Patrick Lee Elected Legion's New Essex County Commander

Interested In Enlisting Recent Vets

Patrick J. Lee of Belleville is the new county commander of the Essex County Committee of the American Legion.

He was selected at the group's annual convention at the Nutley post. Lee succeeds Charles Mulvey of Orange. Also elected as vice commanders were: Charles Brown, Victor Mafucci, Frank Wayda, Owen Cooper and Ralph Crisci.

A member of Belleville Post 105 for seven years, Lee was previously connected with the Joseph F. Kennedy post in The Bronx. He is past commander of Post 105 and was also its finance officer.

On the state level, Lee is secretary of the Legion's finance committee and serves on the defense committee. He is a past member of the state Americanism committee.

Sent Soldiers Gifts

Lee was chairman of the Essex County Civil Defense Legion project that sent 150,000 grooming sets to GI's in Vietnam.

Lee, who resides at 34 Tappan Avenue, is data processing manager for J. Wiss & Company, a cutlery house in Newark.

In his role as county commander, Lee hopes to involve more younger veterans (Korean, Vietnam) in Legion activities.

He is in agreement with Congressman Peter Rodino, and Nutley Mayor Harry Chenoweth on maintaining law and order. "The Legion can play a big role by its example," Rodino has stated. "We have the God-given right to walk the streets of America without fear." Chenoweth asks that: "the moderate leadership of veterans' organizations throughout the state step forward — not vigilante groups who are extremists. Extremists must not take the place of responsible groups."

Commander Lee has introduced visitations with school children to inculcate them in Legion programs on Americanism, concerning the flag and the country's background.

The Reverend Francis Blake has been promoted to pastor of Holy Family Roman Catholic Church, to replace Monsignor Anthony Di Luca who retired recently after serving more than 30 years as pastor of the Belleville - Nutley parish.

The new pastor has been in Nutley 26 years. He was assigned as curate at Holy Family in 1942. Four months ago he was made administrator of "All men are created equal." This terse phrase of Thomas Jefferson expresses the basic philosophy of the governmental system of the United States. These words pose a challenge to all of us here tonight.

Many times in today's society, people will try to instill in their children a sense of sharing with others. Once this basic philosophy has been accepted by a child, he will apply it without regard to the race, creed, or social standing of the other children with whom he associates, unless there is interference by an adult.

The adult is the instiller of this credo in children. Yet, he will be much more selective, much more selfish in his own actions. The most frequently used words in his vocabulary are "My," "mine," and "me." He applies these words indiscriminately to countless objects, tangible and intangible. Many times he does this with little or no right, for the objects with which he is so very possessive are no more his than another's. They are the joint property of humanity. These are, as stated so aptly by Jefferson, the rights of "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." As all men are innately equal, these rights are equally all men's.

A society in which every member is free to exercise these rights is a society which approaches the idea. Each man has these inalienable rights; he is free to exercise these until, in the exercise of such, he infringes upon the rights of another. In this system, there is a respect for each separate entity of man.

Unfortunately, such a society does not exist. In some countries, there are malignant trends; they are the cancerous philosophies of communism.

Imperiale's Local Group Hopes To Gain Support; Meeting At Elks Lodge

Anthony Imperiale's Belleville - Nutley Chapter of the North Ward Citizens' Council — frequently described as a white, vigilante group — will hold another public meeting tomorrow night, but this time, the organization is departing Nutley for what has been called "more friendly territory in Belleville."

Last month, Imperiale addressed several hundred persons at Nutley's Riviera Tavern. Tomorrow night's meeting will be at the Belleville Elks Lodge and Tom Benecchi, president of the local chapter, says the move from Nutley was due largely to the "hostile attitude" of Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth.

Benecchi said Chenoweth warned that another meeting of the Imperiale group at the Riviera Tavern would jeopardize the establishment's liquor license. The Nutley Mayor has been outspoken in his criticism of the Imperiale group, calling the organization "militant and lacking in responsibility."

Last Saturday, Chenoweth devoted his entire speech at a county American Legion Convention hosted by Nutley to an attack on the Imperiale organization. "Veterans should stand against these extremists," Chenoweth said. The Nutley Mayor, who is also Public Safety director, told the veterans that "I do not intend to surrender the police effort in Nutley to any sort of vigilante group which operates without controls and responsibility."

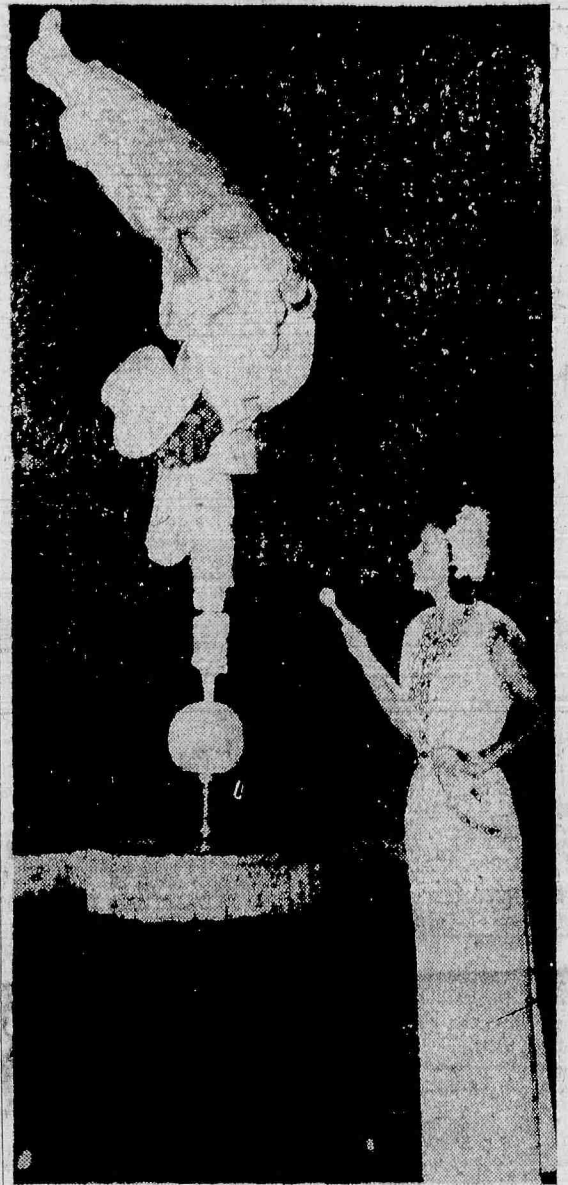

Benecchi, in announcing tomorrow's meeting, kept returning to the subject of Mayor Chenoweth. "Your Mayor told me personally that we were placing the tavern's license in jeopardy," Benecchi told The Times. "We wouldn't want to do that. We don't want to break any law."

Asked whether Belleville officials were any more cooperative, Benecchi replied, "Do you mean are the Belleville officials as violently opposed to us as in Nutley? Well, they're not. In fact, just the opposite happens to be the case."

The Belleville-Nutley Chapter of the Citizens' Committee has set up a headquarters in Nutley on Passaic Avenue near Chestnut Street. "We're open every night of the week and everyone's welcome to come down," Benecchi said. Tomorrow's meeting at the Belleville Elks Lodge, which will be highlighted by an address by Imperiale, is also open to the general public.

Benecchi said the local chapter, "which is concerned solely with Nutley and Belleville," now numbers approximately 800 members. "And people are coming to us and joining every day," he added. During the past few weeks, the Nutley - Belleville Chapter

I'VE GOT THE WORLD ON A STRING? — Taking things into his own hands is the Great Barton, who will perform at the Belleville Independence Day Circus. A good way to get the blabs.

Circus Scheduled Independence Day

Belleville will again celebrate Independence Day in the grand style. This year the program has been returned to the auspices of the Recreation Department.

Commissioner Wm. H. Cullen has announced that there will be a particularly fine circus and fire works display. In addition there will be a morning full of games and contests for the children.

Acts Booked
Among the great circus acts already booked are The Borjevas a comedy with dinner plates — an act that has appeared on the Ed Sullivan, Gary Moore and Arthur Godfrey shows, and which was a feature of Ringling Brothers

Barnum & Bailey Circus.

Also featured will be the incredible hand balancing of the Great Barton, the master of the one finger stand and a host of other highly original and thrilling feats. The beautiful Mary Jane Scanlan will demonstrate her amazing talents in balance, grace, and flexibility.

Another act will be the great DeLage & Margaret, a magic act known as "The World's Fastest Magicians". DeLage & Margaret have received acclaim wherever they have appeared. In addition to mastering tricks made famous by Houdini, they have elevated the arts of legerdemain & prestidigitation to new heights.

There will be additional announcements of other acts during the next week.

County Nixon Supporters Plan Belleville Chapter

Carl M. De Jura and Jack Del Guercio have been appointed Belleville Co-Chairmen by the Essex County Nixon Now organization. The pair organized a chapter in Belleville to persuade and convince the delegates to the 1968 convention to vote for Nixon. Following the convention the chapter will then work for the election of Nixon for President in November.

De Jura, a teacher in the Newark School System and a graduate student at Newark State College, was recently elected to the Republican County Committee from Ward 1, District II. Del Guercio is manager of Miss Haircut, Newark, and long active in political activities. Tentative appointments to positions in the chapter are as follows: publicity director, Mrs. Patricia Salzano; public relations director, Thomas Salzano; secretary, Miss Terri Scutti, and legal advisor, Ralph Salerno.

A Correction

In the June 13 issue, it was reported that Kathleen Hinton was one of the runner-ups in the Miss Essex County Pageant. Miss Pat Mercier achieved that distinction and received a $200 scholarship to further her studies at Newark State College.

Shawger Association Gives Faculty Lunch

The James G. Shawger Home and School Association held its annual luncheon for the faculty and staff Thursday, June 6.

Mrs. Perle Nelson, fifth grade teacher at the school for 30 years, who is retiring this year, was honored at the luncheon and presented with a gift.

Michael Nardiello, principal, was also presented with a gift as an official welcome from the Home and School Association upon his appointment as principal of James G. Shawger School. Mrs. Nardiello also attended the luncheon.

New Minister Finds Belleville Friendly

"People are interested in their church here," noted the personable new Wesley Methodist minister Robert M. Bedell.

Reverend Bedell, here just two weeks, has found Belleville's citizens "gracious and kind."

Born in Jersey City, he finds it exciting to return to a city situation. "It's a friendly place, with so many children."

Before tackling the task of getting acclimated to Wesley's over 400 members, Reverend Bedell held student pastorates in Iowa (a year and a half), and Manokill, New York (one year).

He began his undergraduate work at Jersey City Junior College and completed his B.A. degree at Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa. Bedell graduated Drew Theological School in 1959.

His former churches in New Jersey are Clinton Methodist Church in Fairfield (three years); Quakertown (three years) and Newfoundland (four years).

Reverend Bedell is married to the former Cynthia Ann Harry of Chatham. They have three children: John, 6; Peter, 4; and Mary, 2.

He has also had special training in pastoral counseling through part-time (one day a week) study at the American Federation of Religion and Psychiatry, started by Norman Vincent Peale, held at Marble Collegiate Church, New York and at seminars at Iona College. "The seminars were really ecumenical," he joked "we had 87 priests, four ministers and three rabbis."

