Red Cross Recording Christmas Messages

Servicemen Will Hear Tapes From Home

American servicemen around the world will be able to hear personal holiday greetings from their loved ones again this year, through the Red Cross "Voice From Home" program.

It is a special project of the Essex Chapter Service to Military Families Department, which sends recorded messages from the families of military personnel to their men in uniform serving overseas free of charge.

Recording sessions which take about 30 minutes, are supervised by trained Red Cross volunteers. A prepared sheet suggesting ideas on what to talk about and how to plan the taping are provided as are mailing containers and postage.

Letters have been sent to the families of more than 50 servicemen in the Belleville district area inviting them to make one of these free recordings and listing the dates and times during which appointments can be arranged, according to Mrs. Frank Low of Orange, chairman of the Service to Military Families service.

"It isn't necessary for anyone with a close relative serving overseas to wait for an invitation to make a recording," says Mrs. Low. "All they have to do is contact us for a date."

The offer is also being made to the families of hospitalized veterans and the foreign-born wives of U.S. Military personnel.

Voice From Home messages will be taped at the Essex Chapter Headquarters, 232 South Harrison St. in East Orange Monday through Friday, Nov. 21 to Nov. 25, except for Thanksgiving Day, from 2:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. and on Saturday, Nov. 26 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Tom Testa: Testimonial Dinner Planned For Our Outgoing Coach

Coach Tom Testa, who announced his plans to retire from the football wars at the end of this season after five good years as head coach, will be honored by friends and admirers during a testimonial dinner set for Dec. 29 at The Fountain.

Testa, 37, took over the Belleville squad while they were in a slump and led the team to a top position in the state football leagues. But, like other coaches, he has become disillusioned by the recent budget cut in the Athletic Department which curtailed his training program — one of the few in the state that provide a steady stream of talent developed from underclassmen.

Although Testa has not given his reasons for giving up his position, a one sentence statement recently pointed the finger at the school administration. "There are too many bosses," he said.

Testa, a tough and hard-driving little man, joins Track Coach Ronald Kulik and Baseball Coach Nick Petti on the sidelines. Kulik was relieved of his position by the Board of Education for being an "Average" teacher, although over 100 residents protested his loss to the school system.

Parent-Teachers Conferences Set

Monday, Nov. 21, Belleville High School will conduct its annual parent-teacher conference from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m.

All parents of high school students are advised to contact the Belleville High School Guidance by calling 759-4338 to make an appointment for a conference with any of the faculty members they wish to see. Many of the students will have visitation slips for their parents indicating the importance of parents to have a conference with the teacher.

The parent-teacher conference plan was inaugurated in 1963 because it can be given a more complete picture of the pupils' progress. It can also add to the teacher's effectiveness in seeking to have school life make the most significant contributions possible to growing boys and girls. The response of the parents to these conferences has been most cooperative and gratifying.

Future Parent Conference Dates are: Monday Evening, Nov. 21, 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.; Tuesday afternoon from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.; on April 25 and Monday afternoon, May 22, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Hearings Set For Municipal Budget During Next Week

A public hearing on the 1967 Municipal Budget has been planned at Town Hall during the week of Nov. 21, said Town Manager John R. Burnett this week.

Monday the requests of the finance department, Town Clerk's office, and the Police and Fire divisions will be considered by the Town Council.

Tuesday the signal department, municipal court, and health and welfare departments will have their hearing. Wednesday, Nov. 23, has been reserved by the Town Manager for the department of public works and affairs.

Friday, Nov. 25, hearings will be held on requests from the library, town manager, law department, board of adjustment, planning board, and civil defense and disaster control departments.

Most requests will remain about the same, said Burnett, but the Planning Board and Civil Defense are expected to increase. The fire department may seek

Revision Of Cops Sought by Manager

A reorganization of the Police Department was proposed by Town Manager John R. Burnett Monday night during the regular business meeting of the Town Council which called for a chief, a deputy chief, four captains, five lieutenants, and five sergeants.

The change was designed to allow closer supervision by superiors of the various departments of the Police Department. The present table of organization includes a chief, two deputies, a captain, four lieutenants, and five sergeants, within the 65-man police department.

A hearing will be held Nov. 28 at Town Hall.

School 5 PTA Hears Talk By Chiropodist

Dr. Murray H. Bromberg, of Bloomfield, a noted chiropodist, was guest speaker at the annual School 5 Open House Monday, Nov. 7.

His topic, accompanied by slides, stressed the importance of foot care for children. Dr. Bromberg is the past president of the American College of Foot Orthopedists, and is recipient of the Bachman Orthopedics Award in 1957 and the Stickle award for Research in Podiatry.

Governmental Change Referendum Goes Before Voters On Jan. 31; Councilmen Westpy, Casale Veto

Petitions Contain Only 79 More Signatures Than Are Required

Belleville voters will go to the polls again Jan. 31 during a special election to decide whether or not the town wants to change from Council-Manager form of government, or return to the commission form they had rejected five years before.

The announcement of the election date by Eugene Barnett, Town Clerk, immediately ran into opposition by Councilmen Robert E. Westpy and Ralph A. Casale.

"I am opposed to this and feel that it would be taking a step backward," said Councilman Westpy. "I feel this is politically motivated by Mrs. Mary Senatore and the Board of Education. This is for the people of Belleville to decide whether or not they want to return to the chaotic state they were in before."

Casale joined Westpy in his stand against a change. "I believe a change is being sought to satisfy some political hacks," said Casale. "Only last week the city of Passaic rejected the commission form of government."

Mayor Nuncio R. Pico was neutral. "If that's what the people want," he said recently, "I won't oppose it."

The move had been spearheaded by Town Democratic Chairman Mary Senatore and Thomas Apicelli, who presented the petitions to Burnett. The petitions contained 4,187 names. Some 694 were rejected by Essex Election officials who checked the

School 8 Plans Book Fair Sale

Books for boys and girls of all ages will be displayed at the "Holiday Book Fair" Dec. 1 and 2 at School 8.

The event is geared to promote the enriching experience of reading and to encourage parents to provide their children with books which help build interest in worthwhile use of leisure hours.

The PTA of School 8 hopes to make "gift time - book time" this year, and invites the public to attend the Fair and browse through a large selection of approved children's books.

Mrs. Richard Nass, Chairman, said the books may be purchased at prices between 50 cents and $1.98.

Lions Club Announce Peace Essay Contest

The Belleville Lions Club at a recent meeting established as the prize for the local winner of the Peace Essay Contest a $25 savings bond.

The winner of the Belleville contest will compete in the District 16-E contest which comprises Essex, Union, Morris, Somerset and Warren counties in New Jersey. District Governor Herbert Kaufman announced last night at his Cabinet meeting that District 16-E will award a $500 prize to the District 16-E winner.

The District 16-E winner will then compete with the regional and then finally the international contestants for the $25,000 prize.

Further information on the Peace Essay Contest may be obtained from Lester Demier, President of the Belleville Lions Club who may be reached at Wallace & Tiernan Inc., 25 Main St., in Belleville. Telephone 759-8000.

Curtain Time: 8:15 p.m.

The Belleville High School production of "The King and I" is ready for tonight at 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium with over 100 students taking part in the musical, said Robert Wing, music director. William Idenden will take the lead role as "The King," with Cynthia DeBonis as "Anna." Also appearing will be Richard Schultz as Lun Tha, and Diana Rappa as Tuptin. A 20-piece orchestra will provide the mood music. Dr. Samuel Peek is supervisor of music. Members of the color guard will sell cookies and cakes during intermission to raise funds for the band's trip to Montreal, Canada and Expo 67 on May 18. Tickets will be on sale at the door for $1.50.

Varsity Club Is Ready For 22nd Annual Dinner

The Belleville Varsity Club will hold its 22nd Annual Football Banquet Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the Robin Hood Inn at Clifton. Guests will be the members of the 1966 football team and the coaching staff, said Michael Morano, chairman of the event.

Awards will go to the most outstanding player and the most improved over the past year—a surprise ceremony that causes much speculation among sportsmen who attend. The affair is usually sold out. A prominent coach is usually the guest speaker.

Last year Robert Druther was awarded the "Most improved player" trophy, and Charles Reed and James Pignatelli shared the "most valuable player" award.

The Varsity Club is made up of men who are Belleville High School graduates, fathers of students, and sports-minded residents who take an interest in recognizing athletic talent. The members also support various athletic teams for children in town, and sponsor a second dinner in the spring for all BHS athletes. They also work with the band, twirlers, and color guard.

Airman Modlens Wins 3rd Award; The Distinguished Flying Cross

But The Meritorious Achievement Medal Was The Hardest One To Get

WITH U.S. COMBAT AIR FORCES, Vietnam — Airman First Class Gary Modlens of Belleville, has been decorated with three awards — including the Distinguished Flying Cross (DFC) — at Da Nang AB, Vietnam.

Airman Modlens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Modlens of 48 Essex St., was awarded the DFC for meritorious achievement in Southeast Asia.

While serving as an aerial gunner on an AC-47 Skytrain, he participated in an attack on two companies of heavily armed Viet Cong troops. Despite intense anti-aircraft fire, which heavily damaged his aircraft, he fired nearly 13,000 rounds of ammunition completely silencing all enemy guns and inflicting heavy casualties on the VC.

The airman, a weapons mechanic at Da Nang, was awarded the Air Medal for outstanding airmanship and courage on other important missions against Communist forces.

Airman Modlens' citation to the second award of the Air Medal stated that the gunner and his crew went to the defense of friendly troops assaulted by a large enemy force while defending an important bridge. Despite severe ground fire and flying without other air support, Airman Modlens and his crew broke the Communist attack and inflicted further damage by destroying several gun emplacements and locating and strafing known escape routes.

The Belleville High School graduate has been in Vietnam since December 1965.

3 Students To Appear During School Drama

Belleville students Robert S. Good, John T. Schult and Ben Taffet will join the Newark Academy Drama Club in presenting "Newark Academy Goes Broadway," a variety show to be held at the School on South Orange Avenue, Livingston, Friday and Saturday, November 18 and 19 at 8:30 p.m.

Good of 112 White Oak Ter., business manager of the Newark Academy Drama Club, will perform in three precision dance routines, "Frug, Butterball and Midas Touch", featuring a football play with a gold football.

Schult of 127 Crest Drive is stage manager of the production.

Taffet is a member of the technical staff.

The show, staged and directed by Hampton P. Abney of Short Hills and of the Newark Academy faculty, includes comic precision dance, routines, vocal and instrumental solos, string band and choral selections, a satirical one act comedy, and a dramatic interpretation from Hamlet.

At the Americana's Royal Box where Perle Mesta, Donald O'Connor and Alan King watched the show starring very talented Buddy Greco — Charlie Manna discussed Born Losers.

"A Born Loser is a guy who gets a blowout in the spare tire in his trunk . . . the piano player in a marching band . . . the man who sticks out his hand to make a third signal and smacks a cop in the mouth."

The Affaire Durkee Owes Success To Committees

By PATRICIA DIANA

Exhilarating warmth and good humor describe the testimonial dinner held for Dr. Frank M. Durkee last week. The Fountains was filled to capacity with friends, neighbors and well-wishers for the superintendent of schools.

Coordinators of the affair were Mrs. Josephine Izzo, Jack Rega and Dominick Lally.

They attribute their success to committee members Josephine Lescavage, Nancy McCarthy, Anthony Cerami, Donald Touch, Michael De Nicola, Mildred Pico, Margaret Rosania, Sue Tufarillo, Mary Ann Rega and Phyllis Calabro. The decorations were by Marion Malcolm, assisted by Mrs. Patricia Murray and Mrs. Mildred Pico.

Master of Ceremonies, Rev. Frederick Long did a fine job of introducing speakers and insuring the smooth flow of the program. Invocation and Benediction were by Father Richard L. Gronki and Rev. Benedetto Pascale.

Guest speakers gave individual insight of Dr. Durkee. They were: Rev. William L. Dike; Mayor Nuncio R. Pico; Allan Crisp; Town Manager John Burnett; Mrs. Norma Mc Cool, board member and Dominick Lally, a former board president.

Dr. Durkee and his family came to Belleville 15 years ago. The highlights of his life in Belleville were unveiled by the speakers. His talents and dedications particularly the education of the children in our town, have been notable. It might be said he walks softly but carries a big stick.

The committees he has been on and boards he is a member of are numerous. He is not a member "in name only" he has always jumped in with two feet and two willing hands. He and his wife, Marjorie, will celebrate 34 years of marriage Nov. 25.

At the dinner, Mrs. Durkee graciously received a bouquet of roses from Mrs. Phyllis Calabro and gave a short speech to over 300 people who had come to honor her husband.

Dr. Durkee gave the final speech of the evening. The fact that so many people turned out on such a stormy night was proof of the fact that the Town of Belleville was there en masse to honor. At the end of his speech, the audience gave a standing ovation to Dr. Durkee, who for fifteen years gave of his time, his talent and himself to the town of Belleville.

Registration Check Planned For Belleville

A series of questions on registration and voting will be asked in this area during November as a part of the Census Bureau's monthly Current Population Survey, said John C. Cullinane, director of the Bureau's regional office in New York City, today.

The voter survey is designed to learn only if a person was registered to vote and if he actually voted in the November general elections. No questions will be asked concerning candidates or parties.

The questions will supplement the regular monthly employment inquiries conducted by the Bureau to furnish information for the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

All information obtained will be kept absolutely confidential and will be used for statistical purposes only.

The information will be collected during the week beginning Nov. 14 for sample households in this area and in other selected areas throughout the United States.

Census Bureau interviewers who will visit families in this area during the November sampling include Mrs. Rhoda E. Girgus, 110 Gertrude St., Clark.

