Bellboy Band Director Receives Better Belleville Cup For April

BETTER BELLEVILLE CUP — Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wing receive the Better Belleville Cup at award ceremonies held at the high school auditorium this week. Harry French, (right) director of the Chamber of Commerce, makes the award for the Belleville Times. Wing, who is high school band director, won the cup along with his wife for their outstanding efforts to develop good citizenship in students.

Wings' Work With Youth Gets Award

The Times has awarded the Better Belleville Cup to Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wing for their outstanding efforts towards developing good citizenship in the students at Belleville High School.

The cup was presented this week in the high school auditorium. Harry French, director of the local Chamber of Commerce, and Peter A. Dvarackas, Belleville Times editor were present at the award ceremonies.

Expo Trip
Selection of Mr. and Mrs. Wing as April recipients of the monthly award came at the heels of the high school's recent production of Fiorello, which Wing directed, and the band's current trip to Expo 67, which Wing was responsible for organizing. Wing is high school band director.

To that end, a letter was received from a Bernice Road resident who said, "The Wings are people who make Belleville a town to be proud of. No other high school can boast of the fine theatrical achievements which Belleville students have present."

Fiorello Director
"He staged and directed the musical comedy production of Fiorello. The professional quality of the shows given at high school never cease to amaze audiences. He gives our high school students an outlet for good clean expression, and gives our adults renewed faith in the fine young people attending our high school."

Although Mr. Wing is an employee of the high school, no amount of money could compensate for the time spent in rehearsals, research and preparation for these shows. He also served as an outstanding example for our young people with his good humor, fine character and dedicated devotion to his work.

Good Citizenship
Mr. Wing has helped make it possible for the band to go to Canada for Expo 67. The young people included in this venture do much to give Belleville students an international relationship for good citizenship.

"Mrs. Wing, although not an employee of the school system is a graduate of the high school. She has worked tirelessly with her husband in all of his ventures. She has directed the make-up and handled countless backstage problems."

Town Flags At Pro-Viet Promenade

The Belleville flag snapped smartly over New York's Fifth Avenue Saturday as part of patriots' answer to the Anti-Vietnam War parade a month ago.

Marching under the town colors, two American flags, a Papal flag, and Irish and Scottish banners, the Paul J. MacDonald Association represented its town in a demonstration of support of our fighting men in Vietnam.

Paul J. MacDonald, head of the association and owner of P. J.'s Tavern, said about 50 to 75 persons from Belleville marched. They were led by a 24-piece bagpipe band from Kearny, the John F. Kennedy Memorial Pipe Band.

"About two-thirds of the group were veterans," MacDonald said. Those marching were mostly men, but there were about 10 women and a teenager.

The Town Council had authorized the association as official representatives of the town at the parade, and had declared last week as "Support Our Boys In Vietnam Week."

Members of American Legion Post 105 of Belleville marched.

Vocational School Irks Petitioners

With more than 2,000 signatures, a petition drive is being conducted to protest the location of an Essex County Vocational School in the community's school district, campaigners against the school continue to cruise the neighborhood soliciting additional signatures.

The petitions will be sent to the state Board of Education, according to members of the Belleville Park Homeowners Association, which is sponsoring the drive to stop the county school from coming to Belleville.

The homeowners association, which has been inactive for almost 13 years, was reorganized recently and now boasts a membership of over 1,000 members.

The group was formed in 1953 when county officials proposed a parental home which was to be built on the grounds of the Essex County (Soho) Hospital, the site mentioned for the vocational high school.

Tentative Approval
The current proposal, which originated with the Essex County Vocational Board of Education, already has the tentative approval of the board.

Residents Blocking Apartment Project

Lawrence Schwarz, a local attorney will attempt to stop Belleville from issuing a building permit to Pinneas and Tamburro, Kearny land developers, for the construction of a 260-unit apartment project.

Despite the fact that the developers have applied for a building permit from Vincent Mustacchio, building inspector, Schwarz has filed a "stay of the issuance of the permit" with the Superior Court Appellate Division.

This places in the hands of the court the decision to allow or halt construction of the apartments.

So far, both the Board of Adjustment and the Town Council have granted a variance to permit the apartment complex. Notice of the motion was sent to Charles Tedesco, town manager, and Mustacchio.

Appeal on File

Should the courts decide to allow granting of the permit, the developers must still contend with an appeal filed with the Superior Court Appellate Division.

If the apartment developers lose this appeal, they can be ordered to tear down any construction work they begin.

The apartment complex is proposed for an 11-acre tract near Fairway Avenue. Residents there protest the project on grounds that it will spoil the residential character of the neighborhood. A Superior Court ruling currently permits Pinneas and Tamburro to begin construction of the apartments. The appeal serves as the residents' last ditch effort to stop construction.

The zoning board and the council agreed then that apartment houses would be suitable for the location.

Charles Barbone, a Fairway Avenue homeowner, who is leading the court revolt against Belleville's approval of the apartments maintains that the developers could erect 49 one-family homes instead.

This, he said, would insure property values.

Mary V. Senatore Opens Political Door To Other Female Aspirants

There were those who thought that when Mary V. Senatore secured the chairmanship of the local Democratic Party in Belleville four years ago she had no more worlds to conquer. But she proved them all wrong with her recent invasion into the political arena — indeed, as a commissioner elect.

Mrs. Senatore is a classic example of what a woman can do when she sets her mind to a task. And that fact is something to think about considering her victory has set a strong precedent.

one which other women in the community are bound to follow.

Female General

The important point is this: Belleville now has a woman as one of its generals.

And she makes no bones about the fact that she represents the women of community. "It's true . . . Belleville women were among those important factions which helped me win election to the Commission. Now I believe I've opened the door to other women in town to enter politics."

She said there is an important reason for women in government since they are interested in "dignity and harmony."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Senatore is looking forward to rolling up her sleeves, so to speak, and getting down to the business of town unity. She is also interested in helping clear the muddy waters of Belleville's public image.

A new image was promised by all the elected commissioners to the community. It was a trauma which has baffled and amazed the citizens.

Mrs. Senatore is still not quite used to the fact that she will soon become a member of the local government. "I was walking down the street the other day and I heard somebody yell, 'hey, commissioner'. I just kept on walking."

Local Unico To Install New Officers

The Belleville Chapter of Unico will install new officers for the year 1967-68 on June 5.

The installation will be at the Fountain Restaurant, Belleville, and will precede a dinner and dance for the members their wives, and guests. Music will be by Hal Breeze and his orchestra.

Ralph De John will install the following officers: president, Mario Di Maggio; first vice president, Dr. Samuel Amoscatto; Di Guilio; secretary, John Sierco; corresponding secretary, Angelo Mostello; treasurer, Anthony Caruso; sergeant at arms, Vincent Pepitone.

MARY SENATORE — Belleville's first female commissioner talks about her plans for unity on the governing board. She also reveals her thoughts on how a woman's approach to municipal problems will help the community.

