Land Use Hearing Monday

Commission to Sponsor Master Plan Discussion

From his sick bed at Mount Sinai Hospital, Montclair, Mayor Kenneth D. Smith issued a call for a special Town Commission meeting this Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the Belleville High School Auditorium to clarify the role of the Town Commission with respect to the Planning Board and the master plan for the future development of Belleville.

MRS. GRACE HARRIS — Mrs. Grace Harris, executive director of the Passaic Valley Citizens Planning Association, listens as the Belleville residents express their objections to the planning board's revision of the master plan.

LAWRENCE SCHWARTZ — Representing the entire Silver Lake section of Belleville, Lawrence Schwartz asks the board not to consider building high rise apartments in that section of town. He pointed out the type of elements that such structures invite, and have invited in Newark. He has law offices at 353 Washington Avenue.

Smith said, "I am gravely concerned with the citizen's interpretations of a meeting to review the master plan and the authority of the Planning Board with respect to zoning laws of our community."

"My confinement to the hospital prevented me from attending last Thursday's public hearing called by the Planning Board, but unfortunately believe hundreds and maybe thousands of Belleville citizens have fears today of the future of their homes because of the misconceptions aired at the hearing."

"The Town Commission has a responsibility to give our people the true facts concerning the authority of the Planning Board and the meaning of a master plan. We also have a deep obligation to our people to do everything in our power to protect their interests. The citizens and taxpayers in Belleville have a right to find out directly from the Town Commission what the future holds for them with respect to any proposed changes in zoning laws affecting their neighborhood."

"It is for the purpose of clarification and information that I deemed it necessary to call a special meeting of the Town Commission, at which time the people of our community will learn the truth not only with respect to the proposed master plan. They should also know just where the Town Commission stands in relation to our people's rights and interests."

Meanwhile Commissioner Mary Senatore, director of Public Works, commented on Thursday evening's Planning Board's public hearing with the citizens.

She stated, "I made my position clear at that meeting. I will never vote to demolish a single home in Belleville. The people have a basic right to determine the character of the neighborhood in which they wish to live. This is a right no public official either on the Planning Board or the Town Commission has authority to take away from the people."

"There are some misconceptions in the public mind concerning the Planning Board, its role, the master plan and the relationship to the Town Commission to the master plan and the Planning Board. I will attempt to clear up these misconceptions in a statement which I plan to make at the special Town Commission meeting called for next Monday," Mrs. Senatore said.

PLANNING PANEL — Facing the often angry reactions of the Belleville audience to the land use plan, which was placed before the public, the panel is a study of many different reactions. The Belleville Commissioners and the Passaic Valley Citizens Planning Association comprised the panel. Arrangements to industrialize the Valley and place high rise apartments in the Silver Lake section received the greatest amount of criticism from the Belleville homeowners.

Belleville Woman Deciphers Big Win Mystery Clue, Gets $100 Certificate

Quick-thinking Mrs. Catherine Schilling, 279 Greylock Parkway, is the first winner of the Big Win Contest sponsored by The Times and leading shops and stores of Belleville.

Mrs. Schilling, a frequent shopper on Washington Avenue, fathomed the mystery sentence and found $100 in certificates only a short time after the contest was announced.

After a brief period of trial-and-error, she put together the following sentence: The first Belleville Times Treasure say manager and owner at the store on Washington between Rutgers and Belleville.

Andrew Thomas Men's Shop, 155 Washington Avenue, rewarded her treasure search.

The owner, Mrs. Teresa Bianchi was an early sponsor of the contest.

Mrs. Schilling whose husband, Leonard, is a golf course contractor, has children five and two years old, Lenny and Mary-Kate. "With two children you spend it easily," she said.

Lucky readers and shoppers who are good at their guessing will win as much as $1000 playing the skill game.

It is simple to play and the contest is open to any resident of Belleville. It works like this:

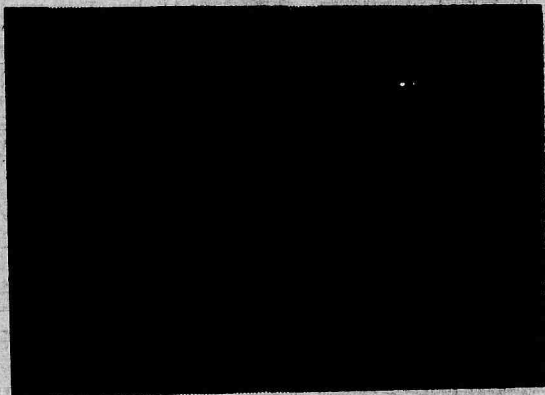

Each week Belleville merchants will run an ad featuring tremendous money-saving weekly specials. The ad will appear in a special section of the newspaper.

Directly under the price in each advertisement there will appear one word. When the reader assembles them in the proper order, they will provide a clue to where $100 in spending money is located in a downtown store. Find it and it's yours.

The entire clue will appear each week. If the spending money is not found that week, another $100 will be added to the treasure trove — and so for ten weeks.

The $100 spending money will be hidden in the form of twenty $5 certificates good for any purchase in any participating store. It's as good as money and is guaranteed by the Belleville Times.

The Belleville Times will redeem them at face value.

FIRST WINNER of the Big Win contest, sponsored by the Times and Belleville Chamber of Commerce is Mrs. Leonard Schilling, a housewife. She plans to spend the money on her two children. With her is the manager of Andrew Thomas Men's Shop, Joseph Gourine.

Hearing on 68-69 Budget Quiet; Board Adopts Financial Plan

Following a brief hearing on the school budget for 1968-69 the Board of Education adopted the financial plan unchanged.

A quiet audience of under 30 residents met with the school board to discuss the budget at School 8 Auditorium.

Among the members of the small group included a contingent from School 9 and president of the School 4 Home and School Association.

The total budget is $4,578,262, an increase of $424,824 over present costs. The allocation for current expenses is higher. Capital outlay is higher. Capital outlay has been set at $105,000, an increase of $47,575. Debt service is $250,285 down $3,995.

Town voters will decide only on the provisions for current expense and capital outlay.

Teachers and administrative salaries have been attributed as the main cause for the budget increase. The board members said these salaries are responsible for 80 per cent of the total budget.

A new transportation law, adopted July 1 requiring the school district to supply bus transportation for children attending private school between 2½ to 20 miles from the school. Most of the cost is in public carrier fares. But this caused local transportation costs to jump $22,000.

Textbook purchases caused a $16,000 account to spiral to $35,000. The budget also had to provide increases in fixed charges as social security, insurance and retirement benefits. This reflected a $20,000 increase.

The capital outlay account went up to provide for building equipment which meant a $48,000 increase.

Young Narcotics Users Appear in Belleville Court

Two area youths, barely out of their teens, joined the growing number of those who find themselves in court because of their use of heroin or marijuana.

Richard Squire, of Orange, pleaded guilty recently in Belleville Municipal Court before Judge Edward J. Abromson. Squire has a record that is already two pages long, of offenses and crimes committed largely in the search for money to buy a "shot."

He has been in many institutions because of a history of arrests for larceny, loitering, shoplifting, assault and battery, and illegal possession of goods. This time the charge was shoplifting.

"Apparently there is no hope for you. I don't know what we can do for you," Judge Abromson told Squire. "Your record is clear," he added, sentencing Squire to serve for one year in the Essex County Penitentiary.

For Gerald Santuso the future may be more bright. He was arrested for possession of heroin and for being under its influence, and, unable to raise bail, has been detained in the Newark Street Jail. However, his family has a branch in Coral Gables, Florida, and Judge Abromson ordered an investigation of the parole situation in that city, with a view to sending Santuso to (Continued On Page 8)

Establishing Sufficient New Parking Should be the Public's Responsibility

By ANN DYER

Increasing mobility is now an important fact in the fluctuating world of the merchant and businessman.

Gone are the days when the town consisted of four buildings — bank, general store, tavern and grange. And when customers, dressed in suits that might last for as much as twenty years, drove up on horseback or in the brown varnished surreys popular in those days.

Now Americans are always on the move and go few places on foot. Thousands pour into the urban complex of the Coast each year, seeking the better job and the better paycheck, seeking crab cutlets and doubleburgers, John's Bargains and Star Fashions. What the goods lost in solidity they gained in colorfulness and utility.

