Local Bus Transportation

Belleville at present has only one local bus route. Sure almost everyone has a car, but adequate bus service will always be a necessity

Commissioner Strumolo is to be lauded for his efforts to obtain a Public Service route that would circle the entire town. Efficient bussing of shoppers will do as much for local merchants as added public parking facilities.

Fallout Stunts Growth

It was recently revealed that the children of Rongelap Island - close to Bikini Atoll, where the United States in 1954 exploded a hydrogen bomb — have suffered stunted growth as a result of the heavy fallout on that island.

The United States is treating those children. It has been established that all but two of nineteen on the island have suffered adverse thyroid reac-Nine of the nineteen have already undergone surgery; many have been brought to the United States and most have been given thyroid extract. In addition to these discoveries there is some concern being voiced about children in Utah, Colorado and New Mexico, who were also exposed to lesser fallout (perhaps only a tenth the amount of that which fell on Rongelap in the Marshalls) in the last A study is now underway to determine whether U.S. children in some parts of these states and others have suffered adverse effects.

The terrible nature of nuclear weapons is best appreciated by these silent and long-undiscovered, limited effects of test bombs. If the world's leaders cannot agree on a nuclear bomb ban, and keep it, humanity will deserve its awful fate.

The Squeeze On Prague

Of perhaps more long-term significance than any other international development in recent days has been the tense unfolding of the Czechoslovakian drama. In Prague liberal leaders have been defying the increasing threats of conservative Communists in Russia and several eastern bloc countries to curb freedoms recently granted the people.

In Moscow it has become more apparent than ever that party chief Leonid Brezhnev is the bully-boy of Russian leadership, threatening the use of force and probably in favor of the use of force. The situation has become so controversial Communism itself is split.

President Tito of Yugoslavia, Nicolae Ceausescu of Rumania and the heads of the largest Communist parties in western Europe have rallied to the support of the Czechs. Washington has displayed silence but Britain's Foreign Secretary has warned that what is happening in Czechoslovakia is not the business of outsiders.

It is said in certain European capitals, including Warsaw, that the recent Soviet-U.S. easing of relations, and our refusal to aid Hungary when Communist troops brutally crushed that nation's attempt to gain its freedom, have convinced Moscow the United States will not intervene in eastern European

In Washington officials have said the United States is maintaining a "very low silhouette" in the crisis, whatever that means. Since Russia continues to blast Washington as an aggressor in Vietnam, while Brezhnev insults the American people with irate and ignorant denunciations, Washington should have, at the least, wamed Moscow bluntly that any military intervention in Czechoslovakia would meet stern U.S. opposition and action and have serious con-

Ike For Nixon

The endorsement of Richard Nixon by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is certain to have an impact on delegates to the G.O.P. convention and upon voters in November.

Since Nixon is widely assumed to have the nomination in the bag, the Fisenhower boost will be more important as ammunition in the coming election campaign. Though some felt the former President would wait until after the convention to speak out, his decision to do so before Republicans gathered at Miami showed the President's willingness to be more deeply involved in this year's race than has been true in past years. It also showed the strength of his confidence in his former Vice President.

To millions of middle-roaders, Ike is still the vote-getting champion and a military hero. His endorsement, and support in the coming campaign probably means more to the Republican nominee than the support of any other living Republican.

Perhaps what most Americans basically like about the general is the confidence he imparts, or how they feel inside about him-that he is honest, middle-road and human. Few may believe him to be the sharpest brain, the cutest politician or even the hardest worker the White House has ever seen. But millions accept him as a man of integrity, with honorable intentions and good basic judgment.

Rusk On Czechoslovakia

uation in eastern Europe caused by Russian threats against Czechoslovak liberals in Dallas recently, Secretary of State Dean Rusk replied: "We have not involved ourselves in any way in this situation.

The American voter has the right and duty to ask why Washington has not involved itself. The facts about Czechoslovakia are clear enough. Since January anti-Stalinists have gained power in that country. They have begun all sorts of reforms.

