Everybody Won Except Walter

"Start me with 10, who are stout-hearted men, and I'll soon give you 10 thousand more . . ." is a line from Sigmond Romberg's Desert Song where the protagonist is begging for a few men with which to start a liberating army.

The same number of men comprised the Boston Tea Party which changed the course of American history. Even fewer were responsible for breaking the back of France's Grand Army with a magnificent cavalry charge at Waterloo. All through history small groups of men with dreams and guts have changed our society drastically — and often to its betterment.

Whether or not Belleville has ten such men is a moot question. However, it does definitely have one! It needs more.

Early last year, Walter Stachovsky, owner of Belleville Floor Covering and an amateur artist dreamed of Belleville acquiring an area reputation as a center of the arts. He rationalized that such a reputation might well improve Belleville's image and in the process bring more shoppers to the Belleville area.

Being more than a dreamer, Stachovsky took action. He communicated with various other towns and cities which had, over a period of years, built fine annual art shows. It took months of communicating by letter, before all the details were in file. Then came the job of attempting to pick the best and most successful operations procedures from each area and forming them into a package tailored for Belleville.

Finally, Stachovsky had a proposed budget and a prospectus with which to interest potential backers. He began to make the rounds, and soon had two local businesses agree to provide $600 between them. In the interim period, Stachovsky had requested a permit from the Belleville Commissioners. This is where he made the first of his three mistakes. He simply got the cart before the horse.

The wheels of government administration sometimes grind exceedingly slowly. They did in this case. It was seven weeks before the town commissioners advised Stachovsky that he could promote the First Annual Belleville Art Show as a part of the annual Cherry Blossom Festival.

However, by this time the two potential backers had lost interest. They were disturbed because the time necessary to properly promote the art show had been foreshortened considerably.

While awaiting the town commissioner's o.k., Stachovsky made his second mistake, which eventually turned to the advantage of the whole community — he went ahead and contracted for promotional printing, display materials, insurance and the multitude of other things necessary for the success of a major show.

The total cost was under $1200. When the backers lost interest, Stachovsky could have cut his losses by 70 per cent by immediately canceling his job orders.

Instead, he decided to go ahead and carry the entire cost himself, hoping for partial reimbursement from the five dollar-entry fee charged artists for the use of the space.

About this time an "expert" appeared on the scene from out of town. Stating that he had handled promotional details for a number of shows and backing up his statement with an officership in a well known art group, the promoter demanded a four hundred guarantee for his services.

Knowing that time was short, and that if the show were to be a success he would need help, Stachovsky agreed. The rest is history. The show was a success. Seventy-five artists attended and hundreds of Bellevilleites of all ages enjoyed the opportunity to purchase original art without having to pay the 50 to 300 per cent markup charged by galleries — or just to look and enjoy the various techniques displayed.

A couple thousand dollars in sales was rung up; not a bad record for a first show. The artists were happy, Belleville's Cherry Blossom Festival was vastly improved, the town's image was improved, hundreds of persons who would not normally be exposed to original art, were; the town received favorable publicity in many surrounding newspapers and Walter Stachovsky carried an $800 cash loss.

Everyone benefitted except the man with the idea — the man who overcame inertia. He is not bitter or discouraged, however. When asked about next year's possibilities he said, " . . . sure I'll do it again next year — even if I have to carry it again. I learned a lot this year and won't make the same mistakes twice. Even against odds this year's art show was a success. It will be bigger next year and again the year after that." I make my living in Belleville and I'm old fashioned enough to believe that people like me should give something to Belleville in return. Belleville needs people who want to help people.

We agree.

"Start me with 10 who are stout-hearted men and I'll soon give you 10,000 more . . ."

Two Belleville Men Arrested For Armed Theft; One Shot

Belleville police cooperated with Bloomfield and Newark police to round up a trio of men, who were captured within a half hour after two of them held a Bloomfield housewife, her twelve-year old daughter and a neighbor at gunpoint while they searched the house for money.

One of the suspects, Edward Patrick Cosgrove, 35, of 145 Sylvan Avenue, was shot by the Bloomfield police and is under police guard at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Anthony Olivieri, 32, of 88 22nd St., East Orange, and Joseph Guardabacchio, 39, of 67 Magnolia St., Belleville, were also picked up by the police and charged with armed robbery. They were held without bail.

Mrs. Doris Toppeto of 22 Lewis Street, whose home was ransacked, told police that shortly after 5 p.m. when her daughter Carmen responded to a knock on the door, two men pulled revolvers and forced their way into the Toppeto home. Mrs. Toppeto's husband, Carmen, a restaurant owner, was working at the time.

The men told Mrs. Toppeto, her daughter, and Mrs. Gilda Scaglione, a neighbor who lives at 105 Baldwin Place, to face the wall.

Holding guns to the heads of the women, the men threatened to shoot if Mrs. Toppeto did not disclose where the money was hidden.

Neighbors, meanwhile, who had seen the men enter the house, became suspicious and phoned the police.

Within minutes the Bloomfield police had surrounded the house. Patrolmen Otis Eddings and William McDowell entered the front of the house while Thomas Galio to went to the rear.

Just as Galio to got to the rear two men raced out of the yard and stopped to fire. Galio to fired, hitting one man in the shoulder and then he gave chase.

A block away Olivieri was taken into custody by Galio to, and police alerted Belleville and Newark detectives to be on the lookout for a wounded man and a man in a blue Corvair, who had allegedly dropped the two men off at the Toppeto home.

Forty minutes after the Belleville Community Council held its sixth annual dinner meeting on Monday evening, May 6th.

Among those present were many of the staff of United Community Fund and Councils of Essex and West Hudson, the parent organization: Edward A. Kirk, Executive Director, with Mrs. Kirk; Richard S. Berkey and Thomas Reamer, Associate Directors in the Newark office and Campaign Directors in the fields of industry and residential giving, respectively; Alfred Wagner and Richard P. Donovan, Directors of Labor Participation in the United Drives; and John M. D. Walsh, vice-chairman of the Nutley Community Service Council and Cabinet member of the Newark office. Charles Wodehouse, executive vice-president of N.J. Bell Telephone and General Chairman the United Community Fund Drive for 1968 - 69.

Wodehouse addressed the group briefly stressing the great need for an all-out effort in "Fair - Share" giving through the United Drive in order to meet the demands made upon these agencies which received their budgetary needs from the Fund. He pointed out that Belleville residents and their agencies get back many times over the dollars in return. Belleville needs people who want to help people.

Guest of honor for the evening was Gilbert T. Hunter, former staff member of the Newark office and now with the Health and Welfare Council of Greater Philadelphia, who was recognized for his years of volunteer service as secretary to the Council.

Upon the recommendation of the Nominating Committee, headed by Dr. Jack Grundfest, the present officers were re-elected for another year as follows: Richard B. Morgen, chairman, Horace B. Baldwin, first vice-chairman, and Ralph A. Casale, second vice-chairman.

Morgen read his annual report giving the highlights of the past year's activities, which included speakers who could help the members to know the services in Belleville a little better. Among these were Lawrence Schwartz, who was then associated with the Essex County Legal Service Center; Thomas Cassels, head counselor with the Belleville Family Service Bureau; Mrs. Ruth Cowell, Director of North Essex Child Guidance Clinic; Thomas J. DeVine, Jr., president of Camp Ro - Li, a non-profit operation of Belleville Rotary Club and the Lions Club; and Mrs. Martha Esposito, Assistant Director of Community Nursing Services of Essex and West Hudson.

He went on to report that the remainder of meeting time was spent on two important, exciting projects to aid the town. Mrs. Patricia Diana chaired a committee which has been attempting to set up an After - School Child Care Center for working mothers.

This has required many hours of research and hard work in which Cassels' knowledge has been invaluable, and it is now hoped that such a program can take shape very soon.

The other project undertaken, and still in the planning stages, is the Community Goal and Development Program under the guidance of George Tapper and Mrs. Ethel Kahn, director and assistant director, of the Rutgers University Community Services Bureau.

Tapper and Mrs. Kahn met several times with committees as well as at regular Council sessions, and with the Town Commissioners, explaining the process in working out such a plan. The Council membership voted in favor of the proposal and it was then taken to the Commissioners for their approval.

Letters have gone to Belleville organizations asking their participation, and it is hoped that by the Fall, actual meetings with leaders and concerned citizens will begin to take place.

The main purpose of this program is to provide efficient forums where aims and problems can be discussed, with the assistance of trained personnel such as Tapper. This type of program is not new, having been used in mainly communities across the country, and have been successful.

Following his report, Morgen introduced the speaker for the evening, John J. Gibbons, president of the N. J. State Bar Association, whose topic was "Commission Reports: Black Power and White Suburbs." Gibbons opened his remarks by telling his audience that they might not like what he had to say, but that the facts were important. During the ensuing minutes, a hush fell over the room as all listened with rapt attention to a thought - provoking review of past events and facts that have led us to the problems of today's society.

