Ten Finalists Compete

Miss Belleville Pageant To Choose New Queen

Saturday evening will present a bright and sparkling moment for one of the ten finalists who will be competing in the annual Miss Belleville Pageant sponsored by the Belleville Jaycees.

It will also be the end of a year of "fun and enjoyment" for Miss Carol Jean Cornish who will be stepping down as Miss Belleville 1968 to crown the new queen.

Interspersed between the joy, happiness and tears of the contestants, their families and friends, is the genuine comradery that is developed between the finalists. Part of this comradery will be expressed when the girls select Miss Congeniality from among themselves, which isn't an easy job with such a lovely group of personable and friendly girls.

The one girl selected by the judges to represent Belleville in the Miss New Jersey Pageant at Cherry Hill in July will be starting a year filled with excitement and some travel. She will also be the recipient of a $500 scholarship presented by the Peoples National Bank & Trust Co. of Belleville.

Along with the winner there are two runnersup who will also receive scholarships of $250 from the Belleville Kiwanis and $150 from the Colony Club of Belleville respectively. The third and fourth runnersup this year will also receive scholarships of $75 and $50 from Jolly Cleaners.

The job of putting the pageant together has been a long and tedious one for the Jaycees especially pageant chairman Caesar Romano, who promises a great show for everyone. "How can we miss after the great parade we had," Romano said.

The ten finalists who will be competing Saturday night are Francine Casale, 18, of 85 Fairway Ave.; Marilyn Casale, 18, of 210 Brighton Ave.; Anna Costantino, 19, of Heckel St.; Maureen Gaudio, 19, of 39 Overhill road; Dana Hendricksen, 18, of 149 Forest St.; Margurite Kennedy, 18, of 45

Hornblower Ave.; Jeannette Luty, 19, of 78 Prospect Ave.; Francine Parisi, 18, of 3 Baldwin Place; Kathy Partus, 18, of 157 Fairway Ave.; and JoAnn Romao, 18, of 78 Dorothea Terrace.

Each girl will bring that certain charm, grace and personality that makes her a queen in her own way and possibly Miss Belleville 1969.

Chamber Of Commerce To Hold Annual Dinner

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce will hold its Installation Dinner-Dance at The Fountain Saturday night, with a guest appearance by the new Belleville Cherry Blossom Queen highlighting the evening.

In addition to the dinner and the installation of officers for 1969, entertainment will be provided by accordionist Al Lange and a five-piece orchestra led by Wedder Tramutola.

According to committee chairman for the affair, Aaron Cohen, the evening's accent will be placed on entertainment and fun, with official business and speeches kept to a minimum.

"This affair will be the best we've had yet," said Cohen. "This year we have everything we had last year with the addition of the appearance by the new Cherry Blossom Queen."

The new queen will leave the High School after she is crowned and will come directly to the affair to be presented to the group.

This year, all the women will receive a gift box of an assortment of products donated by the Jergen's Company.

Ticket chairman Paul Brandman has announced that all 275 seats for the dinner-dance have been sold out, many of them going to groups that purchased whole tables. Tickets sold for $15 a seat.

The affair will begin at 7 p.m. with a cocktail hour during which accordionist Al Lange will entertain with a medley of popular tunes.

At 8 p.m., after the singing of The Star Spangled Banner, an invocation will be given by Rev. Frederick L. Long of Christ Episcopal Church of Belleville. Dinner will begin at 9 p.m.

Following dinner, a short meeting will take place in which Chamber of Commerce president George H. Mead will introduce the 1969 officers and board of directors.

Serving as officers for this year will be William D. McDowell, chairman of the Board; George H. Mead, president; John B. Böld, vice

Belleville School Board Asks Help In Trenton

The Belleville Board of Education will take its appeal to the State Commissioner of Education tomorrow in Trenton. The Board charges that the Commissioners of the Town of Belleville did not take into consideration the educational needs of the children of the town in making their $205,777, cut of the proposed 1969 budget.

Max Schwarz, Board Counsel, has prepared a fifteen page brief for the informal meeting, stating the Board's position in the budget matter.

The Board holds that before they began working on the budget, they invited the town commissioners to a meeting on December 30, 1968, to discuss the upcoming budget.

After the meeting, the Board did assemble what they thought was a legitimate budget. On January 30, 1969, a public hearing on the subject was held, after which time the board did adopt a resolution approving the budget by a unanimous vote, and setting the date for a public vote on the matter for February 11.

The budget was rejected by the voters on that date and it was two days later that the board again met and reviewed the entire budget. They deleted $100,000 from the Capital Outlay account and then unanimously voted to resubmit the reduced budget to the voters on February 25.

For the second time, the budget was defeated at the polls. Two days later, the Board delivered to the commissioners the resubmitted budget and requested a consultation on it.

On March 3, that meeting took place and the board explained its budget in detail, at which time the board agreed to further reduce its budget by $42,402.48 by deferring certain vitally necessary maintenance work and the purchase of educational equipment.

In the appeal the Board claims that the only concern of the commissioners "was to keep the tax rate down." They stated that "they too, were interested in good education, but added that you can't forget the taxpayer."

The Board feels that increased enrollment makes the hiring of new teachers, substitute teachers and the like necessary. Such hiring has to be, they feel, on a competitive level with the surrounding communities, which means that some fringe benefits have to be given to prospective teachers.

Finally, the board claims that it made up the budget on the basis of educational need not educational desirability. In the brief, the Board attacks the Mayor for his public statements, in the form of press releases, which urged the defeat of the budget. The Board says "that

Set For Monday

Telco Opening

The New Jersey Bell Telephone Company will open its second Belleville Central office next Monday, with a dedication ceremony scheduled for 9:15 a.m. at 412 Washington Avenue. The building will have the newest and most elaborate equipment for tracing annoyance calls.

Mayor Kenneth D. Smith, along with town officials and E. H. Davey, manager of the new office, will participate in the ribbon cutting ceremonies.

The office will be open five days a week, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the purpose of ordering or changing service, or to pay bills. The office is being moved from 254 Washington Avenue.

Eventually the building will house 62 traffic service positions, an employment office, and associated administrative offices and switching equipment. The traffic service position unit will handle a projected volume of 37,520 calls a day.

Traffic service positions (TSP) are push-button consoles without the traditional connecting cords seen on standard switchboards. The TSP system will enable customers to dial person-to-person, collect, credit card, or bill-to-a-third-number calls from residence as well as coin telephones.

TSP also increases the speed with which long distance calls are handled.

The office anticipates having in excess of 75 employees working there. All new systems should be operating by November.

Belleville Hosts Parade In Display Of Loyalty

Under a clear blue Sunday sky, with bright flags whipping in the wind, the annual Loyalty Day Parade of Essex County was held on Washington Avenue, Sunday.

Hundreds of spectators lined the sidewalks or sat on the curbs as the seemingly endless parade marched from the corner of Greylock and Washington Avenue, past Town Hall, and down to William Street where it disbanded.

In what amounted to a symbol for the festivities, a little girl stood on the sidewalk, one hand tightly gripped around her mother's fingers, the other grasping a small American flag. As a group of policemen mounted on chestnut horses came by, she jumped up and down, flashing smiles as bright as the day.

The parade was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Fourth District, and Essex County Council, in cooperation with the town of Belleville.

Leading the parade down Washington Avenue was the Newark Police Post Band, which is the only police post band in the country and has played at all the Veterans of Foreign Wars national conventions.

Whole families stood side by side, waving flags, saluting, as 17 musical units and various other groups consisting of veteran and civic organizations, high stopped by.

The Belleville Police Department had a busy day setting up road blocks and directing traffic away from the parade area.

Acting as Honorary Grand Marshalls were Mayor Kenneth Smith, Albert Bartocci, commander, district 4, VFW, and a member of Irvington Camptown Post, and William B. Kroeschel, a commander of Essex County council VFW, and a member of the Newark firemen's post.

Charles E. Kinney, past department commander of the State of New Jersey and a member of the Newark police post and a police captain in the Newark police department was the parade announcer.

In charge of awards was Andrew J. Tomasko, past district 4 commander VFW.

Nicholas A. Guarino, commander of the Belleville Veterans Council and past post commander of Tabi Post of Belleville, VFW, was Grand Marshall. Deputy Fire Chief George Sbarra of the Town of Belleville was parade adjutant. Sheldon C. Huber of Hennessey Post Newark was assistant to parade adjutant.

In the key role of parade coordinator was James G. Caffrey, past state commander, VFW, and a member of the Newark Police Post. Carmela Villani, past district 4 president of the ladies auxiliary was secretary.

St. Lucy's Cadets Drum and Bugle Corp, the American Legion National Champion, and the holder of the national record in the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was one of the many bands participating in the parade.

The Belleville High School band made an appearance, as did the Hilltoppers.

Hatchet Assault Case Is Sent To Grand Jury

A case involving assault and battery with a hatchet was sent to the Essex County Grand Jury by Judge Edward Abramson in the April 10 Belleville Municipal Court.

Joseph Garamone was charged with attacking his stepfather and was released on $3,000 bail. Garamone's stepfather testified that his stepson hit him in the head with a hatchet blade, causing a wound that required 11 stitches and two pints of blood.

SPRING PLANTING — Commissioner Mary Senatore and Shade Tree Committee chairman Anthony Iacullo watch as workers plant a cherry blossom tree on Greylock Avenue. The tree is one of 50 that will be planted through the donation of the Kiwanis Club of Belleville. The club has vowed to make Belleville the cherry blossom capital of the country.

LOYALTY DAY — Town Hall is decorated with flags to honor Loyalty Day held Sunday. Paraders and bands from various civic and veteran organizations marched down Washington Avenue past this reviewing stand set up in front of Town Hall.

At the microphone is parade announcer, Charles E. Kinney, who described the parade that was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Essex County Council, in cooperation with the town of Belleville.