AT THE VILLA CAPRI

Belleville Judge, Angelo Nardone Disagree What's Junk, What's Art

Belleville is giving Angelo Nardone until June 1 "to clean up the mess" around his Villa Capri at 4 Franklin Avenue. The restaurant is situated on the Belleville-Nutley municipal border.

Charges against Nardone were pressed Thursday by Belleville Building Inspector Vincent Mustacchio who maintains there is an illegal "accumulation of junk both on town property and Nardone's own property" around the Villa Capri.

A plea of not guilty was entered by Nardone's attorney, James McTague of 921 Bergen Avenue, Jersey City. McTague has represented Nardone in several trials in both Belleville and Nutley over the past two-year period involving the local restaurant.

After Nardone and Belleville Magistrate Edward J. Abromson discussed the difference between what the Villa Capri owner considers art and what the Building Inspector thinks is junk, the Judge suggested that "if you can correct the problem, I think everyone will be happy."

Abromson then gave Nardone until June 1 to rid his property of unsightly accumulations of assorted materials.

McTague was concerned, he said, because Nardone was not specifically notified of the violation, although various letters from Mustacchio to Nardone were entered as evidence. McTague said the correspondence dealt in generalities. McTague also contended the so-called junk is actually materials being used by Nardone.

Nardone, however, said much of the "junk" were pieces of treasured art.

"You say all this stuff is not junk," Abromson said to Nardone, referring to pictures taken by Belleville officials at the Villa Capri.

Call It Treasured Art
Nardone replied by pointing to large columns and pieces of marble. "I collect these. I use

SIDE-VIEW — Belleville's complaint against Angelo Nardone charges that these materials are "junk" and are stored on town property, the sidewalk. Nardone has been given three weeks to "straighten up" the property around his restaurant.

THE BELLEVILLE SIDE — Belleville Building Inspector Vincent Mustacchio has filed charges against Angelo Nardone, owner of the Villa Capri which straddles the Nutley-Belleville boundary. Mustacchio says the materials pictured here violate a town ordinance. Belleville Magistrate Edward J. Abromson has given Nardone three weeks to straighten up the property. Trial was held Thursday in Belleville; these pictures were taken Friday.

Band Director

"Her cheerful nature has been an inspiration to the cast and the stage crew. The affection with which the students hold these two people proves without a doubt they are deserving of this award."

Wing was a member of the Air Force Band for four years after he attended the University of South Carolina, the State University of New York at Potsdam and Hofstra University.

Manhattan School of Music. He received his BA and masters of music degrees from the Manhattan School of Music. He taught in Long Island before coming to Belleville.

When he was hired to serve as band director in 1963 he took over a 26-member band. Since then it has grown in size (72 members) and in reputation.

Wing also started a number of activities at the high school. These include the annual band trip: The New York World's Fair, where they received commendation from Governor Richard J. Hughes; the National Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington D.C., and the recent Expo 67 at Montreal.

Created Dance Band

Wing also created the dance band, instrumental ensembles, a policy of two Broadway musical productions a year, and a chorus made up of band twirlers, and a color guard. He has prepared an annual musical review for the band.

Joan Wing is a graduate of Belleville High School where she was active in the music department. She attended Columbia University and the Manhattan School of Music.

She received further musical and theatrical training through her studies with Joseph Anthony, Harya Holm and Tamara Daykharanova.

Having performed in several off-Broadway musicals, she did summer stock in Fishkill, N.Y. She sang with the Robert Shaw Collegiate Chorale and gave a joint concert at Ormeau Recital Hall.

them inside and outside my place as decorations. I save the columns because they are valuable. They are art."

Abramson, who recently returned from a trip through the Middle East, remarked that he had seen and appreciated much art, especially in Israel, but added, "I never saw any treasures just lying around haphazardly. If you straightened up your art, Mr. Nardone, and treated it with a little respect, everyone would be happy," the Magistrate said.

His Own Opinion
The Belleville Judge then added that "it was his personal opinion, that 'this stuff is a junk'."

Nardone said it would take him two weeks to straighten up the area behind the Villa Capri which is on the Belleville side of the line.

At one point in the testimony — when McTague was telling how Nardone had already made an attempt to straighten up the accumulation was revealed that some of the material had been moved a few feet across the municipal boundary into Nutley.

"That's kind of like sweeping the dirt under the rug," Abramson said.

There are no current charges against Nardone for a similar violation in Nutley, the Belleville court noted.

Senatore

ing, because I didn't know he meant me."

It shouldn't take long for Mrs. Senatore to graciously respond to her responsibilities as a commissioner. After all, she understands organizations and her top-pin position in the local Democratic Party has given her experience as a leader. So much for the nuances of power.

She doesn't foresee very many difficulties undertaking her new task. Since her colleagues on the governing body allege to have Belleville's better image uppermost in their minds, at least they will all be striving for the same goals, Mrs. Senatore believes.

It's the Approach
As a woman, it will be easier for her to accomplish some things that might stump a man, she said. "It all depends on the approach you use. Men have a tendency to be antagonistic. Women have more foresight than most men."

Mrs. Senatore said, "I'm beginning this job with a spirit of co-operation, with respect for my fellow commissioners, and with complete honesty toward the people I was elected to serve. As I see it, that's more than half the battle for success."

al of the County Board of Freeholders and awaits the approval of the state board of education.

It has been censured by the Town Council and by a majority of the 17 candidates in the recent town commission election. The Commissioners-elect have also announced their opposition to the proposal.

The door-to-door campaign will probably continue for the next two weeks because the homeowners association wants to hit every home in town.

The association fears that property values in areas near the proposed school would suffer if the school were to locate in the Soho section.

Why are some drugs like "ecstasy sauce?"

If you read "Li'l Abner" you may recall how the Gourmet's Club plotted to make "Ecstasy Sauce" from the Yokums' pet pig, Salomey. Recipe: Boil down one hammus alabamus (Salomey) until just one single, solitary delicious drop remains—and that is "Ecstasy Sauce." In terms of food, this is humorously ridiculous, but it's actually routine in the making of drugs. Often hundreds of pounds of raw materials must be processed and reprocessed to obtain one tiny pinch of the active medication. Which helps explain why modern drugs are so potent, and why we pharmacists dispense them only when your physician writes a prescription.

Commission Begins Auspiciously

According to all available reports, the new Town Commission members have held an initial unofficial organization conference.

Happily present at the conference was an air of cooperation and harmony. Since Ken Smith was high man — and qualified — he was the logical choice to become our new Mayor. Smith served under the old Commission government, thus acquiring the vital experience his colleagues lack to negotiate the change back to Commission government.

Smith has the business experience, organizational know-how, and government experience to make him an ideal Mayor. Unfortunately for Belleville, business men of Smith's qualifications rarely involve themselves in the hurly-burly of municipal politics. We trust Smith's example will encourage other civic-minded businessmen to involve themselves more deeply in community life.

