New Jet Instrument Will Tell Pilots Exact Times of Arrival

A versatile new flight instrument designed to take the "guesstimate" out of estimated times of arrival is being built in Nutley by International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation.

The instrument, designated AIN-190A DME Radial Ground Speed Indicator, is being built by ITT Federal Laboratories in accordance with specifications established by United Air Lines.

The indicator, ordered by United for its fleet of Boeing 737 short-range jetliners, will continuously display ground speed, time and distance to destination, according to J. Lane Ware, ITT's marketing director - commercial avionics.

United has ordered 40 of the Boeing 737 jets and also has options on an additional 30 of the twin-jet aircraft, scheduled to be operational in 1968.

The complexity of modern jet flight at near-sonic speeds makes reduction of a flight crew's workload a desirable design objective.

The indicator will reduce crew workload and require no additional space on the instrument panel. All readouts are on an indicator that fits in a standard three-inch instrument panel cut-out.

The instrument will provide digital distance to a DME station, ground speed along the DME radial, an estimate of flight time to destination, and distance to destination.

The indicator will eliminate wind-computation errors and the need for slide-rule computation of ETA's. Pilots will be able to determine their best cruising attitude by monitoring the instrument for an increase or decrease in ground speed at different altitudes.

Faster Landings

Greater precision in estimating time of arrival is expected to permit air traffic controllers to fit aircraft into the approach pattern with minimum holding time.

The indicator also can be added to any aircraft using an ARI-NC-type DME or military-type Tacan without changes in the aircraft wiring. The new ground speed indicator will present no additional load to the DME or Tacan equipment over that required for a standard distance indicator.

The instrument's only control is a light-distance set knob. This will permit the pilot to set into the instrument distances up to 600 miles, getting an estimate of flight time to destination on a flight time scale.

The DME Radial Ground Speed Indicator will be a product of ITT's electro-mechanical group, directed by Peter M. Knapp. Project manager is Arthur L. Langille.

Air Force Awards Big Contract to ITT

A $1.6 million letter contract for Loran-C navigation receivers for C-141A Starlifter jet aircraft has been awarded to Federal Laboratories of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation by the U.S. Air Force.

The contract calls for ITT Federal Laboratories to design, develop, test, produce and deliver 1,440 long-range airborne navigation sets to the Aeronautical Systems Division, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, according to George A. Banino, president of ITTFL.

The Loran-C receivers will be installed in Lockheed C-141A Starlifter jet cargo passenger aircraft to be flown by the Military Air Command.

Mrs. Downin Named To First Aid Squad

Mrs. Ruth Downin of 119 Walnut Street has been appointed to a three-year term on the Nutley Volunteer First Aid Squad.

Mrs. Downin's appointment was made by Mayor Harry W. Cheno-weth, director of Public Safety. Her term began March 1.

Belleville Buick Co. was organized in 1922 by the late G. Roscoe B. Symonds in a small part of the building now housing the Belleville Supply Co. in Belleville. Its present unified structure to serve both Belleville and Nutley was erected in 1928. Largely due to illness in the early 50's Mr. Symonds turned the presidency of the business over to his son George W. Symonds. Belleville-Nutley Buick belongs to the county, state and national Automotive Trade Association, The North Jersey Buick Dealers Association, The Nutley Chamber of Commerce and is represented in the Belleville Rotary Club and Nutley Lions Club. Besides Buick Autos and Service, the agency has at various times sold Pontiacs, Renaults, Opels and still has the local franchise for Studebaker sales. ## Vets Angered By John Birch Float

Over 10,000 happy residents witnessed the Jaycees annual Cherry Blossom Parade Sunday afternoon despite overcast skies and a potential disaster that threatened to ruin the parade.

Veterans groups, who helped with the traffic problems, had been outraged by the presence of a John Birch Society float. Joseph Fornarotto, President of the Veterans' Council, said he had planned to pull out the veterans, but later decided that it would kill the parade — one of the biggest events of the year.

Congressman Peter Rodino, who was parade Grand Marshal, said the Birch float was out of order. "It (the parade) was not the place for politics," he said. The float carried a large painted sign on a flatbed truck which gave the name of the society and nothing else, although some observers swore the float urged the public to join the local chapter.

A Belleville Times news photo showed no such wording.

Jaycee spokesman, President Henry Wozniak, said the organization had allowed the float simply as a matter of fair play and for no other reason.

But next year, he said firmly, the Jaycees would be more careful.

BASEBALL TALK: Julie Guarino, standing out there alone on that great, big stage at BHS, had them giggling and laughing with her comic routine, while Bob Fersch, in the foreground, kept tab to make sure she didn't fluff her funny lines. It was one of the best shows of the year, said many observers of our home-grown talent. (Photo by ADAMS)

AWARD: James A. Leonard and his rubbery face kept the audience laughing last Saturday night as he emceed the annual Cherry Blossom Pageant at the High School auditorium. That's him at left, awarding a loving cup to runner-up Joyce Rozek who was escorted by Mr. Witty representing the People's Bank of Belleville, one of the main donors of the financial scholarships awarded winners. ## Record First Quarter Predicted for Sel-Rex

First quarter sales in 1966 "almost 50 percent greater" and earnings "at least 50 percent greater" than in the corresponding 1965 period were indicated by Morris M. Messing, president, at the annual meeting of Sel-Rex Corporation.

The Nutley company, a leading developer and manufacturer of precious metal electroplating processes, had previously announced a record year in both sales and earnings for 1965.

Messing also discussed plans for future growth, including entry into the field of non-precious metal coatings, expansion of the Meaker equipment subsidiary, and an increase in the plant facilities of the company.

At the annual meeting, the shareholders approved a stock option plan for key employees and re-elected the company's directors for a one year term.

Arvidson Says

Report Untrue

Referring to last week's story in The Times-News on the hearing being conducted over the suspension of schools Superintendent Durkee, president of the School Board Ernest Arvidson said this week:

"I deny ever making a statement in my testimony at the Durkee hearing in which the Board would consider making charges against the PTA or its members. This is particularly true since use of school equipment had been an established policy by the Superintendent of Schools."

Arvidson had charged the Times-News account of the hearing, on this phase of the testimony, was incorrect.

But a check of the reporter's notes show Arvidson was asked if he would make charges against the PTA's who use school property. Board Attorney Saul Alexander replied "We might consider that, too."

The Times will, after, checking a transcript of the hearing, and reading the exchange which took place at 3:15 p.m., April 22, make any necessary correction.

Drive Planned

By RCA Group

Sen. Maclyn S. Goldman, county chairman of the Retarded Children's Association, has announced that Thomas Mack of 84 Continental Ave. will again be chairman of the Retarded Children's drive for Belleville.

The drive will be held May 15 between 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Mack will be assisted by Anthony Guiliano of 19 Oak St.

Mack and Guiliano both have been active in this drive for the past four years.

The door-to-door campaign to collect money for the Essex Unit of Retarded Children is used to supplement many facilities the Unit operates. Among these facilities are their day classes and summer camp.

Mack is employed by the Jergens Co., and Guiliano is employed by Essex County. The drives the past four years have been very successful and Mack is confident that they will be able to reach their goal again this year.

Those interested in helping in this campaign can do so by contacting Mr. Mack at The Andrew Jergens Company, 1 Franklin Avenue, Belleville, 759-4240.

Tax Board Files Lawsuit Forcing Town To Revalue

Action Will Be Test Case Against 'Stale, Outdated' Methods

The Essex County Tax Board filed a lawsuit in Superior Court April 22 in a move designed to force Belleville into reevaluating all taxable property for the first time since 1957.

It will be a test case for the Board, which has been considering the move for nearly a month. If the suit is successful, the Board will file similar suits against other New Jersey towns in an effort to force them to comply. It claims the present laws are "stale, outdated, inequitable and not in conformity with law."

It would also establish the County Tax Board's power over local boards. Board policy requires an evaluation every five years.

The Town has been resisting the Board's order to revalue at 100 per cent since December 1964, explaining that it was beyond the means of the town to comply. Besides, say town officials, the Board has no legal right to make the order.

The town has been reassessing properties through the town assessor Peter Torre on a continuing basis.

Deputy Attorney Gen. Lee Wilson, who filed the suit on behalf of the Tax Board says that an assessment by the town is not a proper evaluation of the entire community, and that a staff of some 35 members would be required for the job.

Torre has been calling for just such a staff if he is unable to hire a professional team of successors to meet the Board's requirements.

Airman A. Buraus Trains in Texas

Airman Richard A. Buraus, son of Mrs. Evelyn E. Buraus of 76 Beech St., has been selected for training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as an Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist.

The airman, a 1965 graduate of Belleville High School, recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Residents Warned Against Sweaters

ABOUT 1,650 sets of highly flammable rayon sweaters, described by fire officials as "torch sweaters," have been sold to women in the metropolitan area.

The sweater sets - a cardigan and a pullover - are labeled "Crown Colony Originals," and are wrapped in polyethylene with a crown emblem. Several hundred have been distributed to retail stores in New Jersey and Nassau County, N.Y.

The Federal Trade Commission was the first agency to discover the flammable quality of the sweaters, which one official said would "go up like a bomb" when ignited.

All members of the bureau of Combustibles will be directed to inspect any and all places which might deal in this merchandise. Upon discovery of any of the above sweaters, they will immediately be confiscated, a receipt given to the merchant, and said sweaters will then be brought to fire headquarters.

On Dean's List

Philip Squatrito, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Squatrito of 108 Franklin St., has been named to the Dean's List at Athens College, in Alabama.

The college student, according to Dean William Hauser, is carrying 12-16 hours of regular study and has maintained at least a 3.5 average.

BHS SENIOR: Joyce Rozek, a student in her final year at the high school, will tread the stage for the last time (before getting her diploma) Saturday when she does a modern dance as her part of the talent show during the Pageant. The pretty blonde has been right up there in the front rank during recent beauty contests, and with any luck at all she will do a repeat performance! (Photo by ADAMS)

By BILL MCCARTHY

Bob Boglione's 240-yard victory in the two mile run over Bill Frazer of Central gave the team a real boost as the boys went down to the wire before pulling out their two-point victory.

The team took eight of the 13 first places, and plenty of thirds to really look impressive in the meet. Once more, a fine team effort can be pointed to as the main determinant in this meet. The tension mounted as the meet progressed, and it was mighty high when going into the last event (the broad jump). We trailed by two points. But Charles Reed and Joe Rodriguez solved our problems by taking the first and third places respectively.

Top point-men were: Harry Baker, 15 points with three firsts; Charles Reed, 11 points, a first and two seconds; Joe Rodriguez, 6 points, a first and third.

The Summary

HIGH HURDLES: Baker took another first in this event, at which he is getting rather proficient, while Ralph Serio ran off with a third place.

100-YARD DASH: Joe Rodriguez edged out Charles Reed at the finish, as they took an exciting one-two in a quick race; even on a wet track they do well, and continually make a good combo.

ONE MILE RUN: Dave Grigoris, ran his first mile race, coming through with a victory for the team. Bill McCarthy ran for second place, as again the one-two combo increased out-lead.

440-YARD: Eugene Harvey, a terrific Junior, ran the 440-yard event in 56.8, giving him a second place. He appears to be a definite mainstay for this and next year.

880-YARD RUN: Don Saunders 2:09.5 was his best time this season as he handily took a first place in the half mile. His smooth style makes him look as if he's coasting along, even at the torrid pace he keeps.

LOW HURDLES: Only one man scored for the Belboys in this event, but the points still favored our side, as Harry Baker worked for another fine first place showing.

220-YARD DASH: Don Johnson was edged out of a tie for second by a split-second, as he still managed to help the cause with a third place.

TWO MILE RUN: Bob Boglione took up where he left off last year's Country season by defeating an old foe quite soundly, as he was in first place with a new two-mile record of 9:58.9.

POLE VAULT: Harry Baker

just missed at twelve feet as he wot the pole vault by a foot and a half. He has tied his height record five times this year, and may break 12' any meet.

HIGH JUMP: Charles Reed was alone in the Belleville tally as he cleared 5'8", good enough for a second place. He's working his way up to the 6'3" record set by Bob Paterson last year.

Just edged out of third place was Barry Pierce, whose power in elevating himself are bringing him into view as a potential winner.

Repaving Parkway Evenings After 10

The stretch of Garden State Parkway between the Union and Essex Toll Plazas is being covered at night with a new layer of pavement this Spring to strengthen and smooth the riding surface.

The nighttime operations have been scheduled to minimize interference with the traveling public in this busy eight-mile stretch of Parkway, he added. The overall project is to be done before July.

What Has Councilman Golden Done While On Council, Asks Westpy?

By ROBERT E. WESTPY
Councilman

If Belleville's governing body is ever to be as inventive and active as the needs of this community demand, then it must be made up of men who are willing to work together to answer those needs.

It must be made up of men who have the courage to put their own political careers on the line in supporting the measures in which they believe. It cannot be made up of men who permit themselves to become little more than professional critics, riding the tide of popular opinion in whatever direction it happens to be going.

For, as long as there are those on the council who prefer the easy way, of attacking the attempts made by others to solve the problems this town faces, rather than suggesting solutions of their own or supporting ones suggested by someone else, the image of this town can never change.

The responsibility for nurturing and encouraging proper leadership does not lie with the governing body alone however. The responsibility for good leadership begins with the voter.