He began by quoting two sentences that received prominence in the Report of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders: "Race prejudice has shaped our history decisively; it now threatens to affect our future. White racism is essentially responsible for the explosive mixture which has been accumulating in our cities since the end of World War II." These, he said, summarize its conclusions and reflect its tone.

The man in the street seems to be interested in little else about the Commission Report that its failure to condemn the Black Power militants and the breakdown of law and order. The thinking is, "Look at all we have done for them. Other poor people made it without riots. Why don't we make them stay in the South?" Such thinking is exactly what brought us to last summer's violence between white authority and Negro aspirations," he stated.

"Law has permitted discrimination against Negroes to be the law of the land, and the public policy of this country was frankly and openly racist until at least 1954. There were some grudging concessions during World War I concerning employment. From 1945 although court rulings had marked the end of official racist doctrine as constitutional law and boosted the civil rights movement, the gap between negro and white rates of unemployment widened; negro housing and schooling became more segregated.

"When it became apparent that a change in the Constitution was not to be greeted by any real change in America's racist public policy the civil rights movement moved from legal action to direct, but non-violent action.

Throughout the late fifties and early sixties peaceful direct action focused some attention on the necessity for facing the race problem.

"The March on Washington in 1963 provided the major impetus for the Civil Rights Act of 1964, a demonstration of the effectiveness of the peaceful direct action technique, even with its limitations. However, Civil Rights Act was not successful in achieving entry into trade unions, open housing or school desegregation. The white majority supported Negroes in their right to vote, while our institutions remained citadels of white supremacy.

"Zoning rules excluded the disadvantaged, and protected the suburbs from the necessity for contributing to the cost of services needed by poor. Displacement of the poor by modern advances provided a flow of immigrants as a market for obsolete housing in the city. City centers became more black, and more dilapidated every month, looking toward better opportunities in jobs, housing, and schools, and police - community relations in the north led to increased white resistance. It was in this climate of failure that the Black Power movement was born in 1966.

"Black Power is not a designation or a unitary concept. The phrase is applied indiscriminately to a fairly broad spectrum of separatist points of view. Some Negroes see it as a process of self - development and growth into maturity, others, as a part of a world-wide anti - colonialist movement, but central to its rhetoric are the beliefs that Negro problems will be solved only by effective political action. This is the basic conflict of interest between Negro and white neighbors.

"The Negro has the legal right to equal opportunities, but he lacks the political power to force them. He has begun to recognize that he must, by united action, position himself where he can exercise political leverage. The more extremes in Black Power suggest doing this through violence, however, this violence is not central to the movement. In the opinion of Mr. Gibbons, the disorders of last summer were not the manifestations of Black Power, rather of black powerlessness, and the frustration which it produces. Black Power viewed this way, could have the greatest potential for bringing peace to our troubled cities.

"The White racism as noted by the Kerner Report does present a grave danger however, as the white majority is not yet ready to spend money, revise policies, or open its schools, its homes, or its hearts. The only reasonable response to Black Power is the adoption of a new American public policy, positively integrationist rather than racist. Unless we are ready to re-examine ourselves, our policies, spend what is needed to bridge the gap in educational opportunities, disperse Negroes into white suburbs, the drift toward racial violence will continue. John Gibbons closed his remarks by stating that "only the white majority can reverse the trend he concluded."

McCarthy Unit Formed

First organizational meeting of the Belleville Volunteers for McCarthy was held on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Buchanan of Branch Brook Drive. Mrs. Terry Driller, Chairman of the Nutley Volunteers, conducted the meeting.

"I know there are McCarthy supporters in Belleville," Mrs. Driller said, "and your job is to make sure that they all know the importance of their vote in the June primary."

The Reverend John Mair, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church, accepted the position of Chairman of the Belleville group, and Mrs. Carol Buchanan will assist him in the post.

Mrs. Elaine Blumenfeld will act as County Coordinator for the Belleville Volunteers, and Keith Ferguson will be the Student Coordinator. Publicity will be handled by Mrs. Maureen Lukowiak.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO—Clara Maass Memorial Hospital was founded by a group of public-minded citizens who recognized the need for additional hospital facilities located within the Newark area. Today the hospital and all those associated with the hospital were

Town Residents Join 'Poor Peoples' March

"We are on our way to Washington to press for a fairer share of the nation's wealth for poor people." These were the words of the Rev. Horace Sharper, Southern Christian Leadership Conference's Newark convener for the Poor People's Campaign and pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist Church.

More than 500 Belleville and Newarkers joined the 1500 member Eastern caravan to march to Washington. The caravan originated in Boston, paused one day for a rally in New York, and then moved to within five miles of downtown Newark, where a Mother's Day rally was later held in the heart of the city.

Clergymen serving more than 100 churches in Essex County joined Newark businessmen, the Greater Newark Council of Churches, the Newark Welfare Rights Organization, the New Jersey Council of Churches, the Committee of the Concerned, the United Community Corporation, and the city administration in "rolling out the welcome mat."

The marchers crusaded for support from New Jersey in their request for guarantees of jobs and annual incomes, more human treatment within the public welfare system, and more adequate programs which result in social and economic empowerment for poor blacks, Puerto Ricans, whites, and Mexican-Americans.

According to the Rev. Edgar G. Thomas, Newark Area Coordinator, "many people who questioned the advisability of the Campaign were unaware that the cities like Newark and Trenton must have financial help quickly from state and federal government sources to meet such rising costs as those in public welfare, or property taxes will go beyond the reach of the average property owner."

The South Orange Pastor further stated that "there is a desperate need for the unemployed and underemployed ghetto male to be restored to responsible manhood through having more opportunities for the kind of employment which will make him a contributing member of society."

The Poor People's Campaign was Dr. Martin Luther King's last project before his death. Leaders of the Campaign are asking for private and government support in establishing a Martin Luther King Memorial Fund with a minimum of $100-million "to support the self-determined efforts of poor people for community organization and economic development."

Belleville Automotive Students To Compete At Indianapolis

Student automobile mechanics from Belleville High School and 50 other northern New Jersey high schools are now practicing for the 20th Annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest to be held at Old Bridge Stadium, Old Bridge, N.J., Saturday, May 11, and at Hinchcliffe Stadium in Paterson, N.J., Saturday, May 18. Starting time is 1:00 p.m.

In the contest, teams of two boys from each school will be given new 1968 Plymouths to put in smooth-running condition. It won't be easy because Plymouth engineers will have "bugged" the cars with a number of mechanical faults to prevent them starting or running properly. The first pair to restore its car to perfect running order wins a trip to the National Finals at Indianapolis Speedway, June 18-19-20, and a chance at $100,000 worth of college scholarships and prizes. The local team is sponsored by Bigelow Motors, Inc.

Don Pearson, Chrysler-Plymouth regional manager, said Trouble Shooting is designed to encourage mechanically skilled students to continue their education and become automotive technicians. He described the contest as "one of the finest contributions of American business to job training and vocational education."

"According to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics," Pearson said, "there is an acute national shortage of automobile mechanics and if the trend continues, there will be only 750,000 trained mechanics in America by 1975 instead of the 1.25 million we will need."

According to Pearson, about 65 percent of the young men who participate in the Trouble Shooting Contest find work as automobile mechanics. In the contest's 20-year history, some 15,000 competitors have been placed in full or part time jobs. Many of them have been offered jobs with the Peace Corps.

Winners of the Old Bridge and Paterson events will earn trophies and tool kits for their schools and a trip to the National Finals at Indianapolis where the first five teams in each of two classes — industrial and vocational arts — will be offered the following scholarships: 1st, $3,000; 2nd, $2,000; 3rd, $1,500; 4th, $1,000; 5th, $500. In addition, each of the ten winning teams will receive for its school a trophy and a new Plymouth engine, complete with transmission and accessories, for instructional use in the school's auto mechanics shop. Every team entered in the National Finals will receive a tool box with complete sets of tools for its school.

The Trouble Shooting Contest is sponsored by participating schools, the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, and by local Plymouth dealers.

DeWitt Savings Executive To Participate On Panel

Eight Essex County savings and loan officials have active roles in the 59th annual convention of the New Jersey Savings and Loan League now in progress here in Haddon Hall Hotel.

Leading off yesterday's sessions were Walter H. Foster, president, Glen Ridge Savings and Loan Association and Walter A. Hughes, Jr., president, Newark Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Foster presided at an open meeting of the League's standing committee on Public Relations. The group reviewed the current activities of the state trade organization and that of individual associations in this field. It also considered and proposed for further study the publication of a series of management leaflets on various aspects of the business as they relate to the public within the state of New Jersey.

The session at which Hughes presided was an open committee meeting, also held by the League's standing committee to "Study the Impact of the So-Called Checkless Society" on the savings and loan business. It considered the feasibility of making detailed studies to determine what adjustment may have to be made in savings and loan operating methods should such a "Checkless Society" come into being.

