

Commissioner Gets Bus Route Change

Source Of 'Dirty' Water Has Authorities Puzzled

GETTING THE NEWS — Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo receives word by phone from H.E. Harper, president of Public Service, that they will permit bus service to be rerouted from Branch Brook Park, so that the 37 line can pick up passengers on Belleville Avenue.

#37 Set To Bypass Park Road

After more than a year's negotiation with Public Service and the DeCamp Bus Line, the Belleville Department of Public Affairs has succeeded in rerouting the Number 37 bus line. The bus, instead of traveling through Branch Brook Park where there are few passengers, will leave Franklin Street and travel down Belleville Avenue to Washington Avenue.

The proposal to reroute the bus line will be presented by Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo in the form of a resolution at a special meeting of the Board of Commissioners, tonight at Town Hall.

If the resolution is passed, the proposal will go to the State Department of Public Utilities for final approval. The whole affair is expected to take about a month, according to Commissioner Strumolo, who engineered the rerouting.

The Commissioner had sought the change after receiving numerous phone calls from residents complaining about the lack of bus transportation along Belleville Avenue, one of the town's major thoroughfares. Currently, only a DeCamp (Continued on Page 2)

NOT GOOD DISHWATER — Mrs. Pat Tortorello of 24 Mt. Prospect Avenue, finds cleaning dishes this week a difficult task. The housewife was one of many who were annoyed that water coming out of the faucets was "dirty." A satisfactory explanation has not been supplied by officials.

Senatore Plagued By Calls

Belleville and Newark public officials, searching for a cause to the town's outbreak of "dirty" water this week, have reached conflicting conclusions, and it is expected that only further investigations will bring about a definite answer to the crisis.

Dan Berardinelli, senior engineer for the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority, from which Belleville gets its water, told the Times that the "dirty" water was probably caused by an increase in usage by Belleville residents. The extra flow in pipes, Berardinelli said, would stir up sediment that lies normally on the bottom of water pipes.

Belleville Commissioner Mary Senatore, besieged with hundreds of complaints earlier this week, took exception to Berardinelli's conclusion, stating that repairs being done to a large water main in Newark had caused the "dirty" water. According to figures in her department, there has been no increase in water usage in Belleville.

Berardinelli, who admitted to repairs in Newark, said that "they would not have an effect on Belleville's water system." He was referring to a 48 inch pipe under Orange and North Seventh Streets that had been shut down and was being relocated in conjunction with the construction of Route 280.

In effect, Berardinelli claims that the increase in water usage in Belleville was causing water to flow faster in pipes, hence "scouring" them of sediment. To his knowledge, he said, there were no repairs being done that would effect Belleville's water supply. He said that his department was "puzzled" and is checking every possible source of the problem.

Commissioner Senatore, obviously annoyed by the inconveniences caused to local residents, said that the problem did not originate in Belleville.

"I want the people of Belleville to know," she said Tuesday, "that the problem has not come from our system here in town, because I had all the hydrants flushed this summer and repaired. It has to be coming from Newark."

The Commissioner also said that it "was unfair of Newark authorities not to notify us of the repairs being done." She (Continued on Page 3)

New Ambulance

Familiar Story: The Old Retires

The shiny red ambulance pulled quietly up to Town Hall and parked, taking up two spaces. No siren screaming through the streets, no high speed emergency flight, not even a white-coated medic.

The ambulance had come to get its picture taken. It was to be the new number one town emergency vehicle. The old ambulance, a 1961 Chrysler, the one being retired from service, was no where to be seen. Its transmission shot, the Chrysler sat amongst the shadows of the firehouse garage, age having rendered it immobile.

In front of Town Hall, Mayor Kenneth Smith, Fire Chief Carl Hundertpfund and town purchasing agent Tom McLaughlin stood in the bright summer sun and posed with the $17,900 vehicle.

A few hours later, the new ambulance made its maiden run, an emergency trip to aid a woman who had passed out in the A & P.

The old ambulance, originally purchased for $16,000, had made its initial run over seven years ago. In that first year, 1961, it had made 941 emergency trips.

Walter Weiss Returns To Capital As Congressman Rodino's Page

Walter Weiss will be serving his second term in Washington this fall. Walter isn't an office holder however, he is a page to Congressman Peter Rodino, and loves every minute of it.

Chosen last year over three high school candidates, Walter was invited back for a second six month stint with the Congressman.

"It's like going to college a few years earlier," he remarked when asked how he likes living away from home.

This fall, Walter will live at a boarding house with other pages, and attend a special school for pages from 6:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. on the third floor of the Library of Congress.

Eating his meals at restaurants, Walter was fortunate in meeting many famous national figures, including Spiro Agnew, Rev.

Thomas Abernathy, Tommy Smothers and Melvin Laird.

