(January 19 through 25) at Trenton. The Jaycees are celebrating their 49th anniversary this year and number over 300,000 members with 6,300 chapters. Governor Hughes holds proclamation of Jaycee week. Haight resides at 115 DeWitt Avenue.

Commission Approves Elm Street Playground

The Town Commission approved acquisition of land for construction of a playground on Elm Street at Monday's meeting.

The ordinance called for appropriation of $10,000 to make a down payment. George Dombrowski of DeWitt Avenue inquired as to the exact use of the $10,000 and if a program has been conceived for the development of this land. Commissioner McGreevy stated that the money was just to buy the property (five lots on Elm Street).

Commissioner Cullen, recreation head, informed Dombrowski of the town's plans for the site. "We plan to enlarge the stadium area to include other baseball and softball fields and possibly tennis and skating areas."

Cullen noted that there are funds in the Capital Improvement Budget for development of recreation lands, "not specifically here, but they can be transferred."

"Also, we believe state funds are available, though one and a half years old. They have been held up by purchase of these lots, and the okay of a non-transferable lease from the Board of Education. The town will have the unrevocable right to the property and will re-apply for the state aid."

Cullen said that $150 to $200,000 would be used for the project, half of which would come from the state government. "Cost depends on labor the town employees can do and the rates contractors will charge at the time we're employing them."

Dombrowski then said that "those parks currently available are unsuitable for ball playing according to the rocky surface promotes injuries." He wanted to know, "Is it necessary to purchase grounds to forecast development when there is land available that could be upgraded?"

"You seem to have your facts mixed up," said Cullen. "The Junior League is played only at the Stadium." Cullen then enunciated the entire baseball league setup in town under the recreation department. "You're thinking of the Peanut League. There are limited facilities there."

Cullen then explained the plans for future development. "It is our plans to make available better baseball and recreation facilities. Sinking problems adjacent to the football field are common. We will fill in that area to make it available for soccer and the practice of the football team, so the regular field will be used only on Saturdays.

"Now it is used every day almost, and gets a tremendous beating. It is not practical to seed it because of the constant usage. With the adjacent property we intend to reclaim a major portion of the football field traffic will be relieved.

"We will have shaded areas for older people and youngsters, where presently we only have Fairway playground. It will enhance the entire area, that has been nothing but a dump with

Hit and Run Driver To Be Arraigned

Raymond J. Bogdon, 42, of 234 Stevens St., Belleville, was arrested last week and charged with leaving the scene of an accident and causing death by auto in connection with the hit and run death Saturday of a Belleville man.

Bogdon will be arraigned Feb. 5 in Belleville Municipal Court.

Police said Shirley Monroe Thompson, 46, of 63 Holmes St. was struck as he was crossing Washington Avenue. Three witnesses said

Bogdon's car turned right on Academy Street after the accident and then proceeded north on Valley Street.

Thompson, an Army veteran of World War II in the Pacific, was born and raised in Covington, Va., and since the war had lived in this area. For the last eight years he had worked as a mechanic at Electronics Enterprises Inc., 65 Seventh Ave., Newark.

He leaves a brother, Jesse of Newark; a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Fuller of the same address in Belleville.

Teachers, Board Reach Final Salary Agreement

It took an even dozen meetings between the Belleville Education Association, (BEA) representing the town's teachers and the Board of Education's negotiating team, but finally, agreement has been reached on teachers salaries for the 1969-1970 school term.

Now the entire budget package must come before the voters at a public hearing tonight at 8 at School 8. Then the board will adopt the budget figures to appear on the February 11 election ballot. The voters will also be choosing two new members to the board.

If the voters reject the school budget, it will be resubmitted and if rejected a second time, will go before the Town Commissioners who will then have the final say on the 1969-1970 figures.

Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco reported that on Friday evening the BEA and the board negotiators met from 8 p.m. until 3 a.m. but that it was a very fruitful meeting.

The BEA gave approval of the salary figures late Monday afternoon. Informed sources said the package was previously rejected because the board was offering $6900 and the teachers wanted $7000. The proposed package reads:

Teachers with a Bachelor's degree will start at $7000 to a maximum of $11,300 in 14 steps. This plan is an increase over a $6300-$10,400 scale last year.

Teachers with a Master's degree will start at $7600 with a maximum increment to $12,500 scaled in 15 steps. This marks an increase from a $6900-$11,500 scale in 1968-1969.

Teachers with an M.A. plus one additional year of study (32 credits) will receive $8200 minimum and $14,000 maximum, in 16 steps. Last year's figures were $7500-$12,600.

The total increase in teachers salaries is 12% or $296,000 over last year.

The entire 1969-1970 School Budget, to be presented at the hearing tonight, reads: Current expenses-$4,616,104; Capital outlay-$155,343; Debt service-$278,920 for a total figure of $5,050,367. This represents an increase of $608,144 over the 1968-1969 budget.

In addition to the budget, voters must decide on two of five men vying for the vacated board seats of Ernest Arvidson and Nicholas Juliano.

The candidates can be viewed at School 8TA Candidates Nights. There will be such nights, February 4 at the Shawger School, February 6 at School 8 and February 10, election eve at School 7.

For those who can't attend, the candidates continue to express programs and discuss issues for readers of the Times.

ACLU Seeking Fort Dix Probe

The American Civil Liberties Union joins Representative Peter Rodino in demanding further federal probing into allegations of violence inflicted on soldiers at Fort Dix, New Jersey.

Recently the Secretary of the Army conducted an investigation into the beating of Clifford Civinski, Belleville, who has been discharged from the Army.

Two investigations have been conducted in the Civinski case, neither to the satisfaction of Civinski's father, or Congressman Rodino.

Brighton Ave. Garden Apartments Granted Building Permit Variance

"Belleville is at a crossroads," stated Mayor Kenneth D. Smith at Monday's Commission meeting. "It either has to go down and backwards or up."

The mayor was discussing the pros and cons of granting a variance for the erection of a 37-family garden apartment at 138-146 Brighton Avenue. The variance was approved 3 to 2.

"We can't get more money from industry," said the mayor. "The people in Belleville don't want industry and apartments and they want lower taxes. Will you show me how to get better revenue in town this way?"

A contingent of 25 to 30 citizens, objecting to the one and a half room apartments, was present, represented by Jack Soriano, 166 Bloomfield Avenue, Newark. His main contention was that a positive vote would be zoning by variance and that such approval would set a precedent.

"The area involved consists almost entirely of one and two-family homes on both sides of the project that are well kept," he commented. "If 37 families are allowed within the range of those two family houses it will be making a precedent for many other such applications."

"Are we going to look for other garden apartment sites? If so, rezone the area, don't do it by variance if you (the commissioners) feel that's what it should be."

"Approval would upset the integrity of the zoning plan," Soriano noted that due to the size of the project, the builder needs a grant on easement from Public Service, which has agreed to grant same, but which must be approved and consummated through the Public Utilities Commission.

Soriano added that 37 new families within a neighborhood would affect the school population and therefore the taxes of the present residents.

"The zoning board said this was the highest and best use of the land. I can show you many deep lots in nice neighborhoods in Belleville but they won't get by the law to build apartments."

"The zoning board transcript says traffic will not be an unusual problem. I hope the board looked at the traffic. You can not get through on either side unless cars are parked perfectly and tightly. There are always cars stacked up. If that's not an unusual problem, I'm ill at ease as to what is unusual. They have a great depth of lot there, but no street."

Soriano brought up a sewerage problem in the area. "There have been sanitary sewer complaints. Brighton Avenue residents have called for service. Would the apartment improve this?"

At this point, Commissioner Mary Senatore stated, "Are you aware that 12 to 15 homes could be placed in this area, should the variance be denied, according to the building inspector. Soriano replied that only 5 to 7 homes would fit, without streets. If a street were put in then the 15 two-family homes would fit.

"If that's so," said Soriano "then it's fitting in with the neighborhood."

Mrs. Helen Massie, 8 Maple Avenue, wanted to know if traffic would be allowed to go out to Maple Avenue. The mayor replied that it would go out on Brighton, that the Morris Canal, town property, couldn't be crossed.

"We have only seven cars on our street," she said. "I've been living there 29 years and we want to keep it a quiet street."

Then Leslie Finch, 7 Tappan Avenue, representing the owner, Mr. Richiano, spoke. He noted that the Board of Adjustment voted 4 to 1 in favor of granting the variance application.

He noted that the traffic question was argued in full: "there are copious and voluminous minutes on the objectors and the objections that Mr. Soriano brought up."

Evidence was presented, he stated, on traffic and use. "The board recommended the use not only for the owner but for the town of Belleville. There is sufficient land to support this use."

Finch then commented on the additional population two family structures would bring. "Ten, fifteen or five two family structures; if five two family homes, it would mean three bedroom units. Thus they would be sending four to five children to school. The density of the school population we have to pay for would be five times that of 37 one bedroom apartments."

On the sewerage, Finch stated that residents are receiving adequate service and that those with complaints are having them tended to immediately.

"I ask the board (of commissioners) to consider the reason it appointed the Board of Adjustment and the minutes they forwarded you, (continued on page 3)

PRO — Leslie Finch speaks for the builder, seeking a permit to erect a 37 unit garden apartment on Brighton Avenue. He asked the commissioners to accept the Zoning Board's recommendation for approval.

AND CON — Jack Soriano, representing the residents objecting to the variance, asked the commissioners to not set a precedent. "It would be zoning by variance," he stated.

weeds and concrete. "So cost to the town will be less than $100,000 and as early as next fall the field should be seeded with some recreational facilities available," Commissioner Cullen explained.

In other business, three ordinances were up for passage on first reading. All passed.

An ordinance to create a permanent position of Assistant Superintendent of Maintenance in the Department of Parks and Public Property passed by a 3 to 2 vote. Commissioners Senatore and McGreevy casting the negative ballots. This post would be a foreman to Robert Cook, superintendent of the Recreation Department. Passing unanimously on first reading was an ordinance creating the position of Deputy Municipal Disaster Control Director in the Department of Public Safety.

Also receiving unanimous initial approval, was appointment of school traffic guards and parking violations officers in the Department of Public Safety.

Two ordinances were on the table. One was removed and defeated unanimously on first reading. The other was continued on the table.

Maintenance Superintendent in the Department of Parks and Public Property was taken from the table and defeated. Continued tabled was the ordinance regulating the height and bulk of future buildings to be erected in Belleville (it amends a 1923 ordinance).

A resolution was passed, awarding Sinclair Oil Company, Sylvan Avenue, Englewood, a contract for furnishing one year's supply of gasoline.

Other resolutions passed included: authorization for Town Clerk Eugene Barnett to advertise for proposals for the purchase of sporting supplies and equipment for the Department of Parks and Public Property; appointment of Joseph Donnelly, Anthony DeFresco and Cora Stout, as Special Police officers; approval of the 1969 State Aid work schedule for maintenance and repair of roads.

Purchasing Agent Thomas McGloughlin was authorized to buy the long awaited alternate side of the street parking signs without public bid from the Essex County Highway Department (this is done to purchase the snow signs at a discount).

A report was submitted by Mrs. Cecilia O'Toole, Director of the Welfare Department, giving a comparative review of 1967 and 1968 welfare case, persons and commitments.

Francis H. McCoy, treasurer, advised the Board of Commissioners in a report that application has been filed for state aid, also listing the total amount Belleville expended for public library services from municipal sources only during the year of 1968.

