

A 'Badly Lit' Abutment Nearly Costs Woman Her Life

CHARRED REMAINS—The interior and roof of Ann Collins' Mustang were badly burned in the accident that nearly claimed the life of the Paterson woman, as her car smashed into the abutment September 4.

INSPECTION—Officers Joe Oesy (left) and Joe Ward inspect the abutment at the Rutgers Street exit which young Ann Collins struck. Acting Chief Harry Tepe has sent a letter to the State Highway Department asking that reflectors be placed on this abutment, which is difficult to see at night.

THE WRECKAGE—Ann Collins' Mustang is barely recognizable as it lay wrapped around the abutment at the Rutgers Street exit off Route 21, northbound.

Belleville Mayor Invites Belleville's Mayor Smith To See Belleville (Huh?)

On September 28, Mayor Ken Smith of Belleville will embark on a 400 mile plane ride to Belleville to celebrate the opening of Belleville Week with several other Mayors from Belleville.

Sound confusing?

It really isn't. Smith has been invited to Belleville, Ontario, along with several other mayors from Bellevilles throughout the United States, for a promotion of the Canadian city.

Mayor Smith received the invitation from Mayor Russel Scott of the Canadian city, to be present for a weeks activities beginning September 29.

In his letter to Mayor Smith, Mayor Scott said "Our Belleville is undergoing a period of economic expansion which has seen us average one new industrial plant location every two months for the past year. As a result, the Industrial Commission, in sponsoring this promotion week, has adopted the theme 'Tomorrow is Here.'"

All expenses for Smith's trip will be financed by the Ontario city. Smith plans to ask his Commission for a resolution and plaque commending the Canadian Belleville for its progress.

Among the activities planned for the Canadian city are: A dance sponsored by the Hasting - Prince Edward Women's Liberal Association, with proceeds to be turned over to the city for a parks beautification project.

The opening of Philippa Faulkner's Glanmore Art Gallery and Museum.

The Bay of Quinte Yacht Club's invitational sailing race around the local bay.

A fly - in planned by the Belleville Flying Glider Club, with 200 light planes expected to participate.

A hockey game at the renovated civic arena.

The women's auxiliary of the Belleville General Hospital will hold its annual tea party and fur fashion show.

A street dance and corn roast at the market square.

According to the local newspaper of Canadian Belleville, also being planned "Willie, also being planned "well be the burgling of the outdoor privies from Foster ward, no longer needed now that sanitation sewers have been installed; open house at the Hasting County Museum; a talent show to be attended by a talent scout for the Ted Mack Amateur Hour and a parade through the city."

Returning college students are urged to complete subscription arrangements with The Times before leaving town.

Special personnel will be on duty during the coming two weeks to process special college subscription orders.

Greco speculated that the heavy transfer rate may be due to increased tuition fees at the parochial schools. A second reason, he said, may be that the private schools' are not physically able to accommodate all these students.

Meanwhile, the Board of Education must provide

Crowded Schools Trouble Officials

The anticipated overcrowding of students in Belleville Public Schools has become a reality, and school officials are beset with related problems such as lack of sufficient text books and a large teacher-student ratio.

Enrollment this year hit 5,685, an increase of 172 students over last year. A study conducted by Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco reveals that of these 172 students, 153 have transferred from parochial schools.

"They have about 2,000 children in Belleville parochial schools, and they can transfer freely to the public school system," said Greco. "We can't anticipate when they will make the change, and this makes for problems."

Smith Asks State To Return Taxes

Mayor Ken Smith, angry because none of the $80 million of surplus money from last year's sales tax was returned to Belleville, has authored a telegram to the Governor of New Jersey, signed by the 21 town mayors of the Essex County Conference of Mayors, asking for a revision in the present sales tax law to allow for a greater return to municipalities of the taxed dollars.

Last year $223 million was collected in state wide sales taxes, with $138,000 coming

Acting Police Chief Asks Route 21 Safety Devices After Near Fatal Crash

Acting Police Chief Harry Tepe, annoyed at what he termed improper safety devices on Route 21, has asked the State Highway Department to improve conditions on the "treacherous" highway immediately. Tepe's action comes in the wake of a near fatal accident on the road in which a young Paterson woman's car struck the abutment at the Rutgers Street exit and burst into flames.

