

Nicholas Amato New Local Town Attorney

Tedesco Resigns Position

Nicholas R. Amato, a career minded individual is currently making a name for himself in his chosen law profession. He will officially take over the reins of town attorney as of January 15.

Amato will replace the vacant seat left by Charles Tedesco who handed in his resignation for the $8,500 a year position because "one man could not adequately do the job." Tedesco served for six months.

At a recent Town Commission meeting, Commissioners William A. Cullen and Vincent T. Strumolo, proposed that Hugh H. Welsh of 43 Branch Brook Drive be appointed attorney. In a 3-2 vote the resolution was defeated making Amato the new attorney.

Amato, who resides with his wife Gladys at 61 Newcombe Street attended the Belleville School system until his graduation at which time he enrolled in St. Peter's College, Jersey City.

Graduating from St. Peter's in 1961 with a bachelor of science degree he went on to Seton Hall Law School from where he graduated in 1964.

Taking the bar exams in September of 1964 Amato did not receive word that he passed until January of 1965. Says the young lawyer, "I believe our group waited the longest to receive the fateful results."

Officially sworn in as a lawyer in Trenton, February of 1965, Amato took the position of secretary with State Senator Nicholas Ferriccolo.

At the present time he is working for both the Legal Aid Society on Washington Avenue and the Newark law firm of Mead, Gleason, Hansen and Pantagos.

The young attorney has high hopes of opening his own law firm in association with a friend and co-worker John Scott on Washington Avenue.

School Board Will Adopt 1968-69 Budget Tonight

Board of Education Deadline Today for Registering, Filing

If you want to vote in February's Board of Education election be certain you are properly registered. The deadline for registering for the February 13 election is today at 4 p.m. — the same time that all nominating petitions for candidates must be filed.

There are three full term vacancies of three years each. They belong to Rocco Saletta, board president; Mrs. Norma McCool and Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero. All three have indicated they intend to run for re-election.

Early this week two other resident requested nominating petitions from Mrs. Mary Shader, board president. They are Michael Albertine of 631 Joralemon Street, and Joseph D'Ambolia of 585 Joralemon Street.

Cullen's Holiday Innovation Called Very Successful

With the Christmas season now faded into the past Commissioner William Cullen looks back on another successful innovation, the Santa Claus Headquarters.

The Recreation Department, which ran the Santa's Headquarters, received "tremendous" cooperation in this first endeavor. "It might be nice for the people of Belleville to know the kind of help that was offered in this undertaking," Cullen said.

"It began with Mike Fahmie who donated the use of the store on Washington Avenue where this all took place. Arthur Jackson saw that his Jolly Cleaners was represented by his generous donation of lolly pops which Santa gave out. He also displayed a handsome sign in his window advertising the time and location of the headquarters and, it must be added, he purchased this sign.

"Then the Shop - Rite, represented by Clayton Sheppard donated boxes of cookies and also a large sign. Louis Tannen contributed balloons from his Tannen's Shoe Shop.

Teachers Might Get Small Wage Increase

The Board of Education this evening will adopt its budget for 1968-69 and then will present the financial plan to the County Superintendent of Schools for his inspection.

The budget will be presented to the public later this month. The school board had numerous special meetings preparing the plan.

It is almost certain that the budget will not include a $500 raise requested by town teachers which would reflect a $6,300 minimum for Belleville teachers. The raise was endorsed by the Board of Education in Nitley, but according to local board president Rocco Saletta, he did not believe residents would support the teacher pay hike.

"Belleville cannot remain a leader in education without being a leader in teacher's salaries," he said. The budget has been geared for public digestibility.

To interpret the budget, residents must visualize it as being made up of three parts: the "why", the work plan or educational program; the "what", the expenditure or spending plan; and the "how", the revenue or financing plan. These three plans may be thought of as parts of a triangle with the educational plan as the base.

Communities vary in the vigor of their support, but more often these variations come from degree of interest and understanding of schools rather than from ability to pay. Those boards that involve the community in planning educational programs and budgets are more likely to acquire public support. In too many communities the revenue plan determines the expenditures and, therefore, the educational program. This can work against the budget in some ways, since a limited program will meet fewer needs and be less worthy of the active support of those who place a high priority on education.

In any event, the loss of personal property from the local tax base in many communities, the absence of tax relief from the sales tax, the double burden imposed this year by increased transportation costs and increased pressures from teacher organizations, will combine to make this the most difficult year yet in which to secure budget passage. If the chances of success are to be weighted in the board's favor to any degree, all these problems, plus others which tend to convey a false impression of increases in school spending, must be taken into consideration and a careful, multi-pronged, multimedia assault launched against public misunderstanding.

The Education Program

Before advancing the educational program, the board and members of the staff will review the purpose of their education program. If the community provides for a longer

Strumolo Says Smith's Misleading Citizens Regarding Public Affairs

"In a recent release in our local newspaper's Mayor Kenneth D. Smith continues to attack me on my activities as director of public affairs, Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo protested.

"I am very much amused at the length to which Mayor Smith has gone to purport my specific activities over the last six months.

"Since the mayor is ignorant of the facts surrounding my actions as director of public affairs and has tried to mislead the citizens, and taxpayers of Belleville, I am compelled to provide the following facts and figures once and for all.

"The following information is documented and is available for public inspection.