Yet the parking problem has driven many merchants to the wall. Local protests over a period of at least twenty years in Belleville finally obtained action from municipal officials. The Town has agreed to lease the lot of the Fidelity Union Trust Company, situated just behind the bank, which is located at Washington and Belleville Avenues.

According to Belleville's police chief, Donald Smith, who has been "100 percent in favor" of the parking lot, "the shopper is a funny fellow. I know people who will go to a shopping center and park their cars a half-mile away and walk to the center. But they won't do that in town. If the doors were wide enough, the people would drive right through."

Chief Smith announced that new double-faced parking meters for the lot have been arranged for, of the same type now in use on Washington Avenue.

Hours of parking will be the same as elsewhere in town — 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily; 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Fridays; and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. Parking is free on Sundays. Collections are made by a police department metermaid.

According to the executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, Harry T. French, who has spearheaded the move for more parking, "The first lot will not solve all our problems, but it will help a great deal." The Chamber emphasized that municipal parking (Continued On Page 24)

PBA Gives Baumgartner Gift Check for $1,000

William Baumgartner, Belleville fireman who suffered a broken leg and injured back after a wall caved in on him during the recent fire, is richer by $1,000.

The fund was raised to aid him by the Policeman's Benevolent Association, Local 28, of Belleville, and the check was recently presented to his fellows on the Fireman's Benevolent Association.

Detective Michael Marotti, president of PBA was in charge of raising the fund, which was collected from the organization's treasury and from the individual members.

Baumgartner is still at Clara Maas Memorial Hospital, which describes his condition as "better." A body cast for him is planned, and he will probably be released in about three weeks.

State to Control Sulfur Oxide Emissions from Fuel-Burning

New regulations issued by the state to control sulfur oxide emissions from fuel burning were criticized today by the New Jersey Petroleum Council because "it is unlikely that, by this May, enough fuel oil of the required specifications can be made available to meet the needs of all customers."

The oil industry association also said that the new rules are a "piecemeal approach since they apply only to oil and not to coal."

"We are extremely disappointed," said A. W. Sitarski of Humble Oil, chairman of the Council's Executive Committee, "that the rules fail to heed the expert testimony as to the time needed by oil companies to build necessary refining facilities to produce low-sulfur fuels."

During 1966, 47 drivers and passengers were killed on motorcycles as compared with 9 in 1962. The number of deaths involving motorcycles has increased 422.2 per cent in five years.

Cold Weather's Effect On Wildlife Studied

The effect of cold weather on the welfare of substantial waterfowl populations wintering in New Jersey is being carefully watched and monitored, according to Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Coastal marshlands were tightly frozen during the recent extensive cold weather, making it difficult for ducks to feed. The annual midwinter waterfowl inventory found an estimated 356,515 waterfowl along the New Jersey coast on January 8.

The birds were in excellent condition before the freeze, and the marshes thawed and opened up over the second weekend in January, so that they could resume feeding.

Electric mixers and blenders, of course, now give tremendous convenience to the housewife. Pretty good value, too. The cost of living has shot up 120% in the last 25 years, but because of rate reductions together with increased use, the average unit cost of electricity has gone down 45%! All in all, electricity is still the best bargain in your home—and most families use four times more than they did a quarter century ago.

Norma McCool Aspires For Third Trustee Term

Mrs. Norma McCool, candidate for re-election to the Belleville Board of Education, said "We must continue to work towards sound progress in our educational system."

Mrs. McCool, who has been an independent spirit and free thinker on the board for six years said, I have during my past two terms represented all the people of our town, and I have tried with the best of my ability to support programs that would meet the needs of Belleville's children. The composition of our educational system is enveloped around our children. These are their schools, and we must continue to promote the best possible programs to meet their individual needs."

"I take great pride in our town and the people of Belleville who live here, who work, and share common interests. They are interested in continued progress which must not cease, and they are willing, when the need warrants, to come to the aid of their children. I too am a parent, and realize education is built on unification of purpose."

"We have a responsibility to them, and we must provide the opportunity for them to become the future citizens in our rapidly changing society. We must mold their characters, develop their bodies, and enrich their minds to forge ahead with strength that will reach far ahead in the world of tomorrow."

Mrs. McCool, a long resident of Belleville, graduated from School 10 and Belleville High School. She later attended Syracuse University and Caldwell College.

Knows Cost Procedures
Formerly employed as a comptroller, Mrs. McCool offers to the Board a strong background of accounting and cost procedures.

Also a talented musician,

Mrs. McCool has worked for ages, and the present day, has shown a keen interest and desire to aid them in shaping their futures.

Inspired by her father, the late Patsy Rinaldi, her love caused her to engage from a young age, in innumerable school and civic activities and social work.

Her past performance proved her able and capable of handling board affairs with an impartial sense of fair play and integrity.

Mrs. McCool's husband Thomas, also an active civic leader, and her daughter Debra Ann, reside along with her mother, Mrs. Anna Rinaldi at 194 Fairway Avenue.

Mrs. McCool said, "Join me in helping our children go ahead today, tomorrow, and in the future. Vote 7A on the ballot, Tuesday, February 13."

William B. Licklider Reports Bank's Assets

William B. Licklider, president, Savings Banks' Association of New Jersey, reported yesterday that total assets of the twenty-one savings banks rose $2,589 Million, an increase of $220.6 million or 9.31 per cent. Total deposits climbed $211 Million, or 9.7 percent, to reach $2,385 Million on December 31. This percentage gain compares with a gain of 6.52 percent in 1966. The dollar amount is the highest on record.

Salvation Army Responds Fast To Local Needs

The Salvation Army during January met the needs of people in Belleville at the time of need without delay.

Upon receiving a call from the fire department the morning of the fire at Washington and William Street, a Salvation Army emergency disaster canteen was immediately dispatched to the scene. Henry Van Brussel, state coordinator of emergency services, assisted by local Salvation Army personnel served 250 cups of coffee, 150 cups of soup, four dozen doughnuts and 300 sandwiches to firemen and policemen from 7:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

The Belleville Service Unit of The Salvation Army headed by David Robbins, welfare secretary and Theodore Zuczek, treasurer, has been working with town officials to find housing and to help rehabilitate families who lost their possessions in the fire. Clothing furniture and financial assistance has been given to these families by the Service Unit.

Most recently a family of eleven, who lost their home in the fire, were without housing and needed shelter for three nights. Late at night the Belleville Service Unit was called upon by the Belleville police department to help in providing housing for this family. Within an hour they were taken to The Salvation Army Emergency Home at 82 Washington Street, Newark, where they were fed and housed for two days and three nights.

The Service Unit is a group of local volunteers who provide assistance to those in need on behalf of the Salvation Army.

Mike Albertine Seeks Election As Schoolman

"In announcing my candidacy for the position of school board member, I am motivated by my deep and sincere interest as a parent, in the problems and needs of our children and our schools," Michael Albertine said.

"Education needs experienced leadership. I am a college graduate, a former school teacher, a former board member and a businessman. My experience in these areas has given me a rich insight into the problems vitally affecting our children and taxpayer," Albertine said.

"With the ever increasing selectivity by colleges and employers of qualified high school graduates, our students should receive the best education needed to meet their requirements. To achieve this, every effort is needed to assure that the educational functions are conducted in a most efficient and worthwhile manner; maximum economical operation of educational functions is essential because the taxpayers ability to bear the cost should not be overlooked.

"It is important that these two criteria be equally balanced. I believe that my experience as a former board member, my business experience, and my educational background will help me to contribute to this balance," he said.

Belleville's Land Use Restrictions

Contrary to those who would have said to the Planning Board, "Really you shouldn't have," the view here is that in presenting revisions to the land use portion of the master plan, the town planners and consultants are exercising their right and, no doubt, profound desire to provide Belleville with an ideal community scheme — while risking, of course, the angry judgement of residents in the community.

Our recollection of the first master plan (presented in 1962) are of a sort that would arouse curiosity and perhaps suspicion about the recent revisions (six years later). Indeed, residents in the Valley were violently opposed to provisions that called for the residential extinction of that area. They are also, judging by the throng of 1,000 strong at a public hearing, unalterably against the planners' new plan to preserve two Valley neighborhoods, while surrounding them with industrial uses. The citizens there fear a severe loss in property values, and increased crime rate, unwanted low-life neighbors, and the decreased population threat to a school and churches in the section. This does not include the utter lack of peace of mind with the prospect of becoming an oasis engulfed within a desert of factory units.