Nature's Annual Foliage Display Ready For Public

Spectacular views of nature's annual fall foliage display await visitors to the various State forests and parks, according to the state Department of Conservation.

Tours are recommended at both High Point State Park and at Stokes State Forest, along the famous Kittatinny Ridge in Sussex County, for unsurpassed glimpses of the myriad foliage plants that are bathing the State's northern mountain country in a galaxy of color.

From these vantage points farms, roads, lakes and streams stretching for miles on end may be seen in the valley below. Nearby Tillman Ravine is among the unique natural beauties in the State abundant with towering old growth trees over 100 feet in height and great masses of native rhododendron.

Cheesequake State Park, located in the Raritan Bay section of Middlesex County, encloses a portion of the marshlands, bordering Cheesequake Creek, and the wide variety of flora on the area represents an outstanding attraction for visitors to central New Jersey.

Beach plum, laurel, cattails, and the fall fruits of bayberry, roses and partridge berry may be seen in great profusion.

An outstanding autumn display is also to be found in Monmouth County at Allaire State Park where the black locust is intermingled with sweet pepperbush, wild cherry trees, mountain laurel and swamp azalea.

New Jersey's picturesque pine barrens offer individual attractions at every season and the fall foliage display at Parvin State Park in Salem County is typical of the wide variety of grasses and higher plants that edge the countryside throughout Jersey. Access to all sections of the Park is readily available by means of a 3 1/2 mile road system that traverses the area.

Approximately 194 species of herbaceous plants, 49 varieties of shrubs and 38 types of trees may be viewed throughout the Park.

Roadways into the state-owned Wharton Tract, which covers portions of Atlantic, Burlington and Camden counties, are lined with numerous species of pine barren plants. Although easily reached by Route 206, the area is virtually primeval and has numerous bogs and ponds covered with water lilies, swamp magnolia and bearberry.

There are 27 State parks and 12 state forests administered by the department throughout the state. Foot trails have been established in each of these areas for the convenience of visitors. Campsites are also available at a nominal fee.

One or more of the State forests and State parks may be reached within an hour's driving time or less from any part of New Jersey. Details concerning the facilities and attractions provided in each of these recreation areas may be obtained from the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development Division of Parks, Forestry and Recreation, Box 1889, Trenton, N.J., 08625.

"They Went That-a-Way"

Did you realize that New Jersey once had horse thieves, and cattle rustlers, yes, and vigilantes chasing 'em? Rutgers University Library has a collection of reward posters put out by many a New Jersey vigilante group, chartered under an act of our Legislature. Virtually all were farmer groups, except for our last one, formed by townspeople in Metuchen in 1902. They organized a posse to hunt a local thief, caught him, and promptly disbanded.

WREATH LAYING: Joseph Fornarotto, chairman of the Belleville Veterans Council and Mrs. Ethel Gaudet, 6 Division Avenue, past president of VFW Post, place flowers before the Veterans Monument on Union Avenue before the Veterans Day Parade got under way last Friday. Mrs. Gaudet is a member of the Ladies Auxiliary. Fornarotto served in the U.S. Navy.

Three-Month Sentence Given Belleville Man

Peter A. Calabrese Sr., 14 Smallwood Ave., was fined $100, handed a three month suspended penitentiary sentence on placed on a year's probation after being convicted of assaulting his wife who now lives in Nutley.

fore Magistrate Edwin J. C. Joerg was so contradictory that even the court made an official notation of the inconsistencies before passing sentence.

Joerg dismissed a charge against Calabrese for maliciously damaging his wife's automobile. A car window was shattered during the incident which occurred at 11:30 p.m. October 13.

SKIN CANCERS CAN BE COMPLETELY CURED

About 18% of all cancers are skin cancers. They are not contagious. But, early diagnosis is important, so watch out for the danger signals.

A "mole" that has grown in size, looks irritated, bleeds, or is changing color is a frequent offender, particularly if it is located where it is subject to friction. Wart-like growths, often due to excessive sunlight exposure or x-rays, are suspect.

Eczema-like patches on the breast may be skin cancer. Do not be afraid to check with a physician. Removable is painless. Skin cancer is curable, if detected early.

If Pariso Brothers Don't Have What You Want, You're Hard To Please

When It Comes To Furniture, They Have The Most Tasteful Collection

Shortly after World War II ended and peace had settled over this battered old world once again, Michael Pariso and his wife Mary decided to go into business with his two brothers, Jack and Frank, who had just returned from the battlefields of Italy and the Far East.

They rented a shop at 16 Washington Avenue, collected some hard to get furniture ("It was hard to get right after the war," said Mike) and opened the Pariso Brothers Furniture store.

Michael, the oldest of the brothers, had been an antique dealer, and knew the ins and outs of business. Today, some 21 years later they are the oldest established furniture store in Belleville and have become a family name to thrifty families in the market for quality furniture.

They are assisted in the business by a sister, Mrs. Margaret Vincelli; a brother Joe and a nephew, both in the service department. With the Pariso's, it's a family business. Jack is president of the corporation; Frank the secretary; and Michael the treasurer.

The brothers, all equal partners, can supply almost any name brand available, and if they don't have it, they can get it for you. On display in the two buildings are furniture by Drexel, American of Martinsville, and Simmons, to name but a few. They can set a young couple up with the necessities for about $500, says Mike, and they will be in practical and comfortable surroundings.

Of course, they can also supply the more fastidious and solvent with furniture far beyond that figure.

Michael is treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce here, and is one of its founders when they organized some 11 years ago. Today they have some 150 members and Mike is chairman of the Retail Division. Like several of his friends in the Chamber, Pariso is busily promoting the Chamber.

Michael married his wife, Mary, in 1934, and the couple have no children. Jack (who was awarded the Bronze Star for bravery) is married to the former Angelina Manganella of Newark. Frank married a Belleville girl, the former Dorothy Taylor.

If it's furniture you need, Pariso has it.

among parents and will create a sports disaster in the near future.

The public will observe Mr. Arvidson and his majority members preaching piously on stages, platforms and public functions for all to hear how they are for the improvement and advancement of the whole child.

In reality words of hollowness! The Belleville Action Committee asks these questions to Mr. Arvidson:

1. What is the "amount of money" being saved by the elimination of freshman and sophomore football?
2. What is the total "moral damage" inflicted upon the entire school system?
3. What is the average yearly salary increase for the taxpayer?

TAX SALE
NOTICE OF SALE OF PROPERTY FOR NON-PAYMENT OF TAXES, ASSESSMENTS AND OTHER MUNICIPAL LIENS.
PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned, Collector of Taxes of the Town of Belleville, in the County of Essex, will sell at public auction in the Council Chambers in the Town Hall of said Town on

MONDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1966
at 10 A. M. the following described lands:
Said lands will be sold to make an amount of municipal liens chargeable against the same on the first day of July 1966, as computed in the following list together with interest on said amount from the first day of July to the date of sale and costs of sale.
Said lands will be sold in fee to such persons as will purchase the same subject to redemption at the lowest rate of interest, but in no case in excess of conclusion of the sale or the property shall be resold.
Any parcel of real property for which there shall be no other purchaser will be struck off and sold to the Town of Belleville in fee for redemption at eight per centum, and the municipality shall have the same remedies and rights as other purchasers, including the right to bar or foreclose the right to redemption.
The sale is made under the provision of an act of the Legislature entitled, "An act concerning unpaid taxes, assessments and other municipal charges on real property and providing for the collection thereof by the creation and enforcement of liens thereon," R. S. 64-9 to 64-11.
At any time before the sale the undersigned will receive payment of the amount due on any property, with the interest and costs incurred up to the time of payment.
The said lands so subject to sale are described in accordance with the tax duplicate, including the name of the owner as shown on the last tax duplicate and the aggregate of taxes and assessments which were a lien thereon on the first day of July 1966; exclusive, however, of the lien for taxes for the year 1966, are as listed below:

Employees Seek Reclassification, But Manager Says They're Wrong

By JOHN R. BURNETT
Town Manager

Mr. A. R. Mangione, Jr., Division of Classification, Municipal Service in the Department of Civil Service, held administrative hearings on job classification protests by Town employees in his offices, 80 Mulberry St., Newark, Wednesday, Nov. 2, 1966.

Under date of Nov. 4, letters received in my office Nov. 7, from Mr. Mangione, informed me that he had found the reclassification title of Mr. James C. Soldo as Principal Clerk, Department of Public Works and Affairs, was incorrect, and that Mr. Soldo was performing the duties of a Senior Clerk. As compared to our school administrators salary increases?

The paramount injustice of sport elimination coupled with previous stigmas warrant only one conclusion: "Replacement." Their reward for past and present services rendered to the school system and community: "A Plaque of Shame."

Citizens are requested to write to write to: BAC P.O. Box 64, Bloomfield, N.J., JAMES CERES, 60 Smallwood Ave., Belleville, N.J.

Works and Affairs, has been held in abeyance pending an audit on his position, which will be made before the end of November.

The complaint of Mr. Herbert J. Mercurio that his title should be Sanitarian, Department of Health and Welfare, was denied. Mr. Mangione found that Mr. Mercurio is presently classified properly as Sanitary Inspector.

The complaint of Mrs. Elizabeth McLaughlin, Department of Public Works and Affairs, that she had been improperly classified as Senior Clerk - Typist, resulted in the decision that her classification title was incorrect. The Department of Civil Service considers her as serving temporarily as Principal Clerk (knowledge of typing) pending promotional procedures. This action can be accomplished by CS 6 form as no Ordinance change is necessary.

The complaints of Charles Bonello, Ralph Chimento, Sam Mobilio, Patrick La Morte, and Jo-

BAC Asks Questions

To The Editor:
Freshman and Sophomore football "eliminated." Reason given by the elected board of education? "Not enough money in the budget."

Yet, school administrative salary increases are indicated to be as follows: $2,435 to $2,155, $2,149 to $2,055, $4,573 to $4,517 — the highest salary increases in the history of our town. This catastrophe would not exist if a minor reduction in administrative salaries had been planned to off-set football expenses.

"NO" freshman and sophomore football; "NO" more money in the budget?

False economy and a "Banner of Shame" continue to mar the elected board of education. The board is partly composed of our so-called champions of education, Ernest S. Arvidson, Frank DiRuggiero, Nicholas Juliano and Rocco Salletta who must be removed from public office in order to restore a complete sports program.

Pitfall after pitfall, regardless of public opinion, seems to be standard practice. The Belleville

The public hearings on the 1967 Budget to be held by the Manager are scheduled for Nov. 21, 22, 23 and 25. This is a departure from the previous time period for these hearings. It was made by me in the hope that Town Councilmen will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear the budget requests as made by the individual Divisions and Bureaus of the Administration. Prior to this the period set for the hearings was during the League of Municipalities Convention when most of the Council were in Atlantic City.

As of Nov. 1, 1966 Patrolman Thomas Ricci was assigned to duty in the Detective Bureau of the Belleville Police Division to replace Officer Nicholas Mariano, deceased.

More Benefits Coming For Older Residents

Needy persons 65 and over in New Jersey who are patients in State hospitals for mental diseases and tuberculosis will soon qualify for Medical Assistance for the Aged, according to Irving J. Engelman, director of the State Division of Public Welfare.

The expanded program, made possible through the 1961 Social Security Amendments will be administered by the New Jersey Division of Public Welfare and will become effective in early 1967.

Let's Divide The Votes

An absurd manifestation of nonconformity is nothing new in this age of effeminate haidoes on not-too-bright males, and towards parading their aberration under the guise of free speech, and it is possible there is no real harm in a councilman's penance for taking a minority stand no matter what the issue.

But it would be more convincing if they occasionally took a stand with the majority and vice versa if we are to believe they are actually informed renegades intent on protecting the taxpayers dollar instead of merely men cursed with theatrics instead of talent.

Perhaps it is unrealistic and unfair to think the Council can cure unsatisfactory conditions with a wave of the hand, but they could at least listen to interested residents who have a first hand acquaintance with the problems at hand. G.F.A.

Those Harsh Statistics

Statistics — more than 25,000 of them — reflecting individual finances of New Jersey's more than 1,150 units of county, municipal and school government are neatly packaged in a 62-page publication recently issued by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

Devoid of editorial comment, but telling their own story, the figures detail spending that aggregated more than one and three-quarter millions of dollars last year. Outstanding debt stood almost as high. There are vital statistics on local tax rates, valuations, assessment ratios, property tax levies and other features of complex local government finance.

The compactly presented "Financial Statistics of New Jersey Local Government — 1966" is must reading for all those who wonder why the cost of government continues to spiral.

Aha! So That's Where The Money Went!

For some time town employees who clean the streets have been complaining of the need for a new street sweeper — and now they have one. It's a nice, shiny, yellow one that growls its way along the streets of Belleville neatly gobbling up debris of every kind and eliminating the expenditure of manpower that had been wasted with the old sweeper.

We have two of them, replacing the battered ones which stood in the municipal garage — usually awaiting repairs of some kind. They cost, said Town Manager John B. Burnett, $14,210 each. The trade-in value of the old models was $1,700 leaving the town to pay some $13,360 for each "Pelican" street sweeper.

If you haven't seen one operating along the streets by now, just take a look elsewhere in today's Times. That's where the money went. G.F.A.

The Bulletin Board

With the help of the Belleville Public Library — an organization seldom found lacking when it comes to accumulating facts — The Belleville Times was able to initiate its first "Town Bulletin Board," usually found on page three.

It's a nicely done collection of forthcoming parties, celebrations, meetings, and other items of interest to town residents. If your club hasn't yet taken advantage of this "Bulletin Board," please feel free to do so immediately.

The GOP's Opportunity

The recent election results which saw Republicans capture almost everything in sight was not unexpected.

Vanity will lead some winners to believe voters cast their ballots on the basis of the superior candidacy of the winner.

