State Revaluation Policy Target Of Council Protest

A resolution which would add a new dimension to the current tax revaluation crisis in Belleville is being prepared by the Town Council.

The measure, sponsored by Councilman Ralph Casale, incorporates suggestions made by Jack Soriano, town attorney.

The Council will decide whether it wants to petition the state Legislature for remedial legislation regarding the state's present policies on the revaluation of property throughout New Jersey.

Soriano presented a four-point proposal which the council agreed to study. These recommendations will form the foundation for the council's petition.

Capable Assessors

They include the selection and placement of sufficient and capable assessors by the state; adoption of a uniform and mandatory set of rules under which all assessors would operate and abolishment of state and county boards of taxation as bearers of tax appeals and retention of the state board of tax appeals for administrative purposes only. The final request calls for the establishment of the state tax courts under the jurisdiction of the state Supreme Court to be manned by full time judges to serve the entire state.

Belleville recently lost its appeal before the Appellate Division of the Superior Court ordering the town to take all steps necessary, including the appropriation of the necessary money to effectuate a revaluation of all the taxable real property within the community.

Dailies Are Erroneous

Regarding the latest decision, Soriano told the council:

TOWN ATTORNEY — Jack Soriano, town counselor, outlines his four point program to governing officials which he claims will help untangle state policies regarding tax revaluation. The council is expected to act on his recommendations at its final meeting.

Belleville Miss Enters Garden State Pageant

The town's own "Little Miss Belleville" received an invitation this week to compete in the "Little Miss Garden State" contest which will be held June 23 in Atlantic City.

Little Miss Belleville, who is Cynthia Corris, 17, of 25 Lloyd Place, is excited about the impending competition.

"I can't wait to get to Atlantic City," she said the other day. Her family is rather enthralled too. They will be Atlantic City's guests during the pageant.

Cynthia won the local contest which was sponsored by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

Many Hobbies

The charming young blonde, who has large blue eyes, attends St. Peter's Parochial School. When she isn't reading, bowling or skating, her favorite hobbies, she enjoys playing with her younger sister Sandra (two years old) who shows all the signs of being a future star.

Detectives Seek Hit-Run Driver

Police continue to search for the hit and run driver who struck down and killed a Belleville man recently.

The man, Arthur McCarthy, 31, of 173 Belleville Avenue, died this week at Calara Maass Memorial of multiple cuts, internal injuries and a fractured skull. He was buried Tuesday morning.

McCarthy apparently was struck down as he was crossing Washington Avenue at the corner of Williams Street. Witnesses said the car, a light blue Cadillac, slowed after striking McCarthy and then sped off. They said there might have been more than one person in the car.

Police have requested that

LETTER FROM VIETNAM — Arthur F. Ricci, currently stationed in Vietnam wrote a letter to the Belleville Times recently explaining his opinions regarding draft card burners. Reviewing the note is Frances Ricci, his sister (left) and Mrs. Mary Ricci, his mother.

VIET LETTER

Art F. Ricci, Censures Peaceniks; Mom And Sis Await Homecoming

Despite the fact that Mrs. Mary Ricci of 46 Brighton Avenue has not heard from her son for more than a month, she is hoping and praying that she will see her boy by the end of this month.

Her son, actually a man now, is Arthur Ricci, 22, now stationed in Vietnam. He will have been there for a full year by the end of June. That truth is rather encouraging for Mrs. Ricci, since it will mean the climax of his tour of duty in Vietnam.

Mrs. Ricci and her daughter Frances share the hope that Art will be able to return home for a visit during the beginning of July.

Wrote To Times

Meanwhile Sp. 4 Arthur F. Ricci took a moment recently to write to the Belleville-Times to explain his views on the Vietnam crisis and to personally censure those persons who would "lower the town of Belleville." He called these persons the draft card burners and others of their kind who would add the "destruction of humanity."

Art wrote:

"I'm a soldier now stationed in the Republic of Vietnam. Many people have often wondered why we are here. Well, we are here to stop the spread of Communism and its infiltration of South Vietnam."

The reason I'm writing to you is that I live in Belleville, and I'm very proud of that town, and also of saying I served in Vietnam and fought for the people of that town. But what really bothers me is that people eligible for the draft, from Belleville, continually burn draft cards or try to avoid the draft. That shows this type of people is for Communism, or just don't want any peace. That's why I am writing this letter.

Risks His Life

"I have received numerous letters to the effect that what I have just mentioned is very true. I have been here 11 months, and I risked my life every day for people at home, but not for the people who don't comply with government standards.

What it all boils down to is this: People of that nature aren't only ruining the strength of the government, but also are lowering the town of Belleville, which, in effect, will destroy humanity. "The people of Vietnam are struggling for freedom and happiness, but infiltrators are trying desperately to drown out the South Vietnamese people. But we're here to stop the spread of infiltrators which is being accomplished slowly but steadily. All in all I wish this article to be printed for the common good of the people such as I mentioned."

Steven D. Crowley Wins Combat Medical Badge

Army Specialist Four Steven D. Crowley, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Crowley, 337 Stephens Street, Belleville, was awarded the Combat Medical Badge recently in Vietnam.

Spec. Crowley received the award for service as a medical specialist under hostile fire.

Crowley, assigned to Troop A, 1st Squadron, 10th Cavalry, 4th Infantry Division near Pleiku, entered the Army in November 1965 and was stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash., prior to arriving overseas in October 1966.

Spec. Crowley is a 1964 graduate of Belleville High School.

Class to Embark on Monday For Culvermere Excursion

Belleville High School seniors, some 325 of them, will spend the bulk of the new week preparing for Wednesday evening's commencement ceremonies scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Municipal Stadium.

The event, which is expected to draw record crowds, carries as its theme for 1967 — "Focus of Change — Education In Our Time."

While most of Tuesday and Wednesday will be spent during final rehearsals for the graduation, the seniors will have a day for fun and leisure when they take their trip to Culvermere on Monday.

With considerable enthusiasm and pride, Raymond Smith, high school principal, spoke of the Class of 1967 in the most flattering of terms. He forecast that Wednesday's commencement services would rank among Belleville's finest.

He said that 23 of the senior class members are in the honors group.

Guest Speakers

Referring to the graduation program, he said the entire affair will be executed by the school. He said there will be no guest speaker from without the school district.

The four student spokesmen for the occasion will be Janet Robinson, Catherine Ziel, Steve Charen and Joel Pisano. Their talks will be in keeping with the theme of the program.

For example, Miss Robinson will speak about changes in the world around us; Miss Ziel, changes within the U.S.; Charen, changes that occur within us caused by an association with other people. Pisano will welcome the parents and guests.

Rich San Filippo, president of the senior class, will lead the assemblage in a salute to the flag.

High School Band

Meanwhile, the high school band will play appropriate musical selections.

Ann Celso will announce the names of the graduates. "We've had assorted dignitaries read the names for diploma presentation in the past, but they always end up murdering the pronunciation of the names."

The graduation is expected to be somewhat of a spectacle with an honor guard and rows of girls in evening gowns.

"We consider the ceremony to be the most impressive in the state, as far as high school commencements go," Smith said smiling.

