

AN EDITORIAL

Tuesday -- A Voters' Dilemma

Tuesday's election poses a major crisis for our voters to resolve. Twenty-two public officials are to be elected. For the first time in our State's history members of the New Jersey Assembly will be elected to represent specific communities. This means that legally, for the first time, we will have Assemblymen to represent and protect a direct voice in the election of two our interests.

Also for the first time we will have the opportunity to elect six members of the New Jersey State Senate.

Also up for grabs are three Freeholder seats. Additionally, Sheriff Roy D'Aloia is seeking reelection.

We believe our Legislature needs a mixture of new leadership and the experience of veteran legislators.

Qualified candidates are available on both the Democrat and Republican tickets.

In the recent past, and even at this very hour, citizens are plagued with problems arising from mob threats and brazen daylight street crimes. It is not enough to say these conditions reflect the symptoms of our time. We need new and inspiring leadership.

Simply stated, we must reverse the trend if we are to reassure our people that they will be safe in their homes and on the streets.

We need new leadership to reassure our people that confiscatory tax rates will be dealt with in a manner to give our hard-pressed citizens a measure of aid and comfort.

Accordingly, we recommend for election to the New Jersey Senate from Essex County the following highly-qualified candidates:

SENATE REPUBLICANS ON LINE A:

James H. Wallwork
Alexander J. Maturri
Gerardo L. Del Tufo
Milton A. Waldor
David D. Dowd

SENATE DEMOCRAT ON LINE B:

Nicholas Farnicola

ASSEMBLY DISTRICT 11C—

DEMOCRATS ON LINE B:

(Nutley, Belleville, North Newark)

Joseph Biancardi

Armand Lembo

FREEHOLDER REPUBLICANS

LINE A:

Vincent Corrado

Alan Augenblick

William Clark

SHERIFF REPUBLICAN LINE A:

Ralph D'Ambola

FOR THE SENATE:

Jim Wallwork, a West Point graduate, is a former Assemblyman with an outstanding record and a top executive in a family business which was founded at the turn of the century.

Alex J. Maturri is an attorney who is probably one of the best qualified candidates ever appearing before the Essex County electorate for any office.

In 1953 former President Dwight D. Eisenhower appointed Mr. Maturri to membership on the United States-Italian War Claims Conciliation Commission.

The position required Mr. Maturri to be based in Italy. The assignment placed Mr. Maturri in the Number Two role with the American Diplomatic Corps in Italy. His authority was only exceeded by that of the Ambassador, Claire Booth Luce.

David W. Dowd, an attorney, is a former Livingston Mayor and currently is President of the Livingston Bar Association.

Gerard L. Del Tufo, an attorney and former Assemblyman, served as a distinguished member of the Newark Board of Education. He has a long career of civic interest and dedication.

Milton A. Waldor bears a famous family name: For more than thirty years his father, the late Jack Waldor, and his uncle Leo Waldor, were key leaders in the Essex County Republican Organization.

Mr. Waldor has some impressive accomplishments in his own right. He is past National Commander of the Jewish War Veterans and a former Republican Chairman of Newark's south ward. In 1956 he served as National Vice-Chairman of Veterans for Eisenhower.

Nicholas Farnicola is a Democrat. As leader of the Essex Senate delegation, the most significant contribution Senator Farnicola has made to the well-being of citizens in this area was to oppose a Newark-sponsored payroll tax on people employed in Newark but living in the suburbs. This type of consideration for the suburban resident is typical of Mr. Farnicola's independence. While we disagree with some of Mr. Farnicola's votes in the Senate, we believe he deserves re-election.

For the Assembly we recommend the re-election of Assemblyman Joseph Biancardi of Belleville and Armand Lembo of North Newark.

Here again, we disagree with some of their votes cast in the Legislature but they too joined Senator Farnicola in opposing a city payroll tax. Biancardi and Lembo are far superior to the candidates offered by the Republicans.

Assembly District 11A:

REPUBLICANS LINE A:

John J. Bradley and Jesse W. Mapson carry superior credentials and are entitled to the voters support.

Assembly District 11B:

REPUBLICANS LINE A:

Prominent Newark attorney Philip Insabella and Sidney J. Brown, eminent Newark civic leader, have waged a high level campaign and they are deserving of election.

Assembly District 11D:

REPUBLICANS LINE A:

Councilman Donald F. MacArt of East Orange and Kenneth T. Wilson of West Orange have campaigned on a platform to restore sound economic policies at Trenton. Their program merits the support of the voters.

Assembly District 11E:

REPUBLICANS LINE A:

In this district the Republicans offer two candidates who are among the best qualified in the state of New Jersey for legislative office. They are attorney Herbert M. Rinaldi of Glen Ridge and marketing executive John N. Dennis of Verona. These young men are the type that are identified in the public mind as typical American boys. Rinaldi is engaged in the profession of law and Dennis is among the nation's young outstanding marketing executives and a key executive in the largest flag manufacturer in the world. Rinaldi and Dennis should be elected by acclamation.

Assembly District 11F:

REPUBLICANS LINE A:

In this district the Republicans are offering two young men who bear famous family names. Thomas H. Kean is the son of former Congressman Robert Kean whose father served in the United States Senate. For years the Kean name has been synonymous with charitable and civic purposes. Philip Kaltenbacher also bears a famous family name. The Kaltenbacher name has been identified in the public mind with philanthropic endeavors. The voters of Assembly District 11F have little problem in choosing their assembly candidates. Indeed, Kean and Kaltenbacher have a right to the votes of the citizens residing in their district.

The Republican candidates for the three Freeholder seats are most outstanding. Alan Augenblick, an Annapolis graduate, is a successful business executive. He is General Manager of the Port Newark Refrigerator Warehouse. Mr. Augenblick also served as a member of the Citizen's Budget Advisory Committee and is a Director of the South Orange Community Center. He is a young man who preaches the need for civic duty commitment and practices what he preaches. The county, state, and nation could use more men like young Augenblick in public office.

Vincent Corrado, a highly successful 48 year old businessman is a Commissioner on the Newark Central Planning Board. He has been very active in the Robert Treat Boy Scout Council. We have met many sincere candidates but none more sincere than Mr. Corrado. He sees in the Freeholder's position an opportunity for greater public service.

William Clark is a Bell Telephone engineer and a former four term Mayor of Livingston. For 27 years he has been very active with Planning Board activity. He is very sensitive to the needs of orderly development of Essex County's open spaces. By any standard of measure Clark is one of the most qualified citizens ever to be nominated for a Freeholder post.

Sheriff Roy D'Aloia has distinguished himself for his untiring efforts to curb the spread of narcotics among the young people of our County.

There are some people who say the Sheriff's Office is unnecessary.

Be that as may be, the Office is with us until it is abolished and a Sheriff will have to be elected.

Ralph D'Ambola, opponent of D'Aloia, is a very capable, serious, experienced Law Enforcement official. Mr. D'Ambola is a former Newark Policeman and an original member of the Essex County Sheriff's Narcotic Squad. Currently, he is Assistant Supervisor of the Bureau of Criminal Identification. If Mr. D'Aloia is to be replaced, Mr. D'Ambola would be a worthy substitute.

We like Sheriff D'Aloia but we believe Mr. D'Ambola is well qualified for the office and because of his pledged dedication to continue as a driving force in the restoration of a meaningful two party system we believe D'Ambola's election would serve best the long range interests of Essex County residents.

Commission Approves Switch From Penny to Nickle Meters

OLD — Thomas McLaughlin, purchasing agent, is shown here with one of the old meters which presently line much of Washington Avenue. The meter although replaced when broken, are the same design that the first meters were which the town installed in December 1941. Their locks have often been picked, their simple keys reproduced, and the glass windows broken, thus making collections unsure and maintenance costs high.

NEW — Thomas McLaughlin, town purchasing agent, inspects one of the two new vandal-proof, nickel meters which were recently installed in front of Town Hall. Fifteen of the new single units (as pictured here) and thirty-five new double meters are on order. The double meters will save on poles, paint, space, and time taken to make collections.

85 Meters Soon To Be Installed

Belleville is changing all her parking meters, from the one cent for twelve minutes variety to new vandal-proof nickel for one-hour meters.

The town commission passed the resolution on its final reading at their last meeting, thus making it law. Two units have already been installed in front of town hall, and meters for 85 other parking spaces will soon appear between William and Rutgers Streets on Washington Avenue.

The meters made by the Rhodes Company of Hartford, Connecticut, feature guaranteed unbreakable windows, three eighth inch ductile iron vault sections, and locks internally mounted which are protected by a steel chamber and face plate.

When New Haven, Connecticut installed the new meters their collections increased 93 percent in the first year.

In 1965 Boston's parking meters were operating at a two million dollar deficit. In 1966, with the new Rhodes meters and a meter maid, a profit of $2.5 million was realized.

