

Sandra La Sala Cites Dangers To Individuality

The Municipal Stadium stands were filled last Thursday as Belleville High School held its 81st Annual Commencement exercises. Three-hundred and thirty seniors were present in their gowns to receive diplomas from Board of Education President Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero.

The following were the speeches given by Valedictorian Sandra La Sala, Salutatorian Cathy Berezansky and Sharon Di Quattro, third in the class:

Sandra La Sala
 Honored guests, parents and friends of the Class of 1969
 WELCOME

We are about to enter in a vast and impersonal world where man's individuality has been submerged. Man has allowed himself to be reduced to a mere statistic. Colleges are noted for their computerized organization, the business world is run by inanimate machines. Conformity has become the norm for society and individuality connotes rebellion. The realm of conformity limits man to a narrow pathway. In order to become sensitive to the world, man must not define his direction. He must adjust his vision to encompass all the dimensions of our times.

Imagine, if you will, a man viewing his goal at the end of a long road. He reaches out and walks more quickly to hurry its fulfillment; yet, in doing so he misses something. He did not absorb the beauty of the roadside scenery. This individual will attain his goal, however, he will just become a part of the masses.

The seeker of a greater fulfillment in life must pursue more than the straight and narrow road. As the road branches out in all directions, he learns that each series of small, relatively inconsequential events will increase his awareness and will serve to enhance his life. Personalities are molded by individual experiences and those of us who are waiting to receive our diplomas tonight are dubious of a future which holds so many individual promises. We have looked to you for both guidance and encouragement in the past and we thank you for molding our individuality. Yet now we realize that as individuals we must enter the world and like a vacuum absorb all of life's opportunities. The knowledge we have accumulated must now be fashioned and fused into new and dynamic forms. This requires, not only an open mind, but a desire to live life to the fullest. For when the cheering stops and the crying ceases, we are left with but one individual - ourselves. When all our milestones have been passed and we look back with fond memories at our life's accomplishments, let them be worthy of the individuality we possess.

It is a great and boundless universe we live in today but in the poignant words of James Anthony Froede, we do in fact, "enter the world alone ... and we leave it alone." Individually, we must work to serve others, yet more importantly we must serve ourselves.

Cathy Berezansky Lauds Individual

Honored guests, parents and friends of the Class of '69
 Individuality: the story of man's struggle against the establishment; the story of man's search for identity.

Individuality is a combination of constitutional, cultural, and situational determinants. In reality, individuals direct their attention, respond to the enculturative process and live in accordance with the traditions of their group. Even when many of the elements are similar, the individuality is unique.

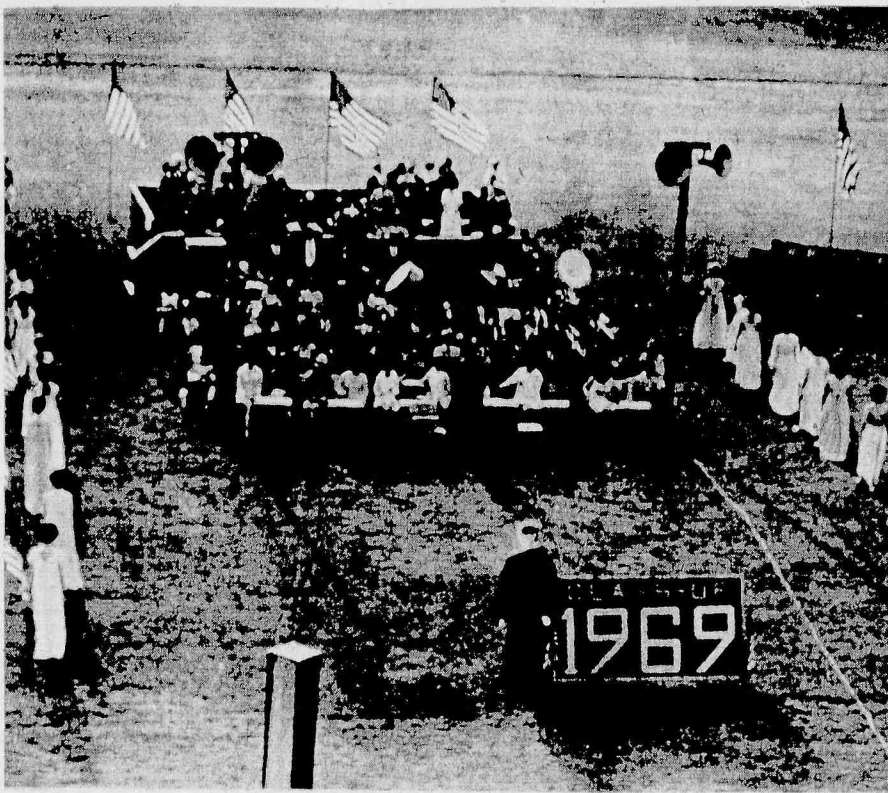

Individuality has its differences and universals within a community. Probably no persons and no cultures are completely introvert or extrovert, Apollonian or Dionysian. There is, however, a bridge between the uniqueness of a culture and the uniqueness of individual personality.

Education brings forth and either disciplines or socializes individuality. Primitive man in his primitive community lacked this individuality development: lacked adequate education.

In our complex society there is no fixed status. Individuals may assert and assume relatively any state of individuality through education. We are even now, permitted to "moonlight." We, the members of the class of '69, will now singularly enter the complex societies of this world and the universe beyond. We all realize that our success in these worlds, will greatly rely upon our ability and preparedness to progress and meet the challenges, strengthen our weaknesses, and maintain our individuality.

Obtain Indictments

Two Belleville Detectives Rewarded For Efforts

The two Belleville detectives who spearheaded an investigation of two Wallace & Tiernan Co. silver robberies were rewarded for their efforts last week. Six men were indicted at an Essex County grand jury hearing last Thursday and Friday on 21 counts of burglary and conspiracy.

Detectives Thomas Ricci and Harold O'Reilly were the key men in bringing the alleged criminals to justice. The detectives were lauded by Essex County Prosecutor Joseph P. Lordi for their work in the investigation.