Private School Bus Deadline Set For July 10

Parents of students in non-profit private and parochial schools who would like their children to be bused to classes next year must apply to the Belleville Board of Education by July 10.

A new law passed by the State qualifies students in these schools who live more than 2 miles from school (2½ miles for high school) to be bused by the town.

Until the ruling became law, Belleville was only providing transportation for students who could travel the same routes as local students attending vocational schools outside the districts. This year the town reimbursed the travel expenses of 52 local youths attending vocational schools and 229 other students using the same routes. Some 470 students are bused to local public schools by the town.

Mrs. Mary Shader, Board of Education secretary, could not estimate how many students would be affected by the new law.

"That's why we are asking the parents to register in writing with me before July 10," she said. She explained that although the State Department of Education has not yet given the communities full details of the law, it has set July 10 as the deadline for registration. "Even though we don't know all the rules yet, the parents must apply to be certain they are covered," Mrs. Shader said.

The Board of Education offices are located at 183 Union Avenue.

School Head Will Attend Graduation

Anthony Greco

Belleville residents will have an opportunity to meet the new superintendent of schools at Wednesday evening's high school commencement exercises.

Anthony Greco, the newly appointed school superintendent, who will take hold of the reins of the local school district August 1, has been listed among the guests at the graduation.

Greco is currently superintendent of Rockaway's school system.

The board granted him a two year contract at a salary rate of $18,000 for 1967-68, and $19,000 for the 1968-69 school year.

The appointment culminates a three month search for a successor to Dr. Frank M. Durkee, who resigned November 30, 1966. To assist in the screening of applicants, the board engaged the services of two consultants, Dr. Milton Steinhower of Rutgers University and Dr. Willard S. Ellsbree of Columbia University.

49 Candidates

After examining the credentials for the position, the consultants recommended six individuals to the board. Greco was selected from these six finalists.

The new superintendent has been serving as head of the Rockaway school system since 1959.

The 48-year-old school leader received his educational background at the University of Scranton, where he was awarded a bachelor's degree, and Rutgers University for his masters degree and work toward his doctorate.

Greco Was A Quarterback

While at Scranton, Greco quarterbacked the varsity football team. His professional memberships include the Rockaway Education Association, National Education Association, American Association of School Administrators, New Jersey School Administrators Association and the New Jersey Schoolmasters Club.

Three of Greco's articles on education have been published. Greco has been active in curriculum development in science, mathematics and early inclusion of elementary foreign languages.

The succession to Greco's new office will enable Michael Rosamita, acting superintendent, to resume his full time duties as assistant superintendent.

PLAQUE PRESENTED

Schoolmen Honor William Chapman

MEMORIAL — Mrs. William Chapman views the plaque which the Belleville Administrators Association dedicated to the memory of her husband. Looking on with her is Austin MacArthur, president of the association and Raymond Chapman, son of the deceased principal of School 5 in Belleville.

William Chapman, former principal of School 5 who died this year, was fondly remembered by the school administrators in Belleville. The schoolmen took the opportunity to present a memorial plaque to Mr. Chapman.

The plaque, located on a prominent wall in School 5 was unveiled this week by Mrs. Chapman and her son Raymond at ceremonies sponsored by the Belleville's Administrators Association.

Speakers at the occasion included Austin MacArthur, president of the administrators group and Archibald Gallambardo, Mr. Chapman's successor at School 5.

Several board members were present along with PTA members from the district.

Mrs. Chapman, who was obviously touched by the brief ceremony, thanked the schoolmen for their thoughtfulness.

The plaque lauds Mr. Chapman for his principles of leadership, scholarship and sportsmanship.

Vegetable Stand Will Become A Used Car Lot In Belleville

A fruit and vegetable stand located at 558 Franklin Avenue will soon become a used car lot in Belleville.

The Board of Adjustment this week voted 3-2 to permit John Sczyrak, 27 Homes Avenue, Nutley to convert the property into space for the car lot.

Although the change is in violation of the zoning code, the board approved the change.

The zoners opposing the conversion are John Coronato and Thomas R. Colatrello.

Two-Car Garage

In another matter board granted a variance to Joseph Manetta of 56 DeWitt Avenue which permits him to erect a two-car garage at his home.

The lot is located in a "B" residential zone. The premises are currently classified as a non-conforming use.

Planners Get Report From New Director

Paul N. Ylvisaker, commissioner of New Jersey's newly created Department of Community Affairs was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Passaic Valley Citizens Planning Association on Monday, June 5. Ylvisaker was appointed to the post by Gov. Richard J. Hughes in December of last year. The Passaic Valley group is consultant to both the National and Belleville Planning Boards.

Former Belleville Drug User Tells Potential Addicts of Bitter Perils

A local drug user, gnawed by the tooth of his addiction, approached the editorial staff of the Belleville Times to describe his own personal disaster in an attempt to stop others from duplicating his course of tragedy.

He is a resident of Belleville. He has lived in the town all of his life. By age, he is only recently a man, and certainly a very nervous one. His problem is drug addiction . . . and this is his story.

Plenty of Promise
"It's election time once again in Belleville. We hear a lot of good people promising a lot of fine things, a lot of things we need in town, such as cleaner streets, property evaluation, etc., but there is one problem no one in Belleville wants to talk about. I can't be they don't know about it.

"Maybe they don't realize the size of the problem, or could they be too ashamed to admit they have one. No one wants to speak about it until, God forbid, it happens in their family or to the kid next-door.

"The problem is drugs, goofballs, heroin.

"You may think I'm exaggerating, but, believe me, I'm not. I'm 21 years old and lived in Belleville all my life. I've been using drugs for six years now, and I can see what is going on. Now I have stopped and I pray I never go back to them again.

"It's a hell of a thing to see 14- or 15-year old kids standing on a corner twisted on pills or dope." Just today I saw three girls, no more than 15 or 16, high in drugs.

Kicks
These kids are doing it for kicks, they think they are being a big deal. Believe me, they don't know what they are getting into. Most of these kids aren't bad, just easily lead, or stupid.

"As far as I know, there is no drug education of any kind in town. There is nothing to tell or show these kids what they're getting into. When I was in school they had an assembly at which a narcotics detective spoke on drugs.

"I personally know people who stopped using pills after hearing from this officer what drugs could do to a person.

"I actually felt sick to my stomach when I saw those three girls today. I've seen too many young people die of overdoses, or turn to stealing, mugging, and even worse. And I'm talking about kids from Belleville within the last four or five years. If there was a program in Belleville that could save just one boy or girl from being a slave to drugs, it would be worth it.

King Heroin
"Behold my friends, for I am King Heroin, known to all mankind as the destroyer of man.

From where I first came, nobody knows. I come from the land where the poppy seed grows. I'm a world force and all know it's true. Use me once and you'll know it too.

My little white grains are nothing but waste, soft and deadly and bitter to taste. All nation have gathered to plot my destruction, for I am the breeder of crime and corruption.

I capture men's wills, destroy their minds, cause men to commit brutal crimes.

Now, I can make a mere school-boy forget his books, make a world-famous beauty neglect her looks.

Some think my adventure a joy and a thriller, but I'll put a gun in your hand and make you a killer.

