Miss Belleville Named: Carol Ann Cornish Wins

Shapely, blond, blue-eyed and vivacious Carol Jean Cornish today proudly wears the prestigious Miss Belleville 1968 crown.

Picked at the climax of the Annual Belleville Cherry Blossom Festival Saturday evening, the local high school honor student received the crown and royal robes in an emotion packed ceremony before a record audience of about 1,000 persons.

She received the title from curvacious, extroverted Judith Bonkowski, last year's honored Belleville queen, who is currently a senior at Belleville High School. After presenting the crown Miss Bonkowski impulsively hugged the joyous new queen.

SECOND PLACE

Winner of second place was willowy Patricia Eileen May, a Belleville High School Junior, who intends to become a teacher in elementary education. She missed first place by only a few points in extremely close voting by the judging panel. Miss May will assume the royal mantle if the new queen should have to withdraw from her duties because of illness or other untoward reason.

Beautiful, slim-legged Christine Mertz became a princess of the realm when she was named as third place winner. Again only a very few points separated her from the crown.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The new queen, who received the first place prize of a $500 college scholarship plans to use it to attend Newark State Teachers College, where she will work toward a B. of education degree. The money came from a continuing Miss Belleville scholarship fund raised and maintained by the Belleville Jaycees, the affair's sponsoring agency.

The service organization presented the second place winner with a $250 scholarship. Miss May intends to use it to help cover first year expenses next year.

Winner of the third place $125 scholarship was Miss Mertz. Miss Mertz is attending Essex County Adult Technical School. She hopes to obtain a degree at Rutgers later.

TOUGH SELECTION

According to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Breckenridge, this year's pageant directors, the 10 finalists were selected by interview with a committee composed of Belleville Jaycees and their wives: "... and because of the number and very high calibre of the entrants, it was a most difficult selection." This year's festival produced the largest number of entrants in festival history.

The 10 finalists were:

Kathleen Hinton
Jo Ann Cozzarelli
Christine Mertz
Carol Cobianni
Carol Cornish
Edna Jean Nixon
Patricia Belverio
Francine Casale
Patricia May
Constance Cirillo

Like the winners, all the entrants were judged by standard Miss America rules and professional judges. The scoring was in three categories: Swimsuit appearance, evening gown appearance and talent.

MISS AMERICA?

According to the rules of the Miss Belleville Contest, the winner is eligible to become a contestant for the Miss New Jersey title and possibly progress to the Miss America contest next year.

MISS BELLEVILLE — Carol Ann Cornish immediately after receiving her crown at Saturday's wind-up of the annual Miss Belleville Pageant. Carol Ann will use her $500 scholarship to attend Newark State Teachers' College.

Republicans and Democrats File for June Primary Election

A total of 52 Democrats and an even 100 Republican political activists have filed petitions as candidates for the June 14 primary elections to fill a total of 96 Belleville committee slots in both party's organizations.

Both the Republicans and the Democrats will name two persons to fill two vacancies in each of 12 districts in both of Belleville's two wards. This means each party will fill 48 vacancies.

Automatic Election

The identities of most of the Democratic committeemen and committee women are foregone conclusions. Only 5 of the 48 districts are contended. They are District One of Ward One and Districts, One, Two, Five and Six of Ward Two.

It's a much different story in the Republican committee race. The unusually high number of Republicans running directly reflects the party infighting resulting from the still unhealed split between the regular Republican Party Organization and the strongly energized Reform Republican group. The latter pretty well swept the recent state elections.

Small Problems

The only internal party problems with which the Democrats must deal are comprised of three small splinter groups no one is taking too seriously at the present time.

District Two of Ward Two has two hopefuls running on a No-Spot-Zoning-In-The-Valley plank and District Six of Ward Two has two hopefuls running: one on a Service-For-All-People plank and the other on a Preston Street For Play Area ticket.

William Cavanaugh, 391 Cortlandt St. and Eleanor Marinelli, 86 Little St. and the No-Spot-Zoning-In-The-Valley candidates in contention with Natale Faronea, 425 Cortlandt St. and Rose Zoppa, 342 Stephen St. Both Faronea and Zoppa are Regular Democrats.

The Service-For-All-People candidate is Joseph Fornarotto, 523 Union Ave. Preston Street For Play Area candidate is Elora Nicosia, 40 Preston St.

CAKE CUTTING — With the grace and dignity that she has communicated to the Girl Scouts under her charge, Mrs. Edna Verhagen prepares to slice the cake presented to her earlier in the evening by her scouting associates in honor of 40 years she devoted to Belleville scouting. Belleville Revaluation 15 Per Cent Complete Belleville's recently court ordered real property re-evaluation today stands at approximately 10 to 15 per cent completed, according to Tax Assessor Peter Torre.

"I believe that we are nicely on schedule and we're pleased with both the work being done by Realty Appraisal Co. and with the wonderful cooperation of our Belleville property owners," Torre stated.

Presently the company representatives are working in the Washington Avenue-Union Avenue area north from Mill St. Present expectations are that the re-evaluations will be completed within the 1969 deadline mandated by the state Superior Court. The re-evaluation must be placed upon the local tax rolls no later than the beginning of 1969.

It is the mission of the Realty Appraisal Co. to establish the current values of all Belleville real property so that all property will be assessed equally.

In order to properly assess property, a complete inspection of both the interior and the exterior is necessary. In certain circumstances, where income producing property is involved, a statement showing income and expense, date and cost of acquisition and other necessary information will be required.

New Local Library Rules Established

Regulations establishing criteria for libraries (including Belleville) receiving funds under the State Library Aid Act were approved today by the State Board of Education.

The regulations are designed to help enforce certain library laws, such as requiring certification of librarians holding professional positions, and to provide guidelines for the expenditure of state and local tax dollars.

The law, originally passed in 1959 and revised a year ago, provided $2.9 million in aid to local and area libraries last year.

Aid is provided on a per capita basis, by contract and by grant. Public and county libraries which apply for help receive money on per capita basis. Contractual arrangements are made with certain libraries agreeing to provide area or research services. Grants are given for co-operative library projects.

The new rules call for the establishment of boards of trustees by Jan. 1, 1972, and set minimal requirements for numbers of employees, volumes and periodicals and hours open per week. The requirements vary according to the population in the area from which the library receives tax support.

Statistics for 1966 show that over half of the libraries in the state meet or exceed all of the requirements in the new Rules and Regulations.

A series of eight regional workshops on the new regulations will be held throughout the state during May. Every library has this opportunity to send one representative to the designated meeting. At this time the Rules and Regulations will be explained in detail, with opportunity for questions and discussion by the participants.

Assessor Torre urges cooperation and assistance in permitting authorized and properly identified company representatives to make the required inspections. Each representative carries complete identification. "Under no circumstances allow any person into your home unless he presents identification," Torre urged.

The identification is in the form of a letter signed by Mayor Kenneth Smith and attested by Town Clerk Eugene Barnett.

Torre commented that there has been some confusion about what home owners should do when they find a notice from the appraisal company slipped under their door. Actually this is merely a notification that the appraiser has visited the property and found no one at home. Persons receiving such notices should immediately call the company and arrange an appointment, according to Torre.

Walking or jogging is not good for anyone on the Garden State Parkway.

The New Jersey Highway Authority, operators of the Parkway, today took note of increasing pedestrian perils on the 173-mile road and urged motorists to stay put in their cars — disabled or not — for surer safety.

Future Belleville High Graduates Face Difficulty Entering College

The Department of Higher Education today issued a news letter declaring that New Jersey will need 83,000 additional by 1975 "if we are to meet our responsibilities to our youth."

The illustrated newsletter says the state's higher education crisis will continue and worsen "unless the people of New Jersey make a massive investment now" in new college facilities.

In calling for immediate action, the newsletter notes that it takes up to four years from the time funds become available to open a new facility. Higher Education Chancellor Ralph A. Duncan said the newsletter was issued to alert the public to the needs in advance of the Board of Higher Education's facilities plan, which is to be released shortly.

The facilities plan will cite specific needs for graduate and medical school spaces as well as for undergraduate spaces and will contain cost estimates.

"It is absolutely essential," Chancellor Duncan said, "that the public has as much background information as possible on the crisis in higher education. "As the newsletter points out, our college students of the coming decade are already in our elementary and secondary schools. In the years ahead, they will be seeking college opportunities in increasing numbers. It is our responsibility to be ready for them."

One illustration in the newsletter shows that the number New Jersey college students will increase from 139,700 today to an estimated 220,000 in 1975.

The newsletter notes that currently 75,000 or 54 per cent of New Jersey's students — or nearly six out of 10 — are attending out-of-state institutions. Only Alaska exports a higher percentage.

The newsletter also cites the high cost of a college education to New Jersey students, who, according to a conservative estimate, pay an average of $400 a year more in tuition and fees alone than students from other states. The New Jersey average cost is higher because so many New Jersey students attend out-of-state institutions, where they must pay room, board, and travel costs as well as higher tuition. "Many of our young men and women, because they cannot afford to go out-of-state, are denied college opportunities, and out-of-state doors are closing even on those who can afford the rising cost," the newsletter states.

It quotes a national report (issued by the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges) listing New Jersey first among the seven states that are having the hardest time finding college spaces for their youth.

"One thing is clear," the Department's newsletter says, "other states will not do for us what we should be doing for ourselves."

The newsletter also contains charts showing that while New Jersey is seventh richest in per capita personal income it spends less per capita on higher education than any other state and taxes at a lower percentage than almost any other state.

"The time has come to file away the studies of the past and get to work on the plans for the future, transforming them into classroom buildings, libraries, laboratories, and other facilities," the newsletter declares.

"In December 1965" the newsletter continues, "the Citizens Committee for Higher Education issued 'A Call to Action.' Now, almost three years later, this is the time for action."

Copies of the newsletter and of the upcoming facilities plan of the Board of Higher Education (when released) may be obtained by writing to the New Jersey Department of Higher Education, 225 West State Street, Trenton, New Jersey 08625.

Garden State Ballet Schedules Free Show

Garden State Ballet director Fred Daniell has announced the date of Sunday, May 26th, 3:00 p.m. for the Spring Concert of the Newark based professional troupe in the Theatre for the Performing Arts on the campus of Newark State College in Union, New Jersey.

Climaxing, the program will be performances of the new ballets that have been added to the Garden State Ballet repertory this season—commissioned under the company's grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

The beautiful "Cinderella Waltz" costumed by New York designer Stanley Simmons was created by choreographer Harry Asmus to the music of Prokofiev. The ballet received critical acclaim at its Symphony Hall premiere last November in conjunction with the Garden State Ballet's gala Cinderella Ball.

"Pas de Six" also commissioned under the arts council grant was choreographed by Utah Ballet director William Christensen to Nicolai's "Merry Wives of Windsor Overture."

Two works of world renowned New York City Ballet director George Balanchine will be performed by the Garden State Ballet that afternoon. The delightful "Stars and Stripes Pas de Deux" set to Hersy Kay's arrangement of popular marches by John Philip Sousa and three movements of Balanchine's masterpiece "Symphonie in G."

Completing the May 26th program will be the revival of modern dance choreographer Norman Walker's contemporary work "11 x 11" first created for the Garden State Ballet in 1961 to the music of Ned Rorem.

Mrs. Joseph H. Lerner of South Orange, president of the Garden State Ballet Foundation, has announced that a free performance of the ballet program will be presented for the students of Newark State College on the preceding evening. The student performance is to be sponsored by the Garden State Ballet Foundation in collaboration with Newark State College.

Soloists in the Garden State Ballet are Judith Panzer, Christine Redpath, Rosalini Ricci, Judith Shoaff, Lynda Yurth, John Gardner, Charles Neal, Robert Raimondo, Wilfred Schuman and Bill Martin-Viscount.