Wesley is trying to get a new youth minister. Bedell feels there is a shortage of clergymen. "We're looking for someone for a fellowship."

Reverend Bedell hopes to find out what the church's needs are in his first year and Verzaleno was released in $1000 bail.

nism, fascism, socialism and others of the same ilk. The dangers in these ideologies are recognized by most people in this country. These same people, however, will indignantly protest that the society of the United States approaches the zenith of Jeffersonian philosophy, while at the same time, blinding themselves to the inequities which exist in their own country. They will ignore the growing socialistic trends, the philosophy of getting something, no, everything for nothing.

For these only feed their appetites of selfishness. In their shell of self-complacency, they will also dismiss the deplorable conditions of Appalachia and the Indian reservations from their mind, if they are even cognizant of them to begin with. But, since the latter conditions are not ever present, it is easy for them to banish them from thought.

This presents just as great a danger as communism or any of the others, if not a greater one. For our greatest safeguard of the freedoms and rights outlined in the Constitution is the alertness and watchfulness of the American people.

An example of the indifference is the numbers of adults who trouble themselves to exercise their right of franchise. Only a small percentage of eligible voters do vote in National elections and municipal elections are almost totally ignored. As an athlete must constantly practice, so must a right be constantly used, if it is to retain its full usefulness. Each time a small fragment of freedom is lost by the populous through indifference, the passing of it should be mourned with even greater sorrow.

Another way in which freedom is lost is through the denial of it from one person by another. If a right is denied to a minority, it becomes successively more easy to deny it from the majority. This is aided by people who say, "I can do this. It is my Constitutional right." They do not say it is "ours," but always "mine."

Too many people do not look to communicate with others in this vein of using "ours," rather than "yours" or "mine." They do not greet this as a challenge which must be met with anticipation not with indifference.

"All men are created equal," are the words of Jefferson. They were written 192 years ago; have they lost their meaning for us in this short time? No, hopefully, they have not.

The challenge which is presented to us is to recognize the validity of these words and apply them by realizing that no one accords the inalienable rights to another. One cannot, for they are inately each man's. No one can give that which is already owned by the recipient. These are every man's; they are yours, they are mine, but, most importantly, they are ours.

ANN RAABE

As we, the class of 1968, reflect the past thirteen years, we see many things. We have not just attended school — we have accomplished much more. As we passed through each successive year, an image of ourselves has materialized. In many ways, it is similar to a picture (which) an artist creates.

When we first began to learn, it was as if we were handed an easel. This easel contained a blank canvas, a few paints, and one paintbrush. Our parents presented us with these essentials. They set the standards. They instilled the basic instructions. For some, instinct guided us easily. Others, struggled from the outset. Much help had to be given at home. A proper example had to be set. The parents had to fulfill an important objective. They had to give complete and honest encouragement. There were those who had little faith, little strength, and little endurance. They were helped by members of the clergy.

Each citizen through the Board of Education provided our only studio. Every member of the Administration aided in its maintenance. They gave us the light to work by. Competent and cooperative guidance counselors were always available. They directed and helped us plan our future.

Members of the faculty aided us most after our parents. Our grammar school teachers showed us how to sketch the original design. "Erase now," they said. "Change it while you can." Then they sensed our readiness. The three primary colors were introduced to us. They told us not to use too much of one color. The picture had to be balanced. They shared with us their ideas, but told us to be original. "Use your imagination. Think for yourself."

Italian Republic Day Reviewed by Rodino

Rep. Peter W. Rodino, Jr., (D-10th District) has saluted the twenty-second anniversary of Italian Republic Day.

"June 2, 1946 was a landmark day in Italy's modern history," the Newark Congressman stated. "For on that day an almost destitute people in a country ravaged by war, took their destiny into their hands and voted in a free and fair election for a republican form of government. Thus, they rejected all traces of the Fascist dictatorship that ruled their country in tyranny for more than two decades."

Two months ago the Minister of the Budget reported on how Italy's economy fared in 1967. "The results were even more gratifying than the most optimistic Italians had predicted," Rodino observed.

In real terms the national income grew by 5.9 percent over the 1966 figure, as compared with the average increase of 3.9 percent for the previous 3 years. Thus, Italy's recovery from the 1964-1965 recession has been more rapid and more successful than many had anticipated would be possible. Also, the Italian economy is expanding at a greater rate than that of any other country in the European Economic Community.

"Of particular interest and significance," Rodino noted, "is the 5.2 percent increase in agricultural production. This is the highest rate of interest experienced during any year in the past decade, and offers impressive testimony that the immense investments in agriculture made in southern Italy's depressed and underdeveloped areas have finally begun to pay economic dividends. There are indications, too, that this agricultural production growth-rate will be maintained for some time to come provided there is no repetition of the natural disasters of the kind that struck the country in November of 1966."

Complementing increased productivity was a remarkable growth in investments, particularly in the area of direct production facilities. An immediate and salutary effect was the arrest of what had been since 1962 a slow but continuous decrease in employment. During 1967 some 223,000 new jobs were found, primarily in the highly productive industrial sectors.

"Today, 22 years since the establishment of the Republic," the dean of the New Jersey Congressional delegation concluded, "Italy stands strong and firm, and we salute her remarkable growth and progress in the face of continued harassment by a strong Communist minority. May she continue to thrive and prosper as one of the bastions of democracy in Europe and one of our most valued and trusted allies."

Social Security Law Changes Benefit Children

Children of women who have worked, or are working, on jobs covered by Social Security will find it is easier to qualify for monthly benefits when their mother retires, or in the event that she becomes severely disabled or dies.

William J. Arnold, District Manager, of the Newark office, stated that recent changes in the law remove the requirement that a woman worker must have recent work credits. Now benefits may be paid if the woman worker has the required number of work credits, regardless of when earned. This change is retroactive and, therefore, payment can be made in some cases which were denied prior to February, 1968.

The change, effective with February, 1968, applies to children under 18, those between age 18 and 22 who are full time students, and disabled children regardless of age if they were disabled before age 18.

Dependent husbands and dependent widowers can also qualify for benefits under the same provisions provided they meet certain support requirements.

For additional information, get in touch with the Social Security office located at 970 Broad Street, Room 500. Hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. In addition, the office remains open Wednesday evening until 8:00 p.m.

Fund Canvass Not Sanctioned By Veterans

Telephone callers implying they have approval of the Veterans Administration and solicit funds for dinners to be tendered to patients in VA hospitals are acting without permission or authority.

This statement was issued today by Reuben Cohen, Director of the VA Hospital at East Orange, following several inquiries from those who have been called by such solicitors.

"The VA does not endorse any product, project or commercial endeavor for the profit of individuals, organizations or corporations," Cohen said.

Cohen added that the VA neither endorses nor condemns door-to-door or telephone solicitations in behalf of veterans. Those who suspect claims made in such endeavors should check with their Better Business Bureau or any similar community organization.

Disorderly Towards His Wife

Patrick Ralph DellChapo of 28 Sanford Avenue, Belleville was sentenced to a three months term in the County Penitentiary for being a disorderly person. Dell Chapo was continued on probation for an indefinite period for violating the limitations of an earlier probation sentence.

DellChapo was charged with being disorderly on account of his entry into the home of his wife, Mrs. Rose Marie DellChapo. The couple are separated.

Mrs. DellChapo testified that her husband had forced his way into her home on the night of June 11. He damaged a screen door in the process. Dell Chapo claimed that he went to his wife's home to seek reconciliation and not to harm her. Judge Joerg ruled that the defendant was guilty of the disorderly persons charge and that a jail sentence must be imposed.

Controlling The Sale of Guns

By JOSEPH G. BIANCARDI
President, Local 97,
Brotherhood of Teamsters

The great emphasis these days appears to be on enactment of gun control legislation. We passed stiff gun control laws in New Jersey last year that require everyone who wants to purchase a firearm to obtain a permit from his local police officials. Under the law, persons who are drug addicts, or who have a past history of mental disease or serious crime cannot obtain the permit and, consequently, not buy a gun.

In theory, the New Jersey law, of which I as an Assemblyman was one of the sponsors, is good, but it isn't the whole answer to this serious and plaguing problem.

In my estimation, the answer to the whole thing lies in the home and in the hands of the parents. In a general attitude of rebellion today where we see tumult on our campuses and universities and a general and growing respect for the peace and tranquility of our country, I think parents should exercise more of a role in their child's upbringing. They should emphasize the importance of religion in their children's and their lives and should begin to use the word "sin" again.

In this day and age, we seem to have lost sight of that little word that means so very much.

The word "sin" in wrong actions has to be re-emphasized to our civilization. Parents should use the word over and over again when telling their children that some actions are wrong. They should be mindful of our God and of the wrong in sinning against Him.

Today, there is no respect for law and order. A resurgence of religious values in our children will re-implant in them a conscientiousness—an awareness—of their true perspective in life and will teach them that things are truly right and wrong and that rebellion is not the answer to all our problems.

After all, under our present gun control laws actually anyone who hasn't had a police record, or isn't a drug addict or who doesn't have a history of mental disease can get a gun. But if they had a proper foundation for their mental states, they would not be inclined to buy guns to do wrong and would realize that to kill is a "sin" and is wrong.

Religion and strong parental control seems to be the only true answer to this problem of violence in this great country of ours.

Why Newspapers Are Better

Television, the miracle medium now in most American homes, is, with radio, unquestionably the best instrument for instant coverage of sensational events.

Yet it is clear that newspapers will remain supreme in the general coverage of news. One reason is because television and radio news programs force the viewer or listener to listen to their commercials.

With a newspaper — if he seeks information about sports — one can turn to the appropriate section and read exactly what he wishes. If he wants to find out about the market or the weather, on television, he must sit and listen to half an hour's chatter and fifteen commercials in the process.

Because people are interested in the weather, television stations almost invariably devote too much time to their daily reports — they can sell the time and get in a few interruptions for commercials. The announcer selected to do the weather bit often knows little about it, often spends much time talking about weather three thousand miles away, surely of limited interest.

Time being so limited (and expensive), only selected news items are included, even in relatively lengthy newscasts. Thus important news developments are often left out. In the newspaper one can not only turn to what he wants to read about but he can also find more news (in larger papers especially). For being able to read about what one is interested in, to get complete coverage and avoid sales pitches, the newspaper remains supreme.

Gettysburg

On July 1st 2nd and 3rd, 1863 occurred the most fateful battle of the most costly war the United States has ever experienced — Gettysburg. It was the most decisive battle of the war. There's a chance that had the Confederates won, their cause would have been successful.

(That cause was not the eternal perpetuation of slavery, despite the temptation to accept this view, because many in the South had already freed their slaves, including General Robert E. Lee, but was state's rights versus a strong central government.)

But there is no certainty that had Lee won at Gettysburg the South would have prevailed. There is hardly any chance the South could have won — in the sense that it would have been in a position to dictate terms to the North, to have invaded the North successfully, etc.

The chance the South had — and it was greatest at Gettysburg — was to make the war so costly the majority in the Union would have felt the cost too high to justify a continuation of the fighting to force the South to say in. For, after all, the war was begun on the question of secession, not slavery. The firing on Fort Sumter enabled Lincoln to build public support for a gathering of armies to physically compel states to reenter the Union.

