. 28th

A Solemn High Requiem mass will be offered at 9 a.m. Tuesday in St. Peter's Church for Mrs. John J. Monaghan, 85, of 105 Belleville Ave., Belleville.

The funeral will be from the Kiernan Funeral Home, 101 Union Ave., Belleville.

Mrs. Monaghan, the former Catherine Dacey, died Friday at Clara Maass Hospital, Belleville, after a short illness.

She was born in Boholia County Mayo, Ireland. She was a former employee of the Belleville Recreation Department and once was in charge of two municipal playgrounds.

She was a member of the Rotary Society of St. Peter's Church and a member of Court Santa Maria, 61, Catholic Daughters of America.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Catherine Davis of Nutley, Mrs. Ruth Monaghan of Belleville, Mrs. Josephine Coulter of Aclinton, Va., and Mrs. Doris Mykys of Miami, Fla.; four sons, Police Sgt. John J. Monaghan of Gettysburg, Md., Mrs. Arthur Marion of California, Mrs. Thomas McGill of Ireland and 19 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

JV's Lose Their First Game By A Close 38-37

All good things must come to an end, and with them went Belleville's Junior Varsity win streak.

After downing four straight opponents, the Junior Bellboys frittered away a seven-point lead to be edged by fast-breaking East Orange, 38-37.

Using their pattern of having juniors play the first, and third quarters and sophs the second and fourth, the Bellboys had come back from a 21-17 half time defeat behind the shooting of Rich San Filippo, Jim Catalano, and Joe Meiso.

Then the sophs let the lead slip away for the first time in five games. With Bellboy Bill Gamba inadvertently scoring a basket for the opposition, the contest turned into a cliff-hanger before E.O. prevailed.

Law Requires Persons To Give Serial Number

Federal tax law requires that individuals receiving dividends or interest income furnish their social security numbers to organizations paying the income.

Most taxpayers have already supplied their numbers to banks, savings institutions, life insurance companies and corporations in which they own stocks or bonds. An intensive campaign to obtain any missing numbers is currently being conducted by these dividend and interest payers.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

PRESENTATION: Unico National gave a check for $1,000 to Garden School at the annual Christmas party for the children there. Philip C. Rotondo, president, Robert Stepey, who accepted the check for the school, Daniel Ambrose (who played Santa), and Bloomfield Councilman-elect Joseph Napolitano.

Members Of Child Guidance Clinic Award A Plaque To The Freeholders

The Board of Trustees and the Staff of the North Essex Child Guidance Clinic recently expressed its appreciation to the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders in the form of a plaque engraved with the following message:

"These Clinic Facilities have been made available through the generosity and civic mindedness of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Essex County on Aug. 8, 1963."

Weidon R. Sheets, supervisor, James McKenna, director, Joseph E. Cohen, Benjamin W. Gordon, Mrs. Margaret Marucci-Kelly, Charles A. Matthews, Richard F. McMahon, Mrs. Jeanne Moss, Walter A. Quinn, Albert Saidutti.

The Freeholders have made possible the use of the second floor of the Nurses Home, Essex County Hospital, Belleville, for the North Essex Child Guidance Clinic, which is supported by and serves the communities of Belleville, Nutley, Glen Ridge and Bloomfield.

Because of these larger quarters, it is now possible to offer an extensive group therapy program to parents of the disturbed children who are treated individually. The clinic is also able to meet with other social agencies and in olden times, families sought a glimpse into the New Year by observing the "dipping" custom. With eyes closed, the head of the family would open the Bible and indicate a passage with his finger. The text, solemnly read and interpreted by the family, was indicative of the luck, good or bad, that was in store during the year ahead.

WATCHING OUT FOR SANTA was Michael Danski, 3, perched up his big brother Joe's shoulders. The two were among the crowd who greeted Santa when he landed in the Clearman Field recently. The boys live at 51 Overhill Rd.

Deborah Hospital Plans A Gala Day For Its Patients

This is the time of the year when true brotherly love and goodwill towards men abounds and is put into actual practice by many.

Deborah Hospital, a completely free and absolutely non-sectarian institution specializing in the care of operable heart disease and diseases of the Cardio-Vascular tree, practices these humane concepts 52 weeks of each year. All this is little solace to the patients at Deborah, who must spend the holidays confined to a hospital.

True to the tradition of Deborah, everything will be done to make their stay during this joyous time of the year as comfortable as possible.

All the decorations are up and Santa's helpers in the guise of volunteer women members of four nearby auxiliary chapters of Deborah have lined up plenty of goodies and gifts, so that all the patients, young and old, cardiac and pulmonary victims alike will receive their share of holiday cheer.

In addition to Santa and his helpers, entertainment will be furnished by the famous choral group of employees from the Fairless Works of U.S. Steel.

There is more in store for the patients at Deborah which is located in Browns Mills-New Jersey. Servicemen from nearby Fort Dix and McGuire Air Force base will once again give their annual holiday party.

Education Gets $70,534 Funds In Essex County

The State Education Department has approved more than $6 million in federal funds for New Jersey school districts under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

Essex County received $70,534. Education Commissioner Frederick M. Raubinger noted that approvals totaling $15 million more are expected to be ready by early February — and an additional $2 to $3 million early in March, when summer school projects are approved.

New Jersey's total allocation under Title I, which is designed to aid educationally deprived children, has been set at $24 million.

Louis A. Dughi, state assistant coordinator of the Act, said that more than 100 specialists from the Education Department are in the field helping districts to plan projects.

County staffs, he said, are also approving projects under $10,000 on-the-spot, while four regional teams from the Department's Trenton office are in the field approving projects over $10,000.

All of the teams, he said, are set to follow up the programs to see how successful they are.

open and public "but not to such an extent that the number present hinders election officers."

Plurality to elect: A plurality of votes cast is sufficient to elect a member of the board or to approve or reject a school budget.
