

Portrait Of A Commissioner

FINANCE COMMISSIONER — Commissioner Joseph McGreevy is shown here in the office he has occupied for two years now since the installation of the commission form of government. The Commissioner has worked consistently for stable economy in government.

Times Spotlights Joseph McGreevy

This article is the second in a series of six which will spotlight the top officials who run the Town of Belleville. Next week Commissioner William Cullen will be the subject of Times' reporter Nathan Gottlieb's analysis.

"He's a man of integrity, a straight forward sort of guy. He'll come out and say what he feels. Sometimes in politics you can't do it the way he does. But he does it anyway."

These words come from Nicholas R. Amato, town attorney. The man he was describing is Joseph McGreevy, commissioner of the Department of Finance. Few men have the gift of consistency. Commissioner McGreevy is one of the men who does. He wastes few words, quick to document his statements with good hard fact. Those that know him say he will always act honestly and fairly.

The Commissioner was an hour late for our interview, coming in with a trench coat and hat, dripping from the heavy rain that continued for most of the gray day.

With a deadline to meet, I was a little annoyed at having waited so long. The Commissioner took off his rain outfit and in his own way said "Got held up with business and the rain. Sorry."

It was sincere, and I quickly felt at ease. He rummaged through the documents that cluttered his desk and then said, "Okay, go ahead."

I began by trying to delve into his motivations for entering the political arena in 1967, a full 17 years since the last time he ran for public office. I was expecting to discover some sort of personal political philosophy in his answer.

"I wanted to stabilize

School Board Changes Insurance Policy Plan

The Board of Education has made a major change in its employee hospitalization program, with employee's dependents now being eligible for Board paid coverage in the 1969-70 school year.

The policy change was unanimously adopted at a special meeting of the Board Monday night.

Previously, eligible employees had to pay for coverage for their dependents.

Under the new plan, the first payment will be made during the month of July for coverage beginning August 1, 1969.

"Eligible employees" was defined by the Board to mean "a contractual or non-contractual employee who has been appointed by action of the Board to serve for a period of six months or more, and whose prescribed number of hours per week is not less than 25 hours."

Presently, hospitalization insurance is insured through the Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey, while medical-surgical and Rider J. are insured through the Medical-Surgical Plan of New Jersey.

Major medical insurance, $20,000 maximum benefit policy with a three-year revolving maximum, will be insured through Life Insurance Company of America.

In other action, the Board amended its rules and regulations concerning cafeteria management to include the policy for determining eligibility for free and reduced price meals.

On recommendation of the business administrator, the Board reappointed the

Commissioners Reject Proposed Parking Lot

Proponents Quit After 1-2 Vote

Backers of a proposed commercial parking lot on North Seventh Street have given up their quest after the Town Commission voted Monday night against the construction, despite a recommendation for approval by the Board of Adjustment.

Mayor Kenneth Smith cast the deciding vote after the Commission had opened the matter to a public hearing. The vote was 1-2-1.

After registering his nay vote, the Mayor stated to the nearly full courtroom why he had voted against the measure.

"My reasons for voting against the parking lot are that the entrance to the lot is not wide enough, the storm sewers in the area will not carry the water, and the area is too congested at the present time."

In a statement made to reporters after the meeting, the Mayor said that he felt the repaving for the lot would cause too much water to run off, too much for the current sewer system to handle. He also cited the 14 foot entrance to the parking facility as being "too narrow."

Joining the Mayor in voting down the measure was Commissioner Mary Senatore, who also felt the area was too congested.

"I've just visited the area," Commissioner Senatore said, "and it is much too narrow a street."

Commissioner William Cullen voted for approval while Commissioners Vincent Strumolo and Joseph McGreevy abstained.

It is believed that Commissioner Strumolo abstained because the applicant was his cousin.

The lot in question is located on the borderline of Newark and Belleville, next to the Newark subway. The area is classified as multi-dwelling.

The applicant for the variance, Michael Prezioso of

Officials Get Jobs For Kids

Some 60 Belleville High School youths may be earning cash this summer for school clothes and other expenses, thanks to Mayor Kenneth Smith and Commissioner Mary Senatore.

The two town officials have begun a summer employment program for local youths, seeking to place them in part-time positions with private industry or the Departments of Public Safety and Public Works.

The project, coordinated in the High School by the guidance department, has already found employment for 30 of the 60 applicants seeking jobs.

In order to involve private industry in the program, Mayor Smith and Commissioner Senatore sent letters to every manufacturer in Belleville, inviting them to a meeting at Town Hall on May 7. Fourteen attended, while others sent personal letters indicating whether they would or would not be interested in the program.

According to the Mayor, many manufacturing concerns already have a policy of hiring youths for summer help.

The project is of prime concern to the Mayor. "I feel that if we put these kids to MAKING HIS POINT — Attorney Leslie W. Finch, representing the applicant for a parking lot on North Seventh Street, emphasizes a point before the Commission Monday night.

Cops, Firemen Get Promotions

Two ordinances creating promotions in the Fire and Police Departments were passed by a 5-0 vote at the Commission meeting Monday night.

The ordinances filled two vacancies in the Police Department, and created a new captain in the Fire Department.

The promotions in the Police Department came to two officers who have been acting in a sergeants and lieutenants capacity for over three months now. The move by the commission to grant the promotion came after Civil Service warned the Mayor that these men must be promoted or discontinue assuming their present duties.

Acting as sergeant for the last three months has been Thomas Dunleavy. Michael Hanley has been acting as a lieutenant.

The promotions would give the department five sergeants and five lieutenants. Police Chief Donald Smith stated that the promotions are needed "In order to give the people of Belleville better protection."

Hanley will be in charge of patrolmen on his shift. Dunleavy will also work with the patrol squad. Moving up to fill Dunleavy's position will be Detective Ermin Olivieri, who will be in charge of the narcotics bureau. Dunleavy's promotion will leave the force with one less patrolman.

The additional captain in the Fire Department was requested by Chief Carl Hunterpfund.

In a statement to the Times, Chief Hunterpfund said "I asked the Mayor for another captain so that I could establish a fire prevention bureau. It has to be an officer because he has to have the authority to make inspections, not only for fire prevention week, but during the entire year."

The Chief went on to say that "Now we do it haphazardly, with each shift doing the best they can while they are on duty. This way, with a permanent captain, we will be better able to coordinate a bureau."

Vaccinations To Be Given Free To Dogs

The Department of Public Affairs has announced three dates when free rabies shots will be given to Belleville dogs.

The vaccinations will be given on May 15, 16, and 17.