I can make my addicts go out and steal, make a hungry man miss a meal.

Self-Destruction
Make a good husband forsake his wife, send a greedy man to prison for the rest of his life.

I can make a man sell his country or deny his flag, make a good girl a whore for a five-dollar bag.

From some I make a profit of five or ten, make a man in trouble tell on his friend.

Those greedy few who use the most, I kill off quick with an overdose.

So would you like to hear more of the thing I can do? Of women I defiled, of the men I slew? In Germany I stopped an army, in France they ran, in honor in China, respected in Japan.

So am I not to behold more precious than diamonds, more treasured than gold, more potent than whiskey, more deadly than wine, for the destruction of all mankind?

Helpless Defiance
So now the law has taken you from under my wing, how dare they defy me, for I am the King.

Now you must sit in jail. I can't get through by visit or mail. Now you must suffer all parts of my game, lie in discomfort, twist in pain.

Awake in the morning so hungry and weak, with your tongue so swollen you can hardly speak.

Vomit your guts out with a hacking cough. Six days of this madness, and you might throw me off.

Curse me by name, defy me in speech, but you would pick me up if I were in reach.

As sure as I'm heroin you'll come for a taste.

Behold many a shot will be cooked, from this day on, because you are hooked.

Bitter Warning
Now you have heard my warning and didn't pay heed, put your feet in the stirrups and mount my steed.

Get tight in the saddle and ride me well, for the white horse of heroin will take you to hell.

"Now summer is coming, the worst time of year for drugs. I wonder how many kids 13 or 14 years old who don't know what they are getting themselves into will take their first goofball or bag of dope right here in Belleville.

"Once a parent finds his son or daughter using drugs he will try everything to help his child. Why can't we have some kind of program in town to tell and show these kids the danger before they start.

"This town has a good police force. Nine out of ten are nice guys and will help you any way they can. But what can they do to stop it? I don't even think they have any real knowledge of drugs. Not enough, anyway. You have to reach the kids themselves, tell them, and show them the dangers.

The Junkie's Hell

"If only you could show them the hell a junkie goes through. You can never get anywhere, you lose everything, even your respect in yourself, and without that you're nothing.

"It's like loving a cruel woman. You'll give her all your time, work 40 hours a week, and give her all your money. You'll steal for her, some even kill for her.

"If the town was over-run by disease infested insects, I'm sure the town would spare no expense to protect its people. So why can't some kind of program be set up to save these kids.

"Even with the best program possible, you could never stop all of them. Believe me, if you only save one from the hell of heroin or pills, it would be worth any expense.

"I honestly hope a paper with your influence in town could get something going."

Laws and commandments in the minds of many people were made to guide other people.

Ken Smith Is Touring Expo 67

The Branch Brook-Belleville Kiwanis club presented credentials to Kenneth D. Smith, a successful candidate in the recent town elections and probable mayor, to represent the club at the Expo '67 and at various clubs in the Canadian provinces.

Smith is on a tour of three provinces, and is a charter member of the club and a former president and currently serves on the international relations committee to promote good-will in clubs outside the United States. He has an enviable attendance record over the past twelve years having visited thirty-seven clubs while on business or vacations.

The Branch Brook-Belleville Kiwanis was recently honored by the presentation of the new Canadian flag by the clubs in Ontario, Canada, and this is displayed weekly at their meetings during the Expo '67 at Parrillos restaurant.

GOP Plays With Danger

Lastweek a major effort was made by responsible Republicans to resolve the Essex County Republican party problem. State GOP Chairman Webster B. Todd brought together W. Paul Stillman, the party's most influential financial backer, Dr. V. D. Mattia, President of Hoffmann-LaRoche who served on the advisory board of Nelson Rockefeller's 1964 Presidential Campaign, and Essex GOP chairman William Yeomans.

Yeomans indeed was in distinguished company. The subject was peace for Essex Republicans. Under the Todd plan a five member committee would be created to conduct the campaign against the Democrats this November. The committee would consist of Yeomans plus one of his associates, Walter W. Weller Jr. (leader of the Republicans For Party Integrity, the group of reformers contesting the Yeomans leadership) plus one of his associates, and a fifth member suggested by Todd.

Within 24 hours the Yeomans crowd, using a few high sounding names of strategically placed suburban Republicans rejected the proposal. The Republicans For Party Integrity Executive Committee (52 strong) unanimously voted to accept the proposal.

The Yeomans faction said the County Chairman could not legally share the authority reposing in Yeomans as the elected spokesman of the Essex County Republican Committee.

Well, let's look at the record. On November 23, 1958 a headline in a Newark daily newspaper read "Part of powers surrendered by Yeomans." The story's lead paragraph was more revealing, "Essex Republican Chairman William F. Yeomans yesterday surrendered a major portion of his powers to a three-man committee named to strengthen the county organization and develop leadership in its ranks. Informed political sources said the triumvirate will make policy and Yeomans will see that it is carried out."

And one would never guess who the Chairman of the three-member take-over committee was.

Would you believe it was the same Alfred C. Clapp who today thinks it is almost indecent to criticize the same William F. Yeomans who Clapp couldn't and didn't trust with the party leadership in 1958?

In today's circumstances the Yeomans' ticket, whatever it is, will represent a can't win slate. But the faceless mystery men around Yeomans who are calling the shots don't seem to care. For them it's a question of rule or ruin.

The Todd proposal seemed to make much sense to us. Even though rejected, it had the effect of proving one point — the political hacks around Yeomans don't want party harmony — they want to wheel and deal — and this they can't do if men like Weller, sincerely interested in party integrity, had a voice in the party councils.

In rejecting the Todd proposal the political rejects and retreads around Yeomans are practically insuring a Republican Primary contest. We always thought a Primary contest was the surest way of flushing down the drain the dregs and dry rot retarding party progress and success. We believe a first rate slate of candidates sponsored by the Republicans For Party Integrity will sweep the Essex suburbs and win a standoff in Newark, home base of Yeomans and his cohorts.

Regardless of who are picked for places on its ticket (even by acclamation) the Yeomans machine will lose the Primary Election because its slate of candidates will not be able to rise above its leadership handicaps. The Yeomans machine plays with danger when it rejects the reasonable Todd proposal. It is inviting extinction. F.A.O.

Poisoned Air Is Threatening Us

Many of us, especially those of us here away from the dead center of Manhattan, are often unaware of the rapid and threatening growth of lung disease caused by air pollution.

In California — once thought of as a state with golden sun and fresh air — the number of citizens who have "some disability from chronic respiratory conditions" probably numbers 1,000,000. (Five years ago it was 670,000.)

Speaking of the condition recently in Los Angeles Times, Dr. David M. Caldwell said: "The entire picture of chest disease has changed. Cancer of the lung has received great attention of late and deservedly so, but a respiratory disease of even greater public health significance is now with us. This is pulmonary emphysema."

Emphysema has become the fastest-growing cause of death in the country, according to the Public Health Service, and one estimate is that fifteen percent of the people in the state of California are suffering some type of pulmonary disorder — the largest proportion being found in Los Angeles.

