SIGN OF THE TIMES — Belleville is still digging out from the East's largest snow fall in eight years. "I'm exhausted," said Commissioner Mary Senatore, whose public works crew was up day and night battling the blizzard. Look inside today's Times for further details on the white stuff.

Community Council Sets Urban Study Schedule

In an effort to study some of the complex problems being brought about by urbanization in this country, Essex County and particularly in Belleville, the Belleville Community Council is sponsoring a series of six seminars at Belleville High School starting on March 4 on the town's community goals and development programs.

The Belleville Council is undertaking a community self-evaluation, self help project which is intended to be an on-going program designed to bring together people from all corners of the community who can then be exposed, by presentations of discussion leaders and resource experts, to an organized presentation of community problems and the resources to meet them.

Because of the nature of the seminars, it is important that participants attend all of the session. The size of the group is limited and the planners request that those who do register, do so with the expectation that they will attend all six sessions.

The registration fee for the series of seminars is $10. It can be paid in advance and checks should be made out to the United Community Fund which is the parent organization of the Belleville Community Council. Any further information can be obtained from the Belleville-Nutley office of the Fund and Council at 661-2766.

This series of six two-hour seminars, not to be confused with the courses being given as part of Belleville's Adult Education Program, will be sponsored by the Belleville Community Council, under the leadership of George Tapper, professor at Rutgers University and Director of their Community Services Bureau. This Bureau from Rutgers State University has worked with many urban and suburban communities across the nation, helping to solve their problems in this world of changing times and urban crisis.

Belleville organizations are being invited to send representatives to these seminars, to participate in the weekly discussion on change in Belleville and the future of the town. Many individuals who have indicated an interest in the community, and in the particular areas where they reside, are also being invited to attend the seminars. These letters of invitation have already been mailed out.

The Council hopes to have a cross - representation of townspeople and organizations with this limited number, thus each group is asked to register one member.

The Tuesday evening seminars will provide a spirit of inquiry toward such topics as the forces that will have an impact on Belleville's future - economic, transportation and employment changes; government relations at federal, state and county levels with regard to funds and action; industrial expansion; planning of land use; and the potential for accomplishing the development of future plans, with a review of specific proposals.

Session one will be an introductory one designed to provoke questions and a spirit of inquiry in the group. The discussion leader will use certain key questions to move the group toward the major topics to be covered later. He will also lay the groundwork for a consideration of Belleville in the process of change.

Belleville in change will be the topic for the second week. The town's future, and forces that will have an impact on it as a community, will be presented and discussed. The stress will be on the economic, demographic, employment and transportation changes occurring in the New York metropolitan region and the potential for Belleville in the light of these changes. The instructor for the session will be William Anderson of the Metropolitan Regional Plan Association.

Governmental Relations will be the focal point of the third seminar. The town's government in relation to governmental actions and responsibilities at the county, state and federal levels will be discussed. Content of the session will deal with what Belleville can do in light of state restrictions, state support, federal funding and future state policy in terms of local government. Emphasis will be placed on the role of the Belleville voter and where he or she should put emphasis and action on obtaining the services they desire from government.

The economic picture in the future of Belleville will be the topic for the March 25 meeting. What to expect in terms of industrial and commercial expansion in the area and in the city itself, to include the question of what business will move into Belleville and what business it can hold on to. Edward Lenihan of the Public Service Corporation will lead the discussion which will include an analysis of the kinds of enterprises likely to grow and decline in an area like Belleville.

Planning will be the focal point of the fifth session. A discussion on the role of planning at the state, regional, and local level with emphasis on the economic, social, and land use planning that seems appropriate for Belleville will be held.

The sixth and final session will deal with community development. The focal point will be community organization and community development in Belleville and the potential for accomplishment in determining the future of the community. The review of specific proposals advanced by the seminar participants and organization structures used in other communities for community development. The instructors for the session will be Alice Shapiro and George Tapper of Rutgers University.

Jaycees Analyze Survey

The early returns are in, in another Belleville election. The Jaycees Community Attitude surveys being returned throughout town and Richard Dombrowski and his aides are analyzing the results.

Trends established thus far in the town-wide sampling indicated Bellevillites feel that taxes are high, childrens recreational facilities are inadequate and sidewalks are in poor shape.

The purpose of the survey is two fold. The primary purpose is to give the town residents an opportunity to express themselves on a variety of subjects related to our town.

The second objective is, after evaluation of the survey, to assist the Belleville Jaycees by giving guidance to areas where they might be most effective as a community minded organization.

The questionnaires are still being returned in the mail and the Jaycees expect to finalize their findings before the end of the month.

Sewer Bills Sent To Local Industries

The Town of Nutley has sent bills to neighboring towns and industries utilizing the sanitary trunk sewer system.

Being billed, and the amounts due, are: Town of Belleville, $924; Town of Bloomfield, $3,117; City of Clifton, $9,621; Hoffmann-LaRoche Inc., $6,411; Allstate Can Co., Clifton, $20; Federal Telephone & Radio Co. (ITT), $1,710; Morningstar-Paisley Inc., $1,331; and David Paul Properties, $124.

Budget Soundly Defeated

Board Seats Filled By Casale, Back

The Belleville voters Tuesday evening rejected the 1969-1970 school budget by almost 2 to 1 and elected the two men retiring member Ernest Arvidson backed, Joseph Casale and Leonard Back.

Here is a vote breakdown by polling places:

The budget was broken down into two categories on the ballot, Current Expenses, $3,786,104; and Capital Outlay, $155,343. Both were turned down outright. The final unofficial figures were Current Expenses, Yes, 983; No, 1588; Capital Outlay, Yes, 897; No, 1617. The only polling place that passed the budget was School 9, 51-35 and 49-37.

It will go before the voters again and if defeated again will go to the Town Commissioners. Belleville has a history of defeating school budgets. The 1968, 1969 budget was vetoed twice and subsequently reduced $206,000.

Students Feted At Mardi Gras

The Belleville Italian-American Civic Association honored three young Belleville residents at its third annual Mardi Gras Dinner and Dance held at the Military Park Hotel.

Receiving awards were Joseph Cervasio, a 1965 graduate of Belleville High School, and Miss Suzanne Scaglione and Gerard Figurelli, both 1968 graduates of the high school.

This year two types of awards were given. The first was for a male graduate of Belleville High School who demonstrated outstanding scholastic, leadership, and athletic achievements in high school and in college. The second was for a male and female graduate of the class of 1968 who demonstrated scholastic and leadership achievements in high school.

Cervasio, recipient of the Scholastic and Athletic Award, is now a senior at Cornell University.

The awards were presented by Aldo DiChiara, president and chairman of the affair. Frank Ceres served as chairman of the awards committee.

Firemen Extinguish Shop Blaze

Belleville firemen fought a general alarm blaze in a cabinet-making store for about an hour on February 8 before bringing it under control, fire officials report.

The blaze began at approximately 3 a.m. in the Roman Kitchens at 70 Washington Avenue. According to the firemen, the blaze was quite intense due to the large quantities of shellac, varnish and paint which were stored in the shop.

McKeon Printers at 72 Washington Avenue, and a small store used by Bigelow Motors at 68 Washington Avenue, also were damaged. The roof of the cabinet-making store collapsed during the fire.

The cause of the fire has not been determined, the officials report.

Central Uniform Variance Returned To Zoning Board

The variance request for the Central Uniform Service Company is going back to the Zoning Board of Adjustment the town commissioners decided at Monday's meeting.

Commissioner William Cullen announced that he had been in contact with the company and that they were willing to change some of their specifications. He in turn moved that the request be resubmitted to the Board of Adjustment for further study. Commissioner Mary Senatore seconded Cullen's motion.

The motion carried back to a public hearing on the matter which was held on January 13. At that time Ralph Salerno, who represented Central, reviewed the history of the variance request.

On September 19, 1967, Central applied for a variance for use of the premises as a parking lot with space for 10 vehicles. The Town Zoning Board recommended granting of the variance to the Town Commission.

On October 9, the commissioners heard the arguments of Central and the objectors, and tabled the measure. It was carried to May 16, 1968 when further arguments by both counsels were presented. Later the commissioners denied the application.

Central filed a writ to reverse the decision. In the pretrial hearing, the matter was referred back to the board of commissioners for a full airing at Monday's meeting.

Salerno contended that the Board of Adjustments had recommended that the variance should be granted. He stated that the board felt the property was for commercial and industrial use and not adaptable for residential use. "The parking lot will alleviate traffic by providing off street parking," Salerno quoted from the board's report. It would be convenient to workers, visiting businessmen, and residents. It would enhance the appearance of the premises and not be injurious to neighbors. Health and safety hazards would be eliminated.

Salerno noted the conditions the board imposed when recommending approval of the variance by the commissioners. They were: to provide a grade for drainage; material used must be blacktop; the lot must be enclosed by a cyclone fence with and gate; employ angle parking and not more than 10 trucks at any given time should be parked.

Objections to the variance Salerno cited include: noisy trucks would be pulling in during the morning and starting at night and emitting noxious fumes. "The board saw no problem on these matters with the evidence presented," said Salerno.

"At the public hearings, the professional planners were of the opinion that the area should be rezoned for commercial purposes," Salerno commented. "The majority of the area is commercially occupied. The Valley has found itself rapidly becoming industrial."

Salerno then stated that Central would be in a position to confine the parking to autos and relinquish the use of the area for truck parking.

Mr. Welch has represented the property owners of Ralph Street who oppose granting of the variance from the start of proceedings in 1967.

"We're here to determine the reasons for either granting or denying the variance," he said. I see no reason to change the verdict. It's the same lots, trucks, street and parties."