Republican leaders who place such an interpretation on the results of the November 8 election are inviting disaster in 1967. From California to Massachusetts, from the State of Washington to Florida, the election day message was clear — voters' balloting reflected voter concern and fear over such matters as Vietnam, high cost of living, crime on the streets, ultra liberal objectives of L.B.J.'s Great Society and a number of other factors which may or may not be present in next year's critical legislative election.

In 1967 New Jersey voters will elect a brand new Senate and Assembly. In the absence of overriding national issues both major parties must realize next year's election will be won or lost on the basis of individual legislative records and the superior quality of the candidates.

Essex County Republicans receive a shot in the arm with the victory of their three Freeholder candidates and their Superior candidate.

The Congressional results were expected. In the reorganized 10th District Congressman Peter Rodino won handily.

In the 11th District Congressman Joseph Minish, another Democrat, easily took the measure of his opponent.

Both Rodino and Minish have excellent Congressional records and of equal importance is the fact they both enjoy a reputation of fine service to their constituents.

Congresswoman Flo Dwyer, who took over a piece of the old 12th District which remained after Congressman Paul Krebs was reorganized out of his seat, enjoys a legendary record of public service in the Congress which is second to none.

Flo Dwyer is a Republican but she is as able and as popular as her Democrat counterparts from Essex — Per Rodino and Joe Minish. In the election of Flo Dwyer, Pete Rodino, and Joe Minish we believe the superior candidates won.

The overwhelming victory scored by U.S. Senator Clifford P. Case who was returned to the Senate for a third term also was not unexpected. Thursday evening before election we suggested to Senator Case that he anticipate a victory with 65 per cent of the vote cast. With his customary humility Senator Case greeted this observation with disbelief. Case actually received 62 per cent of the votes cast and he might have received the 65 per cent total had his opponent been able to campaign a few more days.

Case's victory is a victory for the people of New Jersey and the nation. His record in office was so unique that Case should have been the nominee of both major parties.

State election laws now prohibit joint nomination. We think the law should be revised to permit leaders of both parties to endorse jointly such public officials as Senator Case, Congresswoman Dwyer, Congressman Pete Rodino and Bill Cahill of South Jersey.

This newspaper endorsed the reelection of Senator Case and Congressman Rodino. Needless to say, the results were very satisfying. F.A.O.

The Bushwhackers

With the faint suggestion of a them, DiRuggiero, who is a member of the Board of Education majority, and Rocco Saletta, a fellow member of the brain trust, and Seymour Grossman, principal of the Junior High School, were lounging in the lounge swigging firewater and watching when some alert gaster announced over the loudspeaker

"Dr. DiRuggiero I wanted on the telephone!"

You could have heard a pin drop — and many say they did. Then the supreme irony of the situation caught the audience and after a few snorts of disgust, they began to laugh, laugh, laugh. Earlier, when asked to buy a ticket to the dinner, DiRuggiero cried "Are you crazy???" G.F.

More On Testa

To The Editor:

Our High School football coach, Tom Testa, a man of ability and integrity, a man who has gridiron flowing in his veins, is in his last year as head football coach.

It is a fact that Testa's love for football is only exceeded by his concern for the charges placed in his care. To lose a knowledgeable head coach of Testa's caliber, creates a severe blow to the growth of our town.

The enviable record compiled by Belleville teams under the tutelage of Testa and his capable assistants speaks for itself. Testa did not inherit the teams that produced these records, they were developed by sweat, tears and burning midnight oil. He had the respect of his boys, not by demand, but because he earned it. Player's personal problems automatically became his problems. Parents of ex-gridders will gladly testify to the truthfulness of these statements.

We feel that the good citizens of Belleville and the loyal supporters of our athletic teams deserve to know the underlying reasons that have forced Testa to consider resignation.

We can only guess that undue pressure exerted upon him by elected school officials through the Athletic Council is the real reason he wishes to divorce himself from his coaching duties.

I have known Testa during his entire career as head coach of football. I can state without fear of contradiction that he is a "take charge coach" who would resign rather than tolerate outside interference or compromise his principles. Accepting a resignation from Testa will not eliminate the problem that caused him to submit it.

The president of the Board of Education appoints the members of the Athletic Council and is in excellent position to influence their actions and unless future coaches dance to the tunes played by the board of president and his puppets on the Athletic Council they will be faced with the same harassment that befell Testa.

It is apparent that the poisonous tenacles of dictatorship have penetrated the Athletic Council. Why else would Joseph Landolfi, a newly appointed member of the Council, vigorously oppose a recommendation for Testa as head coach this year, without justification and with outward contempt for a successful reign. Joseph Napolitano and Arthur Kearny also cast a negative vote for the rehiring recommendation. Personalities rather than coaching ability influenced their unjust decisions. Fortunately the civic minded members of the Athletic Council were able to prevent the vendetta.

Belleville has received more than its share of notoriety surrounding school affairs. The resignation of our head Football Coach is another "Blotch" on an already darkened school image.

Under the circumstances, the Belleville Action Committee campaigning for an appointed Board of Education, feels the impending resignation by our head coach laboring under undue political interference is following the only honorable path that does not compromise "principles."

All citizens are requested to write to (BAC) P.O. Box 604, Bloomfield, N.J. JAMES CERES, Chairman Belleville Action Committee

Smoke Signals

GORDON F. ADAMS

TOWN SPORTSMEN are up in arms over the imminent retirement of Head Football Coach Thomas Testa who announced his intentions of ending his career at the end of this season. He joins two other sports luminaries — Track Coach Ronald Kulik whom the Bd of Ed dismissed as an "average" teacher last year although he had made the BHS track team one of the best in the state; and Baseball Coach Nick Petti — whose boys cried at his last game.

Kulik is now heading one of the best track teams a neighboring town ever had. Guess they like average teachers over there. It would be funny if Kulik's team were to defeat the Bellboy squad someday. Could be.

Testa is down to his last two coaches and feels he cannot do his best by the BHS squad after the rigid budget cuts in the athletic department. Coaches say it was unnecessary. The Board says it was.

MACY'S DOES NOT always tell Gimbels everything. And apparently one department in Town Hall does not tell one another what they are up to.

Last week a Belleville perp name of Jed wandered off home base and got himself lost in the wilds of Nutley, where he was picked up by Mrs. William Morris, 119 Hillside Avenue. She's still shaking her head at what happened, she says.

First she called the cops to report her find. They said they hadn't any record of the dogs for whom their owners pay a license fee each year. Call Town Treasurer Francis McCoy, she was told.

She called McCoy Monday morning. He said he didn't have the names of registered owners due to a sudden "audit." McCoy, she reported, took umbrage at her questions and — somehow — got angry at her, saying he had her conversation on tape and would refer her case to the county prosecutor. She never figured out why.

William Friel, McCoy's lieutenant, got into the act she said. "Where you from, lady?" he wanted to know. When she said "Nutley" he snapped back "Well, we take care of our town, lady!" with a suggestion she stay on her side of the fence.

One thing our public officials overlook is the fact that they are public servants and paid to perform in that capacity. But, it may have been a hard day for Town Hall employees and they may have snapped out of sheer frustration — which the public drive many of us to.

THE GUARDIANS: While most of the town's notables were honoring Dr. Frank M. Durkee Thursday evening at The Fountain, two members of the d. of Ed, and a school principal were hunched over glasses of firewater — as we Redskins say — closely watching the arrival of guests. The uninvited trio, said some of the guests, were checking on any teachers who might have pro-Durkee sympathies. Why did they come?

Here's Dr. Frank DiRuggiero's reply: "You can't trap me with a question like that; no sir, you can't trap me!" The good doctor was accompanied by Seymour Grossman, and Rocco Saletta, a board member.

It is probably just coincidence that of some 300 teachers in the system, only three attended the testimonial dinner. It lends credence to the stories of reprisal against teachers. It makes one wonder. Why WERE they there?

COME HOME, DUKE: Andy and Anthony Garutto, who live out there at 267 William St., are saddened by the sudden loss of the pug, Duke, who followed some child home with a rope around his neck. At least that is the belief of their father, Frank.

Someone opened the gate in their backyard and kidnapped Duke, and the two boys, one a year-old and the other two-and-a-half, miss their playmate. He's a brown and black pu, part collie and shepherd, and they would like to have him back.

If anyone spots him call the Garutto's, Okay?

THE BEST ONE YET: That's what everyone said Friday night after the annual Veterans Day Parade on Washington Avenue. And at the bottom of it all was Joseph Fornarotto, chairman of the Belleville Veterans Council, who worked his head off arranging it.

It seems that everytime The Editor turned around, there stood Joe with a sheaf of plans in his hand, or another letter from some one accepting his invitation to attend. A lot of veterans give plenty of expendable lip service to these observances, but Fornarotto is one who gave his heart to the proper observation of Veterans Day and the American Servicemen's Day.

It would be nice if the Town Council gave Fornarotto a commendation for his hard work. He deserves it, plus the gratitude of the town, of course.

THE WALKING WOUNDED: Mrs. Thomas F. McCool, recovering from a severe illness recently was the only member of the Board of Education to make the Friday night march in honor of our veterans servicemen during the Veterans Day Parade.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

"Do I need a color antenna?" This is the most frequently asked question when customers inquire about the purchase of a color set.

There is not a simple yes or no answer to this question; it depends on the circumstances.

First of all, there is no such thing as a special color antenna. Such an antenna is just an antenna which could be used on any set, color or black and white. The characteristics are, that it has high gain, good directivity and most of all, rejection of ghosts. In this vicinity, this is the main feature required. If your present antenna performs all the functions listed above, you may not need a new one.

Only in rare cases will one get good reception on so-called rabbit ear antenna. Often the signal strength is not sufficient. The result is "snow" and interference from electrical appliances and gadgets. As one changes stations, the position of the antenna staffs frequently has to be changed, which in itself is a nuisance. There are no reflectors to eliminate ghosts.

If there is room in the attic, the antenna could be installed there instead of on the outside. The few feet of difference in height in many cases does not make that much of a difference. Of course, if the location is Bloomfield Ave., in Nutley or anywhere down in the valley of the Passaic River, in Nutley, Belleville or Lyndhurst, one may need every bit of height one can get.

We have installed thousands of antennas in this vicinity and our technicians know pretty much the conditions at different locations. We use three different kinds of antennas, each one with different characteristics, and we pick the type most suitable for you.

We service what we sell. Beck's Radio TV HI FI Nutley 667-2275

Saber Cadets Become The Town's First Color Guard

By PATRICIA DIANA
Making their premier in the Friday night Veteran's Day Parade were the "Saber Cadets" an independent all girl color guard sponsored by American Legion post 105 of Belleville.

They formed in August and have been practicing at School 8 every Monday Night and Saturday afternoon. From their performance in the parade, Belleville can be proud of the Saber Cadets, the first unit of its kind in the town.

The girls wore temporary uniforms for the parade, when their uniforms did not arrive in time. They are being trained by members of championship drum and bugle corps in this area, in marching and maneuvering as well as flag and rifle drill.

The name of the group came from the religious sabers of the Sowds of India used by the Celebrated warriors of the Sikh who live in the Indian state of Punjab. They are fiercely beautiful with gleaming silver plated hilt decorations, engraved and tooled by hand, and embellished by plush velvet scabbards of red and blue. The inscriptions mean "Work, fight and win victory together."

Directors of the Saber Cadets are Mrs. Joan White and Mrs. Gloria LaMotta. Quartermasters are James LaMotta and Harry Murphy. Captain and Co-captain are Miss Janice Rosania and Miss Ann Lilore.

The girls, who have come a long way in two short months are: Pat LaMotta; Lisa Tucci; Laure Jean Schultz; Mary Ann Nolter; Mary Ann Troutgetter; Sonia Rudy; Pat Bradley; Sandy Cheatham; Pat Smith; Janice Raimondi; Julie Cheatham; Kathy Rosato; Roseann Costillano and Linda Rosania.

The Saber Cadets are available for all parades by contacting either Mrs. LaMotta 759-8648 or Mrs. White 759-2730. Belleville will be rooting for the Saber Cadets, the first independent girl color Guard in our town.

Income Tax Forms Already In Mail For Accountants

Joseph M. Sholtz, IRS District Director for New Jersey, announced today that order blanks for 1966 Federal Income Tax Forms have been mailed to all accountants, attorneys and returns preparers whose names are on the practitioners' mailing list maintained by the Newark District Office.

The order blanks are included in a booklet, "Informational Copies of Federal Income Tax Forms for 1966". Individuals in the business of preparing tax returns who have not received a copy of the booklet may obtain one by writing to Tax Forms, P. O. Box 1261, Newark, N. J. 07101.

Tax practitioners, returns preparers and other individuals interested in Federal tax administration may have their names added to the District Director's mailing list by writing to the District Director of Internal Revenue, 1060 Broad St., Newark, N.J. 07102.

Requests should include the following information: Name, social security number, address, including zip code, and occupation or business of the requestor.

Tax forms for individual taxpayers will be mailed to them in late December at the same address as they used when they filed their 1965 income tax returns.

Surplus Drop In New Taxes Seen

Despite addition of more than $162 million anticipated in new sales tax revenue and $25 million added income from cigarette taxes which were increased this year, New Jersey's State Government may end the present fiscal year next June 30 with nearly $20 million less surplus than it had at the beginning.

This is indicated in an analysis reported by the New Jersey fiscal reports and appropriations laws.

The State had a surplus of $42.3 million at the end of the 1965-66 fiscal year on June 30, last. Current income for 1966-67 is now officially estimated at $857.5 million. Total authorized spending for the current year is $877.1 million, including $876.5 million in the major appropriations law and an additional $0.5 million in supplemental appropriations enacted by the 1966 Legislature.