The hard work of some people often explains their success.

Future Belleville High Graduates Face Difficulty Entering College

The Department of Higher Education today issued a news letter declaring that New Jersey will need 83,000 additional by 1975 "if we are to meet our responsibilities to our youth."

The illustrated newsletter says the state's higher education crisis will continue and worsen "unless the people of New Jersey make a massive investment now" in new college facilities.

In calling for immediate action, the newsletter notes that it takes up to four years from the time funds become available to open a new facility.

Higher Education Chancellor Ralph A. Dungan said the newsletter was issued to alert the public to the needs in advance of the Board of Higher Education's facilities plan, which is to be released shortly.

The facilities plan will cite specific needs for graduate and medical school spaces as well as for undergraduate spaces and will contain cost estimates.

"It is absolutely essential," Chancellor Dungan said, "that the public has as much background information as possible

on the crisis in higher education. "As the newsletter points out, our college students of the coming decade are already in our elementary and secondary schools. In the years ahead, they will be seeking college opportunities in increasing numbers. It is our responsibility to be ready for them."

One illustration in the newsletter shows that the number New Jersey college students will increase from 139,700 today to an estimated 220,000 in 1975.

The newsletter notes that currently 75,000 or 54 per cent of New Jersey's students — or nearly six out of 10 — are attending out-of-state institutions. Only Alaska exports a higher percentage.

The newsletter also cites the high cost of a college education to New Jersey students, who, according to a conservative estimate, pay an average of $400 a year more in tuition and fees alone than students from other states. The New Jersey average cost is higher because so many New Jersey students attend out-of-state institutions, where they must pay room, board, and travel costs as well as higher tuition.

"Many of our young men and women, because they cannot afford to go out-of-state, are denied college opportunities, and out-of-state doors are closing even on those who can afford the rising cost," the newsletter states.

It quotes a national report (issued by the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges) listing New Jersey first among the seven states that are having the hardest time finding college spaces for their youth.

"One thing is clear," the Department's newsletter says, "other states will not do for us what we should be doing for ourselves."

The newsletter also contains charts showing that while New Jersey is seventh richest in per capita personal income it spends less per capita on higher education than any other state and taxes at a lower percentage than almost any other state.

"The time has come to file away the studies of the past and get to work on the plans for the future, transforming them into classroom buildings, libraries, laboratories, and other facilities," the newsletter declares.

"In December 1965," the newsletter continues, "the Citizens Committee for Higher Education issued 'A Call to Action.' Now, almost three years later, this is the time for action."

Copies of the newsletter and of the upcoming facilities plan of the Board of Higher Education (when released) may be obtained by writing to the New Jersey Department of Higher Education, 225 West State Street, Trenton, New Jersey 08625.

Garden State Ballet Schedules Free Show

Garden State Ballet director Fred Danielli has announced the date of Sunday, May 26th, 3:00 p.m. for the Spring Concert of the Newark based professional troupe in the Theatre for the Performing Arts on the campus of Newark State College in Union, New Jersey.

Climaxing, the program will be performances of the new ballets that have been added to the Garden State Ballet repertory this season—commissioned under the company's grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

The beautiful "Cinderella Waltz" costumed by New York designer Stanley Simmons was created by choreographer Harry Asmus to the music of Prokofiev. The ballet received critical acclaim at its Symphony Hall premiere last November in conjunction with the Garden State Ballet's gala Cinderella Ball.

"Pas de Six" also commissioned under the arts council grant was choreographed by Utah Ballet director William Christensen to Nicolai's "Merry Wives of Windsor Overture."

Two works of world renowned New York City Ballet director George Balanchine will be performed by the Garden State Ballet that afternoon. The delightful "Stars and Stripes Pas de Deux" set to Hersy Kay's arrangement of popular marches by John Philip Sousa and three movements of Balanchine's masterpiece "Symphonie in G."

Completing the May 26th program will be the revival of modern dance choreographer Norman Walker's contemporary work "11 x 11" first created for the Garden State Ballet in 1961 to the music of Ned Rorem.

Mrs. Joseph H. Lerner of South Orange, president of the Garden State Ballet Foundation, has announced that a free performance of the ballet program will be presented for the students of Newark State College on the preceding evening. The student performance is to be sponsored by the Garden State Ballet Foundation in collaboration with Newark State College.

Soloists in the Garden State Ballet are Judith Panzer, Christine Redpath, Rosalini Ricci, Judith Shoaff, Lynda Younith, John Gardner, Charles Neal, Robert Raimondo, Wilfred Schuman and Bill Martin-Viscount.

The hard work of some people often explains their success.

Disgrace At Columbia University

During the past two weeks the TV screen has brought into our living rooms, college campus scenes that are simply unbelievable.

Unlawful seizure of college buildings by students tests the patience of many Americans. The action represented unarmed insurrection — an act of anarchy.

The police should have been summoned at the very outset of the protest. What fools we must appear to be to TV audiences in Moscow, Peking, Tokyo. When we are unable to obtain the respect of kids at home what are we to expect from diplomats on foreign soil?

Frank A. Orechio

Cost of the War is Gaining

One of the realizations which prompted Senator Robert Kennedy to enter the race for the Democratic Presidential nomination was the conclusion that the cost of the Vietnam war is far out of proportion to what can be gained in expanded military activity there.

The New Hampshire primary was the catalyst, of course, which catapulted Kennedy into the race; he had long been against LBJ's Vietnam policy, of course, but until the New Hampshire primary didn't think his opposition could be used as a successful vehicle on which to ride to power.

The major theme of Kennedy and Senator Eugene McCarthy is that the war is too high for what the American people can get out of it. First, there is the cost to the nation in terms of damage to the dollar and the national economy. Inflation is already a threat. Interest rates are at record levels. For the first time in more than thirty years the government can no longer redeem dollars in gold on the world's free gold markets. Money for domestic programs is unavailable because so much is being sent to Vietnam to fight the war. Casualties are rising alarmingly.

Taxes are being hiked to pay for the enormous cost of the war. The budget is again to be heavily in the red (where it has been ever since the late President Kennedy was elected.) Such fiscal policies have reduced confidence in Washington's determination and ability to cope responsibly with money problems. This is causing U.S. businesses overseas various problems.

For meeting all these demands and paying these heavy costs the American people are far from certain they are to achieve a lasting gain. And unless President Johnson is successful in concluding the war soon, the theme — which is convincing more and more Americans steadily according to the polls — is certain to be a major factor at the party conventions and in the voting in November.

Air-Conditioned Cars are Overpriced

One in the bag of tricks of automobile manufacturers is the overcharge on so-called extras. This process began after World War II, when price control was enforced by the OPA and dealers were limited by the government in prices they were allowed to charge. (At that time long pent-up demand for new cars would otherwise have forced prices up sharply.)

To get around this then, dealers and manufacturers did two things (among others). They allowed buyers very little for trade-ins, making a high profit reselling the trade-in. And they charged high prices for extras — and extras came to include many things which would normally have been standard equipment or improvements.

The charge for automobile air-conditioning has always been a flagrant example of over-pricing. Even today one must usually pay $400 or $500 for air-conditioning a car.

Since air-conditioning is rapidly becoming a necessity, especially in more southerly areas of the nation, it's to be hoped that, eventually, the consumer will be offered air-conditioning and other extras at a logical figure.

Retiring the National Debt

The public debt — the money the federal government has borrowed from banks and other lenders — has now reached a total of more than 350 billions. It has risen steadily in recent years as the nation fought a war and spent more each year doing that and enlarging social services than it collected in taxes.

Because the cost of carrying such a debt is subtle, some fail to realize how much the nation is spending each year just paying interest on this debt. The cost currently is running more than twenty billions, or more than the entire budget was only a few decades ago.

For these twenty billions, collected in large part by the International Revenue Service, the taxpayer receives no service. He receives no protection or benefit of any kind. Only the money lenders get their interest on this debt, representing the borrowing of this and former Washington administrations.

The interest on the national debt today consumes a major share of the national budget, now well over 100 billions. Unless the nation begins to operate in the black, and very soon, and unless interest rates are lowered, the interest burden can deprive citizens of various benefits and services, and can threaten the stability of the economy and the dollar itself. In short, it is a time for political courage among leaders of both major parties, the courage to speak bluntly to all Americans of the necessity to begin to spend within the nation's means.

Young Voters Say Their Independent

A recent Gallup Poll indicates younger voters today affiliate less frequently with one of the major political parties and are more inclined to consider themselves independent — voting for the candidates, not the parties.

This is a significant turn in the nation's political evolution and might presage a realignment of political parties, a process which has occurred several times since the founding of the republic. It might also be a trend which will later be reversed.

Nevertheless, it would seem a healthy trend in an age when too many political machines and political leaders demand loyalty to the party at all costs. The average American voter should be able to think for himself and act in behalf of his personal views, if majority rule is to work to maximum effectiveness.

Political, labor, religious and other organizations, when they are capable of telling followers how to vote, constitute an influence opposite to that of majority rule, for a leader's mistake can be translated into many, negating the safety of majority rule, the axiom about politicians not being able to fool the majority all of the time.

Inciting Riots Outgrowth of Tragedy

Leaders of various action groups in the United States have become open in their appeals to fellow citizens for violence in recent years. Since the tragic assassination of Martin Luther King Jr., they have become even more bold.

Some have been quoted as calling upon their followers to resort to arms. There can be little doubt that this is tantamount to a call for insurrection or, at least, inciting riot.

Politicians are traditionally timid about curbing minority leaders; many government officials and government agencies have exhibited extreme caution in moving against such leaders even when they openly call for a resort to arms and violence. It is almost certain such appeals have already produced considerable violence, destruction and loss of life.

It is also obvious that law enforcement authorities cannot allow any group to seize upon a tragedy, a protest march, or a group demand, to run amuck and destroy life and property.

Seems Only Yesterday

ONE YEAR AGO

After weeks of secrecy and indecision, the Board of Education finally decided on their new football coach, the hard driving John N. Amabile.

Congressman Peter W. Rodino took legislative action against certain unfair naturalization laws which applies unnecessary pressure and hardship on applicants for citizenship. This was a direct result of the vague alienation against one member of a family, which was ready for citizenship.

The YMCA sponsored an afternoon of lunch and conversation for its members. The highlight of the day was an award to be made to the woman who made the best spring salad.

5 YEARS AGO

Sixteen-year-old Bruce Jackson — a newspaper boy, found 73-year-old Mary Wolf lying helpless in the foyer of her apartment. She was in critical condition suffering from internal bleeding. The boy had heard cries for help coming from her apartment while he was making collections, so he called police from a neighbor's home.

Rutgers evening students were honored during a college day awards dinner held in New Brunswick. The awards made for leadership in student activities were given to Barbara Hogan, and Ila Moore.

Three veteran police officers received promotions. They were Lt. Harry F. Tepe, advanced to Captain, Sgt. Frank D. Haight — to Lieutenant, and Detective John J. Dean to sergeant.

10 YEARS AGO

Connie Francis visited Belleville High and performed at two assemblies. Miss Francis made her visit memorable by singing some of her hit songs to her receptive audience. She was graduated from Belleville High only three years before her performance.

St. Peter's School children received awards for jungles written by them for the Petrean's then current show, "In Our Town." The awards were given at a matinee performance.

Kenneth Smith spoke out in favor of obtaining better street lighting, as a result of complaints of residents who had been having trouble seeing in the dark, instead of suggesting that Belleville was going blind. The Commissioner said "... some of our lights seem to go back to Thomas Edison." Smith then added that there was plenty of money, that all that was needed was a little effort in the right direction.