Commissioners-elect Mary Vuono Senatore, William Cullen, Vincent Strumolo and Joseph McGreevy have given evidence of their intense desire to work with Mayor-designate Smith to help Belleville attain its rightful place in the family of the nation's finest communities.

These elected public officials face a tremendous challenge which, incidentally includes us all — taxpayers, critics, reporters, editors, publishers. We want to upgrade Belleville's fine name and reputation. Working together the goal is within reach. F.A.O.

Our Law Enforcers

In recent years certain groups and organizations have attacked police forces and individual officers on the slightest pretext. And if police brutality is charged in some areas things can be made very unpleasant for the policemen involved.

In addition to this trend, the Supreme Court has handed down rulings which make the law enforcer's job more difficult. Obviously guilty persons who have confessed to charges have been freed in recent months because of legal technicalities.

The attitude toward law enforcement officers in the United States has traditionally been one of respect for men who keep the peace and enforce law and order.

It is disturbing to see this respect dissipated and no doubt this is one of the reasons for the rising rate of juvenile delinquency.

To help counter this unhealthy trend and to bring recognition where recognition is deserved, many communities have begun to make awards to the outstanding police officer, or patrol officer, of the month or year. Civic clubs have joined in the effort, as have newspapers and other communications media.

Some form of recognition, to show appreciation for the work of conscientious officers of the law, is both needed and appropriate.

A Man Who Wondered

Once upon a time there was a man who lived in a town and spent all his money away from home. He was sure that he could take care of himself and that his town didn't need anything from him.

After a few years, his business wasn't as keen as he had hoped it would be. His friends didn't seem to think he was quite as important as he thought he was and trade seemed to flow by his doors.

The man began to watch his competitor, who was an intelligent advertiser, a contributor to the public purse, a man anxious to give his time and thought to community projects and a believer in the fact that it pays to keep money at home.

After noting all these factors, the man continued to wonder why some of his old customers went to the newcomer and why almost everybody had the idea that he was a tightwad, but that his competitor was a public-spirited leader of community life.

Babson's Point of View

What Lies Ahead for Living Costs

You'll be paying 25% more for consumer goods and services by the end of this year than you were at the beginning. That's what the government economists predict, and it looks as though they may be right on the button. Or very, very close to it. Here are some of the reasons the forecast seems to be logical, even if a trifle discouraging to the householder.

Since last fall consumer prices have been comparatively stable, enough so to make the Pollyannas hope that the buying power of their pocketbooks might grow stronger. But most of the slowdown has been due to lower prices in certain foods — such as eggs, fruits, vegetables, and pork. This has tended to offset to a fair degree the basic increase in most other prime goods and services. But the cost of beef, milk, cheese, etc., is on the way up, and it won't be long before other foods follow.

Then the climb in over-all living costs will be resumed. It won't be a mad inflationary runaway, but the advances will be persistent and will involve just about every item in the consumer price index. The value of your dollar is going to be nicked away during the rest of 1967, and probably well beyond that. Some "mods" among the Administration will console you with the claim that this gradual price inflation will help to keep business strong. But you will feel it in the pocketbook; that they can't deny.

Along with foods, there will be upward pressure on the price of apparel, shoes, gasoline, many household goods, and entertainment. It will become steadily more expensive to eat out, even at restaurants that have thus far sustained the "bargain" image. It is going to cost more for housing, whether you rent or buy. The promise of some softening in mortgage interest rates will not be able to balance out the continuing hike in building costs, insurance rates, and property taxes.

While medical expenses are not a regular family outlay, they are bound to show up when least expected and must be considered as a part of every budget. Over the past twelve months medical costs have skyrocketed over 8%, and this may well be only the beginning. Doctors will keep raising their pay sights, while nurses are organizing to ensure steady gains as well as shorter hours. Naturally, all this is going to be passed along to the patients needing hospital treatment.

Cutbacks in residential building have slowed sales of color TV and other household appliances, with resultant weakening of prices. It should be noted, however, that housing starts are once again on the rise, and gentler mortgage interest rates are making for more optimism. As this trend intensifies, prices on appliances will be nudged upward again in an effort to lessen the profits squeeze that has tormented many companies.

Lagging turnover in autos has also placed downward pressure on prices for both used and new models. Dealers are frantic to reduce their inventories, even if it means sharp losses for the time being. Until fall this price sag will prevail, but then will come the 1968 models that will be approximately $100 more expensive than those of 1967. Hence, autos will add their strength to the general climb in costs of all retail goods and services.

So far, many concerns have been covering their increases in labor costs from their earlier healthy profits. But outlays for labor are still soaring toward new highs, and many major industries will have to give wage boosts this year and next. The result will be more and more "passing of the buck" to the consumer in the form of higher prices. So there is as yet no end in sight for the rise in living costs.

Parade

with the Essex County American Legion delegation and were represented by their color guard.

Mayor Nuncio Pico said: "Of course, I was pleased with the local turnout and I think more of this type of demonstration should be held in support of our men instead of a demonstration the other kinds like last month's 'PEACE' parade." He said he hopes to see support continue at Memorial Day ceremonies May 30.

MacDonald Association marchers also carried a banner proclaiming their support of our fighting men. It read: "We're 100 percent behind our boys in Vietnam. In to Win!"

The MacDonald group left by bus at about 2 P.M. Sunday and waited at 95th Street until 6:15 before stepping off. The march to 62nd Street down Fifth Avenue took about an hour.

Association head MacDonald also pledged that his group would be involved in all patriotic endeavors in the future and would continue its support of the United States fighting man.

Poster Contest Winners Are Belleville Children

Two Belleville youngsters were among the winners of the "We Must Care" poster contest held recently in Essex County.

Rep. Peter Rodino presented the awards at his Newark office last week.

The "We Must Care" organization is dedicated to stopping sex crimes against children.

The posters were drawn by children throughout the county after they viewed the film called "The Bad Stranger." This film has been shown in schools throughout this area and tells about the dangers connected with accepting rides from strangers.

Almost 5,000 children have seen this film. Some of the counties represented in the contest were Belleville, Nutley, Orange, Newark and Maplewood.

There were 24 finalists in four groups. A winner was picked from these groups which included 1st to 8th grades.

The winners are as follows: Robert Corda, 26 Greylock Place, Belleville; Michael Krat, 16 Nelson Place, Nutley; Kathleen Bogan, Maplewood; Mary Ann Carrissimo, 602 Franklin Avenue, Nutley; Deborah Ritacco, 207 Belleville Avenue, Belleville and Steven Werner, Orange.

The awards to the Essex County winners were presented recently by Congressman Peter Rodino.

The Essex County winners will also be entered in the National Poster contest to be held in Ridgefield. The award to the winner will be a trip to Washington, D.C. to meet J. Edgar Hoover, FBI, and have lunch in the Congressional Dining Room.

Band Leaves This Morning For Expo 67

They are on their way! More than 100 members of the Belleville High School band, twirlers and color guard left this morning in busloads for Expo 67 in Montreal, Canada.

