Tight Money Creates Crisis In Mortgages

By WARREN A. KNIGHT

Spiraling inflation and a tight money policy have set in motion a chain of economic developments roosting right in the middle of suburbia.

Behind a facade of conservative business suits, white shirts and appropriate matching ties, a spirit of fierce competition between some commercial banks and savings and loan associations is making a Seventh Avenue clothing rivalry look, by comparison like a subdued Vassar daisy chain.

Although no one will go on record and say so, it is hardly any secret that financial institutions from both sides of the street are locked in a struggle to collar the thrifty man's dollar. But as so often happens, the inevitable law of supply and demand is dictating the terms and the public is paying.

Inflation shows up in lots of places but it hits home — and hard — when someone tries to get a mortgage. Although money is available, it is tough to come by. Nutley Savings and Loan Association, according to John Dolan, president, is making "selective loans." New business is carefully screened and most out of town applications are summarily rejected. Dolan describes the money market as "much worse than 1958 and '59, when it was tight."

Belleville Outlook

Across the line in Belleville, the De Witt Savings and Loan

Association tells relatively the same story. In March, all loan applications were deferred and John Dailey, president, said this week "we just went back in the mortgage business". He said his institution was attempting to "service our regular customers". The savings and loan associations have been hard hit by commercial banks' offering certificates of deposit at 5 per cent interest and in some places, as high as 5½ per cent. Withdrawals were made from the savings and loans and the money went into the commercial bank CD's. Dolan admitted to "substantial withdrawals" while Dailey said his were only moderate.

Nutley Savings recently moved to meet this competition and effective July 1, began offering one-year, 5 per cent interest certificates of deposit, on minimum accounts of $5,000. De Witt does not have CD's, Dailey said. De Witt said the institution's savings accounts were holding up well and that De Witt's earnings for the first six months, when compared to a year ago "were stable". He admitted balances were hit in June by people buying cars and appliances, to beat the state's new sales tax, which began July 1. Dailey also noted the stock market was getting some of the customers' money, too.

The Bank of Nutley is still making conventional mortgages, at 6 per cent interest, Archie C. Barbata, president, said this week.

"We have had a marked increase in loan activity, and we're getting business we never had before," said the Bank of Nutley official. He said earnings were up, reflecting the increased interest rates on all the bank's loans. According to Barbata, certificates of deposit are available at 5 per cent interest, if left untouched for one year, on a minimum amount of $15,000.

The first commercial bank in New Jersey to offer a 5 per cent CD was People's National Bank and Trust Company in Belleville. A.C. Luscombe, executive vice president and a Nutley resident, said the bank has CD's on minimum amounts of $2,500, which is comparable to many of the large New York banks. Luscombe also said conventional mortgages were being made at 6 per cent interest. (Continued On Page 2)

Brooks Family Recovering From Disaster But Lack Of Housing Haunts The Future

With the end of the road in sight, an almost insurmountable obstacle has blocked the way for the Joseph Brooks family who were burned out of their home June 2 by a fire that destroyed everything, seriously injured Mrs. Dorothy Brooks and nearly took the life of two-year-old Johnnie, his twin brother Walter, and a sister Ann, age three.

Yesterday Mrs. Dorothy Brooks was released from Clara Maass Hospital where she had been treated for burns — but the 30-year-old mother of ten has no home to return to.

"We still haven't found anything," she said Tuesday afternoon, eight weeks after the fire. For a family of ten a large house is needed, and the Brooks aren't members of the affluent society. Housing, however, is tight in Belleville anyway.

Meanwhile, her family is scattered but among friends and relatives in town awaiting the day they can be reunited. They have enough furniture and clothing, explained Mrs. Brooks, a slender and attractive housewife, but a home is the major problem. Their furniture — collected for them by sympathetic residents — is stored in garages and attics of neighbors.

She and her husband are staying with her mother, Mrs. Jessie Brown at 125 Cortlandt St., where they may be contacted by anyone knowing of a house available. They prefer Belleville, although a nearby town would be considered.

Mr. Brooks is employed by the Wilbus Company in Newark, and is working hard to provide for his family.

Still in the hospital is Johnnie, who requires more care. "I don't know how long," she said resignedly, "he has a lot of skin grafting to be done." And she will miss him, she said.

But the need for a home for her brood occupies her thoughts. Within hours after the disastrous fire, residents had organized impromptu fund raising campaigns, "began collection centers for clothing and household furnishings and utensils, and several merchants opened their doors that evening to supply shoes, clothing and groceries for the victims of a fire that left them destitute within minutes.

It is perhaps because of this outburst of human kindness that the Brooks family are reluctant to move away from Belleville. But if a house isn't found within a reasonable time, they may have to do just that.

Residents knowing of the location of a vacant house are asked to notify either the Brooks family. The American Red Cross here who are searching for a home, or The Belleville Times.

