Cherry Blossom Festival this Weekend

Art Show and Beauty Contest Highlight Event

A few miles outside of the largest city in the state there are enormous numbers of cherry trees growing throughout a park which borders Belleville and Newark.

These trees and their succulent blossoms have grown to become a source of immense pride and beauty to residents of the community. In winter the trees maintain a sense of grandeur, but in spring their overwhelming pink richness draws thousands of persons from throughout the country who come to Belleville to trek through the park and inspect the beautiful blooms.

Belleville's Pageant March Set Sunday

The annual Cherry Blossom Festival will get underway Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. with a giant parade. The route will start at Greylock Parkway and proceed along Washington Avenue to Williams Street. This promises to be the largest parade so far.

The first division of the parade to be sponsored by the Belleville Jaycees will include the Color Guard, the Belleville Veterans Council, Grand Marshal Congressman Peter Rodino, Belleville's Mayor and Commissioners, Belleville Board of Education, Belleville High School Band, N.J. State Jaycee President Tom Button and local president Emil Brauer, Jaycee float with Miss Cherry Blossom 1967, Judy Bonkowski, a Griffith antique auto, and finally Patricia Belverio a finalist for 1968 Cherry Blossom Queen.

The second division will lead off with the Salaam Temple Motor Corps, followed by the Bugle Corps, Essex County Sheriff's Dept. and finalist Francine Casale.

The third division has the P.J. Mac Donald Association, the St. Columella Pipe Band contributed by the Mac Donald Association, Belleville Cub Scouts, costumed animals, and finalist Constance Cirillo.

The Woodsiders Drum & Bugle Corps, lead the fourth division, followed by Belleville's Boy Scouts, Belleville Kiwanis float, and finalist Carol Cobianni.

Division five has The Schaefer Train, Coral Mummies String Band, Belleville's Girl Scouts, Helping Hand float, and finalist Carol Cornish.

Christ the King Royaleers lead the sixth division, followed by the Belleville Elks, Key-

Emil Senatore Is Hospitalized

Emil Senatore, husband of Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore remains in unfavorable condition at Mount-ainside Hospital, Montclair, after extensive surgical operations recently.

Mrs. Senatore has spent the past few days near the bedside of her husband, while some of her mornings are used briefly distributing the work load for her department.

Senatore has been confined to the hospital for several weeks.

Cherry Blossom Festival

This weekend highlights the annual spring festival of color with the yearly cherry blossom gala, which includes this year, a parade, a beauty pageant and, for the first time, an art festival.

Considerable attention is being placed upon the display of art which will feature the works of not only local and area craftsmen, but internationally known artists as well.

The outdoor exhibit will be held Saturday and Sunday (unless there is rain, in which case the display will be postponed until the next weekend.)

Washington Avenue

The location has been designated to cover Washington Avenue between Mill and Rutgers Street. Judging by the present number of registrants, both sides of the street should be covered with art work.

Judges for the art show will be Han Weingartner, an accomplished New Jersey painter and art teacher, and Gladys Sherman, a local artist and owner of the Treasure Gallery, Belleville. Organizers of the art festival also promise a "surprise guest."

The Belleville art festival will also feature work by many contemporary and international artists including, Chudova, Venessa, Dali, Jack Levine, Stackovsky, Daumier and Levit.

There will be a special exhibition by Paul Rayou, whose new acrylic technique is "setting trends in the art world."

The art festival is being held in honor of two great civic CHERRY BLOSSOM SPECTACLE — Belleville's famous Cherry blossoms, now in radiant bloom, like Branchbrook Park in a riot of color. The blossoms will highlight this year's spring parade and art festival scheduled for the week-end.

Revaluation Workers Now On Mill Street in Belleville

Peter Torre, town tax assessor told Belleville property owners that since Monday, field workers from the Realty Appraisal Co. have been moved to Mill Street, going west Washington Avenue to the Union Avenue and north from Nutley line.

"Word of caution to all taxpayers, please do not admit anyone to your home claiming to be representative of the Realty Appraisal Co. unless they furnish documentary proof duly authorized by Belleville officials," Torre said.

Deadline for Nutley and Belleville artists has been set for tomorrow.

Belleville Commissioners Name Allan H. Crisp Official Historian

Allan H. Crisp was named the town's official historian by the Board of Commissioners at its recent meeting.

Mayor Kenneth D. Smith applauded Crisp for being instrumental in the founding of the Belleville Historical Society in 1963. He continues to serve as president of that organization.

"Crisp is a lifetime resident and responsible civic leader serving faithfully in the interest of a better Belleville," Mayor Smith said.

Crisp periodically writes a historical column for the Belleville Times.

A resident who lives at 238

New St., Crisp is a native of Belleville whose family settled here in 1830. He attended Belleville schools, graduating from Belleville High School in 1928. In 1939 he received a Certificate in Business Administration from Rutgers University.

Prior to its reorganization as the McGraw-Edison Company, Crisp was assistant treasurer of Thomas A. Edison, Incorporated, in West Orange. He is now affiliated with the Community Relations Division of the Jewish Community Council of Essex County.

An active leader in civic affairs, he is president of the Belleville Historical Society and a member of the Belleville Foundation, served as chairman of the Citizens' School Building Advisory Committee, and served as campaign chairman for Belleville's first United Fund campaign in 1953.

He is a former member of the board of directors and chairman of the Finance Committee of the Newark Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In April, 1964, he received a Distinguished Service Award from the Belleville Education

ALLAN H. CRISP

Association "in recognition of a sustaining interest in and contribution to public education."