Three Essex County officials will be active this afternoon in a variety of subjects. They include: Sheridan Schechner, president, Barton Savings and Loan Association, Newark; Henrik Tvedt, president, First Savings and Loan

High School Bands Will Perform Here

A Drum and Bugle Corps presentation sponsored by The Joseph G. Biancardi Association will be held Saturday afternoon, June 1st, at 1:30 P.M. at the Belleville High school stadium.

This will be the first such event ever to be held in Belleville. There will be six participating corps troops competing. They are St. Lucy's Cadets, The Audabon Bon Bon Girls, St. Joseph Patron Cadets, Garfield Cadets, The Ridgemen, and The St. Lucy's Kaydettes.

A crowd of 7,000 is expected to attend. Money derived from the project will be, as has been customary, with all The Biancardi Association functions, donated exclusively to charitable organizations.

Cosmo Alagna is program co-ordinator, and Thomas McCool is ticket chairman. In the event of rain, the program will be held June 8th.

Post Cuts Subscribers

Back in the not-to-be-forgotten thirties, when Norman Rockwell was drawing nostalgic covers for the Saturday Evening Post and new cars were $695, the Post was "it." It was Benjamin Franklin's magazine ad over 200 years old — then!

In later years other magazines gobbled up much of the market, largely by shrewdly aiming at the various blocs of the population and by aggressive effort. In recent years the Post has attempted to compete on the new terms and turned to the sensational, which was certainly out of character. And though the Post still has almost 7,000,000 subscribers, it was the only Curtis magazine that lost money in 1967.

Thus the announcement a few days ago that the magazine would cut its circulation to about half, and no longer attempt to appeal to a mass audience, was not a complete surprise. The Post, Curtis said, would concentrate on quality, and a select list of subscribers.

The fate of the Post somewhat reflects the changing face of America. In the thirties there were certain standards, a homogeneous society, to an extent. World War II, the rise of former "lower classes," immigration, television, automobiles, and many other things have made America a much more diverse society.

Standards which kept the Post where it was from colonial times to a few years ago no longer apply. The days when most of us aspired to the same general goals and accepted the same general pattern of life seem gone forever, for better or worse, and a more turbulent, divisive, tension-charged society is apparently our lot.

The Unknown in Canada

In Canada a new Prime Minister has called for a general election on June 25th. Since Canada has had four elections in the past ten years this is nothing exactly new but there are significant potentialities in this move by Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

Trudeau is, first of all, a French Canadian and no one knows exactly what he will do if his Liberal Party wins a majority in the House of Commons. There seems to be a chance this will happen, though Conservatives are convinced a conservative tide is running, because in the last election the Liberal Party won 130 out of 265 seats — just three short of a majority.

One of the problems in the governing of Canada for the past six years has been the inability of either major party to gain majority; thus minority governments have actually administered the country since 1962.

One of the anxieties of conservatives or traditionalists in the current situation is separatist sentiment being fanned by some French-Canadians and by President Charles DeGaulle of France. In this connection, just what Trudeau will do if he wins a majority is not to clear. Thus Canada is embarked on a national election campaign, called by a Prime Minister in his first week in office, the results and consequences of which no one can accurately predict.

U.S. interest in Canada is naturally considerable and Washington's primary hope is that Canada will remain a unified nation — whatever the outcome of the June 25th voting.

The Belgian Crisis

Somewhat unnoticed in the flow of more sensational news is the ominous drift of events in Belgium recently. In that small but key nation, now the headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Community, two traditional language groups are on the verge of civil war.

The crisis between Flemish and French-speaking Belgians has recently become grave; positions have hardened and resentment by the Flemish majority has greatly increased in intensity. Experts now predict that unless the Flemish win some of their demands the nation might disintegrate.

The bad feeling between Flemish and French-speaking segments of the population has been heightened in recent years as the minority, French-speaking element gained certain advantages. Three months ago the Flemish demanded the removal of the French-language faculty at Louvain University — one of the oldest in the world, and in Flemish territory.

(Flemish territory is that above an approximate east-west line just south of Brussels, though the capital city itself has become Frenchified. The Flemish, who speak a language akin to Dutch, comprise about 55.4 per cent of the population.)

The French-speaking segment of the nation refuses to give ground. In fact, many of their spokesmen depreciate the Flemish language because it is not spoken or understood worldwide. The Flemish reply that they speak English, Flemish and French, whereas French-speaking citizens learn only French. A government crisis persists and a showdown seems to be developing, with perhaps serious consequences for NATO nations.

The Railroads and The Public

In something of a historic recommendation, an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner recently prescribed the level of services which the Southern Pacific Company should provide passengers on its Sunset Limited.

The recommendation was made on the basis of an investigation ordered after complaints by the states of California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, and Louisiana. The states complained the railroad downgraded service on the Sunset Limited, the last direct passenger train operating between Los Angeles and New Orleans.

The ICC examiner upheld the states fully and found that the railroad, by failing to provide sleeping car facilities and dining and lounge accommodations for first class travelers, had violated the Interstate Commerce Act. Of course, the recommendation has not yet been accepted by the Commission and no editor can pass final judgment upon it.

However, the recommendations of the examiner, suggesting that all rail roads be required to meet certain minimum standards for passenger trains in interstate service, sound logical. Included in these minimums would be sleeping cars for trains operating twelve hours at night, air conditioning and heating facilities in "good operational order" and both interior and exterior of all cars maintained in clean and sanitary condition. On passenger trains running twelve hours or more, the examiner recommended that diner-lounge cars be required, in addition to regular meal service.

While few want to see the government move further into the field of private business, the railroads, of course, are and have long been a quasi public service, and it is also true that they benefited from land grants and the power of eminent domain. The public interest must be considered by the ICC and one hopes certain minimum, improved standards for passenger service evolve, whether through ICC regulations or private initiative.

Another Spring Cleanup Ahead

Seems Only Yesterday

ONE YEAR AGO

With more than 2,000 signatures already inscribed on petitions protesting the location of the Essex County Vocational School in the community's school district, campaigners against the school continued to cruise the neighborhood soliciting additional signatures.

Lawrence Schwarz, a local attorney attempted to stop Belleville from issuing a building permit to Pinneas and Tamburro, Kearny land developers for the construction of a 260-unit apartment project because it would spoil the residential character of the neighborhood.

The Times awarded the Better Belleville Cup to Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wing for their outstanding efforts towards developing good citizenship in the students at Belleville High School. The cup was presented in the school auditorium, where Harry French, director of the Chamber of Commerce, and Peter A. Dvarackas, Times editor, were present.

5 YEARS AGO

Two amateur Belleville photographers were among the winners of the New Jersey Tercentenary Photographic competition. Alphonso A. Velti placed third in the color slide division with a picture of the Cherry Blossom Queen, and Dennis Simonetti also received a third prize, but with a picture of a surf fisherman in a black and white print.

Gordon Adams was named editor of the Belleville Times. Adams, a full-blooded Pawnee Indian, was born on a reservation in Oklahoma, and served in World War II as a Sergeant in the 82nd Airborne Division, where he started his career as a newsman.

Mary Senatore, former vice-chairman of the Board of Adjustment, was named chairman at the Town Hall. She had been serving under Dominick A. Lally. Her vice chairman was Ralph A. Allaire.

10 YEARS AGO

Three Jersey City youths were arrested by Belleville police in a service station at 156 Belleville Avenue. The trio intended to burglarize gas stations in two counties, but only were successful in getting away with $3.70.

Senator Donal C. Fox, in a spontaneous action in defense of the interests of Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield, East Orange and Irvington, sent a letter to D. Louis Tonti, executive director of the N. J. Highway Authority, advising him that he would fight any legislation intended to allow the Authority to close the Parkway to non-tollplayers.

Fire Chief Harry White retired from the Fire Department, for health reasons. He joined the department as a volunteer in 1919, and became a paid member in 1930.

15 YEARS AGO

A testimonial dinner was given Mrs. Florence Morey, town clerk, in honor of her completion of 25 years in the town's employ. The dinner was held at the Forest Hills Restaurant, with more than 200 friends attending.

Members of the Cub and Boy Scout Troops at St. Peter's Church had a father-son Communion breakfast. Members of Troops 375, 376, and 377 were present, and the boys in Troop 375 went to mass with their fathers.

A blood donor's assembly was sponsored by St. Peter's Parish. Rev. John Wightman was acting as recruit chairman for the bank. It was the first time a church group had sponsored a bank and marked the first civic affair held in the then new auditorium.

20 YEARS AGO

The Board of Commission granted approval of a permit for the manufacture of a doughnut shop. The building was the former site of the Junior Achievement program which had been moved to Newark. Two Jersey City men started the business and used a new doughnut mix introduced by a national food concern.

Local children were being urged to make reservations for the summer season at Camp Ro-Li. Many applications for the camp project had been received from out of towners, but the commissioners said that they felt that Belleville residents should have priority because the camp was Belleville sponsored.