Thomas McLaughlin, Belleville purchasing agent, stated that 35 double meters, (two meters on one pole, between two adjacent spaces) costing $121, and 15 single units costing $67.50 are on order.

After these meters are installed, each shopping district along Washington Avenue from Nutley to Newark will be changed over.

Two things are important with these new meters. McLaughlin explained first is that in busy areas they will be running ten hours a day thus guaranteeing fifty-cents; and more important vandalism "should be cut close to 100 percent and maintenance at least 50 percent." The only way these meters can be tampered with is by taking them right off the post; which would be quite a job.

Belleville JV's Top Montclair With 20-0 Win

By John Mc Carthy

The Belleville freshman football team ripped apart a stubborn Montclair eleven at Woodman Field in Montclair, 20-0, October 14. This showed coaches Albanese and Zanfini a significant improvement over the Nutley game which ended in a 12-12 deadlock.

The defense, led by Mike Albertaine, was bound and determined to keep Montclair from scoring. A strong drive by Montclair put them on the one-half yard line with the first and goal to go. An offensive holding penalty set them back to the fifteen yard line.

The defensive line then buried the Mounty quarterback. Antilly, with two yard losses. After the teams exchanged goals for the quarter. Antilly, with third and twenty-three, elected to pass. Doug Brown intercepted on the 12 and ran eight yards. After a play gaining five yards, a handoff to Rich Caruso was fumbled when a Mounty kicked the ball out of his hand. On the next play Rich intercepted on the 20 and ran to the 45. That was it for the first half, with the defense gaining more than the offense.

In the second half Doug Brown made the Montclair defense look as if it were held together by strings. From the 43, Doug hit Carmen Russamano on a pass play for a TD. Mark Bradley scored the extra point making it 7-0. On Belleville's next series of plays, Doug ran for 57 yards and a TD. Rich Caruso scrambled over for the extra point, making it 14-0. For the rest of the third quarter the freshmen kept the lead by throwing back the Montclair offense on almost every play.

Administrative Clerk

Civil Service Job Established To Hold Tedesco's Classification

Belleville's commissioner approved an amendment on its first reading last week creating "permanent positions" under civil service. Behind all the complicated phraseology was approval of Charles B. Tedesco for a clerk's job when his term as town attorney runs out next July.

Tedesco, an attorney, began his public service career in 1938 six years after being admitted to the New Jersey bar following his graduation from Rutgers School of Law.

During the next twenty-four years, Tedesco gained a close familiarity with almost all aspects of Belleville municipal government.

Starting as chief clerk of the Department of Parks, he progressed through administrative assistant to the Director of Public Safety; Municipal Court Clerk; legal advisor and prosecutor for the Police Department. He later became administrative clerk in the office of Town Manager, before being promoted to municipal Town Clerk.

In the last capacity, Tedesco served from November 1962 until April 1963 when Eugene Barnett was appointed permanent Town Clerk. Tedesco again became Administrative Clerk to the office of the town manager from April 1963 to July 8, 1967, when the change of government took place.

When this happened he was appointed Town Attorney, replacing Jack J. Soriano.

Since the office of Town Manager no longer exists with the new government, a new title had to be created for the same job. This time however, it is under the Director of Public Safety who is Mayor Smith.

The job of an administrative clerk are diverse and numerous.

It can generally be described as that of a trouble shooter, when something goes wrong or there's a job which no one else is suited to do, the administrative clerk is then assigned. This might be the compiling of statistics for an efficiency report or the drafting of proposed ordinances. As Tedesco said, "it's anything the mayor assigns for me to do."

He will go back to it next July 8, explaining that it is simply for the protection of his civil service classification

Bellboys Loose To Boilermakers 28-0 In 6th Meet

"Blocking broke - down . . . passing broke - down . . . it was just a bad team effort." Coach John Amabile commented as he walked off Garfield's football field last Saturday afternoon.

Belleville's Varsity Squad was trampled by a Garfield team which amassed 190 yards in rushes and 80 yards in passes to their 23 and 46. Penalties seemed the thing of the day with nine being brought against Garfield and two against Belleville.

The Bellboys' new 2-4 record came with Garfield's four TDs bringing the latter to a 3 and 3 margin.

Belleville kicked off to the Boilermakers who brought it to the Bellboy's 45. Fumbling, Belleville took control on the 42, only to fail with the first of their many pass attempts. The first quarter ended scoreless.

In an 11-play, 80-yard gain Garfield scored her first, followed by another TD by the Ken Bohannon in the third by running two plays for 20 and 27 yards.

Garfield's third TD came from Joe Lukas in another third quarter run. The last score was Bohannon's again with an eight-yard dash.

New Civil Rights Panel Sworn In

The Belleville Municipal Council passed an ordinance on October 28, 1963 creating the Belleville Commission on Civil Rights whose duties were to "officially encourage and bring about mutual understanding and respect by all racial, religious and ethnic groups in the town, eliminate prejudice, intolerance, bigotry, discrimination and disorder, and help give effect to the guarantee of equal rights for all as assured by the Constitution and Laws of the State of New Jersey."

The duty of enforcing this ordinance was delegated to the commission through the police. The Commission was given the power to see that the state's discrimination laws were enforced, carry out educational programs to aid in eliminating all types of prejudice, and to receive and investigate complaints of discrimination.

On February 23, 1965 the ordinance was amended increasing the commission from 7 to 9 members.

With this summer's new government, has come a new ordinance.

since he is both secretary of the New Jersey State Civil Service Association and 1st vice-president of the Essex County Civil Service Council.

finance and a new commission. Mayor Smith appointed nine new members and the commission approved of his choice. Their first meeting was October 18.

'Taxicab Week' Proclaimed By Bauer and Andriola

Julius Bauer III, president of the International Taxicab Association and Charles Andriola, on the Board of Directors, representing taxicab operators in the United States and Canada, announced today "Taxicab Week" as a way of recognizing the week of October 29th as Taxicab Week.

The taxicab industry was born in the United States in 1907, in New York City. Its originator, Harry Allen, decided that taxicab meters as used in Europe, would make fares equitable.

In 1917, the International Taxicab Association was formed, based on the necessity of wartime conditions in the United States and the need for emergency individual transportation.

With the exception of the taxicab meter, the next great innovation was the use of two-way radio, starting in 1944 and resulting in today's taxicab dispatching being one of the most efficient uses of two-way radio communications.

In October 1966, the two predecessor organizations, National Association of Taxicab Owners and American Taxicab Association merged into one organization, becoming the International Taxicab Association.

"I know what the Republican Party has meant to Essex County in the past and will again with your support," Case declared. He continued:

"Vigorous, experienced and dedicated to the public interest, the candidates for the State Legislature will give Essex County the strong voice it should have in Trenton. The caliber of the men running for County office is equally commendable.

"I believe a vote for these men means a vote for responsible and progressive government, and I hope they can count on the support of Essex voters."

Fox wrote to D'Aloia: "You have been a credit to yourself, to the Democratic Party, and to the people of Essex County. I do not conceive that I could render you any better or greater praise."

The ex-senator, now village counsel in South Orange and senior partner of Fox, Schackner, Neagle & Mastrangelo, Newark law firm, was in the State Legislature with D'Aloia when the sheriff was leader of the Essex Assembly delegation.

During 1966, the banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services.

Public Demands Schools Give More Sex Info

"TODAY there is an upsurge in public demand for sex education in the schools far greater than at any time in my years of experience in education. The causes of this new interest are many — among them illegitimacy, venereal disease, promiscuity, divorce and many others. Today, more than ever, the public is demanding that the schools assume more responsibility in the teaching of sex education to their students."

This statement by Dr. Everett L. Hebel, Director of Health, Safety, and Physical Education, State Department of Education, illustrates just one of the problems being considered by New Jersey's local school board members meeting here today.

Dr. Hebel spoke last week at a session of the 15th annual workshop of the State Federation of District Boards of Education. More than 2,500 school board members, school administrators, school attorneys and guests are meeting here through Saturday to seek meaningful approaches to the education of youth in today's turbulent society and to discuss many other urgent board and administrative concerns. Sharing the platform with Dr. Hebel was Dr. Gerald Barad, Director of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Hunterdon Medical Center.

On the agenda were such topics as state school aid, innovation in the schools, individualized instruction, educational television and modern school buildings.

A new feature in today's program was a special session, with attendance by invitation only, for members of big city boards. Entitled, "Super Schools — A Bold Departure from Tradition," the session presented Dr. Robert Peebles, Director of Special Projects for the Pittsburgh, Pa., school system.

Warm Weather Helps Flies Breed

Houseflies are terrible this year in many parts of New Jersey.

And so are cluster flies, green "blowflies," yellowjackets and wasps.