Experts point out that cigarettes are air pollution of the lungs at its worst and one doctor, Dr. Hurley Motley, of the University of Southern California school of medicine, says, "we almost never get a patient with emphysema who isn't a cigarette smoker."

These are words of warning for all those who will listen, especially cigarette smokers and those who both smoke and live in smog-infested areas.

Arguments for Taxing Churches

An organization of Episcopal lawyers and clergymen recently urged that the income tax be imposed on real estate and other untaxed commercial interests owned by churches but not used for religious purposes.

The issue of tax exemptions for all kinds of commercial properties owned by churches is fast becoming one of the most persistent in the nation. For the federal government is missing billions of dollars in tax collections because of these exemptions at a time when the nation desperately needs money.

Church businesses and commercial interests are rapidly growing because of this freedom from taxes, which puts competitors at a disadvantage. Churches are in almost every commercial field today and they continue to acquire new businesses at a fast clip as their profits and financial resources mushroom in a favorable climate.

Jet Streams Are Off Course

The Weather Bureau has blamed diverted jet streams for spring's curious weather, saying that the two air currents which normally pass over the United States and Canada have moved north.

The jet streams were only recently discovered. They are strong currents which aircraft discovered in the upper altitudes — at 30,000 feet or above. They move swiftly — perhaps a hundred miles an hour — from west to east, and are somewhat akin to the various currents in the oceans, except faster.

The warm air jet stream usually crosses the country from a point above southern California and crosses out over the mid-Atlantic states. The cold air jet stream normally enters over the state of Washington, flows southeast and crosses into the Atlantic only slightly north of the warm air stream.

This year the experts tell us both streams have flowed across North America further to the north, which has upset the normal pattern of spring weather. No one knows why this has happened. But the result has been drought in Southern Florida, snow in parts of the West late in the spring and unseasonably hot weather in other parts of the West. Changes in temperature have been rapid.

Despite all our knowledge about nuclear bombs, etc., mother nature keeps many of her weather secrets, reminding man of his limitations, and of the wonders of this planet.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

A customer who had a set about 10 years old asked us to check it and find out how much it would cost to repair it. Unless one wants to guess at it — which we don't do — the chassis has to be brought to our shop, where we have the proper test equipment to arrive at a diagnosis of the trouble and the general condition.

We had to take the chassis out of the cabinet, in the customer's home, which meant a home call. The first step in the shop, of course, has to be to check all the tubes. In this case it meant 21. Allowing just one minute for each tube consumed 21 minutes. One of the complaints was unstable horizontal and vertical holds. The controls were at the very end, which indicated that the controls themselves or the resistors in the circuits had changed. In order to check this, one has to unsolder a number of connections and then measure the individual parts. Visual inspection showed that wax had leaked out of about 15 condensers and 2 resistors were discolored, indicating that they were overloaded. The procedure took a little more than 1 1/2 hours time of a highly skilled technician, using test equipment worth about $1,500. We had indicated in the very beginning to the customer that a TV set becomes unreliable once the parts change value, which invariably happens after so many years. Just about every part in a TV set is affected by 10 year's use and since there are several hundred parts in a TV set, where does one start and where to stop? Replacing only those parts where damage was visible would have cost more than the set would have been worth after 10 years of use. In addition, it would be impossible to guarantee that one or several of the other parts would not break down, particularly after the power supply circuits have been restored to full power. We had to advise the customer against repairing the set. Although we guarantee our work for 90 days, it stands to reason that we can not include in this guarantee parts which we did not replace and which may break down later. Our cost for labor and home call was $12.50. It is the policy of our service department which is not operated for profit, to charge our cost or less. In this case we charged $9.50. When the bill was paid many weeks later, the customer had the nerve to write on our statement: "Just for looking at set." How anybody in this right mind can expect to have $12.50 worth for nothing, is beyond this writer's comprehension.

The public has lots of gripes against TV technicians. Well, here is one gripe of a technician against the public, because the attitude reported above is only too common. Almost invariably we hear in such a case, if we ask for payment: For what, you didn't do anything. And that after having spent $12.50 worth of time.

We service what we sell.

Solemn High Mass Offered Today For Dario Cinquino

A solemn high mass of requiem will be offered this morning for 14-year-old Dario Cinquino of Belleville who was found drowned at a public beach in Pequannock Township Sunday.

Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Newark, will be the scene of the 9:30 a.m. mass today. Interment will be in Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Montclair.

Dario was the son of Vittorio and Giovanna Lanz Cinquino, 82 Bell Street, Belleville. Born in Italy, Dario came to Belleville two years ago from Newark.

He attended Belleville Junior High School.

Last Sunday, Dario went swimming with his older brother John 19, at McDonald's Beach in Pequannock. When he failed to reappear, John asked police and lifeguards for assistance.

A search continued for about 90 minutes. Lifeguards used boats and finally found his body submerged near one of the several floats on the small lake.

Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Robert (Maria) Reynolds of Bloomfield.

The funeral is being arranged by the Samuel W. Brown Home in Nutley.

Detective

Captain Frank Hights said that it was entirely possible that the driver of the vehicle might not have realized that he hit a person and had driven off assuming that he had struck an animal or some obstruction in the road. He said on that basis, either the driver or other occupant of the car, or a witness might come forward to offer information.

Revaluation

things: That Belleville determine the method to be used for such revaluation within its discretion, provided that such method be in accordance with law.

"The appellate court in a Per Curiam decision stated, The Legislature has imposed upon the assessor the specific duty of determining the full and fair value of each parcel of real property in the district (N.J.S.A. 54:4-23). The statute referred to, N.J.S.A. 54:4-23 provides, All real property shall be assessed to the person owning the same on October 1 in each year.

"The assessor shall ascertain the names of the owners of all real property situate in his taxing district, and after examination and inquiry, determine the full and fair value of each parcel of property situate in the taxing district at such prices as, in his judgment, it would sell for at a fair and bonafide sale by private contract on October 1 next preceding the date on which the assessor shall complete his assessments, as hereinafter required.

"For the purposes of assessment, the assessor shall compute and determine the taxable value of such real property at the level established for the county pursuant to law.

"This is exactly what every assessor should be doing. R. S. 40A:4-53 which provides for the financing of a revaluation program is still permissive. The crux of the Appellate Court decision is as follows: We construe the mandate of the judgment appealed from to direct the municipality and the assessor to perform their respective duties as statutes.

COMMISSION PROBLEM

"In my opinion, Soriano said, the future conduct of this entire problem should be left to the judgment of the incoming Board of Commissioners. That board may either revalue commercially or insist that the Town Assessor perform his duty in accordance with N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.

"Curiously enough, a decision to revalue commercially will grant to the Essex County Board of Taxation, by indirectness, that which it did not receive by the direction of the courts. It will mark the beginning of another round of costly revaluation programs in the county which the municipalities can ill afford," Soriano said.

"Under the present legislation commercial revaluations are at best temporary. It would be necessary to perform them periodically in which case the assessors would become more clerks," he added.

"My suggestion is that the new Board of Commissioners, in concert with other municipalities, petition the Legislature for remedial legislation," he concluded.

Pageant

Garden State Contest said selection of a state winner will be judged by a point system with an equal distribution for beauty, personality, poise and posture.