For these residents at the long and heated hearing, esteem for the town planners diminished. It will be long before that can be won back. The board cannot be held entirely responsible for its consultants (Passaic Valley Citizens' Planning Association) "improvements" to the 1962 plan, but its share of the common responsibility invites some disagreement.

In less specific terms, the master plan should attempt to achieve a middle ground approach to community planning, including a carefully worked out prospective of where the municipality should develop, or redevelop while maintaining humane qualities for the people who are living here and will continue living in Belleville. Too often, planners envision what they consider to be the "ideal" and lose track of what that "ideal solution" will do to the people.

It is impossible, then, for a plan to be perfect.

All of this invited the counter contention that the planners and town officials know what is best for Belleville, since they know best its problems and what difficulties the future holds in store. The contention couldn't be more defensible. However, mistakes can be made.

At this serious crossroads in Belleville development, since the planners make no secret of the fact they plan to proceed with their prospectus and then urge the town government to adopt enabling ordinances to implement many of their recommendations before the end of 1968, residents, planning officials and town commissioners should reconsider their philosophies.

If planners are gazing into a distortion mirror of Belleville's future, now is the time to amend our decisions. Let's take another critical look at this important community development plan. P.A.D.

Trouble in Our School Gymnasiums

Representatives of The Big Ten Conference schools will meet in Nutley later this month and one of the topics on the agenda is bound to be a discussion of the increasing number of disruptions at athletic contests.

The Nutley Sun's sports columnist, Tom Perrota, has made frequent references to disorderly crowds this winter. At a recent basketball game involving Nutley at another school, the team buses and several spectator cars were stoned. Mr. Perrota wrote that week in The Sun that he had to roll up his car windows, lock his doors and await the arrival of a police escort before he could leave the visiting school's parking lot.

The most serious incident this winter came during a Livingston-West Orange basketball game. The crowd disrupted inside the gymnasium during the game and before play could resume between the two high school teams, the building had to be emptied of all spectators.

Two weeks ago Saturday at Belleville High School, there was a similar disruption. This time it was an afternoon wrestling match. One of the Belleville wrestlers, apparently annoyed by sneering Nutley boys, walked over to the nearby stands and threw a punch. In a flash, the gymnasium floor was covered by spectators. Chairs were in the air, and fights broke out all over the place. It took Mr. Wische remarged after that near-riot in the Belleville gymnasium a week ago Saturday that repeated several minutes to quiet the crowd.

Mr. Herman Wische, Belleville's athletic director, finally addressed the crowd and said he would give the groups another chance to watch the wrestling matches in an orderly manner. Otherwise, Mr. Wische said the gymnasium would be emptied of all spectators.

In the Belleville case, we've been told that the wrestler who punched the fan is being disciplined. In the other incidents this winter, we frankly don't know whether disciplinary action has been taken or not.

To be sure, spectatr disruptions are not new. However, the increasing frequency of these major outbreaks has not caused much concern throughout the metropolitan areas of the state.

Belleville has decided to reschedule its athletic events ordinarily held at night to afternoons. Nutley High School is seriously considering following suit, if not for all contests, at least those with schools whose followings have shown a proneness for such outbreaks.

occurences of such incidents could ruin high school athletics.

If these incidents are permitted to continue unchecked, Mr. Wische's prediction, unfortunately, could come true.

For schools where these outbreaks have occurred, a serious threat is already with us. For the other schools, including most in the Big Ten, the possibility of these disruptions happening dictates that preventative action be implemented.

The overall picture is one which needs to be discussed and given a thorough airing when the Big Ten representatives meet in Nutley later this month. P.R.W.

February

The trees wistful in the square,
Wearing a half-expectant air;
The sky is a slender silver bell
That waits to sound the knell
Of winter.

— Anne Mary Lawler.

It seems that no sooner has the new year arrived than February is knocking on the doorstep. The arrival of the second month in the year signifies that one-twelfth of 1968 is already at an end.

February is a deep winter month, and it is cold throughout in most parts of the country and is perhaps the bitterest month of winter. Only January usually rivals it in this regard.

February in 1968 has twenty-nine days, and is a Leap Year February.

The first quarter of the moon will appear on the 6th and will reach fullness the 14th. The last quarter will be observed on the 20th.

Morning stars in February will be Mercury, Venus, and Jupiter. The evening stars will be Mars, Saturn and Mercury (1-15) and Jupiter (20-29).

Days will continue to get longer during February, the first day of the month being ten hours long, while the last will be over eleven hours.

The major holidays in February are Lincoln's birthday on February 12th, and Washington's birthday on February 22nd. St. Valentine's Day falls on the 14th, which is the night of the full moon, which happens only once in every so many decades.

Other birthdays of interest include those of Charles Dickens, born February 7th, 1812 at Landport, England. The anniversary of the chartering of the Boy Scouts of America falls on February 8th. The chartering took place on February 8th, 1910.

Speak Up

Silver Lake Area Should Secede From Belleville

To The Editor, The Times-News:

I do not question the right of the town to have a planning board, but I strogly protest the way it operates behind closed doors.

Belleville homeowner's are up in arms over the intent of the planning board to demolish their property for high rise apartments in the Silver Lake district.

This 'Master Plan' with its beautiful colors is a work of art and it matches the rainbow.

It has been rejected by a previous administration under the Council Manager form of Government.

I believe it is for the benefit to relocate thousands of people who are to be displaced by the city of Newark. The city of Newark has given away thousands of acres to the airport, the new medical school and suffered a loss in ratables of $20,000,000.

Many of these families to be displaced live in slum areas and on relief. The town of Belleville has been selected as the dumping grounds for the mistakes of its neighbors.

If this master plan is approved by the Commission against the wishes of the people it will create the same problem here and pose a serious threat to our peace and security. This is because these high rise buildings are not privately owned but paid for with federal funds.

All projects sponsored by the government pay no taxes and would produce a heavier tax burden on the rest of the people.

I hope for the good of the town and all the people the Commission would be kind enough to reject the entire plan for the duration of the Vietnam conflict. The plan spells trouble and could lead to a new movement to change our form of government, for Silver Lake to break away from the Belleville and become a community of its own, which has been done elsewhere with other communities.

Since the people of Belleville have no say in this matter which is up to the Commission, write to your representatives and strongly voice your protest of this action.

We must fight together to protect what we own.

Sincerely Yours

Albert Guglicelli

American Legion Auxiliary Post 105 Will Aid Malaysian Hospital Drive

Each year the American Legion Auxiliaries throughout the country study the people customs, living conditions of a foreign country and try to improve and aid these foreign neighbors in any way they can. This year the country is Malaysia; and Mrs. Patrick Wynn, chairman, reports that the Malaysian people are badly in need of modern hospital. The money we donate each month will go toward this hospital, which will have a clinic, a maternity ward and other essential departments. At present, 43 per cent of Malaysian children die before they reach the age of five years; and maternity deaths are also very high.

The delivery of used nylon hosiery to Greystone Park hospital has been an Auxiliary project for years, and Mrs. Eugene Hess, Unit 105 past president, is the person who has seen that this worthwhile program is carried out. The hospital sells these nylons, and with the money, buys television sets for the wards. Just recently, seven pounds of nylons were delivered by Mrs. Hess.

During the meeting of American Legion Auxiliary 105, Mrs. Julia Huemer suggested that a donation of $25 be given to the Belleville Fireman's Fund; and the ladies agreed unanimously. At the close of the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. James V. LaMotta, the hostesses, Mrs. Vincent Hearn and tesses, Mrs. Vincent Hearn and Mrs. James LaMotta, served refreshments.

Police Respond To Emergencies

In last week's issue of the Belleville Times an article appeared referring to the Ambulance service in Belleville. The article gave the impression that the Police Department was in no way connected with the Belleville Ambulance service, fire chief Carl F. Hunderpfund said.

"It is true that the ambulance is operated and maintained by the Fire Department however the Police do co-operate with the Fire Department 100 per cent. Our second ambulance, which is strictly emergency is in most cases manned by a policeman and a fireman. In addition, on most emergency calls, police arrive on the scene before our ambulance and in many cases supply first aid until the ambulance arrives.

"I am most grateful to the Police Department for the fine cooperation between our departments," the chief said.

Ruggiero Ricci's 1734 Guarnerius Made by Craftsman 200 Years Ago

The average layman looking at Ruggiero Ricci's 1734 Guarnerius would not think it much different than any other violin. But it definitely is.