Had Lee won at Gettysburg it's likely England and France would have recognized the Confederate States. Had this occurred, the South would have been able to import food, arms and materials, which would have made the task of Union armies much more difficult. Also, had Lee won the 1863 campaign, and not been severely defeated in 1864, there is a reasonable possibility Lincoln would not have been re-elected in 1864.

Thus when Pickett's famous charge failed, on July 3rd, and Lee retreated next day after three days of savage fighting, it was in reality the ebbing of the high tide of the Confederacy and a turn toward the restoration of the Union.

Replacing The Heart

Scientists at the Atomic Energy Commission have been quoted as saying they think machines can replace the heart within ten years. The key to such an artificial heart is a small atomic motor, which would have an almost inexhaustible supply of energy.

The motor, according to scientists, would be placed in the patient's abdomen and from there would provide the pumping function the heart normally performs. Heart specialists testifying in closed session of a House Appropriations subcommittee agreed with scientists that such a motor is feasible, and likely, in the near future.

Thus we are on the road to mechanization of the human body. And it might be that before too many years people will be walking around with artificial livers, atomic motor hearts or transplanted hearts, and other gadgets and mechanical devices — literally wired for electronic functioning, so to speak.

But in this process — or progress, concerning the heart, what provision is there for replacing, or substituting for, that which is the romantic, the intangible element in the heart? What will the scientists do about attractions of the opposite sex — or do they, after all, as we are told, stem from the heart? Are they, as scientists might like to believe, only chemical reactions? One wouldn't like to think so; in fact everyone deeply in love knows it isn't so. Even if he is carrying someone else's heart.

One Step Ahead of Washington

Seems Only Yesterday

1 YEAR AGO

Steven P. Charen was awarded an academic scholarship to attend Princeton University. Steve had the distinction of being the first Belleville High School graduate to ever attend that Ivy League institution. Steve remarked that he was looking forward to the fine education he'd be receiving but that he especially couldn't wait for the gorgeous chicks that his new found prestige would bring him. Not only did he intend to take part in such active sports as "frisbe", but he also looked forward to playing "thumper" a college game which requires much skill and stamina.

The Essex County Board of Education attributed "ignorance" as the reason why Belleville residents had been attempting to halt the erection of a new vocational school in the Soho district, near the hospital. The proposed facility was also to supply education for mentally and physically handicapped children, which made it a vital project to the state.

5 YEARS AGO

Belleville beauties took first and second places in the Miss Mutual Benefit Life of 1963 contest in Asbury Park, Sandra Ferguson, 19 of Arthur Street, was crowned Queen at the beauty contest which highlighted the events of the Newark insurance company's annual outing.

Edward Moro of Brighton Avenue died in Clara Maass Hospital. He was 74. He headed the Moro Construction Company, and was succeeded by his son, Anthony.

Norman Lauterette of Elena Place, an Executive of the National Yeast Corp., and Chairman of the Belleville Alcoholic Beverage Commission was recuperating from surgery at the N.Y.U. Hospital.

10 YEARS AGO

William R. Farina, 22, formerly of Summer Avenue, Newark was being held by the Essex County prosecutor's office as a suspect in the assault of Mrs. Mary Crowley, 52, of Mt. Prospect Avenue.

Farina was arrested in Greenwich Village by New York Police. The Newark man was accused of severely beating Mrs. Crowley in Belleville. She was found by police, lying unconscious at the corner of William and Main Streets and hovered near death for a week in a Newark hospital. Farina was held without bail on a charge of atrocious assault and battery. At the time of the assault he was on a two year probation in Newark for breaking and entering. Farina was taken into custody after detectives checked an anonymous telephone tip on his whereabouts. He waived extradition.

15 YEARS AGO

Here's a honey of a story. Some boys went into the yard of Ed Littig's woodworking shop and stole a bee hive. Mr. Littig, manufacturer, Chamber of Commerce secretary and bicycle enthusiast reported the incident to the police. But before the cops could attempt to follow a beeline, Mr. Littig found that in lifting the hive the boys disturbed the queen, who flew up a tree and took her followers with her. With the help of a borrowed hive, Mr. Littig regained his queen. The hive with all the cell racks broken was found two blocks away. When Littig got time from his business of cabinet making, and away from puttering around with the boat he was building, he planned to build his queen a new castle.

20 YEARS AGO

The American divorce rate took a deep dive in 1947, the first major decrease since 1932. The explanation was released by the Family Service of Belleville. A passing of the peak of marital breakdowns in the hasty wartime marriages, and general readjustment to more stable peacetime living were reasons for the divorce decline most frequently mentioned by family service agencies in 89 cities. The 45,000 divorces in '47 represented a 26.6 per cent drop from the 61,000 the previous year.

Mrs. James K. Morse took the lead role in a religious drama at Fewsmith Church, where her husband was pastor. The play, entitled "He Came Preaching" began at 8 o'clock. The public was invited to attend. Musical entertainment was provided by Dr. Morse and James B. Morse.

Speak Up

School Bus Trip Handled Adroitly

To The Times:
I'd like to express my thanks, and I'm sure that of all the parents of School No. 7, for the concern and attention given us by school personnel during our recent bus accident.

Mr. Greco provided a contact between school and hospital so that we would be informed at all times.

Mr. Rosamilia was kind enough to spend many hours in the building giving both moral and physical support wherever and whenever needed. His presence and assistance was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Spray, our principal, helped to keep all on a level tone by ruling with heart as well as hand.

Mrs. King, our school secretary helped to calm the many concerned parents who called and also those who stopped in at the school.

And too, our custodians served when needed. As arrival time for the bus drew near it was they who kept the school parking lot in order so that an accident would not take place on our grounds caused by the many cars pulling in and out of the lot.

Too, the local and New York Police Department for their assistance along with the Public Relations Department of St. Claire's Hospital. Also, two of our own mothers, Mrs. Kellenbence and Mrs. Juliano who helped to eliminate the many fears held by the parents involved with their phone calls.

It is heart warming to see all work together at a time in need and to watch what could have turned into hysteria kept calm by people who served with dedication in the emergency which faced our school.

Yours truly,

High School Graduate Requests Class Reunion

To The Times:
I graduated in the class of 1948 at Belleville High School. Last year I wrote the principal asking him to inform me of any contemplated class reunion as this is the class's 20th anniversary.

As of this date, I have not received a reply. I would greatly appreciate the assistance of your readers in checking this matter. It would be very enjoyable to visit with "old friends" at this reunion.

Sincerely,
Dr. F. V. Constantino

Where Are We Headed? Will Democracy Survive?

To The Times:
Many of the Flower Children are asking "Who Am I?" but for this Senior Citizen the question is "Where Am I?"

Sometimes I wonder if I have suddenly been transported to another country or a different planet or even a different era, for it is difficult for me to recognize that I am still in the country of my birth and where I grew up...

The changes that have taken place in the past few years are so alarming, it would seem that the very foundations upon which our forefathers established this democracy are crumbling, foundations that have been so faithfully preserved through wars, depressions, changes in government from one party to the other, even the worst civil war in world history... I can't believe some of the things that are commonplace in the news today. Drugs even reaching down into the Grammar Schools, insurrection with the destruction of life and property. One no longer asks was there a riot last night but where. Militants dart from city to city promoting riots and getting away with it, crime rising nine times as fast as population; citizens living in fear, afraid to walk the streets or leave their homes; pornography contaminating the minds of our youth; savings and pay checks shrinking day by day because of inflation; employment at the lowest rate in recent times, yet an ever growing relief load, while newspapers carry more ads for help than ever before and thousands of jobs go unfilled. So I ask, "Where Am I?", but more important perhaps is "Where are We Going"? If only we could consult Decline and Fall Gibbons, perhaps we would get some of the answers...

Group Elucidates Policy

Imperiale's Local President Denies Allegations Of Militancy

has been patrolling local streets in the neighboring communities with 15 radio cars, more than twice the number of vehicles placed on the road by the combined Nutley and Belleville Police Departments. The local chapter now has 50 cars equipped for radio transmissions. The units operate on Citizens Band Channel 22 with the main radio transmitter located in Benecchi's home at 38 St. Mary's Place, Nutley.

Benecchi turned out for last week's Board of Commissioners' session in Nutley to publicly criticize Chenoweth's spending $40,000 for riot control equipment, purchased through an emergency appropriation shortly after the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King.

"I have figures that he (Chenoweth) actually spent more than twice that amount," Benecchi said. "If he spent that much money, that only goes to show you that Chenoweth is scared of what might happen. And that is all we're trying to do right now; warn the people and tell them what might happen."

At Tuesday night's Commission session, Benecchi was critical of Nutley's not having appropriated any funds for police dogs. "They are the best known defense against and during riots and other disorders," Benecchi said. Chenoweth said the Nutley Police Department had tried using dogs a few years ago but gave up the plan because of its expense.

Benecchi uses a trained attack Doberman Pinscher, valued at $450, to guard his home in Nutley.

The president of the Belleville Nutley Chapter, who has resided in Nutley six years, describes himself as a long-time friend of Imperiale. "Tony's a wonderful man and he's doing a wonderful job for the people," Benecchi said. "What our group is doing now, and this is what Friday's meeting at the Belleville Elks is all about, is simply to explain to the people what's happening in their town. Too many people don't take the interest to find out what's really going on. We should have started this organization here six months ago. Mayor Chenoweth wouldn't have been re-elected if we had gotten started sooner," Benecchi continued.

Nutley voters last month returned Chenoweth to office for another four-year term. He was top man at the polls.

Benecchi said the purpose of his group has been misinterpreted by the press. "The most common thing that people believe about us that is wrong is that we are a vigilante group. We are not."

He delineated a vigilante group as one which would "go right out and hang a rapist on the spot, right or wrong. We don't do that. We don't break any laws."

Benecchi said when one of the radio patrol cars spots a "suspicious person, we call

RODINO — Congressman Peter W. Rodino also spoke of extremism at the Essex American Legion Convention held in Nutley Saturday. Mentioning the Citizens Council headed by Anthony Imperiale, which meets tomorrow night at the Belleville Elks Lodge, Rodino said that vigilante groups "could destroy the basic structure of our country: the God-given right to walk the streets of America without fear."

the cops and let them handle it. We stay around so the people won't get away. And of course, if they jumped the cops and started beating them up, we'd get in there and help defend them. That's our duty too."

What would happen if civil disorders did come to Belleville and Nutley? Benecchi told The Times, "We have no general plan."

Would everyone simply stay at home in such an event? Benecchi was asked.

"That is something that remains to be seen," was his answer.

Wesley Minister Seeking To Serve His Community

then develop plans. "Wesley has a history of a good youth program in the last few years. We want it to continue," he said. "We'd also like to do something with the older people, since they make up a large part of the congregation. I also hope to set up a summer program for young people next year."

The reverend believes in lay participation in the worship service. "It becomes meaningful to them then. The church must serve the needs of the community and the present age. By that I mean it must put up or shut-up — respond to the anti-institutional spirit. No one's going to come to church just because it's always been there. You can't be isolated if you don't want to be ignored."

