Miss Belleville Seeks Crown

Sets Her Sights On July Pageant To Win Miss New Jersey Title

Plans are already underway to send Marilyn Casale, Miss Belleville 1969, to Cherry Hill for the Miss New Jersey Contest, July 9, 10, and 11. Belleville is one of only four townships to send an entry to the pageant. The rest of the contestants will come backed with plenty of money and professional organization from the counties and colleges.

The large pageant will be run by the Cherry Hill Kiwanis, with the aid of the Cherry Hill Inn which will house and feed the girls from throughout the State.

The Belleville Jaycees, who will be coordinating Miss Belleville's trip, have entered into discussions with the Town Commissioners to secure a bus to take residents to the pageant for the opening day.

"I can't explain what it does for a girl to have her home town friends there," Mrs. Caesar Romano, Marilyn's chaperone said, "It really helps a girl on that first frightening day."

A July 8 bon voyage party is also being planned to give Miss Belleville a sendoff. The affair will probably take place at the Fountain, with as many service clubs as possible being asked to participate.

In addition to Mrs. Romano, Andrew Canfora, a music teacher, will make the trip to accompany the talented Miss Belleville on the piano.

Competing among 10 talented and pretty finalists on April 26 at the High School, Miss Casale captured the first spot, entertaining the judges and audience with "I Could Have Danced All Night" from the Broadway hit "My Fair Lady."

Miss Casale, 18 and a graduate of East Orange Catholic High School, is a freshman at West Chester State College in Pennsylvania, where she is majoring in music.

The new Miss Belleville will take impressive credentials to the contest, having been a former Miss New Jersey High School Talent Queen for 1968.

She plans on attending Julliard School of Music and eventually teach music.

As this year's Miss Belleville, Marilyn will be called upon to make several appearances at local parades. She received a $500 scholarship from the Peoples National Bank and Trust Co. of Belleville for her efforts.

The Jaycees report that Miss Casale will need about 10 different outfits to compete in the pageant, and they are hoping that local merchants will pitch in and help out. The Jaycees are contributing a gown and a bathing suit.

The cost for the whole excursion will run around $500. Miss Belleville will be up against stiff competition, but according to Caesar Romano of the Jaycees, "We expect to come back to Belleville with a winner."

Miss Belleville will leave July 9 and arrive in Cherry Hill where she will meet the other girls in the competition. According to Mrs. Romano, who has been to other Miss New Jersey pageants, "The initial shock of seeing some of the girls show up in limosines is really hard to take."

After having dinner on her own, Miss Casale and her chaperone will go to Cherry Hill High School auditorium where they will meet with stage managers to set requirements for her three minute talent performance. The auditorium seats 1,500 people and Mrs. Romano says that "this is where the girls know they are in a really big competition."

From this point on the girls are constantly being judged for poise, talent and overall charm. The contestants are subject to rigid rules, one of which forbids the girls to speak to any males, even their own fathers. With the exception of this rule Belleville follows the same regulations for their pageant.

Miss Casale will find her talent put to the test, says Mrs. Romano, when she discovers that some of the girls have professional arrangements for their three minute stints. They will practice from 9 to 5 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and from 9 to one P.M. Saturday.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS HEAD — Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, who has been a lifelong resident of the Silver Lake district, ran for his position on the Board of Commissioners because he "felt a need to represent the people."

Commissioner Strumolo Leads Long Political Life

The political arena is a strange place to perform. The politician finds himself on public display, his feelings and opinions subject to a wide range of criticism and often abuse. Somewhere along the line he has stopped and asked himself "why am I here?" The answer he reaches at this point determines the kind of politician he will be.

Vincent T. Strumolo, a successful businessman and lifelong Belleville resident, has made his decision and his political statements read like declarations of it:

"I feel I'm a representative of the people, not of certain groups or parties. My phones are all listed and I'm available at all times. I feel their

Additional Nurse May Ease Burden

The Health Department will have a sixth nurse if an ordinance providing for the additional one is passed at the next Commission meeting.

According to Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, the ordinance will not create a new position in his department because 10 years ago the Department was operating with six nurses.

"I want to stress," the Commissioner said, "that we are not making a new position but are merely bringing our manpower level up to what it was 10 years ago."

When the commission form of government was installed in 1967, there were only four public health nurses employed by the Town. In reorganizing the Town, the Commission froze the Health Department's number of nurses at four, thus necessitating the ordinance today.

There are actually five nurses presently in the Department, but the fifth one, who was just recently hired, is a public health nurse supervisor, and is provided for by civil service law.

The Commissioner is seeking a sixth nurse because he feels the current five are overburdened.

"It is a matter of common sense," the Commissioner said, "that if 10 years ago we had six nurses, and the Town has grown, that today five must be overburdened."

The Commissioner reports that he is conducting interviews now for the position. The starting salary for a public health nurse is $6,100. The highest the nurse can go is $8,100.

Signalman Is Eligible For Money

A Belleville signalman will now be eligible for a pension when he reaches age thanks to an ordinance passed May 12 at the Town Commission meeting.

The ordinance, passed by a 5-0 vote, created the title of "lineman" in Belleville. Jack Ascott, Belleville signalman, will be given the new title, although there is no change to be made in his duties.

According to Civil Service rules, a signalman is not recognized as being eligible for pension, while a lineman is.

Commenting on why the Commission felt it was necessary for Ascott to be eligible for a pension, Mayor Kenneth Smith said "He is a man who would stay on this job and make it his life work, and we want to make the job attractive enough to keep him."

Evidently, the move had alot to do with the recent quitting of the previous signalman, Robert Gingarelli, who left the job to take a similar position with Bambergers in Newark.

Asked if Gingarelli quit because there was no pension involved, the Mayor said "I know for sure that he did just that."

Gingarelli had held the job for many years. Ascott, who is 24, can be expected to provide many years of service to the Town, according to the Mayor.

Adjacent Lot Finally Bought By Town Hall

The Town of Belleville has finally acquired the vacant lot next to Town Hall on Washington Avenue for the expansion of parking facilities, after a year of trying to agree on a price with the lots owner, Sam Morrow.

According to Mayor Kenneth Smith, the purchasing price of $23,000 was a compromise figure. Morrow was holding out for $25,000, well above the Town's original offer of $19,200, the assessed value of the land.

Belleville Soldier Killed In Vietnam During Enemy Fire

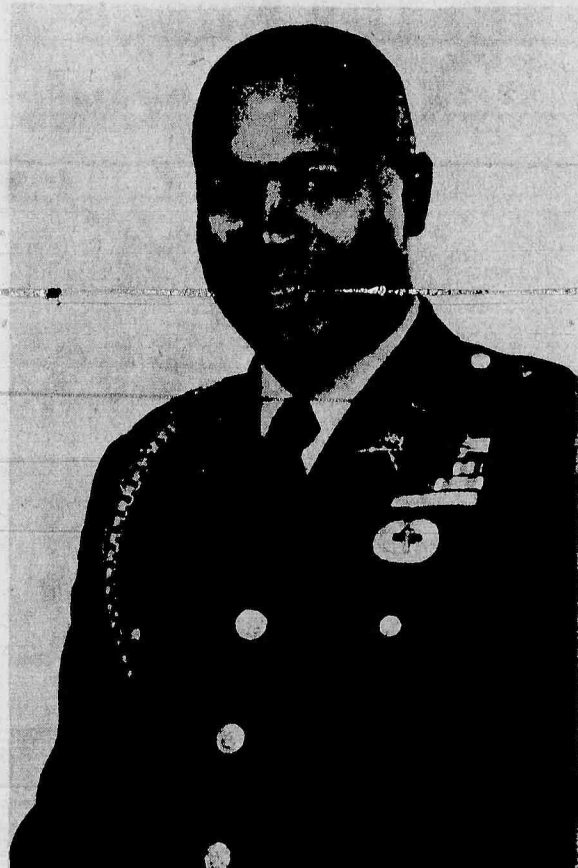

Lt. Col Alfred Barnes of 53 Ralph Street, Belleville, a 20-year career Army officer, was killed during an enemy rocket and mortar attack in Vietnam, May 12.

Lt. Col. Barnes had a personal dream fulfilled when he assumed command of a battalion two months ago. Mrs. Sadie R. Barnes, his wife, was notified by telegram of the overseas tragedy.