Tepe also expressed concern that there is no Belleville entrance to the northbound side of the highway. During emergencies on this side, as in the case of the September accident at the Rutgers Street exit, Belleville Police are forced to head south to the Chester Avenue entrance in Newark, a distance of one mile.

"Why for the life of me there are no reflectors at the Rutgers Street exit's abutment, I don't know," said Tepe.

I have requested that the State Highway Department put in reflectors," he reported.

According to Tepe, the Belleville Police have been annoyed for some time that there is no access in town for northbound traffic on the highway.

"I would like to see the Highway Department open up an entrance for us," Tepe said. "I'm aggravated that we have to take a roundabout route to get to an accident. Belleville Police always respond speedily to emergencies. This has been a trademark of our department, and something like this situation on Route 21 is annoying to us."

A Most Remarkable Citizen

He came to Belleville in a bobsled during the great snowstorm of 1888. He planted the first trees in town and owned Belleville's first motor powered truck. By accident, he and a friend discovered papers in the old Belleville Hotel which detailed the history of the town, setting its charter date as 1628 or 1629.

The man's name is William Wells, and today at 86, he is one of the town's most remarkable senior citizens.

Living with his wife, Florence in a small home he built himself during the depression with black market materials, he spends his time making artificial flowers. He took up this hobby after he was told he drove too slow to be allowed to drive his car on the roads anymore. His wife says driving was his favorite hobby.

Hobbies, however, came to William Wells late in life. For most of his 86 years he had been a successful landscaper, builder and a dozen other things. He was an innovator, an active man who did not heed human boundaries.

William Wells was born in 1882 in Newark. His story really starts on March 10 of 1888 (Wells has a near perfect memory for dates and names), when his father Joseph took him by bobsled from Newark, through nearly seven feet of snow, to Belleville. His father transported passengers from the old Belleville Hotel. (Wallace & Tiernan site today) to the D.L.&W railroad station in Newark.

The Wells moved into the old Adams Hotel at the corner of Bridge and Mill Street (a park is there now). They then bought a five acre property on Mill Street, where his parents lived the rest of their lives. Both his parents died at the age of 89.

With only one school in Belleville, Number One School, "Willie," as his wife calls him, went there until he was 14 years old, when he went to work for a West Arlington nursery and greenhouse owned by Charles Byrd, and was put in charge of "raising plants in sterilized sand in a temperature of 90-100 degrees."

He would take the Erie Railroad to Jersey City and go on the 23rd Street Ferry to New York, where he would sell flowers to wholesale florists and hotels, averaging the then astronomical sum of $1,500 per week, for which he was paid a meager 10 cents an hour. If he was late for work five minutes, he was docked 10 cents. Working overtime brought no extra pay. Willie remembers furnishing plants to decorate the Del Monico Hotel for a celebration of the visit of Prince Henry in Furnishing flowers in winter was a favorite trick of the young florist. He would cut twigs from apple or cherry trees and force them to bloom by tying moss around the branches and keeping it soaked in the greenhouse, which was heated by dry heat. A furnace was used, which burned only wood. Instead of pipes, he recalls, they used a trough 18 inches deep, two feet wide and hundred feet long to conduct the heat.

Willie states proudly that he planted the first Japanese Cherry Tree in the state, on Mt. Prospect Avenue in Newark, opposite Ballantines Parkway.

In 1903, Willie entered Harvard University's Bussey Institute for Agricultural Science, a tribute to the young man, for he had no high school degree. As he explains it, he was so far advanced over the students in landscaping ability, that he was accepted on a trial basis (he finished Harvard in three years, incidentally.)

Willie recalls that Teddy Roosevelt Jr. sat next to him in the lunch room, and that he met his sister Alice on a visit. Willie, who is a Negro, remembers boarding with whites, which in those days was not unusual in Boston, although it was frowned upon throughout the rest of the country. He took care of the public gardens in Boston to earn money, being paid 25 cents an hour.

