Cash Unlimited

The Newark-based William F. Yeomans faction of the Republican Party is boasting that it has unlimited amounts of cash available to buy Tuesday's Republican Primary Election.

According to informed sources this Newark-based crowd will have spent almost a quarter of a million dollars — and more — in its effort to influence the Republican Primary Election results.

The way the Yeomans' crowd is spending money would put to shame the New Deal and the Great Society.

Why are the men behind Yeomans authorizing the expenditure of such huge sums? What is the source of these funds? What are they trying to buy with this kind of money?

Hundreds of thousands of dollars of taxpayer's funds are also being used to place on the County payroll political hacks who are being called upon to make public statements endorsing the Yeomans Organization Republican crowds.

There are well qualified candidates at every level on the tickets of both opposing forces. Unfortunately in this Republican Primary Election, as in last fall's Republican Primary Election, the issue is not that of the candidate's qualifications — the issue still remains — how long will Republican voters tolerate a leadership which has caused the party to compromise its principles, tarnish its reputation, and lose its pride?

Membership of the Yeomans leadership includes people with Grand Jury Presentments, convictions of Federal Offenses including an attempt to fix a Federal Jury and the equally serious crime committed by a top Newark Republican leader, a close adviser of Yeomans, of an election law fraud — and for the commitment of this crime, this top Newark Republican leader received a jail sentence.

In contrast, the men and women making up the leadership of the REFORM REPUBLICANS are clean as a hound's tooth.

The self respect of each Republican will lead the voter to vote for the REFORM REPUBLICANS candidates on Line E in order to purge the party of its crime-stained leadership.

Belleville War Veteran Fatally Injured In Crash

A Belleville man was fatally injured last week when the car in which he was riding hit a tree in Rutherford.

John Waldron, 21, died at Hackensack Hospital shortly after the crash.

Waldron was a passenger in a car traveling south on Jackson Avenue in Rutherford when it collided with a tree in front of 188 Jackson Avenue. It was the same tree that was hit by a Newark woman on Thanksgiving Day, 1966. She was decapitated in that accident.

Driver of the car was Sal Vitiello, 25, from Belleville. He and another passenger, William Anann, also of Belleville, were taken to Hackensack Hospital. Vitiello suffered injuries to his left knee and chest, while Anann had an injured shoulder and head cuts. They were unable to give police a statement about the accident, but were in fair condition.

Waldron, a Vietnam veteran, was born in Passaic. He lived in North Arlington for 10 years before moving to Belleville in 1957. He graduated from St. Peter's School, Belleville, and from Essex Catholic High School. He attended Seton Hall University for a year before entering the service.

Waldron enlisted in the Army for two years and served a year and a half in Vietnam as a specialist fourth-class in the infantry. He was discharged May 15.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Waldron, and a brother, Daniel of Belleville.

A High Requiem Mass was offered Monday in St. Peter's Church, following the funeral from the Del Presto Funeral Home in Newark.

LAND USE HEARING — Planning week's public hearing at Belleville High School. Board member, Commissioner William Cullen, makes a point at last.

Lack Of Communication

Citizens Demand Representation On Land Use Planning Board

The major criticism voiced at last week's public hearing on land use was lack of representation by each district on the Planning Board.

Less than 100 citizens were present at Belleville High School's auditorium. Many objected that not enough people knew about the meeting, ergo it should be postponed. Several citizens motioned for the meeting to be adjourned. Planning Board Chairman Edward G. Heibert stated it was a public hearing, not a meeting and couldn't be ended by motion.

In response to a question from the audience, Chairman Herbert said the board would decide at its next gathering (scheduled for June 13) whether to hold further public hearings on land use.

Board member Robert Cook explained the board's function as that of a guideline. "The law is the zoning ordinance," he said. Commissioner William Cullen noted: "The fact that the board recommends an ordinance to the Commission doesn't mean it will become law. We don't know when the zoning law will be changed."

A number of residents complained that the black and white maps distributed were not clear and that colored maps should be issued.

Miss Grace Harris, a hired consultant for the board, opened the proceedings, stating that the board felt the majority of residents wanted their areas to remain as zoned. She explained the map's designations: three types of residential uses, A, single family dwellings only; B, single, two-family; C, single, two-family and multi-family. Business areas are designated commercial. Other areas are industrial, public (parks and schools) and semi-public (hospitals, churches, parochial schools).

Miss Harris noted that the Valley area was industrial up

Belleville Town Commissioners Closer To Voting Construction Of New Public Safety Building

The Belleville Town Commission moved a step closer to authorizing construction of a new Public Safety building Monday night, by giving final passage to an ordinance appropriating $5,000 out of the capital improvement program for preliminary plans and surveys.

In other final action the Commission passed an ordinance authorizing an additional appropriation of $5,000 for the reconstruction of Town Hall, to make a down payment and authorize issuance of bonds.

Tabled was an ordinance providing for purchase of land for public purposes at 602 Union Avenue. Commissioner William Cullen moved that the ordinance be tabled. The other Commission members concurred.

Ordinances moved from the table and approved to be advertised according to law were an ordinance establishing a code regulating the use, operation and maintenance of coin-operated dry cleaning establishments, authorizing inspection of same and providing penalties for the violation thereof; an ordinance establishing a code regulating retail food establishments and fixing penalties for violations.

In other business, a resolution appointing Nicholas R. Amato as Town Attorney was passed. Mayor Kenneth Smith announced that Amato would serve a three year term, commencing July 7.

A resolution awarding a purchase order to Caldwell Tractor and Equipment Inc. for one Ford all purpose tractor and appurtenances was passed.

Bids were received for the Public Works Department on radio equipment; for purchase of water material and supplies and for one sewer bucket machine. Bids were not received for purchase of a motorcycle for the Department of Public Safety and the Commission voted to readvertise.

Bids for the radio system (expected to be in the vicinity of $10,000) were: Mobile Communications, Newark, $10,893; Motorola Communications, Fair Lawn, $9,800. The bids will be studied and referred back to at the next meeting.

Another resolution adopted again referred to the Town Hall. It amended the 1968 capital budget by the addition of $100,000 for the acquisition of land to provide for an extension of the Town Hall.

BELLEVILLE REFORMERS — Peter Paglia (left) meets with Walter Weller in final preparations for the GOP Primary Election next Tuesday. Paglia is the Reform Republicans' candidate for Belleville GOP Chairman while Weller is the Reform candidate for the County Republican Chairmanship.

Belleville Republicans Taking Future to Polls

There's another political campaign underway in Belleville, but this time it's not to change the form of government, recall officials or even to elect new ones. Nonetheless the campaign, which terminates at the polls here next Tuesday is nearly as ambitious as those only too familiar to Belleville voters.

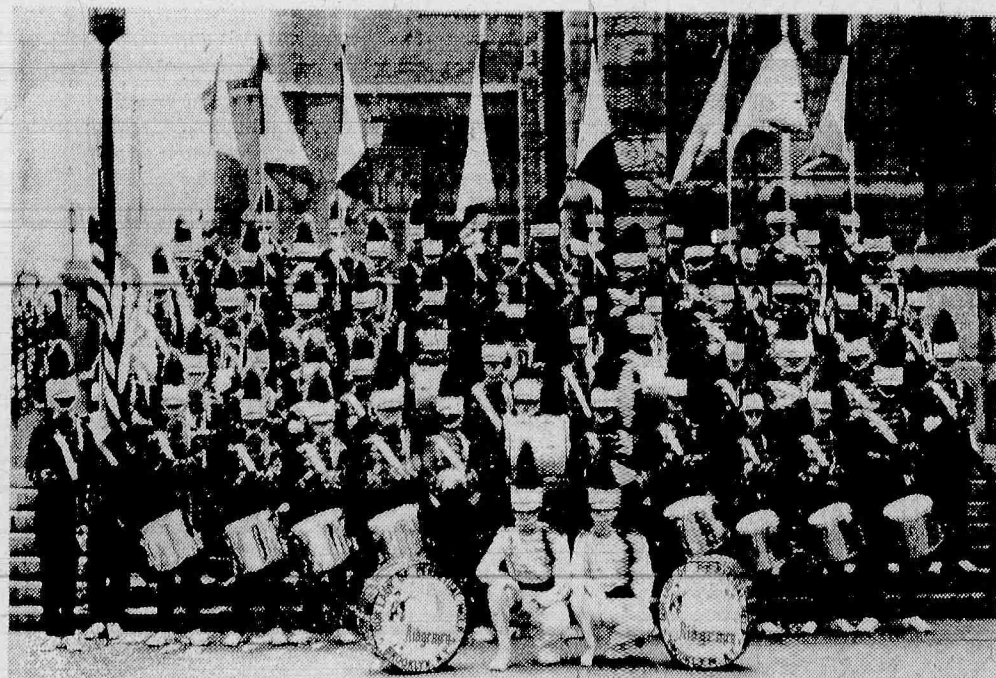

The battle is between Reform and Organization Republicans. The Reform group, which upset the Organization slate in last year's Primary and then went on to victory in November, is going all out next week to capture the Essex County Republican Chairmanship in the GOP Primary Election.

In Belleville, the Reform group has demonstrated its strength. The Reform Republicans lost the Primary here to the Organization ticket last September, but local Reform GOP chairman, Peter Paglia, says that loss was due "to our being a young group in Belleville." Paglia supports his contention by noting "that as we organized during the summer and fall, we became an enthusiastic group and our victory for the Republican Party in Belleville last November was a shocker. Belleville hasn't voted Republican in the town's recent political history."

Reform GOP Hopes To Win In Primary

Last November, the Reform ticket, headed by James Wallwork, had captured five of the six senate seats, three assembly spots, two freeholder posts and the sheriff's office. In short, in the November election, the Reformed Republicans pulled off a startling upset over the regular GOP organization.

Despite November's overwhelming victory for the Reformers, GOP leadership on the County level did not change. William Yeomans wouldn't let go of the power reins and stayed on as Essex County Republican Chairman. If anyone today is the target of the Reformed Republicans it's Yeomans — and that's what the June 4 election is all about.

Paglia, however, says that in Belleville, there's a double issue. The Reformed Republicans were — as in other communities throughout Essex County — representing the younger generation of the voting public.

"Our group is young and enthusiastic. I would estimate that 80 per cent of our workers are between the age of 22 and 35 years," Paglia said. The organization's Republican workers here, he noted, aren't nearly as enthusiastic or as dedicated to the party. "But after all, several of them are over the age of 70, and their median age is around 50."

Why all the enthusiasm in Belleville?

"Because we want a two-party system in our town," Paglia continued. "For too long, we've had a one party community. Up until this year, the Republicans haven't even fielded a full slate of county-committee candidates. Now, because of us, they've been forced to come up with candidates in all 24 election districts, but they've never done it before."