School Board Passes Guides

In a special meeting of the Board of Education Monday, trustees adopted two resolutions, one dealing with salary guides and the other with teacher contracts.

In a very brief meeting, the Board adopted without discussion, a set of 1969-70 salary guides for personnel.

A four-point resolution calling for the reappointment of all school personnel brought about some dissension among the Board members, most of whom were not prepared to act on any of the reappointments except those involving the teachers.

As a result, resolutions calling for the reappointments of secretaries, custodians, matrons, maintenance men and other personnel were tabled for a subsequent meeting.

Jersey Senators To Receive Award

Senator Harrison A. Williams and Senator Clifford P. Case will be the recipients of the Justice Louis D. Brandeis Humanitarian Award to be presented by the New Jersey Region of the Zionist Organization of America. This was announced by Judge Joseph H. Lerner, South Orange, chairman of the Special Awards Committee, and Jacob Kroll, Highland Park, President of the Region.

The award will be presented at a dinner marking the 25th anniversary of the New Jersey Region, ZOA on May 25, at 6 p.m. at the New Clinton Manor, Route 22, Union.

Lerner, who will also serve as chairman of the Awards dinner, stated that "this presentation to both U.S. Senators is being made in recognition of their warm friendship for and significant contributions to the American Jewish community and the bastion of democracy in the Middle East, the State of Israel. Both Senators have best exemplified the precepts and teachings of that great jurist Justice Louis D. Brandeis by their outstanding humanitarianism. They have, both by speech and in action, during their tenure in public office, supported and furthered the democratic principles, the aspirations and dreams of peace and freedom of all peoples throughout the world."

This is the first time that the Justice Brandeis Humanitarian Award has ever been presented in this state. The proceeds of this dinner will be appropriated for a newly created scholarship fund, in the names of both senators, to be used for scholarships at the Kfar Silver Agricultural High School, located near Ashkelon, Israel.

The committee, in formation for this dinner, will include outstanding leaders in the fields of education, industry and labor from throughout the state as well as representatives of major organizations.

Now talk long, often, and happily without paying 10¢ and 15¢ toll charges.

Here's a way to eliminate 10¢ and 15¢ toll charges on calls to New Jersey telephone numbers. It's a new service called Selective Calling, and it's available right now.

Here's how it works for individual-line residence customers. You select the 10- or 15-cent New Jersey exchange areas served by New Jersey Bell that you call or would like to call frequently. You pay an additional small fixed monthly charge for each exchange selected. Then you can make as many calls as you wish to those exchanges at no extra cost.

The monthly rate for the first exchange you select ranges from $1.25 to $2.50. Additional exchanges cost only 25¢ to $1.50.

Wouldn't you like to talk long and often to friends or family living in these 10- or 15-cent exchange areas? And talk happily without toll charges? If so, Selective Calling makes it very easy and economical to do just that.

A similar Selective Calling plan is also available at different rates to customers with business phones.

For more information, please call your Telephone Business Office.

SELECTIVE CALLING: another new service from New Jersey Bell that can save you money.

Peter Rodino Introduces Obscene Mail Control Bills

Rep. Peter W. Rodino announced that he has introduced three bills which are designed to "control the sordid trade of unsolicited mailings of obscene materials and, specifically, to protect children from receiving pornography."

The New Jersey Congressman said he had been seeking legislation to curb the dissemination of obscene material for years. "Some progress was made," he noted, "with passage in the last Congress of a bill by which anyone receiving objectionable material can have the Post Office direct the sender to desist from any future mailings to the complainant. However, this is obviously inadequate to cope with the problem, for it is only after receipt of undesirable material that a person can act."

Legislative Help Needed

Many citizens of three counties use the Route 3 bridge across the Passaic River. The bridge's steel grid deck endangers the life of every motorist obliged to use it. An estimated 90,000 cars and trucks daily use this means to cross the Passaic.

The snow and ice season are beyond us and left in their wake many injured people due to Route 3 bridge accidents. Last year there were 30 multiple car accidents causing major injuries to several people in each accident.

Rutherford police report that everytime it rains they are prepared for a call because their files are full of rainy weather accident reports. Even in clear weather police report an average of eight accidents per year.

The State of Pennsylvania has shown that by welding steel studs to a steel grid deck skidding accidents can be substantially reduced, if not entirely eliminated. All steel bridges in Pennsylvania are now equipped with such studs.

On December 17 last, Department of Transportation Commissioner David J.

Goldberg announced bids would be sought to improve the safety of the Route 3 Passaic River bridge. The proposed safety contract calls for the welding of steel studs identical to the Pennsylvania installation.

Four months have lapsed since Commissioner Goldberg's press release.

Thousands of area residents use this public facility. Since people of Bergen, Essex and Passaic Counties use the bridge it is incumbent upon the legislative delegations from these counties to prod Trenton into immediate action.

The sooner steel studs are welded into place the safer will be our travels across the Passaic. In view of the unexplained delay one wonders what priority Trenton assigns to citizen safety.

Renna Should Resign

At a time when most Republicans are straining every muscle, pulling all stops, to attain party peace in Essex County, John Renna, County Purchasing Agent and West Orange G.O.P. Chairman becomes County Campaign Manager for Union County State Senator Frank McDermott, a gubernatorial hopeful.

Renna has been making noises recently trying to get up a head of steam to succeed G.O.P. County Chairman Bill Yeomans. He has attempted to develop a third faction, his own, within the Republican party, obviously hoping this technique would insure his election as G.O.P. County Chairman.

Renna appears to be just plain greedy and selfish.

In accepting the post with McDermott, Renna makes people wonder how short-lived is his gratitude to Yeomans for giving him the $17,000 county plum.

More important to taxpayers is Renna's failure to recognize some people may conclude his job with McDermott may influence Renna's decisions as County Purchasing Agent. The appearance of a potential conflict should be evident even to those of us with bad eyesight.

In the circumstances Renna can do no less than resign as County Purchasing Agent. If he doesn't voluntarily quit the Board of Freeholders should demand his resignation.

As long as Renna continues his dual role as County Purchasing Agent and County Manager for McDermott the embarrassment he is causing the Republican party remains -- and he hands the Democrats another juicy issue to haunt G.O.P. candidates already plagued with obstacles as they head into the November elections.

It is unfortunate that a good man like Senator McDermott is burdened with a Renna handicap.

1968 — No Exceptions

The year 1968 ended without having witnessed a single execution in the fifty states—the first year on record in which no death penalties were carried out in the nation.

Sponsors of plans to abolish the death penalty are hailing 1968 as an indication capital punishment is at an end in the United States. One such official claimed court actions in 1968 amounted to "de facto national abolition of the death penalty."

While it is true that executions have steadily declined from 199 in 1935 to two in 1967, as an illustration, the fact is that more prisoners are today waiting on death rows than was the case a year ago. The number is estimated by the Bureau of Prisons at 435, about double the number a year ago.

The main cause of "de facto abolition" in recent years is a series of Supreme Court and lower court rulings. Last April the Supreme Court ruled that the "Lindbergh law" (and presumably others like it) was unconstitutional because it states that only a jury can impose the death penalty. This, the court felt, tended to make defendants ask for a trial by a judge.

In June the Supreme Court ruled that those with conscientious objections to capital punishment could no longer be excluded from juries. This meant that all those sentenced by juries which had excluded such potential members might be entitled to a new trial.

These and other court decisions have produced a halt in executions amid a flurry of appeals, requests for new trials, etc.

Meanwhile other test cases, involving other anti-capital punishment principles, are to be decided by the Supreme Court this spring. Thus it seems that at least another year or two might elapse before the fate of capital punishment is finally decided.

Something Constructive

In this time of destructiveness among so many college students and student organizations, a refreshing example of constructive action was recently in the news in Columbia, South Carolina.

In that city some 800 Allen University students announced they had formed into committees to help lift themselves and the university out of debt. The predominantly Negro group, through its chairman, Dave Stewart of Charleston, announced: "Instead of protesting and throwing bricks and bottles, we've decided to join hands with the help of God and our university president and do something constructive."

That something constructive will be a massive fund-raising campaign to help relieve the college's crushing debt. The student committees will solicit from churches and other organizations and sponsor benefit concerts and dances in behalf of the fund-raising effort.

In view of the havoc caused on so many American campuses in recent times by Communist-infested student organizations, extremist racial organizations and minority groups, the public is almost certain to be sympathetic with constructive student activities, such as the program recently announced at Allen University.

And since both college administrations and the public in general is traditionally inclined to help students, there is no limit to what student groups acting constructively might accomplish in the climate now prevailing in the nation.

Tax Reform

There should be no doubts in the minds of the nation's legislators that the majority of Americans favor tax reform. Widespread publicity given to the inequalities existing in today's tax laws and expressions of sentiment in favor of reforms have been clearly evident for years.

If Congress cannot agree on a package closing the many tax loopholes and ending inequalities, at least three needs of the hour should be met. The first is a change in the law to allow for taxation of many non-profit funds and foundations, which are presently tax-free.

Reform in this field should also include the taxing of church-owned businesses, which have nothing to do with religion and which compete with privately-owned businesses of the same kind. This reform would bring billions of dollars into the treasury.

Another obvious need for reform concerns loopholes which presently allow many of the very rich to escape paying any income taxes whatsoever. A recent study showed there were a considerable number of Americans with incomes in excess of a million dollars who paid no federal income tax.

A broad tax reform measure is needed. However, if various factions and interests in Congress cannot agree on such a package, the least the American people should be granted is a law ending these glaring discriminations. This much reform would rule out further tax increases for some time, probably insure tax relief by 1970 at the latest.

Youths Give Thought To Being Policeman

Question: The Nutley Police Department believes that the success of future law enforcement will eventually depend upon attracting college graduates to join the force. Have you ever given a thought to becoming a police officer?

Mike Nazzaretto 20 Bayard Street, Nutley - Senior Nutley High School.