He is a member of the Official Board, Church Historian and a Lay Speaker of Wesley Methodist Church in Belleville and was an active worker with the youth of the church for many years.

Crisp and his wife, artist Nancy Crisp, have one son, Robert, a mathematician, who lives at home.

Phone Strike Irritates Local Residents

UNIFORM DONATION — The Belleville Little League upon hearing that the South Ward Little League of Newark was in need of uniforms contacted Herbert Calloway, president of the South Ward's league. They told him that the Belleville Little League would donate more than 200 uniforms, since Belleville is planning to purchase new uniforms. Above Commissioner Michael V. Marotti of the Belleville Little League presents one of the donated uniforms to Herbert Calloway, the South Ward's Little League president.

Since the telephone strike began Belleville residents are beginning to realize how much of a role their telephones play in day to day living.

And the situation may grow worse if a settlement isn't reached between two unions and the phone company as they bargain over wage increases. The unions struck the phone company beginning this week. The result has been an inconvenience for residents seeking telephone information and those who would want to make calls which require the assistance of an operator.

Mrs. Marilyn Amatiucci, of Overlook Avenue, Belleville, was one resident who had difficulties.

"I especially wanted to call my mother person to person to see how she had enjoyed her Easter holidays. Since we see so little of each other, I tried several times to place the call and was told by the operator that unless the call was an emergency she couldn't put it through."

One elderly shut-in whose only contact with his family had been the telephone, said for the first time "I really felt alone. I have always lived alone but with the telephone I always maintained communication with my family even though they were far off. I certainly hope these strikers stop fiddling around and end this nonsense."

Voters Must Register Before Thursday Here

Next Thursday is the final day to register to vote in the primary election.

It is also the deadline for those filing county committee petitions. No petitions will be accepted past 4 p.m. on that date, according to Eugene Barnett, town clerk.

Barnett's office will be open to receive petitions and to register voters daily Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Special evening hours will be available Monday through Thursday from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Marcinak Gets Pru Promotion

Edward F. Marcinak, 7 Carpenter Terrace, Belleville, has been promoted by the Prudential Insurance Co. to group insurance consultant at Newark.

Marcinak joined the company in 1954 and advanced through several positions in the group department to assistant contract consultant.

He earned a bachelor's degree from Georgetown University in 1948.

Belleville Students Will Send Paper to Soldiers

News from home is so important to Belleville boys in Vietnam. They are intensely interested in what is happening in the community, in local organizations and in the school system.

A group of sophomore students at Belleville High School, realizing this desire to remain informed, is producing a school newspaper which they plan to distribute to boys in Southeast Asia.

"It's a worthwhile project and an admirable undertaking," Raymond Smith, high school principal, commented.

"And the new paper should become an educational link between the community and the school."

The students are faced with one major problem. They do not have a complete list of servicemen in Vietnam.

Smith recommended that parents of servicemen now involved in the Viet conflict write or call the high school to place their sons' names on the subscription list.

A tightwad is a man who refuses to spend his money as other people want him to spend it.

The danger in ignorance is that so many people have it without the least suspecting it.

IN CONGRESS, July 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one People to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

... We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, in the superstitious reverence for the Constitutions of former ages, would only serve to bring down the long train of our Imperial and Tyranny upon this Nation. — We therefore the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress assembled, solemnly publish and declare, that these United States are, and of Right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection with them is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as Free, independent and sovereign States, they have full power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, enter into Commercials, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of Right do.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and seals the day and date above written.

How to make your own Declaration of Independence

Independence for yourself and your family is a wonderful goal. Some people achieve it through luck... others reach it through unusual talent or business ability. But most people get there through careful, consistent saving... at a profit.

You can get on Easy Street with a Savings Account at DeWitt. For instance, if you save $50.00 a month beginning at age 40, you'll have a bundle in excess of $28,000 by age 65. That's independence!

Our Real Estate Tax Load

The local real estate tax burden arises from several factors—the school board budget, the county budget, the town hall budget, and the available taxable ratables.

The Town Commission is extremely limited in means it can take to effect savings in the operation and maintenance of necessary community services. It can do as private industry does, mechanize and reduce the payrolls. The search for reduction in number of paid employees should begin now — months before consideration of a new budget.

However, the most important means available to the Town Commission to hold down our tax burden is tax ratables. The higher the ratables the lower the tax burden — with one provision, new ratables must keep to a minimum the number of children added to our school rolls.

We believe a citizens' committee should be appointed to study and propose ways and means by which new and profitable ratables can be attracted to Belleville. In this direction lies our salvation from a future, oppressive tax burden.

"Organization" GOP Smears

Under dateline of March 7th — on a letterhead bearing NO ADDRESS — a group brazenly calling itself the "ESSEX COUNTY REPUBLICAN PARTY, pretending to speak for all Republicans living in the county, sent a message to Republican County committee members attempting to smear Nutley's Robert Citrino.

The names of the persons appearing under the message are easily identifiable — flunkies for the mystery man who controls the GOP County chairmanship through his "sit-in", Newark's William F. Yeomans.

"ORGANIZATION REPUBLICAN" is a dirty word in Essex County today. The leaders of the Nutley branch of the Newark-based Yeomans faction of the Republican Party traditionally have opposed Mr. Yeomans and the motley crew around him.