Paglia doubted whether there are 50 Republicans in Belleville who could name their party chairman. "The present chairman (Jerry Ferrara) serves only one function: to maintain the present county leadership and to turn over Belleville's county committee votes needed to keep Yeomans in power down in Newark. Ferrara 'has never spoken out on a local issue in the 10 years I've been active in Belleville. He has never offered any helpful suggestions or even criticized the opposition."

"To be sure, the replacement of Yeomans as County GOP Chairman is important to us in Belleville, but I believe the voters here are more enthused in realizing that the GOP party has finally come alive."

Paglia is not simply a spokesman for the Reform Republicans. Unlike Ferrara, he is going to the voters in his district (Ward 2, District 4) asking to be seated on the County Committee. He has the backing not only of the party proper, but of an extensive citizens committee here headed by Harvey Kramer, 69 Belmont Street.

Hopefully, Paglia says, a victory for the Reform GOP next Tuesday will not only help build a youthful and enthusiastic Republican Party in Belleville, "but will help give our community recognition at the county level."

Paglia feels the Democrats have worked for Belleville on the County Level, "and so have our local elected officials. But the Republicans have done nothing. Our Republican leaders in the past have done nothing but appease the big city bosses. Even our own town chairman, Jerry Ferrara, was seated on the County Board of Election just two months ago and that appointment certainly goes a long way in keeping him in line with boss Yeomans camp."

Last September's Primary — which the Reform group lost — saw only 800 Republicans turn out to vote. By the time of the November election the Reformers were able to chalk up a majority of the town's voting public.

Paglia is optimistic about next Tuesday too. "We're hoping for a big turnout on the part of Republicans. We're even shooting for as high as 3,000 — and that's quite a goal considering that you have to look hard for Republicans in Belleville." Most of Belleville's registered voters are hard-core Democrats who support their party with the same enthusiasm and determination that the Reform movement is attempting to provide for Republicans.

"But there are Republicans here too. There were close to 6,000 people who came out to vote for Richard Nixon against Kennedy, and Eisenhower carried this town in the 1950's. So we have hope. All we want now is for those Republicans concerned with the to Bella Vista Avenue, contained Residential A along Main Street, B along Stephens from School 9 to Mill Street, with commercial zoning along both sides of Washington Avenue.

She stated that Silver Lake had commercial uses along Franklin Street; Residential areas B and C; and industrial along Franklin Avenue, Mill Street and Harrison Street. The rest of the town was said to contain A and B residential areas with some scattered Residential C zones.

Passaic Avenue, a subject of heated discussion at the January meeting, was explained to contain Residential B on both sides of the street between Mitchell and Chestnut Streets with some A areas.

The floor was then thrown open to citizens. Sam Contino, 24 Bayard Street, asked why his street was shown as Residential C if the Valley was not going to be touched. Miss Harris replied it was an error on the map; that it should be Residential B. She stated that an amendment will have to be made to change this.

Patricia Cavanaugh, Secretary of the Belleville Valley Association, said she was opposed to the plan and requested time for citizens to study the map. Then she demanded representation for her association on the Planning Board.

Theodore Bonkowski, 62 Cortlandt Street, said the error makes the map illegal. At this point others concurred and shouted, "let's go home," and "send notices next time."

Bonkowski then asked how board members were selected. Chairman Heibert replied: "They are appointed by the governing body of the town, the Commissioners."

"There should be members on the board for each district of the town affected," said Bonkowski. "We want elected future of their party, desirous of enthusiastic and rejuvenated leadership, to come out next Tuesday and help us out. We want a two-party system in Belleville, that's the least we deserve."

board members from every district, before that map is made."

Commissioner Cullen advised citizens to appeal to the Commission and the board chairman and recommend equal representation.

Board member Joseph Grade stated that at the Planning Board's next meeting he would recommend that every civic organization in town have its wishes heard. This suggestion was greeted with applause.

A resident questioned Chairman Heibert on the purpose of re-zoning. "So we don't decay in the future," he stated. The rejoinder was "let's get parking facilities for shoppers."

Agnes McCarthy, a resident of the Valley for 15 years, asked Chairman Heibert when the map was made available. "Two weeks ago."

"When did you let us know it was available?"

"A week and a half ago."

"We just picked up the map now, tonight. How can we rationally study it and comment on it. Let the people know of a meeting two weeks in advance. Many people think some board members don't even live in Belleville. Have good public relations. Send notices to occupants of every home for one final meeting, otherwise you'll get nowhere."

W. Weller, Reform Republican Leader, Attacks Essex County GOP Organization

Walter W. Weller, Jr., leader of the REFORM REPUBLICANS of Essex County today charged a crime-stained leadership has taken over the meaningful power of the Essex County Republican chairman ship.

In issuing a call to Republican voters to support REFORM REPUBLICAN candidates at Tuesday's Primary Election, Weller said, "The present gang that runs the Yeomans' wing of the Essex County Republican Organization includes a leadership with a background covering Grand Jury indictments, Grand Jury Presentments, convictions for federal offenses and a conviction and jail-sentence imposed upon Yeomans' top Newark adviser for an election violation in the city of Newark.

"The Yeomans leadership on a regular basis gives no recovery support to Democratic candidates at the federal, state, county, and municipal levels of government. The Newark-based Yeoman leadership represents a new low in the history of the Essex County Republican Party," Weller commented.

"For the Republican Party of Essex County to reclaim its pride and self respect, it is necessary that the party cleanup Republican voters started at last fall's Republican Primary election be continued at next Tuesday's Primary Election."

In reaffirming his intent to seek the chairmanship now held by Yeomans at the county committee election to be held for the post the week after the June 4 primary, and branding Yeomans as a "puppet chairman manipulated by slick undercover operators," Weller said:

"At the June 4 primary election Republican voters of Essex County actually will make the decision as to the selection of a chairman even though my name and that of Mr. Yeomans will not be on the primary voting machines.

"A vote for Yeomans' so-called 'Republican Party Organization' nominees for public office and county committee candidates pledged to the Newark-based bosses will be a vote for the continuation of Mr. Yeomans and his type of leadership in office.

"A vote for Reform Republicans nominees, whose names will be on Line E of the voting machines, will be a firm mandate to the county committee that Newark's Mr. Yeomans must be sent into full political retirement."

Reform GOP Hopes To Win In Primary

A Reform Republican Club of Essex County has been established. The club which had its beginnings in the latter part of last year, materialized into an active group in support of the New Reform Republican Movement in Essex County.

The purpose and over-all objectives of the new group were defined by Chairman, John J. DeLuca of Nutley as "to serve and to be a support organization; to promote and rejuvenate the Republican Party in Essex County in correlation with the Reform movement."

Membership in the new club is open to any interested Republican or "open" Independent voter in Essex County.

At a meeting held at the Suburban Cocktail Lounge, East Orange, a few weeks ago, a campaign to recruit new members was decided upon by a nucleus of officers and charter members. The following officers were also officially announced: Chairman — John J. DeLuca; Vice-Chairman — Mrs. Janet J. Clarke; Vice-chairman — Mrs. Betty Schmid; Recording Secretary — Mrs. Jean Chandless; Corresponding Secretary — Mrs. Ruth Stoelting; and Treasurer — Richard Bombardieri. Chairman, John J. DeLuca, 12 Humbert St., Nutley, who was the organizer and founder of the club, was active in the Reform Republican movement in Nutley at its onset last year. He is a member of the county committee in Nutley (Ward 3 District 6) and is running unopposed this year for that post. DeLuca, who manages the short-term portfolio in the Investment Dept. at Mutual Benefit Life, Newark, is a MBA candidate at Fairleigh Dickinson Graduate School, where he is majoring in Finance.

Mrs. Janet J. Clarke, 428 Bloomfield Avenue, Nutley, Vice-Chairman, was also instrumental in the Reform Republican movement during the past year. She was secretary of public affairs for the successful 1967 Republican Ticket. Mrs. Clarke was formerly Placement Director at Katharine Gibbs, Montclair; she also served on the Nutley Board of Education for three terms.

Drug Addicts Seeking Cure Through Own Organization

BY RICHARD DE SINA

Synanon — an organization whose name is derived from a drug addicts' garbled version of "seminar" and "symposium" — is the title of a new Doubleday novel by Guy Endore. It is the story of an experiment in curing drug addiction. It is a comprehensive history and progress report of Synanon from its inception, (1958), to the present.

"Synanon," says founder and chairman Charles Dederich "is not a stopping place or a transition period at all. Our prime business is constantly to create and modify an environment in which people who are tortured by the very fuzzy spectacle of their own internal world, to the point where they find it necessary to destroy themselves, can become comfortable and somehow begin to pursue their own designs within a framework of civilized society and become rather excellent people."

To achieve this end, the organization runs six facilities nationwide, (four in California, housing 1100 residents all voluntarily. Synanon houses are run mainly by former addicts. (A critic called it "the blind leading the blind.")

"Synanon's genius lies simply in establishing lines of communication with the addict," says Lewis Yablonsky, a sociologist with 18 years of experience treating addicts. "Most other therapeutic programs are unable to reach the addict because of his hostility and desire to deceive the authorities." Synanon has completely destroyed the "we — they" attitude which hampers other programs.

Lines of communication are established through the Synanon "game," a thrice-weekly session in which small groups of members meet to explore personal problems and conflicts. Since Synanon considers addiction merely a symptom of a deeper "character disorder," drugs and addiction are seldom topics in the game. "Instead," says Wall Street Journal staff reporter Charles Alverson (who played the game for nine months in researching a feature article) "seeking to eliminate these disorders, members assess each other's attitudes and performances in order to iron out personal problems."

Whereas most rehabilitation attempts attenuate doses of drugs, Synanon demands complete withdrawal. The group pressures exerted by the "game" fortify this rule.

Synanon's other rules are equally stringent. New members cannot communicate with their former friends, or their families, for 90 days after entering a Synanon house and may not get married while at Synanon without the organization's permission. But, "No one who objects to Synanon's methods has to stay," reminds

Reid Kimball, the foundation's senior director, who was an addict for 18 years. "We know how to cure addicts; the so-called experts don't."

How does Synanon stay alive financially? Members must be housed and fed. Private citizens and organizations supply donations. Synanon is not subsidized by state or government agencies. New York City offered to give the foundation $328,000 over a three-year period in 1965. The money was turned down because city controls would have been imposed. Synanon operates five gasoline stations, which astounded the Texaco management by raising total gallonage to unprecedented heights.

Synanon members in New York, New Jersey (many from the Newark area), and California who tried other treatment programs feel the "game" and other techniques work. Synanon leaders hope to make it more than a method of drug rehabilitation. They see it as a viable social movement.

New Jersey's Capital Needs

On Monday, May 6, Governor Richard J. Hughes presented a special message to the New Jersey Legislature.

