THINKING — over his situation is Angelo Nardone, owner of the Villa Capri. Nardone plans to prepare a suit against Belleville officials.

Charges Conspiracy

Villa Capri Owner Planning To File Suit Against Several Belleville Town Officials

"The destiny of Nutley is in here — and Belleville is next," the owner of the Villa Capri said as he brought out a large, manila folder containing files and legal papers which were officially served to 17 Nutley citizens — who were involved in what Angelo Nardone calls "a vicious conspiracy to ruin me and the Villa."

Nardone's Villa Capri, which straddles the Belleville-Nutley boundary, began spreading the papers over a table in his dimly-lit classical coffee house at 4 Franklin Avenue. He paused briefly to scrape away some candle-wax drippings before proceeding.

"The town ganged up on me and now it's my turn," Nardone said. The Franklin Avenue businessman has been threatening for more than two years to sue Nutley officials for damages arising out of the town's closing his restaurant for a year because of alleged health violations. An Essex County Court later reversed the town's decision and Nardone was permitted to reopen for business.

But there have been other cases. Nardone was charged with stealing $15 worth of fire wood from the town dump behind the municipal garage. That case also ended up in the County Courts and again, Nardone won a favorable decision.

Since then, Nardone has lost a number of zoning violation cases. — His Villa Capri is a constant source of complaints from neighbors who say he is storing junk on property owned by both Nutley and Belleville.

"I have been in court maybe 50 times," Nardone says. "The officials of the Town have hurt me deeply. They've ruined my business, they've slandered me, given the Villa a bad name and morally injured me personally. It's my honor that I must defend now."

Nutley Town Attorney Robert J. Citrino Jr. acknowledged.

ged Tuesday that the legal papers have been served. Citrino said he has answered the papers, denying any truth to Nardone's allegations. Citrino estimated that as much time as perhaps a year would be required before the case reaches the Essex County Courthouse.

Nardone said a year ago he intended to sue Nutley "for 20 million dollars" and would use the money "to build a castle on Franklin Avenue to serve as a haven for poor artists everywhere."

This week, Nardone said the 20-million-dollar figure still stands. When he eventually completes a similar conspiracy suit now being prepared against Belleville officials, Nardone said he would hope to gain an additional $10,000,000.

His suit charges that Nutley officials "illegally conspired among themselves and each other to harass the plaintiff (Nardone) in his personal life and in the furtherance of his business."

Nutley officials named in the conspiracy suit include the estate of the late Commissioner Roy Gundelach who directed the Health Department at the time the Villa Capri's restaurant license was revoked.

Also named are Richard V. Fellers, health officer; Thomas Funari and L. H. Hilsen, health inspectors; Alexander De Lorenzo, who was assigned to the Police Detective Bureau when the alleged incidents took place; Sergeants Angelo Ferrara and Leroy Vandewende of the Police Department; Finance Commissioner William J. Jernick; former Town Clerk Mrs. Florence E. Rutan; Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth, director of Public Safety; Police Chief Francis T. Buel; Police Capt. August Negra; Court Clerk John J. Paukstaitis; Detective Stanley Kowalik; Detective Sergeant William Dietz; Building Inspector Ernest Pino, and Board members, led by Rocco Saletta, vice president, sitting for the absent president, John Di Rienzo, contended that the company had established a precedent by freely removing the garbage on a contract with the Town of Belleville, maintained according to board officials, that the firm was only required to remove litter for two days a week. It notified the board members of this fact in a letter and billed the board for the extra service.

Garbage Discussed By Board Members

The Belleville Board of Education at the last regularly scheduled meeting postponed final awarding of a scavenger's contract to Pucillo and Son of 74 Belmont Avenue until it could be ascertained who was going to pay for daily removal of garbage behind the public school buildings.

Debate developed over the past actions of the scavenger company, which had been removing litter for the last three years from school buildings on a daily basis, without charge to the board, Pucillo, citing a contract with the Town of Belleville, maintained according to board officials, that the firm was only required to remove litter for two days a week. It notified the board members of this fact in a letter and billed the board for the extra service.

Public Parking Lots Legislation Begun

Facilities Will Aid Shoppers

The Belleville Town Commission has taken another step toward providing more parking for shoppers by introducing an ordinance to appropriate $100,000 for the purchase of four lots adjoining Town Hall.

Mayor Kenneth Smith estimated that 100 to 125 parking spaces would be available. He said the two stores, a tavern and two homes on the land would not be touched, but that space behind the buildings, Nos. 162, 164, 168, 170 and 172 Washington Ave., would be used.

The mayor said the town was "buying against the future" so it would be assured of having available space should the parking problem become more acute.

The town has leased the Fidelity Union Trust Co. parking lot at the rear of the bank building on Greenwich Street. Meters are expected to be installed shortly on the lot, which will provide parking for 25 to 30 cars.

Merchants have complained that shoppers are flocking to the shopping centers outside town.

The drive for more parking is being spearheaded by the Chamber of Commerce under the direction of Harry French, executive director.

"There's no question," said French, "that parking facilities in the congested area of Belleville, in the vicinity of Town Hall, are vital to the survival of the business sections."

The problem the merchants face, he notes, is that people will hop in their cars and go to the nearest parking lot, to Nutley or Bloomfield or Kearny ("all the towns around us have public parking"), or to the shopping centers on highways. "There are new ones going up all the time. There'll soon be one on Main Avenue in Clifton. People — if they can't park they're not going to shop."

French feels that opposition from citizens will not be great, since no one is getting dispossessed.

For a period of twenty years, there have been meetings under different mayors and administrations on parking facilities for Belleville. "There was a desire and willingness to do something," says French "but it never materialized."

The Chamber of Commerce highly commends the efforts

Citizens Narcotics Committee Reactivated By Commissioners

Seven persons were appointed by the Belleville Commission last week to the reactivated Citizens Conference Committee on Narcotics.

The committee, which is charged with recommending action on narcotic problems, was disbanded last year when the town switched from council-manager to commission form of government.

Mayor Kenneth Smith said the committee will probably study the findings of a special Essex County grand jury studying the narcotics problems and make recommendations tions to the commission.

Appointed were John R. Scott of 88 Baldwin Place; Palmer D. Burde of 440 Union Ave.; and Francis X. Morgan of 20 Reservoir Place, for two-year terms, and Rev. James F. Heavey of St. Peter's Church; Thomas Apicella of 449 Joralemon St.; James A. McCabe of 18 Crestwood Ave.; and Rudolph P. Zoeller of 41 Fairway Ave., for one-year terms. Also on the committee are Anthony Greco, Belleville school superintendent, and Michael Marotti, Belleville police juvenile officer.

Additional members may be appointed to the committee from the police narcotics squad, according to Mayor Smith.

Belleville Judge Edward J. Abramson and assistant Prosecutor Lawrence Schwartz have advocated a hard line to combat the drug menace.

Abramson said most defendants who appear before him in court are repeaters.

The judge said that much of the narcotics problem involves a lack of supervision by parents.

Schwartz says the way to combat crimes and violence associated with narcotics is "by arduous police work."

Police, Firemen Pay Hikes Due January

An ordinance to raise the maximum salary of the Belleville patrolmen and firemen to $8,500 was introduced last week by the Belleville Town Commission. The $1,000 increase at maximum would become effective next January.