"I will agree the mayor did request by letter on November 29, 1967 that I sit down with him and his self admitted majority block to discuss the health officer situation.

"However, the Mayor neglected to tell the public my reason in not complying with his request. I refused to be part of a deal that would have meant the loss of $15,503 in state aid, plus better service and protection to our citizens health wise.

"He also stated in his letter 'We (note how the mayor uses the word we) have been reliably informed that you have intentions of making this position available to an employee of your department who does not presently possess the necessary qualifications for the position.' A child knows that in order to hold the position of health officer in any town, you must first possess a certified health officer's license issued by the State Department of Health. If the mayor would take time out to check the civil service records that are on file in Town Hall he would discover that no person or persons, in my entire department, are qualified to serve as health officer.

"By the authority granted to me under the Walsh Act, I have appointed J. Richard Bevinetto, a medical doctor, who possesses a certified state health officer's license as the town of Belleville's new full time health officer, pending a

Road Department Controls Slick Streets; Icy Broken Tree Limbs Cause Damage

STORM DAMAGE — After Belleville's first big snow storm of the season, road crews were more upset about ice covered trees than snow itself. Tree limbs went weak under the weight of the ice formations causing branches to crash to the streets, houses and electrical wires.

The big snowstorm in Belleville didn't turn out to be so big after all. It didn't cover the streets with as much snow as expected. However, it did distribute an icy film over everything in the community.

It was the ice, then, and not the snow that caused the most concern in Belleville. While many residents cleared the small accumulation of snow from their walks and driveways, the town road department was busy salting streets and hills throughout the community.

These workers were occasionally hampered by fallen branches and trees which brought down with them electrical wires.

Public Service was called out to remove "live" wires that stretched across thoroughfares or plopped on top of homes.

ICY PANORAMA — At Belleville High School trees, bushes and the grounds are shown with a heavy film of ice. Similarly the entire town was covered with ice, the aftermath of the season's first snowstorm.

SALTING ROADS — Public Works trucks were out early salting roads in the community. Special attention was given to hills and dangerous curves. Occasionally the department was hampered by live electrical wires which fell in their path brought down by ice covered tree limbs.

Smith 'Distorts Facts'

The misinformed mayor further states in his release that I intend to spend $43,000 in order to obtain $15,503 from state aid.

"The facts are: A full time health officer at a salary of $6,500 to be paid by the town. The state will contribute $6,170. (Note: The town of Belleville was paying a salary of $6,500 per year for a part-time health officer).

"Our sanitary inspector that will cost the town of Belleville not one cent. The state's contribution will be $6,520.

"A deputy registrar that is required by state statute title 26-8-17 that will cost the town $1,787. The state's contribution to the deputy registrar will be $2,813.

"The above figures have been explained on many occasions to the Mayor and his self - admitted majority bloc, but he still continues to distort the facts.

"The records will also show that resolution No. 9 dated October 9, 1967 and approved by a 5-0 vote by your commissioners authorizing me as director of public affairs to apply for state aid. I applied for state aid as requested by the Board of Commissioners on October 10, 1967 and it was approved by the New Jersey State Department of Health on October 18, 1967. Yet the Mayor and his self-admitted majority bloc voted against a full - time health officer on more than one occasion, why? "In January, 1967 the people of this town rejected the council - manager government because of its one man rule - the manager. Our present mayor along with myself advocated and campaigned to revert back to commission form of government because under this government each and every commissioner is responsible for his own department, yet the mayor tries to usurp the powers of my department.

"I have done everything humanly possible to create harmony and understanding on this mayor - controlled board, but to no avail.

"If the mayor would devote more time as commissioner of public safety, the people and taxpayers would be better served. I cannot speak for the mayor but I can assure the taxpayers of our fair town that every dollar spent in my department will be spent sound and wisely." Strumolo concluded.

In winter, cars with automatic chokes have to be "set" by depressing the gas pedal all the way down once, and releasing it half way before cranking the starter, the American Automobile Association advises. Don't pump the accelerator. This simple oversight can cause spark plugs to be drenched with raw gasoline, a serious service problem.

You can travel thousands of miles without finding better people than those who live next door.

MOTHERS MARCH - Four year old Karen Flynn of Irvington is a happy booster of Belleville's March of Dimes campaign. Karen, who was selected as Essex County poster girl, sits with Mrs. Thomas McCool, Belleville Mother's March chairman; Harry Sullivan Belleville general chairman, and Mrs. Joseph Biancardi, Belleville co-chairman.

period of study, with several sessions on each phase of the budget, then complete explanations can be made of the program of both state and local support for schools. Also, with the great publicity currently given to federal involvement, it is again important, in order to avoid misconception to take the time to illustrate graphically what federal aid actually amounts to as a percentage of the whole.

Literature, charts and diagrams prepared in advance may be distributed for later intensive study. Interviews may be arranged with the press or weekly columns prepared giving step-by-step details of the three phases of the budget.

Not an Easy Task

The process of explaining the budget satisfactorily is arduous or at least requires arduous preparation.

It is also important to remember that every remark, no matter where it is made, adds up to the total picture. A derogatory remark in a social group about some phase of the educational program can have vast results. One is reminded of a stone dropped into a pond and the ever-widening circle of ripples it creates, or of the game "Message to Garcia", where a statement changes as it is whispered about a circle.

Classroom Keystone

Loyalty to a school system, however, does not imply stifling of criticism. There is a time and place for criticism, but it should be given when steps can be taken to evaluate and do something about it.