No self-respecting Republican wishes to tolerate a leadership whose hard core decision makers include persons who have been

A. subject of an Essex County Grand Jury Presentment.

B. convicted of a Federal crime. (record later expunged.)

C. convicted and served time in prison for an election fraud.

Is this a GOP leadership of which any decent Republican could be proud? Or want to follow? Or want to associate with?

Society permits — and necessarily so — rehabilitation of persons convicted of crimes. We are happy when this transformation takes place. But — is the Republican Party in Nutley and Essex County so barren of good men that we must suffer this kind of peerless leadership at the top? We don't think so.

The single issue which divides the soiled leadership of the "ORGANIZATION REPUBLICANS" and REFORM REPUBLICANS is PARTY INTEGRITY.

REFORM REPUBLICANS believe the party should not tolerate a leadership whose prime movers include records of a Grand Jury presentment, conviction of a Federal crime, and conviction of a vote fraud.

It is only the YEOMANS' MERCENARIES who aggressively seek to perpetuate this tainted leadership. It is the YEOMANS' MERCENARIES who engineered the foul-smelling deal with a Democrat Freeholder which witnessed the reorganization of the Freeholder Board January 2nd.

The Yeomans' Mercenaries are trying to divert the people's attention from the principal issue by creating a straw man to attack. They accuse Robert Citrino of being a "defector." They accuse Citrino of embarking upon a "diabolical venture." They accuse Citrino of issuing "baseless threats."

Young Mr. Citrino has spent a lifetime in Nutley. He serves as Town Attorney to the Nutley Board of Commissioners.

Citrino bears an illustrious family name, intimately involved with the growth and development of Nutley for the past four decades. His late father, Dr. Robert Citrino, served as Town Physician for more than a quarter of a century. Both the late Dr. Citrino, and his widow, Mrs. Ann Citrino, were constantly engaged in civic activity. As American citizens they viewed community efforts not only as a civic duty but also as an opportunity to "help thy neighbor."

The late Dr. Citrino was a one-man civic organization, "forgetting" to collect fees from patients who were up against it.

For the son to follow in his prominent father's civic footsteps was a natural thing to do. The late Dr. Citrino was dedicated to the Republican Party. Year after year Dr. Citrino worked for the Republican Party at the precinct level. He asked nothing in return.

Now comes his son, an attorney, Robert J. Citrino. At his father's knee he learned the reasons why he should be a Republican.

And so today, Robert J. Citrino has made his mark in the Republican Party. He has his dedicated followers and his unbending detractors. But who, in politics, doesn't have a measure of both?

Citrino is ambitious. Since when is ambition a crime? Or is it so only for a Citrino? Despite his ambitions, Citrino turned down an opportunity to become a member of the New Jersey Judicial system.

Citrino is not the perfect man. He has faults. At times he is not what one would call "diplomatic." At times his judgment is subject to the whims of impetuosity.

But — Citrino is an honest man with a "houndstooth" record. His loyalty to the Republican Party has stood the test of time.

Citrino is not seeking the leadership of anything.

The "Organization" element of the Republican Party wants to make Citrino a Primary Election issue. Its members should stop the smears and debate the real and only issue of the campaign — the soiled, crime-stained leadership which exercises great influence over Newark's Republican leader, William Yeomans, the present occupant of the County GOP Chairmanship.

Posthumous honors were bestowed on John M. Hoar, who was the first Belleville resident killed in the fighting in Vietnam.

John Phelan of Newark was given a six-month suspended jail sentence for shop lifting $4.54 worth of meat from the Shop Rite, and indiscreetly taking barbiturates.

The anti-pigeon man, Dr. George Ram discovered that the actions he was taking against pigeon owners Robert Thaler, and Michael De Pasquale was being reported in the Times and he wasn't too happy about it for it meant bad publicity.

5 YEARS AGO

The Woman's Club banded together to aid Gilbert Sherman, a Sunday school teacher, and Rutgers University student, in making a trip to French West Africa. With the help of four other students he hoped to complete the building of a school for the native children as a part of the organization Operation Crossroads Africa.

Belleville planned a four-day Cherry Blossom Festival. Highlights were parades, sales, prizes — including a Ford supplied by Mead Ford, and a beauty show to choose Miss Cherry Blossom from the eleven finalists who displayed their talents in bathing suits and evening gowns.

Fire badly damaged a four-family apartment house on Easter Sunday when debris in the back yard started burning. Patrolman John Donnelly ran through the house banging on the doors to warn the residents, but all were out making Easter visits. Four fire trucks rushed to the scene at the first alarm, though it had only been described as a brush fire. The four families spent the rest of the night with friends and relatives.

10 YEARS AGO

Reverend Peter Deckenback announced his plans to retire at a special parish meeting. This marked the end of thirty-four years of service to the community and the church. Bishop Leland Stark of the Newark Diocese was the guest speaker, and George Miller, Senior Warden of the Christ Church Vestry officiated at the meeting. Deckenback attended Orange High School, received his Arts degree from Bard College and completed his theological education at the General Seminary of New York.

The Hoyer Products plant made known its desire to move to Pennsylvania. They had failed to arrange for financing of a new factory in New Jersey, they decided to relocate in the State Belt of Pennsylvania where the Pennsylvania Industrial Associates underwrote the cost of the purchase. One fourth of their laborers were Belleville residents.

15 YEARS AGO

A great deal of controversy arose over the site of the proposed new high school. The board of education had chosen the area in which the school now stands because of its proximity to the football field and because of its relative cheapness in comparison to the area on Division Avenue and Joram Street which was quite a bit more expensive because of its more central location and the quality of the earth. The place where the school now stands was a bog but the architect Emil A. Schmidlin assured all concerned that the unreliability of the land could be compensated for.