This is approximately $225 million more than was appropriated in 1966. It leaves an anticipated surplus estimate of $22.7 million next June 30, or $19.6 million less than actual surplus of June 30 this year.

The projected surplus, it was pointed out, is subject to change resulting from income growth from new and existing taxes over estimates and additional spending authorizations as the year proceeds.

TOWN ORDINANCE

BELLEVILLE PROPOSALS
Sealed proposals will be received by the Municipal Council of the Town of Belleville, N.J., at the Council Chambers, Town Hall, Belleville, N.J., on Monday, December 12, 1966, at 8:00 P.M., for the purchase by the said Town of Belleville, N.J., of one (1) year's supply of gasoline and one (1) year's supply of motor oil for use of the Department of Public Works and Affairs, Belleville, N.J., in accordance with specifications on file in the office of the Purchasing Agent, Town Hall, Belleville, N.J.

Upsala's Ready For Homecoming

Festive floats, marching bands and a motorcade of campus queens highlighted Upsala College's annual parade Saturday, Nov. 12.

The theme this year was "Fairy Tales" and the college's fraternities and sororities have created colorful Rose Bowl-style floats depicting the theme. The cavalcade began near their campus on Prospect Street in East Orange at 10:30 a.m. and wound through the Brick Church shopping area of the city.

Homecoming queen Gayle Eggen, a senior from Portsmouth, New Hampshire, will lead a motorcade of contestants for the title. This is a contest sponsored by the college newspaper.

Upsala's homecoming weekend began with an awards banquet at the Hotel Suburban in East Orange on Friday, November 11 at 6:30 p.m. An open house for all alumni will follow at 9 p.m. in the hotel ballroom.

Football took the spotlight on Saturday, after the parade and a picnic on campus. Upsala will meet Albright College at 1:30 p.m. on Viking Field.

5,000 residents and firms in Belleville, said Norman P. McGrory, president of the Essex County Tuberculosis League. McGrory, who is executive vice president of the Howard Savings Institution, urged the public to support the League in its fight against TB and other respiratory diseases.

McGrory reported that TB strikes one American every seven minutes around the clock, and kills someone once every 50 minutes. In 1965 there were 582 newly reported cases in Essex County, an increase of 13 new cases over the previous year. Nearly 3,200 known TB cases now live in the County, according to the TB Case Register.

"TB is the number one contagious killer, and an outstanding crippler of human beings," McGrory said. "In addition, many respiratory diseases including asthma, bronchitis and emphysema are threats to the public health."

Christmas Seal Campaign funds will be used to find TB cases, rehabilitate patients, develop preventive projects in schools and support medical research.

"We are using an economy Appeal Letter with a detachable return envelope," McGrory said. "It is easy to use, and at the same time cuts the cost of raising funds so that more money goes directly to health programs. Essex County contributors have shown their confidence in the League's year-round educational and service programs and this action to trim costs can only add to that confidence."

In asking for support, McGrory said, "Take a deep breath and realize how important a breath of life is. Every dollar raised through Christmas Seals represents another small step in the fight against TB and other chest diseases. Share the health — answer you Christmas Seal Appeal now."

Rodino Hits The Trail To Europe, Middle East In Search Of Answers

Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-10th Dist.) announced today that he will leave Nov. 13 on a House Judiciary Committee assignment to study refugee problems in Europe and the Middle East. He said "particular emphasis will be given to the search for a solution to the Arab-Israeli refugee problem in the Gaza Strip."

Rodino noted that "a third generation of refugees is now growing up in tent settlements supervised by the United Nations in the Gaza Strip."

Agencies working on refugee movements and particularly with handicapped refugees.

Rodino will visit Zagreb and Belgrade in Yugoslavia, an Iron Curtain country where religious and economic persecution is affecting refugee movements; Athens, Greece, where a vocational training school under ICEM auspices has not been operating up to its potential.

At the NATO Parliamentary Conference, to which he has been a delegate since 1962, Rodino will present several important papers to the Scientific and Technical Committee, which he serves as vice chairman. One paper will deal with arms control and disarmament policies of the United States.

Rodino is scheduled to return Dec. 17.

The congressman will also take part in the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration (ICEM) meeting in Geneva and the NATO Parliamentary Conference in Paris.

The study will also take him to Oslo, Stockholm and Helsinki, where he will meet with representatives of volunteer Lutheran

Tri-Town BPW To See History Of State Women

Mrs. Rachel Diamond, public relations coordinator at the Bloomfield Public Library, will be the speaker at tonight's dinner meeting of the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield, and Nutley, Inc., at the Park Methodist Church, Bloomfield. Her topic will be "Three Hundred Years with N.J. Women," which involves 12 quick changes of costume from colonial times to the present.

Mrs. Diamond is currently public relations chairman of the New Jersey Library Association and is the author of "One Hundred Fifty Years Around the Green," a brief history of Bloomfield. She is also noted for giving illustrated book reviews.

Tri-Towners will be attending the state board meeting of the N.J. Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., on November 19, at the Hotel Berkeley Carteret, Asbury Park.

The Honorable Elinor C. Guggenheimer, president of the National Committee for the Day Care of Children will be the luncheon speaker. Her talk "The Good Life" will be followed by a pageant of the emblem, presented by the BPW Club of the Oranges.

Mrs. Guggenheimer is a member of the National Recreation and Park Association; a member of the New York City Planning Commission, and is a faculty member of the Center for New York City Affairs, New School for Social Research.

Members from Tri-Town BPW attending were Miss Mary Mathier, Mrs. Gertrude La Placa, Miss Frances Williamson and Miss Ruth Williamson of Belleville; Mrs. Christine Boughton, Mrs. Mary K. Ellis, Mrs. Florence Knapp, Mrs. Frances Lawson, Miss Mildred Spatz, Miss Gwendolyn Struble, Miss Hazel White, Mrs. Winifred Whitecross of Bloomfield; Miss Anne Boehmer, Mrs. Marie Corley, Miss Helene Matt and Miss Margaret Nostica of Nutley; Miss Helen Hunt of Glen Ridge; and Mrs. Dorothy Fundin of Neptune, N.J.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNERS: We Must Care officers and their children are pictured above with the Rev. Francis Blake finalizing plans for an open house at Holy Family School auditorium this Sunday at 8 p.m. The program is designed to educate and children in the area with the problem of child

We Must Care Sets Open House at Holy Family

Holy Family School Auditorium will be the scene of an open house this Sunday, November 20 at 8 p.m. given by We Must Care. The group is working with the Rev. Francis Blake in making final arrangements for the open house.

Two films "The Child Molester" and a cartoon geared for children, "The Bad Stranger," will be shown followed by a program by national president Milton Halverson. Any further information wanted by people attending may be obtained from members present.

A poster program sponsored by J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be explained at this time by means of posters drawn by school children at St. Anthony's School, in Belleville. The school was the first one in the area to view the film, "The Bad Stranger." Following the cartoon, the children were asked to draw on the theme of the lesson learned from the viewing. By studying the posters the unit is able to ascertain what more can be done to educate the children without using scare tactics.

Prizes for the children will be given at the open house. Among new members of the local We Must Care group are Assemblyman Joseph Biancardi and his wife.

Silver Wedding Feted by Party For Local Pair

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Palumbo of 164 Norton Street, Belleville, were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary with a family dinner party given at Parrillo's Restaurant, Belleville on November 12.

Twenty-eight guests attended the affair, including the couple's sisters and brothers with their children.

The couple's best man, Ralph Ricciardi of Paramus and maid of honor, Mrs. Frank Venezia of 116 Grafton Avenue, North Newark also attended with their spouses.

Mr. and Mrs. Palumbo were married November 16, 1941, at Our Lady of Good Counsel R. C. Church, Newark. They lived on Grafton Avenue for their first year of their marriage until Mr. Palumbo entered the service. He was in the Air Force for three years during World War II, stationed in the Pacific.

Upon his return from the war the couple moved to Belleville where they have lived ever since.

Their two children include James, 14, a ninth grader at Belleville Junior High School, and Ralph 18, serving in the U. S. Navy at Great Lakes Naval Station. Unable to attend his parent's party, he sent a telegram which was read at the dinner.

"Who takes all those pills?"

This is often the question when a customer sees the shelves in our pharmacy. Row on row on row of bottles, boxes, canisters, tubes, vials, jars... about 2,000 items in all. Good question. Who are they for? The answer, of course, is you. Say you go to a physician and he writes a prescription which you bring to us to be filled. We can't tell what the ailment will be—there are thousands, and we don't know what medication the doctor will prescribe. To provide prompt pharmaceutical service we have to be ready for just about anything. Which we are.

Lola DiBella, Television Model, Weds Dr. Cyrus J. Amato, Dover Surgeon

MRS. CYRUS AMATO
Former Lola DiBella

St. Mary's R. C. Church, Nutley was the setting November 12 for the marriage of Miss Lola DiBella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis John DiBella of Belleville, to Dr. Cyrus John Amato. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Amato also of Belleville.

The Rev. John M. Golding performed the ceremony and a reception followed at the Manor Restaurant, West Orange.

Mr. DiBella gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory satin, "fashioned into a skimmer silhouette with long sleeves, and a cathedral length court train. A full length mantilla was bordered with Alencon lace and she carried phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis with ivory on a lace fan.

Mrs. Joseph Maletta was matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Nicholas Amato, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Ida Marie Onorato and Miss JoAnn Herz, cousins of the bride.

They wore three-piece floor length theater suits in pale pink antique satin and a pill box of matching fabric. Their bouquets were of pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. DiBella selected a full length princess styled gown with a beaded neckline. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a petal pink ensemble accented with Venetian lace.

Nicholas Amato, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Louis DiBella Jr., brother of the bride, Dr. Donald R. Alouf and Dr. Arthur K. Adamo.

The bride was graduated from Belleville High School and attended the Dramatic Workshop at Carnegie Hall. She is a model for television commercials in New York.

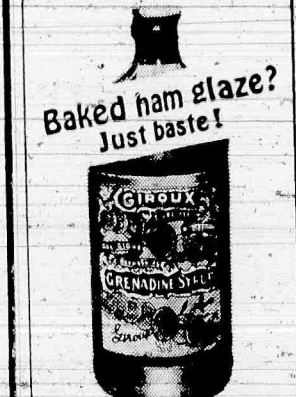

Dr. Amato, a graduate of St. Peter's College, Jersey City and Georgetown Dental School, is practicing oral surgery in Dover. He is on the staff of Dover General Hospital, St. Claire's (Denville) and Newark City Hospitals. The couple's new home will be in Caldwell, following a honeymoon to Mexico.

Family Life Today

Dr. Mary B. Kievit
Specialist in Human Relations
Rutgers—The State University

The family is the one group in which a young person should be able to discuss the most intimate and personal areas of concern to him. Yet, this is not always the case. Adolescents and young adults often report that they cannot discuss with parents some significant areas of concern.

Children are almost like a sensitive radar system. At early ages, they learn that parents do not want to answer certain questions or that mother gets embarrassed and acts "strangely" when some things are said.

The child doesn't know why certain areas are sensitive, but the emotional climate created is unpleasant and he avoids these areas in the future.

The communication lines between parents and the child have been narrowed, quite likely never to be enlarged in these particular areas again. The parents has thrown the child on his own very limited resources, those of his equally limited playmates, and chance occurrences.

Parents who want to be a continuing source of information and influential in the values their child acquires must be willing to answer all questions asked. Questions related to sex or sexuality must be given consideration similar to that given questions concerning school or daddy's work.

It is in the context of such questions that the parent can influence the child's growth in moral understanding and behavior.

William K. Syphers

A High Mass of Requiem will be offered 9:30 A.M. this morning at St. Mary's R.C. Church, Nutley, for William K. Sypher of 239 Jordan Road, Belleville, who died Sunday at home. He was 48.

Mr. Sypher was born in Boston, Mass., and came to Belleville 24 years ago. A chemist with the Colgate Palmolive Research Center in Piscataway, for the past 25 years, he received a degree from St. Peter's College in Jersey City.

He was past grand knight of St. Mary's Council 2346, Knights of Columbus, Nutley, and was a fourth degree knight of the Father Isaac Jogues Assembly in Montclair.

He was a member also of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church, and the Msgr. Owens Nocturnal Devotion Society, all in Nutley.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Jane Kuhn Sypher, he also leaves a son, William K. Jr. at home; a brother, Carlton W. of St. Louis, Mo., and his stepmother, Mrs. Bertha S. Sypher of Belleville.

The Paul A. McDonough Funeral Home, 637 Broadway, Newark, is handling arrangements.

When you love your work, it shows.

Pontiac Motor Division

And we love our work so much that we couldn't bear to stop with the slickest-looking split grille ever to grace a Wide-Track. (Or any other car, for that matter.)

We went ahead and made the windshield wipers disappear. The car not only looks cleaner, but the wipers are less subject to icing and freezing, too.

Then we got rid of the "hot windows" on all Grand Prix hard-tops. We replaced them with fifty monograms and a flow-through ventilation system.

We even designed a rare, unique hood-mounted tachometer option that's available on all Pontiacs. As are our other new options like stereo tape and stereo radio.

And, of course, our handsome interiors have to be seen to be believed.

All Pontiacs have standard safety features that include a dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, outside rear-view mirror, and GM's energy absorbing steering column.

Isn't it time you decided to see your Pontiac dealer? If you love our work the way we do, it's the least you can do.

Kards Bow To The Bellboys On Their On Turf Under A Neat 33-13 Score

Sideline Byline

Eve Charen

RATINGS RISE: The Bellboys were on the move in the latest compilation, of the highly respected Saylor Ratings. They jumped from the 35th to the 19th spot in the state during the past three weeks. With the only losses in a 43 campaign running on close decisions to number two ranked East Orange, number four Garfield and number 17 Nutley, Tom Testa's Blue and Gold appear in good position to match last season's final showing of 15th in the state.