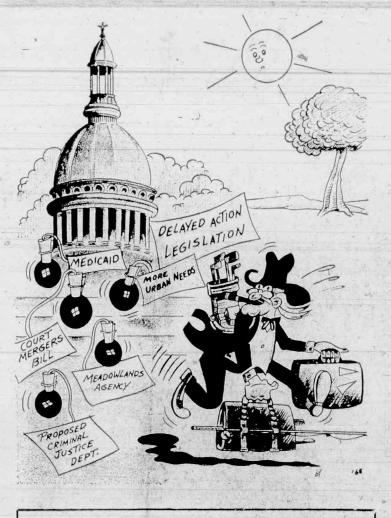

One is a great degree of freedom of the press. Another is to allow all Czechoslovaks the right to travel wherever they wish. Another is to encourage free enterprise. Another is to recist Moscow's attempts to dominate the nation. To these actions hard-line conservative Communists in Russia,

When asked about the critical sit- - backed by several satellite countries, have threatened to reply with Soviet

These threats bring to mind the brutal military repression by Russian troops of a similar movement in Hungary in 1956, while the United States did almost nothing to support Hungarian patriots and make Moscow's militants hesitate.

Moscow today openly says it will defend Cuba and Fidel Castro if the United States should attack. Secretary Rusk, instead of warning Russia against the use of military force to crush-liberal leaders in another country (created by Woodrow Wilson to a large degree), says we have not "involved" ourselves. It is not an impressive international performance from the United States in behalf of democracy and freedom.

Fund Drive Continues For Handicapped Youths

To The Times:

The Woman's Club of Belleville with the cooperation of the Department of Public Affairs, under the direction of Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, is sponsoring a town wide appeal for funds to all citizens and organizations for the support of two multiple handicapped children from our town who are at present students at St. Joseph's School for the Blind in Jersey City.

This Institution, one of three, in the State of New Jersey especially geared to help childre who are blind and other wise handcapped is the only school in our area able to give these special children an edu cation. Unfortunately, the operating deficit threatens a shutdown of the school which will place a severe financial burden on the parents and on our community which will have to be responsible for the education of these children.

A special fund has been or ganized for this purpose. We are appealing to you for your generosity and financial support to help these two blind handicapped children from our community. An investment of concern and involvement at this time is essential to the continuance of the school whose students come from all races and religions

Please make all checks. money orders, or cash to the Woman's Club of Belleville, N.J., and mail to Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, Town Hall, Belleville, New Jersey Very truly yours.

Mary Ann Cacella, 17, of 576 Union Avenue, has been a-warded a $25 prize and a plaque for reaching the finals of the Essex County Voice of Democracy contest sponsored by the Firemen's Post No. 1851 V.F.W. and the Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary. Miss Cacella received her awards at the District Convention Dinner at the Coronet Restaurant, Irvington, June 8.

The approach used by Miss Cacella was that of examining the various challenges to freedom that exist in America today. Mary Ann concerned herself with contemporary issues. She attempted to discern whether or not certain events that are commonly taken as evils are really detrimental to the survival of the American

Miss Cacella contended that "the Negro has a right to take his place within the American system." She said that certain forces are attempting to deprive the Negro of his freedom. The settlement of the race issue is a very important question to Miss Cacella in her the American position.

The war in Vietnam is, to Miss Cacella, a sad but nec-sary affair which must be fought if freedom is to be maintained. She feels that honor, discipline and leadership are the essential elements needed to develop a viable balance of freedom and responsibility. Miss Cacella feels that dissenters to the war must begin to show a great deal more responsibility in their form of

New Jersey State Debt Drops From Record High

Through retirement of more than $15 million in bonds, New Jersey reduced its outstanding state government debt during the last fiscal year to a total of $2771/2 million as of July 2, 1968. The total had reached an all - time high of $292.7 million on the same timers, John L. Welch and date the previous year.