BIG DANCE TONIGHT

The "Concepts", a 5-piece dance band, will furnish the music tonight at 7:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. at Chamber 3 School gymnasium under the auspices of the Recreation Department. All teenagers are invited to attend.

PTA Red Herring

Frank Varian, secretary of the Belleville Action Committee, said today that the School 8 PTA executive officers had overstepped their authority in issuing a letter opposing petitions calling for a change in school administration from an elected to an appointed board.

The small voter turnout indicated an insincerity of purpose by the PTA who urge passage of the construction referendum, while really intent on combating the move for a change of administration, he charged.

Letter Writing, Anyone? Prince Seeks A Pen Pal

Want to write to a prince? Last week a blue letter bearing Nigerian stamps arrived in the morning mail. It was from Prince Francisco A. Pereira who lives in Lagos on the African Gold Coast.

The letter said, among other things, "I work as a clerk-typist in the L.L.C. and left school in 1959. I started working since 1960. I hope I shall be able to correspond with the people of this country if this, my letter, is given due consideration."

Any students or interested parties may contact the prince by writing:

Cpl. Colombino Makes tv The Hard Way

Vietnamese War Correspondents Turn On Camera

Ralph Di Carlo sang and danced in vain all over the eastern seaboard as an entertainer chasing that elusive bauble Fame.

But as Marine L-Cpl. Ralph Colombino he achieved a certain amount of that intangible quality when American news correspondents televised the 22-year-old Belleville boy in action in Viet Nam strutting away on his guitar.

Colombino, who lives at 46 Memphis Ave. with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Colombino, had spent nine years as a professional entertainer with his partner John Rotondelli of Belleville, who is now a guitar instructor in Caldwell Twp.

Together they toured the hinterlands, singing, joking, and making music, but fame and fortune eluded the hard-working team. "We were playing all the big clubs in New York," recalled Colombino, who used his father's name for a professional and stage name, "but it seemed like every time we tried to do something, somebody else came up with something bigger and better," he declared without malice.

Once they hit on the folk music trend, and formed a group, but two of their musicians refused to play the popular music, so once again success escaped their grasp.

Frustrated, Colombino joined the Marines, took his training, and soon wound up in Viet Nam. And of all places, that's where he made the tv screen — not as an entertainer but as a soldier patrolling the area of Buddhist uprisings.

A few days later tv men asked him to borrow a guitar and sing a song American servicemen composed about the people in Hue — particularly the girls.

"It's hell," he said jocularly, "to have to come all the way to Viet Nam just to get on television!"

He has been over there seven months now and is due back home next month. His duty is driving for a Marine major, but it wasn't all beer and pretzels, he suffered several wounds during heavy fighting against the North Viet Namese, but he doesn't like to talk about that.

When he first arrived on foreign soil there weren't any driving jobs around. "I got on per-

There's No Rock N' Roll For Linda Zoppa

Linda Zoppa, a 19-year-old Belleville pianist, took a lesson right from the top of the scale recently when she was awarded a "master lesson" at the Juilliard School of Music.

And, who was the instructor? None other than the internationally famous interpreter of Chopin — Guiomar Novaes.

Linda, who lives with her mother, Mrs. Joseph Zoppa at 342 Stephens St., was chosen for the signal honor by her instructor, Madam Luisa Stojowski. To earn the coveted lesson by one of the world's most famous pianists, Linda nervously — but confidently — performed preludes and sonatas by Bach and Chopin.

She is a student of Jaldo Alfonso of Newark, who was the only one allowed to attend the session in New York. Linda has also composed a brass quartet, which was performed at the Juilliard School last May.

Linda has been a first class pianist for the last three years after starting her studies early in life. She left Tuesday morning for a vacation on the New Jersey beaches, before returning to her studies.

Then its back to the scales on the big, black grand piano in her living room.

Referendum OK'd For Swimming Pool Poll; Reports Questioned

Strumolo Opposes Vague Language Of Ordinances

Despite steaming temperatures Town Councilmen coolly waded through some 57 items on the agenda Monday night that included approval of a public question on whether or not the town needs a swimming pool; heard Councilman Robert E. Westpy refuse to approve the routine reports of the building and plumbing inspectors; and listened as a disgruntled former councilman blame his defeat on a "political pay-off" by Mayor Nuncio R. Pico to police and firemen in the form of salary hikes.

Town residents will be asked to decide if they want a swimming pool constructed here in a question to be placed on the November ballot. Councilman Ralph A. Casale, whose forte is recreation, made the proposal, which was seconded by Councilman Robert E. Westpy.

He immediately ran into objections by Councilman Vincent T. Strumolo, who was attending his first meeting after his election. The proposal was, he said, "A blank check" that left too many questions unanswered. What, he wanted to know, would it cost? Where would it be located? And most of all, he asked, how did the council know if the town even wanted a swimming pool?