The instrument to be played by Ricci when he appears with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra Friday at Montclair High School and Saturday at Millburn High School is among the finest ever made.

Its brilliant perfection took form more than 200 years ago in the little Italian town of Cremona. Crafted from the very finest materials available, it was one of only 13 instruments produced in 1734 by Bartolomeo Giuseppe Guarnerius, then at the peak of his career as violin maker.

One of a series of Guarnerius fiddles known as "Joseph's" (anglicising the maker's Christian name), it is the product of an art whose secrets instrument makers and acoustical scientists around the world have tried vainly to fathom for two centuries.

Like any great violin, Ricci's Guarnerius has an extensive pedigree. No so many years ago, it sang under the fingers of another great violin virtuoso, the late Bronislaw Huberman.

Ricci purchased the rare and priceless instrument in 1956 from the New York firm of Wurlitzer, guardian of a unique collection of historic violins.

Probably the most renowned of its owners was the late 19th Century collector and violinist George Alfred Gibson, whom history books identify as music director for the coronations of Edward VII and George V of England.

Its earliest known owner was an official of the Bank of England. Prior to that history bogs down, since Guarnerius and Stradivarius fiddles are world travelers and relinquish their secrets only through the most exhaustive research.

The maker of Ricci's fabulous violin was born in Cremona in 1698, the third generation in a family of distinguished fiddle makers.

A "mystery man" of music, Guarnerius left not a single scrap of writing to shed light on his career, and was nearly impossible to trace when scholars began to be interested in his works in the 1920s.

His cryptic labels, or "tickets," as they are called in the vocabulary of instrument dealers, bear only the Latin inscription: "Joseph Guarnerius fecit Cremona Anno 17—"

While the experts can spot a true Guarnerius from many of its characteristics, each of the 250 instruments the producers of the Italian nobiled during his lifetime has its and burling or boldness of detail work. Thus, no "supreme" example of his work can be cited.

Guarnerius, a pupil of the great Stradivarius, patterned his style of construction on own slight variation of form that of Brescians di Salo and Magini.

But while the "Strads" often and carving, choice of woods were produced for dilettante and Church patrons, the Guarnerius fiddles usually were sold to itinerant musicians who played hard and earned little.

For this reason, relatively few of the magnificent instruments (Guarnerius made violins only) have survived in playable condition today.

Constant use of such instruments is therapeutic rather than harmful, for the years are kind to a great violin if it is reasonably protected.

However, Ricci, who has insured his Guarnerius for a staggering sum, never plays it in too humid climates and takes numerous measures to guard the magnificent varnish and fragile body.

Tickets for the Montclair and Millburn performances, part of the New Jersey Symphony's Suburban Concert series, may be obtained at the Symphony offices, 1020 Broad Street, Newark, or by calling 624-8203.

GET YOUR INFORMATION FROM YOUR PHYSICIAN

Too little knowledge has always been a danger and there are too many people with insufficient knowledge, who are quick to offer advice about what to do for almost any sickness. Often well meaning friends will offer you drugs doctors have prescribed for them, because their symptoms resemble your problem. In days long past, no harm usually was done. We had few positive action drugs.

Medicines now are usually much more powerful. They no longer, as a rule, are the old type of many ingredient combinations, given with the hope that one of the different drugs will help. Please do not offer your friends any medicine you take yourself unless their doctor approves. It is possible to harm instead of help.

GET YOUR INFORMATION FROM YOUR PHYSICIAN

Too little knowledge has always been a danger and there are too many people with insufficient knowledge, who are quick to offer advice about what to do for almost any sickness. Often well-meaning friends will offer you drugs. Doctors have prescribed for them, because their symptoms resemble your problem. In days long past, no harm usually was done. We had few positive action drugs.

Medicines now are usually much more powerful. They no longer, as a rule, are the old type of many ingredient combinations, given with the hope that one of the different drugs will help. Please do not offer your friends any medicine you take yourself unless their doctor approves. It is possible to harm instead of help.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cicala of 11 Caroline Road, have been awarded the annual Belleville Jaycee Christmas Light Award Plaque for the best light display on a home in Belleville.

Andy Vyniski Jaycee committee chairman explained that his committee had toured all of the streets in Belleville and after narrowing the final selection down to five homes, Mr. and Mrs. Cicala's home was chosen. He went on to say that the number of lights on homes were not the deciding factor, but the judge's conception of taste, and amount of work that went into the decoration were the deciding factor.

The Belleville Jaycees also have a number of up coming projects according to Vyniski, two of which are junior Bowling, a National Jaycee Bowling competition for ages 9 thru 17, and the annual Cherry Blossom Festival.

He also mentioned that the Jaycees are always looking for new members interested in Leadership training thru community development.

Ruggiero Ricci's 1734 Guarnerius Made by Craftsman 200 Years Ago

The average layman looking at Ruggiero Ricci's 1734 Guarnerius would not think it much different than any other violin. But it definitely is.

The instrument to be played by Ricci when he appears with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra Friday at Montclair High School and Saturday at Millburn High School is among the finest ever made.

Its brilliant perfection took form more than 200 years ago in the little Italian town of Cremona. Crafted from the very finest materials available, it was one of only 13 instruments produced in 1734 by Bartolomeo Giuseppe Guarnerius, then at the peak of his career as violin maker.

One of a series of Guarnerius fiddles known as "Joseph's" (anglicising the maker's Christian name), it is the product of an art whose secrets instrument makers and acoustical scientists around the world have tried vainly to fathom for two centuries.

Like any great violin, Ricci's Guarnerius has an extensive pedigree. No so many years ago, it sang under the fingers of another great violin virtuoso, the late Bronislaw Huberman.

Ricci purchased the rare and priceless instrument in 1956 from the New York firm of Wurlitzer, guardian of a unique collection of historic violins.

Probably the most renowned of its owners was the late 19th Century collector and violinist George Alfred Gibson, whom history books identify as music director for the coronations of Edward VII and George V of England.

Its earliest known owner was an official of the Bank of England. Prior to that history bogs down, since Guarnerius and Stradivarius fiddles are world travelers and relinquish their secrets only through the most exhaustive research.

The maker of Ricci's fabulous violin was born in Cremona in 1698, the third generation in a family of distinguished fiddle makers.

A "mystery man" of music, Guarnerius left not a single scrap of writing to shed light on his career, and was nearly impossible to trace when scholars began to be interested in his works in the 1920s.

His cryptic labels, or "tickets," as they are called in the vocabulary of instrument dealers, bear only the Latin inscription: "Joseph Guarnerius fecit Cremona Anno 17—" with a mystical cross and letters "I.H.S.," the Greek abbreviation for the name Jesus.

While the experts can spot a true Guarnerius from many of its characteristics, each of the 250 instruments he produced members of the Italian nobility during his lifetime has its ed and burling or boldness of detail work. Thus, no "supreme" example of his work can be cited.

Guarnerius, a pupil of the great Stradivarius, patterned his style of construction on own slight variation of form that of Brescians di Salo and Magini.

But while the "Strads" often and carving, choice of woods were produced for dilettante ly and Church patrons, the Guarnerius fiddles, usually were sold to itinerant musicians who played hard and earned little.

For this reason, relatively few of the magnificent instruments (Guarnerius made violins only) have survived in playable condition today.

Constant use of such instruments is therapeutic rather than harmful, for the years are kind to a great violin if it is reasonably protected.

However, Ricci, who has insured his Guarnerius for a staggering sum, never plays it in too humid climates and takes numerous measures to guard the magnificent varnish and fragile body.

Tickets for the Montclair and Millburn performances, part of the New Jersey Symphony's Suburban Concert series, may be obtained at the Symphony offices, 1020 Broad Street, Newark, or by calling 624-8203.

The series will discuss archeological discoveries in the Near East, Egypt, Greece, Peru and Colonial America. Other aspects of the series will include a survey of findings on the origins of man and a study of early man in North America, with theories on where he came from and how he lived.

Each week, in the Belleville Times, Belleville merchants will run tremendous money-saving Weekly Specials on these pages. These weekly special advertisements, which are designed by Belleville merchants to help fight the constantly rising cost-of-living, will feature one tremendous bargain in each ad. Directly under the price in each advertisement there will appear one word. When the reader assembles all the words in proper order they will provide a clue as to where $100 in "spending money" is hidden somewhere in a store on Washington Avenue. The entire clue will appear each week. If the spending money is not found that week another $100 spending money will be added to it. The same will happen the next week if it's still not found. The $100 spending money will be in the form of 20 certificates of $5 each and can be spent at any of these participating stores, any time — they're just like cash. The Belleville Times will redeem them at face value from the participating merchants.

