Junior Varsity Ousted By West Side In 39-37 Tournament Scrimmage

After leading all the way, the Bellboy Junior Varsity fell before a West Side rally in the final two minutes of their quarter final County Tournament encounter to end the JV's season at a 40-40 mark.

Playing against a bigger and quicker team, the Junior Bellboys, who had drawn a first round bye, had jumped ahead to a 12-8 first quarter lead. As the Roughriders' Aussey Perry came alive in the record period, the Blue and Gold hung for a 22-18 half score.

In the third period, an amazingly accurate Maurice Stevens started hitting despite close guarding by Nick Verdi, and West Side moved within a point of the lead. Late in the final round, Stevens moved the Newark sophomore into a tie at 32 all.

Two free throws by Stevens had West Side leading 33-32, that lead was cut to a point with 1:33 remaining when the Bellboys' backcourt ace Bill Sherman went to the line for two free throws.

An overthrown pass killed a West Side stall attempt 30 seconds later and the Bellboys appeared in good position to regain the lead, but a contested walk by Verdi and the ensuing technical foul put West Side ahead 38-37 with 48 seconds remaining.

The Rough Riders again went into their stall at this point, but Sherman broke it up by canning a jump ball. The Bellboy out jumped Will Mayers with 26 seconds to go and Belleville to a time out.

Stevens Leads

While the Bellboys were making their plans, West Side switched from their man-to-man coverage to a zone defence that proved decisive. Trying to set up for a shot against the new alignment proved unsuccessful until with 10 seconds left Don Boyce saw an opening and put up a shot that bounced off the rim into the hands of Perry. West Side then ran out the clock for victory.

Nine for 12 accuracy and a 20 point performance by Stevens were the deciding factor in this battle. After a fast start, the lanky Stevens was effectively restrained by Kostowitz and some doubling up tactics. LeRoy Polite also turned in a strong effort by blanking 6-foot 2 Leon Herbert and scoring 6 points himself.

Sherman led the Bellboy scorers with 16 points besides directing the attack. (A summary of the J.V. season will follow next week.)

Birdsong Thrills

Many years ago when Hollywood first turned its attention to the feathered kingdom, one movie company needed a picture of a song sparrow singing from a perch. Working near Ithaca, N.Y., they roved through field and wood, trying to get near enough to one to photograph it and record its song. All efforts were fruitless. Finally in desperation they asked Dr. Arthur A. Allen of Cornell University for help.

He agreed and suggested they pick him up the next morning long before dawn. Once everyone was in the car, Dr. Allen guided them out of them into the farming areas and up a farm road to a spot near the corner of a field.

Here, he directed they set up their blind and focus the camera on a particular corner fence-post. Somewhat incredulously his directions were followed and then the cameraman asked, "What now?"

"We wait," he was told.

Favorite Spot

Soon the first golden rays of a new day appeared on the horizon and as if on schedule, a song sparrow flew to the post, perched and sang his greeting to the dawn. Hollywood had their picture and record; but how did Dr. Allen have such good luck when theirs had been bad for days.

It was easy if you were in on the secret; the post was the favorite perch of the little fellow when he advertised he had occupied this area in which to raise a family. The same performance was repeated each morning and Dr. Allen had seen it before during a population study.

Except for the deep southeast, this songster cheers hearts all over the North American continent. He comes by his latin name, melospiza melodia, quite honestly. When winter has scarcely relaxed its hold this fellow may repeat his catchy melody 300 times an hour. You can recognize him any time of year by dark breast spot.

Biography

Few famous men have had a definitive biography written about them to compared with the one Margaret Morse Nice wrote about the song sparrow. Its two volumes, aggregating almost 600 pages, hold an honored place on my bookshelves. Volume I is a population study, and Volume II a study of song sparrow behavior.

Song sparrows' appearance vary slightly from place to place. The number of geographical races that can be distinguished varies, according to the expert classifying them, from 26 to 11. Probably three races breed in our state. They are ubiquitous, breeding in a great variety of habitats from the interior highlands to the coastal beaches.

The song sparrow was a favorite of that great naturalist, John the heavy brown streaks and the Burroughs. He made many references to its song, in one passage characterizing it "for simple faith and trust." In another spot, he wrote, "day after day from May to September I heard this strain, which I thought a simple but very profound summing up of life, and wondered how the little bird had learned it so quickly. . . . Among a large troop of them in April, my attention was attracted to one that was a master songster, some Shelley or Tennyson among his kind."

Centenni Land Reverts

Back to Town Ownership

A one-dollar bill, given so joyously a few months ago to the Town Council in payment for a plot of land at 91-99 Emmett St. by Floyd Centenni Jr. was refunded Monday night at Town Hall to Mrs. Centenni.

Centenni, a disabled veteran, was sold the plot of land for $1 after a unanimous vote by the council. When Centenni died recently, the Council cancelled the sale and the land reverted to the Town.

The land could not be legally sold to the widow, despite a plea by Councilman Ralph A. Casale that the sale be completed for the benefit of Mrs. Centenni. The motion was adopted 4-1.

A Return Bout

Councilman Ralph A. Casale suggested the Town Council extend an invitation to John J. Biondi Jr., moderator of the Political Science Club of Belleville Junior High School, to again attend a council session in the future.

The group attended a meeting recently in which Councilman James R. Golden was threatened with eviction because of his hysterical outburst. Monday night's meeting was, said the mayor, a model of decorum.

Sen. Williams Sees 'Ray of Light' in Fight to Keep Trains Running

A Ray of Light in a Bleak Picture
By U.S. Senator
Harrison A. Williams

During the past few weeks, we have seen another symptom of the rapidly worsening commuter crisis in New Jersey and across the country.

That was the series of hearings conducted by the New Jersey Public Utilities Commission on the application of the Erie Lackawanna Railroad to abandon its commuter service. The witnesses painted a bleak picture of the commuter's future, but there was one ray of light, which went relatively unnoticed.

The PUC was forced to shift the hearing from a meeting room in the State Office Building to Newark City Hall because of the great number of persons who turned out for the hearing.

There were more than 60 attorneys representing various commuter interests who showed up to protest the proposed abandonment of service.

To me, that is a hopeful sign. I have been fighting since 1939 to reverse the vicious cycle of reduced commuter service, which leads to fewer passengers, which in turn leads to another reduction in service.

And there were many who fought with me. Almost without exception the newspapers across the State took a leading role in the battle. And public officials at the top level of Government demonstrated their awareness of the approaching commuter crisis.

But, with some notable exceptions, it was difficult to arouse the general public and many municipal and county officials.

It was, I think, difficult for many of them to conceive of losing the train service they'd always had. It always had been there, and it always would be there—they seemed to feel.

The gradual curtailment of service on commuter lines in New Jersey and throughout the eastern part of the United States in recent years has slowly changed that feeling of complacency.

And, I think, the response to the Erie-Lackawanna's application to abandon more than 25 thousand commuters throughout North Jersey indicates that the general public is now aroused and ready to fight for its commuting life.

And we have a light on our hands. To varying degrees all the commuter railroads in New Jersey are losing money and have cut service.

I have introduced legislation in the Senate which, I am convinced, can win that fight.

The legislation proposes: A greatly expanded capital grant program, under which the Federal Government helps commuter facilities purchase new equipment and modernize track, age, stations, and other installations.

And a temporary federal contribution of up to two-thirds of the out-of-pocket losses of commuter facilities.

In order to qualify for the operating subsidy, the applicant would have to submit a plan for placing the commuter service on a self-sustaining basis within 10 years.

The money would not go directly to the railroad or bus line or other commuter facility.

Linked to the subsidy program is an amendment to the Interstate Commerce Act which would bar the ICC from permitting a commuter facility to curtail or abandon service without making an attempt, in good faith, to restore its service to a sound basis, making use of this legislation.

