Mayor Pico Says Search Still On For PA Members

He Finds Businessmen Too Busy For A Civic Problem Facing Town

The Parking Authority, stalled through indecision and a lack of manpower, was still going through the throes of creation today as Mayor Nuncio R. Pico beat the bushes for candidates for the five-man authority.

"I'm going to make another pitch for people," he said, explaining he was still short one man. "I'm confident I'll have the names ready by Aug. 22," he said. "They give me their names and a promise, then change their minds." The biggest drawback, Pico reported, was that the positions were unpaid, would take a long time to complete, and few wanted to give their time for civic duty. "It's quite a job," he said, and he wasn't getting any help from the other councilmen, and none at all from the town's many service clubs.

But a survey along Washington Avenue indicated merchants saw the need for such a parking authority to study the matter to forestall economy-strangling parking problems.

In shopping centers along Franklin women said they had switched shopping areas because of the parking available.

"I can't park worth a nickel," said one. "Here I just drive in frontwards, shop, and drive straight out without having to twist the wheels and things." Her companions nodded agreement.

Would they shop in downtown Belleville?

"We always have, but now we come here more and more because of the big parking lot."

The Town Council had taken the first step in 20 years to alleviate the parking in Belleville late last year. Skeptics had charged the incumbent members who had sought re-election with using the Parking Authority to get back in office, then abandoning the idea.

"I'm not getting any help from the others," Pico said Tuesday.

Elected Board Was Stable, Says Arvidson In Defense

By ERNEST S. ARVIDSON

The voters of Belleville went to the polls on May 11, 1964 and by a resounding vote of 6138 to 682 determined that the Board of Education would no longer be appointed by the Mayor but would be elected by the people. Disillusioned by the continuing insistence on political control of the school system by the Mayor, and the erosion of free public education resulting from the desire to make the school system part of a political machine, the people of Belleville rejected the principle of an appointed Board of Education.

Our community enjoyed a fairly stable government for many years, and during this period the appointed Board made policies which promoted education. Beginning in the late forties town politics commenced to become turbulent and this turbulence rather than abating has kept increasing.

We have not had a stable government in town hall during the past four years. During these periods of insecurity the politicians seek to protect himself by building a political machine through the process of rewarding his supporters. This is what happened in the early fifties and the people revolted against this type of political control of the school system.

I have been quoted on this matter on numerous occasions by the Belleville Times. For the record, I say that I have never discussed this matter with any representative of that paper, nor ever made a statement to them concerning this matter. Any quotations which have appeared have not been authorized by me. My statement to a local daily newspaper was as follows:

"I agree that the people in the school district shall determine how their School Board members

Heading the program for the second year is Belleville Junior High School vice principal Seymour Grossman, who works with Steven N. Aduato, county coordinator for the Youth and Economic Rehabilitation Commission. Also working with the men are Board of Education President Ernest S. Arvidson and Acting Superintendent of Schools Michael Rosamilia.

"It can't be academic," explained Rosamilia, pointing out that social and physical problems must first be corrected in the youngster before he can start off on an equal plane with his

Philip Blanch Retires After 18 Years Duty

Philip W. Blanch, 132 Crest Drive, who has served residents of Newark and the Oranges more than 10 years as a Prudential Insurance Co. agent, retired Tuesday, July 12.

Blanch joined the company's Newark district staff in 1948 and transferred to Orange in 1956. The office later moved to West Orange, at 92 Old Northfield Ave. His associates will honor him at a retirement party in September.

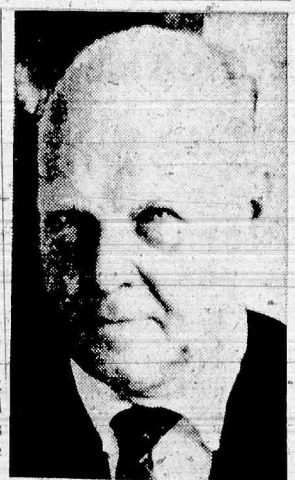

He attended both high school and college education in night classes, and earned a business administration certificate from Rutgers-University in 1940. Before joining Prudential, he was in real estate work.

Blanch is married to the former Marguerite Gasparini of Newark. They have two sons, Philip F., 23, is a senior law student at Seton Hall University. Upon earlier graduation from Clemson University, he ranked among the top ten in the National Graduate Test. Their other son, Richard, is student council president at Cumberland College.

Water's Still Muddy, Report The Residents

"It's a little better, but it could still use some improvement," said Joseph Paterson of 16 Campbell St. Tuesday night. He was referring to the discolored water that has plagued residents along Campbell Avenue over the past nine days. Mr. Paterson had complained to the Water Department, who had words of advice but were of no active help. The Town Manager, John R. Burnett, said he would "look into it."

But today the water, while of better quality, was still discolored. "I took our clothes down to the Water Department and showed a little guy there what it looked like," Paterson said. But no one has, to his knowledge, been out to look over the situation. It seems to be clearing itself up," said Paterson hopefully.

are elected, but because of the turmoil in Town Hall politics at the present time an appointed Board of Education would be disastrous for Belleville education. We would revert to the same kind of political control of the school system as existed in the early fifties."

Since making this statement to the local daily newspaper nothing has occurred in the local

Change Of Government Movement Plan To Make Bid In September; Apicelli Cites Municipal Cost

Students Raise $1,000 In Cash For Fund Drive

With a sudden surge of generosity the Student Organization Fund, composed of a group of Newark State College students, drove the Kevin Roberts Fund another $1,000 higher last week when Robert Williams, treasurer, received a check for that amount.

It was the largest single contribution ever received by the Fund, designed by sympathetic townsmen to help in the rehabilitation of Kevin Roberts, 23, of 33 Essex St., who lost both legs in an auto accident late last year.

He had been crushed between two cars as he was changing a tire, and has since spent months in the hospital where he is learning to re-adjust to his new life.

Another $300 was added when the Sigma Beta Chi Sorority, Rho Theta Tau sorority, the Class of '67 at Newark State College, and William Montesana and Lorraine Reilly, former classmates, also gave.

"Sometime when we see on television," said Chamber of Commerce secretary Harry French, "some of the activities of student groups across the country, one wonders what will become of us. It is heartening to realize that these antics are performed by a very small percentage of the total college enrollment."