The previous vote by the commissioners was four to none with one abstention. The Zoning Board passed the recommendation by only 3 to 2.

"Now I understand Central doesn't want to park trucks and are willing to wave that portion of the variance" Welch claims that Central wanted a place to park their trucks. "Perhaps there was never any parking problem to begin with."

"There is a heavy flow of traffic on Ralph Street. I wonder how it will be alleviated by the removal of 10 cars from the street. The parking plan submitted may cause an additional problem. The slots for the vehicles are shown as only 18 feet wide. The town calls for an area 9 x 20 feet for just a car and they want to park trucks.

"There is no room to fit a car in slot eight. They can't get cars out if the lot is filled up. They would have to be removed one at a time with cars having to back out to Ralph Street. It's creating additional traffic.

"The trucks leave at 7 a.m. Presumably the cars pull in at 7. At 4:30 the trucks start to return and when the last arrives is

Commission Approves Maintenance Super Aide

Three ordinances to amend existing ordinances were given final passage by the Board of Commissioners Monday night, although one of them did receive two negative votes.

Commissioners James McGreevy and Mary Senatore both voted against an ordinance which would allow for an Assistant Supervisor of Maintenance for the Town of Belleville.

Residents of the town are now going to have a Disaster Control Director. All four commissioners and Mayor Kenneth Smith voted to approve the new position.

Also garnering approval from the Commissioners was an ordinance governing school traffic guards in Belleville. Public hearings were held on three other ordinances to amend ordinances. There was absolutely no discussion from the floor on any of the matters at hand.

The Disaster Control Director is going to have a Deputy if one of the ordinances, which came up for public hearing is passed at the next commission meeting. The position provides a minimum salary of $5,400 and a maximum of $7,228.

Part time school traffic guards and parking violations officers will get a boost in pay, if one of the other ordinances passes. It will provide at maximum salary of $2.53 per hour for school guards and $2.38 for parking violations officers.

The position of assistant supervisor of maintenance will also be created by one of the new ordinances. It provides for a minimum salary of $8,387 and a maximum of $11,109.

Wallwork Urban Report Sparks National Interest

National favorable response as well as New Jersey support has greeted the issuance of Senator James H. Wallwork's (Reform Republican, Essex) report entitled "Direction For Urban Progress". Senator Wallwork has received over 400 requests already for the full text of the Commission's report from fifteen states in addition to New Jersey.

The Reform Republican Essex County Senator said that, "many requests came from private organizations and Federal and State government officials who felt that new progress and plans that could be carried out at a State or local level offers the best and most economical approach to the problems in our urban and suburban areas."

There is never any scarcity of excuses for doing what you want to do.

Central Uniform Variance Sent Back To Zoning Board

anywhere from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and some neighbors claim later than that.

"There will be parking 30 inches from a wood frame house that will create a nuisance to the residents. It's not simply a driveway with one or two cars but 10 cars and trucks pulling in day and night."

"Even with the fence the cars will be close to the wood frame dwellings which is detrimental to the residents. Also, the trucks are described as 10 foot vans and later as up to 13 feet in length. There will be no room to maneuver."

"The application reads vehicles which is ambiguous." Here, Mayor Smith interjected, "it says cars, not trucks."

Welch continued, "They (Central) knew they were buying into a two family zone. It was a speculative purchase to build the lot." Salerno then disputed some of Welch's statements, "Central has been making provisions for parking of their trucks elsewhere," he said. "The 10 foot step vans refers to the height of the truck, not the length. If Mr. Welch had read further into Building Inspector Mustacchio's report, he would have seen that he said it would be easy to move the trucks in and out of the parking spaces."

Commissioner Salerno asked, where Central intended to park the trucks. "Property owned by a manufacturing company," said Salerno.

John Antonik, 133 Ralph Street then wished to address the commissioners, but Mayor Smith asked him if he was represented by Welch. When Antonik said he was, the mayor stated, "he's spoken for you."

Commissioner Mc Greevy then inquired if Salerno had stipulated that Central didn't intend to park trucks on the lot. "Yes," replied Salerno. "If it's only cars that changes the story," commented McGreevy.

Mayor Smith ended the harangue by announcing that the commissioners would reach a decision later. "We'll go over it carefully before we do," he added.

The commissioners went over it so thoroughly, that it is going to have to start all over again in the Zoning Board before it can come back for final approval by the Board of Commissioners.

Ice Brought Fractures At Clara Maass Hospital

The ice-covered Eastern seaboard on Wednesday, January 29, was a day long to be remembered.

One of the weather forecasters on T.V. called it "Fender Denting Weather", but at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, it was referred to as a "Bone Breaker and Fracture" day.

From the early hours in the morning to late at night, a steady stream of taxi cabs, private automobiles, police patrol cars, and ambulances lined up at the Hospital's Emergency Room to discharge their passengers that had been injured in falls on icy walks, roads, or automobile accidents.

Hospital authorities reported that during a normal twelve hour period, approximately forty cases are treated by the staff of the Emergency Room, and about five of these cases are admitted daily.

On Wednesday, however, twenty-four ice victims were treated in a twelve hour period, and of that number, twenty-five were admitted as patients; about twice the number of daily cases treated, and five times as many admissions.

The Hospital's facilities were bulging to capacity and it was necessary to reschedule electric reservations in order to provide ample beds for the great influx of ice victims.

A Hospital spokesman commented that several disaster procedure programs are conducted each year with hospital personnel, in order to prepare for such an emergency. This program proved valuable, because each member of the Hospital's team functioned like a well oiled clock during this semi-disaster day.

With the warming trend, the Hospital has returned to normal, but it is a day long to be remembered by not only the victims, but the staff members who worked extra shifts to take the place of those employees who were unable to get to work.

Electoral Reform Sought

Rep. Peter W. Rodino announced today his strong conviction that we must change the present Electoral College system of selecting a President.

Rodino, a ranking member of the House Judiciary Committee, expressed his views at the opening of comprehensive hearings on the controversial issue by the full Committee.

"From the beginning," Rodino said, "the Electoral College has been a dangerous and contradictory mechanism, completely antithetical to the principles of freedom and equality upon which our Nation was founded. In fact, under this system three popular vote losers were elected President, demonstrating the fact that under this system the will of the people can be frustrated."

Rodino, dean of the New Jersey Congress, delegation, noted that the projected closeness of last November's Presidential election raised the fear that it would be decided in the House of Representatives. "And this eventually," he said, "brought the grim possibility that the third party candidate might be in a position to bargain with the two major parties for the electoral votes he had won."

"To me it is a terrifying prospect to even contemplate the possibility that the vote of any American citizen could be bartered, sold or sacrificed against his will. It is a concept absolutely abhorrent to our principles of equality and, most recently, the historic 'one-man, one-vote' decision of the Supreme Court."

Nixon's First Mistake

Almost before President Nixon completed uttering the words "I will" his Administration announced that mortgage loans guaranteed by the Federal Government will carry 7½% interest rates.

The action was packaged a-la Madison Avenue to suggest to the family of modest means that the effort was taken to help the average man obtain a mortgage commitment.

The unfortunate fact of financial life is that the increased interest rate on a loan guaranteed by the U.S. Government has blown the lid off of interest rates charged for personal loans, household purchases, automobile financing and business loans, just to mention a few items.

Why should a lending institution make loans with any degree of risk at 7½% when the same institution can invest all the money they have available in loans guaranteed by the U.S. Government at 7½% interest?

The obvious answer is that when any risk at all is involved in a loan the interest rate to be charged will probably exceed the 7½% rate carried by federally insured loans. This means that the average family in America is going to be obliged to pay excessive interest rates for installment purchases and the borrowing of money. This also means that every legitimate business man who requires bank loans will be obliged to pay prohibitive interest rates in order to stay in business.

We believe the 7½% U.S. Government guaranteed mortgage loans is the first mistake of the Nixon Administration.

Mr. Rodino's "Delinquency"

Pete Rodino has represented our district in Congress since 1948. During these twenty years many requests have been made for the establishment of an independent Post Office to serve the Town of Nutley and an independent Post Office to serve the Town of Belleville.

Irvington, Nutley and Belleville have a unique postal status. These three first class communities are branches of the Newark Post Office.

We have been told Post Office officials refuse to establish independent Post Offices for these communities because an independent Post Office costs more to operate than a branch. If this assertion is true, and it is the only reason to maintain the branch office status, then may we ask why does not the Post Office abolish all independent Post Offices in Essex County and designate communities like Essex Fells and Glen Ridge as branches of the Newark Post Office?

It was only a few weeks ago we read of a decision by Postal Authorities to establish an independent Post Office in Key Biscayne, Florida. When Postal Officials were asked by the press if the election of Nixon as President had anything to do with the Postal determination, the answer came back in the negative. Postal Authorities stated that in the past there were not enough families in the community to justify the establishment of an independent Post Office. "Now there are 10,000 people and the community is large enough to have its own Post Office", so state the Postal Authorities.

If population is now the criteria for the establishment of an independent Post Office in Key Biscayne, Florida, where is the justification to deny Nutley, Belleville and Irvington independent post offices while communities in Essex County with 2,000 and 3,000 population enjoy and maintain their own independent Post Offices?

We call upon Congressman Peter W. Rodino to wake up to his responsibility to the people of Nutley and Belleville and do something meaningful about obtaining for us a first class status with the Post Office Department.

If we are to believe President Nixon's recent pronouncement that the Post Office Department is no longer a political chattel then we must presume, on the basis of merit, Nutley, Belleville and Irvington will soon receive their own independent Post Office status. Mr. Rodino, how about it?

Lovemaking Course

One of the new courses being offered by the University of South Carolina, according to a newspaper report, is lovemaking. Others are said to be bartending and flower arranging.