Letters were distributed to all Belleville residents explaining procedures for the vaccinations, and including cards for dog registration.

CLASS TRIP — School 8's 69 sixth graders, accompanied by their teachers, took a trip to see a session of the State Legislature in Trenton, as guests of Senator Michael Giuliano of Essex County. The kids paused long enough for a picture in the tulip garden of the State House with members of the State Legislature. On the left are the three sixth grade teachers, Michael

See story page two column one.

Free X-Rays Given Today At Town Hall

The Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association will hold its 26th free community x-ray day, today.

The x-rays will be given at Town Hall from 2-8 p.m. X-rays were given yesterday to Silver Lake area residents.

Sixth Graders Write About Activities

School Eight Journeys To State Capital As Guests Of Senator Michael Giuliano

The sixth grade classes of School 8, accompanied by their teachers, Mrs. Eleanor Arthur, Stacy Yaskell, and Michael Harvey, were the guests of Senator Michael Giuliano of Essex County, at a session of the State Legislature at the State House, Trenton, on May 5.

Senator Giuliano read a resolution from the Senate floor, welcoming the group, mentioning that Belleville is a fine town. The members of the Senate approved the resolution unanimously, and asked the group to rise to accept the welcome.

Senate President Frank McDermott also welcomed the group.

Guide for the day was Jeffrey Ruddy, lawyer and aide to Senator Giuliano, who escorted the visitors to the Old Barracks, the State Museum, and the State House.

The young guests also met Assemblyman Ralph Caputo, Assemblyman C. Richard Fiore, and Arthur Koenitz, aide to Assemblyman Kean, with whom they had pictures taken in the tulip garden of the State House.

The children were asked to submit their written impressions of the trip. Two of the best were done by Keith Ansbacher and Cynthia Cammarato. Keith's read as follows:

"Arriving at our State Capital at 10 AM, Monday, May 5th, the teachers and boys and girls of School No. 8's sixth grades were happy to be greeted by Mr. Jeffrey Ruddy, aide to Senator Michael Giuliano, and Mr. Arthur Koenitz, Aide to Assemblyman Thomas Kean. Escorted by these gentlemen, we toured the Old Barracks, built in 1758.

The front lawn is made more authentic by the placement of an old cannon, directly in front of the barracks building, which served as such during the French and Indian Wars. It is the only survivor of five similar barracks in New Jersey.

Although when in use the barracks building was composed of long rooms which held bunk beds and long wooden tables, the building has been divided into smaller rooms, since it has been used as a home for many years. Shortly after the Revolutionary War it had been sold for use as a home. Most of the furnishings were made before 1800. Many uniforms and pieces of furniture and silverware, as well as wooden objects, belonged to famous New Jerseyans.

A beautiful vest found by an American general in a tent after the Battle of Trenton is framed for all to see. It could have belonged only to a wealthy English officer.

Mirrors are used to reflect the light of bulbs made to look like the original candles. Bed warmers were used to warm beds in the 17 and 1800's. A portable foot warmer could be carried from place to place, and home to church. An old-fashioned toaster could be swiveled to toast both sides of the bread.

A desk built in 1760 had many secret compartment for money and jewelry. All desks in those days were hand made. Everything fit together so perfectly that no nails were needed or used.

Samplers made by young children hung in one of the rooms. They usually had pictures and a motto, and often figures and numbers.

In the barracks room there are many bunks, three deep along the walls. The mattresses are made of loose straw, with a blanket thrown over. This was the way the soldiers slept. Candles were the only means of lighting, and leather buckets for water hung near the fireplace. These were the fire extinguishers!

Most of the dining or extra tables of the time were folding tables. In the rooms were paintings of presidents, among them Washington and John Quincy Adams, by a Chinese artist. Both men have an oriental look about the eyes.

In the bedroom we saw two lovely wedding dresses. Tiny button shoes could be seen near the bed. All the furniture, including the cradle was made of maple wood. A cowhide trunk used for traveling could be seen in the room.

In the dining room we saw a plate warmer which kept the dinner plates warm until time to serve. Close by was also a foot warmer in which hot coals or embers could be poured and the feet placed on top of the box. In the cold rooms this was a must!

Gentlemen's snuff boxes, writing desks, pipes, spectacles, and books were on display.

At the Capitol parking lot, I, Keith Ansbacher, stood on the space reserved for the car of Governor Hughes, which is driven by a State Trooper. Near by is a beautiful tulip garden, in full bloom. There were yellow, red, pink, lilac, rose, and other shades of this stately flower, in large and graceful masses.

Near the fountain in this garden we were able to have our pictures taken with Senator Giuliano, Assemblyman Fiore, and Assemblyman Ralph Caputo. Also in the group was Commissioner Strumolo of Belleville.

We were privileged to sit in the balcony of the Senate Chamber during the session of the Senate. Some bills which we watched being approved were workmen's compensation, local public contracts, and barber's licenses. It was a great thrill for Richard Henry and Michael Light to be seated on the Senate floor with Senator Giuliano during the roll call and vote on these bills.

At the state museum we viewed exhibits of New Jersey Indian art and handwork, including pottery, baskets, tomahawks, and arrowheads.

In the Hall of Natural Sciences we saw animals, plants, and minerals found in New Jersey. Fluorescent lighting brought out the true color of the minerals.

A prehistoric display of animals featured a Jersey mammoth, found at Highpoint, about 10 years ago.

A room containing beautiful stained glass windows and other artistic pieces were enjoyed. Especially lovely was a bust of Cleopatra.

During the excavation for the Tocks Island Park area, many Indian grounds have been unearthed. Among the findings have been a human skeleton from an Indian burial ground, pottery, tools, weapons, and a dugout canoe soon to be displayed. A life-size scene of Indians preparing corn and other foods is most interesting.

From the early settlers of New Jersey we then visited a modern art exhibit. Prizes ranged from $50 to $5000 for paintings, sculpture, statues, and other more difficult to describe objects.

Everyone was so very nice to us during our visit to the State Capital that the day was one to remember always. We thank all those who helped to make it possible."

Cynthia submitted the following report:

"The three sixth grades of School No. 8, Belleville, boarded two chartered buses at 8 A.M., Monday, May 5, 1969. We were accompanied by our teachers, Mrs. Eleanor Arthur, Miss Stacy Yaskell, and Mr. Michael Harvey. We were on our way to Trenton, our state capital.

In about 1 hour and 45 minutes we were in Trenton, where we saw many old buildings. Very quickly we say the historic old State Capitol now in the center of great building activity.

At the State House we were met by our official guide, Mr. Jeffrey Ruddy, a lawyer and aide to Senator Michael Giuliano of Essex County. He was accompanied by Mr. Arthur Koenitz, aide to Assemblyman Kean.

