Community Group Elects Morgen New President

Dr. Grundfest Past Leader Steps Down

The Belleville Community Council has elected Richard B. Morgen, president of the five-year-old service organization.

Morgen replaces Dr. Jack Grundfest, who chaired the local civic council for three consecutive terms. Morgen officially took the president's seat at the council's fifth annual dinner meeting Monday night at the Galaxy Restaurant.

Dr. Grundfest received a plaque honoring him for his "dedicated service." Dr. Grundfest thanked the organization for its hearty cooperation and support.

Guest speaker at the dinner was C. Colburn Hardy, chairman of the Community Service Council of the Oranges and Maplewood. He spoke about "community councils as key to community progress."

Improve Town Image
An active Belleville Community Council will lessen internal tensions, bring together dissident elements, and help to improve the image of the town, Hardy said.

"By providing leadership in the solution of important problems in the health, welfare, and recreational fields, the council could become the heart of community progress," he said.

Hardy, who is vice president of the United Community Fund, said an effective community council brings together people who are concerned about their town, who care for their neighbors, and who are willing to devote the time, energy, and money to take action to make their community a better place in which to live and work.

Pointing out that Belleville formerly had a reputation for active community interest by industry and citizenry, Hardy said that the future progress of the town depended on reviving this tradition by enlisting support of individuals and groups by full and frequent presentation of the facts on genuine community problems and by developing informed leadership in other organizations which are in a position to take the needed action.

Citing the low welfare and juvenile delinquency rates and the high standard of health services, Hardy said that Belleville, statistically, has found services and

Scarcity of Sufficient Space Causes Municipal Struggle

Belleville holds the deed to almost three acres of land at the northwest corner of Mill Street and Franklin Avenue which may become the site for a public safety building and municipal garage.

The newly acquired acreage is a gift from the late Andrew Jergens, the manufacturer and philanthropist.

The acquisition is expected to spearhead plans for the rehabilitation of Town Hall and the construction of a public safety complex to include a building for two fire companies, the police department, and municipal court. The plan also calls for erection of a garage for recreation and shade tree equipment.

For close to three years the proposal was only the vision of far-sighted municipal officials. However, according to John R. Burnett, town manager, "The community has made its first important move by obtaining the parcel of land. Whatever step the town takes from here would appear to depend upon the desires of the new commission."

Negotiations Climaxed
Three years of negotiations were climaxed last December 27 at Mr. Jergens' estate in Cincinnati, Ohio, when the 85-year-old altruist signed over the three acres to Belleville. The deed was recorded on January 3, and a little more than a month later, Mr. Jergens died following an illness of several months.

To honor Mr. Jergens' generosity to the community, Burnett said he would prepare a resolution to be brought before the town council praising Mr. Jergens' civic-mindedness.

Mr. Jergens purchased property in Belleville in the late 1930's for a large manufacturing plant, which was constructed in 1942. Today it is one of the community's largest industries and biggest tax ratables.

Mr. Jergens set only one major stipulation before donating the choice northwest corner of Mill Street and Franklin Avenue to the town. He insisted that the tract be used exclusively for the construction of public buildings.

This provision fits well within the town's planning scheme for the property.

Petitioners Will Seek Candidacy

With more than two months remaining before the May 9 municipal election, the political arena is already active. Several persons have requested petitions to seek candidacy for the five commission vacancies.

Since the voter-approved commission form of government will officially replace the present Council-Manager Plan "D" of the Faulkner Act on July 9, residents will go to the polls May 9 to elect their commissioners.

Although no petitions have been filed yet with Eugene Barnett, Town Clerk, qualified sources predict a large number of candidates in the upcoming election. So far, several familiar political figures have picked up petitions. They include Councilman William Cullen, Vincent Strumolo, and Mayor Nuncio Pico.

Other potential candidates include James R. Golden, a former councilman; Kenneth D. Smith, a former commissioner during the old commission regime of 1954; Robert Laterza, a former mayor; Ralph A. Risoli, town registrar of vital statistics; and Joseph McGreevy, a lifelong resident who ran for the old commission in the 1950's.

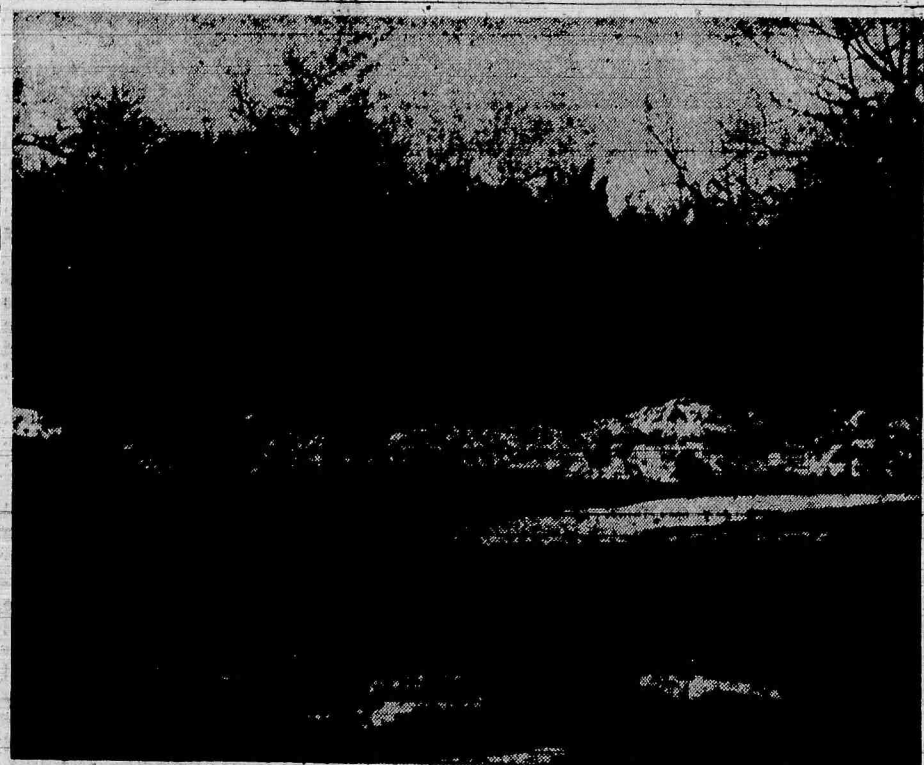

A new face on the political scene is Michael A. Salvato, who has been active in several Essex County campaigns.

The May 9 election will be held from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Petitions are available in the office of Eugene Barnett, town clerk. Deadline for nominating petitions has been set for March 30 at 4 p.m.

The decision to hold the election this spring was spearheaded by a resolution by Superior Court Judge James R. Giuliano, Essex County assignment judge, who upheld the contention of Barnett that an election for commissioners should be held on May 9 following the voter-approved January 31 referendum.

Giuliano disagreed with the Town Council majority which maintained that the election should not be held until May 1970.

Mayor Nuncio Pico said the decision would not be appealed.

SITE FOR PUBLIC SAFETY BUILDING — Now only a flat vacant lot, this parcel of land may become the home for a modern public safety structure. John R. Burnett, town manager, will recommend that the new commission place construction plans on the top of its agenda when that form of government takes over in July.

Cappy Barnett Loves His Job; Pleased Over Reappointment

Eugene (Cappy) Barnett, town clerk, was rather happy to have been reappointed for another year in that position.

He was happy for an excellent reason: "I love my job." Barnett makes no bones about the fact he likes his work and hopes to be able to serve the five continuous years in the position necessary in order to qualify for tenure. This will require another one-year appointment. Whether he is permitted to serve long enough for tenure is questionable since Barnett's career in Town Hall has been a political issue from time to time.

When the Town Council unanimously endorsed the resolution enabling Barnett to remain behind the clerk's desk for another year, Barnett had to breathe a quick sigh of relief. Councilman Robert E. Westpy was absent when the vote on the resolution was taken.

Entered Local Controversy
The town clerk entered a major local controversy recently when he contended, against the majority opinion of the council, that an election for commissioners should be held this May. That issue was resolved in Barnett's favor by Superior Court Judge James R. Giuliano, Essex County Assignment Judge.

Barnett has been seeking tenure in his job since he moved into it from a position in the license bureau in 1958 by an appointment of the then Mayor Isadore Padula.

He began working for the town 17 years ago as a water meter reader.

He lost a chance to gain tenure when the council-manager government replaced the commission system in 1962, and the then town manager, William Sommers was made clerk.

Recall Movement
After a recall movement in 1964, Barnett regained his job. Since then he has been appointed on a year-to-year basis. He must still get another one-year appointment in order to qualify for tenure.

Barnett is a member and past president of the Essex County Municipal Clerks and a member of the Municipal Clerks Association of N. J.

SHE GETS 1,884 VOTES!
Cynthia Corris is Little Miss Belleville

Little Miss Belleville 1967 has been elected. She is Cynthia Corris of 25 Lloyd Place.

Harry T. French, director of the local Chamber of Commerce, the organization which sponsored the Little Miss Belleville contest, said "two frenzied weeks of voting and three days of ballot counting ended this week with the selection of Cynthia" as the town's leading little lady.

Cynthia is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Corris. The young charmer received 1,884 votes.

In second place, Judy Donatiello of 18 Bridge Street, was selected. She drew 1,690 votes. Judy is daughter of Mrs. Ann Donatiello.

Kathleen Gino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gino, 71 Little Street, received 1,478 votes.

French said the chamber congratulates the winners and commends the untiring efforts of the parents, grandparents and friends who so faithfully worked for their candidates.

The winners will receive a trophy and other valuable awards. Cynthia will compete for the title of Little Miss Garden state in the children's parade in Atlantic City in June.

Several Washington Avenue merchants allowed their stores to serve as polling places for the election. They include Pariso mission form of government takes over in July.

Brothers Furniture, Tannen's Shoe Shop, Mary Dell Fashions, Andrew Thomas Men's Shop, Royal Shop-Rite, Jolly Drive-In Cleaners, Muscara School of Music, DeWitt Savings and Loan Association, Abbot's Drug Store, Kondreck Photo Studios, Pro-Hardware Glass Co., Allen Pontiac, and the Fountain Restaurant in Watessing Avenue.

Pictures of the award presentation will appear in next week's Times.

Nevertheless, the town manager's plan calls for a large public safety building to be occupied by the Williams Street and Franklin Avenue Fire Companies. The present firehouses would be converted into local recreation centers.

The police department and detective agency would be removed from the basement of Town Hall and would set up shop in roomier quarters. Municipal Court would also have its chambers in the proposed new structure.

EASE CONGESTION

Once these public safety agencies move out of Town Hall, the municipality could begin work to rehabilitate the building and could permit other congested offices in the building to spread out.

The health department, now located in a converted one family house, and the welfare department, presently in a rented store, would be able to move back into Town Hall.

Burnett's plan also calls for construction of a smaller structure—a municipal garage to be located adjacent to the proposed public safety unit. That garage would be used to store recreation and shade tree equipment.

The three acre tract, according to Burnett is flat. It would only need to be cleared to prepare it for the construction work.

Mr. Jergens was president of the Andrew Jergens Co., manufacturers and distributors of soaps and toilet preparations. He has been head of the firm since 1929, succeeding his father, a founder of the company.

During his 38 years as president, Mr. Jergens guided the concern from a small closely held soap and perfume manufacturer into a publicly owned company whose annual sales exceed $46 million and whose products are known around the world.

Born in Cincinnati in 1881, Mr. Jergens attended Miami Military Academy, Germantown, Ohio, and the Technical School of the University of Cincinnati. During summer he worked in the family business. Mr. Jergens began as an assistant chemist with the firm, and had worked in all phases of the business before taking over as president.

The continued growth of the company's business under Mr. Jergens' direction has resulted in the expansion of its manufacturing plants to six locations in the United States and Canada besides branch operations in England.

A man of democratic nature, Mr. Jergens was well liked by his employees.

the council "may find it worthwhile to devote its efforts to improving present programs to meet the changing population pressures."

Hardy, who is also a member of the steering committee of the East Orange Community Action Committee, said that community councils, as "spokesmen for private, volunteer agencies which are members of the United Community Fund should take the leadership in more effective relations between public and private agencies."

"Few people admire an ill-informed critic, but many people will support programs for the general good if they understand them. Just as the human heart gives blood to the body and love to fellow humans, so the council can be the heart of the community—in action as well as in spirit," Hardy concluded.

During the meeting, the council amended its by-laws to change the name of the organization. Originally called the Belleville Community Welfare Council, the group voted to delete the word "welfare." The suggestion was made by Mayor Nuncio Pico and was proposed at the meeting by T. Russell Sergeant.

The council is an outgrowth of the former United Fund of Belleville. It was organized in September of 1962. Alan H. Bernstein served as its first chairman at that time.

Other incorporators were John P. Bailey, Dr. Grundfest, Mrs. Roberta P. Hart, Mrs. Rosa P. King, and Sergeant.

Asian Dancers

At Local College

An Asian Dance Program will be presented at Upsala College in East Orange next Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. in Viking Memorial Hall.

Presented in conjunction with the Eastern District Conference of The New Jersey Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation to be held at Upsala on March 16, the dance program is open to the general public.