One would hardly have suspected that the old university in the Palmetto State would offer a course in bartending, but then this is certainly a growing trade. A course in flower arranging is more understandable, though the idea of academic credit for it may somewhat take the breath away.

Yet neither of these offerings carries with it the eye-opening impact of the new course in lovemaking. One instantly feels interested, from at least one of several "intellectual" motivations. Is the class to be open to day students, perhaps to outsiders interested in bettering their education?

Does the university need instructors to help teach the new course? One feels a natural urge to help universities in this type of work, especially co-ed universities, since the flood of new (and cute) students imposes such a burden on universities these days!

Will there be movies--movies that are really with it--in the new course? What will special projects involve? There are any number of other interesting aspects, any of which seem convincing proof that those of us who look back into the past on college years were surely born too soon.

Buchwald On Humor

Art Buchwald, the most successful humorist in some years in the newspaper column field, recently spoke out on the subject of serious versus humorous discussion of important subjects.

Buchwald, who rose to fame doing his column in the New York Herald Tribune's Paris edition, and who then came to Washington, says there are no serious issues which cannot be treated with humor.

"I was an orphan who lived in foster homes and that's good training for either becoming a gangster or a humorist," he explains. If you have an unhappy childhood, Buchwald says, you soon begin to turn everything into a joke (if you don't react more violently).

And the famed humorist is convinced that, "anything you can say seriously you can say humorously," that the best way is the humorous way. And while he makes his points in his daily column, he makes them with such ridiculous situations and exaggeration that readers invariably enjoy getting the message.

The lesson is a pertinent one. More of us could use humor in discussing serious subjects. Much emotional wind and nervous perspiration could be avoided.

Starving Americans

Government leaders in high position in Washington are just now discovering what many county welfare workers have known all along--that many Americans are suffering from malnutrition.

At a recent Senate Committee hearing Dr. Arnold Schaefer of the Public Health Service reported on a survey among 12,000 Americans selected at random in Texas, Louisiana, New York and Kentucky.

The gist of his report was that in this land of plenty chronic hunger and malnutrition exist in many areas and, in addition, there is an "alarming prevalence" of diseases commonly associated with undernourishment. Diseases have been found, in fact, that were thought to exist only in the backward areas of Africa and Asia and a return of endemic goiter has been discovered. Many cases of starving Americans were found.

Why this condition at a time when the national living standard is higher than ever before? Dr. Schaefer, in answer to a Senator's question, said he could not say yet these conditions related invariably to income. He said some malnutrition was due to ignorance about diet.

Obviously the two main causes of this situation are poverty and ignorance and no investigation is needed to determine this fact. And while we have been sending all kinds of aid teams, and billions of dollars, all around world, we have been neglecting, relatively speaking, our own citizens suffering from hunger and malnutrition. People who do not know better or who lack sufficient money eat too many sweets and starches and not enough fruit and vegetables--and since so many have moved from farms where fresh food was available (and rural areas) to cities this problem has intensified in recent years.

Poverty, of course, exists and no American family should have to suffer from a lack of enough food in our land of agricultural surpluses, even if it means expanding the Agriculture Department's food aid program. In addition, Americans should demand fewer chemicals, preservatives and artificial flavors and colors in their food--for half the time we don't know whether we're eating anything fresh and nutritional or not.

Seems Only Yesterday

1 YEAR AGO

The Town Commission, on recommendation of Vincent T. Strumolo, official representative to the local transportation committee, vigorously opposed the abandonment of the subway services from the Belleville border to the Silver Lake District to downtown Newark. The Commission agreed that the Belleville residents had for many years made use of this facility going to and from their daily work and personal business. The loss of the service, the commission went on to clarify, would greatly and materially affect the convenience and well being of many thousands of persons in the metropolitan area as well as many of the local residents. The commission added that the abandonment of the subway would also add to the traffic problem in the Newark area and affect Belleville during the morning and evening rush hours.

5 YEARS AGO

The Town Council introduced an amendment to the sanitation code limiting the fat content of the hamburger to 30 percent, at the request of the Town Health Officer. Until this point, there was no definite restriction as to the amount of fat that a hamburger, in Belleville would contain.

William Abromson, a member of the Board of Adjustment, submitted a letter of resignation to the Town Council. Although this was hot unexpected, the Town Council was still searching for his replacement as of the time he resigned.

The Town council introduced a resolution forbidding anyone to leave Belleville during the two day George Washington Birthday Sales. Chuckling councilmen seconded the motion and passed the resolution.

10 YEARS AGO

A shivering Belleville was still working off the effect of the worst snowstorm in 11 years. It dropped 11 inches of snow over Belleville in a period of two days. There were many consequences from the snowstorm felt in the community during those two days. An increase in local delicatessen purchase of foods, snow equipment and salt, and among the more serious, as reported by the Belleville Fire Department, six fires during the two days. In all but one case, it was due to the heating system of the house or building involved.

Dr. Frank DiRuggerio was elected president of the Board of Education for the next year at the Board's organizational meeting.

20 YEARS AGO

Quick action by the Belleville Police and Fire Departments averted a tragedy at the St. Peters School. A leak in a outlet pipe allowed coal gas to escape and five teacher-sisters at the school were overcome.

Officers of the First National Bank announced that they had retained Edwin Jennings, tax consultant, to assist Belleville taxpayers in the preparation of their returns.

Rev. Edgar M. Comptan was elected President of the Board Of Trustees of the Community Service Bureau.

"He" was the name of a play presented by the Little Theater Guild before the PTA of school 1 at its regular meeting. The leading man was Arthur Nebnoti who has worked the guild for many years. He had written many of his own plays, directed others, and finally settled in Belleville to help in acting and directing.

The weekly bridge party was held at the home of Mrs. N. C. Thompson of 191 Malone Avenue.

45 YEARS AGO

The salary of the call members of the fire department was set at $120 annually by the Board of Commissioners.

The second annual minstrel and dance of the Craftsmen Club of Belleville, Lodge 108, F.A. and M., post 38, chapter 92, was held in the High School auditorium. The Forillnight Music Club held a whist party at the home of Miss Florence Moore of Van Rensselaer Street.

The February Committee of the Christ Episcopal Church held a supper dance in the Parish House. The March committee, however, was preparing a dinner dance during the following month at the same Parish House.

Speak Up

Inflation Solution

To The Editor:

Inflation is public enemy number one, a ruthless evil harm to millions of people in the lower income tax bracket, brought about by some politicians in all branches of government from the cities to the White House.

All new programs sponsored by these politicians have been of a questionable nature. They are expensive and a waste of the taxpayers money and are responsible for the conditions we face today.

Inflation creates violence, riots, crime, uprisings, higher rents and taxes, higher living costs, strikes and unnecessary jobs, fat wage increases and much more.

The only cure for this incurable disease is for the people to unite together and roar back like a lion and not be classified as a paper tiger. They should demand the immediate elimination of all these evils that raid their pay check.

With Mr. Nixon, the new Republican President, there is hope for the future. The state sales tax, if it must be continued, should be kept by the cities where it is collected for tax relief and not in Trenton.

New toll roads paid for by the government which gets its funds from the people are illegal and should be discontinued.

One hundred per cent revaluation programs every five years should be paid for by the county and should apply only to new buildings and major repairs, such as more rooms and garages. The 10% telephone and surcharge tax should also go down the drain.

All tax organizations, institutions and big business who now enjoy their tax benefits with the exception of a church building, pay their fair share in taxes.

All other real estate and business in unfair competition owned by these groups should be taxed.

If new revenue is still needed for any worthwhile programs such as rebuilding the slum areas and providing the jobs for those unable to find work, the money must come from all paid up toll highways. They belong to the people and should work in their interest to lighten their tax burden.

Take that giant corporation, the Port of New York Authority bigger than the people from both states. Both governors, if they agree, have the power to act and take over its operation.

I believe these solutions if carried out in the interest of all the people, is the right step toward ending inflation and would bring the people together in peace and harmony.

Why wait for violence to strike when it can be avoided? I hope our elected officials would give this plan some consideration and prevent another outburst. It is predicted there will be future uprisings this summer.

Sincerely,
Albert Guglicelli

Pious Editorials Are Little Help

Frank A. Orechio, publisher of local papers in Belleville and Nutley, editorially speaks out strongly against organized crime, as all good publishers are expected to do.

He labels organized crime a sinister competitor to legitimate business. His papers say: "We (meaning Orechio) believe it can be eliminated--if public officials have the will to do so."

The publisher correctly contends the failure to root out organized crime is a reflection upon law enforcement agencies, including local, county and state levels.

As courageous as Mr. Orechio's editorial position may appear, it would seem he might accomplish greater results by utilizing his bonds of acquaintance and friendship with public officials in both communities served by his publications, by prodding them to provide more effective and stringent law enforcement to extirpate the undesired, nefarious influences his editorial intimates may be existing.

Should Mr. Orechio possess any knowledge of unsavory or unlawful operations functioning in these parts, he is obligated, in the public interest, to impart such information to the proper authorities.

A direct approach of this type could be much more efficacious in stamping out crime, than publishing pious editorials couched in copious words of rhetorical eloquence.

Recent events, resulting in prosecutor raids, indictments and court trials stemming from alleged gaming activities in one of the communities served by Mr. Orechio's papers, provides the publisher an opportunity to really demonstrate the role a "good" newspaper might play in "cleaning up" corruption should it exist.

Now that Mr. Orechio has made his position known, it will be interesting to observe how he and his newspapers will approach this ticklish matter...the war against crime.

Respectfully submitted

Good Tips For Safe Motoring

Any driver seeking advice on winter car care usually can find plenty - and much of it is incorrect, warns Don Costa, safety director of the Allstate Motor Club.