Graduating in 1906, he set up his own landscaping business on Mt. Prospect Avenue in Newark, taking care of the wealthiest families in Newark. He moved back to Belleville in 1912, and says "my biggest mistake was moving back to Belleville. I could have made a fortune in Newark."

But from the way Willie describes his rich past in Belleville, he seems to have few regrets.

One of his most distinguished feats was the planting of the first trees in town. In those days there were trees only in the forest that stretched from Essex Street to the Nutley line. The hemlock trees in this forest were later bought by Public Service for poles, and by New York City for docks.

Willie went to Blair's Nursery and bought 400 trees for a dollar a piece, that were eight to ten feet high and an inch and three quarters to two inches in diameter. He had to dig them up and plant them all himself. Willie started from Belleville.

'Return Taxes' Says The Mayor

In his telegram, the Mayor demanded "immediate recall legislature for immediate consideration and passage of relief for property owners."
The telegram suggested that the state "revert to the original aim of tax relief of the sales tax legislation and devise formulas for a greater and fairer return of these tax revenues to the local level. Also a bank tax solely for the purpose of property tax relief at the local level must be enacted immediately."
According to the Mayor, the original purpose of the sales tax was to lower real estate taxes by returning money to the municipalities.

Cancer Drive Is Below Par

Belleville's total receipts in the Essex County Cancer Crusade campaign fell short of the county-wide trend, where an excess of more than $10,000 was collected over the $210,000 quote set for the county.

In town, $5,877 was collected, whereas the quote for had been set for Belleville at $7,000.

William Ward, chairman of the crusade announced the figures from the county office.

Ward, executive vice president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, said, "I find it most difficult to put into words my strong feeling of appreciation for Belleville Community Chairman Vincent Strumolo's sustained dedicated seven years leadership. He can enjoy the felling of a job well done."

"I am extremely grateful to the people of Belleville for their generous response to our fund-raising efforts and for the interest in our educational program, manifested by the increased volume of calls on our headquarters for information, guidance and advice as well as for literature and films dealing with the identification and treatment of cancer."

"Fifty thousand crusade volunteers made our success possible, and to them I offer special thanks. It is through the personal efforts and calls of these dedicated people that an awareness of early identification and prompt medical treatment as a weapon to defeat cancer becomes public knowledge. In this manner over 100,000 lives were saved in 1968 and at the same time it is sad to say another 100,000 lives were lost because medical help was sought too late."

"We are sure that our program carrying the message of the seven warning signals of cancer to more and more people will help hasten the day that cancer is finally conquered. We believe it is a story worth telling so tell your family, tell your friends, tell your neighbors and tell the world," the chairman concluded.

at every mile along the highway," the Mayor said. "The problem is that Highway 21 is not properly lit. I am going to petition the State to put in lights. The abutment at the Rutgers Street exit is not properly lit at all. The highway must be lighted in order to prevent these serious accidents."

The recent accident that prompted Tepe's action, has left Ann E. Collins, of 268 Park Avenue, Paterson, in critical condition at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital with multiple injuries to the head and face, and injuries to both legs and a foot.

Miss Collins' car apparently climbed the concrete island that divides the slow lane and the exit ramp at Rutgers Street, striking the abutment and bursting into flames.

A witness to the accident pulled Miss Collins from the flaming car. Upon investigation, Officer Al Koelsch ascertained that the car had climbed the island and traveled 76 feet along it and left a 44 foot skid mark.

The entire front end of the vehicle was smashed and wrapped around the abutment when Koelsch arrived.

Too Many Children: A Problem

textbooks for these extra students at a rate of $50 to $60, according to Greco. "We don't have that kind of money," the Superintendent said to the Times over the phone.

These financial problems are aggravated by the fact that the Board has no official budget to work with. The budget is before the State Commissioner of Education as appeal by the local Board of Education. A $207,000 cut made by the Town Commission "would be to the detriment of better education in Belleville."

Of the money cut by the Commission, $17,000 was sliced from the Board's budgeted amount of $48,000 for textbooks. Thus far, the Board has only ordered $31,000 worth of textbook material.

By far the largest increase in students was at the Junior High School, where enrollment shot up from 1,217 to 1,284.