Youthful Tempers Plus Heat Caused That Fist-fight

Ten youths, four of them from Belleville, were involved in a fist-fight near Ogden Road and Elena Pl. July 7 after a car load of New York boys forced their car to the curb and attacked them with fists and a crowbar.

Police were searching for the New York boys after a resident gave police the license number of their car.

Ralph A. Serio, 18, of 91 Tonia Ave. and three juveniles were taken to Clara Maass Memorial and released. The hospital said they had minor cuts and bruises.

After the fight broke out at Elena Pl., the Belleville boys had the windshield of their car broken with a crowbar by one of the unidentified New York boys. They fled before police arrived. The fight was caused by quick tempered youths and hot weather said police.

No move for a change of government will be made until "sometime in September," said Thomas Apicelli, campaign chairman of the Belleville Citizens For Commission Government, because of fear the referendum would face too much opposition from state, county, and municipal questions slated for the November 8 ballot.

"We're not going to file because of too much competition," said Mary Senatore, Belleville Democratic Chairman. "We said 'no dice.'" The movement has, she reported some 4,500 signatures "exactly." But later, Apicelli added another several hundred to that figure.

Of the move to ouster the present council-manager form of government, Mayor Nuncio R. Pico said "If the people want a change it's perfectly alright with me. It's up to them. It's a question of the 'ins' and 'outs.'" Those who were left out during the recent election, he said, are among those wanting the change so they could be "in."

"There's nothing I'm going to do about it," he said.

If the petitions for a referendum aren't submitted by September, said Town Clerk Eugene Barnett, they will require a special election to settle the question. And the workers for the change are confident they have the necessary backing for a successful fight.

Another Change Set
The Town Council is also ready to present another referendum to the people asking for a change in the school system from an elected board to that of an appointed board, a move the council favors.

If both questions are on the ballot Belleville voters will have five decisions to make, something the proponents of the change of government would like to avoid. It's a matter of political strategy aimed at narrowing the field of competition.

"So many questions on the ballot would confuse the public," observed Barnett.

There are three statewide questions: one on legislative reapportionment, a bond issue, and the matter of changing the date on local municipal elections. A question of night horse racing might also be added to the ballot.

Government Costs High
The two Belleville questions for change of government — one in the school system, the other in town government — could be added to the confusion of just

Kidde Acquires 16th Business Firm In Detroit

But Plans Subject To Director, Stockholder Formal Agreements

The Dura Corp. of Detroit became the 16th business firm to join the list of Walter Kidde & Co. acquisitions of Belleville, the company announced last week.

Fred R. Sullivan, president of Kidde, and H. Lynn Pierson and J. Thomas Smith made the joint announcement.

Subject to reaching a formal agreement and approval by the directors and stockholders of both companies, the plans call for an exchange of each share of Dura common stock for 4-10ths of a share of Kidde Series A cumulative preference stock. Each share of Kidde preference stock pays an annual cash dividend of $2.20 and is convertible into two shares of Kidde common.

Dura common stock, traded on the New York Stock Exchange, jumped almost 15 points yesterday, after a delayed opening. Kidde common and preference stock is traded on the American Stock Exchange.

Dura is the 16th company acquired by Kidde in less than three years.

Sales Total

The joining of Kidde and Dura will create a corporate entity with annual sales in excess of $250 million, Sullivan and Smith said.

Dura produces business machines, including computer input and output devices, punched tape typewriters, tape and card punches and readers, and tape-to-card and card-to-tape converters. It also makes hydraulic equipment for the automotive industry, motorized products, heating equipment for truck fleets and industrial use, and agricultural machinery.

Kidde supplies safety, security and protection products and services, aerospace systems and equipment, textile machinery, merchandising equipment, and electrical appliances and other home products.

FORTUNATE: Getting the good news from Westinghouse was Mrs. William (Helen) Kinkead, 17 Prospect St., who won a $5,000 U.S. Savings Bond after guessing the correct company profits performance during 1965. She and her husband will be flown to Pittsburgh for the award. At right is E. M. Bellotti, works manager at Bloomfield.

Airlines Are Facing A Popularity Test Here To There In Europe, Easier Than To and Fro In The U.S.

Striking airline employees would not win any popularity contests with a number of Belleville residents who have been affected by the dispute between the airlines and the Machinists' Union. Many potential vacationers have had to cancel and rearrange travel plans. The Times learned this week from The Belleville Travel Service.

Joseph Dasaro, one of the Travel Service officials said his agency has been hard hit by cancellations, and mountains of additional work, brought on by the strike. Travel to the Caribbean and Florida areas by air is "shot," said Dasaro, "at the height of the summer season."

European business booked well ahead of time is reasonably normal, although getting in and out of Rome, Dasaro declared, is "hopeless, right now." However, he noted that unless settlement comes soon in the strike, travel to Europe will feel the effects, too.

Several specific hardship cases were cited by the local travel man. A honeymoon couple from Puerto Rico had been booked in to New York on Eastern, but were rerouted via Santo Domingo.

In this revolution-torn land, the young couple were under constant armed guard while there.

A Belleville couple, recently married, expected a Bermuda honeymoon. After a weary 24 hours of helicopter flights and shuttling back and forth between airlines, the couple had their honeymoon — in Wildwood, New Jersey.

Dasaro pointed out that private air taxi lines, from Newark and smaller Jersey airports, were doing a landoffice business, especially on charter trips to Florida.

Trains are running extra cars — even sections — to Florida and other vacation spots.

"I have been coming in around midnight in order to get airline offices on the telephone to confirm or cancel reservations. It is virtually impossible to get through to them during the day," Dasaro declared.

One bright spot in the dismal picture described by Dasaro was his assessment of his customers and a lot of the public.

"They've been very considerate and understanding in recognizing the plight of the travel agent," he said wearily.

DESIGNER: Wayne A. Current, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen O. Current, Jr., 329 Stephens St., received his Bachelor of Industrial Design degree from Pratt Institute, in Brooklyn June 10, at an outdoor commencement in the Library Park. During Wayne's school years at Belleville High School and Pratt Institute he received various local, state, and national art awards. He will begin work this week with Ford Motor Company in Detroit, using his talents in the design field.