To help drivers steer clear of bad winter driving advice, Costa lists the following winter driving myths and compares them with what automotive engineers and fleet operators say:

1. "An engine should idle and warm up before the car is driven, especially in cold weather." Not so, say the experts. The best way to warm up an engine to peak operating efficiency is to drive the car easily. Just idling the engine keeps the choke closed longer.

2. "Pump the accelerator a few times before using the starter so the engine will start the first time and prevent flooding." Pumping the accelerator more than once on cars with automatic transmissions may flood the engine. The proper method is to depress the pedal slightly, hold it there and start the motor. If the engine is flooded, a motorist should floor the gas pedal and hold it there while he tries to start the engine. If the motor doesn't start, wait a few minutes and try again, repeating this method every few minutes until the car starts.

3. "Power brakes make your car safer; you can stop quicker." Not necessarily, says the Allstate expert. Power brakes make you stop with less effort, but not in less distance. They give some drivers a false sense of security, because like power steering, they don't give the driver enough feel of the pavement. On wet or icy pavement this is dangerous.

4. "Cars don't need as much maintenance as they used to." Despite the improved oils and lubricants developed by the car manufacturers, drivers still are advised to change their oil more often under severe driving conditions. City driving and winter driving may require a driver to change his oil more frequently than his manual suggests.

Regular servicing should include more than just required oil changes and lubrications. Periodic inspection should be made of the brake fluid in the master cylinder, of the air and oil filters, steering system, shock absorbers, the under-carriage and the exhaust system, to name a few. Tires should always be carefully inspected.

The Allstate Motor Club reminds car owners of bad advice. Talk is cheap, but repair bills and accidents resulting from taking bad advice are not.

The Cure

It's happened. You've got the overdrafts. But it isn't that you don't have money in the bank that hurts. It's the way the check bounces: embarrassingly. So we've cured all that at National Newark & Essex, with Chec-King—our new 3-in-1 account. If you do overdraw, as most people do sometime or other, we automatically credit your account with the amount you're over, and then some. (Stand-by credit is guaranteed from $500 to $5500.) Secondly, you get a Chec-King check guarantee card so you can cash your personal check, up to $200, at any of our 31 offices and at established businesses throughout Northern New Jersey. And, thirdly, you get every advantage of a regular checking account. Now, really, which would you rather have: a plain old ordinary checking account with no cash reserve and no check guarantee card? Otherwise, the dropper can pick up germs which can injure the rest of the medicine in the bottle. Always keep the container tightly closed. Store in a cool place. Abbey Simon, Pianist In Weekend Concerts

Abbey Simon, internationally renowned pianist, and the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra together in a pair of concerts Friday and Saturday in Montclair and Millburn respectively.

The concerts, both under the direction of the Symphony's Music Director Henry Lewis, held at the Montclair High School auditorium February 7, and at the Millburn High School auditorium the following evening.

This was the third pair of concerts in the Symphony's Suburban Series of the 1968-69 winter season. The final concert pair, an all orchestral program, is scheduled for March 7 and 8.

MAESTRO — Henry Lewis, Music Director of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, leads a performance of Beethoven's Seventh Symphony.

Simon, performed Rachmaninoff's Piano Concerto No. 3 in D Minor, Op. 30. The program also included Brahms' "Academic Festival Overture", Strauss' Dance of the Seven Veils from "Salome" and an interesting work "As Quiet As" by Michael Colgrass written in 1966.

The work was inspired by the answers of fourth grade children asked by their teacher to complete the sentence beginning "Let's be as quiet as..." The composer chose seven answers that seemed to make a nature study as might be perceived by a child. Two answers, for instance, which are described musically were "Soft Rainfall" and "The First Star Coming Out".

CYO Snowball Dance Tickets on Sale Now

Tickets are now on sale to the general public for the social highlight of the Essex County CYO calendar, the CYO Snowball Dance and Queen Contest. The fifteenth annual Snowball is scheduled to be held Saturday night, March 29 at Seton Hall University's Archbishop Walsh Gymnasium in South Orange.

Entries for the queen contest are limited to the affiliated parishes which must sell 30 or more tickets to the dance in the name of their candidates. The winner will be determined by the parish which sells the greatest number of tickets, which are priced this year at $1.50 per person (couples only).

Last year's snow queen was Miss Kathy Massa of St. Peter's in Belleville. Kathy, the second straight winner for the Belleville parish, won out in a field of 13 candidates.

Prizes will be awarded to the winner, and to the second and third place runners-up. Name of the winner will not be announced until the night of the dance.

Girls who are active CYO members, and in either the junior or senior class of their respective high schools, are eligible to vie for the crown. Names of the parish snow queens must be submitted to the Essex County CYO Office at 425 Bloomfield Avenue, Montclair by Monday, February 17. Final deadline for selling tickets to the dance is Monday, March 24.

Continuous dancing to the music of two bands will be available to those who attend the Snowball, slated to extend from 8 p.m. until midnight.

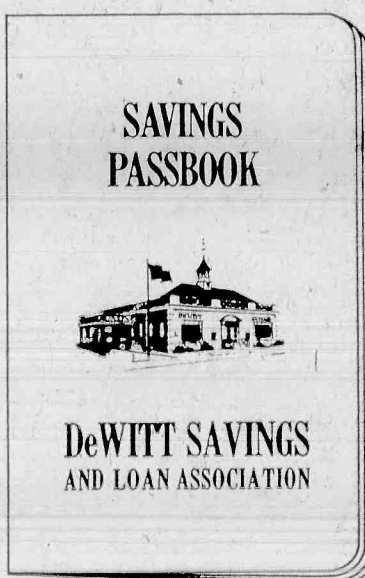

Miss Massa was crowned last year by the 1967 Snow Queen, Miss Linda Olivieri, also of St. Peter's. First runner-up was Marie Cappaibianca of Holy Family, Nutley.

Corps Celebrates 68th Anniversary

The Army Nurse Corps, the oldest military nurse corps in the world, recently celebrated its 68th anniversary.

Established on February 2, 1901, as a result of the devoted efforts of civilian nurses employed by the Army to care for the sick and wounded during the Spanish-American War, it was composed entirely of women until 1955, when it began accepting qualified male nurses.

The mission of the all-officer corps is to provide the best possible nursing care to military personnel and their families during both peace and war.

The Army Nurse Corps boasts a proud history of selfless and distinctive service by its members throughout World Wars I and II, the Korean War and, since 1962, the Vietnam conflict.

From a membership of 403 when the United States entered World War I in 1917, the Army Nurse Corps expanded to a membership of 21,480 within 19 months. Approximately half the corps served overseas during the war, including duty with the Siberian expedition. For their wartime service, three Army nurses were awarded Distinguished Service Crosses for heroism during combat, 24 received the Distinguished Service Medal for meritorious service, and approximately 100 were decorated by France and Great Britain for bravery or meritorious service.

Army nurses were the first American women to be sent to both Korea and South Vietnam to support combat operations. In Korea they endured the rigors of conflict and earned the title of "Front Line Soldiers" for their battle against disease throughout that strife-torn peninsula. Only three per cent of the American wounded in Korea died of battle injuries - the lowest percentage in military history up to that time.

Again, with quiet faith and with indifference to hardships and the constant danger of enemy attack, over 900 Army nurses are serving the United States and its soldiers in Vietnam. As a result of the efforts of these dedicated men and women, the death rate among casualties reaching hospitals in less than two per cent. In addition, many Army nurses are active in civic action programs during their off-duty hours. So rewarding is the work, that many Army nurses volunteer for second tours in Vietnam.

The Army Nurse Corps, with its history of service to the soldier and his family, richly deserves the tribute of all Americans upon the occasion of its 68th anniversary.

Tri-Town Honors NBPW Foundation On Anniversary

Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley will honor the National Business and Professional Women's Foundation on its anniversary at the February dinner meeting to be held at Park Methodist Church, Broad Street, Bloomfield, 6:45 p.m., February 27.

On February 27, 1956, the Foundation was established as a nonprofit educational corporation. It maintains a research and educational information center on a great variety of matters as they relate to business and professional women. As it expands, the Foundation will provide more and more benefits and services for the general public and its impact as a spokesman for the employed woman will grow proportionately.

It administers the Lena Lake Forrest Fellowship for graduate research at the doctoral level, on a subject concerning the advancement or interests of women who work. The resulting publications and reports are in the Foundation Library for the use of readers and researchers.

Also the Sally Butler International Scholarship for a Latin American woman to do graduate study in the United States.

In the future the Foundation hopes to expand its scholarship opportunities and to consider a wider range of applicants at various educational levels.

Through research grants and special surveys, the Foundation supports investigation and evaluation of the problems of working women. It feels that special libraries, such as theirs, should not duplicate the vast collection of books available in general purpose libraries.

Instead the Foundation concentrates its efforts on an area of research for all materials - books, pamphlets, clippings, government and university publications - which have a current and particular relevance to working women. This library offers its reference service to all members and to the general public. Inquiries come from all sides - other foundations, universities, libraries, authors, government units, magazines, foreign students and businesses.

A unique tape collection of the voices of famous women - speeches, interviews and comments recorded as these women took part in molding modern American history, has been established as part of the library. In the future the Foundation intends to expand this collection to include many more prominent women of our day - foreign as well as American.

At this meeting, Tri-Town will present a gift of $100 to the New Jersey State Foundation Chairman, Miss Stephanie Prepora of Caldwell. Miss Katherine Eastburn, 1st vice-president of the New Jersey Federation of Business and Professional Women, will also be a guest.