Wesley Methodist Church has always been there. It's the oldest church in the Northern New Jersey Conference. The structure was built 177 years ago. But, it has a new $35,000 organ. "It's almost paid for, and we're very proud of it," said Reverend Bedell. "So many organs have an electronic tone — they sound like roller skating rinks, not churches."

One of the community services the church could aid, according to Bedell, is the town's plan to chart the growth of Belleville. "I would be very interested in exploring this," he said.

Kimmelman's Office Handles All Legal Bugs for County

Essex County Counsel Irwin I. Kimmelman announced today that his office would furnish all legal services on behalf of the Essex County Mosquito Extermination Commission.

County Counsel Kimmelman said that the action was in response to a commitment he had made to the Board of Chosen Freeholders after their suggestion that the county could save the taxpayers many thousands of dollars by using the services of the County Counsel's office for a legal representation on behalf of County Commissions and Agencies instead of each Commission and Agency having its own private counsel.

WHEN SHOULD YOU TRY SELF-MEDICATION?

Medical authorities agree that self-medication should be restricted to first aid for symptoms of conditions one can recognize easily. Examples are, a simple cold that does not persist, occasional constipation, simple headaches, minor aches and pains, infrequent indigestion, or minor burns. But, if symptoms persist, or re-occur frequently, it is dangerous to keep masking them with home remedies. A physician should be visited to diagnose the true causes of any ailment and to treat them for a cure. Treatment at the beginning of any problem is usually more effective and can prevent much future pain.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense your?

Tombrock College Adding Course for Secretaries

Tombrock College in West Paterson has announced the addition of a two-year Executive Secretarial Course to its curriculum starting with the 1968-69 school year. Since its opening in 1965, Tombrock has offered a two-year liberal arts program leading to an Associate in Arts (A.A.) degree.

In making the announcement, Sister M. Bethany Maak, S.M.I.C., academic dean, said: "We feel that the addition of this course will serve to meet the increasing demand in business today for competent and well-trained executive secretaries."

"It is our hope that the program, coupled with a liberal arts background, will give many of the young women of the Paterson area the opportunity of preparing themselves for better paying careers requiring these important skills. We feel, too, that it will benefit those students who do not wish to pursue four years of higher education."

People only get old; life is continually new and full of change.

State's Summer Slate Presents Potpourri

A vast array of activities for youngsters and adults will add sparkle to New Jersey's vacation calendar this year, the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development announced today.

Conservation Commissioner Robert A. Roe said numerous entertainment programs, recreational opportunities, and sports attractions spice the booklet, "What's Happening in New Jersey this Spring, Summer, Fall," published by this Department's State Promotion Section.

Governor Richard J. Hughes, in his introduction to the new events booklet, commented "Visitors and residents alike will find the vacation calendar crowded with parades, pageants, festivals, contests, plays, concerts and sporting events."

The variety-spiced schedule of events began with the mid-June openings of Atlantic City's Steel Pier and the Garden State Arts Center at Telegraph Hill Park on the Garden State Parkway and continues through the Polar Bear Surfing Championships at Ocean City the day after Christmas.

For those who enjoy Beauty Pageants, a summer-long series of contests has been inaugurated at Sea Isle City when both the Hydrangea Queen and Miss Visit New Jersey were elected. June 17th marked the start of more than two months of weekly contests to select Miss Magic Long Beach Island at Stafford Township. The final test of feminine beauty and talent, the famous Miss America Pageant, takes place in Atlantic City beginning the day after Labor Day.

Of immediate interest and a little out of the ordinary were such New Jersey specialties as the National Marbles Tournament at Wildwood, June 16 to 21; the Noah's Ark Petting Zoo on the Mall at Cherry Hill, June 17 to 22; and the Antique Automobile Club's Annual Shore Run and Parade at Ocean City, June 22.

Winter sports fans will be delighted to find that a figure skating school convenes at the South Mountain Arena this Saturday and will continue through August 17. Public ice skating begins on the same date and runs through August 31.

New Jersey's annual salute to its Canadian cousins, with Atlantic City leading the way, began Sunday and ends June 29. The flags of both countries will be displayed and bilingual welcome signs, menus and sightseeing information, as well as special buys and gifts for Canadian visitors, are to be featured.

Providing a nicely timed balance for the art and musical show scheduled for late June will be the National Wrestling School at the Crest Pier in Wildwood, June 24-28. Atlantic City's Tuna Tournament takes place June 25 to 29, and

Kidney Transplant Successful

Saint Barnabas Medical Center was the scene last Tuesday morning of the first complete human organ transplant accomplished in New Jersey, and the world's first kidney transplantation to take place under hyperbaric medicine conditions.

The hyperbaric medicine chambers at Saint Barnabas were specially designed so that both can be used simultaneously for medical or surgical treatments. The interconnection passage lock between the two chambers allowed for the use of the two chambers during the six hour transplantation. One chamber was used for extraction and perfusion of the donor kidney, while the other was used for the implantation of the donor kidney to the recipient.

Utilizing the two chambers which comprise the world's largest and most complete Hyperbaric Medicine and Research facility, the transplantation was accomplished in a much shorter time than would have been the case. The operation took place at three atmospheres absolute (45 pounds per square inch of pressure) which saturated the recipient's body tissue with oxygen.

It is a technical evaluation that under hyperbaric medicine conditions there is less chance for rejection of the donated kidney.

Forty year old Robert Hartman of New Providence, who received the donor kidney, is reported by Dr. Charles Abbott, Chief of Surgery, to be in good condition. Dr. Abbott, who headed the transplant team consisting of eight surgeons, two anesthetists, twelve nurses and technicians is exceptionally pleased with the patient's condition.

Hartman was given the kidney of sixteen year old Shelly Smith, who died as the result of an automobile accident. It is of human interest that the Hartman and Smith families both live in New Providence and Shelly Smith and Hartman's son were schoolmates at the New Providence High School.

Anthony Scala, President of Saint Barnabas Medical Center, stated, "this is the second time Saint Barnabas has

State Bank Promoting New Jersey History

Twelve especially designed charms highlighting significant events and historical places in New Jersey will soon be dangling from the wrists of women throughout the State as the result of a promotional campaign launched today by First National State Bank of New Jersey.

Designed in antique-finished sterling silver the 12 charms include an outline of the State of New Jersey; two medallions, one depicting Molly Pitcher and the other Washington Crossing the Delaware; and miniatures of the recently commissioned battleship U.S.S. New Jersey and of the famed dirigible Shenandoah. In addition, the bracelet contains representations of Edison's First Light Bulb; the State Seal; Barnegat Lighthouse with a schooner beside it; a 1785 Horsehead Penny; the Control Tower at Newark Airport; a tribute to Joyce Kilmer's "Trees"; and, capping the collection a tiny cylinder containing sand from the Jersey Shore.

The "Charms of New Jersey" — as they are called — are being offered by the bank at $18.00 for a complete bracelet of 12 charms or at $1.50 for individual charms. In either case, the sterling silver link bracelet from which the charms hang is free. Anyone is eligible to take part in the program, today's announcement said, who opens a new regular savings, regular checking or Handy-Check account with a deposit of $100 or more. Present customers may make similar deposits in existing accounts and participate in the plan. The offer will be available for a limited time.

The bank's long identification with the history of New Jersey, the announcement pointed out, dating back to 1812, is another appropriate reason for sponsoring the "Charms of New Jersey," which highlight the state's heritage.

The charms are available at any of the bank's 27 offices — made medical history within the last two years in the utilization of its hyperbaric medicine facility. The first occurred in January 1967 in the successful cryosurgical operation on a poor risk patient." Mr. Scala continued, "The Medical Center will continue through research to probe medical boundaries for other uses of this great modality."

High School Graduates Offered "Y" College Preparatory Course

College-bound Belleville high school graduates will have a chance to enroll in a nationally-known "How to Study in College" course being given in Montclair August 26 to 30.

The Montclair-North Essex YWCA has announced that the program, a one-week, five-evening series of lectures developed by two Purdue University professors, will be held at the Montclair-North Essex YWCA's new building at 159 Glenridge Avenue, Montclair. The service is offered to recent high school graduates.

Not a remedial course, the "college survival" program is aimed squarely at a long overlooked college entrance problem — the transition the student is forced to make from high school to the rigors of academic life at college.

The course was developed several years ago by Robert F. Schwarz, dean of the Purdue University north central campus, and Howard D. Murdock of the chemistry department there. Since then, the course has been offered at all five campuses of Purdue University in Indiana and at Y's all over the country. In 1967, it was offered at Y's to over 4,000 students in 45 cities.

Since its inception in 1956, the course has been the subject of many special newspaper and magazine articles and radio and television programs. The highly regarded "Christian Science Monitor" covered the course in a two-part series, and the Associated Press made it the subject of a special feature.

Subjects covered in the five lectures include, how people learn, why we forget, the art of listening, how to take college lecture notes, motivation for maximum college performance, how to plan your time, a basic study formula, techniques of review, themes and reports, preparing for and taking tests and examinations, the vocabulary of college, what you need to know about each course and professor, when and how they differ and personal problems in adjustment to college living.

Schwarz and Murdock feel that the success of the course has been primarily due to the time of year it is offered — the summer, when the new high school graduate is most highly motivated concerning college. "The books on the subject are many and excellent," says Schwarz, "but the truth of the matter is that not many of these find their way into the hands of students. If they do read them, it is either too early or, more unfortunately, too late."

The two educators have avoided inflicting on their listeners the humdrum "academese" which pervades some college classrooms, favoring straightforward, understandable and at times breezy language.

"We attempt to present some refined techniques related to the learning process in a college atmosphere," says Murdock. "We explore the problems, discuss and demonstrate techniques, and try to instill confidence in the student. We attempt to make the transition from high school to college a positive rather than a negative one."

"We are happy that the authors of the course have arranged to have the course presented in Montclair," said Mrs. Gene Niederhauser,

Free Hotel Reservation

Twix System Extended

The New Jersey Highway Authority today reported approving the extension of a free hotel and motel reservation system on the Garden State Parkway to additional roadside service sites.

Authority Commissioner Richard R. O'Connor said the success of a trial unit installed last August at the Cheesequake Service Area, just south of the Raritan River, has prompted the system addition for the Parkway's Montvale and Forked River Service areas.

The New Jersey Hotel and Motel Association operates the system, known as NJEX to accommodate motorists. The YWCA program director. "It is another means whereby the YWCA can offer real public service in the community. In this case, we are combining our resources with those of recognized college educators in an attack on a very real, but often over-looked, problem in education — the college freshman dropout."

Enrollment details are available at the temporary office of the Montclair-North Essex YWCA, 40 Church Street, Montclair. The program is open only to high school graduates.

self-service telephone system was started at four New Jersey Turnpike sites early last year and then put into the Parkway's Cheesequake area.

Sun Being Utilized As Satellite In Bell Laboratories Experiment

The sun is being used as if it were a satellite in a Bell Telephone Laboratories experiment studying the effect of the atmosphere on the transmission of radio waves.