Last year Walter, who lives at 19 Madison Street in Belleville, served as a messenger and got to know the Congressional halls pretty well. This year he hopes to answer phones in Rodino's office, an interesting task.

Walter took it easy this summer, relaxing and enjoying a short vacation in Wildwood. He didn't get back from Washington until July, and had difficulty finding a job at such a late date.

He did, however, find time to go attend a special program for boys at Rider College in Trenton, sponsored by the American Legion. There he learned about the basics of government and was elected to the student assembly. The assembly took a trip to the State Legislature and passed "bills" and debated like regular assemblymen.

"I think it was really great," said Walter about his first stay in Washington as a page. "I got to learn about the way things actually are run in Washington, not just the way they tell you in text books."

On an average day, Walter gets up at 5:30 a.m. and goes to school. He has two 45 minute classes and then a fifteen minute break before attending to more. (This year he is scheduled to take physics, English, government and accounting.) After school, he must be at work by 10 a.m. and stays there only as long as the house convenes. Sometimes he is out as early as 1:30 p.m.

The only thing he doesn't seem to like about Washington, is all the meals he has to eat at restaurants. "It gets to be tiring after awhile."

On weekends, Walter and other pages usually relax, tour Washington, or go to show and ball games. In all, it's a pretty exciting life for a 16 year-old.

Marra Named As Vet Head

Joseph Marra of 74 Heckel Street, was named chairman of the Belleville Veteran's Ticket Committee at an annual reorganization luncheon, August 20.

Marra, who is commander of the Barbone Mosco Post No. Seven, has long been active in veteran clubs. He has served as national service officer for Post Seven, and is currently employed by the County of Essex, Highway Division.

A Policeman's Duties? Just About Everything

What does the Belleville Police Department do while the average citizen is going about his daily affairs? Is the Department's functioning limited to dealing with crime investigation, or does it perform more comprehensive public duties?

To answer these questions, the Times studied the police blotter, a ledger that records all police daily activities. Special attention was paid to the non-criminal activities of the department.

Compiling statistics for the month of August, the Times discovered that the Belleville police are involved in almost every facet of community functioning, from answering calls about delinquent youths to escorting people to the local bank.

Detective Harry Winfield reports that the Department answers approximately 1,800 phone calls each month, 70 per cent of which do not pertain to criminal activities.

By far the largest number of phone calls received for August concerned disturbances caused by youths. Ninety three complaints were registered against local youth, involving the throwing of cherry bombs, congregating on corners, breaking windows, barking too noisy and a host of other things.

Usually the calls involving youth are not of a serious nature. Often the children have fled the scene before the police arrive.

The second highest number of calls in August concerned requests for emergency medical attention, whether it meant escorting a sick man to a hospital, or treating a person who has burned himself on the family range. To these calls, numbering 62, police responded as fast as there were cars available, and have received numerous thank you notes in the mail.

Another major non-criminal function the police perform is the patrolling of homes where residents are vacationing. In August, a total of 35 residents requested surveillance while they were away.

Dog and cat bites are frequent problems that the police are called to handle. Fourteen bites were reported to police during August for their help.

The blotter also revealed that the police were asked to escort 11 people to banks with company payrolls.

Dead or injured animals take up a lot of police time, the blotter showed. Ten animals needed police attention during August. If an animal is merely injured, the police take it to a shelter for attention.

Unusual phone calls are also received by the Department. In August, police aided a resident to rid a bat from her home. Another call requested that police take a snapping turtle that was in the street, away. Police also received a call from a woman who said an old lady had fallen out of her bed and she was unable to get back in. Officers were detailed to the house and lifted the old woman back into bed. Two possums were reported near some garbage cans, and police put them in a box and released them in the park.

Lt. George Lister, who handles the desk during the morning shift, said that he is kept quite busy answering service requests. After receiving a call, he contacts patrol cars and details them to the scene.

Hospital automation is more prevalent now all over the country. Radio and television are important new tools for hospitals. Closed-circuit television cameras in operating rooms now give thousands of medical students a detailed view of the surgeon's work. And cameras in wards allow doctors and nurses to keep an eye on things even though they are physically removed from the room. Doctors carry tiny, transistorized receivers so they can be called back to the hospital for an emergency. The objective, of course, is to provide the maximum in care and supervision. Strumolo Suggests Bus Route Change

bus to New York City passes along Belleville Avenue.
Strumolo sought the change because "the people of Belleville deserve good bus service, which they are not getting." The Commissioner said there was no reason for the bus to pass through the park, as "no one lives there."
In addition to serving local residents who want to get to Washington Avenue, the rerouting will help school children to get to the junior and senior highs. The bus is scheduled to pass both schools. The bus is expected to be a big help to the students who want to attend Saturday football games at the Stadium.
The last bus line to travel down Belleville Avenue was the Trackless Transit bus number 98, which went out of business three years ago.
About a year and a half ago, Commissioner Strumolo had formed a transportation committee in his department, headed by Michael DeRusso, to investigate the possibilities of rerouting the line. The decision was sent to Strumolo by H.E. Harper, president of Public Service.
Commissioner Strumolo told the Times that he urges citizens to use the bus frequently so that the line will increase hourly service

"244 Vietnam Dead"

Last week we were told 244 American boys died on the Vietnam battlefield. This is a sickening statistic, and each week the Vietnam death toll makes us more angry.