On March 15 Lt. Col. Barnes had taken command of the 5th Battalion, 46th Infantry, a position of which he was very proud, his wife said. "This is something that he had trained for all the years that he had been in the service," she said. "He had always been a commander and he felt that battalion commander was the complement to the rank of lieutenant colonel."

Mrs. Barnes added that her husband was very dedicated to the Army and felt very strongly that it was necessary to be in Vietnam. "I know that my husband was happy in his job and that he died happy in that sense," she said. "He believed that what

Belleville Democrats Aid Nutley's Carmen Orechio

By Phil White

Commissioner Carmen Orechio of Nutley — the first from his family to join ranks with the Democratic Party — has to be grateful to Belleville today, for if it weren't for the people in the Cherry Blossom Capital of N.J., Carmen wouldn't be one of the Democrats' two State Assembly candidates for the fall election.

Orechio's name was both nominated and supported by Democrats in Belleville.

Commissioner Mary Senatore lead the battle, and this spring, after a year of campaigning, she convinced the powers that be that the time had arrived for representation from the

Carmen A. Orechio

Belleville-Nutley area in the State Assembly.

Orechio, elected to the Nutley Board of Commissioners for the first time last May, is the only Democrat in his family, an unusual fact because his two brothers, Carl and Frank Orechio, both are dynamic figures within the Republican Party organization.

The youngest of the brothers, Carmen, grew up with only a passive interest in politics, much unlike others in his family who became involved in public affairs at early ages.

Carmen Orechio was away on business (he owns a travel

Belleville Public Library 'Story Hour' Stimulates Children's Reading Habits

A little boy started making donuts and found his room jammed with them when the donut machine refused to stop.

If this little boy's problem is occupying your child's mind, the chances are he's been to the Belleville Public Library lately.

The little boy's plight is part of a children's program sponsored by the library every Saturday morning, from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The hour is called "Children's Hour" and features the telling of children's stories with the aid of an audio-visual presentation. Once a month a movie hour is held in addition to the story time.

About 75 children at an average age of six years old turn out every Saturday to listen to Sandra DeMaio, a student at Paterson State College, tell them stories.

The program is coordinated by Betty Johnson, acting children's librarian, who feels the hour has been very beneficial to the library as well as the kids.

"The circulation of books improves noticeably," she reports, "when we have the hour. The kids usually take out about 50 books after the program."

"Story Hour," an audio-visual presentation, combines records with colored film strips. The film strips are usually 30 or 40 frames, and are made to illustrate the stories the records tell. Sandra accompanies the presentation with her own stories and usually plays games with the kids.

Currently, a series of "Jiminy Cricket" tales is being presented to the kids.

The kids are brought by their parents who usually go upstairs and browse in the adult section of the library. "Some of the mothers," the librarian reports, "just drop their kids at the library and go to the Shop Rite."

To make the presentations more comfortable for the kids, leather mats are placed on the floor.

The film strip series are usually adaptations of children's books. Every month one hour is set aside for a 16 millimeter movie, supplied from the Garden State Film circuit on loan from the Orange or Bloomfield public libraries.

CHILDREN'S HOUR — These are some of the 75 youngsters who turn out each Saturday morning to the Belleville Public Library for "Story Hour," a series of audio-visual presentations designed to stimulate children's reading interest.

Belmont Avenue Repaving To Be Done With State Aid

Plans are underway for a $75,000 reconstruction of Belmont Avenue from Newark Avenue to Franklin Avenue.

An ordinance authorizing the Town to finance the project was passed on first reading, 5-0, at the May 12 Commission meeting.

The Town's share of the cost will be $16,549, with the rest coming from State aid. The town will have to float bonds for the full $75,000, with reimbursement of $58,451 coming after completion of the project.

A previous ordinance, adopted on October 28, 1968, called for an appropriation of $52,000 for the job, but according to Town Engineer Peter Kiernan, the figure was found to be insufficient, and a second ordinance was needed.

The project calls for the complete excavation of the street's concrete because it has given way underneath.

BELMONT AVENUE PROJECT — Plans are underway for a $75,000 reconstruction of Belmont Avenue from Newark Avenue to Franklin Avenue. The commissioners passed an ordinance authorizing such a project at their May 12 meeting.

Strumolo Says 'I'm Here To Do A Job' When Asked About Commission

problems are my problems."
"It was a challenge to get into politics. Being a lifelong resident of the Silver Lake area, I felt a need to represent them."
"I'm here to do a job. I'm doing the job for the people, not myself."
His conception of himself as a public servant is classical in tradition. It is the image he likes to portray because it is the way he sincerely conceives of himself.

But there is another side to Vincent Strumolo, the side the newspapers play up. The man is a political loner, a fighter who once he gets himself involved in an issue, knows how and where to put the pressure.

Being the type of man he is, there have been many fights. He has split with the Commission on many occasions, and says he will continue to do so whenever the issue warrants it.

He has had a long political life with many ups and downs, being one of the few men in the State to have gone through seven elections in a ten year period. He says he will continue as long as he feels the need to represent the people of Belleville.

Born and raised in Belleville, the Commissioner feels a strong loyalty to the Town. In 1942 he graduated from high school and entered the Navy, being stationed in the Caribbean during World War II as a first class petty officer in the Commissary Department.

In 1946 he married another lifelong Belleville resident, Helen Petrillo. They took over his dad's business, and today he operates a restaurant and a food store.
In 1958, he took his first venture into politics, losing a bid for a Commission seat. He was elected first ward councilman in a runoff election in 1962.

In March of 1963 he had to run again because of a recall election involving himself, Bob Laterza and George Addonizio. The others lost while he was returned to office with a vote of confidence from the people.

A runoff election in May of 1963 saw him lose his councilman position to Robert Westby. Fighting back, he won an election for councilman-at-large in 1966.

Despite his position in the Belleville government, he campaigned for the change to the commission form of government. At election time, Times' publisher Frank Orechio said of Strumolo:

"Strumolo is unique. He worked hard to get elected last November. And January he worked just as hard in an effort he knew would summarize end his term in office. Strumolo's integrity is now a community legend."

Why did he work so hard for the change in government?

"My endorsement for the change back to the commission form of government was based on the fact that our citizens had lost contact with their elected officials under the council-management form.

"I felt being a commissioner one can pinpoint problems better. You can be an administrator and a legislator, whereas in the old form you were mostly just a legislator. This way the people know where to go. They now get better representation."

It is a wonder that the Commissioner finds time to be in politics, operating a butcher shop, a restaurant, spending four hours in the Public Affairs office, and being a member of numerous organizations. He is a member of all the veteran of foreign war posts, the Amvets, the manager of the board of directors of the Essex County Cancer Society, a trustee of the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association, and the head of the Vincent T. Strumolo Association, formed in 1957 to contribute to charity.

To date, the Commissioner has been involved in four fights. The first altercation came in 1967, when he was given the Public Affairs post. He had expected to be in charge of the Public Works Department, but the other commissioners, for various reasons which have never been clear, decided by a vote that he should not take that post.

"I feel that they may have been giving me the business," the Commissioner said, "but I'm not here to be an obstruction. I'm here to do a job. I've forgotten the incident."

The second fight resulted when he came at odds with the Commission over the issue of a full-time health officer. It took the Commissioner eight months to convince the other members of the Commission that his department needed a full-time man.

In 1960 there had been a full-time health officer, but when the commission form was adopted, there was none. By having a full-time health officer, the Commissioner points out, the Town has become eligible for some $17,000 in State funds. When he fought for the issue in 1967, Belleville was the only community in Essex County without a full-time man.

The "master plan" for Belleville was Commissioner Strumolo's next target. "I felt the people in the town didn't want it so I opposed it" he said. According to the Commissioner, the master plan would bring high rise apartments to Belleville, and he opposes this very strongly.

The last time he came to battle with the Commission was over the struggle of Registrar of Statistics Ralph Risoli to be recognized on the payroll as administrative clerk of the Public Affairs Department. Strumolo felt that Risoli was doing the job of an administrative clerk and "he should be paid accordingly. I'm only campaigning for what I feel the man deserves."

The Commissioner's next struggle appears to be shaping up over the issue of whether his department should have a new building.