15 YEARS AGO

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters at the Board of Commissioners meeting in the Council Chambers of the Town Hall, read into the record a prepared statement in answer to charges by Eugene J. Kelly, Board of Education president, that Waters was behind the TIMES in his thinking.

The ordinance to set up an off street parking area in the vicinity of the Town Hall passed first reading at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners, but it faced trouble ahead because of opposition from Waters who was joined in a statement with Hyde which reserved the right to vote against the ordinance on a second reading. The measure sponsored by Mayor James J. Tully needed the affirmative vote of at least four of the five commissioners for passage.

Mrs. F. N. Garder fell out of a third floor window while shaking out a bedspread. She dropped the cloth and attempted to retrieve it. She landed on her feet, and broke her ankles and cracked her pelvis. She was 68.

20 YEARS AGO

Two Belleville High School seniors were selected for the all state chorus. The two were Harriet Ryer, a first soprano, and Eric Sheard a second tenor.

Charles J. Tuozzola was elected commander of the St. Joan of Arc post 209 Catholic War Veterans at the Holy Family Church. He succeeded Harry Di Giovanna, who resigned. Upon taking office the commander promised a concentrated membership drive.

Former Governor Harold G. Hoffman completed revising and modernizing the ritual of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics which had been used for 22 years before.

Speak Up

More on Tax Rate's Cost to Belleville

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to Commissioner McGreevy's article on page one of the May 3rd Belleville Times - News entitled "McGreevy Answers Charges About 1968 Municipal Budget."

First of all it is interesting to note that Commissioner McGreevy reads the Newark Ledger. He and that newspaper both misspelled Mr. Joseph Masino's name in identical fashion. It is not "Josepy-Mesina".

Second, I am 38 years old, Caucasian, a Presbyterian, a Republican, a father, a chemist, a personal friend of Joe Masino, an American citizen, an advocate of the Council-Manager form of government, a critic of the total Belleville Municipal budget for 1968, and an interested tax payer. As Mr. McGreevy well knows, only the latter two qualifications have anything to do with the subject at hand, i.e. the total Belleville Municipal budget for 1968!

Will Mr. McGreevy simply answer the following two questions about the total Municipal budget yes or no?

1. Are Belleville taxpayers being asked to pay $634,203 an additional 1968 tax rate increase of 37 points in addition to a rate increase of 28 points due to budget increases by the

2. If so, isn't 57 percent of the 65 point rate increase in fact that the $634,203 is needed to balance the total Municipal budget?

No one has ever accused Commissioner McGreevy of doing anything illegal. Questions have been asked ever since it was announced by Mayor Smith that Belleville taxpayers might be faced with an 107 point tax increase in 1968. The controversial leaflet that was mailed by the Town Government to each home addressed to "occupant" really started the problem. It was the missing data in this leaflet that led this writer to state that there appears to be a loss of $13 million in assessed evaluation in Belleville in 1968. The Budget was advertised after this statement was made and Mr. McGreevy knows that this is a fact because he was reminded of this fact at a Town Meeting Public Hearing.

The number of needed 1968 tax dollars has been juggled at various levels, but why has the 37 point rate increase or $634,203 burden to the taxpayers always been part of the total 1968 Municipal budget without explanation to these taxpayers?

Sincerely yours,
William Y. Riedel, Jr.

Annual Water Color Exhibit Held At Montclair Museum

A reception given at the Montclair Art Museum last Sunday afternoon for some sixty artists and their guests marked the opening of the exhibition of the New Jersey Water Color Society. It is the eleventh invitational exhibition of the Society to be held at the Museum.

Now in its third decade, the New Jersey Water Color Society includes in its membership many of the outstanding artists of the state. Their work in the current exhibition provides a sampling of the great diversity of style and techniques characteristic of contemporary watercolor painting. While the majority of the paintings are of transparent watercolors, a considerable number are done in opaque paints or in a combination of transparent and opaque. Here synthetic paints are often used. The dry brush technique is seen frequently as is the use of ink and wash. At least one of the paintings combines watercolor with collage. Traditional subjects are frequent but there is no dearth of abstract, contemporary style. The exhibition continues through June 16.

Gets Highway Contract

Franklin Contracting Co., Little Falls, has been awarded a $5,679,634.77 contract to construct a one-half mile segment of Interstate Route 280 and portions of its connectors with the proposed Route 75 Freeway in Newark, the Department of Transportation announced today.

Franklin Contracting Co. was the lowest of three bidders on March 21. Bids were originally scheduled Feb. 1 but none received and the project was re-advertised.

The work, to be performed between Humboldt and First Streets, calls for grading, incidental paving, construction of retaining walls and four bridges which will carry local streets over the depressed interstate route. A collector road also is to be built on the south side of Route 280 in the seven-block area between Roseville Avenue and First Street. The work is scheduled for completion Dec. 1, 1969.

On March 20, Franklin Contracting Co., was awarded a $9,736,295.82 contract for construction of a one-mile segment of I-280 from Grove Street, East Orange, to Humboldt Street, Newark, immediately west of the project covered by the contract awarded to that concern today.

UNICEF Program Nets $185,454 from Holiday

New Jersey children have done it again! Last Halloween they increased their contributions through Trick or Treat for UNICEF program. The figures have just been released.

The $185,454.03 which New Jersey boys and girls collected for UNICEF, represents an increase of 15.94 percent over last year. By their diligence and thoughtfulness for the children of the world, they have kept New Jersey's outstanding record as one of only five States in the entire nation which has never lowered its gift to UNICEF.

The lucky man is the one who forgets his bad luck.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS IN SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT

Let's Improve Our Hearing

BETTER HEARING — Mrs. Amelia Frati of 130 Daniel Avenue, Rutherford, was a guest of Governor Richard J. Hughes, April 9, when he proclaimed May as "Better Hearing Month." Mrs. Frati is the owner of South Bergen Hearing Aid Center and Nutley Hearing Aid Center and Treasurer of the New Jersey Hearing Aid Dealers Association. She was commended for her service to the hard of hearing and was presented with the proclamation.

Disabled Persons Paid Social Security Benefits — Benefits being paid to disabled people and their dependents were increased at least 13 percent by the recent amendments, as were benefits to retired people and their dependents and to the survivors of workers who had died. Benefit increases in future years can be even larger than those made by the new law. This is because future benefits can be based on earnings up to $7,800 a year, instead of on $6,600 as in the past. Within a few years, this change will have an especially important effect on the beneficiaries of younger workers who become disabled. For example, consider a worker who is 33 in 1968 and who has had maximum earnings for social security purposes since 1961 and continues to have them. If he becomes disabled in 1975, at age 40, he could receive a monthly benefit of $192. If he were married and had two children, his family could receive an additional $206.40, for a total monthly payment of $398.40.

Hadassah Seeks Help For Center

From May 15 through May 22, members of the Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Hadassah will participate in both communities holding canisters for contributions. All monies received will be used for cancer research at the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center in Jerusalem.

Hadassah's creed of "healing, teaching and research" is constantly growing and developing now as it has done for the past fifty years. The Medical Center includes a teaching hospital with some 600 beds; diagnostic and research laboratories; a separate Mother and Child Pavilion for maternity and infant care; an Out-patient Department capable of handling 250,000 patient visits annually; the Henrietta Szold-Hadassah School of Nursing; The Hebrew University-Hadassah Medical School, Dental School; the John F. Kennedy Building, Hadassah's Memorial to the late President of the United States; and a Synagogue, which houses the famed stained-glass windows Marc Chagall created for Hadassah.

Medical research and healing are dynamic projects and the need to provide maximum facilities and equipment for these projects of mercy is urgent. To quote Mrs. Irving Blank, president of the Belleville-Nutley Chapter, "Hadassah is unequivocally committed to meeting that need."

New Products At Convention

Nutley will be well represented at the 37th annual convention for Merle Norman cosmetic specialists, to be held at the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D.C., May 12 thru 16.

Attending will be Mrs. Claire Brayne, manager of the Merle Norman Studio, 361 Franklin Avenue, Nutley; Mrs. Jean Rasp and her husband Leroy; Miss Alice Crowe; and Mrs. Roscoe Smith, owner of the Nutley, Bloomfield and Newark studios.

The latest news of the cosmetics world will be discussed in meetings and seminars with Merle Norman herself to be a speaker. Innovations and new products are high on the interest list, and our area representatives expect to return with many new ideas.

EGYPT
In 322 B.C., Alexander the Great conquered Egypt, and the Greek culture was superimposed on the land of the pharaohs. This marked the end of the 3,000-year old Egyptian civilization which had produced pyramids, sphinxes, temples, irrigation works, art and literature.

Egypt's past remained locked in mystery until Napoleon's occupation in 1798 when a soldier uncovered the Rosetta Stone—the key to the lost hieroglyphic writing. Inscribed in both Greek and hieroglyphics, it was deciphered by Jean Champollion in 1822.

One of the most spectacular feats in modern times was completed last year when the Abu-Simbel temples of Ramesses II and his wife were raised—block by block—200 feet above water level to make way for the Aswan Dam. For the fascinating story of Egypt from past to present, see Life magazine's special seven-part series beginning in the April 5 issue.

U. S. Coast Guard Notes Bad Navigational Lights

The U.S. Coast Guard has been noting with concern the increasing number of navigational light deficiencies on old and newly constructed boats.

Listed below are some of the more common lighting mistakes.

1. Many people are incorrectly mounting the red and green sidelights on the curved parts of the bows.
2. Mariners are often using the frosted glass globe lens for improper purposes.
3. The 20 Point White Light and the 32 Point Stern Light are often being carried off the centerline and often are not high enough to be seen.

Department of Public Affairs, under the direction of J. Richard Bevinetto, M.D., local Health Officer, is marshalling the action of the entire community to help wipe out the dread disease Poliomyelitis.

Freedom from clinical Poliomyelitis is directly related to vaccine distribution among children in all segments of society.

Extensive immunization against Poliomyelitis remains the most practical approach to avoiding Poliomyelitis outbreaks.

Dr. Bevinetto strongly urges the parents to examine the immunization need of their children with respect to Polio and take advantage of our Free Oral Poliomyelitis Vaccine Program that will be held on May 21, 1968 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. and May 24, 1968 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the Belleville Health Department, 64 Belleville Avenue.

PRESENTATION — Mrs. Howard C. Goering, Girl Scout district adviser, (left) hands Mrs. Edna Verhagen her 40-year pin. Mrs. Verhagen first joined the Girl Scouts in 1928. Her leadership as president of the Leaders Club and of the Belleville Council of Scouts was instrumental in raising over $17,000, when the Belleville cabin burned.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS — Mayor Kenneth Smith gives Mrs. Edna

Verhagen a resolution passed by the Belleville Board of Commissioners of officially expressing the gratitude of the people of Belleville. With Mrs. Verhagen are her son, Edward and her daughter, Mrs. John Graves.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS — Speaking before an audience of Girl Scout leaders Mayor Kenneth Smith praised Mrs. Edna Verhagen for her contributions, not only to the scouting movement, but also to the community of Belleville. Seated is 17-year-old, Edward Verhagen, Mrs. Verhagen's son.

A Belleville Girl Scout Leader, Mrs. Andrew Verhagen, with over 40 years of active service not only to the scouting organization but to all of Belleville received a standing ovation at the Annual Girl Scout Recognition Dinner this week.

She received the Better Belleville Cup, awarded by the Belleville TIMES for her efforts to make Belleville a better place in which to live. The cup has been awarded to only eight persons in the past 16 months.

The presentation automatically places Mrs. Verhagen in nomination for the title of Better Belleville resident of the year. The title will be awarded latter in the year by a group composed of business, religious and civic leaders. The cup is not awarded to public figures or politicians, but rather to private citizens putting forward unpaid volunteer effort.