Want To Be 007? Internal Revenue Offers Positions

Joseph M. Shatz, District Director of Internal Revenue for New Jersey, announced a recruiting program for Special Agents (Criminal Investigator, Intelligence Division) to fill existing vacancies. The entrance salary for most positions is $6,289 per year with rapid advancement to $8,961 and above. A further increase in pay and fringe benefits is pending.

This trainee position prepares successful applicants to ferret out facts in cases involving tax fraud and other related criminal violations.

The work of the Special Agent is unique in the field of criminal investigation. Unlike the usual criminal offense which involves a single instrument of crime, such as a murder weapon, and frequently a single occurrence, tax fraud often involves violations that consist of many acts, committed over a period of years.

The investigation is complicated by the vast number and variety of past business transactions, the varied methods of evasion and the voluminous records which must be analyzed.

Successful applicants will receive classroom training in three separate Internal Revenue Service Schools, as well as on-the-job training under the tutelage of experienced Special Agents.

Eligible who have a BS or AB degree which included 12 semester hours in accounting, or who are attorneys or professional accountants, and who meet the strict physical requirements, are eligible to take the required written examination. Arrangements will be made for immediate testing.

Board Studies A New College

Edward T. T. Williams, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Fairleigh Dickinson University, announced today that the University had formed a committee for the purpose of studying the feasibility of the University's founding a new medical college for the northeastern section of the state.

Williams said, "This action comes as the result of pressures building up over the past three years as hospital administrators, doctors and community-minded citizens have become increasingly aware of the lack of adequate medical facilities and a continuous stream of professionally trained personnel to safeguard the needs of the area."

You might think that American people have found just about all the different ways of having accidents.

Actually, said the State Safety Council, people are continually getting into new accident traps as well as the old familiar troubles. Even when they're out having fun.

Especially when they're out having fun. On the golf course, for instance. "Players who feel themselves in the rut of boredom with mere swinging and striding can — and quite often do — add dangerous zest to the game by slamming one another accidentally with golf balls and clubs, over-exerting themselves in the heat, or running a motorized cart into a tree."

How about taking along forethought in your golf bag? It could help your fun score in all your recreational activities in the big game of life.

Eleven Residents Leave For The Y's Camp Dawson

Eleven Belleville residents have enrolled at Camp Dawson, day camp operated by the YM-YWCA of Newark and Vicinity in Morris County.

Chartered busses transport children from designated points in Belleville and around Newark to the camp five days a week. The camp offers water-front activities, hiking on woodland trails, nature study, archery, camp crafts, games, singing, arts and crafts, folk dancing, athletics and Indian lore.

They are: Barry and Lois Blummerfeld of 14 Branch Brook Dr.; Jerry Casciano of 277 New St.; Bruce and Stephen Constanino of 391 Cortland St.; Michael Margerum of 50 Branch Brook Dr.; Christopher W. Miller of 51 Campbell Ave.; Leslie Nass of 367 Branch Brook Dr.; Anthony Porcelli of 98 Malone Ave.; Andrew Schenke of 33 Oak St.; and Richard Torre of 103 Malone Ave.

Ceres Warns Against False Rumors Against Committee

James P. Ceres chairman of the Belleville Action Committee said today the public should beware of false statements made by opponents of the BAC's move to ouster the Board of Education and replace it with an appointed board.

"They will never make it... the petitions are illegal... don't give up your right to vote... too much authority will be placed in the hands of the mayor," said Ceres, scoffing at critics' statements. "These are unfounded rumors being circulated by our opponents."

They are being spread by persons whose fortunes lie with the rise or fall of the present board, he said. His campaign for an appointive board was going slow.

Susan Longo Graduates As Bachelor Of Science

Susan Irene Longo, a Belleville High School graduate where she had been president of the Future Teachers of America, a member of the National Honor Society, and the leaders club, graduated from Pennsylvania State University with a bachelor of Science Degree June 18 at University Park, Pa.

Her major course was English in college of secondary education. While in school she had been on the school newspaper staff.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Longo, 57 Emmett St.

he admitted last week, because of the vacation days and the absence of many Belleville residents, but said he hoped to present the petitions before September.

The board has lost communication with the people, he said, and has developed a public-banned attitude. Reprisals are used against those opposing their views, he added, but had no proof of this contention. Politics plays a great part in school board policy, and education has suffered by the conflict between the board and the Town Council.

Education should be governed by men of foresight and responsibility — qualities often lacking when elected by less than 10 percent of the register voters, said Ceres.

Arthur Caruso Promoted To Electronics Systems

Arthur V. Caruso, 16 Watsessing Ave., has been promoted to electronic systems analyst in the Prudential Insurance Co.'s planning and research division.

Caruso joined Prudential in 1956, after his graduation from Bloomfield High School. He became a programmer in 1961, and a programming analyst last December.

He is married to the former Jean Heron of Kearny, and they have an infant daughter.

SHE'S OUR GAL, and we mean Patricia Mercier, Belleville's Miss Cherry Blossom. She returned last week from Cherry Hill where she took part in the Miss New Jersey Pageant, but didn't win. "She should have," declared Mrs. Robert Kittle, her chaperone. A lot of people liked her, she reported. However, Pat has a full-time job promoting Belleville and she's doing fine, thank you. She lives at 430 DeWitt Ave.

CARNIVAL: Making whoopee for a good reason last week were members of this happy group who took part in a fund raising party that netted some $80 before the day was out. The cash went to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund.

Fun And Frolic Pay Off For DeWitt Avenue's Charity-Minded Children

The kids along DeWitt Avenue put muscles into their campaign for money to help the Muscular Dystrophy Fund last week when they put on an impromptu backyard "Carnival" — their second in as many years — and wound up with some $80 for the charity.

Led by Cathy and Beth McDonnell of 333 DeWitt Ave. and their neighbor William Hamilton of 335 DeWitt Ave., Bonnie Scringour, Sal Mellillo, Lynn O'Neill, Odella and Armand

Veneziano supervised games, sold food, awarded prizes, and hawked shots at an improvised shooting gallery. Kids came from blocks around to kill two birds with one stone: give funds to a worthy charity and have fun at the same time — an unbeatable combination when it comes to kids.

All of their food and related materials for the Carnival came from sympathetic neighborhood merchants who donated the needed items. Among them were Lanza's Drug Store, A & P Food Store, Food Fair, Union Delicatessen, DeWitt Delicatessen, Frank's Delicatessen, Overlook Market, and the National Appliance Store.