A special May 24 preliminary hearing in Belleville court was the beginning of the end for the ring of professional burglars operating throughout the county and in many surrounding counties.

The grand jury brought to light an unsuccessful first attempt to burglarize the Wallace & Tiernan Co., Belleville, in October of last year. Before the grand jury hearing, only one robbery of the Belleville company was known. It was disclosed that on October 27, the ring had tried to enter Wallace & Tiernan, but once inside, they were scared off by a guard. Only a small amount of silver was taken in the October job.

Indictments listed many industries and stores in the area that were allegedly victims of the ring. Jewelry and fur stores and factories that stocked precious metals were the specialty of the burglary ring.

Essex Prosecutor Lordi said the 21 indictments against the men only cover the ring's operations in the county. Speculation was that more indictments will come from many of the surrounding counties in the area.

Information gained from the Essex County investigation on breaking and entries outside the county was turned over to other authorities for action.

Rat Controversy Plagues Belleville Town Authorities

By Nathan Gottlieb

I smell a rat.
 Or do I?

Question: When do rats not smell like rats?

Answer: When they smell like garbage trucks.

Confusing? The whole question of whether there are rats at 85 Heckel Street caused a disturbance last week that had citizens ready to hang officials and officials clawing at each other's throats. Among the high lights of the week were:

Heckel Street residents chasing a demolition crew from an abandoned house and insisting Commissioner Vincent Strumolo was at fault for their problems.

Commissioner Strumolo saying he was unjustly accused, shifting the blame to Commissioner Mary Senatore and her Department of Public Works.

Commissioner Senatore accusing Registrar Ralph Risoli of being a liar and the instigator of the whole problem.

Risoli calling Senatore the liar.

Building Inspector Vincent Mustacchio finally accepting the blame and then changing his mind.

Exterminator Sam Cifrodello saying there were no rats at the house in question, and that the whole incident may have been fabricated by the resident to keep garbage trucks from being placed on the lot.

What is it all about?

On June 12 Carmen Pucillo, a garbage contractor applied to the Department of Public Works for a permit to demolish an abandoned building at 85 Heckel Street.

After the permit was issued by Mustacchio, Commissioner Senatore called the Health Department to see if the grounds had been exterminated. According to the Commissioner, the Health Department told her the area had not been exterminated so she went to the site and ordered the demolition halted. Rat bait was then set and the incident seemed over.

Then on June 16, the demolition crew was back, and this time the whole street turned out to protest. The crew was forced to resist.

On June 19, the Times received a phone call from an unidentified resident of Heckel Street who asked that a picture be taken for the paper.

The Times found a group of angry citizens mulling about Heckel Street.

"We want the building exterminated, then torn down. And no garbage trucks put in either."

"We called up Vinnie Strumolo and he said he didn't have the time. Said it wasn't his department and told us to contact Mustacchio."

"We're going to picket if it

UNDER FIRE - Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo was accused by the residents of Heckel Street of neglecting them in their time of need. As it turned out, the Commissioner was not at fault. The Commissioner felt that certain parties were "out to get him."

High Speed Chase Ends With Arrests

After a high speed chase with timings in excess of 100 mph, and the help of Belleville police, two Nutley men were apprehended and charged with entering and larceny charges. Investigation of one man after initial arrest led to confessions of many other illegal entering charges over the past three years.

Nutley police initially charged Reggie Revis, 23, of 51 Passaic Avenue, with entering and larceny, possession of a dangerous weapon and violation of probation.

Also arrested on larceny and dangerous weapon charges was Ronald Jarrett, 23, of 108 Passaic Avenue. Jarrett, being the driver in the high speed chase, was charged with eluding police.

Officers Sal Setrulo and Ralph DePiro were on patrol at 2:45 a.m., Monday, June 23, when they reported seeing a man running with what appeared to be two suitcases from a driveway on 145 Passaic Avenue, Nutley. The man entered a red car parked at the corner of Florence and Passaic Avenue.

As the officers neared to investigate, the car drove off at a high rate of speed.

Police pursued the suspects and radioed to Belleville police to stop the car. A short time later, Belleville police reported stopping the car and called Nutley police to investigate.

A search of the car revealed a Vox Portable Organ and stand and a switchblade knife. Robert A. Jenkins of 145 Passaic Avenue identified the organ as the one missing from his car. The organ had been rented from Muscara's School of Music, Belleville.

Revis and Jarrett were taken to police headquarters where charges were brought against them.

A further investigation by Det. Sgt. William Dietz revealed that Revis was allegedly connected with many other illegal auto robberies over the last three years.

Revis is being held without bail pending a trial in Nutley's Criminal Court, and Jarrett was released on a $2,500 detainer.

Times Spotlights Nick Amato

YOUNG TOWN ATTORNEY - Nicholas R. Amato, at 29, the youngest town attorney in the State, enjoys his work because of the challenge involved. The Commissioners unanimously agree that he has met the challenge of being a young town attorney.

Nick Amato is the youngest town attorney in the State. "I think Nick has met the challenge of being a young town attorney. He has been very successful in his cases for the town. He's quite a capable young man."

These words of Commissioner Mary Senatore seem to echo the general opinion around Town Hall that Amato has met the challenge head on.

"He's a very qualified lawyer," said Commissioner Joseph McGreevy. "He's had the job 18 months and there's been no difficulty in that time."

Being involved in a challenge is no coincidence for Amato. The concept of challenge is central to his personal philosophy.

"I enjoy a challenge. That's what makes life interesting. It's why I chose law."

The town attorney chose law at an early age. "I wanted to be a lawyer since I was in sixth grade and wrote a paper for Mrs. Abbott. The paper was about what I wanted to be. I wanted to be a lawyer then and I haven't changed my mind."

Amato's brief history (he's only 29) reads like a traditional success story.

Born Nicholas R. Amato, November 15, 1939, in Newark, he is the son of John and Rose Amato. The day before Pearl Harbor was attacked, the Amatos moved to Belleville. His parents still live in their home at 4 Arthur Street.