The commission also introduced ordinances which would raise the uniform allowance for the firemen and policemen from $100 to $150 and provide for longevity pay of 2 per cent for every five years.

Be a square.

Send your children to the temple and to religious school. If that's square, then be tickled pink, because it also means 'responsible.' Let them learn of their wonderful history and rich heritage. Round out their lives and give them the faith and moral strength for their future. In an age when drugs, alcohol, promiscuity gather their forces to tempt your youngster, give them the background and depth to withstand these temptations.

Bringing up children is a serious business. So give yourself a very, very square deal. Be responsible. You can't afford to make mistakes. Can you?

Trash Dumping Bill Introduced

Belleville's Town Commission has introduced an amendment "prohibiting the dumping, depositing and accumulation of garbage, rubbish and other discarded materials." Penalty would be a maximum fine of $500, 90 days in jail, or both.

Dumping would be prohibited on public streets, public places, and vacant or occupied lands.

Also included in this ordinance, adopted on first-reading (a second vote of approval is necessary for final passage), is a requirement that no bundle of refuse be placed on the sidewalk before 5 p.m. on the day prior to scheduled collection.

Nor, is it permissible for any empty receptacle to remain on a sidewalk for more than one hour after the contents have been collected.

Police, Fire Pay Hikes

The longevity pay change was introduced with different scales for present and future employees. Present employee would get two per cent longevity in five year increments up to 25 years (10 per cent). Future employees would get the same raises, but the fire increment would come after 10 years service, instead of five years.

Belleville Sailor Returns From Deep Freeze

Seaman Apprentice Theodore M. Pietrzyk, Coast Guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Pietrzyk of 7 Carolyn Road, has returned to Baltimore from the Antarctic, aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Westwind.

As a crewmember he spent more than seven months as part of Operation Deepfreeze, Deepfreeze is the annual scientific research effort conducted in the Antarctic by the Navy.

He helped deliver supplies and personnel to the U.S. scientific station at McMurdo Sound. During the brief summer months, the Westwind, an icebreaker, leads merchant ships into the Sound.

This year, as a member of the Westwind crew, he helped set a new record for the earliest penetration of the icepack surrounding McMurdo Station.

Town Creates New Position

The Belleville Town Commission has approved an ordinance creating the position of legal stenographer and introduced another, setting the salary of senior engineer at from $5,800 to $7,500.

The legal stenographer works with the town attorney, Nicholas Amato, who was appointed to a three-year term. Mrs. Marie Pasquariello has been serving as legal stenographer since April 29, the effective date of the ordinance.

Most people judge their fellowmen by the way they accept them and their ideas.

School Board Asks Questions on Garbage

Max Schwartz, counsel for the school board, stated that "the board had no legal right to compel them to pick up the garbage. He added, "who do we go after, Pucillo or the town of Belleville?"

Both Norma McCool and Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero, board members, cited the emergency conditions that could develop if the trash remained uncollected as it had from about May 6 to May 17 when the contractor refused to budget unless paid for the extra days. During that period the company only removed trash on the required two days according to the contract with the Belleville Municipality.

Mrs. McCool warned board members against setting a legal precedent by assuming additional responsibilities in paying a town contractor.

Ernest Arvidson affirmed the school's needs for a wage pick-up every day. Harold Dufford, in concurring, suggested that the board consider only paying the contractor retroactively.

The motion to table the resolution for further discussion by the board council was made.

and passed unanimously. Max Schwartz, board counsel, was instructed to inform the Town Commission of the situation and ask them to consider what could be arranged. At present, Pucillo and Sons have a five year contract with the town of Belleville.

of the Mayor and the Commission. "We are hopeful that they will bear fruition. We're more encouraged at the present moment than in a long, long time. But, time is running out."

"A viable, successful commercial area is not only important to the merchants," French said, "but to the citizens and community from the standpoint of tax revenue."

Belleville Firemen Battle Liquid Blaze

Eight Belleville Firemen suffered chemical poisoning and ammonia burns last Wednesday afternoon when they attempted to neutralize liquid bromine which had spilled from a tank at the Tennessee Color & Chemical Co., 374 Main St.

The men treated at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital were: Deputy Chief William Fabian, 51; Capt. Harold Dambra, 39; Charles Aughenbaugh; Edward Hollweg, 45; Carmen Vicari, 32; Richard Triano, 31; Kenneth Langlands, 39, and Robert Mazza, 41. Dambra was detained in the hospital until yesterday while the others were treated and released.

Fabian said he and his men had found a room in the plant saturated with the red bromine liquid. He said a faulty pressure control valve had allowed pressure to build up and cause the overflow.

The firemen opened a tank of ammonia to neutralize the bromine, which gives off highly poisonous fumes.

Fabian said the firemen had to work for nearly four hours before the fumes were completely dissipated.

The Dirty 'Organization Republicans'

At the proverbial eleventh hour, mailboxes and porches have been littered with the filthiest campaign literature ever devised for a political campaign.

All of the obscene, libelous and scurrilous literature advocated the election of the Yeomans-Intile Organization Republican candidates on Line F. Reproduced below is a sample of this communistic-type literature which appeals to the ethnic prejudices of voters.

Monday night the local Republican County Committee meets to elect a town Republican leader. Common decency, fair play and clean government requires the ouster of every Republican leader who supports the Yeomans-Intile leadership.

A vote for a Yeomans-Intile leader is a vote against fair play and clean government in the Republican party.

A Baseball Thought

William Veeck, a man who has always managed to stir a storm in professional baseball, has come up with a novel idea for modernizing baseball—which he says badly needs modernizing. The plan has the support of several Major League club owners and of Commissioner William Eckert.

In brief, Veeck would change the present two-league system into a two-league system with each league having two divisions. And he would swap teams around to put cities in their logical geographical groupings. This would save considerable travel and expense money and make things easier on ballplayers, who might be able to play more years as a result.

Here are Veeck's proposed leagues and divisions: National League (southern division) — Atlanta, Cincinnati, Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston, Kansas City and St. Louis; (western division) — Anaheim, Los Angeles, Oakland, San Diego, San Francisco, and Seattle.

American League (eastern division) — Baltimore, Boston, New York Mets and Yankees, Philadelphia and Washington; (midwestern division) — Chicago Cubs and White Sox, Detroit, Cleveland, Minnesota and Pittsburgh.

These groupings include two new National League franchises guessed at by Veeck. But even if one or two changes are made the general idea of his modernization plan can be easily followed. To inaugurate inter-league play and also reduce travel, the teams would play each team in the other league four games (48), each team in the other division of its own league six (36) and each team in its own division sixteen games (80). That would be a 164-game schedule, the same as today's.

There may be objections to the plan. There may be better plans. Unless and until they prove valid, however, baseball should consider this modernization.

Trains and Buses

The time may not be far away when certain areas, especially in metropolitan centers, are prohibited to private vehicles.

Department of Transportation officials have been trying to solve the problem of growing traffic congestion for years but many are convinced no amount of money spent to improve road and street systems will make it possible for anyone to drive where he wishes at any time in many areas of the country.

With the number of motorists constantly increasing, serious congestion threatens to choke the life out of downtown areas in the cities. The department has failed, meanwhile, in a years-long program to promote bus travel. The view of the department has been that greater reliance on bus travel is the answer, but the number of urban transit system passengers continues to decline even as suburban population continues to increase.