The best teacher-student ratio, according to Greco, is 1-100, and "we are in excess of that. The Superintendent reports that the system has 13 classes with 30 or more students."

Willie Wells; Belleville's Most Remarkable Man

planting Belleville's first trees right after World War I, starting on Greylock Parkway and Overlook Avenue, using all 400 trees, and only losing two. It cost him about six or seven dollars to plant the trees. In all, he went on to plant hundreds of trees throughout the town.

One of Willie's more unpleasant memories had something to do with trees. Mike Flynn, who was then Police chief, appointed him as a special policeman in charge of arrests for violations against the trees. He had a summons book and a badge. George Gerard, who was principal of School One, was elected at this time to the Commission. According to Willie, Gerard took away the badge, saying the job was too good for a colored man.

Will was busy right after the war as secretary-treasurer-president of the Valley Hose Fire Company. "We always carried a balance of 25-30 thousand dollars in the bank, which we made running carnivals. I ran one right here on Quinton Street."

Valley Hose responded to fires in a two horse cart. At the time, there was a law that said during a fire, the hose company could stop any horse drawn vehicle and use the horses.

In 1913, Willie bought a one-ton truck, the first the town had seen. Valley was the first fire house to get to fires because of this. At the time, Willie recalls, the firehouse on William Street was just a "shanty."

Willie remembers the flu epidemic that started at the beginning of World War I. "I carted coffins for the undertakers with my truck. The truck was also used by the Department of Public Works to cart water pipes from the munition plant in Wayne to Belleville."

In his days as a fireman, Willie recalls that fire alarms were sounded in an unusual way. "You had to run to St. Peter's Church to get the sexton to give a yank on the church bell."

One of the biggest changes the town has undergone, says Willie, has occurred in the Valley, which at one time was residential. "All the rich people lived there," Willie says. "The finest houses in Belleville were on Main Street. Some had been there since the Revolutionary War."

Wealthy people used to sail their yachts on the Passaic River, as unbelievable as it may seem today. Willie recalls many men who lived there. There was a Dr. Clark, who had lost one of his arms during the Civil War. Also, Dr. Winan Percy and Ed Jackson. Jackson used to help the Town of Belleville financially when it was preparing the budget and making improvements. An inventor named Smith used to live next to the Dutch Church. He built the first steam engine to run on the Passaic River.

One of Willie's most famous escapades occurred when he was asked by the pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church to check into the dates of old buildings in town. Checking on the Belleville Hotel, which he discovered was built during the Revolutionary War - Willie and a friend came upon some old papers giving the town's history and the date which Belleville became a township. The date was smeared, but appeared to be 1628 or 29. Willie turned the history over to a Mr. Austin, who was the town treasurer and had a grocery store on Main Street near Rutgers Avenue. Austin never gave the papers back, and till this day, their whereabouts are unknown.

The Belleville Times, according to Willie, used to be printed over the Osborn Grocery Store on Main Street and sold for three cents a copy. Willie used to sell them, give them to boys to peddle, for which he made a penny a copy.

In the early 1900's, the town was governed by a committee, which had no official meeting place, and gathered in grocery stores and other buildings. At this time there was no electric or gas or water system in town. Water was gotten in wells. Willie recalls there was a big pump behind School One.

Light for the meetings was supplied from oil lamps, set on posts six feet high. A man named Pickman, who weighed about 400 pounds, used to light the lamps in town, but gave it up to tend the Rutgers Street Bridge, which had to be open and shut when a boat came by. The bridge had to be wound to open. Willie recalls that sometimes, in a strong wind, "the bridge would turn like a pinwheel."

Willie also had one of the first automobiles in town, a Stevens model which ran on a storage battery. He couldn't afford the battery, however, so he ran it on eight dry cells batteries, which were good for 50 miles. The only gas station in town was on Main Street. Mr. Reed, Willie remembers, "had a dandy car, but I can't remember what type it was. He is still living in town." During a small pox epidemic, Willie's daughter contracted the disease, and the house had to be roped off and a police guard posted. Willie was not allowed in the house, but he would crawl on his hands and knees through his backyard and sneak into the house. Through his wives excellent care, the child not only lived, but came out of it without a mark on her face. She went on to graduate number one from every school she attended, including Public School One, Belleville High School, Upsala College, and Douglas College. She is now an investigator for the Department of Labor in the State of New York.