Each participating community will be responsible for supplying their entry with a suitable play suit and party dress for final judging. Appropriate credits to communities, stores and organizations will be listed in the contest program.

JUDGING AT AMPHITHEATRE Final judging for Little Miss Garden State will take place June 23 at 11 a.m. at Garden Pier Civic Center (an outdoor amphitheatre over the ocean).

The winner and finalists will participate in the children's parade later that day at 4 p.m. on the boardwalk.

Each sponsoring community should have its own small float for their entry. If not, sponsors of the contest will provide a decorated rolling chair.

Little Miss Garden State will receive a color film print of the contest, a trophy and $100 US Savings Bond. Runners-up will receive trophies and smaller denomination bonds.

The winner will ride on one of the floats in the Miss America Pageant Parade on September 5.

Center Lincoln Tunnel Tube Closed Weekends

Local motorists are advised by The Port of New York Authority that the center tube of the Lincoln Tunnel is closed to traffic on weekends, from Friday night to Sunday noon, to permit roadway repairs and repaving.

"During the construction period, which is expected to last until the end of the year, trucks will not be allowed to use the center tube, but work has been planned to permit all other vehicles to use both lanes of this tunnel during peak hours. The other two tunnels, unaffected by the construction, will be opened to all traffic during the six-month construction period. However, the bi-state agency urges motorists to seek alternate routes whenever possible to avoid delays and congestion.

Modern Wedding Customs Originated in Ancient Days

The modern bride sweeps down the aisle with all the self-satisfaction of a Diana returning from the hunt with a stag slung over her shoulder.

Wedding pictures are always the same: the groom looks noble, dedicated, and stunned; the bride looks smug.

But the June ritual wasn't always the victory celebration of the predatory female. In primitive times, the marriage relationship did not last long. Often the woman was simply a captured slave.

Many persons believe that the best man today dates back to the time when a strong-armed friend of the groom held off the woman's relatives while the groom made his escape — with his bride. The custom of carrying the bride over the threshold also probably dates back to the practice of capturing a wife.

The honeymoon tradition may also have started in the days of marriage by capture. During the honeymoon, the groom waited, hoping his wife's parents would stop being angry.

In some other primitive cultures, marriage by purchase was more common than marriage by capture. It left the bride with fewer bruises, but was harder on her pride, especially when her groom — to be thought her value was about the same as one

The Nutley Sun-Belleville Times has purchased several original and authenticated works of art from a major collection. The purchase was made in order to enable the Sun-Times to make a substantial gesture of appreciation to its many loyal readers and at the same time promote word-of-mouth talk about the Sun and the Times.

The management and staff sincerely wish they could say "thank you" by presenting every reader with an original art work, but the cost is prohibitive, so there will be only one lucky reader.

It is in no way necessary that the person who obtains the original and authenticated Pablo Picasso lithograph be a subscriber of the Sun or Times. It is not necessary to purchase papers with coupons in them. Free coupons (one to a customer) are available at the Sun office.

All you do is fill in the coupon and mail or bring it to the Belleville Times, 246 Washington Ave., Belleville, N.J. The new owner of the 'Picasso' will be announced as soon as the coupons can be tabulated.

ALL-STAR PREVIEW: The some - what belated All - Star team selections of the states two major dailies are due to appear next week with all the hoopla and interest that, annually, marks these hypocritical polls. With an eye towards these selections, this week's column takes an educated guess at the local players' outcome in them.

Several Belleville players are coming off of strong seasons that have them among the top contenders for All - County honors. As a matter of fact, the entire inner defense, consisting of catcher and the four infield posts, is in the running for honors.

ONE UNANIMOUS: Of this group only one of the Bellboys appears to be a unanimous All - County choice of both the Newark News and Star-Ledger. That unanimous ALL - Essex Star being Belleville's veteran catcher Charley Cuomo. Coming off of a stand - out year, the big Bellboy backstop is readily acknowledged as the premier backstop in the area by both major dailies although as usual two catchers will be named to the All - Star ranks.

Cuomo's credentials are most impressive offensively from the side of the plate although his performance behind it was also admirable. Proving out first year mentor Charley Travers' pre-season trust, Cuomo lived up to his clean-up batter potential by firmly establishing himself as the most outstanding of the Belleville hitters.

A torrid 30 for 70, .429 batting average, marked the second year veterans pace as he came alive during the second half of the campaign to wipe out the record of a slow start and carry the Bellboys through the heaviest part of the schedule while the rest of the bats were slumping. Cuomo's barrage on enemy pitchers was not confined to singles, as the muscular catcher overcame the excessively deep playing outfielders used repeatedly by cautious opposition by launching an even dozen safeties for extra bases; six doubles, four triples, and two homeruns were included in this production. (Incidentally after just the first two games of the 16 game American Legion baseball slate, Cuomo has collected two four-baggers and a triple.)

Developing into the team's top clutch hitter, Cuomo also accounted for 26 Runs-Batted-In and 25 runs scored along with on lesser fronts 13 walks, and 13 stolen bases.

Defensively, the big Bellboy's reputation preceded him as a few opposition base-runners dared to challenge him by a jaunt off of the bag. Through the course of the season ten runners did open this challenge, six of them were cut - down trying, the others using a big jump off the bag to safely steal their goal. And so it is that Cuomo ranks as a unanimous All - Essex choice as the dailies prepare to go to press. The Belleville veteran could conceivably receive similar unanimous status in the All-State circles, but here a split selection seems more likely with a Star-Ledger first team and Newark News second team berth appearing as the most likely possibilities as of this writing.

SECOND BASE IRONY: The Bellboys could conceivably also finish with a unanimous hold on the two papers' second base berth, although ironically it will be two different players who will be selected.

In the Ledger, Belleville's surprising first year man, Jim Catalano is one of the top contenders in the County wide scramble for honors. Having turned in the second-highest average among the Bellboys at .418 and a season marked by but one error in the field, Catalano should be able to nailed down the All-Essex berth that as of this writing was still undecided.

Meanwhile, in the News, the major jam - up is at shortstop where the Bellboys three-year veteran Rich San Filippo is being strongly challenged by Weequahic's upstarts star Jorge Garcia.

Unlike his Ledger colleague, Hugh Delano of the News is not opposed to shifting layers out of their usual position in compiling a team. This belief is providing any berth for outstanding performers although not necessarily their own will send one of the two shortstop contenders into the final accounting listed as an All-Essex second-baseman. As of this writing there is a strong possibility that the player shifted will be San Filippo.

This Bellboy star of three sports and three years, must have his 1967 records tendered with asterisk for after having cracked a bone in his thumb and re-injured the hit battered during the grid wars, San Filippo was destined to play out the last eight games of his Varsity career under severe handicap.

This injury provoked problem showed most noticeably at the plate where a proud over .400 average plummeted to .329 to cap a 22-67 year. The final accounting saw four doubles, a triple and two home-runs included in San Filippo's record although it should be noted that all of these knocks came in the 13 games before the injuries struck.