Firemen Cornelius Finn of William Street and William Flynn of Stephens St. joined the Belleville Fire Department together on April 4th 1928, and served for twenty-five years until April of '53 when both retired at the same time. It seems, that Finn was a remarkable man indeed, for he fought fires with a distinct lack of concern for his personal safety, and yet never suffered an injury. Considering his daring and skill, and the dangers of his profession, it seems that he led a charmed life.

20 YEARS AGO

The Ancient Order of Hibernians planned a party at which contests in Square and Irish dancing would be held. This also marked the establishment of a Ladies Auxiliary into which 28 women from Nutley and Belleville were installed.

Rev. John I. Daniel spoke to the parishioners of Wesley Methodist Church about the Palestine crisis and then possible demise of the UN. He pointed out the advancements made by the Israelis in the short time they were in Palestine, despite Arab aggression. He showed photographs of the Grand Mufti, leader of the Palestine Arabs' conferring with Adolph Hitler, and pointed out that the two had spent the war years in close collaboration. At the time he was urging action to be taken by the UN to guard the partition in the provisions of the charter, for otherwise the UN would be relegated to the position of a debating hall, and would pass out of existence as a weak attempt at world peace.

Masino Says Commission Creates High Tax Rate

To The Editor:

I have sat back and watched the beautiful Public Relation activities of our Belleville Town Commissioners with wonder! Not only have they saddled the Town with the largest one year tax increase in memory, but they have succeeded in blaming the Board of Education for this increase.

However, the Editorial appearing in the Belleville Times - News is the last straw. It suggested a clinic for critics of the Budget so that they may be better informed. I would suggest that the clinic be held for news reporters so that they would know the truth when confronted with the facts. There were four newspapers represented at the Budget hearing. I doubt that even one reporter had studied the Budget prior to the meeting.

The facts are that the Town Government's portion of the tax increase is $629,600, while the school increase is $43,900. This one year town increase is greater than the total increase in town taxes during the five year Council - Manager government. (I will supply figures upon request.)

The reason why the above facts were not readily apparent to the news media is due to a change in bookkeeping procedures. In prior years the Business Personal Property Tax was subtracted from the local tax needed before the real estate property tax rate was calculated. This year the equivalent Business Personal Property Tax was used to offset the Commissioners' own expenses. The effect of this bookkeeping transaction is to deny the school, county and veteran's portion of the tax any relief with the income from the Business Tax.

To compare this year's budget with last year's budget remains that the figures be stated in the same manner. The town portion of the tax increase, therefore, is not $95,400 but $729,500. The difference of $634,200 is the amount of the Business Tax used to offset local expenses.

Another point to note is that expenses under the control of the Town Commissioners have increased 11.5 per cent. If, as the Mayor stated, this increase does not reflect an increase in salaries, we can only conclude that a large number of people have been added to the town payroll.

Very truly yours,
Joseph A. Masino

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

Woman's Club of Belleville Reviews Its Accomplishments of Past Season At Spring Conference in Lyndhurst

The accomplishments of the Woman's Club of Belleville for the club year 1978-1968 were summarized by President Mrs. Richard A. Shafter in a short report at the Spring Conference of the Eighth District of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Club at the Lyndhurst Holiday Inn April 17th.

The highlight of the club year was the burning of the clubhouse mortgage in October 1967. Support given to the Recreation department, the local free public library, Clara Maass Hospital, fire victims, the American Cancer Society and the American Red Cross as well as cooperation in projects of the Veterans' Council and contributions to the Kevin Roberts Fund are avenues which were supported in Belleville by the members of the organization.

The gift to the town of the memorial flagpole and flag in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the club's organization, the collection of funds for the boathouse construction project plus the volunteer hours served in the Essex County Children's Shelter and the Geriatric wards at Soho hospital all were ways taken by the club women to come to community involvement.

Mrs. Frederick W. Ziebell, Eighth District Vice President was the presiding officer. Mrs. Robert Citrino of Nutley who completes a two year term as Eighth District civic and legislation chairman led the pledge of allegiance. The major address given by the president of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, Miss Geraldine V. Brown, was on the subject of taking time for all things, a quotation from the Club Women's Collect, an integral part of every federation activity.

Attending from the Belleville club were Mrs. Ernest C. Reock, Mrs. Douglas Clark, Mrs. David Parry, Mrs. Ludwig Pesa, Mrs. William R. Kropp and Mrs. Shafter.

Mrs. Walter Halfman of Chatham, vice-president, announced the program for the day, which was an informative talk entitled "Ivy League Admissions - Special Problems and Opportunities," given by James F. Manning, director of admissions and college placement at Newark Academy.

A hospitality hour preceded the meeting. Mrs. Charles W. Scott, hospitality chairman, was assisted by her co-chairman, Mrs. C. William Drake, both of Short Hills.

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

Roche Exhibits Walter Bodmer's Paintings, Sculptures and Reliefs

Painter-sculptor Walter Bodmer has been a name in the news around the Nutley-Belleville area recently. The distinguished Swiss artist is holding an exhibition of wire reliefs and paintings at Hoffmann-La Roche through May 3, and one of his works was presented to the Nutley firm to hang in a newly opened administrative building.

Walter Bodmer, who was born in Basel on the 12th of August 1903, is the creator of the two great iron reliefs, one of which hangs in the entrance hall of a large office building of F. Hoffmann - La Roche & Co., Ltd. in Basel, and the other in the new administration building of Hoffmann-La Roche Inc. in Nutley, (architects Lundquist and Stonehill).

