For GOP Candidates

"Clear It With Joe"

In the BELIEVE IT OR NOT category there is a development which occurred Sunday morning within the Essex County Republican Party.

The REFORM REPUBLICANS sponsored a breakfast attended by 500 people in honor of Republican Congressional and Freeholder candidates.

Would you believe not a single GOP candidate made an appearance at the breakfast? Senator Milton Waldor charged the GOP candidates received their instructions from the phantom boss of the County Republican organization not to patronize any activity sponsored by REFORM REPUBLICANS.

Among the Host REFORM REPUBLICAN Committee were five state senators, two state assemblymen, two county freeholders and one sheriff.

Just think of it -- nine elected public officials and 500 GOP workers ignored and insulted by three Republican candidates for Freeholder and three Republican candidates for Congress.

And who is the phantom boss with the invisible hands that pulls the strings of Republican control in Essex County? It is none other than a fellow named Joe Intile who, according to the newspapers, heads the J.I. Enterprises, Inc. Just what those enterprises are very few Republicans know.

Concerning Mr. Intile, of one thing we are certain, he is the appointed head of New Jersey Italian-American Republicans for Nixon and as few would guess, he arranged his own appointment.

Mr. Intile is listed as a Nixon Elector on the ballot. Few people know very little about Mr. Intile and his background.

The crucial Presidential election stands, a chance of being decided by a combination of Electors in each of the several states of the union -- a situation arising from the failure of a presidential candidate to obtain a majority of votes in a majority of the states.

In view of the magnified importance of Electors in this Presidential year, between now and election day, Mr. Intile owes an obligation to Republican County, Congressional, and Presidential candidates to deny the allegation that his public record includes an indictment and conviction of a federal offense which needed a Presidential pardon.

It is embarrassing for Presidential candidate, Richard M. Nixon, to campaign on the issue of law and order, if among his electors are people with records of federal violations.

For Republican candidates these days things have to be "Cleared with Joe", even such simple matters as attending Republican rallies. It is regrettable that fine Republican candidates are reduced to a state of servitude if they wish to avoid incurring the enmity of the behind-the-scenes boss of the Essex Republican organization.

Responsible, respectable Republicans are hopeful the County GOP candidates can ride into office on the coattails of a landslide Nixon victory, thus rising above the Intile handicap.

Nixon's The One

Three weeks ago we urged our readers to consider voting for Richard M. Nixon for President.

Our conclusion was predicated upon the belief that Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey has a chemistry which is too closely identified with the present Administration.

The facts clearly show that the Johnson administration has been unable to cope with the problem of lawlessness in the states.

The Johnson Administration has been unable to solve the problem of Vietnam.

The Johnson Administration has been unable -- and perhaps unwilling -- to revise the inexorable trend toward a completely welfare state.

In short, a Nixon victory is necessary to strengthen the character of America here at home and abroad.

Hubert Humphrey is a good and decent man but our country today not only needs a good and decent man, but we also need a cop with a firm hand at the controls here at home and abroad.

Town Employee Pay Hike Debated

Commissioner Joseph McGreevy, Tax and Finance Department head, introduced an ordinance for pay increase for non-uniformed town employees that drew disapproval from Commissioners William Cullen and Vincent Strumolo at Monday night's meeting.

The measure called for a $300 raise in 1969 and $200 raises in 1970 and 1971. "We will compensate for a cost of living increase also in those latter years," said McGreevy.

Commissioner Cullen objected first. "I don't believe it is in Mr. McGreevy's province to include employees in other than his department. It's not practical to believe the employees of Belleville will accept a three year pact."

"Uniform employees as well," he added "bringing up the point that the board of education is considerably higher paid and parks and public property. We're required to pay $3 an hour to custodians otherwise the schools don't open. With a $300 raise, some still won't be making $3 an hour. It's an unfair request. They should get more, though it's a step in the right direction. My employees (recreation) are entitled to more."

Mayor Smith then concurred with McGreevy. "It has been discussed. I feel it's fair. The majority of men and women in the town employ are very well satisfied. It's a decent raise."

Cullen then noted that there was no provision for the cost of living written in the ordinance though it had been mentioned.

"Right," said the mayor, "but we don't know that it will go up."

Commissioner Strumolo was also in disagreement. "This caught me off guard. I thought we were going to sit and talk about it. We should refer it to the next caucus meeting before we move on here tonight. We should break it down to departments. I see no raise for the dentist, dental assistant and town physician in my department."

"The dentist is part time," noted Mayor Smith. "Yes, but she does a good job," said Strumolo "and I don't want to lose her. I don't know where you'll find a dentist for $5200 a year." The measure then passed on first reading 4 to 1, Strumolo voting no.

Nixon States He Needs State At Bloomfield Rally

Belleville Pumpkin Purchased

"No man has ever been elected president in this century without carrying New Jersey" said Richard Nixon at a Bloomfield rally last Saturday, and right he may be.

Nixon was in Bloomfield during a three county tour of populous northern Jersey. Although his welcome there was considered by his aides to be tumultuous, his stop in Fort Lee earlier in the morning proved to be a disaster.

A disappointing crowd of between 3,000 and 5,000 people were on hand at the noon time rally on the athletic field adjoining Fort Lee High School in Bergen County. Local Republican leaders and predicted a turnout of 15,000.

Bloomfield, however, raised the hopes of those who are predicting a Nixon county victory. In 1960, Nixon lost Essex by 50,000 votes to John F. Kennedy.

The crowd in Bloomfield extended from the huge park opposite Bloomfield High School, down Broad Street. As the motorcade came down Broad Street, thousands of people moved with it converging on the dais.

In his speech, Nixon pledged a "top priority" fight on crime. He claimed that the present administration "has not only failed to establish justice; it has not even been able to keep order."

His address was interrupted by some anti-war demonstrators who chanted "Hell no, we won't go" during it, but Nixon seemed to be buoyed by the enthusiasm of the rest of the throng.

Johnson's administration, and Humphrey's association with it, were the principle targets of all of Nixon's speeches during the day.

He cited "The longest war in history, the greatest crime, wave, the highest taxes and the greatest cost of living" as proof that "America can't afford that kind of leadership for the next four years."

In a well cheered statement Nixon said, "When you're in trouble, you don't turn to the man who got you into it, to get you out."

His proposals for a better life for this country include a new foreign policy "that will bring peace and prevent more Vietnam wars in the future;" an end to crime in the streets; a halt to rising taxes and living costs; and 16 million new jobs in private enterprise "instead of billions more on government programs that have failed."

Nixon stopped in Belleville briefly to buy a pumpkin at Jackie's Lemon Ice, Union and Belleville Avenues.

Alternate Parking Bill Is Passed

There was mixed reception to the town's alternate side of the street parking ordinance during the public hearing on the measure at Monday's Commission meeting.

Sam Coco, 28 Linker Place told the commissioners it would "create a hardship." "Yes," said Mayor Kenneth Smith "you're going to have to park your car in the driveway."

The ordinance is designed to facilitate street cleaning operations. "You won't be unable to park your car, there's alternate parking," said Commissioner Mary Senatore, Public Works. "It's the only way we can get the streets clean," she said. "The leaf blowers were out this morning and couldn't do their job, there were cars on both sides of the street."

Others wanted to know about the fines to be imposed. "I think they'll be a warning the first time," said Commissioner Senatore. "Yes stated the mayor, "then a nominal $2 fine. However, repeated offenses could go up as high as $50."

There will be all new signs indicating parking regulations according to Commissioner Senatore. "will these signs cost money," asked Mrs. Sally Hood. "You better believe it," said the mayor, adding a little levity to the meeting.

Alternate parking will occur only two days a week for cleaning, "or would you want an all night off the street ordinance," said the mayor.

A Kimble Street resident reported that the street had no curbs and that the town wouldn't be able to go in there and "clean up." "Do they want curbs?" asked the mayor. "No the people won't go for it," stated the man. "The town engineer gave us a price."

"It would be a local improvement," said the Commissioner Senatore, Belleville and Bloomfield each own half the street. "I'll arrange a meeting with Bloomfield and try and do something through state aid," said Commissioner Senatore.

Ray Spencer, 154 Belmont Avenue, was in favor of the ordinance. "Harrison and East Orange have it. It's a very good system. The streets are very clean."

The ordinance then passed on final reading. Town Clerk Eugene Barnett noted that the town had gotten its correspondence back from the state and that they will recommend it to the motor vehicle department.

School Paper Staff Includes Buddy Rogers

Buddy Rogers, a Belleville resident, is a feature writer on "The Herald" of Arkansas State University, which went to press recently with one of the largest staffs ever, Arkansas State University is in Jonesboro, Ark.

Strumolo Opposes Measure

The sewer foreman ordinance again was questioned by Mrs. Sally Hood at Monday's meeting, but passed 4 to 1 (Commissioner Strumolo voted against it).

"Street and sewer foreman should be made one title," opined Mrs. Hood. "Kearny does it."

"They don't know each other's job," said Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore, in whose department the sewer foreman works. "The sewer repairman will become the foreman. He's entitled to twice the money he'll get. If you saw all the breaks he fixed this week--"

Town Attorney Nicholas Amato again attempted to clear up the appointment procedure for Mrs. Hood. "We (the town commissioners) control the job, they (Civil Service) control examinations and certifications. The town sets the salary. Civil Service recommends that we accept or reject it. We create the position."

Theodore Bonkowski, 62 Cortlandt Street then inquired: "Why do we need a sewer foreman?" Mayor Smith replied: "Belleville has 60 miles of sewers, some are 60 to 70 years old. The foreman has to direct the men to repair them."

"Wasn't this handled before?" asked Bonkowski. "Improperly," inserted Commissioner Senatore. Bonkowski then changed the subject and wanted to know when the streets in the Valley would be cleaned. "As soon as we get the cars off the streets," said Mayor Smith. "The men are there every Friday morning faithfully," claimed Commissioner Senatore.

The position was created with salary steps.

Also passing on final reading was the $75,000 improvement of Belmont Avenue from Newark Avenue to Franklin Street. State aid on this project is in the amount of $58,451. Capital Improvement Budget funds total $828 and $15,721 in general bonds will be sold. The ordinance will be filed with the state finance director.

A communication was received from Thomas T. Taber, Chairman of the Board of Public Transportation of Morris County, suggesting that Essex County's transportation problems could be eased by the extension, development and better utilization of the Newark City Subway. Town Clerk Eugene Barnett noted that Belleville's Commissioners passed a resolution and sent it to the governor and senators objecting to the closing of the subway.

Permission was granted to the Flo Okin Cancer Relief Fund to conduct their annual tag week during March 24 through March 31, 1969.

Union Playground Plans Protested

After a lengthy harangue, an ordinance calling for appropriation of $42,000 in public improvements was tabled at Monday's Commission meeting.

The figure amends the 1968 Capital Budget by the addition of $37,000. A $5,000 down payment for land for a playground at 602 Union Avenue was included in the budget.

The money that will be tied up is $14,000 for the Union Avenue playground which many citizens felt wasn't a necessity. $16,000 has been set aside for skating rinks at Plansoen and Fairway playgrounds. $12,000 goes for the radio communication system for Public Works. Total $42,000.

Mrs. Sosin of 489 DeWitt Avenue was the first to speak against the Union Avenue playground. She wanted to know if it would be fenced in and supervised and what the net cost to taxpayers would amount to. She felt that with a blind entrance on Union Avenue, the area would become a teenage hangout.

Commissioner William Cullen, Recreation head, said the playground would be an all-purpose area, used by other than teenagers, but not suitable for football or baseball (Mrs. Sosin had noted that children have a football field marked outside her house). "The playground will satisfy 150 children and their others," said Cullen.

Objections were then raised about the safety of the area for youngsters and the cost. Cullen replied: "In the afternoon mothers like to take their children to the park and the cost will be $4,000. A fence alone will cost that," someone yelled. "The fence will cost $1500," said Cullen. Sam Paparado of 600 Union Avenue objected: "they have a playground. That's close. Why spend all that town money when they can go there."

James Reilly of 155 Crest Drive said, "the property's locked and useless. Let them use the Recreation house." A woman then shouted, "a private developer won't take the land." "That's debatable," said Cullen. "It can be used for building lots," he said. "Let them build," was the reply from the citizens. "If the playground is not used and deteriorates," said Cullen "we can resell it." Hethen showed a diagram of the proposed playground.

"What must we do," inquired Reilly. "We'll get more than 150 signees who don't want it." "What will they do at night?" "No lights are contemplated," said Cullen. Mayor Smith then interjected, "table it and discuss it privately with the citizens and tell them your plans," Cullen.

Reilly requested Commissioner Cullen to "please contact us when you want to have this meeting." "Yes," said Cullen.

Then Smith and Cullen argued about tabling the ordinance. Said Cullen: "I move that we pass it. There are other town requirements. There's a later resolution on the agenda authorizing the mayor to negotiate the buying of the property. Table the rest of the ordinance."

Commissioner Joseph McGreevy then opined that the measure was improperly drawn up. "There should have been separate ordinances."

The mayor said, after receiving an opinion from Town Attorney Nicholas Amato: "I see no harm in tabling it for two weeks until you work it out."