"And later a 'Thank You' note went to each merchant," explained Mrs. Murial Hamilton proudly. Last year, she said, the kids had raised $33, and that had been their first try.

And next year? Who knows? They may have a Belleville World's Fair on DeWitt Avenue. Those Belleville kids don't fool around.

playmates. All of the children are — through no fault of their own — either culturally or physically deprived, and probably both.

They get dental and physical examinations at School One, where the Board of Education provides teaching facilities and space for classes as it's ten percent of the over — all cost. The Federal government pays the other ninety percent.

Town merchants and service clubs have also come to the assistance of the plan — part of the "Poverty Program" — with clothing for needy children, while others — the Colony Club and Kiwanis — have handed over some $400 when it was badly needed.

The students come from all over town (and not necessarily from The Valley) by taxi, whose driver is a self-appointed checker — upper on the students' welfare who sees that they attend school regularly.

"It's the darling of the Poverty Program," said Aduvato, "and has been well received everywhere it has gone into operation."

American Legion KO's East Side In 2-0 Duel

A determined Mike Welsh locked up in a pitcher's duel with East Side's poised and experienced All-County star Ed Stanchek, who turned in his best performance to date with both moundmen allowing but three scattered hits.

The Belleville southpaw came out on top of the American Legion battle, 2-0, with the help of Tony Magistro in the form of a two-run triple and Dan Gabriel in the form of two quick strikeouts to seal Newark's coffin and end the game.

Welsh was making his first start in the game after piecing up no-decisions in eight innings of string relief during the year. Despite being plagued by a sore arm, the BHS senior hung on to his no-hit hopes for four innings until Bill Claudio opened the fifth by beating out an infield hit. A bunt safety by Bob Droze in the sixth was Newark's second hit. Going into the final round, Welsh seemed to be tiring from a season's lack of work when the first batter flew out deep to center and Claudio drove a long triple to left center. With the potential tying run at the plate this prompted Ron Cuomo and Steve Charen, who were coaching the team for this game, to bring in Gabriel, a BHS ace. The big southpaw responded true to form by claiming the next two batters on strikes to wrap up the game.

The Belleville Post 150'ers had picked up their only hit in the third when Stanchek yielded his first hit. Dave Rothwell had started the round with a walk to become the first Belleville baserunner. Tony Cervasio duplicated the feat before Welsh sacrificed the men into scoring position.

Another out followed before Magistro, a 1965 BHS grad, got hold of a Stanchek fast ball and drove over Claudio's head in right for a two-run triple to right.

Belleville's other two hits didn't come until the seventh when Sam Calabria drove a shot to left and Rothwell beat out an infield hit. Jim Catalano had led off with a walk and been thrown out stealing and Cervasio was hit by a pitch as Stanchek worked out of the bases loaded jam.

Lightning Slows Wanaque Reservoir's Power Output

The major electric power transformer system of the Wanaque Reservoir of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission was struck by lightning and severely damaged last week.

The transformers are essential to the power requirements of the Wanaque Reservoir water supply pumping facilities and their failure has resulted in the reduction of the capability of the Wanaque water supply to meet the peak water pressure demands on the system.

Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the New Jersey State Department of Conservation and Economic Development, in conjunction with the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission, and the City of Newark are instituting emergency measures to cope with the situation.

The North Jersey District Water Supply Commission has made arrangements with the Jersey Central Power and Light Company to utilize the power company's surplus transformers which will be installed within the next ten days to two weeks to meet the emergency. The transfer pumping station that was installed in Wayne last year is being reactivated to divert 25 million gallons of water per day at Wayne and this increased flow will be transmitted through the Newark-Pequanock transmission system to the Belleville holding and balancing reservoir. This action will insure an adequate water supply for the area.

During this emergency period Commissioner Roe requested all residents and industry in the affected area to conserve water and continue to practice all water conservation measures.

The State Safety Council advises that one of the first things you should do when on a family camping trip is to walk around the camp area to find any potential hazards, such as streams, ravines, or poisonous plants.

Drawn Without Your Consent or Knowledge

You say that you mean to have your will made some day. It is already made and will continue to be made by the laws in intestacy until you have one drafted for you.

The laws of intestacy provide for the "average man". There is no "average man". You have your own individual ideas for your family's protection. But intentions unexpressed avail nothing.

Surely your family is not an "average family" — but you are treating it as such. If you continue to do nothing, distribution will be made to your heirs according to the laws of intestacy — coldly and unequivocally.

About that boulder
in your eye

"Got something in my eye," the customer said. "Feels like a boulder. How about taking it out?" He was leaving and wanted help then and there. The pharmacist remembered hearing about another man whose "something" turned out to be a steel splinter embedded in his eyeball. He advised him to see his physician. Prompt surgery saved his sight. So, we're careful. And if we seem overly cautious sometimes, remember—we're pharmacists, not physicians. We work with doctors, dispensing the drugs and medications they prescribe. But we don't practice medicine.

They've been invited to attend a luncheon at Thomm's Restaurant in Newark, and participate in a meeting conducted by the Newark Safety Council, geared to the problems encountered by school crossing guards. We're told this is a "first" in providing written material and information for the guards. Well, now that they have the ball, let's see which way they'll run with it. Our guards need all the help they can get, though they have been doing an outstanding job on their own.

Belleville Legion Ends Season With a 1-0 Over Montclair Mounties

Sideline Byline

Steve Choren

PITCH-N-PUTT: Making the switch from the usual rambling about the sport of the pitch, this week's column will explore the world of the putt—Golf, the fair weather sport that annually lures millions of Americans onto the links in search of fun, relaxation, exercise, and a little white ball.

Spotlighting the switch are the recent performances by a quartet of golfers from Branch Brook's Hendrick's Field on Chennel 11's Sunday night "Reinhold Hole - In - One Tournament." Capturing the program's title two weeks running, the Belleville team (led by club pro Dick Dacy) and featuring amateurs Ralph DeMasi, Don Marano, and Jim DePiro was finally dethroned last weekend by an accurate Fenway Country Club group from White Plains, N. Y.