Like Le Corbusier and Giacometti, Hans Erni and Max Bill, Jean Tinguely and Bernhard Luginbuhl, Walter Bodmer belongs to the small group of Swiss artists whose work has found international acclaim beyond the frontiers of this small country in the heart of Europe. This is not the first time that Walter Bodmer's work has appeared in the United States, but the unveiling of this iron relief in Nutley is the occasion of his first large retrospective exhibition here.

In it the many-faceted creativity of this outstanding painter and sculptor, who has developed his own unmistakable tone in the many-voiced concert of styles, can be seen as a whole.

Abstract Painter

Like others of his generation, such as the Russian Serge Poliakoff and the Portuguese Vieira da Silva, both of whom live and work in Paris, Walter Bodmer — a Basler living in Basel — was relatively late in turning to abstraction.

Following his four years' training in the Polytechnic (Gewerbeschule) in Basel (1919-23) Bodmer entered a first phase of dark-toned expressive painting tending towards surrealism, when he was markedly under the influence — then so strong in Basel — of the expressionist work of Eduard Munch and K. L. Kirchner. Then, in 1933, came the confrontation with the work of Georges Braque in a large exhibition in the Kunsthalle in Basel, which was decisive for Bodmer's development.

Painted on Tiles

Characteristically, it was those of Braque's works from the later, already more synthesizing phase of cubism, which inspired the Basel painter, then in his thirties, and encouraged him to paint abstract pictures — 'figures.' He painted them not on canvas, but on a rougher more primitive base, small reddish brown tiles. Bodmer did not merely continue what he had experienced through Braque, but made his own new start. Nor did his way lead to the beautiful, highly cultivated 'peinture' which Braque had developed; far more it led away from the picture's surface into the depths: it enclosed space. The colors of earth, mud and clay dominate the pictures of the thirties, from which the first three-dimensional conceptions arose in gentle yet decided lines.

Improvisation

It was characteristic of these first abstract pictures that they were enclosed in a broad frame — one glimpses another phantastic world as through a door — and that they could be called 'Improvisation' like the one painted in 1936. Bodmer had not yet taken the last step into these visionary rooms. He was still standing outside the door, still 'improvising.'

Only after he had really built this transparent dream-vision — also in 1936 — did he take this decisive step, did this new world become reality. From thin soft wires which can knot around each other, from steps and stairways, straight lines and curves, arise in rhythmic composition the delicate, airy, three-dimensional structures, which as befits such poetic creations, repose in themselves yet open in all directions — hover in that same great space which they share with us.

Not only the first wire relief, but also the first small wire sculpture appeared in 1936. Both still have something of the magic of newness, of the trying out of a new material in the service of a new, youthful and dynamic, musical and rhythmic language of design.

In these first wire sculptures the curves are still not exact, the lines not quite straight, and the joints imperfect, but with these first works Walter Bodmer had already produced the language of form which he needed in order to make these three-dimensional creations of rhythmical movement not merely visible, but a world to be physically experienced. It is obvious that, despite their technical material, Bodmer's wire reliefs and sculptures, and therefore also the later great wrought iron reliefs, have nothing to do with the technical world, that they are not manufactured but built up intuitively one piece after another, by the artist. Nevertheless it must be expressly stated, since the misapprehension still often arises that an artist who uses steel or iron as the raw material for his sculptures is primarily concerned with expressing his attitude, either positive or negative, towards our present-day 'technological world' that he wants to deploy its very essence or else to hold it up to ridicule. None of this applies to Bodmer. Just as Alexander Calder's Mobiles have no direct connections with our technical world so are Walter Bodmer's wire sculptures not of a technical character.

Geologist

There is another field — and one which was also illuminating for his art — in which Walter Bodmer has been passionately and knowledgeably active, right up to the present time. Even as a small boy, he was fascinated by the forms of life that have been preserved over millions of years in the form of fossils. Still, from time to time, he sets forth with his geological hammer to seek these wonderful forms of life under the surface of the earth. During the war years he even made the remarkable find of a fossilized sea cow which is now one of the most important exhibits in the paleontological collection of the Basel Museum of Natural History.

Walter Bodmer, who is a man of few words, only says of this hobby that it fascinates and relaxes him, but in the depths of his soul it is closely bound up with his art, is made clear in his pictures.

Interdependent Forms

In the early years the pictures and the wire reliefs are interdependent — in both Bodmer is concerned with his archetonic vision of space and the play of figures in movement (as in Combattimento) — but in the course of time the two ways of expression become independent of one another. In their differences they complement each other.

Whereas the wire reliefs and sculptures develop into the perfectly controlled free play of dynamically directed lines of force — even the base is no longer indispensable — Bodmer's paintings become concentrated into a paleontological penetration of the depths of many-layered areas of color. Bodmer opens up new space again in penetrating and partially uncovering layer after layer, and finally, in the depths, setting free the essence of life depicted in line and color. Titles like 'found on the same level', 'Stratigraphically clear' and 'Just uncovered' are reserved and briefly-given indications of this.