Board candidate Caesar Romano expressed his feelings on the campaign issues in an open letter to the townspeople. It reads:

Dear People: Our school system needs some new thinking when it comes to educating our children for the Space Age. The problems of today call for a new kind of education if we are to help our young people prepare for the future.

As you know, there have been problems in our school system in the past. Today, what we need on your Board of Education are people who know what our education system should be and why we failed to achieve it.

There have been many arguments both for and against the Junior High School K-6-3 program. Are you looking forward to your child attending Junior High? I certainly am not. There are many other forms available to us, such as K-6-2-4, K-8-4, or an intermediate school with more selectivity in special areas.

By this time, you must be thoroughly confused. The fact of the matter is that we should combine the best elements in our school system and try to eliminate the term "Junior High School" and start looking at an easier, less hazardous way to make the change from elementary school to high school. The time has come for a re-evaluation. The new budget includes $100,000.00 this year for capital improvement. I feel that a decision should be reached before we spend more money. This is when planning is most important.

We should be interested enough to do a complete survey, using past students as reference to see exactly how we have prepared them for their chosen field of endeavor. We make this a daily routine in business to see if the consumer is satisfied with the product. Why not in education? This would help the child form an objective evaluation and will also give us some insight as to what areas of education need improvement.

There should be a term of board members formed to go into the highest rated schools in New Jersey to see if we can use some of the new programs being offered in other communities. This will give us a better understanding for. This can be accomplished by simple explanation and summary on an itemized basis.

The people have a very definite part in the education of the child, and we must promote a better working relationship between the four facets of education. Namely, the Board, the Teacher, the Child and the Parent.

What I am basically trying to accomplish is the total improvement of people in the educational system. This can be done through the formation of a citizens group made up of interested people, organizational representatives and professional people to lend their experience to the Board and proceed in basic planning.

Your help is needed to bring Belleville back into the mainstream of educational excellence. We can now join together in achieving this common goal. As a candidate for the Board of Education, I feel I can help accomplish these goals for a better educational system in Belleville.

Sincerely, Caesar Romano Candidate S-A gation of the charges through the House Armed Services Committee. The Army installation falls in the congressman's district.

A spokesman for Rep. Cahill said the congressman has asked authorities at Fort Dix to conduct an investigation of the incidents.

"The investigation is presently underway," said Cahill's aide, Powell Sherwin, "and we are awaiting a full report on the charges before initiating action in Washington."

The ACLU said its request is based on a lengthy letter smuggled out of the Army stockade. It was written by a soldier being held in solitary confinement who was charged with desertion, the ACLU said.

The letter, received by attorney Emerson Darnell of Mount Holly, contained allegations of wholesale mistreatment of stockade prisoners by guards and of a beating of the prisoner who wrote the letter.

The prisoner said in his letter that he was not permitted to file a regular complaint form, that stockade personnel turned aside his attempt to report the assault through the proper channels and that his mail privileges were curtailed.

The prisoner's letter also alleged that physical attacks and failure to observe fair treatment rules are common occurrences in the stockade.

Albertine Favors State Education Aid

Michael Albertine, candidate for the Board of Education, sees 1969 as an opportunity for leadership strides in Belleville.

"This is a time for leadership," he said. Members of our board of education must be capable leaders who can understand the complexities involved in funding our educational system. The time owners and taxpayers alone can carry the burden. Our teachers are caught up along with us in this inflationary spiral. Unless we can meet with competitive salary guides, we will lose our most able personnel, especially our male teachers.

"The state sales tax was originally imposed to alleviate the burdens of the small communities, staggering under the high cost of good education. Since we all contribute to the state, why can't we derive a just proportion of the funds for aid to education, not only in aid for maintenance, textbooks and supplies but for teachers salaries? As taxpayers we should be aware of the amount each community receives from the sales tax.

It is the duty of the members of the Board of Education to be alert and aggressive in seeking state tax reform and a greater share of sales tax monies for educational purposes.

The time is now! Men with administrative and business experience are needed on the Board of Education.

and approve the recommendation." Salvatore Fomaratto, 33 Montgomery Place, then questioned the mayor, asking him to "worry about what we (the citizens) want." "How about evaluation, of the property we own? Will it decrease if you put an apartment house there? Will the town lower our taxes?" "If I were you, I wouldn't want them to re-evaluate," said the mayor. "I think 15 homes would benefit," said Fomaratto. "We're proud of our little homes."

represented him. Yes was the answer. Then you've already been spoken for, replied the mayor. An argument ensued. "I've lived here 54 years," said laculla. "So have I," said Mayor Smith. "I don't wanna talk," said laculla in a huff and he sat down. "Ask your question," said the mayor. laculla refused. Later the mayor asked him and again, and with prompting from the audience, laculla asked about the sewer disposal problem. "There's a 10-inch diameter sewer there," said the mayor, "and the former town engineer was up there last week looking at it. He says it's adequate and will permit the additional flow of 37 apartments."

Commissioner Joseph McGreevy then had a question for Finch on the wording of the application. "Does it give the property owner easement across the canal?" "The entire easement," said Finch, "but the plan limits his use. It does not provide for use of the canal or crossing it to exit on Maple Avenue."

"Then cars will go out Maple Avenue like Mrs. Massie says," inquired McGreevy. "No," said Finch "the owner can't use it without again coming before the board and my client has no intention of doing so."

Tony Yankowski, a Brighton Avenue resident then corroborated Finch's earlier remarks, saying the street was "terrific on traffic." He added, "let's stick by our zoning laws, now and in the future. We should make a park there for the neighborhood kids."

The mayor then closed the public hearing with some additional comments: "We must keep in mind, we don't only represent the Soho section, but the 16,000 homeowners and 8,000 homes in Belleville, we represent them all."

"Today it costs $650 to send a child to school. If the budget passes, it will cost $725." The mayor then stated that Belleville was at its crossroads.

"In good conscience, I can't vote against it. You people haven't given me good reason. I have to think of the taxes everyone has to pay. I intend to vote yes when it comes before the board."

Commissioner Vincent Strumolo voted no, making the mayor's affirmative vote the deciding one. "The objectors are justified in their objections," said Strumolo. "It would be commercializing an area that the residents want private. The one and two family homeowners are paying for that privacy and are entitled to it."

Belleville Woman's Autopsy Continues

The final decision is not in from police officials on Mrs. Irene Salvatore Annear, 25, a divorcee with two children, who was found dead last weekend in a Mt. Prospect Avenue rooming house. Autopsy results are still pending. The medical examiner is awaiting toxicological tests.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Salvatore of 162 Division Avenue, Belleville, told police the woman was their daughter. The Salvatore rescalled Lieutenant Joseph Kenney of the Newark Homicide Squad when they recognized her photo in the Newark papers. The father identified the body at Spatola's Funeral Home.

Mrs. Salvatore had filed a missing persons report with Belleville police Friday night.

Mrs. Annear was found in a room at 219 Mt. Prospect Ave., Newark, Saturday morning after Frank Powell, the superintendent in the building, called police.

Police said Powell told them that Mrs. Annear had registered at the address Friday night, signing in as Marie Cafone of 321 Mohawk Dr., Newark.

Powell told police the woman specified she had to get up early Saturday morning to claim some luggage.

When she failed to come downstairs Saturday morning Powell summoned police. The door was chained from the inside, and police were forced to break in.

Lt. Kenney said the name and address on Mohawk Drive proved to be false, as well as the name of the next-of-kin she listed.

Mrs. Salvatore said her daughter was in good health. Besides her parents, Mrs. Annear leaves two children, James, 8, and Joseph, 6. She leaves two brothers, John of Highland Park and William Salvatore Jr., of Belleville.

Governor Urges Defects Fight

Governor Richard J. Hughes today issued a proclamation urging all New Jersey citizens to contribute generously to the fight against birth defects by supporting the March of Dimes campaign during the month of January.

With the Governor at the signature ceremony were James A. Skidmore, Jr., Berkeley Heights, N.J., State Chairman for the New Jersey March of Dimes campaign, and Terry Fell 5 1/2 year-old daughter of Mr. & Mrs. John Fell of Trenton, N.J., a birth defect victim now under treatment at the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at St. Francis Hospital in Trenton.

In issuing the proclamation, Governor Hughes pointed out that nearly 8,000 New Jersey babies are born each year with birth defects. The March of Dimes not only supports treatment of these unfortunate infants, but also finances research into the causes and prevention of birth defects.

"Enlightened citizens of New Jersey cannot in good conscience close their eyes to a continuing tragedy of such magnitude," the Governor said, and I "call upon the appeal to all our thoughtful citizens to contribute generously to this fight against birth defects."

According to Arnold, anyone whose work activity was covered by social security for 5 of the past 10 years, and is expected to be out of work for at least 12 months (because of sickness or injury) should apply for disability payments immediately.

In addition, anyone who becomes "disabled" between ages 24 and 31 needs work covered by social security for only half the time between age 21 and the time he becomes unable to work. Those disabled before age 24 will need only 1 1/2 years of work credit out of the 3-year period ending when the disability began.

Anyone in the Newark area who wishes to apply for disability benefits should visit the social security office at 970 Broad Street, Newark. The office is open from 9 to 5 week days and until 11:30 a.m. on Saturdays.

William J. Arnold, manager of the Newark, New Jersey Social Security Office stated today that many persons eligible for disability benefits apply too late to receive checks as early as they should.

The Mafia

Since the Kefauver Committee probe of the 1950s we have heard much talk about the existence of a "Mafia."

During the past few weeks the spot light regarding organized crime has been in the State of New Jersey. All kinds of charges, some with substance and others recklessly made, have been leveled against members of the New Jersey Legislature.

The Legislative Committee which examined into the charges produced a document which we believe is more noteworthy for its lack of courage than for its integrity.

At least one member of the Legislature should have been impeached -- but that kind of action is too much to expect from the "Members of the Club."

We are surprised the Federal Government has failed to jail any of the reported Mafia leaders. Public officials in high places publicly identify names and titles of Mafia leaders. If they have this much information on organized crime leaders why aren't the culprits jailed?

On Saturday, November 25, 1967, Editor

Attorney General Ramsey Clark announced the formation of "Strike Forces" (special investigative groups) to deal with activities of major organized crime in the East and Midwest, including New Jersey.

Two years earlier newspaper reports indicated the same kind of concentration on exposure of the Mafia organized crime operation. If New Jersey is a major powerhouse for organized crime why does the Federal Government permit mobsters to operate with immunity? For that matter the failure to root out organized crime is a reflection upon all law enforcement agencies, including the local, county and state levels.

Organized crime is a sinister competitor to legitimate business. We believe it can be eliminated -- if public officials have the will to do so.

A New Train

Of considerable interest and long-term importance is the recent inauguration of a new train service between Washington and New York. Beginning in the second half of January, Penn Central's new Metroliner covers the 226 miles from New York to Washington in two hours and 59 minutes.

Features of the new train, in some ways similar to a new train service between Montreal and Toronto, include large, comfortable airline-type reclining seats, meals served at one's seat, telephones on every car, a loud speaker system and snack bars.

The new train travels at high speeds made possible by its design and scheduling and by improvement in the roadbed, an improvement facilitated by federal assistance to Penn Central over a two-year trial period. These improvements allow the Metroliner to reach a top speed of 110 m.p.h.

Costs are reasonable. Coach seats are $12.75 and first-class seats are $19.90. At present there is only one trip each way daily, leaving New York (Penn Station) at 8:30 in the morning and Washington at 3:55 in the afternoon. Stops are made at Newark, Trenton, Philadelphia 30th Street, Wilmington and Baltimore. Other trains will soon be added.