"This is highly unnecessary," replied Cullen. "There's a resolution authorizing advertising of bids for the skating rinks that gets tied up also. Amato had said: 'there is no money spent until the resolution is passed, the same as the capital improvement budget, where we project a seven year figure then make resolutions.'"

Cullen still wanted it passed. "Regardless of the $14,000 set aside in anticipation of bonds to be sold, if it's not consummated, we can rescind the ordinance and no money is spent. This precludes going back to the bonding attorneys and having three ordinances drawn up as Commissioner McGreevy suggests."

Finally, the ordinance was tabled.

Nurse Recruiter Visits High School

A dedicated young lady who wants everybody to know how wonderful it is to be a nurse will be visiting Belleville High School tomorrow.

She is Mrs. Barbara Haines, RN, and her job is recruitment officer for the Ann May School of Nursing, Jersey Shore Medical Center, Neptune, N.J.

Mrs. Haines was invited here to speak on nursing as a career. She brings with her a corps of student nurses from the Ann May School who will talk about their studies and staff work in the Medical Center.

There is a shortage of nurses everywhere, because of population increases, expanded care of patients and enlargement of facilities at many hospitals.

Jersey Shore Medical Center will open its new Extended Care Pavilion and Emergency Care Unit shortly after the first of the year. A number of registered nurses is needed to staff those new wings.

Mrs. Haines' nurse recruitment program takes her to schools and civic organizations through the state of New Jersey and into the bordering towns in Pennsylvania and New York. Ann May School student nurses come from miles away to enter the 64-year-old institution each year.

A young woman or man, who is 17 years or older and a high school graduate, is eligible to enter the three-year school.

Dr. Clemente Calls Riots "No Gain"

"Violence in our nation's streets cannot be tolerated," declared Congressional candidate, Dr. Celestino Clemente.

"Equal opportunity carries with it equal responsibility for law, order and justice," the doctor added, "and there cannot be any framework for progress through violence in America. I oppose any form of violence."

Dr. Clemente, a graduate of Rutgers and University of Pennsylvania College of Medicine, asks voters in the 10th Congressional District to support the Nixon "Victory Team" on Line "B."

The resolution to advertise for construction of skating rinks at Plansoen and Fairway Avenue Playgrounds was tabled (see related page one story) as there was no money for the ordinance.

A petition was received, signed by the residents of Overhill Road and Fairway Court requesting that the entrance to Bridge Brook Gardens be closed immediately for the safety of the people. The mayor requested that it be referred to the public works department since "you can't close one road until you open another one."

The next Commission meeting will be Tuesday, November 12.

Sex Seminars Are Successful

Recently completed at St. Peter's School was a series of two programs on sex education sponsored by the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Under the direction of Father Francis Ignacinos, and John Dillon, the series was intended to let the parents of high school children, know what is being done in the field of sex education in the schools, and what should be done by parents at home.

The first week's agenda featured a talk by three different people followed by a question and answer period.

Dr. James Fox, a gynecologist from Teaneck, gave a 35 minute talk. He was followed by Father Paul Nolan of St. Vincent's Parish in Bayonne. Then, Mrs. Thomas Cusick, a teacher on the staff of Belleville High School, spoke. After the speeches, the floor was opened to questions.

The second week had a different format. Index cards were passed out, and people in the audience were able to write down questions which were answered by respective members of a panel.

Mrs. Cusick was the only returning panelist for the second session. Joining her were Sister Shirley Corbliss, a Sister of Charity from East Orange Catholic High School for girls, and Brother James McGowan, a Christian Brother who is now teaching in a ghetto school in Baltimore.

One of the questions asked was how a religious, namely Brother James and Sister Shirley, is able to talk about sex in a high school classroom when he has dedicated his life to celibacy.

Both Brother and Sister admitted that they have to rely on information from their married sisters and brothers. They can, however, tell the importance of the love relationship that they see in many marriages, and the tragedy they see when such relationship is missing.

Girls and boys are different, the parents attending the sessions were told. The statement seems simple enough, but in reality it is quite complex. When a boy starts petting with a girl, he is trying to get her ready for sexual intercourse. A high school girl is not aware of this. She responds, yes, but her response is one of innocent love and not sexual excitement.

And it is in this area that the problem lies. Girls, especially girls from an all girl school, don't realize that there is such a thing as a male's point of view. When a girl thinks love, a boy is often thinking sex. It is only when love is the motive of both, that sex is put in its proper perspective.

But where does such an education start. Naturally, it has its origins in the home. Children must not be pushed off when they ask questions about sex. They are doing it innocently, and if they are answered truthfully and simply, they will be that much wiser, and that less the curious about why their parents evidently were hedging on a question they asked.

The most important part of sex education is stressing that love is the motivation for sex. This can be done only by parents. Children will see their parents in a relationship, and will grow to know the true meaning of love and sex.

Dr. Clemente Urges Financial Disclosure Law

Every congressman should be required by law to make an annual disclosure of personal worth, according to Dr. Celestino Clemente, the candidate for Congress in the 10th District.

He said he is "anxious to support a law in the U.S. House of Representatives which would impose rigid ethical guidelines upon its members."

"A public office is a public trust. The people deserve to be reassured that we are above reproach in our representation of them," he added.

Prior to making his statement, Dr. Clemente had revealed his own financial holdings in a report prepared by his accountant, Arthur J. Williams of Union, which was widely publicized in the public press.

Acquisition Announced By Kidde

Agreement in principle for the acquisition of Crum & Forster by Walter Kidde & Company, Inc., Belleville, was announced today by Fred R. Sullivan, chairman of Kidde, and William C. Ridgway, Jr., chairman of Crum & Forster.

Under the terms of the proposed agreement, Kidde would issue in a tax-free exchange for each common share of Crum & Forster a combination of Kidde equity securities having an estimated value at the closing of not less than $130. This combination of securities would also be issued on a proportionate basis to the holders of convertible preferred shares of Crum & Forster. This package would carry an annual cash dividend of $3.50, and would include a new series of Kidde convertible preferred stock.

"A mandatory code of ethics, including annual disclosure, would not only clear the air and many reputations, but also assure that if any of these things are going on, they will stop," Dr. Clemente concluded.

Dr. Clemente asked support of his position by voting the Nixon "Victory Team" on Line "B."

This advertisement was paid for by Angelo Fortunato as campaign manager of the Clemente for Congress Committee, 293 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair, N.J.

Dr. Clemente said that passage of a strong code of ethics for members of Congress will help to lift the cloud of general cynicism among the public toward politicians.

He said that in the last few years congressional investigations have exposed accounts of high-living on Congressional committee expense accounts, sinecures on congressional payrolls, allegations of personal profiteering from inside knowledge of congressional plans and suggestions of improper influence in behalf of potential government contractors.

"A mandatory code of ethics, including annual disclosure, would not only clear the air and many reputations, but also assure that if any of these things are going on, they will stop," Dr. Clemente concluded.

The Month Of November

November was formerly the ninth month in the old Roman calendar and when Pope Gregory revised the calendar it became the eleventh, though its name derives from the Latin word for nine. In American history it is also known as the month in which five Presidents were born.

James Polk, 11th President, was born in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina, November 2nd, 1795. Warren Harding, 29th President, was born at Blooming Grove, Morrow County, Ohio, on the 2nd in 1865, the year the Civil War ended. James Garfield, 20th President, was born in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, November 19th, 1831.

Franklin Pierce (pronounced Purse), 14th President, was born at Hillsborough, New Hampshire, November 23rd, 1804 and Zachary Taylor, 12th President, was born in Orange County, Virginia, November 24th, 1790.

November also contains Veteran's Day (old Armistice Day) on November 11th and Thanksgiving Day, this year on the 28th. And it is always election month in the United States.

The first Catholic bishop in the United States, John Carroll of Maryland, was appointed either on the 6th or 14th of November in 1789. There were then no Catholic schools in the United States and in 1791 he founded Georgetown College.

The first bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Samuel Seabury, was elected by clergymen of Connecticut in 1783, went to London for confirmation, waited a year, then journeyed to Scotland, where he was finally confirmed; upon his return to the United States Episcopalian candidates for the priesthood no longer had to journey to London for confirmation.

John Harvard, the first benefactor of Harvard University, was born November 26, 1607, and at his death left half his estate (about 750 pounds) and his library to endow a school (Harvard) for the youth of the Massachusetts colony.

Tar & Nicotine

The latest word from the Federal Trade Commission for suckers of cigarettes is that Marvels and Carlton filter cigarettes are lowest in tar content. Marvels are also lowest in nicotine, according to the results of the latest series of tests.

Since practically all medical authorities now agree that smokers would be wise to stop smoking, or if they can't stop, to smoke fewer cigarettes and those with a low tar and nicotine content, this latest rating is of widespread interest.

Of course, the best thing to do is to stop smoking altogether—and as one reads about more lungs being removed, more persons dying from lung cancer, and because of diseases thought to be related to heavy cigarette smoking, that conclusion becomes more and more inescapable.

Fortunately, more people are stopping the habit now than in many years and fewer young people are being tempted into beginning the habit by commercials and attractive adds. And when misleading smoking commercials are barred altogether from television, as in England, progress will undoubtedly come more rapidly.

Test For Polls

The November presidential election has posed the toughest test for the nation's opinion pollsters in twenty years. In recent days even the polltakers themselves are hedging, warning that special circumstances might make results vary widely from predictions.

As this is written it seems highly likely that Richard Nixon will receive the largest number of popular votes. But the polls vary widely on the extent of his lead. The Gallup Poll has shown him leading by approximately fifteen per cent. But other polls place his lead as low as five per cent.

Complicating the game this year is the George Wallace candidacy. The former Alabama Governor and General Curtis LeMay are given from fifteen to twenty per cent of the national vote by most pollsters. Not knowing exactly what the Nixon lead is, how strong Wallace really is, and how much change will take place among the three, rather than two, candidates, makes the poll taker's job risky, especially since such small samples of opinion are used.

And the value of public opinion sounding this year is further limited by the fact that electoral votes name a President, not popular votes. A candidate with only thirty per cent of the popular vote, even twenty-five, could win the Presidency this year. Thus even if the polls are reasonably accurate, they could mean little in 1968.

Rating Films

November is the first month of rated-films for Americans. Beginning on the first, film makers began labeling each film either G, M, R, or X. The G stands for general-admission to all. M designates a film as for mature audiences, but minors can still attend.

The R films are restricted in that they must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. (One suspects a lot of strange-looking parents will initially turn up at the R films.) The X films are for adults only and minors will not be admitted.

The film industry rushed into the rating system as a device to protect itself from government interference and to protect its rapidly growing market for grading the nation's youth from the increasingly adult films.

What the nation needs is a non-political, impartially selected group of non-industry citizens to rate both films and television programs. In this way television fare could be cleaned up; too much violence, crime, sadism, general immorality and degradation are currently used to attract audiences (for sales).

The new film rating system deserves a trial, however, and will get it. Meanwhile, it's a shame no rating system applies to television—which is the main source of immorality in America's homes, and a problem that will not be solved by a rating system for television.

November Wedding?

Seems Only Yesterday

1 YEAR AGO

Belleville is changing all its parking meters from 1 cent for twelve minutes to the new vandal proof nickel for an hour type. The Town Commission passed this resolution at their final reading at their last meeting. Two such units have already appeared in front of the Town Hall and 85 others will soon be placed on Washington Ave. between Rutgers St. and William St. The meters, made by the Rhodes Company of Hartford, feature guaranteed unbreakable windows, three eighth inch ductile iron vault sections, and locks which are internally located protected by a steel chamber and faceplate.

5 YEARS AGO

The Belleville Municipal Council passed an ordinance in 1963 creating the Belleville Commission on Civil Rights whose duties were to, "officially encourage and bring about mutual understanding and respect by all ethnic and racial groups in town." The duty of enforcing this ordinance was delegated to the commission through the police. The Belleville Board of Education passed the controversial dual-control amendment over the objections of Dr. Frank Durkee, superintendent of schools and board members Richard Drake and Mrs. Norman McCool. The amendment passed by a 4-2 vote. The passing of the amendment allowed the Board to pass over the disapproval of a request to establish the position of school business administrator by the County Superintendent of Schools.

The Belleville Times was judged second best weekly in the State, among weeklies with circulations between 3,000 and 6,000.

10 YEARS AGO

The citizens Tax Council came out in support of the proposed referendum for council-manager form of government initiated by Riviera Civic Park Association.

Belleville's Civil Defense units which took part in a recent state-wide exercise performed admirably according to Newark's Deputy Director Howard Wright.

Two Belleville High School students ran away from home following suspension from school for smoking.

Campaign Chairman Allan Crisp announced that the United Fund Campaign would be extended to November 10.

20 YEARS AGO

Eminent townswoman Mrs. Lenora B. Willette of 137 Stephan St. was the recipient of a citation for outstanding work and achievement in the fields of civic betterment and social welfare awarded by the New Jersey Herald News.

The Times quoted Peter Rodino, "I will be the stooge of no man in Congress, and if ever I cannot exercise my own independent judgement, I will not run again."

Plans for the formation of a swimming class were announced by the Belleville Chapter of the Red Cross. The first lesson was scheduled to start November 20 at the Passaic Y.M.C.A.