Historic Local Firm Undergoes New Growth in the Community

Hardman Incorporated is the new corporate name of H. V. Hardman Co., Inc., one of the area's oldest and most respected manufacturers.

A long history has provided Hardman with the experience and heritage necessary to face the future with justifiable confidence.

It began in Belleville in the 1880's when one James Hardman established a rubber molding factory along the banks of the Passaic River. From this early beginning, four generations of his family have evolved the products and specially growth to its current status, serving not only on this continent but in 22 countries around the world via license agreements.

The early plant produced automobile tires and hot water bottles. A fire destroyed the main plant in 1907 and during World War I the supply of crude rubber was drastically curtailed. It was shortly thereafter that a liquid but solvent cements. The paint brush less rubber was developed for hard rubber brush settings by an original depolymerizing process which eliminated solvent industry was one of the earliest industries to be studied and served.

In 1929, the first building was erected on the present site in Belleville to continue its essential services to brush-makers. In the mid 50's Hardman did itself out of the rubber sales to the brush industry by offering epoxy compounds plus newly designed mixing-metering equipment essential to production handling of the new epoxies.

The adoption of the new corporate name is part of an all-over growth plan which includes the addition of a modern and fully-equipped building adjoining the present plant on Cortlandt Street, Belleville.

The new facility adds a total of 30,000 square feet of warehouse and efficient offices for the entire administrative staff.

A previous subsidiary, DPR Incorporated, producers of unique rubber compounds, has been merged into the parent company. The staff remains intact and now operates as one with the entire Hardman Incorporated team of employees.

Hardman Inc. supplies epoxy compounds for tools, tanks, electrical potting and encapsulating, and coatings for other materials. Flowable rubbers for mold making, cable filling, and potting are also produced and compounded by Hardman under the DPR name.

Hardman epoxies and DPR elastomers are found in golf clubs, hypodermic syringes, electronic components, hand tools, cutlery, armature windings, paint brushes and rollers and are used for patching concrete and deck coatings in marine applications.

As a complement to its two-part compound business, the firm designs and manufactures a broad range of machinery which automatically meters, mixes and dispenses two-part resin compounds in the production of a multitude of products. Also provided to Hardman product users all over the U. S. are the many capabilities of their research and laboratory services. Hardman technical developments include products under as many as seventeen different trademarks.

Directing the firm at present are the heirs of the founder, James Hardman, who established its beginnings in 1880. Board chairman Kenneth Hardman works closely with president James V. Hardman and vice president John H. Hardman, his two sons, to guide the company in its expansion program and the continuance of service to manufacturers all over the world.

Today Hardman is ready, through its larger facilities in Belleville, to expand its marketing to an even greater array of product applications.

If New Jersey's State Government budget for the next fiscal year is increased by more than $70 to $80 million above its present $94 million appropriations level, it may mean further upward adjustment of State taxes.

Belleville Throng Protests Land Use Revisions

MILITANT MINISTER — Rev. Mary Farrar of the Little Zion U.A.M.E. Church at 154 Stephens Street in Belleville asks the planning board "What will happen to our church in the years to come according to your plans?" The planning board indicated that the church was in an area slated for future industrial uses. The minister stated that her church has suffered because of housing discrimination in Belleville.

BELLEVILLE AUDIENCE — The Belleville audience, which was over a thousand, gathered to make known their feelings about the land use plans. Members of the audience voiced objections, shouted encouragement to speakers and frequently interrupted the presentation of the planning commission and the Belleville Commissioners.

'Planning Misconceptions' Subject of Monday Hearing

The worth of the Planning Board's hearing of the land use portion of the master plan is being widely disputed this week. The long and violent session, according to many officials, did not explain completely the proposals in the land use plan, worse, it added to the overall confusion which can readily be expected when attempting to unveil something as detailed and complicated as a community development prospectus.

Worried that the fear of townfolks, especially in the Silver Lake, Soho and Valley areas would strengthen, Mayor Kenneth D. Smith scheduled an information meeting Monday to clarify "point by point" those items which were either not explained, or simply misunderstood.

Judging by the near hysteria of last Thursday's crowd at the high school, residents were more interested in voicing their fears than critically studying the purpose of a master plan, the power of the planning board, and the town Commission's reaction to the new plan.

Emotional Atmosphere
Other citizens thought that this hearing would be the time and place to protest their undefined suspicions of graft. In such an emotional atmosphere, reason at times was forgotten, officials noted.

Frank Stanco of 88 Magnolia Street in Silver Lake maintained that "I have been living in Belleville eight years and the way the politicians play games with the people of Silver Lake is unbelievable."

"They build a school in Soho because money is involved for the commissioners. They don't give a damn for Silver Lake, only what they can put in pockets. Do not turn your backs on people, help them out," he said.

Katherine Mingle of Rossmore Place, a Sunday School superintendent for Franklin Reformed Church, protested to the board, "I challenge you to get people to come to church after you have built industrial areas all around it." "I challenge you to have kids come to church after Sunday School once you move the children away." "You are going to need more police protection if the area is made industrial. Have you driven through the Valley lately? There are empty factories a round town now, and you are making more."

Act of God?
Then she said "Let's get religious for a moment. We had a fire in Belleville recently and as tragic as that was, maybe God was trying to tell us all something. Maybe He was saying let's tear these old houses down and build us a parking lot of three or four levels."

Mary Farrar of Little Zion U.A.M.E. church at 154 Stephens Street demanded "What will happen to our church in the years to come according to your plan. It will be slated for future industrial use."

The panel replied that "the area where the church is located will be scheduled for future industrial use." The minister charged the panel with practicing discrimination in housing to the detriment of the Valley.

She stated that there are as "many decent and respectable Negroes in Belleville as anywhere else." She suggested to the board members that the area be surveyed "and have the homes repaired."

Schwartz Represents Valley
Lawrence Schwartz, an attorney, with offices at 353 Washington Avenue, Belleville, represented a Silver Lake contingent.

"People make up a town — and very special people make up the Lake section. They are hard working industrious people (as are all Belleville residents) but they have a special plan of their own. They have taken this area of land, and they have given it their spirit, and they have worked hard at developing it until each little house and has taken on the personality of its owner."

"Now what do these people want — they want their area and their homes to be left alone and remain as it is. They are not against improvement, nor are they against any change for the good, but they will not be treated as second class citizens and stand by while their homes are taken away from them."

"We all know that this area borders on Newark and we have seen what has happened there. Can you blame these good citizens and good taxpayers for being up in arms to prevent the rape of Silver Lake. Would any of you like a high rise of garden apartment complex to go next to your house. Or worse yet, have your property condemned to make way for low income housing?"

Stinking Factories
Louise Severillo of the Valley, president of School 9 PTA who appeared in her green pants suit, accused the board of continually disturbing School 9, 2, and 4. "It is always the Valley and Silver Lake that are touched, but never the people in the middle section." She added the School Nine PTA members would fight the master plan.

Theodore Bonkowski of 62 Cortlandt Street protested the "stinking factories" that are proposed.

Another man from the audience sarcastically intimated that the map looks like the work of "frustrated interior decorators" and it was the "beginning of Belleville's urban renewal program."

William Taverner of 321 Cortlandt Street, Belleville, "Number Nine School has been having problems, there is no boiler. Our kids are going to freeze. Down in the Valley, you have got two future ghettos." "That is not planning, that's trouble."

700 Acre Tract Selected For Nuclear Installation

A 700-acre tract on the Delaware River in this South Jersey township has been selected as the proposed site for a $260 million nuclear electric generating station to be built by Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

Watson F. Tait, Jr., chairman of the board for Public Service, said that negotiations are in progress for 200 acres owned by the Army Corps of Engineers on the southern tip of the peninsula known as Artificial Island and a 500-acre tract of riparian lands immediately adjacent, owned by the State of New Jersey.

Nutley Beats Belleville Matmen, Score 25-17

Belleville High School took a hard fought loss to Nutley 25-17 in their fifth match of the season at Belleville High School.

After Belleville had taken an early 6-3 lead the middle weight class proved to be the undoing of the localites.