The group, which sponsors "The Asian Dance Program," is a non-profit organization and cultural organization seeking to promote appreciation of Asian civilization. One of the main projects undertaken by the group is the Asian Dance Program for educational institutions.

The dancers are of various nationalities and explain dance movements and patterns of the various Asian countries and their traditional dances in a national costume, accompanied by authentic music.

The troupe includes Wang Fang Hu, a Peking Opera dancer who appeared at the New York World's Fair, and Sazuki Hanayagi, who is one of Japan's best classical dancers. Sung Hae Oh, a Korean dancer who made her debut in New York City in 1965, and Shaila and Raja, two male dancers from India.

Patrolman Shoots Belleville Man Following Break-In at Lumber Co.

Not heeding a patrolman's warning to stop running, a breaking and entry suspect was shot in the lower back by a Belleville Police officer.

The suspect was one of two men who attempted to flee from the Channel Lumber Co., 1418 Franklin Street last week to escape police apprehension.

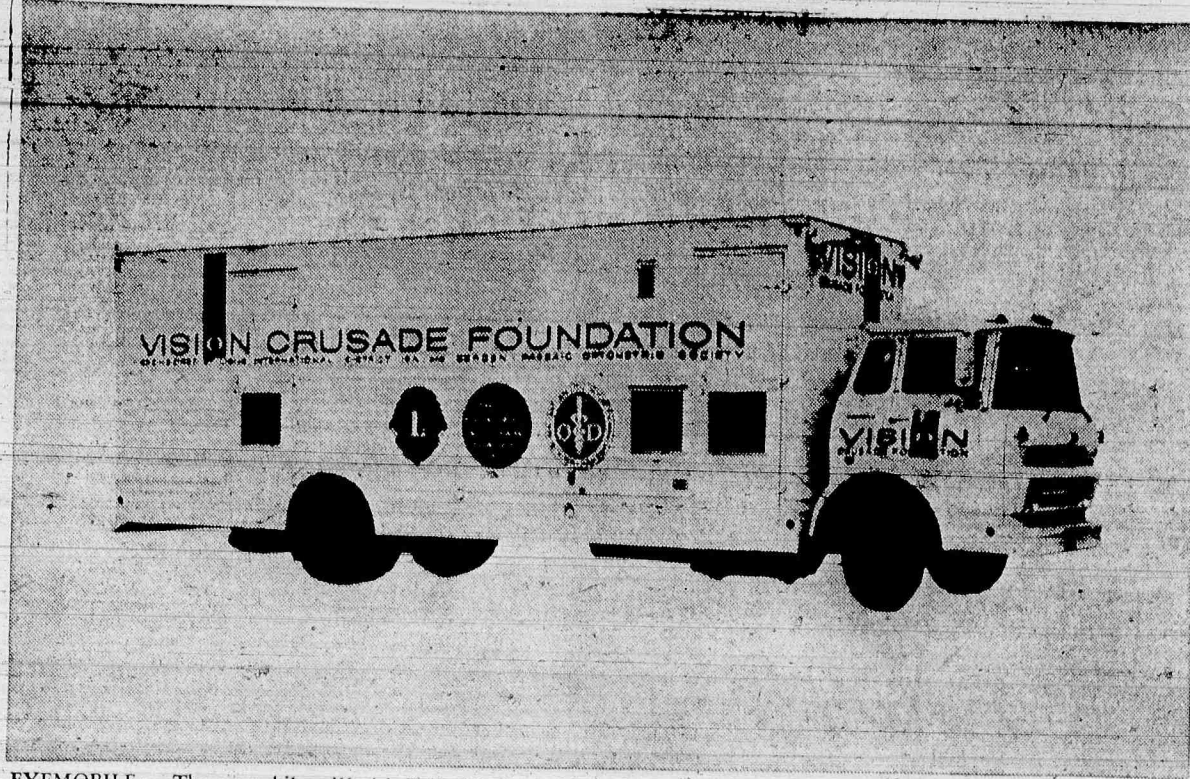

Apprehended was Charles Muccigrasso, 27, 22 Franklin Street, Belleville. He was taken to Clara Maass Hospital for treatment. Muccigrasso was released on $2,500 bail pending a preliminary hearing March 16. He is charged with breaking and entry. Captain Frank D. Haight of the detective bureau, said Patrolman Harry J. Sullivan and Daniel R. Valse were on routine duty when they discovered the rear door at Channel Lumber had been forced open.

The two officers covered both entrances to the building and then called for assistance.

When Patrolman Valse went to investigate the front door of the lumber company the suspects crashed through a plate glass window and tried to get away.

The policemen ordered the men to stop running, fired warning shots, and when the vandals continued to run, one of the men was shot in the lower back. The other escaped.

EYEMOBILE — The eyemobile will visit Belleville during the month of March and all citizens of the town are urged to get their eyes checked.

Eyemobile To Visit Town Have Your Eyes Checked

The Vision Crusade Foundation is a non-profit corporation, organized for charitable and scientific purposes. It has been chartered by the State of New Jersey in October 1965.

The eyemobile is a joint project sponsored by the optometric societies of Bergen, Passaic and Hudson Counties and the Lions Clubs of District 16A. Dr. S. E. Kaps, and Lion Neil Borelli, President and Vice President of VCF are putting the final touches to the schedule for 1967. Starting in March the vehicle will start to visit local Lions clubs with optometrists again staffing it from 7-9 P.M. Take five minutes to visit it when it is in your town, it might be the most worthwhile five minutes you have spent.

Over 10,000 adults and children have taken advantage of the free vision screening in the Vision Crusade Eyemobile in its first full year of operation according to Dr. A. F. Senaldi, Optometric Chief of Staff.

The information obtained from the tests is being fed into a computer system to enable the VCF to obtain further data concerning the vision of the people screened.

Dr. Senaldi reported 42 per cent failed the five minute screening and were referred to their own optometrist for a full examination. First year data also indicated the need for periodic eye examinations for motorists, as over 20 per cent of those with driver's licenses failed the distance vision test.

School 9 PTA To Hold Fair

School 9 PTA will hold its School Fair in the auditorium, Tuesday at 7 p.m.

There will be new and used toys on sale, books and records, a white elephant table, a grab bag, homemade cakes, cookies, cupcakes, brownies and candy, new and used jewelry, hand made novelties and articles and games to play. Refreshments will also be sold.

If anyone has any articles for which they have no further use the PTA would be happy to pick up these items.

"Here is a wonderful opportunity for everyone to clean out their attics and basements.

We would like to take this opportunity to invite everyone to our school fair and help us make it our best one ever, a PTA spokesman said.

Doctor-Author Speaks On Future of Medicine

Modern technology and its growing influence on medicine is making many of yesterday's treatment and diagnostic methods obsolete in line with new research and medical practice.

The way this affects today's doctors, many who are already hospital-based or on fee-for-service duty in various hospital departments, will be discussed by Dr. Alfred P. Ingegno in "Who'll Practice Where and How in the Years Ahead" when the Essex County Medical Society meets to night in the Hotel Suburban, East Orange at 9:00 P.M.

ABLEST Security System Provides Better Protection

A new telephone line security system provides, for the first time, absolute assurance of uninterrupted alarm transmission from protected premises. It was announced by Walter Kidde & Company of Belleville. The new system is called "ABLEST," an acronym for "Absolute Line Encoder for Secure Transmission."

Until now highly sophisticated burglary techniques could compromise a transmission line by substituting a dummy signal for the actual monitor signal. The intruders could then cut the line from the alarm without fear of detection. ABLEST is designed to counteract this activity.

According to Kidde, ABLEST generates three different frequencies or tone signals which are transmitted in a nearly infinite sequence, with 57 trillion combinations. At predetermined intervals the system "interrogates" the monitored premises, shifting the frequency of output. To insure total reliability, a random pulse is inserted in the sequence, making duplication impossible.

The entire system is incorporated into two small units. A receiver-interrogator is installed at the receiving station. A transmitter (transmitter-responder) is located at the protected premises.

The ABLEST system is designed for high security areas, such as government locations, banks, and fur, jewelry and other storage vaults.

How do you tell a drunk?

The man was acting strangely. You know what people thought. But the neighborhood pharmacist had a hunch, took a close look, gave the man sugar. Then he called a physician who found the man was in insulin shock. Too much insulin, not liquor. Without prompt treatment, he might have died. This story illustrates the potency of modern drugs. Before using powerful drugs you should see a physician and then follow directions to the letter when taking them. There's a happier moral. Without modern drugs, the diabetic in this story wouldn't have had a life to save.

A GOP Primary?

A few would-be Essex County Republican leaders are shedding crocodile tears over the possibility of two opposing Primary slates. The moaners are led by the Intile-Sarcone crowd who control the County Chairman's seat presently occupied by William Yeomans of Newark.

The Intile-Sarcone braintrusters are interested in two things as they continue to control the party machinery. They want to name three Freeholder candidates who will be up for election in November, and they want Newark's Robert Sarcone as the lone Italo-American on the Essex Senate GOP slate. The concentration on Sarcone is to advance his ambition to run for Governor in 1969.

The election of three GOP Freeholders this November will return the party to control of the courthouse which it lost ten years ago. Three Republicans were elected to the Freeholder board last November in the wake of U.S. Senator Clifford Case's unprecedented sweep.

Control of the courthouse will place in the hands of the Intile-Sarcone crowd millions of dollars of county patronage, an important item in Intile's plans for Sarcone in 1969.

Several reports indicate promises are being made by the Intile-Sarcone group in the name of Yeomans for practically all the important vacancies to be voted upon in November.

Anthony Scala of Livingston will be on the Intile-Sarcone ticket. Originally tapped for a state senate seat Scala will have to settle for a Freeholder berth with the promise he will be selected as Board Director if the GOP is successful. Former Congressman Robert Kean's son, Tom is being touted as a senate candidate, with no claim to fame except his inheritance of a good family name and a lot of dough to back it up. And the list goes on and on.

Meanwhile the Intile-Sarcone braintrust permits naive suburban GOP leaders to believe they will do the ticket picking when all the while the key posts already have been promised to their cohorts.

The only means available to purge the party of the Newark-based shenanigans, short of a resignation by County Chairman Yeomans is an open Primary contest with Republicans for party integrity opposing the ticket wheeled and dealt by the party hacks.

We believe a Primary contest is one sure road to success in November, a victory the party needs to gird itself for the crucial national elections in 1968. F.A.O.

Williams Acts to Protect Senior Citizens

Demonstrating more patience than is usually credited to public officials, New Jersey's junior United States Senator Harrison Williams has been engaged in a three-year effort to reduce the risks of senior citizens falling prey to real estate promoters palming off unusable land through mail order promotions on the $10 down, $10 per month gimmick.

Williams is chairman of a U. S. Senate subcommittee which has held public hearings throughout the country eliciting evidence indicating real estate in the middle of a swamp, a desert, a flood control area, the side of a mountain or a remote arid plateau has been sold to gullible citizens through misrepresentation, misleading advertising and outright fraud.

Last week Senator Williams presided over open hearings in Washington on the proposed Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act, legislation required to establish effective authority over mail order land sales to protect both the buyer and the legitimate seller against financial loss.

State laws are inadequate to protect the elderly person looking for an idyllic retirement home who is beguiled by the blandishments contained in misleading advertisements. They must be protected from the sleazy real estate operator interested in a fast buck and promising a paradise in the southern climes only to end up with a piece of inaccessible land or swampy wilderness.

It is not new for Williams to champion seemingly lost or politically unrewarding causes. It was Senator Williams who originally focused the public spotlight upon the deplorable living conditions of the migrant worker — espousing a cause to upgrade the living standard of non-voting workers, and since the migrant can't and doesn't vote, it is obvious Senator Williams' only interest was strictly humanitarian.

Senator Williams, a Democrat, continues to discharge the duties and responsibilities of his office as an American, unmindful of party labels, in much the same manner as our senior Senator, Clifford P. Case.

New Jersey is most fortunate to be represented in the United States Senate by men of the stature, dedication, and ability of Case and Williams. F.A.O.

Quest for A School System Head

The Board of Education has been concerned with the selection of a permanent School Superintendent to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Frank Durkee.

Off and on — for more than a year — Michael Rosamilia has been Acting School Superintendent. Ever since his initial "temporary" appointment to the acting post, Rosamilia has insisted that he was unavailable for the permanent post under any circumstances. Two years ago, the special study committee of the National Educational Association saw in Rosamilia the key to "peace in our times" in our school system.

Rosamilia emphatically turned down overtures of the NEA to consider the permanent post. Not only did he give the NEA committee an oral rejection but it is reported Rosamilia put it in writing.

The Board of Education has appointed an outside committee of distinguished educators to conduct the search for a qualified professional to head up our school system. This is an excellent approach but one wonders if it will best serve our immediate needs.

At this writing there exists a maximum amount of school system harmony — and a minimal degree of disharmony. Should we run the risk of taking on a "green" school superintendent from the outside world?

Frankly we do not think so. Belleville's school system needs require an extended period of tranquility. This goal can be achieved by persuading Acting School Superintendent Michael Rosamilia to take on the permanent assignment. Regardless of Rosamilia's personal desires he has an obligation to place his community's needs above his personal desires.

The Board of Education would be well advised to abandon its laudable efforts to seek a replacement for Dr. Frank Durkee from the outside world and concentrate its efforts to induce Rosamilia to drop the "Acting" from his present title. F.A.O.