At present, his department houses 15 employees in a cramped building which is over 100 years old. Four nurses occupy one 10 by 12 room.

Commissioner Senatore Helps Carmen Orechio agency) when his brother Carl decided not to seek a new term on the Nutley Commission. When Carmen returned, the suggestion was made that he seek his brother's vacant seat. "It was a spontaneous decision on my part in deciding to run," he recalled this week.

And from a "spontaneous" beginning, Orechio came through with a spectacular ending by capturing third spot in the Commission election last May in neighboring Nutley. Many figured he wouldn't be in the finish at all, contending his campaign was loaded with political errors. During the campaign, Orechio was both admired and admonished because of his straightforward positions spoken on town issues.

Even though his early years found a passive interest in politics, Orechio has always been what he calls "assertively independent". He became a registered Democrat against the wishes of his family.

"I'm a Democrat because the Democratic philosophy is more reflective of my own personal beliefs," he says.

And when Carmen Orechio became a Democrat, he had no thoughts at all about being anything but a citizen voter in the future.

"If I thought I might become even remotely involved in politics when I finished college, I probably would have become a Republican because my brothers were already involved in that party. But I did what I believed and that was to vote as a Democrat. I was an admirer of Adlai Stevenson and John Kennedy."

About three years ago, Orechio became a Democratic County Committeeman in his home town. That is one of those posts that can go to just about anyone who gets along with the respective town political leaders. But after last year's Primary, Orechio's name was nominated for Democratic Town Leader. He lost that internal election to veteran Nutley Democratic Town Chairman George McDonough, by a 21-17 vote but from that point on, Orechio's position within the Democratic party structure was more than merely citizen-voter.

Today, Orechio looks back at the contest with McDonough as "a friendly political battle." McDonough doesn't seem to have any hard feelings either for it was he who joined with Belleville Commissioner Mary Senatore in placing Orechio's name before the Democratic Screening Committee as a potential Assembly candidate.

Commissioner Senatore and McDonough first suggested that Carmen run for the Assembly more than a year ago. "That was not really taken seriously," Orechio says today. "The Democrats from the suburban Essex area wanted representation and placing my name in nomination served to further that objective."

But this year, when Commissioner Senatore and McDonough joined again in offering Orechio's name to the Screening Committee, the suggestion was taken for real. As the Screening

Newark Man Fined On Assault Charge

$200 in fines were levied on a Newark man for using profane language and striking a Belleville police officer. Anthony Capaccio, of 18 Parker Street, pleaded guilty to the charges filed by Patrolman Joseph Mulvihill. Capaccio pleaded for leniency, saying he had no previous police record.

Judge Edward Abramson, in last Thursday's Municipal Court, found Capaccio guilty on both charges, fining $50 for using profane language and $150 on the assault and battery charge.

SANDMAN ON ORGANIZED CRIME

"A Bad New Jersey Reputation! Help Me Restore Her Dignity and Pride!"

FOR GOVERNOR

Elect SANDMAN

Tuesday, June 3, vote Republican Line F

Republican Congressman Sandman's Congressional colleagues kid him about New Jersey's reputation for being the "home office" for organized crime mobsters.

As Governor, Sandman promises to put an end to this disreputable state standing by appointing a tough crime-busting Attorney General and 21 brand new Prosecutors.

Vote Sandman Governor — The No Income Tax Man

Elect SANDMAN

Tuesday, June 3, vote Republican Line F

SANDMAN SUPPORTED — Nutley attorney Robert J. Citrino Jr. (left), himself a Congressional candidate last year on the Reform Republican ticket, this week endorsed Rep. Charles W. Sandman's bid for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in the June 3 Primary. Citrino, former town attorney here, said he was particularly pleased with Sandman's strong no-state-income-tax pledge and the Congressman's desire to upgrade law and order in urban areas.

Committee met this spring, its members also had evidence that Orechio was, in fact, "assertively independent" from his Republican-oriented brothers. Moreover, the reasoning went that Carmen Orechio had proven ability to get votes by finishing third high man at the Nutley Commission polls and after a campaign that was conducted the way Carmen wanted it run despite the advice offered by his family and friends.

"I have always spoken out on issues and have made my opinion known," Orechio said. His quotation is accurate to the present day, nearly a year after he was elected to the Nutley Board. But when Orechio began speaking his mind during the campaign last spring, he had many of his relatives and friends worried that he was willfully permitting chances for his election to go down the drain.

One of the issues, during the Nutley campaign, for example, was for a paid fire chief. Nutley had and still presently administers the Fire Department with a volunteer chief. Orechio believed the town needed a paid chief. When he began campaigning along that line, friends pointed out that he should temper his remarks.

"By hammering this paid issue, all you can hope to is gain 30 votes from the paid firemen while risking the loss of hundreds of votes from the volunteers and their families," a campaign advisor told the novice candidate.

Orechio continued campaigning for the paid chief. He also picked up a controversial loitering ordinance as a campaign point. That was touchy because the only friends he seemed to make on that issue were teenagers who couldn't vote.

Another indication of Orechio's "assertive independence" came one morning when he walked into his campaign headquarters to discover about a dozen volunteers stuffing envelopes with a brochure that had been prepared by one of his brothers. Carmen looked at the brochure for the first time that morning, didn't like it and threw all the envelopes into the waste basket. He told his campaign workers he didn't care what his brothers told them to do. "This is my campaign and I'm going to run it my way." And he did.

Since last May when a political hassle with the Commission incumbents resulted with Orechio's being assigned to the Public Affairs Department — a spot usually reserved for the low-man on the political totempole — Carmen has continued to speak his mind.

Only last week, one of the out-of-town newspaper reporters covering Town Hall made a casual remark that the only one in Nutley who would give him a straight answer "no matter what the issue was" — was Carmen Orechio.

He still doesn't seem to be concerned with what his friends think he should do. The swimming pool question which has been in debate in recent months is an issue which really can't be classified as popular or unpopular throughout the town at large, but in Orechio's home neighborhood — Avondale — the prospects of the recreational complex at Msgr. Owens Park has faced its most bitter opposition.

Cities Discussed At Local Meeting

The project called "Model Cities" is the strongest attempt thus far at solving the problems of our blighted urban areas, according to James W. Shue, guest speaker at the Belleville Community Service Council annual dinner meeting held on May 5, at the Galaxy Caterers, Belleville.

Shue, director of the New Jersey Model Cities Program, emphasized that the strength of this program lies in its heavy concentration of public and private cooperative efforts in the urban rehabilitation process.

Model Cities aims at mobilizing total community involvement with large representation of persons from the designated model neighborhood. These elected community representatives define their most urgent local problems.

Projects aimed at solving these problems are submitted to various State and Federal agencies for review and financing.

Shue noted that many large urban communities see the education system as an out-moded, over-crowded and unproductive vehicle for preparing youngsters for institutions of higher learning or profitable careers.

Other communities are concentrating their efforts on solving housing and employment problems and finding ways to improve the delivery of social services.

New officers elected were: The Rev. John Mair, council chairman; Ralph A. Casale, vice-chairman; and Mrs. Lenora R. Keeney, vice-chairman.

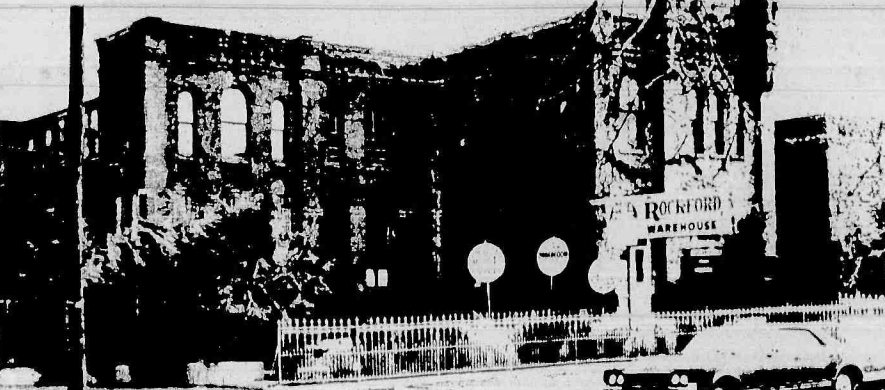

Police Jail Local Man For No Narcotics Card

Failing to register as a narcotics user cost a young Belleville man a stiff jail term. Thomas Hicks, of 7 Crescent Terrace, was sentenced to three months in the Essex County Penitentiary by Judge Edward Abramson in last Thursday's Criminal Court.