The fascinating question posed by the new rail service is whether such improved comfort and performance will enable the railroads to make in-roads into metropolitan passenger business of the airlines. Considering the time consumed getting to and from airports, which makes a New York-Washington flight require over two hours (often three) it would seem the new, fast comfortable trains, with telephones, which are not affected by weather, will enable them to do so.

Airplane Crashes

The recent series of airline crashes, most of them occurring in very bad weather, should remind travelers mother nature is still an important consideration in air travel.

While it is true that marvelous electronic devices have been perfected and that all modern airliners have equipment aboard which makes them theoretically almost foolproof, the truth is that there is still an element of human error to be considered in all flying and very bad weather greatly increases this danger.

There is also an element of danger in bad weather (not present in good weather) concerning automatic equipment; in good weather should it fail the pilot can make needed corrections by visual contact. This is not possible in bad weather when visibility is extremely limited.

Flying is still safer than driving one's car, the statistics tell us, and the number of passengers hauled by the airlines continues to increase each year. But, also, the number of serious crashes occurring in bad weather months and periods is higher than in good weather year after year.

It's truly incredible what bad weather modern airliners fly in, take off and land in, but mother nature still claims her toll. And studies attributing accidents to human error and technical failure never seem to note that had it not been for very bad weather these errors need not have been fatal.

Yesterday's Children

Various explanations are being offered by various "experts" to explain the rising crime wave among today's American youth. Most of the explanations blame parents and society to a large degree, and obviously this is true, as it always is, but that is missing the point.

Looking back and wishing parents had done a better job, or that society had been different, won't change or improve anything. What must be faced today is the responsibility for checking the crime wave, in the interest of the vast majority of law-abiding citizens despite errors in the past.

European parents have said for a generation now that American children were the most spoiled in the world. Those who have lived in both the old and new worlds know this is true to a degree. In this country in the forties and fifties far-out theorists sold millions of American parents on the idea of never saying "no" to junior. We raised a generation containing too many monsters because of this fact.

There are, in addition, a number of youngsters who have been misled by cheap political plays for votes on the part of politicians and sensational leaders-plays which blame the majority for all of life's evils and inequities. As a result, we have in this generation too many martyrs, bitter at the world and convinced they can provoke violence and defy the law in behalf of their personal crusade.

And American parents should learn from the grim present that they have failed, as a nation, and seek to do better with the coming generation.

The Polls

Although many political observers believe public opinion polls should tone down frantic, last-minute samplings of public sentiment in the final days of national election campaigns, the results of which often become sensational, percentage figures offered by the major polls prior to the 1968 election were admittedly close to the mark.

In the final days of national campaigns polls have often seemed to hedge, and critics claim this is, in part, construction of a ready-made excuse in case they are proven wrong by the voting. The November election provided no new ammunition for critics of hedging tactics for it's apparent Vice President Hubert Humphrey closed the gap between himself and President-elect Richard Nixon in the final weeks of the campaign, just as the polls indicated he was doing.

Newspaper straw-vote polls in various sections of the nation were also relatively accurate in recent weeks; thus in a year in which some of the major polls fared badly earlier (one gave Senator Eugene McCarthy about 11 per cent of the New Hampshire primary vote before he won 40) the November voting enhanced the reputation of the major pollsters for accuracy.

The Gallup Poll, which continued to give Richard Nixon a slight edge up to election day, came off better than the Harris Poll, which indicated Vice President Humphrey had overtaken Nixon in its final, frantic opinion sampling.

Progress Or Peril?

Seems Only Yesterday

1 YEAR AGO

Following a brief hearing on the School Budget for 1968-69 the Board of Education adopted the financial plan unchanged. A quiet audience of under 30 persons were present at a hearing held in the School 8 auditorium.

Quick-thinking Mrs. Catherine Schilling of 279 Greylock Parkway was the first winner of the Big Win contest sponsored by The Belleville Times and leading shops and stores of the town. Although Mrs. Schilling won $100, the gifts went as high as $1,000 in the contest.

The work of the Planning Board hearing of the land use portion of the master plan was being disputed. The long and violent discussion, according to many of the officials, did not fully explain the land use proposals but worse than that it added to the overall confusion.

5 YEARS AGO

A tea was given by the Belleville Women at the Branch Brook Manor to honor Carmine Petti, a candidate for the Belleville Board of Education.

Councilman G. George Addonizio was named to seat on the Town Planning Board by a unanimous vote of the Town Council.

The Belleville High School basketball team ran against a solid Montclair quintet and came out a little bruised and a little behind, 64-44. Montclair was tied for second with East Orange in the Big Ten Conference before they met the Bellboys at the Montclair Gymnasium.

The Belleville Adult School began its first course on the History of the American Negro. The course was entitled "Contributions of the Negro to our Democracy" and consisted of ten lectures followed by a question and answer period. The course was taught by psychologist John C. Harvard.

New courses in science, mathematics, and foreign languages were among 93 curricular offerings described in a booklet to be issued to all freshmen entering the high school.

10 YEARS AGO

The Essex County Tax Board reported that Belleville's aggregate true value of assessable property had been established for the year at $152,960,382 and the tax rates at $55,983,550. The Board ruled therefore that Belleville had been assessing at a rate of 36.60 for tax purposes.

The movement for a charter change from a commission government to a mayor council set-up was abandoned by the Belleville Citizens Council for Better Government.

Richard Drake, a candidate for the school board, pointed out that it was the duty of the Board of Education to maintain and improve the standards of selecting teachers.

15 YEARS AGO

Belleville voters were preparing to vote in the May elections on the issue as to whether members of the Board of Education would, in the future, be elected to their positions or whether they shall continue to be appointed. This decision was made by the Town Council after the Belleville Citizen's Association asked the Commission to take the step. The vote was unanimous.

Objection to any future showing of the "The Moon is Blue", a controversial motion picture, was expressed in a resolution by the Knights of Columbus.

The 104 foot steel deck of the Passaic River Bridge at Rutgers and Main Streets was notched with small cuts to effect an antiskid surface for traffic. This project was part of the State Highway Department's effort on six other bridges in Essex County, all of which were to have been riveted.

25 YEARS AGO

An ordinance authorizing the establishment of a town planning commission, with full control vested in the hands of the mayor, was introduced at the council meeting by Public Works Director Waters. The proposed planning board would have been constructed of nine men, eight to be appointed by the mayor and the remaining man to be selected by the other Commissioners at large. Waters pointed out, however, that the method of appointment of the members is ruled by New Jersey State law. The purpose of the Board was to create a master plan for the physical development of the town for many years to come.

forty years ago
An extensive study of the members of the Lions Club with the help of a chart drawn by Town Engineer Albert S. Blank from the water meter at Mill Street of the Passaic Valley Water Commission led them to state that people of Belleville did not take baths on Saturday night.

Plans to broadcast a Boy Scout station over one of the Newark networks to aid the local campaign to stabilize the Belleville Organization, were discussed at a meeting of the Publicity Committee at the home of John Ray on Union Avenue.

Governor Smith's contention that 420,000 votes, properly placed, would have made him president, sounded so impressive that it had drawn the fire of the Republican statisticians. One of these statisticians had studied every election since 1864 and announced that far less than 420,000 votes, properly placed, could have reversed the election in every case. He also noted that 529 votes would have reversed the Hayes-Tilden election in 1876. Smith, however, did not need to say that Tilden had won anyway and Hayes, called old "8 to 7" apparently needed those 529 votes.

Endorses Albertine

To the Editor:

As the time for the election to the Belleville Board of Education nears, the voters of Belleville, at least those who take time out to vote are looking over the various candidates to determine who will fill the two openings on the local board.

Education in many communities is taken lightly by the people, Belleville is no exception as evidenced by the small turnouts in recent years. Yet it is these board members who administer the schools and spend your tax dollar. We need good business minded people to serve on our Board of Education.

The name of Michael V. Albertine should mean this to the voters of Belleville. A highly successful insurance and real estate business augers well for his reputation in this respect.

Michael V. Albertine is no stranger in the field of education. A former board member he understands the problems in Belleville. Thus he brings experience to the Board of Education. "Mike" is willing once again to bring his time and talents to the people of Belleville.

As a former teacher Mr. Albertine can readily understand problems in a school curriculum. This should be a strong point in asking the citizens of Belleville to vote this man to the Board of Education of Tuesday February 9th.

Help Was There When Needed

To The Editor:

My family and I wish to thank the policemen and First Aid squad for their help in an emergency.

Early the morning of January 9, when I needed help, in the person of my husband, they were at the house almost before I hung up the telephone. They worked, giving my husband all the assistance they could, but in vain.

Thank you again, it is very reassuring to know that help is there when needed, through the means of the police and emergency units.

Sincerely,
Margaret I. Wasdyke

Boy's Clubs Help Juvenile Decency

To The Editor:

Our sincere thanks to you and the Belleville Times-News for your continued support of the Boys' Clubs of Newark and the cause of "Juvenile Decency".

With the help of the Belleville Times-News we were able to bring the Boys' Clubs message to countless thousands during 1968. It is always gratifying to see stories and photos of our boys and volunteers featured in the Belleville Times-News. Once again, thanks very much for your assistance. We certainly wish you the best for the Holiday Season.

Cordially,
W. Jerome Denman

Belleville Granted State Aid for Joralemon Street

Among recently announced grants-in-aid from the State Department of Transportation is a $50,000 grant for Joralemon Street in Belleville.
David J. Goldberg, transportation commissioner for the state has also announced an allotment of $1,533,500 total for Essex County.
The state grants allocated under the State Road System Act of 1967, total $14,687,000. They represent the state's share of the cost for the future construction projects and enable the counties and municipalities to include the matching amounts in their 1969 programs.
Applications for the grants far exceeded funds available for the program, according to the commissioner. The department received a total of 349 applications, which totaled $30,632,713 in value.
Following a searching review and evaluation, the department approved 182 applications valued at $14,687,000. The funds are to be matched 50-50 by the counties and 75-25 by the municipalities.
The act, passed in April, 1967, gives the transportation commissioner the responsibility for selecting major county and local roads and bridges to be included in an overall integrated system, including consideration of new roads as well as the reconstruction and improvement of existing roads. The commissioner also has the responsibility of apportioning $15 million to the counties and municipalities for their individual projects for the system.
In 1968, two amendments to the act provided that all bridges on local roads are now eligible for funds, and that the commissioner is empowered, for calendar 1969 only, to participate in comprehensive bridge inspection programs set up by local agencies.
Commissioner Goldberg added that the $15 million state aid program does not affect established county and municipal road aid programs. These include $9,155,000 to counties by formulas based on road miles, population and area. State aid to municipalities totals $6.6 million on the basis of road miles, population and need.
An afternoon of French comedy will be presented, in French, in the Montclair High School Auditorium, Montclair, New Jersey, on Sunday, February 9th, at 2:30 P.M.
Montclair High School's French Club will present the French Art Theater, Inc., of New York in two French plays: Eugene Ionesco's 'La Cantatrice Chauve' (The Bald Soprano) from the theater of the absurd and 'La Farce de Maitre Pathelin', a most popular 15th Century farce.
"The plays are extremely funny, and the language is easy to understand," commented Mrs. Nada Orebic, the Club's advisor.
Fetology, the diagnosis and treatment of problems of the unborn baby, is opening new ways for science to prevent birth defects, reports the March of Dimes.