25 YEARS AGO

An advertisement in the Times read: How many boys from Belleville won't come back? Nobody knows the exact number. But the number that do come back will be in exact proportion to the job we do at home. For every minute we can help shorten the war will mean more lives saved. You are standing at a train station when a bunch of home town boys climb off the train, still in uniform. One of them kisses his wife and grabs his kids in his arms. Then he turns to a young woman beside them and says, "Catherine, I don't know how to tell you how sorry I am, it's such a shame about Joe, it makes me sick all over to think that he would be here now if the war had ended only a week sooner." Think it over.

35 YEARS AGO

For the third time in as many years the Lions Club will entertain with a music show when the club presents James H. Fithian's "Isle of Sunshine".

With a minimum of fuss and feathers Belleville is preparing to vote at the general election on Tuesday. Both the Republicans and the Democrats will hold 11th hour rallies in the Elks Club on Saturday and Monday nights. There was little or no interest in the election of county supervisor and the Board of Freeholders, and twelve assemblymen.

55 YEARS AGO

The Home Loan Corporation came to the rescue of the annual tax sale (1932 taxes) which was held at town hall Monday. While outside buyers were taking $20,000 less than last year of the delinquencies offered, the Home Loan gave assurance that 137 properties would receive aid; a part of which is payment of overdue taxes.

Mayor Reinheimer told the Town Board Monday night that in a conference with John T. Kenter, and a vice president of the Public Service, he learned the reason that the Public Service was not using the terminal at the stream which marks the boundary between Newark and Belleville to make connections. It was due to City of Newark's not allowing the Public Service to take a certain route they felt they should.

If Nutley folks would have put up more pennies in the Lions Club fund, they would see it that every child in school who needed milk would get it.

Speak Up

McGreevy For GOP

To the Times:

As Belleville's Finance Director I would like to point out to the Belleville voter why he should vote Republican because of the financial advantages the town derived through the efforts of the Republican Legislators and Freeholders in 1968.

Governor Hughes vetoed two bills (1) Return of 23 million in sales tax revenue to the Municipalities; (2) An Education Bill giving the local communities $25.00 per pupil. These two bills were enacted into law when the Republican Majority overrode his vetoes. On the Sales Tax bill the town of Belleville will receive $138,000.00 for General Purposes. Why should we in Belleville pay $138,000.00 for Police and Fire Department raises in Newark as the Governor felt we should? The Education Bill will give the Belleville Board of Education $140,000.00 or $28,000.00 more than Governor Hughes felt we should receive.

Through the combined efforts of Freeholder Farley and the County legislators the state is taking over 75% of the County Welfare Costs which should bring about a reduction in the county budget. This will be the first reduced county budget in 40 years. So for these fiscal reasons I recommend to the Belleville voters to cast their ballots for the entire Republican Ticket on November 5.

Sincerely,
Commissioner
Joseph
McGreevy

Clemente Extremist

To The Times:

Dr. Clemente, the Republican candidate for Congress in the 10th District, has unleashed the most vile and vicious attack ever leveled against Congressman Rodino during his 20 years in office.

Dr. Clemente, who must be some kind of an extremist, said he considers Congressman Rodino an "active accomplice in the attempted murder of the State of Israel."

This is the kind of demagoguery one would expect only from a dangerously desperate candidate.

Peter Rodino has been a true and loyal friend of Israel throughout his 20 years in office. I have followed Congressman Rodino's record closely, and I know that he has supported and worked for passage of every measure to give aid and assistance to Israel and her people. On his own initiative, he introduced resolutions demanding arms and equipment be sent by the United States to strengthen Israel in that nation's struggle against the Arabs.

Congressman Rodino's support of Israel has been unwavering and uncompromising for 20 unbroken years. He has personally played an active role in the sale of Bonds for Israel, and he has been most helpful in furthering the work of the Forest Hill Chapter of Hadassah, of which I am president.

Dr. Clemente has forfeited any claim he may have had to serious consideration for public office as a result of his indecent and untrue accusations. I intend to work harder than ever for the reelection of Congressman Rodino.

Sincerely,

Miss Sadye Gerson
23 Dow Street

Clemente Favors Ethical Guidelines

To the Times

Dr. Celestino Clemente, Republican nominee of the 10th Congressional District publicized his net worth recently in the New York Times and several local newspapers. It is refreshing to see a political candidate make such a declaration.

"I am anxious to support a law in the House of Representatives which would impose rigid ethical guidelines upon its members," he said. Dr. Clemente also stated that every Congressman should make an annual financial disclosure.

It is hoped that eventually this view will be shared by all who aspire to positions of public trust. Dr. Clemente should be commended.

Sincerely,
Jack DelGuercio

On Saturday a motorcade will wind its way through Belleville in support of the Republican candidates on Row B. Participating will be cars from Belleville, Montclair, Glen Ridge, Bloomfield, Nutley and Newark. The demonstration will take place between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

This Sunday there will be a pre-election Nixon party, sponsored by the Belleville United Citizens for Nixon-Agnew at committee headquarters, 105 Washington Avenue, corner of Williams Street.

The affair will begin at 4 p.m. and will be attended by local candidates and elected officials from the country and state government. Entertainment and refreshments will be part of the program.

Hosts will be Danny Pascale, Jack DelGuercio and Carl DeJura.

The Belleville Varsity Club will sponsor the Twenty-Fourth Annual Football Banquet on Friday evening, December 6, at the Robin Hood Inn in Clifton, New Jersey.

This annual event will honor the coaches and players of the 1968 Belleville High School football team.

Bob Cassin, President of the club, appointed Ralph Casale and Jerry Bonavito to serve as co-chairmen of the banquet committee. Both men were on the committee for the first banquet given in 1945. Joe Grosch, Mike Marotti and Joe Valvano will serve on the committee with them.

Emphasizing the need to replace the welfare system with honest and steady work for every able-bodied person, Dr. Celestino Clement, a candidate for congress in the 10th District, said that: "There can be no justification for establishment of a 'reverse income tax' in place of welfare.

"Such a system," Dr. Clement said, "offers no incentive for recipients to support themselves or their families."

Dr. Clemente of Glen Ridge, who is chief of staff of United Hospitals of Newark and director of surgery at Babies Hospital here, advocated locally operated free day care centers for children of welfare recipients so that parents will be free to work.

The congressional candidate also favored dissemination of family planning information on what he called "a new and emphatic scale." He said that family planning is an important part of the welfare system.

"The present administration of the welfare system," Dr. Clemente stated, "has produced generations of recipients who have no incentive to break the cycle, thus the strong, guaranteed work program should help reverse this trend."

Dr. Clemente urges support of this program by voting the Nixon "Victory Team" on Line "B."

This advertisement was paid for by Angelo Fortunato, campaign manager for the Clemente for Congress Committee, 293 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair, N.J.

Discard The Draft, Says Dr. Clemente

Declaring that our conscription system, like our global activities, is long overdue for reassessment, Dr. Celestino Clemente said: "The time has come to discard the draft system in its entirety and replace it with a professional army."

"Such an army of well-trained, well-paid career personnel," the Congressional candidate continued, "would be supported by strong National Guard and Reserve units, kept in total readiness for time of emergency."

Dr. Clemente, who once served as an officer in the Naval Medical Corps, added that a change in the draft system should be given high priority at the end of hostilities in Southeast Asia.

Urging voters in the 10th Congressional District to support his bid for a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives, Dr. Clemente asked them to vote the Nixon "Victory Team" on Line "B."

TRUTH-IN-POLITICS Congressman Rodino Verses Dr. Clemente

Voters of the 10th District have come to expect truth-in-politics from their candidates for Congress. For as long ago as the oldest of us can remember, we have enjoyed decent, clean and fair campaigning in our congressional races. This year our fine record has been shattered . . . to our dismay and disappointment.

The Republican candidate for Congress, Dr. Celestino Clemente, has seen fit to hurl vicious untruths and outrageously false accusations at his opponent, Congressman Peter Rodino.

Dr. Clemente, in a paid political ad, said he considers Congressman Rodino an "active accomplice in the attempted murder" of a nation friendly to the United States. He also ascribed a "policy" and a "philosophy" to Congressman Rodino that are completely opposite to the views of Congressman Rodino, and which are totally refuted by the record and actions of Congressman Rodino.

In filing a formal complaint with the Fair Campaign Practices Committee in Washington last week, Congressman Rodino said he took this action "with reluctance, and only after carefully reviewing the sinister nature of the untrue charges that Dr. Clemente has made against me."

It is significant to us that Congressman Rodino is presently seeking office for the 12th consecutive time since 1946, but this is the first and only time that he has been compelled to file an unfair practice complaint against any opponent in order to safeguard his name, honor and his reputation.

Congressman Rodino has represented the 10th District with honor and distinction since 1948. He has received the Amvets' Silver Helmet, their highest award, "in recognition of his continuing efforts and contributions to the public interest, his leadership in foreign affairs, his strong belief and aid toward the betterment of mankind throughout the world, his many activities in behalf of veterans, youth and our senior citizens."

Congressman Rodino received the VFW Silver Medal of Merit for his fight against Communism and distinguished service awards from the Italian-American War Veterans, the Catholic War Veterans, the Jewish War Veterans and other organizations dedicated to the interests of the nation.

In the past elections, Congressman Rodino's opponents have differed with him on specific issues and specific legislative views, but the use of character assassination and the Big Lie technique was shunned by all candidates until Dr. Clemente appeared on the political scene.

We believe in honest disagreement and vigorous debate between candidates, but we abhor the discredited campaign tactics that Dr. Clemente has embraced in this election.

We urge all 10th District voters who share our concern for truth, fairness and decency in political campaigning to join with us in repudiating Dr. Clemente by working for and voting for the re-election of Congressman Rodino.

A grateful Electric Glassheat user says:

"If you notice the temperature you have the wrong heater"

BETTER SWITCH TO GLASSHEAT

IT'S A COMFORTABLE HEAT that Glassheat gives—never too hot, never too cold," he continued.

"So comfortable in fact you never notice the temperature at all. Regardless of the weather it feels like a sunny day indoors. Imagine—every room sunshine warm all winter long. No drafts, no cold corners, just comfort!"

No wonder Electric Glassheat reminds you of sunshine. It is the only heating system that warms with healthful radiant electric rays exactly like the rays of the sun. And this is true throughout the house for every room has its own money-saving thermostat and heating unit.

You can regulate the temperature of each room exactly as you want it, one quite warm, another cooler. And if a room is unoccupied, turn back the thermostat, close the door and save money!

IT'S HEALTHFUL HEAT TOO!

"We had fewer colds last winter and everyone felt fine" says an owner in Caldwell. This is a common report from owners because Electric Glassheat has no flame to burn up the life giving oxygen or produce toxic fumes. And the sunshine rays of Glassheat not only produce an even temperature but maintain humidity at the level doctors recommend for good health.

SAVE CLEANING TIME AND MONEY

"No soot, no smoke, no grime. Glassheat is wonderful," writes another user. "Have never seen anything so clean. Saves me hours I used to spend cleaning and painting."

Another says "In 16 years the only room we have had to do over is the kitchen. No need to repaint the other rooms or dry clean our drapes. And our venetian blinds still look fresh and new. That's why so many owners say, 'Install Electric Glassheat and take it easy.'"

SAFE! Electric Glassheat is absolutely fire-safe and can't overheat. No fumes to worry about, and even accidental contact can't cause blistering.

Electric Glassheat is as silent as sunshine and as pleasant, for there are no moving parts. Saves space too for the area usually used by radiators, furnaces and flues is yours for extra living space.

SAVE MONEY ON HEAT! People admit that Electric Glassheat is tops for comfortable heating. But some feel that it is so ideal it might be too expensive. This is not true—as you will see from these letters describing Glassheat's economy.

One writes, "We installed Glassheat for its greater comfort with the hope that it would be reasonably economical to operate. So we were not prepared for our very low annual heating bills. And since we can now take advantage of the special low heating rate, we save money on our regular current too. And there are no maintenance charges. It all adds up to better heat for less money.

"Though we added two extra rooms" says another owner, "my heating bill is only $175. A pleasant surprise and we have never been so comfortable."

That's the Electric Glassheat story. People install it because of its many advantages—then are delighted to find it is an economy as well.

WHY PAY MORE FOR LESS?

Does Electric Glassheat sound luxurious? It is in every respect but cost. If you would like to know what Electric Glassheat will do for the health, comfort and welfare of your family—and how little it will cost, send the coupon, or phone.

So you're not going to vote?

Nixon thanks you.

Wallace thanks you.

Agnew thanks you.

LeMay thanks you.

Because if you don't vote, you're actually casting a "vote by default" for the revitalized coalition of Dixiecrats and reactionary Republicans who will govern in your name for four to eight long years.

There are no sidelines.

A vote withheld from Hubert Humphrey merely adds weight to those cast for Richard Nixon. And George Wallace. And their running mates, Agnew and LeMay.

By your vote—or your silence—you are passing judgment not on a man. Not on a political ticket. Not on a single, emotion-charged issue. But on an entire philosophy of government.

Because the record of what Hubert Humphrey stands for, and his opponents reject, is long and explicit.