Rutgers entomologists can't tell precisely why the fly nuisance is worse this year, unless it's the continued warm weather following a damp summer that makes conditions right for breeding.

Sin may be pleasure but not every pleasure is a sin.

Joe Mossa, Leading Gainer For Penn Morton College

Joe Mossa, leading ground gainer on the PMC Colleges football squad, has been lost to the Cadets for an indefinite period after suffering a concussion against Moravian College Saturday.

Mossa, 5-8, 170-pound graduate of Belleville High, won his starting position on Oct. 7 with a standout second half performance against Muhlenberg. Mossa, a junior, picked up right where he left off this week against Moravian. However, he was injured late in the second period as he scored PMC's only touchdown on a three-yard run and spent the rest of the afternoon on the sidelines.

After four games, Mossa was the leading rusher for the Cadets of Coach Ed Lawless, gaining 146 yards on 46 carries for a 3.6 average.

"Mossa was just coming into his own," Coach Lawless said. "He started slowly this season, but showed us in the Muhlenberg that he is an excellent runner. We certainly hope he is ready to go before our next game."

PMC College is off this week and returns to action Oct. 28 in the annual Homecoming Game against Drexel Tech in PMC Stadium.

Mossa is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mossa, 28 Smallwood Ave., Belleville.

Organized propaganda groups are not interested in the truth and the quicker the average American realizes this the better for the nation.

Thomson Buys 12 More

The publishing group headed by Lord Thomson has bought a chain of twelve U.S. newspapers in Ohio, California, Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania reportedly for $70,000,000.

The sum is supposedly the largest purchase price in the history of American journalism and represents another step in the continuing trend toward centralized ownership of U.S. newspapers.

The Thomson chain allows its various newspapers more editorial freedom than some but nevertheless the trend toward centralized ownership threatens to fundamentally change the status and rights of the press in the traditional sense.

A country containing many locally-owned and editorially free newspapers and independent editors is a safeguard to democracy as we know it, for in such local areas there is a voice, a form of expression or protest.

One can easily see that if the time came when, for example, a few chains owned practically all U.S. newspapers, the free press wouldn't really be free in the traditional sense, but would represent something more of a sizeable business arrangement.

Latest Style Hokum

Many American newspapers recently carried headlines and stories about a new dress collection. The stories featured the idea of a designer, who has come up with a cut that is supposedly new.

We would like to say a word here, gentle lady readers, to all those females who follow the fashion news so rapturously, and who fall for the hokum of the fashion designers year after year, and who make their rich, often at the expense of their husbands.

There is really nothing very new in style, and the truth is that styles are re-adaptations of old styles and cuts, etc., which are brought back into vogue. And hemlines and skirt lengths, etc., are manipulated by the designers and dressmakers, year after year, so that milady will have to buy a new wardrobe, or at least some new things, to feel that she is in style.

What we suggest — and we are not fashion experts — is that each fair lady decide on her own what type clothes look best on her, then, while staying within the bound of generally accepted style, she can make her own decisions, and generally avoid the mistake of going for fads and extreme fashions.

Cigarettes and Television

The cigarette companies continue to peddle false messages on television screens reaching into the living rooms of most American families. Invariably, it seems, the outdoor, sportsman-like setting and the tone and message of the commercials is directed at young people, making it appear that cigarette smoking is the fashionable thing.

Moreover, as has been pointed out before, the claims are often completely phoney. No cigarette can refresh the taste.

Nor does cigarette smoking have any beneficial value or effect in the world of outdoor activity and sports.

The time has come for cigarette commercials to be banned from our television screens, as has already been done in England. The Public Health Service has noted there is no longer any doubt that cigarette smoking causes lung cancer and other often-fatal diseases. Why, then, do we continue to allow commercial interests to hook young people with phony cigarette commercials in our own living rooms?

Shoulder Belts Ordered

The federal government has decided to stand by its original order requiring shoulder harnesses in passenger cars. There had been indications recently the order might be eased but at joint news conference two federal officials reported a seven-week study "convincingly confirmed" the benefits.

Dr. William Hadden Jr., director of the National Highway Safety Bureau, and Lowell K. Birdwell, Federal Highway Administrator, said the study showed shoulder straps used by front seat passengers and drivers, in combination with seat belts, added greatly to the safety factor in driving.

There had been charges that shoulder straps did not provide the protection claimed and that there were certain disadvantages in wearing them.

But the government's seven-week study showed safety benefits were highly impressive. In addition, a thorough study in Sweden by the Volvo Automobile Company resulted in findings that the use of shoulder harnesses might reduce driver fatalities by more than 80 per cent.

In the face of such overwhelming evidence the federal officials rightfully decided to require shoulder harnesses. Automobile makers did not immediately indicate whether such equipment would be installed on all new cars; the makers indicated, however, that extra charges are certain for cars with harnesses.

If such harnesses are not standard equipment by 1968, Congress should enact legislation requiring them in the interest of the driving public.

Extra Sensory Perception

The nation is currently enjoying a kick on extra sensory perception and various people are claiming to have had it, to have it now, etc. One of the Sunday newspaper magazines (and these magazines seem to deal more in fiction than fact) recently carried a most interesting series on a famous writer who supposedly has ESP.

She was supposed to have predicted President Kennedy's assassination among other things. The most interesting part of the series was that containing predictions for the future. One was that we would become engaged in a nuclear war before 1970. Another was that we will be in another Vietnam-type war within a year. It also said the nation desperately needs an anti-missile defense and isn't getting one fast enough.

These are things we can check on between now and 1970.

Many believe there is something to ESP. But just what there is to it, and how specific we can get about it, is a question. One thing seems clear. If anyone could actually foretell the future, he could quickly amass a fortune in stocks or in many other ways — such as betting on prize fights. The eye-opening thing about the current ESP kick is that most of the housewives or others with so-called ESP are still working for a living.

Have and Have Nots

Considerable attention has been focused on the grievances of the have-nots in today's restless society but few have given much consideration to the grievances of the haves.

The have-nots complain that they are discriminated against, can't get jobs and, in general, are up against a built-in system of disadvantages and obstacles. In modern times they resort to violence, to looting and even killing, often led by extremists, to vent their wrath on society.

This has made a major impression and politicians appealing to them (perhaps convinced remedial legislation is the only sure cure) have called for huge appropriations for new programs to help the have-nots.

Certainly most Americans are in favor of helping the have-nots but at the same time we should keep our balance and also consider protecting the haves. The haves, it was pointed out by a college president recently, are often the individuals who worked long and hard hours to get ahead, to save enough or invest enough to give their families security.

Those who have pulled themselves up by hard work and application deserve the protection a nation of law and order and democratic progress provides. In the last few years such citizens have sometimes seen their businesses burned, their property destroyed, and themselves condemned — for their success. Only a few years back many of them were the have-nots; they succeeded in the traditional American way, which is what we must continue to encourage, not criticize.

Speak Up

Children Should Be Encouraged To Support UNICEF Activities

To The Editor:

How old must one be to share in the honors of the Nobel Peace Prize? Just old enough and tall enough, it would seem, to be able to reach for a doorbell and ring it on Halloween.

Provided, of course, it is under the auspices of the United Nations Children's Fund, which was granted the lofty award just two years ago for saving children's lives ever since its foundation, on December 11, 1946.

Millions of American boys and girls, here in Nutley and in over 13,000 other communities from coast to coast, are getting ready to celebrate UNICEF's twenty first anniversary by showing greater enthusiasm than ever before in collecting Halloween "treats" of pennies, nickels and dimes. In months to come, these will be transformed into vital supplies, equipment, medicines and vaccines for more than 100 underdeveloped countries around the world.

Locally sponsored by the Nutley Committee for United Nations Week, the Trick or Treat for UNICEF program has features to please people of all minds.

In the words of President Johnson, "In keeping with our traditional spirit of goodwill and generosity, each American can help UNICEF to continue its vital work by participating in the Trick or Treat program at Halloween."

For the youngsters themselves, it is a fine opportunity to combine their traditional fun with a constructive, rewarding activity all their own — the world's greatest effort by children to help children.

Educators appreciate the program's period most of all, when their students are stimulated into showing greatest interest for, and better understanding of, other children's living conditions overseas.

Policemen, firemen and other civic authorities appreciate the fact that wherever a well organized UNICEF program prevails, they can worry less about vandalism and senseless pranks.

Last but not least, for ministers, priests and rabbis, the motto "Share rather than Scare" takes Halloween away from some of its least desirable connotations. When young people devote their energy and leisure time to helping others, it can well be said that they are taking part in a constructive, beneficial endeavor.