"Give'em (the public) a clear picture", he declared, adding that it might cost near $400,000. "Maybe more," Casale countered with a $200,000 estimate. Mayor Pico pointed out that the resolution called for a public vote on the question before a more in-depth study is made.

"They may not even want one," he said.

'World Series' Here

The Belleville Little League will hold its annual World Series at Mike Marotti Field for three days starting tomorrow evening at 6 p.m.

Saturday and Sunday afternoon the games will start at 2 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Figures Don't Jive

The question was not binding on the council, explained Jack Soriano, Town Attorney, and it was more of an explorative question before taking action.

The vote was 4-1, with Strumolo casting a lone negative vote.

Time Running Out For Lackawanna's Belleville Riders

Belleville commuters, riding the Erie-Lackawanna railroad on a reprieve since June 1, may find time running out. Although no definite word is available on the exact date service will be curtailed. The railroad has the option of filing new schedule with the New Jersey State Board of Public Utility Commissioners on August 1. The PUC can then set the date for the railroad to halt service.

A spokesman at the PUC said a reasonable notice would be given the commuters, after the state body examines the schedules.

Four appeals have been instituted before the Appellate Division in an effort to block the service curtailment.

In all, about 31,000 riders will be effected when the new schedules go in. Approximately 150 commuters in Belleville are involved.

Strumolo Leads Cancer Drive Over The Top For Second Straight Year

Councilman Vincent Strumolo, community chairman of Belleville, has been cited by County Cancer Crusade Chairman John Kress for "outstanding leadership and success in the 1966 American Cancer Crusade."

Kress reported that Belleville had exceeded its quota for the fourth year in a row in Essex County's overall campaign quota of $190,000. This year the community has exceeded its own quota by more than 20 per cent.

Kress cited the organizational activities of Strumolo, who also serves Belleville as a councilman.

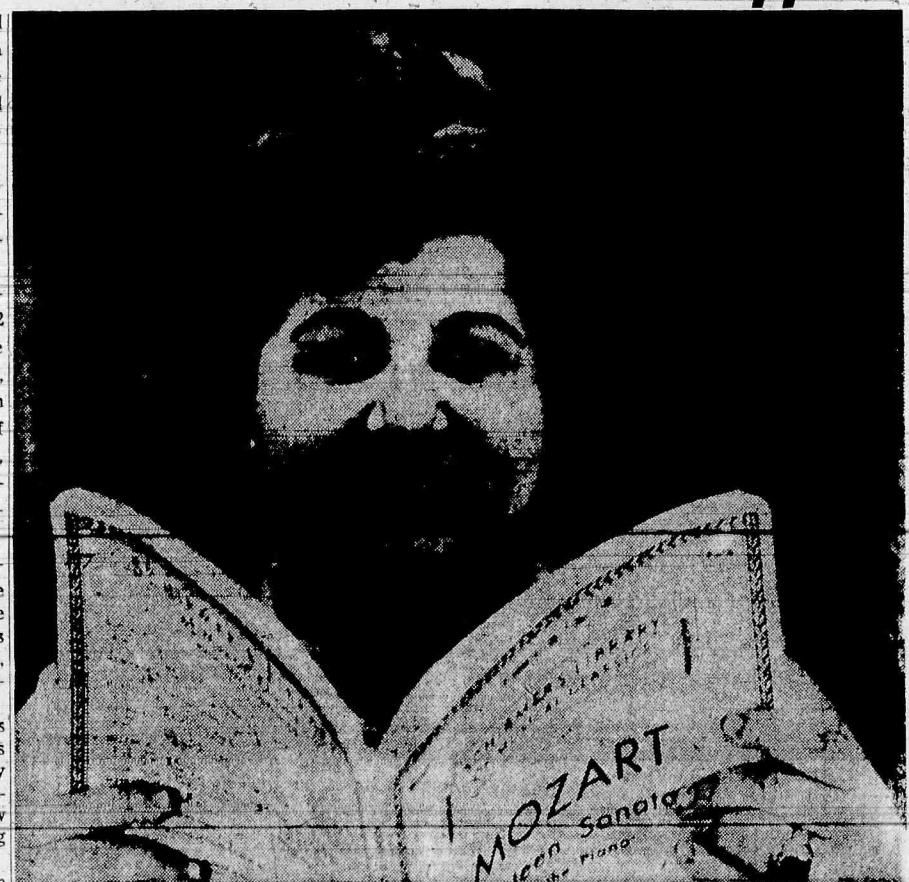

"This was truly a magnificent community effort and a contribution which will certainly hasten the day when the medical world will be able to announce that cancer is no longer the scourge of mankind," Kress said.

"Every dollar received by the community will be used for clinical, medical and research care in the continuing fight against cancer," he promised.

"The goal of the 1966 crusade is two-fold:

To provide the information and knowledge that early detection can mean rapid cure and, To provide the resources whereby research can be advanced to remove cancer as a major medical disease.

Through the cooperation of the Belleville community, both these steps have been greatly advanced," said Kress.