You need only stay home on Election Day to be counted:

Against the nuclear test ban treaty

Against Medicare

Against twenty years of hard-won civil rights legislation

Against urban redevelopment

Against arms limitation

Against the all-important word "Justice" added to the plea for law and order

Make no mistake about it...the alternative to a Humphrey administration is a Nixon and Wallace administration.

And that's what you will get if you don't vote.

This is the second year for such plans. Last year about fifty people took the trip. Interested alumni and their families will go by chartered bus to the college where they will lunch in Sharples Dining Hall with members of the faculty. Afterwards there will be tours of the new buildings on the campus.

A football game with Johns Hopkins and a cross country meet with the same university are scheduled for the afternoon. A post-game tea will present another opportunity to talk with faculty and old friends. Miss Elinor Griest is in charge of the excursion.

Mrs. Gerlaine Goff of 121 Carpenter St., Belleville, was among 63 medical assistants honored at a recent dinner in Ohio during the American Association of Medical Assistant's 12th annual convention.

"The Certification examination," according to Certifying Board Chairman Louise King of Waycross, Ga., "is a professional goal signifying broad mastery of AAMA's standards for highly qualified medical assistants." Although the majority of those taking the exam belong to AAMA, membership in the sponsoring organization is not a requisite for taking the two-day test.

RAW SURFACE WATER IS NOT SAFE TO DRINK

It is no longer considered safe to drink raw surface water from either lakes or streams. Civilization, with its potential contamination, has invaded even the wilderness area.

When traveling distances from approved public water supplies, it is wise to have a filled Thermos or canteen. For an emergency use, two drops of Tincture of Iodine in a pint of water, left to stand for a half hour before drinking is safe. Easier to use is a product we carry called Halazone. One tablet purifies a pint of water. Explorers use them.

Weight Watchers Meeting Greets 110 Major Losers

Members of local and nearby Weight Watchers classes have returned from their annual statewide convention in Asbury Park, Sunday, October 6. Some 2,500 members witnessed the installation in Weight Watchers Hall of Fame of 110 New Jerseyans who have lost between 100 and 200 pounds each—and three who have lost more than 200 pounds each. The number of major weight losers is the highest of any Weight Watchers operational area in the world. Main speaker was International Founder and Director Jean Nidetch. The installation ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Cecile Fein, who with her husband, Lester S., the national Basketball Coach of the Year, introduced Weight Watchers in New Jersey almost four years ago. Mrs. Fein was the first 100-pound loser. Among the 100-pound losers are three area residents. From Belleville are Miss Dorothy Flint of 14 Mount Pleasant Avenue and Mrs. Harry Fullmer of 7 Memphis Avenue. The big loser in Nutley was Miss Violet Pagnano of 111 Bloomfield Avenue. A highlight of the convention was the arrival of a contingent of bicyclists who had wheeled 50 miles from Newark. The "bikegrimage" was headed by Henry P. Krumwiede, 63, who had lost 60 pounds in an Irvington class. Krumwiede, a famous cyclist in his younger years had been impeded in recent years by overweight. The group accompanying him, all metropolitan area buffs, was welcoming him back into the bike world, an activity made possible by his weight loss. * * * * * More than 6,000 medical research projects are under way at 146 VA hospitals. * * * * * Among the 1.7 million Vietnam era veterans are 14,000 under 20 years of age. * * * * *

Put up or shut up

Stop beefing about jammed and dangerous roads that New Jersey hasn't modernized since 1930 . . . about the fact that we don't have enough college classroom space for over half our youngsters . . . about commuter railroads on the verge of collapse . . . about institutions so jammed nearly 1500 mentally retarded persons can't even be admitted.

You can stop beefing and do something Tuesday, Election Day. Go into that booth and put up your voting hand. First vote yes on the three New Jersey bond issues, then for your candidates.

Remember, the State Treasurer said publicly that paying off the bonds will not require a personal income tax. But if we fail to okay the bonds he said we'll be left with two choices: Do without badly-needed facilities or pay for them with a new tax, probably an income tax.

Stop beefing. Get in there and vote Bonds Yes, taxes no. Put up (your voting hand) or shut up. Election Day.

How to stop paying 10¢ and 15¢ toll charges when you call people living in other towns.

Here's a way to eliminate 10¢ and 15¢ toll charges on calls to New Jersey telephone numbers. It's a new service called Selective Calling, and it's available right now. * Here's how it works for individual-line residence customers. You select the 10- or 15-cent New Jersey exchange areas served by New Jersey Bell that you call or would like to call frequently. You pay an additional small fixed monthly charge for each exchange selected. Then you can make as many calls as you wish to those exchanges at no extra cost. The monthly rate for the first exchange you select ranges from $1.25 to $2.50. Additional exchanges cost only 25¢ to $1.50. Wouldn't you like to talk long and often to friends or family living in these 10- or 15-cent exchange areas? And talk happily without toll charges? If so, Selective Calling makes it very easy and economical to do just that.

A similar Selective Calling plan is available at different rates to customers with business phones. For more information, please call your Telephone Business Office. SELECTIVE CALLING: another new service from New Jersey Bell that can save you money. * Selective Calling is available in most areas of New Jersey

GOP Freeholders Campaign Here

Michael Lepre, speaking at a tea in Belleville this week, told the guests that "After fourteen years of inefficient government due to lack of management, the incumbent freeholders, Republicans, have brought efficient management ideas to county government and this is the team my fellow candidates and I are going to join".

Lepre is a candidate for Freeholder on the Line B, Nixon-Agnew ticket. He is a Councilman in the Boro of Caldwell. As a member of Police and Public Safety Committee, he led in the formulation of one of the first detailed suburban plans to handle civil disorders.

He was instrumental in evaluating and modernizing equipment of both Police and Fire Departments.

As Chairman of the Public Works Department, he reorganized the work force, improved morale and increased pay 8%.

Risoli Court Appearance Scheduled

A court appearance date has been set for Ralph Risoli after he served show cause papers last week on his removal from the municipal payroll of Belleville.

November 8 in Superior Court at the Hall of Records in Newark, Risoli will present his case. For the third straight week, his name did not appear on the payroll under Registrar. He also has a case pending for his enstatement as administrative clerk in the department of public affairs.

Risoli claims Town Attorney Nicholas Amato is overstepping his authority in removing the registrar's name from the official dockets. He wants the bounds Amato can work within determined.

Dr. Clemente Asks Equality Of Law Enforcement

"All laws in the United States must be enforced with equality of justice for every individual," Dr. Celestino Clemente said.

The candidate for Congress in the 10th Congressional District added: "Protection of life and property is as basic a right as the right to vote in America, and must be assured."

Dr. Clemente, attending surgery at Presbyterian Hospital, Newark and St. Vincent's Hospital, Montclair, urged voters in the 10th Congressional District to support the Nixon "Victory Team" by voting Line "B."

This advertisement is paid for by the Clemente for Congress Committee located at 293 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair, N.J. Angelo Fortunato is the campaign manager.

THE ROAD TO A REPUBLICAN VICTORY BEGINS ON LINE B

These are the principles for which Richard Nixon stands:

- The right of dissent—orderly dissent.
- The American people must be told the truth—no more lies.
- The war in Vietnam must be brought to an honorable end.
- The South Vietnamese must be trained to win their own war.
- No more foreign aid to people who are unfriendly to the United States.
- The United States must have a strong foreign policy.
- The American moral position must be re-established throughout the world.

Dr. Clemente Objects To U.S. 'World Policeman' Role

On the basis of his assertion that many of our allies in the free world are trading with our enemies, Dr. Celestino Clemente, candidate for Congress in the 10th Congressional District, said that the United States' role as "world policeman" must be re-evaluated in terms of cost and effectiveness.

"It is foolish for this country to assume full responsibility for world protection," Dr. Clemente said, "therefore, we must take a new, long and hard look at those policies which support nations feeding our enemies in Cuba and North Viet Nam."

"Furthermore, we must insist that other free countries assume their proportional share of the burden for maintenance of world peace," the candidate concluded.

Dr. Clemente asked voters of the 10th Congressional District to support his bid for a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives by voting the Nixon "Victory Ticket" on Line "B."

This advertisement was paid for by the Clemente for Congress Committee, 293 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair, N.J., through Angelo Fortunato, campaign manager.

What can a penny buy today?

A lot — when you add up the penny you're already paying on each gallon of gas sold in New Jersey today. The extra penny will build and improve our highways and rehabilitate our commuter rail network.

What will your penny buy? A major face-lifting for New Jersey's roads: construction and completion of numerous intrastate freeways . . . dualization and improvements of existing State highways . . . elimination of many dangerous grade crossings . . . sharp reduction of auto deaths and injuries . . . a billion-dollar drop in accident costs . . . new jobs for thousands . . . new business and industry to ease the homeowner's tax burden . . . in short, a first-class highway network to get N. J. moving again.

For the railroad commuter it will mean: 400 new air conditioned railway cars . . . improvement of stations and parking facilities . . . direct access to mid-Manhattan for thousands . . . more high-level platforms to ease loading . . . improved ticketing procedures to speed up things . . . more miles of electrified rail lines and inter-connections.

And there's much more. All for the penny that you're already paying. It makes good sense to vote yes for Public Question 2 on your Nov. 5th ballot.

Boilermakers Can Boast Own Keyes In Star Quarterback Leo Gasienica

Garfield Is Bellboys Opponent At First Annual Alumni Day

Belleville hasn't won at home yet, but Coach John Amabile thinks things will be different this time. "It's Homecoming week and Alumni Week. The parents will be in the stands. We'll be up for it." The opposition is Garfield, which sports a 3 and 2 record. "They're a big team physically," remarked Amabile. "They have two good tailbacks," he said referring to Vic Amoroso and soph Tom Briggs who filled in for injured fullback Walt Wiatrak last week against Paterson Kennedy.

"Our big concern is to keep up our physical conditioning to stay with them all the way. Monday is usually a light working day for us, but they wanted to work out with pads so it looks like they'll be ready." Coming off injuries and expected to play are John Mozeika and Joe Ritacco. Ritacco missed the Irvington game and his defensive play was missed in attempting to stop Irvington's wide running game. Joe is starting to come around from a pulled muscle in his left thigh. Mozeika has a broken blood vessel in his right leg from the Camptowner skirmish.

The team and Amabile were in good spirits after Saturday's come from behind win at Irvington. Jim Wille scored the winning touchdown and gained over 100 yards, giving him over 350 for the season, or almost 90 a game. "He's been hurt for two weeks (he was injured in the Nutley game) and considering that he did a fine job."

Doug Brown also drew his coach's praise. "He gives us speed." Another sophomore who's "coming around is center Jim Valvano. Brown is emerging as the runner Amabile thought he would be. He also made the best hit of the afternoon in the Irvington game on a punt return.

"The seniors are doing the job." Cited were Bob Bonfante, Wille, Bob Ciallella and Carl Corino. "I'm glad we came back," said Amabile, sounding like a Brylcreem devotee.

"We still have problems with our passing game (no completions against Irvington which we hope to solve." Saturday the Belleboys will also have to solve the Boilermaker passing game. Leo Gasienica threw three TD strikes and ran for two more in a 34-6 rout of Paterson Kennedy. Does Amabile fear Gasienica? "There's no lie about that." Garfield opened its season with a 14-6 loss to Nutley. Wiatrak, whose status is questionable gained 77 yards that day. Belleville lost to Nutley, 14-6. The Boilermakers then rebounded to beat East Paterson 19-13 and nip Passaic 21-20. The Bellboys play Passaic November 23, in a rain postponed encounter.

Another common foe is powerful East Orange. Belleville bowed 26-0; Garfield fell 27-0. On the comparative basis of scores from the Nutley and East Orange games, the new math points to Garfield as a 5 point favorite.

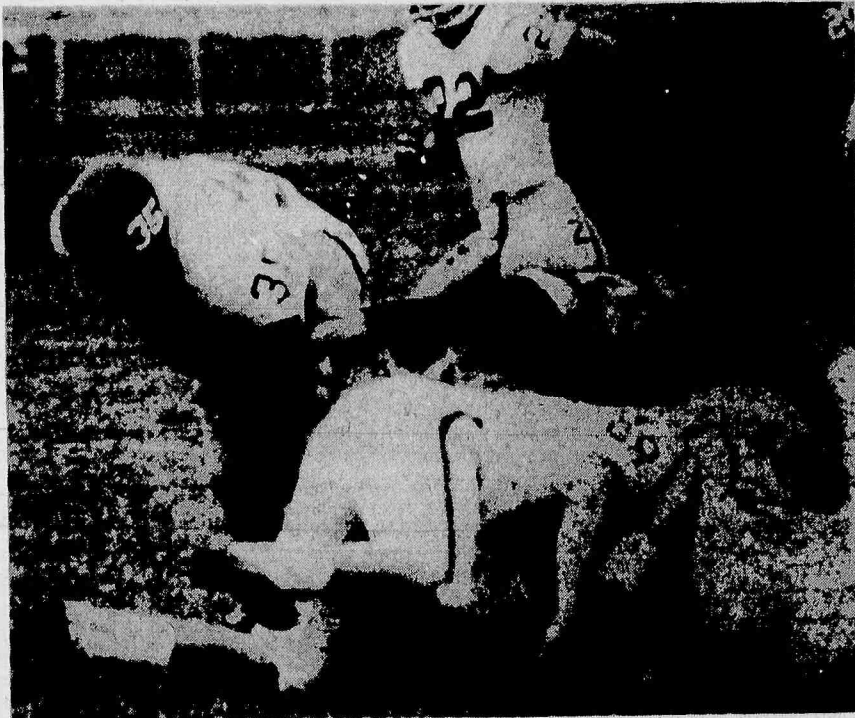

Coach Frank Dawson's squad is in first place in the Passaic Valley Conference where they're 3-0. Other running threats are Harry Kroll and Don Serritella. The receiving corps consists of split end Ron Mueller who caught two of Gasienica's touchdown tosses last week (Amoruso grabbed the other one), Jim Thomas and Ike Thomas who handles the place kicking in addition to hauling in passes. It should be an interesting homecoming.