It is the duty of each voter to know the candidates well and to make his selections prudently — not on the basis of what his neighbor next door or his Aunt Matilda suggests he should do, but by judging each candidate on the basis of what he intends to do if he is elected to office or what he has done during his past term in office.

In the case of my colleague, Councilman James R. Golden, of course, the voter's obligation becomes even greater. For Councilman Golden constantly cries that he can do nothing in his official capacity because he is on the wrong side of the "majority bloc", asked the public to seek out what, if anything, he has attempted to do?

Which if any, of his proposals have been voted down by this so-called "majority bloc"?

I believe that any voter that looks that far will soon discover that Councilman Golden has proposed little, if anything, and has opposed almost every progressive measure instituted by the present council.

Even while campaigning in favor of certain issues, he has voted against these same issues when they were proposed by others.

Only a few weeks ago, he published an article in the local newspaper in which he proposed — among other election promises — that the council begin immediate negotiations to obtain CORDS SHOWS that Councilman Golden voted in favor of building some 102 apartment units in the heavily congested Joralemon Street area — making it the very "irad mecca" he now deplores.

To be even more specific, one of the Joralemon Street units has come under constant fire, not only from the irate citizenry, but from the "irate councilman himself" because its buildings extend to the street without providing room for sidewalk or walkway.

Despite his objections to such conditions, and despite the accusations he has made about those who permitted these apartments to be erected, the fact is that Councilman Golden is the only member of the present council who voted in favor of granting the said variance.

Still saying one thing and doing another is no recent habit of James Golden's. In my opinion, he has developed an entire political philosophy, the success of which is dependent on public harangues, born out of his siding with whoever is in attendance at town meetings — whether the causes are just or unjust, beneficial or harmful to the community as a whole, or possible or impossible under our present legal system.

Finally, since I am now a candidate for re-election, Councilman Golden takes me to task for getting involved in town affairs at election time.

Apparently it has never occurred to him that it is the duty of every citizen to scrutinize carefully the field of candidates and the duty of every councilman to see that the issues are fairly stated for the benefit of the citizen voter.

I am not interested in dealing in a long and useless personal dispute, but I have no intention of standing idly by and permitting either myself, my community or the governing body on which I serve to be continually scandalized without fact or reason.

Since this is an election year, I would like to see the problems that face Belleville aired openly and honestly, and I would welcome hearing all of the candidates proposed solutions to these problems. It is a healthy and progressive community that encourages such discussion and an unhealthy and dying one that refuses it.

The problems confronting us are many, the issues are clear. My challenge to you, Councilman Golden is to state specifically and without equivocation how you stand on each of them.

will present a plaque to the honored guest, Deputy Police Chief Harry Tepe, one of Belleville's top law enforcement officials.

Cocktails will be served prior to the dinner.

Members of the affair are Barney Zarro, General chairman; Joseph Fornarotto, vice chairman; Fred Labriola, Ad chairman; and Henry Amato, ticket chairman.

HIM AND HIS TROMBONE will be going to Rochester Institute of Music next year, said bandmaster Robert Wing last week. He's Charles Baker, a 17-year BHS senior who won a scholarship, one of the few awarded a Belleville student. He's busy practicing for the upcoming production of "Oklahoma" to be given by students. ## Strumolo Or Norman Lauterette? It's A Conflict Of Interest

In a campaign speech before some 50 admirers, Vincent T. Strumolo, a candidate for the Belleville Council in the May 10th election, expressed strong opposition to the Chairman of the Belleville Board of Adjustment, Norman Lauterette, serving as campaign manager to Mayor Nuncio Pico, who is the head of the majority bloc of the Council, and a candidate for reelection.

"Of course," said Strumolo, "there is no ordinance yet on record forbidding such an arrangement. But it would seem to abridge the law on conflict of interest." The chairman of our Board of Adjustment, controls such important matters as the granting of variances and other issues relative to apartment house building, parking, and the like. For this chairman to also be a close confidant of the Mayor who in turn heads the majority vote on the Town Council, places him, Norman Lauterette, I mean, in a very unfair position," exclaimed Strumolo.

"But don't get me wrong," he said. "I like Norman Lauterette. I know him to be a person of character and integrity. It is unfortunate but true, however, that such persons may find themselves in embarrassing positions, under the impulse of giving service to a friend.

It is my opinion, therefore, that Lauterette should either resign as chairman of our Board of Adjustment or bow out as Pico's campaign manager. No man can serve two masters. Lauterette should realize this, himself. A look at the records to date, will show little or no difference between what the Board decided and what the Pico-Majority vote of the Council decided.

The similarity could be mere coincidence, but it is not fair to Lauterette to be forced to operate in the shadow of any more coincidences.

Mayor Pico has the welfare of his Board of Adjustment Chairman ever uppermost in his mind. He has even reappointed him for another term before his old term expired. Evidently the Mayor wants Lauterette on the job, whatever his own fate at the polls may be on May 10.

Therefore, the next move is up to Lauterette, and before the campaign ends. He must either resign as chairman of our town Board of Adjustment, or quit as Mayor Pico's campaign manager and confidant.

One would think that even our high-salaried Town Manager would oppose this sort of bold venture. Too many "See No Evil" positions by the Manager will confirm the opinion of many taxpayers that he is a luxury Belleville can well do without."

Siegelski Named New Accountant

Raymond J. Siegelski has been named plant accountant at the Belleville lamp parts plant of the Westinghouse lamp division, announced W. P. Malarkey, Belleville works manager.

In his new position, Siegelski will be responsible for a broad range of administrative functions including accounting, office administration, and industrial relations.

Siegelski served in the airborne division of the U.S. Army from 1951 to 1953 with the rank of first lieutenant. He lives at 23 Ammirar Drive, Matawan, with his wife, a son and two daughters.

Local Sisterhood Sets Annual Donor Dinner

The Sisterhood of Congregation Ahaath Achim of Belleville will hold its annual donor dinner at the Short Hills Cozyers, Short Hills, Wednesday, May 11 at 7 p.m. Approximately 100 Sisterhood members and guests will attend. Co-chairmen for the dinner are Mrs. David Finkelstein and Mrs. David Schreier. Mrs. Henry Creditor is Sisterhood president.

Strumolo is expected to win over one of the At-Large seats on the Belleville Council when the voters go to the polls on May 10.

BOARD MEMBER: John D. Boyd, center, was years as a trustee. From left is Eugene Bar-sworn in as a member of the Library Board, and Mayor Nuncio last week. He will serve for the next five years. R. Pico who witnessed the brief ceremony.

Deputy Police Chief Harry Tepe To Be Honored By American Legion

The American Legion Post 299 of Belleville will honor one of its members, newly appointed Deputy Police Chief Harry Tepe, for his outstanding contribution to his church, community and veteran's affairs, at their annual dinner and dance, to be held on Saturday, May 7th, at Biase's Restaurant, Bloomfield Ave., Newark, N.J.

Council Settles Neighborhood Hassle, and OK's Police Cars

A neighborhood hassle over a barricade on Entwistle Avenue, near the Belleville-Nutley line, was resolved by the Town Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night. After listening to residents present two sides — backed by petitions — the Council agreed to top-fill and improve conditions on the street and remove the barricade to enable traffic to flow through.

The action was taken over expressions of doubt by Councilman Robert E. Westby, Town Manager Burnett and Town Attorney Jack Soriano. All felt there was some legal question involved since the City of Newark water lines ran through the street and the barricade was originally placed there by Belleville at Newark's request.

Some neighbors objected to the barricade, claiming it made a circuitous route necessary to get to their homes. Others on the same street urged the Council to leave the barricade to avoid opening the street to through traffic and presenting a potential hazard to neighborhood children.

Burnett was a strenuous objector to opening the street, but the Council voted to make temporary improvements after getting approval of their action from Newark.

Other matters resolved by the Council:

- Accepted a bid for a new truck, submitted by Leonard Chevrolet of Belleville.
- Took under consideration bids for two police patrol cars and one police pursuit car. Bids came from Allen Pontiac and Bigelow Motors.
- Rejected as excessive, bids for paving and improving the northern end of North 8th Street. Will re-advertise.
- Awarded two insurance contracts.

The Town contract for its major insurance went to Rose M. Reilly. Norman Thompson of Belleville was given the Workmen's Compensation Insurance contract.

George Johnson, member of the Recreation Advisory Committee, was critical of the Town Council for what he alleged was negligence in developing recommendations made by his Committee. Although Mayor Nuncio R. Pico admitted the Council may have been guilty of some degree of negligence, Councilman Ralph A. Casale took issue with Johnson. Casale charged Johnson with injecting politics in his critique and claimed Johnson and his committee knew that many things were being done in the recreational areas.

Next regular meeting of the Council, May 9, will commence at 5 p.m. Instead of the regular 8 p.m. starting time. This is in consideration of the municipal election the next day.

Approved resolution on filing an application by the Planning Board for State assistance in a continuing planning program.

Authorized the Town Attorney to have Belleville represented in Trenton at the scheduled hearing before the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners May 12, on an application for a fare increase by Public Service Co. of New Jersey.

Approved resolution authorizing Edmund Strat to construct two (2) additions to present structure and six (6) added car parking spaces at 456 Jerusalem Street.

The Town Council announced the appointment of 15 local citizens to serve as members of the Animal Shelter Inspection Committee for one-year terms. The Committee was created by the Council in April, 1965.

Belleville Commander Is Presented A Certificate

On the evening of April 17, Flotilla 7-10 held an "Award Dinner" at Ye Old Forked River House. Some 30 members and their wives witnessed the presentations.

Guests of honor were Lt. Jones from the 3rd District, US Coast Guard Base in Gloucester City, N.J.; Division Captain Brown and Mrs. Brown and Vice Captain Kreger, Jr., representing the 7th Division, US Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Lt. Jones presented the following items: Certificates to the 1965 Flotilla Officer, Commander Myron Baron, Belleville; Vice Commander, Harry Goetichius, and to Training Officer, Charles Judd. A 3rd District Enrollment Plaque Certificates of Advancement to Commander Baron, Training Officer Judd, and Auxiliary Members Hedley, Suess and Pridham.

Division Captain Brown presented the Flotilla with Division 7's new Member Award Plaque. Commander Brown presented Vice Commander Goetichius with a pennant of his office.

Auxiliary Dave Meyers presented the Flotilla with a solid brass plaque commemorating Flotilla 7-10's organization, date, last but not least, Auxiliary Mort Sarnoff, on behalf of Flotilla 7-10, presented a framed picture of Barnegate Lighthouse.

Sales Awards Go To 2 Belleville Top Salesmen

Two salesmen of George H. Mead, Inc., Belleville, will be presented Ford Motor Company's Sales Award at a banquet at the Concord Hotel, Kiamasha Lake, New York, April 17, honoring high-ranking Ford dealership car and truck salesmen of 1965 in Ford Division's Newark sales district.

Joseph McClanathan, Newark district sales manager, said that Sales Awards are presented for excellent retail sales performance. The Sales Award is special recognition within the Ford 300-500 Club which was founded in 1950 to recognize the performance of outstanding Ford salesmen throughout the country.

It Was 'Happy Birthday, Mayor Pico' Monday Night At The Fountain

It Looked As If Half The Women In Town Showed Up!

One of the biggest rallies of the present election campaign filled The Fountain to capacity Monday night when Mayor Nuncio R. Pico and his sponsors served as host to prospective Belleville women voters.

First there was the quiet time while the ladies daintily nibbled at tiny sandwiches, gossiped, and renewed acquaintances while awaiting for a brief speech by Pico.

He told the women that municipal government costs money to operate the same as a household does, and that he doled out the necessary funds with the same fiscal caution that they did while expending family income. The women listened carefully and nodded in agreement.

Then came the fashion show, an eye-catcher that must have made many women forget the forthcoming election for a while and start wondering how they could trim the family budget enough to include some of the latest fashions.

Next came the drawing for gifts ranging from a TV set to a set of glasses.

Frank Garutto held the lucky number and carried away the TV set. "That's not fair," complained the women good-naturedly because the men were in the minority Monday night. But next up was Mrs. Rose Ricca who won a transistor radio. Then another man collected with two tickets to a dinner. He was Gus Cozziello.

"It's the first time he ever won anything," she said.

Miss Rose Marotti left with 8 old-fashioned classes, which had come from a ticket drawn by Joyce Rozek, a runner-up in the Miss Cherry Blossom Pageant Saturday night.

Ticket number 021806 won twin table lamps for Mrs. Connie Schweitzer. "I was just kidding," she laughed. "I said I needed the lamp or a bottle of champagne!" And she won, she giggled.

All in all it was a nice night for fun and politics.

Senator Fernicola, Assemblyman Biancardi, Friends Honor Strumolo

Silver Lakers Turn Out For District Candidate

Friends and acquaintances, political allies and hangers-on, and just plain old interested citizens gathered at The Fountain Tuesday night for a gala dinner and dance in honor of former councilman Vincent Strumolo, the shining hope of the Silver Lake district.

He was joined by Senator Nicholas T. Fernicola from the 11th District, Assemblyman Joseph Biancardi, and local political figures, all interested in one thing — promoting the return of the slim and dapper market owner to the Council chambers at Town Hall.