Nepotism & Entertainment

Proof that our entertainment world is not what it should be is to be seen in the recent rash of sons and daughters of big stars "making it on their own" in television and movie mediums.

Some of these sons and daughters have talent and some have very little. Whether it be Frank Sinatra's daughter or Henry Fonda's, two who have already succeeded, or others who perhaps have less to go on, the public can readily see that something akin to nepotism in government employment is at work.

What entertainment soul would be brave enough to refuse Sinatra's daughter a break, or a spot? Fathers with ins and connections, as well as mothers, can usually arrange highly-paid appearances on the big shows for their own. They're in a position to return the favor.

When too much of this enters the picture the youngsters with no "in", but who have talent are bypassed. Heavens knows the entertainment field needs talent today. The boom of television and the big demand — far greater than supply — for entertainers enables those in positions of power to exercise such favoritism.

From the public's standpoint, all should enjoy reasonably equal opportunity in the interest of both fairness and a better level of film and television entertainment.

A BETTER BELLEVILLE

College Incentive Plan Good Chance For Police, Firemen

The need for college-trained police and firemen is being proclaimed by every government agency and professional association throughout the country. The President's Crime Commission stated, only a few days ago, that police officers need access to college training in order to combat the rising crime rate.

The Atomic Energy Commission has stated the need for college-trained firemen to handle fire problems in the transportation of radioactive materials. The Manufacturing Chemists Association is urging college training for firemen to handle chemical fires in plants and on the highways.

Everyone is stressing the need, but few are coming forward with a plan or program which would enable police and firemen to advance themselves professionally.

One proposal which was raised, and later rejected, was a college tuition-refund plan: the opposition being that the town would pay for a man's college training only to have him leave his job with a "tax-payers diploma" in his pocket.

Our proposal has taken this into account. A man would pay his own way through college; however, after each ten college credits he earns, he would receive a $120 increment as an incentive to continue his studies, offset his costs, and stay in his profession. As long as the man works for the town, he receives his college increment. If he leaves his job — he leaves his increment.

Our proposal includes thirteen steps leading to the Bachelor's Degree, as shown below:

Step	No. of Credits	Increment
1	10	$120
2	20	$240
3	30	$360
4	40	$480
5	50	$600
6	60	$720
7	70	$840
8	80	$960
9	90	$1080
10	100	$1200
11	110	$1320
12	120	$1440
13	130(BS)	$1560

We even have a plan for a Master's Degree. Just like the school teachers who receive an additional increase when they earn a higher degree, we would like to see $240 increases for every ten graduate credits a man earns toward a Master's Degree.

Every man wants to do the best job he can and improve himself so he can do a better job. The proposed incentive plan will allow Belleville Public Safety employees to receive college training.

Protestant Churches Seek Funds For Needy

All U.S. Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations will join together on March 5 in their 18th annual "One Great Hour of Sharing" to try and raise nearly $18 and one half million dollars to support their programs of aid to the needy overseas.

James MacCracken, executive director of Church World Service, observed that more than 94,000 individual congregations throughout the nation will help grapple with "The causes of poverty and famine and premature death, in Asia, Africa, Latin America, the Middle East and limited areas of Europe."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Edna Wehrle Thanks Police, Firemen for Aid

To the Editor:

This winter my husband, William F. Wehrle, was stricken with a heart attack. I called the Belleville Police and had hardly put the phone back on the hook when they were at my door. They took care of my husband, and were very considerate to me.

They called my doctor and made all the arrangements to take my husband to Clara Maass Hospital in the ambulance which had followed them.

Unfortunately, my husband passed away... but I felt I wanted others to know of the wonderful dedicated men of our police and fire departments.

I do not know the names of these men who were so kind and considerate to us, but my family and I shall be eternally grateful for their kindness.

The people of Belleville should be very proud of the men in their police and fire departments.

Very Sincerely,
Mrs. Edna Wehrle

Deeply Indebted

To The Editor:

We, in Belleville, are deeply indebted to assemblyman Joseph G. Biancardi for his understanding and quick action in pushing through an emergency measure that would enable our community to hold a special election to elect members to town commission form of government on May 8.

It was the decisive will of the people on Jan. 31 that voted unanimously for the change of government.

Mr. Biancardi saw fit to bypass partisan politics that might have held up such an election for many months, and perhaps years. By sponsoring the emergency legislative bill, he expedited the mandate of the voters of Belleville.

Our hats are off to this fine state legislator, who is a resident of our town, who has seen fit to hasten the passage of the wishes of the electorate.

Very truly yours,
Charles Rossi
154 Belmont Avenue

Thanks Voters

Dear Sir,

I want to take this opportunity to thank your newspaper and the Thousand plus citizens who voted for me.

To the handful of truly sincere and dedicated members of my committee goes a special heartfelt expression of thanks. I am and always will be proud of contribution to the passage of the budget.

Sincerely,
Josephine Izzo

So Does A Cadillac

One of the most powerful Democrats in Congress, Rep. George H. Mahon of Texas, delivered a speech to the Lubbock, Texas Chamber of Commerce recently. It was sober and sounded a warning to the American people. Because of Rep. Mahon's high status on the Hill in Washington — he is chairman of the most powerful single body in Congress, the House Appropriations Committee, which controls all money bills — his message carried more than ordinary impact.

However, it came in the midst of President Johnson's trip to Asia, and like other important domestic news, failed to hit the front pages or TV. Rep. Mahon focused the spotlight on Federal Government spending, warned it is time to bring it to a halt and made this comment:

"Control of public spending rests with the people who create public sentiment and elect officials of Government. It is a real challenge, because we are, to some extent, an undisciplined people. Congress is not going to practice restraint unless the message comes through loud and clear from the people generally."

The Texan called the 89th Congress "active and vigorous" and reminded his listeners that far-reaching measures were adopted, embracing new concepts and new programs. Each and every person and his family, business, farms and the future will be affected — in fact, he said, contribute to changing the course of the nation.

Legislators thought, rightly or wrongly, that the great volume of measures came about because a majority of the people of the country wanted them enacted, according to Mahon. Although a Democrat — and from LBJ's home state — Mahon stated he voted for some of the legislation but against much of it. The Congressman said he is fully aware of the need to strive for continued improvement in the nation and in the lives of its people, but in his opinion, the Federal Government "must not be permitted to intrude too far into our lives."

Even though Congress modified nearly every major piece of legislation requested by the President, it was not always downward. In fact, some of the Great Society programs received greater amplification as the lawmakers outdid the President. The Texan wryly observed that "we galloped when we should have walked or stood still — and that applies to the President and the Congress." But a heavy load of laws went onto the statute books and the seeds were sown for large and growing spending programs, the Lubbock Chamber was told.

As a consequence, Mahon contends we are suffering from legislative indigestion: too much Government, too much spending and too much inflation.

Money was voted for education, health, for urban improvement — such as demonstration cities and mass transit — along with pollution control, beautification, recreation areas, "war on poverty," narcotics, auto and highway safety, life safety, child safety, "truth in packaging," minimum wages, increased Social Security payments, increased veterans' payments and a new GI bill. This, said Mahon, names just a few. He referred specifically to the anti-poverty program, saying it would get bigger but hoped it gets better.

All these programs have some merit. But so does owning a Cadillac, a $50,000 home and $10 cigars. It comes down to elementary economics, sooner or later. How much can we afford? As Rep. Mahon so cogently expressed it:

"The message must come through, loud and clear, from the people generally."

Social Security Questions

Basic questions are raised about social security by recent proposals of President Lyndon Johnson. The President spoke of shifting the burden of social security to those who could afford it best. He proposes to require contributions on earnings up to $10,800 by 1974 (they are deducted on income up to $6,600 today).

We should remember, in this connection, the original intent of those who passed the social security law. Its purpose was to give the elderly citizen a sort of insurance protection. One principle of the program was to have the insured pay in much of what he was later to receive.

In other words, social security was not a system that guaranteed a certain income to all but was to be based upon the individual's contributions, to a large extent augmenting one's income late in life, providing a floor of subsistence, has been the traditional aim of our social security.

Proposals of the Johnson Administration raise doubts whether this is still the goal or whether the goal is being shifted to one of providing a certain living standard to all — at the expense of others. This is, of course, a concept somewhat akin to the guaranteed wage and it is not favored by a majority of the population.

Musical Review Offered

BY STEVE CHAREN

The most spectacular musical review ever presented at Belleville High School was seen by a near capacity crowd last Friday evening in the school auditorium over 110 BHS students took part in the varied and lovely performance which served as a preview of the upcoming show at Expo 67 in Montreal, Canada this May.

Opening with numbers by the heralded 17-piece BHS Dance Band, the show directed by Robert Wing got off to a fast start. A trumpet solo by Robert Santin highlighted the early going before the 29-member twirling squad appeared on the scene for a lively rendition of the popular Broadway show tune "Mame."

Dressed in specially made silver tinted outfits, the twirlers made quite an impression on the large crowd to the back-drop of a many-hued key board and a bubble machine that was to send forth its contents ala Lawrence Welk for most of the night.

Other numbers and solos by bassist Dave Halpern and dancing Miss New Jersey High School Maureen Gaudio followed before the first third of the program closed with a surprise visit from "Lucifer and The Fallen Angel."

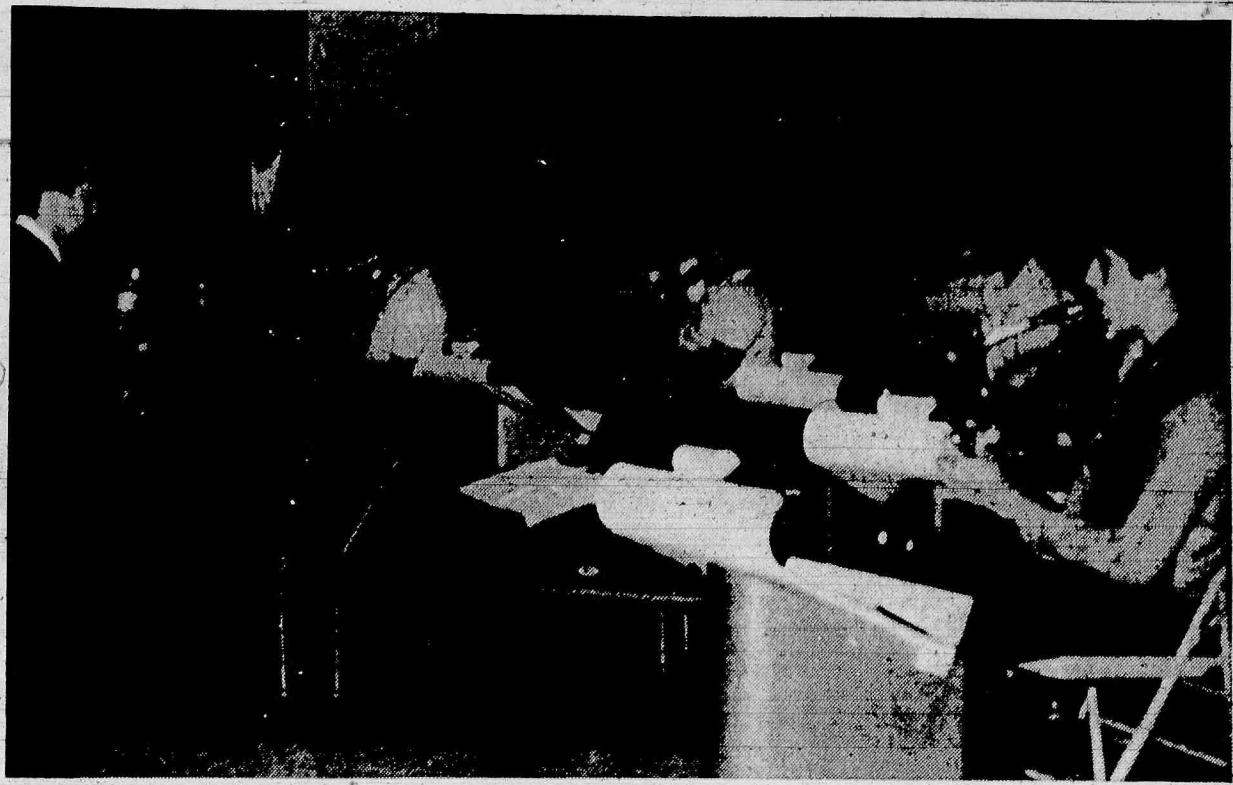

Entering through a roaring explosion and a screen of smoke the five devils entertained a shocked audience with three numbers as the most unique aspect of the show was being prepared backstage.

TRIP TO CANADA

Not boasting an overly large band, the group that has already represented the state at the New York World's Fair and at the National Cherry Blossom Pageant in Washington D.C. has a trip to Canada under the auspices of the State Department. Invitations to other places include the Hemisphere '68, a southern version of the World's Fair.

MUSICAL DISCUSSION — Ed Muscara, a drummer in the high school band reviews a few musical details with Robert Wing, band director. Muscara's drum helped pace the band's performance at a musical review in the high school auditorium Friday.

BIG BAND SOUND — Robert Wing, band director at Belleville High School, leads his musicians through taut renditions of several show tunes in the high school auditorium. The band participated in a musical review Friday. The program included selections presented by all the music organizations at the school.