He attended P.S. No. 7 and graduated from Belleville High School in 1957. While in high school, he worked during the summers for the town, cleaning streets.

Amato received his B.A. from St. Peter's College in 1961, and his law degree in 1964. One day after graduation, he married a pretty Belleville girl, Claire Tortorello, who was attending Fashion Institute of Technology.

Like most law school graduates, Amato found the going tough. He took his bar exam in early September and didn't hear the results until January. In that time he worked as a probation officer for the county to support his wife. He was assigned to the Spruce Street-Belmont Avenue area, a tough neighborhood.

Like most successful men, Amato received a break for his first job. During his college days he ran the elevator in the Raymond Commerce Building in Newark. While operating the elevator, a not so pleasant job, he met the lawyers from Mead, Gleason, Hansen and Partages, who offered him a job. While working for them he "moonlighted" for the Essex County Legal Services in Belleville.

Things started to look up for the young attorney in 1965 when he was appointed legislative secretary to Nicholas T. Femicola, Essex County Counsel and State Senator. Amato remained his secretary until 1967, when Femicola lost his office. In 1968, Amato set up private practice at 180 Washington Avenue.

Amato's involvement in town politics was a natural thing. He is proud of Belleville and his part in the town. As he says, "Belleville is my town, I have all my roots here. When I make a decision for Belleville, it's for myself too."

A Democrat, Amato became involved with town politics on a non-partisan level. He was asked to serve as legal counsel for a group seeking to reestablish the commission form of

This installation of Fedders Units is a first for the dry cleaning industry. Dry cleaners all over the country are waiting to observe the results of Jolly's experiment.

Six Belleville Juniors Sent To Rider College

Belleville High School is sending six juniors to Rider College, Trenton, this week, to attend the 24th annual New Jersey American Legion sponsored Boys' State program.

The Boys' State program is designed to acquaint New Jersey youths with the practical operation of government on all state levels. During this week, the delegate boys will play the roles of senators, assemblymen, freeholders, mayors, councilmen, police chiefs, prosecutors and judges.

High school juniors representing just about every public and parochial high school in the state are involving themselves with seven days of specialized training in government and leadership.

Belleville High School is represented by Frank Cozzarelli, 16, Gary Trainor, 17, Walter Weiss, 16, Martin Fuchs, 16, Russell Jerusik, 17, and Robert Forrest, 17. Willis J. MacDonald is the delegate representing the American Legion Post 115, Belleville.

The Belleville representatives left for Rider College early Sunday morning. The Boys' State program will conclude Saturday, June 28.

The program has been held at Rutgers since its inception but was shifted this year because of housing and traffic problems on the New Brunswick campus, according to American Legion officials.

Harold A. Eaton of Riverton, director of the program, said Rider also offered larger gymnasium facilities and cafeteria-style meals. Rider is located on a 245-acre campus in suburban Lawrence Township north of Trenton.

Delegates were selected by their schools on the basis of character, scholarship and service.

Gossip spreads much faster than the truth; that's why there is so much talk of scandal and so little about really important matters.

We wish to emphasize the fact, however, that this will be a community church school and we welcome all the children of our community to attend. # Nick Amato: A Youthful Attorney Who's Meeting Tough Challenge government in 1967. After the group's successful election, the old administration attempted to interpret the election statute in such a way that the new form of government would have to wait four years.

Amato instituted a law suit and won, enabling the election to come about. He was asked by the newly elected administration to serve as town attorney, finishing the unexpired term of Charlie Tedesco. On July 7, 1968, he was appointed for his own three year term, at an $8,530 starting salary.

At 29 years of age, then, Nick Amato found himself representing a town of 40,000 people. How he has met the challenge is history. His success goes hand in hand with the success the Commission has met in its two years of handling R. "ville's affairs.

What kind of man is the young town attorney? He is a civic minded citizen who is active in town organizations such as Unico, the Chamber of Commerce (he's on the board of directors), the Belleville Democratic Club, and the Joseph Biancardi Civic Association to name a few.

The young attorney has captured the respect and admiration of the five commissioners. Reporters find him amiable and easily accessible. His secretary swears by him.
Perhaps most revealing is his approach to his job and his personal involvement in it. Amato has made the town attorney's job an everyday proposition. A special "hot line" is hooked up between Town Hall and his Washington Avenue office, and unlike most town attorneys, he serves as prosecutor. He legally advises the commissioners, representing the town in all lawsuits now covered by insurance.

"Being town attorney is like being attorney for a large corporation. You have the cooperation of all the various subdivisions. Our municipal court is one of the most efficient around."

us down first."
According to a spokesman for the residents, who wished to remain unidentified, they are angry because there "wasn't proper extermination," and they objected to the rumored proposal that garbage trucks were to be placed in the lot.
Contacted for comment at his place of business, Commissioner Strumolo was disturbed by what he termed "unjust accusation."
Asked if he had said he had "no time" to aid the Heckel Street residents, Strumolo said "That statement is a lie. My answer to the phone call was that there was no need for me to be there. I didn't say that I had no time."
Strumolo shifted the blame to the building inspector for not notifying the Health Department of the proposed demolition prior to the issuance of the permit.

"If the building inspector would have notified the Health Department before the permit was issued, we could have taken the precautionary measures to see that the owners would have taken care of it. The Health Department doesn't do private homes. We only take care of outside property rodent control. If we had been notified, then my inspectors would have went out, and seen to it that the building was properly exterminated."
According to Strumolo, the building inspector "has done this sort of thing before. Commissioner Senatore told the Times she had issued the permit, telling Purcillo she would not issue a building permit if he intended on putting in a garbage truck depot.