We first brought national attention to bear on the plight of the commuter in 1961, with passage of the Mass Transit demonstration program.

Mounties Take The Bellboys In A Hard Fought Battle That Ends 46-45

Sideline Byline

Steve Charen

ange as a second round foe. St. Benedict's in the County and Bloomfield in the state will battle the Bellboys for this right.

BIG TEN FINISH: What was heralded as a tight eight team battle to finish for the Big Ten Conference title finished somewhat differently. East Orange completely dominated the league by putting together a strong senior, yet inexperienced, team around Ken Moss. What did develop was six team-fight for second.

Orange, which took a hard-fought overtime battle from Belleville before falling 60-55, used a fast breaking style of play like that of the champions to win that spot. Montclair, after falling to Belleville 49-47 in overtime and coming back with a 45-44 triumph.

The Bellboys finished in the next spot tied with young Irvington team they beat 58-42 early in the year before falling to by three points. A total of 17 points hurt the Blue and Gold this season as they lost contests by less than three points. If those points had come along at strategically timed intervals a 46-2 finish would have replaced the 108 final. Belleville won only two of eight close decisions.

Bloomfield finished next with its young squad followed by erratic Columbia and a Kearny team that didn't reach its potential to the end of the season when won five of its seven games. Bringing up the rear were the two teams written off as contenders.

Hunting Season Is Safest Since 1948 Opening

New Jersey's 1965-66 hunting season was the safest since 1948, according to the Division of Fish and Game.

A total of 38 accidents were reported through the end of quail, grouse and squirrel season, Feb. 5. This was 30 less than last year and the lowest figure since 1948, when 26 accidents occurred.

Only one accident this fall was fatal, compared with five last year and four in 1948. It did not actually occur in the woods and field but in a back yard. The shooter was on his way out to hunt and stopped to talk with the victim when a defect in the weapon caused it to go off.

More Hunters

This year's record is even more remarkable in light of the fact that the number of licensed hunters has risen by more than 10,000 since 1948. There is less land open to hunting due to the State's rapid growth reflected in a population rise of about two million people.

Fish and Game Director Lester G. MacNamara credits the efforts of volunteer hunter safety instructors for the State's excellent record. There are about 700 firearm and 300 bow and arrow instructors.

Since firearm safety training before the season began. The final Big Ten Conference standings for 1965-66 stood at:

Team	W	L	Pct
E. Orange	17	1	.944
Orange	13	5	.722
Montclair	11	7	.611
Belleville	10	8	.556
Irvington	10	8	.556
Bloomfield	9	9	.500
Columbia	7	11	.389
Kearny	7	11	.389
W. Orange	5	13	.278
Nutley	1	17	.055

was made mandatory for hunters under age 21, hunting fatalities in the State have been halved. Fatalities averaged over six per year during the five years prior to the requirement and have averaged just over three since.

Youthful Accidents

The number of young hunters causing accidents has been cut sharply under the safety program. For example, five of this year's known shooters were under 21. In 1948, nine of the known shooters were under 18.

The most frequent cause of accidents in 1965-66 was the victim being out of sight of the shooter's line of fire, and five accidents occurred when the shooter was swinging on game. All of these accidents point up the importance of extreme caution in never pointing a gun at anything except legal game or a proper target.

Most of the accidents, 26 including the one fatality, occurred during the small game season; three took place during waterfowl hunting and nine during the firearm deer season. There were no bow and arrow accidents this year. Six of the accidents were self-inflicted.

Low Rate

Based on New Jersey's hunting population only, the 1965-66 fatality rate is roughly 0.57 per 100,000 licensed hunters. The national fatality rate from firearms is 1.1 per 100,000 of total population.

Based on the State's total population, the hunting fatality rate since institution of the safety program has been roughly 0.5 per million annually.

Firearms rank below automobile, falls, fires, drownings, poisoning and railroad accidents as causes of accidental mortality, according to the National Safety

Last Minute Rally Fails; Tall Men Blamed For Loss

By STEVE CHAREN

Rallying from a 15 point deficit, the Bellboys came roaring back in the last five minutes only to fall one point short of overtaking a big Montclair team at 46-45.

After falling behind 14-8 in the first quarter, the Bellboys had managed a 25-19 half time score before succumbing to the Mounties' superior height in the 8-2 third period. Then, as Cal Walker, the senior half of Montclair's 6 ft 4 duo ran into foul trouble, the Bellboys made their move.

An unusually accurate Len Coleman had started the final period with six fast shots. Montclair's 16-point margin, the games largest, a minute later with the score at 41-26, Rich Pucciarelli started the Bellboys rolling with a free throw.

Five Fouls

Art Sheridan added a jumper nine seconds later before a collection of five foul shots by Pucciarelli and Nick Pizzuto cut the margin to 41-34 with 4:05 remaining. The drive slowed as Belleville managed four of the next seven points.

Then with less than a minute remaining, Pucciarelli went on a five-point rampage to bring the Bellboys within a point of the lead at 44-43. An attempted Mountie stall was then broken by a foul that led to two free ones with 47 seconds remaining.

Sheridan drove in for a score with 47 seconds remaining, but Belleville couldn't regain possession for another shot as a pair of free throws from an intentional foul climaxed the 46-45 game.

Sharpshooters

During the last quarter heroics, the Bellboys' hit scored Montclair 24-13 with Pucciarelli netting 10 points. Automobile fatalities in 1964 were over 20 times greater than firearms and mortality from falls nearly ten times greater. In overall accidents hunting rank 16th among sports according to insurance company statistics.

ting 11 of those points for a 20-point day and Pizzuto contributing nine of his 16. Both of the Bellboy sharpshooters had a 5 for 13 field goal showing on the day; both started hitting a little too late.

Coleman led Montclair with 15 points but the real story here was off the boards where Walker and junior Bob Marshall built up a 69 to 30 rebound advantage. In the team's first meeting of the year with Belleville going without Ken Pilmore, the Mounties also controlled the boards, but lost 49-47 in overtime.

She must be between the ages of seven and eleven, live in Belleville, and, of course, be as cute as a bug's ear.

Details of the contest will be announced soon, said Harry French, executive secretary.

On the committee judges will be John Kondreck, chairman; Mrs. Frank Pili, Mrs. Sol Sherman, John Tannuzzi, and Arthur Jackson.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Pico Rebukes DiRuggiero On 'Untruthful Charges'

To the Editor, Belleville Times: Frank DiRuggiero, D.D.S., 52 Van Reyser Place, Belleville, New Jersey 07109.

Dear Frank: Your unwarranted and unprovoked attack on me regarding the defeat of the budget for the Board of Education and School 2 addition was the lowest type of political backbiting ever perpetrated in Belleville's history. When a public official takes it upon himself to accuse another official of untruthful charges, when neither one are candidates, it is certainly hitting below the belt.

The returns clearly indicate that your campaign for the reelection of your colleagues with utter disregard to the passing of the budget or School 2. Ever since my commission days, and now as Mayor, I have never interfered with the Board of Education business and particularly at this time when I am concentrating on the coming campaign for Council in the May election. The obvious reason being that if the school budget was defeated twice it would then become my duty to decide what action to take in behalf of the interests of the people of Belleville. In connection with School 2, long ago as a member of the lay committee I made an electrical engineering survey on the fire hazard of obsolete wiring and recommended a new installation, which has been done. I have always contended that the physical plant of School 2 should be improved. Also, in connection with this school, you did not have the courage to put a line item in the budget for improvements but you used the old subterfuge of a public referendum to pass the buck to the people for a decision.