A 40 year scouting pin was presented the leader by Mrs. Margaret Goering, district advisor of the Greater Essex Council. Mrs. H. Motachi was chairman of the affair.

The dinner was opened by a welcome to the guests from the chairman, followed by an invocation by Mrs. Goering. Mrs. B. Gomulinski led the toast to the guest of honor, Mrs. Andrew Verhagen.

district chairman of Belleville.

Receiving five-year pins were: Miss D. Minker, Mrs. F. Tripp, Mrs. E. Gasparini, and Mrs. R. Osborne. A ten year pin was awarded Mrs. A. Spooner and a 15 year pin to Mrs. H. Kraft.

A standing ovation was given to Mrs. Andrew Verhagen when she received her 40 year pin, presented by Mrs. Goering. Mrs. Verhagen was first registered with Girl Scouts in 1928. In 1932, she registered her first Intermediate Troop, No. 9. From 1937 until 1959, at which time Belleville Scouts consolidated with the Greater Essex County Council, Mrs. Verhagen served as President of the Leaders Club and President of the Belleville Council of Scouts. Following consolidation, she remained Belleville District Chairman.

It was during her term as President that Belleville's Scout cabin was razed by fire. Through her leadership, $17,000 was raised and a new one rebuilt. Mrs. Verhagen has also represented Belleville Scouts at Regional Conferences. She is an active member of the Reformed Church and many other civic organizations.

Mayor Kenneth D. Smith brought greetings from the Board of Commissioners and presented a resolution of the people of Belleville, and thanks for her 40 years of scouting and community service.

On behalf of the Belleville Times, Mrs. M. Hoover presented the Better Belleville Award Trophy which honors an outstanding member of the community.

Among the 65 guests sharing this festive occasion were Mrs. Verhagen's son, Edward, and her daughter, Mrs. John Graves of Lake Parsippany.

Several members of former Troop Mother's Club were also present along with former troop members. Barbara McCabe, Ann Marie Naso, Betty Lou Russ, and Barbara Regula, who was a Belleville representative at the 1963 Girl Scout Round-Up at Vermont.

Bringing the evening to a close, was the presentation by Mrs. D. Naso of a novel money-maypole, a gift from the Girl Scouts of Belleville.

Serving as the dinner committee with Mrs. Motacki, were Mrs. B. Gomulinski, Mrs. M. Hoover, Mrs. E. McGill, Mrs. E. Gasparini, and Mrs. D. Naso who provided all the decorations.

Plan Tasty Nutritious Lunches

When the children arrive home for lunch, be sure that the meal you've planned is not only tasty but also nutritious. A well-balanced menu, centered around the four food groups, is important for proper growth and development. The wise homemaker serves cream soups often for she knows that they make a valuable contribution to daily nutrient requirements. All the protein, vitamins and minerals provided by milk as a beverage are also provided by milk used as an ingredient in recipes. Recipes for cream soups, custards, puddings, and cream sauces for vegetables use liberal amounts of milk and should be served frequently. This lunch menu includes creamy onion soup, vegetable and cottage cheese salad, crackers or bread sticks, an apple for dessert, and milk as a beverage.

Creamy Onion Soup

4 cups thinly sliced onion 2 egg yolks, beaten 1/4 cup butter 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce 2 tablespoon flour 1/2 cup shredded Parmesan or Cheddar cheese 2 teaspoons salt 1/8 teaspoon pepper 1 quart milk

Sauté onion in butter until tender and golden. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened. Add a small amount of hot mixture to egg yolks, beating constantly. Return yolk mixture to hot mixture and add Worcestershire sauce. Heat thoroughly. Serve in hot soup bowls. Sprinkle with Parmesan or Cheddar cheese. Makes 6 1/2 cups soup, enough for 6 to 8 servings.

CLARA MAASS HOSPITAL: Century Of Service To The Community

Editor's Note
Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, Belleville, which is celebrating its 100th Anniversary this year will commemorate the occasion with a formal dinner dance to be held at the Westmount Country Club, West Paterson, on Wednesday evening, May 15, 1968.

Over 800 guests have been invited to attend according to W. R. Harris, Chairman of the Centennial Celebration.

Mr. Harris, along with Alvin H. Oberg, the hospital's Executive Director, extends a cordial invitation to the many hospital friends to attend the affair. Numerous prominent business and civic leaders, members of the Board of Trustees, members of the Medical Staff, Volunteers, Guild and Auxiliary will enjoy an evening of cocktails, dinner, dancing and Broadway entertainment.

In 1955 the area bounded by Franklin, Belmont and New-are Avenues became a beehive of activity as great earth moving equipment, pile drivers and a construction crew moved in on the area. Speculation ran high on just what this new building was going to be and soon it became evident that this tract of land would become the new home of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital; and on August 18, 1957, the first patients were admitted to this new 302-bed general hospital. There was testimony from a team of independent researchers indicating that this new hospital would become a white elephant, that many of the patient beds would never be filled and others were concerned that this new hospital might not serve the best interests of Belleville. Yet in just a few years Clara Maass Hospital was to become the most important building in town.

100th Anniversary
Eleven years later, during 1968, Clara Maass Hospital has reached another milestone—its 100th Anniversary.

The idea of a modern hospital was conceived a century ago by a group of public-minded citizens who were concerned because the facilities to care for the residents of the Newark area were inadequate and there was a need for additional medical facilities. Therefore, this group of men set out to form a new Newark Hospital.

It wasn't until 1868 that the newly proposed hospital was founded as the Newark German Hospital and was located on the corner of Twelfth and Newton Streets.

Name Change
This new hospital progressed rapidly and continued to grow. In 1919 the hospital's name was changed to the Newark Memorial Hospital.

In 1946, the hospital was rededicated at the Lutheran Memorial Hospital, still maintaining the high ideals and principles expressed at the original dedication that "this institution is organized on broad and unbiased principles, admitting the afflicted of every class, nationality and creed. Its personnel and management is gleaned from every social, religious and racial strata of society."

Shortly thereafter, one of the members of the Board of Trustees, the Rev. Dr. Arthur Herbert, was making a tour through the hospital and noticed pictures of a nurse on the hospital walls. Becoming curious he inquired and discovered that it was the picture of an early graduate from the hospital's original school of nursing.

Nurse Identified
Further research determined that this nurse was Clara Louise Maass who was born in East Orange, N.J., and who, upon graduating from nurse's training volunteered to go to Cuba to study Yellow Fever.

Arriving in Cuba, she was met by Dr. William Gorgas who was carrying on Yellow Fever experiments but was handicapped as he needed more positive proof that a certain species of mosquito was the carrier of Yellow Fever. Nurse Clara Maass provided that proof by voluntarily exposing herself to the dreaded Stegomyia mosquito. Three days later Nurse Clara Maass died but her death was not in vain as Dr. Gorgas and his medical team were able to complete their experiments successfully, practically eliminating Yellow Fever through proper sanitation and inoculation.

What greater tribute, thought Dr. Herbert, than to name the hospital where Nurse Maass had received her training Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. In 1952, the Board of Trustees passed a resolution to rename the hospital in memory of its heroic nurse who, through dedication to her profession, died so that others might live.

Building Unsuitable
The area of Twelfth and Newton Streets was becoming more crowded and the building of the original hospital unsuitable for further expansion which was now necessary. Therefore in 1957 Clara Maass Memorial Hospital was relocated at a new site overlooking Branch Brook Park on the Newark - Belleville line.

Since moving to the Belleville - Newark line in 1957, Clara Maass Memorial Hospital has made tremendous strides to meet the medical demands placed upon its facilities by not only Belleville but its surrounding communities.

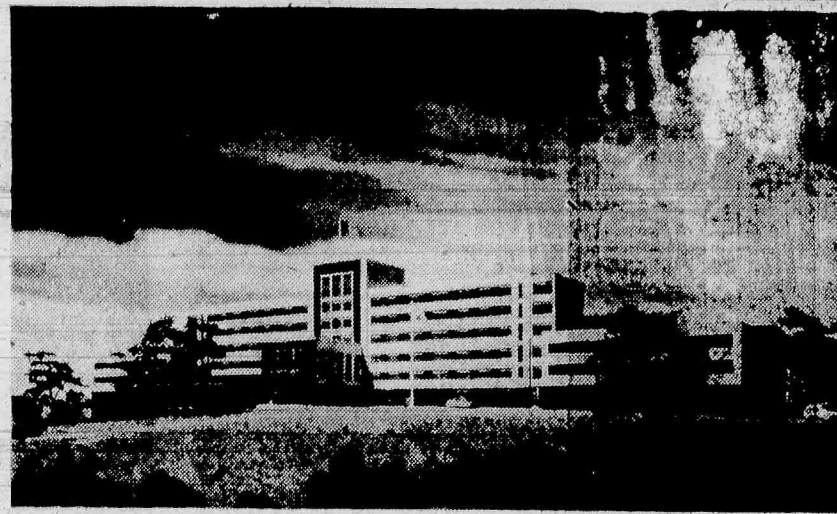

Following the hospital's move to Belleville, the students of the school of nursing lived on the Upsala Campus temporarily where they take their academic courses. In 1961, a new Clara Maass Memorial School of Nursing building was constructed in Belleville with complete dormitory and teaching facilities for training over 100 students at one time, many of whom become part of the hospital's professional nursing staff upon graduation from their 33-month training period.

Ben Grimm Is Library President

Ben E. Grimm, Belleville Library director was installed as president of the New Jersey Library Association at the association's annual conference in Atlantic City, today.

Grimm, who has been active in New Jersey library circles for the past fourteen years, has previously served as the state association's Treasurer and has chaired the important legislation program and planning committees among others.

He is a graduate of Washington and Lee University and holds a M.S. degree in library service from Columbia University.

Walter Kidde Company Merges With Steel Co.

A merger of Walter Kidde & Co., Inc., and Crucible Steel Corporation was agreed upon late yesterday.

The Crucible board of directors and the Kidde executive committee, acting for the full Kidde board, voted to recommend shareholder approval of the merger. Special meetings of shareholders of both companies are expected in late June or early July.

The joint announcement of the proposed merger was made by John C. Lobb, Crucible president and chief executive; Fred R. Sullivan, chairman, and Franc M. Ricciardi, president, of Kidde.

According to Sullivan, each share of Crucible common stock would be exchanged for one-fourth share of a Kidde convertible preferred stock paying an annual cash dividend of $5.00, plus four-tenths of a share or $28.75 worth of Kidde common stock, whichever is greater at the time of closing.

Lobb reported that the package is, according to independent investment bankers, equal to or slightly more than the originally announced offer of $50.00 in value of Kidde stock.

Lobb pointed out that the Crucible board is "completely satisfied with the specific details of organization, management and continuity of the proposed combined corporation," adding that "ample provisions have been made for full maintenance of existing employee benefits."

The joint announcement stated that Crucible, upon consummation of the merger, would operate as an autonomous subsidiary under present corporate name and management. Three representatives of Crucible are to be named to the board of Kidde.

Kidde operates within three broad product groups: safety, security and protection; industrial and technological; and commercial and consumer. Headquartered in Belleville, Kidde operates more than 80 plants in 22 states and six foreign countries, and employs more than 25,000 people.

Crucible Steel Corp., with headquarters in Pittsburgh, is one of the world's largest producers and distributors of specialty metals. The company makes stainless, tool and alloy steels, and fabricates special metal products, including permanent magnets, stainless and high alloy pipe and tubing, hot wound coil and industrial shapes and discs. Crucible also produces titanium mill products and licenses all major domestic producers for the production and sale of titanium alloys.

Crucible this year recorded its best first quarter since 1959, with net earnings of $3,610,000, up 24 per cent to $85 per share, on sales of $76,446,000. Kidde's first quarter figures have not yet been released.