They escorted us to the Old Barracks, used during the Revolutionary War by the British soldiers. Visiting the two-story building we saw many beautiful pieces of furniture, china, pewter-ware, and clothing.

In the drawing room we were shown a piano made in 1785, and were invited to have someone play. William Smith accepted the offer, and played to the delight of the classmates.

Our biggest thrill came when we entered the Senate meeting room at the State House. The session was opened with a prayer and the flag salute, and a roll call. We were honored when State Senator Michael Giuliano read a resolution welcoming our classes and teachers to the session. It was passed unanimously by the other voting members of the Senate, and we were then asked to stand to be welcomed by the entire Senate. It was a great thrill to be a part of the working of our state government."

HOW TO PUT DROPS IN YOUR EYES

Of course the easiest way is to have someone else put the drops in your eyes for you. It is not difficult to do it yourself. First tilt your head as far back as possible, or lie flat on your back.

Then, look up at the ceiling. Close one eye and center the dropper over the other and squeeze the drops into the eye. Finally, close your eye and gently massage for a few strokes. Do not touch the dropper to your eye. This may contaminate the remaining drops.

He Wastes Very Few Words

Commissioner McGreevy Reveals Straight Talking Political Manner

Belleville's finances. I ran strictly for this office. I haven't run in 17 years because there was no time from my business."

This type of no words wasted, direct answer was typical of the type of responses I was to get during the interview, and being all too familiar with the double talk jargon employed by many politicians, I was pleasantly surprised.

A life-long resident at 15 Cleveland Street, the Commissioner graduated from St. Peter's School in Belleville, St. Benedict's Prep and Seton Hall University.

Leafing through the details of his background I discovered an impressive war record. He served 3½ years in the Air Corps during World War II, flying 50 combat missions while stationed in Italy as a bombardier-navigator. He holds the Purple Heart, the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with five clusters.

His experience prior to running for the Commission in 1950 was as advisor to Revenue and Finance Director William H. Williams.

His campaign for public office was unique in that he was the only candidate to conduct a door to door campaign, in both 1950 and 1967.

"I went house to house because I felt it was the best way to win. I found people very receptive to door-to-door campaigning. In view of the cost, I felt this sort of campaign was my best bet. I didn't win in 1950 because I only visited half the homes in town. If I would have visited them all, I would have won."

Rated an "outsider" by Times' publisher Frank Orechio, McGreevy made an impressive showing in 1967, taking second place on the ballot.

I handed the Commissioner a copy of his campaign platform, which he studied closely for a few minutes. The platform promised "a stable tax rate through rigid economy and planned spending."

"We haven't had any spending that wasn't planned," he said in commenting on the platform promise.

"The prior administration always had emergency spending. We haven't had any in two years."

In order to show me that he has stabilized the economy, he sent for official budget sheets and gave me a run down in concrete terms as to what his department has done.

"It was difficult to run the department when I took over because there was only $810,000 available in surplus. The previous administration over anticipated revenues and consequently lost $250,000 out of surplus."

To document this accusation, the Commissioner showed me the budget sheet which stated that in 1967 the previous administration had used $580,000 and had anticipated an equal amount in revenue. The figure realized, however, was only $411,000.

Commissioner McGreevy also pointed out that $85,000 was taken out of water surplus, while only $30,000 came back.

To stabilize the economy, the Commissioner charged the method of operation for the department. Water rates were changed because the cost of water that the town gets from Newark had gone up 30 per cent, a figure the previous administration had failed to acknowledge.

"Proper budgeting and being consistent in the use of surplus cash has stabilized our economy."

Backing up this statement, he pointed out that last year the Town used $410,000 and got $1,074,000 back, "the highest increase in at least five years."

With the budget sheets flat out on his big mahogany desk, the temptation was too great not to ask for his current statement on the budget battle being waged between the Commission and the Board of Education.

"The people turned the budget down twice and we felt an obligation to the people to cut the budget accordingly. If the people had voted the budget in we would have had nothing to do with it. We feel we can still have a good school system with a $210,000 cut."

Another of his campaign promises was "a moratorium on apartment buildings."

"I've voted against every unnecessary apartment building that has come up in this town. The only one I voted for was at 120 Rutgers Street. I voted for it because it was on the master plan for recreation."

The Commissioner had also promised the "elimination of the property reevaluation program which takes place every five years."

"I've had discussions with state senators," he said, "on elimination of this program. Senators Michael Juliano and Alexander Mattarri have scheduled meetings to discuss this."

Another campaign promise which Commissioner McGreevy commented on was his statement that he favored the intallation of overhead traffic lights on Jerusalem Street.

"Mayor Smith has been running a survey of the number of cars that use this street to assess the need for overhead traffic lights. I expect something will be done."

The Governorship Race

Three of the five candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination appear to be going nowhere fast.

All three candidates — Camden's Congressman William Cahill, New Jersey Senator Frank McDermott of Union County and former Somerset County Senator William Ozzard — appear to be unleashing personal attacks upon Congressman Charles W. Sandman of Cape May County.

McDermott and Cahill are spreading propaganda that Sandman cannot win the November election. Not one of the Sandman detractors stops for one moment to explain why Sandman stands less of a chance to win in November than the other candidates.

In trying to evaluate a candidate's chances of winning an election it would appear the best place to look for facts to support a conclusion is in the record.

Congressman Charles Sandman has won 25 elections in the past 16 years — and he is still in his mid-forties. Sandman has won more elections than all of his four opponents combined.

Today Sandman stands for tax reform — he is against the imposition of a State income tax.

Sandman is for an end to the Vietnam war. He opposed the Federal Surtax to which all of us are subject.

Sandman favors law and order on our college campuses. He opposes the tactics of the goon student squads who seize college property unlawfully.

Sandman believes the mail should be used for clean literature. He has introduced a bill in Congress defining pornographic material because he is incensed that out of 168,000 complaints filed with the U.S. Department of Justice last year, there were only 238 convictions. Sandman believes his proposed legislation, had it been law last year, would have resulted in 168,000 convictions instead of the puny 238.

On the basis of Congressman Sandman's public record and campaign pledges, it would appear that he alone of all the five candidates is the most likely Republican winner in November.

The record is clear that Charlie Sandman's entire life has been a preparation for leadership.

A Deserved Honor

Last Wednesday evening at the Waldorf-Astoria, Dr. Virginius D. Mattia was honored at a testimonial dinner sponsored by the International B'nai B'rith Association.

The organization presented Dr. Mattia with its annual Humanitarian Award.