The workers were out in force, accompanied by wives and friends who opened up the rally with a song:

Now listen friends
Vinnie Strumolo will run again
He will run again
He will need you
Your vote will pull him through
Lend us your ear

'Cause we all want you to hear

He is true, reliable, capable, and so sincere
And so don't forget
And we know you won't forget

He is a born leader
Please vote for Vinnie Strumolo
And re-elect him to your council

And my friends, he sends his thanks to you!

And after the song died away Sen. Fernicola said a few words for the candidate. Also on hand was Rev. B. Pascale, Mary Senatore and Kay Marino, who sat at the head table with Strumolo and his wife.

Over 350 members of the Strumolo Association attended the dinner, the second such political rally in as many nights. The crowd was in high spirits and applauded vigorously after each speaker, certain that Strumolo would make the top three when the election rolls around next Tuesday.

Orange Loses By 5-3 As BHS Resumes First Place In The Big Ten Games

Steve Charen

Sideline Byline

Sheridan Steals 'Em Blind During BHS's Crucial Game

By STEVE CHAREN

A turning point may have been reached in Belleville's bid to retain the Big Ten Conference crown. The Bellboys' 5-3 victory at Orange coupled with Monday's 7-4 loss by Nutley left the Blue and Gold in undisputed possession of first place as the league season came to the half-way mark.

After stumbling with only one earned run in their four most recent outings, Nick Petti's nine was given a rain-soaked week-long lull to regroup their forces. The Bellboys responded by literally stealing their 10th victory in decisions and boosting their spirit to a seasonal high.

Little did the players realize while they were letting off pressure during the ride home that they had real reason for celebration — first place was all theirs. Only Petti, who seems to have ESP when it comes to predicting key rival losses, might have had any idea of the day's full events.

Art Sheridan was key man in the Bellboys' surge past Orange at the plate, on the mound, and in the field. Taking two long doubles while scoring two runs and driving in another, Sheridan paced the eight hit attack while also stealing three of Belleville's record ten bases from the hapless Tornadoes.

The veteran Bellboys also hurled four innings of shut-out relief to pick up his fourth victory in six decisions and tie for the team lead in that department.

Replacing Rich Pucciarello who had failed for the second time to pick up win number three while allowing his first earned runs of the year on a six hit barrage, Sheridan pitched out of a jam in the fourth and then allowed just one bloop hit the rest of the way.

In the process, the Bellboys' ace workhorse lowered his ERA as a fireman to 0.44 after four relief efforts and 1.45 overall in 33 2/3 innings of seven games. The only disappointing point for the rejuvenated league leaders was their temporary loss of versatile junior Dave Rothwell to what could be a prolonged illness. The little rookie had proved extremely valuable in providing the Bellboys most reliable fly hawk service in centerfield on a replacement for Sheridan at third while batting a steady .297 with an eight game hitting streak.

Against Orange Rothwell's absence forced George Dehrowski over to back up duty at third and Jim Serritella into a trial fill-in at second besides weakening the outfield alignment.

In upcoming games, the Blue and Gold face Vailsburg at home Saturday before taking on two of the teams predicted to be among the chief four contenders. True to form, East Orange and Columbia presently occupy third place in the league. They will invade Municipal Stadium on Monday and Tuesday to provide a stiff test for the Bellboys Sheridan.

Sal Taibi, one-two punch. Both key rivals have been overcome by 2-1 margins in earlier away games.

Starting the day's mayhem at Orange, Sheridan unloaded a ground rule double over the right field wall. He then proceeded to steal third and home to post Belleville a quick 1-0 lead.

the second place winner in the tournament. Patricia Carr won the Championship in the very difficult Senior Division and Doris Marano took second Place.

The lead was short-lived though as the Tornadoes got to Pucciarello early. Lon Gregory started the uprising with a two-bagger down the third base line. Sheridan, who was at third, then turned in a tremendous stab of a liner off the bat of Jim Lynch before Zeke De Vincenzo singled for the long run. Another hit moved him to third and into position to score in a wild pitch.

That 2-1 Orange lead embarrasingly stood until the third when Serritella led off with the first of two singles. After a steal, Sheridan unloaded a second two-bagger to the mitters; it was the team's most torrid hitter's fifth safety in as many attempts in a swing, that included three doubles and a triple. A walk, steal out throwing error then delivered the tie breaking tally.

Amazing Sheridan's running grab of a foul pop-up prevented early Tornado warnings, but a double by Lynch and single by hurler Nick Varanelli changed that and retied the game. One more safety to start the fourth K'd Pucciarello.

By then, the lead had been secured with a two-out tally. Breaking out of a long hitless string, Frank Mineo singled sharply to left and proceeded to steal second. Pucciarello then dropped in what proved to be the Bellboy's hundredth hit of the season to score Mineo. An overthrow brought on a tainted insurance tally.

Retiring the last seven men in order, Sheridan ended the game fittingly by claiming Varanelli as the hundredth strike victim of the Belleville mound corps. The same staff has issued only 18 walks in 92 innings while opposing hurlers have whiffed 59 Bellboys and walked 30.

Dehrowski was hitting the ball hard all day, but as is the story for those in a slump it just wouldn't fall in. Charley Cuomo's 0 for 3 days ended in eight game hitting streak for him and dropped his average below .300 to .295.

Serritella handled three chances flawlessly in his first chance at second; he also brought his batting average to a lean leading .419. Rich San

Fillipo is next in BA at .378. Sheridan's recent spurt and 8 game hitting streak has him third

BHS Crewmen Leading Two-Win Season After Defeating 3 Schools

By FRED BURBANK

The Belleville High crew team scored another big victory Saturday, April 30, over Blessed Sacrament, St. Helena's, and Nutley High Schools. The varsity crew was at a disadvantage since Walt Beresford, the number seven man, was out due to influenza.

Changes had to be made on the whole starboard side. Bob Andrews (number three) was moved to seven; Frank Esposito, bowman, to number three; and Victor Mossa in his first Varsity competition was called up from the Junior Varsity shell to fill the bow spot.

John Ciampi, who had been filling in the number seven seat, was moved back to his seat at five. The port side of the shell was unchanged and consisted of Jim Bernaducci, number two, Frank Simeone, number four, Fred Burbank, number six, Kurt Betchick, stroke, and George Lunacci, coxswain. This combination was only derived on Friday after a week of experimentation by Coach Mike Lally.

The week's workouts, consisting of four or five racing miles a day, were worth it for the big win over these other schools.

The actual mile was a portion of an Olympic type course, and is used for tryouts for the Olympic games. The schools which we were scheduled to race were

DeAngelis Is On A Naval Cruise

Nicholas S. DeAngelis, sonar technician first class, 222 Ralph St., departed April 2, on a two-week training cruise aboard the destroyer USS THADDEUS PARKER (DE 369).

DeAngelis' ship visited San Juan, Puerto Rico, during Easter weekend when he had time to explore the tropical vacation land.

During these cruises Naval Reservists apply the training they receive at drill meetings throughout the year. The result is a combat-ready crew which could be mobilized immediately in the event of a national emergency.

Fillipo is next in BA at .378. Sheridan's recent spurt and 8 game hitting streak has him third

Little Leaguers Prepared For The Dedication Ceremonies Saturday

The Belleville Little League will open its 1966 baseball season on Saturday, May 7, at 1 p.m., at the Belleville Little League baseball field located on Montgomery Pl.

The ceremonies will start at 1 p.m. followed by a double-header between the Amvets VS Local 410, and the Lions Club VS Arico. Congressman Peter W. Rodino, Jr., will be on hand to throw out the first ball.

The Belleville Little League will also dedicate their new field house, it seemed as though there would be no dedication this Saturday due to a fire at the building on Monday night, when the Building was damaged.

Fire broke out when the plumbers were fixing a leak and the installation-caught fire causing damage to ceiling and roof. But fellows from the Belleville Amvets say they will have the building ready for opening day. These men are taking off from their regular work to have this building ready. James Messina will be in charge of men who are volunteering to donate their time and work.

All parents, friends and people of Belleville should come to the opening day for Little League and show these young boys that you are behind them.

Forte's Track Men Set Second Win This Week

By BILL MCCARTHY

Belleville's 1 1/2 mile relay team took its second straight title in the Big Ten as it set the track and meet record with a great 8:07.3 time. Last year the relay team set it at 8:06.9, but Cater won the state meet with an 8:06.2 time. This year the team will be shooting for an even better time.

The big man on the squad was miler Bob Bognione, who turned in a fine 4:31.8 in the longest part of the race. He really gave the rain-soaked crowd a spectacular view, as he literally raced Belleville from a fiasco third position into an easy win first. He ran all out, and even surprised well-known Dennis Malanga of Bloomfield (his personal rival) even though Dennis had had a great advantage. It was a great race.

Also in this event, Dave Grignon ran 2:13 as he was hampered by sore muscles in his legs; still, he ran well in the half mile. Don Saunders ran a fine quarter mile, and Don Johnson a fast 200.

In other events, Belleville did quite well, too. Very important to the future of our team is the freshman squad, Don Sobanka, Walter Kaeh, George Ceipe and Anthony Sendado gave us a good bit of hope in a really powerful showing, as they placed third in the Big Ten, setting the Belleville freshmen 800 yards relay, at 1:41.5. It was terrific, and everyone was happy.

In the 440-yard relay, the team of Joe Rodriguez, Harry Baker, Peter Greco and Larry Jinks timed at 47.2 in the preliminaries and 48.0 in the finals, with a fourth place. This was indicative of next year's power, as all but Baker are not seniors, and will be back next year.

But even this year the men are showing their talents with victories (and good races) in the dual meets all season long. Larry Jinks, a last minute replacement, showed terrific promise as he ran well on the soggy track that day.

Belleville State Commander Names Three For Top Awards

Aldo F. DiChiara of Belleville, Miss Strelecki resides at 2 Berkeley Terrace in Irvington, N.J., a priest of the Archdiocese of Newark, now serving as a chaplain at the Veterans Administration Hospital in East Orange.

Miss June D. Strelecki of Irvington, State Motor Vehicle Director, will receive the "For Home Award" in recognition of her contribution to safer highways in her battle for stronger laws and compulsory safety measures.

Brig. Gen. John R. Jannarone of Belleville, dean of the Academic Board at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, will be recipient of the "For Country Award."

Father Foley, a World War II Navy Chaplain, was ordained in 1936 and entered service in August, 1943, subsequently serving as chaplain of the Third Amphibious Corps in Okinawa and Japan. Released from active duty March 7, 1946 with the rank of lieutenant, Father Foley was assigned as a curate to St. Rose of Lima Church, Newark, where he remained until 1952 when he became totally disabled as a result of a service-connected condition.

Since that time he has been confined to a wheelchair, and since November 1953, with the approval of Archbishop Thomas A. Boland of Newark, has been serving as a chaplain in the VA Hospital.

He makes his daily rounds to visit the patients in his wheelchair, and offers Mass each day for those patients who can get to the chapel.

Last October, Father Foley was selected by the VA radio program, "For Those Who Served," as "Veteran of the Week," and was honored on the program which also marked the 20th anniversary of the founding of the chaplains' service on a national basis in VA hospitals.

Pfc. W. Napoli In California

Marine Private First Class William T. Napoli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Napoli of 539 Jorammon St., has completed a 12-day training and processing cycle with Staging Battalion at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

This refresher training stresses the principles of small unit tactics, with particular emphasis on the fundamentals of scouting and patrolling, and land navigation.

Day and night tactical maneuvers provide the individual Marine with an opportunity to improve his skill as a combat infantryman.

Marines completing this training are assigned to combat units overseas.

In 1947, he was assigned as an instructor of physics and chemistry at West Point, and in 1949, was named an assistant professor. Leaving West Point to continue his own studies, Gen. Jannarone in 1956, became staff officer in the program and analysis group in the office of the Chief of Staff in the Pentagon.

In 1957, he returned to West Point as a professor in the department of physics and chemistry, and was named head of that department in August, 1964, serving in that capacity until last June when he became dean.

He was promoted to the rank of brigadier general June 1, 1965, and holds the regular rank of colonel since July 1, 1960.

His citation and decorations include the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Presidential Unit Citation and Philippine Presidential Unit Citation.

Rev. Rocco Constantino To Be Ordained May 28

Reverend Rocco L. Constantino of 136 Heckel St., will be ordained to the priesthood by the Most Rev. Thomas A. Boland, Archbishop of Newark, on May 28 at Sacred Heart Cathedral, Newark. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Constantino, and the brother of Mr. Canio Constantino, Mrs. Mildred Miele and Mrs. Jean Barone of Belleville and Miss Lucille Constantino of Los Angeles, Calif. His father was employed by the Public Works Department of Belleville until his retirement several years ago.

Father Constantino is a graduate of the 1950 Class of Belleville High School and was employed by the Work-O-Lite Company of Belleville until 1952 when he entered the U. S. Navy. He served aboard the battleship USS Iowa for two years. After his discharge in 1956 Father Constantino entered Seton Hall University and graduated in 1959 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration. He re-entered the Seton Hall Divinity School and in 1961 entered Immaculate Conception Seminary.

Yes, Belleville Had An Interesting Past

Historical markers should be the last work in historical accuracy. For this reason I have lodged a vigorous protest with the state because of the misinformation contained on — and confusion caused by — one erected in Riverbank Park, across the river from Belleville and just south of the Belleville Bridge.