Rail transit systems are not feasible — department officials maintain — in most American cities; they feel the greatest obstacle to progress lies in the refusal of so many Americans to ride buses rather than cars. Yet one suspects rail systems have a hidden potential, if equipment is made attractive and good schedules maintained punctually.

Whatever progress is achieved, however, certain areas are likely to be barred to the private vehicle in the future; one of the advantages enjoyed by the rural and small-town citizen is the ease of shopping and living possible to him in un-crowded conditions.

Help Wanted

One of the curious trends in our society is that developing in the employment field. Cities, states and private firms in various parts of the country report difficulty finding enough workers.

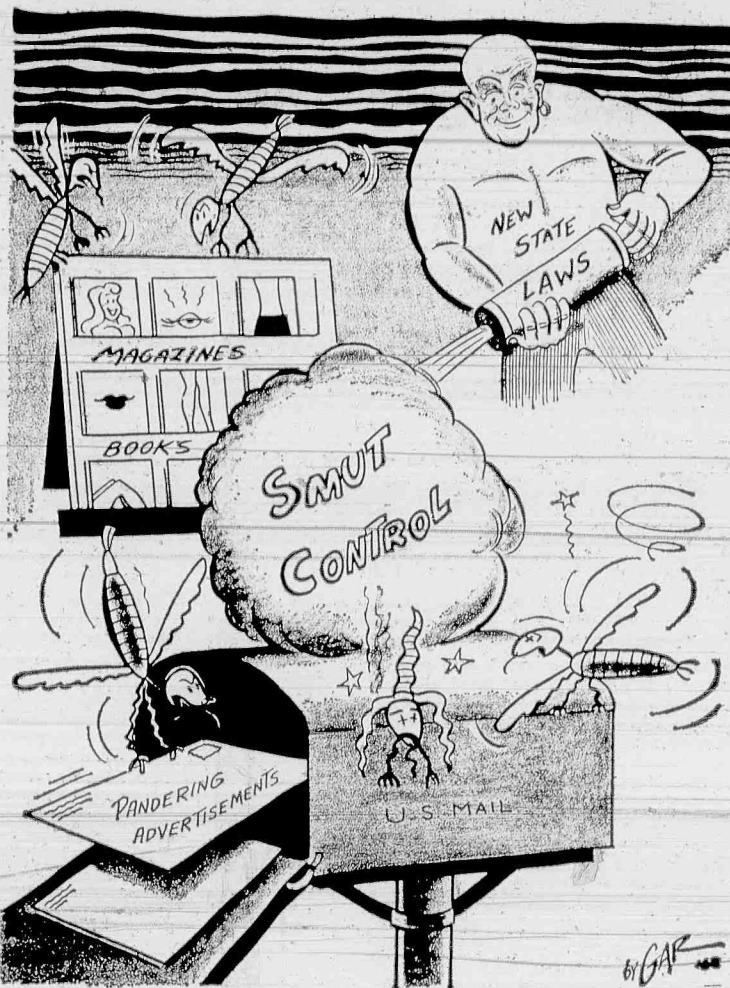

Unemployment applications have declined as this trend continues, which is to be expected, but there are still millions of unemployed. And in many cities where companies and municipal jobs go begging unemployment lists are long. Obviously, too many have no desire to do real work, or prefer to draw unemployment compensation for doing nothing.

The jobs for which workers are being sought are not all skilled; many of them are completely unskilled and often the wages offered are up to $100 a week. Yet in many areas enough workers can't be found.

It would seem logical to conclude that a certain percentage of the population is not eager for steady or hard work. That has probably always been true. Unemployment compensation systems and other forms of charity, greatly expanded in recent years, probably make certain the permanent existence of a percentage of "chronic" unemployed, who will never move out of that classification in our society.

Speak Up

Columbia Grad Voices Riot View

To The Times:

David Margulies recently voiced his student opinion about the "Columbia Demonstration." I must take exception to many statements that he made in this newspaper.

It is my opinion that the students who started the fracas at Columbia had very little to complain about. The key complaint was one that centered about the construction of a gymnasium in Morningside Park. Columbia sorely needed a new gymnasium to replace their antiquated facility (parts of which are held together with wooden pegs). The construction of the $11.6 million dollar Columbia and Community Gymnasiums would have been a blessing for both the University and its neighbors. The new structure was to occupy 2.1 acres of the 30-acre park. The gymnasiums were to arise on a large outcropping of rock on an unused portion of land which slopes sharply between Morningside Park and Manhattan Avenue. By using the park site rather than a city block, Columbia officials noted that no community residents would be displaced to make way for construction.

Facilities in the community gym were to include a regulation-size basketball court, a swimming pool and areas for wrestling, handball, volleyball, weight-lifting, and body-building. Neighborhood youngsters would have, at no cost, exclusive, full-time use of these facilities. Columbia agreed to provide all the equipment and staff supervision for the community athletic program. The facilities were considered to be the most outstanding of their kind in the nation.

Gym Would Be Asset

With the new gym, the number of youngsters participating in the community athletic program was expected to increase. Now, about 2,500 neighborhood youngsters use the Columbia Community Athletic Field. With the opening of the new community gym, this figure was expected to soar to about 4,000, and sports in the park would become a year-round activity. The community swimming pool was to be 75' by 20' with a regulation 1-meter diving board. Locker rooms, showers, and an exercise room were to be nearby. The main community gymnasium was to feature a basketball court with modern lighting and folding bleachers for spectators. Experienced coaches and athletes from Columbia were to work with the neighborhood boys, refereeing games and holding sports clinics.

The actual construction of the new gym culminated many years of planning and negotiations on Columbia's part. Columbia first signed a lease with New York City for use of the park land in 1961 and was to pay the City $3,000 a year for the use of the park. A bill authorizing the project, required under the Home Rule provisions of the New York State Constitution, was adopted by the State Legislature in 1960. A recent edition of NEWSWEEK pointed out that seven years ago, when these plans were first announced, 40 Harlem organizations greeted the plan with loud hosannas and hailed the proposed community gymnasium as a major step toward integration.

It is my feeling that if one year ago Columbia refused to build the gymnasium, these same students agitators would be bellowing that the University was not fulfilling its promises to its Harlem neighbors, and demonstrations might be just as vicious.

As a scholarship student and President of the Freshman Class at Columbia, 1945, my classmates and I could find no complaints against our school. We were thankful to receive an education by some of the most inspiring teachers in the country.

I might point out that Columbia has a reputation for being the most liberal of the Ivy League Schools. The school has for some time been actively trying to enroll negro students. It is known that Columbia has been sending some lesser qualified negro students at school expense, to some of the best finishing schools, in order to enable them to meet the entrance requirements. (Remember that Princeton never had a negro student until World War II.)

The attempt to make the gymnasium construction a racial issue served only to agitate many negroes who were not familiar with the actual facts. Certainly Rap Brown and Stokely Carmichael were not interested in the welfare of Columbia University or its neighbors, but were there solely to ignite total destruction.

I supported the construction of the gym not just because Columbia needed the gym so desperately but I hoped that some of the negro youths who might use the gym would find the same type of inspiration from the Columbia faculty as I did.