Some Questions For Critics Clinic

To The Times:

Reference is made to your editorial entitled "Town Budget Critics' Clinic?" printed in The Belleville Times-News. If this writer is the "dissatisfied questioner" referred to, the adjective is very accurate. Exactly what was the answer that I repeatedly received to my question? The following table shows the 1968 tax increase as it was adopted:

	Budget Increases	Budget Rate Increases	Needed To Balance Total 1968 Municipal Budget	Balance Rate Increases	Total Increases
School	$ 43,889	- 2.6	$247,300	14.8	17.2(17)
County	$325,154	-19.1	$177,600	10.4	29.5(30)
Town and Reserve	$146,758	- 8.7	$196,000	11.6	20.3(20)
Vet & Sr.
Citizens	$ 1,170	- 0.1	$ 12,700	0.7	0.6(1)
Total	$514,631	-30.3	$634,200	37.3	67.6(68)

Yes, the total tax increase for 1968 is $1,149,000 and Belleville taxpayers will pay it. I am dissatisfied because my 1968 taxes will increase by $133.18 based on an assessment of $19,700. The following table shows what the increases will be in 1968:

	1968 Assessment	1968 Tax Increase
	$15,000	$101.40
	$20,000	$135.20
	$25,000	$169.00

How about that Mr. Taxpayer? Please don't act shocked when you receive your August tax bill! The first table shows that 44.8 percent of these increases will be due to budget increases and 55.2 percent will be due to the $634,200 that is needed to balance the total Municipal Budget from internal sources, i.e. the taxpayer of Belleville. Why is this figure exactly equal to the amount of aid given to the Town Government only (not schools or county) by the State of New Jersey under RS 54-11d? None of the Town Commissioners would answer this question directly at the Budget hearing other than to insinuate that it was needed to balance the Municipal Budget. The $634,200 that is to be received from the State is clearly shown in the Town Government Budget as anticipated revenue. The additional $634,200 is clearly inherent in the new tax rate as shown in table one. Is the Town attempting to collect this money twice in an effort to balance the total Municipal Budget? It would appear that the Town Government is accepting the State money as compensation for the loss of the business personal property tax, but also is asking the taxpayers to pay an equal amount to balance the books from internal sources. Without any budget increases in 1968 the Belleville taxpayers would have been asked to pay $634,200 at a rate of 37 points more because it is inherent in the method of bookkeeping that is applied.

Your editorial mentions that $580,000 of Town Government surplus money was used in the Town Council budget. You failed to report that $410,000 was returned to surplus at the end of 1967 and that the surplus balance at that time was $811,000. That figure is over double the amount you referred to as a normal balance after Belleville's bills are paid in any given year. Will 70 percent of the $400,000 of surplus that is to be used in 1968 be returned to the surplus fund at the end of this year? If so, why couldn't more surplus be used in 1968?

You state that the use of an additional $100,000 of surplus money at the Town Government level is "sound fiscal management." This statement is made despite the fact that the current Town Government surplus is still over $410,000 as of this writing and probably will be over $600,000 at the end of 1968. Also, your publisher said in an earlier editorial that the Board of Education should not have cut its Budget by $36,800 after it was defeated at the polls by the voters. The Town Commissioners then cut the School Budget by $206,000 after the second defeat of the Budget at the polls. Was this the real meaning of the voters' feelings or was this the only real expression the voter has concerning taxes? The Board of Education is now compelled to make fiscal cuts and use every dollar of its surplus money in 1968. Why can't the Town Commissioners use a similar approach? Apparently you do not agree with your publisher concerning "sound fiscal management" of School money.

The first table in this letter shows that the Town Government and Reserve increase is greater than that being requested for School purposes. The latter is composed of $43,889 of actual 1968 budget increase and $247,300 of money needed to internally supply the previous base budget requirements.

If your proposal of a "Town Budget Critics' Clinic" is adopted, you, your publisher, your reporters, and many taxpayers should attend the Clinic. I for one, will be glad to attend and would hope that any questions that I would ask would be answered to my satisfaction. This act of courtesy was not forth coming at the 1968 Budget Hearing. I believe that I was distracted by an entirely new set of figures that were modified from the Municipal Budget as it was advertised. The Commissioners wanted to discuss letters I wrote before the Budget was published and were seemingly not interested about questions concerning the published Budget. These letters were written before the Budget was advertised and were based upon the Town throw away leaflet and newspaper reports issued by the Commissioners. Also, the Commissioners refused to discuss question concerning the School Budget or the total Municipal Budget at the recent Budget Hearing. It was stated numerous times that the Hearing's purpose was to discuss the Town Government Budget only, despite the fact that the total Municipal Budget was what was being approved. I do apologize for the fact that I did not state my questions in a clear enough fashion so that the Commissioners could clearly understand the real meaning of these questions. My intent was not to get involved in personal or Party politics, but was to obtain some answers to questions as a taxpayer.

Thank you for allowing me to express my viewpoints on this subject.

Sincerely yours,
William Y. Riedel, Jr.

Belleville Clean-Up Becomes Fowl-Up

Spring clean-up week has messed-up the town of Belleville.

It all started when Commissioner Vincent F. Strumolo, who is director of the Public Affairs department, asked the people to utilize the week of May 6 through May 11 to "clean out their cellars, yards, garages and attics." Flyers were issued indicating exactly what was permitted, as far as garbage goes.

The people responded with enthusiasm . . . too much enthusiasm, according to public officials.

"He tore down his whole garage," angrily exclaimed one member of the collection detail, "and he expects us to haul it away? That's a job for a contractor. The wood isn't even in four by four bundles."

The man was referring to the flyer, which specified that all lumber should not exceed four feet in length and be tied in bundles.

Because the townspeople failed to adhere to the restrictions, garbagemen were confronted with streets and curbs buried under gigantic piles of tree branches, lumber, portions of fences and what seemed like roomful of furniture.

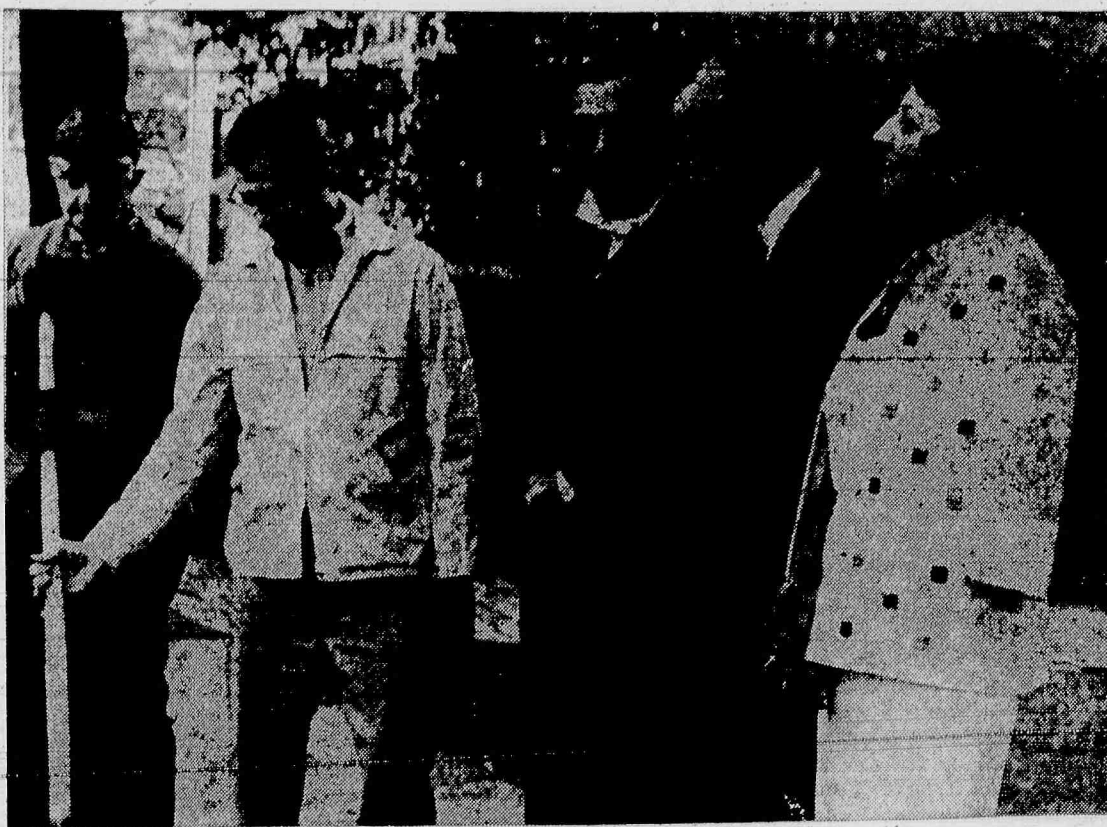

Commissioner Strumolo, under whose department the garbagemen work, stated, "It is not our fault, the people just did not follow directions."