tonight we have heard the merits of the individual discussed; however, individuality can be attained only after we have the knowledge which will guide us in choosing the course we will pursue. Through the efforts of our school, teachers, and guidance counselors, we have been made aware of the world around us, and we have come to the realization that we do have a unique place to fill in this world. Our minds have been challenged by the concepts presented to us, we have been taught to question ideas and to think for ourselves. And of course, our parents have played a major role in our lives, instilling ideals within us and providing the encouragement needed to achieve our goals. The class of '69 then, has received preparation for the future. A foundation has been laid, but it is now our responsibility to build upon this foundation and to strive to develop ourselves as individuals.
We must not be content with mediocrity or with merely blending into the masses. Our civilization has been shaped by individuals, not masses. Instead, it is necessary to strive for excellence in everything we do so that we may accomplish something for the world that is so necessitous of the contributions of true individuals. The only hope for progress is in the achievements of individuals.
Each one of us can utilize the knowledge he has already attained and also the wealth of knowledge that is available to him to become a person who is aware and well-formed. Only then can we take our positions as individuals by voicing our opinions and making our influence felt. At this critical point in our nation's development, it is imperative that we learn to give expression to our thoughts. The country cannot afford to function without ideas that will be beneficial to it. Frequently, it is said that reform is needed, but there can be no reform unless there are new concepts to replace old institutions. It is only the ideas of the real individuals that help initiate change and improve existing conditions.
I urge each member of the class of '69 to accept the responsibility of developing his individuality. Our class has not been afraid to be unique during the years of high school, and due to this attribute, the class has acquired the admiration of others. Let us continue to earn respect and have our names inscribed among the annals of those who have built up, and not those who have torn down. With God's help we can achieve these ends. We owe it to ourselves, to those who have assisted us in the past, and to the world in which we live.

Labor Goes for Meyner

Last week Republican gubernatorial nominee, Bill Cahill, was jolted by organized labor's public endorsement of his Democrat opponent, former Governor Robert B. Meyner.

During the recent Primary Election, which Cahill won over four other contestants, it was claimed by Cahill and his supporters that the Republican most likely to win organized labor's support would be Cahill.

It must come as a disappointment to some Republicans who voted for "winner" Cahill to learn that even before the ink was dry on the Primary Election results major segments of organized labor deserted the Cahill banner.

Despite his Primary Election win, Cahill remains relatively unknown in the State's northern precincts, while Meyner is favorably known.

Since Primary Election Day Cahill has done nothing constructive to expand his Northern Jersey base.

In the Primary Election Cahill was cast in the roll of a Liberal, but subtle efforts were made to obtain Conservative votes by constant references to Cahill's FBI background, which was supposed to convey the Cahill message of his personal interest in law and order.

There is no doubt that Cahill's FBI record helped gain Conservative votes for him.

In the November Election, this same FBI record will drive hundreds of thousands of black voters into the waiting arms of Bob Meyner. The average black man does not trust the FBI — and with good reason.

The so-called ethnic votes in New Jersey are heading in Meyner's direction, and this fact presents Cahill with a monumental task.

Meyner is responsible for the appointment of New Jersey's Chief Justice Joseph Weintraub, one of the most brilliant jurists in the nation.

Meyner hand picked Sal Bontempo as the Democrat State Chairman, while the Cahill crowd has gone out of its way since Primary Election Day to offend some important New Jersey Italian-Americans.

Cahill goes into the General Election with 61 percent of Republican Primary Election voters against him.

Cahill goes into the General Election with very little ethnic support.

Cahill goes into the General Election with two Congressional public records — one which he accumulated while representing the City of Camden, and his second record compiled during the past three years serving as the Congressional Representative of suburban communities and no longer representing or responsive to the pressures of a big city like Camden.

The Meyner research workers are doing their homework. Some of the results thus far obtained by the Meyner people indicate that the Cahill of 1969 is not the Cahill of the early 1960's.

The message we are trying to convey to voters interested in a Republican victory this November is that the Cahill campaign has a long way to go before Republicans can even hope for victory in November.

If Cahill loses by a substantial margin, as is presently indicated, the 3-1 Republican Assembly majority will go down the drain with Cahill.

Court houses now under Republican control will be lost for decades.

So — our dear Republican friends — the November Election problem is bigger than Mr. Cahill — it will seriously influence for years to come the authority and life in the Republican Party at every level.

Somebody had better make it his business to let Mr. Cahill know the gravity of the November problem before time runs out.

Judge Whipple Is Correct

Federal Judge Lawrence Whipple last week ruled that evidence obtained by FBI bugs located in Mafia offices should not be suppressed.

The ruling came on a legal procedure initiated by an attorney for an alleged Mafia boss. The Mafia crowd wanted to suppress the evidence on public file and prevent newspapers from disseminating the information gleaned by the bugs.

In effect, Whipple told these Mafia fellows that they were out of their minds — that the matter was in the public domain and he, Whipple, would most certainly permit further circulation of the intimate details of Mafia life.

We are pleased with Judge Whipple's decision. His ruling serves the best interest of our community and our state.

The more people learn about Mafia operations, the greater realization of the need to help law enforcement agencies to rid our society of this cancer.

Enter The Maverick

The Ford Motor Company introduces this month a new automobile, the Maverick, which is the answer of the second-largest U.S. auto producer to inroads into the American market by Volkswagen, Toyota and other foreign makers.

The Maverick sells for just under $2,000 and will be priced about $200 higher than a Volvo. It is larger, heavier and has a more powerful engine. It is expected to get 22 miles per gallon (to 26 for a Volvo). But its makers think it will be a more attractive car — and that it comes close enough to foreign cars in price to recapture some of the ten percent of the U.S. market won last year by importers.

American Motors is also bringing out a compact, the Hornet, though it will be 1970 before General Motors is ready with its entry. American producers admit now that three years ago they underestimated the growing impact of foreign imports. And Henry Ford 2nd, speaking recently in Europe, called Japanese competition much more dangerous than German.

"The Japanese, next to the United States, are the world's biggest auto-makers. The Japanese are dangerous because they can produce cheaper and sell at lower prices," Ford said. He criticized Japanese barriers to American firms seeking to sell in Japan: "They treat you like second-class people. And then they come over here (to the U.S.) and try to take over a market and don't even say hello to us."

What Ford didn't say was that Americans have turned to foreign cars primarily because they were small, cheap and economical to operate. They would be even cheaper if tariffs didn't force their price up to protect the U.S. automobile industry. That being the case, U.S. manufacturers have erred in not marketing a competitive, small, economical product.