Miss Gwen Struble of Bloomfield, chairman of the Personal Development Committee, assisted by the other members - Miss Lucy Zarrelli of Montclair, Miss Linnee Andrea of Belleville, Miss Vivian Bell of Glen Ridge, Miss Elsie Ciccone of Nutley and Mrs. Milly Bohlander of Bloomfield - will present the program "Tri-Town's History Book of Famous Women".

The cast will be Miss Ann Boehmer, Miss Eleanor Storer, Miss Margaret Mostica, Mrs. Harry Boyko, all of Nutley; Mrs. Charles Boughton, Mrs. John Rodgers, Mrs. Edgar Jones, Mrs. Thomas McGovern, Miss Elizabeth Vigeant, Miss Mildred Spatz, Miss Lania Cheeseman of Bloomfield, and Mrs. John Kellerman of Verona. The commentary will be given to Miss Struble.

Air Pollution Can Cause Textile Damage

Are you familiar with the term "gas fading"? Even if you haven't heard the term before, you are probably familiar with linings that turned a different color for no apparent reason.

The reason is air pollution, and this in combination with all the new fibers, blends and finishes on the market can cause the consumer some real problems.

Effects of air pollution on textiles causes blue to fade, whites to discolor, a color change in permanent press items and loss of strength in many different types of fibers, both natural and man made.

The problem is a chemical combination of certain air contaminants and certain fibers or finishes. Some of these air pollutants come from automobile exhausts, oil heaters, electrical storms, combustion of coal and gasoline.

A division of the U.S. Public Health Service has commissioned a survey to determine the harmful effects of air pollution on textile materials. This is the first step in overcoming the problem.

Next time you notice color change in fabric for no apparent reason report your findings to the manufacturer of the article. In this way you can assist the textile industry in making needed improvements in their products.

For information on Home Economics Extension Service activities please write Mrs. Janet Spong, County Home Economist, Essex County Extension Service, 25 Thirteenth Avenue, Newark 07103 or call 642-7800, Extension 421.

Budget Shows Essex County Tax Rate Will Drop

It's First Time In Six Years

Essex County's tax rate will be reduced for the first time in six years under provisions of the 1969 Essex County Budget which will be reviewed at a public hearing in Room 506 of the Essex County Hall of Records in Newark starting at 11 a.m. on Thursday, February 13, Essex County Freeholder-Director Alan Augenblick said yesterday.

Despite additional county services including expanded operation of the Essex County College and additional costs relating to courts and law enforcement, the owner of a house valued at $20,000 will be paying on the average in 1969 $2.20 less in county taxes than he did in 1968 according to an analysis of the Budget released by Director Augenblick and Vincent Corrado, Chairman of the Essex County Finance Committee.

Both Freeholders also pointed out that in addition to taxpayer savings on the county tax rate homeowners in most municipalities will also benefit through a reduction in local municipal cuts since the county will assume in 1969 a major share of local assistance welfare beset our area in overwhelming disproportion compared to any other area in our nation.

"These are all areas of service which could not be economically borne by any group of municipal taxpayers, but which in concert, though increasingly difficult, are at least sustained through county government.

"Apropos of the 1969 welfare budget, a new responsibility has been placed on the county taxpayer as a result of modifications in the State welfare law ordered by the 1968 Legislature. Whereas in the past it has been the responsibility of local municipal Assistance Boards to provide welfare payments to families where the father is unemployed or under employed, this responsibility has now been shifted to the county tax rolls. This relieves the local taxpayer but adds to the county tax rate in a wider sharing of such responsibilities.

"In offset, the State has agreed in the same law to undertake a greater share of welfare responsibility by assuming 75% of welfare costs after federal share instead of the previous 50% State - 50% County ratio.

"Mindful of a continuing increase in the number of welfare recipients from a total of 57,700 individuals in 1968 to the specter of an increase to 86,000 individual recipients in 1969, the Board of Freeholders, in cooperation with Essex representatives in the State Legislature, seeks in 1969 a still greater State responsibility through a 90% State - 10% County formula leading to the complete take over of welfare responsibility by the State and eventually totally by the Federal Government.

"This disparity of welfare costs in Essex, traceable to industrial origins of its inner-city, is reflected in the fact that our welfare budget runs ten times higher than that of our nearest county neighbors.

"The area of welfare alone constitutes 21.9% of the projected 1969 budget.

"Between the items of county welfare, health and the various areas of law enforcement, all stemming from the residuals of poverty, this entire budget earmarks $53,622,040.00 or 64.7% of the total budget amounting to $82,847,184.47. Despite these formidable responsibilities and despite deserved salary increases to county employees ranging from $400 to $600 to correct inequities and meet the cost of living, the 1969 budget represents an increase of but $3,343,667.94 less than 4.2% over the 1968 budget.

"Based on a total estimated property valuation base of $5,764,000,000. (an estimated 198 million

William Duncan Will Serve As AAA 1969 Chairman

William K. Duncan, executive vice president of the Shore Motor Club of South Jersey, will serve as the 1969 Chairman of the Public Affairs Council of the AAA Auto Clubs of New Jersey.

The AAA Council represents more than a quarter-of-a-million motorists who are members of the six AAA Automobile Clubs serving residents of all 21 counties in New Jersey.

Duncan succeeds Carleton H. Ritter, executive director of the North Jersey Automobile Club, Paterson. New vice chairman of the Council is Jack Staskewicz, executive vice president of the West Jersey Motor Club, Phillipsburg.

increase over 1968) the projected tax rate in Essex County for 1969 will be $1.144 per $100 assessed valuation as compared with the 1968 rate of $1.155. On the base of a house valued at $10,000, the taxpayer will pay $1.10 less for County taxes, despite the additional county services and added costs for 1969.

"While the change in the welfare formula was the significant factor in enabling the county to hold the line on county costs relating to the individual taxpayer, it must be emphasized that the same homeowner in many municipalities should also benefit as a result of the county assuming the local assistance relief costs—which savings will be reflected in the local municipal budget.

"The 1969 budget also contains $767,593.33 for the County share of expansion of the newly established County College, an expanded Vocational School System.

"During 1969 the Board of Freeholders will continue to press the New Jersey State Legislature to have the State assume full responsibility for the operation of the Superior Courts and five bills providing for such a transfer are presently before the State Legislature. If enacted, these bills would result in savings to county taxpayers in excess of $1,500,000.

The County is also pressing for a greater State responsibility and a greater sharing of the costs in the operation of the Essex County Sanatorium where state grants per patient have been increased in more than half a century and are totally out of line with the costs involved.

"In summary, the amounts to be raised by taxation in 1969 for the County of Essex are $65,963,682.27. This is an increase of $2,329,607.94 over that of 1968. The total budget of appropriations for 1969 amounts to $82,847,184.47. This represents a cutback of $7,148,576.70 in original budget rises filed by the 57 departments, agencies and commissions in the county.

The 1969 budget includes an estimated $16,883,502.20 in revenues, a $1,014,060.00 increase over 1968, which accounts for the difference between the total gross budget of $82,847,184.47 and the actual tax levy of $65,963,682.27."

YOU'LL BE GLAD

You switched to Electric Glassheat BECAUSE...

(Letters from Glassheat users TELL YOU WHY!)

"IT'S COMFORTABLE HEAT—

just like sunshine in spring", says one Glassheat owner. "You don't feel hot or cold; you are never aware of the temperature. You are just continuously comfortable, and there are no cold spots."

This is true because Glassheat is the only heating system that warms with Radiant Electric rays exactly like the Sun's own rays. A room heated by Glassheat feels like the sunny side of a barn in the spring sunshine. No wonder people enjoy it, and say so:

IT IS CLEAN—

As one user writes, "Probably the most unique feature of Glassheat is its cleanliness. In 16 years with Glassheat the only room we have had to do over is the kitchen. No need to repaint the other rooms or even wash down the walls."

Says another customer, "No soot, no smoke, no grime. Have never seen anything so clean. And we are saving 30% on the cost of fuel compared to the old system."

YOU'LL SAVE MONEY ON HEAT.

A fact that surprises many Glassheat owners. One writes "We were expecting that Glassheat would be somewhat more economical to operate, but we were not prepared for our low annual heating bills. Of course we are also pleased with the savings on our regular current. We take advantage of the special low heating rate."

Another user says, "Though we added two additional rooms, my heating bill amounts to only $175—and we have never been so comfortable. Of course there are no maintenance or service charges. Another saving."

With Radiant Electric Glassheat so inexpensive to install and operate, why pay more for less than the best?

IT IS SAFE!

No flame, no fumes, no vapor and Glassheat can't overheat. Even accidental contact can't cause blistering. Since there is no flame it is fire-safe. Further it can't burn up the oxygen in the air or reduce the humidity, in fact it maintains a desirable humidity, so there are fewer colds in the Glassheat home and other bothersome ills are aided. No moving parts, so Glassheat is as silent as sunshine. Sound luxurious? It is—in every respect but price and the cost of operation.

How much would this ideal trouble-free heat cost? Send the coupon or call us in person and find out. No obligation.

"JUST THE TEMPERATURE WE WANT IN EACH ROOM;

that's one thing I like," says another owner. True, because money saving thermostats throughout the house permit you to regulate the temperature in each room; 65° in one, 75° in another and 50° in a room not in use. The temperature is uniform from floor to ceiling, causing a user to write, "Years of living with your Glassheat makes me a firm believer in this type of heat."

Conservation Head Queries Hunters

Some 8,000 New Jersey hunters are being asked to cooperate in a survey of sporting activity and success, Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development announced this week.

A postcard questionnaire was mailed recently to 8,000 hunters by the Conservation Department's Division of Fish and Game. Recipients were selected at random from 1967 hunting license stubs.