Judge Abramson was levying the stiff sentence because Hicks had a prior police record in Passaic and Essex Counties. Hicks is on a three years probation in Clifton, for a breaking and entering charge.

Nixon and Errors

A refreshing example of humbleness and honesty recently emerged from the White House. President Richard Nixon told assembled scientists he had made a mistake in denying a prominent Cornell scientist the directorship of the National Science Foundation.

The President earlier disapproved of the scientist, Dr. Franklin Long, because he opposed construction of an anti-ballistics missile system in the United States. Traditionally, this appointment is made on a non-political basis upon recommendations from members of the National Academy of Sciences, the National Science Foundation and others.

Mr. Nixon's position on Dr. Long stirred a reaction among scientists who support the principle that the National Science Foundation should be non-political. In considering the reaction, Nixon concluded it was valid and reportedly offered to reconsider if Dr. Long's name was resubmitted. Long is said to have declined.

The important point in this episode for Americans is the clear evidence that the chief of state of the republic is honest enough to admit mistakes, rather soon after the event, humble enough to publicly admit as much and offer to reverse an earlier decision.

Last Queen Arrives?

The Queen Elizabeth 2 arrived earlier this month in New York and the New York Times quoted harbor and Cunard officials as saying they had never before seen such a welcome as that which greeted the new superliner.

Tiny pleasure craft, excursion boats, ferries, harbor craft and tugs led the parade of welcome which outdid anything the new sea giant had seen in Britain. It was estimated that a hundred and fifty vessels tooted a welcome and joined in the gala welcome.

Why such a commotion over the latest ocean liner? The answer is somewhat melancholy, in a sense. Practically all shipping officials think the new Queen is the last passenger ship of her dimensions and cost that will ever be built.

But then this is only an estimate. It is based on statistics which show air travel across the Atlantic has continued to increase while sea traffic has steadily declined. If the trend continues to its logical end, there will be no more sea crossings. The new Queen may be, then, the last of a breed. And there will never again be such a welcome for a ship.

Cunard, and other lines to a lesser extent, are cognizant of the future such charts foretell. The Queen Elizabeth 2 is Cunard's experiment in a concept of floating an amusement center or resort city across the ocean.

This is the hope for many lovers of the sea and sea crossings, salts who can't face the prospect of an end to sea crossings on great luxury liners — and who like four days of fun and games and social life on the way. Thus Queen Elizabeth 2 is their hope in an historical sense.

The American SST

One of the decisions facing President Nixon which has not received as much publicity in recent weeks as certain others is that concerning the supersonic transport, an advanced airliner the government and U.S. industry has been working on for some eight years.

The SST which would be built in this country, if the President gives the green-light for a continuation of the program, would be a major advance over the Soviet TU-144 and the British-French Concorde, both already flying as test models. Partly because of the nation's preoccupation and enormous expenditure in Vietnam, the Russians, and the British and French, have gained a considerable lead over U.S. industry in the supersonic field.

In recent days critics of the SST program have expressed disappointment over rising cost, delays and other problems facing the program.

Despite these criticisms, the reasons for going forward with the SST program are overwhelming. If U.S. industry does not build an SST, U.S. airlines will be forced to buy these supersonic jets of the future from foreign builders, upsetting the already precarious U.S. balance of payments. The supersonic aircraft will also be of vital importance to the military services.

Eventually the U.S. will have to build a supersonic airliner in any event, since they are undoubtedly the aircraft of the future. If the present project is abandoned, it will be more costly to begin again at a later date and in the meantime many skilled technicians and specialists currently working on the program, and who have been for years, will have been dispersed or lost permanently to the industry.

The projected cost, while painful, is not prohibitive. For two prototypes the estimated cost is $1.3 billion (the manufacturer paying a part of this). The estimated world market for the U.S. SST by 1990 is estimated at 500. If over half of these are sold to foreign airlines, the American taxpayer will regain the total government cost through taxes.

Thus President Nixon really has no alternative but to proceed with the U.S. supersonic project. The cost to the nation in abandoning it would likely be greater than in its continuation and defense and balance of payment considerations argue strongly in favor of continuing the project.

Notes On Wine

The California wine industry, through some of its leading figures, is currently commiserating with French and German producers because of the bad year suffered by Europeans in 1968. Some of the articles inspired by U.S. wine interests claim American wines are fast coming up in the world, which is partly true at least.

The average American has often read that his country's wines are not yet equal in quality to the best of France, Germany, Italy, etc. His natural reaction is to ask why Americans can't produce wine as good as that anywhere in the world.

Few understand the situation, the real reason American wines are not yet on a par with European wines. One of the reasons is that there is an annual floor tax in this country, which practically eliminates long-term storage and aging, so necessary in the case of red wines such as burgandies.

In England wine houses which have traditionally stored customers' purchases as a matter of long policy are growing fewer and fewer and therefore it is getting more difficult for those without a cellar to develop the best reds, which usually need at least eight or ten years of aging and which often should not be drunk young.

American wine sellers, even those who know wine, do not store annual purchases of customers, of course, and since wine producers in the U.S. do not age it any length of time, the only way for American wine to age properly (some varieties require no aging) is for the drinker to have his own wine cellar. Then he might, ten or twenty years hence, have some really great American wines on hand.

achieve full power in 30 seconds and can reverse gears simply by pushing a button.

Since two of the major U.S. automobile manufacturers are experimenting with steam, and since modern steam engines are now being built and installed in police cars in California, a popular steam-engine car seems nearer to reality than at any other time in the past fifty years. Water being cheaper than gasoline, it offers intriguing possibilities.

Voters Are Unsure About State Race

Question: What do you think of this years gubernatorial races?

Nicholas DiNapoli — 21 Carpenter Terrace, Belleville

I really don't know that much about it. I'd have to personally hear what the man says to know if I would vote for him. I would have to like what he says to form a just opinion. I would vote for the man that had the best integration policy. I had a potential student call me up the other day (I own the Ju Jitsu Club of Belleville) and she asked me if my business took Negro clients. Do you know what my answer was? I replied to her, "How do you know you're not speaking with a Negro?"

I think I'm going to vote for the Republican candidate.

William Beebe 271 Linden Avenue, Belleville

Well, I don't know, more or less. You caught me by surprise. I'd vote for the candidate that stands for reform. Personally, I think the whole country could stand a little reform. The candidate I would vote for would have to cut down on the taxes, such as the sales tax. I don't think that did any good. The government should be more economical. There should be more investigations into the use of our tax money. Did you know that in Essex County 21% of the tax money goes into welfare costs? I would vote for a candidate that stood for all these things. He could be either democratic or republican.

Adrienne Hasal 197 Stephens Street, Belleville

Personally, I hope Meynor gets the Democratic nomination. He was governor once before and I like the job he did. He passed good bills. I'm registered Democrat and I think the Democrats have done a good job in New Jersey.

He's the one who put the Education Bond through. I've always voted. I think it's a citizens duty to vote.

My parents and I get out and vote in every election. We even try to get everyone in our neighborhood to come out and vote.

Helen Stutz 32 Howard Place, Belleville

I haven't given it much thought yet. I really have to think about it. I've always been a Democrat. I think Hughes was pretty good but I wouldn't want Meynor to get in again. He was governor already. I'd like to see someone new in the job. I voted for Hughes, and I would vote for Hughes again. It's a shame he can't run for office again. I vote a straight Democratic ticket and I'd vote straight Democratic again.

Citizens Shortchanged Says Local Resident

To the Editor:

This is a note of congratulations to all the great Reform Republicans. I want to say how proud I am to have been associated with you in the past few years. I, as an active member of the group called the Reform Movement, feel I have this right.

Now that the Party is once again united and all our goals have been accomplished, what next? We have twice as many bosses and created a bigger monster.

Your true colors are flying high.

The good citizens need only to read their daily papers to find out what is really happening.

It is one concession after another. You have all received your new titles and positions. I must admit that this has been done at the expense of the good citizens of Essex County. We have once again been shortchanged.