Electronic equipment on a hilltop adjoining Bell Labs Radio Research Laboratories in Holmdel tracks the sun in its daily path across the sky, recording signals from the sun and gathering data on how rain and other atmospheric moisture affect the strength of these signals.

The sun emits radio noise at a great many frequencies. However, the Bell Labs' sun tracker is tuned only to signals at 16 and 30 gigahertz—16 and 30 billion cycles per second. These are typical of the frequencies which may be especially useful for satellite communications. Experiments comparable to this one could be conducted by placing in orbit around the earth a satellite transmitting radio waves of known intensity. In the absence of such a satellite, BTL scientists are using the sun.

The sun tracker was developed by Bell Labs for the experiment. A five-by-nine-foot, flat, metal reflector, which is the moving part of the tracker antenna, follows the sun automatically from dawn till dusk. A stationary horn reflector antenna carries signals into a temperature-controlled equipment house, which contains timers, drive controls, recorders and electronic equipment for processing the signals.

The use of frequencies above 12 gigahertz would open a previously unused part of the radio spectrum for satellite communications and for deep space probes. However, signals at these frequencies are severely weakened by rain. The experiment should answer questions such as: How much are the signals attenuated? For how long? How often each season?

Weather conditions have different effects on radio waves at different frequencies. Some signal losses occur even in "clear" atmosphere due to the presence of oxygen, water vapor, or snow. However, in the 16 GHz and 30 GHz bands the greatest attenuation (signal reduction) is caused by rain, because water absorbs and scatters energy from the waves. The bigger the drops, and the more of them, the greater the attenuation.

The data collected from the sun-tracking experiment is an important step in helping engineers to design systems capable of avoiding pockets of dense rain within the storms.

Alternative terminals might be established far enough apart so one would always be on a clear path to the satellite. If one transmission route were blocked by rain, messages could be switched automatically to another.

The sun tracker has been in operation since October. Records thus far show periods of high attenuation due to heavy rain lasting 10 minutes or less.

The experiment was described at the April 10 meeting of the International Scientific Ra-

SUN TRACKER — The Bell Laboratories sun tracker in Holmdel is used to tune in on sun signals at two radio frequencies. A five by nine foot metal mirror automatically follows the sun in its daily path across the sky. Other electronic equipment processes the signals and records the results. The apparatus is gathering data on the effect of rain on the signals received.

It's rumored that Wilt Chamberlain will be traded, possibly to Los Angeles. With Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, the Lakers need scoring punch like the Giants need a centerfielder. The team has always lacked a rebounding center, to battle Boston's Bill Russell.

The Lakers' need for a capable center has been as drastic as New York's for clean air. All the years the Celtics have had Russell, the Laker centers have been: Larry Foust, Ray Felix, Jim Krebs, LeRoy Ellis, Gene Wiley, Darrall Imhoff and Mel Counts. The Lakers annually draft, from the college ranks, another nonentity who fails to fill the bill. This year's prize pick is Nick Pino, Kansas State, who has trouble lacing his sneakers.

Before Rick Barry played one minute for the Warriors, he was offered to the Lakers for guard Gail Goodrich. The deal was turned down by the then general manager Lou Mohs. Let's see now — Chamberlain, Barry, Baylor, West.

Question of the Week: Who holds the record for most strikeouts in one World Series?

It's good to see Gene Mauch out of baseball. He was despised by a lot of people, mostly his own ball-players.

Don Drysdale's scoreless innings record may be in danger already. Bob Gibson has four straight shutouts. Look for Gary Beban to make it in the pros. He has a great arm.

Answer: Bob Gibson, 31 strikeouts against the Yankees in 1964.

Fred Schaus always had his troubles with Red Auerbach and the Celtics when both were coaching. Once Schaus and the Lakers were flying into New York when the plane developed problems and was diverted to Boston for an emergency landing. "Just my luck," Schaus thought. "The plane has to go out of its way to crash with me in Boston."

Come Back To Haunt Dept. — Curt Simmons, a member of Philadelphia's pennant winning Whiz Kids, was traded to the Cardinals and later the Cubs. He finished his career with a 19-6 mark against the Phillies.

If Tommie Smith boycotts the Olympics, they won't be worth watching. The San Jose State star, holder of 10 world records, runs with pure acceleration — and sunglasses.

Robert Cassin, president of the Varsity Club of Belleville, is celebrating his 20th anniversary with the Prudential Insurance Company.

A few seasons ago, Coach Jack McMahon was telling his Cincinnati Royals he would hold a bed check before an important playoff game. Cracked Tom Thacker, "Don't worry, coach, my bed'll be there."

Bow & Arrow League Formed

Butts and Bows Archery in Belleville, owned and operated by Lenny Cardinale, has sponsored its first North Jersey Major League since the opening of the "arg" in April.

The range houses seven automatic return bales adjacent to the luxurious sports shop. Unlike the old small one target shop one door away, the new range can comfortably shoot sixteen archers.

League plays host to many fine archers such as Walt McViegh, captain of the Republican Reform Team, and 1967 New Jersey State Field Archery Association (SFAA) free-style champion.

Also present is Paul Winans of the Debacco Brothers Sports Team and S.F.A.A. round winner. Other greats are Billy Kroyak of the Jen Art Signs Team, and Bob Hallstein, captain of Clifton Brakes.

GETTING A JUMP — Nutley's Nick Pasquale takes a healthy lead despite watchful eye of Belleville first sacker Bob Biondi.

Legion Fells Nutley, 6-1 Behind Bobby Giordano

By MARC FELDMAN

Last Wednesday, a short-handed group of Belleville Post 105 American Legion baseball players romped to a 6-1 win over Nutley in a game played at Woodman Field, Montclair.

Belleville scored a run in each of the first two innings without benefit of a hit as Nutley pitcher Jeff Bouton walked three men and threw two wild pitches.

The team scored four insurance runs in the sixth inning with the big blow coming off the bat of Richie Schultz, a three run bases loaded double. Nutley scored its lone run in the sixth on a sacrifice fly.

The victory was Belleville's second of the season, against three losses. It was the second well-pitched game in a row for Bobby Giordano, who had lost a tough decision to Vailsburg, 2-1 on June 11.

Giordano was aided by spectacular running catches by Joe Ritacco and Bob Banda in the sixth inning with men on.

Pro Football Game Billed 'Million Dollar Classic'

New Jersey Jaycee president Dennis P. O'Shea announced today that a contract has been signed with the New York Giants, the Philadelphia Eagles and the National Football League to continue the Jaycees' pre-season benefit Classic through 1971. The contract ensures that the Jaycees' will sponsor ten continuous years of pro football in the Garden State. Each team will be paid $45,000 per game.

O'Shea remarked that charity proceeds from the Classic have surpassed $900,000 to date and that the Seventh Annual game, to be held at Princeton's Palmer Stadium on September 7th, will therefore be billed "The Million Dollar Game." This year's game is expected to produce another $150,000 for Garden State Charities, bringing the total over $1,000,000.

For further information and tickets, which sell for $7.50, $5.50 and $3.50, contact the local Jaycees, Lawrence S. Schwartz (751-1563), 353 Washington Avenue or Sportsman's Haven, Washington Avenue.

Ask Swimmers To Seek Spots Okayed by State

Persons who enjoy lake bathing in New Jersey are urged to seek places which have been certified by the New Jersey State Department of Health. Approved lake bathing places are given signs which read:

"This Bathing Lake meets standards of the New Jersey State Department of Health."

In cooperation with local health officials in lake bathing areas, the Department is evaluating lake bathing places for the 1968 season. The Department carries on the inspection service through its four district offices.

Lake bathing places participate in the program on a voluntary basis. Those which meet guides on general sanitation, bacteriological quality of bathing waters, and on safety equipment and practices receive certificates of compliance and the sign which the proprietor may post on his property. Participation and compliance require some investment on the part of the proprietor of the lake bathing places in the northern part of the state.

The State Department of certificates in 1967.

The cooperative, voluntary inspection and rating program was initiated several years ago following conferences between representatives of the State Department of Health and the Lakeland Waters Association. The latter is a group of proprietors of the lake bathing places in the northern part of the state.

Newark College Will Offer New Master of Science Course

Newark College of Engineering announced today that it will offer a new master of science program in construction engineering beginning in September, 1968.

Announcement of the construction engineering program was made by Dr. Eugene H. Smithberg, dean of NCE's graduate division. The new degree program will be conducted in close cooperation with the College's civil engineering department.

Artistic Show Planned For Fall At Museum

Artistic activity is accelerating at the Newark Museum in anticipation of its large invitational show of works by New Jersey artists, scheduled to run from October 17 to December 1. Closing of the juried show at the State Museum in Trenton earlier this month has caused the state's artists to give full attention to Newark's preparations.

A statewide invitation has been made to professional artists to submit slides and photographs of their work for consideration by the Museum. All media and styles are accepted. To be considered, artists must live or work in New Jersey. They may have long-established reputations or be relatively new in the profession.

In its first such show since 1965, the Newark Museum intends to act as its own jury in reviewing and selecting works. Director Samuel C. Miller, Associate director Mildred Baker and Curator Herdis Bull Teilmann begin by studying the applications and photographs submitted. Later, they consult with the artists, often traveling to their studios throughout the state. After surveying the field they will evaluate the works, make a final selection and invite the artists to participate in the exhibition.

Advertisement BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

We are receiving numerous complaints about changing reception in the section of Nutley roughly outlined by Union Ave., Centre St., Harrison Street and a couple of blocks further in the direction towards Belleville and Bloomfield Ave.

Most complaints are about ghosts which were not there before. The cause for these changes are towers which are being built for power lines. Some towers are added, some have been taken down.

In some cases an improvement could be made by re-orientation of the antenna. In other cases this did not help at all, and there is nothing that could be done about it. Sometimes it may help to get the antenna up on a high mast. This costs a lot of money and there is no assurance that it will help.

As we hear, the work is not completed yet. If you are affected by this condition, it may be advisable to wait until the work is done, because there may be further changes until it is completed.

If you call your TV man to try re-orientation, probably he will tell you that he can't be at all sure that it will help. If it doesn't he will have to charge just the same; of course, you might as well be aware of this.

We service what we sell.

Mother Helps Convict Her Son Of Larceny In Television Theft

John Edward McDonald and George Metz were convicted of larceny involving a stolen television set. Judge Edward Abromson presided in the case held in Belleville Criminal Court.

McDonald was represented by David Meschulam of the Public Defender's Office. Metz pleaded guilty to the charge.

vision sets through thefts perpetrated by her son.

George pleaded guilty to the charge, but refused to implicate the McDonald boy. Metz claimed he had taken the set by himself.

McDonald testified that he had no part in the theft. He said that he was unaware of the larceny until Detectives came to his home on the night of May 30.

Suspended Sentence

The State based its case on statements made by the defendants on the evening of their arrest. At this time, both men admitted taking part in the theft. Attorney Meschulam tried to show that the Police had taken the statement from McDonald without properly advising him of his rights. Judge Abromson rejected the contentions of the defense. He found McDonald guilty and gave him a three month suspended sentence in the County Penitentiary and a $52 fine. Judge Abromson said that he could show no consideration for Metz and sentenced him to an 18-month term in the County Penitentiary.