Peaceful Protests Upheld

Certainly Columbia has not been against the Democratic principles of the right to peaceful protest and the right to disagree. The faculty member who described the student tactics with regard to the destruction of school property and imprisonment of the Dean and school President as Nazi Storm Troopers tactics, was indeed correct. Mr. Margulies also complained that the Student Council could not meet with the President of the University. It seems to me that when we as Americans have a complaint, we do not ask to see President Johnson. Dean Harry Coleman has been the designated liaison man between students and administration. Harry Coleman, often called "Mr. Columbia," has been one of the most able deans. His office has always been open to students, any any time. I hardly remember student activity at which Dean Coleman was not an active participant. All students, alumni, and faculty members, loved their Dean — yet Dean Coleman was one of the administrators who was immediately imprisoned by the students.

Police brutality? I don't like police brutality any more than President Kirk does. Every effort was made to avoid the use of police force, and the University probably delayed police action too long. When you rely on the police, you have to be willing to put up with the police tactics. Some innocent bystanders are going to get hurt in the mass rush to quell the riot.

The pictures in LIFE magazine were most upsetting. The magazine showed a Columbia student, with long sideburns and disheveled attire. His feet were resting on the University President's desk as he seemed to comfortably enjoy the drama of one of the President's own cigars. I didn't think this type student would be in a position to give any constructive advice to a great University.

The Columbia University administration can grant no amnesty to these violators of the law. To grant amnesty would place every university at the mercy of the whims of their students.

Yours very truly,

Murray Strober, M. D.

Seems Only Yesterday

1 YEAR AGO

The 1967 baseball season that began with hopes and expectations of an unprecedented third consecutive Big Ten conference crown ended with the Bellboys winning their 13th game in twenty-two outings, to secure a third place finish in the standings.

Following the Belleville High School band's triumphant return from Canada the group was invited to attend the Miss America Pageant to be held the following fall. The communication was received by Band Director Robert A. Wing from the assistant director of the Pageant.

The movement to halt the erection of a vocational school on land in the Soho area of the community continued to grow. Investigations were held by Eugene Barreta and members of the council about a contention held by defeated commission candidate Dominic Touch who said that he thought when the Soho hospital was built where it stands that its property would be used for the hospital alone.

5 YEARS AGO

Christine Grabowski, ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Grabowski of Clifton, won the honor award in the semi-finalist auditions of the Music Council of New Jersey. Christine played the Spirituoso from the Clementi Sonata Opus 36, no. 3 and made a 95 average.

Anthony P. Longo of 20 Roosevelt Avenue was elected treasurer of Rutgers College of Pharmacy, class of 1966. Longo was in the second year of the five year State University pharmacy program in Newark.

The Jersey State Auto Body Company of Washington Avenue leased a garage for the purpose of relocating at Washington Avenue several blocks away. Fiest and Fiest real estate of Newark took care of the transaction.

10 YEARS AGO

Four year old Kenneth Edward Nyegaard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nyegaard, suffocated in his sleep and was pronounced dead by Doctor William Mann. According to police, the youngster had been treated for chest congestion by the family physician.

The recreation department secured an obsolete Navy Jet for the children of Belleville. It was placed in the Montgomery playground behind Montgomery Presbyterian church on Mill Street.

Vincent J. Caruso of Rossmore Place reported the theft of jewelry and cash totaling $1,633. Caruso and his wife returned from a weekend at the shore and found their home broken into and ransacked.

15 YEARS AGO

Belleville Post 105, American Legion, held its regular monthly paper drive. Trucks left Legion headquarters at 9 a.m. Members of the Legion who were free that day were requested to assist. Homeowners helped by placing tied bundles of papers and old magazines at the curb. The post had previously made individual house calls, but lack of help and consideration necessary.

The mother's Club of Fewsmith Church held its membership card party in the social hall. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Dannela Lamb, Mrs. A. Farar, Mrs. W. E. Hulme, Mrs. Leroy Dahlquist, Mrs. John Seaholtz, and Mrs. Irving Bodholt.

20 YEARS AGO

The annual summer outing of the Belleville woman's Republican Club was held. Buses left the clubhouse on Rossmore Place at nine o'clock, shipping the members off to Bear Mountain for the day, and returned with their cargo at 6 in the evening.

An issue of the first issue of the first Belleville paper was found in the old family Bible of J. H. Buss of Nutley. The largest news item in the four page weekly printed in 1878 had to do with a church lecture delivered by Reverend James O'Rogers on Hymns and songs. Other news consisted of certain interesting announcements such as, "Mr. Wharton of Wharton and Van Ryper has invented a flying machine." "Real Estate is very low at present, in fact, in some cases it is out of sight." "Osbourne Drug Store compares favorably with any drug store in the country." "Belleville Hotel — Main and Mill Streets. Good accommodations for Rifle and Boat Clubs — Also good stabling."

Villa Capri Owner After Officials

former parks superintendent Peter J. Scarpelli.

Nardone said this week he will file amended complaints to include additional Nutley officials in the alleged conspiracy. "As I walk around town, and as I see people who hurt me, I will include them too," Nardone said. The only additional name he would offer was that of Fire Capt. Harry Jacques who directs fire-prevention inspections.

According to the papers served, the charges against the various officials are based on the following contentions:

Nardone maintains Health Department personnel conspired in refusing to grant a renewal of the Villa Capri's restaurant license in early 1964.

As a result of the license denial, the Villa Capri "was forced to remain closed for a period of one year due to the arbitrary, discriminating, capricious and unreasonable refusal of said defendants to issue said license which was without basis or authority under the ordinances of the Town of Nutley or statutes of the State of New Jersey, resulting in damages to plaintiff from loss of profits from his business."

When the license-renewal case was appealed to the Essex County Courts a year later, the presiding judge recessed the trial and took the jury to the Villa Capri for an on-the-spot inspection. When the judge returned to the courtroom in Newark, he ordered Nutley to renew Nardone's license.

The conspiracy suit demands judgement against the Health Department "for compensatory damages and cost of suit."

Scarpelli is included in the suit because he signed the papers charging Nardone with theft of firewood from the area near the Town Garage. Nardone was found guilty by Nutley Magistrate Edwin J.

C. Joerg, but on appeal, was acquitted. "As a result, the plaintiff was caused great pain, torment and mental anguish and was compelled to spend large sums of money in defending himself against said charges," the suit maintains.

Commissioner Jerneck and former town clerk Mrs. Rutan are included because "during the period from 1963 to the present, they caused the plaintiff's payments for taxes to be misapplied to his account, resulting in further indebtedness and liens upon the plaintiff's premises."

Nardone explained that specifically, he is charging that money he sent to Town Hall for payment of real estate property taxes was credited to busoness personality tax account. "How I could pay taxes for being in business when they took away my license is something I don't understand," Nardone said.

The Police Department's involvement in the alleged conspiracy includes Mayor Chenoweth and stems from Nardone's contention that the police failed to provide protection from vandalism at the Villa Capri.

"At various times, the plaintiff has sought and failed to receive said protection," the suit continues. The result has been "repeated and increased criminal acts against the plaintiff's property, resulting in damages."

Finally, the sixth count of the papers names Building Inspector Piro. Nardone says that Piro harassed him "in my personal life and in the furtherance of my business at the Villa Capri." The suit against Piro charges the Building Inspector with violating Nardone's "personal and property rights, causing loss of business and deterioration and damage of the plaintiff's health."