Also marking the second-team All - Star of a year ago's credentials are 19 RBIs, 18 runs scored, a team-leading 16-stolen bases, and 11 walks. Defensively, the three-year key to the heralded Bellboy infield tripled his error production in those painful final outings to complete the campaign with a still superlative three misuses for a 21 game slate. San Filippo's chief competitor for local honors, Garcia, finished the year with a .432 average, 16 extra-base hits, 26 RBIs and but two errors. This it must be remembered was done with out the spectre of injury to complicate matters.

Catalano on the other hand had no injury and nothing but amazing success to mark his first season of BHS ball. Playing most of the campaign errorlessly the amazing Bellboy finally committed a miscue in the nineteenth game of the season when a disputed call found a runner safe of a harried fielder's choice play.

Offensively the strong sticking Bellboy hit at a 28 for 67 clip to compile the .48 mark with five doubles and four triples to his credit.

Also in the portfolio for Catalano were 25 RBIs, 15 runs scored, and ten stolen bases.

All of these credentials rank the Bellboy keystone combination high in Essex consideration where both could come up with first team honors. In the State the going should be considerably tougher and second and third team berths will be the best that can be hoped for, with even that prospect hazy at this point.

GOLDEN GLOVE: Moving the rest of the way around the horn, the wheel fortunes brings us to Belleville veteran golden glove, that being third baseman Dave Rothwell. The second-year Bellboy infield star ranks high in Essex estimation off of a defensive show that has been marred by but one error and in-hanced by innumerable fielding (Continued On Page 10)

Rothwell is undoubtedly the best fielding hot corner man Essex, or the state for that matter, has to offer. The question then remains how much his leaden bat will tarnish the image of the golden glove.

Offensively the Bellboy two-year vet turned in an 18 for 61 year for a .291 average as 16

League; Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Lawlor Jr. — Lawlor is executive vice president of the New Jersey Savings and Loan League; and Mr. and Mrs. Jules Kohler — Kohler is president of the Camp-town Savings and Loan in Irvington, and president of the Essex County Savings and Loan League.

A special highlight of the affair was the presentation of silver anniversary desk clocks to each DeWitt officer and director.

Director Clarence Lommerlin was chairman of the arrangement committee. A roast beef dinner and refreshments were served. Entertainment and music were provided by Al Lange and his orchestra.

walks, three doubles; two triples and a home-run, along with 19 RBI's and 13 stolen bases.

Loyde Glickin of the Ledger has admitted point-blank that a .291 batter can not be included on the first team of his All-County team while Delano of the News still has Rothwell in the running although it seems doubtful to this reporter that three players from a championship-less Belleville team will be rated first team material by the Newark papers.

HONOR MENTION: Rounding out the aforementioned inner defense picture, Sam Calabria retains a shot at third team honors in the News, but most likely will be relegated to the ranks of the honorable mention. Calabria's Nutley colleague, Art Zincola will be both papers' first team County and State operative, although many observers rate the Belleville first sacker superior flader of the two. The other two rated berths will undoubtedly to squads lacking in first team operatives with Essex Catholic's Bob Cappola seeming a likely second team choice.

Calabria's interests included a 23 for 66 average for a .333 mark, 21 RBI's, four doubles, two triples, and a home run, 14 stolen bases and 14 walks. Defensively, but two errors marred the steady Bellboy's conversion from the outfield to first base and innumerable scooping and stretching saves were also recorded.

Slipping slightly from the torrid 32-hit pace that earned him half of the Belleville High Record for the most hits in a season, Jim Serritella, also appears headed for the land of the honorable mention. The aggressive little Bellboy rightfielder finished the current campaign with a 25 for 81-.308 mark, a team leading seven doubles, and three triples, one home run, 17 RBI's (high for a lead-off batter), and 23 runs scored.

STATISTICAL ROUND UP: Elsewhere among the Bellboys there will be little left to shout about as the star selections are printed the under-rated mound corps of Joel Pisano, Mike Wlsch, and Rich Del Guercio which saw individual earned run averages of 1.92, 1.14, and 1.64 respectively will probably be slighted in the process.

Among the reserves, Greg Kostowicz made a run from obscurity in the twilight of the final nine games, starting six of them and adding another strong bat to the line-up as Calabria moved to the outfield to open first base to the lanky junior. Hitting at a strong 5-15 and then 4-10 pace down that stretch, Kos erased the scars of an earlier slump as an ineffective pinch-hitter to finish with a .277 average, a half dozen RBI's and a double and a home run among the five safeties.

Bruce Pindar also came along as the season closed seeing considerable action at short after San Filippo's injury and proving to be a dept fielder. Frank Lapas-lato, the second of the Bellboys' senior utility men, spelled Catalano for his action and finished with a .333 average at the plate. Junior Varsity performers Carl Corino and Jim Morello both had one game pinch hitting and then defensive roles in the season's progress.

Belleville Barbell Club Works To Stay In Shape Over The Summer

The production and maintenance of muscle can become an occupation that knows no season. And members of the Belleville Barbell Club are beginning to strain under that fact. It's rather hot to be lifting weights during these summer months, especially when some of the weights are of the size which would make any ordinary person gasp just at the thought of lifting them.

But the summer has not stopped the local baseball team. Under the supervision of Robert Cook, town recreation director, they have been meeting Monday through Friday in the "weight room" of the municipal stadium.

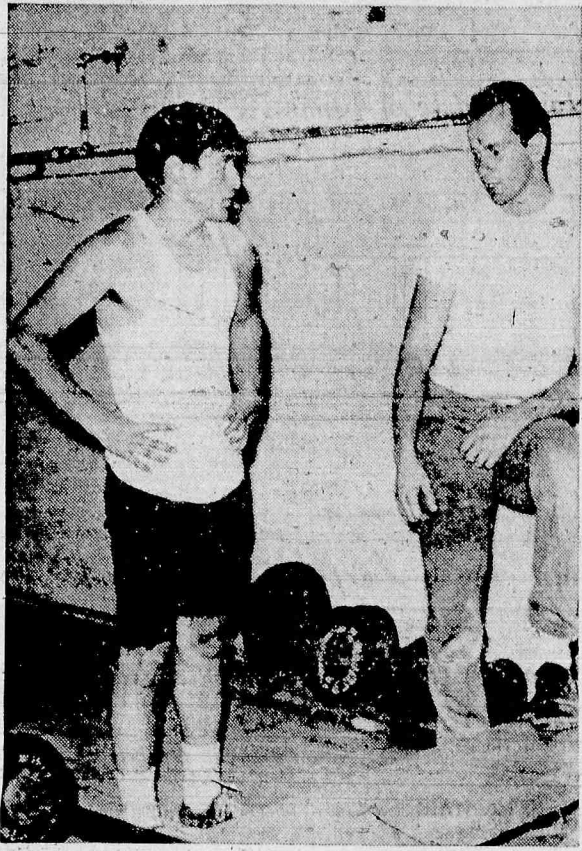

These stalwarts are Bob Bonafante, John Brannigan, Barry Peirce, Ralph Di Ruggiero, Neil Schwartz, Giove Pica, Mike Eisenhard, Bob Baker, Mike Paparatto, Steve Ferrughelli and Frank Aiello.

Also working out at the gym are Eugene Manfra, a teacher in the Junior High School; Joe Cervasio, a former Bellboy halfback, and George Connolly, a competition lifter from Fairleigh Dickinson University.