Maybe we are dense, but we still are unable to find one good reason why American boys today are dying on Vietnam battlefields.

What might have been right in 1954 or 1960 is certainly wrong today, and no amount of political talk will change the basic nature of the Vietnam War.

It is an Asian war and should be a matter for Asian soldiers.

The tragedy of Vietnam lies in the fact that American policy today requires that we not win the war on the battlefield.

This is the first time in American history that an American army has been told they cannot — and must not — win the war. In this frame of reference every American boy who gives up his life in Vietnam is serving no useful American purpose. And we believe it is high time we get the ——— out of Vietnam.

Wage and Price Controls

Labor leader George Meany, over the weekend, suggested the country is ready for wage and price controls.

Not only are we ready for price controls, but we are very late in the day for such a needed economic measure.

For as long as government officials in Washington continue to play politics with the economy of this country, the poor man will become poorer, the middle-income man will become poor, and the rich man will continue to get along.

Without price, wage and profit controls, inflation will continue to spiral and the dollar will buy less and less as the young become old and as the old become older. Social Security will become more illusory as the dollar loses its value.

Even today the Social Security dreams of our elder citizens of 20 years ago are leading them down to a poverty-level existence. Social Security payments should have been tied to cost-of-living statistics. Private annuity programs also should have been keyed to a cost-of-living basis.

Well, these things never took place; but that is no reason why our Washington politicians should not consider the adoption now of wage, price and profit controls.

The sooner we get these controls the better off this country will be.

British Divorce By Consent

Britain, which abolished the death penalty and cigarette commercials on television in recent years, has moved to establish divorce by consent. A bill which would reform divorce laws and provide for divorces when both parties consent, without expensive litigation and after suitable periods, recently passed the House of Commons by a wide margin.

The bill would make the irretrievable breakdown of a marriage the only necessary ground for divorce. It would end situations in which one spouse was tied to another, perhaps for years or decades, when the marriage between the two was beyond retrieve.

While no one would advocate taking divorce lightly, it is nevertheless true that too many hurry into marriage without a proper concept of what is involved, or demanded. And of the millions married each year, all are obviously not made in heaven or perfect matches.

For some generations we have, to a large extent, accepted puritanical standards, and religious mores, that once consummated, the marriage should be a lifetime proposition, to be enjoyed or endured until death. While this is a fine concept, and goal, in many cases it is an impractical one in today's world, and individuals are often better off having a new try at life and happiness.

Where children are involved, of course, it is often desirable for a couple to maintain their marriage for the children's benefit though psychologists tell us under certain home conditions separation is preferable. It is indeed a big subject. The British decision to allow divorce by mutual consent is an effort to reform impractical custom and tradition, and law, and results will be closely watched.

Students Look Ahead To School Opening

by John J. Bunevich

Question: Are you looking forward to getting back to school?

Asked: of Nutley and Belleville High School students.

Lynn Stefanelli, 132 Union Avenue, Belleville

I really am. I'm looking forward to seeing all my friends. Another reason I am anxious to get back to school is that this will be my last year in junior high. I'll be entering the ninth grade. That means I'm officially a high school student. A freshman. I'm going to be a cheerleader this year. I'm looking forward to that. I want to enter a lot of school activities this year and plan ahead for my entrance to college. I would like to go to college if at all possible. The summer was fun but everything has to come to an end.

Lynn Stefanelli

Roseann Costanza, 18 DeVausney Place, Nutley.

Yes. I'm looking ahead to school. Mainly because this summer has been a big bore. I want to get back. I'll be driving this year. I'm looking forward to the basketball season. I love watching and playing basketball. I can't wait to wear all the new fashions in school this year. I'm going to be a junior in high school and that means more privileges. I'll be joining modern dance club in school. I enjoy that very much. I like football too, but basketball is more fun to watch.

Cheryl Pietrzak, 377 Joralemon Avenue, Belleville

Yes, I want to get back to school. It's going to be a new experience for me. I just moved to Belleville in June and hadn't a chance to attend their school system as of yet. I hear that the Belleville schools are very nice. I came here from Roselle Park but I lived in Bloomfield for a time so I know some of the people in Belleville. I really don't know if I'll join any clubs or activities in school but I may get into something. I can't wait to meet all the new people in school.