Finally, the keystone of the whole educational program, and therefore of the budget, rests within the classroom. It is represented in the relationship between teacher and child. Parents who are satisfied that their children are happy, learning and working to the best of their abilities, usually are vigorous supporters of the school system. In turn, they accept the responsibility for interpreting and making possible the expenditures in the budget.

Teachers can be instrumental in winning support for the budget. A teacher who thoroughly understands his school budget can be a great help in determining the quality of education a district provides for its children. A teacher has a very close relationship with the parents of school children. Often teachers belong to organizations whose influence is strong within the community. Finally, more than anyone else, a teacher can interpret the school program and show its effect on the child.

Grade level conferences should be as definitive as possible, explaining what the teacher expects to accomplish that year and how the achievement will fit into the overall plan. Reports to parents, news releases, and school activity programs should explain what the school is accomplishing. Children in high grades should study administration and financing of education, just as they do other phases of government.

The budget presentation should incorporate a statement of the educational program it is designed to support.

Those systems in which the people in the community have worked cooperatively with the board and the staff in determining their educational goals are more likely to have a well-supported educational program than those systems which have not.

Most parents are willing to contribute a great deal, even to sacrifice, in order to give their children the best education possible. But they must know what that education consists of and what its purposes and results are. This story should be told at every level, elementary and secondary, throughout the year.

The Expenditure Plan

The complete budget will be a voluminous affair listing under several main headings the many items of which it is composed. Anyone preparing to explain a budget should be well acquainted with all items in order to be able to answer questions adequately and to avoid giving the impression of hiding essential facts. However, any sort of detailed presentation is seldom effective unless it can be given over a period of several meetings.

The expenditure plan may be broken down graphically in a number of ways, the most common being the device of the pie cut into wedges. It can be shown that the biggest piece of pie is made up of instructional salaries. In most districts salaries will amount to almost two-thirds of the budget. When all salaries are included the wedge will be approximately 70 per cent of the total pie.

It can be shown that capital outlay, fixed charges and debt service amount to approximately 15 percent of the budget and that the last piece of pie is made up of supplies, auxiliary services, and operation and maintenance of plant. The supporting figures in each of the above categories should then be given with explanations and comparisons with previous years.

Sometimes it is good to give interpretive details including

Fishing Opportunities Are The Main Topic Of State Game Council

Efforts to insure good fresh water fishing opportunities for future New Jersey citizens were the main topic of last week's meeting of the State Fish and Game Council, according to Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

A thorough renovation of the State Fish Hatchery at Hackettstown is under study. Fish and Game Director Lester G. Mac Namara reported on a series of meetings held with planning consultants and federal hatchery experts and engineers. Inspections will be undertaken of modern methods employed by federal and State hatcheries in order to formulate plans for the most modern facility in the east.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

Lots of people are postponing the purchase of a color TV set because they assume the prices will come down.

We have stated in this column long ago that prices for color TV sets will have to be relatively high as long as the present color TV tube design prevails. The color tube is very difficult to manufacture. It requires the highest degree of precision and the number of bad ones in every manufacturing run is high. There are slight economies as the result of mass production. The factories have been mass producing color TV now for the last 3 years. The prices have not come down, they have gone up. One reason for this is the use of the rectangular color tube, which costs more to make than the round one. Color sets with round picture tubes are considerably cheaper than sets with rectangular tubes, but now most people don't want round tubes any more. They have to have something "new" and the latest. Whether it is better does not seem to matter. You can buy a color TV set with a 267 square inch picture for less than $400. If you don't mind to see the slightly rounded corners and a 3" longer extension on the back of the set. For the same set with a 295 square inch picture tube you pay $100. more, and you get rectangular corners and 3" less extension on the rear of the cabinet.

Prices for copper are extremely high due to a prolonged strike in the copper industry. Steel just went up recently. Wages are going up and up, so is everything else. There is not a single item that warrants lower prices for color TV sets, except as mentioned above, slight production economies, which are wiped out by higher prices for everything else. So if you wait for lower color TV prices, it looks that you have a long wait ahead of you.

Everything from soup to nuts grows in the Garden State.

If it's not made in New Jersey, chances are it's not made anywhere. In fact, 145 of the 148 manufacturing classifications in the United States are represented in New Jersey.

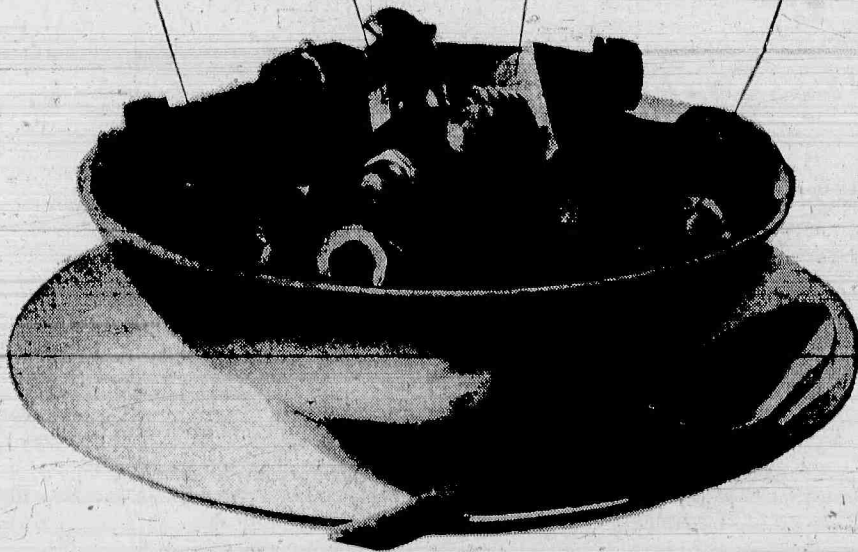

We're first in chemicals and pharmaceuticals; third in rubber and plastics; fifth in electrical machinery, petroleum and related industries; sixth in food processing, stone, clay, glass, paper, instruments and allied products; and seventh in fabricated metal products, printing and publishing.