RECREATION PLANS ANNUAL TURKEY SHOOT

This year's Turkey Shoot is again sponsored by the Recreation Department under the direction of Commissioner Bill Cullen. It will be held on Sunday, November 24, at the Police Pistol Range on Jorammon Street between the hours of 1 and 4 P.M.

Shooters must be at least 12 years old and targets will cost $1. Rifles and ammunition will be furnished.

OUT OF REACH — Bellboy Jim Wille futilely grasps Irvington's Tim Vorhies as Campers Fullback scores from the two on fourth down plunge in first quarter. Wille later scored on a similar play and Bob Ciallella's placement provided margin of victory.

Belleville Overtakes Irvington 7-6 Behind Running Of Wille And Brown

Six passes were intercepted in Saturday's Irvington contest (three by each side), but the Bellboys, playing one of their best halves of football, overcame a 6-0 deficit to defeat the Camptowners 7-6 for their second win. It was the fourth straight year Irvington has been jumped.

Belleville's rushing game got going in the second half as they piled up 156 yards, ripping holes for Jim Wille and Doug Brown in the lighter Irvington line. The scrappy Campers had outplayed Belleville in the first half.

The first time the Bellboys had the ball they gave it up on the game's first interception. Gene Vargas picked off a Ted DelGuercio aerial meant for Walt Kaeli and returned it to the Bellboy 30. "He was covered," moaned Coach John Amabile on the sideline.

Irvington drove the 30 yards all on the ground. Quarterback Mike Basile ran the option rollout to perfection. Belleville was offside on fourth and two at the 18. Tony Liaci and Tim Vorhies carried to a first and goal at the 6 but Irvington was set back to the 11 by an illegal procedure call. On fourth and goal from the two, Vorhies slammed through a big hole for the score.

Basile's extra point try was wide, but he was hindered by a poor snap from center.

It was cold and windy at Matthews Field, but Coach Amabile was oblivious to the elements in the first half, pacing the sidelines in his shirt sleeves. He later wore a jacket.

Early in the third quarter, Basile was again running the option, when his lateral was mishandled and Ron Brewhren pounced on it for the Bellboys at midfield. Joe Vitiello, playing at halfback, slashed off tackle to the Irvington 30. The gain was nullified by a clipping penalty, but Doug Brown got the first down anyway, driving through half a dozen tacklers on a 27 yard jaunt to the 14.

When Irvington finally stopped Brown, his face mask was grabbed, making it first and goal at the 7. Brown carried to the 5 and then Jim Wille sliced through a nice opening for the tying tally. Bob Ciallella, who hadn't missed yet on extra points, made his second of the year (he's also kicked a 35 yard field goal) to put Belleville ahead, 7-6.

Then came the fourth quarter histrionics. Wille carried to the Irvington 28 as the Bellboys marched following a Bob Baumgartner interception. Belleville completed only three passes all afternoon, but to make it worse, Irvington made all the receptions. Jon Sanford, the Campers' throwing quarterback, stopped the drive at the 22 with a steal.

Sanford stayed in at quarterback and lateraled to John Mahon who threw a pass that was intercepted by Bob Baker at the Irvington 26. The Bellboys drove to the 10 but DelGuercio threw incomplete to Kaeli and Vitiello in the end zone.

From there Irvington made a serious bid to go ahead, Vinnie Giordano caught two passes for 50 yards to the Belleville 40. A face mask infraction brought the ball to the 25. On fourth and nine, Frank Fury saved the day with yet another interception. There was 6:57 left in the game.

Here the Belleville running attack came to life again and effectively ran out the clock, as Wille ripped off two long gainers and Brown another. The Bellboys drove for four

Dr. Clemente Against Income Tax Surcharge

Stating that reduction of federal government expenditures is a major priority, Dr. Celestino Clemente, candidate for Congress in the 10th District, said, "I intend to work diligently to eliminate the present 10% income tax surcharge, as soon as government spending is reduced to a sane level."

"The United States cannot afford any more $50 billion deficit budgets. We can and must bring about a balanced budget or face serious crisis," he added.

Dr. Clemente urged voters in Newark's North, East and South Wards, in addition to those in Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Montclair, and Cedar Grove to support the Nixon "Victory Team" on Line "B."

Undefeated Frosh Down Orange, 19-12 To Take Over Top Spot In Big Ten

The Baby Bellboys took over undisputed possession of first place in the Big 10 standings by downing heretofore unbeaten Orange 19-12 Saturday, for their fourth win in as many starts.

"The defense was responsible again," said Assistant Coach George Zanfini. He and Head Coach John Senesky have molded their own 11 angry men.

In the first quarter the defense's hard hitting caused an Orange fumble on their own 15. On third down, quarterback Joe Lotruglio hit Sal Cicalese for the touchdown. The extra point attempt failed and the Bellboys maintained for a 65 yard score, upping the count to 12-0. Orange came back to tighten up the contest at 12-6 but the defense rose to the occasion again.

Belleville put Orange in a hole with a coffin corner punt on the 2 yard line. Risimini fought through blockers on a sweep and nailed Orange's halfback in the end zone; he fumbled and Richard Ciallella fell on it for another score for the defense, making the lead 18-6.

Lotruglio added the 19th point with a toss to end Frank Petite. Orange drove for another TD to close the gap to 19-12 but the defense shut them out the rest of the way. "We moved the ball," said Zanfini in victory after the contest "but the defense set it up."

This week's foe is Irvington in an away game. The Campers fell to the varsity and the freshmen hope to follow suit. The undefeated frosh then return home for the final three tilts, against East Orange, Essex Catholic and the Sophs.

Bart Starr has an appropriate name. He threw four touchdowns, and completed 17 out of 25 for 259 yards against the Cowboys Monday night.

The Packers overcame a 10-0 deficit to move into a tie for their division lead. Starr was sharp, even in the first quarter. The Packers drove to the Dallas 30 but new man Erroll Mann missed a 37 yard field goal. Dallas then went ahead. After Craig Baynham made an important first down on a third and two at the Dallas 28, Meredith hit Hayes twice, who beat strong safety Tom Brown twice. On the touchdown Brown was with him, but the ball was perfectly thrown; Brown swiped at it and missed.

The Packers appeared in trouble when on the first play from scrimmage after the score a Starr pass was tipped by Mel Renfro and intercepted by Mike Johnson. Tom Brown intercepted on the next play. It started to look like the Irvington game. The momentum was still Dallas' though. Their line opened big holes, running at Henry Jordan and Lionel Aldridge. Mike Clark's 14 yard field goal made it 10-0.

Starr was sending his wide receivers long and undercutting them with his backs. He hit Donny Anderson continually, and Anderson displaying a great pair of hands hauled in six for the night. Paul Christman wondered if Starr's arm was okay; if he could throw long. No matter. Using a favorite play, the off cadence stutter count, Starr drew the Cowboys offside for a first down on the Dallas 32. Third downs are where Starr excels and he hit tight end Marv Fleming for a first on the 21. He then pinpointed Carroll Dale who beat Cornell Green who reached and came up empty handed. Green a former basketball All American at Utah State had also reached and missed on Dale in the '66 title game.

The Pack drove again. Starr trailed Anderson again and hit him on the three. You'd expect the Packers to try three running plays. Taking a page from Meredith's book, Starr rolled out and passed to Fleming for the score, making it 14-10. Starr hit Fleming again for the Packers' third score.

Don Meredith, attempting to rally his team, suffered a broken nose instead. It was his fourth one; he's in the Jerry West class there. Baynham caught a TD pass and suddenly it was 21-17, the score of last year's gold final.

The Packers made Baynham fumble and Starr switched to his favorite receiver Boyd Dowler, hitting him twice in a row, the six coming on a slant in from the 5.

Dallas came back, as only they can against Green Bay. But on 4th and 8 at the Packer 40, Landry sent in his field goal unit. Three points wouldn't have done him any good, even if Clark had made it, for another touchdown would have left them one point short. A later Dallas march was stopped by a Bob Jeter interception in the end zone. Now fans can wait for that third straight title match.

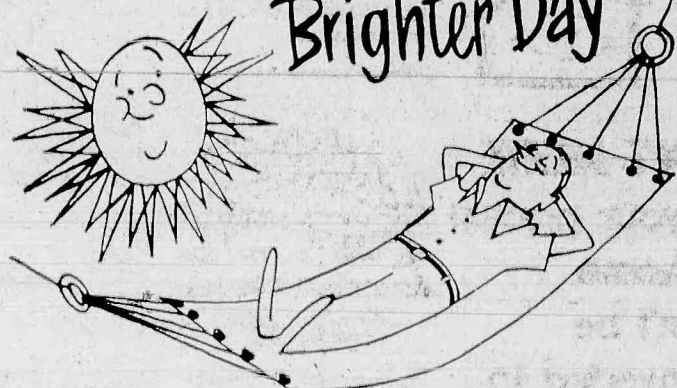

In an unexpected move, Bob Gibson was named winner of the Cy Young Award.

The Olympic basketball team featured the outstanding play of 19 year old Spencer Haywood. He now goes to Detroit. The university that is, although the Pistons would love to have him step in right now and solve their center problems. For a moment it looked like there might be a replay of the great orange juice scandal involving Chet Walker when he had stomach trouble before the NIT finals for Bradley.

Question: What was the last time East Orange lost a football game?

Answer: Montclair beat them 14-0 in 1966, a defeat the Panthers avenged last week 34-20 to extend their unbeaten streak to 17.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

In the old days of sound reproduction it was the rule that you had to have a large "sounding board", on which the speaker or speakers were mounted. The bigger the better, that was the rule of thumb.

The next thing was to build enclosed boxes with "ports", which means openings of certain size to "tune" the box, with lots of padding to prevent vibrations and to eliminate sound reflections within the enclosed cabinets. These boxes were large and expensive, although not as large as the sounding boards. They had to be built very solid and substantial so the joints did not break under the continuous shake up imparted by the speakers.

In recent years a revolutionary development concept made it possible to get excellent bass response by the use of completely enclosed and sealed boxes which are a fraction of the size than the previously used speaker cabinets. It is amazing how these small speakers reproduce the bass. High frequencies do not require large speakers or enclosures and these never presented much of a problem.

Many people who did not have the room for large speaker enclosures now can have excellent results with these very efficient smaller speakers. Amplifiers also are available now in small cases since the use of transistors. The previously used tubes required a large well ventilated box to dissipate the heat generated by the tubes. All this has changed drastically. Stereo and HI FI has gone into, without loss of musical quality.

OVER HILL AND DALE -- Belleville and Nutley met in cross country Monday at Boys Park, Nutley. The Maroon won, 44-17. Mike Ventura placed fifth; while Bob Forrest finished sixth and Don Sobanko eleventh for the Bellboy harriers.

Soccer Program Receives Boot

Belleville Recreation Department's new Soccer program got off to a great start last Saturday. Although the turnout was somewhat lighter than hoped for, those present showed great promise of becoming good soccer players. Belleville's soccer leaders, John Tague, Tom Simpson and Frank Ward were all well pleased with the first performance and look forward to a rapidly growing activity.

At the beginning of Saturday's program at the Belleville Junior High School Gym, Recreation Supt. Robert E. Cook gave the boys a brief explanation of the hopes and the plans for soccer in Belleville. He then introduced Belleville's leaders.

Next he presented Phil Murray, coach of the State Champion Kearny United Team and Tippy Scanlon, executive of the State Juvenile Soccer Association.

The Recreation Department

hopes to attract enough interest in soccer to develop two leagues in town. "We have made arrangements for the use of a soccer field in Branch Brook Park where the activity moves outdoors in a couple of weeks," said Cook.

In the meantime workouts will be held indoors each Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Junior High School.

All Belleville boys from 8-15 years of age are invited. In the near future the participants in this program will be treated to a special exhibition game to be put on by two teams in the New Jersey Juvenile League.

"After that," said Cook, our boys are to be guests of the Kearny United team at a regular League game in Kearny. With this great help from our soccer-endowed neighbors plus the enthusiasm of our own coaches, soccer should really enjoy a fast growth in Belleville."

STATE STARTERS -- Belleville will be well represented in the 35th meeting between New Jersey's top small colleges, Montclair State vs. Trenton State, Saturday night at Sprague Field, Montclair. Former Bellboys Tony Sorrentino (left) and Jim Corino will be in the Trenton State lineup. The game will mark the 60th annual Homecoming for Montclair's Indians.

Conference Meet Due For Harriers

Cross Country Coach Ray Haneke has his squad primed for tomorrow's Big 10 Conference meet at Branch Brook Park. The Bellboy Harriers have won one meet in nine tries (not counting yesterday's meeting with East Orange.)