Patricia Sebastian, 11 Evergreen Avenue, Nutley

I'm not looking forward to getting back to school. I'm scared. It is going to be something new to me. I'm transferring from New Council High School in Newark. It's a Catholic school. There will be a big difference and I'll have to make an adjustment. I think there will be more work in Nutley High School. New Council was an easy school. Nutley High will be a better school to go to because there will be more activities. I plan on joining the Business Club. It will be easier to root for Nutley at the football games knowing I'm attending the school. Comparing the two, I think I'll have more fun going to Nutley High.

Speak Up

Rodino Given Praise For Help To Berets

To The Editor,

In reading the daily press releases in the case of the Green Beret one seems confused as to what is really going on in this case. Either some one is trying to deceive the public or someone is lying in this case.

Has someone been murdered? or is someone trying to cover up some mistake?

The C.I.A. claims that they have some knowledge of the slaying but had nothing to do with the slaying.

The Army claims that they had, nothing to do with the slaying.

The Green Berets claim that they were acting under orders.

Investigations into this case had been suspended, and are now on again. There has been no evidence produced that there has been a murder, and without any evidence how can the Army justify the solitary confinement of these courageous men?

Being an active veteran in veteran affairs I can appreciate the intervention into this case of our Congressman Peter W. Rodino. Through his efforts and his intervention he was able to get these men released from solitary confinement. Once again he has proved that he is a true representative of the people of his district. Regardless as to where you may be, when you need help, he is there as he did in the case of the Green Berets, especially in behalf of Captain Robert F. Marasco of Bloomfield.

His action in this case is highly commendable, and deserves a word of praise from his constituency.

Respectfully yours,

George Sbarra

Red Cross Leader Asks Town's Help

District chairman of the Belleville Red Cross, Eugene Barnett, today put out an urgent call to Belleville residents to aid in assisting thousands of battered, homeless families who were hit by the 200 mile-an-hour winds of Hurricane Camille on August 16. The local chairman joined veteran Red Cross workers in saying that this is the most disastrous hurricane that has ever affected the mainland.

Hundreds of Red Cross volunteers and disaster specialists cared for 70,000 hurricane victims forced from their homes by Camille. 40,000 are still being cared for in shelters by over 400 volunteer Red Cross nurses along with many physicians.

Red Cross disaster relief teams used Army and Coast Guard helicopters and a special train loaned by the Illinois-Central Railroad to get to the stricken area. Emergency radio transmitters and power generators were rushed to the area.

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

During the months of June and July the TV manufacturers show their distributors and dealers the products which we are going to sell beginning this fall. As is our custom, we report in the "column" about this merchandise.

Four years ago Magnavox came out with the "automatic fine tuning feature". This was a tremendous improvement. The proper functioning of a color TV set depends on the correct setting of the fine tuner. If this is off, there is no color or the colors are not right. Magnavox changed all this. You just turn the station selector and the set takes over and adjusts itself correctly. There has not been any improvement to speak of since. Now all manufacturers have automatic fine tuning, except on the lowest priced models.

The color on a properly set up color TV set is correct if you adjust it on a live program for "skin tone". If you set this correctly, there is no need for further adjustment of the tint control. To be sure, there are some differences in color as you change from one station to the other, however, most of this can be adjusted by the color control. If you are in a good reception area and have a good antenna, a color TV requires very little adjustment. Magnavox this year did it again, like with the automatic fine tuning, years ahead of the "pack". In the price range from $598.50 and up, you set the "skin tone" (tint control) once and a Magnavox color TV set maintains this skin tone for all stations. Thus Magnavox is the first color TV set that does not require any adjustments, you just dial from station to station without fiddling with controls. This is the only improvement on color TV sets this year and only Magnavox has it. Otherwise the sets are almost the same as in previous years. More next week.

We service what we sell.

Belleville Football Hopes High

The B H S football team will soon start its '69 season and two of the three classes eligible for varsity have had undefeated seasons as freshmen. They've beaten some of the usually tough teams in the Big 10, like East Orange, also Orange, Irvington, Kearny, Nutley, and Montclair, a team that the varsity doesn't face.

Last year's team sported a 3-6 record and this year they can do better. The morale of the team is great, the players really want to win and gain a reputation as a good ball club.

This year the team will probably have an almost all senior line as it had last year, and most of the players have had some good Varsity JV experience, according to some of last year's players.

Belleville's defensive line should include Rich Corbo, Ralph Salerno, Bill Tomacki, and Junior Mike Albertine, with Roy Newman and Joe Ritacco working for defensive ends. Frank Fury and Sal Bivona will be in sight as strong linebackers along with Salerno, Alan De Feo, and Rich Della Terza.