Heart Disease Experiments Seek Disease Eradication

Development of an artificial heart, a vaccine to prevent rheumatic fever, heart transplants working on the same principle as the eye - banks . . . These are a few of the potential milestones in the country's rapidly progressing heart research effort.

In laboratories across the country, experiments with animals are yielding results which support a conclusion that we may be on the threshold of eradicating many forms of heart disease, the cause of an estimated 34 percent of U.S. deaths each year. Here are some recent examples of laboratory animal research which have scientists hopeful:

At the University of Chicago, scientists have come up with a vaccine found to be safe and efficient in extensive tests with mice, rabbits and guinea pigs against the most common type of streptococcus infection (strep throat). Streptococci are the common cause of rheumatic fever in children. The researchers, Dr. Eugene N. Fox, Mrs. M. K. Wilmer and Dr. Albert Dorfman, successfully tested the vaccine on nearly 50 adults, and further testing, particularly on infants, will be carried out to conclusively demonstrate the effectiveness of the vaccine.

Surgeons have been successful in transplanting the hearts of dogs to other dogs. These experimental operations are a step in learning how to "bank" human hearts for the purpose of restoring them later to normal functions as replacements in patients whose hearts are beyond repair. Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, of New York's Maimonides Hospital, has dog patients with transplanted hearts living with no apparent ill effects months after transplant operations. Two Stanford University surgeons, Dr. Robert B. Wuerle and Dr. Norman E. Summey had transplanted hearts of 10 cadaver dogs to 10 canine patients in a successful but limited experiment.

Mechanical heart pumps to aid diseased human hearts have been developed, and a totally implanted artificial heart is now considered feasible for the future.

Dr. Kantrowitz and Dr. Michael DeBakey, of Baylor University, made medical history last year when they successfully employed mechanical boosters to assist the human heart's main pumping chamber (left ventricle). It took years of laboratory work with dogs for them to reach this point.

In 1958, for example, Dr. Kantrowitz's early work in this field was reported by the National Society for Medical Research following his successful use of a booster heart on a dog. Eight

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS IN SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT

It's a Breeze Loving Baby

Psychologists point out that babies look at adults from an inverted position.

The baby sees giants. He hears loud and strange noises. It is an odd world as he looks up. He responds to this world of giants in which he lives.

The baby learns quickly. If he cries, he gets attention. By making other sounds such as "Maaa" or "Daaa" his parents shower him with affection. The baby will do his part in the exchange of affection. Will the parent?

The baby loves to play. A simple peek-a-boo game thrills him. He learns the game quickly. Play it with him. Waving bye-bye can be a game; it has meaning to him. Teach him to wave. It is one thing he can do, and for him, it is a way of sharing. Having learned to wave bye-bye, he sees this, too as a way of gaining love.

He will drop things. He learns by dropping, but be careful what he has to drop. A glass will shatter and he'll develop fears. Instead, give baby a toy. A simple rattle can give him great satisfaction. Hang the toy where he can see it. He may wish to make it sway back and forth. Baby will know who provided the toy.

Feeding can be another way of showing love to baby. Make it a happy time. Baby wants to be held. Hold him close. Somehow this lets him know you want him to love him.

P-A-T-I-E-N-C-E is another way to spell "love" to baby. Babies are to be loved. Not because they are toys for parents, but to help them live in their world of giants.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK

Salads Add Nutrition, Are Attractive Touch

The well-dressed salad is always welcome at meals, whether this be a leafy green salad to accompany broiled meats or a roast, or the "heartier" salad of cooked and raw vegetables which is ideal for luncheons and suppers. Such an all-in-one salad can include all the vegetables which could ordinarily be served as separate dishes.

Salads, according to Gaynor Maddox, author of the new Good Sense Family Cookbook, are "the greatest invention since the discovery of nutrition." He notes that salads offer the homemaker one of the best means of making sure her family gets all of its vitamins and mineral requirements.

In planning vegetable salads, to balance them both in nutrition and appeal, remember that there are some vegetables which are best served raw, some which may need cooking first and some which may be used either way.

In addition to the basic lettuces and leafy greens, these vegetables are ones to serve raw: avocados; cabbage; celery, cucumbers; onions, dry or green; sweet peppers; radishes and tomatoes. These should be crisp and cold, last-minute additions.

The vegetables which can be served either cooked or raw are: carrots, cauliflower, mushrooms, zucchini or turnips. When served raw, they are best if marinated

Belleville PTA to Present Its Annual School Fair

The PTA of School No. 9, 301 Ralph Street, in Belleville will hold its annual School Fair Tuesday, March 14. As in past years, there will be used and new merchandise for sale as well as the popular grab bag table.

During the Board of Education elections February 14, the PTA held a bake sale in which Mrs. Natale Faronea and Mrs. Philip DeAngelis, the budget and finance took upon themselves the task of wording, designing and duplicating the hundreds of flyers necessary to advertise the event.

The cake sale, indeed fulfilled its original goal of raising funds for the general treasury of the PTA. Each year this money is used to purchase some added luxury or necessity for School No. 9. As of this date, no item has been selected for this year's gift. Last year the PTA presented the school with a television set.

Salads of fresh vegetables (and fruits) are nutritionally important for more reasons than many people realize. They are pre-eminent for vitamin C and vitamin A, but important also for such vitamins as folic acid, thiamine, niacin and pantothenic acid. They contribute a substantial amount of iron. With all these virtues they are almost all low in calories.

Woman's Club Welcomes Seven Evening Members

Seven members were welcomed into the Evening Membership Department of the Woman's Club of Belleville at the February meeting.

Mrs. James Hollander of 84 Rossmore Place, Mrs. Robert Davis of 23 Oak Street, Mrs. Michael Kizkiel of 844 Jorammon Street, Mrs. Peter Spera of 32 Oak St., Miss Miriam Akersten of 83 Mt. Prospect Avenue and Mrs. William Morrison of 25 Oak Street as new members, and Mrs. Allan Crisp of 238 New Street as a reinstated member, were honored at the meeting and presented to the club president, Mrs. William Kropp.

The program featured a "hobby talk" by Mrs. Floyd Haring and Mrs. Arthur White. Mrs. Haring spoke on weaving and Mrs. White spoke on woodcarving. Both showed interesting samples of their work.

PLANNING A BRIDAL?

Be sure to phone for or pick up a copy of our bridal form. Filled out and returned it will help insure publication of a correct account of your wedding. There is no charge, of course.

If You Dare Shorter Hems Match Your Legs to Them

Fashion-minded women who again will wear short-skirted fashions for spring can be thankful for the accessories that complement the look.

Latest designs in hosiery, underpinnings, and shoes help the wearer of shorter skirts walk and sit more attractively and confidently.

Lingerie departments offer colorful and pretty slips to fit under new spring fashions. Pettis are cut very slim with slashed sides for wear under short-skirted fashions. Pettis are slip-length panties designed to look like a slip and to combine with shorter fashions.

Hosiery manufacturers have done much to solve the unsightly welt problem; they've designed regular length hosiery with a narrower welt. Stockings that rise right to the very top of the leg and stay there absolutely secure is another solution to the problem.

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

Nguyen Van Mit Has 90 New Parents Following 'Adoption' at Clara Maass

It's been a little over a year now since the Student Council of the Student Nurses at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital "adopted" a six-year old Vietnamese boy, Nguyen Van Mit, and to the 90-member student body, its still a rewarding experience.

The "adoption" a financial, not legal one, was transacted through the Foster Parents Plan, Inc., 352 Park Ave., South, New York City. The girls got the plan in action when they wrote for information and brought it to a vote at a regular meeting of the student nurses. It passed unanimously and wasn't long before they receive a case history and picture of "their" child.

The school is responsible for sending $15 a month to the Foster Parents Plan for a minimum of a year. With each girl in the class contributing, it breaks down to about 20 cents a month per student. Despite meeting their original responsibility, the girls have happily decided to continue the project. Miss Debbie Collins, a student who's been in on the plan from the beginning said "It's not the type of thing you can just quit after a year."

The $15 goes for the child's books, clothing and food so that he is able to attend school in areas where education is seldom free. Headquarters in every country where the plan works are supervised by an American director with local social and case-workers who provide instant help in emergencies and also offer guidance and counseling.

The girls were cautioned not to send packages or extra money, however. Each month Mit sends a letter to his "Parents" and the girls are allowed to answer them.

A case history sent by the foster plan to the hospital, described Mit as a bright and active little boy much like other children of his age except that he lives in an area of the world which is constantly threatened by death and destruction.

Mit's father works as an assistant to a driver and earns about $24.75 each month which is not enough to support seven children. But through the plan the foster child's immediate family is eligible for good used clothing, vocational training where practical, and medical care when needed, so the 20 cents contributed by each girl certainly grows in importance.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Nick Brindisi, David Talligiani and Joseph Johnson are sure looking forward to Friday night, March 10. Seems there three as well as just about the rest of the fellows in their scout troop enjoy the fine arts of self-defense, and Friday evening their troop is holding such a program in Holy Family School auditorium. At that time the Imperial School of Judo, which is located in Newark, will show the boys many demonstrations of both judo and karate. The program is scheduled to begin at 7:30 and will no doubt hold its audience spell-bound for the two hours it will take. All inhabitants of local areas are invited to attend, that goes for the girls as well as the guys. Admission is only 50 cents each, but for any scout in full uniform, the charge will be only half as much. So wives if you want to possibly keep your mate in line and girls if you want to know one sure way of making a guy fall in love of you, get into line and help support Troop 152 tomorrow night. And fellows come out and join the troop not only this Friday, but every Friday. There are still openings for interested scouts.

Scouting Family
Let's see now: mother Ann is a girl scout leader and daughter Laurann is a Junior scout and just this past fall son Larry Jr. joined the cubs. So it really should come as no surprise to anyone that dad Larry Marchese at last joined the scouting family. Though he actually started working with the boys last September, it wasn't until this past month that Larry became the official scoutmaster of Troop 152 of Holy Family. From the reports we heard he's doing a good job of handling the youngsters. Keep up the good work Larry, there's nothing more rewarding than working with tomorrow's men today.

We want to say a special hello to John Ukon of 64 Fairview

Place, through nowadays his address is Vung-Tau, Vietnam. Christmas was the last time John was home in Belleville and since then he's been sent half-way around the world so that you and I can continue to live the proverbial 'American way of life'. So we send a heart-felt hello from us to you, John, along with our wishes that one day not too far away, we'll see you back home again. Meanwhile with the help of the U.S. mail, we'll at least keep in touch. The Belleville Times as you know, is sent with our compliments to all our boys 'over there'.

Birthday Bike
Wow! Once again what Santa forgot way back in December. Mom and Dad remembered at birthday time. Eleven year old Angelo Nicci of 62 Cedar Hill Avenue received a brand new sparkling bright sting-ray bicycle February 26 from his favorite people, Mom and Dad. Although Spring is still around the corner, the bike no doubt has still received its first workout. Birthday time also means partytime and Angelo had his twice. Saturday night his uncle and aunt, the Alex Nuccis of Park View Avenue came a calling to wish Angelo the usually birthday wishes.

The unexpected funds that he received from them has already been spent on saving stamps which in due course will become U.S. Saving Bonds. Then on Sunday, a large family gathering was held, 28 in all, many of them in the under 21 set. First of all a spaghetti dinner with all the trimmings from garlic bread to salad, drenched in Vipegar and oil was gobbled up with obvious delight by all. All included the Walter McGuire clan from Nutley as well as 19 other assorted aunts, uncles and cousins. Three birthday cakes homebaked by Emily McGuire and daughter Janie also so didn't stand a chance of staying around long with the large gathering. All in all, according to Angelo, birthday time is a pretty good time. Too bad, they don't come around more often.

A dance was held in honor of the Marching Saborette's at the V.F.W. post 105 Saturday evening. They add charm at our town parades. For some who attended the dance it was a double celebration. It was Mrs. Mildred Williams birthday. She celebrated with her husband Will, her parents, sister and a few friends. They were Mr. & Mrs. George Simon, Mrs. Phyllis Sibolo, her sister, Mrs. Lorraine Pryor of Wilkes-Barre Pennsylvania. Her parents, Mr. & Mrs. Machio also of Pennsylvania. The family came down for the weekend to spend with their daughter and grandchildren, Mark, Billy and Sharon. A gay time was had by all.

'Are The Disadvantaged All Good For Nothings?

BY DR. LAWSON BROWN

He's the lowest man on the totem pole. . . he's the good-for-nothing. . . he's the burden of society. . . he's what we have labeled "the culturally deprived."

The poor man has always been with us. But we cannot close our eyes and make him go away.

He's a reality - a reality who knows fear. He fears that even if he did, he would not know how to make it pay off. For he has frequently been able to return nothing to society except more poverty and more debts.

But through education, his chances to contribute are increasing. Society now cares that his talent is buried or lost.

How do we dig up this talent that the poor have hidden in fear? How do we discover the talent among the disadvantaged?

Testing Methods Stacked
Many pass through public school classrooms scorned, or even worse, ignored. The usual testing methods are stacked against the culturally deprived.

New methods for identifying ability are not an idea to be dreamed of. They're a necessity if we are to rescue the millions of children who are on their way to human scrap piles.