I've never thought of it. I don't think they need a college education. What kind of job would I get with a college education? I'd take a job with the police department if it was a good job with a suit and tie. I might consider it as a career if it would pay more money. Right now the pay scale isn't high enough. I don't think the cops understand the teenagers enough, and a college education would help better relations.

Jim Giger 30 Monsignor Owens Place, Nutley - Senior, Nutley High School. The pay should be higher. I couldn't picture myself as a policeman. I think a cop should be somebody that tells someone what to do, and I'm not that type of person. I'm starting college in Glassboro State this September and I'm going to major in Math. I'm good in Math, so why should I become a cop? I don't like cops anyway.

Mr. Nazzaretto

Mr. Giger

Richard Betsch 17 Cottage Place, Nutley - Senior, Nutley High School

I haven't given it any thought. The hours are bad and they're underpaid. I'd get kinda sick of standing on the corner all day, directing traffic. Personally, I'm going to take a business course at Waynesburg College in Pennsylvania, but after I get out I would consider it if it was a desk job and I didn't have to take all the risks that cops do. I think they're doing a good job now, without a college education, but college would help. In fact, there should be a special college course just for cops.

Mr. Betsch

Richard Nosach 133 Ohlson Avenue, Nutley - Senior, Nutley High School.

I was seriously thinking of becoming a police officer after I graduated college. Maybe I'd like to go into the FBI, be a detective or something on that line, not a town cop with a uniform or a regular beat. I'd like an adventurous job tracking down dangerous criminals. There should be much more training involved in becoming a police officer. I'm a high school senior now and I don't think I know that much. If the pay scale were higher more people would be interested.

Mr. Nosach

Congress Needs Reform Of Taxes

To the Editor:

I want the 91st Congress to go down in history as the "Tax Reform Congress," and I am determined to do everything within my power to see that this goal is secured.

Recalling the past, we have had the "Education Congress," so-named because of its pioneering efforts in initiating programs to improve the quality of schools and universities, the quantity of classrooms, laboratories and libraries and to open the doors of educational opportunity to all deserving young people.

We have also had the "Consumer Congress," which distinguished itself by the enactment of legislation to give new and effective protection to consumers in today's complicated market place.

And we have had what might be called the "Concerned for the Elderly Congress," which broadened the protection and increased the cash benefits of our Social Security program, including the landmark Medicare provisions that I had been advocating and whose enactment I had been working for since I first became a candidate for Public office.

Although many important and pressing issues currently confront the nation's lawmakers—including a number of measures which I am sponsoring and supporting to bring further improvements in the fields of education, consumer protection and adequate Social Security benefits — no pending legislation can match tax reform in scope or significance.

Tax reform will have an immediate and direct impact on every taxpayer in the United States.

On February 17, I introduced my bill for tax reform. Officially designated H.R. 6791, the legislation was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, which is presently conducting hearings on the matter.

My "Tax Reform Act of 1969" is a comprehensive measure. The printed version covers 61 pages.

Fourteen specific changes are proposed to eliminate existing loopholes and to distribute the tax burden more fairly among our people, business and corporations.

The legislation I have introduced provides for the collection of taxes from those who, because of loopholes, are now able to avoid payment of their fair share at the expense of low-income and moderate-income taxpayers.

One of the most obvious abuses in the present tax structure is the $600 personal income tax exemption for individual taxpayers and their dependents. The $600 figure has been in effect since 1948 and was scarcely adequate even then to provide for the feeding, clothing and housing of a human being. By today's standards, the $600 exemption is not only unrealistic, it is punitive.

My bill would raise the personal income tax exemption to $1,200 for each taxpayer and each of his or her dependents. Raising the present exemption is a "must" in any effort to eliminate tax inequities.

The legislation I have introduced would also tax capital gains presently untaxed at death; eliminate the unlimited charitable deduction; eliminate special tax treatment for stock options; eliminate the $100 dividend exclusion; eliminate benefits derived from multiple corporations; establish the same rate for gift and estate taxes; eliminate payment of estate taxes by redemption of government bonds at par; limit hobby farmers' use of farm losses to offset other income; eliminate accelerated depreciation on speculative real estate and repeal the 7 percent investment tax credit.

Additionally, my bill would remove the tax exemption on municipal industrial development bonds and substitute a federal interest subsidy to states and local communities as an alternate to tax exempt bonds.

Further, my bill would reduce the mineral depletion allowance from 27½ percent to 15 percent on oil and from 23 to 15 percent on 41 other minerals.

These changes, which I have advocated for years, will provide the basis for a more equitable tax system. They should also prove helpful in our efforts to halt inflation and resolve our serious problems of tight money and high interest rates. Accelerated depreciation, for example, contributes to the overstrained situation in the construction of office buildings and apartment houses.

I intend to continue to explore further possibilities for tax reform, particularly for the disabled and those burdened with higher educational costs, but the bill I have introduced is a starting point and should be enacted without delay in the interest of justice, equity and fair play for all Americans.

Also in the interest of justice, equity and fair play, I have introduced a second bill, H.R. 8665, to resolve a serious problem with respect to Irish immigration, and that from other countries which have been placed at a disadvantage by the Immigration Act Amendments of 1965.

Under the new bill, the unused visa numbers from Fiscal Year 1968 would be available for countries such as Ireland in the two fiscal years following enactment. Each of the countries involved would be entitled to a number of visas corresponding to its average immigration over the 10-year period from 1955 to 1965. It is estimated that about 69,000 visas would be available under this proposal.

In addition, any of the numbers unused by such countries would be reallocated to those preferences now oversubscribed, thus reducing the backlog and further giving relief to the Irish in the future in competing for numbers under these preference categories.

Congressman Peter Rodino
Tenth District
New Jersey

Varsity letters for the winter sports were awarded at the Senior High in assembly.

Coach Salzarullo of the bowling team probably one of the least publicized sports, awarded bowling letters to John Longo, Mark Borgo, Jeff Rudden, John Spgzaferri, Pat Smythe, and Allen Symonies. The bowlers compiled a 2442 record, the best so far this year, and were second in the regional tournament.

Mark Borgo had the distinction of being the highest bowler at the Big Ten Championships.

The crew team lost its first race against three wins as it was edged out by Atlantic City High School by only two seconds. The JV crew kept their record clean as they beat the Atlantic City JV shell by 13 seconds.

Coach Jim Silvestri is contemplating having his wrestlers go to a summer training camp, probably the Poconos Wrestling Camp in East Stroudsburg, Pa. Last year, some of the wrestlers went to Russ Houk's Training Camp which is also in Pennsylvania.

Rumors around the High School have it that Coach Raymond Hanake of the track team, has been drafted but so far he has denied these reports and continues to try and bring the trackmen to their first victory.

If these rumors are true, this will be the fifth coach in five years since Coach Tom Testa left after 6 years as Track Coach in 1964.

Ron Kulik, who also coached the Big 10 Cross-Country Champs, was track coach in '65. Pat Forte, of the Junior High, took over for the '66 season. Paul Szem, now basketball coach, had the coaching job in '67. Jim Orsini was the coach for a year, and now Ray Hanake might only last for 1 year. One thing for sure, Belleville doesn't have the 7 year itch.

Strong Staff Shines

Montclair State Hurlers Achieve Pitching Record

Back in March when Montclair State College baseball coach Bill Dioguardi looked ahead to the coming season the prospects for a repeat of last year's fine 14-4 record seemed awfully cloudy.

The main reason for the dim outlook was the questionable status of a veteran Indians pitching staff.

Last year's top winners, senior righthander Pete Jerauld of Hasbrouck Heights (4-2) and junior lefthander Fred Keimel of Berkley Heights (4-0) were both nursing sore arms.

The only healthy hurlers with any experience were sophomore lefthander Ken Inglis of Nutley (2-2) and ace reliever John Grzymko of Jersey City. But two healthy arms can't carry a whole team.

Well, it's now mid April and the least of Dioguardi's worries is, surprisingly enough, his pitching staff. The Indians scalped their first five opponents, and the hurlers ran up a string of 33 2/3 consecutive innings, including three complete game shutouts.

Jerauld picked up the first victory of the season with a 9-6 win over Fairleigh Dickinson University. However, the high spot of the game was 2 and 2/3 innings of shutout ball by sophomore Inglis.

This was only the start for Inglis. With only one day's rest, the big lefthander spun a nifty one hitter over Newark State. He struck out 17 and walked only two hitters with the one hit being a double by the game's leadoff hitter.

Two days later, Jerauld, not to be shown up by a mere sophomore, went to work himself. The senior limited Newark College of Engineering to five hits in a route going 5-0 blanking. He fanned eight and threw only 98 pitches.

Legion Baseball Ready To Start

Jack Throckmorton, Sr., Chairman Essex County American Legion Baseball and Post 105 General Manager announced that Post 105 will field a team for the tenth consecutive year. Charlie Craig will be back as Field Manager and will be assisted this year by Frank Papisidero, who will act as Field Coach. Belleville will play all their home games at the high school stadium, starting at 6 p.m., with day games at 2 p.m.

This year the League comprises teams from Bloomfield, East Orange, West Orange, Maplewood, Nutley, Cedar Grove, Montclair, Caldwell, Livingston, Irvington, Vailsburg and Belleville Post 105. Each team will play approximately 15 games. With 12 teams, 1969 promises to be a very exciting season. All boys 19 or under are eligible and welcome. Our program is designed to further the player's ability and to make him a better American through Baseball. Players not only from Belleville High School, but other private, Technical and Parochial schools are also welcome.

A maximum of 18 players can be carried on a team. They are predominately High School boys, but can be college freshmen, providing they are eligible by age.