The local boys are also keeping in shape over the summer for fall and winter sports next year. Different exercises help assorted develop muscles in the body. The arms and shoulders the boys do a variety of presses, curls and work on the lat machine. For the back the boys do dead lifts, rows and work on the ram rack. Development of leg muscles include work on the ram rack, leg presses and squats and toe raises.

Cook said that the Belleville Barbell Club is one of many summer recreational offerings in the community.

Barbell fanciers sad that when they are not lifting weights, they spend time running or exercising in other ways. Continuous lifting of weights does not allow time for proper muscular development they maintain.

EXPLAINING A LIFT — Eugene Manfra (right), a teacher in the Junior High School, explains to Neil Schwartz the principles of lifting. The local barbell club lifts weights at the Municipal Stadium in Belleville.

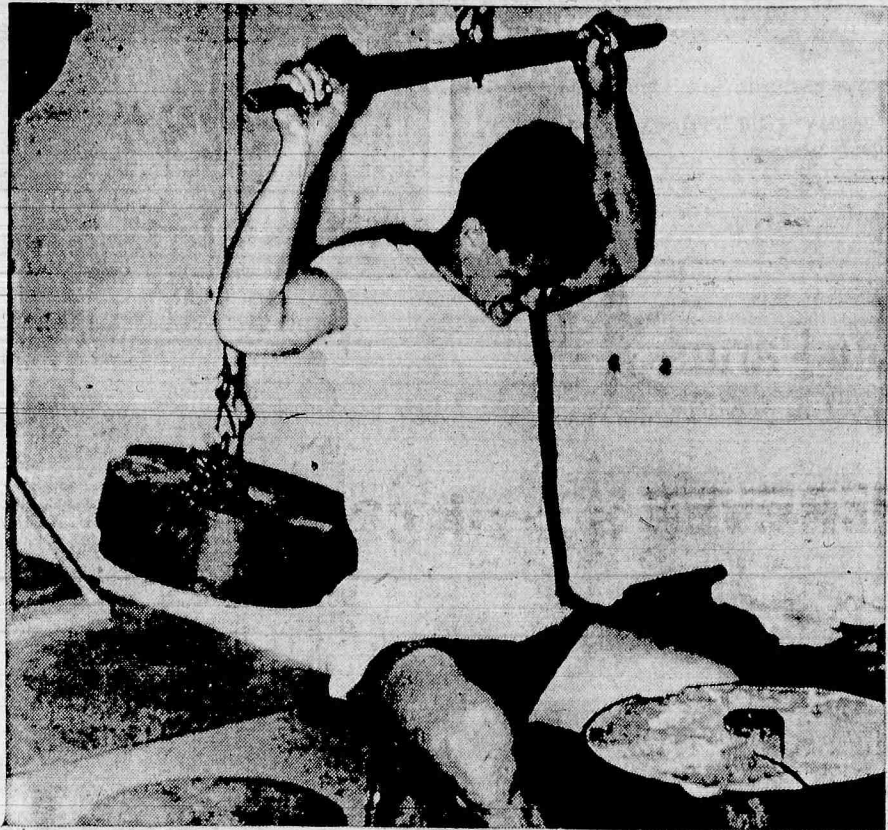

85 POUND PRESS — Bob Bonafante of 13 Cuozzo Street, Belleville, demonstrates a dumbbell press. He is lifting 85 pounds in each hand. Barbell fanciers consider the press a difficult feat.

THE WEIGHT ROOM — Belleville's Barbell Club is more than happy with the community's "weight room" at the Municipal Stadium. The room is well equipped with a lat machine, to develop portions of the back; a ram rack, to build

LAT MACHINE — Barry Peirce works out on the lat machine. He is lifting 205 pounds. The purpose of the machine is to develop his lat muscles and biceps.

CURLS — Looks easy and it is for Bob Bonafante. Other members of the local barbell club find it a bit more difficult. Bob actually is warming up with these weights, some 110. He can curl more than 200 pounds some day.

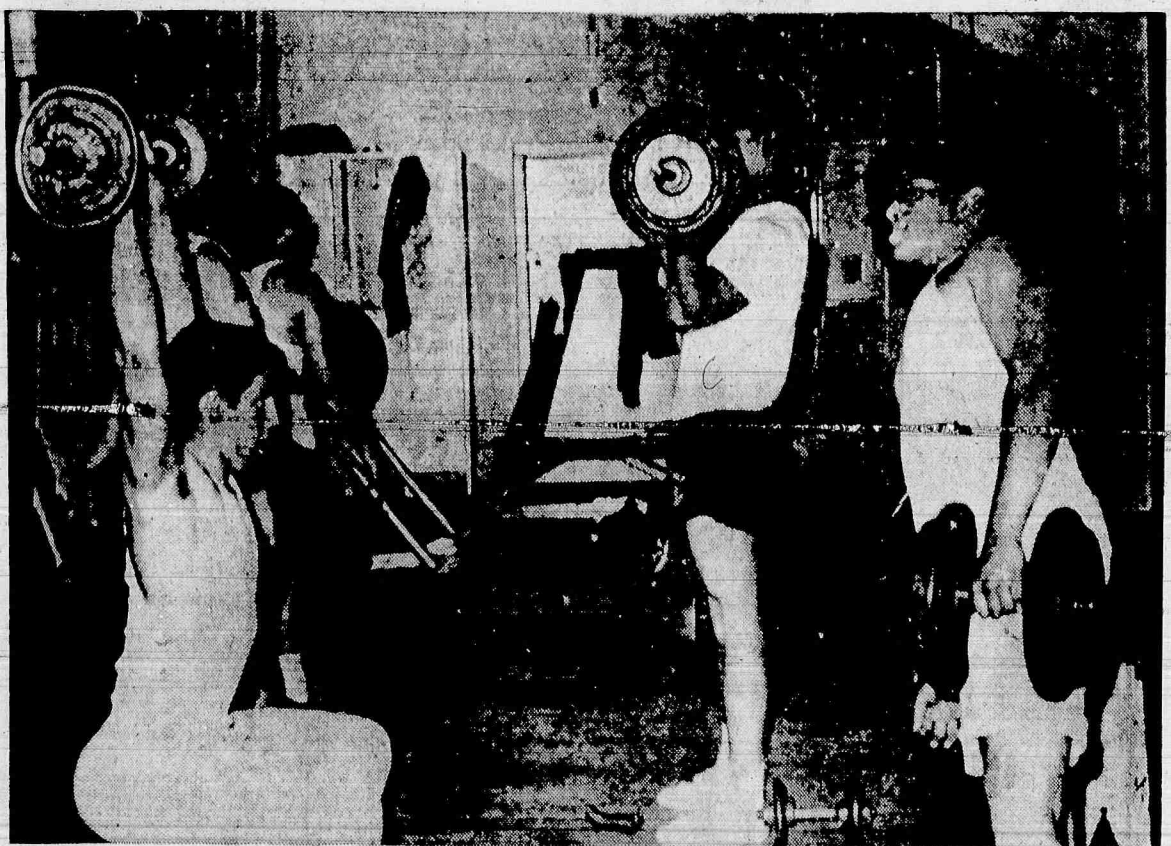

SQUATS — Eugene Manfra, a freshman basketball coach in the junior high school, does squats with close to 130 pounds on his legs and back.