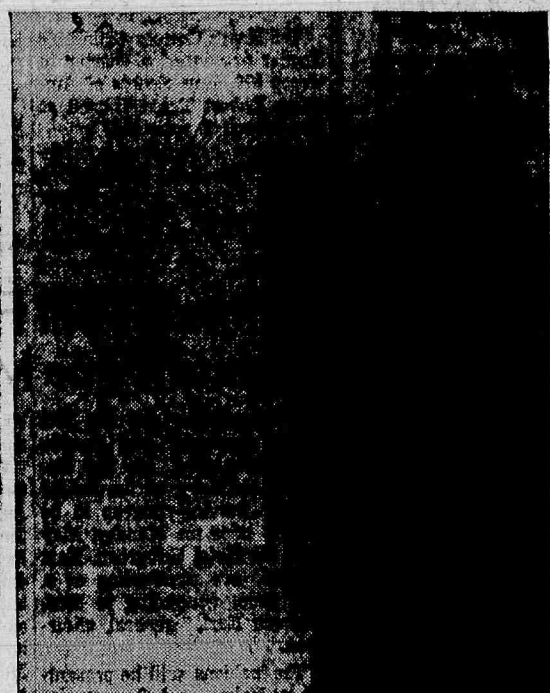

LANGUAGE OF FORM — Walter Bodmer, noted Swiss artist, explains some of the dynamics of his sculpture to Pat Fanelli, social editor. Bodmer's art is bold and visionary. It opens up new forms, conceptions of space, and width of direction, all with amazing creative force. Bodmer, himself, always fascinated with various forms of life, is a geologist and the probing nature of that advocacy is often reflected in Bodmer's work. One of his works will be hung in Hoffmann-La Roche's newly opened administrative building.

tists, had to struggle to develop the style and technique for which he is noted, always experimenting and improvising to achieve the more perfect artistic expression.

STUDIED CONCENTRATION — This man looks intently at one of the multi-dimensional metal reliefs, the work of painter-sculptor Walter Bodmer. They are on display from now until May 3 and they express creative use of lines and forms and direction.

New Tax Deposit System Ends Receipts

Businessmen should be sure to use the new tax deposit forms for 1968 deposits of withheld income and social security taxes, certain excise taxes and railroad retirement taxes, Joseph M. Shotz, District Director for New Jersey, said.

Deposits of corporate and corporate estimated income taxes should also continue to be made with the new forms.

These forms are part of the new Federal tax deposit system which provides a more accurate and economical means of credit tax deposits to the businessman's tax account through use of proper forms for the respective types of tax.

Belleville Crew Beats St. Augustine; To Host Atlantic City Team Saturday

Belleville's Varsity oarsmen opened their 1968 season in fine style, beating St. Augustine High School by a healthy margin last week. Belleville's crew team this Saturday will host Atlantic City High School beginning at 11:30 a.m. As Belleville's varsity shell slipped away from the docks to begin its 1/4 mile glide to the starting line, during its

Spectators wondered whether he was nervous, or simply thinking about the four weeks of practice sessions which preceded the meet with St. Augustine, the Belleville team's first official race this season.

Lally's thoughts probably raced back to March 16, when after a two week delay, his crews were finally able to hit the water. Maybe he was thinking of those double sessions on Saturdays and the additional Sunday practices too.

But the point is, the work sessions paid off for Belleville's crew squad. At least as far as the opening game was concerned.

Coach Lally probably recalled the daily excursions up to Wallington and the time his varsity defeated a fresh JV crew after rowing 20 miles to Newark Bay.

He has seen every mile his varsity eight has rowed — from their spectacular 4:54 to a dismal 6:38. Lally's pre-Augustine game thoughts were, no doubt, filled with the hopes that his team would maintain its consistent 5:10.

St. Augustine was the visiting crew, having traveled from the Atlantic City area to compete in its second race. The team had previously beaten Atlantic City High School, Belleville's opponent this Saturday.

Belleville figured Holy Spirit to be tough since the team trained with the National Schoolboy Championship crew. But Belleville's attitude was still very high. They were not to let four weeks of hard work slip by them.

The race well underway, starting out with 45 strokes per minute, Belleville had about a half length lead on its opponent. Rowing with a body of 38 strokes, they increased this lead until at the finish, four boat lengths separated Belleville and St. Augustine.

Conditions were far from ideal, but Belleville's time against a strong tide was a respectable 5:30 to St. Augustine's 5:47.

Charles Wodehouse Named Head of United Fund Drive

Charles J. O. Wodehouse, vice president of New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., has been named general chairman of the Essex - West Hudson United Community Fund drive.

He replaces J. Kenneth Loloian, vice president and general manager of New Jersey Bell's metropolitan area who left Newark to assume new duties with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., in New York on April 1.

The appointment was announced by Arch Blickenstaff, United Community Fund president.

In his first official act, Wodehouse announced that this year the fund drive will set a precedent by having two goals. He described them as a "need" goal and a "minimum" goal.

"Our minimum goal is $4,000,000 but we're going to try to surpass that by $500,000," Wodehouse said. "We're aiming high because the United Community Fund needs have never been fully met and this year they are greater than ever before. We have carefully budgeted the needs of our 115 member agencies, and find that to deal effectively with the major problems of our area we should realize $4,500,000. We have reorganized our approach to campaigning so that the community has the opportunity to respond generously and help us achieve our goal."

"We are hopeful," the chairman said, "that every one in the campaign area will give his 'Fair Share' in the 1968 drive." "Fair Share" is described by the chairman as one-half of one per cent of basic salary.

Wodehouse said that 1968 is a critical year in the development of this area as a major metropolitan force. "We are on the verge of a new era of growth. But community development and growth is more than new building projects. It must involve the people of the community, and this is where the UCF plays a vital role. Its basic concern is for the needs of the people, and if our community is to go forward, the UCF must succeed."