To put it another way, 86 of America's largest industrial firms have operations in New Jersey as well as more than 15,000 smaller plants.

What we're trying to say is that New Jersey is diversified. Vive la difference.

Our industrial diversification provides a broad economic base and a future that guarantees New Jersey continued strength, stability and progress . . . and more. It provides New Jersey industry with markets within the state and an all-important source of supply nearby to meet their needs.

Of course, the benefits of diversification extend well past business hours. New Jersey is as varied geographically, residentially and recreationally as it is industrially. The complete story of the Garden State is an exciting one, and it's well told in a new, colorful booklet that Public Service is distributing to businesses all over the country. Belleville Can't Raise $8,000

Belleville is lagging in its support of the United Community Fund. With the local campaign well underway, the fund drive officers report that townsfolk have not come close to producing the $8,000 goal which was established as Belleville's community fund responsibility.

This month the Essex County chapter of the March of Dimes will begin its drive to continue treatment for polio patients and children with birth defects.

Both these endeavors are worthy of public support. Mayor Kenneth D. Smith proclaimed January as March of Dimes month. His interest in the project is commendable since every year birth defects destroy more life than cancer and stroke combined.

The bitter fact is that one baby in 16 are born with a serious physical or mental defect. More than 100 different conditions or illness are now known to result from birth defects. At least 250,000 American babies are born with these defects. Almost three million Americans are mentally retarded because of the birth defects.

Your contribution to your March of Dimes support 78 treatment and 16 research centers from coast to coast as your March of Dimes Birth Defects Special Treatment Hospital in Newark where medical teams are repairing bodies and saving lives of many children who have been beyond help only a few years ago. — P.A.D.

There's snow on the windowpane
Framing my room
And the trees are heavy
With frosty bloom.

—Anne Mary Lawler

January derives its name from Janus, god of light and day who gradually became the god of the beginning of things in Roman times.

It is the coldest month of the year, the month of football bowl games in this country and the 105th anniversary of the emancipation (January 1st 1863). Almost two hundred years ago Washington, after victory at Trenton but unable to recross the Delaware, set out to attack British garrisons at Princeton and New Brunswick rather than await attack at Trenton by a large British army moving on him.

An action was fought on the 3rd by one of his generals at Stony Brook bridge, the Americans being beaten. But Washington then attacked the British force and routed it. Next he took Princeton and captured its supplies, moving on to Morristown where he fortified himself. The British returned to New York, thus leaving New Jersey free from British rule.

On January 7th, 1914, the first boat passed through the Panama Canal. On that day in 1800 at Locke, N. Y., Millard Fillmore, thirteenth U.S. President, was born. The anniversary of the Battle of the New Orleans falls on January 8th. On that day in 1815 General Jackson turned back a British charge, saving New Orleans in the last battle of a war which had already ended by treaty in Europe, unknown to both sides.

Benjamin Franklin was born in Boston on January 17th, 1706. Daniel Webster was born January 18th in Franklin, N.H. in 1872. Robert E. Lee was born at Stratford, Virginia, on January 19th, 1807. Other famous birthday anniversaries include: Edgar Allen Poe (Boston, January 19th), Stonewall Jackson (Clarksburg, W. Va., the 21st) Justice Fred Vinson (Louisia, Ky., the 22nd), Douglas MacArthur (Little Rock, the 26th), William McKinley (Niles, Ohio, the 29th), Thomas Paine (Thetford, England, the 29th), Franklin Roosevelt (Hyde Park, the 30th). Kansas Day falls on the 29th, Michigan Day on the 26th and Vermont Independence Day is the 15th.

India and the English Language

If there is to someday be a world language, and it is chosen from one currently in use, English enjoys the finest credentials for adoption. It is the native tongue of the leading Western democracy and of more other leading nations than any other language.

In addition, English is the common language among many peoples and sections of the non-Communist world's most populous nation — India.

Though chances for adoption of a world language appear slim as far as the immediate future is concerned, it is to be hoped that someday most of the world's schools will teach students two languages, the second in non English-speaking nations being English.

This hope was recently dealt a blow by Prime Minister Indira Ghandi's government in New Delhi, which recently announced that various Indian regional languages would replace English in the nation's universities.

So illogical is this move that India's own Foreign Minister, M.C. Chagla, resigned in protest to the decision. Chagla called the move "hopelessly impractical and unrealistic." He says the order threatens to undermine "The unity of India."

When elements of national and provincial pride enter the picture, actions of governments of developing nations which have been under colonial rule for long periods, especially, seem to react emotionally on patriotic grounds in many cases.