MARATHON ROLLING: Plans for the long awaited marathon basketball game are getting into full swing as Mike Marotti and his PBA group, along with a teenage committee headed by this reporter and Bill Idenden, set the wheels in motion. The attempt at the 109-hour world record is now slated for the week long winter vacation in February.

Contestants for the Marathon will be selected shortly with an expected participation of at least 150 Belleville High boys. Adding to the optimism surrounding the attempt is the conditional approval of the use of the Junior High School gym by an amiable Board of Education.

DID IT AGAIN: The prediction of the Belleville Kearny clash almost met the fate of several of its predecessors last week when this column was once again inadvertently shortened. As it was, the prediction made it into print, but out of context as eight paragraphs scheduled to come before it, bit the dust. Ouch!

POSTPONEMENT? Bu Postponing Saturday's grid encounter until Monday, Kearny officials left the two rivals as part of six turns idle on the cloudy day. Perhaps the memory of last season's powerful Kardinal team dying in the mud of Municipal Stadium by a 96 count was too much to risk a repeat.

CAGERS REBUILDING: Rebuilding from the loss of four starters, Al LoBalbo's cagers are battling for starting berths as practice moves into high gear. The only returnee from last season's squad, Rick San Filippo, will not join the team from the gridiron until Nov. 26th the basketball season opens Dec. 2.

Now holding down the fort are a pair of seniors, Jim Catalano and Joe Mello, who were varsity reserves a year ago, who are leading the 20 contestants for sports on the Bellboy squad.

GRAPPLERS LEARNING: Boasting the largest and most promising turnout in its history, the Belleville grapplers are busily preparing for what should be a big year for Coach Jim Silvestri. With a squad of 41 and nine potential senior starters in 12 positions, spirit has remained high for a conscientious group of underclassmen who realize that they must sticd with it this season for the sake of fundamentals if they are to succeed in the future.

At present most of Silvestri's power appears centered around the lower weight classes where District Champ, Nick D. Dominico, undefeated Joe Villano, and last year's JV district winner Jim Bonkowski highlight the field.

COINCIDENCE: It is just a coincidence that last year Roh Kulik was at Belleville and the Bellboys were the most respected cross-country squad in the county. This year, with the exiled Kulik at Montclair, the Mounties have assumed the same awesome role.

However, it is much more than just a coincidence that last year Kulik's protege Bob Bognione was the county champ and that this year Kulik's newest trainee (Nutley's Richie Furst) has assumed the role of New Jersey's premier track man.

Bellboys Lower The Boom On Kearny By Scoring 19 Fourth Quarter Pts.

With Steve Ferrughelli steadily grinding out 201 yards up the middle, the Bellboys rose from a slow start to soundly rout Kearny 33-13 in a Monday replay of Saturday's rainout.

touchdown with 14 seconds remaining in the second half that sent Belleville into the intermission leading 14-7. And it was a fourth quarter spurt of Kearny fumbles that led to three insurance scores within four minutes to ice the Blue and Gold's fifth victory in eight efforts, but other than that it was all Ferrughelli.

Rushing for 201 of the Bellboys 214 ground yards in 35 runs, the big 6 foot 1, 185 pound fullback average a steady 5.7 average clip for the highest individual production since the days of Richie Luzzi. In the process, Ferrughelli also scored two touchdowns to score his tenth in the county total to 48 points while returning three kicks for another 70 yards, hurling in a seven yard pass, and doubling as defensive safety.

On that defense, the Kards soon found it hopeless to attempt running against Belleville's stalwart forward wall and went to the airways on the strong arm of veteran quarterback Ron Henry. With Rich San Filippo, picking up with eight minutes remaining in the first half, the strategy almost led to disaster when Henry threw 22 times. Nine of these passes found their mark — one of them for 81 yards to account for 157 yards of the Redbirds offense. The Kards rushing netted a minus one yard.

Transferred to one-way duty, Mario Ponzio directed the defense full time in "outstanding form and Sam Calabria, Don Vizzono, and Sam Calabria, Don Vizzono, and Armando Conte powered the strong line show, but it was tough little Jim Serritella who saved it all.

With San Filippo missing from the deep secondary, the five-foot-nine 160 pounder twice went down field to thwart long Kard pass patterns with last second saves to prevent touchdowns. At the same time Serritella continued the bone-jarring tackling from that has characterized his last three games.

Belleville's previously sluggish offense seemed to gain momentum as the game progressed finally hitting a peak with 19 points within four minutes of each other in the final quarter. Characterizing the attack was a backfield realignment that saw Ponzio moved strictly to defense, relinquishing his inside halfback spot.

This left Bob Banda and John Pico as the starting halfbacks in a power blocking backfield. John Idamarco also saw considerable action shuffling in and out as did a recovering Mike Welsh in the second half. That was at the halfback spot which accounts for 17 carries, but it was the Bellboys irrepressible fullback Ferrughelli who carried the day.

Strong line play especially by tackle Joel Pisano and Angelo Di Modica characterized the attack, with vicious backfield blocking by Pico and Banda playing a big role in the air lanes. Rich Del Guercio managed a 4-for-8 day while having three tosses dropped, but still wasn't rolling out as per instructions.

With Belleville being penalized a staggering 85 yards in the course of the day the recovering of three fumbles plus three interceptions and a blocked punt touchdown by a fired up defense was a big factor in a game that was 14-13 going into the final round. Then, of course, there was workhorse Ferrughelli.

The Monday afternoon contest opened with an exchange of punts before the Bellboys started to roll with a 15 yard aerial to San Filippo out to midfield. From there Ferrughelli carried 7 of 9 plays to account for 37 yards as Belleville closed in with a first down at the one. Del Guercio took it in from there on a sneak and Pisano's conversion made it 7-0 after 3:24.

Another ball exchange followed when a 15 yard penalty stalled a potential Belleville drive for downs in the Bellboy 29.

Going into the second quarter, Henry then went to the air completing four straight short tosses for 23 yards before a pass interference call moved the Kards to the Bellboy 33. A deflected pass bounded into Frank Ransom's arms for a ten-yard gain to the 21.

A run by Tony Tringone went to his favorite target, Sam Melton for all the marbles from 17 yards out. Jim Humphrey's conversion thwarted it at 7-7 with 8:42 to go in the half.

It was on the following kick-off that San Filippo was lost to action, a blow that hit the Bellboys on their front offensive end, defensive safety, and punter. Greg Kostowicz filled in well at punts, but at the other spots the reserves weren't up to their captain's All-Star form.

Neither team would get untracked in the second quarter as Del Guercio took too long getting up to pass and was smothered to kill one series. Don Vizzono recovered a big fumble at the Kard 24 only to have Milton rob a TD from Mike Mateyka in the end zone with a darting interception. Ponzio responded three plays later by picking off a lock-in pass to give Belleville possession at the Kard 33.

passes later, Ferrughelli rambled 22 yards for his longest gain of the day. With a fourth and one, a short flare pass was reflected and Kearny took over at the 24. A clip and a strong rush by Ponzio, Serritella, and Lou Della Terza combined to drive the Kards backward to their own one, where on fourth down with 14 seconds remaining in the half, Ponzio led a fierce rush to block the Kard punt. Sudden Sam

Calabria picked up the bouncing ball at the four and went in to save and give Belleville a vital 14-7 halftime lead.

Only an 81 yard bomb from Henry to Melton characterized the third quarter as Ferrughelli knocked the big end out of bounds at the three before Henry scored three plays later. An over anxious Humphrey then converted wide of his mark and Belleville hung on to a slim 14-13 lead.

Neither team could move until the fourth quarter when a weak punt for the Kard 13 gave Belleville possession at the 27. With a 16 yard toss to Idamarco overcoming a penalty, Ferrughelli carried the load in for a score. The kick was wide at 8:48 to leave it at 20-13.

On the ensuing kick-off a gunshy Tringone managed to fumble after returning a strong Pisano boot 22 yards. Bob Banda recovered and the Bellboys (Ferrughelli, that is) were on the move. A seven yard bootleg by Del Guercio adding the cause the big fullback sometimes known as "Beaver" went in a gain to ice the score with a conversion at 27-13.

Not yet content the aroused Bellboys kick-off again and then in the first play jarred the Kards backfield causing a fumble. George D'Amico and Ponzio ended up battling for the ball at the 20. Ten Ferrughelli yards later, Del Guercio went to big Mateyka in the end zone at 4:42 with his tenth scoring aerial of the season to leave it at 33-13.

Sweat, Sweat, Sweat Was All Phil Did, But He Won That Big Meet

Belleville's Philip Grippaldi successfully defended his New Jersey District AAU Weightlifting Senior Championship last Saturday in West Paterson.

Grippaldi was in great form and posted his first thousand pound total for the three Olympic Lifts. There was no lifter in the middle-heavyweight class to threaten his position so he had to make the big lifts with no close competition.

He has had a remarkable year of lifting having taken second place in the Junior Nationals, second place in the Senior Nationals (with a total that would have won the Juniors), then he took the Teen-Age Nationals, with a total that would have won the Seniors.

This was followed by a second in the North American Championships. In several other meets Grippaldi broke the World Junior Press record five times with lifts of 331, 336, 341, 346 and 350 pounds.

There was an interesting side note. The Belleville Kiwanis contributed expenses to send Grippaldi to California for the Junior Nationals. He had hoped to win a trophy to present to the club to show his appreciation, but found the awards in this meet were medals. The Belleville Kiwanis sponsored Phil again this time to bring him home from Youngstown, Ohio where he attends college so he could compete in the State Seniors.

This time Grippaldi won a handsome trophy as the "Outstanding Lifter" in the meet regardless of weight class. He proudly presented the trophy to the Belleville Kiwanis Club.

Grippaldi was planning on a higher total, but one missed attempt in each lift denied him this hope. (Probably a faulty scale contributed to the problem). When Grippaldi weighed in for the meet he was declared two pounds overweight.

He donned a rubber sweat suit and did calisthenics to lose the two pounds. When he next weighed in he was one full pound under the limit — and the scale was found to be sticking.

Whether his cost him the big lifts or not no one can say, but he will probably make them in the next contest.

Belleville had another lifter in this meet in the person of fifteen-year-old Robert Bonfante. Robert is another promising lifter and, although this was the first contest he had ever even seen) he managed a creditable third place.

He totaled 630 pounds, which is excellent for a first contest.

D-Day For Ducks Is On Nov. 22nd

Duck hunting in New Jersey will re-open one-half hour before sunrise on Tuesday, Nov. 22, said Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Reports of excellent hunting during the first portion of the season were borne out by the second aerial survey of waterfowl populations, conducted by the Bureau of Wildlife Management Oct. 30, the day after the season closed.

Exceptionally high numbers of Canada geese and an abundance of brant were observed, providing hunting opportunities during the closed period for ducks.

The survey counted more than 380,000 waterfowl, an increase of better than 125,000 over the flight of Oct. 31, last year. This was about double the population observed two weeks earlier. Less than half the increase over last year was accounted for by the extension of the survey area to take in a sea duck habitat.

Scaup and pintails accounted for the largest increases outside of sea ducks. Scaup rose about 4,000 to more than 82,000, and pintails, rose 24,000 to more than 29,000. A bonus bag of two scaup or ringneck, four in possession are allowed after the season is open.

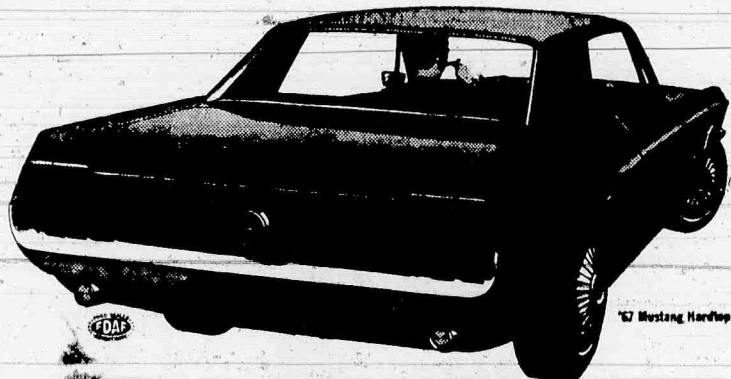

Canada geese more than doubled last year's estimate with more than 8,800 counted, and 4,000 ruddy ducks were double last year's figure. The only significant drops were in brant, down 13,000 leaving nearly 85,000 and in snow geese, down more than 6,200 to 29. Since snow geese are protected, the increase in game waterfowl is that much greater.

Estimates by species are as follows: scoter, 51,600; scaup, 82,900; black ducks, 59,655; green-winged teal, 35,000; pintails, 29,380; Bald pate, 9,525; mallards, 5,810; ruddy ducks, 4,000; shouellers, 3,055; buffheads, 2,940; coo 1,152; mergansers, 1,060; gadwall 1s, 500; blue-winged teal, 105; canvasbacks, 100; brant, 84,950; Canada geese, 8,815; snow geese, 25; swans, 10.

Ironically, he found himself lifting in the middle heavyweight class against none other than Phil Grippaldi and a former State Champion Henry Selzen. Like his idol, Grippaldi, Bonfante will make his mark in the world of weightlifting.

Young turkeys, called poult, can go without food or water for the first 24 to 72 hours of life. They are nourished by the yolk of the egg which they have absorbed before hatching.

What Have Our Residents Been Up To Lately? Here's A Pictorial Report

LAST QUARTER: Football Tom Testa, at right, gives John Pico (33) some last minute instruction during a tough game played by his top team of the year. It may be the final game of his career because Testa has announced plans to retire after the end of the season. He became the third coach to leave the staff this year. There was Track Coach Ronald Kulik, Baseball Coach Nick Petti, and now Testa.