In a related but separate matter, Abromson sentenced Metz to a six month term in the County Penitentiary for attempting to commit suicide in the Belleville Jail.

Violates Probation

In connection with the larceny, Metz was also given a six month sentence for violating probation. This sentence will run concurrently with the terms previously imposed. John Edward McDonald was continued on probation for two years as a result of the larceny.

Edward Littig, of 133 Cedar Hill Avenue in Belleville was fined $100 and continued on probation for associating with the two found guilty of the television larceny. Judge Abromson reprimanded Littig, telling him that, "you are a wise and glib character who will be given no consideration if you appear in Belleville Court again."

THUNDERBIRD MASCOT — Governor Richard J. Hughes purchases the first ticket for the seventh annual Thunderbird Invitational Golf Classic from Kathie Reynolds, 5, of Nutley. Looking on is C. Edward Schaefer, General Tournament Director, Newark District Ford Dealers, sponsors of the trophy. Proceeds are donated to the United Cerebral Palsy Fund and affiliated charities.

Governor Opens Golf Purchases

Governor Richard J. Hughes today officially opened ticket sales for the Annual Thunderbird Invitational Golf Classic by purchasing the first ticket for the event from Kathie Reynolds, age 5, of 360 High Street, Nutley. The tournament will be again held at the Upper Montclair Country Club, Clifton, August 26 to September 2.

In making his purchase the Governor said: "I am delighted to participate in this event which has brought so much pleasure to golf fans of New Jersey and the metropolitan area and I offer my congratulations to the Ford Dealers, of the Metropolitan Newark District, sponsors of the Classic, with best wishes for the continued success of the tournament."

All proceeds from the tournament are turned over to the United Cerebral Palsy Fund and affiliated charities, with over $750,000 having been raised in past years.

Arnold Palmer, winner of last year's Thunderbird Classic and only two time winner of the event, will be back to lead his Army against Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper, Gary Player, Mason Rudolph and other luminaries of the PGA tour.

Tickets for the Thunderbird Classic may be purchased from local Ford dealers, or United Cerebral Palsy Headquarters, 274 Central Ave., Orange.

MSC Sets New Mark For Sports

Montclair State College athletic teams posted an all time high winning percentage of .664 during the 1967-68 season turning in 95 wins against 48 losses and three ties.

Nine of the 11 varsity intercollegiate teams posted winning marks with fencing leading the way with seven victories in eight dual matches for a mark of .875.

Trailing in second place was baseball, 144 followed by wrestling with 93. For the second straight season the Indians reached the 20-Victory mark in basketball by winning 20 of 28 contests.

Other winning marks were golf 9-4, tennis 8-4, gymnastics 7-4, cross-country 9-6 and soccer 7-5-3. The only non-winning marks were football 4-5 and track 1-4.

During the 1967-68 season the Indians won New Jersey State College Conference Championships in basketball and tennis. Coach Ollie Gelston's basketball squad had an 8-2 record in conference played while Coach Henry Schmidt's went undefeated with a 4-0 mark.

Coach Tim Sullivan's wrestling squad won its second straight District No. 31, National Association of Intercollegiate crown during the winter.

Fishing Hot Spot Feature Article For Publication

New Jersey's newest fishing "hot spot," Round Valley Reservoir, is featured in the June issue of New Jersey Outdoors, according to Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development. Copies of the official State Fish and Game publication are now being mailed to subscribers.

A topographic map of the 2,350-acre impoundment will be especially valuable to anglers. The accompanying article describes the history of the Reservoir and the results of initial fishery surveys.

Catches of smallmouth bass and catfish in Round Valley are already starting to fulfill the excellent forecast in the article. Plans for future development of boat launching sites and other recreational facilities are noted. Contrasting pictures of smallmouth and largemouth bass are presented, since special regulations apply to both species, aimed at maintaining the outstanding smallmouth fishery in the Reservoir.

Systems Corporation Head To Address Commencement

Fall Hunting Regulations Announced

Adoption of New Jersey fall hunting regulations was announced today by Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Only one change from the last month was made following the Public Hearing on June 11. The trapping season in Northern New Jersey will open December 1, in conformity with the south, as urged by northern area trappers because of the effects of recent floods on muskrat populations.

Trapping includes muskrat, mink and raccoon: there will be no beaver or otter trapping this year. State Wildlife Management areas will not open to trapping until January 1 and all trapping will end on March 19.

The Council gave careful consideration to all suggestions made at the hearing.

Season dates will be as follows: Upland Game, November 9 through December 7, reopening December 16 for periods varying by species, excluding December 21; firearm deer and bear, December 9-14; bow and arrow deer and bear, October 5-November 7; raccoon, September 21-March 9 except during the regular and special deer seasons; woodchuck, March 8, 1969 - September 27, 1969.

A one-day special permit season for deer of either sex will be held on Saturday, December 21 in nine northern counties. A total of 9,792 permits will be issued to firearm licenses for hunting in Hunterdon, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Passaic, Somerset, Sussex and Warren; farmers in these counties may obtain free permits to hunt their own land on that day.

Rules for applying, selection of Permit recipients by computer and reporting requirements will be similar to last year's season. Special Permits may also be issued in the same manner for State and federal installations in other counties as may be determined necessary by the Director of Fish and Game. Details will be printed in the 1968 Compendium of New Jersey Game Laws and publicized before application deadlines.

With one exception, bag limits will be the same as last year. The only change is that the area, in which hen pheasants may be included in the bag will be extended to include all State Wildlife Management Areas. Hunting hours will remain unchanged.

Just Released! TORRID TALES OF THE ELECTRIC HEAT LOVERS

Hot Stories

"Heating bills for our 10-room Montclair home built in 1960 invariably come in under $300. a winter, and every cent of that is turned into pure heat: there are no cold spots, no drafts, no long waits for the house to warm up . . . FANTASTIC EFFICIENCY!" writes Mrs. Albert Weber, Vice President of the Nutley Lumber Co.

"Radiant electric heat keeps my company's heating cost down to a rock minimum also. Our two office buildings are equipped with Glasheat, one of them since 1948.

"That makes three times I've installed Glasheat in the last twenty years — if that isn't recommendation enough for anyone, I honestly don't know what is!"

Thank you, Mr. Weber, for your three hot stories!

Sick Stories

"Three years ago when we installed radiant electric Glasheat," writes Mr. Bruce Benner of East Rutherford, N.J., "the first thing we noticed was the ideal humidity level; no static shocks; no more stuffy feeling on rising in the morning — just wonderful comfort we had never experienced before. "Room-by-room control with separate thermostats in each room enables us to enjoy the exact temperature each of us wants. 'With a wife and four children or a total of six in the Benner family, ONLY ONE COLD OCCURRED IN THE ENTIRE PERIOD, and it was a mild one at that. We feel this is the most unusual considering our experiences previous to Glasheat."

Thank you, Mr. Benner — many more healthy winters to you!

Cheap Stories

"A good friend of mine decided to install a central heating system in a home just about the same size as mine (3500 sq. ft.) and at the end of the calendar year we compared our operating costs," writes Mr. A.L. Miller of Boonton, N.J.

"Taking his fuel cost and electric cost, he spent $533. Taking my total electric bill, I spent $536. I HEAT MY BASEMENT AND GARAGE TOO — MY FRIEND DOES NOT!! We think this is a pretty good situation, don't you?"

We do indeed, Mr. Miller, and please extend our sympathies to your friend.

The first thing everyone seems to think of when you mention electric heat is: HIGH COST OF OPERATION," writes another Mr. Miller, this gentleman from Verona, N.J.

"Well, let's start with my cost of operation now as against my previous fuel heating system. Using ONLY TWO FLOORS with my previous fuel system it cost me an average of $230 a year for heating. Now with electric Glasheat, using THREE FLOORS INSTEAD OF TWO, my annual operating cost runs between $230 and $250.

"Three floors for the price of two — we think that's a pretty nice deal!"

What's Your Story?

If you have a heating problem — a hard-to-heat room, an old house, an additional room, a dirty, drafty system — any problem large or small — we have more stories to tell you.

Call Us. The facts will electrify you.

The Advocate Advocated For Best News Story

Coverage of racial conditions in Newark has won two first place awards for The Advocate, weekly newspaper of the Newark Archdiocese.

The paper is printed in Belleville by Mattia Press, Inc.

The Advocate was awarded first place in the Best News Story category for what the judges called its "remarkable depth of coverage" of the disorders which exploded in Newark last summer. That award was given by the Catholic Press Association of the U.S. and Canada.

The local newspaper, which has a circulation of 30,000, also won the Outstanding Public Service Award in the weekly newspaper category in the annual judging sponsored by the Public Relations Society of America. Its award there was for a five-part in-depth analysis of the ills besetting the Newark school system. The series was written by Ed Grant of New Providence, Advocate news editor.

In the CPA competition, The Advocate also won five other citations, including the following:

Second place, best column, for a column by Joseph R. Thomas of Verona, managing editor, dealing with racial attitudes.

Special citation, best editorial section.

It was the most awards ever won by the diocesan publication in C.P.A. competition, where The Advocate has been cited 17 times.

the BIG inch

The ruled box above is one inch of advertising space. It measures one column wide by one inch deep. It looks kinda lonesome by itself. But look at it this way: when you purchase one inch of advertising space in the SunBank Papers you don't get just a single inch of space in the papers, but one inch multiplied by our well read combination circulation of 18,700. If you add Accent Suburbia the figure climbs over 40,000.

So you are actually buying 18,700 inches of advertising space, which at 188 inches to the full page would be over 111 full pages of newsprint.

That's a mighty big chunk of space for $2.40. And that price includes safe and sure delivery of your advertising message to the reader's mail box. And you know that reader will read it thoroughly.

Just imagine the cost of reaching those 18,700 readers and their families by post card. It would cost you $1,122.00 just for postage. And that doesn't include the cost of addressing and your administrative expense. The SunBank Papers do it for just $2.40.

Where else can the businessman obtain near saturation coverage of several of N.J.'s highest average income areas at only .0001c per delivered inch of advertising message?

THELMA CARPENTER OPENS AT THE APARTMENT

Singer Thelma Carpenter, a longtime favorite of New York nightlife, returned to the local scene for the first time in three years to begin an engagement at the Apartment (Second Avenue and 56th St.) on Monday, June 17.

Miss Carpenter, who was first introduced to the nation's audiences by the late Eddie Cantor, has appeared in such Broadway musicals as "Memphis Bound" with Bill Robinson, "Ankles Aweigh," and "Inside U.S.A." with Beatrice Lillie. She's toured with the bands of Count Basie, Duke Ellington and Teddy Wilson, and her solo headline engagements at the Palace, the Capitol and Loew's State have become legendary.

Her recent Coral Records album, "Thinking of You Tonight," was hailed by critics as one of the best vocal performances of the season.

Miss Carpenter's performances at the Apartment will feature new songs, old songs and songs that have become identified with her through the years.

Morris Fair Should Offer Much Variety

The Morris County Fair, which will open its gates for the third year at its new location at Horseshoe Lake in Succasunna August 18 through 25 will offer hundreds of departments and categories of competitive exhibits that should suit the taste and hobby of almost everyone in New Jersey.