One hopes India and its 450,000,000 people will revert to regional fragmentation and eliminate English in its universities in favor of thirteen official Indian languages — as the Ghandi Government is proposing to do. The cause of world understanding will inevitably suffer if, for reasons of pride, such a step is taken.

Riot News Coverage Causes Problems

The Justice Department revealed recently it was studying news coverage given riots in American cities in recent months—in an effort to determine what effect news coverage had on the disturbances.

There have been suggestions news media should withhold news of riots, in some cases, until police gain control of the situation to prevent the curious and troublemakers from converging on the affected area before order is restored.

Several American cities already have "news moratorium" plans for crisis worked out in detail, for such reasons. The plans depend upon the voluntary cooperation of the press and it is said news media in Detroit delayed reporting the beginning of the

A Year Goes By

Another year has slipped into history, quicker than the one before it. The pace steadily quickens; and it's a time for reflection. What was accomplished? What can one do better in 1968?

How many fellow citizens did you help in 1967? To how many did you bring some happiness or pleasure? How many did you hurt? And how did you honor your parents, your community and those who have been loyal friends over the years?

Kearny Mayor Is Investigating Incident Involving Times-News

To The Editor, The Times-News:

I am completely at a loss to understand why your reporter and camera man were refused admission to the Belleville-Kearny basketball game.

I am forwarding your letter to our Police Chief and to our Superintendent of Schools and have requested that they give me a full report.

Again, I cannot understand how or why this happened—most certainly newsmen, camera men, are always a welcome sight at any affair. Just as soon as I have a report, I will communicate with you.

Sincerely,

Reflections of An Exciting Tribute to A Great Man

To The Editor of Times-News:

I saw Belleville rise to its feet to claim their son. The band played "He's a Jolly Good Fellow"—to tears and cheers. We had tickets to a "dream"—300 of them, because Mike Marotti said, "I've got to do something."

It spread fever-like to fellow police officers and long time friends of Bill Ellis. Three newspapers had told of their boy's long unrealized ambition, faith and loyalty — supported by testimony of coaches and school officials, and wonderfully told by his trainer — Doc Yokum.

It was mouse quiet. This was Bill Ellis "The Man" he said.

There were three or more standing ovations during the evening. I will not ever forget the testimonial dinner at the Fountain restaurant November 17, 1967, and what you people have done.

To live in the so same world with you, I am proud.

P.S. I have received a clipping telling of the dinner, it is great. Thank you for this, too.

Jolly Cleaners And Chamber Pick Winners For Stuffed Toys

LUCKY LITTLE MISS — Little Miss Belleville Cynthia Corris hands a winning name to Arthur Jackson, right, owner of Jolly Cleaners as Harry French, Executive Director of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce looks on. Twenty-one persons won stuffed animals this year.

In the annual Christmas spirit, Jolly Cleaners in association with the Belleville Chamber of Commerce once again gave away a host of life like toy animals — a gift worthy of any child at this time of year.

In a short ceremony performed at the cleaning store on Washington Avenue, Little Miss Belleville, Cynthia Corris picked the winning names while Arthur Jackson, owner of Jollys and Harry French, Executive Director of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce looked on.

The animals, some in humorous poses, others appearing to be ferocious have become so popular that children and their parents come from distant areas to try their luck at having their names picked. There is nothing to buy.

All an applicant has to do is fill out a small application blank at the Jolly Cleaners Washington Avenue store and hope that his or her name will be picked.

The animals are made from imitation fur and appear in many brightly decorated costumes. There are lions, tigers, donkeys, zebras, ponys and many more to choose from.

This years 21 winners were: Marianne O'Neill, Mel Torseillo, Robert Quinn, Louis Schoen, Mrs. Helen Fidel, Tom Pomponio, Thomas Nisiovic, Lois Masatelli, Edward Sullivan Jr., Robert S. Barella, Mrs. Herbert Ochse, Mike Vincent, Mrs. I. Deyburgh, Mrs. Paul Giordano, William Gibney, Dolores Del Plato, J. McManus, Stephen Larrina, R. Springer, Denise McCann and Debbie Gibler.

FOUR IMPORTANT REASONS TO SEE A PHYSICIAN

The American Medical Association does not advise you to see a physician for unimportant medical problems. But, what problems are important?

1. If the patient's complaints or symptoms are too painful to be endured—get a doctor, immediate relief is needed.
2. When an apparently minor symptom or symptoms persist for more than a few days or weeks and does not appear to be due to some easily identified cause—get a doctor.
3. When symptoms returned repeatedly for no recognizable cause, such as in headaches, digestive distress, etc.—get a doctor.
4. When in doubt about any ailment—call a doctor.

Irish Fashions To Be Shown To Tri-Towners

Miss Anne Tolan of Irish International Airlines will present an "Afternoon of Irish Fashions" to members of the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club at a luncheon at Lyle's Restaurant, Kearny, on January 6, 1968.

Anne has selected the latest creations by Irish designers ranging from Aran knit mini skirts to full-length evening wear. Also included is a large selection of Irish tweeds, tailored for all occasions, from heavy houndstooth to light-ashen fine worsteds.

Each item in the Collection has been given an Irish title which allows Anne to weave the story of Ireland and the Irish into her commentary. "For that reason", she says, "the evening has been designed to prove interesting to the men as well as the ladies".