In the first match Robert Reboli was decisively by De Kennip 7-0. Little John Perraino put Belleville into a 3-3 tie as he came from behind to win a 5-4 decision over Gantner late in the third period.

John Zoppi pulled Belleville into the lead 6-3 by winning an easy 5-2 decision over Dautel. Nutley then swept by Belleville in their next five matches. Dana Nappi, Jesse Towns, and Vincent Godleski were all decisively in close matches. Bob Giordano and Harry Maroulakous were both victims of pins as Nutley picked up 19 points to take the lead 22-6.

Belleville's spirits, however, were never broken. The heavy weight division vainly fought back in their next four matches. Allen D'Agos' tino outclassed his opponent for an easy 5-0 victory. Jim Wille was decisively 6-4 in possibly the hardest fought battle of the entire match. Bob Bonfante overpowered his rival for a 5-3 decision.

Barry Peirce closed out Belleville's scoring in fine fashion with his fourth pin of

Belleville Freshmen Basketball Team Loses to Essex Catholic

By JOHN MCCARTHY

The freshman team continued their see-saw season as they walloped Essex Catholic 40-31 in an upset after Kearny squeaked by the frosh earlier in the week 60-58.

Kearny should have been an easy victory because the freshmen trampled Kearny when they last met 41-33. The defeat to Kearny was called "a poorly refereed game" by most of attending fans. The main dispute was over three of Rich Caravetta's fouls. Rich normally is cautious on the court, averaging about 1.4 per game, but this time he fouled out. Even a Kearny player, who wishes to remain anonymous, said that all three looked like offensive fouls. (Incidentally, two of the three fouls would have been charged to this player).

The Essex victory rested chiefly on three major factors, a change of defense in the second half, teamwork, and many important rebounds. With a 17-17 tie at the half Coach Al Manfra just made 1 change in his man-to-man defense which caught Essex Catholic off guard. Teamwork was definitely visible as Ralph Macri led in scoring with 10 points. "Roc" Marotti was second with nine and three of the other players had seven points each with the fourth, Tom Jones, was more interested in getting rebounds which helped the freshmen to a 17 point fourth quarter which really decided the final score of the game.

Phil Samarco Sports Commissioner in Morris

Phil Samarco, a life-long resident of Belleville, has been re-appointed sports commissioner for Morris County in 1968 by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States. Robert Alexander, president of the New Jersey Association of the AAU announced Samarco's appointment.

Samarco is an employee of Schering Corporation, 86 Orange Street, Bloomfield, where he works as a maintenance supervisor.

During 1967, he co-ordinated and sanctioned all of the amateur athletic events held under the auspices of the AAU. He has also worked to bring organizations not affiliated with the AAU into that group.

As of now, Samarco states the biggest help to the promotion of sports in Morris County would be the construction of a large indoor arena. Presently, they have no place to hold indoor track meets.

The duties of the sports commissioner include the granting of temporary cards of registration, passing on certifications, disqualifying athletes, investigating the circumstances for disqualification, recognizing new groups and generally stimulating interest in amateur sports.

Emily's Thought Gets Garbled

The Thought for the Week in the Belleville Times was not printed correctly last week.

As a result several residents called to ask what Emily Dickinson was trying to say in the garbled line that appeared.

The passage, which we intended to use seemed very appropriate considering the wave of unhappy events which stunned the community what with fires and a near fatal accident.

The line should have read, "This is the Hour of Lead, Remembered if outlived as freezing persons recollect the snow" — First chill, then stupor, then the letting go."

Proud to Live in Country With History of Patriotism

BY ALLEN COHEN
(Allen Cohen, 13, an eighth grade student at Belleville Junior High School, was honored by the local Jaycees recently for his winning essay on "What My American Patriotism Means to Me." Below is Cohen's complete essay.)
When I think of my American patriotism, I remember the spirit that brought our nation independence. I recall the Paul Revere, who rode along the countryside to warn, "The British are coming." The Nathan Hale, who until the end regretted that he had only one life to give for his country. And finally, the George Washington, who headed the fight against the conspirators of the colonies and helped set up its first government and got things started.
It is satisfying to know that people would sacrifice time, effort and lives to establish a free land, free from tyranny and injustice.
I consider myself very lucky to be a descendant of these brave men and women who were willing to risk almost anything for the cause of justice. I consider myself lucky to live in a country which has a history of great patriotism. I am proud of the men who fought for life, liberty, and fortunate enough to have. The spirit and willingness of these freedom-lovers amaze me. Never before have I heard of people with such determination.

Without the events of American patriotism, almost all of our American History could have taken a different course, since in every part of that history was the incentive of being proud to be an American.
All of these things I am proud of. When a person reviews American patriotism, he

Sam Pearl New Kiwanis Club President for 1968

By MAX BECK

One can hardly read a newspaper these days without reading one or more articles about computers, and the wonders they are going to perform for the benefit of mankind in the future. Some people go as far as to actually express fear for these machines. This is too silly for words. There is one computer which still outcomputers all the computers in the whole world, and that is the HUMAN BRAIN. There is more knowledge, logic and intelligence stored in the hand full of "grey matter" in the human head than all the computers put together.
It does not make sense that one should have to "fear" a computer, which is an inanimate object, until man puts the breath of some life into it. It does make sense if it is used to help us to achieve a better life, as ideally all machines should be used. Millions of people can and should be freed from drudgery by the use of computers and automation. No human being should be forced by a machine, like a conveyor belt, for instance, to become a machine, doing the same thing, day after day, maybe for a year. In the writer's opinion, this is the only "fear" one should have and human ingenuity should be employed to free human beings from such drudgery.
The amount of material to be handled makes it necessary to create labor saving devices. One reason why the banks use computers and automated apparatus is the fact that the ever increasing amounts of checks can hardly be handled in any other way. The same goes for the Post Office, just to mention 2 examples. With the growing population the amount of checks and letters to be processed becomes larger every year.
It would be a tremendous saving of work if there would be a computer in every household. In order to pay a telephone bill, for instance, you would press a few buttons and automatically the Telephone Co. is paid and your account credited. No checks, no writing, no mailing. This is just one example where a computer could be of great help.

Sam Pearl, president of the Newark Light Co. of Belleville was installed as the 14th president of the Kiwanis Club of Belleville by Lieutenant Governor Lou Lardiere of the New Jersey District of Kiwanis International, at the Installation Dinner held at the Fountain Restaurant.
Also installed was Eugene Reilly, immediate past president; Jim De Jonge, first vice president; Nicholas Juliano, second vice president; Lou Bruno, treasurer and Vincent Vitty, secretary.
The new directors recently elected for three years term are Andy Provence, Phil Nicastro and Mike Rosimilia who were also installed by the Lieutenant Governor.
Pearl upon taking over the stewardship of Kiwanis Club of Belleville already recognized and honored Kiwanis International for leadership in the International Achievement Award in the Year 1962 and again in the Year 1964 at the International Convention, pledged that he would not only continue the programs started by the previous presidents but would expand those programs.

Glass celery vases of one design or another were popular wedding gifts in the 19th century. Today some of the rarer vases are worth several hundred dollars. It's obvious, from the size of these vases that celery plants a hundred years ago weren't nearly as lux as those being grown today during cooler months in the black soil of Florida.

Measles Immunization Program Suggested by State

The Essex County Medical Society today called for a compulsory measles immunization program through-out county schools. As an intermediate step to enactment of a law, the physicians urged County School Superintendent Dr. William S. Twichell to begin an immediate survey to determine the number of children who should undergo voluntary immunization by their family physician or through local schools and health facilities to prevent an increase in the disease.

The move follows a report by a state surveillance team that Essex County remains the lone pocket of high measles incidence in the state. By the end of 1967 there were almost 15 per cent of the number of cases registered the previous year.

A grateful Electric Glassheat user says:

"If you notice the temperature you have the wrong heater"

BETTER SWITCH TO GLASSHEAT

that Glassheat gives—never too hot, never too cold," he continued. "So comfortable in fact you never notice the temperature at all. Regardless of the weather it feels like a sunny day indoors. Imagine—every room sunshine warm all winter long. No drafts, no cold corners, just comfort!"

No wonder Electric Glassheat reminds you of sunshine. It is the only heating system that warms with healthful radiant electric rays exactly like the rays of the sun. And this is true throughout the house for every room has its own money-saving thermostat and heating unit.