Commissioner Mary V. Senatore, head of the department of Public Works became inadvertently involved when homeowners complaining about uncollected trash, phoned the wrong department.

"However," Commissioner Senatore stated, "our department is co-operating with the department of Public Affairs and we are doing all we can to help by supplying equipment for the heavier pieces of wood, rocks and cement."

Both Commissioners emphasized that the garbage presently on the curbs would be removed, but stressed that it will take longer because of the amount of unmanageable debris that was put out by the homeowners and apartment dwellers.

Meanwhile, officials ask the townspeople to exercise patience.

Local Store Featuring Conditioners

Two new air conditioners have been developed which have eliminated the need for an expensive wiring job yet still cool large areas. They are room air conditioners which run on regular house current.

The larger model uses 12 amperes and gives 14,000 BTU's, enough to cool three or four rooms. This is the largest capacity of any air conditioner which runs on 115 volt house current. It can be plugged into any adequately wired outlet with no special wiring. Previously it was necessary to have 230 volt service to the house and a special line from the fuse box to the outlet to get this amount of cooling. This electrical work would cost about $200.00.

While a 9,000 BTU air conditioner is not unusual on 115 volts, it is the first time this capacity is available using only 7 1/2 amperes; the lowest amount needed by any air conditioner. This unit will work in any outlet that has enough electricity to run a toaster, and it still gives enough cooling to do two or three rooms.

According to Daniel Schwartz of Karl's Sales and Service, Belleville, these two air conditioners now make it possible to economically cool many areas that previously could not be done or needed expensive wiring.

Reform Republicans Kick-Off Campaign

Anxious to continue the big victory it enjoyed last November 7th the Reform Republicans held its first "kick-off" meeting last Friday at the West Caldwell home of Frederic Remington, Jr., a candidate for Freeholder.

Since the November election, the Reform Republican members of the Board of chosen Freeholders have been unable to implement their proposals that would greatly benefit the county and its residents. This meeting permitted an open discussion on how to correct the condition.

Frederic Remington, Jr., a Freeholder candidate, aptly stated the issue when he said, "The real battle for Essex County's survival must be placed in the hands of persons completely dedicated in their work and not concerned for personal gains. At present, the Reform Republican members of the Board are limited in their ability to work with the opposition. I'm sure the voters are aware of this handicap and I do believe they will correct this unhappy situation at the polls on June 4th."

Jack J. Soriano, of Bloomfield, another candidate on the Reform Republican slate for Freeholder seconded Mr. Remington's remarks and added, "We have two prime goals in mind, first to fully streamline the Essex County government so that the people will be pleased with its efficiency and, secondly with the speed in which their problems are resolved."

The third Freeholder candidate is Edward Roos of West Orange who supported the contentions of his fellow candidates and pleaded for a non-partisan policy that would make use of all good political ideas that would benefit the county. He cited the need to work together with all forces to secure public works, and highway construction that would create gainful employment. Furthermore, the educational programs must be studied with an eye toward improving them for our young people.

State Senator James H. Wallwork spoke briefly on the urgent need of bringing the Reform Republican plans to fruition, and of how our county people are looking hopefully for the results of the new team of Republicans who are now laboring for them at the local, county and state levels. He said, "It's imperative that these Reform Republican candidates for Essex County Freeholder be brought into office — their presence is so essential, so vital to our program that their absence could mean the difference between a boom and a bust for Essex County."

Social Studies Classes Visit U. N., Liberty Statue

The ninth grade social studies classes visited the United Nations Building and the Statue of Liberty March 28. The students were accompanied by Mr. Forte and Mr. Early.

The expedition culminated their study of "The Importance - of the International Peace Organization in Our World Today" and "The Role Immuration Plays in the Building of Our Country".

At the United Nations, they visited the General Assembly, Security Council, Trusteeship Council, International Court, Economic and Social Council and the Secretariat. They also heard a lecture by an ambassador from a Middle East country and participated in a question and answer period.

The Statue of Liberty National Monument on Liberty Island, New York, was the second stop on their trip. The classes had lunch at Liberty Park and later viewed the statue and the new museum being built at its base.

The hardest job is the one that you put off until the last minute.

A Correction

In the article concerning the surprise dinner party honoring Mr. and Mrs. John J. Thomas on their 50 wedding anniversary, the names of Mr. and Mrs. James Fachney of Belleville were inadvertently omitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Fachney, daughter and son-in-law of the couple, were co-hosts at the affair with the Thomas' other children.

Men may love the modest maidens, but you can't make modern misses believe it.

WHAT A PHARMACIST MUST KNOW

You have often heard people say that all a pharmacist has to know when dispensing a prescription is how to count out the already prepared capsules or tablets. This is not true. Pharmacists are taught much more, while attending a college of pharmacy.

A pharmacist must know the art of compounding and how to store medicines to preserve potency. He must know the safe dosage of thousands of drugs. He must know their actions, uses, and precautions while taking them, and how to combine them safely with other drugs. And, he must use this knowledge to check the safety of every prescription he dispenses.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Congressman Issues Warning Against Propaganda Campaign

Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-10th District) said today he was "astonished by the persistence of a campaign directed against a Social Security bill which is no longer before the Congress."

A typewritten warning, dated March 21, 1968, is still being circulated in the Essex County area, Rodino said, urging residents to write their Congressmen to prevent passage of H.R. 5710.

"The statements in the warning are misleading, vicious and completely false," Rodino said.

Rodino, dean of the New Jersey Congressional Delegation, said that H.R. 5710 had been superseded by H.R. 12080 which has been passed by the House and Senate and signed into law.

This measure increased Social Security benefits, improved the Medicare program, and provided for changes in public assistance programs.

The typewritten warning now being circulated in Essex County contains exactly the same message as material in circulation as long ago as last October, Rodino said.

"It refers to the legislation as though it were still pending before Congress," Rodino continued, "but this is the least of the erroneous statements that it makes."

"The warning falsely alleges that this bill, which is now law, would alter the basic structure of our Social Security system. This is utterly false."

"The warning states that the present system of contributions by individuals to achieve eligibility for automatic benefits upon retirement would be replaced by a vaguely described discretionary system presided over by a 'welfare czar' who would determine the amounts to be received by individual beneficiaries.

"I cannot emphasize too

O'Neill Receives Honor

Among the 50 high school students who have been selected for participation in the fifth annual Summer Scholar Program at Saint Peter's College.

Francis J. Mertz, vice president for development, announced that each student will arship for summer study at Saint Peter's.

Chosen to take part are James Frascella 11 Mountain Way, William 165 Anderson PKWY, and Nancy Jean Moore, 15 Hillcrest Rd., all of Cedar Grove; Veronica Lewis, 81 Durrel 1st., Verona; Therese Devlin, 185 Montclair Ave., Belleville.

O'Neill, Henrich, and Frescell are juniors at Essex Catholic High School.

Miss Devlin is a sophomore at immatriculation, St. School, Montclair, and Miss Lewis and Miss Moore are in the junior class at Mount Saint Dominic Academy, Caldwell.

According to Mertz, the summer scholar program is designed to provide an academic challenge to superior high school students. They will enroll in a variety of college classes with regular Saint

Their selection was based on academic standing and co-curricular activity.

Jim DePiro Favored For Tourney

Belleville's forthcoming Golf Tournament boast an outstanding Champion. Last year's victory in the Belleville Tournament was but one of a long list for Jim DePiro who puts his Belleville Championship on the line on June 24th at Forest Hill Fild Club.

Way back in 1952 and 1953 Jim DePiro won the Metropolitan Jr. Championship. In the next year competing in the Atlantic Coast Conference he was runner-up to no less a person that Arnold Palmer.

Next he won the Army Championship at Fort Dix in 1956. Four times he was Essex County Champion winning in 1958-59-64-65. Jim also was Branch Brook Club Champ four times in 1955-60-65-67.

Add to these laurels the State Championship in 1964 and the Runner Up in the State Championships in 1967. He also lead the 1966 State open for two rounds with 67-74.

However, like the top gun of our TV westerns. Jim DePiro will have a lot of ambitious young men taking shots at him in the Belleville Tournament.

Golfers who would like to add their names to the list of competitors may pick up application forms at either the Belleville Town Clerks office or the Belleville Recreation Office.

strongly that there is absolutely no truth in this allegation. Under the new legislation, the Social Security program continues to operate as it has operated from its very beginning. The Social Security Trust Fund remains intact, to be used only for payments to persons and their dependents who have contributed to it during their working years. Benefits are set by law and cannot be alerted by any official or any employee of the government."

Rodino said: "The warning that is still being circulated has no basis in truth or in fact. It is a cruel and deceptive hoax that can only be aimed at undermining the confidence of the American people in the Social Security program, and it must be exposed as such."