Wodehouse is a member of the State Chamber of Commerce, the Governor's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, and a member of the Northeastern Regional Labor.

He is also actively involved in the Newark Chamber of Commerce and the city's hospital development fund.

Dentists to Schedule Oral Cancer Exam

The dentists of Essex County are scheduling a free mouth examination at seven hospitals in Essex County April 28, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Teachers are having youngsters draw posters and bringing home messages to parents; teachers and other school officials have posters prominently displayed in schools to publicize the free screening.

Town fathers may declare Oral Cancer Detection Day, April 28.

Hospital officials may also post the fact that the examinations are scheduled. Health officers and others may be instrumental in carrying the word to others.

The Essex County Chapter, American Cancer Society, reports that oral cancer is responsible for about 6,000 deaths annually. Oral cancer, however, possesses the potential for a high survival rate if diagnosed early.

The oral examination, open to males and females over the age of 10, will take about five to 10 minutes each, and is painless. The examinations will be made in the following hospitals: St. Barnabas, Old Short Hills Road, Livingston; Newark Beth Israel, 201 Lyons Avenue, Newark; Newark City Hospital, Bergen Avenue, Newark; Orange Memorial, 188 South Essex Avenue, Orange; St. Michael's, 306 High Street, Newark; Clara Maass, Franklin Avenue, Belleville; and Mountinside, Bay Avenue, Montclair.

The program is sponsored by the Essex County Dental Society, Dr. Mervin Eisenberg, president, Dr. S. Stephen Rafael of East Orange, will direct the free screening.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

The unusually warm Easter weekend weather gave us a pretty good idea how close we are to the summer days with heat and humidity. We received several calls about air-conditioners right away.

No too long ago air conditioning was considered to be a luxury, except perhaps by people who had a heart condition, hay fever or other allergies and respiratory problems. Many of these people bought air conditioners on doctor's advice.

If you plan to buy an air conditioner this year to make life more comfortable and for the benefit of your health, now is the time to buy it, while pre-season prices are in effect. In case you would want to change your heating arrangement, you would call somebody who knows about heating. It is amazing how many people seem to become experts when it comes to cooling, only to find out later that they selected the wrong unit. Avoid headaches, and call somebody who knows about air conditioning.

We will be glad to advise you on your needs. There is no charge for this service and you are under no obligation whatsoever.

We service what we sell.

Belleville Crew Races Atlantic City Saturday Morning

Library Week Proclaimed
By Governor R.J. Hughes

New Jersey's observance of National Library Week, April 21 - 27, was proclaimed today by Gov. Richard J. Hughes.

In his proclamation, the Governor urged all citizens, libraries, schools, civic organizations, newspapers and radio and television stations in New Jersey to observe the week with appropriate means.

He was making this request, he said, "so that all people may be made more fully aware of library services as well as of the needs and plans for library development in our state."

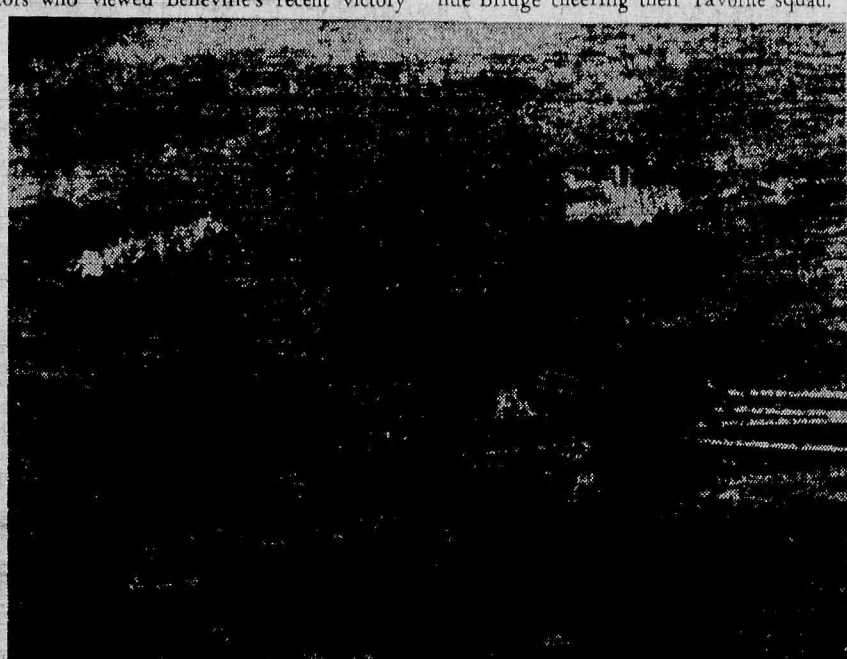

CREW SPECTATORS — The docks below the tri-community crew boat-house are lined with spectators who viewed Belleville's recent victory over St. Augustine's varsity team. Others stood on the Belleville Avenue Bridge cheering their favorite squad.

Taste is unimportant. Children have swallowed lye, gasoline, ammonia, ant poison, bleach, lighter fuel, worm medicine, deodorants, shampoo, alcohol, paint, fertilizer, plant foods, glues, cements and every type of medicine.
Underestimating the risk is the real cause of child poisoning. Adults must protect them by keeping every danger safely out of their reach and access. Give the children a break. It is up to all adults to make it impossible for children to touch anything dangerous.