The Missile Balance

One of the grim costs of the vast expenditure it is nation has made in behalf of South Vietnam, and the war against the enemy there, is the loss of intercontinental missile superiority over the Soviet Union.

A study by the Institute of Strategic Studies in London, widely respected in this country and abroad as a reasonably accurate forecast, indicates that by mid-year the Soviets will have more intercontinental missiles deployed than does the United States.

U.S. defense officials say this country will still enjoy an overall superiority because of the potential of the Strategic Air Command and Polaris submarines, but even this can be neutralized if the recent trend continues. It began when Washington was forced to allocate most of its military budget to the Vietnam War.

This is only the latest in a long list of reasons the United States must deescalate its effort in South Vietnam and turn more of the fighting there (if it continues) over to the South Vietnamese. The nation cannot stand idly by while spending three billions a month for the effort in Vietnam and see its currency collapse, its trade balance ruined, its gold supplies drained, its people robbed by inflation and its security thrown away because of the vast outpouring of money (and blood) in a conventional war in Vietnam.

Students Tell Plans Of Summer Vacation

By John Bunevich

Question: Are you glad school is out and what are your plans for summer vacation?

Asked: of Nutley and Belleville students.

David Zimmerman - 472 Passaic Avenue, Nutley - NHS, junior

I'm glad I'm out of school for the summer. During vacation my family and I are planning to go up to Cape Cod for two weeks. Right now I'm attending a special band course at Nutley High, where I'm studying trombone. I intend to be a member of the band next year. I'm a member of "Sing Out, Nutley" and we have rehearsal twice a week in the summer. They are going to Saugerties, N.Y., to perform but I'll miss the trip this year because I'll be away with my parents.

Geoffrey Fulcoli - 31 Enclosure, Nutley NHS, junior

Yes, I've been looking forward to school coming to a close for the summer. I'll be working down at Lyndhurst Diner most of the time. It's a family business, owned by one of my family and I'll be doing cashier work there. July 12, I'm going down to the shore, Lavallete, with my parents. As I said, my job will occupy most of the summer vacation except the weekends. On the weekends I'll be doing the usual entertainment, going to the movies and things.

David Zimmerman

Anthony DeTuto - 175 Tappan Avenue, Belleville high school junior

Sure I'm glad to be out of school for the summer. I plan to go down to the shore as much as possible. I'm going down to Seaside Heights with my parents for two weeks in July. I plan to work in Belleville Esso full time during the summer. I pump gas there and do minor repair work. I figure to save up enough money to get myself a car. Right now I'm dating a girl pretty steady and this will take up much of my free time. I signed up for a summer activities program in the high school. This is supposed to include having summer trips and things like that.

Ruth Lee - 725 Joralemon Street, Belleville Rutgers, Newark Sophomore

Yes, I'm glad to be out of college for the summer. Right now I'm working for Mayor Smith, running the ditto machines, and doing some of the typing. This is a full time position and should take up most of my summer. As for a vacation, I live in an apartment that has a swimming pool, so on my free time, maybe I can take a dip. I plan to go down to Belmar one of the weekends, my boyfriend has a fraternity house there.

Citizen Warns About Ghettos

To the Editor:

If the town was to approve high rise buildings, which was the intent of the Master Plan, without the consent of the people but with the aid of the federal government, not only would Belleville stand to lose millions in ratables which must be made up by the taxpayers and produce a greater hardship, but it would also lose its suburban look.

It could also become a snake pit, a city within a city and create many more problems.

If the government re-locates thousands of people here within five years, Belleville will become another ghetto.

It will be those people living in the ghettos and slum areas on relief and welfare that must move out to make room for those government projects that pay no taxes that the government has in mind.

Let us stay with the garden type buildings privately owned in all parts of town for its ratables but only by public approval.

The people make up the government, whose wishes must be respected, not the politicians who would like to make Belleville the dumping grounds and create the same conditions here which we have witnessed in other parts of the state. We were not living in the dark ages when programs of this nature did not exist.

Sincerely yours,
Albert Guglielmi

Belleville

Citizen Seeks Cat's Owner

To The Editor:

Several weeks ago, a young, beautiful gray and white cat (about 8 months old), wearing a collar but no identification, gave birth to a litter of five kittens in my neighbor's garage. Later, after being frightened and feeling no longer safe there, she transferred them over to my yard and I have since housed them in my porch because I fear for their safety. They have been well taken care of and must now be about six weeks old. I have a large dog and it has been difficult for me in trying to keep them separated so that the mother is not frightened.

I would very much like to locate the owner of this sweet affectionate mother cat and somehow feel that she must belong to someone. It is obvious that I cannot keep this family too much longer and must find good homes for them.

The kittens are just adorable, beautifully marked with white booties, four gray, 1 black with white markings — all healthy and playful.

Perhaps if you can print this item it might be of human interest. I would hate to see these animals go astray and fall prey to dogs and neighborhood traps.

Thanking you, I am
Very truly yours,
(Mrs.) Michael Trotta
147 Joralemon Ave.
Belleville, N.J.

Most parents take credit for the good points of their children and wonder where the perverse symptoms originate.

The main trouble with solving problems, as we see it, is that they are being tackled by too many people who know nothing about them.

Zoning Change Sought

Town Attorney Set For Investigation

Town Attorney Nicholas R. Amato is investigating the legality of a proposed zoning change received by petition at Monday night's Commission meeting.

The proposed change would extend a C residence zone in the Silver Lake area to include a small section of a business zone.

Amato said he must ascertain whether the change would constitute "spot zoning," and illegal practice. The town attorney indicated to the Times that he felt his investigation would not reveal any illegality.

If the proposed change is legal, Amato will draw up an ordinance to be submitted at a future Commission meeting.

Thirty-eight signatures were on the petition which would extend a C residence zone which runs along Heckel Street. The extension would move the zone from where it presently ends on Joraleto Street, to include the area up to Bloomfield Avenue. The proposed addition would be bounded westerly by Heckel Street, southerly by Joraleto Street, easterly by Belmont Avenue and northerly by Lawrence Street.