For now, we can only depend upon careful and sensitive observation of behavior in disadvantaged children. We must sniff out the clues that indicate talent. Long-term studies are needed to determine which behavior indicates talent. In the meantime all we have to rely upon are our hunches.

In the last few years programs for the disadvantaged have mushroomed. Headstart for preschoolers and the Upward Bound Program for potential high school dropouts attempt to give the culturally deprived encouragement. For these children need extra care and tenderness if they are to replace fear with hope.

Recognize Talents

We must be willing to recognize and reward many kinds of talents. Some children are good story tellers. Others are animal experts. But they have something to offer, as do artists, musicians and mathematicians.

The child who possesses a talent must be made aware that he is a special person. Knowing that he has unique ability gives him human dignity. No longer is he low man on the totem pole. He's good for something.

Lastly, the talented child must be given the time to make his talent grow. If necessary, the talented child should be allowed to continue working on a project long after other children tired or time has expired for the activity.

We say that we want to develop the talented among the disadvantaged. This is a noble thought. But do we really mean to mold the talented among the disadvantaged into copies of the advantaged with talent? We must not attempt to mold potential Lincoln into the likeness of John Kennedy.

Individual Differences

We say that we want to enable the disadvantaged child to compete with other children on an equal basis. But we sometimes do this by forcing the communication and arithmetic skills so deeply held by middle and upper class Americans on children who hold conflicting values.

We are so eager to "do right" that we rush them into programs of middle and upper class values. We hope that they will learn the social niceties that will make them "acceptable" to the rest of us.

We must begin to look at these people not as masses, but one by one. Educators have been crying "individual differences" for so long now that perhaps its mean-

Rutgers Sets Reading Topic For March 20

A number of methods for training perception and their effect on reading improvement in the schools will be critically examined at a one-day institute sponsored by the Rutgers-University Reading Center in New Brunswick on Monday, March 20.

The one-day evaluation program for school administrators, psychologists, and teachers of reading at all levels is scheduled in Scott Hall on the main campus beginning at 9:30 a.m. and concluding by 3 p.m.

Both the psychologists and educators are interested in the role of perception in reading, and many different techniques are now in use across the nation.

Dr. Edward Fry, director of the Rutgers Reading Center and chairman of the conference, points out, "Through films, descriptions, and addresses the conferees will have a chance to evaluate some of these techniques and look at the whole problem of perception training for the public schools."

Perception in Reading

Dr. George Spache, professor of education and head of the Reading Laboratory Clinic at the University of Florida, and known across the country for his work in teaching reading, will discuss "The Role of Perception in Reading."

Dr. Martin Kling, assistant director of the Reading Center, will describe some of the research studies done in the general area of educational psychology. He will then show how these might fit into a systematic area of the reading process.

He will be followed by Dr. Richard Schiffman of the Rutgers Psychology Department, who will examine the basic laboratory research on the subject from the experimental psychologist's point of view.

The Montessori method will be presented by Mrs. Andre Eydt, teacher in a New York Montessori School, the Frostig Method by Raymond Ariczewski, principal of the Washington School, Millburn, and the Winterhaven method by Gerald Paradiso of the East Orange school system.

There will be filmed presentations of the training methods of Delacato and Kephart.

ing is lost in sound. Not every Appalachian is despairing and destitute. Not every poor person is illiterate. Each Appalachian is himself, and the poor are made up of individuals.

Let us not fool ourselves. Too often we are not speaking of talent at all, but rather a way to remove this person from being an economic drudge.

We must not move so fast that we change the talents of man into nothing in the name of change itself.

Today's problems are too great to allow us the luxury of ignoring a large segment of human resources. We cannot live with ourselves if we allow the potential talent of the disadvantaged to die.

State Agency May Support McCoy

Local Treasurer Francis H. McCoy may be getting support in his battle to perform his duties as the custodian of school funds in Town Hall.

Francis W. Kenny, secretary of the 600-member Receivers Tax Collectors and Treasurer's Association of New Jersey, said there is a possibility that the group will go to court to challenge an opinion given by Town Attorney Jack J. Soriano of Belleville.

McCoy also said he would approach the municipal finance officers of New Jersey for backing. McCoy, incidentally, is treasurer of that organization.

Soriano said in a letter, "Traditionally, the custodian of the school funds has performed these functions during his regular business hours. This is neither proper nor is it intended by the statutes.

"It is my belief that this manner of operation is merely a carry over from the early days of government," Soriano said.

The attorney maintains that McCoy should not be permitted to sign teachers paychecks or keep the school board's financial records while he is on duty in Town Hall. Soriano suggested that the council consider amending the administrative code to make his opinion law. No action has been taken.

Ed Lark Will Narrate Film On Ceylon

ED LARK

"Ceylon - The Magic Land", photographed and narrated by Ed Lark, will be shown on the Unity Travel Course next Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in the Montclair High School auditorium.

To many ancient mariners the large spice island off the southern coast of India was the most exotic and picturesque port along the trade routes through the East. Here the visitor beheld indescribable scenery - lush, green rain forests shrouded in a perpetual mist; jungles so dense that even the animals could scarcely penetrate the undergrowth; wondrous mountains and tropical flowers.

Twentieth Century Ceylon has changed considerably from the days of the ancient mariners. Jungles have been cleared for planting tea, rubber and spices. Modern industries are producing a variety of manufactured goods. In the film Ceylon will be seen as an island of vast differences in geography, weather, people, and plant and animal life.

Saletta States We Must Cut Costs

Rocco Saletta, Board of Education president, was stunned when he discovered the cost of "teacher-time books" at a school board meeting recently.

Checking over bills, Saletta discovered a voucher listing the purchase of four teacher time books at a total of $147.

Even after Saletta was shown the copy of the time book, he still maintained that the cost was "too expensive." He advised that the board think seriously of competitive bidding before making similar office supply purchases. He said in some cases, dealers are quick to offer discounts on many items and that the board should seek these savings.

The time books are used by teachers to record when instructors arrive and leave their school.

Rep. Rodino To Sponsor Anti-Crime Legislation

Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-10th District) has announced he will introduce a package of bills this month to implement President Johnson's program to curb crime in America.

Rodino said passage of the measures he will sponsor "will signal the beginning of a massive counter-attack against crime and the criminal by the federal government as a working and paying partner of state and local governments."

The Newark Democrat said he intends to contact every New Jersey member of Congress in an effort to insure unanimous, bipartisan support for the bills.

UGLY EVILS

"It is clear, beyond a shadow of doubt, that we must arrest the spread of violence and halt the growth of lawlessness before these ugly evils strangle our society and snuff out our orderly way of life," Rodino said.

"Fear has already intruded upon freedom in city and suburb alike, as lawabiding men and women fret over the terrifying increase in crime, ponder where the next outrage will take place and wonder who the next victim will be."

"The legislation I will introduce is designed to search out, to test and to perfect modern ways and effective means to make our streets safer and our homes secure through better police techniques, the elimination of the causes of crime, and the improved administration of justice."

"We must admit the inadequacy and failure of present methods, as evidenced by the appalling statistics gathered by the National Crime Commission, and we must therefore encourage new thinking, invent new tools and develop new methods at all levels of government if we are to succeed in dispelling the ancient curse of crime," Rodino said.

PROBLEM COMPLEX

Rodino emphasized that the problem is complex and no overnight cure-all should be expected.

"Much would be accomplished and all of us would be heartened," Rodino said, "if we can halt the ever-increasing rise in crime and begin a new era in which each passing year shows fresh progress in reducing the crime rate and bringing offenders to swifter, more effective justice."

Among measures Rodino said he will introduce this month are:

1. A Safe Streets and Crime Control Bill to establish an Office of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Assistance in the Justice Department, and to provide federal grants for anti-crime planning and programs to state and local governments.

Opera Stars To Perform To Open Cancer Crusade

World renowned Metropolitan Opera stars are lending their efforts to the success of a special concert benefit which will open the 1967 Cancer Crusade in Essex County.

Councilman Vincent Strumolo of 80 Franklin Avenue, Co-Chairman of the Special Events Committee of the Essex County Chapter of the American Cancer Society said that Jerome Hines of South Orange, Metropolitan basso and George Shirley of Montclair, Metropolitan tenor, have agreed to serve as Honorary Co-Chairmen of the affair to be held in conjunction with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra on April 1st, at the Symphony Hall, 1020 Broad Street, Newark.

Councilman Strumolo said that the concert would be preceded by a reception and dinner at the Terrace Room commencing at 5 P.M. Reservations will be gladly accepted by Mr. Strumolo.

Strumolo said: "All those who attend the concert will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are also aiding in the fight to defeat cancer. Sixty nine percent of the public can only name one of the seven apparent warning signals of cancer. This year the volunteer workers will stress the seven warning signals of the cancer and the advisability of a visit to a physician. Remember that in this way one out of two afflicted may be saved. We are asking you to help us to reach this goal. Make 1967 your year with a Check and a Check up."

TITLE TIME: The championship of the fourteen team Northern New Jersey Interscholastic Bowling League will be on the line this afternoon when Belleville and Bloomfield face off for three games at Montclair's Bel Claire Lanes at 3:30. The experienced Bengals currently lead the tight title chase by a one game lead over Nutley last week. Clifton two games off the pace.

Today's meeting of the two front-runners will be the last meeting between any of the four contenders left on the slate. Having fallen in two out of three games to Nutley last week, Bloomfield will be taking a 2-6 log into the title clash while the Bellboys who fell by two pins in their first encounter with Essex Catholic last Thursday before sweeping the final two games of the series boast a 2-7 slate.

Led by league average leader Mike Rowley, the young Belleville keglers will have to take two games from the three played to final catch the foes that they have been chasing all season long. Coach Mike Salzarulo's rollers would need a sweep to take over the top spot. If however Belleville were to drop two games this afternoon, the result would be a plummet to fourth place.

The league's also rans should have a big say in the tight race as an upset in the final two weeks would be decisive. But for the most part, the title will be on the line today in Montclair.

MUD-SNOW: That's what Charley Travers defending Big Ten Conference champions have met with in their effort to take to the diamond as soon as possible. No sooner had first year mentor Travers uttered that practice would be held in the great outdoors unless rain prevailed, that the hall, rain, and snows came. At least the opposition is being treated to the same.

Meanwhile, practice is being held not exactly as usual in the confines of the BHS gym as Travers and his new Junior Varsity assistant Mario Cocchiola Urun, the potential Bellboys through their paces. Leading the array the four returning starters from last season's 23-5 squad — shortstop Rich San Filippo, third baseman Dave Rothwell, rightfielder Jim Serritella, and catcher Charley Cuomo hold the only secure positions thus far.

Around the rest of the diamond, senior Sam Calabria seems to have the edge we at first base off of his successful conversion to the spot during a .385 average American Legion Baseball season last summer. Junior Greg Kostowitz, a lefty, provides the main competition here; Kostowitz is also being given a trial on the mound for the experienced pitcher-less Bellboys — he has the size and strength to be an asset there if his control can be mastered.

Second base provides the arena for the biggest dogfight on the team as three seniors battle to fill the vacancy left by the graduation of All-Stater George DeBrowski. Bruce Pindar, who handled the posit on last season for the J.V.'s has the best glove of the trio, but a questionable bat. Jim Catalano, who made his mark with a .350 average for the Legion team, has the best bat of the group, but is rated a questionable quantity afield. Frank Lappastato, who handled third last, season for the J.V.'s is considered adequate in both departments. This should be an interesting scramble to watch.

POSITIONS OPEN: In the outfield both center and left have been vacated to set the stage for another dogfight. Three ineligibilities have thinned the large field somewhat, but it still shapes up as an interesting race. Junior Tony Cervasio, probably the best fielding Belleville fly-hawk, senior Bob Banda, who swung an authoritative bat for the J.V.'s and senior Mike Welsh, who figures to double on the mound but may be too valuable not to have in the line-up every day shape up as the leading contenders at this early stage.

On the mound the biggest search is underway as Travers begins to seek replacements for All-Stater Art Sheridan, the winningest hurler on BHS annuals, and fast-baller Sal Taibi. Welsh and Joel Pisano, both senior south-paws rate as the only mounds-men with any Varsity experience, but that was limited. Junior Rich Del Guercio the stalwart of last season's J. V. 's is also in the running as are junior J.V. grads like Bob Gamba and an ex-mentoring Kostowitz. John Poff, a junior newcomer is receiving a long look from Travers and could well be the most pleasant surprise of the season for the Blue and Gold. Sophomore novices Bob Baumgartner, Rich Schulz, Tom Giordano, and Charley Spallotta are also throwing in an effort to make the Varsity club.

CINDERMEN READY: Belleville High's track team under the direction of the first year mentor will take to the cinders Monday as they prepare for a follow-up to the most successful track season in Belleville history.

Over fifty hopefuls turned out for preliminary physical examinations last week. Among the roster of key returnees were sprinters Joe Rodriguez and Pete Greco, Distance-runner Gerry Figurelli, hurdlers Steve Ferrugelli and Ralph Serio, and many-many more.

BASKETBALL REVIVAL: Every Saturday afternoon for the past six weeks and for several more to come, local fifth through ninth grade youths have been offered the training of two of the best basketball mentors in the business. Al LoBalbo and Herman Wische. The program is being run in the form of a clinic under the auspices of the town Recreation Department to help provide cage training for interested Belleville youngsters.