The victory was over South Side and was incorrectly reported as a loss in the Times, which may be an indication of how hard it is to get a win, or to get credit for one. However, the squad is competent. It's just thin. "We're placing high but our problem is still a lack of depth," says Haneke.

Mike Ventura has won three meets, the last coming in a 36-21 loss to Irvington last week. Don Sobanko and Bob Forrest have also continually finished in the top spots. Sobanko and Bob Forrest have also continually finished in the top spots. Sobanko was 4th in the Irvington race and Forrest 9th.

In last week's other match, a 37-21 loss to West Orange, Ventura was third, Sobanko 5th and Forrest 7th.

Then the club ran into Bloomfield and got swamped, 40-15. "They're very strong," observed Haneke. A loss to tackle as Jon Sanford (12) heads convoy for Vargas. Irvington's touchdown was result of miscue.

BIG GAINER — is ripped off by Joe Vitiello to the Irvington 30. Twenty yard play was called back for clipping infraction, but Bellboys still drove to third quarter score.

Dr. Clemente Warns of Allied Trading With The Enemy

"Trading with the enemy by many of our allies who are accepting aid from the United States, not only encourages aggression but sustains it," said Dr. Celestino Clemente, candidate for Congress in the 10th District.

"It is our responsibility to convince these free nations that it is in their best interest to resist aggression," Dr. Clemente added, "and that their failure to do so carries with it the same dangers to them as it does to the United States."

Dr. Clemente asked voters supporting him to vote the Nixon "Victory Ticket" on Line "B." This advertisement was paid for by Angelo Fortunato, as campaign manager of the Clemente for Congress Committee, 293 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair, N.J.

Rodino Out To Employ Immigrants

Rep. Peter W. Rodino, Jr. (D-10th District) announced his introduction last week of legislation to permit temporary admission to this country of aliens whose skills are needed to fill positions for which citizens are unavailable.

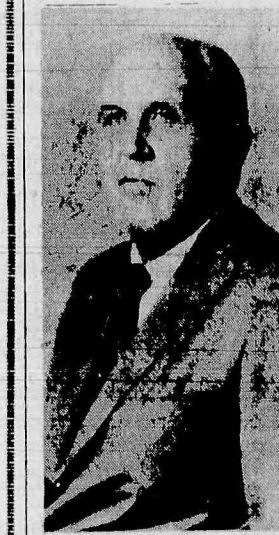

"I receive hundreds of inquiries every week from businessmen who need skilled workers but cannot find them in the United States," Rodino said. "Trained workers are available overseas but due to the 1965 amendments to the Immigration and Nationality Act must wait long periods for visa issuance. Under previous law, thousands of aliens entered the United States to perform such needed services. Many of these aliens, although admitted for permanent residence—the only way they could be admitted to work—never intended to stay permanently and usually after a couple of years returned to their native countries."

Rodino, who is ranking member of the House Immigration Subcommittee, said his bill would permit an alien with a residence in a foreign country—which he has no intention of abandoning—to come to the United States temporarily to perform services or labor if unemployed persons capable of performing such service or labor cannot be found in the United States.

"Statistics show," Rodino stated, "that for every skilled worker many other jobs are created, and with our expanding economy and new technological developments there is a definite need for skilled persons. My bill, by authorizing this temporary admission, will fill the void in certain employment areas. Also, in the event skills are developed and there is no longer a need for such foreign labor, such temporary admissions can be stopped. Under existing law, an alien can be admitted temporarily to perform labor or services of a temporary nature only. This severe limitation limits the entry of aliens in areas where there are severe shortages but where the work is of a continuing nature."

"The United States has reached the point in expansion where there is a demand for capable workers which cannot be supplied domestically. My bill would not increase immigration but would make available to industry urgently needed skilled workers."

State Bond Issue Brings County-College Crises

The county-college movement -- in existence in New Jersey for just five years -- is successful, popular, and thriving. But it reaches a crossroads Nov. 5.

The future of the two-year colleges will be determined by the Public Buildings Bond Issue of 1968, says the New Jersey Education Assn. Whether more county colleges will be built; whether existing colleges will be expanded to meet local needs; whether graduates of two-year colleges will be able to transfer to four-year institutions -- all depend on public approval of the bonds.

New Jersey's electorate votes on three State bond issues in the November election. The Public Buildings Issue contains $202.5 million for expanding public higher education, including about $47 million for county colleges.

Twelve county colleges are now operating in New Jersey, enrolling some 15,800 students. State funds help build these schools and -- although the current New Jersey Budget finally included $14.5 million to pay the State's share in constructing county colleges -- the Governor's original version contained no funds for this purpose. This indicates, says NJEA, that the State is running out of sources for capital funds and, without the bond issue, may have to renege on its commitment to county colleges.

One problem that has long plagued New Jersey's four-year public colleges is inadequate facilities, causing the annual rejection of thousands of qualified applicants. A related problem, says NJEA, is the darkening plight facing the two-year graduate who wants to continue his education at a four-year college. At present, the State Colleges and University could make room to accept transfers only by rejecting greater numbers of students seeking admission as freshmen.

Unless the four-year institutions are enlarged, says NJEA, college officials in New Jersey will face the choice of giving no college education to one group of youngsters or half an education to others. Warns Dr. Frank Chambers, president of Middlesex County College: "Within two to three years, we're going to have an acute shortage of facilities. If construction is

Area Realtors Making Plans To Attend Annual Board Convention In New York

About 8,000 Realtors and their guests are expected to attend the 61st annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in New York, Nov. 8-14, and several members of the Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley & Belleville Board of Realtors have already announced plans to be among them, according to Board President Eugene J. Reilly.

Reilly noted that the main reason for Realtors to attend the yearly gathering is the unlimited educational benefits to be derived.

He commented that topics for convention addresses cover a broad spectrum of subjects--from computers to air pollution, from the economy to new legislation. "But, of course, the majority of the literally hundreds of talks and roundtable discussions will cover real estate subjects."

"It is through these presentations that our members will add to their knowledge in order better to serve the public," Reilly declared.

Lyn E. Davis, Dallas, president of NAREB, will preside, and the main speakers include Philip N. Brownstein, Assistant Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development; John M. Dervan, director of the Loan Guaranty Service, Veterans Administration; Mc George Bundy, president of the Ford Foundation; Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, author of the famous book, The Power of Positive Thinking, and minister of the Marble Collegiate Church, New York; and Kitty Carlisle, TV panelist and actress.

He noted that many members of the board are in the residential property field and said there will be numerous programs of interest to them, including discussions of how to effect real estate exchanges, on how to work with transferred employees, on the merits and weaknesses of keeping real estate offices open late in the day, and on new ideas in sales.

"But the real estate field, as many others, is becoming one of specialization. Some of our members will be interested in such topics as 'Writing the Appraisal Report,' 'New Changes in Shopping Centers,' 'Farm and Land Money Market,' 'How Management Firms Fit into the Picture of Urban Renewal,' and 'Use of the Computer in Aiding Industrial Real Estate Brokers.'"

Reilly explained also that some of the board's members are on committees of NAREB or its nine affiliated institutes, societies, or councils. He said these committees will meet during the convention to review their progress during the year and to begin planning for the new year.

He reported also that the Association adopts its new Statement of Policy, under which it "progresses for the next year, at the November gathering, and it elects new officers.

"Conventions are exciting, sometimes hectic, and always educational," he said. "Even at the social functions, convention delegates are given the opportunity to meet with Realtors from other parts of the country and to exchange ideas, discuss solutions or problems, and discover new ways by which they can better serve."

Scholastic Survey

Teenagers Want Nixon To Take Country's Reins

Teenagers say Richard M. Nixon will be the next President of the U.S. They believe he is the man best equipped to cope with the war in Viet Nam, crime in the streets, and the rising cost of living.

These opinions were expressed by junior and senior high school students in public, private, and parochial schools in a survey just completed by the Scholastic Research Center, a division of Scholastic Magazines, Inc. The poll, involving in-depth questionnaires, was returned by a representative sampling of students from across the country.

Students participating in the survey were asked the question: "Of the candidates for President, which one would you like to see win?" Thirty-six per cent said Nixon, 25 per cent favored Humphrey, and 12 per cent wanted Wallace. McCarthy, though not listed on the Scholastic questionnaire, drew a write-in vote of 12 per cent.

In response to the question: "Regardless of your personal preference, whom do you expect to win the Presidency this year?" -- 58 per cent saw a Nixon victory, 34 per cent expected Humphrey to win, 6 per cent were undecided, and only 3 per cent expected Wallace to be elected.

Asked which candidate was best able to cope with the war in Viet Nam, 41 per cent of the students gave their confidence vote to Nixon. Humphrey was backed by 25 per cent of the students, and Wallace by 10 per cent. Twenty-three per cent of the students polled had no opinion.

When it comes to combating crime, students were asked to rate the importance of strengthening regulations governing firearms registration, restrictions on police activities, and admission of wire-tap evidence. Over half of the students (52%) believed strengthening of gun controls "very important." Forty-two per cent rated the removal of restrictions on police activities "very important," and 22 per cent considered strengthening regulations regarding the admission of wire-tap evidence "very important."

The survey shows that 42 per cent of the students believe Nixon can best lead the fight against crime, with Humphrey getting 22 per cent of the student vote, and Wallace 20 per cent.

Thirty-nine per cent of the students say the best way to halt inflation and the rising cost of living is to encourage industry to hold the line on prices.

Nixon is supported by 42 per cent of the students as the man best qualified to stem the country's rising cost of living. Twenty-seven per cent back Humphrey, 23 per cent have no opinion, and only 9 per cent support Wallace.

Forty per cent of the students polled feel Humphrey is the best man to lead the fight for equal rights for the nation's minorities. Nixon follows with 25 per cent, 22 per cent back Wallace, and 13 per cent have no opinion.

Also, Humphrey is viewed by 45 per cent of the students as the candidate best able to handle welfare and poverty problems. Twenty-seven per cent support Nixon, 16 per cent have no opinion, and 13 per cent back Wallace.

The sampling of 1,600 high school students represents all types and sizes of schools, a numerical weighting of responding schools in direct relation to the distribution of schools within each state, random selection of individual students, and an assurance of anonymity of answers.

Cubs Induct New Members

Cub Pack 145 held its October meeting at Radcliffe School, at which time they inducted 13 new cubs. Those inducted were Joseph Dwyer, David Rapsas, William Scholz, Donald Ludwig, Robert Schmidt, John Conner, Raymond Greenlee, Alan Monday, Anthony D'Antuano, Thomas Mastello, Drew Zoppi, Curt Nakoneckny and Victor Naukar.

After the induction each of the other dens presented a Halloween skit.

Muskie Visits Jersey, Attacks Nixon, Wallace

A second visit by Vice Presidential candidate Edmund S. Muskie to New Jersey last week highlighted the intensified Democratic drive to secure the state's pivotal 17 electoral votes for Hubert Humphrey.

Muskie -- sponsored by the N.J. Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie -- lashed out at the two major opponents of the Democratic candidates, Wallace and Nixon, in a series of rallies that drew enthusiastic crowds.

He branded Wallace, at an outdoor rally in Irvington, as "the man who would divide us in fear and hatred and set ourselves against each other. He is the man who, because of his hunger for power, is willing to risk everything America has built over 180 years."

Muskie, besieged by friendly handshakers throughout the trip that started at St. Valentine's Church in Bloomfield and ended at Seton Hall University in South Orange, said Wallace carried on a tradition established by the Ku Klux Klan when it came to New England in the 1920's and fought against "the poles, the Italians, the Lithuanians, and all the other foreigners." Muskie is the son of a Polish immigrant.

At a fund-raising dinner at the Hotel Robert Treat in Newark, Muskie took on Nixon.

Nixon "believes he can win not by standing for something, but by riding a tide of protest to victory."

"That kind of victory is not enough to govern this country for the next four years."

In his Bloomfield address, Muskie again hit at Nixon, charging him with responsibility of three recessions during the years of Eisenhower administration, recessions that cost the U.S. $175 billion in productivity.

When Nixon left office, 5 million were unemployed. Now, after two Democratic administrations, Muskie said, only 2 million are unemployed. The Muskie visit was the high point of a series of dramatic moves on behalf of the Democratic ticket in New Jersey.

Don Gaby, former state chairman for Citizens for Mc-Carthy, has announced his support for the Humphrey-Muskie campaign. And he urged all McCarthy supporters to join the Democratic bandwagon.

Former Governor Robert B. Meyner and Newark lawyer Adrian M. Foley, Jr., accepted co-chairmanship of the New Jersey National Lawyers for Humphrey-Muskie. Foley was president of the state constitutional convention in 1966.

Dr. Malcolm Talbott, vice president of the Newark colleges of Rutgers University, launched a drive to get citizens to write letters demanding a pre-election debate among the three major candidates.

Dr. William B. Abrams, a research scientist at Hoffman-LaRoche, was selected as executive secretary for New Jersey of a national group of scientists and engineers for Humphrey-Muskie, a group including 11 Nobel prize winners. Treasurer for the state group will be Dr. Daniel Cooper of South Orange, editor and publisher of "Science and Technology."