Selected by the State Department to be one of 150 bands throughout the country (and one of four in the state) to represent the United States at the international fair, Belleville's band will perform two programs Friday at the band pavilion there.

Will Return Sunday
The Belleville contingent will return Sunday evening.

The Canada trip, certainly to be an expensive one, is being financed through the fund raising efforts of the participating students and through the generosity of local organizations. The band not only held several cake, decal and candy sales, to raise funds; but it has also collected newspapers on Saturday. And sponsored a number of musical shows.

Preparing for this trip has demonstrated some fine determination on the part of many of our students," Robert Wing band-director said.

Two Concerts Friday
The Belleville troupe will stay at the St. Lauren College dormitory in Montreal. They will arrive late Thursday afternoon and will spend the evening resting for their two concerts on Friday.

The program will include the dance band's presentation of Caravan. The twirlers will sing and dance selections from Mame and West Side Story. The concert band will present Hello Dolly excerpts along with several other musical routines.

On Saturday, the band will tour the Expo 67 fairgrounds. Sunday the group will go to church and will then start for home.

The high school band, under Wing's direction has grown from less than 30 members to over 70.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

Today's column is written for owners of air conditioners. If you have one of these very useful units, you should give it a little care before you are going to use again, after it was idle for about 8 months.

First of all replace the filter. If it is the replaceable type, or wash and clean it, if you have a permanent filter. Many a service call has been made where the complaint was that the unit did not put out enough cool air. The reason was a clogged filter, which prevents the free flow of air into the unit and consequently out of the unit.

The ever present dust and dirt settles in between the fins on the cooling and evaporator coils. They have to be kept clean so the air can freely pass between the fins. This can easily be done by the use of a brush attachment to the vacuum cleaner.

Some fan motors have permanently oiled bearings, others require a few drops of oil. Many a fan motor has been replaced just for the need of these few drops of oil.

Some air conditioners have a drip pan in the front that is connected to a second pan in the rear part by a rubber or plastic hose. It is a good idea to check that this hose is not clogged. If it is, the condensed water taken out of the air will accumulate in the front pan and drip into the room. This also may happen if the unit is pitched forward instead of back.

The pan that collects the condensed water, of course, should be cleaned of dirt and rust. That is about all that has to be done. If you did this and the unit does not function properly, it is best to call a mechanic. The contacts on the function switch may be corroded or the thermostat may not work right. The motors have starting capacitors which, in time, may go bad or you even may have a leak.

When a member of the family has an operation, the whole family worries.

But the family doesn't have to be hurt by thoughtless lack of financial protection... they can have the protection of New Jersey Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

An operation and hospital stay — without sound cost protection — can cut deeply into a family's savings. It can

Local Man Cited By Public Service

During May, 22 employees of Public Service Electric and Gas Co. completed 25 years' service with the company and were presented gold service emblems in honor of the occasion.

Gold emblems denoting completion of a quarter-century of service are being presented this month to the following in this area:

James Cofone, 232-D Branch Brook Drive, Belleville. He is a station mechanic-boiler repairman, Bergen Generating Station. Herman A. Glaser, 22 Florida Street, Maplewood. He is a substation operator-special, Essex Electric Distribution Department, Newark.

Anthony Santangelo, 22 North 7th Street, Newark. He is a supervisor, Terminal Building Maintenance Department, Newark.

About the only time some of the menfolk of this community go to church is at their own funeral. This is perhaps, a bit late.

organizations to appear May 28 in the Spring Festival of Music at Symphony Hall, Newark.

The program, to start at 3 p.m. will involve the New Jersey Symphony Junior Orchestra, made up of standout high school musicians. The New Jersey Symphony consists of fourth through ninth graders, and the New Jersey Symphony Boys Chorus.

The program, one of the most ambitious ever performed by young musicians in New Jersey, will be the first at which the three organizations have played together. More than 200 instrumentalists and singers from Northern New Jersey will participate.

Those from Belleville who will participate are: Annabella Costa, viola; Gail Ewing, violin; Bruce Creditor, clarinet; Alane Schrier, clarinet; John Ewing, second violin; Colleen Livingston, first violin.

Each of the three youth training organizations will play separate numbers under its regular conductor. This will be followed by a grand finale, conducted by Kenneth Schermerhorn, the musical director of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra.

When a man is as eager to go to work as he is to leave the office it is a sure sign that he owns the business.

SPEEDING OVER 80 MILES AN HOUR

Drag Racing on Washington Avenue Costs Local Youths Their Licenses

Two local teenagers — one from Nutley, the other from Belleville — lost their licenses and were fined a total of $210 for drag racing at speeds in excess of 80 miles an hour on Washington Avenue.

Although both paid identical fines, 18-year-old Arthur Meleville of Belleville had his license revoked a year; his racing partner, John P. Mac Kewen of Nutley, lost his driving privileges for six months.

Magistrate Edwin J. C. Joerg said he was taking into consideration the fact that MacKewen admitted his guilt in passing sentence.

Meleville, on the other hand, pleaded not guilty to the charge and took issue with testimony of his friend and of Motor Vehicle Inspector Edwin C. Lucas, the complainant.

Meleville — dressed in bur-gundy pants and a pink shirt with a green tie — said he was not dragging but "riding out."

Meleville, who has already been involved in traffic violations although he has had his driver's license less than two months — told Magistrate Joerg that his 1963 Plymouth is not capable of speeds in excess of 60.

"My car cannot go over 60; it will break up; it's a fact, your honor, my engine would go," Meleville said, slouched down in the witness' chair.

Joerg asked whether or not the two boys started out together.

"Yes, but I wasn't drag racing. We were just riding out," Meleville said. "We were going maybe 40 or 45 miles an hour, but not

The speed limit on Washington Avenue is 35.

Motor Vehicle Inspector Lucas testified that he had stopped the two boys at 9:55 p.m. April 20.

"They first pulled abreast of one another, just past the Howe Avenue intersection. Then they took off, spinning their tires on the pavement and continuing abreast at speeds in excess of 80 miles an hour," the Motor Vehicle Inspector said.

Meleville, who was convicted two weeks earlier in Montclair for improper passing, lives at 71

Ligham Street, Belleville.

In revoking the boys' licenses, Magistrate Joerg declared that if either were caught driving,

"you definitely will be given a jail sentence. This court certainly will not tolerate that kind of speed on Washington Avenue. At 9:55 p.m. at night, you're lucky you didn't have an accident."

MacKewen, 19, lives at 18 Hamilton Place, Nutley. He pleaded guilty of the charge, said he realized he was exceeding the speed limit and apologized. MacKewen lost his license for six months. It was his first motor vehicle conviction.

Mrs. Hood Will Continue Good Government Drive

Mrs. Sally Hood, defeated commission candidate, has lost little steam as a result of the recent election and is expected to continue to be a vocal participant at future meetings.

The Council's last session was a prime example.