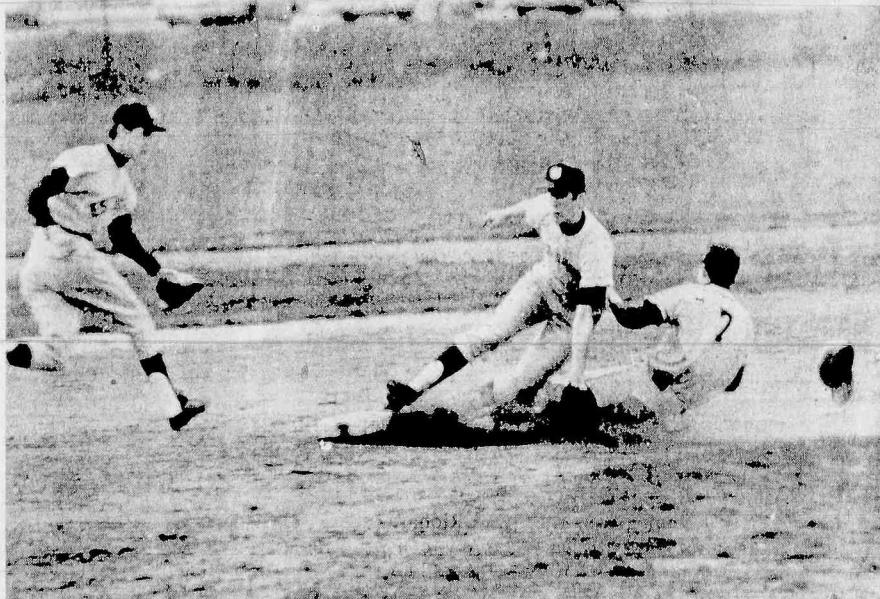

The Legion season starts June 9 and ends the middle of July, excluding playoffs and championships. The National championship will be played at Hastings, Nebraska, August 28 - September 2.

Last year was largely a building year for Belleville with two freshmen and several sophomores playing regularly. Both Craig and Throckmorton are high on this year's prospects. "It will be our objective", said Craig "to sign the 18 best ball players who are eligible and who truly want to play five weeks in a good, clean, well organized Baseball League."

There is no reason why Belleville should not be in contention for 1969. Boys now on the freshman, Junior Varsity and High School squads are, in effect, trying out for the Legion. Officials of Post 105 will keep a close eye on players and what they do during their school season will be the chief factor in deciding the Legion roster. Tryouts will be held in mid-May and announced in this paper.

SAFE! — Belleville second baseman Brian Waters slides safely into second base to complete a successful steal as the Bellboys downed West Orange, 2-1 at Belleville. Attempting to put the tag on Waters is West Orange's All-State second baseman, Rich Max.

Giordano's 1-Hitter Tops West Orange

The Bellboys have pulled even with a 4-4-1 record after their victory April 21 over West Orange at the Belleville Municipal Stadium, 2-1. The team faces three tough challenges this week, against Seton Hall, today at home, Orange, Saturday and Irvington, Tuesday. A rained out game against Columbia was tentatively scheduled for yesterday and a report on the game will be in next week Times.

The Bellboys have a record of 2-3-1 in the Big Ten Conference and need to win both Big Ten tilts in order to reach the .500 level in the conference.

It was Bob Giordano's one-hit pitching and a three hit contribution by catcher Joe Vitiello that produced the victory over West Orange, which is now 2-4-1 in the conference. Giordano walked three and struck out five en route to a convincing saddling of the West Orange squad. Bob Roelike took the loss for the visitors.

The lone hit for West Orange nine was achieved by rightfielder Pete Karavaris. Giordano held West Orange's All-State second baseman, Rich Max to a hitless day.

Belleville scored first, getting one run in the bottom of the third when Brian Waters singled, stole second, was sacrificed to third by Giordano, and came home on a sacrifice fly by Joe Papisidero.

West Orange came back to tie the score in the top of the fourth, getting their only hit when Pete Karavaris got a scratch single out of the right side of the infield. Karavaris went to third when catcher Vitiello threw the ball into center field on an attempted steal. The run came across on a squeeze play executed by leftfielder Mike Glynn.

In the bottom of the sixth, the Bellboys went ahead when Bob Ciallella walked to open the inning. Rich Caravetta went in as a pinch runner and advanced to second on a single by Joe Vitiello. A fielder's choice sent Caravetta to third, and a sacrifice fly by John Goscinski brought him home with the winning run.

Giordano was only the seriously in trouble in one inning, the fifth, when West Orange loaded the bases with no one out.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

As our readers know, we try to answer the most frequently asked questions from our customers.

One of these questions is about the all transistor set put out by one manufacturer. It is significant that, so far, no other factory has followed suit. They all have one or two experimental models, but none other has a complete line.

We repeat our position on any radically new design. We stay away from it, until it has been thoroughly tested and tried. There are constant changes, indicating that all is not well yet. Our customers and we ourselves are not going to be the testing ground for the manufacturer.

It is the writer's opinion that most manufacturers will skip the transistor stage and go right into the IC (Integrated Circuit) stage.

An officer of the company that makes the transistor sets stated last week, that in his opinion the use of transistors will peak this year and then will decline as integrated circuits begin to replace these devices in home entertainment products. This would mean that the present transistor sets won't have a chance to get off the ground.

Montclair Crushes Belleville As Petronaci KO's 13 Men

John Petronaci pitched a two-hitter in leading the Montclair Mounties to a 7-1 victory over Belleville at Woodman Field, Montclair on April 15.

Petronaci stuck out a total of 13 batters including 7 in the first three innings while issuing 3 bases on balls.

Montclair scored first in the opening frame when lead off batter Kerry Garner ripped a home run to center field for a 1-0 lead. The Mounties scored again in the third inning when Tim Berra, son of the great Yankee catcher, walked and went to third on Bobby Giordano's throwing error. Then Kerry Garner got his second run batted in of the game when he hit a sacrifice fly to right, scoring Berra.

Belleville got on the scoreboard in the fourth inning without the benefit of a hit as Joe Ritacco walked, stole second, and came home on second-baseman Bob Zaccareo's error.

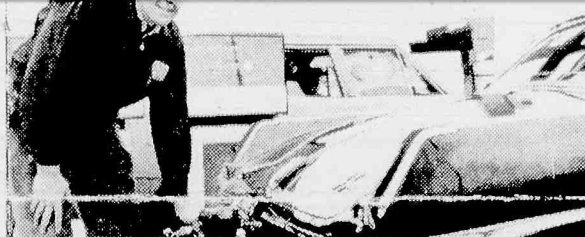

Montclair scored two insurance runs in the fifth and led at that point, 4-1. Then coach Charles Travers lifted pitcher Bob Giordano and brought in Jack Rush to pitch the last inning. Rush allowed the final three runs for the 7-1 Montclair. Belleville's few hits were contributed by Joe Ritacco and Joe Papisidero. Ritacco had one hit in two at bats to raise his batting average to a club-leading .333.

Montclair hiked its season's record to 7-1 overall and 4-1 in the Big Ten.

A golf match pits six golfers of one team against six of the opposing team. However, the only team competition of the event is the adding up of the points each man accumulates out of a possible three. The rest is strictly individual. Thus the total score of the match is always eighteen (six times three).

Belleville got off to a slow start as Kevin Stanton, Gary Trainor, Al Marshheuts, and Lou D'Frosia could only score a total of four points. West Orange led at that point, 8-4.

Then Brian Hammond took 2½ out of three points from this West Orange rival to close the gap to 8½-6½ with one golfer left. In order to win the match Belleville had to win all three possible points, and that is exactly what Tony Nocera did, win by a point, 9½-8½.

It might pay some parents to know a little bit more about what their off-springs are doing and where they do it.

Ollie Gelston Named Coach Of The Year

Montclair State College's Ollie Gelston has been chosen New Jersey State College Conference basketball "Coach of the Year". The honor, accorded Gelston by a vote of the conference coaches, is a tribute to his efforts which saw Montclair State win its second straight N.J. S.C.C. championship while posting a regular season mark of 22 wins and only 2 losses. For the first time in the history of the conference Montclair State breezed through an entire conference schedule of 10 games without a single defeat. The conference was formed in 1957.

The 1969 honor is the second "Coach of the Year" award that Gelston has won having taken the past honor in 1965 at Jersey City State.

Weight Watchers, directed in this area by two educators, is a food re-education program. It is designed to help people change their eating habits and thus not only lose weight, but learn the controls to keep weight from returning. Weight Watchers continues to work with the members even after he has lost his weight; for, based on its vast experience with overweight people, it offers him a wide variety of non-profit follow-up services, to help maintain his weight.

Going on a food re-education program that represent a meaningful life-goal is a most important matter. For that reason Weight Watchers urges every member to 1) consult and be examined by a physician of his own choice; 2) submit his food and contemplated weight-loss program to that physician for approval or modification; and 3) periodically check his progress with him.

Planning Gets Under Way Now to Brighten Home and Better Living Improvements Start Best With Family Conference

Those home improvement projects, getting under way now in homes across the nation, usually turn out to better advantage when they begin with a family conference. With all family members participating in the planning, each has a say on ideas that will benefit the individual and the family, too.

The spark that ignites most home improvement projects is a complaint, wish or demand by some member of the family. The teen-agers may want a patio and fence. Mom might hope for an improved laundry room, Dad a workshop in the basement. Sue could suggest a hobby area, Tom a place for table tennis.

"One idea may spark another. The thing for Dad or Mom to do at this stage, presuming they agree that something should be done, is to fan the sparks with a family home improvement planning session," suggests Alan B. Cook, marketing services vice president of Masonite Corporation.

Since family interests and money are concerned, the approach to a remodeling project should be businesslike as well as fun. For instance, Dad can post a notice of the first family meeting, announce its objectives and urge each one to bring in ideas for discussion.

All Should Be Heard

Each person, of whatever age, should have a chance to be heard. The "secretary" (Mom, no doubt) will keep a record of the meeting.

With initial ideas discussed, Dad can assign each person to research his or her pet proposal. Then the next meeting can hear brief verbal reports and general discussion.

This could be the time for deciding on the nature of the improvement, how much can be spent, whether it will be do-it-yourself or contracted, and the time schedule.