PROMENADING — Carol E. Cobiainchi, an audience favorite at the Cherry Blossom Queen pageant, promenades on stage during the evening gown competition.

The changed composition of our 10th Congressional District, the shifting political winds blowing our way, added to the boundless enthusiasm and capacity for leadership shown by Bob Citrino convince us that he will sit in the U. S. House of Representatives next year.

As Nutley town attorney and prosecutor, he continues his family tradition of public service, for his father served Nutley as town physician for thirty years.

Great Allentown Fair Undergoes New Changes

A number of major changes are being worked into the racing program for this year's Great Allentown Fair — including a new track surface. A contract has just been signed between Edward G. Leidis, fair president and general manager, and Frank Winkley, president of Auto Racing, Incorporated, for three days of International Motor Contest Association sanctioned races at the fair.

And the Frank F. Hausman Paving Company has begun putting a new surface on the fair's half-mile track.

The big changes in the racing program will be twofold. There will be no stock car races of any kind. All three days will be devoted to races for open cockpit speedway cars, and will be called the Keystone Trophy Races. Drivers will accumulate points during the three days, the man with the highest number of points receiving the Keystone Trophy. Trophies also will be given at the end of each race day to the driver with the most points for the individual day.

The condition of your health ought to be more important than almost anything else to you.

MUSIC LOVERS — Candid snapshot of music lovers emerged in the music of the Al Group entertaining at the local library as part of the recent observance of National Library Week in Belleville.

The Belleville Public Library celebrated National Library Week, April 21 - 28, with a variety of events and popular activities.

The library director, Ben Grimm, was among those invited to the office of Governor Hughes to witness the signing of the National Library Week proclamation.

Then on Sunday, following the Cherry Blossom Parade, the library opened its celebration with a free public concert in the library. The Al Lange Orchestra was featured in a program of popular music, old and new.

Wednesday was designated "Librarian for a Day" day and three Belleville youths, Josette Marcelli, Lisa Doefinger, and Charles Messina spent the day learning the ins and outs of public library operation.

Two showings of a Children's Movie Hour were presented on Saturday featuring three popular color films for youngsters.

In addition, during the week there were two preschool story hours held at the Main Library and one at the Silver Lake Branch.

"All in all, National Library Week was busy, hectic, and a lot of fun," declared Grimm, adding, "But so are most weeks in the library. Last year alone, in addition to our regular information and circulation services, the library provided a total of 358 group programs — an average of more than one a day. These range from preschool hours to class instruction, adult lectures and live musical concerts. We're here to serve the people of Belleville, and as far as the library's concerned, the more we serve, the better."

Free color films about authentic American Indians will be shown on Sunday, May 12, at 3:30 p.m., and repeated on Monday, May 13, at 12:30 p.m. Ishi in Two Worlds tells the story of Ishi, the last Yahi Indian of California. Ishi was the last person in North America known to have spent most of his life in a totally aboriginal existence. Circle of the Sun shows a Blackfoot sun dance and The Longhouse People shows Iroquois dances and ceremonies.

CAUTION IS HIS WATCHWORD... Armed with a .45 automatic, a First Air Cavalryman cautiously checks out a log bunker during a January 16th operation about 35 miles southwest of Da Nang, S. Vietnam.

This pontoon bridge in Curacao, Netherlands Antilles is unique. It connects the two sides of Willemstad's picturesque harbor while floating on the water. Opening like a door, the bridge is driven by two engines located on the first pontoon. Fifteen minutes before the pontoon bridge is closed to pedestrian traffic, a blue flag is run up. When the siren goes, level crossings on both sides of the bridge come down and hold up traffic as the pontoon is slowly driven off. It takes about 30 minutes for the pontoon-bridge to open and allow a ship through before being back in service again. The bridge was originally conceived by an American, the honorable L. B. Smith, U.S. consul in Curacao from 1884 to 1895. It opens and closes over 7,000 times a year, roughly twenty times a day. As a matter of course the people of Willemstad dial 12000 to see if the bridge is open to traffic or not. The bridge is named for Queen Emma of the Netherlands, grandmother of the reigning Queen Juliana.

The Republican Party Organization candidates and their supporters are pledged to a positive campaign that has as its final objectives the election of a Republican President, Republican Congressmen, and Republican Freeholders. We intend to be builders of party strength, not destroyers of public confidence in our Party.

In this spirit we ask the leaders of the so-called Reform Republican movement to pledge now, as we do, to join in a unified party effort at the conclusion of this Primary. This is not a primary fight which the Republican Party Organization sought or encouraged. It is our belief that the individual candidates on the Line F ticket, the running mates of such distinguished leaders of our party as State Republican Chairman Webster B. Todd and U. S. Senator Clifford P. Case, represent the strongest ticket with which to combat the Democrats this Fall. We ask our fellow Republicans, therefore, to vote in June with November in mind.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

One of the largest "Consumer" magazines once again lets loose with a barrage against color TV service.

They do not tell their readers though that their troubles are the direct result of the magazine's buying advice, which is to run around and buy it where it is cheapest, instead of advising to buy from a dealer who has a reputation for honesty and most of all, who has his own service facilities. Service costs a lot of money. Such a dealer can not be the cheapest. There is not one piece of equipment or merchandise in consumers homes that is even remotely as complicated as a color TV set. All of this and the fact that there are not nearly enough trained technicians, is known to this magazine. Still they harp on one thing, beat the price down. The following is a typical example.

A man came to our store recently with this particular magazine in his hand. He pointed to a certain set listed and asked for the price, which we told him. He laughed out loud and told us, that he could buy it at exactly half the price, and he also told us where he could buy it. It turned out that he went to a "store" in Passaic, which consisted of a hole in the wall office, with a couple of TV sets standing around. The "storekeeper" sold to anybody, anything they asked for, at half price, at least 50 per cent down payment required, delivery to be made within one week. Last week there was a notice in the newspapers that the man has been indicted for fraud, taking money and not delivering one piece.

Nobody in his right sense would buy a new automobile from a dealer if he does not have his own service department. You don't find any "factory" automobile service. Don't look for "factory" TV service, look for a dealer who gives you his own service, then you won't have the problems which above mentioned magazine complains about.

Two Jersey Cultural Institutions To Split Money from Fund Drive

A combined fund drive for the New Jersey Symphony and Symphony Hall, Inc. has been completed with total pledges of $800,332, thereby exceeding the campaign goal of $650,000 by more than $150,000. The $800,000 is to be divided between the two institutions.

This was announced recently by W. Paul Stillman, chairman of the drive, at a reception at the Robert Treat Hotel marking the conclusion of the campaign, Newark. The affair was attended by Governor Richard Hughes and leading officials connected with the drive and the two benefiting institutions.

Statewide Drive

The statewide fund drive, which was launched only last November 22, was the first in the history of New Jersey to bring more than $100,000 from private sources in a single effort for institutions in the field of the performing arts.

Stillman, who is chairman of the Board of First National State Bank of New Jersey and also chairman of the Board of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, called the campaign result "New Jersey's declaration of cultural independence from New York and Philadelphia."

Governor Hughes noted that nearly all of the pledges were made by corporations headquartered in the state or with major operations here. "Once again, our great corporate citizens have demonstrated their willingness, indeed their eagerness, to contribute their resources and their support to the attainment of a better New Jersey and better lives for the people," he declared.

"The welfare of the people of our state and the whole fabric of society in New Jersey are greatly enhanced by the development of our own strong cultural institutions," the Governor stated. "I believe the culmination of this drive is an historic landmark in New Jersey's cultural life."

Orville E. Beal, treasurer of the campaign and president of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, said that about 110 corporations contributed to the fund drive. He called that a "heartwarming demonstration of corporate interest in the development of the arts for all the people of New Jersey." Beal said also that a number of individuals contributed generously.

Others who participated in the occasion at which the campaign conclusion was announced were: Henry P. Becton, president of the New Jersey Symphony, and Charles Laing, president of the Board of Trustees of Symphony Hall. The Symphony plans to use its share of the drive to help match a Ford Foundation grant. The grant, awarded in 1966, was for $650,000, of which $500,000 was in matching funds.

The Symphony, at the time the campaign started, already had received about $200,000 in separate pledges toward the matching of the grant. Those pledges, plus the eventual payment to the Symphony of approximately $400,000 (the Symphony's share of the pledges to the fund drive, and the subsequent payment of the Ford Foundation funds, will enable the Symphony to establish a million dollar endowment fund, Becton said.

"We have felt that the establishment of such a fund would be the most crucial step in making our state's orchestra one of the truly great orchestras of the nation," Becton said. "Now this fund is clearly committed, and we are determined to follow through on the course we have set for ourselves."

The Ford grant stipulates that besides matching the $500,000, the Symphony must also raise $90,000 in operating funds annually for each of five consecutive years.

"We have much hard work ahead of us to realize our dreams for our orchestra," Becton said, "but it is all within reach, if we remain really determined."

GOP Schedules Funding Events

The New Jersey Republican State Finance Committee has scheduled three major fund raising events during this Presidential election year, it was announced today by John H. Ewing, chairman of the GOP group.

The events are:

- * A mammoth rally in the at Symphony Hall in Newark, with Richard M. Nixon as principal speaker.
- * A June 19 reception for Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller at a New York City location to be announced later.
- * A mammoth rally in the fall in support of the Republican Presidential nominee who will be chosen at the Party's Miami Beach convention.

Milford A. Vieser of Short Hills, long associated with Republican Party fund raising activities in New Jersey, will be chairman of the Nixon dinner and co-chairman of the Rockefeller reception, with former Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon.

Vieser said that "we are pleased that both aspirants for the Republican nomination have accepted invitations to appear at functions scheduled by our State Finance Committee."

"The candidates' interest in New Jersey is a clear indication of our State's pivotal role in the upcoming election and campaign," he added.

Vieser also noted that "the Republican Party this year is highly optimistic about gaining the Presidency. The GOP program of progressive action, both at home and abroad, is an increasingly attractive alternative to an appalling Democratic record in foreign, national and local affairs. And this attraction extends not only to our own Party members, but also to independent voters and the many disenchanted Democrats."

Some 1,000 GOP Party members are expected to be at the May 17 dinner in Symphony Hall, which is a $100 a plate affair. Tickets to the rally, at which Nixon will speak, are free and are being distributed through the GOP organization. A total audience of 3,500 will hear the former Vice President.