In Nutley we know Dr. Mattia as the young, imaginative, and dynamic President of Hoffmann-LaRoche.

Among the 2100+ diners attending the dinner to pay tribute to Dr. Mattia were four Nobel Prize winners, six United States Senators, the Governors of New York and New Jersey, Congressmen by the dozen, the Ambassador from Switzerland, and our own Brigadier General John R. Jannarone of West Point.

Dr. Mattia's humanitarian deeds never see the light of day in publicity releases. A humble man, Dr. Mattia would look upon publicity of humanitarian activities as obscene. He believes the greatest work for mankind is that which is done without the blaring of trumpets.

Dr. Mattia is a man born to greatness and last Wednesday night he reached some sort of a personal summit when he delivered a brief but tremendously inspiring talk.

The subject of Dr. Mattia's speech was the youth of our day. Because of his eloquence and a conviction that its total message should be read by every man, woman, and child who has reached the age of reason, the entire text has been reproduced elsewhere in this newspaper.

We join B'nai B'rith in saluting Dr. Mattia. We know him as a neighbor and friend. We know him as a good and gentle man — a great benefactor of mankind. The greatest achievements of Dr. Mattia are yet to come. They are to be found in the dreams and aspirations of his tomorrows.

Our Youth, Our Brothers

(The following are the remarks by Dr. V. D. Mattia at the B'nai B'rith dinner. Dr. Mattia titled his talk, "These Are Our Youth and These Are Our Brothers.")

An age of destruction is a time of dissent — dissent with what is wrong. Our youth were born in an era of violence, disillusioned by a humanity gap — a gap between what is said and what is done, between what should be and what is. Our youth have seen the impact of violence on the history of our day. Their ideals were shattered and they recoil when a few with bullets outweigh millions with ballots. They cannot understand why billions of dollars carry men safely to the moon while millions of our people are maimed physically and mentally, spiritually and intellectually by the lack of food and jobs, of housing and education. Our youth see this. They feel it intensely. They try to speak — but they are inarticulate. They wish to serve — but they act chaotically. They are trying — almost incoherently and even desperately — to articulate a philosophy for a better life. The trauma of their behavior is obscuring, and sometimes negating, the nobility of their intent and the integrity of their goals.

In some instances their actions are counterproductive, if not, in fact, destructive of their principles and goals. I submit it is essential that we understand their motivations; for if we do not comprehend the etiologies, we cannot influence the effects.

Let us never forget that in every period of crisis in our history, our youth have fought and sacrificed — first to lay the foundations of our society and then to preserve our union. Our youth answered the call to "make the world safe for democracy" in World War I, then to thwart the threat of tyranny in World War II.

And in our present crisis, a young president summoned them. They met his challenge. They joined his Peace Corps. But suddenly, his life, and their ideals, were struck down by violence. The cause of civil rights summoned them — and again they rose to work for their beliefs. But again a leader and a cause were struck down by violence. Another young leader sought to show them that change could be achieved within the structure of our political system. He, too, was struck down by violence. Then, in their frustration with a war they did not want, they forced out a president they could no longer believe, only to confront the events of Chicago.

There are many among us who believe that the actions of our youth are related to a permissive society. I submit, however, that they have drawn their unhappy conclusions from the obscene success of the few who have, with violence, vetoed the wishes, the hopes and the aspirations of the many.

Our youth have never failed us. They will never fail us. But we must not fail them. It is we who must justify their faith in us — even though it may be a questioning faith. It is we who must justify their faith — even as they challenge our faith in our institutions.

Our universities must become far more than foundations of learning. They must become springs of initiative. As a source of inspiration for ideals, our universities must provide the pioneering conceptions and plans to capture the imagination and challenge the aspirations of our youth.

Commission Has People's Support

By John J. Bunewich

QUESTION: The Commission form of government has been back in Belleville now for two years. Do you think Belleville residents now are generally better pleased with operations at Town Hall?

MRS. MILLIAN BERKOWITZ, 20 Essex Street, Belleville.

How can I give an answer for that? I've lived in Belleville since I was a little girl. I've seen all the changes in Belleville, both good and bad. I guess it's all right. One person can't alter things. I pay my taxes, keep my house clean and I vote in every election. We give the present government our confidence by voting for them. I've always enjoyed living in Belleville, and it's been good to me. I've subscribed to the Belleville paper since it began. It's my town, I might as well read its news.

MRS. PEGGY CATENACCIO, 240 Little Street, Belleville.

I don't think I'll be too popular with my neighbors after I say this but I'll say it anyway. The people in Belleville are all apathetic. The complete town is apathetic. Belleville is an old town set in its ways. No one wants to go out on a limb with a new idea. The form of government won't help unless the people are behind it.

ALBERT CLARK ALLISON,

339 Washington Avenue.

I don't know too much about Belleville's form of government. I've only been living here three months. By the way things look to me, the town is run pretty good. The garbage goes out on time and the parks look very clean. I used to live in Kearny before moving to Belleville, and I'll take Belleville any day. The owner of the house I live in, Sam Giordano, goes to Kiwanis meetings every week. He sees lots of politicians there. He speaks very highly of them, and they say if there are any gripes, the people should come down and voice them.

FRANK KIERNAN, 398 Washington Avenue, Belleville.

I'm not much up on civic affairs. I imagine things are going as well as they could go. It's better than previously, when with the manager council form of government. Now there is more than one nose to watch the store. I take care of the flags you see in front of most of the stores on Washington Avenue, and I was having trouble getting the town to put holes in the side walk for the flag posts. I called up Mary Senatore and she was very prompt in caring for the problem. I've lived in Belleville 30 years, and I think the government is better now than it ever was.

Speak Up

Presidential Vote Might Be Popular

To The Editor:

The House Judiciary Committee has made history.

For the first time ever a proposal under which the President of the United States would be chosen by direct popular vote has advanced toward the floor of the House for a vote.

This marks an important initial step to provide new election machinery to avoid the potential confusion and chaos that is built into the present system.

As a ranking member of the Judiciary Committee, I am pleased to have participated in the historic committee action, and to have sided and fought with the majority in the 28 to 6 vote by which the new plan was approved.

The compelling argument in favor of direct election is that it guarantees that the candidate who receives the most votes will be the winner. The point must be emphasized because no other system — neither the one we presently use nor any that have been suggested as alternatives — can fulfill that guarantee. As a matter of historical fact, a minority President has been elected on three separate occasions.