Backfield Promises To Be Good

In the backfield, Lonnie Bunch looks good for safety, and Vic Squitieri and Doug Brown possibly for defensive halfback.

The offensive line will be very important. Al DeFeo and Bill Tomacki will be the seniors here. Joe Valvano, a junior, is most likely to return to his varsity spot at center of last year, and other players working hard for spots will be Mike Albertine, Tom Jones, and Rich Della Terza. The ends will be Roy Newman and Vin Constantino with Jerry De Paul also trying to move in.

The quarterback spot will be between Joe Papisidero and Joe Lotriglio. Paps has some varsity experience and passes well. Lotriglio can pass, too, and also is tough as a runner and blocker. Doug Brown has a good chance as fullback. Doug is tough and has speed, but also could be used at QB as he showed last year.

Others in the backfield will be Steve Banda, who has been a varsity back for two years and can drive through the defense. Rick Caruso saw some varsity action last year and is real fast if he can get blocks. The same with Mark Bradley, once Mark gets open he's just about gone—he was the number one 220 and 440 runner for the track team.

Little League Picnic Set This Sunday For Field

The Belleville Little League will hold its annual Picnic-Awards day at the Michael V. Marotti Field, Sunday, from 1-7 p.m.

National League championship and one for capturing the local World Series.

All boys 12 years of age, who will be too old next year to play in the League, will receive citations.

Games are planned for children and mothers and fathers, according to Michael Marotti, League president. The Times will provide picture coverage of the event.

Congregation Sisterhood Set For Initial Meeting, Tuesday

The Sisterhood of Congregation Ahavath Achim will hold its opening meeting of the year on Tuesday, at 8:30 P.M. at the synagogue, 125 Academy Street.

Playgrounds Finish Summer Fun

On the last Wednesday of the summer playground program all the playgrounds sent their various champs to compete in the town-wide playground championships at Clearman Field. There were four groups competing in each event, Boys 11-14 years, Girls 11-14, Boys 6-10 and Girls 6-10. This year the events were different; there was a pentathlon consisting of checkers, base running, accuracy throw, distance throw, and soccer distance kick; there was a physical fitness contest consisting of push-ups, sit-ups, chins, squat thrusts and a sprint; and there were five individual events which were ping-pong, kalah, nok-hockey, horseshoes and foul shooting.

Belleville Student Attends Fraternity Leadership School

Leonard Izzo of Van Houten Place, Belleville, attended the 1969 Phi Academy, the leadership school for undergraduate chapter officers of the international men's college fraternity, Phi Gamma Delta, at Indiana University on August 25, 26, and 27.

Len is a junior at New York University where he is a member of the chapter of Phi Gamma Delta.

Over 400 undergraduate officers and national leaders of the fraternity were in attendance at this 11th leadership school. Founded in 1848 at Washington and Jefferson College (Pa.), Phi Gamma Delta has 97 chapters at leading colleges and universities in the United States and Canada and a total living membership of 63,000.

In the pentathlon for younger boys Jonathon Polite was the over-all winner taking first place in every event but checkers. Among the older boys Gary Soldo won with three first places. Lisa Vitiello, who took first in everything but checkers, won the younger girls trophy. In the older girls group there was a tie between Debbie McGill who took first in checkers and the accuracy throw and Donna DeNotaris who won in the soccer kick and the distance throw.

Physical fitness had been a scheduled part of the summer's program and the championship in this event was hotly contested. A truly remarkable performance was turned in by Dave Polumbo in the younger boys group, he did six chins, one hundred and twenty-five sit-ups, one hundred and twenty-seven squat-thrusts and then took first in the sprint. Richard Cuppara won in the older boys division. Among the younger girls Leslie Zarro won in a tight contest and Gerry Mitchell won the older girls group.

In the individual events Kenneth Brown and Anthony Carr each sank four out of five foul shots, then in the play off Kenny repeated while Anthony only got three. Joseph Pezzino won among the younger Boys. Charles Nigro took the younger boys horseshoe crown and Al Ferrentino won in the older group. Best of the young girls was Maria Calig and Gail Alfone won in the older group. Ping pong champion of the younger boys is Mark DeGiacomo and Vinnie Turturiello mastered the older group. Girls champs in ping-pong are Laura Bryan and Lynn Alfone. Boys champs in nok-hockey are Louis Ferriero and Alonzo Dobson and the girls are led by Linda Bryan and Gail Alfone. Kalah, one of the most popular games on the playgrounds, was very hotly contested with the ultimate winners Robert DiStasi, Mike Dondarski, Carolyn Restivo and Lynn Alfone.

Trophies were presented to the winners of each individual event in the three-phase championship and to the over all winners in the pentathlon and the physical fitness contest.

Saturday, Sept. 13 is the Day of Judgement.