Some idea of what our boys and girls will accomplish, with our community's generous cooperation, may be found in the fact that every day UNICEF'S jeeps, trucks and other vehicles travel roughly the distance of 30 times around the world, or four times the distance from the earth to the moon. Placed end on end, the midwife kits shipped by UNICEF would form a pile four times as high as Mount Everest. If they held hands at the Equator, the children and mothers helped by UNICEF each year would circle the world. The dried milk shipped by UNICEF would fill the U.N. Building more than 25 times.

New Shop Opens Doors of Past: Belleville's First Antique Outlet

sets and tables. The only possible words which can come to mind are imagination and craftsmanship. Belleville has her first 'Antique & Oddities' shoppe.

"No sculptured soup cans, no Picasso's here," smiled the co-owner of the recently opened shop, "Antiques & Oddities."

Richard Kapral's disclaimer might come as a surprise to those who know him as a leading abstract artist. He has received countless awards, including the New Jersey Painters and Sculptors Society's first prize for oil painting.

Mr. Kapral revealed that although his art expresses modern life, his interest in antiques is not far afield. He states, "All that is new and in vogue has evolved from centuries of tradition. The artifacts and treasures of the past have the same freshness, purity and verve as the op-est of pop art. Antiques express their time but, also, they add continuity and stability to whatever is in fashion today."

Betty Berra, co-partner in the business at 98 William Street, shares Mr. Kapral's views. She agrees that the ever-growing number of antique collectors expresses the need to add some leavening to the hectic Space Age. Mrs. Berra has been a private collector for years. While unearthing "finds" for herself, friends would request advice and help in obtaining rare items until, "I found myself in business."

"It's like eating peanuts," she continued. "I bought my first antique, a tiny toy iron car, when I was a my teens and I've been hooked ever since. I often think that the young hippies of today eventually will become solid citizens, if only because of their love for such things as Tiffany lampshades. In this age of mass production and instant obsolescence they appreciate what has been crafted with love and care. And psychedelic art, after all, is not too far removed from the gaudy 'gingerbread' of the Victorian era."

She and Mr. Kapral surveyed their shop, a pleasant jumble of glassware, furniture, jewelry and framed prints. Mrs. Berra recalled the

Library Beginning Children's Movie

The Children's Department of the Belleville Public Library announces the beginning of a monthly Children's Movie Hour starting Saturday, November 18 from 10:30 to 11:30 A.M.

Included on the agenda for the first Movie Hour is an exciting and colorful Walt Disney True Life Adventure film about the animals of the Florida Everglades entitled "Prowlers of the Everglades".

Highlighting the hour will be two shorter color movies that major European awards, is a funny parody on bull fighting, while "Ti-Jean Goes Lumbering" is a delightful folk tale about a miniature Paul Bunyan.

If the Movie Hour proves successful in attendance, regular Children's Movie Hours in one Saturday of each month will be scheduled.

United Fund Still Counting Collections

The first progress report on the Community Fund drive in Nutley shows returns of $15,000, or 50 percent of the $30,000 residential goal (and they're still counting).

Campaign chairman Mrs. Stanley Yorton says she is encouraged with the results so far and says this year's larger goal is a real challenge, and she calls for maximum effort.

Although hundreds of workers have volunteered time for neighborhood collections, there are some streets that have not been covered. Mrs. Yorton is hopeful that residents who have not been canvassed will take the initiative and mail their contribution to the United Fund headquarters at 169 Chestnut Street. She urges the volunteers to complete their calls and turn in the reports so a final tally can be made.

At the first report luncheon held at the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark on October 19 the total returns were at the 35 percent mark of the $4,000,000 goal for Essex and West Hudson. Nutley's response seems to be better than last year, to date, Mrs. Yorton says.

French adage that proclaims, "The more things change, the more they remain the same." It prompted Mr. Kapral to translate the words to the language of today. He concluded, "Antiques are with it."

The number of people in a community is not nearly as important as the type of people in the community.

Computer Switching Bank Messages

The first application of computer switching to international commercial banking communications was announced last week by ITT World Communications Inc., a subsidiary of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation.

The First National Bank of Boston (FNBB) is using the ARX Switching Service computer of ITT Worldcom to route messages among its offices in England, and Buenos Aires, Argentina.

People who plan for their future usually succeed better than those who do not, but there is no law which requires you to make such plans.

Joe Biancardi Endorsed By Norma Mc Cool

Mrs. Norma Mc Cool, Belleville Board of Education member, last week endorsed Assemblyman Joseph G. Biancardi for "his fine record of voting for educational bills that are now giving benefits to children and educators all over the state."

She said that his "constant" presence "assisting the needy, rewarding those of merit, advising those with legislative questions or programs, or aiding some worthwhile cause" make his record that much more outstanding.

Quoting from other educators and administrators who share her opinion, Mrs. Mc Cool said:

"From Victor R. Yanitelli, S.J., President of St. Peter's College, 'Criticism comes all too easily to those who are in public service. I just wanted you to know that this was one citizen who was grateful for all that you were doing for the state . . . and from Frederick L. Hipp, Executive Secretary, New Jersey Education Association: 'On behalf of the New Jersey Education Association, I wish to thank you for the very fine support you gave to education bills over the last two sessions of the New Jersey State Assembly . . . The teachers and children of this state are very fortunate to have you in the Legislature

New interstate telephone rates Effective November 1

In general, the new telephone rate changes will affect both station-to-station calls and person-to-person calls that are placed to points outside New Jersey. The time periods in which lower calling rates apply will be enlarged for more weekday hours and extended to cover all Saturdays and five holidays. There will be increases on some calls of less than 25 miles. All of these changes will apply only on out-of-state calls.

Interstate Station-to-Station Calls

New lower extended after 7 and weekend rate

From 7 in the evening to 7 o'clock the next morning, the highest rate for an interstate station-to-station call will be $1.00*. This rate, besides applying daily and all day Sunday as it now does, will be extended to cover all day Saturday, as well as Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's Day, July 4th and Labor Day.

New lower weekday rate

Weekday station-to-station calls will cost no more than $1.75* — a drop of 25¢. The new rate applies between 7 in the morning and 5 in the afternoon.

New lower after 5 rate

From 5 in the afternoon to 7 in the evening, on weekdays, the most you'll pay for an interstate station-to-station call will be $1.25* — another 25¢ reduction.

New lower midnight to 7 special dial rate

A special dial rate, featuring a 75¢* maximum for an interstate station-to-station call across the country will be in effect every day from midnight to 7 o'clock in the morning. This special rate applies only to station-to-station calls dialled directly from non-coin telephones.

Interstate Person-to-Person Calls

New lower day person-to-person rate

The new daytime rate for these interstate calls will be no more than $3.30* — a 20¢ decrease. The rate applies from 7 in the morning to 5 in the afternoon, Monday through Friday.

New lower night person-to-person rate

After 5 in the afternoon to 7 o'clock the next morning on weekdays, and all day Saturday and Sunday, and on the five holidays listed above, the most you'll pay for an interstate person-to-person call will be $2.85* — down 15¢.

Here's a handy chart listing the new rates and the new time periods of interstate station-to-station calls.

Health Officer Conflict Continuing

Belleville's part-time Health Officer Dr. Gerson L. Ram's last day of suspension was Tuesday. As of that time he had not replied to Commissioner Strumolo's inquiries as to whether he will accept the hours which have been set down for him to work or resign.

The continuing conflict between Ram and Strumolo centers over what hours should be worked, rather than how many.

As a part-time health officer, Ram is required to work not less than twenty-four hours and not more than 35 hours a week. This Ram will agree to. However, Dr. Ram is also a full-time chemistry teacher at Newark College of Engineering. He therefore has to work his town responsibilities around his classes.

"On October 24," Commissioner Strumolo said, "Dr. Ram came into work at 6 a.m. worked until 9, returned at 4:10 and worked till 4:30."

"This would be a wonderful country if employees could tell their bosses when they wanted to work," Strumolo continued. Strumolo first suspended Ram on October 16 for five days because he did not comply with the order to be in his Belleville office weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and noon, and 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. The second suspension came on October 25 when he again refused to comply with the directive.

On September 27, Strumolo wrote to Dr. Ram explaining that he wanted to change the position of health officer from part-time to full-time since the town had lost over $60,000 in available state aid because of the lack of the position, and that the town is due to lose another $15,503 for 1968 if action is not taken quickly.

Also pointed out by Strumolo was the fact that only two other towns in the county lack full-time officers and they have populations which are far below Belleville's.

Still Dr. Ram has not responded.

No Major Damage Done Monday Night

According to Deputy Police Chief Harry Tepe the quota of damage that arose as a direct result of mischief night was relatively small and there was "no exceptional damage reported."

In all, the complaints that found their way to the desk sergeant's blotter were eggs that were tossed and wax marking incidents.