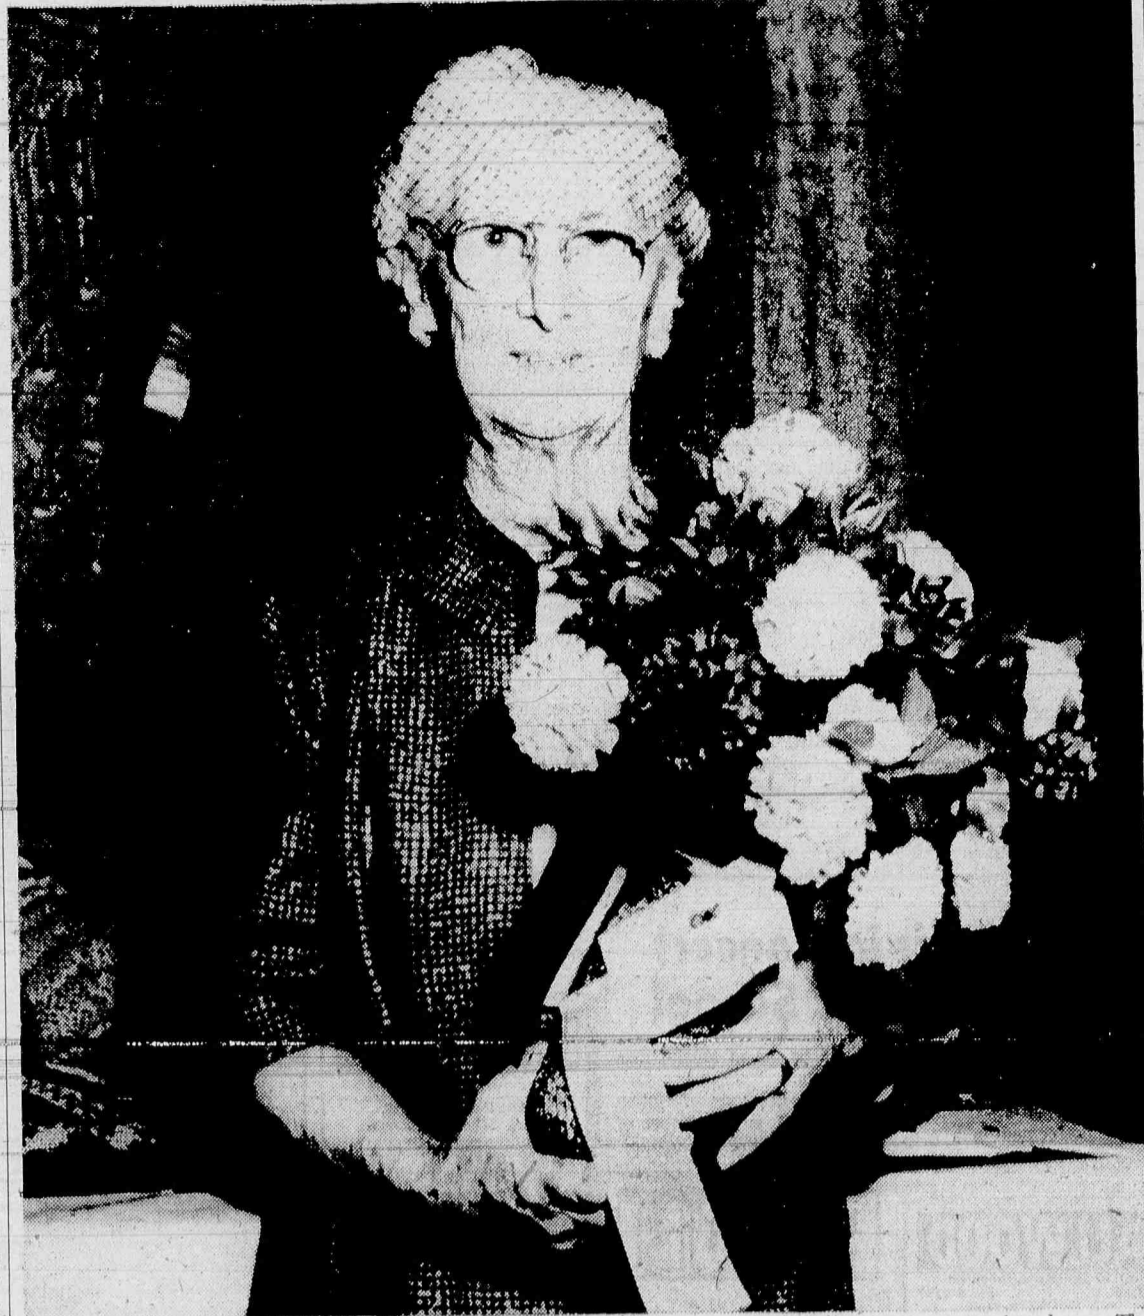

The Rockefeller appearance has been planned to permit New Jersey residents associated with New York firms to participate in a fund raising drive organized by the New Jersey State Republican Finance Committee.

Frank Caputo Is Candidate For Degree

The fourteenth Annual Commencement of St. Mary of the Plains College will be held at the Municipal Auditorium on May 18 at 3:00 p.m.

The Commencement address will be delivered by Dr. Emory Lindquist, President of Wichita State University.

A candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree at the college is Frank P. Caputo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Caputo of Belleville, N.J.

WINNER — Mrs. Marie H. Schmidt of 27 Forest Street, Belleville, displays her crocheted flower arrangement which won a blue ribbon first prize at the 19th annual Senior Citizens Hobby Show at Public Service Auditorium in Newark. Mrs. Alexandria K. Bloom of 15 Dow Street also won a first prize for a crocheted rug. The show, with exhibitors from all of northern New Jersey, was held from April 29 through May 4. It was sponsored by the Council of Social Agencies and the Sorooptimist Club of Newark.

Belleville School System Delegates To Conclave

Two measures aimed at heading off or modifying any state-mandated reorganization of local school districts are among the ten resolutions to be introduced for delegate action at the annual meeting of the State Federation of District Boards of Education, to be held May 11th, beginning at 10:00 a.m., at the State House Assembly Chamber, Trenton.

A resolution sponsored by the Dunellen Board of Education (Middlesex County) would endorse redetermination of school district boundaries only by mutual agreement of local communities. A second Springfield Board of Education (Union County) would seek a legal procedure by which regional school districts could be dissolved and abolished.

In addition to these, delegates will vote on proposals seeking changes in state aid formulas, in board member election and appointment, and in regulations affecting employee sick leave and teacher absence.

The delegates, representing New Jersey's 594 local school districts and more than 4,600 school board members, will elect new officers to serve the 69 year. P. Paul Ricci of Vineland is the nominating committee's choice for president, Mrs. Myra Malovany of Caldwell - West Caldwell for 1st vice-president, James W. McCall of Dover for 2nd vice-president, and Allan Krim of Newark for treasurer.

If you want to live a long time, maintain the will to live — it's better than medicine.

You can never tell when a little careful driving will save your life on the highways.

The delegate assembly will also consider committee reports on regionalization and consolidation of school districts, education finance, effects of mass housing on local school districts and regional facilities for handicapped children.

Red Cross Asks Local Volunteers

The Essex Chapter, American Red Cross is seeking Belleville volunteer instructors to teach a new Red Cross Mother's Aide course to teenage young people.

According to Mrs. William Hooke, chapter Nursing Services chairman, the demand for this course has been so great recently that there are not enough trained volunteers to meet it.

Registered nurses, teachers or other persons with similar experience who are accustomed and interested in working with junior and senior high school students are being sought by the Red Cross. Volunteers will be trained in such subjects as Home Nursing, Mother - Baby Care, First Aid, Accident Prevention, and Nutrition by qualified instructors for a maximum of four hours.

Current plans call for Essex Chapter to begin Mother's Aide classes in the Chapter's East Orange headquarters, in local schools, churches and scout groups in May, if there are enough qualified instructors.

The purpose of this course Mrs. Hooke adds, is to train older children in a family to take care of younger brothers and sisters in the temporary absence of parents. The subject matter covered by the course can readily be adapted for instruction of baby sitters.

A Red Cross Certificate of Achievement will be awarded to all students who successfully complete the eight hour Mother's Aide Course.

Medcalf-Stoddard To Receive Awards

Two Belleville residents are scheduled to be honored at the forthcoming Annual Awards Ceremony for Volunteer Workers at East Orange Veterans Hospital.

Mrs. Lillian Medcalf of 186 Overlook Ave., has contributed over 4,000 working hours to the hospital. Robert Stoddard of 54 Bemdond St., contributed 100 hours.

The adults and teenagers drew high praise from Mr. Reuben Cohen, Hospital Director, who stated that they make a significant contribution, as members of the medical team, to patients' rehabilitation as well as making veterans' stay in the Hospital a more pleasant one. Those who will be recognized at the Ceremony are a part of the corps of 500 volunteers who serve at the Hospital on a Regularly Scheduled basis.

The volunteers who have accumulated 100, 300, 500, 1000, 1750, 2500 and each subsequent thousand hours will receive certificates, pins, silver bowls, engraved plaques and gold medallions according to the number of hours served. For the first time, a volunteer will be recognized this year for serving a total of 20,000 hours.

The areas in which these volunteers serve include the Restoration Center, Outpatient Clinic, Pharmacy, Occupational Therapy, Corrective Therapy, Information Desk, Educational Therapy, Library, Dietetics, Motor Service, Clinical Laboratories, On Wards, Cred-

Hard Hitting Joe Mossa Named Football Co-Captain At PMC

Joe Mossa, hard running halfback from Belleville High, has been named co-captain of the PMC colleges football team for 1968.

Coach Ed Lawless announced Tuesday night (May 7) at PMC's annual athletic awards banquet that a squad of members had elected Mossa and defensive back Joe Piselli of Philadelphia team leaders.

"The squad made two excellent selections," Lawless said. "Piselli provides us with a real holler guy as defensive leader. On offense, Mossa inspires more by example. He gives 150 per cent on every play." Mossa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mossa of 28 Smallwood Avenue, Belleville, started last season as a third string halfback. By mid-season, however, he had won a job on the first team and was the club's top rusher by the end of the campaign. In his finest game, Mossa gained 110 yards on 29 rushes and 66 yards on four passes as PMC swamped Swarthmore, 42-13. Mossa scored two touchdowns in that game. "Joe's one of the hardest running backs I've ever seen," coach Lawless added. "He only weighed 163 pounds last season but he hit like a 200-pounder."

Mossa was one of 166 PMC varsity athletes from both Pennsylvania Military College and Penn Morton College representing 11 sports who were honored at a recent Athletic Awards dinner. Athletic director George A. Hansell, Jr. made the presentations. The principal speaker was television personality and former University of Pennsylvania football star.

Craig 'On' As Belleville Legion Baseball Coach

Belleville Post 105 will again sponsor a team in the Essex County American Legion League. The team will be financed through the Post's Wednesday night Bingos.

Manager Jack Throckmorton has signed Charles Craig to be Head Coach and Field Manager. Mike Welsh, a very fine pitcher of previous years, is acting as chief scout and will be a base coach for Field Manager Craig. George Sheridan Jr., a Post 105 star in previous years, will also act as a Base Coach. George is also one of Belleville's police officers.

This year will be a rebuilding year, as most of last year's leading ball players are too old to be eligible. However, the post hopes to field a hustling young ball club that will stay in contention for county leadership. In other years, the post could only carry 16 ball players, this year is different in that it will now carry 18 players. Every effort will be made to select the 18 best ball players from Belleville, according to Throckmorton. Coach Craig stresses that by playing High School and J V ball, the boy is also being scouted for Legion ball. However, any boy living in Belleville attending parochial schools, who has not attained the age of 19 before August 1, 1968, will be considered. The age limit also applies to any boy who desires to try out for the team. This year the League is divided into two divisions: East Irvington Bloomfield Nutley West Orange Caldwell Maplewood Livingston Belleville Montclair Valsburg

Belleville High School Graduate Termed 'Spark Plug' At College

Riding the crest of an eight-game winning streak, Rider College's baseball team again has its sights on the NCAA tournament bid that seemed almost out of reach two weeks ago.

According to Coach Tom Petroff Frank Mineo, a graduate of Belleville High School and a veteran of the local school's varsity, is one of the spark-plugs of this year's winning team.

Coach Petroff's defending NCAA District II champions started the win skein after breaking a four-game losing streak, the worst for Rider since 1964.

Heading into a doubleheader Sunday (May 5) at Penn State the Broncos had a 15-5 record and were getting both good pitching and solid hitting.

Biggest surprise was outfielder Don Klinger. The junior from Hegins, Pa., was inserted into left field after the team lost the services of regular Buddy Fortunato.

An infielder by trade who had played the outfield only briefly in American Legion ball, Klinger responded by pounding out 13 hits in 36 times at bat. He had four hits against Rutgers including a clutch ninth inning single that drove in the tie breaking and winning run in a 7-6 Rider victory.