Mrs. Hood questioned the governing body why Dr. Gerson L.

Ram, local health officer, issued "an eloquent letter of praise" to the Humane Animal Shelter of Lodi. The letter was composed after Ram made a surprise visit on the pound which holds Belleville's contract for keeping stray animals.

Dr. Ram found everything to be in order and said so in a report to the council and a letter to Frank Grossman, owner of the pound.

Mrs. Hood was upset because Dr. Ram saw fit to write a letter to Grossman, "an out of town" establishment, and has not afforded the same respect to Belleville establishments.

Mrs. Hood contended that what is good for one is equally justified for the other. She said Dr. Ram's letter appears on the bulletin board of the pound. "It seems to me that local firms also want to display a letter of commendation from the health department," Mrs. Hood said.

She then asked if council intended to let this practice continue. On the recommendation of Councilman Ralph Casale, the council decided to order Ram to present his report to the council and no body else.

"After all," one official said, "it's a commendation from an inspected establishment."

Transportation Dept. Seeks Bids For Project

The New Jersey Department of Transportation has said it plans to advertise for bids on approximately $46 million more in construction projects between now and the end of the fiscal year, June 30th.

Commissioner of Transportation David J. Goldberg said that following gradual relaxation about two months ago of a federal "freeze" on use of federal aid funds, the department geared up to put out approximately $70 million in construction projects during the balance of the fiscal year. Since the end of March, the commissioner said, the department has advertised for bids on an estimated $26 million in construction projects.

Sideline Byline

REVOLVING DOOR: Will Belleville be in store for its fourth cross country and track mentor in as many years next fall?

The prospects for that development appeared good today as the current Belleville cinder coach, Paul Szem, was named in informed speculation as the leading candidate to take over the Varsity basketball coaching reins at Montclair State College.

This development was prompted by the surprise move of current Montclair-mentor Dave Watkins to a more lucrative post at Dickinson College in Pennsylvania. Szem, a former Montclair graduate and court star with 1213 points in two and a half Varsity seasons, had been serving as Watkins' chief aid and number one recruiter.

The popular BHS physical education instructor had also been handling the Panzer freshman team with a two year record of 40-4 success being highlighted by the recent undefeated 19-0 campaign. This success has prompted Watkins to comment only last week that he expected to lose Szem to one of several colleges who had contacted him, while seeking a head coach.

It now develops according to informed sources, that Szem has the endorsement of Watkins, a coach who literally put Montclair State on the basketball map, as his successor. With experience with the Mountie system and the advantage of having worked with the upcoming players for the past two seasons the choice would seem a natural.

Belleville should be looking for another cross country and track mentor by July.

CINDER DUST: Even without the aforementioned related information, it was to be noted this week that the Belleville track team has rebounded from dropping its initial two meets to capture four of the next five encounters and evolve a strong 4-3 record. The team is the first cinder squad headed by Szem who as a 1964 Montclair graduate spent a year coaching frosh basketball in south jersey, a year with the government, before coming to Belleville this fall. A sophomore session of track in his past this fine all around athlete then took over the school's cross country fortunes and began a rebuilding program. Track was the next local stop on the agenda for a rising young mentor who quite admittedly holds basketball as his first love.

More on the track team later in today's column.

MEN OF ESSEX: Two Belleville High School athletes, Rich San Filippo and Steve Ferrughelli, were among the ten boys given honorable mention by the Men of Essex at their Ninth Annual Outstanding Essex County High School Athlete Dinner last night. The occasion marked the first time that two boys from one school had been among the elite 11 athletes honored.

Quite frankly, according to reliable sources close to the scene, the honor paid was almost an even bigger one as the final selection for the Essex Athlete of the year eventually came down to a decision between Belleville's three sport star San Filippo and his Montclair High counterpart Len Coleman. Coleman, an All-American halfback on the gridiron, was eventually given the honor after what the source described as six hours of deliberation.

San Filippo has been a dominant factor on the school football (three seasons) and baseball (3 seasons) teams since his sophomore year while Ferrughelli led the football team in total offense and interceptions and is currently sparring for the point lead on the school track script.

BELLOY SCRIPT: Nutley appears to be using the script that Belleville has made famous in winning two consecutive Big Ten Conference pennants to pull into a commanding lead as the current loop race turns down the stretch.

The Maroon have been patient, taking care of themselves since tumbling to the Bellboys at the beginning of the month and have moved to a 10-3 log. Meanwhile, as the Maroon have gleefully sat-back and watched the other five or so contenders have been knocking each other off. It is just a repeat of the Belleville script that included an initial loss to the then second place Raiders last season but also included pulling ahead and then letting the field of contenders kill each other off in their haste to climb over each other.

Only Belleville still appears to have a shot at catching the fast rising Nutley squad, and that only with a reversal of the slump that has seen four losses in the last five league games. If that reversal can be found this week, the May 27 meeting of the two neighboring rivals will be the script changing presentation. The current league standings show Belleville title defense and bid for a third consecutive title

Mounties Pull Upset On Monday

BHS Punchless Before Anderson

On Monday, the Big Ten Conference's elder statesman Clary Anderson gambled and through his ace hurler, soph Joe Petronaci, in a make-up game with Bloomfield. The Mounties won the contest and the wily veteran of many a Big Ten campaign was satisfied to have gained an apparent week opening split since Belleville loomed on the schedule as Tuesday's foe.

Everything seemed going according to plan until surprisingly that Tuesday encounter took a turn for the Bellboy worst and Sam Bailey found himself riding a five hitter over the suddenly punchless Bellboys and big junior Roland Barnes proved that it was not how far a poke sailed but rather where it landed that mattered by dropping in two bloop singles for a 5-3 Mountie upset victory.

Belleville's senior southpaws Joel Pisano and Mike Welsh, who had been the mound heroes in a combination effort in defeating Nutley were ironically the goats in this outing as Pisano was chased in a four-hit three run second inning for his earliest departure in seven starts and Welsh yielded the two decisive talks on a bunt and bloop rally in the fifth.

Meanwhile as the Mounties were bunting and blooping their way to victory, the Bellboys were unloading with the heavy lumber, but once again only to produce some long outs. Five long drives were converted to putouts this time as the fenceless Bellboy home grounds continued to haunt the Belleville sluggers, although doubles by Charley Cuomo and Dave Rothwell did manage to fall in among the five Blue and Gold safeties.

This surprising upset cost the Bellboys their loss column advantage over Nutley in the torrid Big Ten Conference race as each team now boasted three losses and Montclair, West Orange and Bloomfield were close behind with four each. Unless one of the teams can hold its own while the others knock each other off, a multi-team scramble is under way.

The loss was the Bellboys third in their last four games, the only win in the skein being over the loop leading Maroon. A team wide hitting drought is the major cause of the doldrums as the clutch blows have just not been falling in.