Tepe further mentioned "that the youngsters of today think they have a license to go out

Congressman Sandman Would Limit Imports

Congressman Charles W. Sandman, Jr. (R., 2nd Dist., N.J.), in pointing out that America's ground fishing industry is threatened with extinction, today introduced a bill calling for a reduction in foreign imports of ground fish.

In introducing the bill, Congressman Sandman said: "The ground fishing industry is important to many coastal areas of the United States, including those in my Congressional District. The industry is in desperate straits and is being choked to death by foreign imports for since 1951 a vast increase in such imports has been driving American fishermen out of the ground fish market."

"This important segment of the United States' fishing industry has gone from supplying 62.9 per cent of the American ground fish consumed in this country in 1951 to only 19.2 per cent of the amount consumed in 1966. All the rest is foreign imports."

Paced by the record sales of its 4-door Corona sports sedan, Japan's Toyota Motor Company is now the third largest selling import line in the United States, according to the R. L. Polk Report of Retail Registrations for July. Automobile authorities attribute Toyota's dramatic penetration of the rich U.S. import market to the fact that it was the first foreign manufacturer to offer an optional American-type automatic transmission in a high performance economy car under the $2,000 price level.

Heading for its fifth consecutive 100-plus percent annual sales gain in this market, Japan's No. 1 auto maker reports that it will retail 35,000 units in the U.S. this year and has targeted 80,000 retail sales for 1968.

Claire Huchet Bishop To Be Heard At Temple Book And Author Luncheon

"Yes Called Jesus" - Jewish Boy, is the subject of a talk to be presented by Claire Huchet Bishop at the Temple B'nai Israel's Book and Author Club, November.

A well-known author and lecturer, Mrs. Bishop was born and educated in France. She has long been connected with inter-faith activities, especially Jewish-Christian relations. For over fifteen years, she collaborated with Professor Jules Isaac, a prime mover in the Ecumenical movement, who entrusted her fully with the presentation of his writings in the United States.

Mrs. Bishop has had more than 25 works published, including "All Things Common," as well as a number of prize-winning books for young people, such as "Twenty and Ten," "The Five Chinese Brothers," and the books which will serve as the basis of her talk to the Sisterhood women and their guests, "Yes, Called Jesus," which deals with a reappraisal of Christian teaching regarding Jews.

Says the Boston Globe about "Yes, Called Jesus" in its review of books, "This beautifully illustrated and mounted book is a contribution to the ecumenical movement by demonstrating what many Christians have disastrously forgotten, that the founder of their faith was very much a Jew."

The New York Times had this to: "Mrs. Bishop has dedicated her book in part to the memory of John XXIII, Pope of Jewish Christian Reconciliation," and it is a volume that well reveals the relation between Judaism and activities of a Jewish family the work, the customs, the worship - as Jesus knew them, are especially well described."

Douglass Department of Art Deals With The Contemporary

The narrow white hallway leading to Reginald Neal's office at Douglass College has been carpeted in recent days with a batch of newly-lectured yard-square constructions.

Students visiting Prof. Neal have stared at gingerly touched and finally stepped upon the odd floor designs, constructed by other students out of such everyday objects as halved red rubber balls, coiled springs and scissors.

"Art now encompasses the entire visual world," Prof. Neal explains. "In this decade artists have broken away from using only the few forms that the general public concedes are 'artistic' and have taken many new materials as suitable tools.

The layman doesn't concede, for example, that neon tubes can be as much an art form as paint on canvas, but they are."

Neal, professor of art at the women's college of the State University, is himself a professional artist whose work has been widely shown in New York galleries and art museums. Of the 10 full-time members of the department faculty, seven are studio teachers who are also working professional artists.

"We believe that the best art education is given by professional artists who are themselves actively creating and showing," Neal says. "For a small department we have had a good record of success by both our faculty and students."

The Douglass Department of Art gives three different levels of art education.

First, it gives courses to about 500 young women who enroll each year for a course in art as part of their overall liberal arts education.

Second, it works with about 100 undergraduate art majors, who hope to make careers in art. Most of these are from Douglass, but some Rutgers College students who wish to study studio art are also enrolled.

The third major part of the department's work is with graduate students. It offers both a one-year Masters degree program for teachers and a two-year Master of Fine Arts degree program in studio art, designed to train professional artists. There are about 50 graduate students currently enrolled.

"We've had many outstanding artists in our graduate program," Neal says. "George Segal, whose white plaster scultures have been widely exhibited, took an M.F.A. degree with us, and Gary Kuehn, whose primary structures and geometries have been shown in New York, holds our degree. Kiki Kraa, Don Zurlo, Robert Whitman and Lucas Samaras are other successful young artists who studied here.

"I would say we've been unusually successful in attracting creative artists to our faculty, and they in turn have attracted good students, particularly on the graduate level."

Last year the department accepted only about one in 10 of the young men and women who applied to its M.F.A. program.

Among the Douglass art faculty are Neal, whose geometric paintings and constructions in plastic, involving optional illusions, are presently in three traveling exhibitions of the Smithsonian Institution, and Robert Wtts, whose experimental art forms using films, sound, light and other mixed media have been widely shown in this country and abroad.

Ulert Wilke, who concentrates on abstract calligraphy and who was one of five artists chosen to represent the United States in the recent Tokyo Biennale, also teaches at Douglass, as do Geoffrey Hendricks, who creates "happenings" and who has shown paintings dealing with natural forms in the Bianchini Gallery and John L. Goodyear, whose kinetic painting were among the first wave of "optical" art.

Roy Lichtenstein, whose oversized comic book characters also taught at Douglass for a started the "pop" art vogue, number of years.

Computer Uses In Counties Being Discussed

A special day-long conference on the potential use of computers and information systems by New Jersey county governments was sponsored October 26 by the Department of Community Affairs.

The conference was attended by New Jersey state officials and representatives from the 21 governments. A similar conference for municipal officials is planned for a future date.

Community Affairs Commissioner Paul N. Ylvisaker opened the morning session, in the Bid Room of the State House. An afternoon working session, began at 2:30 p.m., was held in the Community Affairs Building, 363 West State Street.

Following Ylvisaker's remarks, James Alloway, who will become director of the phase is distressingly avant-garde?

"The public wouldn't expect a business school to teach its students to write with a quill pen instead of how to use a computer," Neal replies. "Why should we be expected to concentrate on art forms which are obsolete?"

"We try to teach the best of contemporary visual expression. When students approach a dealer with their art works there is as small a gap as possible between the reality of the world of art and education. We try to make our art education relevant to the modern world."

Temple Beth El To Open Private School For Deaf

A new private school for deaf children will open at Temple Beth El, 222 Irvington Avenue, South Orange.

The Deron School, a non-profit, non-sectarian institution will accept up to eight children in its first year of operation. Any child with a hearing disability may seek admission. The school, employing the oral approach to the education of the deaf, is directed by Ronald L. Alter, a resident of Belleville, a graduate of Rutgers University. He has previously taught at the Katzenbach school for the Deaf in Trenton, and has worked on a special project for the deaf and hard of hearing with the New Jersey Rehabilitation Commission.

The school facilities have been approved by the state, and individual programs will be submitted for approval as children are enrolled in the school. The school will limit its admission to children between the ages of 5 and 9 years during his school year.

We have no idea how old the world is and we refuse to worry about how long it will endure.

HOW TO KNOW A MEDICAL QUACK

Quacks not only take your money, but also steal some of the precious time when early diagnosis and treatment of a disease can prevent much later danger.

"Any person who guarantees a quick cure, uses a secret machine or formula, advertises testimonials of his cures, tells you surgery or x-rays do more harm than good, or claims the medical profession is persecuting him is a quack. The more he tells you that the physicians are afraid of his quackery, the more certain you can be of his quackery. Beware of such fakers. Voltaire said, 'The quack was born when the first knave met the first fool'."

GOP Republicans Goal

Repeal Strikers Benefit Law

A majority of the Republican candidates for state legislative office in New Jersey's Nov. 7 elections favor repeal of the strikers' benefit law, while most Democratic candidates have failed to make their position known in a statewide survey.

This division of sentiment was disclosed last week by Hans Traulsen, chairman of New Jerseyans to Protect Unemployment Benefits (PUB), on the basis of responses to a questionnaire sent by PUB to all 240 legislative candidates of the two parties.

Scheduled to take effect next Jan. 1, the law was speedily enacted last spring as a Democratic administration measure and has been the subject of mounting criticism ever since. The law would permit strikers to collect unemployment benefits after six weeks and would increase unemployment taxes 20 per cent for New Jersey employees.

Mr. Traulsen said 120 candidates had responded to PUB's questionnaire. Among the 120 were 91 Republicans, representing 76 per cent of the entire GOP field, and 29 Democrats, representing 25 per cent of that party's lineup.