Approximately, fifty boys have been attending each of these two hour programs as instruction and drills have constituted the first hour and a half, before the boys are given a half hour to put their skills to use on their own. A related part of the program has been the formation of a team (Continued On Page 16)

Joe Villano
BELLEVILLE'S
WRESTLING

RECORD.

TWO-TIME
DISTRICT
CHAMP!

Villano Labeled School's Most Successful Wrestler

Boasting a 52-5-1 overall record and a 38-2-1 mark through four seasons of dual meet competition, Joe Villano has been the most successful wrestler in the five-year history of the mat sport at Belleville High. Most recently, the Bellboy stalwart has emerged from the 1966-67 campaign as the only Blue and Gold grappler to capture either a Christmas Tournament or District crown.

Even as a freshman it was apparent that Villano was destined for mat greatness. It was during that season that the powerful Bellboy novice missed out on a berth on outstanding yet senior dominated squad and had to settle for a Junior Varsity role. Making the most of it, Villano rolled to an undefeated 11-0 mark as his true potential became apparent.

Taking over the varsity 136 pound berth as a sophomore after having gone 12-2 with the J.V.'s, Villano went on to become the only undefeated wrestler on a highly successful BHS squad while posting an authoritative 9-0 record.

MISSED TOURNAMENT: Having missed the Christmas Tournament with a late start, Villano went into his first Tourney competition in the District Championships. Sweeping through his first three games to extend his record to 12-0 and his undefeated string to 23, Villano then ventured into the District finals.

Meeting a more experienced senior wrestler, he more than held his own through six grueling minutes that were to end in a tie had it not been for a point for riding time. Villano had suffered his first defeat by the narrowest of margins possible, a post-bout clock check.

Determined to go all the way,

Villano returned to the 136 pound ranks as a junior and appeared destined to get his wish as he swept through his first ten rivals undefeated for a 30-0 dual meet slate to show for three years efforts. But then in the final with Columbia, it happened, Villano's first dual meet loss, not by ordinary circumstances mind you, but by injury as torn knee ligaments made it impossible for the Bellboy to go on.

Limping into the District finals, Villano once again wrestled his way to the finals as he won three bouts before his knee gave out and a second straight second in the District finish was the verdict.

Beginning his senior season with a dual log of 30-1 and overall mark of 36-3, Villano had added the responsibilities of co-captain to his duties.

With this in mind, Joe realized that it would be to the team's advantage if he could lower his weight to the 130 mark allowing returnees Rich Cucolo and Mike Luongo to go at 123 and 136, respectively. And so the sacrifice was made. At first, Villano admitted it was pretty rough keeping his weight down to the 130 mark, but with time it was all a matter of training.

Finally receiving a chance to compete in the annual pre-season Christmas-Tournaments after missing the event as a junior and senior, Villano made the most of the trip by sweeping to the title as the only Belleville champion. Joe's performance was the key to Coach Jim Silvestri's forces third place showing in the eight team field.

Moving into the regular season, Villano managed to go through his first six bouts un-

Men's Basketball League Play Still Another Game

In a league that has been drum tight all season and with only one game left to be played the Recreation Mens Basketball League goes to the wire in a situation involving six teams, each with a chance to make one of the playoff positions.

Still in first place with a 10-3 standing are the Robsons. Tied in second place are the Gardens and Stashes with 9-4 standings. Then, battling for that last playoff spot are the ZigZags, B.P.S.C. No. 2, and the Trojans all with 7-6 standings. The first three teams are now assured of playoff positions but the next three have their work cut out for them. The Trojans and the B.P.S.C. No. 2 meet head on in the next game of the League and this will bump one of them from the playoffs.

However the Zig Zags meet the Evergreens (2-11) and should be able to keep themselves in contention.

Although nothing can be taken for granted it shapes up that there may be a playoff between the Zig Zags and the winner of the Trojans B.P.S.C. No. 2 game to determine who wins the fourth playoff spot in the League.

At the top of the League the Robsons have to get past the Stashes in their final game in order to be the League winners. This will be a tough game and it will either drop Stashes to third or the Trojans will drop to third. (Continued On Page 16)

Planned Parenthood Starts Fund Drive February 15

The Essex County Committee for Planned Parenthood will launch its 1967 fund drive on February 15, it was announced today by Dr. G. Derwood Baker of Montclair, professor of Education at New York University and this year's campaign chairman.

The drive is part of a nationwide Planned Parenthood campaign which seeks to raise a total of $15.6 million in voluntary contributions in order to meet rising demands throughout the world for birth control services, public education, professional training and research.

The goal in Essex County, in order to meet the proposed budget, is $118,000, Dr. Baker said. This represents an increase of 18 percent over last year's figure. The campaign chairman explained that the additional funds are necessary to support the rapidly expanding activities of the Newark family planning center, as well as to increase assistance to national and international efforts to stem explosive population growth.

A Planned Parenthood Center has been in operation in Newark since 1926. At the new clinic at 15 William Street, low-cost family planning service and medical assistance is offered to all who request it. Dr. Baker said that no patient is ever refused because of inability to pay.

"For the third consecutive year," Dr. Baker stated, "our caseload has shown a rise of 20 percent."

The theme of this year's campaign is: "For the Children of Tomorrow." "Giving to Planned Parenthood contributes to the welfare of other children, it means determining the future of your own," Dr. Baker concluded.

Ernest S. Arvidson Wants Full Cooperation

Ernest S. Arvidson is starting his eighth year on the Board of Education. He has served two years as vice president, and two years as president of the Board. He was interested in youth work long before he sought a position on the Board. Having actively worked with Boy Scouts, held various offices in P.T.A. and the better schools committee. Asked for comment Arvidson made the following statement:

"Service on the Board of Education has been both a frustrating and a rewarding experience. The progress that has been made in bettering the children's learning opportunities, is a source of extreme satisfaction to all who have helped to provide those opportunities, both Board members, staff personnel, and lay people. The additional facilities which have been made available to our educators by the people of our school district have made this progress possible."

"Our new Senior High School plant has been highly commended by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for the building features and the designs which show evidence of careful planning for present and future needs."

This High School Building is a tribute to the professional ability in school planning of the architect, Alfonso Alvarez. Many persons who served on the Board of Education during this period have been saddened by the results of people acting hastily and emotionally, rather than by common sense and by knowledge of the facts. These hasty and emotional acts have been harmful to our community and school district.

"The excellent esprit de corps which has developed among our whole school staff during the past year and a half is a clear sign that our administrators and other personnel are devoted and dedicated people. The excellent school facilities we now have coupled with the high morale among our educators is making it possible to give our children the best education available anywhere."

"This enthusiasm is contagious. The people of the community have shown their interest in good education by passing the school district budget. Our fellow citizens of Belleville will support our schools if the full and true facts of school expenses are known. To bring this knowledge to the people requires an intensive educational effort. When this effort is

Montclair State Holds Workshop For Teachers

Montclair State College will join the New Jersey Business Education Association in co-sponsoring a workshop for business teachers Thursday, March 16. A similar workshop is being held at Trenton State College today.

Participants will have an opportunity to take part in two clinics in business education and allied areas. The Montclair meeting will have the added feature of a dinner, at which Dr. M. Herbert Freeman, chairman of the business education department at Montclair State, will be the speaker.

The March 16 workshop will open with registration and coffee in the lobby of Memorial Auditorium at 3. A general meeting will follow in the auditorium at 4:10 with brief welcome speeches by Dr. Thomas H. Richardson, Montclair State president; Dr. Louis C. Nanassy, clinic chairman for Montclair; Miles L. Riggan, NJBEA president; Alvin Weitz, state supervisor of business education; Ralph Bregman, state supervisor of distributive education consultants; and Dr. Freeman. Mrs. Anna P. Diehl, immediate past president of the association, will make the introductions.

Clinic A will run from 4:40 to 5:30, and Clinic B from 4:50 to 6:30. Both will be held in College Hall. The dinner is scheduled at 6:45 in Grace Freeman Hall. Dr. Freeman's topic will be "The Future of Business Education in New Jersey."

Participants in the first clinic will have a choice of the following topics: bookkeeping, department chairmanship, distributive education, student teaching and beginning teaching and stenography, including an electronic dictation laboratory. The second will encompass clerical, office and secretarial training; cooperative work experience in office occupations; electronic production available anywhere.

"It is a privilege and honor to have served on the Board of Education for seven years, and a great honor to have held the office of president for two years. I am looking forward to two more years of cooperative effort by everyone in the community. With that cooperation we cannot fail to continue to give our children the best education."

S. LaPilusa On Warship

Communications Technician Seaman Philip P. LaPilusa, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore LaPilusa of 96 Bernice Road, Belleville, was on board the guided missile cruiser Providence as a member of the staff for the Commander Seventh Fleet when the ship provided naval gunfire support during Operation Deckhouse VI off the coast of Quang Ngai Province, Vietnam.

Deckhouse VI was an operation aimed at destroying a major infiltration point for enemy troops and supplies along the northern coast of South Vietnam. The area contained fortified bunkers, trench systems and an extensive salt production industry controlled by the enemy.

Regional. Miss Irene Podgorski, a Montclair State senior from Bayonne, and Mrs. Carol Holden, a teacher at Passaic Senior High School, will represent the views of the student teacher and beginning teacher, respectively.

With a few exceptions, the same panelists will serve both in Trenton and Montclair. All business teachers in the state are cordially invited to either of both workshops.

Mike Petrillo's Song Makes National Billboard Charts

Tell It To The Rain is a popular song. Michael Petrillo is a talented and popular young man. Mike wrote the song which was a national success. The song ranked number one in California where Dick Clark's show first used the number, in Philadelphia it was number 2 on the charts and it was rates number 4 in Miami, nationally the song which was sung by the best vocal group in the country. The Four Seasons, ranked number 7.

Mike moved to Belleville in 1952 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Petrillo. Mike then attended Belleville schools and after leaving Belleville High, he pursued his main ambition in life of making a name for himself in the intricate and complex world of show business and music.

Mike has been studying music for ten years and he feels that a great deal of gratitude goes to Eddie Baye, of Muscara's Music Center for teaching him composition. Mike informed this writer that Eddie a master in his own right, was affiliated with the New York Philharmonic for five years.

The other teacher Mike credits for much of his success is John Mahagan, who taught at the Julliard School of Music. He taught Mike the intricacies of the music world.

Mike is no stranger to working with excellent, talented, successful groups, his association with "The Four Seasons" attests to this. He has worked with such renowned stars as Connie Francis, Lloyd Price and Tito Rodriguez to mention a few. Mike is an accomplished musician, and he plays the saxophone, piano, drums, organ, vibraphone and flute to perfection.

The song "Tell It To The Rain" came about from a personal experience that Mike had. The lyrics were actually written by his collaborator and friend, Chibby Cifelli, who lives in Harrison.

Mike has two other songs, "Pity and Sundown" which have been published and are sung by "The Four Seasons" in their album entitled, "Working My Way Back To You." Mike has played all over the United States and Puerto Rico, Las Vegas and Miami to name but a few of the hot spots.

Mike has also become associated with another former Belleville High School graduate who has made a tremendous impression in the world of music, Bob Crew. Bob, a successful millionaire, has handled such headliners as Mitch Ryder and the Detroit Wheels, Patty Duke and Leslie Gore. He is reputed to be the biggest independent producer in the world.

Mike has also worked with Joey Dee at the Peppermint Lounge when that spot was attracting the largest crowds in the entire East Coast.

As to future plans, Mike has many and knowing him for many years it comes as no surprise that he has finally achieved success.

The ventures and vistas that Mike will take on now will prove to be just as successful for Mike as his past endeavors have proven.

Belleville has another product to be proud of and one more representative that will bring respect and admiration for the town, the world over.

Belleville Doctor Attends Meeting

Dr. Michael Roachvarg, of Belleville, participated in an all-day symposium on contact lenses March 5, conducted by the Optometric Center of New York at the New York Hilton Hotel.

Papers were presented on new developments in both small (corneal) and large (scleral) contact lenses, techniques for their fitting, and methods in prescribing.

Sideline

WATERED DOWN: As another case in point Bloomfield the champions of the watered down Big Ten Conference basketball league was handed a stiff 8-71 setback in a state tournament encounter with a central team that that had suspended four of its starters for disciplinary reasons and gone with bench and J.V. strength. The idea that the league is one of the toughest around is ludicrous as far as basketball is concerned. If you want to see how the hoop game should be played, journey to the city, now for baseball it's a different story.

APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED: Applications are still being accepted for the post of head football coach at Belleville High School for the 1967 season. Approximately twenty-five applications have been received to date by Athletic Director Herman Wische. A decision on the appointment to fill the vacancy left by the retirement of Tom Testa will probably be made some time in May or early June.

Villano

(Continued From Page 13) scored upon as his string counting the tourney performance totaled ten, straight unscored upon matches. Then as luck would have it, as the senior stalwart seemed ready for his third undefeated dual meet campaign in four tries, a severe virus struck.