MEDIC: Dr. Donald Brown, a familiar figure at all Belleville high school games, keeps close tab on the players. Here he takes a keen interest in the action on the field. Nearly always seen with a cigar clinched between his teeth, Dr. Brown has both the professional and personal acquaintances of the players. He's the team physician.

Italian American war veterans at the Robert Treat Hotel, in Newark. Raimo also marched in the Veterans Day Parade Friday evening on Washington Avenue.

HE'S ALWAYS THERE, said one player of William "Doc" Ellis, a trainer who keeps the Bellboys on their toes during the yearly football wars. "He'll tape you up as you get cut," said another. And during the bus ride to games away from Belleville he's continually running up and down the aisle checking on the players. Here he is surrounded by the hulking figures who depend on him for help.

YOUNG LEADER— Seventeen-year-old Elliott D. Moorman, leader of 350,000 American teen-agers as president of the YMCA National Hi-Y organization, was named "Newark of the Week" by the Prudential Insurance Company.

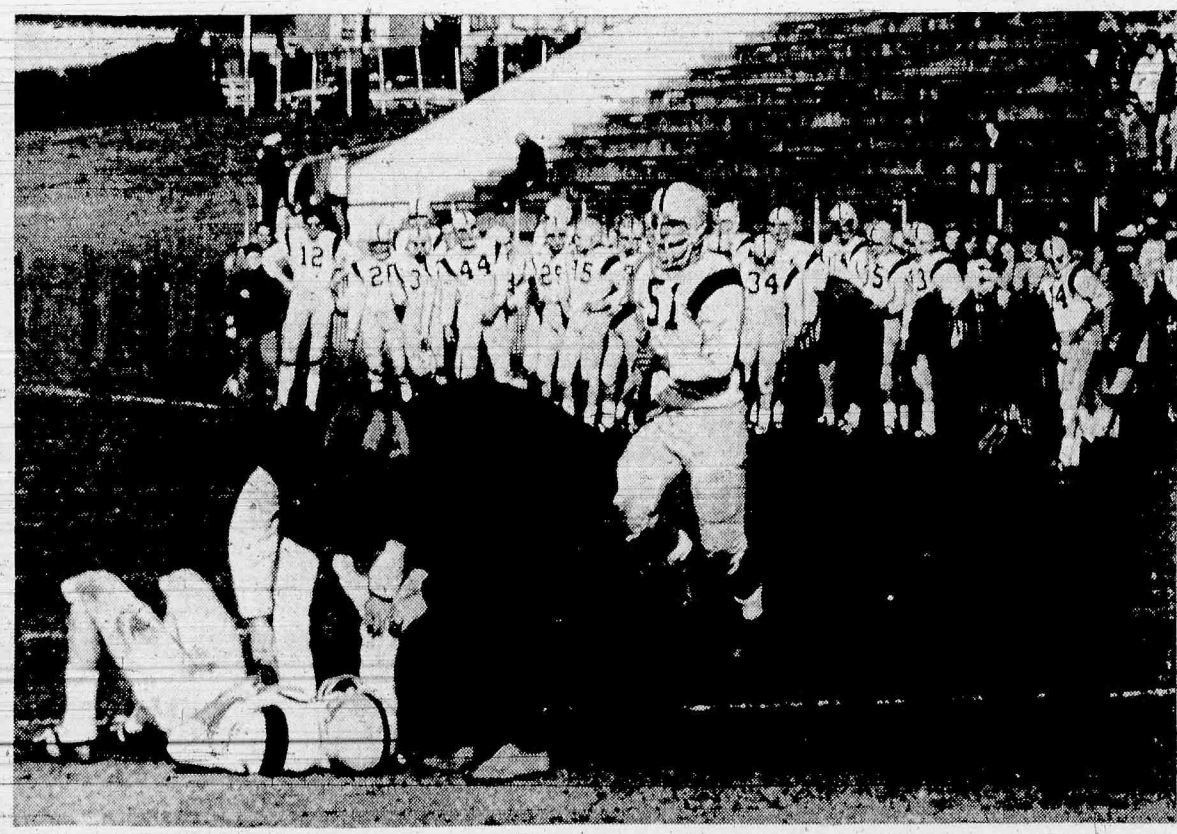

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR: Howard Fischer, president of the Belleville Jaycees welcomes National President Bill Suttle of Greensboro, N.C. to Belleville during a recent visit to Christian's Lounge here where the Jaycees held their meetings for the week. The Nutley Jaycees were host to the visiting official, who was given a rousing welcome by the membership. Jaycees from all over the state attended the dinner.

PARDON MY FINGERS: Quarterback Rich Del Guercio (11) was rather impolite to his guest Robert Troccoli (16) who played for the West Orange Cowboys Saturday afternoon at The Stadium. Here he gives the speedy backfield man five of the best while fending him off during a short plunge through center. It was the Bellboy's day, however, and they took home an 8-0 score for their efforts.

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT! That's Del Guercio lying on the ground after having the wind knocked out of him Saturday afternoon at The Stadium. Dr. Donald Brown in (brown suit) examines the big quarterback and pronounced him in good if slightly battered — shape. Also checking was William "Doc" Ellis team trainer and all-around good guy for the BHS squad. Del Guercio was downed as he tossed the TD pass to Mateyka. In background his teammates watch anxiously.

Consider The Traveling Student, Says School Planning Experts

In the selection of school sites, major consideration should be given to the safety of pupils riding school buses. That is the conclusion of a new booklet currently being issued by the State Department of Education as an aid to safe school planning.

"School Planning—Safe Transportation," produced by the Bureau of School Pupil Transportation, contains a set of recommendations resulting from an intensive study to determine the effects a school location can have on bus safety.

The study began last summer when accident statistics compiled by the bureau showed too many had been occurring near the school plant compared to those occurring on heavily trafficked roads.

A special committee, made up of architects, safety engineers, school planning experts, and members of the bureau, was formed to evaluate existing school locations from the standpoint of transportation safety.

The recommendations include: School bus traffic should be in a one-way counter clockwise flow to allow students to enter or exit on the school side.

A minimum of 30 foot wide paved road should be provided when the loading zone is off the main thoroughfare; 40 foot if on the main thoroughfare in front of the school.

Separation should be maintained between bus traffic and all other traffic entering the school grounds.

Roads should not be built that completely circle a school. This will avoid having students cross a thoroughfare to engage in an outside activity.

All loading and unloading areas should be within the school site.

The booklet, prepared under the direction of Orville G. Parrish, director of the state education department's transportation bureau, is being distributed to school board members, architects and school administrators.

Under his coaching, the Bell-broy harriers, led by Bob Bogli-one, had securely established Belleville High School as a track team to worry about.

Nick Petti also declined to give his reasons for ending a highly successful career on the Belleville High School staff, although he still teaches here. His team cried when he left.

After the school budget cut last year, the Board of Education declared sports was a good part of the curriculum, but not an academic subject, and therefore would reduce both coaching salaries and Athletic Department funds.

Wrestling also came in for some short change last year, and Coach James Sylvestri complained privately of a shortage of training equipment, including a mat.

The high school now has three coaches left. Track Coach Paul Szem, replacing Kulik after Coach Pat Forte had had the squad briefly; Mario Cocchiola, a scout for the football team; and Pat Forte, a line coach. Herman B. Wische, who is Director of Athletics, has had no comment on the depletion of his coaching staff.

The coaching staff losses will be emphasized next month by the testimonial dinner, whose chairman will be Mike Marotti, a Little League commissioner and friends of Testa's. Co-chairmen will be Frank Carragher and Pete Brindisi. Marion Malcolm, will be secretary-treasurer. John Marotti, assisted by Pa-

9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. From Monday, Nov. 28 through Saturday, Dec. 3 recording hours will be the same.

In the areas of the Oranges, Maplewood, Newark, Belleville and Bloomfield an appointment for a recording date can be arranged by contacting the Essex Chapter at 674-4074.

This year, for the first time, a group of patients from the East Orange Veterans Administration Hospital have volunteered to assist in making recordings at the Essex Chapter. They will be joined by another group of students from Seton Hall College.

The Voice From Home program was first undertaken in this area six years ago by the Oranges and Maplewood District. Last year, the West Essex District joined in. Requests for this unique Red Cross service have increased each year with the growing availability of standard tape recording equipment on military posts, ships and in service clubs where our men in uniform can hear the recorded messages.

Tricia Pugliese will handle the ticket sales. Mildred Pico, Nick Del Guercio, William Ellis, and Warren Ceres will handle ticket sales.

In charge of seating arrangements will be Anthony Caruso, chairman, Anthony Fantacone, Charles Marra. The program committee are Nick Del Guercio, Bob Pugliese, and John Pico. Guest speaker will be Clary Anderson, Montclair football coach.

The Realities Of International Life...

By Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr.

WASHINGTON — (Special to The Belleville Times) — Without question the most immediately serious problem facing this nation today is the war in Viet Nam. Obviously, there are no easy solutions or we would long since have found them. Just as obviously, there must be an ultimate solution, no matter how difficult it is to achieve.

The public dialogue over Viet Nam reflects this dilemma. From every point on the political spectrum comes a bewildering variety of criticism and support for our present policy, proposals for alternatives, reproaches and praises, a virtual torrent of speeches and statements.

Some of the bitterest criticism has centered on the United Nations and its failure to deal effectively with the war in Viet Nam.

And it is interesting that this criticism has come from the most ardent of both the believers and the non-believers in the United Nations.

The non-believers point to the UN's failure to settle the war in Viet Nam and say: "See, I told you the UN was useless."

The believers point to the past successes of the UN in putting out the flames of international conflict and say: "I can't understand why the UN doesn't do something this time."

And, frequently, they add a corollary: "The fault must be ours. We are not making a sincere attempt to use the UN to settle the war in Viet Nam."

And, sometimes both say: "The UN's days are numbered."

Both are ignoring the realities.

The UN is not a world government. It is an assemblage of sovereign powers who use the UN as a meeting place and an instrument for the accomplishment of common goals.

Moreover, the major powers have an overwhelming influence on the course the UN will take in any given crisis because of the power given to the Security Council.

The whole history of the UN demonstrates that where there is a major clash of interests between the great powers, the UN will be ineffective. And where the interests of the great powers coincide the UN can act effectively.

For example, a major war in Cyprus or the Congo would not have been in the interests of either the United States or Russia, and the UN was able to smother the flames of conflict.

The tragic war in Viet Nam is an example of a clash of interests between the great powers which leaves the UN helpless.

Despite this hard reality, President Johnson has repeatedly tried to utilize the UN to achieve a just and lasting settlement of the conflict in Viet Nam.

We have kept in complete touch with U Thant and fully supported his attempts to achieve peaceful negotiations.

But we have not been successful because of the adamant refusal of Moscow, Hanoi, or Peking to join us in this attempt.

In 1964, after the Gulf of Tonkin incident, the United States asked the Security Council to consider the issue. At the suggestion of Russia, to which we agreed, Hanoi and Peking were asked to send representatives of the Security Council.

Hanoi refused, saying that the UN had no jurisdiction. Peking went further and denied that the UN had any jurisdiction at all over the Indo-China crisis.

Throughout 1965, the United States repeatedly attempted to bring Viet Nam before the Security Council. We were always told that China and North Viet Nam would refuse to admit UN jurisdiction and that, therefore, the Russians would veto any action taken by the Security Council.

But to deduce from the UN's inability to act effectively at this time in this situation that its days are numbered is to ignore what the organization has accomplished and what it can accomplish, both in keeping the peace and in other aspects of international life.

We sometimes forget the quiet, steady progress, removed from the glare of headlines, made by the Food and Agriculture Organizations, the World Health Organization, the World Bank and the International Development Agency.

All these are UN agencies and they have set a pattern and a precedent for world-wide cooperation among nations on a scale never before attempted.

Moreover, the day of settlement in Viet Nam inevitably will come. Almost certainly, it will come at the conference table rather than on the battlefield, although no one can say what means, military or otherwise, will be required to convince Hanoi, Peking, and Moscow that they have more to gain by talking than by fighting.