Tight Money
but admitted regular customers were getting primary consideration, and new out of town business was carefully scrutinized.

Remedies Considered
Tight mortgage money was of such concern to the Board of Realtors of Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield and Glen Ridge that a resolution was drafted and forwarded to Congressional representatives, Senator Clifford P. Case (R. N.J.) told the realtors legislative remedies were being considered.

Congressman Peter W. Rodino (D. 10th Dist. N.J.) said he was aware of the problem and that hearings were being conducted before the Banking and Currency committee, in order to seek a possible remedy.

Norman Thompson of Belleville, who heads the Realtor Board, confirmed the present difficulties in getting mortgage commitments. He noted that money was available but often required a premium payment of from 3 to 4 points additional interest — on top of the regular 6 per cent. — and some people were paying it.

Area Not Affected
"The Board's sales are up for the first half of the year," Thompson said. "We offer a lower price house in this area and there is some mortgage money available. The scarcity of mortgage money has not affected our area as much as other parts of the county."

Frank McFadden, who heads the Belleville branch of Fidelity Union Trust Company, said the state's largest bank "is taking care of its customers" for mortgages and other loans commitments. He pointed out Fidelity offers a complete banking service and interest was pegged at the "standard 6 per cent". Locally, mortgage loans showed an increase, indicating money was not available elsewhere, but McFadden stressed the point that Fidelity looked for quality and not quantity in examining loan applications.

The bogeyman behind all the fiscal troubles, which descend all the way down the economic ladder to the person trying to sell or buy a house, is inflation. The war in Viet Nam is costing billions of dollars, Federal spending is soaring, the wage-price spiral is moving upward and as some bankers point out — lack of leadership in Washington — all contribute to the dangerous situation the national economy is faced with.

Quality or Collateral
Respected economists and leaders in the financial field contend there is only one way to halt the runaway boom — an immediate tax increase and a cutback in Federal spending. It's highly debatable whether a tax increase will be forthcoming, at least in 1966, because this is an election year and it isn't politically expedient to hike taxes.

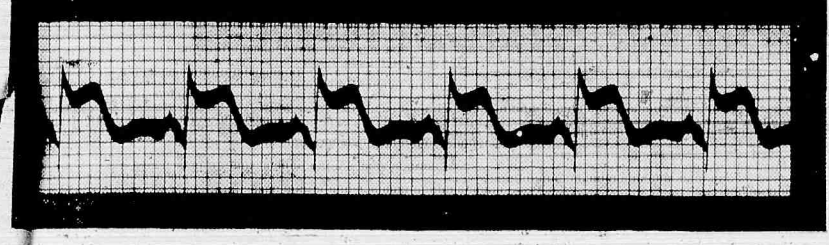

As for cutting back Federal spending, informed sources say Congress has already spent over $5 billion more than the Administration's budget called for — and the clamor continues for more Government spending for a multitude of social welfare programs.

In a complex economy like ours, it is virtually impossible to pinpoint any particular area of responsibility for the fiscal crisis in the United States today. Many factors contribute to the problem.

This is a heart attack.

It was diagnosed by telephone.

The time when a suspected heart patient had to be rushed to a hospital for an electrocardiogram is coming to an end.

Now a doctor can visit a patient's home, take a cardiogram, and send the information over the patient's telephone. (Bell Laboratories engineers have designed — and Western Electric produced — a simple adapting device that attaches to the doctor's equipment and fits over an ordinary telephone receiver.)

The doctor dials a specialist's office, or a hospital equipped to receive the signals. The cardiogram is read, and a diagnosis quickly phoned back.

In rural areas, where a patient may be many miles from a hospital, this equipment is especially useful. A general practitioner can treat his patient at home while getting advice from a heart specialist miles away.

There are no distance limits either. One cardiogram was taken on an ocean liner in the Atlantic and transmitted by satellite to a specialist in France.

Your telephone can do much more than just carry your voice. Sending messages from the human heart is one of many new ways Bell research is adding to the value of your telephone service.

Was It An Election Gimmick?

The Parking Authority is waiting in the wings while councilmen (who are dragging their heels, says Mayor Pico) sleepily think over its merits and demerits. And perhaps it is a bit churlish to say so on such a fresh July morning but seldom have we seen a problem which needs so little thinking over.

The need is obvious, and if our elected officials cannot pick up the telephone and get the ball rolling, they are pretty sad models of good old American enterprise. And if they cannot round up five men within the precincts of Belleville who are willing to serve on such an authority, Belleville businessmen are a pretty sad lot, too.

The most frequent (and tired) excuse is that they haven't the time, and besides, membership in such an organization would endanger their business unless they pacify certain private and political elements here in Little Old Belleville.

So we have a suggestion. Why not have some of our women folk assigned to the Authority? They have the time, talent, and, we're certain, the enthusiasm. They may not be in business, but they manage households reasonably well. And when it comes to brains, well, there are plenty of college graduates among them.