The National Guard of the United States, composed of both Army National Guard and Air National Guard, is the largest organized combat element of ready reserve forces of both the Army and the Air Force.

Red Cross Readies Ditty Bags Again

A fifty three year holiday tradition is being carried on by the Essex Chapter, American Red Cross with the preparation of Ditty Bags for American servicemen in Vietnam.

Twenty five hundred of these gift bags, each containing a dozen articles useful to troops serving in the combat zone are being cut, sewn, and each item individually wrapped in holiday paper by volunteers of the Production Department.

Under the direction of Mrs. Clement Furey, West Orange, chairman of the Oranges and Maplewood Production Program, volunteers from the chapter's five districts began several months ago to get the bags ready for shipment in late September. They will be sent to Red Cross warehouses on the West Coast for shipment to Vietnam. On Christmas Red Cross field directors, clubmobile girls and staff members assigned to hospitals will distribute them to every serviceman and woman in the area.

The first Red Cross Ditty Bags were prepared and sent to 15,000 American soldiers serving under General Pershing in the Mexican campaign of 1916. During each of the succeeding conflicts in which U.S. forces were engaged, World War I and II, Korea and now Vietnam, this custom has been carried on. In the years between Korea and Vietnam, Essex Chapter's districts also continued the project, sending the gift bags to U.S. Navy picket ships on duty in the Atlantic.

According to Mrs. Furey, articles such as ball point pens, writing paper, nail clippers, small flashlights, plastic soap dishes and cigarette cases, playing cards, packs of plastic bags and paperback pocketbooks are among the contents of each bag. Nearly 22,500 individual items have been collected.

However, Mrs. Furey points out, her group still needs new or undamaged paper pocketbooks. These can be sent to her at Essex Chapter headquarters in East Orange before Sept. 1st.

While most of the articles are purchased by the chapter, many have been donated. For the third successive year, the Pioneer Club of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company is also contributing to this project.

Because of the wonderful response to these gift bags from servicemen in Vietnam during the past few years, this project has become a major effort of the Essex Chapter.

Miss Scrudato Feted At Showers

Miss Lorraine Carla Scrudato was honored recently at two bridal showers.

The first was held May 23 at the Galaxy, Belleville and was hosted by the bride-elect's aunts.

The second shower was given June 8 at the Carriage Trade Restaurant, East Orange.

Miss Scrudato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Scrudato of 65 Van Reyper Place, will be married August 2 to John Arthur Distasio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Distasio of 345 Division Avenue.

Political Club Honors Advisor

The Political Club of Belleville Senior High held its first annual year-end party in honor of Mrs. Patricia Caputo and the graduating seniors.

Mrs. Caputo, who served as advisor to the club this year, will be leaving the High School to go to Germany to join her husband who is stationed there. Larry Spinelli, the club's president, presented Mrs. Caputo with a plaque as a token of thanks for all the time and effort she devoted to the club.

The Political Club, as pointed out by Spinelli, has been active throughout the year. After their election of officers last September, the club attended various rallies for the candidates in last year's election. They also had the two candidates for the Tenth Congressional District seat in Washington at the High School. Later on in the year they took a trip to Trenton and visited the State House. Plans are also in the making for a trip to Washington this coming September.

Rosary Club Is Entertained By Old Guard

With the playing of 'The Bells of St. Mary' Monday evening June 9 at the monthly meeting of the Rosary Society St. Mary's Church in Nutley, the orchestra and glee club of the Old Guard of Nutley finished a busy season of entertaining.

Mrs. DelGrosso, president of the Rosary Society presided at the meeting and Mrs. Wynne was in charge of the entertainment. Monsignor J. J. Feeley officiated at the meeting.

A fine program of music by the orchestra and the glee club was enjoyed by those present. These two musical groups are notable because the members are all retired seniors citizens who still continue their interest in music and play for the joy of entertaining other folks.

The orchestra is fortunate in having a well balanced instrumentation, under the direction of Charles MacCormack. MacCormack is desirous of augmenting the orchestra by the addition of a drummer and a clarinetist. Membership is not limited to Nutley residents but is open to all retired male citizens in the surrounding towns.

Chester Fell directs the glee club and is also the pianist for the orchestra.

While with this group she made several appearances on national and local television stations.

Career Apparel Program at Bank

Employees of National Newark & Essex Bank change to the cool summer look in the bank's Career Apparel program this month when A-line dresses for the women and lightweight slacks for the men become the vogue.

National Newark & Essex, with 31 branches throughout Essex County, was the first major bank in the State of New Jersey to adopt a Career Apparel Program. Men and women employees who deal directly with the public began wearing the custom-designed garments in November of 1968. The bank purchases and fits the Career Apparel for employees in the program.

The recent additions are A-line dresses in "pale pink ice" and "warm raspberry" tones for the ladies and gray summer slacks for the men. The dresses are washable and wrinkle-free.

The earlier phase of the Career Apparel program included garments in shades of green. Suits and blouses were provided for the female employees and green blazers and gray and black slacks for the men.

The bank's program is most flexible in encouraging employees to select color and accessories on a daily basis. The women, for example, may wear either of the pink tones or continue to wear the green styles, which are made of "all-seasons" fabric.

The Raeford Fabrics Division of Burlington Industries supplies the fabrics for the Career Apparel and Bending Brothers of Philadelphia is the wardrobe consultant. Miss Janet Finley and Mrs. Doris Lamb coordinate the program for National Newark & Essex Bank.

Approximately 235 women and 100 men are included in the branch-wide National Newark & Essex program. The bank's 31 branches give it more outlets than any other bank in New Jersey.

Marshall L. Wolf, vice president and senior personnel officer of National Newark & Essex, said the program has been enthusiastically received by employees and customers.

Rich Schultz Picks Up First Win

Belleville American Legion Evens Record Beating East Orange Nine

by John McCarthy

The Belleville American Legion Baseball Team evened their record again, this time at 2-2. The Belleville Nine lost a hard one to Bloomfield, 6-1, and took out revenge on East Orange as they plastered EO 9-1.