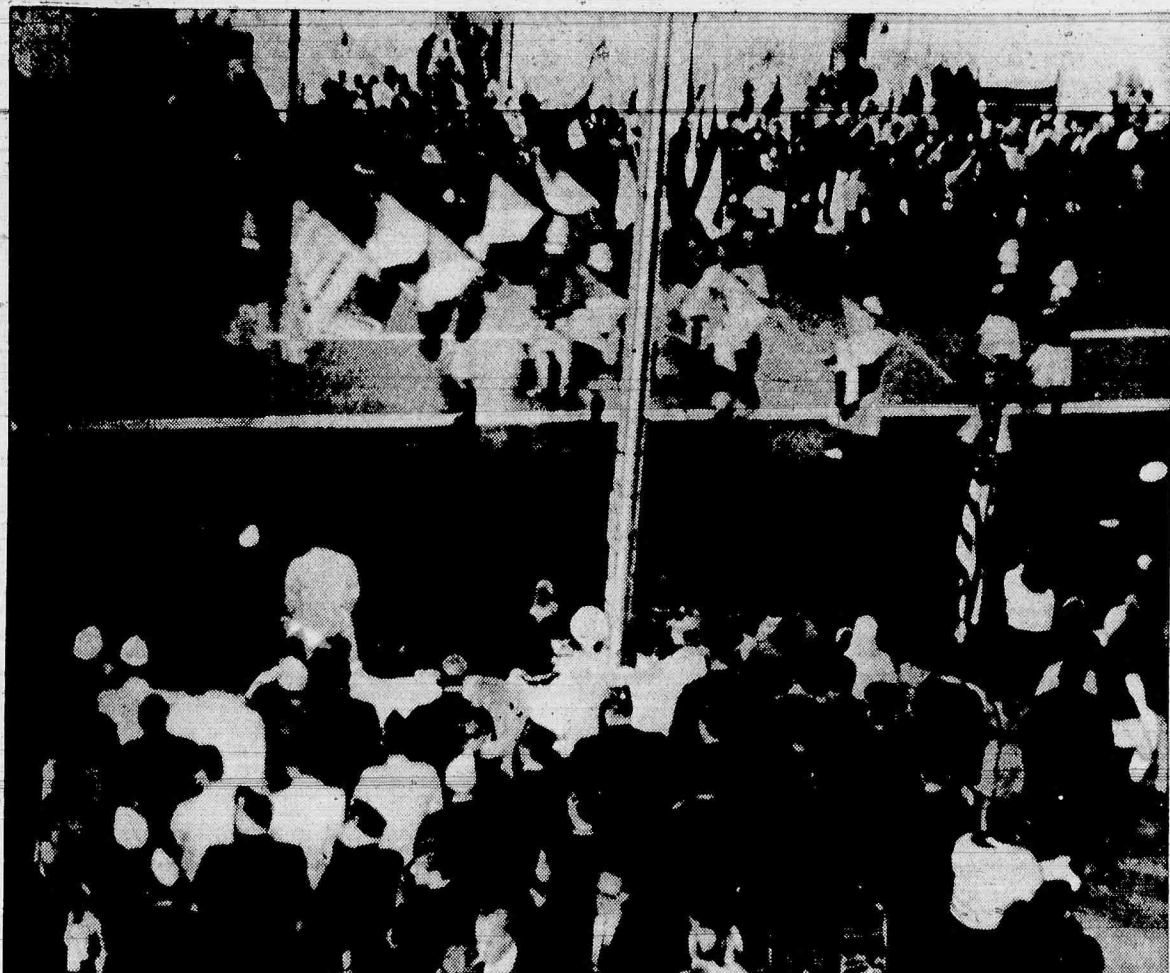

And that conference will probably be under the aegis of the United Nations.

John Peslak Has Top School Grade

Belleville student John Peslak Jr. is one of 26 students at the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology to be honored for his outstanding academic record at a special luncheon Wednesday, Nov. 16, on the Socorro campus, sponsored by the faculty.

Peslak, who has maintained a scholastic average of 3.76 on a 4.0 scale, is a senior chemistry major at the Institute and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peslak, 43 Chestnut St.

The luncheon is part of the annual program at New Mexico Tech for recognizing outstanding academic accomplishments among the undergraduate students. All students being honored have maintained accumulative averages of 3.25 or higher and have completed two or more semesters at the Institute.

A FULL HOUSE watched the Veterans Day Parade last Friday night on Washington Avenue, and here a unit of twirlers march past the reviewing stand on which stood Mayor Nuncio

R. Pico, Mrs. Thomas F. McCool, Councilmen William H. Cullen, Ralph A. Casale, Robert E. Westpy and other honored guests.

A LARGE CROWD, which police said was one of the largest in recent years, crowded the sidewalks and doorways to watch the Veterans Day Parade, which was managed by the Belleville Veterans Council under the direction of Joseph Fornarotto. In background is a large sign proclaiming all last week as Veterans Week.

Chamber of Commerce Lays Plans For Very Busy Christmas Season

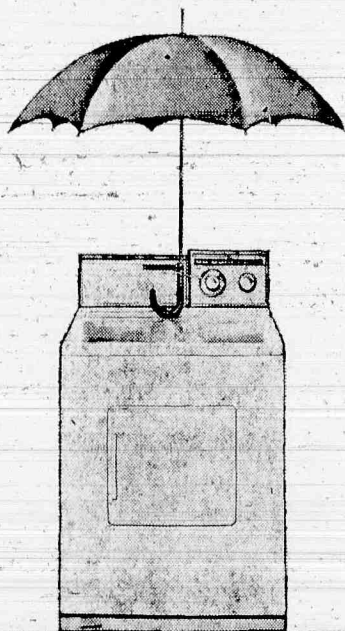

Members of the Chamber of Commerce here congratulated the Veterans Council on the success of their annual Veterans Day Parade held Friday night on Washington Avenue, and at the same time thanks the veterans for asking Little Miss Belleville to take part in the event.

"It is important," said Harry French, executive secretary of the Chamber, "that we hold these parades every year to remind all of us of the sacrifices that have been made by servicemen in order that we may live in this grand country and enjoy the peace and freedom that is ours."

The Chamber also announced plans for Santa's visit here Nov. 25 at Clearman Field. He will arrive via helicopter at 2:30 p.m. Friday where he will be met by Mayor Nuncio R. Pico and members of the Town Council, who will escort him to Town Hall for his official Greeting.

Members of the Essex County Board of Supervisors, including Peter Rodino and Clifford Cace, are seen in the courtroom during the trial of Robert Corsi. Also present are Town Clerk John J. Burrieta and Eugene Barnett, Town Clerk who handled the election. Also putting in some long hours were his two assistants Mrs. Joan Montalbano and Mrs. Maureen Gilbert. For over 16 hours they parried questions with inquisitive voters.

Robert Corsi Found Guilty During Narcotics Trial In Nutley Court

Dzens of legal technicalities and being under the influence of DeLitta and Dr. Gaydos, marks made on the capsules," Corsi was found guilty of two counts of possession of a narcotic drug. The trial, which began in Criminal Court recently in Nutley, last Wednesday, was a 23-year-old Belleville man was convicted of two narcotic charges.

But before Robert Corsi, 63, of 1000 W. 10th Ave., Belleville, begins a year's sentence or pays a $100 fine, his attorney will have the case reheard on appeal before the Essex County Courts.

Corsi's lawyer is Angelo Bianci of Newark, a sharp defense attorney who feels the Belleville man should be treated for his addiction rather than serving time in a penitentiary.

Bianci said Corsi voluntarily admitted himself to the Mount Carmel-Guild Rehabilitation Center in Paterson where he is currently undergoing treatment.

A Drug Charge Corsi, however, has a poor reputation with law enforcement agencies. The Belleville resident was arrested by Patrolman Robert De Litta, June 6 on charges of possessing barbituates.

I then asked whether it was possible that Corsi may have had pinpointed eyes a few hours before the trial, and was, when you saw him, coming out from being under a narcotic drug?"

Dr. Gaydos answered affirmatively.

Bianci wanted to know about the muscular coordination test. (Dr. Gaydos had testified that Corsi was unable to touch his finger to his nose).

Tests Administered

"Do all individuals not under the influence of alcohol or barbiturates possess the ability of touching their fingers to their nose?" Bianci asked.

"Yes, unless they suffer from some other neurological disturbance," Dr. Gaydos replied.

"And how do you know whether Mr. Corsi was not suffering from some other neurological disturbance?" Bianci snapped back.

Town Prosecutor Citrino announced the state's case was ended. Bianci said he would present no defense. All Bianci's questioning had been done under cross-examination.

Bianci, however, did submit a formal motion to have the two charges against Corsi dropped on the grounds that the state did not prove him guilty and a Corsi, asking for a conviction, noted that the state had produced the only expert witness—Dr. Gaydos—and said the defense had produced no one.

Remark prompted Bianci to say up from his chair. "I respect," he submit, Your Honor, that the state is a Communist state as I believe the prosecutor believes and respectfully submits that in the United States of America the burden of proof is upon the state to prove a man guilty. The defendant does not have to prove his innocence."

Joerg then reviewed the testimony, found Corsi guilty of both charges and agreed to hold the year's sentence and $100 fine in abeyance until Bianci appeals the conviction to a higher court.

The Essex County Courts should schedule a hearing date shortly, the Nutley officials were told.

Carnegie Hall Presents Two Boston Symphony Programs

Carnegie Hall is presenting two performances of the Boston Symphony Orchestra on Nov. 17 and 19, both under conductor and music director Erich Leinsdorf. For the Nov. 17 concert, on the International Festival of Visiting Orchestras, Leinsdorf has invited Richard Burgin, retired concertmaster and associate conductor, to share the conducting with him. Burgin will be heard as soloist and also conduct Bach's Violin Concerto No. 1 in A Minor. The Israeli pianist Bracha Eden and Alexander Tamir will perform the Bartok Concerto for two Pianos, Percussion and Orchestra with Leinsdorf and the concert will conclude with the Beethoven Symphony No. 7. The New York premiere of an Elliot Carter piano concerto has been postponed.

Industrial Tools Used To Teach The Children

The tools and materials of industry will be used to teach New Jersey elementary school students concepts in the arts and sciences under a pilot program being sponsored by the New Jersey State Department of Education.

The program, which is being financed by a Ford Foundation grant of $166,000, is the first of its kind in the nation. Announcement of the program was made today jointly by the Ford Foundation and the State Department of Education.

Industrial problems and projects will be used to show students how academic subjects are used in the adult world. It will also introduce children, from kindergarten up, to technical concepts such as design, instrumentation, the uses of tools and properties of materials.

Practical Teaching

"The program will show children the relationship between academic subjects and industrial problems and processes," said Dr. Joseph E. Clayton, acting commissioner of education. "Thus in building a sun dial the students necessarily learn to use certain mathematical concepts," he noted.

Also, practical experiments with electricity, refrigeration, paper-making and printing will be used to teach a variety of concepts. And students will build products ranging from jump ropes to a full-size, sail powered "land yacht."

Dr. Robert M. Worthington, assistant state commissioner of education for vocational education, said the program represented the first attempt by a state department of education to initiate systematic introduction of vocational school onward, as an integral part of general education.

Illumination

"The techniques are 'vocational' only in the sense that learning to read and write are vocational in preparing for a literary career," says Dr. Elizabeth Hunt, director of the program. "The emphasis is on the way a product or experiment can illuminate and help children approach words, numbers, and concepts."

To the extent they also learn how these are used in the world today, it is a natural preparation for life in a technical society.

Technical activities will be integrated with lesson content in the program. Classroom teachers will follow the curricula established for their schools although a part of evaluating the program will be to determine whether the new activities reveal ways curriculum can be improved.

Nine Schools

On the assumption that children of all ability levels can profit from technical activities, the program will be offered to a diverse student population.

Nine New Jersey schools will participate. These include Cooper's Point, Camden; Helen L. Beeler School, Marlton; Parkway School, Morristown; Pinewald School, Burlington; Hopewell Township School; Bridgeton; Edgewater Park Elementary School, Beverly; Central Elementary School, Haddonfield; Cleveland St. Township High School, Trenton.

Fourteen teachers in these schools, plus eight more in participating schools throughout the state, represent the alumni of a 1966 Summer Institute of Technology for Children, held by the state education department, in cooperation with Trenton and Glassboro State Colleges. The institute conducted demonstration classes for children from throughout the state. Teachers observed the demonstrations, and received training in the use of a variety of projects.

Tools Provided

"Many of them," says Miss Hunt, "had never held a saw in their hands before — one reason these teaching techniques have been so little used in the classroom."

Tools, equipment, materials, and administrative staff for the program are being provided by the State Department of Education. Foundation funds will support additional staff to coordinate and supervise the program, and specialists in subject matter and industrial arts, to provide expert assistance as teachers evolve activities with children, for a two-year period.

Funds will also help support a second summer institute in 1967, expanded to train sixty to seventy additional classroom teachers in the program. Ultimate aim is to make the program if successful, a permanent part of statewide educational programs.

number of vacancies for the spring semester. Therefore, I urge all prospective students to file their applications as early as possible," Mr. Lynes said.

All applicants must be high school graduates and are requested to submit College board scores. Mr. Lynes said:

Small Game Season Now In Progress Here

New Jersey sportsmen are urged to practice safe and courteous hunting habits during the small game season now in progress throughout the year, by the Division of Fish and Game in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Hunters who are privileged to use private land should respect it as they would their own property. Fish and Game Director Lester G. MacNamara said, "Not only is such respect simple, common courtesy, but it also helps insure continued opportunities to hunt this land."

Schools Encouraging More Students To Hunt Animals

Jersey schools are encouraging healthy contacts with the outdoors by allowing students one day off during the approaching deer hunting season, Dec. 5-10. The State Fish and Game Council is urging school administrators to adopt this practice, said Councilman Fred Space, feels, "The experience in sportsmanship and conservation achieved while hunting and being in the outdoors are a valuable part of a student's education."

Most school systems insist that a youngster present parental permission and a valid hunting license. Some schools limit the privilege to the first day of the season, while others leave the choice with the youths' parents.

Councilman Space noted that the practice is more common with schools in rural areas of the State. He believes, however, that the experience could be especially rewarding for urban youngsters who have less frequent contact with the woods and fields.

The chief proponent of this idea, Mr. Space is one of the former representatives on the non-salaried Council, although he has the unanimous backing of sportsmen and commercial fishing representatives. He and his father operate a large dairy and milk farm in Bernersville, Sussex County.

The Space farm is noted for its display of wild animals, including some unusual specimens, and for the conservation practices followed. Mr. Space gained considerable notoriety this summer when he successfully revived an Elk with a mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

His interest in hunting has taken him to Africa and all over North America. Among his many trophies, he is especially proud of a white-tail deer he bagged in Sussex County which made the Boone and Crockett listing in the mid 1950's. His exploits also include some outstanding wildlife specimens "shot" with a camera.

In urging schools to excuse students to enjoy hunting, he concluded, "In years past, hunting has been a natural heritage in America; today, with changing times, every opportunity should be given to our youth to experience this valuable recreation."

For more specific information about this special cash benefit, contact the Social Security office, and ask for pamphlet OASI-1966-1. Other information and literature about social security benefits and Medicare coverage is available through the Social Security District Office.

The Newark Office is at 1016 Broad Street and the telephone number is 645-2180. It is open until 9 P.M. on Wednesday evenings.