With no sewer system in the old days, rain storms used to provide a big problem for the town. Water washed down the hills to the valley. Willie says that the water would overflow the Passaic as far as Cortlandt Street. "We used to take rowboats there to help neighbors until the water went down."

Willie Wells is a truly remarkable man.

Hospital To Aid In Eye Health

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, in cooperation with the Medical Society of New Jersey's Special Committee on Conservation of Vision, is conducting a free "Eye Health Screening Program" to be held in the Hospital's first floor clinic wing next Wednesday, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. The screening program is open to all persons over the age of thirty-five not already receiving ophthalmological care.

The purpose of this free public service is to detect evidence of any eye disease - or of any systematic disease reflected in the eyes - which should have treatment or follow-up by a physician. Eligible members of the public are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity to protect themselves against previously undetected disease conditions.

The Hebrew New Year

By Rabbi Hyman Danzig

On Friday evening, September 12, Jews around the globe will usher in the Hebrew Year 5730 with prayers and meditation. The number 5730 is determined by the number of years since the creation of the world as accounted for in Hebrew Scripture. According to Biblical chronology, the destruction of the Second Temple took place in the Hebrew year 3,829, corresponding to the general calendar of the year 69 of the common era, leaving a difference of 3760 years. Thus, by subtracting 3760 - the key number - from 5730, one arrives at the New Year of the general calendar which will be 1970.

The Hebrew New Year, or Rosh Hashanah as it is called, commemorates the birthday of the Universe and the rebirth of humanity. In a word, through this anniversary God gives humanity a chance to make good its mistakes and fulfill its fondest dreams.

There is both a personal and universal aspect to this Holy Day. For the Jew, it begins a ten-day period of solemn prayer and penitence, concluding with the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur) - a day of fasting, humility, and brotherly love. Judaism teaches that there is a God who is not only the Creator but also the Ruler of the Universe, and that He created man - all human beings of every color and creed - in His image, and that he has endowed man with the power to be a conscious co-creator or partner with God in a world which is constantly in transition. With this theological view in mind, man's walk on the moon gives added significance to the New Year.

Christian clergymen and Rabbis have pointed out in their sermons that the builders of the Tower of Babel (Genesis 11:1-9) failed because they sought to soar the skies and conquer God, while the American astronauts in all humility glorified God's name by increasing man's knowledge of His universe, and in gratitude quoted from the sacred scriptures.

The predominant theme of universal peace and brotherly love in the Hebrew High Holy Day Prayer Book still remains the challenge of all mankind. The gap between man's phenomenal technical achievements and his achievements for peace and security is still very wide. In essence, the High Holy Day season challenges MAN to look into himself and fulfill the dream of Jacob of building a "Ladder of Love" between heaven and earth.

Our Schools And Discipline

It is well to take stock of our local schools every so often, and the beginning of the new school year is a good time to review local conditions.

In the first place, capable school administrators-from the superintendent and principals on down-are not as easy to find as some imagine. The really good officials in this field are the subject of much competition.

Parents of children-many of whom have been raised on progressive theories which are now largely discredited-have an obligation to cooperate with school authorities in every way possible and to make their task easier as they attempt to guide, train and educate the children of this community.

Children must be disciplined, as well as educated, for if they are not disciplined they cannot be educated. This is one point parents must keep in mind. Also, it should be remembered that proper disciplining never hurt anyone, and is a prerequisite in our social order, a lack of which is responsible for much of our juvenile delinquency.

As the school year gets underway, we urge all parents to cooperate with teachers and school officials, and encourage their children to approach school with the proper attitude.

Little Things Count In The World

One of the perversities of human nature is that often individuals blessed with many things in common disagree violently (and unintelligently) on relatively minor matters. There is a trait in many individuals which compels them to be fighting about something, much of the time.

Much the same characteristic is sometimes evidenced in our attitude toward many of the institutions of mankind. Without giving proper consideration to the great and overwhelming good of society, many of us hunt minor irritations and, in the excitement and frustrations of the search, often lose sight of the tremendous good that exists all around us.