Talking about Ireland comes easily to Anne Tolan. She was born in Sligo, a land of lakes and beautiful landscapes immortalized in the poetry of William Butler Yeats. Before coming to the United States, she traveled extensively in Europe as an air hostess with Irish International.

She has appeared on radio and television in nearly every major city of North America. Last year she was awarded a Clio, the "Oscar" of commercial television, for the best voice-over on a television commercial. The commercial was promoting Ireland and Irish International.

Modeling the Collection will be members of the club including Helen Rosengrant, Elizabeth Vigeant, Gail O'Connor, Amy Sullivan, Kathy Diamond, Debbie Wass, Linda Smith and Judy Martin.

Women To Hear Investment Talk

The next meeting of the Sisterhood of Congregation Ahavath Achim of Belleville will be held Tuesday evening, January 9. The highlight of the evening will be the program which will feature guest speaker Mrs. Beatrice Grobstein, registered representative with Hirsch and Company of Newark. She will speak on women's role in the investment field and show a film entitled "Lady in the Stock Market."

In charge of the evening is Mrs. David Finkelstein, program vice-president. Automobile air conditioners should be turned on at least every week in winter for five minutes, the American Automobile Association recommends. This permits lubrication and prevents vital parts from drying out and saves early summer service bills.

TB Association Links Smoking with Diseases

Effects of cigarette smoking on the breathing system are so harmful that a special task force of the United States Public Health Service and the National Tuberculosis Association has recommended a far-reaching eight point program to work toward the ultimate rejection of cigarette smoking as acceptable social behaviour.

The solution to most problems will be heard if you listen to the next three men that you observe in conversation.

David Oistrakh Will Offer Newark Concert Jan. 21

The famed Soviet violinist David Oistrakh will perform January 21, in the Moe Syp-tee Concert Series at Sym-phony Hall, Newark.

The concert begins at 3 p.m. Oistrakh has been ac-claimed by audiences and crit-ics in nearly every country in the world since World War II, when he began concertiz-ing outside Europe.

Besides his solo perform-ances, Oistrakh also is active as a conductor and in cham-ber music recitals with his son, the violinist Igor Ois-trakh.

Born in Odessa in 1908, Ois-trakh took up the violin at five, and although his talent was recognized early, he was never treated as a prodigy. Oistrakh has said that he is particularly grateful for the rigorous early training he re-ceived in the chamber music repertoire.

He gave his first solo con-cert in 1924 in Odessa play-ing Bach's Concerto in A mi-nor and other pieces. He scored his first popular suc-cess three years later, how-ever, playing Glazunov's Vi-olin Concerto with the compo-ser conducting.

Moving to Moscow in 1928, Oistrakh began a busy career as chamber music performer, Moscow Conservatory. recitalist and teacher at the He gained international at-tention during the 1930's, after winning a series of first prizes in European music competi-tions.

Since the war he has re-ceived honors all over the world including honorary membership in the American Academy of Sciences and Arts. In his own country he has been named People's Artist of the USSR and has been awar-ded the Lenin Prize.

Among Soviet composers who have written concertos for Oistrakh are Mlaskovsky, Khachaturian and Shostako-vich.

Sisterhood To Visit Jewish Seminary, Museum Sunday

The Sisterhood of Congrega-tion Ahavath Achim of Belle-ville will visit the Jewish The-ological Seminary of America and the Jewish Museum on Sunday, January 7, 9:30 a.m.

The Jewish Theological Sem-inary of America in New York City is the home of Con-servative Judaism in America. It houses the Teachers Insti-tute and Seminary College in Jewish Studies, the Cantors' Institute and Rabbinical School in addition to the offices of the Rabbinical Assem-bly, the United Synagogue of America, and the National Wo-men's League of the United Synagogue of America, with whom the Sisterhood is affilia-ted. The seminary is currently planning an expansion pro-gram to build the "Greater Seminary."

Sisterhood members will tour the seminary and see its world - famous library; visit where the Rabbinical students live and learn, and where so many students of Judaism study their history and heri-tage. They will also see classes in progress and have lunch at the Seminary dining hall.

The trip will culminate with a visit to the Masada exhibit at the Jewish Museum, which is under the auspices of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. "Masada", a strug-gle for freedom, is an exhibi-tion of the archaeological dis-coveries at the fortress of Ma-sada and from the caves of Bar - Kokhba, re-creating the ancient history of the Holy Land from the Roman occupa-tion through the rise of Chris-tianity.

The trip will be one of the cultural highlights of the year. Mrs. Lou's-Sussman and Mrs. Henry Creditor are in charge of reservations. Mrs. Sussman is a past national president of the National Women's League.

WE'RE PROUD... of our Famous 99c TEXAS BREAKFAST. Juice, 2 Eggs, Steak, French Fries, Toast and Coffee. This is a Real Meal!

Good food, generous portions, cleanest grills and serving equipment and fast friendly service, are making a great reputation for this restaurant at 750 Washington Avenue, Belleville (across from the Public Service Garage). Many home-made Italian dishes are served throughout the day—stuffed shells, baked macaroni, veal or sausage with peppers and veal parmigiana. And the coffee is truly exceptional. It is the pride and joy of City Line Lunch. It is made by a new and remarkable "Pour-Omatic" process. An exclusive blend of coffee is used and it yields a mellow, full-bodied cup with never a bitter taste. Many customers prefer it black with no sugar that's the test of a real good cup of coffee.