"Nothing contained in H.R. 5710 or in the superseding legislation enacted by Congress and signed into law alters in of the Social Security program which is so basic a part of our American way of life."

Rodino added that he would "hope that this is one case where the truth finally catches up to the lie and puts the false campaign to rest once and for all."

We Need Integrity in Government As Never Before. We Need Reform Republicans

FOR CONGRESS

10th District

Robert J. Citrino

CHAOS in our cities, an appalling increase in crime, contempt for our laws, upheavals in our colleges, applause for army deserters and draft evaders, disrespect for our flag, and the threat of a devastating inflation,—this is the depressing and sordid picture of America today. Never in our history have we been in such deep trouble.

A senseless revolt pervades the country and is breaking down the fabric of our society. A boisterous minority sneers at patriotism, showing only contempt for the rights of others, only contempt for law and order.

Aggravating our troubles is the mishandling, abuse and neglect in governmental affairs that should be tolerated no further. There has been a shameful timidity in dealing with lawlessness. The cost of government has skyrocketed; and unqualified and mediocre men in droves have been put on the public payroll as political pay-offs by political bosses.

Thus it was inevitable that the Reform Republican movement should come into existence. A group of public spirited men and women, about a year ago, banded together to revive in Essex County good and decent government. The result of last November's election brought deep satisfaction to Reform Republicans, dismay to old line politicians. Reform Republicans swept the ballot, electing eleven out of twelve Reform Republican candidates.

In the 10th Congressional District, in the coming election, there are a Congressman and three Freeholders to be elected. In addition, of course, there are delegates to the National Convention on the ballot.

Robert J. Citrino is the Reform Republican candidate in the 10th Congressional District. He is a man of stature, a man of integrity, a man who will toil unceasingly for good government and law and order.

Bob Citrino, a resident of Nutley, is Nutley town attorney. A graduate of Georgetown Law School, he has been a key figure in GOP affairs for more than a decade. He served four years as a member of the Essex County Board of Elections, including a year as its chairman.

In Frederic Remington, Jr., Jack Soriano and Edward Roos, candidates for the Board of Freeholders, the Reform Republicans present a trio of men who possess broad business experience and civic zeal. They indeed deserve the loyal support of every voter in the county who believes in political honesty.

Frederic Remington, Jr., a resident of West Caldwell, is a young, aggressive business executive, the vice president of Peerless Tube Co., of Bloomfield. He attended Temple University and Newark College of Engineering. He was in the Coast Guard for two years.

Jack Soriano, a graduate of Seton Hall University, is a member of a prominent Newark law firm. He was councilman of Bloomfield from 1955 through 1961. Also he held the post of Belleville town attorney until last year.

Ed Roos has a solid background in every phase of municipal government. He has had 15 years of experience in public service—six years as a West Orange councilman, the last three of which as Council president. Fourteen years ago, Ed Roos led the way in West Orange to the creation of the Juvenile Aid Bureau, a program to which he has been deeply devoted.

The primary election on June 4th is of the utmost importance to every resident of Essex County. It is earnestly hoped that the good people of the county will again turn out in force to cast their votes for the Reform Republican ticket. Every vote will count. Vote Line E.

Dailey Named Panelist

John P. Dailey, President of DeWitt Savings was a panelist at the 59th Annual Meeting of the N. J. Savings League which concluded its Atlantic City Convention Saturday morning, May 11. The convention was in session from May 8.

Mr. Dailey served on the panel which discussed common operating problems of Group II Associations (assets between $25 and $50 million). Mr. Dailey commented on the problems of reserve requirements and the need for changes in the growth formula currently established by Federal regulation. He reviewed some of the inequities in the present system and the penalties that arise as a result. He stated that it might be advisable to change some of the existing rules in order to create more flexibility in the granting of mortgage loans and at the same time to take into consideration the type of communities and types of loans in revising the regulations. He also recommended better procedures for the analysis of risks and for improved evaluation techniques.

Other topics discussed by Mr. Dailey and the other panelists included: benchmark requirements on insurance; the effects of transfer from ordinary to certificate accounts; and steps to be taken to step up growth during the current and steps to be taken to step up growth during the current tight money situation.

Mr. Dailey also mentioned DeWitt's recent record of growth and some of the promotional devices that contributed towards it.

President Dailey headed a delegation from DeWitt Savings that included Robert M. Williams, Executive Vice President. As a group they attended workshop sessions that discussed investments; lending in the current market; current legislation; crimes of holdup — their prevention and solution; and fraudulent practices.

What is the difference between a guarantee and a warranty? Some joker answered: "Confusion" and he was quite right.

Seriously speaking, there is no difference and this may surprise you, but it is correct. The term is used interchangeably. Some people think that in one case it covers a certain length of time, mostly one year. Others are of the opinion that one or the other covers parts and labor. This also is incorrect. It all depends what is spelled out in the document covering the terms of the "guarantee" or "warranty". For this reason it is most important that you read this paper. Once you make any kind of a contract or purchase based on such a document, you can't get out of it. As a rule it is specifically stated that no other terms are valid. The law says "Let the buyer beware".

It can not be emphasized too strongly to read any paper you are asked to sign, including the warranty or guarantee. Sometimes a salesman becomes impatient or tells you that you don't have to "bother" reading all the papers. Don't pay any attention to him. If there is a problem later, it costs you money, not him.

State Should Share Local Welfare Costs

Essex County Freeholder Thomas R. Farley, chairman of the County's Finance Committee, said today that State takeover of County welfare responsibilities would result in a 34 point drop in the Essex County tax rate.

Carteret Program Offering

Carteret Savings and Loan Association is offering a new mortgage life insurance program to all of its mortgagees under age 61.

This was announced yesterday by James W. Wagner, Carteret's Vice President. Mortgages, who said that the plan is being offered in cooperation with the Stayvesant Life Insurance Company.

Protection offered under the plan remains in force through or until the holder of the policy reaches age 70. Monthly premiums range between 26c and $1.60 per thousand dollars of coverage, depending on age, with a limit of coverage equal to the total amount of the mortgage. Generally, no physical examination is necessary to qualify for the insurance.

Prior to the time the mortgage is paid up, the policy may be converted to any life or endowment plan issued by Stayvesant Life at the time of conversion without further evidence of insurability.

Freeholder Farley said that State assumption of its fair responsibilities on poverty allotments would cancel the $19.2 million now shouldered by Essex taxpayers, and avoid the threatened fiscal specter of a minimum $5 million jump in welfare costs next year.

Farley pointed out that the Essex taxpayers' share of poverty costs is proportionately the highest of any County in the nation with Essex paying at least 2 1/2 times the average County share among the 3,134 units of County Government throughout the United States.

Farley said that the estimated tax savings based on assessed valuations would be $69 to the owner of a home valued at $20,000., and said that the total amount saved by taxpayers would be $821,253 in Nutley alone.

"I am, myself, heartened by the fact that welfare bills now before the State Legislature providing for full State responsibility after Federal share have received bipartisan support. It shows that there is a wakening of the social conscience to the fact that poverty is everyone's business, and that Essex County should no longer bear a disproportionate share of welfare costs because of the accident of geography and the fact that Essex is an impacted poverty area," Farley said.

"While the welfare cost in Essex County has been a matter of acute concern for many years it now appears that through concerted effort we are finally about to get the action and relief for the first time. It has been a matter of administrative frustration that in all our efforts to hold the line on county expenses and county budgets that welfare has always eluded our attempts to provide measures of relief for taxpayers. With the cost of welfare fairly proportioned among all citizens the Freeholders will now be in a more firm position to exercise controlling scrutiny of the cost of services to Essex taxpayers," Farley said.

Catholic Bishops of New Jersey Speak Against Abortion Standard

The Catholic bishops of New Jersey have spoken out against relaxation of the state's abortion laws in a pastoral statement read Sunday, Mother's Day, in churches throughout the four dioceses.

Addressing themselves to "all men of good will in our State," the bishops said they have "not only a right but an obligation to make known our convictions on a question which so profoundly affects the moral standards of our society."

The 10 bishops signing the statement rejected abortion as a solution to "grave social ills" which cause abortion to flourish. They voiced approval, however, of a "comprehensive and unbiased study" which would "eliminate the ambiguities of the present law, as well as provide constructive and proper means to reduce the number of illegal abortions."

Sunday's pastoral follows recent action by the New Jersey State Legislature creating a nine-member commission to study current statutes. Commission members have not yet been named.

The bishops urged the commission to consider such problems as "economic hardships, inadequate housing, family instability, insufficient preparation of our youth for marriage and parenthood, sexual irresponsibilities, birth defects and malformations."

Medical science has always sought "to preserve life and to improve its condition," the statement said. "Under the providence of God, this field has been blessed with tremendous progress. Could such progress have been made if physicians and scientists had been willing to accept the simplest and easiest solutions?"