Nardone's case has been prepared by attorney James

A. McTague Jr. of Jersey City. McTague has successfully defended Nardone in several cases pressed against the Villa Capri by Nutley and Belleville officials in recent years.

During the past year, however, Nardone's legal luck reversed itself when he lost a Nutley case which grew out of his erecting a wall of columns between the Villa building and Franklin Avenue. Nardone told the Nutley Court he needed the wall to protect the building from acts of vandalism.

Also, in the past year, Belleville successfully prosecuted Nardone for storing building materials on town-owned property.

Business today at the Villa Capri is limited, although the Franklin Avenue coffee house is generally filled to capacity on weekends by area college student "and those who appreciate the arts."

Nardone is considering the organization of a private club of students "who appreciate the culture and arts we are trying to bring here."

Rodino Says Bill Would Prompt Foreign Travel Here

Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-10th District) announced today approval by the full House Judiciary Committee of legislation to facilitate the entry of foreign tourists into the United States by waiving the visa requirement for aliens coming to visit this country for vacation or business purposes for 90 days or less.

The New Jersey Congressman, who is ranking member of the Immigration Subcommittee, said the bill was proposed by President Johnson as a result of recommendations of a special Industry-Government Commission study on travel. "It is expected to help our balance of payments problems," he said, "and at the same time promote international relations and, particularly, tourism to this country. At present 36 foreign nations do not require U. S. citizens to obtain visas for such temporary visits."

National Teacher Exams Will Be Offered July 6

POISON-IVY IS AN ITCHY PROBLEM

The itch that follows exposure may be acquired at any time, but the peak of poison-ivy, poison-oak, or poison sumac is in the spring. The poisonous sap may reach directly to the skin, by contact with the plant, or later on by way of handled shoes, clothing, tools or domestic animals.

Poison-ivy symptoms begin to appear one or two days after contact. Some people are unusually sensitive and few are entirely immune. We have some poison-ivy lotions which usually offer quick relief and we can help you choose a good product. When the eruptions are unusually severe or cover most of the body, consult your physician.

Belleville Pupils Draw Craftsman's Fair Award

Ten Belleville High School students, under the direction of Ted Gabry, entered the Architectural Division of the New Jersey Student Craftsman's Fair. The students participated in both the Architectural Drawing and Architectural Models sections of the program.

For the Architectural Drawing contest each student had to draw the floor plan of a small resident or small commercial building. For the Architectural Models section every boy was required to construct out of soft wood a scale model and submit a drawing of the problem.

Entrants were judged on quality of workmanship and originality of design. Three Belleville students were awarded certificates: William Julliano, 2nd place;

"Everything For The Particular Woman"

Broadway Is My Beat

By John Sasso

E. M. Loew's Latin Quarter is now presenting one of the most exciting performers in show business. Bobby Vinton has the magic combination of ingredients that enable him to appeal to both young and old. Bobby's success is no accident. He majored in music at college; plays practically every instrument there is; spent several years in every show business media.

During his career with Epic he has sold millions of records and albums. The Latin Quarter's show runs less time than a spoken tour through Bobby's waxwork smashes and seldom does a week go by that one of his releases fails to make the charts. As a stage performer he has few peers. Bobby's versatility and showmanship is proven by the wide range of his followers. He has appeared at every top night club and major television show coast to coast. This is the first time Latin Quarter audiences will have a chance to see Bobby Vinton in action.

Also featured in the Latin Quarter's "Terre Des Femmes" spectacular are comic George Stevens, a young man with a fist full of rave reviews and a talented tumbling Six Antonettes.

Not to be overlooked are the 26 beautiful semi-nudes in "Terre Des Femmes," one of the most entertaining revues ever presented at the Latin Quarter.

The Theatre of Genoa (Teatro Stabile di Genova) is now presenting its world-famous comedy production of Carlo Goldoni's farce "The Venetian Twins" ("I Due Gemelli Veneziani") at Henry Miller's Theatre.

"The Venetian Twins," which has a company of 25, starring Alberto Lionelli in the title roles, is being presented in its New York premiere by Arthur Cantor and Zenon R. Mocarski.

Artistic directors for The Theatre of Genoa are Ivo Chiso and Luigi Squarzina. "The Venetian Twins" was directed by Squarzina.

Singer Adam Wade returns to the Living Room for a three week engagement. Wade, long a popular recording star, has always been a big favorite at the New York night club. He has played most of the top clubs across the country and has appeared on all the major television variety shows.

Also on the bill and making a return engagement, is comedian Zack Norman. Norman has made audiences laugh throughout the nation and on many of the network television shows.

The Bob Ferris Trio provide their usual musical interludes.

Duke Ellington — "Take the A Train," "Satin Doll," "Sophisticated Lady" and the rest — moves up to the stars above Rockefeller Center for a six-week appearance at the Rainbow Grill.

Duke, widely regarded as a creator of jazz standards — will be on the bandstand with his septet, playing for dancing.

The Ellington aggregation will be on hand nightly, Monday through Saturday, from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. The Grill opens for dinner at 6, with the Phil Wayne combo playing for dancing beginning at 7.

Union College Graduates Moving on to 72 Schools
Union College's 150 candidates for Associate in Arts degrees have won admission with advanced standing to 72 different colleges and universities in 21 states and the District of Columbia.

This was revealed in a preliminary survey made by Anatole K. Colbert, director of counseling. Mr. Colbert said a more definitive survey will be made next month following commencement, on Saturday, June 1.

Robert M. Bedell New Wesley Pastor

Bishop Prince A. Taylor, Jr., Resident Bishop of the New Jersey Area of The United Methodist Church will appoint the Rev. Robert M. Bedell as pastor to the Wesley Methodist Church, Belleville, today.

Bedell was born in Jersey City. He began his undergraduate work at the Jersey City Junior College, and completed his B.A. degree at Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa. He attended Drew Theological School and was graduated in 1959.

His former churches include student pastorates in Iowa and New York State. His first charge in New Jersey was the Clinton Methodist Church in Fairfield. He then went to Quakertown, N.J., and from there to Newfoundland. He is married to the former Cynthia Ann Harry of Chatham, and they have three children: John, 6; Peter, 4; and Mary, 2.

Bedell will begin his pastorate at Wesley with Sunday Worship Service at 11:00 a.m. His sermon topic will be "And He Taught Them."

Ask Voluntary Retail Discounts To Assist Belleville Elderly

The Chairman of Essex County Welfare Board, Frank Palmieri, today unveiled a proposed plan to stretch the dollar purchasing power of its 6,600 clients who reached the age of 65.

The plan was charted and advanced by David Goldfarb of South Orange, County Consultant on Aging to the Welfare Department, and was immediately hailed by the Chairman "as an imaginative, humane and effective program for a growing segment of our society — the senior citizen."

Goldfarb said the program embodied "a lot of the old and much of the new in ideas he developed in consultations with the State Division on Aging, other County Welfare Boards and particularly from interviews with senior citizen clients of the Essex County Welfare Board."

"The formation of this program, along with other key proposals conceived during my role as full time Consultant to the Welfare Board completes my immediate mission," Goldfarb said.