Alien Address Reports Due

Dominick F. Rinaldi, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, advised today that the annual alien address report program is again under way.
Rinaldi stated: "It is easy for an alien to report his address. Cards with which to make this report are available at post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Completed cards should be returned to the clerk. Parents or guardians may submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age and a relative or friend may obtain a card for an alien who is ill."
Aliens are reminded that unless they are lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence as immigrants they are generally not permitted to seek employment in the United States. Under certain conditions aliens are admitted temporarily to the United States for the purpose of training or to perform special services.

Hunting, Fishing Calendar Released

A New Jersey sportsmen's calendar for late winter and early spring was announced this week by Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development. This period climaxes with the re-opening of the trout fishing season on April 5. Before the big day there are a variety of outdoor recreational opportunities including the current ice fishing season, closing days and weeks of hunting and trapping and other fishing in both fresh and salt water.

There are also two events of special interest to outdoor enthusiasts: the New Jersey Fishermen's Forum on Saturday February 15 at the Golden Gate Motel, Absecon; the annual celebration of National Wildlife Week, March 16-21, coordinated by the State Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, with the theme "Provide Habitat - Places Where Wildlife Live." Licensed anglers and hunters should consult current Compendiums of New Jersey Fish and Game Laws for detailed regulations. Dates are as follows:

Open Now: Hunting for most upland game species, including rabbit, quail, squirrel, grouse, fox chukar partridge - also woodchuck with shotgun or bow only. Raccoon hunting. Muskrat, mink, raccoon trapping (see Compendium for restrictions on State Wildlife Management Areas). Hunting on commercial preserves as licensed.

Hunting on semi-wild preserves qualified for long season. Ice fishing for all species (except Round Valley Reservoir). Fresh water (unfrozen) fishing for all species (except Round Valley and Spruce Run Reservoirs and trout in Delaware River). Salt water fishing for all species except striped bass.

Sat. Feb. 1. Small game hunting except fox closes 1/2 hour after sunset (preserves remain open).

Sat. Feb. 15. Fishermen's Forum, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Golden Gate Motel, Absecon. Admission free.

Sun. Feb. 16. Tip-up ice fishing closes at midnight (except Greenwood Lake and Delaware River); single lines permitted hereafter while ice holds (except Spruce Run Reservoir).

Fri. Feb. 28. Remaining semi-wild preserves close 1/2 hour after sunset (commercial remain open).

Sat. Mar. 1. Striped bass fishing re-opens.

Sun. Mar. 2. Trout fishing closes at Midnight (except Greenwood Lake); also angling in trout-stocked waters (see Compendium for 3 streams, 9 other waters open for other species).

Sat. Mar. 8. Woodchuck hunting opens at sunrise (rifle allowed with special permit). Raccoon hunting closes 1 hour before following sunrise.

Fri. Mar. 14. Ice fishing in Delaware River closes (Greenwood Lake open).

Sat. Mar. 15. Trapping season closes. No traps may remain set hereafter.

March 16-21. National Wildlife Week.

Sun. Mar. 23. Fishing in trout-stocked lakes exempt from earlier closing ends at midnight (3 streams remain open).

Mon. Mar. 31. Fox hunting closes in area south and east of Route 1, 1/2 hour after sunset (northern New Jersey open). Fishing in trout streams exempt from earlier closing ends at midnight.

Sat. Apr. 5. Trout fishing re-opens at 8 a.m. (except Delaware River); trout waters and Round Valley Reservoir open for all species.

Sportsmen Urged To Aid Cleaning Polluted Water

The nation's 43-million licensed sports fishermen and hunters were urged today to take an active role in helping to clean up U.S. waters, according to a joint statement by David L. Gallagher, Director, National Water Institute, New York, N.Y., and Curt Gowdy, National Director, Trout Unlimited, famous sports fisherman and TV sportscaster, in launching a new, clean-water program aimed at enlisting their aid.

Brownie Troops Assist Deborah

On January 22, sixteen Brownie Girl Scouts of Troop #255 of School #7 in Belleville, were invited by the fundraising committee of Deborah Hospital to participate in a consumer research project at the "Communication Center" in Montclair.

Mrs. Joseph Cobianni, president of the Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Deborah Hospital, made the project possible, so that Brownie Girl Scouts could participate in a service project to the community and to Deborah Hospital.

The purpose of the survey was to question seven and eight year old girls on their preferences of popular cereals, packaging and children's commercials. The company commissioning the survey then gave a donation to Deborah Hospital.

Put all your eggs in one basket? WHY NOT?

It really makes sense for several reasons. When you open a savings account at DeWitt your nest eggs earn bigger dividends than you can get anywhere in Belleville for regular savings accounts. And your account is insured up to $15,000 by a U. S. Government Agency. Plus, regular passbook savings are compounded quarterly. Remember too, funds deposited by the 10th earn dividends from the first of the month. Another thing, should you ever need a home loan, it's quicker and easier to get when you save at DeWitt. Come in and get acquainted . . . we're friendly and convenient.

Joan Paparazzo's Engagement Told

Miss Joan Paparazzo

Mr. and Mrs. John Paparazzo of Belleville announced the engagement of their daughter, Joan to Michael V. Lilloia, son of Dr. and Mrs. Michael P. Lilloia of Belleville at a recent family dinner party.

Miss Paparazzo is a senior at Jersey City State College where she is a member of Sigma Theta Chi sorority.

Mr. Lilloia, a senior business major at Seton Hall University, is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi National Business Fraternity.

The wedding will be held in July 1970.

Board Candidates List Qualifications At School Meeting

Monday January 13, at School Number 5 PTA the five independents running for the Board of Education position gave a brief resume on their educational and business background and their qualifications for the position. The five candidates are, Joseph Casale, Michael Albertine, Caesar Romano, Leonard Back, and Carmine Petti.

Casale stressed sports and the athletic in his speech program. Petti, active in many civic improvements, noted his attendance at all civic groups as giving him a better insight of the problems of the board.

Albertine, a former board member, likes the challenge it has to offer. He asked these questions "Are we giving the kids the proper curriculum? Are we giving too much or too little to our children?" He also stated that he would watch the tax dollar because it is his tax dollar also.

Mr. Back, feels his business backing, (works for the First National City Bank of New York) will be a great aid to the board. Back also stated that quality education is not always bought with money. He would also listen to the teachers' needs and what the taxpayer could afford.

Romano stated that as a parent he has a responsibility to his children to provide the best possible education. He believed also in a more progressive education and submitted a nine point program amplifying his program.

The PTA will mark February 3, Founders Day, by a meeting. Our Guest speaker will be Mr. Greco, superintendent of schools. The topic will be on the budget.

Heart Is Number One Death Cause In Jersey

Cardiovascular diseases ranked again last year as the greatest killer of people in New Jersey, according to the State Department of Health.

Dr. Thomas M. McMillan, III, president of the New Jersey Heart Association, in alluding to figures recently published by the Department, pointed out that diseases of the heart and circulatory system accounted for 31,316 of the total 65,594 lives lost in the State during the 12 month period ending January 1, 1968.

An additional 5,979 deaths were caused by vascular lesions, a principal cause of these two categories accounted for 56.8% of all New Jersey deaths.

Honeymoon In The Poconos For Mr. and Mrs. Vivona

The marriage of Miss Barbara Gale Scavone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Scavone of 740 North Eighth Street, Newark, to Casper Vivona Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vivona Sr. of Irvington, took place January 26 at St. Anthony of Padua Church, Belleville.

The Rev. Anthony Manocchio performed the afternoon ceremony which was followed by a reception at Thomm's, Newark.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a Victorian styled gown of satin trimmed with Italian lace beaded with sequins and beading.

Her elbow length veil was held by a matching headpiece and she carried roses and orchids.

Miss Barbara Iacangelo of Newark was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included the bride's sister, Miss Shirley Scavone, and the groom's sister, Miss Cathy Vivona. Junior bridesmaids were another sister of the bride, Miss Linda Scavone and her cousin, Miss Laurie Sibello.

They were attired in green velvet and peau de soie gowns and carried carnations and roses.

James Melegh of Elizabeth served as best man for his brother. Ushering were Robert Slonim of Newark and the bride's brother, Michael Scavone Jr.

Mrs. Vivona, a graduate of Girl's Vocational and Technical High School, Newark, is a secretary at the Disability Bureau, Newark.

Mr. Vivona, an alumnus of Boy's Vocational and Technical High School, Bloomfield and Boy's Vocational and Technical Night School, Irvington, is an electrician with Simonelli Contractors.

Following a honeymoon at Mt. Airy Lodge, Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania, the couple will live in Belleville.

Miss Schutz Begins Secretarial Career

Miss Katherine Schutz of 331 Greylock Parkway, Belleville, has begun her secretarial career with Public Service Electric and Gas Company, Newark, following completion of studies at The Berkeley School, East Orange.

Special Program For Founders Day

The PTA meeting on February 4 at School Number Nine will be in honor of Founders Day. A program will be presented by Mrs. Joanne Patchanka, Founders Day chairman. Candidates for Board of Education posts will be present to meet and speak with the group. Refreshments will be served.

Women's Auxiliary Present Mountainside Hospital Gift

The balance of a $50,000 gift for The Mountainside Hospital building fund from the Woman's Auxiliary will be presented by Mrs. Roger B. Etherington, President of the Auxiliary, during their 34th annual meeting to be held February 5.

Mrs. Casper Vivona - nee Barbara Scavone

Shawger School PTA Will Hear Candidates

On Tuesday, February 4, a meeting of the Home and School Association of James G. Shawger School will be held in the all-purpose room at 7:30. The budget for the next school year will be presented and candidates for election to the Board of Education will speak. Running for the position on the board are Michael Albertine, Leonard Back, Joseph Casale, Carmine Petti and Caesar Romano.

Also on the program will be a presentation by the cub scouts of Pack 304 under the leadership of Allen Gibson, Cub Master. The dens of den mothers Mrs. Dolores Gibson, Mrs. Anita Campione and Mrs. Frances Trabucco will display crafts made by the cubs and perform a skit on scouting.

Teachers who have given over 30 years of service to the school will also be honored at this meeting, namely, Miss Frances Barbone, Miss Lena Falco, Mrs. Majorie Gernert, Mrs. Mary Gialanella, Miss Mary Murray, Miss Evelyn Pozzo, and Miss Pauline Shapiro.

The check will be presented to John C. Imhoff, Executive Director of the Hospital. The payment is the last installment of the $50,000 donation, designated for renovation of Social Service Office and Out-Patient Department Waiting Room.

What happened to the 15¢ hot dog hasn't happened to your phone service.

In the last ten years, the price of almost everything has shot up. At most places even the cost of a hot dog has risen 50% or more. Now, you really have to look around to find a good hot dog for less than 25 cents.

While the cost of living has soared, your charges for basic phone service have remained the same. At the same time, the quality of your phone service has improved. You are now connected faster than ever before. You can dial more numbers direct. And you can hear the other person better, too.

While basic phone service costs the same as it did ten years ago, Long Distance rates have actually dropped.

These days bargains are hard to find. But your phone is one of the best around.

Essex County Reform GOP Urges Crime Fight; Less Tax

A Screening Committee composed of a representative from each Essex County town for candidates who expect to run this year is being set up by the Reform Republicans of Essex County.