If do-it-yourself workmanship is involved for economy, Dad can assign jobs and even instruct his helpers in the ABC's of construction. Also, he and Mom should take responsibility for selecting materials to be used.

At an early point in the planning, the family's consolidated plan should be put on paper. This is the time to decide on space allocations, furnishings and "Togetherness" or "apartness." It wouldn't be wise to have Dad's workshop next to space wanted by Sue for a music center.

Partitions of predecorated hardboards help solve the problem of privacy despite proximity.

Checking on Materials

In addition to a plan, the family should list materials wanted, specifying styles, colors and brands. Since a remodeling project involves various materials, the family could go as a committee to inspect siding, paneling, ceiling material and flooring, for instance.

The average family may want some expert advice in the selection of colors, lighting fixtures and other facets of the decor and built-ins.

If a contractor is involved, the project can proceed under its own steam with the family members looking in on the job to check workmanship and accuracy in following the plan. If it's a do-it-yourself job, then either Dad or a friend who has some construction know-how should be invited to participate.

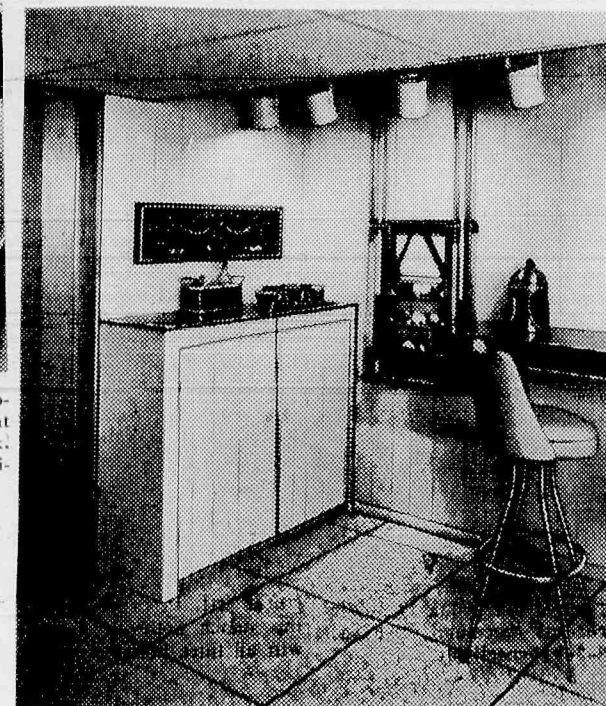

Whether a room addition, a basement improvement, a patio or a garage-to-family room conversion, a home project initiated by the whole family and carried out by the members is a positive step forward. The experience of tackling a family venture on a businesslike basis can have lasting advantages for all.

DECORATED DECK IN VEST-POCKET SIZE attractively provides for outdoor living ease, even in small space. For instant gardening, plants in natural clay containers adorn the wood deck. Cushioning and pillows are of latex foam rubber. Molded furniture and Filon panels are of Fiberglas.

FAMILY THAT PLANS TOGETHER CAN HAVE THE MOST SATISFACTORY HOME IMPROVEMENT project, for it is most likely to fulfill the wants of all members. Whether an indoor modernization, room addition or exterior patio is the aim, the family conference is an important factor in its success. Additional benefits come as a spirit of cooperation and better understanding is developed. For the family-planned project, modern building materials such as hardboard paneling help to speed redecorating and remodeling. Suggested by Masonite Corporation, maker of Royalcote predecorated hardboard panels.

ABOUT HARDBOARDS

Modern hardboards are durable, easy to maintain by occasional damp-wiping. They may be installed quickly with a time and work saving cartridge-type adhesive.

PLANTING LILIES

Lilies usually thrive in soil with some acidity, and in locations that combine ample sunshine with protection from wind.

Portable TV receivers generally don't take much space. They'll snuggle into many a storage compartment on a boat or in a camper. When you're packing, be sure the TV screen is protected.

To Improve With Built-Ins

For remodeling the kitchen with built-in range products — such as electric ovens and surface units — kitchen experts offer these tips.

Don't install the oven too high. Ideal installation height should be about 36 inches from the floor, with the oven door at countertop level when open.

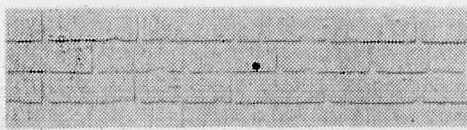

Don't put built-in ovens and surface cooking units directly side-by-side. At least nine inches of countertop should separate the appliances to allow plenty of space for pots and pans.

Families Find New Outdoors Pleasure in River Cruises

Cruising down the river, on a Sunday afternoon . . . It's a great old song — and a great new way to enjoy family boating. More and more families across the nation are discovering pleasure boat cruising as a fun-filled, informative open door to the great outdoors.

A small-boat cruise is limited only by time and navigable waters. It's a good idea to plan ahead, though.

Whether it's a day-long run around the lake, or a year-long nautical odyssey, a little advance planning will go a long way toward insuring a relaxing, trouble-free trip.

First, of course, make sure your equipment—boat, engine and accessories—are ship-shape, recommends Johnson Motors, the outboard motor company. There's nothing as frustrating as having a longed-for vacation ruined by a balky spark plug or a nicked propeller.

Plan Itinerary

Plan a realistic, leisurely itinerary, too. Remember, the object of a cruise is to have fun, not set a speed record. Allow plenty of "slack" time to enjoy the sights that are sure to lie alongside any cruise route.

Keep plenty of fuel aboard. A full reserve tank is excellent insurance against running out of gas far from a pump.

If on-shore overnights are planned, it's a good idea to make advance motel reservations along the way, just like an automobile trip. Particularly during the popular vacation seasons, motel-marinas with vacancies are often hard to find around stopping time.

Beat Motel Rush

Many boaters beat the motel rush, however, by camping alongside the water. Today's camping equipment manufacturers have made boat camping simpler than ever. "Pop" tents, safe and lightweight cooking equipment, air-tight plastic containers, all enable the pleasure boatman to set up a safe, secure camp in a matter of minutes. And the compact equipment takes up little storage room in the boat.

Don't overload the boat with cartons of food and non-essential items. It's much easier to replenish supplies at pre-selected stops along the way.

If kids are along, stow a few games aboard. Children sometimes get restless on prolonged cruises, and a few simple games permit them to while away the miles between stops.

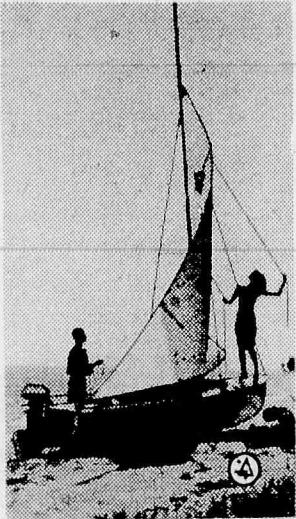

For safety's sake, the Johnson Motors experts suggest, let someone know your itinerary before you weigh anchor. Cruising down an out-of-the-way stream, it's a good feeling to know someone knows where you are.

Chart Your Cruise

Finally, chart your cruise. Automobile road maps usually won't do the trick; they're great for highways, but they just don't show everything the cruising boater needs to know for safety's sake.

Marine-oriented maps—available from a variety of sources—relate water depths, marinas, obstructions, points of interest, necessary facts not contained on the usual road maps.

Boat cruising is fun. All it takes is boating sense and a little advance planning.

Nearly 600,000 sailboats set sail last year . . . and nearly that many were becalmed at one time or another. Many sailors are turning to outboard motors for that extra push when the wind dies down, and today's auxiliary kickers offer lightweight, dependable power when ever needed.

Boating photography is a ball, particularly when the lens is focused on such a pretty subject. Whether taking movies or snapshots, every picture will be perfect if the cameraman remembers that picture-taking around water requires different techniques than on land.

Now They Want Central Vacuum Cleaning System

Recent lists of most-wanted home improvements are showing something new. Now, homemakers yearn for a central vacuum cleaning system.

For such a system, the motor and canister holding a multi-gallon disposable dust bag are installed in a convenient location outside the living room — usually basement, garage or attic. Pipe leads to room outlets that look like electric outlets.

To vacuum, the homemaker inserts a hose that flicks a switch.

Among the advantages claimed for built-in vacuum cleaning systems are:

1. Since motor and dust bag are never brought into living area, there's no recirculation of dust.
2. The motor is a heavy-duty one and therefore does a better job of removing dirt.
3. There's no tank to drag around.
4. There's an almost total absence of noise.

Pinpointing Wilderness Location

1 - Orient your chart . . .

2 - Using the compass . . .

3 - Repeat for two or . . .

Sophisticated outdoorsmen have learned the modern way to pinpoint their positions, no matter how deep they may be in wilderness; no matter how bad the weather, be it heavy overcast blanking out the sun, or dense fog.

All it takes is a radio set you can use as an RDF (Radio Direction Finder), say Zenith specialists. Here's how, in three easy steps as pictured above:

- (1) Orient your chart, tune in a broadcast station, rotate the ferrite antenna bar on top of the RDF until the station fades almost entirely or until you have a "null." Pinpoint the station broadcast antenna on your chart.
- (2) Using the compass rose on your chart, draw a line on the chart from the broadcast station antenna site on the bearing you have read from your RDF.
- (3) Repeat the above procedure for two or three stations. This "triangulating" process will give you your position.

Windows Have New Ways To Dress Up Bedrooms

Do-it-yourselfers can give a bright new outlook to a weary bedroom by adding an applied floral motif to the present window treatment of cornice or valance, window shade and curtains or draperies.

This is a successful and economical way to avoid major redecorating, according to those homeowners who have tried it.

First, choose a vividly printed roll of wallpaper or a length of fabric that's splashed with a bold repeat. The bigger and brighter the pattern, the more exciting the effect will be in dramatizing the decor.

Study the pattern and decide how to use it most effectively on cornice or valance, window shade and/or curtains or draperies.