TV INDIVIDUAL CHAMP: Despite the team loss, Dacy recaptured the Tourney's individual championship along with the $200 prize it carries for the second week running. Picking up 40 of the team's 60 points in a valiant come back bid during the uniquely scored team affair the Branch Brook pro took the solo crown with a 20. Marano, the State 1965 Public Links Champ had taken the individual crown the first week the Belleville buffers were on the show. Meanwhile as this quartet was bringing notoriety to the local Country Golf Course in a 75-60 defeat, the rest of the membership was trying for hometown honors in a "Member - Member Tournament." The second of three such annual contests was taken by the team of Pat Francisco and Marshall Nasiero who swept home ten points under par with a net score of 58.

MEMBER MEMBER: Trail-ing the leaders of the 50-team field in the quest for the top prize of a $100 gift certificate and a total of some $300 in prizes were Ed Squitieri and Charley Smith with a net of 60.

Right behind them - bunched together with 61's - came five teams that were manned by Paul Binkiewicz and Jay Boburka, Bob Gentile and A. Kent, S. Martell and J. Burerka, J. Balio and J. Casalese and E. Burke and B. Guidilo.

The final three prize-winning teams were P. Mitz and P. Zwingel at 62 and G. Nnipo and J. Sunis plus S. Coptola and N. Petronaci at 63. A buffet dinner followed the event.

BRANCH BROOK: Serving over 1600 golf enthusiasts each week, Hendrick's Field is, as Ralph Kinger put it, the Branch Brook "Country Club" course is one of the largest in the area. Boasting the State Regional Champs in Dacy and the State amateur Champs in DePiro, the course is known for its play-ers quality as well as quantity.

Drawing of its members from throughout the County, this public course has been in existence for well over 30 years. It is headed by President Jack Keller of Nutley, who is assisted by the club's popular veteran and pro Maury O'Connor of Belleville, assistant pro Dacy, also of Belleville and Tournament chairman Vin Bruno of Nutley.

The 18 hole course is open to the public for $1.75 weekday and $2.15 week end fees. For the approximately 30 more active duffers thirty season passes are available, which lower the rates to 90 cents and $1.15 respectively. With about 200 golfers flocking to the course each week day and 600 more on Saturday and Sunday, the facilities are well used.

DRY SPELL: As seems to be the case with everything, the course is not without its problems. The major one cited by lack of a watering system. De-tracting from the course's native beauty, this problem has long been a thorn in Branch Brook's users side. Some plans were made to remedy the situation, but so far progress has been slow.

This has prompted club mem-bers to urge further action. Pre-sently a petition is being pre-pared that will hopefully gain a loan from the County Freehold-ers for the purchase of a water-ing system. Quite a bit of effort is going into this project. Some greener grass on the other side of the fence should result.

ON THE AGENDA: Also plan-ned for the future said amiable "Tige" Bruno, is a long-and var-

Gabriel Fans 11 And The Legionaires Wind Up In A Good Seasonal Finale

By STEVE CHAREN

Dan Gabriel closed Belleville's American Legion season in fitting fashion last week with a strong four-hit 11 strike out performance enroute to a 1-0 win over Montclair. The games only run was an unearned tally as the visitor's Mike Chavies matched the Pinstripe ace with a three-hitter and 11 strike outs for the season's hardest fought pitchers' duel.

With the win, the big lefty who had been snubbed by the league All-Star team raised his record to 5-2 and lowered his ERA to 0.98 after appearing in over half the innings played by Belleville's Legion squad. At the same time the team mark also went to 9-7 unofficially (8-8 with the Nutley forfeit).

Belleville's only run came in the midst of a wild third inning rally that all began with a walk by Gabriel. Steve Cerca followed that with another free pass, his second of the game, to put men on first and second. Disaster changed quickly to paydirt in the next play when Tony Magistro topped a slow roller near the mound.

Chavies fielded it cleanly and threw to second to start what appeared to be a lifesaving double play. But Mountie second sacker Ed Spinelli threw wildly to first in his hurry to complete the twin killing. The ball skipping past first baseman Roland Barnes as Gabriel came home with the decisive run.

The excitement wasn't quite over at this point though, as Sam Calabria, who had been robbed of a hit in the first inning stepped to the plate. The team's leading batter responded by beating out an infield hit. In the process Magistro tried to catch Montclair sleeping by scoring from second. Instead the fleet Pinstriper was nailed at the plate by a step.

Kulik And Boglione Land Two Of Six State Titles

On July 10th Bob Boglione and Ronald Kulik traveled to Englewood stadium for the third annual meet sponsored by the Garden State Club (formerly the Bergen Pacers). Seventeen events were held with only six events being won by New Jersey athletes, and Boglione and Kulik accounted for two of those six with a second place also going to Boglione.

The Shore Athletic Club held a track meet last Sunday in Long Branch. Again Boglione won two medals taking first in the three mile run, and third in the half mile. His time for both races were 15 minutes 28 seconds, and two minutes and 10 seconds. He is pointing toward the National 15 Kilometer Championship (9/4) to be held at Long Branch late in August, and could be one of the best distance runners in the state.

Kulik has brought much good publicity to Belleville, and continues to work with Boglione so that he will achieve his goal. The Belleville Board of Education had ignored petitions and public opinion in dismissing Kulik from the system as an "average teacher" and replaced him with Coach Pat Forte as track coach. Forte, after a few months in that position, now wants to return to football coaching.

Kulik had coached the track team to a top position in state track meets before his dismissal. In the two mile walk Kulik won on the last lap with a time that was only part of his work-out for the day. Earlier he went ten-and-a-half for morning practice. He is also putting in 100 miles a week of training and hopes to win the National 40 Kilometer (24 miles) Championship

The Legion Loses To Livingston's Homeruns By 8-2

A pair of two-run bad-hop homers along with a legitimate blast off the bat of All-Stater Jim Reynolds proved decisive last week as Livingston routed Belleville's American Legion squad, 8-2. The loss to the Western Division leaders ended the Pinstriped Post 105 team's four game win streak and dropped them back to the .500 mark at 7-7. Livingston is 11-3-1.

Joel Pisano (just off an impressive three-hit shutout over East Orange) suffered all the carnage of a ten-hit Lancer attack. The senior lefty might have gotten by, though, without his second loss in four decisions if it hadn't been for four errors and two bad-hop four-baggers.

The first of these fiascos came in the first after Rich Kimmel had singled for Livingston with one out. This brought up Pisano's mound foe, Ron Greenstein, The Legion All-Star responded with a looping drive to center that bounced in front of veteran Belleville flyhawk Tony Magistro and took a crazy hop to go for a home run.