The germ took its toll as Villano was forced to sit one match out before he hurried himself back into action to face powerful Montclair. In his still virus affected hurry, Villano also ran into Cliff Brown, a Montclair star who had captured an AAU championship during the past summer. Disaster ensued as Villano was surprised by a fast maneuver and powered into "the first loss via pin in his 52-bout career."

A tie and a win closed out the season as Villano prepared for his last shot at that elusive District crown. This time, the Belleville 130-pounder was not to be denied however as he led six Bellboys into the finals and emerged as the only local victor. Moving on to the even more rigorous Regional Tourney, Villano had the misfortune of running up against the eventual state champion. Joe fell to this star by a slim 4-3 count to provide the stiffest test, the winner was yet to encounter during a first round test.

And so Villano's record stood 38-2-1 in dual meet competition and 52-5-1 overall. The future is still undecided for this champ who wrestled because he liked physical contact and found that wrestling was the answer rather than the football he played as a freshman and sophomore.

Joe has four brothers in his family, and with two of them at the ages of 12 and 13, Villano's seem destined to be in Belleville wrestling history for a long while yet to come.

Basketball

(Continued From Page 13) place or put them into a first place tie with Gardens who have the winless B.P.S.C. No. 1 as their last opponents.

In last weeks games the leading Robsons had to put on a drive in the second half to come from behind in order to take the Evergreens by a slim two points. Both the Stashis and the Gardens won their games over the B.P.S.C. No. 2 and the Zig Zags respectively.

Veterans Hospital Presents Employer Award Plaque

Dr. S. T. Ginsberg, director of the Veterans Hospital at Lyons, N. J., presented the Distinguished Employer Award plaque to Kimball Systems, Inc., a division of Litton Industries headquartered in Belleville, N. J., for their role in the hospital's SCOPE program for furthering rehabilitation services for hospitalized veterans. The plaque was accepted by George W. May, Kimball president, on behalf of officers and employees.

Kimball Systems, Inc., was the first company to subcontract with SCOPE (Simulated Conditions of Practical Employment) when the "work-for-pay" program was started in 1964. Since then, the manufacturer of identification products and systems has channeled work projects of a temporary nature and specialized projects which were beyond the capacity of its regular labor force. Kimball has subcontracted a total of 20 of these non- and semi-skilled projects to the hospitalized veterans. Funds from these projects were distributed to patients according to their individual piece-rate accomplishment.

The SCOPE program is a comparatively new approach in the rehabilitation of the mentally ill. Medically supervised, it is designed to serve as a "bridge" for the mentally ill, enabling them to move by gradual stages from the world of the hospital to the routine working world.

According to Dr. Ginsberg, the purpose of SCOPE is to instill realistic work habits comparable to actual labor conditions. Familiarization with actual industrial procedures and methods that will confront the patient upon discharge are provided, such as adhering to a full working day, attention to quality, and maintaining adequate productive level. The compensation paid to patients is used only as a means of motivation and to provide the realism-related to employment but is not an end in itself, Dr. Ginsberg stresses.

Participation of local industry such as that provided by Kimball Systems, Inc., enables SCOPE to relate to actual work projects at the prevailing wage rate paid regular employees for similar work effort. All materials and special machinery required for a work project are furnished by the participating firm. SCOPE processed 241 patients in 1966. Eighty-one have been discharged from the hospital for a discharge rate of 34 percent. The SCOPE shop generally employs some 50 patients who remain in the program from six months to one year.

Daggett was formerly station and revenue forecast supervisor in the company's general rate and development office. In his new position, Daggett will assume supervision of engineering projects in New Jersey Bell's northern area, which encompasses Nutley.

HOSPITAL DIRECTOR — Lyons V. A. Hospital Director, Dr. S. T. Ginsberg, presents Distinguished Employer Award to George W. May, president, Kimball Systems, Inc., Belleville. The Award was in recognition of the industrial firm's

Jaguars Take First Place; Season Ends

Two thrilling games brought the Recreation Junior "B" Basketball League to a close. The Silver Hawks defeated the Flyers which placed these two teams in a tie for third place.

In the first round the Flyers had mastered the Hawks. Another game saw the Vultures upset the Jaguars to avenge a first round loss. However this was not sufficient to change the standings of these two teams. The Jaguars are in first place with just a single loss while the Vultures, having lost two, must take second place.

The game between the Leagues two top teams began with the Vultures taking the first quarter 7-6. In the second stanza the Jaguars poured it on and moved to a 16-11 lead.

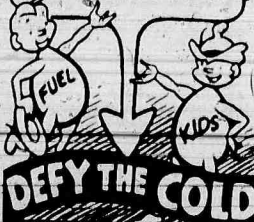

The Vultures were not to be denied, however, and they regained their lead at the three quarter mark by a slim 20-18, and still slimmer was the final score 27-26.

A remarkable thing about both of these top teams is the fact that neither has a really top scorer. Rather, the scoring of both teams has been very general in every one of their games. Probably this team work and sharing the glory is the very reason that these two teams finished so well in the standings.

Final standings are as follows: Jaguars 9-1, Vultures 8-2, Silver Hawks and Flyers 5-5, Eagles 2-8, Silver Lakers 1-9.

Howard Savings Issues 303rd Check Yesterday

Howard Savings Institution depositors shared a dividend of more than $7,850,000 which was distributed yesterday.

The dividend, the Institution's 303rd consecutive, is $4,200,000 more than that paid for the same period a year ago, and a quarter of a million dollars more than that paid during the last quarter, ending December 31, 1966.

Greater than the bank's total assets in 1887, eighty years ago, the dividend will bring to over $296 million interest paid by the Howard since its founding in 1887.

Parkway Reports Use Has Decreased

The volume of vehicles which used the Garden State Parkway last year decreased by more than five million from the 1965 record, but the reduced traffic traveled for longer distances on the toll superhighway.

The more long-distance traffic on the Parkway in 1966 pushed total travel up over the year before by some 64 million miles. The decreased volume of vehicles was due to an almost one-third cut last year in the number entering the previously toll-free Essex County section.

Rodino Introduces Bill For Better Health Plan

Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-10th District) introduced a bill last week to establish a limited number of federally supported health screening centers for the early detection of chronic disease and crippling illness.

Rodino, dean of the New Jersey congressional delegation, said the legislation, popularly known as "Preventive Care," will launch "a necessary and meaningful 'Operation Head Start for Better Health' program in which the familiar ounce of prevention will be applied to spare the pound of cure."

Rodino said his bill, officially entitled the Adult Health Protection Act of 1967, is identical to one introduced in the Senate on January 18 by U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams (D-NJ).

Declaring he will lead an all-out effort to win early enactment of the measure, Rodino said passage of the bill "will provide a promising beginning to what hopefully will become a full-scale federal program to prevent, and reduce chronic disease — and the anguish and suffering that accompanies it — through the detection of such disease in its earliest stages."

The bill authorizes a maximum of five regional centers to administer tests and provide computer and other services for community health protection centers that would be linked to them.

"The program, as we envision it," Rodino said, "offers two separate and important benefits, either of which, considered alone,

Of those who are afflicted, Rodino said, 22.6 million are obliged to limit their physical activity in varying degrees, and of the 1.5 million persons in medical institutions well over half are there because of a chronic condition.

"The proposed program of prevention and early detection," he said, "can substantially reduce the staggering cost of chronic disease and ease the tragic toll of human pain and torment."

"Rodino likened the program to a federally financed flood control project.

"In place of erecting a dam to hold back the ravages of anticipated flood," Rodino said, "we are proposing to establish screening centers to prevent the predictable ravages of disease. In both instances we are investing money in projects today to avert future calamities in which the losses would be far greater than the modest expenditures required to prevent them."

As a preventative technique, he said, screening centers may prove to be as dramatically effective in reducing chronic disease as the Salk and Sabin vaccines have been against polio.

Rodino's bill would authorize the Surgeon General to make grants to medical schools, community hospitals, health departments and other public or non-profit agencies to establish and operate health protection centers.

These centers would provide a series of basic tests to detect abnormalities in the cardiovascular, respiratory, gastrointestinal, genitourinary and musculoskeletal systems, as well as defects in metabolism and organs of special sense. Specific diseases or conditions to be tested for might include: hypertension, heart muscle enlargement, cancer, diabetes, kidney disease, glaucoma, tuberculosis, rheumatoid arthritis, ga-storintestinal bleeding, anemia, obesity, respiratory insufficiency, vision and hearing impairment, hypercholesterolemia, and gout.

The tests, Rodino said, would be administered by technicians, nurses and medical specialists using automated or semi-automated equipment that already has been proved capable of giving swift, accurate and reliable results. The test results, along with data furnished by the person being tested, would be fed into a computer. It is estimated that the battery of tests could be completed within 2½ hours.

Results of the tests, summarized by the computer, would be referred to the physician of the person tested. In cases where the person did not have a private physician or was medically indigent, the test would be referred to a physician in accordance with local practice.

Rodino said the centers are intended to provide an efficient means for the detection of abnormalities or indications of disease. They would not replace full examinations. Their purpose is to place in the hands of the examining physicians a summary of basic data and to place promptly under a physician's care a person with indications of possible disease.

Proposed community health protection centers would be linked by data transmission lines to the regional centers, Rodino said, and could use the more sophisticated electronic equipment and other facilities of the regional centers for the evaluation of some tests.

The program, said Rodino, would give doctors more time to perform the executive and expert functions that only they can perform.

"Our physicians," Rodino said, "would be given more time and more information to help them help more people."

Tournament Set By Local Jaycees

The Belleville Jaycees are sponsoring a bowling tournament for boys and girls of Belleville in grades 7-12.

The tournament, which will be conducted in accordance with Junior American Bowling Congress rules, will be held on March 18 at 4 P.M. at the Olympic Lanes, Washington Ave. Contestants will bowl three games and there will be a small entry fee for each three games bowled. Entry forms returnable by March 17th, are being distributed in the local schools and at the Olympic Lanes.

Trophies will be awarded in both boys' and girls' divisions. The winners will be entered in the New Jersey Jaycee Junior Bowling Tournament in Edison, New Jersey on April 2 with all expenses paid by the Belleville Jaycees, according to John Stetz and Henry Wozniak, chairman of the committee.

PREPARING NEWS RELEASES

A list of suggestions on how to prepare releases for the news paper is available for the club publicity chairman from The Belleville Times.

Green Thumb Program Doubles Size Next Year

The director of New Jersey's Green Thumb program wants to double the size of the program and move into seven new counties next year it was announced today by Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr. (D-NJ).

Green Thumb, launched by OEO two years ago, is designed to provide useful work for, and boost the incomes of, elderly poor people in rural areas.

In New Jersey, retired farmers and others are hired for beautification work along the state highways. They clear unsightly underbrush, plant shrubs and perform similar tasks.

According to Samuel Lipetz, Green Thumb director in New Jersey, the New Jersey Highway Department has cooperated enthusiastically.

Some 70 persons were employed by Green Thumb last year. They had an average annual income of approximately $1,000 prior to employment by Green Thumb. Working four days a week, seasonally, they earned up to $1,500 a year at the highway beautification work.

Better Opportunities
In addition, approximately one-third of those employed in the past have gone on to better paying jobs in private industry.

U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr., said he will support fully the budget request of $335,213 for the next fiscal year for Green Thumb in New Jersey.

He pointed out that 87 percent of the money appropriated for Green Thumb actually gets into the hands of the elderly poor in the form of wages or fringe benefits.

Senator Williams, Chairman of the Senate Special Committee on Aging, chaired hearings, last year on the War on Poverty as it affects the elderly. At the close of the hearings he strongly recommended expansion of Green Thumb.

Schuldt Accepted To Top College

John T. Schuldt, 127 Crest Drive, has been offered admission to Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Schuldt has been a student at Newark Academy, Livingston, since 1965. Last year he won the Williams College Award given to the junior boy outstanding in scholarship and citizenship. Schuldt has accelerated in mathematics and history and will write the advanced placement examination in May.

During four years Schuldt has been the stage manager for Drama Club productions. He has also served three years as a library assistant.

Montgomery Retires After 35 Years Service

Thomas E. Montgomery of 16 Hawthorne Avenue, Nutley, who was employed in the Essex Division, Electric Distribution department, Public Service Electric and Gas Co., retired on pension recently after completing more than 35 years of service.

Mr. Montgomery started with Public Service Production Co. and had worked for the former underground transmission construction department before being transferred to the electric distribution department in 1942. He worked in the substation department until his retirement.

Museum Report Shows Progress

In his annual report on the "state of the museum" to members of the Newark Museum Association at its 58th Annual Meeting, held January 31, President Charles W. Engelhard said that general attendance in 1966 had gone over the 200,000 mark for the first time in the Museum's history. He added that the figure "would be considerably higher if parking facilities were available closer to the Museum."

Throughout his report he emphasized the effect on the "cultural explosion" on the Museum's resources. "The Museum is experiencing the impact of a public which is now fully aware of the pleasure and instruction a museum can provide for all ages," he said, "an impact which strains all our facilities and services."

Commenting on the Museum's active participation in Newark's 300th Anniversary celebrations, Mr. Engelhard pointed out that staff members served on celebration committees throughout the year, while "practically the entire Museum was given over to exhibitions, programs and events relating to the celebration. Few museums could be so deeply involved in community affairs and still maintain attention to their primary function relating to collections as we have done," he said. He noted that scholarly and lasting values would result from the Museum's 300th Exhibitions "not only through unique publications recording for the first time Newark's early silversmiths and cabinetmakers, but also through the effect on the community of the final exhibition, Newark in Progress, showing projected improvements in Newark's future."