Against Bloomfield, Belleville's Bob Giordano let up 5 runs, all of which were unearned, and struck out 6 batters in the 4 innings that he pitched. Ted DeGuerio, who came in for Giordano in the fifth after Bob was lifted for a pinch-hitter, struck out 4 and let up the 6th run on 2 walks, a hit, and a sacrifice fly. Don Boyce was the top hitter of the day going 2 for 4, with a single and a double. Don also got the only RBI as his double scored pinch-runner Rocco Marotti in the top of the seventh.

Rich Schulz picked up his first win against East Orange. Rich pitched seven innings and got 6 strikeouts during the 9-1 two-hitter. Rich let up 11 walks, but was helped out of two tough spots by 2 double plays with the same short, second, first combination.

The initial DP came in the first inning. Schulz had struck out the leadoff batter he had faced, but walked the next two. The next hitter sent a ground ball to Joe Papasidero, who flipped it to Don Boyce at second. Boyce then relayed the ball to Bill Otskey. The next DP was also a similar situation. Schulz struck out the leadoff batter in the sixth, let up a single to center, and walked the next batter, but Paps, Boyce, and Otskey erased one runner and the batter as the EO second baseman hit another shot to Joe Paps.

The Belleville hitters picked up 14 hits in their six at bats, but all nine runs were scored in the second inning. Bill Otskey started off the inning with a single through the short stop's legs. Joe Papasidero walked, moving Otskey to second. George Mongrella then ripped a shot to the short stop who made his second mistake in two chances. The short stop bobbled the ball and then threw it short of the first baseman, instead of going to third or second where he would have gotten the out.

Frank Fury knocked in Otskey for the first run with a hit to left, and Rich Schulz, the pitcher, was next in line and got a hit through the hole between second and short, scoring Joe Paps, and Mongrella for the second and third runs. John Goscinski, the All-Exsex County third baseman, hit a single to left and Fury scored from second.

Don Boyce was up next and loaded the bases with an opposite field single to right. Tony Cervasio hit his second double in 2 innings, scoring Schulz and Goscinski, but Boyce was tagged out at third base for the first out. Joe Vitiello then got a single, scoring Cervasio, but was tagged out at second trying to stretch out an extra base.

Playoffs Set In Peanut League Ball As Season Draws To Tight Close

A very intense Peanut League baseball season has drawn to a thrilling close, except for an inter-division playoff.

In the American Division the Pirates ended the regular season with a record of nine wins and one tie. Their tie was with the Yankees whose season record was 7-2-1.

However, the Braves ended up with a 7-3 record and were in contention for second place. The top two teams of each division go into the inter-division playoffs. Therefore, the Pirates and Yankees had to play off their tie.

If the Yankees lost they would then have to play off a tie for second with the Braves. In a game that was all tied going into the last half of the last inning Lou Schreiber's Yanks began hitting, put three men on base, and then, on an infield hit, knocked in the winning run and cemented their claim to second place and a shot at the playoffs.

Bob Jackson's first place Pirates will also represent the American Division in the playoffs.

There was a similar situation in the National Division. The Aces, coached by Fred Burlazzi and Frank Zatorski won the championship and play off rights with a record of 7-3. The second place in this division was complicated by a three-way tie among Al Nufrio's White Sox, Frank Delli Santi's Cubs, and Bob Haug's Indians.

In the first game of this tie-breaking series the Indians won over the Cubs while the Sox drew a bye. Continuing under full steam the Indians next met and defeated the White Sox and earned themselves a position in the inter-division playoffs.

In the playoffs, the teams play for the honor only. The Pirates and the Aces are champions of their respective leagues. Going in the first round will be the Pirates vs. the Indians at Clearman Field and the Aces vs. the Yankees at the Recreation House.

The winners of these two Recreation for the finals.

With teams as tough as these four have proven themselves in such a tightly contested season any prediction as to outcome of the playoffs would be pure conjecture.

The National Guard of the United States, composed of both Army National Guard and Air National Guard, is the largest organized combat element of ready reserve forces of both the Army and the Air Force.

Dodgers And Aces Ready To Playoff

The Aces, coached by John Zelinkas, have won the 1969 Junior National League Championship with an 8-1 record. Their only loss was to the second place Indians, coached by Frank Paterno.

A 6-3 record was the Indians final standing. Third Place was won by the Giants with 2-6-1 and in fourth place was the Clippers with 1-6-1.

In the Junior American League Joe Fornarotto's Dodgers came through the wars almost unscathed having been tied by the Cardinals and winning all of the rest. With a 6-3 record, Joe Restaino's White Sox held second place. Toby D'Ambola's Cardinals finished third and the Braves came in fourth.

Still to come is a best two-out-of-three playoff between the Aces and the Dodgers. Although both teams have already been declared Champions and the playoff is for the honor only, these games take on great importance to the players and coaches. The playoffs are being held at the Little League diamond at Michale Marrotti Field.

Crew Trounces Visitor In Very Familiar Script

In what has become a common occurrence this year, a visiting crew, in this case, Oakcrest, has journeyed to the Passaic River confidently and departed with disastrous results. Kearny High School has also been a victim to superior Belleville crews in every race held between the teams.

On May 14, Belleville again repeated this custom. In the varsity race, Oakcrest was defeated by the incredible margin of one minute 28 seconds. Kearny was in second, losing by 17 seconds.

The junior varsity won by even wider margins. Kearny finished 44 seconds behind with Oakcrest trailing by almost a quarter of a mile, a full 1:43 seconds after Belleville's had crossed the finish line.

Both races were actually won at the start, when the Bellboy crews immediately jumped ahead. It was quickly apparent to onlookers that Belleville would win, their only question being, by how much.

On Saturday, May 17, the tables were reversed in a way. Belleville travelled to Poughkeepsie, N.Y. to face Arlington, a crew which had been defeated in varsity competition on the Passaic River. However, on the very Pough Hudson River, Belleville was unable to duplicate this feat.