Chairman Frederick Remington of North Caldwell announced today that "among the chief reasons for starting early in finding and interviewing male and female candidates are, one, the need for improved Essex County and New Jersey State candidates and, two, to pick a winning ticket that can make a really impressive showing in Essex County."

The Reform Republican leader said, he, and "the local town representatives who will speak up for the individual towns and county areas will be joined by the incumbent five Reform Republican State Senators, two Reform Republican Assemblymen, two Reform Republican Freeholders and the Reform Sheriff."

Remington said that "the topnotch team that Reform Republicans now have in Trenton and in the Court House in Newark must be increased to, one, ease the tax burden on our taxpayers; two, to improve the efficiency of New Jersey Government and, three, to come up with real progress for the 1970's and the future for all of us."

The recommendation of the Reform Republican Screening Committee will be submitted to the Reform Republican Executive Committee," he said. Any citizen interested in suggesting a neighbor or an outstanding local citizen to run for Assembly, Surrogate, Register of Deeds & Mortgages or Board of Freeholders is asked to submit the recommendation in a letter to Frederick Remington, Jr. at Reform Republican Headquarters, 54 Brick Church Plaza, East Orange.

"We are looking for really bright, dedicated people and we hope interested civic organizations, local leaders and concerned citizens will submit names to us," Remington said. "We are an open, straight-thinking, growing organization and we welcome the names and nomination of individuals who might be too modest to step forth themselves."

"Our county deserves the best, and we Reform Republicans intend to do our very best to insure that Essex County gets the very best government possible," he concluded.

Leader of Essex County Senatorial delegation, State Senator James H. Wallwork (Reform Republican) urged today that government bodies not directly connected with the investigations of organized crime in New Jersey supply information "vital to the success of a thorough, comprehensive attack on crime."

The Reform Republican urged:

1. The Governor and the Legislature immediately request cooperation from New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware in these investigations, and request these states appoint a liaison team to share information and to help in the investigations.

2. The FBI and other Federal agencies share information with all the investigating units, since crime is too complex to

Steinberg Gives Social Security Check Answers

Q. I get social security retirement checks. My wife is almost 62 and will be applying for benefits on my social security record. Will this mean that my check will be less?

A. No. The amount of your benefit check will remain the same. Your wife's benefit will be paid in addition to the payment you get.

Q. I have heard that anyone 72 or over can get social security even if he never worked or paid social security contributions. Is this correct?

A. Not quite. People who reached 72 before 1968 can get these special payments even if they never worked under social security. People who reach 72 after 1967 need credit for some work under social security to get them. The special payments may be reduced if the person is receiving public assistance or other Government payments.

Q. At what age may a widow who has no children under 18 start receiving social security benefits on her deceased husband's record?

A. A widow who is not disabled may start her social security benefits at 60. A disabled widow may begin receiving benefits as early as 50 if she becomes disabled widow may begin receiving benefits as early as 50 if she becomes disabled before her husband's death or within 7 years after his death.

Also, a widow who receives benefits as a mother with children may receive payments if she becomes disabled before those payments end or within 7 years after they end. The full amount of a widow's benefit, payable at 62, is 82 1/2 percent of her deceased husband's retirement benefit. If she starts receiving benefits between 50 and 62, the amount is permanently reduced.

isolate records and information in just a single agency.

3. Governor Hughes make available to all the investigating agencies pertinent state records and lists such as ABC licenses, tobacco licenses and the like.

4. President-elect Nixon make available Internal Revenue files to investigating agencies to speed and ease their work.

"My great concern is that these investigations be thorough and far-reaching. It will take courage, determination, and cooperation by both public officials and private citizens to wipe out the scourge of crime and to protect the rights of law-abiding citizens," Wallwork added.

The Reform Republican statement candidly acknowledged that investigating and rooting out of organized crime is a very difficult and time consuming endeavor. However, the safety and financial security of Essex County residents is so important that a hard-hitting effort be made by the Governor and all groups investigating crime.

Wallwork said that there was grave concern that, with four major agencies investigating organized crime in New Jersey, that there may be a lack of coordination among them, with gaps in areas which should be investigated.

"We have Federal Agencies, the State Commission of Investigations, a state-wide Grand Jury, and a special Legislative investigating committee scheduled to conduct investigations. It is quite possible that one investigating unit will think another is checking a given area and leave it unchecked, when in fact no investigation has been made."

"We must root out and smother crime. This cannot be done with a helter skelter investigating approach," Wallwork said.

Wallwork proposed a master plan to insure "coordination of efforts and to prevent gaps which are likely to develop if the agencies do not work together." He also recommended:

1. The establishment of a master list of items to be investigated, such as companies and corporations, labor unions, individuals, and geographic sections.

2. Weekly staff meetings of the various investigating agencies to insure free exchange of information and proper coordination.

3. Meetings of the chiefs of the various investigating agencies at least twice a month.

4. The creation of a joint task force of the Federal agencies, the State Commission of Investigations, and the Legislative committee to check leads.

5. The use of computers to collate information for rapid evaluation.

Wallwork concluded that he and the other Reform Republican Leaders would encourage private organizations such as church groups, New Jersey Bar Association, League of Women Voters, Junior League, Junior Chamber of Commerce, college women's groups and others to help in the drive to clear crime out of New Jersey, a key part of their 1969 program.

Woman's Club Wanderings

Mid Winter Paper Goal Meet Held Is Heard

The Woman's Club of Belleville were hostesses for the mid-winter briefing session of the Eighth District of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs at their clubhouse at 51 Rossmore Place on January 22nd.

The presidents and officers of the district, presided over by Mrs. Robert M. De Mott of Rutherford were welcomed by Mrs. Richard A. Shafter, president of the Woman's Club of Belleville. Mrs. William R. Kropp, Federation secretary played the piano for the singing of "America" which opened the session and conducted the registration of guests, Mrs. Floyd M. Haring, past president, poured for the guests at the luncheon.

The state chairman of the Community Improvement Program Mrs. G. T. Strakosch of Franklin Lakes was the honored guest from the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs. It was her privilege to communicate enthusiasm for participation among all the clubs of the district in the nationwide program.

All clubwomen of the federation are committed to improving their communities and with the cooperation of the Sears Roebuck Foundation, prizes are offered biennially to the best reports received.

delegation of Essex County has re-elected its 1968 delegation leadership and has assigned each of its members to specific assignments for 1969.

C. Richard Fiore will be in charge of Educational affairs for the delegation. Assemblyman John Dennis of Verona, was named as liaison with the State Senate; Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson of West Orange will represent the delegation to the Freeholders and Assemblyman Philip D. Kaltenbacher of Millburn, will be delegation representative to the Administration and cabinet. Assemblyman Ralph Caputo, representing District-11C will be responsible for Urban affairs. Assemblyman Thomas B. Kean of Livingston was retained as delegation leader, and Assemblyman Herbert Rinaldi of Glen Ridge remained as Assistant leader.

A meeting was held Friday Jan. 24th at the home of Mrs. Richard A. Shafter president of the Woman's Club of Belleville at which the committee members who have been conducting a town-wide newspaper drive for the benefit of St. Joseph's School for the Blind heard the latest report on the amount raised.

With the cooperation of the Department of Public Affairs under Commissioner Vincent Strumulo, a total of $708 is available and it is now the goal of the committee to reach the sum of $1,000 by April first.

Mrs. Harry Marrazza, chairman of the paper drive, reports that newspapers will still be collected, tied in bundles. Pickups can be arranged through 759-2372.

Two Belleville children are pupils at the school which is experiencing financial difficulties due to the highly specialized teaching staff required. The children are blind and handicapped and in most teaching relationships, it is one pupil to one teacher.

There is no school in this section of New Jersey which could take these pupils and it would mean waiting lists and boarding away from home should the St. Joseph's School, located in Jersey City, not have the financial means to continue accepting children from Essex County.

MID-WINTER BRIEFING—At the mid-winter briefing session of the 8th District of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs were Mrs. G.T. Strakosch, chairman of the community improvement program, Mrs. Robert DeMott, vice-president of eighth district of Woman's Clubs, and Mrs. Richard Shafter, president of the Woman's Club of Belleville.

PAPER DRIVE—discussing the Woman's Club of Belleville's paper drive which will benefit St. Joseph's School for the Blind are Mrs. Richard A. Shafter, Mrs. Paul Klingler, Mrs. William Oortel, Mrs. Harry Marrazza and Mrs. Emma McDonald.

Chamber Of Commerce Welcomes New Members

We Welcome as new members, Hy Schoenfeld, Edmars, 173 Washington Avenue, and, Jerry Green, Belleville Window Cleaning Co., Box 73.

Did You Know? Since the inception of Social Security, the maximum employee-employer tax per employee has skyrocketed from $60 in 1937 to $686.40 in 1968. This rise is more than 1000% while Social Security benefits have risen only 400%. Can you imagine what private insurance companies could do with an increase of 1000% in premiums on annuities?

April 26 Is The Date Put it down on your calendar now. The Chamber's Annual Dinner-Dance. More on this later of course. There has been a suggestion that we have a souvenir printed program, with ads. No high pressure salesmanship, as so often happens with these things, but on the contrary, those who would like to so advertize are urged to get in touch with our chairman, Aaron Cohen, Charles Jewelers, 759-2468.

When The Goths, Visigoths

And Vandals sacked Rome they did such a thorough job of wanton senseless destruction that they created a word for the language - "vandalism." No one knows what vandalism is costing the people of this country but as usual the hard-working, honest decent people as in many other things are paying the price, a price that is continually rising even here in suburban Belleville. Part of our trouble, it has been said, is due to the invention of the safety razor and the automobile since with the advent of these devices the strop is no longer in use and the wood-shed became the garage, and certain ceremonies that used to involve the strop and the shed have been discontinued.

Route 3 In Passaic

Transportation Department Seeks Bridge Improvement

Commissioner David J. Goldberg today announced the Department of Transportation will seek bids on a contract to improve the safety of Route 3 bridge across the Passaic River in approximately ninety days.

The Commissioner said the contract will call for welding studs to the steel grid deck to reduce skidding accidents. Specifications for the work are being drafted now.

Commissioner Goldberg said this improvement could be expedited by passage of the Transportation bill by the Assembly when the Legislature reconvenes on January 14. Included in the bill are requests for the authority and funds to improve Route 3, including the bridge connecting Rutherford in Bergen County and Clifton in Passaic County.

The contract will call for welding more than 105,000 steel studs, each one-quarter inch high, to the 11,000 sq. ft. steel grid deck located in the center of the bridge. The deck holds two roadways each 38 feet wide divided by a center barrier; the grid is approximately 146 feet long. The work should be completed within one month.

A similar stud-welding project, completed in 1966 on the Route 1 & 9, Passaic River

Dancing for Adults Barret School Expanding Staff

Bob Milanese, the New York stage and nightclub performer, has joined the staff of the June Barret School of Dance, 527 Joralemon Street, in Belleville. He teaches tap, modern and jazz dancing, and he plans to initiate adult classes in physical fitness exercises every Tuesday & Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

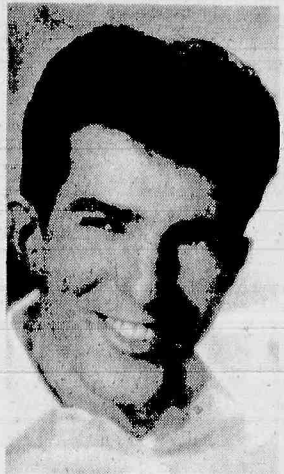

A native of Rockville, Conn., Bob Milanese became a professional entertainer while still in his teens, doing a song-and-dance act with his sister. They appeared in leading hotel rooms and nightclubs throughout New England and Canada, and they had their own television series, Holiday Time, on WKNB, Hartford. They did television and radio commercials in Hartford and in Boston.