Think it over, and let us know. G.F.A.

Don't Let A Dognapper Get Your Pet

Owners of pets and animal lovers in Nutley should be on the lookout for that latest setback to our society — the dognapper. Now that animals are more likely to be outside in warmer weather, getting exercise in back yards and some even running loose, the burns preying on our pets will be out in force.

Incongruous as it seems, our stepped-up civilization and scientific research is responsible for the growing market in stolen animals. The insatiable appetites of research laboratories for experimental subjects, coupled with the inevitable economic law of supply and demand, has placed a premium on animals for the needles and knives in the labs. Lovable, friendly dogs and cats — many pets of long standing in homes where they are well-cared for by children and adults — are perished and sold them for good prices, disappearing, without a trace. The dognapper while some youngster — or an oldster — pines for the loss of a loved one. Let's face it — many pets actually become part of a family.

We heard recently of a case of a handsome show dog, discovered in an animal shelter, quite by accident, by a man particularly interested in this breed of dog. The dog was closely watched by this man, even exercised at the shelter, while he sought its owners or a home for it. Without warning, he was told the dog had been killed in a fight at the shelter and its remains cremated. No trace of the animal was ever found and an investigation failed to turn up any evidence of a fight at the shelter. This dog probably was sold to a laboratory, for experimentation.

Watch your pets this summer. Don't let them run loose.

How Many Tax Babies Can We Afford?

That bouncing new-tax baby delivered upon the doorsteps of New Jersey taxpayers just two weeks ago, named Sales Tax, is not bringing any particular job to his parents. Neither the merchant collecting the tax for the state nor the householder paying it is passing out cigars in celebration of the new addition to the general tax burden.

In our own little survey, it was found the merchants were often more outspoken against the tax than the taxpayer. This may be explained by the fact that taxpayer has been so conditioned to having his pay check clipped that he is in a state of shock and hardly capable of opposing anything. The merchants objected to the paperwork involved, insufficient information on many items and the paradoxical reasoning applied to some consumer products. For example, fresh fruit juice is not taxable but a fruit punch drink is. Salted peanuts are not taxable, but chocolate-covered peanuts are, according to the merchants.

If Jersey's taxpayers will look across the river to New York, and see what is happening there, perhaps they might come out of shock and really start worrying. Fiscal matters in the Empire State in general and New York City in particular are making great demands upon the people carrying the tax load. Yet, despite the heavy drain upon personal incomes to meet the demands from Albany and City Hall, members of the State legislature last week increased their own salaries by 50 percent — from $10,000 to $15,000 — and hiked expense allowances substantially.

New York has a sales tax, an income tax, a tax on commuters and a crushing real estate levy. In spite of these sources of income, and the vast amount of monies collected, it is not enough.

Perhaps there is a lesson for Jerseyites in what is transpiring across the river. We now have a sales tax — all projections point to the very strong possibility of an income tax also being imposed before long, as demands rise for more services, more school aid, more welfare, more institutions, more colleges for more people ad infinitum.

All are worthy, all justifiable, but how many more of these tax babies can we afford?

Give And Take — Medicare And Sales Tax

Taxpayers and senior citizens have good cause to remember July 1, 1966. On the one hand, New Jersey dipped into the citizens' pockets for a 3 per cent sales tax, thereby complicating the task of the housewife endeavoring to make the budget balance.

For the older folks, medicare — government-sponsored health care — became a reality for everyone reaching a sixty-fifth birthday on or after July 1. Millions of elderly will be eligible for nearly free hospital care. And, by paying $3 a month, those over 65 can have a large part of doctors' and surgeons' bills paid for, too.

According to the U.S. News and World Report, "medicare" may be near at hand and following that, irresistible political pressures could bring about, before too long, medicare for all.

A New World Opens For Indians Reading Bible For First Time

Ye shall know the truth, and ages to help the people in these the truth shall make you free. (John 8:32)

High in the Andes Mountains surrounding the lush Cochabamba Valley of Bolivia live thousands of Quechua Indians. Because of culture and language barriers, they have been isolated for centuries.

Recently some students went to twelve different Indian villages to teach them to read and write. The students worked two by two during a three-week period, and reached over eight hundred adults.

At the closing session in one village, 30 adult students gathered in their simple adobe hut. Their first book was presented to them — a booklet of scriptures in their own language. What a thrill it was to see the light on their faces they read for themselves, word by word!

The truth which God gives to all mankind is now becoming to them a reality. Through their reading of His Word, God will bring knowledge of His love to them and gain their love for Him, thus giving freedom not before known to them.

PRAYER: Bless all, O Lord, who seek to learn the truth and to follow Christ as their Master. Help us to be instruments of help and encouragement to them. For our Savior's sake. Amen.

Winds Of Change Blow But Not On Essex GOP

There is unanimity in Republican circles. No one disputes the unenviable position the Essex County GOP hierarchy has developed for itself — that of a party with a tarnished image.