Belleville entered into varsity competition the shell which they are sending to the Junior National Championships in Washington, D.C. This boat is composed only of oarsmen under 17½ years of age. Several changes were made in putting this boat together.

In Saturday's race, the junior eight was defeated by eight seconds. It was a close race, with Arlington pulling it out in the final quarter mile.

Belleville's J.V. boat was also defeated, but by the junior eight which Arlington is sending to the National Championships. The fact that the Bellboys were defeated by seven seconds, is quite encouraging to the hopes of the Belleville coaches and oarsmen.

The freshmen shell, a group which has endured its ups and downs this season, suffered a down this past weekend. They lost to both Arlington's first and second freshman crews. It was a quite discouraging day for them, after they had finished third in the Poughkeepsie Regatta two weeks ago.

One shell will be travelling to Washington this weekend to represent Belleville in national competition. Qualifying heats will be held on Friday afternoon. Finals will follow Saturday morning.

Troop 963 Graduates Brownies in Ceremony

On Tuesday evening, June 10, Brownie Troop 963 held its first Fly-Up Ceremony at School No. One. The girls who graduated from Brownie to Junior Scouts were Diane Brooks, Robin Calvitti, Deborah Demeraski, Annette and Jeannette Ford, Mildred Keys, Diane Kolb, Linda Mossbacher, Tina Ogilvie, Patricia Sobanko and Margaret Whitman. The twelfth graduate is Doreen Isler, who had been struck by a car during Easter Week and is still recuperating but the Brownie Committee will make a special visit to her home to bring the Fly-Up Ceremony to her. We were very fortunate to have Mrs. Anthony Verhagen here to officially fly the girls up.

Mrs. Alfred Ogilvie, committee chairman, introduced the Brownie Committee to the audience. They are Mrs. William Sobanko, leader; Mrs. Arthur Whitman, assistant, and Mrs. Frank Gattuso, Mrs. Mark Reed, Mrs. Leroy Carroll and Mrs. Joseph Juliano. After a short business meeting in which there was a treasurer's report by Mrs. Gattuso and a report about the Brownie trip to the circus by Mrs. Juliano, the chairman presented a Certificate of Achievement to Joseph Grosch, School One principal, for his help and cooperation during the year and also an appreciation gift was given to Mrs. Harold Dufford, school secretary and honorary Brownie.

Mrs. Verhagen was introduced by means of a game which left the person associated with Scouting for the longest time standing alone in the roomful of people.

A special program was presented to inform parents, friends and teachers in the audience what the Brownie program does for a girl. Mrs. Juliano read an essay, "What is a Girl?" and seven little Brownies interpreted the four basic types of girls through the art of dancing. Mary Ogilvie was the feminine ballerina, Shawn Juliano and Gail Carroll did a vivacious tap dance, Robin Calvitti and Jeannette Ford exhibited an exuberant go-go and the two tomboys dancing to the tune of a different drummer were Donna Reed and Debbie Demeraski playing a game of baseball.

In order to show how these personalities are combined to make a Brownie, a hospital skit was performed. "doctors" Margaret Whitman and Pat Sobanko, assisted by "nurse" Diane Brooks operated on their "patient" Tina Ogilvie. They removed all the bad habits such as selfishness, impatience and idle hands, and replaced them with all the good qualities a Brownie must have like loyalty, patience, sense of belonging. The most important asset was parent's participation. Mr. and Mrs. Ogilvie portrayed the parents and when the "operation" was over, Tina stepped proudly from under the sheet as a full-fledged brownie. The other girls who took part in the ceremony were Kelly Burns, Lynn Calvitti, Yvonne Keys, Carmela Mastrolia, Diane Smith, Sherrilyn Sinclair and Lisa Wells.

The entire troop assembled on stage and played a Brownie game and sang four songs. Mrs. Morris Klein, fourth grade teacher at the school, accompanied them on the piano. Mrs. Sobanko and Mrs. Whitman then called all the graduating Brownies to the stage and Mrs. Verhagen took over the ceremony and pinned their Girl Scout Promise and Laws. The entire troop received their one year membership stars.

The Brownie Committee would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Vito Mastrolia, Mrs. Morris Klein, Mrs. Joseph Mooney and Mr. Fredericks, school custodian, for all their help at the ceremony and everyone else who has helped tremendously through our first year.

Jersey's Driving Laws Now Written In Spanish

A Spanish language version of New Jersey's Compendium of Traffic Laws is now available to State's Spanish speaking population.

The Spanish version of New Jersey's Driver's Manual was provided to the Division of Motor Vehicles through the courtesy of Humble Oil & Refining Company. The first copy was presented to Governor Richard J. Hughes by Charles W. Goodyear of 19 Stone Fence Road, Allendale, N.J.

In recognizing the needs of the more than 70,000 members of the Spanish speaking community, the Division now has 16 Motor Vehicle Officers attending special courses in Spanish.

Miss June Strelecki, director of the Division of Motor Vehicles, recalled a Spanish language driver's manual she had seen while in Puerto Rico and that had been prepared by an Esso affiliate as a public service. Miss Strelecki appealed to the private sector for assistance and Humble Oil & Refining Company responded with the new manual. The translation was provided by Professor Eladio Cortes, Spanish Department of the Rutgers College of South Jersey in Camden.

Copies of the Spanish language manual will be made available to applicants through local Motor Vehicle Agencies.

Sandman Suggests Free Service Mail

Congressman Charles W. Sandman, Jr. (R., 2nd Dist. N.J.) introduced legislation to provide for the free air mailing of packages to members of the United States Armed Forces in certain overseas areas under a regulated mailing coupon system.

"I think," said Congressman Sandman, "that the American serviceman is doing a tremendous job keeping the people of the United States and other countries free. This legislation is a small way by which we can show our appreciation and make life more pleasant in combat areas. "We all know how much a letter or package from loved ones can do to maintain high spirits for a young man living in war zones."

Congressman Sandman explained the legislation would permit a member of the United States Armed Forces in an overseas area or support area, as designated by the President of the United States, to issue not more than five Combat and Support Area Coupons each year to any person or persons he selects in the 50 states, territories and possessions, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone.