Large triangular shapes work out nicely for bouquets. Other sections of the pattern will lend themselves to a border treatment along the length of the valance. Still other fanciful shapes will suggest themselves, depending on the pattern.

Now cut out these shapes with a well-sharpened scissors. Next, decide where appliques will be placed for best effect.

To assure accurate placement, trace lightly with pencil the exact position in which applique is to be affixed. Adhere appliques firmly in place with a strong, translucent spray adhesive.

BUDGET BEAUTY treatment for a bedroom is achieved by brightening the cornice, window shade and curtains with bold appliques. They're held in place with 3M's Scotch Spray-Ment adhesive.

What to Do When Your Transistor Set Gets Dunked

If you drop your transistor radio in the lake, or leave it out in the rain overnight, what do you do?

DO NOT turn the set on, advises Brian Marohnic, Zenith's national service manager, because water will act as a conductor and may possibly short out several circuits.

Remove the batteries and quickly sponge out as much of the water as possible. If the radio is dropped in salt water, first rinse or sponge it out immediately with fresh water. This must be done quickly or some of the parts may oxidize.

It is then preferable to fan the radio to dry it, but if this is not possible, put the receiver in a warm place. If you do place the radio near a fire or heater, be sure it is not so close that intense heat will damage the set. Intense heat can damage the speaker by warping it.

When the batteries have not been removed, the heat may cause them to leak or burst, damaging the set.

WHEN TO PICK

Pick flowers during the early morning or early evening. They fade faster when picked under hot sun.

Just Because You're Going Afield You Needn't Miss Favorite Program

Portable television can be an important part of a camping, hunting or boating trip.

Just because you're going hundreds of miles from home, doesn't necessarily mean you'll be leaving electricity or television signals behind!

Most of the larger campgrounds provide electric outlets, lets near all campsites and marinas usually have well-protected outlets for every slip.

These outlets are easily reached by heavy-duty extension cords that most knowledgeable outdoorsmen include as part of their standard gear.

Portable TV sets have never been so truly portable, either. Zenith, for instance, builds a 12-inch diagonal screen portable—with 82 channels (VHF/UHF), handcrafted chassis, front-mounted speaker, perma-set VHF fine tuning—weighing only 25 pounds.

Basement Takes On New Look

From basement "black eye" to handsome, functional recreation area—that's the history of many eye-catching home improvements, particularly for families with a flare for the dramatic.

Even the worst eyesore can often be converted into a striking room.

Several stages are involved in a basement modernization: Planning, financing, selection of materials, installation and finally, furnishing. Every step complements the other, and none should be ignored if the change is to be dramatic and the new room a joy to have.

A dry basement is a prerequisite. Waterproofing compounds are available. Panned walls should be backed by a vapor barrier, as well, and a dehumidifier may be needed to keep the room fairly dry.

"What to do first" is the question that must be answered by the family head, who should lead the family planning sessions to determine for what purposes the space will be used, and then steer the project through its successive stages.

Allocating space and making a rough sketch are ways of crystallizing ideas. Available finances will determine, perhaps, whether this is to be a do-it-yourself project or a professional undertaking.

If the family members are to participate, jobs should be allocated and the work directed. Otherwise, a contractor should be hired on the basis of bids made on the family's specifications, including materials, layout, basis of payments, completion date and guarantee.

BUILT-IN COOKING EQUIPMENT MAKES the difference in this kitchen, giving the room a bright uncluttered appearance. The double wall oven is complemented by a surface cooking unit that includes a built-in barbecue well. Suggested by Hotpoint.

Closet Makes Room For Home Laundry

Let's face it. Many a home just doesn't have space for a fully equipped, dream laundry. Of course, a laundry doesn't have to be big to be efficient, but time was when even the most compact laundry center required four to five feet of wall space.

Well, rules change, and such is the case with a compact laundry. Four to five feet of space is still needed, for a pair of full-size laundry appliances, but a well-organized, completely automatic laundry area is possible with less.

Three steps led to this super-compact laundry. It was planned by the Maytag Home Laundry center.

1. Removal of a closet yielded 42 inches of wall space.
2. A sink peninsula arrangement provided the convenience of a laundry close to the kitchen, yet separate from it.

3. A portable clothes dryer was wall-hung (over-lap fashion) over the peninsula and washer, with adequate clearance for the washer lid.

IN JUST 42 inches of wall space, there's room for a complete, automatic laundry, because this portable dryer can be wall-hung. Porta-Dryer by Maytag.

Mom Checks Kitchen "Quotient"

Pointers Guide Her in Improving Ease, Efficiency of Headquarters

For the modern Mom the kitchen is still headquarters for preparing meals to satisfy her family's appetite. That's why kitchen convenience is so important to her.

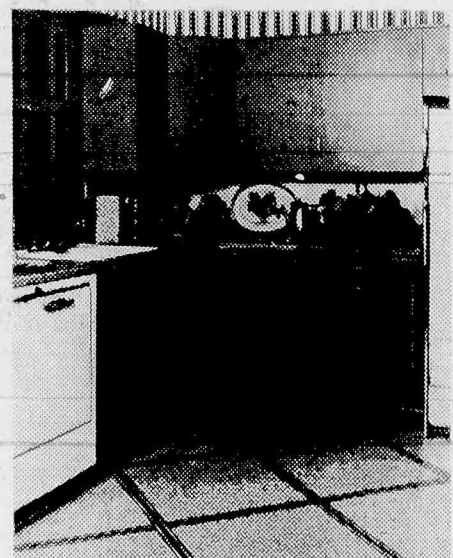

The typical homemaker decides she needs a new kitchen when her home is over 10 years old, according to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. And with at least 40 million homes over this 10-year mark, about $3 billion will probably be spent on kitchen remodeling this year.

Here are 12 pointers to help the homemaker with remodeling in her blueprints to determine what the "comfort quotient" for a work-saving kitchen should be:

1. Work Centers. The kitchen's three work centers are built around the sink, refrigerator and range. There should be plenty of counter space around each, and the three should form a triangle to save steps.
2. Counters. Make sure these are the right height for the homemaker who will be using them — not for the so-called "average woman" of 5'4".
3. Cabinets. Kitchen cabinets should extend to the ceiling. True, top shelves are hard to reach, but they're a good place to store seldom-used items. Cabinet doors should open and close smoothly.
4. Sinks. Those sinks with double or triple bowls are more useful than the single bowl type.
5. Electric dishwasher. Hours of drudgery can be saved by installing an electric dishwasher. New models have settings that enable the homemaker to wash everything from delicate stemware to heavy pots.
6. Garbage disposal. An electric food disposer saves countless steps to the garbage pail and keeps kitchens more sanitary.
7. Instant Hot Water. Installation of a device that dispenses teakettle-hot water makes for easy preparation of instant drinks.
8. Faucets. Built-in aerators, spray hoses and built-in stoppers are features of new faucets that make using the sink easier.
9. Lighting and Ventilation. Make sure the kitchen is cool enough in summer and warm enough in winter, with proper ventilation to eliminate cooking smells.
10. Small Appliances. Include a mixer, a blender and other small appliances that make food preparation easier.
11. Walls and Floors. Choose colors that trigger a cheerful mood but ones that won't grow tiring, for wall and floor coverings.
12. Installation. Have the new kitchen installed by a plumbing contractor who offers the complete remodeling project. He'll coordinate all needs — plumbing, tile setting, cabinet-making, electrical work.

New Bathrooms, Most Wanted, Get New Ideas

As homes get older and families grow larger, the bathroom continues to lead the lists of most-wanted home improvements.

For homeowners planning to remodel or add a bathroom this year, there are some points to keep in mind.

The trend is to larger bathrooms. A 5x7 size was standard a few years ago. Today it's more likely to be 7x8 or 7x10 feet.

Another trend is to more color. Popular are yellow, pink and blue, but bolder colors such as red and orange are gaining in favor.

New products make the idea of bathroom remodeling even more appealing. Among them are off-the-floor water closets, for good appearance and easier cleaning, and vanity lavatories, with countertops, shelves or drawers.

Tubs come extra-long, extra-low or extra deep to suit preferences.

Both faucets and showerheads offer a wide range of controls to preset temperatures and regulate water flow.

Even medicine cabinets make news, with two compartments, swing or sliding doors and integral lighting.

Gas Appliances Move Out, Adding Ease to Patios

Homemakers can beautify their outdoor living area while adding considerable comfort by utilizing modern gas appliances and equipment.

How nice to be able to spend longer hours lolling comfortably on the patio or swimming pool deck. This becomes possible with the addition of a heater that converts gas to warming infra-rays and wards off evening's chill.

Such heaters are available in permanent installations and self-contained portables. Certain models can heat a circular area 15 feet in diameter.

Next, consider the advantages of a modern gas grill for outdoor cooking. Whether preparing hamburgers for two or steaks for a banquet, a gas grill functions cleanly and conveniently.

The grill may be permanently piped and installed or it may be a portable, which uses bottled gas. Either kind is as ready for use as the indoor range — almost as versatile, too.