"In submitting these recommendations I am at the same time tending my resignation as Consultant so I may return to my private business. I make this decision to leave the post of Welfare Consultant with regret, but I am satisfied that I have been able to leave a legacy which professional welfare staff workers can effectuate into a program of additional economic benefits for our senior citizens," Goldfarb said.

In conjunction with case worker interviews Goldfarb said the "dollar stretch" program reflected the results of consultations with many aged welfare clients.

The basic concept of the plan as revealed by Goldfarb calls for the establishment of the "Essex County discount plan" whereby local merchants on the voluntary basis will be encouraged to provide discounts of 10 percent and more to welfare clients who have reached the age of 65.

Goldfarb said that he had already made informal overtures through Presidents of the various Chambers of Commerce, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and various local Merchant Associations on an individual basis and had received a favorable reaction to his proposed program.

In detailing the program Goldfarb said that each Welfare client over 65 will receive an eligibility card entitling him to shop in any participating merchant store, and each participating merchant would receive a placard to display in his window with a notation showing the percentage discount available over the listed price to aged welfare clients. Distribution of these eligibility cards and placards would center with the Welfare Board, and a complete master list of merchants would be kept by the Welfare Board in order to oversee that discounts were given as pledged.

"This will not only be good business for the participating merchants, but it will also enable our aged welfare clients with strictly non-flexible incomes to better meet the challenge of personal economics," Goldfarb said.

Goldfarb said that he had also proposed that such aged welfare clients also be permitted a 50 percent discount in the use of public transportation in their travel to and from shopping areas.

Goldfarb pointed out that this would take a special act of the Legislature, or at the minimum an administrative ruling by the Public Utility Commission, in order to effect such a discount on transportation. He said he would ask the Essex Legislature members to sponsor such a permissive arrangement.

Joining in the praise of the Goldfarb plan were Director C. Stewart Hausmann of the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders and Walter C. Blasi, Essex County Supervisor.

"Mr. Goldfarb's proposal stemming directly from his intense interest and dedication to the needs of the senior citizens offers practical economic hope to our aging citizens who have been caught in the vise of mounting cost without a comparable increase in their means of income," Hausmann said.

Blasi also expressed interest in several other phases of the Goldfarb report including proposals that the County set up "Aging Centers" which would be funded by the Federal Government — 75 percent the first year, 60 percent the second year and 50 percent the third year.

Goldfarb in his report had pointed out that such centers which are informational in function have already been established in Mercer, Bergen and Sussex Counties. Goldfarb explained that the overall objective of these centers in providing sources of information is to integrate the older persons into the community rather than leaving them segregated, while at the same time prodding the community into new and improved services for the elderly as needed. A third part of the Goldfarb plan also calls upon Essex County to prepare citizens who have not yet reached the age of 65, "psychologically, educationally and materially for the inevitability of old age."

"It is an established fact of life that the average person today has the life expectancy of 20 years beyond that which he faced in 1900, and while none of us look forward to getting old the fact is that when we reach the age of 60 we must start preparing ourselves by getting advanced knowledge on benefits available to us through Medicare, Social Security and local programs set up in our own communities," Goldfarb said.

"Some companies as the Bell System do make such preparations, but the overall citizen reaches the age of 65 totally unprepared and in most cases completely unaware of just what is his due at the age of 65, just what are his possibilities and just what are his opportunities.

"These are matters which should be set up on a formal basis now by Essex County, and while my original program on discounts only applies to welfare clients over the age of 65 it can certainly be expanded to include the whole range of those in the senior citizen category," Goldfarb said.

EVERLASTING TRIBUTE — James La Motta of American Legion Post No. 105 places the names of Belleville veterans who have been killed during the past year in a military helmet to be burned. Among the names were those of Pfc. Roger Crowell, Pfc. John Hoar, Pfc. Richard Donatiello and Pvt. Donald Saunders. Each Belleville veterans group also chose five or six representative names to be burned along with those who died within the last year. LaMotta was assisted by George Mitchell, also of American Legion Post No. 105.

RESPECTFUL ATTENTION — Listening intently to the words of the speaker the officials and clergy of Belleville were united in their Memorial Day tributes to the soldiers who were killed in the nations wars. From left to right they are: Rabbi Henry Glazer, Rev. James Ignacuinos, Commissioner Mary V. Senatore and Mayor Kenneth Smith. Mayor Smith spoke about the "national purpose" for which these men sacrificed their lives, and cited the conflicts in which the United States is engaged at home and abroad.

BENEDICTION — Rev. Francis A. Ignacuinos of St. Peter's Church delivers the benediction at Thursday's Memorial Day ceremonies. The Belleville ceremonies were in three different areas, at the Belleville bridge, on Union Avenue and in front of Town Hall.

New Handbook Contains Facts About Medicare

Within the coming weeks, older people in the Newark area will be receiving a new copy of "Your Medicare Handbook," a new up-to-date guidebook on their Medicare benefits, how the program works, and how payments are made.

William J. Arnold, social security district manager, said the new Handbook highlights the changes enacted in the 1967 social security amendments, improving protection and simplifying Medicare procedures. It has also been made easier for older people to read and understand.

In developing the new edition of "Your Medicare Handbook," Arnold said, the Social Security Administration sought the suggestions of elderly readers as well as experts in the field of communications and representatives of professional organizations.

Delivery of the new red, white, and blue edition to the 19.6 million Americans 65 and over will be cycled over the next 6 weeks, Arnold said.

In an introductory letter on the inside front cover of the new Handbook, Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, reminds older people: "If you need further information or want help concerning your Medicare protection or any other social security matters, please get in touch with your social security office. The people there are always glad to help you."

Walter Kidde At Record High

Sales, net income and earnings per share of Walter Kidde & Company, Inc. attained record high levels for the three months ended March 31, 1968.

Sales rose to $111,519,000 for the 1968 period; compared with $71,777,000 reported for the comparable period of 1967. Net income after taxes was $3,510,000 in 1968, compared with $1,729,000 in 1967. Federal and foreign income taxes were $3,238,000 for the 1968 period, compared with $1,539,000 in 1967.

It was the 17th consecutive quarter that earnings per common share increased at least 30 percent over the prior year period.

ible Steel Corporation, United States Lines Company and Harrington & Richardson, Inc.

New Peoples Bank Cashing In Already

There will never be an empty vault at the new Tri-City Office of Peoples National Bank and Trust Company.

Though the bank has not yet opened for business, 133 local residents, interested in the progress of the building project, became permanent depositors by placing pennies in the vault concrete during construction.

B. Thomas Aitken, Chairman of the Board of Peoples Bank, has announced that the bank is most grateful for this unique expression of interest and wishes to record these first deposits. "We are endeavoring to secure a list of the names of these 'pre-opening' depositors", he said. "We believe it most appropriate that these names be inscribed on parchment and placed in the cornerstone."

The new location, the third full - service office of Peoples Bank, is situated at Bloomfield and Belmont Avenues. The name Tri-City was adopted because this location is at the convergence of the Belleville, Bloomfield and Newark boundaries and residents of all three communities will be served.

Complete with drive-in service and ample free parking area, the new office is now scheduled to open the week of June 17.

Advertisement BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

There are advertisements in the newspapers featuring "noiseless" air conditioners. We would like to make it clear that there is no such thing as a noiseless air conditioner. This is a false and misleading advertising claim. Go to a store that allegedly has such a unit and listen to it. It won't be noiseless.