As a single, Bob Milanese has appeared at Jack Silverman's International Club, New York; the Riviera Hotel, Las Vegas; Club Morocco, at Montreal; and the Terrace Gables, on Cape Cod. At Ben Martin's Bolero, in Wildwood, he performed with such stars as Theresa Brewer, Johnny Mathis, Martha Raye and Sammy Davis, Jr. He is a summer favorite at the leading hotels on the Borscht Belt in the Catskills.

New York has seen him in musicals like "Bye, Bye, Birdie," "The Music Man," "Once Upon A Mattress," "Hi, Paissano!" "Fiorello!" "The Boy Friend" and "Meet Peter Grant."

He has played featured roles with Dorothy Lamour in a touring company of "DuBarry Was A Lady" and with Roddy McDowell and Joey Heatherton in "Meet Me In St. Louis." He also toured the U.S. and Canada in "International Spectacular," produced by Russell Markert, of the Radio City Music Hall. Numerous celebrities have

Bail Set At $500 For Newark Man

A charge of possession of narcotics against David Lee Bennett, 24, of 321 Broadway, Newark, was referred to the Grand Jury after a preliminary hearing in the Nutley Municipal Court chosen Bob Milanese to stage their nightclub acts for them. He has directed musicals for school and church groups. Previously, he has taught dancing in Connecticut and New York.

on January 8. Bennett was stopped by Patrolman Charles Olivo on November 1 for driving a car with a red inspection sticker. During the investigation which followed, it was learned that Bennett was driving while on the revoked list. He was also alleged to be under the influence of narcotics.

On arriving at the police station, Patrolman John Guerino was ordered to move

Bennett's car to the rear of the building. When he entered the car his hat, he said, struck the window visor and a pack of cigarettes fell on the seat, spilling out six glassine envelopes.

Guerino said that the material in the envelopes was tested and found to be heroin.

Music Professor Researches Past

A Douglass College professor has found a musical treasure trove in his hometown backyard -- in New Brunswick, Canada.

Armed with a tape recorder, James R. Wilson of (50 Heathcote Ave.) Metuchen, an associate professor of music, spent 10 years researching the folk songs of his native Miramichi Valley. Together with a Canadian historian, Dr. Louise Mansy, he has just published his musical findings in a 101-song anthology, "Songs of Miramichi."

"The Miramichi is a sparsely-settled valley in the center of the province that has very little since it was settled by Scotch-Irish immigrants in the eighteenth century," Wilson explained.

"In the old folk tradition, music is still a part of the people's daily lives."

During the summer, the men work as fishermen or forest guides, but in the fall they disappear into the woods to work in the lumber camps. Except for a twoday break at Christmas the men stay at the camps till spring, whiling away the long winter nights by singing the native folk songs.

"Sometimes they have 'singing bees' to see which man has the largest repertory," Wilson said.

The melodies of these previously unrecorded folk songs, which are sung without accompaniment, are of very old Irish and Scottish origin. Through the years, the people have written many verses for the same tunes.

"In one area you may find a tune being used for a love song; and in another for a satiric piece," Wilson commented. Many of the songs tell of lumbering and fishing disasters.

Miramichi women berrying on the edge of a forest sing the folk songs as they work.

"This serves as a beacon to their children so that they will not play outside the range of the women's singing," the professor said.

To his delight, Wilson discovered that the old songs are still being sung in the valley, even though it has modernized since World War II.

"I was afraid the younger generation wouldn't learn the songs, but I found them singing the tunes to the accompaniment of an American-style folk guitar at festivals," he noted. "Of course the real old-timers didn't like the guitar."

Anative of the Miramichi village of McNamee, Wilson left the valley at the age of 13 to attend high school in New Hampshire and college at Dartmouth, since there were only three high schools in the province at the time.

He also studied at the Juilliard School of Music and at New York University. He joined the Douglass music faculty in 1953.

Newark And Essex Bank Names Advertising Director

Gustave E. Wiedenmayer, president of National Newark & Essex Bank, has announced the appointment of George J. Van Dalen, Jr. of Toms River, an assistant cashier, as director of advertising and public relations for the bank. He succeeds Robert B. Kent, who resigned.

In his new position, Van Dalen will direct all internal advertising, promotional and public relations activity for the bank's 31 locations. He also will coordinate the external advertising and public relations functions of the bank.

National Newark & Essex is represented by Albert Frank Cuenther Law, Inc. for advertising. William G. Hetherington & Co. Inc. of Newark is public relations counsel.

Van Dalen joined National Newark & Essex Bank in 1965 as a management trainee. He was assigned to the advertising and public relations department in 1966 as director of sales training. He is a former teacher in Madison Township High School.

A graduate of Woodbridge High School, Van Dalen holds a bachelor of science degree from Rutgers-The State University. He is currently enrolled in the Graduate School of Business at Rutgers as a candidate for a master's degree.

He also is enrolled in the Bank Public Relations and Marketing Association course in public relations, which he will complete in July at Northwestern University.

Van Dalen is a member of the Sales Executives Club of N. J. and the Advertising Club of New Jersey.

He and his wife, the former Carol Handerman, live at 341 Hilltop Road, Toms River. They have one daughter, Kim.

Elks Poster Boy From Jersey City

David Mazurowski, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mazurowski of 15 Marion Place, Jersey City, is the 1969 Elks Poster Boy.

A cerebral palsy victim, David has been receiving therapy, braces, shoes and aids such as wheel chair and crutches from the Jersey City Elks Lodge 211 for the past three years.

He started Harry Moore School in September in Jersey City and is a bright, energetic boy with a winsome personality.

David will lead the New Jersey Elks drive to obtain $200,000 in funds to help crippled children in communities all over the state. The drive, with David's photo on the seals, will start with the mailing to more than 1 million residents of the state this week.

The prognosis for David is good, and his past progress has been remarkable. He is now able to walk with the aid of braces, shoes and crutches and should be able to gain a full education and become a productive citizen in the future.

Elks of New Jersey's 132 lodges have aided hundreds of similar crippled and handicapped children in the past 45 years, spending over $8 million dollars on their care, operations and equipment.

Sandhu Appointed By Mountainside

Randhir Sandhu, PhD, has been named as clinical chemist of Mountainside's department of laboratories serving both Mountainside and Montclair Community Hospitals, it was announced by John C. Imhoff, executive director of The Mountainside Hospital.

"Dr. Sandhu's diverse training and broad experience are invaluable assets in this new

Washington, D.C. meeting of the American Association of Clinical Chemists where he presented an original paper on "An Improved Method for the Determination of Urinary Catecholamines."

Dr. Sandhu received a thorough background in pharmacy at Panjab University in his native India. He came to this country in 1960 and completed his master's degree in biochemistry at the University of South Dakota in 1962 while holding a Fulbright Health Graduate Research Fellowship.

He earned his doctorate in Physiology, Pharmacology and Biochemistry at the University of Nebraska in Omaha in 1965. During his stay at Omaha, Dr. Sandhu was also a research associate in the departments of surgery and anesthesiology. He held a similar position in the department of physiological chemistry at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. and Mrs. Sandhu reside in Cedar Grove with their two children.

Local Lodge Will Hold Emergent Communication

Belleville Lodge #108, F&AM, will hold an Emergent Communication on Thursday, January 30, to confer the Entered Apprentice Degree on a candidate in waiting. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. at Belleville Masonic Temple, 126 Joralemon Street.

The Degree will be conferred by Warren M. Johnson, Senior Warden. The lecture will be delivered by Edward H. Bratton, Junior Warden, and the charge and reception by James W. Keller, Junior Deacon. Presentations will be made by Frank G. Peters, Senior Master of Ceremonies; Raymond E. Mertz, Senior Steward; and James Lennox, Junior Steward.

Belleville Lodge holds its regular communications twice a month, on the second and fourth Wednesdays, except during July and August. William V. Irvine, Worshipful Master of Belleville Lodge, has invited all Master Masons to attend the Emergent Communication on Jan. 30 and all regular communications of the Lodge.

The Bank of Bloomfield Offers No-Charge Checking Accounts

Checking accounts that are free for the rest of the depositor's life are now offered to customers throughout the entire North Jersey area, it was announced today by Thomas J. Carlon, president of The Bank of Bloomfield.

The new accounts are free of all charges for life, so long as the depositor maintains a minimum balance of $250. This is the most liberal checking account plan in the area.

The no-charge privilege applies only to personal checking accounts. There is no limit on the number of checks, no monthly service charge, no charge for deposits or other "items," and no charge for monthly statements.

Special provisions have been made to make the free account convenient for people who live outside the immediate Bloomfield area. They may open and maintain their accounts by mail.

"Customers who enroll for our free life-time checking accounts will even get free postage," Carlon said, "for it is our policy to provide postpaid reply envelopes for deposits."

The bank's main office is at Broad and Watchung. The center office is at 554 Bloomfield Avenue.

The free checking account, according to Carlon, grew out of The Bank of Bloomfield's constant search for ways to make the bank's services more useful and attractive to customers.

"Among our new banking ideas," Carlon stated, "are People's Hours instead of bankers' hours, and they have proven very popular. We have in the past year sought many ways to improve our services, and the result has been the fastest period of growth in the bank's history."

Business Outlook Cautious For Essex County And State

The decision-makers of New Jersey's business and industrial community hold an outlook for 1969 which is decidedly cautious, according to a poll of nearly 3,000 key executives taken by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association. The same poll a year ago held a considerably brighter outlook for 1968, a year in which New Jersey's economy boomed.

Opinion from leaders of 530 firms in Essex County reveals a similar view of prospects for next year as that held statewide.

The tabulation of the Tenth Annual Economic Outlook was just released by Leonard C. Johnson, president of the Manufacturers Association. The organization represents a large segment of the state's economic community and has the largest membership of any similar organization in the nation. Johnson declared that this collective view envisions, overall, less optimism for sales, profits and expansion than in any recent year.

"This could well be a direct reflection of the continuing tax and interest rate spiral affecting the entire country," Johnson stated, "and would indicate an economic leveling-off, rather than a recessionary trend."

The computerized survey data shows that over half of the respondents (1,527 out of 2,846) expect no substantial change in sales over 1968. Only 41 percent see a sales increase coming. This is significantly less optimism than was expressed in forecasts for 1967 and 1968, when over 60 percent of the New Jersey leaders predicted more sales. In forecasts for 1965, and again for 1966, more than 70 percent of the total membership expected an up-swing in sales.

For the first time, the New Jersey Manufacturers Association survey polled members on the question of profit. Again, reserve was found in over half of the projections, 1,510 out of 2,756 stated that they do not anticipate any increase in profits over 1968.

Of the remainder there was nearly an even split between those predicting higher profits and those who expect profits to go down—24 percent and 21 percent respectively.

While profits and sales are expected by most to remain static for the coming year, according to three-quarters of those surveyed the cost of doing business will go up, in the form of higher material costs and increased wages. Those which will be most affected appear to be the larger companies involved in retail, construction and transportation, according to the survey.

As a direct reflection of higher costs, nearly 75 percent of those in the retail and construction industries project an inevitable increase in their prices next year, while 60 percent of those in transportation also expect to increase prices. The total picture for all business categories surveyed, shows that 51 percent of the 2,717 respondents expect consumer prices to go up.