Even today, just a few short months after an extremely close Presidential campaign, many people are unaware that the American citizen does not vote for the candidate of his choice but votes, instead, for a group of state representatives, known as Electors, who are pledged to vote for the candidate. Under this indirect system, a President is not officially elected until the Electors meet and cast their ballots.

Each State has as many Electors as it has United States Senators and members of the House of the House of Representatives, a formula that gives a somewhat bigger voice to the lesser populated states. In general, the Electors follow the will of the people, but there have been times when the electoral vote differed from the popular vote.

If no candidate receives a majority of the Electoral College vote, the election of the President is thrown to the House of Representatives. Here is where things can get sticky, because votes must be given to one of the three highest candidates, and all the representatives from each state combine to cast one vote for that state.

The proposed Constitutional amendment eliminates the controversial and cumbersome Electoral College mechanism and scraps the provision for the House choosing the President in the absence of an electoral vote majority.

In providing for the selection of a President by direct popular vote, the amendment imposes a limitation that should prove to be an important safeguard. A candidate must receive at least 40 per cent of the vote to gain a victory on the first ballot. If no candidate receives more than 40 per cent of the vote, a runoff election between the two highest vote getters would be held and the winner of that runoff would become President. This procedure assures the election of a President who receives the most votes.

The amendment now goes to the Rules Committee, where, I am sure, it will be approved for full debate by the House.

There is still a long way to go before the change in the election of a President becomes effective. The framers of our Constitution made certain that provisions, once agreed upon, would not be subject to change too easily. The amendment must win the votes of two-thirds of the House, two-thirds of the Senate and then a majority in three-fourths of the 50 state legislatures. This means that the legislatures of any 13 states can block the amendment simply by not acting on it.

But the historic vote of the House Judiciary Committee and the overwhelming 28 to 6 margin launched the amendment in a most encouraging way. As a footnote to history, let me point out that the usually staid committee members, relaxed their traditional tight control over emotions and broke out with applause after the vote on the proposed amendment was taken. The historic significance of the occasion was obvious to everyone.

President Nixon's message on tax reform was sent to the Congress recently. As one who has been vitally involved in the development of legislation to remove inequities and close loopholes in existing tax laws I was pleased by the President's overall views although somewhat disappointed by the overly limited nature of the proposed reforms.

The bill which I have introduced would raise the deduction for dependents, eliminate tax-free bonds, sharply reduce mineral depletion allowances and make other changes to assure a fair basis for taxation. While I agree with the President on some of his other proposals, many of which are included in my bill, I do think he has been unduly timid and too selective in his proposals to bring about the reforms in our tax structure that common decency and fair play demand.

I am heartened by the vote of approval in the House of legislation which I cosponsored to establish a Select Committee to Investigate Crime. In a statement on the floor of the House prior to the vote, I pointed out that the crime problem needed special study by a Select Committee "just as the horror of hunger in this affluent country moved the Senate to create its Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs."

We must obtain a comprehensive and thorough evaluation of all aspects of crime in order to develop effective measures to combat it. I would hope that the Select Committee will be able to proceed expeditiously and responsibly to study the complex crime problem and make recommendations on appropriate legislation that will help us stamp out this evil.

A group of students, each representing a different high school in the 10th Congressional District, met with me recently and agreed to serve as a Founders' Committee to establish a Youth Congress.

I am tremendously impressed by the seriousness of the students and the fine quality of their thinking. The Youth Congress, as I envision it, will become an important organization to keep me informed on the views of young people on issues that concern them.

George Riepe, victor of the section IV pole vault title in Newark two weeks ago, took a first-place in the Big Ten Field meet held at Woodman Field, Montclair, May 7.

George cleared 12', a height which until then seemed to be just too much, as 11'6" was his top. Earlier in the week, George stretched his string of first places to eight as he took a first against Bloomfield while the Bellboys were walloped by the Big Ten champs, 87-29.

The varsity crew team entered one of their biggest races of the year, the Poughkeepsie Regatta, and missed qualifying for the final heat by two tenths of a second, after the rudder of the shell broke off in the last quarter mile of the mile race. The varsity was fourth in their heat of six, and only the top three can qualify.

The junior varsity crew did a little better, they finished second in their heat, and fifth in the finals. They were beaten by Roosevelt High of New York, Holy Spirit of Atlantic City, Liverpool and Litchfield Tech.

The frosh did the best for the day, as they were third in the only frosh heat. Arlington and Roosevelt were the only crews to beat the frosh. The baby bellboys picked off shells from Kearny, Blessed Sacrament, Nutley and Poughkeepsie.

The Poughkeepsie Regatta and the Belleville-Nutley Goodwill race are the crew's biggest races. The Bellboys, all three shells, should be able to come on strong in the Goodwill race, as they have yet to be beaten by Nutley.

American Legion baseball is here again. Belleville Post 105 has announced it will hold a tryout this Sunday at the high school stadium at one p.m.

The Post will welcome boys of high school age under 19. Parochial school boys living in Belleville but going to schools outside the town are also welcome, according to the Post.

Coaches Charlie Craig and Frank Papisadero will be on hand to conduct the tryouts.

Bellboys Lose Squeaker; Leave Eleven Men On Base

Belleville fell to its eighth defeat in a topsy turvy extra-inning battle in Bloomfield, May 12. The score was 5-4.

In a game that saw the lead change hands several times, there was no excuse for the Bellboys as they stranded a total of 11 batters on base.

Rich Schulz absorbed the defeat in relief of Bob Giordano. Schulz's record is now 3-5.

Belleville crosses town to Nutley Saturday for the rival tilt. Giordano had a no-hitter going for 5 2/3 innings until the roof came in with three runs scoring in the Bloomfield sixth.

Belleville scored first in the fourth when left fielder Ed Pimentall slammed a homerun into left center field. The roundtripper was the second for Belleville in the last two games. Joe Ritacco had a four-bagger in the Bellboy's last outing.

The Bellboys scored again in the sixth against the strong Bloomfield squad, when Joe Vitiello singled, stole second, and scored on a single by Carl Corino.

Giordano was sailing along on a fine pitching effort until two were out in the bottom of the sixth inning. Jay Baumgardner, an All-County football and baseball player, scratched a single down the right field line of the handle of his bat.

Steve Montague followed this with a bunt single. Giordano appeared a little shaken as he overthrew the bunt to first, allowing Baumgardner to score. Tom Leopaldi lined a single to center and was able to take third as centerfielder Joe Ritacco made an error fielding the ball.

Belleville came up with their second run in their half of the seventh through the aid of four walks. Rich Caravetta, running for Papisadero, scored when Vitiello walked.

The Bellboys took the lead in the eighth when Frank Fury and Caravetta walked. Fury stole third and came home on a walk by winning pitcher Tony Scarlatelli.