The Governor recommended bond issues to implement the report submitted by the Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey.

Millions of dollars are required if New Jersey is to remain a first class state. Included in the Commission's recommendations are the construction of buildings for education and institutions; expenditures to update our transportation system; 190 million dollars for water pollution control and 120 million dollars for future water reservoir requirements and related Conservation purposes.

Governor Hughes is a lame duck Governor. His reaction to the Commission's recommendations cannot be construed as an effort on the part of a Governor who is laying the ground work to seek reelection to another term.

It must be conceded by any responsible, fair-minded person that Governor Hughes' motivation is to recommend that which is in the best interest of the citizens of the State of New Jersey without regard to political implications or complications.

I believe the program as recommended is absolutely essential to the health and growth of our urban areas and the entire State of New Jersey. It is because of that strong conviction I believe the New Jersey Legislature should extend to the Governor's recommendations the serious and honest consideration they deserve.

Belleville's Blood Bank

Last week it was announced in this column that the Nutley Chapter of the American Red Cross was seeking donors in partnership with the Essex County Blood Bank.

Belleville's Red Cross Chapter is also scheduling a Blood Bank blood drawing session, June 21 at the Knights of Columbus, 98 Bridge Street.

If you call for an appointment, Red Cross Volunteers will process you at a Blood Bank, skilled technicians will take your gift of blood, professional personnel will process it, test it and store it under ideal conditions and you will be assured of the necessary blood for you or a member of your family for any emergency. ## The Golfers Dress Up

The appearance and behavior of America's golfers, both professional and amateur, has become so "too-too" self-respecting editors must comment on the spectacle in the hope of bringing back some measure of sanity.

Of all sports participants, golfers have become the most prettily dressed. That in itself would not be so bad but many of them today are, like professional models, overly conscious of their appearance. Mugging for cameras and fans they pose and grimace, displaying considerable acting ability.

At best, golf could not be called a he-man's game. Such a reminder may not endear one to golfers. But many a low-scoring golfer is so out of shape he couldn't last one set on a tennis court. And even top pros walk around tournament courses smoking cigarettes — some example for young athletes!

Some of golfdom's oldtime pros are disgusted with the trend. Gene Sarazen remarked recently that some modern pros were so smitten with appearance (for cameras) they seemed likely to refuse to play if without the right sweater!

Television, perhaps, has produced this new breed of golfing dandy, who can be seen at practically every local country club in the nation. Pink pants, powder blue sweater, orange shoes, yellow socks, just right and fluffy, etc., etc. Peacocks must be envious watching them strut!

Educationed Are Ignorant

Dr. Milford O. Rouse, president of the American Medical Association, recently said so-called educated people in the United States are not necessarily health-oriented, or intelligent about taking good care of their bodies.

"I am continually amazed to see otherwise intelligent and well-informed people put off going to their physician until the time is past when we can provide the most effective treatment," he told an audience at a Chicago conference on health education.

Dr. Rouse called attention to the paradox of otherwise brilliant people neglecting their health, ignoring warning signs, pushing themselves too hard and neglecting proper rest and diversity. He believes properly educated and rounded citizens, including intellectuals, must realize what they can do for themselves is more important than what medical science can do for them after they have abused or neglected their bodies.

In short, the dead egghead, no matter how brilliant he was in his field, isn't as smart as he, or others, thought.

Color Television Prices Are Legitimate

BY MAX BECK

On this Editorial Page there recently appeared an editorial under the headline "Congress should Investigate TV Prices." The amount of misinformation set forth in this article is almost unbelievable. Every single sentence is a misstatement of fact. Let's analyze it.

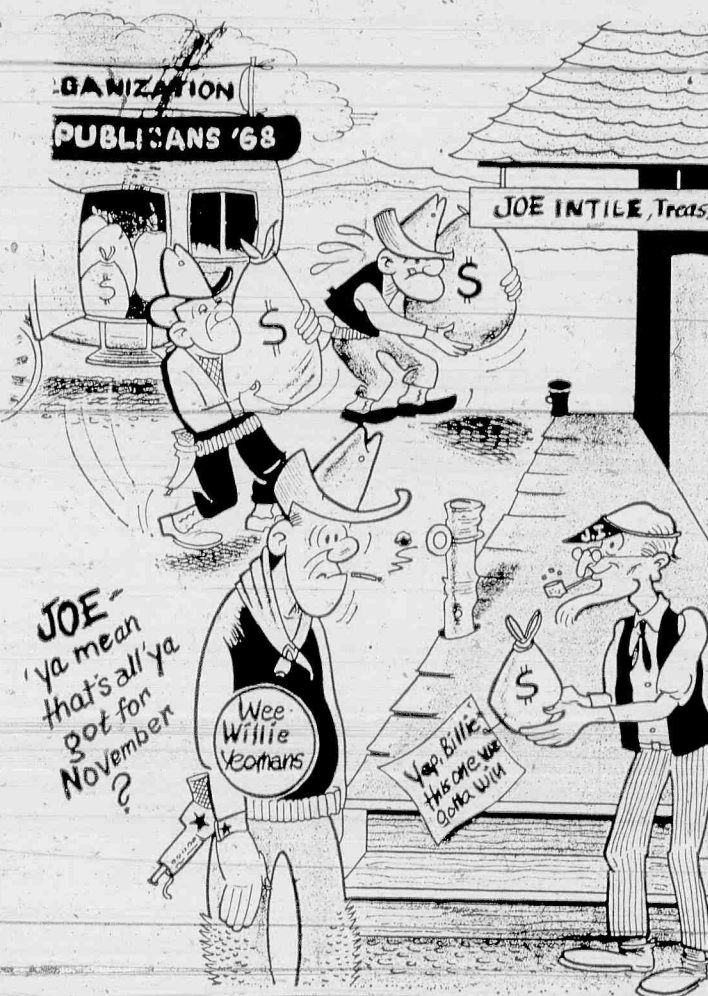

We have not heard from anybody that the public has been waiting for "almost a year" for color TV prices to come down, except for those to whom even the lowest price would still be too high. The fact is that the public buys color TV sets at an unprecedented rate. This certainly does not indicate that "the Public" is of the opinion that color TV prices are too high. 13 years ago a 12" TV set was $1200 — today a 23" color set can be bought for about $490. — If this does not mean that the prices for color TV have come down, this writer does not know what these figures indicate. One has to consider in addition that the dollar bought at least 15 per cent more 13 years ago than today. The present price level is based on today's production costs, under the fiercest conditions of competition. Of course, prices of the different manufacturers are pretty much alike. They all pay about the same wages, buy their parts from the same suppliers and have just about the same overhead. The prices for a Chevrolet, Plymouth and Ford automobile are within a few dollars of each other. Why? The same conditions prevail in the auto as in the TV industry, and nobody would think the prices for automobiles should be investigated by Congress. The most ridiculous statement is that color sets could be marketed "profitably" for $200. — The writer does not say what screen size. Even a black and white TV set with a 23" picture tube today costs about $170. — The price of the picture tube used in this B/W set costs about $50, the price for a color tube of almost identical size is $175. — A color set has many more parts and tubes than a b-w TV. The figure of $200 for a color TV of this size is a dream.

As far as service is concerned, it is a well known fact that the service departments of just about any organization that sells automobiles, TV sets, furniture and any variety of other merchandise are operated at a loss. This is hard to believe — but a fact. It is regrettable that such misinformation should get into newspapers.

Seems Only Yesterday

ONE YEAR AGO

Belleville was giving Angelo Nardone, proprietor of the Villa Capri a hard time. The Villa Capri, situated on the boundary of Nutley and Belleville is surrounded by various columns and statues, which reflect a Greco - Roman influence, in gay disarray. Nardone was accused of cluttering the sidewalk on the Belleville side with, what the presiding judge, Edward Abramson, termed "junk." This brought about a rather strong reply from the defendant who felt that his possessions were treasured art, being used to create a certain type of atmosphere. Abramson said that he had traveled and that he knew art when he saw it and that Nardone's treasures were junk pure and simple. However, art is in the eyes of the beholder, and both were entitled to their own opinions. Nardone was given three weeks to clean up, which meant moving his collection to the Nutley side of his property, for that town wasn't giving him any trouble.

5 YEARS AGO

Clara Maass Hospital was officially opened at a Ribbon cutting ceremony, at which Mayor Robert M. Laterza welcomed the faculty and cut the ribbon, marking the event. Assisting him was Albin H. Oberg executive director at the hospital, and Richard F. Blanchard. Rev. John Jacob said a prayer for the deceased.

The Belleville Council of Church women commended the Belleville Public Library for its outstanding effort over the previous two years to improve library services and physical facilities. The improvements resulted in the participation of more Belleville citizens in the library program.

Once again the American Legion Post 105 planned to offer the coveted American Legion School Award to an outstanding boy or girl eighth grade graduate in either the Belleville public or parochial school system.

10 YEARS AGO

Fred W. Ruff, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ruff, of Branch Brook Drive, successfully passed the drum audition given by the Navy Bandmaster, K. E. Bowers, Assistant Director of Music at Annapolis. Fred studied at Muscara, under the direction of Ralph Yancee.

Commissioner George F. Kiernan, director of parks and public property, announced plans for the Teen Recreation Canteen to be conducted at the Recreation House, during the summer. The program included swimming trips to Laguna Beach for a very nominal fee.

15 YEARS AGO

Officers of the Veterans Foreign Wars Auxiliary took part in the presentation of local and state competition checks to Miss Evelyn Hannon for her prize winning essay which had reached the state for national judging with a $1000 prize. The presentation of the $25 Belleville prize and $100 state prize was made at the Belleville High School Auditorium. Miss Hannon wrote the High School column for the Belleville Times; also won a four year scholarship to N.Y.U.

Gamma Globulin for use in passive immunization against poliomyelitis was in short supply and was expected to be rationed in the summer for use in epidemic areas and on a limited basis for immunizing members of a family of an actual case in non-epidemic areas, according to Health Officer Eugene Berry, speaking for the County Association.

20 YEARS AGO

Queried on the supervision in the police department by the Belleville Taxpayers Civic Association, Public Safety Director Noll refused to comment.

Raymond Mc Cann, president of the Association, asked the commissioner why there were two deputy chiefs and a chief in the department, one working nights and the other two days. Noll referred McCann to Chief Spatz who kept the time sheet and the scheduled hours.

One thousand scouts and scoutmaster assembled from Belleville, Newark, and Irvington at the Schiff Reservation in Mendham for the annual Robert Treat Camporee.

Mr. and Mrs. Long Cooper of Heckel Street were fined $25 for failing to send their two daughters to school regularly. The parents said that their 8-year-old was sickly and that the 11-year-old was needed to help around the house because they would be moving, but the excuses were thought to be rather poor.