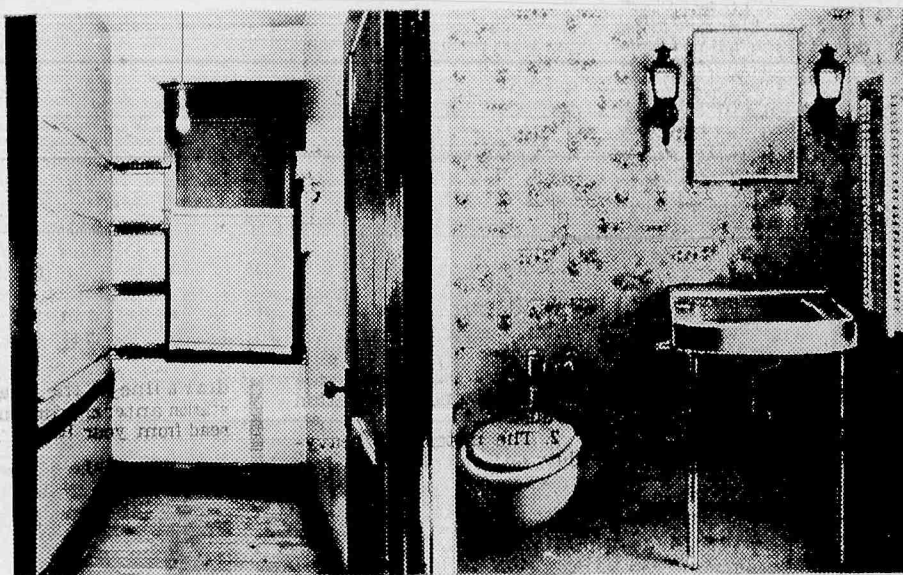

Perhaps one of the most practical outdoor items fueled by gas is the lamp. Decorative gas lamps are available in a choice of styles to complement any home, traditional or contemporary.

The lamps can be used along walks and driveways, as well as in patios and yards, providing illumination to discourage prowlers.

Booklets Inform, Advise, Spark Ideas For Variety of Remodeling Projects

Homeowners planning to embark on home improvement projects can find advice, information and practical suggestions in the booklets offered by many firms.

Hints to enhance home appearance and improve property value are offered for remodeling and redecorating activities—and in some cases even building plans may be obtained. The following is a listing of some of these booklets, available free or at a nominal fee.

"DESIGNS FOR GRACIOUS LIVING with Ceramic Tile," a 16-page color booklet published by the Tile Council of America, includes suggestions for both decorative and practical uses of ceramic tile. Single copies are available free from the Tile Council of America, 800 Second Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

"THE BOTTOM-UP WINDOW SHADE — a new Decorative Look," published by the Window Shade Manufacturers Association, describes the many ways in which shades installed to pull down instead of up can be used effectively. Copies are available free on request from Window Shade Manufacturers Association, 230 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

"COMMON SENSE ABOUT WALL-TO-WALL COMFORT," is now available free as a primer on the benefits of whole-house air conditioning written from the housewife's point of view.

For a copy of Booklet 437-805A, write Airtemp Division, Chrysler Corporation, Station 52, 1600 Webster Street, Dayton, Ohio 45401.

"THE IMPORTANCE OF HUMIDITY during the heating season," is discussed in a booklet free from Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill. 60601.

THAT FINAL CHECK Before you venture into the outdoors, do what the experts do: check the weather broadcast providing the fullest information for your activity and then keep tuned for the latest information.

GETTING COLORFUL. Housewares brighten up in lively yellow hues, are spiced with hot reds and emerald greens. Avocado and copper tones continue strong.

CUTTING FLOWERS To spur blooming of annuals and perennials, cut terminal clusters of flowers, giving smaller side clusters space to expand.

SELF-ADHESIVE VINYL, translucent and tinted, may be applied on windows, doors or shutters to filter direct sunlight and insure privacy without blocking light. It's MACtac Quik-Frost.

Caring For Pot Plants

When potted plants move to the outdoor garden, they need simple care. Check these points.

Keep plants in their sun-preference areas. Those plants which thrive in shade should not be exposed to direct sun. Place them where they will get protection.

Use porous clay pots as the basic container for all plants. The pots provide natural insulation for plant roots during hot weather, and allow any excess moisture collected in rootballs to drain out automatically.

Outdoor container plants need watering, too. Check plants often, and if topsoil in the pot looks or feels dry, water the plants.

Living Outdoors

Yesterday, it was the porch. Today, the favored outdoor living areas for most homes are the deck and patio.

"Patio" is an elastic term, applied to almost any recreation-relaxing area in the out-of-door and with prescribed boundaries. It may be open or roofed.

A deck is really just another elaboration of the patio — a patio with a wooden floor. It answers site problems, for sloping or uneven land can be turned into a flat-surfaced patio with the construction of a wooden deck.

BPW News

Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, at their monthly dinner meeting March 27, unanimously voted to sponsor the candidacy of its former President and present Finance Chairman, Miss Helen Hunt, for Chairman of the State Federation Nominating Committee.

Admittance of a new member, Mrs. George Keckesen, sponsored by Mrs. John Westcott, brought the membership of the club to 85. With this total, Tri-Town is entitled to three delegates, in addition to the president, Mrs. Hazel White, to the State Convention at the Hotel St. Dennis, Atlantic City, May 16 to 18.

The delegates chosen were Mrs. Marion Johnson, Miss Helen Hunt and Miss Ruth Williamson. Alternate delegates are Miss Mildred Spatz, Miss Eleanor Storer, Miss Marion E. Johnson, Miss Frances Williamson, Mrs. John Westcott and Miss Gwen Struble.

Miss Elsie Ciccone, Scholarship Committee Chairman, announced receipt of 59 applications for the three $300. scholarships, awarded annually to three current graduates from local high schools.

A nominating committee for candidates to Tri-Town offices was chosen. Miss Frances Williamson, Chairman, Miss Elizabeth Huck, Mrs. Abner Rutan, Mrs. Harold Whittle and Miss Ann Boehmer will present nominees at the May dinner meeting.

Miss Frances Williamson, Civic Participation Chairman, opened the first session of the Baby Sitting Course jointly sponsored with Clara Maass Memorial Hospital on March 29. Dr. William Post, Pediatrician, conducted the meeting with a question and answer period at the end.

The Legislation Committee of Tri-Town met at the home of the chairman, Miss Margaret Mostica of Nutley, on April 7th. A review was made of the rules of the state and local authorities for safe riding of bicycles and their enforcement. Literature obtained from the National Safety Council and other agencies was displayed.

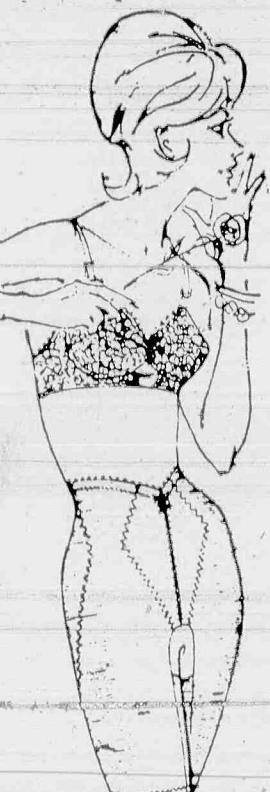

The Committee decided to continue the study and also to contact local officials. The Club is interested in safe bicycle riding in order to protect the children who ride, pedestrians and other vehicle operators and also with the thought that an informed child who obeys the rules is the forerunner of a careful automobile driver.

Those present in addition to Miss Mostica were Mrs. John Westcott, Misses Frances and Ruth Williamson, Mrs. Francis La Placa, all of Belleville; Miss Helene Matt, Miss Eleanor Storer, both of Nutley; Miss Elizabeth Vigeant, Miss Mildred Spatz, both of Bloomfield, and Miss Helen Terry of Glen Ridge.

Weight Watcher

Here's Eleanor Fulmer-Eighteen Months Later

Some 18 months ago, this paper did a feature on Mrs. Eleanor Fulmer of Belleville who at that time had lost 102 pounds in the Weight Watchers class which meets in Temple B'nai Israel, Nutley. The following article is featured in the April edition of News & Views for Members of Weight Watchers in New Jersey and reports on the Mrs. Fulmer of today.

Many, many people in Weight Watchers have less than 30 pounds to lose.

But here is Mrs. Harry R. (Eleanor) Fulmer, 41, of 7 Memphis Avenue, Belleville.

Eighteen months ago she lost 102 pounds in Lecturer Louise Yeskel's Thursday morning class in Nutley.

And here it is 18 months later and Eleanor Fulmer has kept those 102 pounds from returning.

Eleanor Fulmer fits the classic picture of a person who had been on repeated diets and diet-pill programs, losing weight each time only to regain it.

This time she has kept it off for 18 months...all 102 pounds.

How does she do it?

Eleanor Fulmer has learned to control her weight as a thin person. She now worries like a school girl about how she fits into tight jeans. She pushes the panic button if she regains a pound. That's how skinny people do it.

"An extra sandwich, a few ounces, particularly in the stomach, and back on the basic program I go," she says. "I'm scared of overeating," she states candidly.

And this is normal and proper for one who has repeatedly lost and regained weight...until now.

One doesn't know how scared she was of overeating when she reached her weight loss goal 18 months ago. She was seven pounds under her goal. It took her three months to stabilize her weight at its present level. She really thought "skinny."

To this day, Eleanor Fulmer's food program is basically what it was while in weight reduction classes. She adds to it bread, potatoes, an occasional piece of cake-and on the weekends...a platter of spaghetti.

She anticipates the weddings and social occasions in which food may be abundant. She watches herself on these occasions but takes special precautions before and after. On the day before and on the day after, she returns to the basic program. Symbolically these are her fish days.

In other words, Eleanor Fulmer is still fighting weight. But she is not fighting it in terms of the 10- and 20 pounds normal to an overweight person. She is fighting it in terms of one and two pound gains normal to a skinny person!

Her success as a skinny fighter of weight may be seen in the fact that only once in the past 18 months has she shown a gain of more than two pounds-and that was 2 1/4 pounds to be exact.

She doesn't go by the scales. Scales are for "fat" people. She goes by how her clothing fits. The least bit of tightness and back to the basic program she goes.

Eleanor Fulmer has one of the world's best memories. Although she thinks thin, she remembers when she was fat...and helplessly had to watch 10 and 20 pound gains rather than being able to successfully fight one and two pound gains.

"I'm not going to be fat again," she asserts.

Her determination not to be fat again was first evidenced when she attained her 102 pound weight loss goal and was "discharged" from the obligation of attending weekly classes.

She kept attending classes weekly for three months, working out her weight adjustment problems with Louise Yeskel.