In the bottom of the and third in the top of the ninth, but, in what appeared to be the script for the day, they left them stranded.

In the bottom of the ninth, Tony Leopaldi collected his second single, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch by relief pitcher Rich Schulz. After Jerry Belmonte struck out, Rich Neumann singled home the game ending tally.

The loss left Belleville's record at a 6-8-1 level, 4-7-1 in the Big Ten. Bloomfield's mark rose to 11-3-1 overall, and 9-3 in conference play.

Ritacco Home Run Downs Columbia

By Marc Feldman

Joe Ritacco slammed a bases empty home run in the sixth inning May 8 to break a 2-2 tie, and give Belleville a 3-2 win over the Columbia Cougars, at Belleville. The game had been originally scheduled for April 22, but was rained out.

Ritacco's round tripper was Belleville's first this season, and it couldn't have come at a more opportune moment.

The Bellboys had taken a 2-0 advantage in the second inning as they knocked Columbia starter Al Dietz out of the box. In the inning, Joe Papisadero walked, stole second, and scored on Ray Campbell's opposite field single. Campbell scored all the way from first on John Goscinski's double to right center. Meanwhile, Bob Giordano was pitching well for Belleville, having allowed only an infield single in four innings. However, he faltered in the fifth when he walked lead off batter Mike Busichio and Don Cicchio ripped a two-base hit to left field, sending Busichio to third.

Gary Jardim lifted a long fly ball to centerfield that Joe Ritacco misplayed as both runners crossed the plate, tying the score at two. At this point Coach Charles Travers brought in Rich Schulz, who retired the side without any further damage.

Schulz did not allow a hit in the final two innings, notching his third victory in seven decisions and lowering his earned run average to 0.86.

Golfers Record Stands At 4-7

By John McCarthy

"Golf is one of the few sports that not only gives a sense of team spirit, but at the same time demands individual capabilities." Michael Salzarolo golf coach at Belleville for 10 years, feels this is one of the best things about high school golf and thinks that more golfers would come out for the team (there are only 7 at present), if they would realize what goes into the making of the team. "Most golfers think of the low 80's as the goal, but this is not so, on most of the games the average score is in the 90's."

This is the way it really is, although another reason for the size of the team is that many students don't even know that there is a golf team.

Most of the team's meets are away this year, but the home ones are held at the Forest Hill Country Club in Bloomfield. A golf meet consists of three foursomes with two members of each team.

Each foursome goes out and plays 18 holes. The scoring for each group is, one point for the winner of the first 9 holes, one point for the winner of the next nine holes, and one point for the winner of the entire 18 holes, thus there is the possibility of a tie, in which case each player is awarded only one half of a point.

The team's record is 4-7 and the coach, along with his assistants feel that they will have a real tough team next year, as most of the golfers are juniors and sophomores.

But the coaches have to be careful to watch their golfers, for they must continually warn the golfers of one of the most important rules, that is the clause in the State's eligibility rule that states that in order to compete for a High School golf team the golfer must never have competed in a contest where a prize of money was awarded.

ADVERTISEMENT BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

There is a lot of talk by Federal, State and Municipal authorities about legislation in connection with unethical practices. Lately the talk is about TV and automobile repairs.

Unfortunately one can not legislate mechanics into existence. The plain, simple fact is that there are not enough mechanics and no amount of laws will create any. It still takes months and months of learning, for a TV mechanic and several years of practical experience. The law of supply and demand would soon enough straighten out this situation. People know very well in time whether a store is reliable. Those that are not, fall by the wayside. The same would happen if there were enough mechanics. The bad ones would soon enough disappear. As it is, just about anybody who knows how to pull a tube and claims to be an "expert" can victimize anybody.

Nobody would buy an automobile from a dealer if he does not have a repair shop to take care of the cars he sells. That is the way it should be, with TV sets and other merchandise. Having a shop is a headache, there is no question about it. That is why most people selling TV sets want no part of it, but the customers are the suckers. For service they get a number to call, which has nothing to do with the seller. The poor buyer is hanging between the seller who does not want to be involved in any service problem, and the interested servicer, who is only waiting until the 90 days is over (during which time he is supposed to take care of the purchase) and he is out of it. You can avoid this situation by buying a TV set only from a dealer who has his own service department. We service what we sell.

Odd Squad Wins In Girls Softball

In the Recreation Girls Softball action the Odd Squad have continued their winning ways stretching their streak to three with a victory over the Charlie Browns.

Strong in every facet of the game, the Squad has great pitching, hitting and fielding, and has already chalked up a double play in the first game of the season.

It was a good night for the Sweet Bippies who grounded out a win over the very scrappy Fantastics.

It is interesting to note that so far the Charlie Browns have beaten the Bippies, the Fantastics have won over the Charlie Browns, and now, the Sweet Bippies beat the Fantastics.

If the Odd Squad continues the way they have started the real interest in the League will be for the second place battle.

Girls Softball Is Underway

The 1969 Recreation Senior Girls Softball League began last week with the Odd Squad jumping into the lead with two victories.

First the Squad drubbed the Fantastics 20-3 and then they whitewashed the Sweet Bippies 13-0.

The Fantastics came back in their second game of the week to squeak by the Charlie Browns 16-14. In their first game the Charlies Browns won a squeaker when they slid past the Sweet Bippies 12-11.

Contest Won By Students

On Saturday, May 3, Paul Di Giovanni and Frank Fantacone represented Belleville High School auto shop at the Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest in Old Bridge, New Jersey. The contest was divided into two areas. A written examination dealing with automotive theory and a mechanical competition which dealt with diagnosing and repairing malfunctions on 1969 Plymouths. All cars were "bugged" the same by Plymouth representatives. The test score and the time taken to properly repair the car were added together to decide the winner.

Our team, which was sponsored by Bigelow Motors, Washington Avenue Belleville, took first place. They now go with their instructor, Victor De Pauw, to Indianapolis, Indiana where they will compete in the national finals in June.

"A day for all seasons" is Saturday, May 17th, for the Soroptimist Club of Newark. That is the date of its annual luncheon and fashion show, at Thomm's Continental Restaurant, Newark, to benefit the Club's Service Fund. The theme is "Happy Holidays" and, for just the right atmosphere of gaiety, color and festivity, the Soroptimist girls have begged, borrowed and created, since last fall, arrangements and displays typical of our many holidays. The menu, too, will reflect the holiday spirit, from "fruit cup St. Valentine" to "firecracker eclairs." By luck, the day is Armed Services Day, so the Club hostesses will key their dress to the appropriate red, white and blue.