With an amazing capacity for doing a multitude of things wrong, the Republicans have been unable to stem the erosion of power it once held in Essex County. Former bastion of GOP strength, it today is ineffectual and without dominant leadership. Within a decade, the Democrats have been able to win everything in sight.

If there were hopes the County GOP would snap out of its doldrums, forget it. The November election is a little more than three months off. One of the choice plums is the Tenth Congressional District seat held for the past 18 years by the Democratic incumbent Representative Peter W. Rodino. All Congressional seats are up for grabs, but the GOP lacks a candidate in the 10th. By a candidate, we mean a man who has been given a buildup, over a period of time; one who has been exposed to the public and given an opportunity to cite his philosophy and position on the issues concerning the American public.

Around the country, the GOP is looking forward with great anticipation to November. A sleeping giant — the American voter — is restless. The Great Society under President Johnson has lots of problems. A change is in the wind — or at least some Republicans suspect the wind is blowing.

This national posture, however, has not filtered down to the Essex elephant handlers. It's obvious the powers that be have long ago written off Rodino's Congressional seat. They assume — if actions are a criteria — that the popular Democrat is unbeatable and any candidate selected will be strictly token opposition. Hardly commendable psychology but the way the local GOP thinks, its on target. No great political mind is required to conclude you cannot unseat an entrenched and formidable foe like Rodino without considerable preparation and planning.

The loss of the 10th District is particularly galling to Republican leaders and party members. For many years, an outstanding Congressman, Fred H. Hartley, held the post and served with distinction. Co-author of the controversial Taft-Hartley act, Hartley stepped down in 1948 and Rodino has owned the job since.

We cannot subscribe to the incumbent's impregnability. Admittedly, it would be a monumental task to dislodge Rodino, but in this jet age of political miracles, nothing is impossible.

Rodino's voting record has been closely allied with the Fair Deal, New Frontier and Great Society. His staunch, consistent support of liberal philosophies and free spending habits is contrary to GOP principles — so, he is fair game for repudiation.

Unfortunately, County Republican leaders have shown a remarkable facility for political procrastination. There is a storehouse of ammunition on vital national issues to launch against the Democratic administration. The lack of a strong candidate, groomed in advance for the job, is a disservice to hopeful Republicans who looked for a breath of the changing winds reputedly sweeping the nation. It is, indeed, a sad commentary on Essex GOP leadership.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

In recent columns, we wrote about the new models from RCA and Magnavox. In the meantime we looked at a number of other manufacturers' sets.

It is evident that no other factory came out with as many and as radical changes as RCA. Most of them stuck to their previous designs and added minor improvements. This makes good sense.

The prices are pretty near the same as before. RCA dropped a bombshell announcing a 25" set for $450, which is the lowest price ever for this screen size. The whole industry seemed upset for a while, but only for a very short while. The set is a metal case and the chassis is "watered down", meaning that several things have been left out. Probably as a result of all the uproar, there was a recent announcement from an RCA official that only a very small amount of these sets will be produced. What is the sense offering an item and not delivering it? There will be again a great shortage of color TV picture tubes this fall. The same tube that produces a $450 color set is needed in a set that sells for $650. — to $1000. — and there are more takers than sets. It stands to reason that the scarce picture tubes will be used up in higher priced sets which can easily be sold, instead of the lowest priced ones. So if you are waiting for a 25" color TV for $450, you will have a long wait. Chances are that there won't be any to be had.

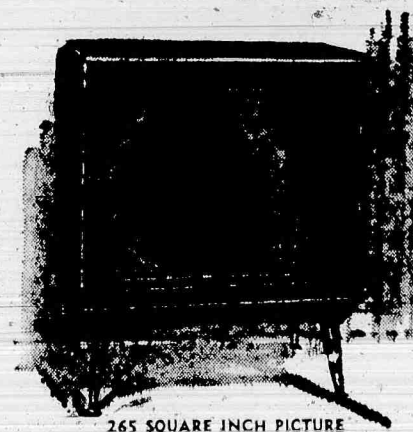

It is expected that in New Jersey there will be a lull in buying. A tremendous number of color TV sets were bought in the month of June in order to save the sales tax. Stores expect a slow time and hope to accumulate at least some stocks for the fall business. Last year there was a bad shortage of color TV receivers. It is expected that it will be far worse this year.

Mrs. Budd chose a mint green street length sheath of Alencon lace and crepe. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a shocking pink tunic style street length dress of crepe. Both wore white orchids.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, James O'Donnell of Roseland. Ushering for the ceremony were the bride's brother, Alan L. Budd of Nutley, Raymond Sommo of Maplewood, and Ned Smith of Union.

The bride was graduated from Belleville High School and Paterson State College. She will teach in Oakhurst High School, Oakhurst, N. J. O'Donnell is a graduate of Columbia High School, Maplewood, and Seton Hall University, South Orange, where he was a member of Alpha Kappa Psi. This is a heart attack.