Of the 91 Republicans, all but four (who made no commitment either way) were for repeal. The breakdown shows 31 of the party's Senate candidates and 56 of its Assembly candidates in favor of repeal.

Of the 29 Democratic candidates responding, 14 listed themselves as opposing repeal eight as uncommitted and only seven favoring repeal.

With PUB spearheading citizen opposition to the law as a perversion of jobless insurance and subsidy for strikes, the controversy has become the leading issue in this year's state elections.

While PUB's campaign for repeal of the strikers' benefit law has been conducted on a nonpartisan basis, spokesmen for the organization conceded there were partisan patterns in the responses to PUB's questionnaire.

Fully as revealing as majority Republican sentiment for repeal, they said, was the failure of 76 per cent of the Democratic candidates to respond to the questionnaire.

"It seems significant," one PUB spokesman observed, "that only 14 Democrats chose to support their party's position against repeal and six crossed swords with the party by espousing repeal."

Late in August, PUB released the results of a statewide opinion survey by the noted pollster, E. John Bucci of Swarthmore, Pa.

"The survey showed only 37 per cent of New Jerseyans in favor of the strike benefits law," said Traulsen.

Among Republicans, 67 per cent were against the law, while 42 per cent of the Democrats and 63 per cent of the Independents were against the law.

Discarding "neutral" and "don't know" responses, the tallies showed that only 49 per cent of Democrats expressed themselves as "favorable" to the law.

Traulsen commented at the time that "the handwriting is on the wall for all candidates to read."

Foster Grandparents to Help Institutionalized Children

The New Jersey Department of Community Affairs announced last week it will sponsor a $275,300 Foster Grandparents program for 240 children at four state institutions in Burlington, Cumberland, Middlesex and Passaic Counties.

In announcing the program, Community Affairs Commissioner Paul N. Ylvisaker said it would be financed through a $250,500 grant from the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity and about $25,800 in local in-kind contributions. He said the Department of Community Affairs would contribute $12,000 while other participating institutions would provide facilities and services.

Ylvisaker said the program would employ 120 senior citizens, 60 years old or over, as "foster grandparents" for 240 children at four state institutions for mentally deficient or retarded children: the State Colony at New Lisbon (Burlington); the Vineland State School (Cumberland); the Woodbridge State School (Middlesex); and the North Jersey Training School in Totowa (Passaic).

He said the program was scheduled to begin by the end of October.

Under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1966, the Foster Grandparents program gives elderly men and women with low incomes an opportunity to earn extra money by working part-time as substitute parents for neglected and deprived children. Ylvisaker said each "grandparent" would work two hours a day with each of two children at the institutions—a total of 20 hours a week at a rate of $1.40 an hour. In addition, each "grandparent" will receive $5 a week to cover transportation expenses.

"Each grandparent will furnish the kind of individual attention the children otherwise might not receive while in an institution," the Commissioner explained.

Ylvisaker said the new program will be administered by the Division of Mental Retardation of the State Department of Institutions and Agencies, in cooperation with the Division on Aging of the Department of Community Affairs and four county anti-poverty agencies. Sidney Schwebel of Ewing Township, former community services director of Atlantic Human Resources, the Atlantic-Cape May anti-poverty agency, will serve as project director.

Schwebel said the four participating state institutions will furnish facilities, personnel and services, while the Division on Aging will provide a training consultant to help train field supervisors and selected "grandparents" for their jobs. The four anti-poverty agencies will help the institutions in their counties recruit and transport elderly persons, and will organize local advisory councils to arrange on-the-grounds outings for the "grandparents" and children.

The four participating anti-poverty agencies are: Burlington County Community Action Program, Inc.; Southwestern Citizens Organization for Poverty Elimination (SCOPE) in Cumberland County; Middlesex County Economic Opportunity Corporation and the Community Action Council of Passaic County.

Schwebel said two-week orientation and training sessions for "grandparents" would be held at the four institutions in the next two weeks.

He said the new program is the second to be formed in New Jersey. The first, operating in two state child care institutions in Atlantic and Cape May Counties, is sponsored and administered by Atlantic Human Resources, the dual-county community action agency.

ALMOST INTERCEPTED — Belleville quarterback Rich DelGuerio's passing was certainly not up to par in last week's game. Robert Handago, a Boilermaker left-end, nearly snagged this first quarter pass.

A LONG RUN — Running far around the left end Leo Gasienica was eventually brought down by Anthony Sofia (41) after chasing him for twenty yards. Three minutes had already elapsed in the first period and it was third and ten.

ESSEX led the 18 counties on the awards list with contracts aggregating $8,998,677 followed by BERGEN COUNTY, $6,957,238; BURLINGTON COUNTY, $6,871,548; MONMOUTH COUNTY, $6,474,091; CUMBERLAND COUNTY, $5,599,325; HUDSON COUNTY, $5,431,751; and UNION COUNTY, $5,360,499.

The FDR has spent more time "on station" in the Mediterranean than any other carrier in the Navy.

Other milestones in the carrier's history include winning three Admiral Flakley Aviation Safety Awards and being the first aircraft carrier to operate jet aircraft (1946).

During this deployment the carrier will participate in various Sixth Fleet exercises and joint exercises with other NATO country ships.

Aggregate County Spending Is Higher

Costs of 21 county governments averaged $47.47 for each man, woman and child in New Jersey last year.

Aggregate county spending of more than $330 million in 1966 represented a per capita increase, statewide, of $2.58 over the previous year for each of the State's estimated population of nearly 7,000,000.

The overall county government per capita expenditure last year included $40.39 for current operations; $4.13 for capital improvements and $2.95 for debt service.

Compilations by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association showed that, within the counties, overall expenditures per person ranged from a high of $91.79 in the resort county of Cape May to a low of $27.58 in Burlington County.

AUTO SAFETY BELTS

Experts estimate that more than 5,000 lives would be saved each year in the United States and that injuries would be reduced by one-third if everyone used auto seat belts, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Day Long Housing Talks Scheduled

Commissioner Paul N. Ylvisaker of the New Jersey Dept. of Community Affairs will be the featured speaker November 2, at a day-long conference on housing rehabilitation.

The conference, to be held at the Brunswick Inn, East Brunswick, is jointly sponsored by the Community Affairs Department and the New Jersey Home Builders Association. It will examine all phases of housing rehabilitation, including new methods of financing and reconstruction.

Commissioner Ylvisaker will open the conference at 8:30 a.m. He will be followed by Stanton E. Lipschutz, a builder-developer of Lafayette Hill, Pa., who will discuss rehabilitation as a suitable alternative to new construction.

MILLION-DOLLAR LOSSES

The Insurance Information Institute reports that there were 15 catastrophes in the United States in 1966 which caused $1 million or more each in insured property losses. The greatest damage was done by tornadoes and winds which struck Kansas in June, causing in one day $58 million in insured losses.

GOP Attacks Democrats On School Busing, Taxes

The Essex County Republican campaign moved into high gear this week with a flurry of activities highlighted by a GOP attack on a Democratic proposal that suburban communities and cities exchange students in order to create fully integrated neighborhood schools.

An Essex endorsement by President Dwight Eisenhower, a rebuke of Democrats for attempting to sweep the serious crime issue under the rug, and a reported Democratic "tax sellout" were included in the GOP barrage.

The major policy statement by the six GOP Senate candidates, James H. Wallwork, Alexander J. Matturri, David W. Dowd, Garrardo L. Del Tufo, Milton A. Waldor and Michael A. Giuliano, promised a united effort to fight any attempt to destroy the neighborhood school system.

The Republican candidates said the Democratic proposal by State Education Commissioner Carl Marburger was "another halfhearted Democratic effort to treat the symptom rather than the disease."

They added: "We believe the money wasted on this ill conceived busing experiment could better be used to buy quality education in every neighborhood school in Essex County."

The Essex endorsement by former President Eisenhower came in the form of an announcement by Senate hopeful Matturri, who served under Ike as U.S. Representative on the Italian-American Conciliation Commission at Rome for eight years. Matturri met with Eisenhower in Gettysburg and reported:

The President said that voters in Essex as well as throughout the country, were fed up with Democratic promises and were eager for Republican action. Mr. Eisenhower was pleased with the qualifications and record of achievement of the Republican candidates in Essex County and let me know personally that he supports our entire slate. He asked me to convey to all Republican candidates and volunteers his very best wishes and his confidence in a Republican victory in November.

The GOP assembly nominees, meanwhile, charged that "Essex Democrats switched rather than fought on the sales tax issue."

They said the County's taxpayers are the victims of an Essex Democrat tax sell-out. Essex Democrats provided the key votes needed to pass New Jersey's three per cent sales tax after trading their votes for additional political jobs instead of fighting for a fair return of state aid for the county's municipalities.