Speak Up

Town Historian Cites Revolution

To the Times:

We have reason to be proud of Belleville's history. With the exception of those towns which were the scene of major battles, Belleville (known as Second River until 1797) saw more skirmishes with the British than any other town in the State of New Jersey. This was due to the fact that 30,000 British troops seized New York in 1776 and this occupation force had to be fed until the British were finally routed in 1783. Thus, foraging expeditions were sent into this area — sometimes almost daily — for badly needed cattle and grain. The fact that 62 Revolutionary officers and men are buried in our Reformed Church cemetery bears eloquent testimony to the price the early patriots paid for Belleville's defense.

May I, therefore, through your columns, express my sincere appreciation to Mayor Smith and Commissioners Cullen, McGreevy, Senatore and Strumolo for appointing me town historian.

Belleville deserves a new history helps — to paraphrase the words of a popular song of a few years ago — "to accentuate the positive — eliminate the negative."

Sincerely,
Allan Crisp

Office Seeker Raps Politicians

To the Times:

I am seeking the office of district leader in the Twelfth District, Ward One, as an independent Republican — because of discrimination.

Three times during the past eight years, I passed a civil service test for a position with the county on the bridges.

Mr. MacCormick, the county engineer, who has the blessings of the Republican Party, promised me in person that I would be placed when there was an opening.

Two months ago my name was sent to Mr. MacCormick for the position — again he refused to appoint. Mr. MacCormick is not an elected official but a political appointee.

I believe the power structure in this county is in the control of a few men.

This condition can only come to an end with the election of vigorous, sincere candidates such as the ones on the reform Republican ticket, who are highly qualified to truly represent the people and not some politicians in higher places.

I have been fighting this evil for the past eight years. No one who passes a civil service test and is certified by the civil service for a position should be denied the right to go to work.

It is now up to the people in the county to vote to correct an injustice which could happen to anyone.

If I am elected to represent the people in my district, it would be an honor and a privilege.

My only reward for doing something good for the people is the opportunity to do more. I will never vote for a political boss or be a rubber stamp.

Imperiale Proselytizes Here; Feels Meeting Is Successful

Anthony Imperiale, leader of Newark's vigilante North Citizens' Committee, told a cheering crowd of over 200 residents of Belleville and Nutley that, "You've been fortunate not to have been hit by a riot yet — but if the Supreme Court and Chief Justice Earl Warren is gonna continue the past laws to benefit the Commies, to benefit the radicals who are bent on the destruction of the United States, then it is up to you, to decent citizens to come out and stand up and be counted."

Following Imperiale's talk, Tom Benecchi, 38 St. Mary's Place, registered members for the Nutley * Belleville Citizens' Committee. Benecchi is president of the local unit, which is officially designated as Chapter 4 of Imperiale's organization.

Benecchi estimated attendance at the rally, held Sunday evening outside the Riviera Tavern, 24 Washington Avenue, at 700. He claimed that, "just about everyone" signed up for membership in the group. Police estimates, however, put the crowd at between two and three hundred. Members of the Citizens' Committee passed out literature attacking the American Civil Liberties Union and blaming racial tensions on federal anti-poverty programs. Both were prime targets of Imperiale's speech.

Imperiale urged local residents to attend Commission and Board of Education meetings, "because when you are not paying attention to what's going on, they're sneaking the radicals and Commies right in on you. And they're running your town," Imperiale said.

Imperiale denied at the outset of his hour-long talk that he was a radical or race-bater, and ridiculed Governor Richard J. Hughes' designation of him as "paramilitary." He then gave the audience details of his training programs for citizen street patrols, and taunted the Newark government for not lowering flags to half-mast after the death of Governor Lurleen Wallace of Alabama, after "they did it for your 'Martin Luther Coon'." Imperiale's designation of the civil rights leader was greeted with loud applause. He later cited King as a Communist.

Imperiale and Benecchi felt that their meeting in Nutley was a success. Contributions were accepted from those registering for membership, although the leaders would not reveal how much was collected. Neither would they state what the funds would be used for except to say that "some of it goes for rent."

Imperiale later told the Times, "I was told if I came to Nutley and Belleville we wouldn't find people as warm as they were tonight. They're full of baloney — the people here are decent citizens for law and order."

Imperiale offered to debate citizens who disagreed with his program, reiterating his position against violence. He then stated, "But if there's any wise guy or hippie in this crowd, that thinks they're gonna break up a good constitutional meeting, I think that you'll be a fool. It's the oldest Commie trick in the world, tongue or you're liable to get yourself busted up."

Belleville Seaman Graduates Training

Seaman Apprentice Arthur F. Sheridan Jr., USN, 20 son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Sheridan of 150 Holmes St., Belleville, N.J., has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

Reform Leaders Pledge Economy

County employees, who serve citizens of Essex County in several ways, should be appointed on ability and promoted on merit rather than on the number of tickets to political affairs which they have bought a yardstick which political machines have tended to favor in the past. Reform Republican Freeholder candidates Frederick Remington, Jr. of West Caldwell, Jack J. Soriano of Bloomfield and Edward Roos of West Orange, said in a joint statement.

"We Reformers," said the statement, "believe that our taxpayers and individual citizens and families deserve the best of service from the county employees who want to be constructive. These county employees should be free of harassment on the part of organization - type Republican and Democratic politicians who try to intimidate county employees by turning them in to political ticket purchasers at prices often way beyond their means."

The Reformers' statement continued: "There is so much work which needs to be done to solve Essex County's problems and to take full measure of our opportunities, that we Reform Republican Freeholder candidates pledge ourselves to protect the county civil servants from political intimidation, as well as seeing that the taxpayers get their full money's worth for or from their county government."

"We pledge this also because we believe in genuine economy in county government, and when elected, we intend to encourage every possible constructive effort to show initiative and save money on the county employee level."

Public Library will present both morning and afternoon showings of the Children's Movie Hour on Saturday, June 15 at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Featured on the program will be the color movie "Changing of The Guard," a tale of a world peopled by matchboxes in the guise of soldiers and their ladies. Imaginative animation, settings and vivid colors, make this a joy for viewers of all ages.

"Finding Information," also included on the program, will illustrate the various ways a boy seeks information to help him raise a baby bird.

To complete the program, the popular sound filmstrip, "The Three Little Pigs," will be shown.

The Belleville Public Library is located on the corner of Washington Avenue and Academy Street.

Madera Wins Legion Medal

Seventeen Seton Hall University ROTC cadets were honored on the campus here on May 1 as part of the annual awards ceremony. Robert J. Madera, 24 Parkview Ave., Belleville, was awarded the American Legion Silver medal.

Participating in the program were Bishop John J. Dougherty, President of Seton Hall and professor of military science. In addition, representatives of patriotic organizations presented special awards.

Multiple Sclerosis Group
Selects Mother of Year

The selection of Mrs. James Beverly of Newark as Chapter M. S. Mother of the year was announced today by Joseph F. Hobbins, chairman of the Upper New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

A graduate of Barringer High School, Newark, and the mother of four children ranging from 11 to 19 years of age, Mrs. Beverly was awarded this honor because she typifies the courageous spirit of the thousands of M. S. victims. For Barbara, M. S. has meant inability to use her hands, wheelchair confinement and partial blindness.

The first M. S. patient in Newark to receive the "Talking Book" machine under a program of cooperation between the Society and the Library of Congress, Barbara stated that she now spends most of her time in self-education listening to various books on the machine. Although she had worked as a telephone operator, Barbara is no longer able to pursue this line of employment because both her voice and her hands have been severely affected by M. S.

Mrs. Beverly further stated that she and her family hope that through the research efforts of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, a cure can be found so that the many young people who like herself suffer from M. S. will someday walk again. The eight chapters of the Society are conducting their campaign for funds to support this program between Mother's Day, and Father's Day, June 16. The Upper New Jersey Chapter serves Essex, Hudson and Union County.

HELPFUL INFORMATION ABOUT CORNS

Corns are horny thickenings of the skin, usually caused by shoes that fit poorly, or wearing run-down heels which make the feet assume an unnatural position, creating friction. Hard corns usually occur on the outer side of the small toe. They can easily be treated by a good corn remedy and we can select a reliable product for you; one that also removes callouses.

Soft corns are formed on the inner surfaces of the toes. They rate the care of a podiatrist. Diabetics should never use corn remedies or cut their corns. When applying a corn or callous remover, always soak the feet in warm water for about 15 minutes. Then thoroughly dry them and place a drop of the corn remover directly on the center of the corn for four successive days. Soak the foot again in hot water and lift out the corn.

Congressional Candidates Voice Opinions On Important Issues

The League of Women Voters of New Jersey, 460 Bloomfield Avenue, Montclair, as a voters service, polled candidates for the House of Representatives.

The primary elections are to be held June 4, for the 10th Congressional District seats.

Replying to the questionnaire were Dr. Celestino Clemente, Republican, Glen Ridge; Nicholas A. Molino, Sr., Republican, Newark; Robert J. Citrino, Jr., Reform Republican, Nutley; and Peter W. Rodino, Democrat, Newark.

The candidates gave their age, education, and political experience; then they answered the questions. The replies were:

Dr. Celestino Clemente.
Age 45. Penns Grove, N. J. —Elementary and High School. Rutgers University Bachelor of Science 1942. University of Pennsylvania—Doctor of Medicine 1945.

Surgeon.
Medical Staff Administration — Chief of Staff, United Hospitals of Newark
Founding Director — Short Hills National Bank, Presently Director — Montclair National Bank and Trust Company

Naval Officer 1946-1948 — Planning Committee and fund raising for improvement of medical facilities in the Greater Newark Area.

Service to the public as a physician and surgeon for 23 years.

1. I believe the role of the federal government should be as follows:

(1) Help promote, in cooperation with the cities themselves and private industry, a massive lighting program for streets in high crime areas.

(2) Public health measures for extermination of vermin, good street cleaning and refuse collection.

(3) Make available, in cooperation with local medical facilities, first rate emergency medical care on a 24-hour basis.

(4) Formation of an integrated volunteer uniformed citizens militia to patrol streets in groups without firearms.

Long - Range Plans for Eventual Rehabilitation and Redevelopment

(1) Development of idea of The questions asked were:

1. What changes, if any, would you advocate in federal policies to solve the problems of the cities?
2. What changes, if any, would you advocate in U. S. policy toward Southeast Asia?

condominium ownership of low-cost housing.

(2) Cooperation with insurance and financial institutions to make mortgage money available to permit home ownership by Negroes and other minorities.

(3) Tax benefits to business and industry opening branch offices in depressed areas of high unemployment.

(4) Government subsidized insurance for merchants and businessmen who cannot get private insurance at a realistic cost.

(5) Stimulation of retraining programs to elevate abilities of persons in low-income groups.

(6) Federal help to schools in these areas to raise wage scale of teachers to attract them to practice in urban schools.