In large letters it identifies the Passaic River as: "SECOND RIVER — now the Passaic." Familiarity may breed contempt and we all have a tendency to look down — or hold — our noses at the river as it is today. However, it is actually 80 miles long; it drains an area of 800 square miles and, in the days of the Indians, was a fisherman and hunter's delight. In Indian language the name means "Valley." Why must we deprive the Indians of the honor of naming this river — which they did long before the white man ever set a mercenary foot on its shore?

Furthermore, the Passaic River at this point flows north and south. Within sight of this marker is a historical stream running east and west — and flowing into the Passaic — between Belleville and Newark which was named "Second River" in the 1600's by Robert Treat and the other settlers, and still proudly bears this name.

The marker states further: "... On its banks copper was discovered in 1715. ... Copper ore was discovered at the edge of the meadows, about a mile from the Passaic River. This is where the mine shaft was sunk. It is true that the mine shafts and galleries ran down to the Passaic, but they were far underground at this point."

Legend has it that a slave who was farming near the meadows found an unusually heavy stone and took it to his master, Arent Schuyler. The stone was assayed as yielding a rich lode of 80 percent copper. The Schuyler family became the richest family in the colonies.

Legend has it that, as a reward, Arent Schuyler offered the slave who had made the original discovery the fulfillment of three wishes. The old man asked first for a fancy dressing gown "like Master's." Secondly, for all the tobacco he could smoke for the rest of his life. He had trouble thinking of a third wish and finally blurted out that he'd take "just a little more tobacco!"

Incidentally, Josiah Hornblower, who became Belleville's leading Revolutionary citizen, brought the first steam engine to this country to pump water from the Schuyler mine in 1753. The industrial revolution which it introduced had, in the opinion of many historians, a more profound effect on the country's development than the Revolution, or War itself.

I have corresponded with the proper authorities but, unfortunately, they have expended all their funds and it is questionable if and when funds will be found to reprint the marker.

In regards to my letter which appeared in your paper on April 28 referring to a shortage of $30,000 which was supposed to be hidden.

his campaign to take advantage of his recall two years ago. Instead, it has been used against him by the opposition and will probably be the mitigating factor against his regaining office.

But, civic-minded and a favorite in the west end of town, will have to gain more momentum before May 10th to be a fact. He could be used by other candidates as a diversionary force — getting a place on an Election Day "ticket" — to pull a vote from another candidate — and this could work to his advantage. But this is an "unpredictable" and cannot be measured.

The relative "quiet" could be a "sleeper" and a bright, sunny day may bring out the voters in force. For the candidates, the agony and the ecstasy concludes about 10 p.m. Tuesday night. At that time, they, and the voters, will have a good idea what the next few years on the Council will be like.

Six Candidates For May 10th Election Hit Wide Variety of Subjects

Pico: Why Does Cullen Threaten Town Planning

By MAYOR NUNCIO R. PICO

Once again the wheel of progress in the Belleville Town Council is grinding to a halt.

At the April 25 meeting, a bare majority of the Council approved an ordinance on first reading that would authorize the Planning Board to contract for a five-year program to prepare a Master Plan for Belleville and give us the blueprint for our future development.

The total commitment is for $18,000, spread over a five-year period, part of this amount to be shared by the State on a "50-40" basis.

Specifically, the cost to Belleville would be $2,000 for the first planning year; $2,400 for the second; $2,800 for the third; $3,200 for the fourth; and $3,600 for the fifth. Making a total cost of $14,000 over the five years to Belleville.

The additional $4,000 is included to guarantee the Planning Board another year of expert service and advice if needed.

Councilman Golden, as usual, was opposed to any continued process because he is opposed to any planning or Planning Board not directly under political direction.

The opposition of Councilman Cullen, however, was both surprising and disappointing. He was a member of the original Belleville Planning Board that supervised the creation of a Master Plan that was never adopted because of a chain of political events.

He is a member of the present Planning Board that wants to perfect and adopt a modern Master Plan, and endorses my presentation of the five-year ordinance.

Yet he votes in opposition. Why?

He said that he wants it as a yearly budget item even though he knows that it was the refusal of the later Town Commission to include such appropriations that made our last contract for State Aid null and void.

He further states that we, the members of the Council who voted to adopt the 1966 Town budget, eliminated the appropriation for the Planning Consultant requested by the Planning Board and therefore it is our responsibility to reinstate the item, on a one-year basis.

The fact that the appropriation called for $3,000, whereas time has proved that we will only need $1,000 for this year doesn't seem to impress him at all.

That it proves we were right in taking the excessive amount out of the budget seems to disturb him more than the need for the development and adoption of a Master Plan for Belleville.

Yet without his vote we can't pass the Resolution that will be needed after the adoption of the pending ordinance to appropriate the money needed and to determine whether it comes out of our surplus or as a pro-rated budget item for each of the next six years.

Maybe the public can convince him to think of Belleville's future more than he does of his own political pattern.

As of now — "If he can't pitch, he won't play ball."

Ladies, Take Your Business Tips From Family Budget

Statement by Candidate

In a prepared statement issued yesterday Councilman William H. Cullen urged that more people, especially women, take more interest in their municipal government.

Cullen said in part: "Running a municipal government seems, to the outsider, a complex and mystifying business. I believe it is essentially simple if one is given all the facts and an opportunity to study and rationalize them. It is my belief that if all the facts and figures are given, which is not usually done, that no mystery exists."

"Any housewife has the fundamentals of the town administration at her fingertips. If she sweeps her sidewalk, disposes of her garbage, checks her water supply, makes sure of proper schooling for her children and protects the life and property of her family she is doing what every municipal government should do. The only difference is she performs her daily tasks as an individual."

The Town administrators do the same thing on a much larger scale. Town administration is essentially a housekeeping job — and there are many skilled housewives who believe they could do a better job of running the town than the present administration does. I think they are right. I wish housewives would run for office. I should like to serve with them.

"In my campaign for re-election I have stressed the part of the individual taxpayer participating in government by asking questions and obtaining answers. Citizens have complained to me of the lack of responses to the questions at the Town Hall."

"Knowing this you may ask 'What can I as a single individual do about it?' First of all I say avoid extremes. A certain increase in taxation has been made necessary by the growth of government at all levels. The building of new schools, the ever increasing demands for additional services, and increased educational facilities. We must meet the necessary costs but the people should both understand and agree to the expenditures. However, the taxpayer should require a complete explanation of what happens to their tax money and what taxes are essential."

If you know the tax structure of your town you will get an insight into municipal government and you will see government is your responsibility.

I am not promising that I can lower taxes, but I do promise that you may feel free to offer me any suggestions that will aid in effecting economies in our municipal tax structure, and I will endeavor to see that you are given an honest count for your tax dollar.

Mayor Pico Outlines Plans For The Future Of Belleville

By MAYOR NUNCIO R. PICO

A TV commentator recently remarked: "There are two sides to every question and a politician usually takes both."

Well, that is not for me because I have said it out of both sides of my mouth.

Personally, I believe good politics is good government.

Neither do I believe that politics is a dirty word.

It is every citizen's duty to be a part of the political structure that has created our American way of life.

I am a candidate for office because I believe I have that "know how" to make my town a better place to live in.

I am an engineer by education, by training and by profession.

As an engineer, I believe in objectivity.

This means knowing what is needed and then how to prepare the plans and specifications to get the job done.

Engineers do not live in ivory towers.

We deal in facts.

When given a problem, we find a practical method of solving it.

When we find what is needed and how much we can afford to pay to solve it then we go into plans and specifications.

That is why I am proud of the six year Capital Improvement Program and budget that has been prepared under my administration for the immediate future of Belleville.

We have determined the needs of Belleville for the next six years — the paving and repaving of streets; the construction and reconstruction of public buildings; the need for off-street parking; for flood control of the third river; for recreation and playgrounds; for water and sewer projects; for traffic control and for the major equipment needed for town housekeeping.

Our program of improvement estimates the cost; where the money is to come from; and a time table that will least affect the yearly tax budget.

That is important to all of us in Belleville because while we have the highest surplus in Belleville's history, it must be used as a guarantee for performance.

The bond houses consider Belleville as a "top investment" with an "A" rating by one expert service and an "AA" rating by the other standard service.

Although the latter rating is now dormant because our bonded debt is so low that we could pay off the entire debt with our own savings if we so desired.

But this is only part of the record of accomplishment of the past three years.

We have paved and repaved more streets; created and replaced more sewer line and water mains and given more street lighting to the public than have all of the administrations combined in the previous 20 years.

Our town housekeeping cost has gone up — police and fire protection, street cleaning, sewer service, recreation program and all of the other things that make for proper municipal operation.

But in the past three years that cost has only increased $18,000.

The Essex County cost to our town during the same period has increased $512,433, or seven and a half times greater than our town increase.

Our Board of Education cost to the taxpayer during these past three years has increased $781,300, or ten times more than the increase in the cost of the town government.

Our 1966 tax cost to the people increased $18,801 over the 1965 cost.

The Board of Education is bitterly resentful because we only allowed them a $200,000 increase over last year when their defeated budget was referred to us for adoption.

Specifically, we gave them four times as much as we allowed ourselves.

The garbage contract alone this year rose more than $95,000. But, we had to economize and adjust to save taxpayer's dollars.

These are facts and I am proud of our record of performance.

But, the picture of bare whips by political malcontents in Belleville continues to blacken the name of our town.

The voters of Belleville can stop this on Tuesday, May 10th by their votes.

Belleville is a wonderful town to live in and I want to make it even a better town.

But, I need your active help. If it is going to be a better town in which to live, you and you alone can determine that by supporting me on May 10th.

I sincerely and humbly solicit your support.

I thank you.

Laterza: Belleville Is A Place To Move In, Not Out

(Statement by candidate)

Robert M. Laterza, candidate for one of three vacant councilmen at large seats in the forthcoming election on May 10th issued the following statement:

"The time is slowly approaching when you, the citizens and taxpayers of Belleville, must once again select men who are interested in a greater and better Belleville."

Laterza further stated that in the next few days political rumors will fly high and wide, many of which will be distorted and that public opinion is a multi-edged sword that can cut many ways. It punishes those who violate the public trust, but it also rewards those maliciously and wrongfully accused. In the council campaign the users of underhanded tactics will reveal themselves for what they are. Today's public is enlightened and has learned to sift the truth from slander.

On election day you will see many combination tickets floating around town. These alignments will be FALSE.

But Laterza wishes to inform all the people of Belleville, that he is still an unattached and uncontrolled candidate and will remain as such if elected by you the people of Belleville, on May 10th. "All issues that come before me will have my individual judgement of all times."

Voters must get out and vote for a candidate who is willing to represent the taxpayer. An uncontrolled and independent candidate is needed, but the backbone of all my efforts must be the citizens of Belleville who want to see a BETTER BELLEVILLE, a town to live in, not move from."

Laterza further stated, "The informed voter safeguards self-government for it's not enough just to vote. You project your individual freedom as you fulfill your responsibility at the polls when you cast your ballot on Tuesday May 10th."

Golden Follows Bass Lead; Proposes 5-Man Commission

STATEMENT BY CAMPAIGN MANAGER

Belleville Councilman James R. Golden today proposed the creation of a municipal "Little Hoover" Commission on economy and efficiency in local government.

A candidate for re-election to his second four-year term as councilman-at-large in the May 10 election, Golden said the commission would be composed of five non-partisan, distinguished citizens appointed by the Town Council. They would be charged with studying the operations of the town government and administering to ascertain where improvements are necessary in the interests of fiscal and administrative economy, the councilman said.

"I am confident that the residents of Belleville are tired of paying for the ever-increasing cost of government at their expense," Golden said. "The people indicated this when they rejected the school budget at the polls twice, for two consecutive years."

Golden said a study of the municipal budgets since 1964 — the first under Town Manager John R. Burnett — revealed a total cost of operations for the town of more than a quarter of a million dollars. Golden said, in just three years of Burnett-prepared budgets.

Golden said the cost of operations, which does not include county and school budgets, was up $91,105 in 1964, up $69,178 in 1965 and up $165,813 in 1966.

"How much longer does Mr. Burnett think Belleville citizens can afford such increases?" Golden asked. "I say we've had enough of the manager's fiscal folly. I say it is time the Town Council, through a Little Hoover Commission, undertook a close examination of this profligate spending."

The councilman said the commission would also seek "to remove the apparent superabundance of sinecure jobs, based on political favoritism and nepotism, and at the taxpayers' expense."

Bass Asks For Chance To Show The Public His Worth

Civic Leader John Bass, the Homeowners' candidate in the May 10 election for Councilman-at-Large, yesterday appealed to the Town voters to "Give me a chance to show you what I can do for Belleville."

Bass is the only one of six candidates for three seats who has never been a member of the Town Council.

"You have seen me attempt to work for the homeowners by speaking at various town council meetings and as organizer and former president of the Rutan Estates Homeowners' Association," pointed out BASS. "However, I never had the power to do more than advise the town council, and most of the time my advice fell on deaf ears. Now I am asking for a chance to show you how much I can accomplish if I am an elected part of our official town government."

"As a member of the Town Council, no longer will I have to appeal to a member of the official governing body, to plead with them to do something for the good of the town, only to have the advice ignored."

If I am a member of the governing body I can initiate direct action and only by clearly voting against the issue will the progressive step be stopped, not just by closing the mind and moving on to the next item, as in the past."