First baseman Don Eickhoff from Bath, Pa., also was in a torrid streak. The left-hand batting co-captain raised his batting average some 200 points to .338 by collecting 19 hits in 31 late appearances, including a four-for-five performance against Army.

Righthander Tom Moore also recovered from three shaky starts to limit Army to four hits and a single unearned run in a 5-1 Rider win at West Point on Tuesday.

Catcher Glen Bisbing from Stroudsburg, Pa., playing despite a painful wrist tendon injury, continued his strong hitting and raised his batting average to .348. He also was the Rider RBI leader with 20.

Also contributing heavily to the Bronx cause were outfielder Rich Giallella (.338) from Trenton, third baseman Paul Buitkens (.274 - 18 RBI) from Saugerties, N.Y., and co-captain and shortstop Mike Lisetski (.273 - 15 RBI) from Northampton, Pa.

Sophomore Dave Rakoski from Trenton saw his batting average fall off to .265 but he had some clutch hits and was credited with 12 RBIs. As a team, the Broncos were batting .280.

Senior lefthander Kenn Hall from Oceanside, N.Y., was the pitching leader with a 4-1 record and an 0.84 ERA. Junior righthander Lane Cyphers from Everittstown, N.J., pitched a three-hit shutout against Villanova and raised his record to 3-1 with the Rutgers win.

Rider has games on May 8 at West Chester, and May 11 at Drexel, before returning home to close out the regular season with games on May 12 with St. John's and May 15 with Philadelphia Textile.

These teams are primarily made up of High School varsity teams with a sprinkling of freshman college boys under the age limit of 19 involved. All home games will be played at the High School Stadium starting at 6 p.m. with Saturday games (if needed) for rainouts.

Last High School Parent-Teachers Confab Scheduled

Belleville High School will conduct the last of this year's Parent-Teacher Conferences for the 1967-68 school year May 21.

All parents of high school students are advised that the conference period will begin at 1:00 P.M. and close at 3:30 P.M. If parents are interested in speaking to any of their child's teachers they should contact the guidance office by calling 759-4338 between 7:45

A.M. and 4:30 P.M. on any school day to make an appointment to speak to a specific teacher.

The Parent-Teacher Conferences give parents the opportunity to get a better understanding of the pupil's progress. It is also a valuable aid for the teacher in guiding students and structures an excellent means of communication with the parents.

Two Belleville Firemen Graduate Special Course

Two members of the Belleville Fire Department last week completed a year course in Principles of Fire Administration offered by the Rutgers Bureau of Government Research and the State University's Extension Division.

Deputy Chief Harold H. Dambra, 24 Federal St., and Fireman Charles Aughenbaugh Jr., 23 Liberty Avenue, both Belleville, were among about fifty firemen and officers from many New Jersey municipalities attending the program on their own time. The basic approach in the course was the application of the principles of management to fire administration.

Included were such subjects as the functions of a manager, policy formation, use of fire equipment, and supervising personnel. Course instructors were Charles Walsh, retired deputy chief of the New York City Fire Department, and Joseph Redden, chief engineer of the Newark Fire Department.

The program was held in cooperation with the New Jersey State League of Municipalities.

No man knows as much as he thinks he knows and few are as ignorant as they think.

You can test your intelligence by your own reaction to a new idea.

Television will not bring the world to your doorstep. It will bring that part of the world which someone else wishes you to see.

Girls Softball League Now Is Organizing

Girls in Belleville who are interested in playing softball are advised to get their teams organized immediately. The Recreation Department will conduct two leagues for girls. One, the Junior Softball League will be for girls of the seventh through the ninth grades. The other, the Senior Softball League will be for High School girls and those not over nineteen years. Girls who attend parochial schools are, of course, welcome to take part.

A formation meeting was held at the Recreation House. Each team should send one or two representatives to this meeting. Both the Junior and the Senior Girls Softball Leagues will meet at the same time.

Plans are for an early start on the season. Individual trophies will be awarded by the Recreation Department to the members of the winning teams.

New Trend Seen In 'Mini' Shop

The trend to speed, convenience, and miniaturization is now represented in Belleville's Mini Shop, at 43 Union Avenue.

Mini TV, mini radio, even miniature calling cards, can be found at the shop, where Mrs. Ann Ward, a beautician of considerable experience, reports that she also offers mini prices on permanents, cutting styles and coloring.

Mrs. Ward, who specializes in the Miami Beach school of hair styling thought, was the proprietor of The Carousel, a highly successful Bloomfield shop, for several years.

The shop, on the ground floor level of a patio residence, though it doesn't give the impression of being a miniature, conveys a certain impression of intimacy through novel partitioning, warm-toned paneling, and bright splashes of "Miami Beach" color tones.

The muscle power that turned the old brace and bit may have been free... but it wasn't easy. So now you pay for the speed and convenience of an electric drill. It's probably just one of the many new ways you've put electricity to work in your home in recent years. But thanks to this increased usage, and to rate reductions, the average unit cost of electricity has actually gone down 45% in the last 25 years. Compare that with a 120% increase in the cost of living, and you'll realize that electricity is still your best bargain.

Electricity does more... for less

Evening Classes Now Offered Area Residents

Evening classes, a course in computer programming, and a modern drama workshop will highlight the summer session at Upsala College, beginning June 11. Established in 1925, the summer session has proven so successful at the East Orange school that this year's classes have been expanded to include an evening program, with the classes running from 5:40 to 10:20 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

In addition to the usual liberal arts course offerings in the social sciences, languages, fine arts, science, and business administration, Upsala is now offering a unique course in computer programming. Using FORTRAN IV or a related language, the course will include the study of elementary computer methods for the solution of linear equations, elementary statistics, and numerical calculus. Drama 90, another unique summer course, will work in conjunction with the professional Workshop 90 Summer Repertory Company to provide the student with practical experience in the content, theory, and production of modern drama.

Sophomore Paul Ceres Joins Frat

Warren Paul Ceres, a sophomore at Upsala College in East Orange, has joined Rho Alpha Phi fraternity. A graduate of Belleville High School, Warren is majoring in history at Upsala and is planning a career in elementary education. He is also a member of the college's football team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Ceres of 52 Celia Terrace, Belleville.

Coming down to the final week of the season, the Upsala College baseball team was sporting a 12-5 record. Between April 11 and 27, the Vikings put together an eight-game win streak.

Coach Don Walker's nine will close out the '68 campaign with two Middle Atlantic Conference doubleheaders. The Vikings will battle Susquehanna in a Alumni Day feature this Saturday afternoon, and then they'll be hosts to the University of Scranton nine next Thursday. Both twin bills will start at 1:30 p.m.

The East Orange collegians still have an outside chance of capturing the MAC northern college division championship. The outcome of the Susquehanna and Scranton games could be the deciding factor.

Upsala is also one of several teams under consideration for the District II playoffs of the NCAA college division. This year for the first time the NCAA will hold regional college division playoffs, with the winners going on to compete for the national championship in Kansas City in June.

A good deal of the Vikings' success this season has been the result of tremendous batting power — the best Upsala has had in years. The club has scored 119 runs in 17 games and has five men over the 300 mark in hitting. Right fielder George Horton is well above the 400 level and stands twentieth in the nation in the NCAA batting statistics.

Walker is fast approaching the 300 victory plateau in his 22-year coaching career at

Last Appearance Scheduled May 31

Kenneth Schermerhorn will make his final appearance with the New Jersey Symphony as its Music Director on Friday evening, May 31, when he conducts the orchestra in first of its series of three concerts on the Mall at Short Hills.

This was announced today by Henry P. Becton, president of the Symphony. He said also that the other two concerts, on the succeeding Friday evenings of June 7 and 14, will be directed by Frank Scocozza, the Symphony's concertmaster and associate conductor.

The concerts, to be free to the public, are being sponsored jointly by the CIBA Corporation, the New Jersey State Council on the Arts and the Merchants Association of the Mall at Short Hills.

Schermerhorn, Music Director of the New Jersey Symphony since 1962, is leaving the orchestra to assume his new position as director of the Milwaukee Symphony. He is to be succeeded by Henry Lewis, who takes over the New Jersey post this summer.

Upsala. The affable coach had a baseball record of 293-174 as of last week.

Scocozza previously has directed the orchestra in public performances at Symphony Hall, the orchestra's home base.

Scocozza has been concertmaster of the Symphony since 1961.

The three upcoming Friday evening concerts are to be given at a location on the Mall which will be able to accommodate an audience of several thousand. Programs for each of the concerts are to be announced in the near future.

It is easier to tell a neighbor the proper thing to do than to follow one's own advice.

Council Building Program

Plans are being made by the Belleville Veterans Council for a Memorial Day Program to honor the Belleville dead of all wars.

Chairman George K. Mitchell announced the day will start with a brief program at the Passaic River Bridge at 8:45 A.M. A Memorial Prayer will be said by the Rev. Henderson Goldston and a wreath will be lowered into the River in honor of all Belleville dead in naval battles. Taps will be sounded.

At 9:45 A.M., at the Union Ave. Monument, a complete Memorial Service will be offered. This year a Veterans Everlasting Program will be held honoring all Belleville dead and especially the names of Belleville dead from the Vietnam War.

Mitchell urges Belleville residents to attend and back up the program. Attendance has been on the decline the past few years. The Belleville Veterans Council asks the people to take an hour to honor the war dead.

Following the program at the Union Ave. Monument the entire group will parade to the Town Hall and take part in the P.B.A. and F.M.B.A. Ceremony.

Peace Corps Placement Test Given Saturday, May 18

Nutley residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 18 at the Montclair Post Office.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive; an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

Persons interested in serving with the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the test before the test. Application forms are available from post offices or from the Peace Corps in Washington, D.C. 20525.

Stevens Drama Society To Offer 'The Physicists'

The Dramatic Society of Stevens Institute of Technology will present Friedrich Durrenmatt's 'The Physicists' on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, May 16, 17, and 18, at 8:30 p.m. in the Stevens Theater, Fifth and Hudson Streets, Hoboken, New Jersey.

The Physicist concerns the moral problem posed when man uses modern technology. Can human weakness withstand the temptation to use the power of this technology for individual profit? Can the knowledge of how to build 'The Bomb' be used to build a better world? Or even a habitable one?

The trouble with most democracies is that they have too many citizens who believe that they are entitled to special privileges.

Highway fatalities are increasing but this won't persuade anyone that the next accident victim may be him or her.

REVIEWS

By ANN DYER
The Clinic. By James Kerr. (New York: Coward - McCann, Inc., 1968).

This book, which attempts to describe medical scenes in a way that hasn't been attempted before in a work of American fiction, is very enthralling and moves along at a smart pace in spite of its size, a large 383 pages.

Perhaps this is because of the perennial fascination of medical situations and language. Suspense is inevitable when it is a question of life or death.

And somehow one is made to feel poignantly the importance of the doctor as he makes the decisions of what treatment to employ in a given case. If his skill fails repeatedly; if his ethics are shoddy, or worse, his patient is in the hands of one who is little better than an executioner.

Young Doctor Peter de Haan comes to realize this with a special force. A new graduate from medical school, he is approached by a famous doctor, head of a world-known West Coast clinic, who wants de Haan to join him and begin practice at a large starting salary.

The young doctor has some reservations; something in the manner of the famous Doctor Matthew Hatch strikes him as forced, or false. However, he accepts. Once at the clinic he has time to note Hatch's palatial style of living before being plunged into work.

After a brief period, he is assigned to assist Hatch at operations. His doubts begin immediately. Why did the great Doctor Hatch perform this operation? The surgeon's knife continues its work and area after area of normal tissue is exposed and cut away. But, worse yet, Hatch accompanied his work with a running fire of comments to support what he was doing.

It was as if a blind man were performing the operations. Horror and shock grew within the young doctor.