Yours truly,

Steam Automobiles

In California some state police cars are being equipped with steam engines. The builder says they develop 300 horsepower and can achieve 130 m.p.h. Californians are intensely interested in steam cars because they might be the answer to the growing smog problem.

The steam car isn't new, of course. The old-time Stanley Steamer was chugging about half a century ago. But today's steam engines bear little resemblance to this old classic. There's little fire danger, you can

Mayor Kenneth Smith has declared the week beginning May 18 to be set aside as "Automatic Merchandising Week."

In a prepared proclamation the Mayor called upon "citizens to recognize and salute the many improvements which the vending industry has made and continues to make in response to the need of this community."

In his official statement, Mayor Smith said that "automatic vending services have become an important part of modern-day retailing and personal service in our community by providing an efficient and useful means of serving high-quality foods, beverages and other articles to employees of commercial establishments and to the general public."

Giving his reasons for the proclamation, the Mayor stated that "the growth and prosperity of the automatic vending industry is closely aligned with the economic welfare of our community."

"Why is it that most people get so excited over nothing?"

Belleville Pair Is Arrested For Shoplifting

Two Belleville teenagers were arrested last Thursday at Bradlee's department store, Clifton, on shoplifting charges.

The two are Henry F. Sisbarro, 18, of 208 Passaic Avenue, and a 16 year old juvenile.

A security guard at the store stopped the pair after he charged they had switched price tags on a tachometer and a jig saw.

The guard told police the youths paid the false lowered price on the items. Sisbarro was released on $100 bail and the juvenile was put in the custody of his parents.

Besides Dailey, the group included Robert Williams, executive vice president; Clarence Lommerin, director; and Gus Plenge, Jr., vice president and director.

They attended workshop sessions that discussed bank protection regulations; truth in lending; common operating problems; and reserve and liquidity requirements.

Dailey said that the matters under consideration were of broad economic concern to DeWitt Savings and had far-reaching impact on the savings and loan business in the promotion of thrift and home ownership.

The sweet young things will look prettier than seven this summer, which means that the young men will have little, or no, defense.

In June 1950, he accompanied the first contingent of American troops into Korea and in the ensuing year participated in five major campaigns as platoon leader and rifle company commander. During the conflict he received seven citations which included the Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Bronze Star with two Oak Leaf Clusters, the Purple Heart and the Korean Presidential Citation.

Upon returning to the United States in June 1951, Lt. Col. Barnes spent two years with the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., and two years in the 1st Army area, which includes New York and the New England states.

After completion of the infantry officers' advanced course in 1955, Lt. Col. Barnes was attached to the 10th Mountain Division at Ft. Riley, Kan., where he was a rifle company commander. The unit was sent to Europe for a three-year tour of duty which was cut short for Lt.

Col. Barnes when he was injured in an auto accident in 1956. He was brought back to the United States and spent the next nine months in an Army hospital in Valley Forge, Pa.

The 42-year old soldier was station commander in the Army Personnel Center at Ft. Dix, for three years before returning to Europe for a four-year tour of duty during which he was promoted to major in 1962.

In 1964 he became an assistant professor military science at Virginia State College, Petersburg, Va., and headed that department at Norfolk State College, Norfolk, Va., in 1965.

Seek Europe

Local Bowlers Enter Tourney

Three of the most important games that Bruce Bray and Ann Cialliella will ever bowl will take place on Friday, May 30, at Brunswick River Bowl Lanes in Bethesda, Md.

Bray, who lives at 55 Division Ave., Belleville, and Mrs. Cialliella, 61 Lloyd Place Belleville, will be competing that day against 364 other bowlers from all over the United States and Canada for the top prizes in Brunswick's third annual "Bowl Your Way to Europe" tournament.

The two local bowlers are representing Brunswick Olympic Bowl in the national finals of the tournament being held in the Washington, D.C. suburb.

Each of the finalists, representing 182 establishments operated by Brunswick's Bowling Division, will bowl three games on May 30.

The man and woman scoring the most pins over his or her average in a single game will be declared national champions and each receives an all expense paid trip for two to Europe this summer. Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded to runner-ups in each division.

Ben Brainer, manager of Brunswick Olympic Bowl, outlined the schedule of events planned for the two local champions in the nation's capitol.

"Most of the bowlers will be arriving in Washington on May 29 via United Air Lines," Brainer said.

"They will check into the Washington Hilton Hotel, where they'll receive instructions and the specially designed bowling shirts they'll wear in the tournament."

On May 30, the bowlers will be transported to Bethesda for the actual competition, which begins at 10 a.m. Brunswick River Bowl has 48 Gold Crown Lanes equipped with Brunswick's A-2 Automatic Pin-setters.

In the evening, the two winners will be presented trophies and awarded a one week expense paid vacation for two to Europe at the Grand Awards Banquet to be held in the hotel's Presidential Ballroom.

Chief Halloway, full blooded Seneca Indian, Brunswick star bowler and TV personality, will act as master of ceremonies at the dinner. Dr. Tom Haggai, nationally known lecturer, will be the featured speaker of the evening.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

The latest gimmick in advertising is a "back door sale", "private sale", "mid-night sale" or similar expression, making it appear as if something special is being offered. This, of course, is generally not the case.

Nobody can stay in business giving things away, this is obvious. A merchant has to recover the cost of the merchandise. Also there is a certain amount of "overhead" cost like rent, salaries, electric etc. etc. This together with, if possible - a small profit so the owner of the store can live, determines the selling price for the merchandise.

It is clear that this does not leave too great a margin to cut off the price, since the market is extremely competitive.

The writer has gone to several of these "special event" sales and in many cases, it turned out to be a "cats and dogs" sale of floor models, left over one of a kind, discontinued models and such sales. Everybody likes a bargain and usually in expectation of this, quite a few people turn up for these "events". There is a certain kind of excitement and strange as it seems, under these conditions, coupled with high pressure selling methods like "this is the last one" and such, many people forget some of their usual caution. It is true that prices on many items have been lowered, but they would have been lowered anyway in the normal course of doing business. If you know exactly what you want, you may save a few dollars, once in a while, at these sales. However, as pointed out above, a merchant will always try his best to mark down as little as he can get away with.

"We service what we sell."

Crew coach Mike Lally's JV 8 that he will send to the JV Nationals in Washington, D.C. this weekend, lost to the Arlington High School Varsity crew last Saturday on the Passaic by five seconds.

The JV 8 consists of the eight best oarsmen on the team that are under 17 years, 9 months old by the date of the race. They will leave Friday and spend the night in the Capital. Saturday they will face some of the crews they faced at the Poughkeepsie Regatta, Roosevelt High, Holy Spirit and Arlington JV shells. In the JV 8 are Frank Marano, Bow; Alan De Feo, 2; Jim Drexler, 3; Dick Beresford, 4; John Atherton, 5; Roy Newman, 6; Pete Faltraco, 7; Scotty Fabian, Stroke; and Steve Taffet, Coxswain.

Arlington's JV shell beat what was left of the JV Bellboys by 7 seconds. The JV 8 getting ready for the nationals feel that they really want to win it and that they're the best Belleville has ever put into the Nationals.

Belleville Post 105's American Legion Baseball Team held its first tryout last Sunday at the Stadium, and another is planned for next week.

The coaches, Charlie Craig and Frank Papisadero, will count heavily on three boys who played last year and are returning from college to play again this year. They are Tony Cervasio, Bill Oxley and Roy Boyce. The pitching staff will probably include Belleville High students Rich Schulz, Bob Giordano and Ted Del Guercio. Looking on the large number of boys that showed up Sunday, the coaches feel these boys will provide a good nucleus for the team.

The season will start on June ninth when the Belleville Post will face Vailsburg at the stadium.

The golf team lost to Irvington on Friday, 12 1/2 to 7 1/2. The score might have been closer but they had to forfeit one of the matches because they only had five golfers.

The team will face Kearny tomorrow, and hopes of raising Belleville's 4-8 record are high, especially since the golfers beat the Cardinals earlier last week, 14-4. Against the Kards, Belleville only lost one half of a foursome as Kevin Stanton lost 3-0. Gary Trainor won his round, 3-0, as did Brian Hammond, Al Marschuetz, and Lou DeFroschia. Anthony Nocera also won his match 2-1.