High School Footballs Evaluations Are Fair

by John J. Bunevich

Question: Are you looking forward to this year's high school football season and how do you think the team will fare? Asked: Of Nutley and Belleville High School students.

Patrick Travers, 313 Grant Avenue, Nutley.

I'm looking forward to this year's games and I think the team will do pretty good. A lot depends on the defensive line and the new running backs. The team should get a lot of help from last year's junior varsity players. I haven't been able to watch them scrimmage yet but I know a few seniors on the team. I think they should win the same amount of games that they won last year if not more. I heard that they have a very good coach and a lot depends on the job he is going to do. He did a pretty good job in Passaic with the football players.

Patrick Travers

Dennis Phelps, 143 Linden Avenue, Belleville.

I'm anxious to get and see a few games this year. They are supposed to have a good team. Better than last year. They are going to have a lot of players coming back and the experience should make a big difference. Everyone I've talked to is optimistic. They didn't make out too well last year. The team is supposed to have a couple of good ends, both offensively and defensively. I think the same quarterback is playing and if he could team up with those ends, who knows.

David Tiene, 93 Hillside Avenue, Nutley.

I'm following Nutley football this year and I hear that the team is supposed to be pretty good. I think it is going to be a lot better than last year. They have a new coach and that could make a big difference. Last year the team was like mud. There were a lot of interceptions and that could kill you. They will do a lot better this year but I don't think they will win the title. I know the team is harder to make. They have a lot of new equipment this year, that also could help.

David Tiene

Alex Didomenico, 720 Belleville Avenue.

I've been in the Army the last couple of years but what I've heard about the present team isn't too good. They have been playing average ball the last few years and I expect they will have the same mediocre team this year. For the last few years they haven't been too good. The last great teams they have had was when I was in school. Also, they have had good teams in 1965-66. Since then, I think all the football seasons have been losing ones, or close to it.

Autumn Time Brings Many Strange Feelings

By Nat Gottlieb

Autumn is a strange friend.

She arrives with the first faint chill in the September wind. Brightly colored leaves, majestic in their final moments, bow to her power and flutter quietly to the ground like so much paint from a careless artists brush. Kicked about indifferently by school children shuffling off to classes, they await the ritual of the rake and the match, destined to twist skyward as grey smoke swirls on an autumn day.

And football. What better time to see a tan pigskin fly swiftly through the air to land in the outstretched arms of a gentle brute who escapes to the end zone with his prize, amid the aching roar of hometown cheers.

Nostalgia fills the air with sweet memories of autumns past, of times when things seemed so much simpler. On the park benches, old men, grey and wrinkled in a colorless man's autumn, whisper about the times, moving their hands in the air, as if to grab hold of the fleeting moments. Do you remember the time. The time when. The time...

Out of the closets, moth balls discarded, come the warmer clothes, insulation against the inevitable winter to come with its promise of snow and hours spent indoors with the family.

Autumn is a special time for summer lovers who have survived the period of summer romance and are still together in the fall. How many romances were cast aside when autumn sent its chilly breath against a bared lover's cheek?

Ah Autumn. Who are you? Where do you come from? Are you truly a friend?

The questions. So many questions. And none will be answered. Autumn is here again. That is all.

More Attention Should Be Paid To Vietnam

To The Editor,

In reference to your editorial on Senator Kennedy and in response to Warren A. Knight's letter (published Aug. 27, 1969) I would like to say one thing-every one is entitled to his own belief of guilty or innocent on the part of Ted Kennedy.

However, all the people who feel the public should know the inside facts, these same people should show as much enthusiasm for the more important affairs of the world.

I certainly believe the war in Vietnam should be given top priority in being ended or the people be given these inside facts as to why it hasn't ended.

Whether Ted Kennedy is innocent will not bring back Mary Jo Kopechne, but by not ending the war many boys are dying each day and nothing is being done to save their lives.

Is this the behavior of a civilized nation?