It was diagnosed by telephone.

The time when a suspected heart patient had to be rushed to a hospital for an electrocardiogram is coming to an end.

Now a doctor can visit a patient's home, take a cardiogram, and send the information over the patient's telephone. (Bell Laboratories engineers have designed—and Western Electric produced—a simple adapting device that attaches to the doctor's equipment and fits over an ordinary telephone receiver.)

The doctor dials a specialist's office, or a hospital equipped to receive the signals. The cardiogram is read, and a diagnosis quickly phoned back.

In rural areas, where a patient may be many miles from a hospital, this equipment is especially useful. A general practitioner can treat his patient at home while getting advice from a heart specialist miles away.

There are no distance limits either. One cardiogram was taken on an ocean liner in the Atlantic and transmitted by satellite to a specialist in France.

Your telephone can do much more than just carry your voice. Sending messages from the human heart is one of many new ways Bell research is adding to the value of your telephone service.

Service to the community

A colleague of ours tells this one. On Saturdays he sells dimes (10c each). Seems the neighborhood movie is next door. The kids stop in before the show for dimes—for the vending machines in the theatre. A lot of our business is like this—service to the community. Glad to do it. Because we're conveniently located and open long hours, we're a handy place to pick up change or a bottle of aspirin. But a pharmacist's true service to his community is to be a quick, reliable source of the drugs and medications your physician prescribes. That's the real reason we're here. And we are always pleased to serve you.

A Sad Year: The Legionnaires Took It On The Chin With 8-8 Season

They Won Five Of Seven And Are Still On Bottom

By STEVE CHAREN

Although they took five of their last seven games the best Belleville's American Legion baseball squad could salvage from a disappointing year was a .500, 8-8 record and third place in the six-team Eastern Division of the Essex Legion League.

Coach Tony Pratola's Post 105 squad had taken it on the chin right from the start when age stripped them of two scholastic Varsity stars who had been counted on as big guns in a run for the loop crown. Art Sheridan had led the BHS squad in hitting and pitching enroute to an all-state berth, while Frank Mineo was solid veteran insurance at first base.

Besides that, Steve Cerca one of the players on the 16-man roster, was just recovering from an ankle sprain that had cost him the entire Varsity campaign, not to mention much needed timing.

But that was just the beginning of Pratola's woes. The season began with a resounding one-hit Belleville attack in a 2-1 loss against the same West Orange hurler, Bruce Bilotti, who had been pounded for 18 runs a week earlier by the Varsity.

Then they discovered that Jim Serritella's first inning fall in the Greater Newark Tournament semi-final versus Union had produced a sprain that was to sideline him for nearly half the season. This fiery little fly hawk had been the number two average hitter for Nick Petti's nine.

As the Pin-striper's record sagged to 3-6 with the season slightly more than half over complacency had become a problem. No less than three former BHS started the Pin-stripers in the face. Such prospects weren't to be taken lightly by a group of players used to the joys of victory. Trying to rise again didn't prove too easy though as the opposition provided top flight hurlers on the mound. This left just one solution — stellar mound jobs by the Pin-stripers and tight defense.

Both followed as Welsh and Gabriel both came through with shut outs and Belleville eked 2-0 and 1-0 victories to attain that .500 plateau.

It was a long hard fight that required five victories in the last seven games, (six without the forfeit), but a losing season had been avoided.

That's how the breaks went. Next week the sparkling, (and not so sparkling) individual performances that helped them along will be explained.

UB GRADUATE: Miss Connie Doumanis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doumanis, 29 Washington Street, recently was awarded an associate of science degree from the Junior College of Connecticut, University of Bridgeport in Conn. She majored in dental hygiene.

MEDICARE CONFERENCE William J. Parillo, president of a Bloomfield Nursing Home service, attended the National Conference on Medicare in Washington July 19.

He has recently been named to the 1966 edition of the Jaycees North Newark Chapter as Outstanding Young Man of the Year.

But then came the brick wall that was to stop them. It came in the form of a ring of the door bell at Pratola's home at 8 p.m. on July 5. With the ring came an ominous telegram from league commissioner Cal Ehalt informing the Belleville coach of the final outcome of the Independence Day game.

Rich San Filippo the veteran shortstop and the team's captain had been playing illegally, the telegram said. The one game star of Union Hemlocks was unceremoniously suspended from league play and the hard fought game forfeited to Nutley.

This was the death blow to a season that had started dimly enough. All hope of honors at this point were ended.

Limping into Livingston to face the Western Division leaders (and eventual over-all league champs for the third straight year), Pratola's crew was scraping bottom, and an 8-2 loss ensued.

This left the squad with a 6-8 record. With just two more games remaining a losing season

Elks And Local 410 Take Little League Champions

Belleville Elks 1123 won the American Little League title last week after recovering from a two game loss at the beginning of the season and ending up with a 13-game stretch of unbroken victories.