Mr. Engelhard said that Museum collections in 1966 "had a satisfactory growth, largely through gifts." He cited the Winslow Homer painting, The Captured Liberators, given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kellogg Corbin by their children, as being the year's most important acquisition and mentioned several other outstanding gifts. He praised the Acquisitions Committee for "wise decisions in expending limited purchase funds to acquire Korean pottery, African sculpture and American paintings from Folk Art to Contemporary work."

Returning to his opening theme, Mr. Engelhard commented, "Last year, the Museum proceeded as normally as possible under pressing conditions caused by concentration on Newark's Anniversary and from giving and demanding public," and praised the effective performance of a dedicated staff. He ended his report with praise and thanks for city support; "we are also fortunate that our City's government—both the Mayor and Municipal

Evaluation of High School Calls for Improvements

Although gratified with the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools' lofty rating of Belleville High School system, Michael Rosamilia, acting superintendent, said, "it is not a signal to sit back and rest on our laurels."

Rosamilia noted that in addition to its fine commendation of the high school, the Middle States evaluative committee also presented a number of recommendations for further improvement of secondary education in Belleville.

These recommendations include expansion of the business department and vocational training studies. Rosamilia said school officials have been pondering expanding the high school program in this area.

"Our plans have led to additional programs which are partly underwritten by the state and federal government," the acting superintendent said.

He added that new programs are also being examined in other areas regarding curriculum. "We are confident that we will show continued improvement," Rosamilia said.

The report received from the Middle States evaluators, "is tangible evidence that Belleville students are blessed with programs and facilities which are responsive to the entire community," he said.

The evaluation encompassed all facts of the high school educational program: the plant, teaching facilities, instructors, administration and curriculum. The team of 20 educators reviewed in 17 areas in all.

The report of these evaluators included a graphic summary of what they saw. The school visitation was preempted by an extensive self-evaluation by the high school faculty and administration.

New Jersey Symphony to Offer Educational Concert for Students

From Gregorian Chant to "A Taste of Honey," Kenneth Schermerhorn and the New Jersey Symphony will explore "The Melody of Music," an educational program to be attended by a student-field-trip audience at Symphony Hall on March 16.

Get Tax Refunds To Buy US Bonds

When you get your '66 tax return form, take a look at the option that lets you take U. S. Savings Bonds instead of a cash refund. You'll find how to hang on to your tax refund, if you're lucky enough to have one coming.

When you check the Savings Bond line, you automatically assure yourself of two advantages: You provide an easy way of hanging on to your money and a sure way of making it grow one-third bigger at maturity.

Here's how that check-mark goes to work for you: If you're entitled, for example, to a refund of $42, you'll get a $50 face-value Series E Bond (cost $37.50), plus a check for $4.50.

Another good thing about that check mark — it also helps to strengthen our country's future security. Uncle Sam puts our Bond dollars to good use in safeguarding our freedom.

Think it over, and, if you haven't started that regular savings program you've been promising yourself, here's a good chance to get it — with ease, merely by checking the Savings Bond box on your tax return.

Study guides have been prepared and distributed to educators by Mrs. Harry G. Burks III of Short Hills, education chairman on the State Council of the NJSO Women's Committee.

This cycle of educational concerts will continue as Schermerhorn and the orchestra turn next to "The Magic of Opera" at Symphony Hall on April 5, assisted by a quartet of singers — then the "rhythm" and "poetry" of music in May concerts.

These New Jersey Symphony Concerts are offered as part of a continuous program of midday student events at the Newark cultural center.

Governor and Senators Endorse Relief Program

Gov. Richard I. Hughes and U.S. Senators Clifford P. Case and Harrison A. Williams, Jr. have warmly endorsed the spring appeals of America's great religious faiths for support of overseas relief programs.

The appeals include the Protestant "One Great Hour of Sharing," the Catholic "Bishops' Overseas Aid Fund" appeal, and the "United Jewish Appeal," a continuing effort with special emphasis at this period of the year.

American Legion Celebrates 48th Birthday This Month

During the month, the American Legion is observing its 48th Anniversary. The legion was founded in mid-March, 1919 during a caucus attended by representatives of the various outfits of the American Expeditionary Force in Paris, France.

When these war weary delegates assembled for the Paris meeting, they brought with them the raw materials with which to build an association of veterans dedicated to the continuation of their services as civilians wherever needed, coupled with a devotion to God and country.

Today, the American Legion continued its service of distinction to community, state and nation.

From its beginning, the legion has endeavored to develop a dynamic conviction of Americanism in order that the people of this great nation shall never lose sight of their precious heritage and future citizens shall be well instructed in their civic responsibilities.

Thousands of legionaries have donated their time and talents to a comprehensive child welfare program in order that America's children shall be better prepared to face the physical and spiritual challenges of tomorrow's increasingly complex world.

American Legion service officers express the organization's devotion to mutual helpfulness as they labor in the legion program of rehabilitation in order that this nation's debt for the sacrifices of those who answered her call to arms in time of war shall be satisfied with equity and dignity.

The American Legion's program of National Security is based on the premise that this nation's military strength shall be maintained at a level necessary to champion the cause of peace and freedom against the challenge of would-be aggressors.

Eye Group Marks Week To Observe Sight Deficiencies

Waste resulting from vision deficiencies on the production line and in schools represents the greatest enemy America has today, the Essex County Optometric Society says.

The Association, which is observing "Save Your Vision Week" relates that there is a direct relationship between waste and poor vision.

Dr. Leonard L. Richter, Vice-President, explains that accidents and production slowdowns are often caused by a worker's vision deficiency. The same applies to homes and schools.

Among senior citizens, many valuable individuals have allowed themselves to become non-productive because no attempt is made to correct vision problems. In schools, slower-learning and a higher cost of education can be attributed to a high percentage of vision problems among students.

Dr. Richter says keeping America strong is everyone's job.

"We must start from within, and we must start by eliminating waste and inefficiency caused by inadequate vision."

He urges the entire family to make it a regular habit to have their vision thoroughly examined by an optometrist at least once a year. "Delays can be dangerous," Dr. Richter warns.

Firemen Keep Busy

The local fire department had a busy week between February 24 through March 2, Chief Carl Hundertpfund told the Times.

Firemen responded to extinguish a car fire, a fire in a clothes dryer, and a small stove blaze. Several other minor emergencies were handled by the department, Hundertpfund said.

New Jersey Bell Telephone Cites Its Expansion and Progress

New Jersey Bell added 198,087 telephones to its statewide network in 1966 — the highest annual increase in its 40-year history — bringing total telephones in service at the end of the year to 3,870,954.

In its annual report for 1966, issued last Thursday, the company also reported that its earnings per share last year were $1.97, an increase of eight cents over 1965. Operating revenues rose $36 million during the year, to a total of $504.1 million. Operating expenses went up from $274.7 million in 1965 to $289.7 million last year.

The company paid $117 million in taxes to the federal government, of which one-third, the excise tax, was levied directly on telephone customers, and an additional $40.5 million in state and local taxes.

In calling volumes and construction expenses, New Jersey Bell set new highs in 1966.

On an average business day, telephone customers placed 16.5 million calls, up 8 per cent over 1965; of these 1.7 million were long distance calls, up 10.3 per cent.

The company spent $159.7 million on construction in 1966, $4.9 million more than in '65. New Jersey Bell has invested more than $822 million in plant facilities over the past 10 years and, in 1966, its total plant investment passed the $1.5 billion mark.

Among major projects provided for in the company's 1966 construction program were two new central office buildings and additions to 23 others; a new headquarters building in Hanover Township for its Northern Area staff operations; information centers in Rutherford and Pleasantville; and long distance switching centers in Asbury Park and Rochelle Park.

New Jersey Bell said that it had continued its program to combat annoyance callers. In 1966, the company was able to identify 442 lines from which annoyance calls were made. Such identification helped police make 150 arrests during the year, of which 114 led to convictions.

The four Bell System units that operate in the state are New Jersey Bell itself; Bell Telephone Laboratories, the System's research and development organization; Western Electric Company, and supply division; and the Long Lines Department of American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which builds, operates and maintains facilities for inter-state long distance communications and worldwide telephone service. AT&T is the Bell System's parent company.

In addition to meeting payrolls, the companies ordered $223 million of materials and supplies from New Jersey businesses; paid out $49.4 million in state and local taxes; and spent $37 million for rents, land purchases and other miscellaneous expenses.

Museum Curators Will Deliver Talks Tuesday

Visiting members will be invited to choose one of two slide talks, being offered by the museum.

J. Stewart Johnson, Curator of Decorative Arts, will describe English Country Houses.

Hunter Ross, Curator of Ethnology, will talk about French Gardens.

Both Curators have visited the sites of their talks recently and have taken the photographs which they will show.

Four Hospitalized In Early Morning Auto Crash Here

A 21-year old Irvington driver and three teenagers were hospitalized in a 2:21 a.m. auto crash at Harrison Street and Franklin Avenue Sunday morning, February 4.

All were treated and released at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. Injured were Charles Jernow 21, of 616 Lyons Avenue, Irvington, and Andrew Kristal, a passenger in his car. Kristal, 19, resides at 591 11th Avenue, Paterson.

The second car was driven by Miss Linda M. Caputo, 19, of 61 Msgr. Owens Place, Nutley. She was hospitalized as was her passenger, Miss Rae Fratterolo, 19, of 70 Fourth Street, Port Reading.

Patrolman Thomas Booth and Richard Hulbert, report the two cars collided at the Harrison Street-Franklin Avenue intersection. Jernow's 1962 Ford was traveling north on Franklin Avenue. Miss Caputo's 1964 Pontiac was going east on Harrison.

State Schools Rate High In Nation-Wide Study

New Jersey high schools stack up well when their academic programs are compared with those at the 2,000 high schools across the country examined by Dr. James B. Conant in his latest critique on American education. A check of the state's 289 public senior high schools against the minimum academic requirements used by Conant to measure the schools he studied show that in each category the Jersey schools, as a group, came much closer to meeting his criteria than did the schools involved in the nation-wide study. The check was made by Dr. William H. Warner, director of secondary education for the New Jersey State Department of Education, following publication earlier this month of Conant's "The Comprehensive High School."

Used 2,000 Questionnaires In the book, published by the McGraw-Hill Book Co., Conant used material he obtained in questionnaires from 2,000 selected high schools. Conant concluded that only a few of the schools could be rated highly satisfactory, but that, generally, the situation regarding academic studies looked better than it did 10 years ago. This was Conant's second major examination of the high schools. The first was published in 1959. The latest study showed that only 30 per cent of the sample schools were meeting Conant's "minimum requirement" that one of more advanced placement courses be offered. Warner's check showed that 43% of the New Jersey schools were meeting this quality standard. Another of the Conant criteria was four years of instruction available in a modern language. Whereas this requirement was being met in 65 per cent of the survey schools, it is met in 86 per cent of New Jersey schools.

Man's Best Friend Does A Lot of Biting, Statistics Reveal

Here are a few ironical facts about dog bites. In the United States alone, "man's best friend" bites more than an estimated 600,000 times each year. Ten Nutleyites were bitten in November alone. Preschool and school-age children, traditional lovers of pets, are the victims of an estimated 76 per cent of these bites. Most children are needlessly bitten because they tease dogs. "Retaliating with his teeth is the only way a dog can defend himself," says George G. Traver, executive vice president of the New Jersey State Safety Council.

As to instruction in calculus, something Conant thought should be required, New Jersey scored 69 per cent compared with the sample school's 40 per cent. A most significant finding, according to Warner, was that 120 per cent of the N. J. schools are meeting Conant's standard that provision be made so that in a single year a student may study English, mathematics, science, foreign language, social studies, art and physical education.

When we designed this beauty, we kept a few ugly things in mind.

This is a brand-new Volkswagen Fastback Sedan with a brand-new bump in the right rear fender. It's one of the ugly things we had in mind when we made this car. Your Volkswagen dealer can make it well again by unscrewing just ten bolts and removing the fender. (A new one costs about $37.00*)

Underneath the hood is a brand-new motor. If it ever stops acting like it's brand-new and starts acting ugly, it's easy to cope with. (A VW motor can be taken out and put back in again in 90 minutes.)

On the bottom of our Fastback is a shiny new sealed bottom. When there's ugly weather, or mucky roads, or salty snows, or bumpy bumps, it protects the inside of your car from all the horrible things that happen outside.

With a Volkswagen, you may find that a lot of the things you're used to being ugly, won't be ugly any more.

For instance, gasoline mileage. (You'll get about 27 miles to the gallon with a Fastback.)

The tires will last about 35,000 miles. The engine won't freeze up in the wintertime or boil over in the summer. (Our new beauty has the same air cooled engine as the bug, only faster.)

It's also a bit bigger.

The Fastback has a little more room for people than the bug. And a lot more room for luggage. (It's got a trunk in the front of the car, and one in the back.)

It also costs a little more. $2,143.*

But the nice thing is, when you get a new Fastback, you get a new perspective. It may end up making all the ugly things seem almost beautiful.