The bishops noted that "the direction of today's legal philosophy is toward greater protection than ever before for each individual. What cruel irony," they stated, "if our laws should now decide to grant to any person, mother or doctor, the right to take the life of an innocent human being! The unborn child is the most innocent, least articulate of our citizens. He above all needs the protection of our laws."

Part of the current debate centers on whether the unborn child should be regarded as "human." On this point, the bishops referred to "the great weight of scientific testimony which clearly states that life begins at the moment of conception."

"The significant fact is that although the unborn child is dependent on its mother during the time of gestation, science regards this child in the womb as a separate human individual."

The pastoral closes with a plea for "common prayer and effort; to seek with energy and resourcefulness, with sincerity and courage, to preserve human life and to defend the inviolable right to life of the innocent unborn child."

The bishops who signed the joint pastoral statement were Thomas A. Boland, Archbishop of Newark; George H. Guillefoyle, Bishop of Camden; Stephen J. Kocisko, Administrator of Passaic (Byzantine Catholic Eparchy); Lawrence B. Casey, Bishop of Paterson; George W. Ahr, Bishop of Trenton; Martin W. Stanton, John J. Dougherty, and Joseph A. Costello, Auxiliary Bishops of Newark; James L. Schadt, Auxiliary Bishop of Camden; and John C. Reiss, Auxiliary Bishop of Trenton.

The pastoral statement was released to the press by the Respect for Life Committee, New Jersey Catholic Conference, 288 Rues Lane, East Brunswick, N. J.

Statement Text

To the Beloved Faithful of the Province, and to all Men of Good Will of New Jersey:

At times we, the Bishops of New Jersey, are bound by the responsibilities of our office, to speak to all men of good will in our State. This is such a time.

We are deeply aware that our pluralistic society needs open and sincere dialogue on important issues. Abortion is an issue of this kind.

As members of the community, and spiritual leaders, we have not only a right but an obligation to make known our convictions on a question which so profoundly affects the moral standards of our society. The health of any society can be gauged by the value it places on human life. The lawmakers of our State have created a Study Commission to examine all aspects of the abortion problem. It is clear that a comprehensive and unbiased study could prove fruitful. We welcome a study which would eliminate the ambiguities of the present law, as well as provide constructive and proper means to

Blue Cross Prescription Program Now Available

The New Jersey Blue Cross Prescription Program will be on the market May 1, according to Harold Kuschel, director of pharmacy relations.

More than 1,000 New Jersey pharmacies have signed up as providers for the program. Kuschel anticipates a quick influx of the remaining eligible pharmacies now that the Plan has received official state approval and selling at the subscriber level is about to begin.

The Blue Cross Sales Department is initially concentrating on selected large groups of enrolled subscribers to gain a base of experience. Eventually, the Plan aims to write prescription riders for a large percentage of the 3,000,000 people in the state enrolled in the "Blues."

Clara Maass Becomes Training Ground For West African Hospital Administrator

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital was selected as the training ground for a newly-appointed hospital administrator who has been assigned to a hospital located in West Africa.

A native of Winnipeg, Canada, Rev. Martin Ruccius underwent an intensified orientation in hospital administration at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital last week, actually taking an active part in departmental activities.

Educated at Waterloo Lutheran University in Waterloo, Ontario, where he earned his B.A., he then received his B.D. from the Saskatoon Lutheran Theological Seminary in Saskatchewan.

After serving in rural Saskatchewan where he had nine parishes serving Norwegians, Swedes and Danes, he served a year in the mining town of Flin Flon, Manitoba, Canada.

In 1946, Rev. Ruccius went to Liberia, West Africa, as Principal of a missionary school where he remained until 1967 when he turned the administration over to a native Liberian educated in the United States.

The Phebe Hospital in Liberia is a 66-bed hospital with a large outpatient clinic with four American doctors and two Liberian interns.

It has a 4-year degree School of Nursing program associated with Cuddington College and has 19 students at the present.

Upon completion of his "crash" orientation at Clara Maass, Rev. Ruccius commented that the intensified training would equip him for his new assignment for, while much smaller than Clara Maass in bed size, exposure to modern methods will no doubt prove helpful in the establishment of a truly great hospital in Liberia.

Contrary to belief, the Liberian Phebe Hospital is not a Bush or Jungle Hospital which are normally rated as "mat" rather than "bed" size. Rev. Ruccius observed that the Phebe Hospital is remarkably modern and very much modernized.

Pastor Ruccius is married and has three children.

No matter how much an individual knows, he will always run across an expert who has studied less and knows more.

People who look upon the past history of the world and find everything good know very little about the past history of the world.

Clemente Says Reform GOP Bowed To Bossism

"Selection of a top policy maker from the insurgent Republican group as their candidate for Congress represents both a contradiction of principle and a threat of weakness for Republican chances in the November election," charged Doctor Celestino Clemente, Regular Republican Organization Candidate for 10th Congressional District primary on June 5.

The loud shouts of "bossism, which the insurgents have been voicing, now have a hollow ring of insincerity with the choice of a political boss from their own group as the candidate," Clemente explained.

"And because of the close personal friendships among the hierarchy of the reform organization and the Democratic incumbent who will be running against the Republican choice in November, I seriously question the validity of such a contest if my opponent were to be nominated the Republican choice," Clemente added.

"We can't afford to sacrifice our chances to win in November with a questionable choice, but rather must rely on a strong contender who is determined to work hard and diligently for election to Congress in November," Clemente concluded.

One of the banes of newspaper reading these days is the number of people who write about grave problems as if they were writing about a baseball game.

Right now, the 1968 Trenton State co-captain plans to go into the field of physical education teaching and coaching on the high school level, and he feels that a pro career in the AFL or NFL would not interfere with these plans.

Bishops Oppose Abortion Standard

We urge the Commission to address itself to those deeper conditions which cause abortion to flourish. Many grave social ills exist today: economic hardships, inadequate housing, family instability, insufficient preparation of our youth for marriage and parenthood, sexual irresponsibilities, birth defects and malformations. All of these demand our concern and attention. We disagree most profoundly, however, with those who would look upon abortion as a solution for any of these problems.

It has always been the purpose and the glory of the science and art of medicine to preserve life and to improve its condition. Under the providence of God this field has been blessed with tremendous progress. Could such progress have been made if physicians and scientists had been willing to accept the simplest and easiest solutions?

Our legal system has always protected innocent life. The direction of today's legal philosophy is towards greater protection than ever before for each individual. What cruel irony if our laws should now decide to grant to any person, mother or doctor, the right to take the life of an innocent human being! The unborn child is the most innocent, least articulate of our citizens. He above all needs the protection of our laws.

Therefore, we must clearly voice our opposition to any relaxation of the abortion statute.

As to whether the unborn child is, indeed, human, we refer to the great weight of scientific testimony which clearly states that life begins at the moment of conception, and from that moment on we are dealing with the life development of a new human being.

The significant fact is that although the unborn child is dependent on its mother during the time of gestation, science regards this child in the womb as a separate human individual.

In the name of God, our Father, we extend our hands to all men of good will. Let this be our common prayer and effort: to seek with energy and resourcefulness, with sincerity and courage, to preserve human life, and to defend the inviolable right to life of the innocent unborn child.

It is easier to tell a neighbor the proper thing to do than to follow one's own advice.

Never expect good luck to make up for loafing.

The Essex County recipients are: Rena Flynn, secretary, DeWitt Savings and Loan Association; Lawrence A. Benenson, Philip Marx, and Bert Richeimer, directors and Sheridan Schechner, president, all of Barton Savings and Loan Association, Newark; Benjamin Colton and Philip Blank, directors, Berkeley Savings and Loan Association, Newark; Walter E. Stoddart, vice president and director, Broadway Mutual Savings and Loan Association, also Newark, and McCormick, counsel and chairman of the board respectively, Main Savings and Loan Association, Bloomfield, and John Atamanec, director, Trident Savings and Loan Association, Newark.

In making the presentations, Hill pointed out that these are records of which each can be proud.

"It is people such as these who have played a major role in the prosperity and growth of their home communities, Essex County, and the state," Hill said, "They have given unselfishly of their time and energies, their knowledge and business ability in the service of the people in their communities who utilize the facilities of their respective associations."

The inscription on the certificates which Hill presented read: "By virtue of this certificate special acknowledgment is hereby bestowed in appreciation of their unselfish devotion to the service of others through the promotion of savings and homeownership in New Jersey — thereby making a material contribution to the prosperity and economic security of the community, state and nation."

Presentation of the awards will be made during ceremonies at the closing business session tomorrow night. More than 900 directors and managing officers of the state's 377 savings and loan associations are represented at the 4-day meeting which will be concluded Saturday morning.

BILL LUCIANO JOINS STAFF OF ROSSI MOTORS

Mr. Louis Rossi, president of Rossi Motors, Inc., Nutley, is happy to announce the addition of Bill Luciano to his management staff.