Some 68 percent of those polled said they are not planning to expand capital facilities in the state next year. Johnson said that this is not necessarily dictated by any current economic trend.

"According to the survey, plans for expansion in our state have decreased progressively over recent years," the association president observed. "In 1965 nearly 50 percent of New Jersey businesses had plans to expand; in 1966 the figure had dropped to only 38 percent and in 1967 it again went down with only 34 percent of our respondents expecting to grow in the following year," he recounted. This year the survey shows that only 32 percent expect to build in the coming year.

Sixty percent of the 115 companies with 500 or more employees plan some type of expansion activity—a drop of several percentage points from last year. Manufacturers and those dealing in transportation head the list with expansion plans.

In spite of this less positive view, it appears few companies are inclined to move elsewhere. Only 27 firms, or one percent overall, stated they expected to move their complete operation out of New Jersey. Nearly half of those firms planning to move from the state are companies with less than 26 employees. Only two companies with more than 500 workers expect to move.

The most serious problem anticipated by New Jersey businessmen in 1969 is the shortage of labor—particularly skilled labor. Rising costs always have been one of the more formidable problem areas, but for the first time in recent years, labor shortage is foremost. While 29 percent confirm that rising costs are expected to be most difficult, 38 percent out of 2,696 disclosed that labor shortage problems are expected to be the most troublesome.

Hardest hit will be the smaller firms with less than 100 employees. Nearly 40 percent of those in this category acknowledge labor to be their primary challenge, while those with 500 or more employees consider cost and competition uppermost. Labor relations or material shortages are not viewed by most as primary problems.

"Essex County businessmen are as much bothered by the general trend of rising costs and static profit levels, as are their colleagues around the state," Johnson noted.

A slight variation in the responses from Essex County and statewide sentiment was found in the area of sales. Three percent fewer companies in the County foresee sales increases next year, against the statewide consensus.

Johnson noted that 143 individual firms among the survey respondents from Essex County are planning to expand their facilities next year.

While it may be conventional to be driven to drink, it is much safer to walk home.

Avella Answers Draft Inquires

Colonel Joseph T. Avella, State Director of Selective Service, has issued the following series of questions frequently asked of the Selective Service System, along with appropriate answers.

Question: Must a registrant request a student deferment each year?

Answer: No, one request will suffice. It is the registrant's duty, however, to provide his local board each year with evidence that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction at his school.

Question: My son is planning to enter a local junior college. Is such a college considered an institution of higher learning for which a Z-S deferment may be authorized?

Answer: A junior college is considered an institution of higher learning. If a student is taking a full-time course of study and the credits are acceptable by an institution granting a baccalaureate degree, the student is eligible for classification in Class Z-S. If the student is taking only a vocational or two-year terminal course, his classification would be Z-A if a deferment was granted.

Question: Since taking my preinduction physical I have lost the vision in one eye. What should I do?

Answer: Obtain a statement from your doctor setting forth his clinical findings in

Industries Fighting Pollution Benefit

Industries in many areas of New Jersey have benefitted during recent months from tax exemptions granted on equipment designed to control air pollution. Richard J. Sullivan, Director of the Division of Clean Air & Water, State Department of Health, has announced that tax exemptions have been allowed on $10,758,550 worth of equipment during the first ten months of the year. This has enabled New Jersey to take a big step forward in securing cleaner air for the state, Sullivan said.

From January 1 to October 31, 1968, 231 tax exemption claims have been received by the department. Of these, 204 have been approved for certification and 27 disapproved. Sullivan said the tempo of tax exemption claims increased markedly in the last few weeks. He said in October alone, 56 requests for tax exemption were submitted, of which 55 were approved. The total cost of the control apparatus approved in October is $2,925,852.

Sullivan said tax exemption certificates were granted for a wide variety of apparatus, including scrubbing equipment for various chemical waste gases; wet and dry collectors in bituminous concrete plants; a scrubbing system on a foundry cupola; a demister for controlling sulfuric acid mist; bag filters for solid particle emissions incident to building materials and insulation manufacture; a solvent recovery system for a dry cleaning industry; and controls for a paint spray booth.

Tax exemption on any equipment, facility or device used primarily for abating or preventing air pollution is granted under the terms of a New Jersey law, enacted in 1966, which allows such tax exemption for air pollution control apparatus. This is an incentive measure which represents a positive approach to air pollution control. "Our activity on behalf of air pollution control is by no means limited to policing violators of the state's Air Pollution Control Code," Sullivan declared. "Air pollution control is very costly for industry. The tax exemption provision makes it more palatable for industries to install the equipment necessary to bring themselves into compliance with the code."

YOU'LL BE GLAD You switched to Electric Glassheat BECAUSE...

(Letters from Glassheat users TELL YOU WHY!)

"IT'S COMFORTABLE HEAT— just like sunshine in spring," says one Glassheat owner. "You don't feel hot or cold; you are never aware of the temperature. You are just continuously comfortable, and there are no cold spots."

This is true because Glassheat is the only heating system that warms with Radiant Electric rays exactly like the Sun's own rays. A room heated by Glassheat feels like the sunny side of a barn in the spring sunshine. No wonder people enjoy it, and say so:

YOU'LL SAVE MONEY ON HEAT. A fact that surprises many Glassheat owners. One writes "We were expecting that Glassheat would be somewhat more economical to operate but we were not prepared for our low annual heating bills. Of course we are also pleased with the savings on our regular current. We take advantage of the special low heating rate."

Another user says, "Though we added two additional rooms, my heating bill amounts to only $175—and we have never been so comfortable. Of course there are no maintenance or service charges. Another saving."

With Radiant Electric Glassheat so inexpensive to install and operate, why pay more for less than the best?

IT IS CLEAN—As one user writes, "Probably the most unique feature of Glassheat is its cleanliness. In 16 years with Glassheat the only room we have had to do over is the kitchen. No need to repaint the other rooms or even wash down the walls."

Says another customer, "No soot, no smoke, no grime. Have never seen anything so clean. And we are saving 30% on the cost of fuel compared to the old system."

IT IS SAFE! No flame, no fumes, no vapor and Glassheat can't overheat! Even accidental contact can't cause blistering. Since there is no flame it is fire-safe. Further it can't burn up the oxygen in the air or reduce the humidity. In fact it maintains a desirable humidity, so there are fewer colds in the Glassheat home and other bothersome ills are aided. No moving parts, so Glassheat is as silent as sunshine. Sound luxurious? It is—in every respect but price and the cost of operation.

How much would this ideal trouble-free heat cost? Send the coupon or call us in person and find out. No obligation.

Sports of The Times

By RICHARD DE SINA

Everybody is trying to analyze the Lakers these days. Though he often speaks as if he believed the Gay 90's was a period of rampant homosexuality, Red Auerbach has some astute observations on the situation.

Before the season began he expounded a diatribe to the effect that championships are not won on paper. "The Lakers will miss Archie Clark," he said. He may have been right.

On Sunday's NBA telecast he further expressed his antipathy for the Lakers by adding that they now miss Darrall Imhoff's "passing" too.

The Lakers could certainly use the abilities of Clark in their backcourt but the fundamental problem is not the celebrated debate over where Chamberlain should play (You take the high post and I'll ...) but what effect he has on a ball club.

Before he came, the Lakers had an esprit de corps and played with an elan matched only by the Celtics. Elgin Baylor as captain would hold team meetings on such inconsequential matters as an errant truck tire speeding by the team bus. It kept everyone loose and laughing, and winning. Chamberlain, by his mood, prevents such mirth.

His disdain of practice and concerted effort in the pre-game warmups is upsetting to a team that has a history of unity.

Chamberlain has not disrupted the amount of control Baylor and West have of the Laker offense. The team still relies on them, but he has disrupted the style of play.

No longer do the Lakers race up the court with an inimitable fast break, led usually by Baylor. The reason is Chamberlain. He does not pitch out after getting a rebound. Instead Wilt makes sure all the seams are still in place, waves the ball a few times like a magic wand and then perfunctorily flips it to the nearest mate, who is about two steps away.

Then the Lakers walk down the floor, waiting for Wilt to set up in low post which makes the driving lanes as crowded as the Long Island Expressway.

The ball goes in to Chamberlain. Again there is more arm waving, as if some fighter pilots needed assistance in landing on the Enterprise. Laker players scramble in a disorganized weave and somebody ends up with a 25 foot jumper with three defenders draped over him.

If the pattern is changed and the players cut and work without Chamberlain, he hollers for the ball, but never shoots.

Baylor can't exhibit the moves that match the precision of the watches whose name he bears and West is also lost in the shuffle.

When he led the 76ers to the title Chamberlain worked well with his teammates, especially Hal Greer. He dominated Bill Russell in the playoffs and controlled the boards. Now his main contribution is on defense.

Auerbach says the Hawks will beat out the Lakers for the Western Division crown. Last year that was the case, but San Francisco eliminated the Hawks in the first round of the playoffs. The Lakers then whipped the Warriors in four straight. This year should indeed be interesting. Chamberlain may rise to the occasion. He might also be trade bait by early May.

Frosh Cop Two On The Road

The Belleville Freshman basketball team, coached by Gene Manfra, went on the road last week to roll up a 48-15 win at Irvington and a 66-54 triumph at Kearny.

Belleville's game was a defensive one, as they combined a half court zone press with an aggressive man to man under the basket to hold Irvington to eight points at the half.

Before the final buzzer, the entire bench has some time on the court. The scoring was led by Joe Lotruglio with 11 points. Charlie Carr tossed in 10; Bob Visco had 9, Mike Zarra 5 and Auggie LaLuna 4.

The last time the freshmen met Kearny they lost by four points. The game was played with the notable absence of 6'1" forward Charlie Carr.

Last week was a different story and a different ball game. Belleville jumped off to a 19-12 first quarter lead.

By half time the freshmen had dumped in 42 points while Kearny was held to 20, mainly on the awesome threat of Carr camping under the basket.

After second half substitutions and some foul trouble, Kearny closed to 12 points, but it was Belleville all the way to a 66-54 final.

Carr led all scorers with 22 points. Visco tallied 15; Mike Petronaci had 11, Joe Lotruglio 9 and Tom DiModica 4.

DOUBLE POST—offense was employed by Belleville against Bloomfield. Junior Varsity Coach Dan Grasso also uses this screening type of attack often. Here Rich Hartunian (20) loops pass to Vin Costantino (50) as Tom Polite (14) and Lew Burrell (52) provide double pick.

Bengals Beat Bellboys Behind Van Iderstine

Bloomfield scored its second cage victory over Belleville last Friday with a 58-40 triumph at the Bellboys gym.

The Bengals had scored a 50 to 41 win on their floor December 17. The Bellboys couldn't cope with 6'8" Joe Lyons in that one as he tallied 21 points.

In a surprise move, Coach Paul Szem started 6'6" Lew Burrell to guard Lyons. The big center was held to 10 points but Gary Vanderstine countered with 18 markers.

Burrell made Szem's move look good, by scoring the game's first basket. It was his only points of the night.

Bloomfield broke a 3-3 tie and moved ahead 7-3. This was lengthened to 15-8 when Gary Vanderstine followed two missed Bengal shots.

Mark Tripucka hit a jumper to hike the count to 23-13 and Vanderstine, scoring 12 of his 18 points in the first half, helped Bloomfield double the Bellboys output 26-13 at the half.