The State's debt record was reported in an annual tabulation issued by the New Jer-Taxpayers Association. This showed that among bonds retired last year were parts of series for highway improvements and state institutions construction first issued in 1934. Also paid off were the remainder of the 15 - year state teachers college construction and state institutions construction bonds series, both issued in 1953.

Storms Now Monitored Electrically

Public Service Electric and Gas Company will be better prepared this year for equipment - damaging thunderstorms.

Aftr successfuly testing a thunderstorm warning and monitoring device at its Moorestown Head quartters, near Camden, for nearly five years, the company has installed the device in seven other electric operating division headquarters. The thunderstorm monitors are at work in Clifton, Hackensack, Irvington, Secaucus, El izabeth, Trenton and New Brunswick.

They will allow electric service dispatchers to pinpoint when a thunderstorm will reach a specific area, often several hours in advance. Supervisors need the early warning to organize for storm damage reapir.

The U.S. Weather Bureau and private weather services give helpful daily forecasts, but cannot supply the pinpoint accuracy Public Service

Scanning 70 Miles

In addition, the instrument monitors and records the electric field provided by cloud electrification within a radius of about seven miles. These are changes in electric charge in any cloud or group of clouds moving into the second in in-stalled. The approach of a severe thunderstorm is travally indicated by frequent, large fluctuations of the electric field change.

The dual recording of this instrument will often show a rise in sferics but not change in electric charge as early as two hours in advance of a storm. With the first activity of the change in electric charge element and a contining rise of trend of the sferics recording, the initial storm warning is being given. It is most essential that the two recordings be examined on a coincident basis in order to arrive at a reliable evaluation.

During the five years' test ing at Moorestown, Public Service has been experimenting with these recorders with two objectives in mind. One was that of storm alerting and plant repair activities. The other was the evaluation of thunderstorm intensity, by means of a counter element associated with the recorder By comparing storm intendity as indicated by the counter head plant, certain conclusions may be drawn regarding plant performance. This is particularly true in evaluat ing the type of lightning pro-

Early experiments with storm damage were not entirely successfu because the distant storms of high intensity along with local storms, but also local man-made sta-tic as well. The total oca total local count, therefore, in cluded these factors in addition to the local series count. The sferies count alone, even using more sophisticated instruments, does not distinguish between cloud-to-cloud; between - clouds, and cloud-toearth lightning. > Air Pollution Awards Given N.J. Health Board

The New Jersey State Department of Health today announced it has received letters of award for the National Air Pollution Control Administration, Washington, D.C., providing $600,000 in a maintenance grant and $250,000 in an improvement grant for the state's air pollution control

Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle, State Commissioner of Health, said New Jersey's is one of only seven air pollution control programs in the nation that were currently eligible and met the criteria for such maintenance

He said Charles D. Yaffe, Chief of the Control Agency Development Program of the U.S. Department of Health, who signed the letters of award, said in the letter on the maintenance grant, "Successful completion of the regulatory requirements for a maintenance grant is a signifiaccomplishment for cant which your agency is to be congratulated.

Future maintenance grant support for your agency's program is contingent upon evidence of satisfactory progress each year in accomplishing your stated objectives, submission of an acceptable renewal application and availability of funds."

TORRID TALES OF THE ELECTRIC HEAT LOVERS

Hot Stories

Heating bills for our 10-room Montclair home built in 1960 invariably come in under $300, a winter, and every cent of that, is turned into pure heat: there are no cold spots, no drafts, no long waits for the house to warm up . . . FANTASTIC EFFICIENCY!' writes Mrs. Albert Weber, Vice President of the Nutley Lumber Co.

'Radiant electric heat keeps my company's heating cost down to a rock minimum also. Our two office buildings are equipped with Glassheat, one of them since 1948.

That makes three times I've installed Glassheat in the last twenty years — if that isn't recommendation enough for anyone, I honestly don't know what is!'

Thank you, Mr. Weber, for your three hot stories!