Amidst this setting of Halloween, St. Patty's Day, Christmas, et al., in May, there will be the "Bountiful Board" with a variety of homemade foods, the "Boutique and Bargains" with new and almost-new items, table and door prizes, and raffles. Following the luncheon and topping the afternoon will be a fashion show presented by Bamberger's-New Jersey.

A special occasion during the afternoon will be the announcement and presentation of Soroptimist Citizenship Awards to three girls outstanding for their community involvement who will graduate from Newark high schools this June. The students were among several considered by the Newark Soroptimists in their quest for a Newark entrant in the nation-wide Youth Citizenship Awards program among high school students sponsored by the parent Soroptimist Federation of the Americas.

Co-chairmen of the Soroptimist event are Mrs. Andrew H. Scott, Maplewood, and Miss Jacqueline Robertson, Nutley, assisted by Mrs. Albert J. Hinckley, Maplewood, and Mrs. Walford

Bloomfield College Students Take Protest To Washington

Peaceful efforts on the part of Bloomfield College students culminated in a rally to keep the Kilmer center open.

Dr. Theodore Rath, president of Bloomfield College, arranged for the representatives of the group, Joan Baird, Joseph Cutter, Mary George, Robert Hood, Mrs. Loretta Lewis and a faculty member of the sociology department, Ed Jaeger, 46 Overlook Terrace, Nutley, to meet with Senators Clifford Case, Harrison Williams, Jacob Javits and Congressman Peter W. Rodino on May 9 to voice their opposition to the abrupt closing of the effective Job Corps residence center.

The students, consisted of sociology majors who have visited the center and believe firmly that Kilmer has restructured the lives of the administration files can determine more accurately about the center's achievement rate, job placement and drop out rate.

Essex Admissions Chief Urged Grads To Apply

The door is still open at Essex County College for high school graduates who wish to attend but it's on a "first come, first served" basis.

The 12-story building at 31 Clinton Street, Newark, the college's temporary campus, is expected to be filled to capacity in September, 1969, with the admission of 2,200 new full-time students. The college presently enrolls, 2,265 full-time day students as well as 897 part-time evening and weekend students.

Acting Director of Admissions Daniel Derrico reports that more than 1,400 students already have been accepted for admission. He estimates in a letter to guidance counselors at Essex County high schools that the college will have accepted all the full-time students it can accommodate in September by the beginning of May.

Prospective students should act quickly, Derrico advises.

The date that his office receives a completed application together with a residency certificate and $5 application fee will determine whether or not the applicant is accepted for September entry, he points out.

Applicants whose materials are received after the 2,200-student quota for September is reached may have to start part-time in September or postpone entry until the winter semester starts in late January, 1970.

Even though student space currently is on a "first come, first served" basis, there is no change in the college's "Open Door" policy. That means that any applicant who holds a high school diploma or equivalent is eligible for admission whenever space is available.

Well, boys and girls, it won't be long before commencement oratory will burst upon you like an artillery barrage.

Kidde Announces Annual Gains

Walter Kidde & Company, Inc. had net income after taxes of $24,687,029 in the year ending December 31, 1968, compared with $20,778,197 in the previous year. Figures for 1967 have been restated to include companies acquired in subsequent poolings of interests transactions. Earnings per common share amounted to $3.11 in 1968 on a residual basis, which assumes the full conversion of all securities that derive their value principally from their common share characteristics. This compares with earnings per common share of $2.60 in 1967 on a residual basis, after adjustments for stock dividends and restated for subsequent poolings of interests transactions. Sales in 1968 totaled $565,869,487, compared with $502,605,895 the previous year. Earnings before taxes were $49,567,880 in 1968, as against $39,045,201 the year before. The 1968 results do not include operations of United States Lines Company, which was purchased by Kidde in January. Reported operating results for the 1967 fiscal year were: net income after taxes, $17,730,324; sales, $423,661,227; earnings before taxes, $34,056,408; and earnings per share on a residual basis, $2.54, after adjustment for stock dividends. NEVER TRUST ANYBODY OVER THIRTY.

They might outlaw all beards until the age of 70. If you let them.

On the other hand, if they let you, you might outlaw everyone without a beetle cut.

But it won't happen in America. You'll always be free to do your own thing. As long as you use your freedom to make sure America keeps guaranteeing you that freedom.

But you have to do it. Don't trust to someone else.

Because every individual of every age, every ethnic, business, union, regional and religious background has a different idea about how the country should be run.

Which means you have to speak your own mind. Or someone else will have a free hand in making the world you live in.

So do your own thing. But do it responsibly.

First, think out the issues. Tell it like you see it. Tell your parents. Your teachers. Your Mayor. Your President.

Participate. Let your example of good personal conduct show. In school government. In local government. In civic organizations. In your church.

Be free. But be willing to share your freedom with every individual. Regardless of race, creed or color.

You'll be making this a better place for everyone.

Like every generation of Americans before you.

Ever since the Pilgrims first came to America to do their own thing.

Two Partners Found Guilty Of Bad Checks

Overdrawing on a joint checking account cost two business partners $50 and $25 respectively, in last Wednesday's Criminal Court. James Bobowicz, 25, of 508 Stuyvesant Street, Lyndhurst, and Richard Verrico, 25, of 32 Morton Street, Bloomfield, were found guilty and fined by acting Nutley Court Judge Arthur Martin Jr., of Essex Fells.

Bobowicz pleaded not guilty on one count of cashing a bad check, explaining he wasn't aware that his partner had expended all of the account's funds.

Verrico pleaded guilty on two counts and remained silent during the hearing.

The complaints were filed by Arthur Engels, superintendent of the First National Bank of Nutley. Engels said the offenders had ample warning (since March 27) to make restitution for the bad check.

Arts Center Schedules Classical Festival Month

The June opening of the Garden State Arts Center's second summer season will be a Classical Festival Month featuring three of the world's greatest symphonic orchestras.

The Philadelphia Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic, and the Washington National Symphony are scheduled to appear, each with prominent guest performers, during the opening month of the Arts Center's 1969 season.

With its subscription program having been extended to three classical series of six events each this year, there are still excellent season seats available from the Arts Center for the top-rated symphonic performances and more.

Subscription order brochures for any of the three classical series as well as six popular series can be obtained by writing to the Garden State Arts Center, Box 116, Holmdel, N.J. 07733 or telephoning (201) 264-9200.

The 1969 summer season of the Arts Center, located at Telegraph Hill Park on the Garden State Parkway (Exit 116) here, starts June 12 with the Philadelphia Orchestra conducted by Eugene Ormandy. The Romero, Spain's first family of guitar, will perform with the Orchestra that night and the following Saturday.