The Bengals zone press kept the Bellboys at bay in the second half and opened up a 23 point lead at the three quarter mark. Belleville couldn't close the margin, despite a 13-point outburst by Tom Polite in the fourth quarter. His 15 points was a personal season high. It was the Bellboys 11th loss in 12 league contests.

Cowboys Rope Belleville, 61-47

West Orange's Cowboys roped the Bellboys 61-47 Tuesday afternoon at the Belleville gym. The Cowboys reaffirmed their superiority over the Bellboys by almost the same point spread. They won 59-43 at their court on January 3.

Belleville meets arch cross town rival Nutley tomorrow afternoon in a rematch of their December 21 game, won by the Maroon 71-61. Tipoff time is 3:30 at Belleville.

West Orange jumped to a quick 4-1 lead, but baskets by Rich Hartunian on a drive and Tom Polite on a jumper put Belleville ahead 5-4.

The Cowboys were missing from long range but a bucket by 6'6" center Marty Yam at the tail end of a fast break gave West Orange back the lead at 8-6. They didn't lose it again.

High point man (with 18) Rich Max stole the ball in backcourt from Rich Caravetta and cashed in a layup to make the quarter score 10-6.

A 10 point spurt led by Max, Jordan Cohn and Bob Nack turned a close game, 13-10, around, 23-10 and into a rout.

In the third quarter the Cowboys were getting hangers on defensive lapses and built a 39-20 margin.

In the fourth quarter, the visitors press unnerved the Bellboys. The Cowboys started hitting from the outside and the lead was hiked to 50-29 before Belleville called time out.

The Bellboys rallied to cut the bulge to 51-37 with four minutes to go, but it was a last gasp.

Vinnie Costantino was held to 10 points, none from his feared outside jumper. Apparently West Orange knew what it had to do to win and pressured Costantino throughout the game. He was unable to shoot over the taller Cowboys and couldn't shake himself free.

Tom Polite turned in another fine performance to capture individual scoring honors for Belleville with 14.

It was Belleville's 12th loss in 13 league contests and their overall record is now 2 and 12.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

There are millions of sets in New York City, in the immediate vicinity of the transmitting stations, who get very bad TV reception. The reason for this, of course, is the high buildings with lots of steel and aluminum, which shield the TV waves.

In order to provide these people with good reception, there are several enterprises which are going to install cables and hook them up to the TV sets in the customers homes. A battle royal is raging about the manner in which these cables are to be strung. The telephone company wants a share of the pie and so does the city. One of these days, after much fighting and litigation, this matter probably will be settled.

We are very fortunate "across the river" as they say in New York. In most cases an outside or attic antenna will secure good TV reception. Of course there are some low sections, near the Passaic River valley and some other places, where reception is not too good. As a rule, at least some stations come in well enough, although not all of them may be good.

Our greatest problems are reflections or "ghosts". These are caused by bounces from mountains, for instance, or from high electric towers. Some buildings cause troubles also.

Although the so called rabbit ear antennas sometimes, in good locations, may perform adequately, generally speaking it is desirable for the best color TV reception to have an outside or attic antenna. We service what we sell.

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT—is Dana Nappi, Belleville's premier wrestler. Coach Jim Silvestri and co-captain Bob Bonfante give Dana worried attention. Dana had rough time with Bob Smith of Bengals.

COMING TO GRIPS — Dana Nappi reaches to get a hold on Willie Cage of Barringer. Dana won, 3-0 on a takedown and escape, in the 130 pound match.

ON TOP — Jesse Townes has position on a wriggling Clyde Wright of Barringer in the 136 pound match. Jesse won 14 to 4. Matmen meet Columbia Cougars Saturday afternoon.

GRABBING A BYE—Wayne Byard plucks rebound from Belleville offensive board as Tom Polite, Joe Lyons and Lew Burrell form chorus line behind him. Bloomfield captured 58-40 decision.

Barringer Pinned

Belleville High School's wrestlers won their second match of the season and second within a week with a 38-8 mauling of Barringer on the Bellboys mats Monday.

The Junior Varsity won their third contest when only two wrestlers showed up for the visitors.

Charlie Gingerelli opened with a 3-2 win over Hopson of Barringer in the 98 pound weight class.

Angelo Zoppi followed with a pin of Austin in the 106 pound division for an 8 to 0 Belleville lead.

Co-captain Bob Rebol won by forfeit in the 115 pound class and Rich Arlt nipped Fuller of Barringer 7 to 6 in the 123 pound match.

Belleville's top wrestler Dana Nappi captured honors in the 130 pound tussle. He beat Cage 3 to zip with a takedown.

Jesse Towns was victorious in the 136 pound battle over Wright 14-4 and Mike Ventura shut out Esmart 13-0 in the 141 pound match.

Bob Giordano was another forfeit victor in the 148 pound class. Barringer's Jackson scored their first win with a 12-4 decision of Paul Smith in the 157 pound class. That made the score 26 to 3.

Sophomore Carmen Russ-amano was pinned Waller of Barringer in the 168 pound encounter.

Sal Bivona beat Douglas 10 to 1 in the 178 pound match. Jim Wille usually wrestles in this weight class but Big Red has missed the last three matches with a bruised elbow.

Heavyweight Bob Bonfante won by forfeit. Coach James Silvestri's squad faces Columbia Saturday at home. The match is scheduled to start at 1:30.

DeBaccos Set League Record

In last week's basketball the DeBaccos set a league scoring record as they rolled up 104 points against the Montgomerys and continued their undefeated record.

The Monties were very much in the game for the first half but were unable to contain the League leaders in the second half. DeBaccos has everything going for them, excellent rebounding, absolute ball control and expert shooting.

Greg Dudack led the DeBacco assault with 28 points and was further aided by Steve Andrew's 23 and Carlin Barrets 20. Ray Cambal was point leader for the losers.

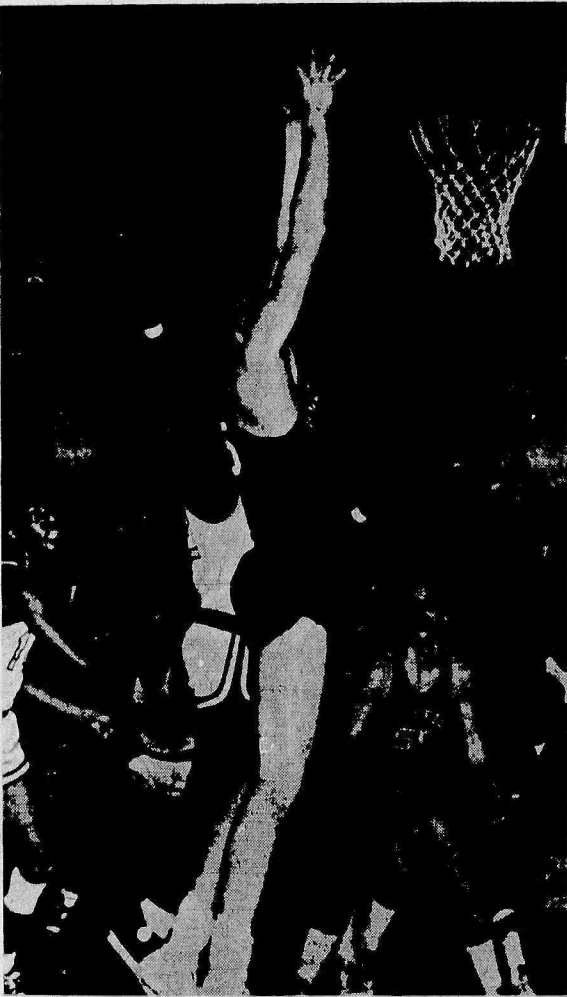

The second place Knicks added another win to their record as they romped over the hapless Vipers 58-32. After a reckless first quarter in which they were played nearly even, the Knicks pulled by on great rebounding and higher shooting percentage.

Bob Heckler with 13 and Jack Rush with 10 were the point leaders for the Knicks but actually every men contributed to the total. Gary Trainor was high scorer in the losing cause.

Swim Classification Day To Be Held At Essex 'Y'

The Youth Department of Maplewood and West Essex announce that they will conduct a Special Swim Classification Day for all boys from the 2nd to the 6th grades on Saturday, February 1, 1969, at 8:25 A.M.

The special offer to these grade school youngsters means that if the boy has not as yet learned to swim or has not progressed very far in swim technique, here is his chance to be tested and graded according to his swimming ability.

LYONS DEN—Joe Lyons pulls down rebound over grasp of Lew Burrell. Loss was Belleville's 11th in Big Ten play. Nutley visits tomorrow night.

CAPTAIN RETURNS — Dana Nappi, healed from his battle scars in the Bloomfield match, greets Barringer High co-captains before Monday's encounter at the Bellboy gym. Nappi won his match and Bellboys took measure of Newark rivals 38 to 8.

EMBRACEABLE YOU — Charlie Gingerelli is on top but not exactly in a better position than his 98 pound opponent, Don Hopson. Ginger won 3 to 2 in opening match.

Kearny Kards Krush Bellboys

The Kearny Kards displayed how much the home court advantage is worth by pounding the Bellboys 79-42 at the winners gym January 21.

The Kards had nipped Belleville 52-51 on a last second basket by Mike Landi Deember 27 on the Bellboys floor. Again Landi was instrumental in the Kearny victory. His 22 points led the rout.

State Symphony In Talent Search

A talent search for aspiring singers to perform with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra was launched statewide today.

According to Geoffrey Platt, Jr., Symphony manager, the competitive search is open to all residents of New Jersey, with vocal students being particularly encouraged to participate.

"Our music director, Henry Lewis, is anxious to open the door to new talent as a part of the Symphony's obligation to foster and assist those interested in serious music throughout the state," Platt said.

At least three of the remaining concerts of the season require a soprano and a tenor for performances in

Carl Nielsen's Symphony No. 3. It is for engagements at the Montclair and Millburn High Schools on March 7 and 8, and for a special added concert in Westfield on March 22, that the search for talent is being conducted.

Auditions are scheduled for February 19, at the Millburn High School Auditorium, at 1:30 p.m. Those interested should contact the Symphony offices at 1020 Broad Street, Newark, by letter or by phone.

James D. Williams; Insurance Broker

Funeral services for James D. Williams of 195 Coeyman Ave., Nutley, were held at 11 A.M. on January 23, at Grace Episcopal Church, Nutley, with the Rev. Daniel K. Sullivan officiating. Interment was at East Ridgeland Cemetery.

Williams died the prior Monday, while being taken to Mountainside Hospital. He had suffered a heart attack while on business in Montclair.

Born in Brooklyn, Williams lived in Nutley since 1929. He was a self-employed insurance broker for more than 40 years, and was widely known in insurance circles both in New York City and throughout Northern Jersey.

He started his business in New York City, where in earlier years he specialized in life insurance, and was one of the top salesmen for Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, among others.

Later Williams transferred his business to Nutley, and at one time was Chairman of the Insurance Board of the Town of Nutley, under the De Muro administration. By that time his work also covered all phases of general insurance, as well as a sub-specialty of factory and industrial insurance.

He was a member of Nutley Lodge No. 167, F. & A. M., as well as several professional organizations. He was a longtime member of Grace Episcopal Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Martha B. Turner Williams, two daughters, Mrs. Muriel Atkinson of New York City, and Miss Edith Bobbie Williams, at home; a brother, Howard, and a sister, Miss Mabel Williams, both of Washington, D.C.