2. If attempts at negotiations fail, I believe that an honorable peace must be pursued but that withdrawal without certain safeguards is impossible immediately. I believe that our commitment in Vietnam could be reduced by taking up positions which would secure the coastline of Southeast Asia and held until the people of South Vietnam could and would resist Communist takeover. I would limit bombing to military installations and supply routes. This could be accomplished with a decrease in cost and a decrease in loss of life.

Nicholas A. Molino, Sr.
Age 56. Eighth grade. Jeweler.

District Leader for twenty years.

1. First I would try to seek federal funds to help establish rehabilitation centers for drug addicts for I feel they are the foremost breeders of crime.

2. The United States should not be totally called upon to supply men, material and money. I feel the United Nations should take up a part in this if the cause is justified.

Peter W. Rodino, Jr.

Age 58. Rutgers University Law School, L. L. B. 1937. Attorney, U. S. Congressman, 10th Congressional District, New Jersey

Member, House of Representatives from January 1949 to present.

Member, House Judiciary 1950 to present
Ranking Member, Antitrust Subcommittee
Ranking Member, Immigration & Nationality Subcommittee
Assistant Majority Whip, House of Representatives
Member, House Democratic Steering Committee
Delegate to Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration

Delegate to the North Atlantic Assembly (formerly named the NATO Parliamentarians' Conference)

1. The problems of our cities are of such monumental proportions that they cannot be solved — or significantly eased — without substantial Federal assistance. I support full utilization of existing programs directed toward cooperation among Federal, State and local government and private industry, to help eliminate deprivation and blight from our cities and curb soaring crime rates. I also endorse Administration proposals to provide jobs and adequate housing and I applaud the growing involvement of the private sector in this effort. I have introduced legislation to assure adequate insurance protection at reasonable cost for inner-city propertyholders, through a new cooperative program involving Federal and State governments and the insurance industry.

2. I strongly support our government's current efforts to negotiate a political settlement of the Vietnamese conflict. My position has consistently emphasized the fact that there can be no ultimate military victory for either side in Vietnam. This has been a war of attrition which drains the resources of both sides. It is in the best interests of the United States and the rest of the world to bring about, through negotiations, a scaling down and an end to this agonizing conflict and the tragic human and material costs of this war. More specifically, and independently of the current negotiations in Paris, I think the United States must work out with the South Vietnamese a detailed schedule of increased involvement of the Vietnamese in the defense and development of their country, with a simultaneous schedule of U. S. disengagement.

Robert J. Citrino, Jr.
Age 38. Columbia University (1953); Georgetown University, Law Center (1957).

Senior partner in law firm of Citrino, Carella, Balsam and Gochell.

Nutley Town Attorney. Personal aide to Senator Clifford P. Case 1954

Administrative Aide to Essex County Republican Chairman, Former Congressman Robert W. Kean

Commissioner and former Chairman Essex County Board of Elections

Campaign Manager for the Reform Republicans 1967.

1. Tax incentive programs to encourage industry to become more involved in job training. Business should receive reduction in corporate tax based on commitment.

Federal program to give urban dwellers opportunity to own homes. High rise Federal housing does not meet needs and is inefficient. Occupant ownership of homes or cooperative garden apartments is necessary for pride and security in our urban areas.

Fed. Government should assume cost of state and local welfare, letting state administer under Federal supervision. Part of tremendous welfare problem in urban areas is influx of population from other sections. A Federal welfare program would have uniformity throughout the nation. People would be less inclined to wander into urban areas without support or prospect of employment.

A public health act to train nurses in public health and provide monies to voluntary hospitals to expand clinics for pre-natal care, family planning, pediatrics. Healthy, want-

Broadway Is My Beat

By Joey Sasso

Charles T. Carey Vice-President and Managing Director of the St. Regis - Sheraton has announced that Leon Bibb will start his first engagement Monday, May 27th.

Leon Bibb can really be called a Louisville winner. A native of that Kentucky town at the falls of the beautiful Ohio river, he is credited with reviving popular interest in folk music during the late 1950's. His fine baritone voice and moving performances in this genre at the Newport Folk Festivals attracted wide attention and he gave community and college campus concerts across the United States, back and forth.

But folk music is only one expression of Bibb's talent. His repertoire includes a wide range of songs from Broadway musicals; music by contemporary songwriters such as Fred Hellerman, Leonard Cohen, Bob Dylan, The Beatles, Pete Seeger, Len Chandler and Tim Hardin.

In addition to national favorite shows in this country including Ed Sullivan, Merv Griffin, Mike Douglas, the Today and Tonight Shows, he has performed on television programs in London, Paris, Stockholm, Helsinki and Moscow. In 1965 he visited the Soviet Union and gave seven-teen concerts from Moscow to Yalta.

Night club appearances include the HUNGRY I in San Francisco, the Village Gate and Bitter End in New York, the Sherman House in Chicago and Bermuda's Forty Thieves.

In 1967 Bibb displayed his acting ability and was nominated for the Tony Award for his leading role in "His Hand is on the Gate," a Broadway production based on negro music and poetry. His portrayal of the Leader in Jose Quintero's "Lost in The Stars" in the City Center Production also brought him critical acclaim.

He will make his movie debut in the soon to be released film "For Love of Ivy" as Sidney Poitier's business partner. He has recorded for Vanguard, Liberty, Mercury & Columbia Records. And to round out the recital of his creative talents he has been writing formats for television. Two are currently under option to major networks.

With all this varied work and voyaging Mr. Bibb has found the time to marry and have three children all of whom display interest in music and the theatre.

MONTMARTRE the sweetly wicked center of gay Paris night life will be reborn along New York's burgeoning "pub row" at 1117 First Avenue. While the teenyboppers move in and out of the singles joints, the real sophisticates can spend a Frenchified evening at MONTMARTRE, formerly the location of a quaint First Avenue garage restored into a bit of fin de siecle Paris.

Imagining this "keep the US dollar at home" venture are Sol Sitzer, Fred Klein and RE's congenial entrepreneurs whose New York successes include the Ginza and Topsy's.

Foreign travel conscious Americans will delight in MONTMARTRE's authentic decor. The interior facade is Place Pigalle complete with red, and cozy fresh flower decorated tables and park bench retreats under a romantic grape arbor. Spruce and oak trees are dramatized with soft lighting from coach lamps and candlelight. The unique wall treatment with old Paris houses and street scenes in full relief depict in detail Montmartre's cabarets of the "chansonniers" and cafes. A colorful single-roofed bar enhances the room which seats 150 fun loving "tourists". The door opens into a year-round glass enclosed sidewalk cafe.

Montmartre's style is today sans rock n' roll, a management policy. Entertainment every evening, beginning at 8 p.m., will offer Uptown's only shopcase of fresh, young talent — with a French accent — everything from a smoky chanteuse to pallid faced pantomime. Dancing every evening completes the fun.

The MONTMARTRE menu features Montmartre Brochette entrees including French Sausage, Chicken Liver Parisienne, Veal Cordon Bleu and Omelette Bonaparte and Chef Freddy's Montmartre Special, a unique variation of the famed Belgian waffle. Top Entree price is $2.59. Cocktails are priced from $1.10 while Montmartre's fine wine cellar offers such vintage French wines as a Chateau Neuf de Pape from $4.00 or Montmartre's own carefully chosen "vin ordinaire" at $1.75 the carafe-for-two.

Today, as thousands of our brave servicemen defend the cause of freedom in Vietnam, there is certainly sound reason for our bank to recommend to you the purchase of United States Savings Bonds.

The dollars you invest in Bonds are needed. They help keep our economy strong, and let you express your appreciation for the sacrifice our servicemen are making for us.

More than seven of every ten of our G.I.'s in Vietnam buy Bonds "where they work." We should do no less.

There is also a very special incentive for regular purchases through the Bond-a-Month Plan at our bank: you will be eligible to buy new, higher-interest Freedom Shares one-for-one with your Bonds. Freedom Shares pay 4.74% when held to maturity in just 4 1/2 years, and are redeemable after one year. They are offered in four convenient denominations in combination with E Bonds.

Bond-a-Month plus new Freedom Shares — that's the Star-Spangled Freedom Plan. Make it a part of your regular savings program at our bank.

It's a way for Americans to help their country as they help themselves.

Come in soon to start your plan.

New Belleville Citizens Committee Supports Reform Republicans

A citizens committee has been formed in Belleville to back the Reform Republican candidates in the 10th Congressional District.

Named "Concerned Citizens Committee For the Reform Republicans," its campaign coordinator is John J. Montefusco, attorney, an Essex County resident for 27 years. Emanuel DeNoia, former Belleville Tax Assessor, is public relations chairman.

Montefusco explained the committee's aims: "The concern of the Committee is for the community as a whole, our town, our county and our state. This community faces vast and intricate problems; problems which can only be solved by our elected officials. We need and want men in office who not only know these problems but are willing to work to cope with them; men who will take a firm stand on policies concerning these problems and not merely take a firm seat after they are elected; men who are involved with and committed to their community and not themselves. We firmly believe that such men can now only be found on the Reform Republican Ticket. These are men like Bob Citrino, who is running in the Tenth Congressional District for membership in the House of Representatives and who is a practicing attorney in the State of New Jersey and Town Attorney for the town of Nutley. For Freeholders, on the Reform Republican Ticket, there is Fred Remington, Jr., who is Chairman of the Essex County Employers Legislative Committee, Vice-President of Peerless Tube Company; Jack J. Soriano, Esq., practicing attorney in the State of New Jersey, past Councilman in Bloomfield and past Town Attorney for Belleville; and Edward W. Roos, Director of Public Safety in the Town of West Orange for 9 years; for 6 years member of West Orange Town Council for 3 years, and Former member of the Board of Trustees for the Cerebral Palsy Rehabilitation Institute.

"All these men have first-hand knowledge of the ills of our community; all are capable and willing to devote themselves and their energies to the fight for the solution to these problems and for a better community for us, their people.

"In the last election, the Reform Republicans showed us the high caliber of their men, like Senator Alexander J. Mat-turri and Sheriff Ralph D'Am-bola, who have accomplished much while in their respective posts for only a short time.

"If we are to finally reverse the process of stagnation which has gripped our community in the past ten years; if we are finally going to stop the crime in the streets the increase in taxes, which could be eliminated by fiscal responsibility, we must then vote for the Reform Republicans, Line E, on June 4, 1968.

Never expect good luck to make up for loafing.

Library Children's Department Schedules Monthly Movie Hour

The Children's Department of the Belleville Public Library will present two showings of the monthly children's movie hour Saturday May 25th at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Featured on the program is the Aesop fable "Country Mouse and the City Mouse", retold in charming cartoon style. This amusing story describes the adventures of the country mouse who visits his city cousin; it points to the age-old maxim that travel may be fun, but home is the best place of all.