LEG PRESSES — Ralph Di Ruggiero pushes a 395-pound weight up a ramp to develop his legs. This is a leg press. Di Ruggiero lives at 52 Van Riper Place.

STRAINING — Joe Branigan (foreground) is demonstrating a dead lift which are designed to build up back muscles. In the background is Barry Peirce performing the same.

Governor Hughes Salutes Jaycees

Governor Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey has saluted the New Jersey Jaycees as he jointly announced with James G. Shields, general chairman, September 2, 1967 as the date for the sixth annual New Jersey Jaycee Football Classic.

In making the announcement, Governor Hughes said, "the New Jersey Jaycees have had remarkable success with this annual event. Over its five-year history, the Jaycees have contributed nearly $750,000 to New Jersey charities and to youth, sports, and community service activities throughout the state."

1967 will again pair the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles in Princeton's Palmer Stadium at 2 p.m. The Giants lead the series, having won the first three games absorbing a 34-14 defeat at the hands of the Eagles in 1965 and a 24-23 loss in 1966 when the Eagles scored ten points in the last two minutes in a thrilling come-from-behind victory.

Both the Giants and the Eagles will have a new look as they prepare to better their 1966 records. The Giants will feature the roll-out quarterbacking of former Viking Fran Tarkenton, while the Eagles will unveil a pair of recently acquired pass receivers, all pro Mike Ditka from the Chicago Bears and former Steeler

Gary Ballman.

Shields indicated, "The New Jersey Jaycees are extremely indebted to Princeton University, which annually donates the use of its magnificent Palmer Stadium to the New Jersey Jaycees."

Tickets priced at $7.50, $5.50, and $3.50 for the 1967 Jaycee Football Classic may be obtained at the Giants and Eagles ticket offices; by writing the Jaycee Football Classic, P.O. Box 324, Princeton, New Jersey 08540, with an additional 50 cent handling charge

Be Prepared on Revaluation

Nutley Realtors met with the Clemmishaw representatives to discuss the new evaluation program. The Realtors hoped to learn from the meeting so that they might better serve their clients. They also had some reservations, as to the manner in which the land has been evaluated.

The Clemmishaw representative explained that all land values are figured on the sale price of comparable vacant lots and this is the system the Essex County tax assessor uses so they must follow.

In the event residents feel appraisals are unfair, do not just complain verbally, go to the hearing prepared with comparable properties which were sold or with other appraisals of homes comparable to yours which are lower. The Clemmishaw people can only change your appraisal if you prove them incorrect.

Joe Pfeffer in Detroit

Joseph Pfeffer of Bigelow Motors, Inc., Belleville, is attending the semi-annual meeting of the National Chrysler-Plymouth Dealer Council this week in Detroit.

Pfeffer is an elected council member who represents Chrysler-Plymouth dealers in northern New Jersey and Sullivan, Orange and Ulster counties in New York.

Congratulations to Winners. Several people won some nice prizes from area retailers this past week. Biggest prize, of course, was won by Edward LaMotta of Nutley who picked up a

Essex Bank Has 5% Dividends

The National Newark & Essex Bank plans to pay a 5 per cent stock dividend on August 1 to stockholders of record on that date, it was announced by Robert G. Cowan, chairman of the board.

In addition, the board of directors stated its intention to increase the quarterly dividend rate from 45 cents to 50 cents, commencing with the regular dividend which would be payable October 2, 1967. The board has already declared a 45 cent dividend payable July 1 to stockholders of record June 12.

Cowan said that the plans to pay a stock dividend and increase the regular cash dividend were new Mustang in Atlantic's "Red-Ball" game.

More winners came with the news that the Nutley Chamber of Commerce had announced those who received prizes in the "Mystery Window" contest.

The Chamber game was won by Vincent Pedalino, 62 Stager Street. Other winners were Jane Trauttschold, Glenn Fennell, Mrs. Anthony Intile and Mrs. A. L. Teeple.

Congratulations to you all.

taken because of favorable earnings this year. The increased cash dividend proposed for October would actually be declared, subject to continued satisfactory earnings, during September.

At the same time the board of directors approved a merger agreement between Glen Ridge Trust Co. and National Newark & Essex Bank. The agreement provides that Glen Ridge stockholders would receive 5 1/2 shares of National Newark shares for each share of Glen Ridge Trust, and if the National Newark Shareholders approve the 5 per cent stock dividend, Glen Ridge shareholders would receive 5 per cent more shares in the exchange. Glen Ridge Trust has 12,000 shares outstanding and thus would receive 60,300 shares if the stock dividend is approved.

Shareholders of both banks will meet on August 1 to approve the merger plan, and National Newark shareholders will consider the stock dividend proposal at this time.

Cowan noted that even after the proposed dividend actions, National Newark & Essex Bank's annual dividend payment rate will remain below 50 per cent of its current earnings.

We met a fellow the other day who admitted he didn't deserve a compliment.

Walter Kidde Firm Net Sales Doubled

Sales and net income of Walter Kidde & Company, Inc. more than doubled for the three months ended March 31, 1967, compared with operating results reported for the comparable period of 1966.

Sales for the 1967 period were 425,000 reported in 1966. Net income in 1967 rose to $1,729,000, before taxes were $3,268,000 for the 1967 period, compared with $1,195,000 in 1966.

After cash dividend requirements on preference shares, earnings per common share rose to $4.9 in 1967 from $3.36 in 1966, based on the number of common shares outstanding at the end of the period and adjusted for stock dividends.

The operating results do not include the recently concluded acquisition of Sargent and Company or the pending acquisition of Lighting Corporation of America.

Headquartered in Belleville, New Jersey, Kidde is a major supplier of safety, security and protection equipment and services; industrial and technological equipment, and commercial and consumer products.

Mrs. Gilman Smith, Swim Troup Leader

Mrs. Gilman Smith was elected president of the Montclair YMCA Ripples, women's synchronized swimming troupe at the group's regular monthly meeting last week.

Selected to serve with Mrs. Smith, who has been swimming with the club for the past three years, were Mrs. James Boyle vice president; Mrs. John Timkin secretary; Mrs. Albert Weber, treasurer; Mrs. Wilford Hill, aquacade chairman, and nominating committee chairman, Mrs. C. S. Baginski.

Mrs. Smith replaces Mrs. Hill, who served as president for two years and as aquacade chairman during 1966. Mrs. Hill is also coach of the troupe and guides the girls synchronized swimming club, the Y-Nymphs.

How you benefit from your Realtor's®
Multiple Listing Service
when you buy a home.

The wise house-hunter wouldn't think of buying without the help of a Realtor. A Realtor is a professional in real estate. He knows houses and neighborhoods the way an attorney knows laws and an accountant knows figures. And through Multiple Listing, a number of Realtors work hand in hand to bring you the widest possible selection of choice properties. Instead of selecting from a mere handful of houses, you have the finest values of many Realtors to choose from. To remove the headaches from buying a home, try this prescription: see a Realtor, a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.