Musical Show At Holy Family This Weekend

Holy Family parish is presenting the sparkling musical comedy hit "Bye, Bye Birdie" in the school auditorium, Brookline Avenue, Nutley, this weekend on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

"Bye, Bye Birdie" enjoyed a long run on Broadway and then became a successful movie. The book was written by Michael Stewart, music by Charles Strouse and lyrics by Lee Adams.

The Holy Family production is under the direction of Ray Napolitano, a theatre major at Seton Hall University. The musical director is James Campodonico and choreography is by Kathy Thompson.

Lead roles in the parish musical are Karen Cola as Rose Alvarez, Joe Rice as Albert Peterson, Carol Cobianchi as Kim Macaffee, Anthony Falzarano as Mr. Macaffee and Angela Kircher as Mae Peterson.

The best advice for modern people facing all sorts of propaganda is the single word, think.

Earn 5.09% with only $500 on 5% Golden Interest Passbook Account at Bank of Bloomfield

If you save at some places you need $5000, $10,000 or even more to earn top interest. But at the Bank of Bloomfield it takes as little as $500.

Bloomfield's "Bank for People" has a new Golden Interest Passbook Account that pays you 5% interest, compounded quarterly so at the end of a year you receive 5.09%. It's the highest interest you can earn in a commercial bank in this area on as little as $500.

No certificates to lose—get an actual passbook—add deposits in multiples of $50 at any time. Deposit by mail free — bank supplies pre-paid envelopes. Withdraw as little as $250 on 90 days notice.

No need even to visit the bank—you can open and maintain your account by mail. Phone 338-6700, send coupon—or visit us. The Bank of Bloomfield has "People's Hours", not bankers' hours. Drive-up/walk-up windows open Monday till 8:30 p.m., Tuesday to Friday 8 a.m.-6 p.m., and Saturday 9-12.

Historical Society To Honor
Governor Richard Hughes Gov. Richard J. Hughes will receive The New Jersey Historical Society Award for 1969 at a formal dinner May 15 to be sponsored by the trustees of the Historical Society in the executive mansion at Morven.

The Governor, one of four Historical Society recipients, will be honored at the group's 13th annual awards dinner
"for distinguished contribution to the history of New Jersey."

Reeve Schley, Jr., of Somerville, president of the 124-year-old Historical Society, said that the State's chief executive is being recognized for his leadership in the establishment during his tenure of office of such historically important services
as the N.J. Tercentenary Commission, official coordinator of activities in the State during New Jersey's 300th anniversary year of 1964, the N.J. Historical Commission, the N.J. Historic Trust and the N.J. Historic Sites Council.

Fund For Homeless Student
Raises Money At College
Close to $1,600 has been contributed to the O'Brien Fund at Union College. The fund was established to assist Joseph O'Brien, Union College freshman who lost both his parents and his home within four days and who is now responsible for a 16-year-old brother and nine-year-old sister.

Thomas Dillar of Plainfield, president of Gamma Iota Alpha, Union College fraternity, an organizer of the fund to help his fraternity brother, reports that response to the appeal on behalf of O'Brien has been overwhelming. "Students, faculty and staff at Union College have been wonderful," he and the transfer of ownership from the Crippled Children

Camp Association to the Easter Seal Society for Crippled will arrive June 22.

Several prominent New Jerfounding group of the camp and whose leader, John Hirschoff, conceived the idea of a summer camp designed for use by physically handicapped children, will be honored.

Australian Film
Shown Today
In Montclair

"The Australian Adventure", a color motion picture, is the final episode in this Unity Travel Course season today at 8:15 p.m. in the Montclair High School auditorium. The film is narrated in person by the producer, Kenneth Richter.
Australia is a land of constantly changing scenes, all fascinatingly shown in this film.

It begins in the cosmopolitan city of Sidney,
then travels into the country, to see winemaking in the Germanic Barossa Valley; a costume sequence at the Sturt Cottage, Adelaide; then to "The Outback", the remote lonely areas of sheep stations, the aboriginal reserve, a safari camp in the tropical north with wild buffalo and exotic birds, and a wild, 55 mile an hour jeep chase through the bush to get closeup pictures of graceful kangaroos.

After flying over the Crocodile Coast and the spectacular Great Barrier Reef, the tour goes back to civilization, as, modern, in some instances, as the United States.

Coburn, J.C.D., pastor of St.

Veneri Endorses Tax Demonstration

The Executive Board of the New Jersey Industrial Union Council, AFL-CIO, has gone on record to endorse the picket line demonstrations called by District #3 IUE, AFL-CIO, for Tuesday, April 15th in protest of the 10% surtax. Maurice M. Veneri, IUC President said that he was notifying all affiliates to take part in the demonstrations which will be held in Newark, Camden and Trenton.

He called on taxpayers to join the picket line at Internal Revenue Offices so that the lawmakers in Washington will know that there is a tax revolt in the making that must be halted.

Veneri said that the hearings on the surtax would get underway in Congress this month and all expressions of the people to their representatives voicing opposition to any extension of the 10% charge beyond June 30th was of prime importance, pointing to the existence of flagrant loopholes in the tax structure which enables millionaires to pay no taxes and corporations to escape their fair share.

Veneri said that the IUC was urging Congress to initiate genuine tax reform that would add billions of dollars in federal revenue to come from those best able to

Varied Exhibit At Montclair Art Museum

A tea for students and their guests will be given on Sunday, May 18, from 3 to 4 p.m.

At 2:30 p.m., on Sunday, a gallery talk will be given by curator Ann Rogerson on the exhibition Spectacle of Nature which closes that day.

Another exhibition, New Media: New Methods, which comes through the Museum of Modern Art, remains on view through May 25.

Ross, Sr., treasurer; Edward A. Canis, secretary.

The Club meets every Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. until noon at Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church, on the corner of Little Street and Union Avenue. The Club extends an invitation to all retired men.

pay. He called for an enactment of an excess profits tax at this time, which would more than match revenues which the present 10% surtax brings into the United States Treasury.

"We think it only fair that those corporations and individuals who are profiting most during this long and costly war in Viet Nam should bear their fair share of the tax revenue.

Veneri said that he is gratified to see the groundswell of support which had developed since IUC made the repeal of the surtax and an end to tax loopholes its number one legislative project in 1969.

He welcomed the position taken by Joseph Beirne, President of the Communication Workers of America who last week put his organization on record against extension of the surtax in the absence of genuine tax reform.

It is said the stock market rises with women's skirts, which would seem to rule out a boom.