Excitement surrounds the second film entitled "Martin and Gaston", an animated story of two small but fearless boys who are shipwrecked during a storm and captured by cannibals.

Also on the program will be "Japanese Boy — Story of Taro" which illustrates the hardships and rewards of growing up as well as presenting an interesting view of life in present-day Japan.

Lions Supporting 'Eye' Legislation

Dan E. Toriello, Governor, District 16-A, Lions International, said today that Assembly Bill 639 would abolish the high professional standards established by existing law for providing eye care in New Jersey.

"Under A - 639 there will be no need for highly trained, specialized license doctors to provide care for sensitive human eyes," added Lions Governor Toriello. In their place will be a new corps of "assistants" without training, without license and without supervision.

A-639 was passed in the Assembly last Monday on an emergency vote and rushed to the Senate on the same day where it is now in position for a vote tomorrow.

"The people of New Jersey will be the victims of this bold move to expedite passage of a law to provide second-rate eye care," said Lions Governor Toriello. "Under present law, such care is provided by doctors of optometry and medicine who must have a minimum of six years of study prior to licensure. A-39 would permit any physician to authorize an unlicensed, untrained "assistant" to assume the responsibilities of professional people.

"This bill will set back the quality of eye care 70 years. And, this at a time when all of us, especially our elected representatives, should be concerned with improving the overall quality of all health care services.

"We contend that this law is immoral, that it violates all existing codes of professional ethics and that it is a menace to the physical well-being of the people of New Jersey."

Senator Wallwork Urges Vote Support In Primary

State Senator James H. Wallwork (Reform Republican, Essex) today urged "Republican and independent voters to vote in the June 4th Republican Primary for Reform Republican candidates who are responsive to and representative of the Citizens of Essex County."

Said Wallwork, "Organization Republican bosses have offered nothing to the voters but outright falsehoods. This group led by County Boss William F. Yeomans and his mentors, Frank Palmieri and Joe Intile, hitched the whole campaign to the false and libelous charge that Reform Republicans made a deal with Governor Hughes to support an income tax. Nothing can be further from the truth!"

"The Republican Legislature in Trenton, with the backing and strong support of the Essex Reform Republican delegation, has come up with a sound and economical program for New Jersey, without imposing an income tax or increasing the present sales tax. The Republican program is a matter of public record, and it is a matter of public record that Reform Republicans are among its strongest supporters.

"The so-called Organization has been challenged for two weeks to substantiate their false and libelous charge of a deal, but have chosen to remain mute."

"The boss-run Republican Organization has demonstrated again that it is not only incapable of leading, but is shamefully trying to hoodwink the public. Organization candidates have not dared to speak out against the blatant falsehood issued by the Yeomans-Intile-Palmieri ruling clique, indicating they are in no position to dispute the party bosses."

"In sharp contrast with Organization negativism and falsehoods, Reform Republicans in both houses of the Legislature and on the Essex Board of Freeholders have been sponsoring creative programs to reduce welfare costs and relieve the tremendous tax load now borne by Essex property owners."

"Reform Republicans supported an increased school aid formula to give greater state

We Need Integrity in Government As Never Before. We Need Reform Republicans

FOR CONGRESS

10th District

Robert J. Citrino

CHAOS in our cities, an appalling increase in crime, contempt for our laws, upheavals in our colleges, applause for army deserters and draft evaders, disrespect for our flag, and the threat of a devastating inflation,—this is the depressing and sordid picture of America today. Never in our history have we been in such deep trouble.

A senseless revolt pervades the country and is breaking down the fabric of our society. A boisterous minority sneers at patriotism, showing only contempt for the rights of others, only contempt for law and order.

Aggravating our troubles is the mishandling, abuse and neglect in governmental affairs that should be tolerated no further. There has been a shameful timidity in dealing with lawlessness. The cost of government has skyrocketed; and unqualified and mediocre men in droves have been put on the public payroll as political pay-offs by political bosses.

Thus it was inevitable that the Reform Republican movement should come into existence. A group of public spirited men and women, about a year ago, banded together to revive in Essex County good and decent government. The result of last November's election brought deep satisfaction to Reform Republicans, dismay to old line politicians. Reform Republicans swept the ballot, electing eleven out of twelve Reform Republican candidates.

In the 10th Congressional District, in the coming election, there are a Congressman and three Freeholders to be elected. In addition, of course, there are delegates to the National Convention on the ballot.

Robert J. Citrino is the Reform Republican candidate in the 10th Congressional District. He is a man of stature, a man of integrity, a man who will toil unceasingly for good government and law and order.

Bob Citrino, a resident of Nutley, is Nutley town attorney. A graduate of Georgetown Law School, he has been a key figure in GOP affairs for more than a decade. He served four years as a member of the Essex County Board of Elections, including a year as its chairman.

In Frederic Remington, Jr., Jack Soriano and Edward Roos, candidates for the Board of Freeholders, the Reform Republicans present a trio of men who possess broad business experience and civic zeal. They indeed deserve the loyal support of every voter in the county who believes in political honesty.

Frederic Remington, Jr., a resident of West Caldwell, is a young, aggressive business executive, the vice president of Peerless Tube Co., of Bloomfield. He attended Temple University and Newark College of Engineering. He was in the Coast Guard for two years.

Jack Soriano, a graduate of Seton Hall University, is a member of a prominent Newark law firm. He was councilman of Bloomfield from 1955 through 1961. Also he held the post of Belleville town attorney until last year.

Ed Roos has a solid background in every phase of municipal government. He has had 15 years of experience in public service—six years as a West Orange councilman, the last three of which as Council president. Fourteen years ago, Ed Roos led the way in West Orange to the creation of the Juvenile Aid Bureau, a program to which he has been deeply devoted.

The primary election on June 4th is of the utmost importance to every resident of Essex County. It is earnestly hoped that the good people of the county will again turn out in force to cast their votes for the Reform Republican ticket. Every vote will count. Vote Line E.

Crew Crushes Foe; Nutley Swept Aside

Belleville's Crew Teams defeated Arlington, New York and Nutley on three levels of competition last week.

Coach Mike Lally had been long awaiting the race with Arlington on home water because of adverse conditions frequently encountered on the Hudson River at Poughkeepsie, New York. Equally important was the race against Nutley, Belleville's arch-rival.

In the first race, the Junior Varsity, starting half a boat-length behind on the staggered start, quickly passed Nutley. Then they went after Arlington and passed them after the half mile mark. Belleville's JV's rowed the mile in 6:08 Arlington in 6:19 and Nutley, 6:49. Members of the JV are: bow, Ron De Jonge; Bill Breckenridge; Russ Jerusick; Al De-Feo; Larry Fink; Roy Newman; Gary Corino; stroke, Mike De Feo; cox, Ricky Cavalussi.

The varsity race was worrying Coach Lally. Arlington had defeated Belleville twice; stroke Ken Murray had a nasty gash on his thigh and the team planned to use their new start for the first time.

At the start, the Bellboys were second, 1/2 a length behind Arlington, but well ahead of Nutley. Ken Murray told coxswain Mike Maglio to keep them rowing at a 36 until they pulled even with Arlington, then drop to a solid 34 and power it for the remainder of the mile.

It was anyone's race until the two crews came through the bridge, when Belleville pulled open water on Arlington.

Several times the Arlington crew drifted towards the Belleville shell, the tips of the oars no more than six inches apart. Belleville's time was 5:53; Arlington's was 6:00 and Nutley's 6:19.

Rowing in the varsity shell were: bow, Angelo Corino; Scott Fabian; Pete Mueller; Dick Beresford; Jimmy Bernarucci; Stan Keegan; Pete Faltraco; stroke, Ken Murray and coxswain, Mike Maglio.

The frosh matched Belleville's previous performances. Arlington finished second; Nutley last. In the frosh boat were: Jerry DePaul; Fred Caruso; Frank Marano; Jack Fersko; John Atherton; Mike Marano; Jim Drexler; stroke, Tom Jones and coxswain, Robert Zarra.

The Annual Goodwill Race between Belleville and Nutley takes place Saturday. The finish can be viewed from Kearny Riverbank.

Dr. Mentel Elected

Dr. James R. Mentel of Essex Fells has been installed as president of the Essex County Dental Society, succeeding Dr. Mervin Eisenberg of West Orange. Dr. Marvin Fishmann president of the New Jersey State Dental Society, was installing officer.

Golf Tournament Has Openings For Entrants

There are still openings for entries in the 1968 Belleville

Golf Tournament. Interest has been high for this year's tourney and applicants are asked to register soon for the June 24th event. After the success of last year's tournament it is expected that the 1968 contest will be even larger.

Forest Hill Field Club will be the site and Commissioner Bill Cullen has set up an exciting list of special events with prizes. There will be three flights with two place awards for each flight based on gross score. Prizes will begin for the low net score and the Runner-up for low net. A special prize will be awarded to the players landing closest to the pin on number 5 hole. On the twelfth hole the longest drive will earn an award. More prizes will be forthcoming to golfers who have the most 4s, the most 5s, and the most 6s, or the most 7s on their cards. And, of course, there will be the Duffers Award. The best golfers right through to the struggling beginners will enjoy the tourney. Even those who may not win a prize will still have the sumptuous full course dinner to look forward to after the day of golf.

Applications are available either at the Recreation Department office at 407 Jorammon Street or at the Town Clerks office at Town Hall. For those who would have difficulty in picking up applications arrangements may be made by telephone & applications will be mailed.

Junior High Students Visit Town Hall

Students from Belleville Junior High School recently spent a morning at Town Hall.

Mr. Forte and Mr. Early brought their civic classes on a tour through the Police Department where they saw town records and the detective devices used. Next the classes viewed the detective department, where a demonstration of fingerprinting was given.

Commissioner Mary Senatore showed the commissioners' offices and the court chambers. The commissioners explained their work to the students and informed them of ideas for town improvements. A question and answer period followed.

'Other Half' Crowned Girl Softball Champions

Girl Softball Champions of the Recreation Senior Softball League are the "Other Half". In the Championship playoff the "Wild Women" scored one run in the first inning. Their lead was short lived because the "Other Half" came right back in their half of that inning to tie it up. For the next two innings, through some sensational fielding on the parts of both teams, the score remained knotted at 1-1. Then in the fourth inning the "Other Half" moved into the lead by one run and in the fifth inning they extended this lead to 3-1, the final score.

There was a beautiful display of sportsmanship after the game as the "Wild Women" roundly congratulated the winners. Trophies were presented to the "Other Half" by Recreation Superintendent Robert E. Cook on behalf of Commissioner Wm. H. Cullen. The recipients were Rosemary Donachie, Capt., Annabelle

Costa, Karen Bove, Pat McCoy, Jan Buckland, Linda Wisneski, Joyce Sougelas, Ann Newman, Mary Ciali, and Margaret Albertine.