After getting through the first unscathed while picking up two strike-outs and walking one, Pisano appeared on his way to an easy outing when the Bellboys erupted in the home first for what was to be their entire run production. Jim Serritella began the mayhem with a line single to left before being replaced on a fielder's choice by Sam Calabria.

Slumping Bellboys Drop Three; Nutley Now Leads by 2 Games

Orangemen Break 25-Game Losing Streak at Our Expense

The trite cliché that on any given day any team can overcome its diamond opposite was echoed loudly throughout a shocked Belleville last week as hapless Orange rose up with all the vengeance of a dead mackerel to break a twenty-five game losing streak with a 3-2 upset of the defending league champion Bellboys.

Interpreted philosophically it can be noted that it was just one of those days since the entire Big Ten standings were being turned topsy-turvy by a bottom five contingent that was upsetting the entire first division. The argument remains very unconvincing however, for the Belleville effort was the day's biggest mismatch of all.

Overcome by their surprising 5-1 win over Nutley, The Bellboys were undoubtedly suffering from a let down as they encountered the hungry Tornadoes on the dark and drizzly Friday afternoon. The let-down idea was over done however — if Belleville should manage to miss its shot at that unprecedented third straight Big Ten title, a look to May 5 will suffice for explanation.

(This shocking upset was the prelude to the team's present woes as ecstasy was replaced by let-down and then shock and three straight games went the way of the loss column.)

Allowing most of the carnage in the opening round, Rich Del Guercio was the culprit responsible for awakening a Tornado team that had come to Belleville for all intents and purposes in an unnatural state of slumber.

Rich San Filippo then walked to bring the team's hottest hitter, Charley Cuomo to the plate. The veteran Bellboy catcher responded to the challenge by driving a two-run double to right-center and then proceeding to third on an outfield error. An out later, the only other hitting Bellboy, Dave Rothwell, delivered the final tally with the first of two hits of a perfect day.

This made it 3-0 and Pisano seemed to have a working margin. Apparently the Mounties did not agree, Barnes, who three innings later was to decide it all, opened the second with a bloop into short right before Pisano recorded his third strike-out. Peasany outling when the Bellboys erupted in the home first for what was to be their entire run production. Jim Serritella began the mayhem with a line single to left before being replaced on a fielder's choice by Sam Calabria.

Three of the Orangemen's four hits were produced in that opening round as two runs sufficiently shook the paralysis away.

After that Del Guercio had the situation well in hand except for one pitch as he fanned ten Tornadoes and breezed through four rounds while his mates were tying the score at 2-2. Then came the error, on the first pitch to the only legitimate hitter Orange has to offer, Ollie Mitchell, it was delivered over a circuit clout to left and as it developed a victory over the punchless Bellboys.

At the plate the slumping Blue and Gold were managing just two hits off of a pair of mediocre Tornadoes hurlers as eight walks and a pair of errors provided the base-runners need but the big clutch hit was never delivered. The deep playing and unusually fleet Orange outfielders were the biggest factor in this disappointment as no less than seven long and hard hit shots were hauled in by opponent fly-hawks — San Filippo and Serritella each with long blasts to center and right-center were the most deprived by the outfield excellence.

Del Guercio's ten strike-out four hit performance will undoubtedly earn him another performance, but that first inning jitters also earned him a loss to even the seasonal record at 1-1 and bring the ERA to 3.65 as a starter, 2.22 overall.

Wild-high in the first round Del Guercio allowed a lead-off single to Craig Perrelli before recording his first strike-out. All was not to be honky-dory however as Art Retting followed with a single to center that was mis-played into the first Tornado tally. Another followed before Mitchell, the day's batting star delivered the bacon with a double to right-center. Only a base-on-balls and an infield error hindered the next 17 put-outs before Mitchell struck for the fateful second time.

Meanwhile Ross Wright was holding the Bellboys at bay although with some difficulty. Walking three Blue and Gold batters and stranding them in the first, Wright set the frustrating tempo of the clutchless day. Another pass followed in the second before the meat of the order went down one-two-three in the third.

A tainted rally then appeared in the fourth to chase Wright and bring on an equally effective Dan Nigro to torment the Bellboys. With one down, Catalano started the uprising by beating out an infield hit as the first Belleville safety of the day. An infield error ensued on the next play as Banda's misplayed roller put men on first and third.

A balk then altered that to score Catalano and put Banda in position to steal third and score on Cervasio's bloop single to shallow center. Two walks and two long flies followed as the bases died loaded and a pair of hard-hit blasts were lost to the perennial Municipal Stadium wind.

After that bases on balls provided the only Belleville threat helped to make chaos of two potential tie-producing innings. It was just one of those days. And so it is that Orange broke the longest losing streak of any scholastic nine in the state and the Bellboys suffered the cruellest cut off all on a day of upsets, S.C.

Mounties

from College High, who also goes by the name of Yogi a la his famous father, was precisely the chap who had led to Bailey's conversion from catcher to pitcher, now it was to be his turn to exhibit the family swing. That he did in fine style, too, lashing a double to left to deliver the first Mountie tally.

Not to be completely outdone, Bailey then brought the second run home with an infield out. John Welsh, no relation to Belleville's Mike, then completed the carnage with a bloop single into center for the third tally and the end brought the Bellboy Welsh to the mound for his sixth relief appearance of the season. The second Bellboy lefty then retired the side and breezed through two rounds before running into fifth inning problems that were to be decisive.

Meanwhile, Belleville was attempting vainly to regain the upper hand as a double-play in the second, a one-two-three inning in the third and a wasted Rothwell double in the fourth all proved of no avail as three men were stranded.

That brings us to the fateful fifth. Welsh started the round by hitting his Mountie name-sake with the inning's first offering and the fun was yet to come. Attempting to sacrifice the potential lead run into scoring position, Len Coleman found himself safely on first as chaos caused the bag to be left uncovered. Still trying to move the men along Craig Moore tried the sacrifice trick, but to no avail as Welsh, The Mountie one, was forced at third.

Persistent as ever, Anderson still didn't abandon the thought, and clean-up man Joe Miscia finally delivered the order by sacrificing the Mountie runners along. This brought Barnes to the plate for a hit-and-run bloop that landed just out of the outstretched reach of shortstop San Fillipo and leftfielder Bob Banda when things are going bad such Texas Leaguers prove to be two run game deciders. Things were going bad that Tuesday.

Vainly attempting a comeback, the Bellboys showed some signs of life in the sixth after having been retired on three flys in the fifth. When Jim Catalano led off with a single, and Dave Rothwell walked to complete his perfect day, Belleville seemed on its way.

This called for, you guessed it, a sacrifice. Banda got the call and delivered a high one that Bailey just missed soaring for a fly out but instead trapped on a short hop. All of this was apparently very confusing for Catalano who could not see the play from his second base vantage point, and could not hear the base coach apparently, and assumed the ball had been caught.