Incensed by this action, the Pinstripers quickly got out of the inning and struck back. Opening the second round with a single, Jim Catalano was in good position to tally when Sam Calabria belted a long triple to right. A single by Steve Cerca then knotted the score at 2-2.

It stayed that way until the home half of the third when a single by Bob Dajdene, a sacrifice by Kimmel, a bad hop chopper through the infield by Reynolds made it 3-2.

The fourth brought more of the same as Bill Schmidej blooped a shot to center in the same place as Greenstein's second round endeavour with the same two run results. Another followed the bad hop shot with a long triple to right center and came around to score on an error to make it 6-2.

N.J. Turnpike Bans Drinking While Driving

Drinking an intoxicating beverage while operating a vehicle on the New Jersey Turnpike is prohibited in a new traffic regulation adopted by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority.

The drinking ban was included in a series of amendments to the regulations, which will become effective upon certification by the Secretary of State in Trenton.

The "no drinking" restriction reads: "No person shall consume or imbibe any intoxicating beverage from a bottle or container, containing liquor, beer, wine or other alcoholic beverages, while operating a vehicle on the New Jersey Turnpike."

Operation of a motor vehicle could also apply to a driver parked anywhere on the Turnpike right-of-way.

Under State law, drivers may be fined up to $200 or sentenced to 30 days in jail, or both, for violating Turnpike regulations.

The amendments, adopted at a meeting of the Authority also exclude from Turnpike travel:

Bicycles with or without motors and any other two or three wheel vehicles, except motorcycles. (Motorcycles are permitted on the Turnpike under favorable weather conditions).

Vehicles or combinations of vehicles, including any load, exceeding a height of 13 feet, six inches, a width of eight feet and length of 55 feet. However, no private utility, house-type semitrailer or trailer shall have a maximum length for a single vehicle of more than 35 feet, a semitrailer and its towing vehicle of more than 45 feet, and a trailer and its towing vehicle of more than 50 feet. However, commercial vehicles of a tractor-semitrailer combination may be operated on the Turnpike when the overall length, inclusive of load, does not exceed 55 feet; but no tractor-semitrailer combination shall be operated with an overall length in excess of 50 feet, when the semitrailer exceeds 40 feet in length. (Tandem trailer combinations and double saddle mount shall be permitted only after obtaining a special permit from the Turnpike Authority).

Federal Labs Receives $1.1 Million AF Pact

The Nutley division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation announced today it has been awarded a $1.1 million contract by the U.S. Air Force. George A. Barino, president of ITT Federal Laboratories, says the contract was for airborne investigation equipment. ITTEL is a major designer and manufacturer of navigation and communication systems for military and commercial applications.

Driving Without Lights Costs 19-Year-Old $80

Philip W. Bush, 19, of 227 Vreeland Avenue, was fined a total of $80 in Traffic Court Wednesday for a series of violations stemming from his driving without headlights and eluding police. Bush said he didn't realize it was the police following his car until the patrolmen turned on the red flasher and siren. He said he had been followed once before which resulted in his being physically beaten by a group of boys. He was just being cautious in turning out his lights, Bush told the Nutley Court. The incident took place at 2:30 a.m. After he was stopped, Bush failed to have proper license credentials in his possession. He was fined $20 for driving without lights, $15 for failing to have license credentials in order, and $55 for reckless driving.

Belleville Buick Co. was organized in 1922 by the late Roscoe B. Symonds in a small part of the building now housing the Belleville Supply Co. in Belleville. Its present unified structure to serve both Belleville and Nutley was erected in 1928. Largely due to illness in the early 50's Mr. Symonds turned the presidency of the business over to his son, George W. Symonds. Belleville-Nutley Buick belongs to the county, state and national Automotive Trade Association, The North Jersey Buick Dealers Association, The Nutley Chamber of Commerce and is represented in the Belleville Rotary Club and Nutley Lions Club. Besides Buick Autos and Service, the agency has at various times sold Pontiacs, Renaults, Opels and still has the local franchise for Studebaker sales. Belleville-Nutley Buick is located at 66 Washington Avenue, Nutley.

It's A Hilarious Outrage, Says Angry Sen. Harrison

By Sen. H. A. WILLIAMS, Jr.
If the proposal to extend the west front of the U. S. Capitol at a beginning estimate of $34 million — weren't so outrageous, it would be hilarious.

And despite the seriousness of the proposal (it has the backing of some of the most influential leaders of Congress), it has occasioned some of the most amusing editorial comment of recent years.

I referred to "a beginning estimate of $34 million" because the original estimate of J. George Stewart, Architect of the Capitol, for the Rayburn Building was $20 million.

The cost of that edifice ballooned to somewhere between $95 million and $130 million, every dollar of it spent with a keen eye for tasteless ostentation.

No Style

Edward P. Morgan called it a "crypto-Fascist Style mausoleum" and said: "With such a monument around, the Great Society doesn't need urban renewal; it needs a camouflage corps."

The basis for Stewart's grandiose plan is that the west front is deteriorating to the point where it is becoming dangerous.

But the solution offered is to extend the west front by 88 feet, erasing the last vestige of the original Capitol in order to make room for several restaurants and a huge lobby to accommodate tourists, plus some offices and working spaces.

In my judgment, the additional work space isn't needed. And to bury the last original wall of the Capitol in $34 million of masonry in order to provide eating and assembly space for tourists is comparable to cutting an eight-lane freeway through Redwood National Forest for the "convenience" of sightseers.

Restoration

The common sense answer, and also the economical one, is to find out what needs to be done to repair the existing walls and do that.

And I have joined with Senator Proxmire in sponsoring a resolution calling for an independent study of restoring the west front without changing the design of extending the facade.

J. George Stewart, while holding the title of Architect of the Capitol, isn't an architect at all. As a matter of fact, he is a one-term Congressman whose only college degree is honorary.

And he didn't draw the plans for the west front extension. They were drawn by an outside firm, under Stewart's supervision.

Plan Condemned

Seldom has an architectural proposal drawn such extravagant comment from such high and dignified sources — almost all of it condemnatory.

Morris Ketchum, president of the American Institute of Architects, says: "If the west front of the Capitol is extended, we will have buried the last of those walls that date from the early years of the Republic and will have obscured a part of our history that can never be restored."