Rosh Hashanah. When every man passes before his creator, his past actions are evaluated, and his future judged. "All who enter the world dost Thou come to pass before Thee, one by one, as a flock of sheep. As a shepherd musters his sheep and causes them to pass beneath his staff, so dost Thou pass and record, count and visit, every living soul, appointing the measure of creature's life and decreeing its destiny."

Katharine Gibbs Offers Secretarial Course

What happens when a woman beyond the average schoolgoing age seeks secretarial training so that she can cash in on one of the many top-notch jobs available in the secretarial field?

"Until now, she has probably found it to be an experience in frustration," says Helen Cole, director of Montclair's Katharine Gibbs School, training ground for New Jersey's most sought-after secretaries.

"Any woman over 25 is quite reluctant to enroll in a course where she will be surrounded by students who are many years her junior," explained Mrs. Cole, adding, "She is also reluctant to involve herself in a long, drawn-out course."

She continued, "This Fall, Gibbs is offering a totally new course which is geared specifically to women who have had little or no secretarial training. With the large number of exciting secretarial jobs going unfilled today, there is a real need for this kind of course."

Gibbs new course, called Adult Career Training, is a 16-week program that will run from September 29 through mid-January with classes to be held from 9 a.m. until noon, Monday through Friday.

"The real advantage of this course," said Mrs. Cole, "is that all the students will be starting off on an equal footing, because they all will be getting back to the books after an absence of many years. And," she added, "A morning class schedule allows a woman more flexibility than a full day of classwork."

Among the earliest enrollees for the course are women who wish to supplement family income while their children are in college; a schoolteacher who desires a change in career and several other women who have worked at non-challenging jobs for a number of years and wish to try for something more interesting.

Will graduates of this program have any problem finding good secretarial positions?

"At present," reports Harriet Davies, Gibbs placement director, "We have more than 15 firm job offers for every graduate of our regular program, so you can be sure there will be many excellent positions available to graduates of Adult Career Training. We never have been able to keep up with the demand for our students," she added. "... And I hope we never can!"

In addition to typing and shorthand, the program also includes classes in Business English, Accounting, and Secretarial Techniques plus several seminars on topics such as Office Orientation and Fashion and Grooming.

"This course has a tremendously broad appeal to women, whether they are entering the business world for the first time, returning to work after raising a family, or those who have been working but want to go on to something more challenging," said Mrs. Cole, adding enthusiastically, "We are delighted to be able to present this opportunity for women of such varied employment needs."

The commissioner of education is the chief state school officer. He is appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the state senate, for a term of five years.

Sept. 13, 1969 Happy birthday, world!

The first day of Tishri. This day the world was called into being, says the Hebrew liturgy. And it also is the first day of Rosh Hashanah when every man passes before his creator, his past actions are evaluated and his future judged.

This year why not plan to spend that Holy Day with us at Temple Menorah. Since it is the 'Day of Judgement', what else more important do you have to do?

Montessori School In Montclair

The parents of pre-school youngsters in the Nutley-Belleville area will indeed be fortunate, come this September, for at that time another of the International Montessori Schools will be opened, in Montclair. Under the directorship of Miss Lakshmi A. Kripalani, a highly qualified teacher in this field, it will be the second one that she has founded in Essex County. The new school will be located at 175 Glenridge Avenue, Montclair, near Bloomfield Avenue and the YWCA. The present school is located at 227 Tremont Avenue, East Orange. Children from two and one-half years through kindergarten age will be accepted when the new school opens on September 22nd.

Miss Kripalani, trained under Dr. Maria Montessori, is certified in teaching and in teacher-training. Born in Pakistan and educated in both India and the United States, she holds a B.A. with honors in Psychology, and a diploma from the American Montessori Association. With this wide background in her education Miss Kripalani is well-qualified to direct the lives of American youth. As an accredited Montessori teacher she has founded, directed, and visited schools abroad as well as in our country. The Montessori Center of New Jersey, at the East Orange school is officially known, is the only recognized training center for teachers wishing to learn this method of education, as one accredited by the Association Montessori International. The A.M.I., as it is known, was established in 1929 by Dr. Montessori and is supported by distinguished scholars and statesmen around the world.

Annual study, conferences serve to develop new practices and exchange insights which grow out of this method of teaching. Miss Kripalani will be attending the International Montessori Teacher Trainer Conference in Italy this August. While abroad, she will visit schools in London, Holland and Italy, picking up additional materials for use here.

These New Jersey centers are devoted to the education and welfare of children irrespective of color, race or creed. Parents interested in the very best in an educational beginning for their children are urged to learn more about this school by calling Mrs. Lee Willits of Upper Montclair (746-6505). The new school will be easily accessible to many people here, though transportation can be provided for those who need it, by the school. Early registration is suggested.