Furthermore, you have implied that I visited various "joints" campaigning against the budget. Evidently you must have visited the same "joints" in order to make this vicious remark. If so, at least be honest enough to name them so I can give the direct lie by place and time.

Why is it that the two Gentlemen who were re-elected and who had more at stake than you or I, did not follow your onerous method of "passing-the-buck"? Isn't it because this particular "stab-in-the-back" is your own attempt to repay some fancied grievance.

Kids Are Big For Their Ages, Declares Mother

To the Editor: At this time of year, particularly, when the theme of living is "Peace on Earth and Good will to men" it is unfortunate that the manager of a local theatre can be a downright dictator. Because my daughter looks older than she is, which is not her fault, this gentleman, using the term very loosely, refused her admittance, along with her younger brother and a friend. Not only that, but he also refused to allow them to use the phone booth in the theatre to call home.

They were under 12 years of age. He adamantly wanted written proof, and nothing else would do. My word after going down there for them was not good enough either. He certainly must have met a terrible class of people in his work to disbelieve the children and myself.

Rempusheski, DiDomenico Records Are Intact, But BHS Loses By 24-18

Nutley Takes Advantage Of Injured Bellboy Team

By BILL MCCARTHY

The "end men" kept their records going, but the team was defeated as they lost their fourth straight meet.

Most notable match was Nick DiDomenico's eighth consecutive victory at 98 pounds but John Rempusheski also did a great job in recording his seventh in a row with his ninth in the ten meets, having lost only to the Kearny heavy. They will be chief opponents in the District Matches Friday and Saturday, and they could easily go the distance.

The meet started off in the right direction when DiDomenico took a quick 2-0 lead in the first period, then got two in the second on a quick reversal. In the third period he wasted no time while pinning his man in 15 seconds.

Season's Fifth Win

It was his fifth pin of the season, and he has been the biggest contributor to the team point-wise. He has been responsible for 34 team points to Belleville's credit, and not one against us. He has proven time and again that he has plenty of power, and it wouldn't surprise any of his teammates if the State title went to him in March.

John Zoppi evened his season record at 5-5 as he completely had his man mastered for the match, and just missed another pin for his record. He has pinned his man in three matches, and his other victories were runaways; this meet was a fine example as he whipped his opponent 12-3, getting two takedowns, a reverse, an escape, a near pin, and had over four minutes riding time. In the Districts, he might prove to be the man to watch for an exciting upset and victory.

At 115-lbs. Rich Cuculo has been "warming" for the championships as he had a takedown, reversal, predicament, and about a minute riding time over his man for an impressive 7-1 victory. Again the Bellboys have another man to check out, if Lady Luck is helping this powerful young mite this weekend.

Luongo Loss

Mike Luongo found himself a victim of circumstance when he lost what appeared to be a takedown in the first period, and was credited with a tie as his 3-2 score was tied by the other man's one minute riding time advantage. Still, it was a good match, and we wish him the best in the coming tournament.

Bill Buist, just recovering from a chest injury, was behind 4-0 in the second period, yet came back to earn a tie with Ham-bright, the Nutley 141-pounder. It was a terrific match for Bill, considering that he hadn't even practiced since two weeks ago.

The heavyweight story was a routine matter as big John Rempusheski gave Olivo of Nutley a hard time, winning 2-0 after escaping in the second period, then riding him the full length of the third for his win. Olivo was the runaway champ of the J.V. Tournament last year, while John was nowhere near comparable to what he is now. But the better they come, the harder John lets them fall.

Once again, here's a real big threat to anyone else's ideas of taking the tournament at this weight.

Losers' Laments: Frank Morgan's swollen hand was of little help and much hindrance as he went down against Nutley's "pride and joy," Cunningham. Gordon Kirk, the other of the two animals on the Nutley team, pinned Russ Giordano in a quick series of moves. Have some pity for Jim Puleo, who was visibly shocked when, after drifting for a full week, to get down to 141 pounds, found himself going 1-8 against strongboy Angelo Miano. He found out he was going that weight about ten minutes after the meet started. It was bad luck for Mike, who should also go far in the tournaments. Bonkowski and Luty were decision victims, who both could have been better off if the periods were shorter. In the end of the second period in their respective matches they lost the positions which meant both individual matches.

The Round-Up

Well, better luck next year, but here's to a great effort of a team whose luck wasn't exactly the best, but did their part anyway. And just as much thanks to Coach James Silvestri, who pushed as hard as possible to get the team going, and to juggle his very sore lineup to give the fans the best he could muster, and did a darn good job.

a-half seconds off of the existing record of 9:58 set in 1964 by Essex Catholic's Greg Ryan. The previous Group IV mark of 10:07 was also broken by Belleville's trackman, extraordinary.

Joining Boglione as the first Bellboys to attempt indoor competition, Dave Gregonis placed sixth out of the 16 team field. Neither boy had ever had the opportunity to even practice indoors, but both had been closely following volunteer cross-country suggestion to work out 100 miles per week with runs of varying distances to maintain condition.

Most of the Bellboys practice comes in the streets of Belleville and neighboring towns, although occasional trips to outdoor board tracks near Essex Catholic and Kearny have been attempted.

DeMolay Start Off Season With 60-33 Win Over Bergen Chapter

By DOUG MC CUMBER

Suburban Chapter, Order of DeMolay, won its first game of the season by defeating Bergen Chapter 60-33. Their record in District 4 is now 1-1 after the initial game was lost by 6 points.

Belleville controlled both offensive and defensive boards with their three big men, Fred Burbank, Bob DePass and Walt Beresford.

Higher scorer for Belleville was Kurt Betchick with 14 points, as he was open under the boards all night. Right behind him was Co-captain Doug McCumber with 12 points.

Belleville scored 21 points in the first quarter to take a 13 point lead. The second quarter was a defensive battle as Suburban only scored 6 and Bergen was held to 2 points. The last quarter was Bergen's as Belleville defense slackened and let the opponents score 15. This did little harm as the offensive scored 20 for Belleville, at 9:30 a.m. Guest speaker will be James M. Malone, administrative assistant of the N. Y. Port Authority. He will discuss the World Trade Center.

Come in and take on a tiger!

The only thing that looks low-priced on a Pontiac Tempest is its price sticker.

And that's removable.

Take it off, and there's just a pure, unabridged Pontiac: crisp, Wide-Track style and handling. A handsome interior. Plus the effervescent performance of a new, overhead cam 6 engine that puts out with all the spunk of an 8, yet saves like the traditional 6. And, of course, being a Pontiac, Tempest allows you the luxury of choice with options in engines, transmissions, suspensions, practically everywhere. And like all Pontiacs, Tempest also has a standard safety package with items like seat belts to buckle-front and rear. (That ought to do for now. We'll tell you the rest when you get here.)

Ten Missing

For those residents of Belleville who ask "What difference would my one vote matter?" had their question answered last week.

If ten additional voters had turned out during the school board's annual election, the entire power structure of the board membership could have changed.

Board president Ernest S. Arvidson was returned to office by a scant eight votes ahead of newcomer David E. Haight. Which side of the "bloc" he would have joined is only to be speculated upon. He had been endorsed by anti-Arvidson campaigners, but gave every indication of being a neutral and honest board member.

Of the "neutrals" there is but one other — board member John DiRienzo, who tries to vote as honesty dictates as evidenced by his voting record both with and against the four member majority, who routinely vote at their party's call.

Ten voters could have given Belleville its first power shift since board member Rocco Saletta was elected.

The board majority have disclaimed the "bloc" vote. But during their next business session, and for many to come, there will be a solid 4-3 vote by Arvidson, Nicholas S. Juliano, Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, and Saletta, broken only by the addition or subtraction of a neutral vote cast by DiRienzo.

As Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds." It is too much of a coincidence to believe that a 4-3 vote just happens. There is bound to be a normal variance among four — or three — different intellects.

But to say these men have dishonest, ulterior motives would be untrue and unjust. They are doing a difficult job. G.F.A.

Trauma Time Is Here Again

After last week's disastrous election, and faced with another costly one coming up next Monday by a financially troubled board of education the Times decided to write a stirring "Get Out And Vote" editorial. But then we got to thinking.

Residents are annually flooded by such encouragement from radio, TV, and newspapers. Consequently, a swarm of voters flock dutifully to the polls without the slightest idea of what they are voting for, the platforms of the candidates, or the nature of the issues. They pull a lever after a series of indiscriminate X's, and return home with a pious feeling of having done their civic duty as Good Americans.

Frankly, we're not alarmed at the fact that only 50 per cent — it was much less than that in Belleville — of the enfranchised population showed up at the polls. We were, however, greatly concerned over the thought and study that went into each vote. Unfortunately an uninformed vote carries as much weight as an informed vote.

The political objective is to get out the vote in quantitative rather than qualitative form. The subject on the ballot with the most votes, regardless of merit, will be deemed the most representative. But there is absolutely no relation between the size of the vote and the quality of achievement. An uninformed voter can do more harm than good.

In a republic where the vast majority have no instruction in economics the vote is bound to be erratic. Plato said two thousand years ago: "The punishment that wise men suffer for indifference to public affairs is to be ruled by unwise men."

Our advice, then, to all well-meaning but misguided associations, business firms, and individuals is to change this election day slogan to read as follows: "Get out and vote — if you know what it's all about. If you don't STAY HOME!"

And just what is the election all about? It's simply a matter of supplying the board of education with the funds they feel are necessary to operate the school system for the coming year without loss of essential service.

For three consecutive times it has been labeled excessive and promptly defeated. The system has managed to stagger on, although the budget must eventually be approved intact, said board president Arvidson.

What bothers voters, though, is the fact money has been spent for litigation, and more may come, despite the board's claim that they are operating on short funds. G.F.A.

A Just Verdict

A substantial number of voters visited the school board polling places last week and decided to maintain the status quo in respect to the Ernest S. Arvidson, et al. vs. Dr. Frank Durkee dispute.

Only eight votes separated winner Ernest Arvidson from a relatively unknown third place finisher, David Haight. The result can hardly be considered a vote of confidence in Arvidson or a thumping victory for the Dr. Durkee partisans.

We believe the voters wisely determined to mark time until State Education Commissioner Frederick Raubinger hands down a verdict in the Dr. Durkee matter.

Until Commissioner Raubinger says otherwise, we will continue to believe Dr. Durkee's integrity is beyond reproach; we will continue to believe Dr. Durkee has made substantial contributions to the progress of our school system. F.A.O.

Our Cents-ible Voting Public

To their everlasting credit Belleville voters in large numbers rejected a school board budget which asked $575,000 more than last year to operate the school system for the next fiscal year beginning July 1st.

In the process they also defeated a capital-expenditure budget of $90,000 and successfully opposed a proposed addition to School 2.

A $575,000 one year budget increase for schools alone is simply too much tax increase for our already overburdened taxpayers to accept.

We urged defeat of last week's budget. Unless the school board reduces the budget increase by 50 per cent we urge voters to deliver a knockout blow again.

Last year voters twice rejected the school budget thus requiring the Town Council to wrestle with the problem. Mayor Nuncio Pico and his colleagues covered themselves with glory by cutting approximately $275,000 from the rejected budget.

If the voters say "NO" to the school budget next week Mayor Pico and his colleagues may be obliged to rescue our taxpayers from a second back-breaking school budget. F.A.O.

Abandon Our Junior High School?

Now is as good a time as any to question the need of our Junior High School. The old high school building now houses Junior High operations.

Citizens will remember it as the same building that caused our high school to be blacklisted a couple of years ago. A million dollars in repairs will be inadequate to make of this old dump a modern school plant. It just isn't in the wood, (or concrete).

We suggest abandonment of the Junior High School; conveyance of the building to the Town Council in exchange for Municipal Stadium; and construction of necessary additions at the new high school and grade schools to accommodate students now enrolled in the Junior High School.

We believe substantial savings can be effected by eliminating the administrative and overhead costs required to maintain a building for Junior High School purposes. The most significant accomplishment of such a move would be the return to home neighborhoods of our seventh graders who, at the impressionable and tender ages of 12 and 13, more readily may fall victim to the scourge of this decade — the drug habit — when in the company of older and more sophisticated students at a school a few miles from home.

For its part the Town Council would be in a position to give Belleville's main business street a shot in the arm by acquiring all the land on Washington Avenue between Holmes St. and Van Houten Pl., demolish the buildings, and provide us with the opportunity of substantially increased rates in a prime business location.

The least our Board of Education should consider at this time is the appointment of a high-grade citizens' committee to study the feasibility of abandoning our present Junior High School. F.A.O.

Who Defeated The Budget?

Who's to blame for the school budget's third consecutive defeat?

Mrs. Mary Shader, board secretary, blamed the editor, hinting that he deliberately twisted the facts.

Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, board member, said Mayor Nuncio R. Pico was the cause of it all. Him and his snide back-stabbing. (For this, the mayor says he will sue).

Ernest S. Arvidson, board president, pointed the finger at the publisher and his editorials, but through the columns of another newspaper — which didn't bother to support his proposed budget either.

The ballot is the tongue of the people, and THEY defeated the budget. But no one gave the poor taxpayer any credit for having a mind of his own. They twice vetoed the proposed budget last year because they felt it was too expensive, and over the past year they have been unable to detect any significant loss of essential service in our schools. What they may have detected, of course, is that the board has been involved in costly litigation — with perhaps more to come.

Did this money come from the budget which the Town Council so drastically cut last year? G.F.A.

An Important Meeting

The Belleville Citizens Committee Conference on Narcotics is sponsoring an educational program on narcotics addiction and, as part of their fight against dangerous misuse of drugs, they are presenting a live program at Belleville High School tonight at 8 p.m.

It will include a motion picture on drug addiction called "Decision", and a talk by E. R. Barber, group supervisor of the Federal Bureau of Investigation who will discuss the government's responsibility in prevention and control.

A second speaker, Louis C. Schaeffer, a professional service representative of a Philadelphia drug manufacturer, will also discuss drugs and their effect.

Dr. Samuel A. Amosato heads the 14-member committee here in Belleville, and he is a good man to know. The public — from age 18 up — is invited to attend this important meeting at the high school. G.F.A.

Did He Protest Too Much?

Last week assistant superintendent Harold Dufford was in a rage because the Times had wondered editorially if he had an assistant in the works "as indicated by the budget."

He didn't ask for one; doesn't need one; and doesn't want one, he hollered Thursday night during the executive session at School 8. Where does the budget say he is to get an assistant, he demanded?

Nowhere, really. But the board members maintained a discreet silence during the "discussion."

Dufford is half of the dual-control system used here, and the special investigating committee of the National Education Association has labeled the position "inferior" to unit control and asks for its abolishment. This may account for his testiness. But judging from his loud cries of outrage, is it possible something was in the works? Just asking. G.F.A.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Our Veterans Object To An Imagined Slight

To the Editor:

In regards to any Army private's objective I wish to lodge a protest with your newspaper of the remarks made by Gordon Adams, your editor, in reference to our privates in our armed services. These remarks were made in the Feb. 10th issue of the Belleville Times. Mr. Adams has insinuated that the chief objective of the private was to put in his hours and go home.

I wish to remind Gordon Adams that in time of war the chief objective is to engage and destroy the enemy. This objective, in case you haven't seen War requires the art of killing or be killed. Many of us veterans who served in our armed services during the wars are carrying physical disabilities, and the memories of our maimed and fallen comrades, and these memories shall never fade away.