For the 4-H youngsters alone there will be 25 divisions running through a category of needlework, clothing, foods and home furnishings for the girls to all types of gardening, livestock, horse shows and scientific projects for the boys and girls alike.

All adults in North Jersey should be interested in such departments as farm and garden crops, honey, art, rabbits, dairy goats, home arts and crafts, flowers, open horse show and rodeo events.

A complete list of these competitive departments and their rules and regulations can be secured by calling the Fair Office 584-6030.

All those interested in entering their handwork or hobbies at the fair are urged to secure this prize list and pay strict attention to the closing dates for such entries. The Fair dates are August 18 thru the 25 and many departments require the entry forms to be turned in several days or weeks in advance.

today. No longer is it enough to offer tempting food — you have to have a room with a view.

And in New York they're dining in high style these nights at the Rainbow Room and Rainbow Grill — 65 stories high in the RCA Building, overlooking Rockefeller Plaza (and the rest of New York City, for that matter).

Whether it's cocktails in the South Lounge, dinner to the tune of Duke Ellington or Ella Fitzgerald in the Rainbow Grill, or a leisurely supper in the more formal Rainbow Room, the view is spectacular.

From river to river New York is laid out in a light fantasy — from the Palisades to the East River and beyond.
Literally from horizon to horizon.

Stop up some night, and enjoy these rooms at the top. I'd be pleased to make your reservations.

Brenda Lee, one of the country's biggest recording and night club artists, is now playing a two week engagement at the Latin Quarter, her first New York appearance in six years. Brenda is a perfect combination — she looks like a little girl, sings like a woman and carries her spotlight like a lady.

Brenda Lee made her first network television appearance in March, 1956, and since then has been seen on practically every major show in the country. Brenda's recordings read like a Hit Parade who's who.
"Jambalaya", "I'm Sorry",
"All Alone Am I" and "Emotions" are just a few of the songs which have earned her over 50 million record sales.
In addition to headlining at every major night club in the U.S., she has appeared in over forty foreign countries. In world-wide music polls Brenda has repeatedly been voted
"The Worlds No. 1 Female Vocalist". She is backed by the capable Casuals who have been with her for 12 years and are stars in their own right.

Also featured in the Latin Quarter's spectacular "Terre Des Femmes" revue are talented comic Dick Lord who consistently wins rave reviews and the great chimp and dog act, Eric Adams and His Friends.

Not to be forgotten are the beautiful 25 semi-nudes who have helped make E. M.
Loew's Latin Quarter one of the world's most successful night clubs.

NEW DINING EXPERIENCE ARRIVES

NEW YORK, N.Y.—A new experience in dining arrives
today at the new Camelot — Court of Prime Rib Restaurant located at Third Avenue and 73rd Street in Manhattan's chic upper East Side.

Camelot — Court of Prime Rib is the only restaurant in New York serving prime rib exclusively and in the traditional Old English style. According to the menu, which is printed on simulated parchment, rolled and sealed with the Camelot crest, the Roast Prime Ribs of Beef are prepared following an Old Yorkshire method where the aged prime ribs are placed in large iron pans, then completely covered with a thick layer of highly refined rock salt. Heat passing through the crystals is distributed evenly and thoroughly through the prime ribs.
By this method, the rich beef juices are retained.

Adding to this unique dining experience is the lavish decor which provides a fitting setting for the prime rib dinner.
Designed to simulate the interior of a castle, walnut doors and panelling set off by stained glass windows frame colorful drapes and plush scarlet carpeting.

There are two main dining areas, a bar and rooms for private parties. Adjoining one of the dining areas and the bar is the "Courtyard," which will be used for outdoor receptions.
Surrounding the restaurant on all sides is a raised terrace
"Castle Walk", which will be used for outdoor dining.

Cost of the prime rib dinner, served with salad from a unique spinning salad bowl, Yorkshire pudding, mashed Idaho potatoes and creamed horse-radish sauce is only $4.95.

A larger portion, "The King Arthur Cul.", not recommended for the fair maiden, is listed on the menu for $5.95. A choice of three desserts, Cheese Cake covered with brandied cherries; English Trifle, sprinkled with sherry;
and Double Chocolate Layer Cake completes the meal.

Camelot — Court of Prime Rib will be open every day, including Sunday for cocktails and dinner at 4:30 p.m. and supper starting at 10:30 p.m.,

National Newark & Essex announces

Chec-King

The New 3-in-1 Account

Checking • Stand-by Credit • Check Guarantee Card

Our new Chec-King account helps you buy, pay, budget to best advantage... and enjoy new check-cashing convenience with the new Check-Guarantee Card

Now you can write a check for a larger amount than your balance.

Now you can buy the things you need when you need them.

Now you can get the cash you want — by simply writing a check.

Here's how it works: When you open a Chec-King Account, in addition to your normal checking account services, you and the Bank agree on your Stand-by Credit — money available to you from National Newark & Essex.
How much? From $500 . . . to $5500. And by opening this account, you get the versatile Check Guarantee Card as a further aid.

Example #1. Let's say you have seen an appliance that you need — on sale for $275. You have a $60 balance in your Chec-King Account.
You can write out your check for the full amount and make the purchase. Funds, in multiples of $100, from your Stand-by Credit will automatically be made available to cover the check.

Example #2. Let's say you wish to increase the balance in your checking account. Simply fill out a transfer slip in multiples of $100, and these funds will automatically be transferred to your account.

Example #3. Suppose you inadvertently overdraw your account. No need to worry — no "overdraft embarrassment". Your Stand-by Credit will automatically cover your check.

Example #4. Let's say you're faced with unforeseen expenses. You can write out a personal check up to $200 that will be honored by simply showing your Check Guarantee Card at established businesses throughout Essex County or at any of the 31 offices of National Newark & Essex Bank.

What about repayments?

Repayment is made on the principal outstanding with the amount of your monthly payment based on 1/36th of the original amount of your loan.
If you increase your loan balance, the payment is then based on the new amount. Interest is charged at the low rate of only 1% per month.

You will receive a statement every month showing the current status of your Chec-King loan activity, together with an advice showing the amount of the payment due that month.

(Of course, you will also receive each month your normal checking account statement with cancelled checks.)

See how this new service, another "first" at National Newark & Essex, gives you new flexibility in buying and budgeting. Ask about it now at any of our offices or mail the coupon below and receive a descriptive folder and application form.

Business Briefs

By Joe Sticco and Jack G

Intercontinental Life Insurance Company has received approval from the Securities Exchange Commission for a national listing of its stock, Lawrence E. Stern, company president, announced today.

The SEC approved Intercontinental's application for its stock to be carried by the National Stock Exchange in New York. The stock will continue to be traded on the Over-the-Counter market.

Intercontinental is the first life insurance company in the nation to be listed by any exchange.

"This action was taken to provide our present and future stockholders with broader and improved market facilities," said Mr. Stern. "A broker in any section of the country will be able to push a button and get the latest information about the price of the stock."

"Up to now many insurance companies have appeared to shy away from such listings because of possible intensified scrutiny," he said. "But we believe it is a positive step forward and welcome the opportunity for a national listing."

The company has recorded dynamic growth since its founding in New Jersey three years ago, after a $3 million capitalization program.

The company was third behind Prudential and Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Companies for sales among the 17 domestic life companies in New Jersey for 1966. Its paid business in the first six months of 1968 was $38,959,224.

Intercontinental's growth in sales, premium and investment income continued at a strong pace in 1967. At the end of last year, the company had $71,921,456 of business in force, an increase of $42,662,589.

Premium income rose from $743,101 in 1966 to $1,531,581 last year and gross investment income climbed from $132,277 to $192,661 during the same period.

Garden State Farms expanded its jug milk dairy operation with the opening of a new neighborhood store in Montvale recently.

The store is located at 108 Spring Valley according to George A. VanHouten, vice president. This new store is the 47th in the growing network of Garden State Farms dairy stores and is the first of many new stores scheduled for opening during the latter part of 1968.

VanHouten said that nutritional value of Garden State's milk and the convenience of family-size containers, plus Garden State Farms' lower milk prices, have led to the increase in popularity and growth of the Garden State Farm jug-milk type operation.

Paul F. Holick, of 23 Fernwood Terrace, Nutley, took part in the Prudential Insurance Company's three-day ordinary agencies' President's Club Conference at the Sheraton-Boston Hotel, Prudential Center, June 17-20. Holick is a special agent in the company's Newark Agency office.

Two Newark area business executives participated recently in the National Industrial Conference Board's two-day "Current Problems in Financial Management" conference, at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel, San Francisco. They are: Malcolm D. MacKinnon, executive general manager, The Prudential Insurance Company of America, Newark; and Fred R. Sullivan, chairman and chief executive officer, Walter Kidde & Company, Inc., Belleville.

Three Barringer High School students who excel in chemistry were named as finalists in a competition for scholarships offered by Otto B. May, Inc., of Newark, one of the nation's oldest organic chemical manufacturers.

They are among eight finalists chosen in the city of Newark. Those selected for scholarships will attend a special Institute at the Choate School, Wallingford, Conn. The actual cost of the program is $940 per student.

The Barringer High finalists are: Isaac Haywarz, of 154 South 8th Street; Howard Eng, of 55-Broadway; and Jose L. Rivero, of 136 Jackson Street.

New Newark Branch of the National Life Assurance Company of Canada recently announced that Ralph Del Bosco, owner of Garden State Brokers, Inc., 235 Sylvan Rd., Bloomfield, New Jersey, has qualified as a charter member of the life counselors club, an award earned only by agents whose efforts reflect superior sales and service to their client.

The Howard Savings Institution recently sponsored its Fourth Annual Outdoor Art Exhibit reported Howard President John W. Kress. The exhibit, in cooperation with the North Caldwell Leisure Arts Group, was held at the Bank's Wessex Branch, 27 Bloomfield Avenue, North Caldwell.

In addition to local artists, handicapped students from the Yard School of Art will exhibit. Students at Caldwell and Montclair State Teachers College have also been invited to participate.

"As a community undertaking," remarked Mr. Kress, "this outdoor art exhibit is always well received by the public. Each year we note an increase in visitors and more artists are anxious to show. We are always amazed at the truly great talent of the artists who display oils, water colors, pastels and ink line sketches."

Loitering Boy Gets $10 Fine

Joseph Sellari of 128 Church St. was found guilty of violating Nutley's loitering ordinance by Municipal Court Judge Edwin J. C. Joerg at last Wednesday's session of court.

Arrested by Sgt. Theodore Steimeyer June 1 for refusing to comply with police requests to move on, Sellari pleaded guilty to the charge. Citing the fact that it was a first offense, Judge Joerg fined the 20-year-old youth $10.

Kennedy's Assassination Mirrors Climate Of Violence

By Senator H. A. Williams
Senator Kennedy is dead, and we are left, now with an infinite sadness and the futile gesture of bringing to trial the perpetrator of this atrocity.

I cannot at this point, find anger in my own heart and I do not detect it in those to whom I have talked.

Perhaps that is because the anger would have to be directed inwardly, in part, because each of us bears some measure of guilt for the national climate which makes this sort of thing possible, and we must resolve to change that national climate.