Sick Stories

Three years ago when we installed radiant electric Glassheat, writes Mr. Bruce Benner of East Rutherford, N.J., 'the first thing we noticed was the Ideal humidity level; no static shocks; no more stuffy feeling on rising in the morning — just wonderful comfort we had never experienced before. "Room-by-room control with separate thermostats in each room enables us to enjoy the exact temperature each of us wants. 'With a wife and four children or a total of six in the Benner family, ONLY ONE COLD OCCURED IN THE ENTIRE PERIOD, and it was a mild one at that. We feel this is considering our experiences previous to Glassheat.

Thank you, Mr. Benner — many more healthy winters

Cheap Stories

'A good friend of mine decided to install a central heating system in a home just about the same size as mine (3500 sq. ft.) and at the end of the calendar year we compared our operating costs,' writes Mr. A.L. Miller of

'Taking his fuel cost and electric cost, he spent $533. Taking my total electric bill, I spent $536. I HEAT MY BASEMENT AND GARAGE TOO — MY FRIEND DOES NOT! I We think this is a pretty good situation, don't

We do indeed, Mr. Miller, and please extend our sympathies to your friend.

The first thing everyone seems to think of when you mention electric heat is: HIGH COST OF OPERATION, writes another Mr. Miller, this gentleman from Verona,

'Well, let's start with my cost of operation now as against previous fuel heating system. Using ONLY TWO FLOORS with my previous fuel system. Using UNLT 1990 FLOORS with my previous fuel system it cost me an average of $230 a year for heating. Now with electric Glassheat, using THREE FLOORS INSTEAD OF TWO, my annual operating cost runs between $230 and $250.

Three floors for the price of two — we think that's a

Veneri Re-elected Veep

Of IUE District Three Maurice M. Veneri of Nutley

was recently re-elected vice president of District 3, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO at a convention at Lake Kiamesha, N. Y.

Veneri was one of a slate of incumbent officers of the union re-elected by overwhelming margins. President William Bywater headed the ticket and ran unopposed.

The convention, which was dedicated to the memory of the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King, adopted a broad program for civil rights and social action paralleling the goals of the two slain leaders. IUE International President, Paul Jennings, who addressed the banquet in place of the late Senator Kennedy, pledged that the IUE would carry on the program which Kennedy was proposing to the American peo-The convention was also addressed by Albert Black, chairman of the Human Rights Commission of Newark who warned that the basic causes of the urban crisis of 1967 have not been resolved. He described them as "Joblessness, rat infested, having dehumanizing education in the ghetto schools, hopelessness and cynicism." He commended IUE for its developing programs to deal with the critical problems in the cities.

The convention delegates voted to take the following action

Kelly playground but we managed to survive. We spent most of the week playing quiet games such as Giant Steps. Checkers, Kalah and Simon Says. On Tuesday afternoon Cream Sodas would be more we decided to paint rocks and refreshing and they certainly use them for paper weights. It is fascinating to watch an ordinary brown rock being transformed into a "work of art. On Friday we had a Grab Bag party. The boys and girls grapped a bag and got candy, cookies, gum and a prize. We had a very exciting time.

This past week at Clearman softball game which was cut proved to be quite exciting short by a cloud - burst that and eventful. The girls softball team displayed its usual good

3-2. The boys are looking forward to playing No. 9 again, and this time they won't be so easy going. The match game was enjoyed this week along with the usual Nok hockey, Ping Pong, Checkers, and Kalah. Mari Ruth Cavanaugh was the winner of our Nok hockey tournament. She is waiting to challenge Joe Cestaro, the winner of our last tournament. Friday - we ended the week with a lemon ice party and a water fight; both were very refreshing. The children at Playground No. 2 had an enjoyable time with handicraft this week. They made flowers out of wrapping paper and one of the most creative was made by Frank Danieli. Potholders and heart key chains were anform on the field. The first nother great interest of the game against Fairway was a week. Our main attraction 10-2 victory with Lynn Alfone was going to Branch Brook hitting a beautiful home run. Park Friday which we all en-