Many a tear has been shed right here in our town and many a heart broken upon receiving a telegram from the Defense Department informing the family of a wounded or killed private. Mr. Adams, men have fought and died to preserve one of your cherished rights, and that is the FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.

And now you have the nerve to forget the sacrifices made by many a private.

I would cherish to see Mr. Gordon Adams assigned to some combat outfit in South Viet Nam, and after putting in his hours of duty request time off to come home to his family in the good old USA. I think he would wait for quite some time.

Please Mr. Adams, respect our fighting men and don't insinuate that they don't have a great objective to achieve.

Jose Fornaretto,
Chairman
Belleville Veterans' Council

(Adams started out as a private in the Canadian Army back in 1939 — a few years before the United States entered the European conflict. He emerged six years later a parachute technical sergeant with the United States 82nd Airborne Division and some 186 days "in the line." He has three Purple Heart Medals, a Bronze Star Medal for valor, and has been recommended for the Distinguished Service Cross during World War II. He is one of six men in his infantry company to survive five invasions, and it isn't likely this "cherished" hope that he be "assigned to some combat outfit" will ever come to pass. You see, he gets a service-connected total disability pension for defending his country.

Our thin-skinned veterans missed the point of the editorial. In any case, the Times is glad, yes, happy, to apologize for this imagined slander against our fighting men. But if they will check back, they will see that the Times has consistently supported our soldiers. There was a big "serviceman" lay-out on page 3 of the same edition. How come no one noticed this, fellas? — Editor)

Board President Gives Thanks To His Voters

To The Editor:

The election results last Tuesday, Feb. 8th, warrants a special thanks to all voters who cast their ballot for me. Each individual can have the satisfaction that his or her ballot made a difference.

While the tactics of the opposition in this campaign were far short of honesty and integrity, it has been clearly demonstrated that there is no necessity for a dedicated School Board candidate to sink to this same level.

It is not possible for me to meet every person who gave me their support, so I wish, through this means, to express my sincere gratitude and thanks to each

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

There are many places in the country where TV reception is poor. The reason may be a large distance from the nearest transmitter or mountainous terrain. In an effort to provide good TV reception, an antenna has been erected at a place where reception is good and wires have been strung to the individual homes, similar to the electric wiring. For a charge the households can hook up to this system and get good reception.

In this vicinity this is hardly necessary. We receive strong signals from the transmitters on the Empire State building. In some locations one station or the other may not come in too good or there may be some ghosts. As a rule, around here several stations come in good.

It just has been announced that New York city will have a system of wired to the homes TV. There are many sections of New York City where TV reception is very bad. This sounds hardly believable, but it is a fact. The large buildings absorb the transmitted signals and blot them out. There is lots and lots of steel in these buildings, which sometimes completely absorbs the signals and make TV and radio reception impossible or very poor.

Since TV is almost the only source of enjoyment for a great many people, they are only too willing to pay for it. Undoubtedly this is the beginning of "Pay TV," which is different than the system described above. Pay TV means the transmission of television programs over wires. These programs would not be available through the regular transmitters. A different system of pay TV transmits a scrambled signal over a regular station. In order to unscramble the signal, one needs a decoder on the TV receiver. There is a charge for each program one looks at. The decoder contains either a coin box or it makes a record of the time and program and this is going to be charged monthly.

We are fortunate to have good TV reception in this area. We service what we sell. Beck's Radio TV Hi Fi Nuplex 687-2375

A Pat On The Back For Officer Rossi

To The Editor:

I am writing this letter to highly commend the Belleville Police Department in their proficient handling of all sorts of emergency problems, at any hour of the day or night, with the greatest of courtesy and cooperation.

On Monday evening, Jan. 24, during an extreme snow storm, I experienced a car breakdown while proceeding to a funeral home in Orange, N.J.

I was immediately and efficiently assisted in my problem by Officer Barton J. Rossi of the Belleville Police Department. His speedy, efficient and courteous service soon got me rapidly on my way to my destination.

I would like, at this time, to thank and commend Officer Rossi, personally, and all the members of the Belleville Police Department for their prompt, efficient, and courteous handling of all traffic emergencies.

Firemen, Thank You! Says The Taubins

To The Editor:

Mrs. Taubin and myself are writing this letter in hopes that each and every citizen in our town will take a few minutes to read.

On Sunday, Jan. 9, while we were away, a fire on the third floor of our building, where we maintain our own apartment and business went ablaze.

Had it not been for the efficiency of the Belleville Fire Department, and also for the Police Department, what we have worked for so many years, would have been destroyed in a matter of minutes.

We as citizens of Belleville for over thirty years are very proud of our Police and Fire Department and very grateful to their devoted members.

Kennedy Album Leaves Out Mention Of Town future publications.

Survey Shows Ignorance Of Local School Board's Function And Authority

Great gaps in citizen knowledge about local schools and how they are run are disclosed in a recent state-wide survey released today by the New Jersey State Federation of District Boards of Education, the organization representing the state's 595 local district school boards.

Interviews conducted with a cross-section of New Jersey adults showed that 20 per cent of those interviewed had no idea whether their local school board members were elected or appointed.

An additional 19.5 per cent of those who did respond gave the wrong answer for their particular school district. 28 per cent of those interviewed either did not know if their public board meetings were open to the public or thought that the meetings were not open.

The grant will be used to buy new equipment for the newly enlarged X-ray, and Laboratory Departments that are in the final completion stages of the hospital's $5,000,000 construction and modernization program.

Town Manager Reports 2.1 Tax Rate Increase In Annual Budget Report

The Youth Employment Program, sponsored by our Belleville Youth Evaluation Commission, was instituted as of Monday, Feb. 7. Nine girls and seven boys have been assigned to Town Work Programs. These boys and girls range from age 16 to 21 years, and are now attending day school. It is the Town's responsibility to afford job opportunities and to establish continued training programs in Town service.

Other than assignment and checking as to their work hours, all payroll functions and certification processes are under the control of the Essex Youth and Economic Rehabilitation Commission, 39 Bradford Pl., Newark.

Those young people work 30 hours per week, and are paid by Federal funds at a rate of $1.25 per hour. There is no cost to the Town of Belleville involved.

After Civil Service certification for the position, Mrs. Shirley R. McCann was appointed as permanent bookkeeping machine operator in the Treasurer's Division as of Feb. 7, 1966.

The budget approved by the Town Council at a special meeting on Tuesday, February 8, projects a 2.15 tax point increase equated by a dollar increase of $48,841.03.

The cost for Municipal purposes in 1965 amounted to $2,830,433.90 with Anticipated Revenue deductions of $1,144,569.00 or an actual cost of $1,685,864.90.

The approved 1966 Budget has been established at $3,008,714.93 with a deduction for Anticipated Revenues of $1,265,049.00, leaving an actual proposed cost of $1,743,705.93.

Jersey schools were worse (13 per cent) than those of nearby states; 68 per cent felt that their local elementary schools were as good as or better than others within New Jersey, and 65 per cent felt that their local high school was on a par with or was better than other New Jersey high schools.

A number of dissatisfactions with New Jersey's schools were also expressed. There was some feeling (19 per cent) that too much emphasis is placed on sports. There was considerable feeling (35 per cent) that not enough is being done in the area of vocational education. There was also substantial belief (28 per cent) that not enough emphasis is being placed on college preparation.

Despite feelings of insufficiency both in vocational education and in college preparation, neither course variety nor teacher quality were highlighted as the top problem facing New Jersey school systems. Instead, overly large class size was viewed by citizens surveyed as the area of greatest concern.