Take All Deductions, Urges Tax Expert, When Filing Returns

My car expenses are high because I get only 8 to 10 miles per gallon, the businessman assured the Internal Revenue auditor. Later, as the IRS man watched from his window, the taxpayer drove off — in a Volkswagen!

The great truth that the businessman learned when his phone rang soon after was that it pays to be honest with Uncle Sam. Pay him what he's due without cheating him, or yourself.

According to Glendon R. Kemling, eastern regional director, H & R Block, America's largest income tax service, many motorists miss opportunities to save honestly on their taxes by not taking advantage of all that the tax laws allow. Individuals and businessmen can deduct a great many auto expenses.

For example, taxpayers often fail to calculate and deduct their state gasoline tax. How do you do it? The best way is to keep the gas receipts and deduct the actual amount of tax paid per gallon.

What about auto license fees? License fees are not deductible on Federal tax returns, but they may be deducted on many state returns. And if you bought a new car last year," said Kemling, "don't forget that the state sales tax is deductible — as is state use tax where applicable if you bought the car out of state."

Can an individual deduct auto expense for going to and from work? Not from home to office. But if you leave one job to go directly to another — if you happen to be "moonlighting" for example — you can take 10 cents per mile.

WE'RE PROUD of the finest sandwich in Belleville — 1/4 pound steak smothered in fried peppers and onions for only 75c.

Good food, generous portions, cleanest grills and serving equipment and fast friendly service, are making a great reputation for this restaurant at 750 Washington Avenue, Belleville (across from the Public Service Garage). Many home-made Italian dishes are served throughout the day: stuffed shells, baked macaroni, veal or sausage with peppers and veal parmigiana. And the coffee is truly exceptional. It is the pride and joy of City Line Lunch. It is made by a new and remarkable "Pour-Omatic" process. An exclusive blend of coffee is used and it yields a mellow, full bodied cup with never a bitter taste. Many customers prefer it black with no sugar that's the test of a real good cup of coffee.

All the dishes prepared by City Line Lunch can be "taken-out." They are packed in special heat-retaining re-usable aluminum containers. City Line has the most convenient hours, daily from 5 in the morning to 6 in the evening and Sundays from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Sam (The Hawk) Russo of Nutley, a local celebrity says, "I've eaten in many restaurants in my time and since Andy and Tony have taken over City Line Lunch I eat there everyday, including Sundays and I'm not even a free loading relative."

Legal Counsel
For Draftees
Now Suggested

Senator Edward V. Long (D-Mo.) has introduced a bill to permit draftees to have a lawyer-of-their-choice in appearances before draft boards.

Long said that he had only recently learned in a public hearing that Selective Service regulations "do not provide that a draftee can appear with counsel. To the contrary, the regulations flatly prohibit the presence of the draftee's lawyer," Long said.

"When the young man has been called before his draft board," Long asserted, "there is perhaps no greater time when that young man might need the assistance of counsel.
Yet, at that very moment, the regulations of the System itself specifically prohibit such counsel."

Long added, "It should be made perfectly clear that the legislation is not in support of 'doves' or 'hawks'; both have the same rights and they must be protected under the Constitution."

Long was joined by Senators Ernest Gruening (Alaska) and Philip Hart (Michigan) in introduction of the bill.
Hearings will begin in Washington on May 16th, with Selective Service Chief, General
Lewis Hershey, as the first witness.

Hampton P. Abney, of the Newark Academy faculty, directed the Drama Club production. In the technical details he was assisted by club members and the students of the Creative Dramatic Arts group.

Black Power and White Suburbs Belleville Council Seminar Topic

The Community Service Council of Belleville will hold its annual meeting and election of officers on May 6th, at the Galaxy on Franklin Avenue.

John J. Gibbons, president of the New Jersey State Bar Association, will speak on "Commission Reports: Black Power and White Suburbs", an "interesting, and vitally important subject to everyone today," Gibbons, a member of the law firm of Crummy, Gibbons, and O'Neill, was born in Newark but grew up in Belleville.

He is presently a member of the Board of the Cerebral Palsy Center, a graduate of Harvard Law School, he is on the faculty of Seton Hall Law School.

Gibbons is an active lecturer on topics concerning the practice of law and business and comes to the annual council meeting "highly recommended" having also served as a member of the Governor's Select Commission on Civil Disorders, and the New Jersey Council Against Crime.

Among those present at this meeting, it is expected that Bert Hunter, former secretary of the Council and now with the Health and Welfare Council of Greater Philadelphia, will attend. Dr. George A. Tapper, professor at Rutgers University and director of the Community Services Bureau, and Mrs. Ethel Kahn, director of the Fort Lee Adult Education Program and a member of the Rutgers Bureau, have also been invited. Dr. Tapper and Mrs. Kahn have been active in advising the Belleville Council in its plans for developing the community goals program of self-study to be undertaken later this year by leaders and residents of the town.

Richard B. Morgen, Chairman of the Council, reports that in addition to the planning for this community goals program, the Council has been working toward an after-school child care program.

Mrs. Pat Diana, Thomas Cassels, of the Family Service Bureau, and a committee, had been making plans for the daily care of children from first grade through sixth, from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. for mothers who find it necessary to work outside their homes.

It is hoped that such a project will take shape and the committee is still working on details in the hope of putting it into effect.

In addition to these projects, the council has heard reports from the Essex County Legal Services Center, Camp Ro - Li, Belleville Family Service Bureau on counseling, the North Essex Child Guidance Clinic, and the Community Nursing Services, by their respective directors or other personnel.