Yet, the natural reticence and conservatism of the profession. Hatch's great celebrity and wealth, and above all, the difficulty of charging an older and more experienced doctor with malpractice — all these keep him silent for a while.

His inner strain is not much helped by the taxing love affair which he begins with a girl who has been a patient at the clinic for a brief time — Ann Alexio. To them, the love in love is a wonderful thing — they decide to marry and have "lots of children." Privately, Peter has decided to leave Hatch and his butcher shop, for he can no longer bear to witness the man's callousness and incompetency. Finally the celebrated surgeon makes a classic type of error, tying off the wrong arterial branch after an operation on a young and prosperous builder, he deprives his patients liver and its blood supply killing him slowly.

Peter, who saw the error clearly at autopsy, decides to fight. He stirs the builder's family to a recognition of their rights. They are entitled to a large sum in compensation for the money lost which the dead man would have earned in a lifetime of work.

A lawyer is found to handle the "hot" case; courageously, other witnesses testify to the series of deftly handled courtroom scenes, justice does triumph over malpractice.

In addition to its thousands of volumes of books, the Free Library also offers 8 mm film, reproductions of famous paintings, and LP records for circulation. There is a phonograph available for public use.

Nancy Crisp, Belleville Artist, To Hold 17th Annual Art Exhibit

The Seventeenth Annual Art Exhibit of the work of students of Nancy Crisp, Belleville artist, will be on display in the Belleville Public Library from Monday, until Saturday, May 25. The show will then move to the Silver Lake Branch of the Library for the week of May 22.

On Mother's Day (Sunday, May 12) Mrs. Crisp will hold a reception and tea at the Library from 3 until 4:30 p.m. in honor of the exhibiting artists.

An invitation is extended to the public to attend this affair. Eighty paintings will be on display and awards will be presented at 4 p.m. to adult, junior and intermediate exhibitors.

Combining successfully the five-fold career of artist, lecturer, teacher, wife and mother of a 14-year-old son is more than most women would tackle, but Mrs. Allan Crisp manages to even find time to whip up a dress for special occasions and to pursue her hobby of collecting antiques and old glass-ware.

Her home at 238 New Street reflects her warm personality and she could also have made her mark in the field of interior decoration. An attractive blonde, with soft brown eyes and an engaging smile, Nancy Crisp teaches five art classes and maintains a weekly schedule which might defeat a Notre Dame half-back. Let's take a look at it.

Monday, up early, sets to work at her easel. (She never wears a smock and likes to finish one painting before starting another). Children's class, from 3:30 to 5. When the youngsters arrive, some coming from Cedar Grove, they settle around the outside coffee table in the "family room" with cookies and milk for an informal period of art appreciation.

Then they file down to the attractive pine-paneled studio and since they are currently studying Renaissance art, the walls are lined with colorful reproductions from that period. In the evening, from 8 to 10, her adult class meets. Tuesday, at the old Community schoolhouse in Chatham, she conducts a class for children, with 13 boys and one girl, and one for adults. Friday, children in the afternoon and adults again from 8 to 10 p.m.

Born in Scotland, Mrs. Crisp has lived in Belleville since 1929, and had her first "one-man" show at our own public library 11 years ago. She is on the recommended speakers list of the American Federation of Women's Club, has sold more than 300 of her oils, which is the medium she works in, and did two murals for Pal's Cabin in West Orange.

Her husband, Allan, is with the Thomas A. Edison Company and son Robbie, who has been literally dabbling in oils since he was old enough to reach his mother's easel, intends to study law. He has his mother's talent, however, since he took two first prizes for watercolors at Montclair Academy, where he is a freshman.

A tour of the Crisp home provides a charming "self-portrait" of the lady of the house. Finding that the kitchen lacked a view, Mrs. Crisp promptly set up her easel and painted "A Sunday Afternoon", which hangs over the work table and must make even potato peeling a more cheerful task. The room is a soft green, and the cabinet panels are painted with bright Pennsylvania Dutch designs, also by Mrs. Crisp.

A grand piano and fireplace are the focal points of the living room, her glass collection catches the morning sun in the window, and of course, throughout the house, Mrs. Crisp's paintings hang in eye-catching arrangements. The needlepoint chair covers in the dining room were done this summer during visits to Robbie at camp.

On the subject of "Sunday painters," Mrs. Crisp is most enthusiastic, and reminds us that the amateur finds himself in such company as the president and Churchill. She points out that painting, unlike some hobbies, is very inexpensive. Five or six dollars will equip the beginner with all the materials needed. While not minimizing the difficulties, Mrs. Crisp feels that if one can learn to write, one can paint, and the result will be immensely satisfying, as is all creative work.

In dealing with the children, she takes art out of the "dry and dusty" class and presents the old masters as human beings who can interest the children as much as Hopalong Cassidy or Superman. Their eyes light up and interest quickens upon hearing that Michaelangelo created a masterpiece at the age of 17, and that some paintings are worth over a million dollars.

Mrs. Crisp mentioned the therapeutic value of painting, and commented briefly on her own experience. While touring Williamsburg last November she was injured in an automobile accident, and attributes her remarkable recovery to the fact she had her work to dig into, making her forget her troubles.

She finds a great many of her subjects in and around Sussex County, making sketches while on family outings on Sunday. Although she doesn't have time for as much sewing as she used to do, she still creates her own hats, and her housekeeper, Gladys, when asked for an opinion, smiled and said: "They're odd, but look good on Nancy."

Last Saturday, at Wesley Methodist Church, Mrs. Crisp conducted an exhibition of her students' work. It was an impressive collection of the work beginners can do under the guidance of a charming and talented teacher like Nancy Crisp.

Senatore New Head Of Group

Belleville Commissioner Mary Senatore today has been elected president of the prestigious and politically powerful Essex County Women's Democratic League.

According to officers of the league, she will be installed at the group's annual installation affair May 13. Several hundred members are expected to attend.

The association has more than 1,000 politically active members in Essex County, according to Eleanor Hackett, director of publicity.

sales representatives on a national level.

Harold brings to his new position a wealth of experience in the educational field.

TROUBLED TIMES

Growing concern on the part of homeowners due to the increase in the outbreak and spread of vandalism causing fires and destruction to property from fire spread makes it more important for homeowners, who are going to repaint or re-side, to select a sidewall product not only for beauty alone, but for the protection it will also provide against this type of damage.

The Building Products Division of GAF has developed a new concept in siding called "Ruco Thatch" that not only provides "Beauty" but the important features and benefits of "SAFETY" — "INSULATION" — "TOUGHNESS" — "DURABILITY" and of course most important, a sidewall material THAT NEVER REQUIRES ANY MAINTENANCE. Nail it up and forget it. Be sure to ask the siding contractor to DEMONSTRATE these very important features to you before you decide on the sidewall product you select for your home. RUCO THATCH carries a Warranty from a manufacturer in business since 1886.

We are excited about "RUCO THATCH" and know that you will be too, after you have examined "RUCO THATCH'S" beauty, which has just been applied on the new home of:

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schlegel #11 Romano Street Nutley, N.J.

Call our local sales representative after 5 P. M. at 667-7239 for any further information you may require on "RUCO THATCH"

Upsala College Gives Ianuzzi Literary Award

Miss Alessandra C. Ianuzzi of Belleville, a student at Upsala College in East Orange, is one of two recipients of the first annual English Department Award, Dr. Donald G. Smith, chairman of the department, announced this week.

Chosen as an outstanding student of literature in the senior class, Miss Ianuzzi was presented with a copy of the new edition of The Oxford Companion to English Literature, an expensive and important reference work.

David Appleton of East Orange is the other recipient.

Miss Ianuzzi graduated from Mt. St. Dominic Academy in Caldwell, and attended Immaculata College in Pennsylvania before coming to Upsala in 1965. Her literary studies at the college have stressed the modern period and drama. Following graduation, she plans to teach in secondary school.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Ianuzzi of 11 Jeraldo Street in Belleville.

Essex GOP On Common Ground?

Essex GOP voters who favor former Vice President Richard Nixon or New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller for the Republican Presidential nomination have found a common ground in their support of the Republican Party Organization candidates in the June 4th Primary.

That was the contention today of Republican Party Organization Chairman Daniel M. Bernheim of South Orange and Organization Campaign Manager James J. Bannon III of Cedar Grove.

Bernheim and Bannon said the organization candidates are finding "fairly evenly divided sentiment between Nixon and Rockefeller" in their meetings throughout the county. They continued:

"All responsible Republicans and many concerned Independents agree, however, that a strong, vigorous and unified campaign effort is indispensable in Essex County if New Jersey is to be in the GOP column this November. This conviction, we believe, will produce an overwhelming victory June 4th for the candidates on the Republican Organization ticket."

"We should like to emphasize that this concern for the best qualified and strongest ticket for delegates-at-large and district delegates, as well as for alternates, are pledged to bring home a Republican winner at our National Convention in Miami."

"As responsible Republicans, we and all the members of the Republican Party Organization in Essex County are pledged to support that choice with all the vigor and enthusiasm with which we are now campaigning in this primary contest."

Essex Officials Reassured of State Responsibility for Welfare Burden

Essex Freeholder Hymen B. Mintz, chairman of the Essex County Legislative and Planning Committees, said he has been assured by legislative leaders of "action in 1968" to relieve Essex County of its mounting welfare burden.

Mintz headed a delegation of Essex Freeholders at the 48th Annual Legislative Conference Dinner held Monday night in Mercerville, N. J. outside Trenton.

Freeholder Mintz said he had received assurances from assembly speaker Alfred E. Smith of Atlantic County as well as from Senate President Edwin B. Forsythe.

"I have also been reassured by Essex County Senator James H. Wallwork that Essex County's own package of bills relating to the eventual complete state take over of the direct cost of welfare as well as its administrative cost will be ready for Senate consideration by a week from Monday, Mintz said.

"This legislative relief proposal already has the backing of State Commissioner of Institution and Agencies Lloyd McCorkle who is regarded as the administration spokesman on these matters, and with the overall response we have received from legislators including those in Union County and other areas where urban problems are increasing the outlook appears much brighter for both immediate and long range relief from the overpowering financial crisis created in our county by welfare costs," Mintz said.

Mintz said that the two-part proposal to be offered by Senator Wallwork will provide for the immediate take over of the county share of welfare which will amount to roughly a $36 million tab for 1968 followed by the complete take over by the state of both county and municipal welfare costs plus administrative costs in 1969 with the total cost of the overall package set at $82 million.

"The enactment of this legislation, and Governor Hughes has indicated that he will sign such legislation, will put the cost of welfare where it truly belongs, namely a responsibility of the entire citizenry of our state, and with the awakening of the social conscience as recognized in the Presidential and State Commission Reports on Civil Disorders such costs must eventually be borne as a total federal responsibility.

"The fact that the New Jersey Legislature has agreed on the diffusion of welfare costs over a wider base of public responsibility is certainly an important preliminary step toward the eventual goal of national responsibility.

"More important it will enable Essex County, which too long has been absorbing a disproportionate share of welfare responsibility, for the first time in over 30 years to present an actual decrease in the cost of County Government.

This decrease will be achieved because of concerted action on the part of Freeholders, the Legislators and the tax paying community.

"We have succeeded in ending an era of custodial government and have replaced it now with a government of progress," Mintz said.

In addition to Freeholder Mintz others attending the Legislative Conference were Freeholders Alan Augenblick, William H. Clark and Charles A. Matthews. In addition to Senator Wallwork others from the Essex delegation who took part in the Legislative Conference were Senator Milton A. Waldor and Assemblymen John N. Dennis, Kenneth T. Wilson, Philip D. Kaltenbacher, Thomas H. Kean and Ralph R. Caputo.