Local Administration

From a checklist of 12 groups, citizens interviewed considered the local school board to be, by far, the most influential factor in determination of school quality. School administrators were rated second most influential — far below the school board — and the mayor and town officials were rated third.

City officials, on the other hand, were considered to be the most influential in the approval of school financing. School boards here rated a close second and administrators received no rating at all. Only 4 per cent of those interviewed felt that they, as voters, had any influence on the approval of financial proposals.

Of those interviewed, 70 per cent evaluated the job done by the present school board as adequate or excellent. Only 12 per cent actually felt that their local board was doing a poor job.

Financing Schools

Citizens were asked: "Do you know where the money comes from to run your local schools?" A check list of six taxes was supplied and interviewees were allowed to select any combination.

Real estate taxes, which carry the major burden of school support, were named by only 40 per cent of those interviewed.

Other sources selected included state grants (35 per cent); local town or city "school" taxes other than real estate (35 per cent); personal property taxes (32 per cent); gasoline and cigarette taxes (5 per cent) and others — mostly federal government and sales tax — (10 per cent).

When citizens were asked where, in view of rising costs, additional moneys for schools should come from in the future, a surprising 67 per cent preferred to increase the federal income tax. 37 per cent selected a broad-based tax on sales or income. 24 per cent selected increased cigarette, gas and liquor taxes. Only 12 per cent were willing to increase local real estate taxes.

Keeping Informed

From a checklist, 77 per cent of those surveyed selected their local newspaper as an important source for their information about local schools. 20 per cent selected the local paper as the one most important source.

MISS CHERRY BLOSSOM: This was the scene last year when Gwen Gaudio was named Miss Cherry Blossom at Belleville High School. And although she's a beauty, there are plenty of others here who are eligible for the next festival.

Junior Chamber Announces Annual 'Miss Cherry Blossom' Festival

Spring is in the air. Today the Junior Chamber of Commerce announced plans for the April 30 Cherry Blossom Festival where one of Belleville's prettiest young ladies will be crowned "Miss Cherry Blossom Queen."

The winner will take home a $500 scholarship; second prize is a $250 scholarship; and third place winner will receive a $125 scholarship in addition to other prizes to be announced later.

The winner will also become eligible for the Miss New Jersey contest in July, said chamber spokesman, where she can win up to $1,000 and compete in the Miss America Contest.

To qualify, she must be a resident or attend school here; she must be single and never have been married; she must be at least 18 years old, but not over 25; and she must be a high school graduate by September of this year.

Deadline for applications is March 25. The contest will be held at Belleville High School April 30.

Applications are available from the following merchants: Royal Shop-Rite; A & P Stores; Jolly Cleaners; Flowerama; Kondreck Studios; and W.T. Grant.

When asked about types of articles most frequently run by local papers, 63 per cent mentioned sports schedules and scores. Only 38 per cent mentioned stories on curriculum, new courses, new facilities or teachers.

According to Mrs. Ruth H. Page, State School Boards Federation executive director, the Federation plans, as a result of the survey, to undertake a number of projects aimed at increasing citizen knowledge about their schools.

Mrs. Page also cited the importance of local newspapers as a communications medium for school news in New Jersey and called on all papers to help plug the basic information gap to enable New Jersey adults to meet their citizenship responsibilities with a greater background of knowledge.

2 Belleville Teachers See Commercial Planes

Lucy M. and J.V. Pascale, who teach in Roosevelt Jr. High School and live in Belleville, are among a group of some 85 science teachers from New Jersey schools and colleges who spent Saturday, Feb. 12, learning some of the new technologies of commercial aviation, including an actual round-trip flight via Eastern Airlines four-engine airliner between Newark Airport and Long Island (McArthur) Airport at Islip, New York.

The flight is part of an educational "Aviation for the Science Classroom" tour being sponsored by the Aviation Development Council, of which Eastern is a member.

Prior to boarding the Super Constellation, the science teachers were shown through the Newark Airport's passenger terminal, hangar maintenance facilities and control tower.

At Islip they visited the FAA's Air Route Traffic Control Center. The entire tour lasted from 9 a.m. through about 4 p.m.

Belleville Adult Education Program Offers Free Courses On March 1

Reading, Writing Created For The Adult Level Here

Next Monday evening a new world will open up for adults who may have neglected their education; may not have had the opportunity to study; or merely the program, said Testa, a high training.

The Belleville Adult School, under provisions of the Economic Opportunity Act, is offering free adult basic education courses twice a week for 20 sessions at Belleville High School under the direction of Thomas Testa. He hopes to add to their educational school teachers is designed to develop the basic reading, writing, and mathematical skills, which have been created for the adult level.

The classes will begin March 1 and will be held each Tuesday and Thursday from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. No text books are required, said Testa, and all material needed will be provided.

Registration hours are from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday, Feb. 21, Wednesday, Feb. 23, Thursday, Feb. 24, and Monday Feb. 28 at Belleville High School.

Such a program as this leads to the making of more responsible citizens with a more meaningful and productive place in society, said Testa, and education is the key to democracy. Only people who read can share in the privilege of forming intelligent public opinion.

Why not grasp this opportunity which will help you secure and retain employment, as well as create self-satisfaction, he asked?

The Belleville Adult School will offer five new courses to its regular spring term program. They are:

1. High School Algebra and Geometry Review — this course is designed for college bound students, parents, and others that may be interested in high school math. Any one taking the regular college board mathematics examination is encouraged to enroll in this course. Robert Wis, Belleville High School faculty, will be the instructor.

2. Economics — What is it? — A course which will discuss and study the significance and importance of economics, the American economic system "Capitalism", and other economic principles. The instructor, Mario Cocchiola, Belleville High School Faculty, will teach the course.

3. Basic Machines Operation and Wiring. A course which will help develop an operating proficiency in the use of business machines, including the key punch, 402 computer, and the sorter. No previous experience is necessary. An IBM representative will teach the course.

4. Golf II — Golf II is an additional course to Golf I. Both courses will be offered this spring. Golf II will stress sound fundamentals, various corrective techniques for the more advanced student.

Lloyd S. Monroe, golf professional, Essex Fells Country Club, twice N. J. Amateur Champion will be the instructor.

5. First Aid — This course is given by Red Cross certified instructors, Peter Wendell and Paul Karatz. The course covers all phases of first aid treatment.

INAUGURAL BALL: Murray Thaler, executive director of the New Jersey Apparel Contractors Association, at right, talks things over with Gov. Richard J. Hughes during an intermission of the Inaugural Ball Jan. 18. Thaler agreed with the governor's plan to increase the minimum wage to $1.50, but pointed out that neighboring states should also have the same wage scale. "Otherwise," he said, "we are pricing ourselves right out of the labor market."

This course has been very popular for the past several years.

Taxation Gets More Money Than The Home

Taxes cost more than any other item in the household budget, and we spend better than one-quarter of our working time to meet the costs of Federal, state and local government.

The Tax Foundation, a national research organization, estimates that Americans work two hours and 19 minutes of each eight-hour day just to pay taxes. Housing and household operations, the next biggest family budget items, take an hour and a half of the working day.

For food and tobacco, Americans work one hour and 16 minutes. Transportation costs eat up another 39 minutes; clothing, 31 minutes; medical costs, 21 minutes; recreation, 18 minutes. The remaining hour and six minutes go for other costs.

3 Months' Work

Projected on an annual basis, the figures indicate we could spend the first three months of the year "working for the government."

And, in New Jersey, there are several reminders of the cost of governmental programs during the early months of 1966.

In January, the first jolt came with greater pay check deductions for social security and medicare benefits. This was followed by the President's Message to Congress recommending an all-time high $112.8 billion Federal Government administrative budget in fiscal 1967 and restoration of some of last year's excise tax cuts.