Francis Lethbridge, Chairman of the Joint Committee on Landmarks of the National Capitol, in an article entitled "Capitol Punishment," says: "If the old stones of the Capitol are crumbling, let them be restored, or replaced, if need be, but let us refrain from padding its bones with a shapeless mass signifying nothing but bulk."

William Walton, Chairman of the Commission of Fine Arts, expresses the Commission's feeling that the Capitol is one of the great buildings of the world. And he says that "to erase this great historic facade would be a national tragedy."

Rebuilt

The British people, when Nazi bombs destroyed the House of Commons, rebuilt it exactly as it was.

I am not certain that I agree with the most extravagant of the criticisms of this proposal. I question, for instance, whether extension of the west front could really be called a National tragedy.

But I can certainly think of a great many better ways to spend $34 million, or maybe $134 million.

Teachers, Those Expenses May Be Deductible Tabs

Summer school expenses of teachers may be deductible on Federal income tax returns, says Joseph M. Sholtz, District Director of Internal Revenue for New Jersey.

If the course or courses are taken to maintain or improve the skills required in performing the duties of the taxpayer's present employment, or to meet the express requirements of the employer to retain current salary status or employment, then the expenses are deductible, Mr. Sholtz said.

Educational expenses include amounts spent for tuition, books, supplies, laboratory fees and certain travel and transportation costs.

If the education or training is undertaken to obtain a new position, or a substantial advancement in the present position, or to fulfill general education and personal aspirations, the expenses are not deductible.

Travel as a form of education is usually considered personal in nature and the expenditures are not deductible. This would include travel while a teacher is on sabbatical leave.

Generally, deductible educational expenses should be claimed in Part IV, page 2 of Form 1040, with other itemized deductions. They cannot be claimed if the standard deduction is used.

The cost of travel, meals and lodging while away from home overnight for qualified educational expenses may be allowable and be claimed on Part III, page 2, Form 1040, whether or not the standard deduction is used, Mr. Sholtz said.

Rodino Urges A Study Of Draft

Cong. Peter W. Rodino, Jr., (D., N.J.) said today, "As it is the President's greeting that notifies a young man of his military responsibility, it is most appropriate and indeed timely that President Johnson established a Commission to study the Draft System." The Congressman declared that he completely supports this action of President Johnson.

The Draft Program has been under bitter criticism and this controversial subject was of current concern in the recent House Armed Services Committee hearings. There are many alternatives to the present military service, a lottery, national conscription, to a professional armed force free of a draft or forced service. Inequities have been cited in all of these proposals; therefore, the creation of an independent commission to re-evaluate the entire system was necessitated.

Representative Rodino stated, "All young men and indeed the Nation should be most grateful for the foresight of the President in instituting such an action, for the Draft has a profound influence on the American educational and social structure. An efficient and fair system must be created, not only to satisfy our military requirements and to keep our complex over-all needs in balance, but also to assure equal and just treatment to all American boys facing conscription."

FIREWORKS: Watching the pyrotechnical display at Belleville High School Stadium July 4th was Judy Belmont, 6, of 79 Bridge St. who unconcernedly sipped a soft drink and took the annual Veterans Council's fireworks in stride. Over 10,000 persons watched the annual extravaganza, one of the largest in this part of the country.

BOAT RIDE IN N.Y.

A highlight of the Nutley social schedule for teenagers this summer will be a boat trip around Manhattan on the evening of Wednesday, August 17. The excursion is being sponsored by the Department of Parks and Recreation.

Heart Association Cites Few Dangers of Summer

FISHING FOR FUN... "Summer time — when the living is easy..."

Does the familiar phrase conjure up visions of long days spent idling on the banks of a stream, waiting for the fish to bite? Alone or in company, it's a favorite summer pastime for millions.

For most of us, release from the tensions and pressures of the workaday world, plus all that fresh air for good measure, are the best prescription for a vacation. But there are a few hazards, the Essex County Heart Association points out, not including the failure of the fish to cooperate. Among the latter are:

Overexposure to sun, resulting in severe sunburn or sunstroke. Water intensifies the effect of the sun's rays, even on an overcast day, so protect yourself and your companions adequately. Head covering and a good sunscreen lotion are essential; if you have had a preliminary few weeks of gradual exposure you can easily avoid getting a painful burn.

Accidentally hooking yourself or other non-fishy victims. If the hook is deeply embedded, don't try to remove it by working it out backward. Have a doctor remove it; he will push the hook out point foremost — it is less painful that way and causes less damage. (Hooks left lying in the bottom of a boat or on a dock are a real menace; the barbed points should be covered with "small corks when not in use.")

Boating mishaps. Barring storms and squalls and reckless boating by "hot-rodders," you and your passengers should have smooth sailing if you:

don't overload the craft; don't stand up or change seats in a small boat while under way; have life preservers for each occupant, and keep a watchful eye out for other craft, water skiers and swimmers.

Overeating. Remember, this kind of sedentary fishing is not really exercise. The fish are the only ones getting a workout. Let them do the nibbling. Stay away from nonstop snacking.

There is an entirely separate category of hazards for the active fisherman: the type who has to play hard and live dangerously in order to have his fun. Underwater spear-fishing, for one, is a sport only for the young and fit. A tug of war with a 500-pound marlin is also no sport for a middle-aged man with any kind of heart condition.

Revenue Service Needs Criminal Investigators

Joseph M. Shotz, director of Internal Revenue for New Jersey, announced a recruiting program for Special Agents (Criminal Investigator, Intelligence Division) to fill existing vacancies. The entrance salary for most positions is $6269 per year with rapid advancement to $8961 and above. A further increase in pay and fringe benefits is pending.

This trainee position prepares successful applicants to ferret out facts in cases involving tax fraud and other related criminal violations.

The work of the Special Agent is unique in the field of criminal investigation. Unlike the usual criminal offense which involves a single instrument of crime, such as a murder weapon, and frequently a single occurrence, tax fraud often involves violations that consist of many acts, committed over a period of years.

Labor Relations Board Rules on Strike at ITT

The National Labor Relations Board has issued an order charging ITT Federal Laboratories with refusal to bargain on five counts. These charges arise out of the long 19½ week strike between the corporation and the three locals of the IUE in Clifton and Nutley.