Mr. Rossi is presently in the process of completing a new concept in used car retailing which will involve an association of men and ideas running into well over a million dollars, but will save used car buyers hundreds of dollars.

Mr. Luciano has had over 30 years experience in the automobile business and is very well known to many, many Belleville and Nutley people as well as the old "first Warders" of Newark, where he was born and raised. Lou and Bill wish to take this opportunity of inviting everyone to come in and meet Bill for his expert advice, not only in sales but also in banking and insurance problems, at no obligation.

Rossi Motors offers the finest used cars such as Cadillacs, Lincoln Continentals, Thunderbirds, Rivas, Grand Prix, GTO's and many other makes at all prices which we acquire through trade-ins.

Rossi Motors is very well known for its fairness to customers in the tradition of Mr. Louis Rossi, Sr.

To use a cliché, Rossi Motors invites you to "come on in — the water (oops) — the cars are fine!" You can't go wrong with a suburban traded quality Rossi car. Come on in with or without trade, with or without cash. We guarantee we'll work it out and you'll enjoy a really pleasurable summer.

Essex YMCA Judo-Shiai Championships Set in May

The YMCA of the Oranges, Maplewood and West Essex announces that their 8th annual Senior White Belt and Junior Judo Championship Judo Shiai, will be held next Saturday May 11th at 7 p.m. in the Central Branch auditorium, 125 Main Street, Orange.

The Judo Shiai will be conducted under the current rules and regulations established by the AAU Olympic style, three men pools.

With more than 25 entries so far, a winner is declared if the contestant is thrown so that he strikes the mat on his back with appreciable force and the throw is made with good form. The thrower will be awarded a full point (IP-PON) and the match will be ended. If a throw is good but does not merit a full point, the referee may judge it a WAZA-ARI, half point.

Accumulation of two waza-aris will end the match, full point.

If a contestant is held on his back under control for 20 seconds, a point is scored thus ending the contest.

If the contestant is forced to resign the match because the elbow joint is endangered, a point is scored and the match is ended. If a contestant is forced to submit because a choking technique is applied reducing the blood supply to the brain, a point is scored ending the contest.

There will be awards for the 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners in each weight division. The contestants in the various divisions are entered in the Judo Shiai as: Lightweight, under 149.9 pounds; Middle-weight, 149.9-170 lbs; Heavy-weight, 170 - 201 lbs and Unlimited, 202 pounds and over.

The tournament directors for this year's Judo Shiai are Yoshida Youszka, Mamoru Shimamoto, Yasuo Ozaki, George E. Hamlin, Jim Gibson, Gordon Uglow, Richard Myola, Joe Barata, Elwood Nelson, Hugh Healey and Ed Welson.

There will be two sessions this summer. Each course con-sists of thirty hours. The first session begins Monday, June 24, and the second session be-gins Monday, July 29. ## Business Briefs

By JOE STICCO and JACK GUREWITZ

Texaco Declares

Directors of Texaco Inc. to-day declared the regular quar-terly dividend of 70 cents a share, payable June 10, 1968, to stockholders of record on May 10, 1968, it was an-nounced by J. Howard Ram-blin, Jr., Chairman of the Board.

Jaycee Election

The Newark Jaycees recent-ly elected their new team of officers to lead the 240-man civic organization in 1968-1969. They are vice president Rich-ard Hoffer of Bloomfield, who works for Public Service Elec-tric & Gas Co., Newark; presi-dent William R. Lewis of Orange, an engineering group leader for Western Electric Company in Newark; vice president Dale E. Vetter of Newark, Director for The Re-verend Fund in Philadelphia and vice president James Mc-laughlin of Jersey City, who is employed by New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, East Orange.

Met. Investment

Assets invested in New Jer-sey by Metropolitan Life In-surance Company amounted to $766 million at the end of 1967, it was announced recent-ly by Ralph J. Gennell, Man-ager of the Company's Ruth-erford, N.J. Office.

Metropolitan Life's invest-ments in New Jersey contrib-uted significantly to the de-mands for capital to finance industrial expansion and re-search, to help the needs of large and small business, and to spur the trend towards home ownership, Mr. Gennell pointed out. For example, more than $346 million was invested in corporate securi-ties of companies doing busi-ness in New Jersey, and Me-tropolitan Life's mortgage loans in the state amounted to $74 million.

The company's holdings of U.S. Government bonds ap-portioned to the state on the basis of population amounted to more than $26 million. Other Metropolitan Life as-sets attributable to New Jer-sey amounted to $40 million.

Total company assets — held for the protection of pol-icyholders and in order to pay future benefits — reached a new high $24,600,589.011 at year end, a gain of $1,088,910,562 for the year.

Current crisis in real estate financing had been pre-cipitated by the recent in-crease in the Federal Reserve rediscount rate from 5 to 5½ percent. This action had forced major banks in New Jersey, as well as elsewhere in the nation, to raise their prime interest rate to 6½ per-cent for major corporate bor-rows, with proportionately higher rates for those not qualifying for the prime inter-est rate.

"In contrast," Eugene J. Reilly said, "present New Jer-sey law sets a limit of 6 per-cent on the interest rate that may be charged on individual contract loans such as mort-gage loans. Unless this 6 per-cent ceiling is raised, there simply will be no mortgage money available for conven-tional loans in our state, be-cause major lending institu-tions in New Jersey and else-where are obligated by their charters to obtain the highest yield on their investment funds that is consistent with prudent business practice."

S731 and S732 provides that the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance in conjunction with the Banking Advisory Board will set a mortgage in-terest rate for individual bor-rows on one to four family dwellings between 6 percent and 8 percent depending upon

Venet Honored

Zal Venet, President of Ve-net Advertising, Inc. New York and Union, N.J., has been cited for his "outstand-ing contribution to the food in-dustry" by the N.J. Knights of the Grip. A plaque presen-tation was made by Charles Stephens, President of the or-ganization, at a recent lunch-eon.

Mr. Venet's agency handles the advertising, sale promo-tion and public relations for Shop-Rite Super Markets, White Rock Beverages, Perx, Ehler's coffee, MBT Broth, Prince Macaroni and other food accounts. The agency al-so handles Fiat-Roosevelt Mo-tors, General Motors overseas operations, and Trans East Airlines among its non-food accounts.

Mortgage Loan Law

Eugene J. Reilly, President of the Board of Realtors of Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nut-ley & Belleville, is urging the immediate passage of S731 and S732 to permit an increase in the legal interest contract rate on residential mortgage loans beyond the present un-realistic ceiling of 6 percent. He joins over 2,900 Realtor members of the New Jersey Association of Real Estate Boards who see "danger of collapse" in the New Jersey residential real estate market unless the Legislature in Tren-ton acts quickly to insure an adequate supply of mortgage money to those wishing to buy and sell homes in the state.

Former Belleville Singer Signed By Major Company

Belleville raised Jimmy Kirk has been signed by Kay-May Productions as a pop singer, according to Vic Kapley, vice-president of a personal management firm.

Born in Newark, N.J. and raised in Belleville and The ironbound section of the city, Jimmy grew up in front of audiences.

At the age of five he started dance lessons and took part in various state recitals and school productions. By the age of ten he had mastered most of the routines in tap dancing. While in high school he studied piano with several teachers but was annoyed with the strict regimentation of the lessons, so he decided to teach himself. On completion of high school he enrolled at Fairleigh-Dickinson University. There he joined a drama workshop and took dramatic courses such as play productions, improvisations, as well as singing lessons. He also assisted the college's choreographer in a production of the musical "Guys and Dolls", in which he had the leading role. This awarded Jimmy the "Best dancer of the Year" at the end of the Spring Arts Festival of 1963.

After financial situations had restricted him from continuing his education, Jimmy went to work in his father's pharmacy to keep up his modern jazz dance lessons at the Luigi Jazz Centre in NYC. Late in 1964 he entered the service. While stationed in Panama, he joined a theatre group. His first production was "West Side Story" in which he played the part of Tony. From there he appeared in several USO shows entertaining our troops in Central America.

Use of New Scheduling System For Local Schools Discussed

Use of modular scheduling in junior high schools will be discussed at a state-wide conference to be held May 14 at Churchill Junior High School, East Brunswick.

Some 300 principals of New Jersey's middle schools and junior high schools will attend the conference, sponsored by the State Department of Education and the East Brunswick school system.

Main speaker will be Dr. John F. Kinney, superintendent of Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School, where a modular schedule is now in its second year of operation. At Rumson-Fair Haven the day is divided into 17 modules of "mods" of 21 minutes each to permit a more flexible period stressing individual instruction and independent study.

Kinney will speak on "Can Modular Scheduling Work at the Junior High Level?" A reaction panel will include Theodore S. Davis, principal of Englewood Junior High School; Clark T. Donlin, principal of Churchill Junior High School, and Gary L. Payne, assistant principal of Edison Junior High School, Westfield. Roy H. Wager, assistant in secondary education, State Department of Education, will moderate the panel.