Both schools will be staffed by high-qualified teachers who have been trained by Miss Kripalani, with her time being divided between the two schools in a supervisory capacity; still maintaining her regular contacts with each and every child as in the past. The director works right along with her teachers in helping individual youngsters as needed.

In the Montessori schools each child works independently much of the time, with the teacher going from one to another and observing, teaching, helping if needed, as the youngster works on his own project, thus learning at his own rate of speed in the process of self-education. Direct experience is the teacher in many daily activities. In a world of child-sized equipment, the shelves hold tools and games of learning, each designed to teach a specific skill or fact. The theory is that a child can learn anything, given the right experience; therefore, he is encouraged to experiment, touch, hold, feel, listen - and through these activities, the senses are combined or linked to help the child learn further. Using the inherently logical and pleasing materials available here to develop a sense of order and logical thought, the firm foundation is being set for his future learning and success in the "three R's". The all-rounded experiences give a background in the fields of the social sciences - history, geography, biology, botany - even to the very young child.

Each activity is isolated from the other to make learning easier, with the liberty of choice of work through much of the day, the child can work undisturbed if he wishes, gaining self-confidence; or he may choose to participate in group work. No child is ever excluded because he cannot keep pace with others. All this training is helping the youngster to absorb the necessary background for adult life - order, cleanliness, poise, conversation, and the ability to logically think for himself.

Miss Kripalani believes that a child, during his sensitive years of learning, perceives the world as it is in great detail, but only after he is forced by the experiences of the world about him, he too, follows the adult pattern and loses the ability of his own distinct potentiality.

In a good Montessori school the children are given the freedom and the experiences that enhance this natural ability to better understand the reality around them. It is rapidly becoming recognized as the ideal beginning for the pre-school youngster, regardless of his abilities or his comprehension-span.

Rutgers Food Scientist Prefers Abacus, Calculator to Thermometer

The homemaker may prefer her trusty oven thermometer, but Rutgers food scientist Kan-ichi Hayakawa puts more faith in an abacus and electronic calculator.

Dr. Hayakawa first came to this country from Japan in 1961 as a Rutgers graduate student. He is now an assistant professor of food science at the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, continuing his study of the heat transfer properties of food.

"A large part of my work," he says, "is based on the fact that it's impractical to put a thermometer inside a can or jar after the lid is sealed. For this reason, researchers have long worked on formulas and tables to help the canner predict and control what's happening inside his product."

Recently Dr. Hayakawa devised a new set of experimental formulas for use by canners to be published in a forthcoming issue of "Food Technology."

He points out that the heat must be high enough to kill all harmful micro-organisms, yet low enough to avoid harming the taste. If cooled too fast, a can often rusts inside its seam when water condenses there.

Heat travels through food in two ways: through conduction, a slow, gradual warming; or through convection, similar to waves traveling through a fluid medium such as juice or syrup.

"It has been extremely difficult in the past," Dr. Hayakawa notes, "to accurately chart the rise and fall of temperature when there is a mixture of solids and liquid - such as canned vegetables in water, producing both convection and conduction at once."

"For this reason, I was very pleased to find that my experimental formulas can handle both modes of heat transfer."

And what about the abacus?

"I find that for addition and subtraction the abacus is simply faster," he says, "but the calculator has the edge in multiplication, division, square roots and other calculations. For the really complex problems, it's necessary to use the university's computer center."

He estimates that somewhere between a hundred billion and a trillion calculations have gone into the formulas that he has produced so far.

"It's not enough just to like numbers," he observes with a sigh, "patience is also very much a requirement."

Dr. Kan-ichi Hayakawa

NEW ADMINISTRATOR
Peter Conlow has been named as administrator for the Barbizon School of Modeling and Personal Improvement for this area. He has a background of 21 years in theatre and television. The school opened its doors in Montclair on the second floor of the new building at 70 Park Street.

BARBIZON LECTURER
Mrs. Peter Conlow, wife of the administrative director of the Barbizon School in Montclair, is a famous television commercial actress and model with an extensive theater background. She will be lecturing students at the Barbizon School.

Men Qualified
As Instructors
By Rifle Group

Three Belleville residents have been appointed certified rifle and pistol instructors by the National Rifle Association of America.

The three men are Robert M. Mitrow of 89 Bell Street, Thomas J. Walsh of 93 Bell Street and Paul J. Wentworth of 188 Linden Avenue.

The new instructors were appointed on the basis of experience and the successful completion of an extensive examination. They are now qualified to conduct classes in basic marksmanship and safe gun handling.

The three men join the ranks of selected volunteer instructors throughout the country who donate many hours in the NRA small arms education program. The program has been in operation since 1876; since that time many millions of people have been taught to handle and enjoy firearms safely and effectively.

The New Jersey Urban Education Corps is a special unit of the State Department of Education organized to provide a training program to prepare men and women for teaching assignments in urban schools.