All the dishes prepared by Tony and Andy, the new owners of City Line Lunch, can be "taken-out". They are packed in special heat-retaining re-usable aluminum containers. City Line has the most convenient hours, daily from 5 in the morning to 6 in the evening and Sundays from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Sam (The Hawk) Russo of Nutley, a local celebrity, says "I've eaten in many restaurants in my time and since Andy and Tony have taken over City Line Lunch I eat there everyday, including Sundays and I'm not even a free loading relative!"

Walter Kidde Co. Purchases United States Lines Stock

Walter Kidde & Company, Inc. announced a tender offer to purchase 650,000 shares of common stock of United States Lines Company at $47.50 per share, reflecting a total value of $30,875,000.

The offer of $47.50 per share is more than 32 percent above the closing price ($35.78) of United States Lines on the New York Stock Exchange Friday, December 22.

The Kidde offer of $47.50 per share is net to the seller, without brokerage charge and free from transfer taxes, payable in cash. The offer will expire at 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 5, 1968, unless extended. In no event would the offer be extended beyond January 19, 1968.

Under the terms of the offer, Kidde would purchase 650,000 shares of United States Lines, if at least that number of shares is tendered prior to the expiration of the offer. If fewer than 650,000 shares are tendered prior to the expiration of the offer, Kidde would purchase either, all or none of the shares tendered. If more than 650,000 shares are tendered prior to the expiration, Kidde may purchase all or any portion of the excess shares. In all events, shares tendered prior to 5 p.m. on January 5, 1968 will be purchased on a pro-rata basis.

United States Lines shareholders who wish to accept the offer can either ask their broker or banker to complete the transaction for them or forward their stock certificates with a Letter of Transmittal to the depository, the National Newark and Essex Bank, 744 Broad St., Newark, New Jersey. Offer Letters and Letters of Transmittal may be obtained from the National Newark and Essex Bank, any broker, or from Walter Kidde & Company, Inc., 675 Main St., Belleville, New Jersey or 1350 Avenue of the Americas, New York.

United States Lines is an American flag line serving Trans-Atlantic and Far Eastern routes with passenger, containerized cargo and other freight vessels. Among the firm's more than 40 vessels is the S.S. United States, world's fastest passenger ship. Kidde manufactures safety, security and protection products; industrial and technological equipment, and commercial and consumer products. The company operates more than 70 plants and laboratories in 21 states and six foreign countries.

Night Skiing

New Jersey's snow sport centers will feature skiing under the stars this year, according to Robert A. Roe, Commissioner of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

"Nearly all of New Jersey's ski areas have floodlights for night skiing. Because of their proximity to major eastern cities and ease of travel over the Turnpike, Parkway, Expressway and new Interstate through routes, night skiing is a popular diversion. New Jersey is in the unique position where going out for an evening of skiing is just about as easy as an evening of bowling," Commissioner Roe commented.

Last winter's unusual weather pattern saw many of the more distant ski areas in northern New England without snow while New Jersey's little mountains were heavily blanketed and temperatures generally were low enough to permit effective operation of snow making machines.

A quick run - down on New Jersey's ski centers indicates that there will be ample sport for everyone this winter.

The Peapack Ski Tow is located on Route 206, 2 miles north of the intersection of Routes 202 and 206. There are two slopes and four trails reaching a height of 200 feet and 1 length of 1,000 feet served by a 700 foot rope tow. Instructions are available and the area is open from 10 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. It is also open evenings Monday through Thursday from 7:45 to 10:15 p.m.

January is "poor vision" month for drivers. Fewer day-light hours, fogged windshields fading half-light, deceptive shadows and glistening pavements all add up to a greater need for caution and alertness.

According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, good vehicle maintenance, reduced speed and increased alertness are the key answers to traffic problems when visibility is poor. The reliability of lighting in the stop-go traffic that occurs during winter storms is dependent on a well maintained electrical system.

It's human nature to put the blame for everything on somebody else but a man begins to blames his shortcomings on the proper person.

The ski shop rents and sells equipment. Craigmeur ski slopes are open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily and from 7 to 10:30 p.m. evenings. Snow making machinery is on the premises.

Belleville Wrestlers Show Their Stuff at Barringer Today

Wrestling, probably the fastest growing scholastic sport, first started at Belleville six years ago. Jim Silvestri, one of the most popular teachers in BHS, started in wrestling four seasons ago.

Assuming the Junior Varsity mentorship under Sam Stellatella for the 1964-65 season, Silvestri got his grappling baptism under fire while the sport was still in its formative stage in the state. Becoming completely intrigued by the sport, Silvestri lost his earlier grid coaching ambitions and traveled to Lehigh, the eastern hot-bed for collegiate wrestling, to pick up the finer points of the mat game through a clinic during the summer of 1965.

Several books and daily clinics in the area followed as Silvestri learned his trade and the Varsity coaching role came his way. Taking over the reins in the fall of 1965, the new mentor suffered through two close early season failures before rallying his forces in the face of rugged and more experienced opposition enroute to a 5-6 season and an unprecedented two District Championships for Belleville in the season NJSIAA sponsored Tournaments.

Having studied various coaching styles, Silvestri has concluded that the offense pattern of constant pressure and aggressiveness is the best road to success. For the boys who have put in three to four hours practice sessions can come in the view that this style also takes time and stamina to master.