In February came the Governor's budget spelling out proposals for greatly increased state government spending. A broad base tax is proposed to provide the wherewithal.

Property Taxes

The wintry blasts of February and the winds of early March will bring with them other reminders in the form of budget adoptions at the county, municipal and school district levels of government. Costs of these will be met mostly through local property tax bills. After this the taxpayer will be relatively free to complete his tax return for the 1965 Federal income tax.

Coming at various times from several directions and in assorted nibbles, chops and chunks, the tax bite becomes impressive when translated in terms of its total impact upon man's earning time and pay check. Paradoxically, it suggests that more citizen time be devoted to consideration of the new spending programs.

Brotherhood Week Proclaimed For Belleville During Feb. 20-27th

By REV. B. PASCALE

Silver Lake Baptist church

Brotherhood Week will be celebrated again this week, beginning Sunday, Feb. 20 to the 27. This ethical practice dates back to 1934 when Protestant, Catholics and Jews pledged to observe the high principle of brotherhood regardless of race, color, or creed. This is not just a date in the calendar of this month, but an attitude that should be felt deeply and expressed throughout our daily actions.

This celebration calls to our attention that we are brothers without distinction. Every pulpit in the land and in the world will call the people to the awareness of this divine and human urge.

We know what brotherhood is, as it is practiced in the family circle. This circle should be enlarged to embrace the whole world. To enforce this wider application we must find the base in a common faith of the brotherhood of man and in the fatherhood of God who has created us.

This was the common faith our Founding Fathers of this great nation expressed in the Constitution and in the Bill of Rights. Brotherhood includes the love for our neighbors. It also excludes envy, discrimination, prejudice, hatred and intolerance. The love of God in the heart can only be measured and tested by our love for our neighbors. These are the two inseparable links.

The universal brotherhood of man must be enforced by the faith in the universal fatherhood of God.

This was the old appeal of the prophet Malachi 2:10, when he said:

"Have we not all one Father? Has not one God created us?"

Why then, are we faithless to one another, profaning the covenant of our fathers?"

Brotherhood is expressed by Jesus in the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as we would they should do to us."

Leading Teams Hold Positions In Rec League

With only three games to go the leading teams in the Recreation Men's Basketball League seem to be holding their positions pretty well.

Hillcrest beat the BPSC to recover from their surprise loss to the fast-charging Robsons and thereby continue their lead.

Stashes beat the Oilhouse to hold their second place. The one position change came thru Robsons 58-42 win over the Sams which put Robsons in third place and the Sams in fourth. Only the KYC has any real chance of breaking into the pay-offs from their 5-6 standing.

However, their remaining games are all off the top of the league, Stashes, Robsons, and Hillcrest, in that order.

Play-offs will be among the top four teams with the first and fourth place teams meeting and the second and third place teams meeting for sudden death contests.

School Budget Cut By $85,000

Arvidson Outlines Reasons For Budget Cuts, Calls For Passage

By ERNEST S. ARVIDSON
President, Board of Education

Belleville School Budget was the only budget in Essex County which did not receive voter approval at the polls last Tuesday. As required by the law the Board of Education must resubmit the budget, with, or without a reduction, for another election within 15 days. The date of such election has been set for Monday, Feb. 21, 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. at all schools, except the new High School on Passaic Ave.

The Board of Education has thoughtfully reexamined the original budget to determine what items can be eliminated or postponed for another year with the least detriment to our educational program, a total reduction of $85,000 has been made.

Two of the reductions total $40,000 one of $20,000 eliminates the installation of fire detection system in some of the schools. These systems are required by the State Department of Education in all schools and must be completed by 1968.

The total cost in all schools will be approximately $60,000. The Board of Education had hoped to start this project during the 1966-1967 school year. The Board included the sum of $31,000 in the original budget for the replacement of roofs in schools numbers three, four, five, and nine, since these roofs were constantly developing leaks, and will continue for another year to patch these roofs as they begin to leak.

Dirty Politics

A reduction of $26,000 was made in this item leaving $5,900 to repair the roofs as the leaks develop. The Board took note of a throw-away which was circulated in the community prior to the Feb. 8, election, which falsely stated that the Board needed to repair the gym roof in the new high school, at the taxpayers expense, this is not true. Any leak in this roof will be repaired by the contractor at the contractors expense, no part of this budget will be used for this purpose.

Provision was made in the original budget for additional teachers. Two of these have been eliminated—one would have provided for possible, additional enrollment, and one would have been for socially, and emotional mal-adjusted children. This reduction has amounted to $11,300.

Among other major items which have been postponed for another year are floor covering, various schools, replacing a 1949 truck, replacing a driver education car, contracted painting outside trim, Junior High School spotlights, a number of typewriters for business education, piano and other equipment for music department. Audio-visual equipment, vocational arts, equipment and other similar items.

Teacher's Salaries

It was clear to the Board that any reduction in compensation to the teaching would lower our relative position in Essex County from the present lower one third to nearly the bottom. The lowering of the quality of education caused by such reduction in teacher compensation would very seriously hamper the education of our children.

PRESENTATION: Clara Maass Cerebral Palsy and Scholarship Fund was the recipient of some $1,200 recently, which came from the officers of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Belleville Chapter of Unico. Shown accepting the check was Dante D. Solla, Unico president. At left is Mrs. John Sierco, Solla, and Mrs. Josephine Solla. The award was made during a recent dinner at The Fountain.

$30,000 Is Lost Yearly At Soho, Wallwork Says

Essex County (Soho) Hospital lost more than $300,000 worth of "patient days", charged former Assemblyman James M. Wallwork last Saturday, and blamed the loss on "falsely listed" contagious disease patients.

The hospital, he said, had been admitting patients as having communicable diseases when they did not fit into accepted categories. It was an admitted practice at the hospital, he said.

At the rate of $42 a day he estimated the loss at over $30,000 plus the loss of beds to those whose hospitalization is designated by the county.

Budget Election

The Board of Education announced a second election on the annual school budget has been set for Monday, Feb. 21. Polls are located at all public schools. Voting will be held from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Mayor Pico, Rev. Joseph M. Kelly Named To Assistance Board Jan. 19

Belleville's Local Assistance Agencies, Trenton, the annual Status Report and Request for State Aid for 1966.

Approval by the State will qualify Belleville for reimbursement at the rate of 40 percent for all audited and approved commitments.

Mayor Pico also directed Hewitt to send the annual report and a copy of the minutes to Monsignor Kelly, who is presently hospitalized at Newark St. Michael's Hospital in Newark.

Right Reverend Monsignor Joseph M. Kelly, P.A. appointed for a four year term beginning Jan. 1, 1966 and terminating Dec. 31, 1969.

Rabbi David P. Prince to fill the unexpired term of Rabbi Victor Cohen, which expires on Dec. 31, 1968.

The oaths of office were administered by Town Clerk Eugene G. Barnett.

Other Board members are Mrs. William Gagnon and the Reverend Henderson E. Goldston. At the organizational meeting Mayor Pico was elected chairman and Mrs. Gagnon, secretary.

With the unanimous appeal of the Board, Chairman Pico directed the annual report of the Belleville Municipal Welfare Department for the calendar year 1965 with Town Manager John R. Burnett, and to prepare and file with the Bureau of Assistance, Department of Institutions and

Election Set For Feb. 21; Budget Increase 25-Points

The Belleville Board of Education trimmed some $85,000 from its defeated budget — for the second consecutive year — and announced it would resubmit the scaled down fiscal request to a public vote next Monday, Feb. 21. With the new figures the estimated tax increase amounts to 25-points, said Town Treasurer Francis McCoy, based on an average $16,000 home here, which means $40 per taxpayer.