Xmas Deadline For Vietnam November 9

The Santa Clause special, the Post Office Department's newest transportation service, is a fast cargo ship guaranteed to deliver gift parcels to servicemen in Vietnam before the holiday, said Postmaster Joseph J. Benucci, "provided such parcels are mailed on or before November 9, 1968."

Mallors are advised to print "SANTA CLAUSE SPECIAL" under the stamps on the packages. The ship, leaving California the latter part of November will stop at Da Nang, Qui Nhon, Cam Ranh and Saigon, Vietnam. The entire trip will take three weeks. In addition, Benucci said, the November 9 deadline prevails for mail going to overseas personnel, their families and civilians employed by the military. The airmail deadline is December 10. Mallors are cautioned to pack gifts securely in strong containers

Meanwhile, a similar group of scientists, including Nobel prize winner Dr. Edward C. Kendall, organized in the Princeton area.

Dr. V. D. Mattia, co-chairman of the New Jersey Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie, sharply criticized Nixon for failing to support the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty, noting that Humphrey had given his full backing to immediate action on the effort to keep atomic weapons out of the hands of nations not now "possessing the power to destroy the world."

Alan Sagner, co-chairman with Mattia, took a strong swing at the Wallace-Lekay ticket:

"A four-day Cook's tour of Vietnam hardly provides the information for a candidate to make pronouncements on the use of conventional or atomic weapons to pursue an Asian war with its complex ramifications involving peace in all parts of the world. But one must recognize that Wallace never speaks from information, just from emotionalized generalizations that some call demagoguery."

Traveling Art Exhibit

Bamberger's today became the first New Jersey company to sponsor a traveling art exhibit with the State Council on the Arts.

Byron R. Kelley, executive director of the Arts Council, said that the Council is exhibiting 21 works from the Bamberger's permanent collection of Contemporary New Jersey Art in libraries and educational institutions throughout the state. The exhibit opened on October 7 at the Iselin Branch of the Woodbridge Public Library.

The Bamberger collection has been assembled by the purchase of award-winning paintings in annual shows sponsored by the company since 1957.

Violates Zoning Ordinance

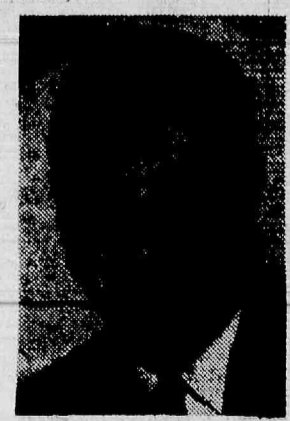

A violation of the town's zoning ordinance governing one family dwellings cost Jeremiah Dix of 385 Harrison Street, Nutley, a minimum fine of $10 at the October 16 meeting of the Nutley Municipal Court.

Judge Edwin J. C. Joerg issued the fine after hearing testimony that Dix had lived in a converted basement of a one family dwelling, while renting the upper floor.

Dr. Clemente Calls For New Partners In Cities

"The United States needs a new and binding partnership involving private business, industry and government teamed with individual effort in an all out attack on the problems threatening our cities with ruin," Dr. Celestino Clemente, candidate for Congress in the 18th District, said.

Dr. Clemente, a respected surgeon and active civic leader, added that citizens must be given a stake in their own future, and that of their community, through ownership of homes and businesses.

"I not only support a tax incentive program for those persons and businesses willing to invest in the future of our cities, I consider it a priority item," Dr. Clemente concluded.

He urged all citizens in the 18th Congressional District to support the Nixon "Victory Team" on Line "B."

Mel and Jean Stottlemyre — One of Their Best Years Ever

Ever Wonder What Happens When A Star Moves Next Door?

By Helen Maguire

If the summer of 1968 was a great one for the Yanks' 21-game winner Mel Stottlemyre, it was greater still for the folks on Nutley's Alexander Avenue -- the kids especially -- where Mel and his family spent this past baseball season.

Mel and his wife, Jean, rented the home of Jack and Layne Cullen. Jack, formerly with the Yankee pitching staff, is now with the Dodgers and spent the season on the West Coast. The Stottlemyses made it a literal transcontinental switch -- coming from Nutley from Grandview, Washington, where they have since returned for the winter months.

The season was Stottlemyre's best. Mel won 21 games for the Yanks, was selected for the All-Star team and says his stay in Nutley made the summer all the more pleasant.

The Stottlemyre's arrived in Nutley not really knowing anyone. But there was an exception -- Frank and Edith Orechio, their next-door neighbors -- who decided to introduce Mel and Jean to their Alexander Avenue friends practically on the day they arrived in town. Frank Orechio publishes the local newspaper as well as Accent Suburbia.

The initial introductions came at an evening cocktail party. All the neighborhood was there. Nutley Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth turned out too to welcome the Yankee pitching ace and his family to the community. The neighbors turned out in force too.

"The prospect of a genial host, delicious food, an inexhaustible bar combined with the opportunity to meet the ace of the Yankee pitching staff proved irresistible," one of Mel's adult fans recalls.

As soon as the invitations went out, every available baby sitter around was hired immediately and the honored guests found themselves sitterless until one of the teenage boys across the street was "drafted" into service.

Word that the Stottlemyers were living on the block spread rapidly and just as rapidly, lines of boys appeared at the door, seeking autographs, bringing balls to be signed, asking for pictures.

"This happens every year. It'll stop within the week," predicted the unflappable Stot and it did.

By the time Mel returned from his first road trip, the women had discovered that Jean was a typical female. She ran out of ready money and found that, regardless of the name, people are loath to cash a check drawn on an out of state bank. She locked herself out of the house and it took the combined efforts of the local newspaper publisher and the greatest Yankee fan Alexander Avenue to get her back in.

She turned off the house's hot water supply while looking for the outside outlet and couldn't remember which valve was which.

By the second road trip, Jean had become part of a canasta foursome. The other players soon learned not to schedule a game if Mel was pitching. If he was winning, she was so elated she couldn't concentrate and if he was losing, she was so annoyed, she didn't care.

When the Yankees were home, the youngsters soon learned to recognize the Thunderbirds that belonged to Tom Tresh and Jake Gibbs. People watched Yankee games whether they were fans or not just to see how Mel was doing.

When he won his tenth game before the All-Star break, Jean got the mink jacket he'd promised her. Then he got picked for the All-Star team and they went to Houston where he faced one batter and struck him out. The season was half over.

On a summer evening, the Stots took some of the boys down to Spring Garden School for a few innings. Jean took her two "summer helpers" over to Yankee Stadium when Mel was pitching. He won and they came home with slews of autographs and a great day to remember.

Jean and the boys went home to Grandview, Washington in the middle of September. Mel finished the season and joined them. He had won 21 games - a good year.

It had been a good year too for the families on Alexander Avenue who had gotten to know Mel and Jean, Mel Jr. and Todd. The famous neighbors had become new friends.

The Author

Helen Maguire, who describes how a Nutley neighborhood adapted to suddenly being next-door friends of Mel Stottlemeyer, his wife, Jean, and their two sons, is the women's editor of The Nutley Sun. Mrs. Maguire, however, writes today's Accent feature wearing another hat: she and her family are also Alexander Avenue residents - just across the street from where the Yankee pitching ace spent his most successful pitching season in baseball.

Realtors Support Proposed Bonds

Eugene J. Reilly, president of the Board of Realtors of Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley & Belleville, announced recently that the 2,900 Realtors member New Jersey Association of Real Estate Boards through its President Adelaide Shaffer Campbell has gone on record in support of the $990 million bond issues to be voted on by New Jersey citizens on November 5. The Board of Realtors is one of the 39 local boards making up the State Realtors Association.

There are three separate bond authorizations to be approved this election day. The total is $990 million for all issues of which all, one, two (or none) may be passed at the polls on Election Day. However, parts of an individual issue cannot be acted upon separately.

The transportation bond issue totals $640 million with $200 million for mass transit and $440 million for highways.

The housing assistance bond issue would cost $12,500,000.

The third bond issue totals $337.5 million for public building construction. This includes the following items: construction improvement of public buildings for community colleges for higher education ($172,500,000); two new State colleges—Atlantic and Bergen ($30,000,000); vocational education ($27,500,000); state institutions ($100,000,000) and an educational TV radio network ($7,500,000).

Mrs. Campbell said, "after careful examination of the bond issues the realtors of New Jersey have concluded that the need is clearly demonstrated and they are vital to the economic well-being of the state." This marks the first time the State Realtor Association is supporting a New Jersey bond issue.

Because members of the New Jersey Association of Real Estate Boards are intensely concerned about taxes as well as the state's economic growth they have held many meetings and made an exhaustive study of the bond issues as they relate to property owners and citizens. Major efforts in this area are credited to NJAREB Tax Committee Chairman Nancy F. Reynolds.

The realtors' legislative and transportation committees also discussed the bond issues for the past several months. Research director of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, Frank Haines, appeared before two joint committee meetings and gave detailed reports on the findings of his staff. Assemblyman Webster B. Todd Jr. also spoke on the bond issues as did Furman Thempleton of Governor Hughes' office.

The study conducted by the realtors has satisfied them that the legislative and administrative departments of the state will operate with efficiency and economy in using the money from the bond issues for the priorities as set forth in the referendum.

The two co-chairmen of the New Jersey Bonds YES Committee, Mark Anton and John T. Connor, commented on a just released detailed study of how the three bond issue funds would be used in four regions of the state, by saying they believed the bond issue funds "were reasonably balanced to benefit every region in the state, and aimed at the total development of New Jersey."

We recommend to the voters of New Jersey the passage of these bond issues," stated Mrs. Campbell. She said, "we must complete many of these badly needed uncompleted projects in the state and we must move forward with new urgently required long delayed programs."

The realtor president emphasized that without public affirmation of these bond issues New Jersey could be facing "an immediate fiscal crisis."

Vote for Amendment Says Voters League

The League of Women Voters of New Jersey has announced its support of Public Question No. 4 on the ballot in November according to Mrs. Jerome Schwartz, president of Nutley League of Women Voters. This is an amendment to the Constitution and provides for a two-year term for the New Jersey State Legislature.

The league's action is based on consensus of the 93 constituent leagues throughout the state who have been studying legislative procedures during the past year, Mrs. Schwartz explained. "The League believes that organizing the legislature once every two years rather than every year, as is now the case, would promote economy and efficiency. A 'yes' vote on the referendum would mean that bills that now die at the end of each annual session would carry over into a second year, eliminating the costly and time-consuming procedure of reprinting and reintroduction," she commented.

Under the proposed amendment the legislature would organize only in even-numbered years.

National Piper of Girl Scouts To Promote Program in Essex

National Piper of Girl Scouts Miss Dephane Tabor, national piper and member of the staff of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., will make a special appearance in Essex County on October 31 to November 1 to promote and coordinate the Piper Project, a nationwide Girl Scout program to retain and reach more girls and gain new adult members. Film star Debbie Reynolds who is a Girl Scout troop leader in private life, is also a member of the piper program team.

Co-hosting the two-day event are Senior Scouts and adults from the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County in Orange and the Washington Rock Council in Westfield. Other councils are participating and a large turnout is anticipated.

Miss Tabor will meet and talk with the girls, leaders and staff members about the stimulating program. A kick-off piper workshop will start the conference on Thursday, October 31, at the Short Hills Mall.

How you look to the Photometric camera

A plate is developed from your negative and projected to perfect scale on a calibrated screen. Every detail of your build has been "blueprinted"—the smallest variation has been permanently recorded, for our Designers and skilled craftsmen.

Why Photometric eliminates old fashioned guesswork

A four way optically perfect reflection of you is recorded on ONE negative. The four images are correlated to provide infallible measurements, plus every detail of your posture and attitude, for the designing and cutting of your order.

Predetermines balance does away with try-ons

Photometric contour measurements unerringly determine the center of balance for your garment. They establish the point of suspension from your neckline... your shoulder angles... and provide technical information heretofore not available to the designer.

Ladies Auxiliary Picks Execs

Miss Kiki Lampros of West Orange has been named Assistant chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the Hellenic-American Citizen's Committee for Nixon-Agnew.

Miss Barbara Zois of Newark has been appointed Executive secretary of the Women's Auxiliary.

They will work under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Dintcho of Paterson, who is chairman of the Women's Auxiliary.

"This election," said Miss Lampros "is of great concern for the women of this country. We intend to work as hard as we can to elect the Nixon team since to us this team represents the only hope left for a sane and productive future for us and our families."

Both Miss Lampros and Miss Zois noted that while the rapid and widespread growth of crime and violence in the United States under the Johnson administration "is a major reason for the election of the Nixon-Agnew team," there are many other positive and strong reasons for a Republican victory.

"Inflation, an unparalleled rise in living costs, and misdirected war in Vietnam certainly rank high among the issues in this campaign," they said. "We need a change in the White House, and we need it badly. We will not get it with Hubert Humphrey, the heir and co-author of all this mess. Only Nixon can make a start in clearing these Augean stables."

MAPS STRATEGY--Miss Kiki Lampros (right) of West Orange, New Jersey assistant chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the Hellenic-American Citizen's Committee for Nixon-Agnew, discusses strategic coordination of the area for the campaign with Miss Barbara Zois (left) of Newark, headquarters executive secretary and Mrs. Georgia Hauser (center) of Paterson, northern area coordinator.