The Congress can help. Certainly a stricter gun control law is called for, both to restrict the traffic in potential murder weapons and as a symbol to the nation of our grave concern over the rise of lawlessness.

We are right to extend Secret Service protection to the Presidential candidates, again both for the protection it will afford and for the symbolic value of the act.

Certainly President Johnson's appointment of an eminent panel to seek the causes of violence in our society and to point the way toward remedies is a constructive step.

The mass media bear their share of the responsibility. Movies are better than ever:

"The Devil's Brigade is a Sock it to 'Em War Movie"

"The Last Challenge . . . Their law — kill or be killed"

"The Savage Seven . . . Blessed by the Devil Himself"

"We Still Kill The Old Way" "Nevada Smith . . . He hated . . . He killed"

"Wild In The Streets . . . Zings you Right Where it Hurts"

Or television: "The Wild, Wild West" "The Rifleman"

"Guns of Will Sonnet" "Wanted: Dead or Alive"

But the media aren't alone. Birthday coming up for your youngsters? How about the very realistic, very popular:

"G.I. Joe Infantry Set" camouflaged repeating tommy gun, repeating military pistol, hand grenades . . . knife and sheath, caps included."

Of course, I am not suggesting that emptying the theatres, closing the toy factories, turning-off the sets, or stopping the presses will end the problem.

The task is not to curtail the dissemination of images and opinions, because that would be counter to all that this nation stands for. The task, instead, is to evaluate the influence these agents of social change are actually exerting on the collective consciousness of the people; then, the responsibility becomes one of improvement, not curtailment.

But, we cannot single out segments of our society to blame for this climate.

Because of the nature of our society, the ultimate responsibility lies with each individual American.

By our words, our actions, our example to others, we must harness reason to emotion. We must govern the passions which have always lain near the surface of American life.

We have done it in the past when violence was far more prevalent and passions far more heated.

At perhaps the most perilous time in our national history, Abraham Lincoln said: "There is no grievance that is a fit object of redress by mob law." And, he also said: "Among free men there can be no successful appeal from the ballot to the bullet . . . and they who take such appeal are sure to lose their case and pay the cost."

He spoke to the nation and the nation heeded him.

Let us now heed President Johnson's passionate appeal to the nation: "Let us—for God's sake—live under the law."

vors and his dedicated efforts for the sake of mankind. He will be a memory forever in the hearts and minds of free men and in the hearts of his countrymen."

"These words," Rodino said "speak again today for Senator Robert F. Kennedy, who gave so much of himself and who sought with constant courage and dedication to carry forward a similar crusade for equally great ideals."

"It is now the solemn duty and obligation of the Congress and the American people, to move with courage and responsibility, with perseverance and wisdom, to implement the objectives for which he fought and for which he gave his life," Rodino concluded.

Rodino Praises Kennedy

Rep. Peter W. Rodino, in a statement to the House today, said "I am deeply shocked and saddened to learn of the tragic death of Senator Robert F. Kennedy. In one senseless act of violence and aberration the Nation has lost a brilliant and dedicated public servant, a man of promise and vision, a man imbued with a sense of mission to accomplish the goals essential to meet the difficult challenges and urgent needs of the Nation."

"Americans of all colors and creeds, of all political persuasions, have suffered a grievous loss. For no one can doubt the sincere conviction of his belief in the contribution he hoped to make for our country in undertaking his campaign for the Presidency. In his last speech, after his victory in the California primary election on June 4, he said:

"We are a great country, an unselfish country and a compassionate country. I intend to make that my basis for running."

"Perhaps more significant, though," Rodino said, "were Senator Kennedy's remarks before the primary, when he indicated that if he were defeated in the California primary and as a consequence did not win the Democratic Party's nomination he would still continue, as a United States Senator, to work to improve the direction and effectiveness of our efforts on behalf of our own people and on behalf of mankind around the globe. It was his hope, which we all share, to end the divisiveness now plaguing the Nation, to eliminate inequities and poverty, and to bring peace and the basic necessities of life to the world."

"In 1963 I said in a statement on the loss of our late and great, President, John F. Kennedy:

"The world — humanity — and the country he loved and served so well shall never forget him or his name — his aims and aspirations, his noble endeavor."

Domestic Spat Resolved By Judge Joerg

Judge Edwin J. C. Joerg found Gary Mossey of Bloomfield guilty of assaulting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Marie Adams of 9 Sargeant St., Nutley, on May 26 at 7:15 p.m.

According to Mrs. Adams, her son-in-law returned home after an outing and tried to awaken his stepson. She told the judge that when she told him to leave the child alone, he slapped her and used vile language.

Mrs. Adams testified that Mossey then struck his wife, knocked her to the floor, and sat on her.

She quoted Mossey as saying "You have to beat them once in awhile to keep them in line."

Mrs. Adams told Judge Joerg that when she attempted to phone the police, Mossey struck her across the face with the phone. She added, "He's no good, judge."

Mossey admitted that he had been having mother-in-law trouble since he and his wife were wed. He denied having belted his mother-in-law with the phone.

He admitted that there was a struggle when Mrs. Adams became hysterical and tried to phone the police for a domestic quarrel.

Judge Joerg, in finding Mossey guilty of simple assault, stated that everybody "seems to have lost his head." He forbade Mossey to visit his mother-in-law and stressed that Mrs. Adams' daughter be permitted, if she wished, to visit her mother.

Mrs. Adams, reacting to the sentence, pointed at Mossey and said, "You lying dog, I'm not through with you yet."

Rodino Says: Immigration Act Fosters Reverse Discrimination

Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-10th District) said that some aspects of the 1965 Immigration Act have created a reverse type of discrimination that has resulted in curtailment of immigration from Ireland and other traditional Western European sources of immigration to the United States. He stated he intends to propose measures to solve this problem.

"The basic purpose of the 1965 Act," Rodino said, "was repeal of the discriminatory and repugnant national origins quota system. To accomplish this worthy objective, however, it was necessary to accept certain regulatory provisions, such as the labor certification. Unfortunately, this has been a hardship on many intending immigrants and has contributed to a decline in immigration from Western Europe. The vital role of Americans of Irish heritage in the building of America is indisputable. Yet Irish immigration, for example, has declined from 7,687 at the beginning of this decade to 2,624 for the fiscal year ending in June 1967."

Analyze Labor Certification

Rodino, who is ranking member of the House Immigration Subcommittee, said: "It is imperative that the labor certification procedures be carefully analyzed and constructively amended to insure that the best interest of the United States and fairness to the intending immigrant be reasonable brought into focus. Hearings to review the Act will begin April 3 and I intend to offer amendatory legislation as soon as all aspects of the labor certification can be studied."

He said another problem results from the phase-out period of three years, which was intended to eliminate the over-subscription in certain quotas and allow nations with large quotas to plan for July 1, 1968, when there begins competitive immigration on a worldwide basis. This goal was not accomplished for the period became an open invitation for immigrants to seek registration priorities. Rodino said on measure he is studying is extension of the phase-out period for two years, but with built-in provisions to insure elimination of backlogs.

"The hard facts," the Newark Congressman said, "that there are more persons desiring to live in the United States than we can reasonably accept. Our immigration must be controlled. Yet we must insure that our system of control will recognize the dignity of each intending immigrant and give him a fair opportunity to achieve his desire of living among us. Any support of an equitable and realistic immigration policy has never wavered, and I intend to do all in my power to bring approval of corrective legislative action before the July 1, 1968 era goes into effect."

Race Quest on to St. Elizabeth To College of Saint Elizabeth

Teachers, civic leaders, clergy, and all citizens are invited to take advantage of an unusual opportunity for studying the race question and for identifying and dealing with prejudice as it exists in themselves or in their neighborhoods.

The opportunity is being provided by the College of Saint Elizabeth, Convent Station, New Jersey, on the weekend of July 12-14, 1968 when it will host the human relations institute of the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice.

The institute is a traveling workshop conducted by five Roman Catholic Sisters holding doctoral degrees in education, sociology, history, clinical psychology, and theology. It is an inter-disciplinary course of racial prejudice and how it can be dismantled. The College is underwriting the cost of the institute in order that as many citizens as possible may participate. Meals may be purchased at the College cafeteria, and residence facilities are available at $3.00 per day.

45 Rutgers Students Apply Work-Study

Approximately 45 Rutgers University students began work this week in several Newark community agencies in a unique application of the State University's Work-Study Program.

The students, from all three main University campuses, Newark, New Brunswick and Camden, are filling jobs with the Child Service Association of Newark, the Essex unit of the New Jersey Association for the Retarded, the Presbyterian Community Center's three Newark units, the Scudder Homes and the Essex County Board of Freeholders.

The students will be paid through the Work-Study Program, in which the Federal Government pays 85 per cent of the student's wages, and the agency pays 15 per cent.

The purpose of the Work-Study program in general is to give students in financial need a chance to work part time on campus. Last year, however, the Newark Campus first experimented with the idea of arranging with community agencies to employ the students during the summer, when campus jobs are scarce.

According to Mrs. Inge Gambe, assistant to the Dean of Students at Rutgers in Newark, who has coordinated the project: "As a result, our students have an opportunity to get summer jobs which are challenging to them and provide an outlet for their desire to involve themselves in the community and learn about it. At the same time, these agencies benefit by getting young and enthusiastic manpower at little cost to themselves."

Last summer, students filled a variety of positions with the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce, the Business and Industrial Coordinating Council and the city administration.

Recently, the students completed an intensive orientation program designed to acquaint them with the city and its problems.

The program included talks by Sanford Jaffe, who had been executive director of the governor's Commission on Civil Disorder; Robert Curvin, director of the University Community Action Intern Program and former regional chairman of CORE; Thomas McCrae, coordinator of the Newark Arts Coordinating Council; Arthur Bray, planning officer for the freeholders, and several Rutgers officials.

A number of students have been assigned to the county's Emergency Children's Shelter in Belleville, where they are performing a variety of jobs caring for the abused, abandoned and neglected children at that agency.

The students also held discussions with pupils at Central High School; toured Newark City Hospital; spoke with Police Capt. Edward Williams in the fourth Precinct headquarters; visited families in Scudder Homes, and toured Mc Kinley Junior High, the Pre-School Council, Friendly Neighborhood House and the Bedford St. Civic Association.

With the Child Service Association, a student will be working with the boys group, primarily in recreation activity. The student assigned to the Association for the Mentally Retarded will be teaching basic grooming habits to educable retarded young people of adolescent age.

Organizing recreation activity, field trips and tutoring for young people will be the main job of the eight students thus far assigned to the Presbyterian centers. The students working at Scudder Homes, under the supervision of Rev. Dennis Westbrook, director, will help organize a day camp program.

There are five different jobs with the freeholders. Some students will work with inmates of the county jails setting up a program that would prepare an individual for a high school equivalency certificate. Others will help implement the establishment of the proposed vest pocket parks in inner city areas.

A group will help counsel parolees at Overbrook Hospital, guiding them in applying for jobs, getting housing and learning about Social Security benefits. The fourth project is conducting a study of the present welfare structure, making suggestions for new procedures and serving as case aides for individual clients.

Students will also act as administrative aides for the board, in which they will be assisting in a study of the structure of county government being carried on under the auspices of the State Department of Community Affairs.