The School 2 referendum, which had caused PTA mothers to march in protest of what they consider sub-standard conditions there, was also tentatively slated for resubmission to the voters, but, said Ernest S. Arvidson, board of education president, the issue is still under discussion.

The school wanted a multi-purpose room to replace the third floor auditorium, which Fire Chief Carl F. Hundertpfund had described as "hazardous" because of its location and construction.

Absent from the four-hour executive session was board vice-president Mrs. Thomas F. McCool, and board members Richard H. Drake and Rocco Salata.

The members trimmed some $56,800 from current expenses, leaving $1,139,033 for the Feb. 21 election.

Another $29,000 cut reduced the capital outlay request to $51,700.

Arvidson explained the $11,000 teachers salary cut would not reduce present salaries, but would prohibit additional teachers being added to the staff. A salary cut, he said, would both lower teacher morale and give Belleville the lowest salary guide in the county.

Biggest loss was attributed to the $320,000 fire detection system in several schools. They are required by law, but no emergency action will arise until next year.

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," said one of the board members.

Other Cuts Detailed

$26,000 was cut from roof repair in several schools. This didn't include the leaking gymnasium roof at Belleville High School, which, said Arvidson, would be repaired as soon as weather permits, and at no cost to the school system. The contractor would make the repairs, he said.

New typewriters for the high school business education courses were eliminated. The art department lost $1,150 for tables. And a new piano — Dr. Samuel Peck's fondest dream — was cut from the music department. $1,200 had been earmarked for the

Belleville Appeal Hearing Delayed

Dufford Denies Request For An Office Assistant

A hearing on the board of education's appeal of the county superintendent's invalidation of its dual-control policy has been postponed indefinitely.

The postponement was granted, said Dr. William S. Twichent of schools, because his only expert witness on school business management was ill and couldn't attend the hearing.

The hearing had been set to discuss the board's rights in creating the position of school business administrator who would be responsible for all purchasing, a duty formerly held by the superintendent.

Pending a decision on the matter, Harold Dufford, assistant superintendent will be the authority.

Meanwhile Dufford, who is half of the dual-control system in Belleville, vehemently denied that he had asked for, wanted, or needed an assistant for his position.

Spitting with rage, he yelled "But that in your newspaper!"

The dual-control system, which the board advocates, has been labeled "inferior" by a special investigating committee of the National Education Association, which the board had called in to resolve the controversial Durkee affair.

Dufford said an editorial, "indicting" an assistant was incorrect. There had been salary increases ranging up to $14,000 in the proposed budget.

The board had inferred their reasons for instituting dual-control was to remove this authority from Durkee, who, they said, had abused the office.

Mayor Threatens Lawsuit Against Frank DiRuggiero

"I'm going to sue him," said an angry Mayor Nuncio R. Pico Friday. "I made none of those remarks against the budget!"

He was referring to a news item in which board of education member Dr. Frank DiRuggiero said the mayor had been making speeches against the budget in both public and private affairs.

"I have witnesses," said DiRuggiero after the election at School 8 Tuesday night.

"I've tried to stay out of this," said Pico. "I've tried to stay neutral, and now this." He has spoken to his attorney, he said, and plans to sue.

In a telegram to DiRuggiero last Thursday, Pico demanded a retraction and apology for his statement in The Belleville Times.

He had said the mayor "openly and consistently for years recommended the development and improvement of School 2. Your statement is completely contrary to the fact."

"I have no comment to make," said DiRuggiero Friday. "If the shoe fits... Didn't he interfere last year?" he asked.

"I have the best libel attorney in the state," said Pico.

Clara Maass Director Says Medicare Promises Change

The Medicare bill enacted in 1965 will usher in a new day in health affairs in which there will be tremendous changes for hospitals, physicians, and the public. This was the view Albin M. Oberg, director of Clara Maass Hospital, expressed to the Belleville Community Welfare Council in a talk on "Medicare" Feb. 7.

According to Oberg, Medicare whose provisions are related to health care for persons 65 and over, may be likened to a three-layer cake. The layers are (1) the hospital insurance program, (2) voluntary supplementary medical insurance provisions and (3) welfare.

He pointed out that the provisions for financing these three parts are markedly different. With respect to the first, hospital insurance, this will be paid for through Social Security funds.

In the second layer, voluntary supplementary medical insurance, there will be a split in the cost between the eligible recipient and the federal government, each providing $3 a month. Oberg stressed that another difference between the first and second layers is that coverage under the first will be automatic for persons over 65 covered by Social Security, while the second part will require that the applicant voluntarily register.

The initial registration period terminates March 31, with a year and half wait for those who do not take immediate advantage of the opportunity.

With respect to the third part, the welfare provisions, Oberg noted that these are dependent upon state and local action for implementation, and that, to his knowledge, there had been little movement toward their activation in New Jersey. A major fact is the need for considerable additional state financing which does not appear immediately available.

Oberg prefaced his talk by a description of the expansion and remodeling currently underway on the main building of the Clara Maass Hospital. This project, when completed, will add 120

Jergens Company Gives Plots Of Land To Town

The long sought-after acquisition of the Jergen-owned plot of land at Franklin Avenue and Mill Street became a reality Monday night when the Town Council unanimously agreed to accept the $51,800 gift from the Andrew Jergen Cosmetic Co.

The land had been offered several times before, but a conflict between councilmen had forestalled the transaction. The Jergen Company, one of the town's largest, had offered the land free for use in constructing a complex of municipal buildings.

Police Chief Charles McGinnis had described the land as an ideal location for both police and fire headquarters.

The largest of the two plots, a 2 1/2 acre spread, is valued at $45,000, while the smallest at .038 of an acre is valued at $6,800. The agreement set no time for construction to begin, and gave as the sole stipulation the agreement that the town was to use it for municipal buildings. Any construction must be designed to conform with the present landscaping of the company-owned land which adjoins.

Town Manager John R. Burnett, who has been frustrated by the council's indecision and disagreement on the use of the land, had long ago proposed that the land, if acquired, be used for the construction of a municipal nerve center.

A new public safety building, fire headquarters, and a traffic signal maintenance department would be located there, he said, emphasizing the near center of town location.

SCHOOL: 9 students were busy with their studies last week when The Belleville Times photog came by, and here they are, all in a row, books in hands, instructing the class was Miss Pauline Orsotak, in background, who keeps a close eye on her charges.

Key Club Members Add Another New Service To Their Busy Schedules

By STEVEN CHAREN

Belleville High's Key Club has added another service to its already nationally acclaimed project of student tutoring.

With club blazers promoting the role, the Kiwanis sponsored organization has instituted a program of using Key Clubbers as service guides for the administrative officers in an escorting capacity for guests; substitute teachers, and various representatives from industries and colleges.

From three to five members are in blazers and available for this job each day.

The student-student tutoring program, which has received nationwide notice through many magazines and organizations, now serves some 40 Belleville students.

Although the help is varied, the majority comes in the form of math instruction.

Meanwhile, the club is planning a wide scope of activities for the next month. At the next club meeting on Feb. 24, the format will be changed to that of a 7:15 Breakfast Meeting. Plans have been made to invite the officers of the Nutley and Bloomfield Chapters of the International Club as well as the area II governor.

Also in the planning stage is a basketball game pitting the faculties of the senior and junior high schools to be held in cooperation with the Junior High Service Club. All tickets for this game will be sold in advance.

Election of new officers will be held late in February with the installation being held in March. An Activity Night at the school gym will also be held in that month.

Belleville representatives will attend the International Convention in Atlantic City on April 12.

This active club is supervised by Herman Knuppel, head of the BHS Guidance Department along with Kiwanian, John Venturi, who has recently been chosen as "Kiwanian of the Year" for his efforts.