The questionnaire is similar to game harvest surveys conducted in previous years by the Bureau of Wildlife Management, with a wider range of species covered this year. Information gleaned from past surveys has been of value in recommending seasons and planning management programs to improve hunting.

Cooperating sportsmen are asked whether they purchased a 1968 firearm hunting license and whether they used it for hunting, trapping or both. Responses from individuals who did not buy or use licenses will be helpful in the final evaluation.

A check list of 12 game species is provided. Hunters are asked to check all species they hunted in New Jersey, successfully or otherwise in 1968, and to give the number bagged of each species.

Previous questionnaires have listed eight of these species, as well as a separate question on deer. The 12 species are pheasant, quail, rabbit, squirrel, duck, grouse, Canada goose, brant, clapper, rail, deer, bear and woodcock.

Another new question asks hunters in which county they principally hunted waterfowl during 1968. This information will have a bearing on the type of duck season set within the federal framework of regulations.

Reply cards are postpaid and pre-addressed. All answers are confidential, as there is no place to sign and the portion with the hunter's address is detachable.

Modern statistical methods make it possible to project a highly accurate estimate of the total harvest, if sufficient hunters respond to the questionnaire. A good indication of trends is possible for those species covered in previous surveys.

GEORGE AND MARTHA — First Prize for the most original costume went to Steven Plesnik and Jeannette Pitchford who spent the evening as George and Martha Washington.

SHOTGUN WEDDING — Two gentlemen, Robert Zendian and Neil Maria, won the "funniest costume" award at the third annual Mardi Gras Dance at the Military Park Hotel.

Howard Savings Reports

Economic Forecast Is For Continued Success

By John W. Kress

"Up, Up and Away," to borrow a line from a recent popular song, might well describe the feeling of the more optimistic concerning the expected business trend for 1969. A review of factors affecting the nation's economic well-being would seem to indicate a continuation of the 1968 pace, at least through the first quarter and possibly part-way into the second. There have been some pessimistic views on the economy for 1969, however, with inflation posing a most serious threat to the economy.

The solutions to this problem, plus unbalanced budgets, the urban crisis and the war, are, of course, essential to continued long-term prosperity. Many will be looking to the new administration in Washington as a source of some constructive economic readjustments along these lines.

To many of us, the problem of inflation is of major concern. It is a sinister force that gnaws away at the pocketbook and silently robs us of much of our disposable income. Certainly there is much that can be done to arrest this unpleasant situation, but solutions must start at the Federal level in order to register any real impact on the economy.

Unfortunately, the cure for inflation—like most medicine—sometimes has an unpleasant taste, including the possibility of greater unemployment and a slowdown in growth. Dollars, on the other hand, can be saved, and, incidentally, the value of the dollar itself strengthened, by our Government's reviewing its futile efforts to "buy" the friendship of nations, reconsidering the scope of our role in world-wide policing, and finding a just, yet honorable end to our Asian affair. The possible savings from these recommendations alone would help greatly to underwrite the needs of our domestic problems of unemployment, housing and educational needs for our underprivileged population.

At the home front, the Federal Reserve system of controls could exercise further restraints in the discount rate to discourage excessive borrowing.

Another area for possible correction is in the Federal farm subsidies. The annual expense now tops $3 billion, or $251. per household.

Interestingly enough, there were five payments in 1968 for $1 million each—not to grow food!

Progress against inflation will also need a reasonable measure of support from government, business and labor. Let us hope that profit and labor demands in 1969 will be commensurate with sound business needs.

Naturally, much of the constructive progress that we are looking for must come through the 91st Congress.

What will 1969 bring? A new deduction in disposable income came this month in the form of increased Social Security payments ($31. more, up to $374 from $343 annually, plus a similar increase for the employer.) Furthermore, it is expected that the surtax will be somewhat modified, but will be continued beyond the June deadline.

A further indicator of what can be expected during the early new year was the surge of sales reported by retail sources at the year-end. The Newark News of December 27th, for instance, reported that holiday sales may have set a new record. Couple this news with the forecast of 9.4 million car sales expected for 1969—only slightly down from 1968, and you have two important factors to bolster the economy. Cars mean steel and the heavy build-up of inventories in early 1968 in anticipation of a strike is now depleted. All these factors should help to strengthen the GNP, expected to reach about $915 billion, up $55 billion or 6.4% over 1968, according to some estimates.

Indications point to continued growth as many of our large industries make provisions to replace plants or equipment. According to a survey of capital spending plans made by a business magazine in the fall, companies plan to sink in excess of $69 billion into such projects in 1969, an 8% gain from the $64.4 billion expenditure in 1968. This 8% could go to 10% if the war were to end and the surge on corporate projects were allowed to expire on June 30th. On the other hand, rising financing costs may threaten the ability of some companies to carry out their plans.

We can probably continue to look forward to high yields in both utility and industrial securities. It may well be that for the first time the Dow Jones Industrial average will reach that magic number, "1,000," but first it will have to take into account the uncertainties of Vietnam and the threat of declining profit margins in many industries.

If the Federal spending program is not curtailed, we might expect to see rising yields on short and long-term Government bonds.

"Outbidding" the normal savings media, with a predictable strongly adverse effect on mortgage lending for new housing. This can be an unhealthy condition, and many believe it could create another crunch. The real answer to this will depend on the handling of monetary problems by the new Secretary of the Treasury, David M. Kennedy. To date, however, there have been only token cuts made in Federal spending.

Coming a little closer to the New Jersey scene, we've seen a rapid rise in the value of bank stocks. This is partly attributable to the recent legislative changes that will permit 3.5% extension of branch banking and state-wide holding companies. This new branch banking law, which provides for three banking districts, was passed by the Senate in November and now awaits the Governor's signature.

Housing construction, to return to the broader scene, is, of course, a good economic indicator. The picture for 1969 is best expressed in the following excerpt from a recent address by Dr. Saul B. Klamman, vice president and chief economist for the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks:

"Mortgages should prove to be increasingly attractive investments for savings banks should money and bond yields retreat from present high levels, as is likely once the economy begins to slow under the combined impact of fiscal and monetary restraints."

One immediate deterrent in this pending picture of progress, however, is the price of homes—up 25% from 1963-1967, according to the

are increased family formation, backlogs of housing needs, and the home building to be impelled by the new Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968.

"The housing sector, I predict, could well be the major source of strength in the economy... Indeed, a buoyant 1969 housing market might make the difference between continued overall economic growth—albeit at a significantly reduced rate—and actual recession. The role housing will play can be compared with its stabilizing, counter-cyclical influence in the 1950's."

Promising this prospect continues to be, I am sure Dr. Klamman would agree that the continuing upsurge in borrowing costs and growing competition for credit are factors that must be overcome if mortgage loan needs are to be met through their traditional channels.

Here in New Jersey, optimism on mortgage lending is founded in the change brought about last July when the Contract Laws were amended. The contractual maximum rate on mortgage loans was increased from a rigid 6% ceiling to more flexible interest rates. This legislation should mean a period of new construction growth, as long as mortgage loan rates compare favorably with yields on other forms of investment, and provide further opportunities for our Institution to carry out its pledge to help people acquire their own homes.

Dr. Klamman, speaking in December before the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks' Committee on Government Securities and Public Debt, stated further:

"Mortgages should prove to be increasingly attractive investments for savings banks should money and bond yields retreat from present high levels, as is likely once the economy begins to slow under the combined impact of fiscal and monetary restraints."

One immediate deterrent in this pending picture of progress, however, is the price of homes—up 25% from 1963-1967, according to the December 23rd issue of Impact. As a matter of fact, prices have moved up 9% during the last nine months of 1968. The median price for a one-family house is now $25,000; a similar unit sold for $23,300, just a year ago.

Naturally, there has been some fear that the prospective home buyer is being priced out of the market. But this possibility has been offset to some extent by the continued rise in income. The Washington Report of The Chamber of Commerce reported last fall that the hourly earnings of factory workers were up 6.4% in 1968, adding to the 4% increase for both 1966 and 1967. The growing pressures of population and new family starts have created a big demand for homes that must be satisfied, and 1969 seems to be the year in which to do it.

The population problem is exerting much pressure in our cities in relation to the supply of housing. While multi-family housing is undoubtedly expanding more rapidly than single family housing, multi-family house construction looks good for 1969 with a probable increase of about 10% in the number of dwelling units produced. Our own experience has shown this to be true as the demand for multi-family housing, particularly garden apartments, has been strong. In this connection, we do not see any overall decrease in interest rates. They will remain firm in the foreseeable future, even though there may be some tendency toward fluctuation at times. It should be remembered that interest rates on mortgage loans do not vary as rapidly as bond yields, and at the present time it would appear that, with bond yields increasing, there would be some pressure on interest rates to do likewise.

We anticipate that our mortgage production in the foreseeable future will continue at fairly high levels, not only because our bank's ratio of mortgage loans to total assets is below the average of other savings banks, but also because we believe that the savings inflow will be sufficient to make investments in mortgage loans attractive at their present yields.

THE AGE OF LIGHT

This is the 90th Anniversary of the incandescent bulb.