West Orange Cowboys Corral Belleville Nine

By Marc Feldman

The West Orange Cowboys, paced by the two-hit pitching of Bob Roelke, defeated Belleville, 3-1 on May 13 at Colgate Field, West Orange.

Roelke, who was the victim of Bob Giordano's one-hitter, April 23, allowed only two hits, while striking out nine and walking three. His season record is now three up and four down.

Belleville's two hits were contributed by Joe Ritacco, in the sixth, and Carl Corino, in the seventh. The first three innings were a scoreless pitcher's duel between Roelke and Belleville starter and loser Rich Schulz.

In the fourth inning, West Orange scored two runs when Pete Heiman walked, went to second on a single by Bob Nack, and to third as Mark Zablow reached first on a fielder's choice. Heiman scored on Joe Murphy's single as Zablow went to second. Then pitcher Bob Roelke stroked a single to left, to drive in Zablow. The rally ended when Murphy was cut down at third on a throw from Ed Pimentel to Joe Papisadero.

The Cowboys scored again in the fifth when All-State second baseman Richie Max led off with a walk, and advanced a base on a bunt single by Pete Karavaris. Max went to third on a fielder's choice and scored on an infield out.

Belleville got on the scoreboard in both the hit and run department in the sixth when John Goscinski walked and took second as Ed Pimentel grounded to short. He scored on Joe Ritacco's single up the middle.

In the final frame, Carl Corino beat out an infield hit, leading off the inning, but he was unable to advance further than second base.

Belleville's Big Ten record fell to 4-8-1 and overall mark to 6-9-1. This was West Orange's fourth victory of the year against a dozen losses.

Bellboys Split Two

Rival Nutley Falls To Belleville Nine

By Marc Feldman

The Belleville varsity baseball team beat Nutley for the fourth straight time in varsity competition last Saturday afternoon, 5-4, at the Nutley Park Oval.

Rich Schulz was the winning pitcher for the fourth time this season, against six defeats. He beat Nutley in the teams' previous encounter on April 8, by the score of 1-0. Schulz also triumphed over the Maroon Raiders last year, to finish his varsity career 3-0 against the Bellboys' arch rival.

Jeff Bouton pitched an excellent ball game for Nutley. He struck out sixteen Bellboys, all in the first six innings, and at one point, he put ten batters in a row down on strikes.

John Goscinski was the batting star for Belleville as he hit a two-run homer in the sixth, knocked in the winning tally in the eighth, and stole two bases en route to Belleville's first run in the opening inning.

Nutley also had its stars at the plate. Tom Falduto stroked two hits in five trips and scored three of Nutley's four runs. Leftfielder Bob Hill had four hits but they did little damage because they came with no men on base.

The Raiders had many opportunities to score as they pounded out eleven hits and received seven bases on balls. However, they were inept in the clutch, leaving two men on base six times, and a total of fourteen in the game.

John Goscinski led off the game with a walk and promptly stole second base. Then he pilfered third and scored as catcher Nick Pasquale overthrew third baseman, Tom Falduto.

The Belleville lead didn't last long as Nutley came up with two runs in their half of the first off starter. Bob Giordano. Joe DiGiacomo reached first on Frank Fury's error and after Neil Auricchio struck out, Giordano walked Greg Clarke. Tom Falduto singled to center driving in DiGiacomo, but the back of the Nuts, as they were broken when Clarke was out at third. Then Nick Pasquale singled Falduto to third, who scored on a fielder's choice.

Greg Clarke opened the Nutley third with a double but he was erased at third base on Joe Papisadero's throw to John Goscinski as Tom Falduto reached first. He proceeded to steal second and went to third on Joe Vitiello's throwing error. Nick Pasquale singled to left to give Nutley the run and a 3-1 lead after three innings.

Meanwhile, Belleville was being handcuffed by Jeff Bouton, who did not allow a base hit until the sixth inning. In fact, the Bellboys had hit the ball in fair territory only twice in five innings, both fly balls to center field.

Belleville broke the ice in the sixth inning when Rich Schulz poked a double into right field. Then John Goscinski walloped his homer into the deepest part of the Oval, right-center field, to knot the score at three.

The Bellboys took the lead in the top half of the seventh when Joe Ritacco beat out an infield hit and was sacrificed to second by Ed Pimentel. Then Ray "Soupy" Campbell belted Bouton's offering to deep right field for a triple. Campbell tried to stretch it into a home run, but he was thrown out at the plate.

Nutley came back in the bottom of the inning to tie the score 4-4. Neil Auricchio walked and went to second on Tom Falduto's single. However, when Joe Papisadero muffed a flip to Ray Campbell at second for a force play, Auricchio tried to score but "Soupy" threw him out at the plate. Falduto wound up at third and scored on Jim Di Libero's single.

Belleville scored the deciding run of the game in the eighth inning when Joe Papisadero walked and advanced a base on Jeff Bouton's throwing error. He moved to third on a sacrifice bunt by Rich Schulz and scored easily on John Goscinski's long single to right field, his third RBI of the day, and eleventh of the season.

Nutley loaded the bases on a hit and two walks in the eighth with one out. But Greg Clarke grounded back to the pitcher, who threw to catcher Joe Vitiello for the force play. Tom Falduto ended the threat when he flied out to right field. In the ninth inning, Nutley had runners on first and second with two outs, but pinch hitter Nick Franks grounded back to Schulz to end the game.

Both Schulz and Bouton's records are four up and six down. Nutley is 6-9-1 and Belleville moved up to 7-9-1.

Defeat West Orange As Field Men Score Heavily

At Last: Belleville Trackmen Score First Victory

By John McCarthy

The Belleville High Track team got its first win of the season as they beat West Orange 71-45. The fieldmen as usual came through with a wide margin as they won their 5 events 33-11. This turned out to be the deciding score as the cindermen edged out W.O. 38-34.

Vic Squitieri continued to be the team's high scorer. Vic took 3 first place, in the 100 yd dash, the low hurdles, and the discus. Vic's total points now stand at 78 1/2, the most for any Bellboy this year.

Mark Bradley got two firsts for the second time as Mark led the field of runners in both events, the 440 and the 320. Mark was 2.4 seconds ahead of the W. O. runner in 440 and .6 second ahead of second place W. O. runner in the 320.

George Riepe again took a first place in the pole vault. This was the ninth time in a row that George took a first place in a dual meet.

The meet started off with a 9-0 sweep for West Orange in the high hurdles, but the Bell-boys bounced back with a 9-0 sweep in the hundred. Vic Squitieri, Sonny Giordano and Doug Brown were 1, 2, and 3, with times of 10.5, 11.0 and 11.5 respectively.

In the mile, W. O. won 5-4 to make the score 14-13. Tom Hoffman (WO) was first with 4:57. Mike Ventura of Belleville was second with 5:03 and John McCarthy was third.

Mark Bradley got a place in front in the 400 but he was the only Bellboy in the top three. Mark turned a time in of 54.2 seconds and Al Samson and Bruce Ramstand, were second and third with times of 56.6 and 57.7 seconds respectively.

Vic Squitieri and Ricky Caruso were first and third in low hurdles to break the 18-18 tie. Vic was first with 16.1 seconds, Ira Robbins (WO) was second with 16.8, and Ricky was third with 17.8.

In the two mile, Bob Forrest was first but West Orange took second and third to make the score 29-25. Red was first with 10:50 and the WO runners were second and third with 11:37 and 12:21. W.O. made it even tighter as they took the 880 6-3 to make the score 32-31 with Belleville on top. Lou Dalcero was the lone Belleville scorer as he was second.

Mark Bradley's second first place was in the 220 as he and Ricky Caruso made the score 38-34 with a 6-3 win. Mark's time was 24.1 second, Tom Murphy was second with 24.7 and Ricky was third with 24.91.

In the 5 field events Belleville took 5 first places and swept two of the events, the high jump and the shot put. George Riepe cleared 11'0" for a first in the pole vault and Joe Block (WO) was second with 10'6". There was no third place as West Orange only had one vaulter and Belleville's other vaulter, Charley Eccles, is out with injuries.

Belleville's sweep of the high jump occurred as all of Belleville's jumpers cleared 5'4" and West Orange couldn't clear 5'2".