Bass noted that this platform has been a matter of public record for the past month.

"I want every voter in town to clip out the platform and use it as a checklist, said the Homeowners' champion. "Put a cross on each item of my platform as I perform what I promise to do."

Challenged Bass, "If after one year in office I have not done or attempted to have done in the Council chambers what I promise to do and all of the items are crossed off my platform, I promise to never seek public office again," said Bass.

"All I ask is that you give me a chance to show you that my campaign promises are sincere and not the words of a politician, as has been the case many, many times by other candidates in the past."

Bass listed the seven planks in his platform, as a check list for voters. They include:

1. Work to reduce taxes — by consolidating several departments and investigate the cost of sewage disposal from public-owned wells which are tied in free to the Town's system.

2. Improve planning.

3. Work for a moratorium on apartment construction.

4. Improve fire and police protection.

5. Parking — create parking facilities to insure Washington Avenue as the business hub of our community.

6. Improve council-school relations.

7. Inform the public — allow taxpayers to know what is going on in Town Hall at all times and refuse to conduct any Town business except at an open meeting.

Bass said these were the major planks in his platform, but there are others that he hopes to be able to have accomplished when he is elected.

"Recreation, public image, police morale, beautification of our town, and many others that will make Belleville a model community in which to live are all in my plans," said Bass.

"However, I must be elected to the Town Council to accomplish any of them. I urge all independent voters who want to see Town Hall conducted in a business-like fashion to give me a chance by casting their vote for me. When elected, I'll do the rest," said Bass.

Councilman Cullen Hits Mayor Pico's Campaign

(Statement by Candidate)

In the April 21 Belleville Times-News Mayor Nuncio R. Pico speaks of "Cullen's abyssmal" (for the Mayor's benefit there is only one "a in abyssmal") lack of understanding for the most basic principles of municipal government. "This statement is worthy of a reply even though during the last six weeks I have tried to avoid personal argument disparaging any candidate, preferring to base my campaign on what I think could be done for our town."

I have never hesitated in casting my vote for issues that came before the Council fully prepared and presented and beneficial to Belleville, but I do say, as I have said before, that Mayor Pico although in municipal office as a commissioner and councilman over a period of some six years has hardly any knowledge of the municipal tax budget or other requirements of municipal finance.

If the people of Belleville think they can possibly rely on Mayor Pico they only have to ride up Joramelon St. to the Third River and look at the one family houses being built on the north side of Joramelon St. Then look across the street to the south and see property which has just been approved by Mayor Pico as a site for a 250-family garden apartment.

Mayor Pico cast the deciding vote for this project. Mr. Bass published in his throwaway attack by Mayor Pico on me, but he did not mention to his constituents that the Mayor cast the deciding vote on the Fairway Avenue apartments. If this is the PROGRESS that Mayor Pico's signs speak of, I say this is PROGRESS that Belleville can well do without.

If as Mayor Pico has indicated his recent vote for a Parking Authority is considered to be Progress I merely ask the people of Belleville to consider what the function of a Municipal Council is? As Councilman I had no hesitancy in voting upon the recently adopted parking ordinance and did everything that I could to tailor it to Belleville's needs. I believe that the Council should have undertaken the responsibility of acquiring and arranging adequate parking space for Belleville's business also, and I voted against the Parking Authority because I thought it was another attempt to shift this responsibility and to further delay the necessary action to provide for one of Belleville's pressing problems.

When Mayor Pico first ran for public office as a commissioner he used the slogan "Lower Taxes". Now lo (or rather high) and behold as part of his slogan he uses the word ECONOMY. Mayor Pico certainly does not mean that part of the definition of the word which means "frugality in expenditure". He must mean that part of the definition which says "any system of regulations, laws, rites or ceremonies" because as Mayor he has performed many marriages, but certainly has not been frugal with the taxpayers' money.

He has proven that within the last 10 days when he voted for introduction of an ordinance appropriating $18,000 (1 tax point) for the payment of fees to a planning consultant when, as a member of the Planning Board who has attended many more meetings than Mayor Pico, I know that a $2,000 appropriation is all that is necessary this year. I believe that the people of Belleville can do without this Pico Economy.

The third word on Mayor Pico's (Economic?) billboards, one of which is on the corner of Rutgers St. and Washington Ave. is "Dignity". Anyone who has attended Belleville Council meetings during the past two years and heard Mayor Pico arguing with the citizens, exchanging invectives with Councilman Golden or permitting the Councilmen to argue vociferously in public between themselves knows exactly how much Dignity Mayor Pico commands.

One of the mistakes that I made in voting too precipitously, and which made me be more cautious on later occasions, was in making this man Mayor.

away from something, she will have to carefully think over what situation may be baffling him.

To find out if he is running to something, she must try to find out what may be lacking in his life.

If he is running away from something, could it be because he feels unwanted at home? Even though his parents do love him, perhaps they are not demonstrative. Perhaps they are stern. Maybe the family never plays together.

He might not like school. This would usually result in playing hooky, but is a possibility for further investigation.

He might run away to escape from himself. Perhaps the parents at home or at school are so high that he can't meet them.

RUNAWAY FOR A REASON

"Why did you run away, Johnny?"

Johnny ran away for a reason, but he says he doesn't know why. Johnny's mother really should ask herself why Johnny ran away.

First she would want to ask herself whether Johnny was running away from something, or running to something.

National Survey Slated For Area By Census Group

A selected sample of families in this area will be asked some special questions about their employment during 1965 as part of the U.S. Bureau of the Census April Current Population Survey, according to John C. Cullinane, Director of the Bureau regional office in New York City.

The survey will supplement questions on jobs and income asked by Bureau enumerators during the February Current Population Survey.

Local residents will also be asked about current employment and unemployment as part of the Bureau's regular monthly survey for the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

All information given to the Census interviewers will be kept confidential and may be used for statistical purposes only, Director Cullinane said.

Harrison Street, East Orange, which will serve as the Essex County headquarters. Announcement was delayed to permit information to officially reach the boards of the participating chapters.

Puder of Puder and Puder, Newark, served as Chairman of the Oranges and Maplewood Chapter from October, 1962 until January of this year and is a member of that board and Schweitzer has been executive director of

- ☐ 1. REDUCE TAXES — The tax burden on the homeowners is already too great with signs of only getting higher in the future unless some economic-minded representatives are elected to the Council. I propose to reduce taxes by consolidating several departments in Town Government, which are now performing duplicate tasks, thereby wasting taxpayer funds. I also promise to investigate the cost of sewage disposal, now being borne by the Town, on all public-owned wells which are tied into the local sewage system. I understand that at present the wells are costing taxpayers thousands of dollars each year while the user is not contributing one cent toward the cost.
- ☐ 2. IMPROVE PLANNING — By hiring or appointing special planning task forces to go into each area of the town to find out just how the present makeup of the area will allow it to best fit into a master plan that will make Belleville a progressive community this year as well as many years into the future.
- ☐ 3. WORK FOR A MORATORY ON APARTMENT CONSTRUCTION — Call a halt to all apartment construction in the Town in an effort to preserve its suburban nature and conduct a private survey of other area towns where apartments are, and have been constructed, to see if they are a benefit to the town or rather a get-rich-quick scheme which benefits only the developer and leaves the Town with a blighted slum area after the 10-year financial obligation is eliminated.
- ☐ 4. IMPROVE FIRE AND POLICE PROTECTION — By working for the construction of a central fire and police headquarters and making better use of available manpower to get more protection per dollar for the taxpayer.
- ☐ 5. PARKING — Work for establishments of public parking lots, beginning with one on each end of the Washington Avenue business district, thereby insuring that Washington Avenue will continue to be the business hub of the Town. This will encourage new stores to establish on the street and will encourage present store owners to invest funds in improving their buildings and establishments.
- ☐ 6. IMPROVE COUNCIL-SCHOOL RELATIONS — Will work to establish relations with Board of Education members that will allow both to work in harmony for the betterment of the taxpayers, instead of fighting each other as they have in the past.
- ☐ 7. INFORM THE PUBLIC — Work to allow all taxpayers to know what is going on in Town Hall at all times; refuse to conduct any Town business except at an open meeting to which the public is invited; will move for a change in either the Council or Board of Education meeting night so that taxpayers who so desire may attend both sessions. At present the taxpayer must choose between the meetings which are scheduled on the same nights.

Rodino Asks Assurance That Water Will Be Saved

Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-10th District) said today that the temporary lifting of emergency water restrictions in New Jersey increases the need to win passage of bills he has introduced to assure adequate water supplies in the future.

Rodino said there is no sign that the prolonged dry spell, now in its fifth year, has ended.

He emphasized that his goal is to make the temporary suspension of restrictions a permanent one. To accomplish this, he said, he has introduced and will press for quick passage of three bills directed at the problem:

1. The Clean Rivers Act, proposed by President Johnson, to restore and preserve water quality by stepping up anti-pollution efforts.
2. The National Water Commission Act, also proposed by the President, to establish a review and advisory commission to consider all aspects of present and anticipated water problems.
3. The Hudson River Act to create a New Jersey - New York interstate commission to develop anti-pollution, beautification and preservation plans for the Hudson.

Rodino, dean of the New Jersey congressional delegation, played a leading role in activating federal assistance at the height of the state's water crisis last summer.

One of the immediate benefits was a pumping station that was built at Lake Hopatcong by the Army Corps of Engineers and which made it possible to reduce the drain on the parched Wanauque and Pequannock reservoir systems.

Rodino also took the lead in drafting an amendment to the Omnibus Public Works bill to provide federal aid in the development of plans to interconnect all public and private water systems in North Jersey.

SENSIBLE ADVICE FOR SUN WORSHIPPERS

Unless you use a good protective lotion or cream you may get a serious burn or an aging skin. Start now, before the sun reaches its higher intensity. Liberally apply one before exposure. Do not rub it in forcibly. Pat it gently on the skin so that the sun screening chemical, good products contain, remains on the skin's surface to ward off the ultraviolet rays.

Wear good sunglasses to protect your eyes. After sun exposure apply a nourishing cream to replace the natural oil your skin loses.

We are sun-protection experts. We carry complete stocks of your favorite brands, but have also studied this problem and will gladly give you our informed opinion of the effectiveness of any product.

Providing phone service for the handicapped is one of the most interesting parts of my job.

Peggy Tansey,
New Jersey Bell Service Representative

As a Service Representative, I'm the one you speak to when you want to select telephones for your new home, wish to order an extension phone, or have questions about your bill. It's interesting work.

Particularly rewarding is the satisfaction I get from helping fill the phoning needs of the handicapped. There are many wonderful telephone aids available to them, thanks to Bell research. Here are just a few:

1 Extra loud bells and horns or visual signals let a partially deaf person know when he has a call.

2 An amplifying phone increases the sound of a caller's voice for a partially deaf person. A similar device amplifies the voice of a person unable to speak above a whisper.

3 The Speakerphone provides "hands-free" phoning. It's especially useful to those who are unable to hold a phone.

Group Formed To Fight Extremism

A few days ago the press reported formation of a new organization, tentatively called the New Jersey Committee to Preserve the Democratic Process. Its purpose is to combat extremism and to strengthen democratic processes particularly at the community level.

I am honored to serve as a trustee.

In a sense, it is regrettable that there should be any need for such an organization. On the other hand, the stimulation of greater citizen participation in community affairs is all to the good. For it is characteristic of a free society that its citizens can never afford to take it for granted. Freedom is not something that was won once and for all. It-time honored words: eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

The attack upon the ways of freedom can come from the extreme left or the extreme right. It can take many forms. But two features are fairly constant. One is the setting of a man against man on arbitrary ground that has nothing to do with the worth of the individual. Among its ugliest forms are appeals to racial prejudice and religious bigotry.

The second usual characteristic of the extremist is his conviction that not only is he right but that only he is right. And, to him possession of the "true" belief justifies resort to almost any means to vindicate it.

Usually such people are wont to designate their cause by high-sounding names. But not always. The self-styled "Rat Finks," for example, apparently delighted in their name. Among themselves they celebrated their membership in songs—nasty, disgusting, utterly alien to American tradition. But they were careful not to publicize the Rat Fink name or activities. Instead they sought to carry on their political activities in the guise of Young Republicans.

Rightly, the investigatory committee of the State Young Republicans and also the State Republican Committee have repudiated them and called for their ouster from the Young Republican organization. Their views are a travesty of our Republican heritage that we cannot and must not tolerate.

In this instance it was the Young Republicans that were the target for infiltration. But neither party is immune from such attack. There is plenty of room for differences of views both within and between our parties. But neither party wants or can afford to give shelter to abhorrent doctrines of racism and bigotry.

Let those who preach such doctrines do so on their own but not masquerading as members of a responsible political party. If our parties now lack the means to protect themselves against misuse of their names, then we must promptly give them legal authority commensurate with the responsibility which the American people rightly expect them to exercise.

'Mad vs. Bad' Topic Of Speaker on Sunday

He will speak on "The Mad vs. The Bad," at the Society's building, 516 Prospect St., Maplewood, at 11 A.M.