Roche President Avers Humphrey's The Man

Dr. V.D. Mattia, co-chairman of New Jersey Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie and president of Hoffmann-La Roche, asked the following question in a statement made public today: Is it time for a return to an outworn international position of brinkmanship?

Hubert Humphrey says no. He has given his full and enthusiastic support to the immediate ratification of the U.N. Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty.

The Wallace-LeMay team has raised the spectre of nuclear warfare as a solution to international tension. It is a solution that would be too final for the entire world.

Like Vice President Humphrey, Richard Nixon is an internationalist -- but there is a different emphasis.

Vice President Humphrey has a liberal, "international brotherhood" approach to peace with honor. Nixon stresses a more conservative approach with an emphasis on the military-security syndrome that was characteristic of the Dulles era, when he served as Vice President.

Vice President Humphrey, since he was first elected to the Senate, has worked and voted for international arms control and disarmament, without unilateral action that could jeopardize national security.

The difference among the major candidates is most apparent at the present moment, when the Senate has adjourned without approving the non-proliferation treaty so enthusiastically endorsed by Vice President Humphrey. Nixon did not endorse it -- he counselled a wait-and-see approach, and helped create a quasi-partisan air about a non-partisan issue.

Let us examine the records of the major contenders: Humphrey: In 1949, he urged general but not unilateral disarmament, with an effective control system. As chairman of the Senate Disarmament Subcommittee (his own proposal) he led the Senate effort toward disarmament. His proposals led to the creation of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and to the Test Ban Treaty of 1963. Nixon: In 1956, he vigorously criticized Adlai Stevenson's proposal to ban nuclear tests. He has counselled a go-slow approach toward the non-proliferation treaty already ratified by many other governments. He can best be described as a cautious and generally unenthusiastic advocate of arms control and disarmament.

Wallace: His choice of Gen. Curtis LeMay as a running mate delineates his stand on the arms control question. In his first press conference, LeMay refused to rule out the use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam. Wallace speaks of a "military solution" to the Vietnam War.

No Bonds

Unnecessary, Says Candidate

Louis Vander Plate, owner and manager of WLVP Radio of Franklin, and a candidate for the office of governor in 1969 in attending a breakfast Meeting with Governor Hughes and members of his cabinet as well as members of the legislature has condemned the 1968 bond issue which the governor, as well as the legislature is trying to have the voters in New Jersey approve.

Vander Plate has invited the governor to have members of the legislature endorsing the bond issue to appear on WLVP and explain the bond issue in detail. However, Vander Plate will then explain his approach to the needs of the state.

Vander Plate, as a businessman and not a politician, is also tired of all our taxes. Taxes, taxes, and more taxes -- sales tax, gas tax, income tax, property tax, personal tax, business tax, corporation tax, and on and on we go. The question is why all these taxes?

Now that we are burdened with all these taxes our governor has concocted a new device, namely a bond issue and why a bond issue? It seems that our politicians are running out of play toys in their playpens and they are screaming for more toys--after all, how can they play without toys? How can you run a government without money--constant new planning along with lots of money makes politicking interesting under the label of "progress." It's progress to be sure, and at the taxpayers expense.

Governor Hughes is asking for $990,000,000. There will be millionaires more then ready to supply this cash at approximately 5 per cent (tax free). We will be paying approximately $5,000,000.00 a year alone in interest. But now let's look at what our governor plans spending this money on! Number 1 - Housing, Number 2 - Transportation, Number 3 - Institutions, Number 4 - New Highways.

Let's take a businessman's look at the needs of our state with highways as a beginner. I recall the day when it was said that New Jersey could boast the finest highways in all 48 states. At that time, all gas tax monies, as well as auto registration and license fees were used expressly for roads, and roads only. Today it goes into a great big pot - the state treasury.

Housing - I was always led to believe that each borough, town, city or municipality was responsible for the building of streets and roads, the issuing of building permits, a Board of Health, etc. and to include the general overseeing of the community. In the event of the deterioration of a building, the town fathers could condemn the property ordering it repaired or demolished, and not at the taxpayers' expense but at the expense of the owner. Pray tell, what has the state to do with the affairs of these communities in asking a bond issue to demolish and replace dwellings and to offer low 3 per cent interest money to a select group of developers to produce new housing and to be guaranteed a good return on their investment -- at the expense of the taxpayer. Seems strange in looking back a few years when this was unheard of--or is this better known as brotherly love - commonly known as socialism.

Institutions - A most needed and essential part of each state. It goes without saying that there must always be institutions. The bond issue monies will also go for additional building plus the cost of operations. A must, yes, but while there are many private institutions within our state, why are not the state-owned institutions sold to private owners, thus assuring a far lower operating cost, due to such ownership, and therefore, making such institutions taxpayers' instead of a tax burden. Oh, it may eliminate a few pork barrel jobs but it sure would eliminate a great bulk of that bond issue.

Transportation - It seems that just a few years ago our railroads were begging for a tax relief, in fact we can still hear of that one dollar a foot tax on the rails ringing in our ears. Today we are told that the state is considering taking over the railroads in New Jersey - not talking about the new cars that have been purchased.

Commuters - It seems that this is a particular group requiring special attention. If there are such a great number of commuters, it seems that free enterprise could contrive of a profitable way of transporting these people, without the state spending as much as a dime or becoming involved. Oh, it may also eliminate a few choice pork barrel jobs, but then I'm sure this would be acceptable by our officials for the sake of economy.

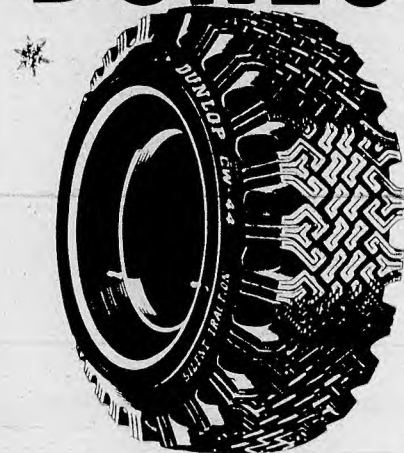

Colleges - While we are supplying both elementary and secondary education to our children, there should also be college educations available for those who desire to pursue them. This education should be the choice of the student as well as financed by him. When the state begins to supply college educations to its young people, and especially at no cost as does California,

More Prudent Spending Would Eliminate Need

parents practically force their children to attend, thus many times causing them to rebel. Many parents desire their children to be doctors, lawyers, engineers, etc. while the youngster may have no such desire - in fact some would rather be carpenter or garage mechanics. While I am for higher education for our youth who desire it, I am against forced higher education perpetrated by the parents. I cannot reconcile the high cost of college today having to be borne by the taxpayers. While many have gone to college in the past, the cost was borne by the individuals. Today, scholarships are made available to many, as well as aid through lending institutions.

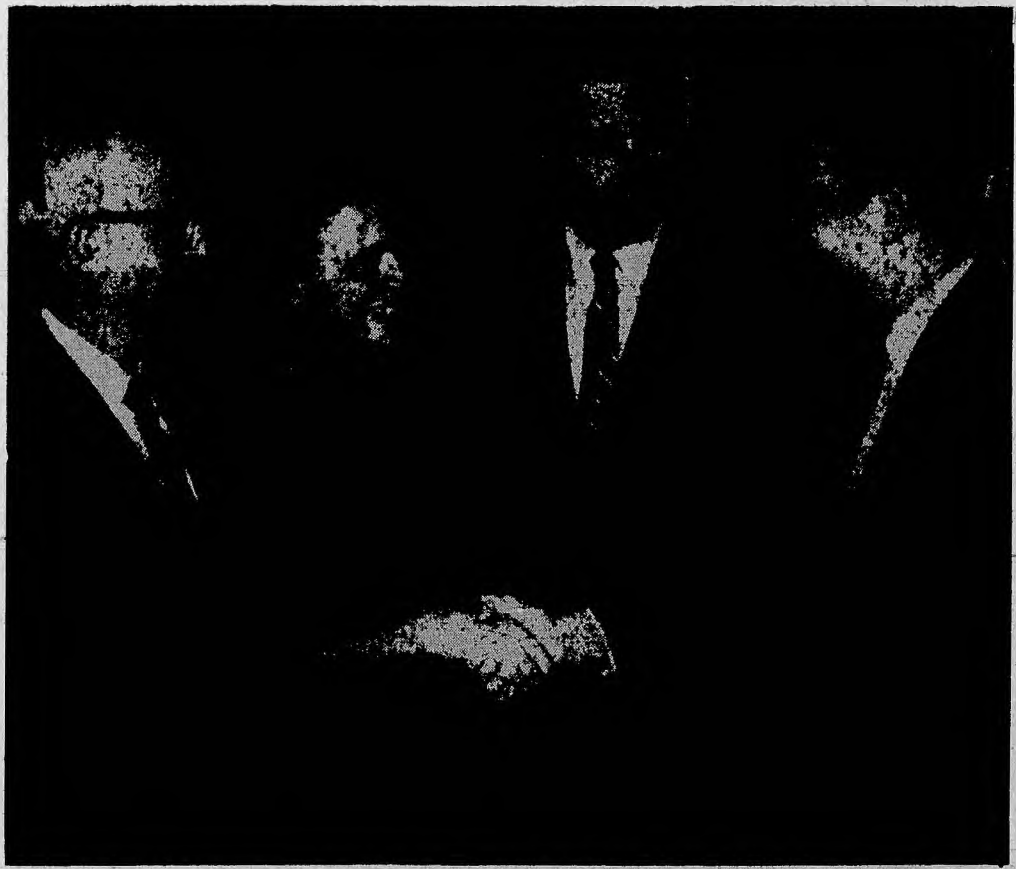

The question is - Do we need a bond issue?

It is obvious that with sane economical thinking there is no need for additional state funds. One must take into consideration that a businessman's view of the situation is far different from that of an attorney, such as Governor Hughes, who is convinced, as are most attorneys, many of whom control the government, that money, lots of it, will cure all ills. It may settle a case for a client, but our state can better be likened to a business in that it requires prudent spending. In fact, it can best be likened to our own family lives, in that you cannot spend more than you make. It's nice to dream of great things, but let's spend only that which we can afford to spend.

Vander Plate has already spoken to a number of Republican organizations, as well as before civic groups. He has promised a vigorous campaign on the premise that it's time businessmen be given the opportunity to operate the state. It is Vander Plate's desire to reinstate the lost art of economy, which keeps business successful and which is desperately needed in the operation of our state.

Old cotton gloves make ideal cleaning gloves. For instance, when you clean a crystal chandelier, you'll save time by wiping fixtures with both gloved hands, dipped in ammonia water.

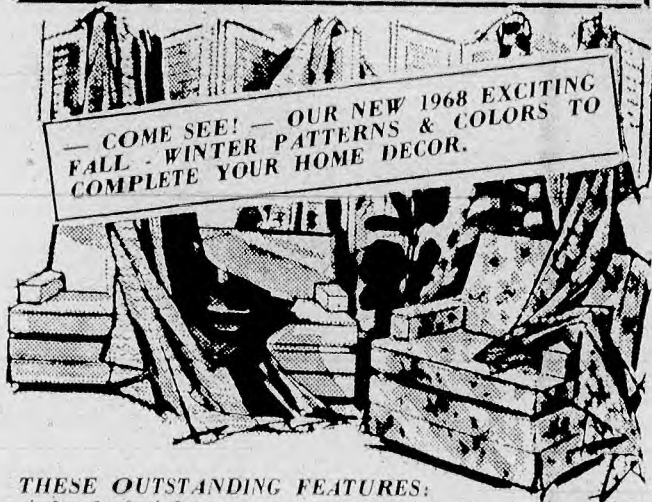

HOWDY FOLKS--Assemblyman Ralph Caputo (right) smilingly greets Mrs. George Bush, wife of U. S. Congressman George Bush of Texas (second from right) as Republican Freeholder candidate Raymond Stabile looks on. Representative Bush was the main speaker at a women's federation luncheon in Newark recently and helped Stabile and Congressional candidates George M. Wallhauser Jr. and Dr. Celestino Clemente do some campaigning in the Newark area.

Halloween Once Time Of Terror

Halloween nowadays is an evening of fun for the little ones, of dressing up in costumes, going to parties, and begging goodies door to door.

But Halloween once was a time of terror--and the costumes children wear on Halloween night reflect that far-off time.

The Druids, an order of priests in ancient Gaul and Britain, believed that on Halloween ghosts, spirits, fairies, witches and elves came out to harm people. They thought the cat was sacred, and believed that cats once had been human beings but were changed as a punishment for evil deeds.

From these druidic beliefs, World Book Encyclopedia says, come the present-day use of witches, ghosts, and cats in Halloween festivities.

The Druids had an autumn festival called Samhain (pronounced SAH win), or summer's end. It was an occasion for feasting on all the foods which had been grown during the summer, and for this reason the custom of using leaves, pumpkins, and cornstalks as Halloween decorations also comes from the Druids.

The Roman Catholic Church named November 1 as All Saints' Day, and the evening before it was called Halloween, which means hallowed or holy evening. The Christian feast day and the old pagan customs were combined into the Halloween festival.