Big Lew Burrel was awarded the first as he had the fewest missed and Bob Baker and Doug Brown were tied for second.

Vic Squitieri was first in the discus and was the only Bellboy scorer. Vic threw the disc 115'10" and WO took a close second and third with 114'6" and 111'4".

Ralph Sallerno, Mike Alber-

time, and James Wille were first second and third, as Belleville swept the shot put. Ralph's shot was 42'5" Mike's was 38'5" and Wille's 36'10"

Golf Tourney Begins May 30

Time is running out for those who wish to enter the 31st Annual Belleville Golf Tournament with May 30 being the closing date for applications. The Tournament, this year, is being held on June 7, at the Florham Park Country Club. A bigger-than-ever event is expected after the successes of the past two tournaments.

Many prizes and trophies will be there for the winning. Most coveted will be the big Recreation Department Trophy for the Town Championship and the runner-up trophy based on the low gross scored by Belleville residents.

There will also be trophies for the low gross scored by visitors. On a handicap basis there will be three flights with a Commissioner's trophy for each, the Commissioner McGreevey trophy for "A" Flight, the Commissioner Senatore Trophy for "B" Flight, and the Commissioner Strumolo trophy for "C" Flight. Runners-up in each flight will also receive trophies.

In yet another division of the Belleville Tournament the Mayor Kenneth D. Smith trophy will go to the Town employee with the lowest gross score. Commissioner Cullen's trophy will go to the Town employee with the lowest net score.

Among the special events of the tournament will be contests for the longest drive, closest-to-the-pin, most threes, most fours and most fives, and, of course, the Duffer's Award. There will also be the traditional Sweepstakes.

Girl Scout Camps Reasonable, Fun

Well-rated resident summer camps of the private type all have many good features in common. Most are approved by the American Camping Association as to health standards, etc. It's adventure, learning, education, and friend-making opportunities when kids go to camp.

With few exceptions, camps everywhere offer opportunities for children and young adults to explore the world of nature, touch things they may have only talked about at school or home, or never known at all.

Girl Scout Camps of Greater Essex County Council offer all this and more. While most private camp costs are soaring, with or without broad-scope programs, Girl Scout camps have not increased costs much at all in the past several years, and they are increasing the quality and variety of intensive, special programs.

A one-week session can be had, for example, at Camp Kalmia, in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains, Blairstown, for as little as $45, or a 13-day experience is about $85. for a Girl Scout, or $95 for a non-Scout. Any girl is welcome to register.

Girls from 7-17 can attend any of the three resident camps; Madeleine Mulford in the pines of the Pocono Mountains, Dingman's Ferry, Pa.; Eagle Island, a 30-acre island camp at Upper Saranac Lake, N.Y.; and Kalmia, as mentioned. About 1,730 campers can be accommodated at the summer camps during the season.

As is the custom of the Greater Essex Girl Scout Council, several foreign counselors, who are Girl Scouts from countries such as Austria, France, West Germany, Denmark, and Sweden, are employed, and share cultural interests and customs with girls of the U.S.A. for adventure, fun and learning.

Mrs. Margaret Goeringer, Nutley, will be camp director at Eagle Island Camp and Peggy Booze, Ohio, assistant director. Janet Rose, Bloomfield, will be director at Camp Kalmia, with Mrs. Gretchen Braunwarth, Summit, assistant director. Jo Ann Weekly, Missouri, directs at Camp Madeleine Mulford, assisted by Joan Smith, Medford Lakes.

For detailed information, call the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County, 120 Valley Road, Montclair (746-8200), or contact your local Girl Scout adult volunteer.

Girl Scout Troop 950 Travels To Boston for Pleasure, Learning

During spring vacation, Girl Scout Troop 950, Christ Church Belleville, under the leadership of Mrs. E. Cypolski and Miss D. Minker went on a combination pleasure and educational trip to Boston, Mass. Thirty-one girls and eight adults earned the money for this trip by saving newspapers during the past year.

The travelers stayed at the Charter House Motel, Newton, Mass., just outside the city of Boston, where they enjoyed the culinary art of the motel's French chef.

During the first day, the girls visited Mystic Seaport, Conn., a reconstructed whaling town, and the Plymouth Plantation and Rock. In the evening they became skywalkers when they visited the Prudential Building in "new" Boston, and traveled by elevator to its 50th floor to view Boston and the surrounding areas.

Important events of the second day were a visit to the Christian Science Publishing Building where they went inside a huge globe of the world made of stained glass, and the visit to the Botanical Gardens of Harvard University to view a rare collection of glass flowers. A tour aboard the U.S.S. Constitution was also a highlight of the day. The itinerary for the day followed the route of Paul Revere's famous ride, now known as the Freedom Trail.

The last day was spent in a tour of Sturbridge Village, Mass., where each girl was given the opportunity to try their skills at candle-dipping and spinning yarn. They all did pretty well, but agreed it was a hard way to live.

The bus driver, Dave, became a favorite of all the girls by being so pleasant and helpful throughout the entire trip, with his points of interest and undying humor.

The Troop members want to thank all the residents of Belleville and their friends who helped in the paper collections which made the trip possible.

Association For Retarded Meets Tonight

Dr. Richard Weber, an associate professor of music at Trenton State College will be the featured guest speaker at the May Membership Meeting of the Essex Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, to be held this evening, at Glen Ridge Congregational Church, 195 Ridgewood Avenue, Glen Ridge at 8:00 p.m.

Dr. Weber is a nationally known figure in teaching and mentally retarded. As an instrumental instructor in Illinois, he developed a six-note scale to reach slow learners. Finding that these children could cope with the six notes effectively to play simple tunes, he tired it with retarded children who were equally successful.

Now, wherever Weber goes, he says, "Give me your children with the most severe learning problems and I will have them playing instruments from the printed page." And they do! His method works not only on the piano keyboard, but on brass, woodwinds and strings as well.

Weber, explains his method of teaching children to match a set of six letters on the printed page with the same letters pasted on the instrument's keys. They identify the letters on the keyboard and thus play simple tunes. He extends this idea substituting other letters until the child recognizes the entire alphabet as he implements it on the keys. Weber explains the method as, not just a case of teaching an impaired child to play an instrument, but also as a motivator for developing reading, writing and other skills. The instrument becomes a teaching machine.

Weber's method is called "Musical" because it is designed to reach all learners.

Spring Fashion In The News

This is the season for feminine, closer-to-the-body fashions, remember the thirties? The soft relaxed look is achieved by following the silhouette -- not restricted, just body conscious.

Ergo, the feminine look will be complemented with soft, drapy fabrics; pale, subtle colors; and muted prints.

Fabrics focus on fluid crepes, comfortable knits, plain and novelty sheers, and sportive types such as linen, gabardine, pique, cord and denim. Fabric patterns reflect the seasonal softness with emphasis on small to medium sizing with an occasional offering of large patterns.

Colors are softened, pale or bright but never harsh. Newest in colors are the ice cream shades. Specific color news is coral, aquamarine and Americana red-white-blue, alone or in combination. Neutrals such as grey and camel are combined with white in the palette for spring. Beautiful darks especially navy and black are very often combined with white or pale neutrals.

And what's for styling? Well, the jumper is, for one thing. And city pants are really in, anywhere, anytime, of day or evening. The shirt-waist dress and the wrapped silhouette are also in the fashion picture.

The jumper is sometimes simulated, cut one-piece with sleeves of different fabric or color. Some jumper costumes as two-piece with long sleeved blouses. The jumper coat is another version, sleeveless coat worn over long sleeved dress.

Shirtwaist dresses look new and refreshing with full skirts and long sleeves. Wrapped styles are done in dresses, suits and coats. Suits and coats have a softer look emphasizing fitted waists. Some are double breasted with wide-cut collar.

Manly, Scott Corti from Nutley and Bruce Passner from Glen Ridge.

The Student Council of the Temple's religious school will hold its final youth sabbath Service of this semester Saturday, May 24 in the sanctuary at 9:40 a.m. This will also be the last session of the Saturday classes. Debbie Solomon of Bloomfield will be the reader and the sermonette, "How Judaism Affects Others" will be given by Brett Behrens also of Bloomfield. Rabbi Fish will address the assembly.