MEET THE PRINCIPAL: This is Mr. Frank Spotts, principal of School 4 in the Silver Lake district and a familiar figure in educational circles. ## NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Southern hospitality was extended to Mrs. Doris Murphy, vacationing in South Carolina. She was the guest of honor at the DAR Prince Orange Chapter monthly meeting. A tour of famous homes was conducted by the Orangeburg Historical Society and Mrs. Murphy also visited the famous Edisto Memorial Gardens, which are . . . "indescribable." Mrs. Murphy plans to return to Belleville shortly and hopes at that time our cherry blossoms will be in full bloom so she can send pictures to her southern friends.

Home From Duty

Welcome home to Robert Joyce, USNR. Bob spent two weeks in San Juan, P.R. and returned home on the USS Thaddeus Thatcher. His two weeks active duty over. Bob returns to his job at N.J. Bell Telephone Co.

What a wonderful evening for David Bukunus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bukunus of Carpenter Street. Miss Gail Cronauer, daughter of Mr. Joseph Cronauer, Fairway Avenue and Miss Toni Caparoso, daughter of Mr. P. Caparoso, Mill Street. The group attended the Merv Griffin TV Show where David led the Sammy Kaye Band and was viewed coast-to-coast. He managed to give BHS a plug, and for his efforts in band-leading, received a baton and two records. "It was his biggest thrill," said David's mother. . . perhaps we have a future Mitch Miller in Belleville?

Nightclubbing

And the band played on! At the Senior Prom held in the Westmont Country Club, attended by David Bukunus and Gail Cronauer; Diana Peck with Lewis Trowbridge and Carol Shelesky with John DiMiceli. After the ball the group attended

"Arthur." Discotheque of the Stars. They stayed until closing and then visited the Persian Room at the Plaza. . . featuring Vic Damone. Quite an eventful evening.

Miss Patricia Mannion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Mannion of Little Street, was feted at a shower held at the Political Club in Belleville. Hostesses of the event were Miss Peggy Bradley, maid of honor and Mrs. Robert Smith, bridesmaid of Belleville, joined by Miss Peggy Bradley, maid of honor and Mrs. Robert Smith, bridesmaid of Belleville, joined by Miss Carol Nucci, another bridesmaid of West Caldwell. Nothing so rare as a day in June, and the fourth of that month is the day set for Patricia to become Mrs. Richard Noto.

Painting In The Park

It's Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom Time! Taking advantage of the lovely spring weather were the students of Mrs. Nancy Crisp's Art Class. Seen busily sketching in Branch Brook Park were Robert Drake, Amy Outcalt; Chipper Outcalt; Anne Wilkinson; Diane Nasino; Kathy McDonald; Audrey Shephard; Rosemary Shephard; Russell Conroy; Kathy Dunn; Donna Bove and Francine D'Agostino. The class is composed of 6-14 year olds who meet twice weekly. Allan Crisp, Nancy's husband tells us that the group is making tremendous strides and they really have quite a good time when painting. An enterprising photographer was on hand and snapped a picture of the group painting the Cherry Blossoms in Branch Brook.

Off we go into the Wild Blue Yonder! Well, at least James W. Mannion of Little Street does. James graduated from school at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill. in January and became an Airman. Second Class in the U.S. Air Force. He is now stationed at McGuire AFB, assigned to the Aero-Space group as a ground equipment repairman, attached to the 539th Fighter Interceptor Squadron. Keep 'em flying, Jim!

Alas, No Camera!

While all interested eyes were turned toward the Belleville Parade on Sunday, Miss Allison Burden, eight-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hank Burden, was sleeping blissfully in her stroller. Not the beat of the drum, nor the roar of the crowd disturbed her slumber. Her five year old brother, Alan, did attempt to focus her interest, especially when Batman wheeled into view. . . to no avail! . . . and the band marched on!

Early Asparagus, Sure Spring Sign

Before long you'll be enjoying the spring-like flavor of asparagus. These long and slender spears will add a special touch to any plate.

Although there are only 35 calories in a cup of cooked, cut spears, asparagus is a good source of vitamin A.

Asparagus can be prepared in a variety of ways. Basically, the same cookery rule prevails as for all vegetables.

After thoroughly washing, cook the vegetable in a small amount of boiling salted water for a short time, until just fork tender. Don't forget the save the cooking water for sauces, gravies and soups.

You can serve asparagus simply, with melted butter or margarine. Or you may want to sprinkle it with one of the following: toasted almonds, bacon bits, grated cheese, sauteed mushrooms or lemon juice.

Cold asparagus makes a wonderful salad plate accompaniment. For a quick luncheon, serve a slice of ham on toast, top with a few spears of asparagus (cut to fit the toast), and pour a piping hot cheese sauce on top.

Then stand back and wait for the compliments.

Fresh lemon juice is the secret to tempting year round salads with more flavor and less calories. Cut salad dressing early almost in half and still use your favorite dressings.

Just blend equal parts of dressing and fresh lemon juice — and add a bit of freshly grated peel for extra zest. It's so easy to do and there's a lively flavor lift.

Belleville Artist Exhibits Work at Treasure Gallery

Thomas Hearn, born, raised and educated in Belleville but now living in Lyndhurst had to come back to Belleville to be "discovered."

Although Mr. Hearn has been interested in painting since childhood he never had any formal training. On his own he tried to paint the things that pleased him, and the things for which he felt a nostalgia. Interrupted by service in World War II he tried to learn to paint through art books, became dissatisfied with his progress and enrolled in the Treasure Gallery Workshop for classes under the direction of Gladys Sherman.

Mrs. Sherman realizing immediately that Thomas Hearn was a true primitive painter guided him to strengthen his own quality and method of painting. All of the pictures he has done over the years are being brought together in the Treasure Gallery, 445 Washington Avenue, Belleville, for a one-man show Friday evening, May 6 from 7 till 9 o'clock. The public is invited to the opening or to view the show at home.

Mr. Hearn and his wife, Esther, are still surprised and overwhelmed with all the excitement over his paintings and the coming show. They have 2 sons, Robert, in the Air Force and Allan at home.

The Anthony Izzos Mark 20th Year

Neither rain nor snow nor dark of night could dampen the enthusiasm of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Izzo when they plan a party.

To celebrate 20 years of living in Belleville, the Izzos invited friends and relatives to a picnic in their yard at 33 VanHouten Place. The weatherman did not look favorably on Saturday and, in fact, it came down in buckets so an "indoor" picnic was held.

Some of those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Alan Crisp; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rosania; Mayor and Mrs. N. Pico; Mrs. Michael Mignelli; Mrs. Caputo, Mr. and Mrs. J. Golden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bass, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Bart Donachie, Miss Ann Boylan and James McCann.

Entertainment was provided by the Batman Fan Club of Belleville. The girls composed an original skit, centered around Cat Woman, played by Linda Romanchik. Batman was there in the form of Linda Diana aided by Robin, Mary Jane Izzo and Commissioner Golden, Susan Diana. The Cat Woman's henchman was played by a guest, Michelle Mignelli. The skit closed with Batman a winner and the girls singing their original version of the Batman theme song.

During his additional instruction he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. Albertini was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes, and avoiding enemy ambushes. Other specialized instruction included small unit tactics, weapons firing, map reading, landmine warfare and communications. The 19-year-old soldier received basic training at Fort Dix. He was graduated from Belleville High School in 1965.

Two Belleville Soldiers Training For Field Communication In Army

Army Private Patrick V. Uguro and Anthony J. Montanino Jr., of Belleville completed a field communication crewman course at Fort Dix, April 15. During the eight-week course the men were trained to string wire from the field to the communication center. They also received instruction in basic electricity, switchboard installation and operation, and pole climbing. They entered the Army last November and completed basic training at the fort. Uguro, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Uguro, 92 Tiona Ave., is a 1963 graduate of Belleville High School. Before entering the Army he was employed by Federal Pacific Electric Co. in Newark. Montanino, 20, whose parents live at 503 Joramonton St., is a 1964 graduate of Belleville High School. Before entering the Army he was employed by Carteret Savings and Loan Association in Newark.

Let's Forget It, Fellas

Last week the Belleville Jaycees permitted the appearance of a (Horror!) John Birch float in their annual Cherry Blossom Parade. Town Vets were immediately up in arms. The Chamber of Commerce, swamped with anti-Birch calls, (so they said) disclaimed any connection with the parade, and others added their protests.

Next year, threatened the veterans, they will recommend that someone else handle the parade — which is truly a bright spot on the Belleville escutcheon.

Frankly, men, this is a trivial matter being given more attention than it deserves. This newspaper sides with the Jaycees, that they had allowed the float merely as an extension of free speech.

To the Jaycees we say, next year how about ruling arbitrarily that any politically controversial float be barred on the grounds that a fun parade is not a proper place for such demonstrations? After all, it's their parade and they can allow whoever they choose to take part. The parade is for enjoyment and entertainment, right? Right!

And for the Vets to threaten to "throw the rascals out" for this minor infraction of good taste would be the height of childish pique. G.F.A.

Week for Animals

This is Be Kind to Animals Week. Some people will say animals never had it so good. Thriving poodle palaces, dogs and cats with rhinestone collars, Tartan plaid jackets with matching boots — the era of affluency has affected animals, as well as people. The Doctor Kildares and Caseys of the animal world are buster than ever, with shiny reception halls, sterile operating theatres and recovery rooms where Fido or Boots regain consciousness under the watchful eye of a trained nurse.

But this happens to the lucky ones. How about the poor animal, of doubtless parentage, abandoned to shift for itself in a hostile world? Roaming the street, a ready victim of a fast automobile or perhaps starvation as it hopelessly forages for food. Now, a new menace to our animal world — dog-nappers. These are the ruthless who prey upon all animals, pets or homeless ones, to be delivered to a research laboratory and subjected to vivisection or experimental drugs. Then, the slaughtering methods, which have aroused widespread indignation among many people, who now clamor for protective laws to bring about humane methods of killing animals necessary to provide us with our meat and other foods.

Fine, humane work is being carried on by animal shelter organizations; voluntary groups offering pets to children and adults; and the ever-vigilant Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (SPCA). It's not quite enough, however. The public must consider supporting various Humane Societies in their efforts to guarantee animals a square deal, through legislation and kindness. Make a contribution, or better yet — give a pet a home. W.A.K.

A Costly Explanation

The Board of Education, says Ernest S. Arvidson who leads the group, will soon produce a brochure explaining where the cuts are to be made in school programs next year.

He had planned to release it shortly before the Town Election May 10th but had dropped this idea, he said, because there might be some small-minded people who would interpret this as an anti-Town Council critique rather than an informational type bit of literature.

This is probably just fine, what with the walls of distress coming from board offices, and perhaps an explanation is due. However, is it worth the money (which the Board says is in short supply) to publish a brochure? They ain't free, you know.

If this proposed brochure isn't too long (and why should it be?) The Belleville Times might just be prevailed upon to print it as a public service and save that cash for a few new books our students will need. After all, The Times will discuss the cuts after they are explained anyway.

Mr. Arvidson, would you care to comment . . . ? G.F.A.

The Bands Of Silence

Writing in Nation's Business, Alden H. Sypher, retired editor and life-long journalist, noted that "Government by fear is causing bands of silence to fall across the land . . ."

"Noise, still rises from bearded builders of dissension but in increasing numbers the more responsible, mature and highly qualified people are withdrawing from public discussion . . ."

He says the inclination toward silence is "restricting the exchange of ideas that could result in honest consensus. It is the product of fear — the fear of a vastly increased central authority with tremendous power and little restraint in its use."

"The fear of farmers whose livelihood is largely controlled in Washington and whose product prices have been affected by stockpiles and manipulations."

"Of businessmen who have seen controls become effective not by law, nor uniform patterns, but unbearable pressure of central power and authority.

"Of educators who have seen withdrawal of federal funds for failure to conform — and just as sudden replacement of the funds through intervention not by educators, but by political figures."

"Of city leaders who see in the anti-poverty war new political alignments that may be directed or at least greatly influenced by Washington."

"Of little people who rest uneasily under the benevolence of power they have seen unleashed, over which they have no control."

And beyond the self-imposed silence and fear of economic repercussions, there lies the historically proven danger of becoming a subservient, obedient and abject people. Thus, the more we fear and the longer we stay silent, the greater our chances of becoming weak, self-committed captives."

Deeds, Not Words Are The Marks of Sincerity

To the Editor:

Sir, I feel that as the former head of the organization which sponsored the change of government from commission to council-manager form, that it is incumbent upon me to say a few words on this subject just prior to the forthcoming election.

Without further hesitancy, I implore all my friends — and all dedicated citizens — to vote against any candidate who would try to convince the public espoused our return to commission government. A retrogressive step, indeed, would be commission government. It does not take much common sense or deduction to visualize why commission government is against the best interests of the people. Any candidate who cannot see this is government, and by so doing, either purposely deceiving the people or is so dense that he himself does not belong in office.

The most formidable argument in favor of council manager government is that it is always bitterly opposed by politicians who believe in the political spoils system. Dedicated citizens who want good communities and who are not seeking special favors for themselves always want council manager form.

Why then, do we have two councilmen in particular, Councilman Golden and Cullen and a former Councilman Strumolo who would try to convince the public espoused our return to commission government. To me their reason step, indeed, would be commission government. It does not take much common sense or deduction to visualize why commission government is against the best interests of the people. Any candidate who cannot see this is government, and by so doing, either purposely deceiving the people or is so dense that he himself does not belong in office.

government has been good for the people of Belleville.

Here is my prediction!