There is no doubt about it. That some air conditioners are noisier than others. The more compact the unit, the noisier it will be. A larger unit of the same cooling capacity as a small one will be quieter. Larger units have better padding and sound insulating material. The coils are larger, and the flow of air is distributed over a larger surface instead of being concentrated and pushed through a small opening. Compressors are suspended on springs to diminish the vibrations and larger fans could run on lower speed and still handle a greater amount of air.

Some noise is inevitable. Any electric motor is going to give off some vibrations. The fan blades beat the air and this is bound to make a certain amount of noise. Although the compressor is hermetically sealed and rides on springs, some vibration is bound to be transferred to the case.

So, if you are looking for a "noiseless" air conditioner, you might as well stop looking.

We service what we sell.

Belleville's Kind Of Place

McDonald's Fills Local Stomachs

The McDonald's hamburger restaurant at 663 Washington Avenue in Belleville is celebrating its first anniversary June 6.

Since opening for business a year ago, the local McDonald's has sold a whopping total of 800,000 hamburgers to Belleville families.

It's part of the big nationwide McDonald's chain of self-service hamburger restaurants which now numbers over 1,000 units across the country.

Nationally, the chain has sold more than four billion hamburgers since it was started and is now selling hamburgers at the rate of two million a day.

Catering to a family trade, McDonald's has virtually revolutionized the eating-out habits of American families since the chain was launched back in 1955.

Local families have flocked to McDonald's ever since opening day a year ago — enthusiastically giving their stamp of approval to the distinctive McDonald's emphasis on quality, cleanliness and service which is maintained by rigidly enforced standards throughout the entire chain.

Specialization — with a limited menu centered around the hamburger — and self-service have been the keys to McDonald's success, and the chain's growth has been called the greatest in the history of the restaurant business.

Safety Advice Offered To Those Flying Kites

Kite flying is a great sport for youngsters, but sometimes it can result in tragic consequences if certain safety procedures are not learned and followed, warns Don Costa, safety director of the Allstate Insurance Companies.

Since telephone and power lines seem to have an almost magnetic attraction for kites, Costa suggests you instruct your youngsters in the following safety procedures:

Fly kites in a level, open space away from power lines, airports, trees and street traffic.

If the kite should become entangled in power lines, leave it. It is better to lose a kite than to risk your life.

Kites should be flown only in dry weather. A wet string may conduct electricity down to the flyer.

Kite strings should not contain any metallic fibers, tinsel or wire. They conduct electricity, and should the kite become entangled in a power line it could result in death or serious injury.

Kites should not be flown over radio and television aerials.

New Jersey Symphony Lists Summer Concerts

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will appear at the Garden State Arts Center in Telegraph Hill this summer in a series of five concerts, beginning June 24 and continuing through four dates in July.

This was announced by Henry P. Becton, president of the Symphony, who said that the first of the concerts will mark the debut appearance of Henry Lewis in his new position as the orchestra's Music Director.

Other concert dates in the series are the evenings of July 1, July 4, July 10 and July 29. It previously had been announced by the arts center that the Symphony would perform there, but dates and soloists for each concert were not listed earlier.

The program June 24, a Monday evening, will include a presentation of the music from Carmina Burana, by Carl Orff with the Desoff Choirs providing the choral music. Vocal soloists will be Patricia Brooks, soprano, Anastasios Vrenois, tenor and Frank Guarerra, baritone.

The July 1 concert, also a Monday, will feature soprano Roberta Peters and tenor Jan Peerce. On Thursday, July 4, the orchestra will present an all-Gershwin program, with Veronica Tyler and William Warfield as vocalists and Earl Wild as piano soloist.

The concert Wednesday, July 10, will offer an all-Tchaikovsky program. Leonard Pennario will be piano soloist.

James Oliver Buswell, IV, will appear with the orchestra as violin soloist in the final concert of the series July 29. Complete State Arts Center series is one of two major series to be presented in the state this summer by the orchestra. The other will consist of ten Saturday night concerts at the Waterloo Village Music Festival beginning June 29 and extending through August 31. Henry Lewis also will be the conductor for the Waterloo Festival concerts, which will feature as soloists the following:

Marian Anderson, Van Cliburn, Philippe Entremont, Guomar Novaes, Janos Starker, Marilyn Horne, Eugene Istomin, Berl Senofsky, Gina Bachauer, Mieczyslaw Horowitz, and the piano team Gold and Fildale.

Complete programs for both the Garden State Arts Center concerts and those at Waterloo are to be announced later.

Art Displayed On Sidewalks Of New York

The 73rd annual Washington Square Outdoor Art Exhibit opened last Friday. It is scheduled to run to June 9 with the works of artists on display in Greenwich Village from 12 a.m. until sundown.

A second series of exhibits will start Friday August 30 and extend until Sunday, September 15.

Because of the great interest usually stimulated by the sidewalk art exhibits, Mayor Lindsay has proclaimed both periods of time "Washington Square Outdoor Exhibit Weeks."

WE'RE PROUD of the finest sandwich in Belleville — 1/4 pound steak smothered in fried peppers and onions for only 75c.

Good food, generous portions, cleanest grills and serving equipment and fast friendly service, are making a great reputation for this restaurant at 750 Washington Avenue, Belleville (across from the Public Service Garage). Many home-made Italian dishes are served throughout the day: stuffed shells, baked macaroni, veal or sausage with peppers and veal parmigiana. And the coffee is truly exceptional. It is the pride and joy of City Line Lunch. It is made by a new and remarkable "Pour-Omatic" process. An exclusive blend of coffee is used and it yields a mellow, full bodied cup with never a bitter taste. Many customers prefer it black with no sugar that's the test of a real good cup of coffee.

All the dishes prepared by City Line Lunch can be "taken-out." They are packed in special heat-retaining re-usable aluminum containers. City Line has the most convenient hours, daily from 5 in the morning to 6 in the evening and Sundays from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Sam (The Hawk) Russo of Nutley, a local celebrity says "I've eaten in many restaurants in my time and since Andy and Tony have taken over City Line Lunch I eat there everyday, including Sundays and I'm not even a free loading relative."

Belleville Chamber Of Commerce Holds Its Third Annual Dinner-Dance; Large Segment Of Town's Business Community Attends

Annually, Belleville's Business community forgets its long hard year's work, and indulges in an evening of cheerful celebration. According to the Executive director of the group, Harry T. French, Belleville's Chamber of Commerce is thriving as never before, with more and more members of the business community joining it each year. Although the Chamber was formed in Belleville at least twenty years ago, it was a small organization in the early days, with only a few members, no permanent office of its own or full time staff. Eight years ago the Chamber had grown (with business in Belleville) to the point where permanent quarters were thought feasible and the Chamber opened its doors at 280 Washington Avenue, in a suite of offices it still holds. Since that time Harry French has been directing its activities; local businessmen will all testify that "no grass grows under his feet."

With his associates, officers of the Chamber, all elected from among local businessmen, Harry French plans the activities that are meant to prospering in our popular society. The first year of its origin the Chamber did hold an annual dinner event, but it was a comparatively small affair, and mainly devoted to a resume of the Chamber's official business. But now the event has a more social orientation.