Social Security Law Change OK's Special Benefits

A change made in the Social Security law in 1966, said William J. Arnold, Newark Social Security District Manager, provides for a special social security benefit that may be paid men and women 72 or older who could not qualify for benefits under the old law.

This benefit is effective with October 1966 for those who are 72 or older that month. Persons reaching 72 after October can begin to receive payments with the month in which they become 72.

Benefits for a single man or woman are $35.00 a month. If a married man and his wife both qualify for this special benefit, the man may receive $35.00 a month and his wife may receive $17.50 a month.

Certain requirements must be met for a person to qualify for this payment. He must either be an American citizen or an alien who was admitted to the United States for permanent residence and has lived in the United States continuously for five years. He must be living in one of the 50 States or the District of Columbia to receive the payment.

Entitlement or potential entitlement to a periodic government benefit by a person or his spouse may affect the payment of this special benefit, Arnold added.

For more specific information about this special cash benefit, contact the Social Security office, and ask for pamphlet OASI-1966-1. Other information and literature about social security benefits and Medicare coverage is available through the Social Security District Office.

The Newark Office is at 1016 Broad Street and the telephone number is 645-2180. It is open until 9 P.M. on Wednesday evenings.

"Won't you please help me take care of my boys? If you have much, send much. If you have little, send little."

Regardless of what you send, it will be greatly appreciated by all of us at Boystown. It is only through friends like you that I can continue to provide for the boys here now, and the thousands yet to come. Please don't let us down." The yearly operational expense for running Boystown is approximately $300,000.

Former Newsman Is Thanksgiving Day Speaker

The Rev. Richard Lee Peterman, pastor of Saint John's Lutheran Church in Summit, will be the guest speaker at Upsala College's Thanksgiving service on Tuesday, Nov. 22 at 8 p.m. The service will be held in Christ Chapel on the East Orange campus. Rev. Peterman's topic is "A Materialistic God."

After ten years as a newspaper man, the pastor entered the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia, graduating in 1953. His first parish was in Bucks County, Pa. and from 1956 to 1961 he served as secretary for stewardship in the Illinois Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America.

When the Lutheran Church in America was formed in 1963, Rev. Peterman was named secretary for interpretation of the Board of World Missions. He has appeared on NBC's television series "Frontiers of Faith", has written two textbooks and contributed to several Lutheran publications.

The public is invited to attend this Thanksgiving event at Upsala College.

Friends To Honor 'Marty' Veneri

A Testimonial Dinner in honor of Maurice 'Marty' Veneri is being sponsored by friends of Local 426 IUE and IUE District 3.

The Dinner will be held Saturday evening, Nov. 26 at 7 p.m. at the Fountain 40 Watessing Ave.

His friends are honoring him for his 25 years of service in the Labor Movement and his participation in civil affairs, and for his political and religious activities.

Honoring Marty that evening will be leaders in the field of Government, Labor and Education.

Tickets are still available through Charles Antriola at 759-2000 or by writing to him at the Belleville Cab Co., 100 Washington Avenue.

Domestic turkeys now raised in the United States came from Wild American ancestors, but only after they had been taken to Europe and then reintroduced by early New England settlers. Time, crossbreeding and science have considerably changed turkeys. Today's bird is a far cry from the wild turkey who gobbled in Aztec dooryards.

'Lost' Titian Masterpiece On Display At Bamberger's

A Titian masterpiece that was believed lost for centuries has made its way to these shores through the efforts of its discoverer and present owner, Louis Venturi of Newark, New Jersey. The painting is currently on exhibition in Bamberger's Newark's Gallery of the Masters, on loan to the store by Venturi, who is an operatic tenor and ardent collector of fine arts.

The painting was done in Titian's early period, and is executed on a thick wood panel. Titled "Circumcision of Christ," the work clearly reflects Titian's youthful training under the influence of the Bellinis and Giorgione. It is the only Titian in this country that is owned by a private collector—the twelve Titians in the United States are all in museums—and the Bamberger presentation marks its first public viewing.

"Circumcision of Christ" was originally commissioned for the Austrian Museum early in the 16th century. Later, it fell into the hands of the royal family of France, and, through the manipulations of wars and politics, appeared to be lost to the world.

For 200 years it was assumed that "the lost Titian" had been destroyed in some way by dynastic corruption. However, in 1960 it was re-discovered within the medieval walls of an ancient village in France. From this hiding place, it was brought to Italy, and safely stored in a villa in Montagnana. Art experts in Padua cleaned and restored the painting, and authenticated the painting through modern x-ray techniques.

Tiziano Vecellio's early career reached its highpoint in 1516, when he was appointed court painter to the Place of the Doges. All Venice lay at his feet, and he was fondly known as "Titian."

From this time, his brush poured a lavish legacy of mythic and religious works, as represented by "Circumcision of Christ."

The grandeur and conceptual opulence of his composition is balanced by his poetry as a colorist. His devotion to music is of special significance, since he is so frequently accorded "the most musical of painters," the most "symphonic."

In his middle years, Titian produced the line of portraits associated with his photographic, dimensional style. In his eighties, bereft of family and the ebullient life-style he loved, he turned to the epic religious scenes once again, and began to create the incomparable Venuses identified with his name.

This astonishing master lived 99 prolific years, from 1477 to 1576, and painted to the very close of his life's final chapter. Gallery of the Masters, located on the fifth floor of Bamberger's Newark store, will remain open to the public through December 24th.

Dr. Bucco Reads Story Synopsis During Meeting

Dr. Martin Bucco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bucco of 63 Preston Street, recently read a paper—"The Serialized Novels of Sinclair Lewis"—at the twentieth annual meeting of the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association in Salt Lake City.

Dr. Bucco, an assistant professor of English at Colorado State University, is also a member of the Graduate Committee, the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee, and the Executive Committee of his department. Recently he was appointed an editor of the scholarly journal Western American Literature and was selected to appear in the next edition of Who's Who in Colorado.

A graduate of Belleville High School in 1948, Dr. Bucco was active in student government, athletics, and literary activities. He has attended a number of universities and has published poetry, stories, and criticism in many periodicals and several books.

UCF Campaign Is 86 Per Cent Closer To Goal

The Belleville Residential Division of the United Community Fund now reports 86 per cent of its goal for this year, announced Mrs. David Landau, chairman, at a report meeting held on Nov. 3 at the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark.

Arch Blickenstaff, General Chairman of the campaign, received reports from all other divisions at the meeting which brings the total raised to date to $2,730,628, or 70 per cent of the goal for this year.

Highest percentages of quotas, in addition to Belleville residential, were reported at the meeting as Major gifts, 77 per cent; employee and executives, 76 per cent; city employees, 83 per cent; government employees, 71 per cent. Reports showed the campaign running approximately $10,000 ahead of this date last year, president, Department of Social Welfare of the Greater Newark. Other speakers at the meeting were Rev. J. Sanford Lonsinger, Council of Churches; and Monroe Plaster, president, Occupational Center of Essex County; Leon Marantz, President, Prospect House. They represented three of the six new member agencies of the United Community Fund.

The drive will continue until Nov. 17, and a final report meeting will be held on that date at the Robert Treat Hotel.

Small Business Workshop Ready For November 29

How to start and manage a small business of your own will be the subject of a one-day Workshop to be presented by the U.S. Small Business Administration. The Workshop for Prospective Business Owners will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 29, at Room 102 of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, Gibraltar Building, First Floor, 212 Washington St., Newark.

According to Andrew P. Lynch, Regional Director of SBA's Newark Regional Office, the Workshop will be comprised of sessions of three major subjects—financial, legal and management. Each session will be led by a specialist, and the Workshop will start at 9:30 a.m. There is no charge to participants.

"The failure rate among new business is quite high," Mr. Lynch said today, "and the main purpose of the Workshop is to alert potential small businesses to the pitfalls of going into business." Discussion leaders stress the importance of obtaining prior information in the fields of finance, law and management are emphasized.

SBA specialists will provide the participants with many such sources of advice and assistance.

Registration for this one-day Workshop may be made by calling the SBA Office at 10 Commerce Court, Newark, or telephone 645-2434.

Post Thanksgiving

Something for children to do on the day after Thanksgiving will be provided by the Newark Museum, 49 Washington St., in special Junior Museum activities and Planetarium performances. On as a accommodation for children on vacation, the Museum will open at 10 a.m. and close at 5:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Public Planetarium performances for children ages seven and over will be given at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. The Junior Museum has scheduled a variety of special activities for children ages 5 and over, to be repeated throughout the day.

New Jersey Board Considering Regionalization of School Districts

New Jersey's Acting Commissioner of Education, Dr. Joseph E. Clayton, today named 19 members to a special committee to study regionalization of school districts in the state.

The committee membership was approved by the State Board of Education at its regular meeting. The Board had authorized the formation of the committee at its October meeting.

The membership is made up of school business officials, school superintendents, county superintendents and members of local boards of education.

In announcing the members, Dr. Clayton noted, "We tried to make the selections from various areas of the state, and various-sized schools in order to gain a broad representation of educational experience."

The study is being launched to find out if greater regionalization could help improve education in New Jersey. Some of the advantages provided by regionalization are more special services, broader educational programs and better vocational training beginning in the upper elementary grades. The study committee will work independently and its report is expected to cite both advantages and disadvantages of school district regionalization.

N.J. Health Commissioner Urges Residents Not to Burn Fall Leaves

"People who burn leaves this fall will be doing themselves, their friends, neighbors, and relatives a disfavor," Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle, State commissioner of health, said today.

"It is probable that there is scarcely a neighborhood in New Jersey that doesn't have at least one person who suffers from some sort of an allergic or respiratory ailment, and smoke from burning leaves certainly won't help such people," he said.

"All of us in New Jersey should have the consideration to think of the person who lives down the block. He or she may have asthma, bronchial disorders, emphysema, or other diseases of the respiratory system, and may suffer at least irritation or even specific physical damage from this form of air pollution.

"The burning of leaves releases into the air quantities of aldehydes, of which formaldehyde is the most common, acids, fine particles of ash, and some tars. Leaf burning can generate a haze which hovers over a very large area, sometimes over most of the state. It can affect thousands of persons adversely and can reduce visibility. It ought not to be done," Dr. Kandle said. He pointed out that asthmatic children, as reported by the New Jersey Society of Allergists, are often severely affected.

American Hardware, 155 Franklin Avenue, Nutley, has the unique reputation of "if it isn't at American, it isn't in Nutley". Maintaining complete inventories of plumbing & electrical supplies along with an abundance of hardware and power tools makes it a one stop visit for customers. Sales clerks who are specialists in all home repairs also ease the burden. Owned and managed by Joseph Hopmayer, the business is now situated in its new building, pictured above. The new building is twice the size of the old structure which was located across the street. At American you'll find plenty of free parking outside and lots of "browse-ability" inside.

Starting his fifth year in business, George Drewes started by working with boys in his basement for therapy — 11 yrs. ago, teaching model plane building, flying, having a club and running contests. The Drewes family operate their store at 285 Franklin Ave., Nutley. If you need any help on — how to do or where to get something — they will help you. Drewes has things to do for the family from kindergarten to senior citizens at discount prices which consists of — hobby supplies — balsa wood — pants and accessories chemistry — science — trains — planes — model motoring — school projects — arts — crafts — mosaic stone art — paint by number — sports — fishing — camping — archery — skating — etc. There is competition road racing every Wednesday night for prizes, model car contests quarterly for trophies. The work of each contestant is displayed to the public. There are also monster and weirdo contests with the same advantages. Free instructions are given and merchandise is tested and checked when purchased. The success of their business is based on — personal service — satisfaction — savings — your recommendations and that — "at home" atmosphere.

Job-Training Sessions Planned For Unemployed

Four training opportunities for unemployed or under-employed adults and young people in the Essex County area are scheduled to begin next month at the Newark Manpower Training Skills Center, 187 Broadway, announced Edward J. Hall, director of the State Division of Employment Security.

The federally-financed program is aimed to equip wage earners with skills that are needed and will continue to be needed by businesses and industries.

The first course, 29 weeks of instruction to train bakers, will begin on Monday, Nov. 7, and will be open to 13 students.

Two of the courses, on for cooks and the other for upholsterers will begin on Monday, 21, with the former in session for 29 weeks and the latter for 31. The cooks' course will be limited to 18 trainees and the upholsterers' to 20.

The final course, 27 weeks of training for shoe repairmen, will begin on Monday, Nov. 28 and will be limited to 20 trainees. Classes for all courses will be held five days a week, from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and instruction in basic educational fundamentals will be given to those needing it.

Trainees are being interviewed and selected by the Newark Youth Opportunity Center of the State Employment Service, 1004 Broad St., but further information about the training opportunities can be obtained at any state employment office. All offices will help graduates get permanent jobs.

The federal appropriation, Hall said, includes weekly cost-of-living allowances for eligible trainees. These range from $20 for young people up to $70 for heads of families.

Flutist, Pianist Plan Performance

Paige Brook, flutist and Isadore Freeman, pianist, performed at the Montclair Art Museum Nov. 13 in the second concert of the museum's fall series of free Sunday afternoon concerts.

Brook is assistant first flutist of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and has been soloist with the Rochester and Buffalo Orchestras.

Freeman has performed extensively in chamber music concerts. Their program will include Sonata VI in E major by Bach, Cantabile Presto, by Enesco, Suite for Flute and Piano by Vasilenko, a Sonata by Poulenc, and Sonata by Hindemith.

The concerts are open to the public. Children 12 years of age and over are welcome.

Turkeys were not named for the country of Turkey, Hernando Cortez in his conquest of Mexico, mistook the turkey for a peacock. When it was sent back to Spain, the Spaniards, who still connect the New World with India, called the bird "toca," the word for peacock in the Tamil language of India. This word was later converted to "tutki" and subsequently to "turkey."