The Assembly hopefuls said the Democrats "specifically promised that 77 cents of each sales tax dollar would be returned to county and local government in the form of new state aid. 'What happened to the money? What happened to their promised tax relief? What happened to their election campaign pledges against new taxes?' the GOP demanded.

The Rev. Jessie W. Mapson, a Republican Assembly candidate in Newark, was sharply critical of Democratic State reactions to last week's GOP tour of the Central Ward in that city in the company of a nationally-recognized crime expert.

Mapson declared: "Rising crime rates were not caused by Republican government in Essex County because Republicans do not govern Essex County."

"More murders and increased crimes of violence were not caused by Republican government in Essex County because Republicans do not govern Essex County."

"Burglaries increasing to new record highs in city and suburbs were not caused by Republican government in Essex County because Republicans do not govern Essex County."

ESSEX COUNTY IS IN GOOD HANDS... KEEP IT THERE!

The Essex Board of Freeholders performs more than 3,800 separate and individual services on behalf of the citizens of Essex County administered through a total of 56 departments of county government. Basically the Board of Freeholders is both the legislative and administrative body of those governmental services which are beyond the capabilities of local municipal governments to handle economically and conveniently. For example the county government administers hospital and health programs, the Court system, correction and penal institutions as well as higher education and public safety and highway and bridges which are used by the County as a whole rather than by individual municipalities.

Of the total County budget more than 60% is allocated to hospitals, health and related services and to the maintaining of the Courts and law and order. Much of the budget allocation is mandatory in fulfillment of obligations of commission services. Essex County government is administered on a sound fiscal basis as reflected in the double A rating given the financial standing of the County by the firm of Moony - Standard, Poor, and the fact that the cost of services in Essex County have risen less in proportion than any other major County in our State.

The successful administration of the County and its services rest in the hands of experienced and proven administrators. The continuation of this good government merits the re-election to the Board of Freeholders of these candidates of experience and vision.

Candidate for re-election as Freeholder. Wide experience in the fields of government, business and community affairs. Served four years as a mayor of Irvington and 16 years as town commissioner. He is chairman of the Overbrook hospital.

Caputo Wants 90/10 State Aid For Roads Again

Ralph R. Caputo, Assembly candidate from district 11-C, North Ward (Newark), Belleville and Nutley said today that he would vote and work for a return of the 90-10 system of state aid for roads.

Caputo pointed out that the 90 percent system was in effect for many years until the Democratic controlled Legislature this year changed it to a 50-50 system with the local municipalities sharing equal cost with the State.

The candidate charged that the Democratic Organization has been trying for years to explain for their ever increasing budget at the county level, blaming it always on the rise in welfare costs, yet they permit legislative representatives of their own organization to vote in favor of state cuts in road aid.

Continuing, Caputo said that the local communities in our Assembly districts do not have the financial ability to maintain local roads, and I find it incredible that these same Democratic Legislators saw fit to place such hardship on local administrators and property owners.

The homeowners are certainly entitled to a better break; specifically the return of the 90-10 formula of state maintenance of roads.

Jersey AAA Members Up For September

National award trophies went to the New Jersey Auto Club-AAA this week as the sales force broke the previous record for September membership enrollment, it was announced last week by the club's new acting general manager, Rene Vialle.

Sen Scholz Doesn't Favor Strike Law

Senator Frederick Scholz (R-Camden) State Republican campaign chairman today accused labor bosses of confusing the issues and distorting the facts about unemployment compensation benefits.

Scholz said, "AFL-CIO boss John L. George hailed the increase of unemployment compensation benefits to $62 per week, passed by the Democrat controlled Legislature." Scholz said, "He neglected to say Republican legislators proposed a $70 weekly benefit which was rejected by the Democrat leaders. They knew that they were endangering the fund by their strike benefit provisions, and had to cut back somewhere."

Scholz said, "They short-changed compensation benefits to provide for the labor boss advantaged strike benefits. They rammed this through the Democrat controlled Legislature and the Governor signed it forty minutes after passage."

Scholz said, "No mention is made of the fact that care by a dentist or a chiropractor for a disabled worker was eliminated in this same package. No mention was made that a worker gets $1612 for striking but only $1068 for disability compensation." Scholz said, "Labor bosses sacrificed unemployment benefits so as to protect union strike funds."

Public Service To Sell 250,000 Shares Soon

Public Service Electric and Gas Company October 19 filed a petition with the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey for authority to issue and sell 250,000 shares of a new series of Cumulative Preferred Stock (par value $100 per share). The Company proposes to offer the shares publicly, through underwriters, on a negotiated basis, in December.

Intercontinental Life Insurance Company has initiated an expansion outside of the continental United States with the acquisition of a life insurance company in Puerto Rico.

State Crime Information Center To Be Located in West Trenton

Colonel D. B. Kelly announced recently that the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) Terminal for New Jersey will be located at State Police Headquarters in West Trenton. A letter from Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, confirming the assignment of terminal responsibility to the state police, indicated that the necessary communications lines between West Trenton and Washington, D.C., have been ordered. Installation of the NCIC Terminal is slated for completion this December.

NCIC, which became operational in January, has moved rapidly toward the goal of a nationwide computerized information network linking local, state and federal law enforcement agencies.

As regional terminals tie in to the Department of Justice in Washington, D.C., the central index grows and information concerning wanted persons, stolen cars, stolen guns and other items of stolen property which are serially identifiable is computerized for instantaneous dissemination upon request. The ultimate potential of the system will be to make a vast index of important intelligence immediately available to the police officer on patrol.

NCIC is now operational 7 days a week and 22 hours a day. Response time averages 15 seconds from the time the last character of the incoming message is received until the first character of the reply goes back to the transmitting terminal. The FBI reports that actual incidents have demonstrated that an inquiry from the street by radio through the terminal dispatcher to Washington can be answered back to the street in 90 seconds.

This means that a police officer anywhere in New Jersey may, for example, stop a motor vehicle and discover a firearm in the possession of the operator. He will flash a request for a registration check on the vehicle, a criminal lookup on the operator and a serial number check on the gun. In less than two minutes he will have the answers to all of his questions and be able to take action accordingly.

The terminal assignment makes the state police responsible for servicing all law enforcement agencies in New Jersey with this valuable information.

Army Offering 800
College Scholarships

College scholarships for 800 outstanding high school seniors will be offered again this year, the U.S. Army has announced.

The scholarships will be good at any of 247 colleges and universities in the United States offering the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) program. Young men may choose their own field of study and the only requirement will be that they take ROTC.

Selection is based on academic excellence, extracurricular activities, physical standards, results of college entrance examination boards, personal qualities, and leadership potential.

This is the fourth year of the Army scholarship program. Last year 800 high school graduates were selected. The scholarships pay full tuition, textbooks, and laboratory fees, and provide a $50 monthly

BOSS RULE LEADS TO MOB RULE

CCrime and civil disorder have become serious problems in Essex County. For more than ten years a boss-dominated Democratic machine has held the reins of government and has provided our citizens with nothing more than lip service and inaction.

Boss rule has failed to respond to the human needs of all citizens. The bosses have been isolated from the people and unresponsive to the mounting social problems of our times.

On Election Day November 7, you have a unique opportunity to bring a new era of responsible government to Essex County. Vote Republican and once again make Essex County a Decent and Safe place in which to live.

VOTE LINE A

Q. Just how serious is the crime problem in Essex County?

A. Very serious. Republican candidates recently asked Eliot Lumbard, consultant to the President's National Crime Commission, and former special counsel on crime to New York's Governor Rockefeller, to take a first-hand look into Essex County's crime and law enforcement problems. Mr. Lumbard found that since the mob disorders during the summer, "the quality of life in Essex County has eroded." He said that "crime has now reached dimensions where on massive changes can hope to effect a trend reversal."

Q. Can you give us some specific examples?

A. Yes. In 1966 there were 75 murders reported in Essex County with a population of almost one million. (In England, with a population of 45 million, 160 murders were reported during all of 1966.) In addition, less than one burglary out of five is solved in Essex County at a time when the number of burglaries has sharply increased. Mr. Lumbard characterized this as a comparatively low solution rate.

Q. What are the various law enforcement agencies in Essex County doing about the crime problem?

A. Considering the manpower available, police departments in Essex County have performed miracles. But with population increases and mounting social problems, our law enforcement agencies simply have been unable to cope fully with the tide of crime.

Q. What has the present political leadership done to remove the root causes of crime and civil disorder, and protect the people of Essex County?

A. Virtually nothing.

Q. That's a pretty strong answer. How do you back it up?

A. For ten years Boss Carey has expended his energies toward maintaining a tight grip on "Carey's Kingdom" rather than in solving the problems of our times. For ten years Democratic administrations have consistently allowed increasing social problems to mount without offering effective solutions. In addition, the County budget has risen to alarming proportions—an increase of 122 per cent in ten years. Taxes have risen proportionately to pay for the Democrats' reckless spending.