When Rothwell came chugging into third this was bound to cause some more confusion for at base even two is a crowd. With this in mind Rothwell headed back to first where Banda had just been forced and Catalano took out for third. A quick throw to third then altered this as both Bellboys resumed their collision course to second. When the smoke finally cleared Catalano was standing on second and Rothwell was out the victim of one of the craziest double plays on record — Belleville's come-back bid had also succumbed in the process.

Not to be forgotten it could be noted that little Yogi provided some further chase of his own in the sixth with a long triple to left. Yoo-hoo anyone?

Bellboys

Nutley fracas as only a last minute decision saw Pisano take to the mound. With only 14 hits and a half dozen walks against him in his 28 rounds, Welsh is the most secure of the Belleville hurlers.

Perhaps the key to the mound situation however, according to first-year mentor Charley Traverses with junior righthander Rich Del Guercio. The hardest-throwing of the Bellboys has 16 strikeouts in his last ten rounds. The five appearances that Del Guercio now holds could well double within the next two weeks.

Bob Gamba who pitched a six-hitter in his only start to overcome Central should also get a call for his first Big Ten action. A similar call will be issued to second-sacker Jim Catalano, whose chief mound experience can be traced to CYO ball. For some spot work as the schedule draws to a June 3 close, with from nine to 14 games depending on how the Blue and Gold fare in the annual tourney competition.

Even more important than the mound dilemma is the plate problem that must be overcome before the Bellboys can begin to win again. Unless the current batting slump can be broken, it will be all over except for the cheering — Belleville can not afford to lose another ball game without forsaking a shot at either a Big Ten Conference title, State Tournament crown or Greater Newark Tournament championship.

To try to spur this outburst, a lineup shakeup appears certain. The weak bench prevents wholesale face-changing, so shuffle will be the order of the day. Dave Rothwell, formerly a number five or six batter will now inherit the lead-off spot as a 10-26 recent showing coupled with 11 bases-on-balls provides nomination enough for the move.

A slumping Rich San Fillipo will be moved up from the third to the second spot in hopes that more at-bats will spur recovery for the hard-hitting Bellboy who four times in the last four games has had long drives captured. Cuomo will be next moving up from the fourth spot with more at-bats in mind.

From here back, the line-up still remains hazy although Catalano and Calabria could find themselves platooning in the fourth spot and Serritella is a likely fifth man.

This change may help, it may not, but the fact remains that the countless Belleville drives have to start falling in eventually, the only problem is that eventually may come after June 10. Only time and Lady Luck will tell.

We girls appreciate the quality of Edwards Todlins

Election Night Parties Sparkle Into The Wee Hours

GETTING BALLOT TOTALS — Vincent Strumolo calls his headquarters from town hall with election results. This photo was taken before he learned of his election victory.

HEY, I WON! — Joseph McGreevy, newly elected Commissioner, lets out a jubilant cry as he gets the news over the telephone that he scored second in the Belleville election. McGreevy heard the report of his victory at his headquarters.

A BIG KISS FOR MARY — Mary V. Senatore, Belleville's first woman to win election as a commissioner, gets a whopping kiss from her husband, Emile, at her Washington Avenue headquarters. Mrs. Senatore entertained huge crowds of guests, friends and well wishers who besieged her headquarters after they learned she had placed third on the final election tally.

FRIENDS OF DEFEATED CANDIDATES — Citizens in town hall mill about unhappily after they discovered that their favorite candidates did not secure a commission position.

There were 17 commission hopefuls in the recent election. Five were elected to four year terms.

MCGREEVY — Newly elected Commissioner Joseph McGreevy seems to contemplate his impending four-year term which will begin July 8. He was one of five persons to win in the recent election.

APPLAUSE FOR VICTORS — Campaign workers and friends applaud newly elected Commissioners Kenneth Smith and Joseph McGreevy at McGreevy's victory celebration last week. Smith confers with McGreevy at background left.

CONGRATULATORY KISS — Kenneth Smith, high man in the recent commission election, receives a kiss from his wife at Smith's campaign headquarters moments after he was notified of his victory.

MARY AT HER PARTY — Mary V. Senatore chats with campaign workers at her victory party last week. The town's first woman to be elected to office said after learning of her election, "I'm happy, ecstatic and proud," and then she added with a smile, "And very tired . . . it's been a long campaign."

SAD TOTALS — John Monaghan, defeated commission candidate, in last week's election performs some quick addition to realize that he was not to be included within the winner's circle.

CULLEN'S CELEBRATION — Councilman William Cullen, now Commissioner-elect, is greeted by friends shortly after the announcement of his election victory. Cullen was listed as fourth place winner in a race occupied by 17 candidates.

COUNTS BALLOTS — Joan Montalbano, secretary to Eugene Barnett, town clerk, helps count election ballots. She worked more than 18 hours on election day with other members of the office staff.

CHECKING THE RESULTS — Town workers compile election returns in the offices of the council and the manager on election night. Several adding machines ticked rapidly as the totals from each district were received and tabulated. Shortly before 9 p.m. Eugene Barnett, town clerk, announced the official results to a large crowd of people who hovered around town hall waiting to learn who would serve as their commissioners for the next four years.

State Nabs 200 More Speeders

Another 200 motorists tagged by a State Police radar trap on Route 21 will be in Belleville Municipal Court next Thursday morning.

A similar number of motorists — all charged with speeding — appeared before Magistrate Edward J. Abromson two weeks ago. State Police is setting up regular traps on Route 21 throughout which took 11 lives the past year.

Abromson said last week he can't understand how so many people "whose drivers' licenses are vital to their work can have peace of mind in traveling at 60 and 70 miles an hour on a road with a speed limit of 50."

He made his remarks while sentencing Craig Koehler, 20, of Bloomfield, the lone speeder in Abromson's Court last Thursday. Koehler was fined $15 and $5 costs for traveling 69 miles an hour on Route 21.

Social Security Tips To Get High Earnings

Do you depend on tips to boost your earnings? These cash tips can also mean higher social security benefits for you and your family, but only if you report them.

Since social security benefits to you and your family are based on your earnings, the higher your reported earnings, the higher your future benefits. For some workers, the amount of their social security benefits could be almost doubled if social security credit can be given for the amount of their tips.

'They Never Tell The Truth,' Abromson Says In Court About Narcotic Users

"The trouble with these guys is they never tell the truth," Magistrate Edward J. Abromson said after sentencing a Bloomfield narcotics user in Belleville Criminal Court Thursday.

Robert Cirocota of 21 Patton Drive, Bloomfield, was then handcuffed and returned to Newark Street Jail where he is awaiting action of the Grand Jury for two breaking and entering incidents in Belleville.

Cirocota was returned to Belleville Thursday on a charge of failing to register as a narcotics user. He told Magistrate Abromson, "I didn't know I had to register."

The Belleville Judge made no pretense that he believed the defendant. "Don't give me that story! you know the narcotics' laws better than I do," Abromson said. After sentencing Cirocota to a three-month suspended prison sentence with a year's probation, Cirocota's criminal record arrived from the Detective Bureau.