Sincerely,
Mary Ann Scucci

Bellboys Hope For Victories

"We're out to improve our offense and score points." That was B H S football coach John Amabile's statement for the upcoming season that starts September 27 against East Orange. In an intrasquad scrimmage Saturday, most of the first string offense was matched against a combination of the first, second, and third string defense. Amabile explained that it is a matter of just testing and finding out. He said he has confidence in his defensive line and dropped a few names while doing so, like Rich Corbo, Mike Albertine, John Mango, Vin Capetta, and Doug Brown and Lonnie Bunch in the backfield.

About the offense, Amabile explained that he would find out just what was needed during this scrimmage. He said he has "five or six returning good running backs," and proceeded to name them: Ricky Caruso, Doug Brown, Steve Banda, Sal Bivona, Pat La Morte, and Mark Bradley. Then he added that he would concentrate on the quarterback and tackle positions, and named Pat La Morte, Charley Ziegler, Joe Papisidero and John Goscinski all as possibilities for QB.

The coach ended by saying that the rainy weather of this past week would be good for conditioning the players and that the players had a lot of confidence and were "eager to hit". They'll get their chances to do just that as scrimmages against Seton Hall, North Bergen, Bayonne and Barringer are all in the making.

'Red' Forrest Is Top Runner

Belleville High's cross-country team now has nine members which include only one senior, the captain Bob "Red" Forrest, five juniors, three of who ran last year, and three sophomores. Nine may not be many, but it's two more than they had last year.

On the college side, Lafayette College's cross-country team, which went 7-4 last year has been hampered by injuries, most notable of which is Belleville's Ralph Vreeland. Ralph has been bothered by a case of bronchitis, but hopes to return to run for the team this year. A junior, he earned a letter at Lafayette last year as a sophomore and also ran for Essex Catholic High School.

College Boards Review Class To Be Given By School Teacher

The Clarion Review Course, directed by A.J. Pantazes, a member of the mathematics department at Columbia High School, Maplewood, is accepting registrations from high school students who are planning to take the Scholastic Aptitude Tests (SAT) administered by the College Entrance Examination Board, on November 1, December 6, and January 10.

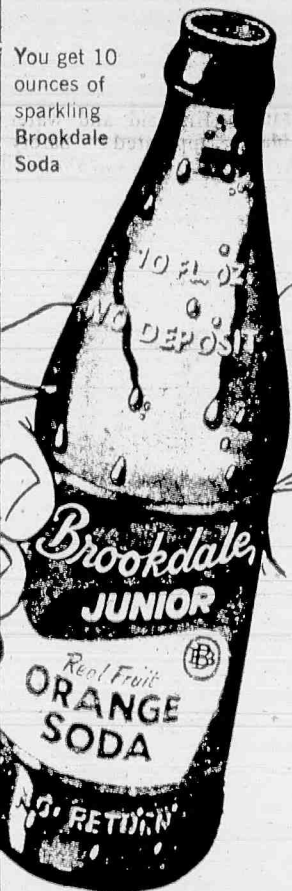

The purpose of the Clarion Review Course, located in Orange, is, according to its director, to assure the high school student that he will achieve his maximum potential score on the all important SAT. Pantazes has come to appreciate in his years of teaching, the multitude of problems facing today's youth, the most important of which is perhaps the ever increasing difficulty in being accepted by a college of his choosing.

The reason most people work is that when labor ceases the pay-check also ceases.

Williams Urges Football Stamp

U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr., (D-NJ), urged Postmaster Winton M. Blount to release a commemorative stamp marking the 100th anniversary of college football on September 26 in New Brunswick, New Jersey.

On Saturday, September 27, Rutgers and Princeton will meet in the 100th anniversary of their first game which was also the first football contest between colleges.

In the letter, Senator

Williams said, "Obviously, the only logical place for the issuance of a commemorative stamp is New Brunswick, the birthplace of one of the nation's most popular sports events. New Brunswick also is the site of the Football Hall of Fame."

"From its humble beginnings on the banks of the Raritan, football has grown to become an integral part of our national fabric. We should honor the birthplace appropriately."

We don't have to start from scratch each year.

We've been making the same basic VW for so long now, you'd think we'd be bored with the whole thing.

But the fact is, we're still learning.