Q. How can we be sure the Republicans will change the picture?

A. Because Republican candidates have looked at the crime problem squarely and have come up with a full program of legislative action at both the County and the State levels.

Q. What are some of the solutions the Republicans propose?

A. On the State level, Republicans call for the creation of a State Department of Criminal Justice, the establishment of a state-wide watchdog Citizens' Crime Commission, a massive effort to strengthen employment opportunities for emerging offenders, and a major program to lick the narcotics problem. In the county, they seek to improve coordination among police departments and strengthen recruitment and training programs for law enforcement officers and firemen.

Q. What can be done about the root causes of violence?

A. Poverty breeds hopelessness. Unconcern breeds despair — and this leads to violence. Republicans aim to come to grips with the legitimate human needs of many Essex citizens through such programs as: neighborhood participation in urban renewal plans, incentives to business firms to establish community centers and training programs, creation of consumer co-operatives in slum areas to make salary checks go further, and increased federal assistance by honest administration of local programs. Government cannot do it all; the mobilization of private resources to rebuild Newark and the social fabric of Essex County is critical — and Republicans can get the job done.

Q. How can we be certain that these programs to curb crime, improve law enforcement and root out the causes of discontent in Essex County will actually be put into effect?

A. By going to the polls on Election Day November 7 and voting Line A — Republican.

Join the Republican rebellion. End the do-nothing Democratic stranglehold. End Boss Rule and the Mob Rule it leads to.

Ask her if addicts have the "right" to guns.

Despite thousands of deaths and injuries caused annually by the unrestricted possession of guns, Gun Control Laws have been defeated all over America because of powerful lobbies. But not in New Jersey. The Democratic Legislature passed the most far-reaching gun control act in the U.S.—denying convicted criminals, the insane, drug addicts, etc., the right to own guns. Sure the Gun Lobby threatened to defeat the Democrats. But they stood firm and passed the law nevertheless. Your safety came before political expediency.

The Democratic Legislature.

GOP Promises Voter A Positive Program

Charging that Democrats have been "unable and unwilling" to deal with the problems of the times, Essex County Republican candidates issued a final appeal to voters to bring a new era of sound government and sensible leadership to Essex County government by voting Line A in the general election November 7.

Republican State Senatorial candidates James H. Wallwork, Alexander J. Matturi, David W. Dowd, Gerardo L. Del Tufo, Milton A. Waldor and Michael A. Giuliano, and Assembly candidates Ralph R. Caputo and C. Richard Fiore said that they have pledged themselves to the enactment of positive programs of action to deal with state and county problems.

"At this critical time in Essex County history, voters have an historic opportunity to restore fiscal sanity, effective law enforcement and representative government to the county on November 7," the Republican candidates said.

The candidates asserted that the issues are so clear cut to the voters that Republicans are confident of victory at the polls.

Among the major campaign pledges made by Republican candidates are the following:

A — the repeal of the strikers' slush fund, a law that pays striker benefits through the Essex County taxpayer, threatens to create prolonged strikes and drive industry out of New Jersey.

B — proposed legislation on the state and county level to curb crime and improve law enforcement. Such programs as a State Department of Criminal Justice, a state-wide investigating body, narcotics legislation, increased police salaries and training, and hazardous duty pay for police and firemen will make Essex County a safe place to live in once again.

C — to ease the enormous tax load now being carried by Essex taxpayers and erase the reckless spending of the county budget which has gone up 122 per cent in ten years.

D — to fight for Essex County's fair share of revenues derived from the state's three per cent sales tax.

E — the preservation of the neighborhood school system which is threatened by the Democratic proposal that the suburbs and Newark cross school district lines by exchanging students.

F — to end the stranglehold of Democratic boss rule on county government — a system of government that has led to such Democratic practices as dual job-holding, exorbitant patronage and suspect purchasing practices.

"For more than ten years a boss-dominated Democratic machine has held the reins of government and has provided our citizens with nothing more than lip service and inaction," the Republican candidates said.

'State Should Finance Lost Tax Ratables'

The Essex Democratic legislative and county slates in the Nov. 7th general election last week pledged united support for moves to reimburse Newark and other Essex Municipalities for tax ratables lost in the construction and expansion of facilities furnishing statewide services.

The pledge on behalf of the Democratic candidates was made by Joseph C. Glavin, campaign manager for the six-member State Senate slate and a member of the Essex County Tax Board; John B. Rooney, campaign manager for the 12-member Assembly slate, former member of the Board of Assessment in Nutley and by Freeholder Margaret Marucci Kelly, representing the Democratic county slate.

Glavin said that Democratic legislators in Essex supported the point of view that benefits from the operation of the recently authorized New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry would be statewide in nature "but it wipes off

150 acres of ratables from the Newark and county tax rosters."

"Newark and the county taxpayers are therefore subsidizing a statewide benefit whose overall cost should be met fairly against all taxpayers in the state," Glavin said on behalf of the Democratic slate.

"The state is also involved in a major expansion in Newark of law and college facilities for Rutgers, the State University, again for the benefit of students from all areas of the state, not just Essex."

"These same students will make use of the facilities of the Newark Public Library and the Newark museum, whose cost is borne by Newark, even though it is of statewide service."

"There is also considerable logic to the state assuming greater financial responsibility in all areas of higher education and with this thinking, the state should also consider reimbursement for tax ratables lost in building the Essex Community College."

Such reimbursement on health and educational services is a basic plank of the Essex Democratic platform for urban area relief," Glavin said.

ITT Displays Air-to-Air Navigation System

A division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation last week displayed for the first time a new air-to-air navigation system that allows a multiplicity of aircraft to fly simultaneously in close proximity in darkness or inclement weather.

Jersey Farmers To Get More Credit

New Jersey banks were providing farmers with more credit and other financial services than any other lenders at the beginning of this year, according to Herbert Lowe, chairman of the New Jersey Bankers Association's Committee on Agriculture, and secretary, treasurer and trust officer, Elmer Bank and Trust Company, Elmer.

During 1966, the banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services.

Computer Switching Bank Messages

The first application of computer switching to international commercial banking communications was announced last week by ITT World Communications, Inc., a subsidiary of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation.

The First National Bank of Boston (FNB) is using the ARX Switching Service computer of ITT Worldcom to route messages among its offices in England, and Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Public Service To Sell 250,000 Shares Soon

Public Service Electric and Gas Company October 19 filed a petition with the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey for authority to issue and sell 250,000 shares of a new series of Cumulative Preferred Stock (par value $100 per share). The Company proposes to offer the shares publicly, through underwriters, on a negotiated basis, in December.

Intercontinental Life Expands Outside of U.S.

Intercontinental Life Insurance Company has initiated an expansion outside of the continental United States with the acquisition of a life insurance company in Puerto Rico.

Announcement of the purchase of Educators Life Insurance Company, Inc., of San Juan, Puerto Rico, was made last week by Intercontinental President Lawrence E. Stern.

'Taxicab Week' Proclaimed By Bauer and Andriola

Julius Bauer III, president of the International Taxicab Association and Charles Andriola, on the Board of Directors, representing taxicab operators in the United States and Canada, announced today "Taxicab operators are requesting their respective local government officials to join in recognizing the week of October 29th as Taxicab Week."

The taxicab industry was born in the United States in 1907, in New York City. Its originator, Harry Allen, decided that taxicab meters as used in Europe, would make fares equitable.

In 1917, the International Taxicab Association was formed, based on the necessity of wartime conditions in the United States and the need for emergency individual transportation.

With the exception of the taxicab meter, the next greatest innovation was the use of two-way radio, starting in 1944 and resulting in today's taxicab dispatching being one of the most efficient uses of two-way radio communications.

In October 1966, the two predecessor organizations, National Association of Taxicab Owners and American Taxicab Association merged into one organization, becoming the International Taxicab Association.

John Rooney, campaign manager for the entire Essex County Assembly, announced that Carmen Orechio, a Nutley businessman, has been selected to coordinate campaign activities for Assemblyman Joseph Biancardi and Armand Lembo who are seeking reelection in District 11C.

The New Assembly district, a product of legislative reapportionment, is comprised of Newark's North Ward and the town of Nutley and Belleville. Ken Fasano and Robert Venerio were named to assist Orechio in Nutley in this endeavor. Commissioner Vincent Strumolo and Tom D'Avella were selected in Belleville while Oscar Gerard and James Caputo received the nod to coordinate the election in the North Ward.

The N. B. Ju Jitsu School which only recently opened with instructors Nick DiNapoli (Black Belt) of 21 Carpenter Street, Bloomfield now hosts an enrollment of sixty-three local male and female students interested in the art of self protection.