You can regulate the temperature of each room exactly as you want it, one quite warm, another cooler. And if a room is unoccupied, turn back the thermostat, close the door and save money!

IT'S HEALTHFUL HEAT TOO!

"We had fewer colds last winter and everyone felt fine" says an owner in Caldwell. This is a common report from owners because Electric Glassheat has no flame to burn up the life-giving oxygen or produce toxic fumes. And the sunshine rays of Glassheat not only produce an even temperature but maintain humidity at the level doctors recommend for good health.

SAVE CLEANING TIME AND MONEY

"No soot, no smoke, no grime. Glassheat is wonderful," writes another user. "Have never seen anything so clean. Saves me hours I used to spend cleaning and painting."

Another says "In 16 years the only room we have had to do over is the kitchen. No need to repaint the other rooms or dry clean our drapes. And our venetian blinds still look fresh and new. That's why so many owners say, 'Install Electric Glassheat and take it easy.'"

SAFE! Electric Glassheat is absolutely fire-safe and can't overheat. No fumes to worry about, and even accidental contact can't cause blistering.

Electric Glassheat is as silent as sunshine and as pleasant, for there are no moving parts. Saves space too for the area usually used by radiators, furnaces and flues is yours for extra living space.

SAVE MONEY ON HEAT! People

admit that Electric Glassheat is tops for comfortable heating. But some feel that it is so ideal it might be too expensive. This is not true—as you will see from these letters describing Glassheat's economy.

One writes, "We installed Glassheat for its greater comfort with the hope that it would be reasonably economical to operate. So we were not prepared for our very low annual heating bills. And since we can now take advantage of this special low heating rate, we save money on our regular current too. And there are no maintenance charges. It all adds up to better heat for less money.

"Though we added two extra rooms" says another owner, "my heating bill is only $175. A pleasant surprise and we have never been so comfortable."

That's the Electric Glassheat story. People install it because of its many advantages—then are delighted to find it is an economy as well.

WHY PAY MORE FOR LESS?

Does Electric Glassheat sound luxurious? It is in every respect but cost. If you would like to know what Electric Glassheat will do for the health, comfort and welfare of your family—and how little it will cost, send the coupon, or phone.

Belleville Clergy Join Together For Unity Week

A service of unity, sponsored by the Christian Churches of Belleville, was held in Saint Peter's Auditorium, William Street, Belleville, recently.

This marked the first time there was a joint service in Belleville.

The sponsoring churches included: Christ Episcopal Church; Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church; Bethany Lutheran Church; Grace Baptist Church; Silver Lake Baptist Church; Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church; Reformed Church of Belleville; Montgomery Presbyterian Church; Little Zion Church; St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church and St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church.

Laymen from the various churches served as lectors, commentators and ushers. The combined choirs of the churches sang. The offering was given to the Church World Service and Catholic Relief Service for the poor of the world.

Reverend Alfred W. Stone, Jr., pastor of Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church delivered the sermon.

More than 800 members representing all churches in Belleville filled the auditorium of St. Peter's Church in Belleville yesterday to join Belleville to join "in common prayer for Christian unity."

The "service of unity" was one of several services scheduled during "ecumenical Week."

Rev. Alfred W. Stone Jr., pastor of Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church, emphasized the common foundation on which the Christian church is built—the Lordship of Jesus Christ, the entrance into the Christian fellowship by Baptism and the historic creeds and prayers of the church such as the Apostle's Creed and the Lord's Prayer.

Stone closed by quoting Pope John XXIII: "Let us open the windows, and let the Holy Spirit cleanse us with the fresh air of the Gospel."

The most Rev. Joseph A. Costello, Auxiliary bishop of Newark and pastor of St. Peter's Church, said:

"I was tremendously pleased to see the interest people showed by coming and joining together in common

Guardino Dies, Belleville Man For 25 Years

A High Mass was offered at St. Peter's Church for Nicholas Guardino of 689 Joralemon Street on January 22. Mr. Guardino, who was 75, died suddenly January 19.

He had resided in Belleville for more than 25 years, coming here from New York.

Surviving him are his wife, Mary Sclafani Guardino; three daughters, Mrs. Anthony Nigro of Belleville, Mrs. William Taylor of Bloomfield, Mrs. Frank Billera of Allentown, Pennsylvania; a son, Leonard Guardino of Middletown and four grandchildren.

Kiernan Funeral Home of 101 Union Avenue, Belleville, handled the funeral arrangements. Interment was at the Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Montclair.

prayer for Christian unity."

Besides the congregational choir, more than 95 members, representing the choirs of all of Belleville's churches, sang anthems.

The offering taken was for the victims of the recent tragic fire on Washington Ave. in Belleville Jan. 12, in which several children perished.

"This is an indication of what we're trying to build for the community," Bishop Costello said. "... a united front of the Christian Churches for the betterment of the community—and concern for the needy and the suffering."

Bishop Costello will be the preacher Thursday at noon at First Baptist Peddie Memorial Church, at the final observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity planned by seven downtown Newark Roman Catholic, Orthodox and Protestant churches.

In another service marking observance of the ecumenical spirit, Msgr. Thomas A. Cunningham preached at St. Peter Claver Church, Montclair, sponsored by the Living Room Dialogue groups of Montclair, an interdenominational group.

Other clergymen participating in last night's service were Msgr. David J. Price, pastor, Host Church; the Rev. Dr. C. Lincoln McGee, pastor, Trinity United Presbyterian; and the Rev. John C. Owens, associate rector, St. Luke's Episcopal.

Msgr. Cunningham is pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, Montclair, and chairman

Joan Sutherland Recital In Newark Is Scheduled

The soprano Joan Sutherland will sing in recital, with her husband Richard Bonyngue at the piano, in a Moe Septee Series concert on February 13, at Newark's Symphony Hall.

The Australian coloratura will be making one of her few appearances this season in the New York area. Her 1966 tour includes performances in New Orleans, Philadelphia, Boston and Seattle, and a gala at the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

The range and beauty of Miss Sutherland's voice have continued to amaze the music public and critics alike since her first appearances in London in the early 1950s.

By 1959 she had reached the top, starring in a Covent Garden, London, production of "Lucia di Lammermoor," revived especially for the singer.

Her American debut was made in 1960 with the Dallas Opera Company in Handel's "Alcina." Said the New York Times on that occasion, "The audience went wild in the full realization that a great new voice has come to America."

After similar experiences in San Francisco, Chicago and once more Dallas, she brought her Lucia to the Metropolitan Opera where her Mad Scene created a demonstration that shook the house.

With her husband, Miss Sutherland has been responsible for a revival during the last decade of the difficult and beautiful art of Bel Canto singing. Among her triumphs in this field have been the operas of Bellini and such neglected Handel masterpieces as "Acis and Galatea" and "Alcina."

Bonyngue, who married the soprano in 1954, has taken part in most of his wife's productions and performances through her brilliant career. Though he most often conducts an orchestra in Miss Sutherland's performances, he will be in familiar territory at the Symphony Hall recital; his early training in his native Sydney, Australia, was in the piano, and he planned to make his career in that field.

The February 13 recital will start at 8:30 p.m. Following Miss Sutherland in the Septee Series will be Antonio and the Ballets de Madrid, on Saturday, Feb. 24.

The motorcycle seat must be permanent and regular and approved by the Director. The cycle must accommodate only the number of passengers for which it was designed.

County Budget Reflects Quadrupling of Welfare

Welfare cases have more than quadrupled in Essex County during the past 8-year period, while outlays have mounted from $1,700,000 to $19,203,430, an increase of more than 1000 percent, it was announced recently. The case load, formerly 3,300 is now 14,900.

The $79,503,823 Essex County budget was adopted in a meeting of the Board of Freeholders, which also heard some encouraging words about aid to reduce costs.

Freeholder Thomas R. Farley, finance committee chairman, said he has received support from two powerful sources in his attempt to get the state to assume the cost of Superior Courts.

Jack Lamping, secretary of the New Jersey State Freeholders Association, said his organization would support Farley's campaign, and asked the freeholder to appear as a witness on Monday before the state Legislature.

Farley said he received assurances also from the State Bar Association that a committee involved in the Superior Court survey would give the freeholders its support in switching costs to the state.

12-Point Increase
In his campaign Farley has noted that it cost Essex County taxpayers $1,450,000 last year to support the Superior Court and wants the state to pay for its own courts.