BACK TO BENCH
Abromson called Cirocota back to the bench.

"I thought you told me you had no other record," Abromson said, reading from a folder of notes. "Were you ever in Florida and sent to jail for 10 days?" Abromson asked.

"I don't remember," Cirocota replied.

"Well how about Bloomfield,"

Abromson continued. "Were you ever sent to prison for six months in Bloomfield or don't you remember that either?"

Angered, Abromson warned Cirocota, "Don't you ever lie to a court of law again."

Cirocota was arrested by Belleville Patrolman Hugh O'toole for failing to register as a narcotics user. Cirocota was given a preliminary hearing on the breaking and entering charges April 27. The charges were referred to the Essex County Grand Jury.

Cirocota is awaiting the disposition of the Grand Jury and is confined to the Newark Street jail.

Abortion Trial Re-Scheduled

A court trial concerned with an alleged abortion has undergone a further postponement in Belleville.

Originally scheduled for trial March 30, the charges are now set for Magistrate Edward J. Abromson's docket on Thursday, June 8.

Involved in the charge of an attempted abortion are Dr. Anthony Merk, 49, of 79 North Ninth Street, Newark, and John D'Angelo, 55, of Boonton. Also involved is a 22-year-old Newark woman who allegedly was undergoing an abortion when Belleville Police raided an apartment building at 242 Mill Street.

Bail has been posted by the two men, $1,000 for Dr. Merk and $2,500 for D'Angelo. The woman involved has been subpoenaed as a material witness.

SCHOLASTIC GUIDELINES

By HERMAN KNUPPEL

For the seniors who are still seeking admission to a college it is a comforting thought that when the total number of college applicants is compared to the total number of college facilities, there is room for all.

The apparent shortage is a statistical illusion created by the unfortunate phenomenon of 50 per cent of all students applying to only 7 per cent of all 2,200 colleges. The 7 per cent are usually the largest or best known, but not necessarily the best choice for average student.

Admission centers are clearing houses which prepare a summary of the student's academic background and send it to all of the participating colleges. Most students will receive invitations from 10 to 20 colleges who would be interested in having the boy or girl apply.

Here is a listing of the names and addresses of probably the four best known admissions centers in our country: American College Admissions Center, Junior to School Building, N. E. 12th and Walnut Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107; College Admissions Center, 41 East 65th Street, New York 10021; College Admissions Center, 610 Church Street, Evanston, Illinois 60201; Catholic College Admissions and Information Center, 3806 McKinley Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20015.

Most of these centers charge

$20.00 for processing your application.

PSAT Tests

Tenth graders who will become juniors next school year will be interested in knowing that the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) can be given on either Tuesday, Oct. 10 or October 14, with most schools administering the test on October 14. The PSAT is offered as an aid in the guidance of high school juniors toward college.

Career Seminars

On the following Saturdays, May 13, 20 and 27 the Sigma Business College and School of Business Machines, 25 Branford Pl., Newark, conduct automation careers seminars free of charge. The purpose of these seminars is to encourage high school graduates to consider careers working in modern highly automated offices. An explanation and demonstration on modern office equipment will be conducted, including computer programming. Discussions will be held to clarify the opportunities which exist now, and will exist in the future — for the boy and girl graduate. Admission is by advance registration only so you must call Registrar Goldstein or Director Heininger as early as practicable to arrange admission for the date of your choice. This can also be accomplished by a letter to the school. Telephone number is 622-6666.

Sel-Rex Reports Big Sales Volume

Sales of Sel-Rex Corporation for the first quarter of 1967 established a new high for any quarterly period, at $8,820,000, an increase of 9.7 percent over the sales volume of the first quarter of 1966.

Net earnings per share for the 1967 quarter totalled 40 cents compared with 38 cents per share for the first quarter of 1967, the latter figure adjusted to reflect the 3-for-2 stock split-up made by the company in March of 1967.

Although pre-tax profits for the three months ended March 31, 1967 declined fractionally to $909,000, as compared with $915,000 for the corresponding 1966 period, net earnings after taxes were $521,000 for the 1967 quarter as against $495,000 for the same three months of 1966.

During this year's first quarter, the company's sales and earnings from its foreign operations showed gains over last year's first quarter, and the company's equipment manufacturing subsidiary, The Meaker Company, showed a decline in results.

N.J. Teacher Shortage was Caused By Poor Wage Rate, States Experts

More salary dollars apparently could have eased New Jersey's alarming teacher shortage last summer.

Just before school opened in September, the N.J. State Department of Education announced that New Jersey was experiencing its worst teacher shortage since World War 2. A study by the New Jersey Education Assn. now shows a direct relationship between salary level and availability of teachers. The biggest areas paying the lowest salaries and the smallest shortages in areas of high teacher pay.

In the study, NJEA compared New Jersey's Northern metropolitan counties, where the average teacher salary is $7,438; the seven Central counties, where the average salary is $7,073; and the seven Southern counties, where the average salary is $6,852.

In addition to the average of salaries being paid to all teachers the typical starting salary of $4,000 to $4,500 for beginning teachers is highest in the Northern counties and lowest in the Southern, as is the salary paid to teachers at top scale.

In the Northern metropolitan counties, the teacher shortage averaged about 2 per cent of the teaching force — between 2 and 3 vacancies per 100 positions.

In the rural counties, the shortage averaged from 4 to 6 per cent of the teaching force — between 4 and 6 vacancies per 100 positions. This is double to triple the percentage in the high-pay counties.

During August, New Jersey school superintendents experienced varying degrees of difficulty in hiring teachers to staff every type of classroom. In the Northern counties, superintendents reported only "average" difficulty for most categories; in the Central counties, "greater than average" difficulty. In the low-pay Southern counties, superintendents reported "significant difficulty" in many categories.

In the Southern counties, many superintendents couldn't find certified teachers and had to arrange for "emergency" certificates for housewives and other non-college graduates.

Teacher shortages could become critical in the many small districts in the Southern counties which tend to pay teachers only the minimum allowed by State law, NJEA warns. Present State minimum are more than $1,000 below salary scales paid in the typical New Jersey community. NJEA is asking the Legislature to raise teacher-salary minimums to correct this situation.

The sunroof works even when there isn't any sun.

When you slide back the sunroof on a Volkswagen Station Wagon, the sky's the limit.

That's because odd-shaped loads you'd have trouble fitting into an ordinary station wagon can stick up out of a VW. Like a tree. Or a refrigerator. (In fact, you never know what might pop up.)

And even when the sunroof's closed, the Volkswagen still gives you almost twice as much space as other wagons. And a 4' by 4' door that lets you get right at all the room inside. (You don't have to be an engineer to move big, bulky loads in and out.)

And whenever you don't want to put big things inside your VW, you can use it for big people instead. It seats 9 of them and holds 13 pieces of luggage. All at once.

Other wagons only hold about half as much as a VW. Even if you hit the ceiling. But after the VW's all filled up, you can still go through the roof.