But wrestling is a sport that doesn't lose its participants to hard work, once a boy begins to practice diligently he is invariably hooked with a sport he will love for life. So it is with spectators of New Jersey's high school sports.

As the sport grows who knows, exhorts Silvestri, preliminary grappling may even be started as low as sixth grade as it is in most state wrestling powers, and intramurals added.

The sky's the limit in this developing new field and Silvestri is just the energetic man to bring Belleville to its new heights. Fitting in with the current sports program, wrestling should grow in spectator appeal as the two match popularity of most towns returns with the J.V.'s next season.

As Silvestri explains such growth along with the possible addition of such sports as soccer, hockey, or tennis can only benefit the town school, and most of all its youth.

Just ask the sport's most rabid fan, Mrs. Alice Silvestri, wrestling is here to stay. Silvestri had attended Kearsy High School where he graduated in 1950 after having been a part of an undefeated State Champion football squad as a guard. A term in the Air Force followed before Silvestri entered Fairleigh Dickinson University from which he graduated with a degree in Math in 1958. Teaching at Belleville High then proved the next stop for him as a Masters Degree from Seton Hall followed in 1965.

Married and the father of four, Silvestri now ranks as one of the most well liked teachers in BHS. For example in a recent query, 9 out of 10 seniors questioned listed the young Geometry and Algebra teacher as one of the two most popular instructors in the school, five of these nine had him listed first.

State Residents Most Prolific Telephone Users in the World

Averaging 806 calls annually per person, New Jersey Bell customers again talked themselves into first place among the world's telephone users. The annual average in the United States is 648 per person, up 28 from the previous year. These figures were revealed today in the new issue of "The World's Telephones," compiled annually by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, parent company of New Jersey Bell. Since it takes a full year to collect the data, the figures are for the year 1966.

Second place for talkativeness goes to Canada, where the national average is 664 calls per person. At the other end of the scale, telephone users in the Republic of Niger (West Africa) made 0.6 calls annually.

Today, a telephone user in New Jersey can reach more than 96 percent of the world's 208.5 million phones, twice the number in service eleven years ago. About half the world's telephones are in the United States. In New Jersey, the 4 millionth telephone was installed on October 1, when New Jersey Bell celebrated its 40th anniversary. By the end of 1967, the company had 4,058,000 million phones in service, an increase of 187,000 phones over last year.

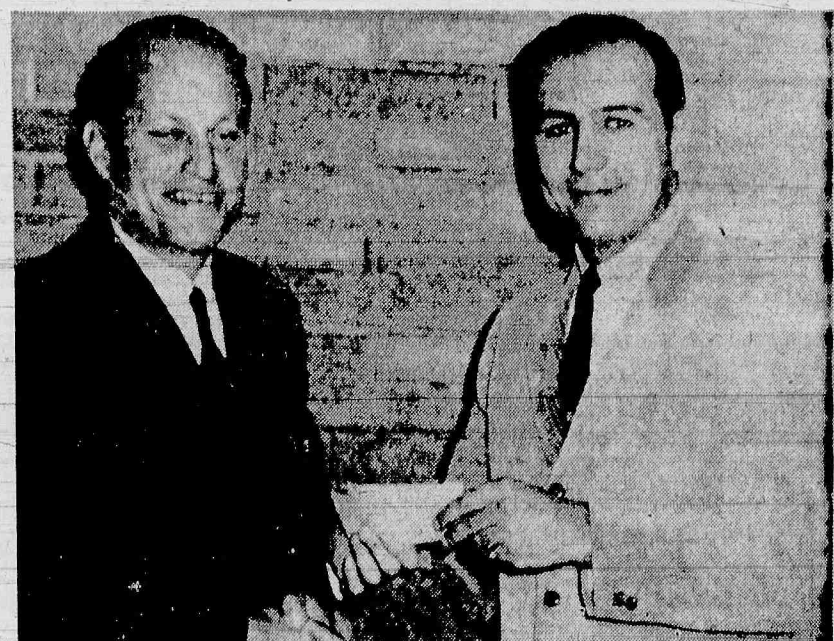

The United States scored another "first" in terms of relative telephone development, with almost 50 phones per 100 persons. Sweden finished second, with 48 telephones for every 100 persons, followed by New Zealand, 39.9, Switzerland 39.3, Canada, 38.9, and Denmark 29.1.

Third Place Atlantic City held third place among United States cities in the ratio of telephones to people, with 77.8 phones per 100 people. Washington, D.C. headed the list with 94.7; and Skokie, Illinois, with 83.5, was second. The highest ranking foreign city, Stockholm, Sweden, had a ratio of 77.5 phones per 100 population.

Several New Jersey cities topped the national average of 50 telephones for every 100 residents — Bloomfield with 66.2 per 100 persons; East Orange, 64.6; Newark, 59.8; Trenton, 57.6; Elizabeth, 55.8; Camden, 54.5; Passaic, 53.4; and Union City, 52.2.

Japan continued to rank second to the United States in the number of telephones, with 16 million phones, followed by the United Kingdom (11 million), West Germany (9.5 million), the U.S.S.R. (8.4 million), Canada (7.9 million), France (6.6 million) and Italy (6.5 million).

The smallest telephone system in the world was established in 1966 on Pitcairn Island, a British settlement in the Pacific of HMS BOUNTY fame. The Island has 15 telephones for its 98 inhabitants.