The new budget involves expenditures that are $11,611,760 more than 1967, and will bring an estimated 12-point increase in county taxes to $1.15 for each $100 of assessed valuation.

After being advertised, the

Local Kiwanis Club Honors Eugene Reilly

Eugene Reilly was honored by the Kiwanis Club of Belleville Saturday night at the Annual Kiwanis Past Presidents' Dinner held at the Fountain Restaurant. Reilly was presented a plaque by John Zepka, a past president, for his outstanding leadership and achievements for the year 1967 when he served as president of this outstanding Kiwanis Club of Belleville.

Reilly, in accepting the plaque said that in looking back that his term as president will be remembered by him as one of the most remarkable and rewarding experiences of his life. He then continued that only by being associated with the caliber of the members in the Belleville Kiwanis Club was it possible to achieve such a feat.

Reilly who heads the Real Estate and Insurance firm of Rose M. Reilly, Belleville was recently installed as president of the Board of Realtors serving Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield and Glen Ridge. Reilly who had been a life long resident of Belleville, now resides in Clifton with his wife Pat and their two daughters and two sons.

New Funeral Home Opening Saturday

"I received a great deal of satisfaction from helping people, particularly in their time of need. We do everything to ease the burden of death. If they come to us we feel that they have faith and confidence in us and we try to justify that faith."

These are the words of Anthony Biondi, conscientious owner and operator of Biondi's Funeral Home at 540 Franklin Avenue. It is scheduled to open February 3, when there will be an open house from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. with the public invited to inspect the premises.

Family Business

Part of Biondi's dedication stems from the fact that he has been closely associated with the operation of the funeral home since he was a child. His father, Alfred Biondi, now deceased, originated a funeral home in Newark around 1940, which he owned and operated until his recent death.

According to Biondi, "my father started me in the business the same way he would have started anybody else. I had to earn his trust and do all the less than pleasant tasks, things like cleaning the embalming room and washing the cars. If my son is interested in the business he will have to start the same way," Biondi adds firmly.

Biondi candidly confesses that it was enormously easier going into the business with his father than it is to start out "new" as he is doing in Nutley.

A graduate of East Side High School, Biondi attended the American Academy of Funeral Service for a year in New York before serving three years apprenticeship prior to obtaining a license.

A Typical Day

Because he feels "obligated to serve," Biondi keeps hours that are, in Mrs. Biondi's words, "very much like those of a doctor." A typical busy day will often start at seven with everything being prepared and gotten ready for a family's arrival at 8 a.m. This is usually followed by a Mass, and then there may be another funeral in the afternoon with visiting hours from 2:5 or 7:10 p.m. If the death occurs at night Biondi is called to take care of the remains.

"You are, more or less, on call 365 days of the year," according to Biondi. He adds "the place must never be left alone, there always has to be someone there." Nevertheless, when there is ample time and there is "a need to get away from it all" Biondi enjoys playing a round or two of golf.

As for the jokes that are often unfairly directed against the funeral profession, Biondi states that he takes them with a "grain of salt." He concludes "I've probably heard them all, they do not bother me any more, it is just people's way of relieving their 'ensions about death."

People Have Many Questions

Biondi believes that people are now accepting death more readily and naturally than they did years ago. "Now, he stated, they call us up. They want to know about airconditioning, parking and carpeting. A few years ago you could open a store front and you were in business."

Besides the funeral home on Franklin Avenue, Biondi is part owner of the Biondi Funeral Home, 287 Jefferson St., Newark, the place originally opened by his father. It is presently operated by Biondi's two sisters, Mrs. Judith Barbetta and Mrs. Marolyn Criscitello. The Home on Franklin Avenue was built by Criscitello Construction Company.

Because Biondi went into the funeral business "not because my father pushed me, but because I enjoyed serving people," he firmly believes that this service to people must be as personal and as family-like "as possible."

Biondi adds, "we try to put ourselves into the position of the people who come to us and treat them" as if they were members of the family.

Business Briefs

Belleville's business district will soon receive a terrific vitamin shot in the form of the new municipal parking facilities, which will be in operation, March.

The city has made arrangements to lease its lot from the Fidelity Union Trust Company, Belleville Avenue and Washington Avenue intersection, in the busiest part of town. The full story appears elsewhere in this issue.

A winner developed in Belleville Merchants' Big Win Contest on the same day that the announcement appeared! A pretty housewife, Mrs. Catherine Schilling, figured out the puzzle and collected $100. The sales - building event is co-sponsored by The Times.

Math, Verbal Skills Review Course Given

The Clarion Review Course, operating in Orange, is accepting registrations from high school juniors who are planning to take the May Scholastic Aptitude Test (S.A.T.) administered by the College Entrance Examination Board. Classes, which are held Saturday mornings or weekday afternoons, are designed to assist students in achieving their maximum potential score on the College Board Examinations in both mathematical and verbal skills.

A. J. Pantazes is course director. Registration forms and additional information may be obtained by calling 992-6070 or 992-6010.

Xmas Promotion is Counted A Success

Thomas Viola, chairman of the Retail Division, Nutley Co. of C. announces that the Christmas promotion was a success. Over 300 pictures were taken of children with Santa and about 800 children visited Santa at his Headquarters. "Although we did not take as many pictures as last year, due to our location not being in the center of town, this promotion was well-received by the public and they were grateful to the sponsors of this program." Mr. Viola said. Many of Santa's visitors were from surrounding towns where they did not have a Santa's Headquarters and the comments were gratifying.

Arthritis Seminar

Patrick J. Little, R. P. of Little's Pharmacy, Nutley, has received specialized training in arthritis detection, the heart of a two-day seminar for area pharmacists which started January 29.

The gathering of prominent scientists and researchers at Grossinger's, N.Y. is jointly sponsored by Rutgers College of Pharmacy and the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association to bring the latest scientific knowledge on arthritis to the community pharmacist.

Parking

ing is not only for the benefit of the merchants, but for the safety and comfort and convenience of every shopper in the town.

More Locations Needed

More locations are under constant study by the Chamber," French said. Belleville has four areas where shops congregate and parking is a problem at every one of them, he added.

In interviews, Belleville's merchants are solidly behind the idea of more and bigger municipal parking, especially since every other municipality in the area has adequate or near-adequate facilities.

Public lethargy has been a large factor in preventing the creation of municipal parking in the past, according to the Chamber spokesman. "Let the merchants do it is the attitude of a lot of people." However, French pointed out that successful businesses help sustain property values, living values and civic pride.

Parking is Vital

"Public parking is absolutely vital to save the street from losing more business to shopping centers and other areas," French concluded.

Lou Tannen, owner of Tannen's Shoe Store, said that it has "hurt the city for years" that shoppers are unable to find quick parking near the stores. People who move away never come back to Belleville to shop, he said, estimating that parking would increase his sales about 25 percent. "If customers could relax about their cars there would be many more purchases. I'd like to see Belleville advance as other cities are advancing."

Aaron Cohen, co-owner of Charles Jewelers, remarked that parking has been a problem "for at least 20 years, and the situation is now critical."

4,000 Signatures Solicited

About 12 years ago many of the local businessmen joined together in the Downtown Washington Merchants' Association. They made up a petition for municipal parking, collected 4,000 signatures, and presented it to the Town Commissioners. However, no action was taken.

A few years ago the town formed an authority to investigate the parking problem, but the authority took no action. A special committee of the Association was formed to plead that the Commissioners expedite matters. Cohen recalls that one Commissioner said, "If the merchants want a parking lot let them supply it."

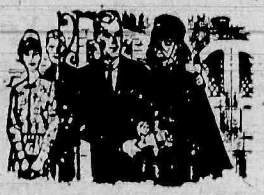

Cohen remarked that he has had almost constant complaints from customers who find no parking near the store. Leo Taubin, owner of Tiber Hardware, is strongly in favor of the lot, even though he has a lot of his own in back of the business. Rivalry among the various business areas of town is one factor that has delayed progress on the lot, Tiber said.

Asked about the possibility of a double lot—half of the lot on each side of the street, Tiber said, "They'll be lucky if they get one side."

One drawback to the arrangement with the Belleville bank is the time-honored habit of shoppers to use the mission — parking their cars bank's facilities without per- and making their purchases up and down Washington street. Since so many are in the habit of doing this, it is an open question to what extent congestion will be relieved by the town's leasing of the lot. One observer said, "This is barely scratching the surface of the parking problem in Belleville."