Eye Examinations Urged By Optometric Group

Getting your child ready to go to school can be busy times. There are so many things to do and so many things to buy.

But parents are reminded not to overlook one of the most important things — an eye examination.

This warning has been issued by Dr. Mario Costantini, president of the New Jersey Optometric Association, and Dr. Richard Rosenberg, president of the Essex County Optometric Society.

"Too many times harried parents let an eye examination for their child slip by without having it done," the two doctors said. "And, without knowing it, cause their youngster to get poor marks during the coming term."

Dr. Rosenberg said a child can have 20-20 vision and still have a severe visual problem. "This is why the Snellen test, in which a child reads a chart on the wall, is not enough," Dr. Rosenberg said. He explained that the vision screening given by school districts is an abbreviated form of examination and many times a visual handicap could slip through undetected.

"Under no circumstances can it be compared to, nor should it be mistaken for, a professional examination," Dr. Rosenberg warned. He pointed out that a proper examination takes over an hour with the proper equipment.

He said that should the school screening detect a vision problem, however, the parents should immediately arrange for a more thorough examination by an optometrist.

Dr. Rosenberg explained that poor vision could cause other problems — such as juvenile delinquency and poor posture — in addition to poor marks.

"Many times a student with poor eyesight will assume various positions in an effort to see better and in so doing ruins his posture," the doctor said.

He added that a study in Tennessee disclosed that 75 percent of all delinquents tested had vision problems serious enough to interfere with reading ability.

"Their failure in school reading contributed to bringing about discouragement and frustration, resulting in rebellion against authority," Dr. Rosenberg said. "They turn their attention to disruptive activities instead of learning."

Poor vision could cause an otherwise good student to drop out of school, he said.

Dr. Rosenberg pointed out that 80 percent of all school work and activities is based on vision. "Poor vision will certainly have an effect on reading and reading is the key to learning most subjects," he said.

He pointed out that today's educational structure requires that a child read an average of 432 books during the 12 grades. "Without the proper vision, he will never make it," Dr. Rosenberg said.

The New Jersey Optometric Association recommends that every child receive a complete professional visual examination before entering kindergarten and an annual check up every year thereafter to provide maximum preventive care and early correction.

Dr. Rosenberg explained that poor vision is not something a child will complain about to his parents because many times a youngster has always seen that way and thinks it is normal.

"And a parent does not see through his child's eyes so he or she cannot spot a vision failure in most cases," he said. "An optometrist can detect this."

"So when hurrying around getting your child ready for school this year, make sure you take time to have him examined by your family optometrist," Dr. Rosenberg concluded. "Otherwise all the other things you are getting your child might not matter."

Congressman Rodino Wants Federal Funds

In a letter to State Chairman James McMahon, of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission, Congressman Peter W. Rodino, Jr. urged the Commission to seek Federal assistance and financing for the estimated 2.5 million dollar cost of constructing a by-pass tunnel around the damaged sewer under McCarter Highway in Newark.

Such assistance would alleviate the heavy burden of the repair costs, and would allow the Commission to take advantage of the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration's technical expertise and national pollution control experience.

Rodino stated that he is somewhat optimistic about the chances of receiving Federal aid, especially if new permanent tunnel construction is decided upon. However, the PVSC must take the first step by initiating an application.

Earlier, officials of the FWPCA met with Rodino and assured him of their desire to give technical assistance and aid in order to find a mutually satisfactory solution to this pollution crisis.

July Was A Wet, Wet Month Says College Meteorologist

It was wet, wet, wet in July.

According to Harold D. Duflocq, meteorologist at the Union College Meteorological Station, precipitation in July totaled 9.42 inches. In his monthly report to the U. S. Weather Bureau, Duflocq said rainfall in July was 4.37 inches above the normal July total of 5.05 inches.

Measurable rainfall was recorded on 16 days in July with the greatest amount in a 24-hour period of 1.73 inches recorded on July 28.

The 9.42 inches of precipitation was the highest recorded in a July since the Union College Meteorological Station was opened on January 1, 1960. A year ago rainfall in July totaled only 1.27 inches, which is 3.78 inches below normal. The driest July was 1966 when only .81 inches of rain were recorded.

Rainfall for the first seven months of 1969 totaled 27.23 inches, while 23.25 inches were recorded during the same period a year ago.

During the month, temperatures ranged from a maximum of 94 degrees recorded on July 17 to a minimum of 53 degrees recorded on July 9. The average temperature was 73.4 degrees, which is .7 degrees below normal. The highest daily average temperature was 83 degrees on July 17 and the lowest daily average temperature was 67 degrees on July 10 and 25.

The average maximum temperature was 82.8 degrees, and the average minimum temperature was 64 degrees.