If the people are foolish enough to vote for candidates who are against our present form of government, it will be a catastrophe because the first action this new majority will take is to fire the manager and replace him with a hand-picked stooge. This would enable them to run things on an interim basis until they would hope, the inefficient, discredited, commission form of government could be restored.

Is this sincerity or hypocrisy?

How can the people believe anything such candidates say? I suggest therefore that you vote wisely on election day to make sure that those who are self-centered are not returned or elected to office.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Kind Words From A BHS Grad For Richi Luzzi

To The Editor:

Even though I am a loyal gamecock of Carolina (in graduate school studying for my Ph. D.) and Clemson is our eminent competitor, it's always good to hear of the success of a fellow Belleville High School alumnus.

The enclosed newspaper photo from the Columbia State and Record shows Belleville's foremost footballer in action in Clemson's Orange and White spring intrasquad game.

According to local newspaper accounts Richi Luzzi has had a good spring practice. He ran 700-yard touchdowns twice in intrasquad scrimmage held two weeks ago. After that performance Coach Frank Howard stated that he expects to see Richi "running wild" next fall.

That's indicative of the hope the coaches have for Richi as Clemson plays a vigorous schedule; consecutive games with Georgia Tech, Duke, Alabama, and Southern California. Their schedule is capped with a game against bitter rival South Carolina and our new coach Paul Dietzel. This game actually tops the Belleville-Nutley rivalry for excitement and nail-chewing.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

The scarcity of color TV sets of the better known brands continues and apparently will continue all during 1966. We have a standing order with the distributors to ship any color sets they have. We can not select the different models and we can not place an order for any specific set. The same goes for everybody else. Of course, we do not accept orders from our customers, since we have no assurance, whatsoever, that we can fill it.

The writer took time off to see what they are doing in the highway stores. We did not go any farther than on Route 46. It was really amazing. Many stores took orders and deposits for merchandise, which they knew they would not be able to deliver. Nevertheless, they assured delivery within a short time. Just to see what happens, we placed an order in one of these places and made a deposit. After looking over an "inventory" sheet, a definite promise was made for delivery 2 days later. The 2 days stretched to 6 and, you guessed it, the set was never delivered. When we asked for the return of the deposit, the "manager" stated that the deposit would have to be returned from the "main office." The sales slip does not have any other address than the store on route 46, there was no mention whatsoever about any "main office" or any other place.

The salesman told the writer that he had a set which was "much better." It had the name of an old renown brand, which had been sold years ago by a smaller TV manufacturer. This set was adjusted perfectly and an RCA set next to it was deliberately misadjusted in order to show a poor picture. People who do not know this, would fall for such a gimmick.

This, of course, is the purpose of taking orders and deposits and dragging out the return of the deposits. People come in the stores again and again for the deposit and many weaken and take whatever set they can get.

We service what we sell.

Mr. Golden Disputes A Four-Year Record

To the Editor:

In answer to your scurrilous and defamatory editorial, I challenge both you and your publisher Frank A. Orechio, to appear at a public assemblage scheduled May 6, 1966 at 8 p.m. at the Armvets Hall, located at 100 Newark Ave., Belleville, N.J. when I shall outline and present my achievements in office and my proposals for the future.

You are welcome to bring along as many of your "experts" as you may feel necessary.

Your failure to comply can be interpreted as displaying your insincerity to learn of my accomplishments.

You have ignored my press releases in the past. There is little probability you won't continue the same unethical policy in the future.

The enmity and venom that has consistently been displayed in your publication in the coverage of your references to me not only exceeds the bounds of malicious libel, but, displays prejudiced animosity that could reflect hatred.

Copies of this correspondence will be distributed for publication to other news media in the area.

JAMES R. GOLDEN

(Thanks; but no thanks. We haven't the time to spare on a repeat performance of a man trying to cover up a sad record while in public office. We bear you no "hatred", Mr. Golden; but as a newspaper we must guard the public interest. And frankly, we do not believe — BASED ON THE RECORD — that you have served the Belleville people in any respect. In your press release you list some nine items which you "oppose," but only three which you have "proposed." This is the pattern — and record — of your performance for four years, whether or not you admit it. — Editor)

Belleville Boys Sing In Annual Spring Musicale

The Essex Catholic High School Band and Glee Club will present their annual Spring Musicale on May 20 and 21. The event, which is sponsored each year by the Fathers' Club, was first presented in 1961. Since then its popularity has increased so that two evening performances are held.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Brother J. M. Heustis, is comprised of 90 boys several of whom have received highest awards in state wide competition. Chairman of the musicale is Henry Schrader of Nutley. Other members serving as committee chairmen are: John Pignatello, Joseph Wells, Vince Otskey, and John Triquet, all of Belleville. Frank Costello of Bloomfield, Edward Egan of East Orange, and Les Lang and John Garrity of Newark.

The following boys from Belleville will perform in the musicale GLEE CLUB MEMBERS Claude Gibney, Mark Dacey, Frank Simini, John Giordano, Tom Hanly, George Kondreck, Mike McManus, Paul Cahill, Frank Molinari, Jerry Fuchs, Robert Cueman, Richard Larios, Anthony Zuccarello, Eugene Mahler, Richard Mahler, Frank Stanek, Walter Denman, Jerry Maloney, Bill Martin, John Pisapia, Walter Brown, Peter Deykerhoff.

BAN DMEMBERS John Capparelli, Philip Forgione, Frank Saia, John toscano, Marc Verzatt, John Virgilio, John Vitkovsky, John Zanetti.

BALLERINA: Diane Orio, of 286 N. Belmont Ave., a member of the Garden State Ballet, works out on the Symphony Hall stage for a May 12 student performance there plus a statewide tour of schools. She arrived with other New York dancers to "test" the stage for March 11, 12 and 13 performances by her company.

performance that had won her first prize last year, then came the 1966 crop of town talent.

Linda Coeyman, standing in the wings, closed her eyes, gulped, and walked out on that great big stage all alone for her song— "Shangri-La." As she sang to the audience Joyce Rozek twirled in practice in the darkness and applauded when Linda returned to the wings.

Lorraine Sawicki, clad in a short, Chastota dress encircled with shimmering ropes of silver material went through a dance-twirling routine while Kayl Lyn Iwanysyn prepared for her reading from "Don't eat the Daisies."

Gloria Goglia, wiggled her fingers for the "Deep Purple" number she was to play on a big, black grand piano.

Maureen McHugh did her bit for the audience and returned to the wings. She wanted to know how she did, too. "Beautiful!" Johnnie Iannuzzi assured her. "Beautiful!" She smiled gratefully.

"How'd I do?" she asked anxiously. "Beautiful! Beautiful!" said someone.

Joyce Rozek, a cute and imaginative blonde in a dress of her own design, took the stage next. As she came off-stage Ann Wolfarth gave her a bear-hug, then hurried off her to the dressing room for the next part in the show.

Julie Guarino, dressed in a tom-boy outfit, gave her interpretation of a baseball game—from the feminine side. Bob Fersch stood in the wings reading a copy of her dialogue in case she should falter somewhere along the line.

Irene Deykerhoff, looking every bit the part of a Hawaiian honey, did a Hawaiian dance that drew cheers of appreciation from the audience.

"That was really beautiful," breathed Patricia Mercier fingering the guitar on which she was to perform. "Really beautiful."

Jane Mason, in a blue costume and white boots, went through an intricate twirling routine. She dropped a baton half-way through the act, bit her lip, and kept going. She executed a cute bow at the end.

"Nice; very well done," said Vera Kittle, the kids' chaperone. "Smile, smile," she whispered loudly to Jane, who got a very large hand from the audience.

Gwen Gaudio made her farewell entrance, thanking the audience for the honor of representing the town. Sitting proudly in the front row were her parents and sister, Maureen, whose large eyes were filled with tears. Although it didn't show, Mrs. Gaudio, too, must have shed a few as Gwen spoke.

"Without them (her parents)," she said quite literally, "I wouldn't be here." Contestant number 5 started crying, too. Women!

Then came the Great Moment. With a verbal flourish Leonard announced the winner — Patricia Mercier! That's when they really started crying.

Half sobbing and half laughing Miss Mercier addressed the audience.

"I wish there were ten crowns for every one of the girls," she said, "because they all deserve it."

And do you know what? She was right.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mercier, 430 DeWitt Ave., and she plans a career in social work. She is a senior at Belleville High School.

Aunt Eller and Curlev Git Ready For OKLAHOMA on May 12, 13, 14

Third Production For High School Students All Set

Rehearsals have now started for Belleville High School's third musical production, "Oklahoma," which will be presented at the school on May 12, 13, and 14. The musical, by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, is one of the most popular shows ever given on Broadway.

Directing the production is Robert Wing, Belleville High School's band director. Wing conducted the recent performances of "My Fair Lady" and "Guys and Dolls" at the High School.

Coaching the soloists and chorus is Dr. Samuel Peck, director of music in the Belleville Public Schools.

Members of the cast include: Beverly Golden as "Aunt Eller"; Lewis Trowbridge, Curly; Diana Peck, Laurey; Nick Pallante, Ike Skidmore; William McCarthy; Fred; Eugene Harvey, Slim; John Reilly, Will Parker; David Bukunus, Jud; Gail Cronauer, Ado Annie Carnes; William Iden-den, Ali Hakim; Carol Sensky, Gerlie Cummings; and Greg Harper, as Andrew Carnes.

"Oklahoma" is the largest production ever put on at Belleville High School, with a 22-piece orchestra, 26 dancers, a 52 member chorus and a production staff of nearly 50 students.

Tickets are $1.50 and $2. and may be purchased from members of the junior and sophomore classes, members of the cast, and will also be available at the door for each performance.

Remember the dates — Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 12, 13, and 14.

OKLAHOMA! That's the name of the forthcoming production by the music department at Belleville High School, and here to illustrate a scene from that famous musical, from left, Beverly Golden, a 17-year-old junior who will be "Aunt Eller;" and that little bully being picked on by that big bully is Ed Albanese, 16, and Mario Papa, 17. not only by Belleville residents but out-of-towners too. And again Belleville's reputation needlessly went through the meat grinder.

The question has been asked — "what motivates Golden to rap, rap, rap almost all other members of the Council?" Politically sophisticated people believe Golden's technique is geared to his burning desire to be Mayor. Golden says top man in Tuesday's election should be selected Mayor. Citizens should consider this angle when voting Tuesday.

In casting a vote for Golden Tuesday voters may be unwittingly aiding his argument that he is entitled to be mayor. Moreover, if Golden is re-elected Tuesday and not selected Mayor we can expect a continuation of his diatribe against his mythical "majority bloc," certainly something to worry the anguished Belleville resident who with eternal hope in his breast looks longingly to the tomorrow that will bring Belleville the peace and quiet enjoyed by the best of our suburban communities.

Vincent T. Strumolo served on the Council for a couple of years and gained a reputation for being the most silent member of the council. Strumolo is native-born. He is a local business man who has made good. As a Councilman, though he was quiet, Strumolo served with strength and distinction. He endured the weary transition days when the town converted from Commission government to our present form.

Strumolo is a man of integrity and high purpose. He is not a spellbinder but he is a sound thinker. He wears no man's collar and has been known to throw out of his office special interest and pressure groups.

Strumolo is no phoney — he looks you in the eye and tells you what he is thinking — so a very refreshing!

John Bass distinguished himself as the vocal leader of the Rutan Estates homeowners. He served as President of the organization for several terms. He appeared at Commission, and later Council meetings, night after night in the service of his neighbors and organization.

Bass's voice has been always a force for good in our community.

Bass is sales manager of one of the nation's leading provision houses. He is a successful business executive. Bass is a solid citizen who, if elected to the Council, would not indulge himself in a three-ring circus. He is for orderly meetings and legislation in the best interests of the oppressed homeowner.

Robert M. Laterza, as former Mayor, was compelled to defend himself against the unmerciful, relentless, and unfair attacks unleashed by an ambitious James Golden.

Laterza is the bearer of a highly respected Belleville family name. He was entitled to better treatment. A prominent and popular pharmacist, Laterza served as mayor during a period when it was almost impossible to survive the diabolical schemes of politicians who saw in the new form of government an opportunity to feather their nests. Personal ambitions, lust for power, and greed were motivating influences behind the moves of political leaders out to discredit Laterza, Addonizio, and Strumolo.

And what a job they did!

Laterza is no politician. But of this we are sure, no man more honest ever held public office in Belleville. Laterza is loyal to the good name of Belleville. A Rutgers University graduate, Laterza is in the heart of our Big Tree section of Belleville. Laterza possesses high moral values. He was the first public official to raise the warning that narcotics was the most serious threat to Belleville's youth. Laterza was a good Councilman, tried to be a good mayor, and if elected Tuesday of one thing we are certain no action of Laterza will ever bring shame upon the fine name of Belleville. His will be a voice for quiet and peace in our community in our day.

Some people say we have a mediocre field of candidates. The field is no worse than any of the past, and in many respects better. This is as good a field of candidates as any that appeared on a postwar ballot.

It includes two professional men, Mayor Pico an engineer, and former Mayor Laterza a druggist; two successful business executives, John Bass and Councilman Bill Cullen; one successful businessman, former Councilman Vincent T. Strumolo; and James R. Golden an employee of the Public Service Coordinated Transport Company.