Moreover, she says proudly, "I haven't missed returning once during the past eighteen months for my free lifetime membership meeting."

So, here is Eleanor Fulmer who reports zealously to her free lifetime membership meeting every month and who for two summers straight now has proudly gone swimming in the daytime (she used to sneak into a pool in the dark).

What does she do in her spare time?

She looks for opportunities to talk about the Weight Watchers program.

And that's how Eleanor Fulmer at 41 has lost 102 pounds, kept it off and will continue to keep it off.

A bit of philosophy and some insights into herself also help keep her thin. She adds:

"Overweight people can't lose weight alone...nor can they keep it off alone.

I know that I can't. We need help and Weight Watchers is, as they say, people helping people.

I'm in Weight Watchers for the rest of my life."

As an extra added attraction, Vienna Cagle, Anthony Carr, Terrilyn Sinclair, Kenny Ferris, Leann Yates and Jerome Webster did a modern dance. ## Pharmacy Footnotes

Vincent Cozzarelli, Reg. Ph.

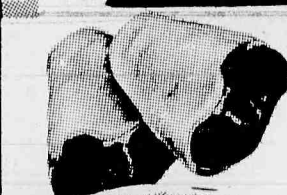

There are some 35 million women in the U.S. who devote their full time to homemaking. Even though work is becoming "easier", a woman's hands are still vulnerable to "housewives' hands," a red, itchy rash. Since most women cannot give up their household tasks until hands heal, they must seek measures to heal and prevent eruptions like these. Cotton gloves (dermal gloves) under rubber gloves will protect the hands and allow them to sweat. Hands should only be gloved for 15 or 20 minutes at a time. But whatever you do, do not neglect taking care of them.

‘The Odd Couple’ Starts At The Franklin School

Frank McCormick Has Play’s Leading Portrait

Frank McCormick of 32 Bremond Street and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ciccone of 20 Cedar Hill Avenue are very active people these days. All three are using their talents well in the Nutley Little Theatre's production of "The Odd Couple." The show premieres May 8 at the Franklin School (opposite the Park Oval) in Nutley and will give performances through Saturday, May 8, 9, & 10.

Portraying the role of Oscar Madison, the sloppy, easy-going sportswriter of the famous pair, McCormick will add one more lead to his already long list of successful performances for Nutley Little Theatre.

McCormick is remembered recently for his roles as Brock, the stubborn, hard-hitting lead of "Born Yesterday"; as the jovial Tin Man of "The Wizard of Oz"; and as the perplexed telephone repairman of "Barefoot in the Park." He has also contributed considerable time to workshops as well as behind the scenes in other productions.

Paul and Bobbi Ciccone are also contributing invaluable talents to "The Odd Couple." Ciccone is involved in set construction and his wife is handling props. An accomplished playwright Mr. Ciccone has also written, directed and acted in his own play, "The Young Soul", which was recently presented to an approving Nutley audience.

Robbed Auto Brings Arrest For Operator

Bobbi Ciccone is the miracle worker of Nutley Little Theatre. She recently had the awesome job of costuming the entire cast of the children's play, "Hansel and Gretel" and is now tackling the task of rounding up dozens and dozens of miscellaneous props involved in the show.

Performances begin at 8:30 p.m. and tickets may be reserved by calling 661-3085, 661-0864 or 661-2583.

Heroin Possession Brings Town Arrest

Possession of heroin charges have been filed against two young men who were picked up by the police on April 7 at Belleville and Franklin Avenues.

Louis DeMeo, 25, of 21 Carpenter Terrace and Richard Matysek, 22, of 31 Morton Street, Bloomfield were both charged by the local authorities.

Veteran Trainer Speaks Before Civic Association

A former commanding officer of the Army K-9 Corps and the owner of a dog-rental service was the guest speaker at the general membership meeting of the J. G. Biancardi Civic Association on April 15.

Speaking before the organization was Captain Arthur J. Haggerty who rents guards dogs for as high as $1,000 a month.

Haggerty informed the group, that as a trainer, he offers dogs that will patrol a fenced area and actively seek out intruders, dogs that are trained to patrol with a handler, or relatively benign dogs for use in hotels and other areas where they will be in constant contact with people.

The fear of a snarling dog, a seemingly universal phobia, has proved to be an effective vehicle for crime prevention and Haggerty is among the most successful practitioners in the growing rent-a-dog business.

Operating out of a small

storefront office off Jerome Avenue in the mid-Bronx, he has built a lively trade in guard dogs in an era of light-sensitized, computerized, electrified security systems.

Haggerty has more than 200 dogs rented in the New York area, most of them going for $85 a month, and has sold hundreds of others since opening shop some eight years ago.

He rented only one dog in his first year of operation, depending on standard dog obedience training for his livelihood. Now, about a third of his rentals and he employs a staff of 30. He says he gets about 20 serious inquiries each week about guard dogs, compared with five or six a week about five years ago.

The training of the dogs is a serio-comic drama in which the dog always comes out on top. Haggerty, at six feet, two inches and 225 pounds, might easily pass for the villain in a low-grade adventure movie. He shaves his head to keep up the image, but behind his desk he keeps a poster picture of a poodle, and he says he would rather rent dogs, than sell them outright because he becomes "pretty attached" to them.

Paul Graham On Dean's List At Rochester

Paul Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Graham of 801 Parker Street, Newark, was named to the dean's list for the fall semester at the University of Rochester, New York.

Graham, a sophomore, is a member of Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity, whose roster includes many distinguished personages, such as Rob Kriender, owner of the "21" Club.

Kwasnik Accepted By Honor Society

Ed Kwasnik of 28 Greylock Parkway, Belleville, was among 27 students at St. Joseph's College to be elected to Alpha Epsilon Delta, the international pre-medical honor society.

The 29,000 member organization seeks to promote excellence and stimulate scholarship in the study of the healing arts among pre-professionals.

CHARTER RENEWAL — Wallace And Tiernan of Belleville recently renewed the charter of the Watco Junior Achievement Company. Present at the ceremony were Mike LeMunyon, Maris Gonzales, Brenda Newby, treasurer Roger Tucker, president, Lyndon Keller, director of international operations at the Belleville plant, Deborah Smisko, Aurora Oliviera and Tony Cubelli.

National Archery Prize Won By Steve Bressan

Steve Bressan has brought to Belleville its first national archery title by taking first place at the Jr. Olympic National Champion in the intermediate division on March 29 and 30 at the American Indoor Archery Championships held in Detroit, Mich.

Bressan, who is a member of Belleville's Butts and Bows Jr. Olympic Club, competed with archers from all over the country in what is recognized as archery's toughest test.

Butts and Bows also sponsored a Mens Pro Team, which finished 11th, but shot extremely well and were in the thick of it for more than half way through. Team archers were, Dick Volney of Westwood, Walt McVeigh of Newfoundland, Doug Byrnes of Paterson, and Bob Akins of New Brunswick.

Dick Volney in the singles event had a 585 total, with the 30 place money split set at 586, he was just a point away, but performed top notch archery through the most trying of pressurized conditions.

Suffern, New York's, Mrs. Ann Butz, previous years winner, repeated her performance and won the Womens Open (worth $850.00) for the second year in a row. Mrs. Butz shoots in Tuesday Nights, "North Jersey Major League" at Butts and Bows and is a member of the Bell Park Esso first place team.

Unico Chapter To Award Scholarship To Local High School Girl

Miss Rosemary Iacullo

Nick Amato Is Named By Officers

Nicholas R. Amato, town attorney, has been selected attorney and legal advisor for the N.J. PBA local 153 of the Essex County Correction Officers Union.

Amato was elected to the position at a meeting of the local held on April 7.

In a letter to Amato, Donald F. Schmidt, president of the local, stated that "your reputation as an attorney of high integrity is well appreciated by this local and we are looking forward to a long association."

Nicholas Amato

DeBerto Named To A New Post

Director June Strelecki recently announced the promotion of Nicholas De Berto of Belleville, to the rank of Sergeant in the Enforcement Bureau of the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles.

Sergeant De Berto has been with the Division for 11 years and is assigned the responsibility of supervising the Lodi Driver Qualification Center.

Nicholas DeBerto

Belleville Druggist Attended Seminar

John R. Basile of 84 Charles Street, Belleville, was among more than 100 members of the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association from Northern N.J. who attended a seminar on drug abuse April 13 at the Teaneck campus field house of Fairleigh Dickinson University.

The session concluded the series sponsored by Columbia University's College of Pharmaceutical Sciences under contract with the U.S. Department of Justice to prepare leading pharmacists for speaking roles in the campaign against drug misuse, known as Project RFD (respect for drugs).

Probation Violation Draws Jail Term

Robert Doyer, of 52 Irving Street, Newark, was found guilty of a probation violation in the Belleville Municipal Court on April 17. Judge Edward Abramson sentenced him to 4 months in the Essex County Penitentiary.

The Belleville Chapter of Unico National will hold its annual dinner dance May 9 at the Fountain, with the feature event being the presentation of a scholarship to a Belleville High School senior, according to chapter president Joseph Biancardi.

The lucky student is Rosemary Ann Iacullo of 114 Brighton Avenue, an honor roll student who is active in school affairs.

The award presentation is the work of the Unico Scholarship Committee, consisting of Nicholas R. Amato, town attorney, and Mario DiMaggio, vice principal of the Junior High School.

In addition to being a member of the National Honor Society, Miss Iacullo was secretary of the school's Future Teachers Of America Club, and assistant editor of the yearbook.

Miss Iacullo's extracurricular credentials impressed the committee very much, as she was a member of the prom committee, and the Red Cross Student Council and was active in the Spanish Club, the St. Anthony's CYO, and intramural athletics. She has also worked for the March of Dimes.

During her high school career, Miss Iacullo worked 17 hours per week at a part-time job. She intends on pursuing a career in languages.

"I am studying my third of Italian and fourth year of Spanish," she reports. "I intend on becoming a Spanish teacher."