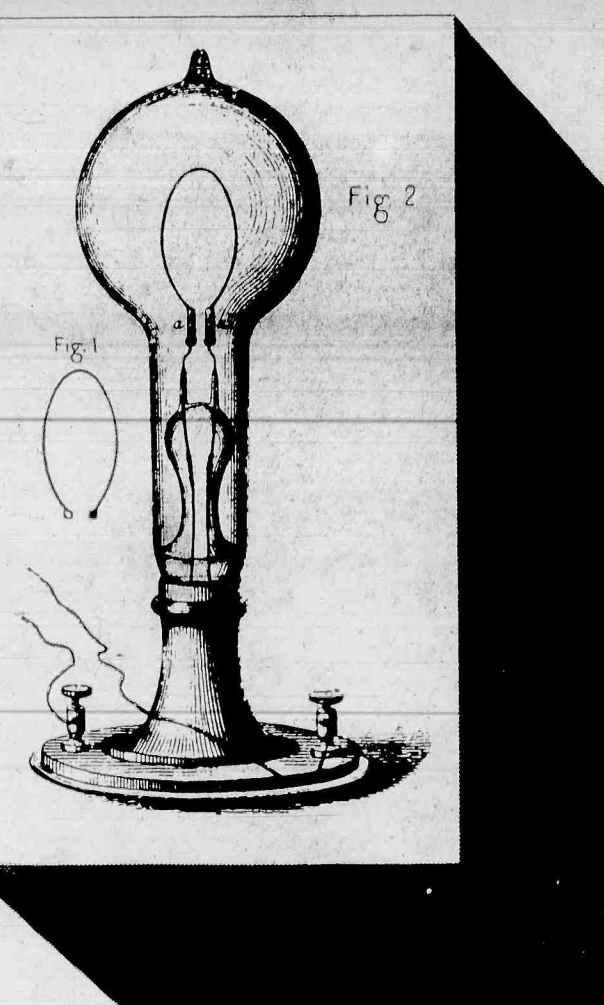

As man continues to mark his progress by milestones of efficiency, the light by which his vision is formed and his work done is a measure of his growth.

In our Nuclear Age, the atom will provide an increasingly greater share of man's light.

We dedicate National Electrical Week not only to the memory of Edison on the week of his birth, but to the vision and creative imagination of the electrical power industry... Thomas Edison's ultimate legacy to us... and our greatest tribute to him.

During the week of February 9-15, we pause to reflect upon 90 momentous years... and consider the future of the Age of Light.

We Salute the 50th ANNIVERSARY of the AMERICAN LEGION

Now that the new baseball commissioner has been selected, the players are almost certain to go on strike. Billy Cunningham has really taken charge of the Philadelphia 76ers. He pulled down 20 rebounds Sunday against Boston and has all but eliminated the one weakness the loss of Wilt Chamberlain brought to the club. He's averaging 25 points a game and has come a long way since splitting his pants in the East-West All Star game, his final college contest.

There was an atypical boon in television movies Sunday, four good ones were on view in one day instead of the usual insipid Doris Day fare: Fail Safe, Spartacus, The Bridge, and Of Human Bondage.

Fail Safe was a story of today, how man has become a prisoner of his machines and the maniacal arms race. Spartacus' theme is applicable to today, the interminable themes of inhumanity and slavery. It was one of Kirk Douglas' best portrayals along with Champion and Paths Of Glory, the latter also directed by Stanley Kubrick.

The Bridge is a masterful war film, ranking with Paths of Glory and The Young Lions in that genre. It was a true account of the senseless sacrificing of six youths just conscripted, in the closing stages of World War II.

Though a bit saccharine, the adaptation of W. Somerset Maugham's tale of a slightly promiscuous girl and the hell she makes a young doctor live through entertains better than any Dean Martin film to date.

Question: Who starred at forward for the Detroit Pistons and now pitches for the Atlanta Braves?

Here's a few of the worst trades ever made for aspiring general managers to mull over or the best, depending on whose side you're on: Red Berenson for Ron Stewart; Mel Counts for Bailey Howell; Mel Counts for Rudy LaRusso; Mel Counts for anybody; Orlando Cepeda for Ray Sadecki; Roger Maris for seven Yankees, the best of which was Bob Cerv; Y. A. Tittle for Lou Cordileone; Del Shofner for practically nothing; Richie Guerin for cash; Wilt Chamberlain for Lee Schaffer (who retired), Paul Newmann and cash; Phil Esposito for Gilles Marotte (basically); the best move ever though was trading managers, Jimmy Dykes for Joe Gordon.

Answer: Ron Reed, ex-Notre Dame.

Debaccos Set Scoring Mark

Action in the Recreation Senior Boys Basketball League continued hot and heavy last week.

The Montgomerys started out ahead of their opponents, the Lakers, and led through the first half. A quarter score of 19-18 and a half score of 33-27 made things appear to be going the Monty's way. But then, the Lakers went into an all-court press and held the Montys to a lean two points in the third period while, at the same time, literally exploding in their scoring.

There were twenty-eight points poured in by the Lakers in that period. Although the Montys outscored the Lakers in the last stanza 18-17 they could not overcome the big third quarter deficit and the Lakers had themselves a 72-53 win which moved them just a half game from second place.

Bob Baumgardner had himself a 24 point evening to lead the Lakers. He was aided and abetted by Greg Smith with 15 and Pete Faltraco with 10. For the Montgomerys Ray Campbell not only contributed 21 points but played an all round great game. Pete Binkowitz with 12 and Rich Delaterza with 11 were the other high scorers for the Montys.

DeBaccos, in the other game of the evening, continued their winning ways as they romped over the winless Vipers. With four players in the double figures the DeBaccos rolled up a fantastic 112 points. Greg Dodack, with 24, led the scoring and Steve Andrews was right in there with a big 23.

Add to these a great 19 points by Ben Gallente and 14 by Carlin Barrett and you have a new League scoring record. Gary Trainor, with 17, again led in scoring for the Vipers.

Bonfante Stars In Irvington Win

By John McCarthy

Co-captains Bert "Reverse Pin" Reboli and Big Bob Bonfante were the stars of Friday night's meet as the Belleville High wrestlers beat Irvington at home.

With 30 seconds left in the second period of the 106 match, Bert picked up his sixth pin, this one over Tom Kunz of Irvington. Big Bob Bonfante, 195 pounds, went into the heavyweight match against Bill Luzenko, who reportedly tips the scales at 260 pounds.

The pressure was on, Big Bob knew he had to win this one, both teams had put up a good fight, and after the 178 match the score stood at 20-21, in Irvington's favor.

In the first period both Big Bob and Bill exchanged charges and holds but neither was awarded any points. Bob started the second period in the down position and reversed Luzenko in ten seconds, Bon-

Vreeland Runs At The Garden

Sophomore Ralph Vreeland of Belleville will run for Lafayette in the two-mile relay team competing for the Leopards in the Madison Square Garden Invitational Friday evening.

The Lafayette quartet, one of 16 college mile relay teams invited to compete in the evening section of the Invitational, will run against Pitt, Rutgers and Iona.

fante then held him for the rest of the period. The excitement grew as Bob started the third period on top and Luzenko escaped making the score 2-1 with Bonfante leading, but Luzenko was charged with stalling and Big Bob was awarded one point.

As time ran out Bonfante won the match 3-1, and his three points for a decision made the final score 23-21. It was Bonfante's ninth win in ten matches.

Charley Gingerelli started the meet and was beaten 5-0 by Tony Nardo in the 98 lb. class. Bert Reboli retaliated with a second period pin over Tom Kunz. This was Bert's sixth pin in a row, he got the other five against Bloomfield, Vailsburg, Barringer, Columbia and Clifton, most of these with his favorite combination, the reverse cradle.

Irvington came back as Lucian D'Uva B-115 went against Tom Todaro and was pinned in the second period. Dana Nappi beat John Kentura 5-3 in the 123 match. Dana's 7th win out of eight evened the team score 8-8. Jessie Towns next went against Vic Zapico, and although the 4-1 score doesn't show it, Jessie had Vic in control for the whole match. John Salvato lost 8-4, but wasn't overpowered as he escaped every time Paul Monshien took him down in the 136 match. Eugene Skidmore B-141 went against Ron Epstein, but had to forfeit the match at the end of the second period as Gene hit his elbow against the mat and couldn't move his arm.

Bob Giordano did a job on Mike Krivak as he beat him 7-1. Bob's 14th victory brought the score from 16-11 to 16-14, putting Belleville within reach of the Campers. Paul Smith B-157 really was evenly matched against Bob Timofai. Paul's close 2-1 victory put the Bellboys ahead 17-16. Dick Beresford B-168 showed his strength against Roger Richardson as Dick beat Richardson 6-0.

The second period started with Beresford on bottom but he reversed Richardson for another 2 points, and Dick kept control for the rest of the second period and the entire third period. Sal Bivona put up quite a fight to Bill Papota, but was pinned in the third period of the 178 match. Big Bob Bonfante ended the match with his ninth win of the season.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity grapplers take on West Orange away on Friday night, finishing their season. The team then looks forward to the District Championships where all the teams in our district will compete at Bazzinger on the 22nd, and then the winners will go to Hillside to compete in the Regionals on March 1.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

Every once in a while a customer wants to know the specifications of the amplifier used in a stereo phonograph. Mostly, they ask: "how many watts does it have?" Jokingly, we usually ask: "What is a watt?" Of course, they have no idea other than believing that the more watts the better.

There is great confusion, even in the industry, about this term. The same unit, rated in one manufacturer's rating procedure, may be 50 watts and in the rating by another manufacturer it would be 100 watts. Unfortunately, a precise, uniform method of rating has not been established. There are 3 formulas in use. We could define them for you, but it won't be any help, since most factories do not specify the formula they use.

Magnovox, unquestionably, is the largest manufacturer of better quality stereo phonographs. You can rest assured that every piece of equipment they make has the proper power commensurate with the size of speakers and cabinet. One can not just put any amplifier, regardless of wattage, together with any size speakers in any cabinet. Everything has to be fitted correctly in order to give the best results. Wattage is only one criterion; there are many others.