Rodino Supports Bill To Protect Mailmen

Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-10th District) hailed favorable action by the House today on legislation making it a Federal offense to assault or kill a letter carrier engaged in the performance of his official duties.

In June of 1967, Rodino introduced legislation similar to that passed by the House today, but no committee action was taken. The somewhat broader measure now approved was introduced this year by Rep. Thaddeus J. Dulski (D-NY) who successfully shepherded it through the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, of which he is Chairman.

Belleville High School's track team completed its season with impressive victories over Garfield and Kearny.

Outstanding performers for Coach Jim Orsini were: Seniors — Larry Jinks, who set a Belleville Stadium record for the 220-yd. dash, 22.9, and placed second in the Big 10 in the long jump; Barry Pierce, Big 10 discus champ who was undefeated in dual competition; and Jerry Figarelli, consistent two-mile winner (best time 9:59). Juniors — Mick Ventura, holder of the Junior Class two-mile record; Walt Kaeli, in the 440 yd. run; Bob Baker, high jumper; and George Riepe, holder of the school's Freshman, Sophomore and Junior pole vault records. Sophomores — Ralph Salerno, who holds the Sophomore shot put record by three feet; Victor Squitiri, discus; and Bob Forrest, miler.

Coach Orsini, who holds the Belleville High record in the 440 and played on the 1963 Belleville football team that was 8 and 1, felt the team improved tremendously during the year.

"We lost three meets by one point at the start of the season," he noted.

Jim's father was a football star at Nutley. Belleville has not lost to Nutley in track the last five years; only once in the last 10. Now in football...

Last week we wrote about people who come to the store asking whether color TV now produces "natural" colors. Occasionally somebody come in and wants to hear "natural" music.

Of course, there is no such thing as "natural" music except if you listen when and where it is being performed. Imagine to be able to transfer a concert hall into your living room by means of a phonograph, amplifier and speakers! That really would be fantastic! Unfortunately, it can't be done.

The art of reproduction has advanced to such a degree that there are some instruments that do sound almost natural. When it comes to an orchestra, things are entirely different.

There is always the problem of the difference in hearing, plus what some people want to hear. At one time we had a customer who wanted to listen to the best and most expensive phonograph we had in the store. He brought a record and adjusted the volume and tone controls himself. The record had brilliant brass music and strong basses. The man cut all the high tones off and said: "This is marvelous, better than real music." What can you do with people like that? We advised him to buy a second hand juke box for $75, that would give him all the bass he wants to listen to.

We service what we sell. Beck's Radio TV Hi-Fi Nutley 667-2275

Republican Candidate Urges Welfare Cuts

Dr. Lawrence E. Miller, Republican Organization candidate for a freeholder nomination, today pledged his "vigorous support of any and all efforts" to have the state assume county and municipal welfare costs.

The Millburn physician said he favored immediate adoption of legislation that would enable the state to pay 75 percent of welfare costs. "This is an important first step, but as soon as this legislation becomes law, we must push for the state to go the rest of the way down the road to equity."

Noting that welfare costs were a primary factor in the rising costs of Essex County government, Mr. Miller said "taxpayers of this country need Freeholders with the initiative and perseverance to see this problem through to a logical solution. One of my first priorities after election day would be to propose the creation of a federation of Freeholders whose aim would be to persuade the state to assume its fair share of the crushing cost burden now borne by counties."

Dr. Miller said New Jersey property owners now pay the third highest property taxes in the nation. "Enough is enough," he declared. "A state government of this complex program offers the best alternative to constantly rising property taxes. For years, the taxpayers of Essex County have stood by and watched, practically powerless to do anything, as the welfare tab soared, siphoning off a disproportionate amount of money and administrative manpower."

"The taxpayer, as usual, suffered the most, he continued. "Welfare is necessary, but galloping welfare is prohibitive. The state, with its fiscal and administrative resources, could put welfare back in perspective. In doing so, it would lift the most onerous burden from the municipalities."

"One of the biggest factors in any community's bills is county costs. They are paying to support very costly welfare programs that the county must finance because the state does not do it."

The benefits of a state-operated welfare program, Dr. Miller said, would be reflected in reduced costs, more uniform standards, a more efficient overall operation, and a more equitable distribution of the burden now carried by too few.

"Welfare is the state's business. It falls most correctly in its province. For years, the towns and county have had to bear the brunt. With vigorous public support, a favorable commission report could be implemented quickly," he concluded.

DR. LAWRENCE E. MILLER

Doctor An Asset As Freeholder, Miller Asserts

Dr. Lawrence E. Miller of Millburn, a candidate for the Republican nomination for freeholder in the June primaries, said today that the election of a physician to the Essex County board was "imperative if the best interests of the taxpayers are to be served."

Dr. Miller, seeking the nomination as a Republican Organization candidate, said in view of the fact that nearly 50 per cent of the county tax dollar is spent on programs directly related to health and welfare, at least one legislator of these funds should be a member of the medical profession. The 36-year-old physician is the first medical man to seek a freeholder post in Essex County.

"The complexity and scope of the various programs under the county's jurisdiction" he pointed out, "almost dictate that one of the freeholders be a physician. The knowledge and insight that can be provided only by a physician will assure Essex County taxpayers that these programs are being operated as efficiently and economically as possible."

Dr. Miller, whose running mates on the Republican Organization ticket are Michele A. Lepre of Caldwell and Raymond P. Stabile of Newark, said that during the course of the party's campaign for office he will "initiate bold new thinking into the legislation of tax dollars for health and welfare programs."

A graduate of the University of Tulsa and the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, Dr. Miller is chief of orthopedic surgery at West Essex General Hospital, Livingston, and Memorial General Hospital, Union. He is president of the county osteopathic association and co-chairman of the national program conducted by

Candidate Citrino Urges Tax Reform

The need to reform the nation's income tax structure to bring it face to face with the realities of day-to-day living was urged yesterday by Robert J. Citrino of Nutley, Reform Republican Candidate for Congress.

Citrino, seeking the seat in the Tenth Congressional District, cited a callous neglect on the part of federal authorities to give consideration to the constantly rising cost of living as a standard of measure in determining tax deductions.

He called for immediate relief on two major levels:

An increase in the allowable deduction per dependent granted to the taxpaying heads of families; the granting of tax relief for those who are paying in whole or in part for the college educations of their children; and the setting of a tax ceiling on income derived from bank account interest or stock dividends.

the American Osteopathic Academy of Orthopedics.

Active in civic affairs, Dr. Miller is a member of B'nai Israel Synagogue in Millburn and an active member of the synagogue's Youth Coordinating Committee. He also serves on the executive committee of the March of Dimes. Dr. Miller and his wife, the former Diane Tittelbaum, reside at 49 Woodcliff Drive with their four children, Jeffrey, Noah, Jennifer and Charles.

which, in effect, have become in recent years another avenue of confiscation by federal tax collectors.

"The present $600 deduction for dependents is completely out of step with our times," Citrino said, urging Congress to grant relief to tax-paying heads of families by raising the deduction to $800.

"Heads of families are bombarded from every side by taxes," he continued. "They bear the greatest burden of real estate taxes, especially in a State like New Jersey; they are hit with sales taxes, again with New Jersey reaching into his pocket; they are taxed for the gasoline they use to drive on the old roads built with their taxes; they are taxed on cigarettes; they are hit with hidden taxes on almost every conceivable necessity they buy for their families."

Citrino challenged the Democrat-sponsored tax reform that swept the interest paid on savings accounts, the dividends on stocks and the income from bonds into the tax apparatus.

"The penalty for thrift, as tiny as it might be in these days where a dollar is as thin as the paper it's printed on, is paid every April 15," he said, citing how in a free enterprise system the government via massive public relations campaigns has put its tax-exempt bond business into the best competitive position with the commercial paper of private business.

Reform Candidate Proposes Changes

Robert J. Citrino, Reform Republican Congressional candidate in the 10th district, has proposed that the federal government take over completely the cost of all state and local welfare programs with administration handled by the state under federal supervision.

"Part of the tremendous welfare problem in the urban areas is the influx of population from other sections of the country," he said. "Welfare benefits are much greater in northern areas of the nation and this certainly encourages transfer of population."

"If the federal government paid all welfare programs, we would have uniformity of benefits throughout the nation. Under such a uniform program, people would be far less inclined to uproot themselves and wander into urban areas without support or prospect of employment," the candidate said.

"Federal takeover of welfare costs would not only stabilize the situation, but would reduce by at least one third the amount that Every Essex County home owner paid in property taxes," Citrino said.

Citrino pointed out that Reform Republican members of the New Jersey Legislature have sponsored a bill to shift the principal burden of welfare costs from the county to the state. "This measure is a good start but the problem is basically a federal one and must be met at the federal level. Only in this way can we reduce the terrible burden of property taxes, which now beset homeowners in Essex County and have a fair and uniform national policy," Citrino said.

TORRID TALES OF THE ELECTRIC HEAT LOVERS

Hot Stories

'Heating bills for our 10-room Montclair home built in 1960 invariably come in under $300, a winter, and every cent of that is turned into pure heat: there are no cold spots, no drafts, no long waits for the house to warm up . . . FANTASTIC EFFICIENCY!' writes Mrs. Albert Weber, Vice President of the Nutley Lumber Co.

'Radiant electric heat keeps my company's heating cost down to a rock minimum also. Our two office buildings are equipped with Glasheat, one of them since 1948.

'That makes three times I've installed Glasheat in the last twenty years — if that isn't recommendation enough for anyone, I honestly don't know what is!'

Thank you, Mr. Weber, for your three hot stories!

Sick Stories

'Three years ago when we installed radiant electric Glasheat,' writes Mr. Bruce Benner of East Rutherford, N.J., 'the first thing we noticed was the ideal humidity level; no static shocks; no more stuffy feeling on rising in the morning — just wonderful comfort we had never experienced before. "Room-by-room control with separate thermostats in each room enables us to enjoy the exact temperature each of us wants. With a wife and four children or a total of six in the Benner family, ONLY ONE COLD OCCURRED IN THE ENTIRE PERIOD, and it was a mild one at that. We feel this is the most unusual considering our experiences previous to Glasheat.'

Thank you, Mr. Benner — many more healthy winters to you!

Cheap Stories

'A good friend of mine decided to install a central heating system in a home just about the same size as mine (3500 sq. ft.) and at the end of the calendar year we compared our operating costs,' writes Mr. A.L. Miller of Boonton, N.J.

'Taking his fuel cost and electric cost, he spent $533. Taking my total electric bill, I spent $536. I HEAT MY BASEMENT AND GARAGE TOO — MY FRIEND DOES NOT!! We think this is a pretty good situation, don't you?'

We do indeed, Mr. Miller, and please extend our sympathies to your friend.