So — as we approach Tuesday's Municipal election we find Belleville crying on the inside, its people going through another period of torment and anguish searching for the answer that can bring to our community domestic peace in our time.

People who own homes in Belleville and who live in Belleville would rather continue living here. But they are seeking a way that will stop once and for all time the bad publicity which makes it uncomfortable for one to whisper "I'm from Belleville."

A good start to achieve this goal can be made by citizens voting with their heads instead of their hearts on Tuesday.

Avathath Achim Sets A Donor Dinner For 11th

The Sisterhood of Congregation Avathath Achim of Belleville will hold its annual Donor Dinner at the Short Hills Caterers, Short Hills, on Wednesday, May 11, at 7 p.m. Approximately 100 Sisterhood members and guests will attend.

Co-chairmen for the dinner are Mrs. David Finkelstein and Mrs. David Schreier. Mrs. Henry Creditor is Sisterhood President.

LAST RITES: Ralph A. Vara, Public Works Department Superintendent, was laid to rest last week in an impressive ceremony at Holy Family Church in Nutley. The funeral procession, shown above, left the church in a drizzling rain. Over 100 persons attended the service. Leading the procession was Father Naddo, Father Michael Salterelli, Father Francis J. Blake, who were flanked by altarboys. Honorary casket bearers were, Joe Donnelly, Councilman Ralph A. Casale, Town Manager John R. Burnett, George Kiernan Jr., Ralph Chimento, Dave Connelly, Natale Quello, Charles Bonielli, Joseph Mara, Frank Scarfelli, Joseph Vitullo, and James Fusaro. (Photo by ADAMS)

Nothing else ever came of his trips to the Courthouse. Of course the good name of Belleville was soundly smeared in the process.

Golden's service on the Council has been marked with one consistency — deluding much of the general public, he has constantly built a straw man — called him a "majority bloc" and proceeded to damn and beat the hell out of this straw man.

In this regard his actions on the Council directly contributed to the unfair Recall Election against Vincent Strumolo, G. George Addonizio and Robert Laterza. Golden constantly harassed these former public officials shouting at one point at a public meeting "GO TO HELL!" His attack upon them compelled Strumolo, Laterza, and Addonizio to defend their hard-earned family reputations.

When Laterza, Strumolo and Addonizio lost public office — with Golden a major contributor to the result — Golden set out to attack Pico, Cullen Westpy, and Casale. He pounced upon these men accusing them of being another "Majority Bloc." And again, week after week, in the local and daily press Golden's charges were printed and read

Some people seem to feel that prescriptions are outrageously priced. The truth of the matter is this: Last year the average American bought about 3 prescriptions for a total cost of around $7.50. An average of less than $3.00 per prescription. Sure, some drugs cost a lot. So do television tubes for the same reason. They're expensive to manufacture. New and improved production methods, however, bring prices down. Penicillin, for example, costs only a small fraction of what it did when it first came out. Your pharmacist has a professional knowledge of drugs and can tell you this: They are fairly priced. You get what you pay for. We are always pleased to serve you.

Who's Gonna Win The Big Election? The Political Pollsters Say It's A Tough One To Predict

An electorate cloaked in apathy unprecedented in Belleville's political history will go to the polls Tuesday to elect three at-large members to the Town Council for four-year terms.

Although there are about 18,000 registered voters in the municipality, predictions for the turnout are running from a low of 7,500 up to as high as 13,000.

An important role may be played by the weather man. If it rains, a substantial number of voters may elect to stay at home. This will open the door for the strongest organizations to pick up indecisive voters and carry them in cars to the polling places.

Only six aspirants — a modest entry for an election which norally would pull as many as a dozen candidates — will square off at the polls. Three incumbents — Mayor Nuncio Pico, Councilmen James R. Golden and William Cullen — will stand against a challenge from Vincent Strumolo, Robert Laterza and John Bass.

Political sagas in town are rating the incumbents a slight favorite, with Strumolo casting the biggest shadow over their changes for reelection. The latter has been campaigning vigorously, and is said to have a solid organization lined up to unleash a big bid for reelection. Strumolo was defeated by Councilman Robert Westpy in a run-off in 1964.

Laterza, former Mayor who was recalled by the voters in 1964 — along with ex-Councilman George Addonizio — may be a threat, but most local observers of the Belleville political scene feel the recall stigma is hanging over his head like Damocles sword.

The sixth office seeker, Bass, has strong support from the Rutan Estates area but may not have the votes to pose a threat for an at-large post on the Council.

Biggest event to come out of the election to date, however, is the almost absolute disinterest exhibited by the public. Although this could be deceiving, the fact still remains that past Belleville political battles have been noted for heat and liberal doses of the self-styled "watchdog" for the homeowners and "little man", whoever the latter may be. Golden's noisy opposition to many town matters is well known.

His lengthy harangues and tirades — both as a citizen and a Councilman — have made him a public figure and brought dubious notoriety to himself and the town. Possessed with a vitriolic tongue, he has speared fellow Councilmen in general and Town Manager John Burnett in particular, with monotonous regularity. If the Council's chief critic has been able to hold his seat, according to one authoritative source, he could run high man.

However, it has been pointed out that Golden's record is not

Belleville: What Lies Ahead?

Belleville, once a beautiful and peaceful city resting on the banks of the Passaic River, is once more going through its ugly biennial traumas — the Municipal Election scheduled for next Tuesday. And our people do not seem to be ready for this inauspicious occasion.

Gone is the enthusiasm for political battle — and the cast-iron stomach needed for the fight. So what lies ahead? Allow us to try to explain.

Three At-Large Council seats are up for grabs. The present holders are seeking reelection. They are Mayor Nuncio Pico, Councilmen James Reynolds Golden and William H. Cullen.

Councilmen Robert Westpy and Ralph Casale hold terms which expire in 1968.

Contesting the incumbents are three well-known citizens. Former Mayor Robert M. Laterza is making a spirited effort to win back a seat he won four years ago. Former Councilman Vincent Strumolo also is campaigning vigorously. He, too, was first elected in 1962. John Bass, Rutan Estates civic leader decided this is the time when his civic interests and business talents might best be put to the test of elected public office.

Approximately 18,000 Belleville citizens are eligible to vote Tuesday. Politicians are betting — some even hoping — that only 50 percent or 9,000 voters will bother to visit the polls to vote.

A great many political leaders expect many voters to vote for only one or two candidates although each voter can, and should, vote for three.

There will be no run-off election as in the past. This is the first time under this new form of government that the total number of candidates represents twice the number of seats available. So Tuesday's election will be a sudden death affair. There will be no second choice to correct voting errors of next Tuesday.

And what of the candidates?

Mayor Nuncio Pico served as a commissioner under the old form of government, and in November of 1963 was elected to complete the unexpired term of former Councilman Thomas Greco.

Pico is a professional engineer. During his term of office three votes and one action stand out in our mind. Last Christmas, when Councilman James Golden refused to supply the vote necessary to transfer funds to pay 34 town employees, Pico went to the bank and personally borrowed the money and saw to it that these town employees did not go payless at Christmas.

Pico voted in favor of new apartments at the old Krugman-DePetro site on Joralemon St. He defends this action on the basis that revenue from the new apartments will tend to keep down the taxes of the one-family homeowner. We disagreed with his position on this issue.

Pico voted with a majority of his colleagues to reduce the school board budget after voters rejected the proposals two successive years. This year the school board submitted a budget to the people reflecting a $600,000 increase over last year. When this was turned down another budget was submitted, down $100,000 over the original but still $500,000 more than last year.

Under the law the Council is required to take action in such a circumstance. Pico voted to trim the $500,000 increase to $293,000 — an action which gave the school board $200,000 more than it spent last year. We agree completely with Pico's votes on the school board budgets.

Pico voted for the creation of a Parking Authority. Well, all we can say is that it is about time somebody did something to aid the Belleville housewife's search for parking space when she so badly wants to stay in Belleville to do her shopping. We strongly believe a Parking Authority may be the answer to our parking problem.

Pico is an honorable man, honest to the core. He has proved himself to be a dedicated, hard-working public official, and his reelection will serve to help Belleville move ahead.

Well-mannered, always the gentleman, Pico has served his community with distinction.

William H. Cullen was elected to serve the unexpired term of former Deputy Mayor G. George Addonizio. Golden has also served with distinction. While at times his has been the respectable vote and voice of dissent on the Council he remained always a gentleman.

Cullen has brains, integrity and breeding. For 25 years Cullen

Four Names Offered Are For 'Authority' Posts

A week after the Town Council approved the Parking Authority Councilmen had approved four names for the newly formed group.

Two top engineers who would have been of great value to the Authority had been lost because a "conflict of interest" would have been created by their appointment, said Mayor Nuncio Pico.

Both, who work for reputable firms here, declined the offer because their firms could be among those bidding for any construction brought about by the Authority.

Pico had recommended two men, and Ralph A. Casale had offered two other for consideration by the council.

He will start his two-year term May 11 after the NTA's annual meeting. He has been a teacher for 12 years; a chairman of the NTA's strike committee, and was one of some 34 teachers fined in Superior Court for contempt charges after urging a two-day teachers strike.

Patricia Mercier Is Named Miss Cherry Blossom 1966; Rozek, McHugh Runners-Up

Patricia Mercier, a dark-eyed, 17-year-old Belleville beauty, was named Miss Cherry Blossom of 1966 Saturday night before a packed auditorium at Belleville High School.

She won the coveted title over nine other equally lovely contestants during the two-hour Cherry Blossom Pageant sponsored by the Belleville Jaycees that marked one of the high spots of the year.

"I'm still in a state of shock," she said after the crown had been placed on her head by Gwen Gaudio, who relinquishes the title after representing the town for the past year.

But she didn't remain in that state for long before she was busily posing for the runners-up, kissing her chaperone, Mrs. Vera Kittle, who trained the girls, and hugging the rest of her competitors.

It was the climax of an entertaining evening.

Tom Goglia, sitting in the front row, cheering section of his sister, Gloria, was all eyes waiting for the moment she would make her appearance.

Seated on stage the contestants awaited for the curtain to raise.

"I'm not really nervous," whispered Linda Coeyman nervously, "are you?" she asked her nearest friend.

"Me neither," whispered Patricia Mercier. "I must be in shock." It was ten minutes past eight, whole herds of butterflies must have been fluttering in ten tummies. Out in front Robert Kittle, president of the Belleville Jaycees, was announcing Emcee James A. Leonard, who had the enviable task of announcing each girl as she went through her routine.

Gwen Gaudio, 1965 Miss Cherry Blossom, floated on stage from the rear entrance, walked out on the run-way and after taking her bows, she returned to the center of the stage before the curtain fell.

Next on the program was the awarding of prizes for the organization with the most interesting float during the Cherry Blossom Parade last week. The Kiwanis Club captured the prize and Bucky Cairo left, with the prize in arm.

Then, one after the other, the town beauties walked individually across the stage and out onto the run-way where every one got a round of applause, some Mmm's and Ahh's, and several wolf-whistles from the back of the house.

There was Jane Mason, with her blue blouse, and white skirt with a big bow at the waist. Lorraine Sawicki, with a yellow gown to match her golden hair. And as each walked across the stage Bill Indenden sang "Making Whoopee," but many in the audience may not have noticed it so, intent was the audience watching the parade.

One-Plus-One Can Equal Five, Says Political Pundit

Although amateur mathematicians around the Town Hall are predicting there will be no run-off in Tuesday's election, the possibility cannot be completely eliminated, according to Town Clerk Eugene Barnett.

The mechanics are this: as the machines close and totals are tallied at the polling places, they are reported to the Town Clerk, who must ultimately give certification to the Election. Total votes for the CANDIDATES are added up, then divided by six (two times the number of seats available, in this instance three Council posts) and a winner must have 50 per cent of this divisible figure, plus one.

Example — if there are a total of 24,000 votes cast for all six candidates, a winner would have to have a minimum of 4,000 plus 1, or 4,001 votes.

Barnett said that if one candidate did achieve this 50 per cent plus one vote, the two runners-up would be elected with him.

Town Merchants Prepared For A Busy Voter Rush

Little Miss Belleville Entries Photographs On Display This Week

There are ten business places in Belleville, all on Washington Avenue, that are the scene of considerable action this week as voting for Little Miss Belleville begins.

Each place is equipped with six panels of photos, all taken by Kondreck Studios, with a total of 143 pictures of Belleville little chameleons.

The winner of Little Miss Belleville with her parents will take part in the Little Miss Garden State Contest in Atlantic City in June.

In addition Little Miss Belleville will win the prizes donated by the following:

From Mary Dell Fashion's, a $25 gift certificate for the mother of the winner, Tannen's Shoes, a pair of shoes for Little Miss Belleville.

From Jolly Cleaners, $100 travel expense money for the parents of the youngster who goes to Atlantic City.

Muscara Music School, a guitar.

The Glass Company, $10 gift certificate; and from Abbotts Drug Store a wrist watch — All three, the winner, and second and third runners-up will receive trophies.

Essex Bank's Earnings Up 85 Cent Share

National Newark & Essex Bank reported net operating earnings for the first three months of 1966 of $1,089,718 or 85 cents a share. This represents an increase of 7.5 percent over the same period of 1965 when earnings were $1,008,990 or 79 cents a share.

The bank also operated an increase in deposits. As of March 31, 1966, they were $440,995,666 up from $417,748,286 a year ago.