Final sessions of the Sunday classes of the school will resume in the fall at a date to be announced.

Dual Celebration During May For Essex County Girl Scouts

The Girl Scouts of Greater Essex County have two reasons for celebration during the month of May.

After five years of planning, the Council has moved from rented offices in Orange to a spacious, well-lit building at 120 Valley Road, Montclair. The new Central Service Center is only a few blocks from Bloomfield Avenue bus lines, has adequate training and meeting rooms, and a large parking area.

The official opening ceremonies will be held on May 24 and 25; however, the building is already being used for such activities as training programs and workshops.

This month marks the completion of the tenth year since the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County was formed. On June 1, 1959, ten separate councils joined together to form one large organization. The purpose of the consolidation was to bring to all girl and adult members greater opportunities in the world of Scouting.

The Council currently serves 24 communities in Essex County, and New Providence and Summit in Union County. Membership has grown to a total registration of nearly 24,000 girls and adults.

The official "Open House" and 10th Anniversary ceremonies will be held for friends of Scouting, the United Fund personnel, and the press on Saturday afternoon, May 24, from 2-5 p.m., including a tour of the new building, singing, and renditions by the Greater Essex County Girl Scout Chorus, and on Sunday, May 25, at same time, Girl Scout Troops, Leaders, and adult volunteers will participate in a "Scout's Own" dedication ceremony.

In Nutley, a total of 1114 girls and volunteer adults enjoy Girl Scout activities and participate in worthwhile service projects. All girls in town, whether Scouts or not, are eligible to attend any of the three summer camps owned and operated by the Council.

The Girl Scouts of Greater Essex County intend to make the next ten years even more successful than the first decade. They are presently involved in a membership drive planned to add at least one new girl to each of the 844 troops within the Council area.

Acquisition of the new Central Service Center in Montclair will supply the needed facilities required by the Council for recruitment and training of adult leaders as well as for other services offered to the 24 Essex County communities and Summit-New Providence.

Budget Hearing Date Set

Another episode in the battle of the controversial school budget took place yesterday, when Nicholas R. Amato, town attorney, and Max Schwartz, council for the Board, met in preparation for the hearing scheduled before the State Commissioner of Education, June 3, in Trenton.

The lawyers met in response to a letter sent to each by Eric Grozinger, State Commissioner, directing them to agree on "a stipulation of facts." The lawyers are asked to submit these facts to the Commissioner at least five days prior to the hearing.

A hearing was made necessary when a meeting in Trenton, April 26 with both parties present failed to resolve the Board's objection to a $205,777 proposed budget cut (the Commission made after the voters twice rejected the Board's offering.

The letter also directed the Board to "submit a report of the financial obligations of the Board, showing expenditures and obligations, by line item, as of the end of the last full month prior to the date of the hearing."

Although neither party will come right out and say it, the controversy is expected to be resolved by some sort of compromise in which a budget cut will be included.

The Fine Old Inkeeping Tradition In A Modern Setting

Thailand Student Asks Money From Local Bank

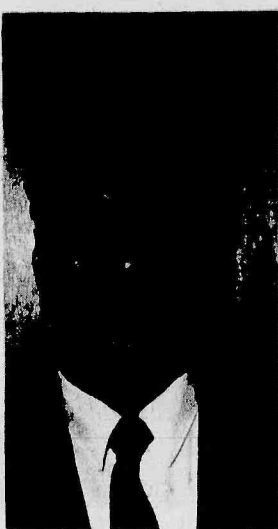

A beautifully handwritten letter from a 12th grade student in Roi-Et, Thailand was received with both surprise and quick action by the Peoples National Bank of Belleville.

Addressed to "Director of People National Bank", it read as follows: "I am a student in the 12th grade at Stresuksa School in Roi-Et. I have heard about People National Bank from a Peace Corps Volunteer here. I am interested in going to study in America. I would be very grateful if you would send me information about People National Bank. I would like to borrow some money from your bank for study in America. If I graduate school, I'll work and pay the money back. If it is possible, please send them air mail. Thank you very much. Yours sincerely, Wilaiwan Wanasut."

While the bank could not send money, A. P. Luscombe, President of the bank, made numerous inquiries and forwarded Miss Wanasut information on The Institute of International Education, which assists Thai students who intend to study in the United States; American Field Service International Scholarships; and an information sheet from the local high school.

"It certainly came as a surprise," Luscombe said in reporting the incident. "I hope we have been helpful to this young lady." Then he added, "If anyone knows of other organizations or additional sources of information which might assist Miss Wanasut in her plans, we shall be delighted to either provide her address or forward the information."

Frank Cozzarelli Is Elected Chairman

The American Institute of Chemical Engineers-North Jersey Section elected Frank Cozzarelli its chairman for the 1969-1970 season as announced at an annual Symposium held on May 14, at the Military Park Hotel in Newark.

The Symposium is jointly sponsored by the North Jersey and the New Jersey Sections of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Cozzarelli has a Masters Degree in Chemical Engineering earned at Newark College of Engineering and he is employed in the Engineering Department of the Chemical and Plastics Division of Union Carbide Corporation. He resides with his wife and six children in Belleville.

Several subjects of particular interest to the chemical industry, in which New Jersey is a leader, were discussed at the all day meeting. Included were four papers on air pollution which is of vital interest to all of us.

W. C. Lund, Chairman of Air Quality Committee-Chemical Industry Council of New Jersey, stated, "Enactment of control regulations and enforcement activity has escalated as a result of increasing public concern for the environmental health and aesthetic aspects of deteriorating air quality."

New regulations to control pollutant emissions during emergency air pollution situations, regulation of emissions from diesel engines and regulations to control odors, are imminent." For instance, by October, 1971, in New Jersey, the sulfur limit for heavy fuels will be 0.3 weight per cent. When sulfur burns, it smells and it forms corrosive compounds. Various alternatives to reduce the sulfur content of fuel oil were reviewed. As yet, no workable scheme has been evolved to economically desulfurize coal and permit equivalent low sulfur levels.

Sandman on Knowledge of Government

"Experience — The Best Conditioner — Government, A Nobel Calling!"

FOR GOVERNOR

Elect
SANDMAN
Tuesday, June 3, vote
Republican Line F

Republican Congressman Sandman knows the business of Government better than any other Gubernatorial Candidate of either Party.

And for a very simple reason — his experience in public life. Congressman Sandman is the only Gubernatorial candidate who has served in the New Jersey Senate and the U.S. Congress. For 10 years Sandman served in the New Jersey Senate; Sandman served 2 terms as Leader of the Senate Republican Majority; Sandman served 2 terms as President of the New Jersey Senate; Sandman served 16 years as Republican Chairman of Cape May County; Sandman is completing a 4-year stint in the Congress of the United States.

FOR GOVERNOR

SANDMAN ON VIETNAM

"Our Boys Are Dying in Vain!
Return to America Her
Boys and Her Dignity!"

Republican Congressman Charles Sandman stands squarely behind President Nixon's Vietnam "Peace Policy".

SANDMAN ON TAXES

"We've Had Enough!"

Republican Congressman Sandman is the only Gubernatorial candidate consistently opposed to a State Income Tax. Sandman favors a tax on public utilities to reduce the home owners real estate tax burden.

ELECT SANDMAN

SANDMAN ON SOCIAL SECURITY PENSIONS

"National Disgrace!
Restore Human Dignity to Our Elders!"

"Restore human dignity to our elders," says Republican Congressman Sandman. He favors a minimum 15% increase in social security pensions and future pension payments related to cost of living increases. Social security benefits are below federally established poverty levels. "This is a national disgrace," an angry Congressman Sandman proclaims.

SANDMAN ON COLLEGE EDUCATION

"College for Every Student Who Wants It"

Republican Congressman Sandman believes that college education should be available to every student who wants it. Sandman OPPOSES OPEN ADMISSIONS and FAVORS regional four-year colleges as a logical extension of our public school system.

SANDMAN ON COLLEGE RIOTS

"No Place for Anarchy in America!
Restore Dignity to Our College Campuses!"

Republican Congressman Sandman favors college students having the right to demonstrate and be heard — but Sandman opposes the goon student squads who take the law into their own hands. Sandman agrees with President Nixon that college administrators should display backbone in dealing with college uprisings and rebellion.