If a customer insists to ask us questions for hours about matters he really does not know anything about, we usually tell him that we don't sell watts; we sell good, pleasant sounding instruments. It is easy enough, one just has to listen and one can not help but hear the difference.

We service what we sell. Beck's Radio TV Hi Fi

FITS LIKE A GLOVE — Joe D'Alconzo fruitlessly attempts to stop big number 24, Glover.

Motacki and a goal by Ron Schulz gave Belleville its last lead at 21-20 about two minutes into the third period. Two baskets by Gary Womble in the final minute of the quarter gave Montclair a 34-27 which Belleville never threatened.

Sophomore Mike Dougherty played a fine game for Belleville taking team honors with 12. John Pauciullo added 9 on four field goals and a foul shot.

Williams Urges Attacks On Poverty And Pollution

U. S. Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr., (D-NJ) said tonight that government and industry must shift priorities in expenditures, and begin the task of turning "tax-users" into "tax-producers."

The New Jersey lawmaker gave examples of costly failures in social policy that won't be resolved until Federal, state and local governments begin to combine their strengths.

His remarks came in a speech before New Jersey business leaders at the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce Congressional Dinner.

Excerpts from Senator Williams speech:

"Every generation has had the responsibility to contribute something of itself to bring this land closer to the realization of our founder's hopes. Even today — as we search for world peace and peace at home, each of us is called for his particular contribution."

"The convulsions that wrack society stretch all the way around our globe — and the pain is felt most acutely right where we are tonight...Our immediate contribution toward solving the conditions that create social turmoil can probably best be made in our own communities."

"Can life be better — the answer better be yes, and I am convinced that the answer is yes. Look what we have going for us: inventive genius in every field of science and engineering...business, large, small and in between, with pioneering drive, enterprise are losing the war — but we have learned at long last that we as a state cannot go it alone."

"New Jersey has joined other Middle Atlantic states in an air pollution control compact. The time has come for Congress to add its willing membership to the compact."

"This same formula for action in cleaning the air can be applied in the same way to cleaning our oil-choked, polluted streams and waterways."

"The interstate compact provides still another lesson. It can be used to harness the resources of the cities and the suburbs in meeting their common problems."

"In meeting our commuter transportation needs, we have made a strong beginning with a partnership of the Federal government, state government and regional transit authorities. The Aldene Plan, the improvement of PATH, progress on the Delaware River Port Authority, Lindenwood High Speed Rail Line... are proof that we must preserve and improve our commuter mass transportation system."

"The classified ads in any newspaper tell the story of the failures in our job market...part of this story is the failure of our formal learning process."

"Dividends can also come through common sense perspective in fixing priorities. Our weapons systems, space exploration and atomic energy commission: the sensible shifting of research monies from these programs to private sector needs will yield incalculable revenues for improving our daily lives."

State Grants Essex Aid For County, City Roads

David J. Goldberg, New Jersey transportation commissioner, has announced grants-in-aid for 1969 which have been allocated to all 21 counties and 83 municipalities under the State Road System Act of 1967, including Essex County's allotment of $1,533,500.

Essex County's grants include $1,027,500 for county projects and $506,000 in municipal projects.

The state grants, totaling $14,687,000, represent the state's share of the cost for the future construction projects, and enable the counties and municipalities to include the matching amounts in their 1969 programs.

Applications for the grants far exceeded funds available for the program, according to the commissioner. The department received a total of 349 applications, which totaled $30,632,713 in value.

Following a searching review and evaluation, the department approved 182 applications valued at $14,687,000. The funds are to be matched 50-50 by the counties, and 75-25 by the municipalities.

The act, passed in April, 1967, gives the transportation commissioner the responsibility for selecting major county and local roads and bridges to be included in an overall integrated system, including consideration of new roads as well as the reconstruction and improvement of existing roads. The commissioner also has the responsibility of apportioning $15 million to the counties and municipalities for their individual projects for the system.

In 1968, two amendments to the act provided that all bridges on local roads are now eligible for funds, and that the commissioner is empowered, for calendar 1969 only, to participate in comprehensive bridge inspection programs set up by local agencies.

Commissioner Goldberg added that the $15 million state aid program does not affect established county and municipal road aid programs.

Mortgage Loans Up At Howard

Essex County mortgage loans held by The Howard Savings Institution of Newark, the largest savings bank in New Jersey, on December 31, 1968 amounted to $133,273,691.

John W. Kress, Howard President, reported today. This was an increase of $4,916,963 over the previous year. "As the largest lender of money for mortgage loans in New Jersey," Kress noted, "The Howard continues to make a significant contribution to the state's economic growth." The Institution has granted 41,305 loans, totalling $601,292,505, at the end of 1968, on properties in all of the state's twenty-one counties.

Kress reported that the nine northern counties of New Jersey represented a combined mortgage loan investment of $332,560,714. Bergen accounted for $70,065,493; Essex, $133,273,691; Hudson, $20,624,470; Hunterdon, $2,294,486; Morris, $37,128,079; Passaic, $25,596,227; Sussex, $2,910,064; Union, $56,123,886; and Warren, $2,406,662.

"Of particular note," said Kress, "is the high percentage of loans granted on one-to-four family dwellings." This totalled 61.3 percent of The Howard's mortgage loans granted in 1968. The balance of the portfolio included multi-family, industrial, institutional and other loans granted in 1968.

Kress pointed out that The Howard differs from many other lenders in its policy of investing only in New Jersey mortgages, and in continuing to charge no service fee for granting VA mortgages.

Of the total mortgage loans outstanding at the year's end, VA loans accounted for 32.50 percent or $139,531,374. Conventional mortgage loans represented 45.93 percent or $350,692,941, and FHA loans amounted to $111,068,190, or 21.57 percent.

With its head office in Newark, and nine branches in Essex County, The Howard Savings Institution is one of the foremost savings banks in the nation. Total assets on December 31, 1968 were $889,130,727, with deposits amounting to $815,206,393. The bank had over 265,000 depositors.

The Howard mortgage loan correspondent for Essex County is the Edward I. Forman Mortgage Company of Newark.

Public Serv. Earnings Rise Over '67 Figures

Earnings increased 4 cents per share and rose to $2.60 for the year 1968, Public Service Electric and Gas Company reported today (January 21). This compares with $2.56 per share for 1967. The years 1968 and 1967 include earnings of 3 cents and 2 cents, respectively, arising from extraordinary items, consisting principally of profits on sales of land and on bonds reacquired.

Earnings in 1968 were reduced by 12 cents a share as a result of the 10% Surtax.

Earnings in 1968 include approximately 5 cents per share arising principally from a change in accounting, effective January 1, 1968, with respect to certain expenditures relating to utility plant.

The rate of calculating Interest Charged to Construction was raised from 6% to 6 1/2% effective January 1, 1968, increasing earnings approximately 2 cents a share. Dividends totaled $1.61 per share for 1968, up 5% from 1967 payments. Operating revenues rose to $636 million in 1968 compared with $597 million in 1967, and net income in the respective periods was $90 million and $87 million. Sales of electricity in 1968 reached 21.9-billion kilowatt-hours, 8% more than 1967, and gas sales totaled 1.6-billion therms, up 4%.

ITT Shows Indonesians Earth Station Technology

Thirty-four engineers and technicians from Indonesia and Pakistan have been taught by International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation to communicate with the world via satellite. The cadre of technically trained visitors participated in lengthy classroom sessions in Nutley, learning about the operational theory of amplifier circuits and other technical subjects. They also visited the manufacturing area of ITT Defense Communications Division to study a new satellite communication earth station being built and tested prior to shipment to Indonesia for permanent installation. The visitors had little time to explore Manhattan during their intensive six-week course in operation and maintenance of a satellite communication earth station. But they were invited to the homes of several of their ITT instructors, and were impressed by the bustle and bigness of New York City.

The start of the project a year and a half ago, he has been actively engaged in developing its organizational structure, overseeing the construction of buildings and supporting facilities, and acquiring station personnel and arranging for their training by ITT Defense Communications.

The visitors from Pakistan also are learning how to maintain and operate a satellite earth station. Pakistan expects to be operating communications satellite earth stations in the early 1970's between East and West Pakistan, as well as internationally.

At about the time the Indonesians complete their technical training in earth station technology, ITT Defense Communications engineers and technicians will have readied the earth terminal equipment for shipment to Djakarta, the capital of Indonesia. Then the sophisticated electronic equipment will be transported to the station site at Djatiluhur, 80 miles southeast of Djakarta.

By 1970 more than 40 commercial communication earth stations are expected to be in operation around the world, communicating via the Intelsat III global satellite network.

The earth station is the latest satellite communication project to be undertaken by ITT. It will be Indonesia's commercial telephone, telegraph and television communications gateway to the world via the Intelsat III series of commercial communications satellites.

ITT Defense Communications Division designed and manufactured the Indonesian station equipment. It will be installed, operated and maintained by P.T. Indonesian Satellite Corporation (Indosat), an ITT subsidiary, under lease from the Indonesian government, which will own the station.

William K. Short, formerly with ITT World Communications Inc., is serving as managing director of Indosat in Djakarta. Since

New Estimated Tax Forms System Set Up For 1969

Completely new estimated tax forms for reporting and paying 1969 Estimated Federal Income Taxes are being mailed to approximately a half million New Jersey taxpayers, Roland H. Nash, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue Service for New Jersey, announced today.

A taxpayer should not assume that he is required to file or pay estimated tax simply because he receives the new package. Anyone receiving the new forms package should read the instructions very carefully to determine whether he is required to file an estimate. No declaration is required if the estimated tax not subject to withholding can reasonably be expected to be less than $40. The March of Dimes cautions against unnecessary exposure to X-rays before or during pregnancy.