The first thing everyone seems to think of when you mention electric heat is: 'HIGH COST OF OPERATION,' writes another Mr. Miller, this gentleman from Verona, N.J.

'Well, let's start with my cost of operation now as against my previous fuel heating system. Using ONLY TWO FLOORS with my previous fuel system it cost me an average of $230 a year for heating. Now with electric Glasheat, using THREE FLOORS INSTEAD OF TWO, my annual operating cost runs between $230 and $250.

'Three floors for the price of two — we think that's a pretty nice deal!'

What's Your Story?

If you have a heating problem — a hard-to-heat room, an old house, an additional room, a dirty, drafty system — any problem large or small — we have more stories to tell you.

Call Us. The facts will electrify you.

Confirmation Given At Temple Menorah

The Festival of Shavuoth, the Feast of Weeks, known as the Pentecost, will be celebrated at Temple Menorah, Bloomfield, June 1, at 8 p.m., with Rabbi Nathan H. Fish, spiritual leader, officiating at the Confirmation ceremonies of a class of 23 Confirmands. Confirmation is that special ceremonial that marks the youngster's voluntary commitment to Judaism. This modern, beautiful ceremony was created to give the maturing child an opportunity to affirm his belief in the ideals of the Jewish faith. It marks the graduation from the regular program of religious education in the Religious School. The Festival of Shavuoth was chosen for this important occasion to symbolize the continuing tradition of individual commitment through faith. The ceremonies of Confirmation embody beauty, dignity and reverence, to bring the full meaning of spiritual understanding to the Confirmands.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Rosen of Bloomfield, will offer the Candle Blessing and the Kiddush. Faye Bellet will make the floral offering, and Randi Emmer will offer the opening prayer. Participating in the Shavuoth service will be: Clifford Ancier, George Cole, Roberta Cifrodelli, Jeffrey Crastopol, Michael Dworkin, Robert Elkin, Beth Goodtree, Susan Green, Andrew Grover, Linda Kantor and Laurie Rachles. The Torah service will be presented by Richard Green, Ronald Green, Dennis Kauff, Faith Rosen, Alan Miller, Jacob Saeman, Hobart Spitz and Vicki Sweetwood. The closing prayer will be offered by Barbara Weiss.

During the ceremonies the class will present a cantata, "Build Me a Sanctuary", the lyrics of which were composed by Rabbi Fish and the music by Thomas A. Davis, organist and choir director, which will be followed by the declaration of Confirmation pledge. Rabbi Fish will address the class, followed by the blessing of the Confirmands by the Rabbi.

Mrs. Mildred Morris Hannen, 53, of 45 Oakridge Avenue died May 21 at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Hannen, who was born in South Amboy, lived in Nutley for the past 26 years. ## Successful Program Ends at Holy Family Recently another successful six-week program of extra-curricular activities at Holy Family School, Nutley, came to an end. These courses are offered on a voluntary basis to the school's seventh and eighth grade students. The courses are conducted on Saturday mornings. This semester the subjects offered were basic drafting, fun with mathematics and sewing. The program is sponsored by the school's board of education. Its purpose is to offer to the students subjects that are not included in the school curriculum. Due to the past enthusiasm, the program was expanded, and three new courses were offered. Miss Janice Ippolito taught fun with mathematics, while a member of the Holy Family Lay Board of Education, Mrs. Francine Restaino, and Mrs. Louise Haack taught the fundamentals of sewing. John Piscercchio was the instructor in basic drafting.

The teachers are all volunteers whose only payment is personal satisfaction derived from the students' interest in the program.

Business Briefs

By Joe Sticco and Jack Gurewitz

Mod Shop-Rite

Celebrating its third anniversary, the Shop-Rite of Rochelle Park, 220 W. Passaic St., is going "mod" with "sock-it-to-you sayings," psychedelic posters and decorations and in person appearances by "The Lost Children" band, according to Edward Henning, Store Manager. The store is owned by Abe and Ben Glass.

"We have a lot of surprises waiting for our customers."

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

The annual subscribers' meeting of the DEFIANCE SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION of Newark, New Jersey, will be held on Tuesday, June 11, 1968, at 7:00 P.M. at the office of the Secretary, 98 Broad Street, Bloomfield, New Jersey. Election of directors will be held at that time.

DEFIANCE SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION
Benjamin Busin, Secretary
May 29, 1968 No. N940
Fee: $3.74

Mr. Henning said, "and we'll be giving away free samples and coupon strips this month."

The Lost Children, a popular contemporary band from the local area, will perform at the store Thursday and Friday, 6-8 P.M. and Saturday 4-6 P.M.

Nutley Contest

Due to popular demand the Retail Division of the Nutley Chamber of Commerce is going to sponsor a repeat of last year's very successful promotion a "Mystery Window Contest." The response to last year's event proved that this contest made shopping in Nutley interesting and rewarding both to the public and the sponsoring businessmen. Here are the rules:

Every contestant must find the "Mystery article" that is found in each participating stores' window which that store does not sell. For instance — a golf ball in a clothing store, a paint pan and roller in a drug store, etc. Prizes will be gift certificates to winning contestants, redeemable only at participating stores.

Factory Orders Up

New factory orders surged 3.4 per cent in March, the Commerce Department reported, intensifying the concern of Government officials who are calling for a moderation in demand to help stem inflation. The advance lifted the order inflow to a seasonally adjusted $49.06 billion in March from the downward-revised $47.43 billion of February, when new orders edged up only 0.3 per cent. The rebound in new orders suggests that employers will be hiring more workers to keep up with demand. March's durable-goods orders showed a 5.2 per cent increase to an adjusted $26.11 billion from February's $24.83 billion. New orders for nondurable goods rose 1.5 per cent in March to an adjusted $22.95 billion from February's $22.6 billion.

Reserve Bank Warns

Alfred Hayes, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, in an address to the New York Chamber of Commerce, warned that although the United States is not faced with an acute exchange crisis at present, the crisis surrounding the dollar will persist until we can show progress toward balance of payments equilibrium. Inflation in the economy, Mr. Hayes warned, is "sowing the seeds of future recession" and is drawing imports into the country at a spectacular rate. Since Congress has failed to act on correcting a $20 billion deficit in the Federal budget by agreeing to increase taxes, he said the Federal Reserve has had no choice but to step in and fill the void, alluding to the very sizable monetary tightening accomplished in the last six months. Mr. Hayes added that the only feasible method of correcting the international problems of the dollar is to control domestic inflation.

Flick, Flick

The Tomato King II, a newly-designed tomato slicer for heavy duty use in commercial and institutional kitchens, has been introduced by Walter Kidde & Company, Inc. With just a flick of the handle, the new Tomato King II will slice a whole tomato in one second.

Mounted on a milk-white Lucite base which resists chemical reaction to tomato acids, the Tomato King II incorporates no electrical parts. The machine is available with tempered stainless steel blades in cutting sizes of 3-16", 1/4" and 3/8". The slicer, which is compactly-built to fit easily on a shelf when not in use, can be washed in a pot sink.

The machine can also be used for slicing a number of other vegetables and soft foods, such as pickles, peppers and boiled potatoes. According to the manufacturer, use of a Tomato King II can reduce food handling costs and practically eliminate food waste. Tomato King II slicing also prolongs the storage life of pre-sliced tomatoes under refrigeration.

Other Kidde products for commercial and institutional kitchen use include "Whippet" instant cream whipping machines, "Kidde Whip" topping for desserts, the "Cream-O-Matic" cream dispenser, the "Cold Water Glasswasher" and a complete line of "Kitchen Sentinel" hood and duct fire extinguishing systems.

Zal Venet Honored

Zal Venet, President of Venet Advertising, Inc., N. Y. and Union, N.J., has been cited for his "outstanding contribution to the food industry" by the N.J. Knights of the Grip. A plaque presentation was made by Charles Stephens, President of the organization, at a recent luncheon.

Mr. Venet's agency handles the advertising, sales promotion and public relations for Shop-Rite Super Markets, White Rock Beverages, Perx, Ehler's coffee, MBT Broth, Prince Macaroni and other food accounts. The agency also handles Fiat-Roosevelt Motors, General Motors overseas operations, and Trans East Airlines among its non-food accounts.

Speaking before the group, Mr. Venet explained the agency's creative approach in terms of "id." "To us id means intelligent daring," he said, "It means taking a good solid selling approach and combining it with a creative touch that is really exciting and different. Daring without intelligence means disaster. And intelligence without daring means run of the mill ads."

Speaking of the relation between supermarket buyers and salesmen and brokers, he said only the intelligent daring approach will close the "credibility gap." Mr. Venet explained that the large-scale failure of new products and faulty assumptions had caused the gap.

"Because you know who you are and what you're selling, doesn't mean the buyer knows. Most buyers don't. They don't remember who you are or what company you represent. They don't know what products your company makes, why your products are worth carrying, what its selling points are or whether it will sell," Mr. Venet said.

Salesmen have the mistaken idea that buyers have all the facts about their company and products. They assume buyers have their best interests at heart, assume that buyers will push products out of friendship, assume that company prestige is a substitute for hard facts, according to Mr. Venet. These assumptions are just not true.

To survive in the new era of massive statistical information and data communications, the salesmen must adapt these tools to his trade, Mr. Venet said. The supermarket industry looks to salesmen for complete information, practical selling suggestions, and contributions in other areas of the business.

Social Security Change

If you are a woman worker, a new social security law makes it easier for your dependents and survivors to get benefits based on your earnings, advised Mr. William J. Arnold, Newark social security district manager.

Under the old law, there were circumstances under which benefits could be paid to dependents or survivors of a woman worker only if she had worked under social security for one and a half years of the last three years.

Now this special requirement has been removed. Mr. Arnold said. Benefits may be paid in these cases beginning in March 1968 if the woman worker has enough work credits (earned at any time) to be "fully insured."

Texaco Record High

The first quarter of 1968 was the best quarter in the history of Texaco, Inc., J. Howard Ramin, Jr., Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer, told stockholders at the company's annual meeting recently. Consolidated net income for the first quarter of 1968 amounted to $216,556,000, compared with $191,216,000 for the first quarter of 1967, an increase of 13.3 per cent. On a per-share basis, first quarter earnings this year amounted to 1.60, compared with 1.41 a year ago.

All phases of Texaco's worldwide operations, including equity in affiliates, reached historic highs during the quarter, Mr. Ramin reported. Gross production of crude oil and natural gas liquids rose 5.6 per cent to 2,685,000 barrels a day. Refinery runs were up 8.6 per cent to 2,273,000 barrels a day. Petroleum product sales gained 8.4 per cent to 2,638,000 barrels a day.

In the United States, Texaco's sales and company utilization of natural gas averaged 3.8 billion cubic feet a day in the first quarter, or one-third above the year-ago level.