Three years ago the C. of C. decided to combine the dinner with a dance. Now, for two years in a row the chairman of the dinner committee, which is in charge of coordinating all arrangements, has been Aaron Cohen, of Charles Jewelers. Recently, Harry French said, that Cohen "has done a superb job in planning and prompting this event with the largest sales of tickets in the history of this program."

Attendance at the dinner-dance was 255. Held at the well-known Fountain Restaurant, it attracted a large segment of the business community and their wives and well-wishers. Among those present were Commissioner Mary E. Senatore, Essex County Freeholder Joseph E. Cohen, and civic leader Joseph E. Biancardi.

DURING THE DANCE—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Schwartz are shown at the event. Mr. Schwartz is the son of Karl Schwartz, owner of Karl's Appliances, 111 Washington Avenue.

AT THE CHAMBER'S dinner-dance, business matters were held to the minimum, including speeches. The recently elected President of the Chamber, George H. Mead, Jr. of Mead Ford company, presided, at the head table, together with Executive Director French, and the honored guests of the event. William "Doc" Hood, 93, who is Belleville's oldest living veteran, and who was formerly a member of the Recreation Department, was introduced in his friendly manner, of his years living in Belleville.

Recently Essex Freeholder Joseph E. Cohen, brother of Aaron Cohen, chairman of the dinner committee, was asked to make an address in a series of meeting of the Chamber and the county's public officials. After his address, on County Government, Mr. Cohen was invited to the dinner-dance.

leville, paused from greeting his friends to pose for The Times. Mr. Amato's law firm of Scott and Amato recently joined the Chamber, and was cited, with the other new firms, by president George Mead.

GUESTS AT THE DINNER-DANCE seemed to have no trouble enjoying themselves on the antipasto, and preliminary dishes and beverages, the delicious Manicotta, and the roast beef dinner followed by Italian ice cream.

A more serious note was injected, not only when Belleville senior citizen William "Doc" Hood spoke, but when the president called the roster of new joiners. Since last year the Chamber has increased its membership to the number of more than eighteen new firms. Those cited by president Mead are as follows: Andrew Jergens Company, 1 Franklin Avenue; P. J. MacDonald's Tavern, 203 Washington Avenue; B & M Machine Company, 67 Greylock Avenue; the N. B. Jujitsu Club, 234 Washington Avenue;

John J. Monaghan Agency of Mayflower Securities, 51 Linden Avenue; De Bacco Sports Center, 470 Washington Avenue; Work-O-Lite, 522 Cortlandt Street; Hardeman Inc., 600 Cortlandt Street; Belleville Can Company, 83 Roosevelt Avenue; Eastern Molding Company, Inc., 593 Main Street; Standard Testing Laboratories, 309 Cortlandt Street; Ernie Snyder's Autos, 202 Belleville Avenue;

Modern Millwork and Supply, 624 Washington Avenue; Seraffino Printing Company, 542 Washington Avenue; Scott and Amato, 180 Washington Avenue; Style - N-Save, 131 Washington Avenue; and Tina's Kitchen, 124 Washington Avenue. Many of the new joiners were represented at the dinner-dance.

American Flag's History Reflects Nation's Growth

Flags have been carried as symbols of allegiance ever since recorded history began. The Aztecs used fans of the green feathers of the Quetzal bird as flags. The first battle flag of ancient Rome consisted of a mere wisp of straw tied to a pole.

The Flag of the United States — the American Flag, Old Glory, the Stars and Stripes — is known by one or all of these names. Except for the flag of Denmark, it is the oldest in existence in our modern world. It is older than the flag of Great Britain adopted in 1801, than Spain's (1785), than the French tricolor (1794) than Portugal's (1830), than Germany's. It is older than the Swedish, Norwegian and South American flags; or the recent flags of the old empires of China and Japan.

More than 700 years before its birth, the Viking Flag with its 'Raven emblem' was the first to visit the shores of America. Then 500 years later, Columbus brought the royal banner of Spain to the New World. Later Balboa carried it to the Pacific Ocean, Ponce de Leon to Florida, and Magellan took it on the very first voyage around the world.

In 1497 John Cabot planted the Royal Standard of England, which was the Red Cross of St. George on a field of white, on the shores of Labrador. In 1603 when England and Scotland united under

King James I, the flags of the two countries were blended — St. George's Cross on the white field, and St. Andrew's White Cross on a blue field. The new flag, called the Grand Union Flag or King's Colors, saw the colonization of our country and for 100 years was regarded by the colonists as their national emblem. The Grand Union flag is also referred to nautically as the "Union Jack."

In 1775, as the American Revolution grew, the Continental Congress set up a committee to decide upon a national flag. After many heated discussions, it was finally decided that an emblem be made show that the 13 colonies were united. There would be 13 alternating red and white stripes. The Union Jack of Britain would be in the upper left hand corner, because the colonies still acknowledged allegiance to Great Britain.

George Washington officially raised this flag on January 2, 1776 at Cambridge Mass. It became known as the "Cambridge" or "Grand Union" flag. With this design, it remained the national flag for a year and a half until the adoption of the "Stars and Stripes" on June 14, 1777. As the "Stars and Stripes," the first official salute from a foreign power recognizing it as a symbol of American independence, took place February 1778 in French waters, when it was flown aboard John Paul Jones' RANGER. The RANGER was bearing the news to France of Burgoyne's surrender.

It is said, but many students of history do not think it proven, that a woman named Betsy Ross was the first to create the flag. She kept an upholsterer's shop on Arch Street in Philadelphia, and was asked to make the flag in the design Congress had decided upon. The 13 stars were arranged in a circle to show that the Union would never end. Most of the time it was made this way, but some people made it with 12 stars in a circle and one in the center — others scattered the stars, and still others put them in crescent shape. There was no law stating how the stars were to be arranged.

In 1787, the COLUMBIA sailed out of Boston and became the first ship to carry the American flag around the world. As new states were admitted to the Union, new stars had to be added to the field of blue, and rearranged. In 1795, two more states joined. During this year, there was a motion in Congress to permanently fix the design to eliminate the expense and confusion of making the flag over each time a state joined the Union. It was defeated by a vote of 42 to 50.

In 1818, with the prospect of admission of additional states, Congress realized that further addition of stripes would be impractical. Captain Samuel Chester Reid, U.S. Navy, suggested that the number of stripes return to the original 13, and permanently remain so, while a star should be added for each new state. Congress acted on this suggestion and the practice continues to the present day.

A 15 star and 15 stripe flag flew over Fort Henry as the British attacked Baltimore in the War of 1812. It inspired Francis Scott Key to write the Star Spangled Banner.

During the Mexican War the flag had 23 stars. From the start of the Civil War to its end there were 36 stars. By 1898 during the Spanish-American War, there were 45. After the state of Arizona was admitted in 1912 and for 46 years thereafter the flag carried 48 stars. Then, in 1959 Alaska was admitted to the Union and a 49th star added. The following year on July 4, 1960, Hawaii was admitted.

The portrait of the American flag on the new six-cent postage stamp is one of the most popular ever made, and a new minting of 1,000,000 is scheduled on Flag Day 1968.

On June 14, 1916, President Woodrow Wilson designated the first National Flag Day. He said: "The things that the flag stands for were created by the experiences of a great people. Everything that it stands for was written by their lives. The flag is the embodiment, not of sentiment, but of history. It represents the experiences made by men and women, the experiences of those who do and live under that flag."