The NLRB ordered the company to bargain with Local 400 as the exclusive bargaining agent for the over 300 engineers employed at this facility. The Board also ordered the Company to supply certain financial and contract data to the Local and to cease and desist from further intimidation and coercion of employees pursuing their rights under the National Labor Relations Act.

Robert J. Laird, president of Local 400 said that "members of the union are elated with the Board's decision confirming our right as bargaining agent. The Board has clearly shown the Union's position and the 1964 strike was justified."

"I intend to ask the Company to immediately enter into negotiations to secure a contract for the engineers and to supply us with all the necessary data (that the Board said we are entitled to) to bargain intelligently. However, we must point out we are disturbed by the excessive amount of time it takes the NLRB to reach a decision."

"Decisions under the fact often have little effect, lead to frustration and loss of citizens' confidence in the effectiveness of the law. The Board had an opportunity during the strike to issue an injunction to supply us with the exact information which they now say we are entitled to, however, they avoided that responsibility."

There is a clear need for the Congress of the United States to expedite the proceedings before the NLRB and to make it the meaningful instrument it was intended to be to establish labor relations stability," Laird said.

Vacation Tips For Your Mail From Postmaster

Postmaster Joseph J. Benucci urges all vacationers to please advise their mailmen or local post office what disposition should be made of their mail while absent from home.

To best protect your mail the Postmaster offered these timely tips:

Let us know when you intend to leave and return. If you plan an extended holiday rent a post office box or make arrangements with family or friends to pick up your mail daily. Have your mail forwarded to you if you expect to be away the entire summer by filing a temporary change of address card.

In addition, the Postmaster advises patrons to notify their news, paper boys, milkmen, utility companies and all other collection or delivery agents and especially the local police department of their vacation plans.

The police will check your house or apartment periodically.

"In brief," said Benucci, don't invite trouble, guard against it. You will have a more enjoyable holiday knowing you have taken the necessary precautionary measures to safeguard your mail and property while away from home."

Working Students Urged To Stop At The $600 Plateau

Many college and high school students with vacation or part time jobs have been advised by parents or employers to stop working before they earn $600. These students have been told that their parents would not be allowed to claim tax exemptions for them if they earn $600 or more.

This is not true.

A parent does not lose the dependency exemption for a student just because the student earned more than $600 in a tax year.

The criteria for establishing dependency is NOT the amount of earned by the student. It is the amount of support provided by the parent. If the parent furnished more than half the total cost of the student's support, the student may be claimed as a dependent regardless of his earnings.

For tax purposes a full time student is one engaged in full time study at a recognized educational institution for at least five months of the tax year. A student who works full time during the day and attending school at night does not meet this definition.

There is no age restriction in this definition and there is no age restriction in claiming a full time student as a tax exemption by his parents, provided of course that the parents furnished more than half his support.

Even though a student is claimed as a dependent on his parent's tax return, he still has his own tax responsibilities. He must file a Federal tax return if he earned $600 or more during the year. He may claim a $600 personal exemption on his own even if he is listed as a dependent on his parents' return.

He is also allowed a $300 minimum standard deduction which means that he will owe no tax unless he earned over $990 during 1965.

Polio Season Is Here, Warns The State's Clinics

Parents and guardians who have not had their children adequately protected against polio should do it promptly, Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle, State Commissioner of Health, urged today.

"New Jersey has been blessed so far in 1966 without a case of polio being reported to the State Department of Health. We want to keep it that way," Dr. Kandle said.

"Over the years, August and September have generally been the months of high incidence. It is important that unprotected children be protected now.

"In 1965, there were three cases of polio reported to the Department none of them fatal but all having some paralysis. This year, we should like to have none reported."

The Health Commissioner said the most susceptible groups are the infants over six months and preschoolers.

The State Health Department made the following dosage recommendations to physicians earlier in the year:

"Infants whose immunization against polio was begun before six months of age should receive three doses of trivalent (oral) vaccine at 6 to 8 week intervals; a fourth dose is recommended when the infant is between 12 and 15 months old.

"Preschool children, other than infants as described above, should receive three doses of trivalent vaccine at 6 to 8 week intervals.

"A single dose of trivalent vaccine is recommended on entrance to school for all children who have previously been immunized with either monovalent or trivalent oral poliomyelitis vaccine.

"All other unprotected persons up to and through 18 years of age should be given two doses of trivalent vaccine at 6 to 8 week intervals."

Trivalent refers to oral vaccine that now protects against all three strains of polio. When the oral polio vaccine was first manufactured, there were three types specific for each strain of polio. Later, protection against the three types was combined into a single vaccine.

Dr. Kandle said that personnel of the State Health Department's Vaccination Assistance Program undertook to visit every local health officers this year to urge them to screen their population for unprotected persons and to do their utmost to assure that these persons received the vaccine.

"As a result of this effort, several thousand additional school children have been protected," Dr. Kandle said. "But there is always the possibility that some child has been overlooked. I urge all parents to make sure their children are protected. The State Department of Health makes vaccine available to child health conferences, pediatric clinics, and similar agencies serving needy children.

A student must file a Federal tax return in order to obtain a refund of any income tax withheld by an employer. Refunds, even on income of less than $600 are not automatic.

Students or their parents who have any questions on the tax status of students are advised to read Document 5013, Personal Exemptions and Dependents. This booklet which is free at any Internal Revenue Office, explains this section of tax law in greater detail.

Watch That Hurricane Weather, Says Bureau

Alma, the first hurricane of 1966 and the earliest one in many years, has heralded the arrival of the hurricane season, Robert C. Edson, national director of America, Red Cross Disaster Services, said today.

Edson was speculating in his Washington, D.C., office on the chances of a hurricane moving up New Jersey's Atlantic coastline this year.

"During the coming months," he pointed out, "the U.S. Weather Bureau, the Red Cross, and related agencies in New Jersey will be on constant alert for Becky or Celia or Dorothy — or any ensuing hurricane that manages to wander up the coast."

Hurricanes typically begin as tropical storms in the Caribbean area and move northward, gathering strength. September and October are the peak hurricane months.

SANDWICH FILLING

Saute chopped mushrooms and onion in butter and mix with a little mayonnaise. Use this good combination as a filling for sandwiches, then toast the sandwiches in butter in a big heavy skillet. Rich, but good! Serve with a tossed green salad (mixed greens plus French dressing) for a fine lunch.