Four players, Joe Papsidero, Dennis Pindar, Frank Pettite, and Rocco Marotti, who have served together for the past four years, led the team to victory. Team manager Paul Bailey had to turn the team over to Ray Fratella and Mike Marotti after the first two games because of working hours, said Marotti.

The National Little League title went to the Local 410 team after a play-off game against Jolly Cleaners, and whipped the Lions Club Team. Their outstanding players were Joe Bauer, Steve Tremel, and Alan Frank.

Lincoln Morette Goes To Scotland

Fireman Apprentice Lincoln G. Morette, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Morette of 363 Main St., has departed Charleston, S.C., for Holy Loch, Scotland, aboard the Submarine Tender USS Simon Lake.

Submarine Tenders provide maintenance and repair of nuclear-powered Polaris submarines. They also supply submarines with weapons, food, fuel reactor repair, consumable supplies, replacement parts and electrical power.

Two Town Girls Will Serve At Camp Dawson

Mary Lou Bedarbis of 81 Little St., and Gail Lesley Smith of 45 Essex St., both of Belleville, will serve on the staff at Camp Dawson, day camp operated by the YM-YWCA of Newark and vicinity in Towaco, Morris County.

Miss Bedarbis is a student at Drew Theological School and will serve as a Unit Leader. Miss Smith is a student at Newark State College and will serve as a counselor.

Scholarship For Rutgers Student

Raymond Morrison of 11 Cleveland St., a junior at the Rutgers College of Pharmacy, has received a scholarship from the Women's Auxiliary of the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association for the 1966-67 academic year. Dr. Roy A. Bowers, dean of the State University pharmacy college, announced today.

One or more scholarships are awarded annually by the Auxiliary to students enrolled in the pharmacy school towards the cost of tuition, fees and books.

Morrison, a graduate of Belleville High School, is a past treasurer of the student joint chapter of the American-New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association at the Rutgers pharmacy school.

Such appropriation shall be met from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds authorized and the down payment appropriated by this ordinance. Said improvement shall be undertaken as a general improvement, and no part of the cost thereof shall be assessed against property specially benefited.

Section 3. It is hereby determined and stated that (1) the making of such improvement (hereinafter referred to as "purpose"), is not a current expense of said Town, and (2) it is necessary to finance said purpose by the issuance of obligations of said Town pursuant to the Local Bond Law of New Jersey, and (3) the estimated cost of said purpose is $21,500, and (4) $1,075 of said sum is to be provided by the down payment hereinafter appropriated to finance said purpose, and (5) the estimated maximum amount of bonds or notes necessary to be issued for said purpose is $20,425, and (6) the cost of such purpose, as herein before stated, includes the aggregate amount of $500 which is estimated to be necessary to finance the cost of such purpose, including architect's fees, accounting, engineering and inspection costs, legal expenses and other expenses, including interest on such obligations to the extent permitted by Section 40A:2-20 of the Local Bond Law.

Section 4. It is hereby determined and stated that moneys exceeding $1,075, appropriated for down payments on capital improvements or for the capital improvement fund in budgets heretofore adopted for said Town are now available to finance said purpose. The sum of $1,075 is hereby appropriated from such moneys to the payment of the cost of said purpose.

Section 5. To finance said purpose, bonds of said Town of an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $20,425 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to said Local Bond Law. Said bonds shall bear interest at a rate which shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum. All matters with respect to said bonds not determined by this ordinance shall be determined by resolutions to be hereafter adopted.

Section 6. To finance said purpose, bond anticipation notes of said Town of an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $20,425 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to said Local Bond Law in anticipation of the issuance of said bonds. Said notes shall bear interest at a rate which shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum, and may be renewed from time to time pursuant to and within the limitations prescribed by said Law. All matters with respect to said notes not determined by this ordinance shall be determined by resolutions to be hereafter adopted. In the event that bonds are issued pursuant to this ordinance, the aggregate amount of notes hereby authorized to be issued shall be reduced by an amount equal to the principal amount of the bonds so issued. If the aggregate amount of outstanding bonds and notes issued pursuant to this ordinance shall at any time exceed the sum first mentioned in this section, the moneys raised by the issuance of said bonds shall, to not less than the amount of such excess, be applied to the payment of such notes then outstanding.

Section 7. It is hereby determined and declared that the period of usefulness of said purpose, according to its reasonable life, is a period of ten years computed from the date of said bonds.

Section 8. It is hereby determined and stated that the Supplemental Debt Statement required by said Local Bond Law has been duly made and filed in the office of the Town Clerk of said Town, and that such statement so filed shows that the gross debt of said Town, as defined in Section 40A:2-43 of said Local Bond Law, is increased by this ordinance by $20,425 and that the issuance of the bonds and notes authorized by this ordinance will be within all debt limitations prescribed by said Local Bond Law.