For no matter how perfect we think one year's model is, there's always an engineer who wants to make it more perfect.

You see, at the Volkswagen factory we spend 100% of our time making our car work better and 0% making it look better. Any change is an improvement.

And when we do make new parts we try to make them fit older models. So there's nothing to stop a Volkswagen from running forever.

(Which may explain why Volkswagens are worth so much at trade-in time.)

Starting from scratch each year can get in the way of all that.

Just when they've ironed out the kinks in the current model, they have to face the kinks in the next.

We'll never understand all the hoopla over the "big changes" for next year's models.

Weren't they proud of this year's?

Who is to forgive you?

Yom Kippur marks the end of the period known as the 'Ten Days of Repentance.' This is the 'Sabbath of Sabbaths,' as it is called in the bible. It is the holiest of days because the thoughts are distinctive, different, with an aura of nobility about them. They come from the majestic themes of the service:

Penitence.

Sincerity of heart and purpose.

Reconciliation and harmony.

Underlying these themes is the basic idea of forgiveness. On Yom Kippur, we ask forgiveness of God and men for wrongs we may have committed.

Why not come to Temple Menorah and join us in prayer? When the world is ablaze with war, when evil runs rampant in our midst... what else is there more important, more immediate you can do?

That is the Tenth Annual Country Peddler's Antique Show, held in association with the Antique Club of New Jersey, Saturday, September 13, 9:30 A.M. to 5:30 P.M., at the Morris Grange Grounds on South Beverwyck Road, between routes 10 and 46, in Parsippany-Troy Hills, New Jersey.

Proceeds from this yearly fund raising project have provided over $5,000 in donations given to Historical Restorations and Museums in New Jersey. Recipients of last year's gift of $1,000 were the Elizabethtown Historical Foundation and the Morristown Museum of Art and Science. In previous years gifts were given to The Deserted Village of Allaire; The Dey Mansion, and The Van Riper-Hopper House, both in Wayne; the Holmes-Hendrickson House in Holmdel; the Crane House Montclair and the Schuyler-Hamilton House, Morristown. Gifts were used to structurally improve buildings as well as purchase artifacts to enhance collections viewed yearly by thousands.

Mr. T. Richard Rieder of Bloomfield, past Club President and Manager of the Show for the past nine years, has a reputation for producing a catalog of only those dealers who display a high caliber and nicely varied assortment of stock - and for this Show his dealer-roster is truly outstanding.

Eighty-five dealers, with twenty five from out of State; ten from New York City and two from Pennsylvania, will exhibit their wares assuring a red letter day for all - from buyers to browsers. Mr. Rieder forecasts, "The Show will be comprised of not only 'across-the-board' antique stocked booths, but will also have a bevy of notable dealers who specialize." To note a few in this category; Joan Madsen of Parsippany, George Valentine of Dover, Lucy Davey of Hanover, and Agnes Frank of Wayne place their emphasis on a presentation of fine furniture. If firearms are your "bag," Herbert Geilhuffe, Boonton, probably has the very piece you've been hunting for. A comprehensive selection of maps and prints will be offered by Walt Peterson of Westwood. Paul Meyerhoff, Carl Place, N.Y. is showing a fascinating collection of stones and jewelry. Virginia Dodd Hook of East Orange will offer unusual decorative tinware.

In addition to the display booths for serious antique buffs, the Show will include a fine program of outdoor attractions to mark the Show's 10th Anniversary. Organizations receiving gifts in the past will have bulletin board exhibits illustrating their services and activities. The Junior Group from the Dye Mansion, Wayne, will give a demonstration of spinning and weaving - in keeping with the occasion, boys and girls will wear costumes. This exhibit will prove of special interest to today's "small fry" who are no doubt acquainted with only today's "ready-mades." Door prizes of one year subscriptions to ANTIQUE JOURNAL will be given to one out of every 200 who register for this drawing.

Medicine during the 18th - and well into the 19th - century was a rudimentary science. If the illness or injury was serious, chances of recovery were minimal. Therefore, money for higher education went for the training of clergymen. In this way, their souls if not their bodies, would be taken care of. But when sickness or injury struck, the same clergyman was called on for medical help. One minister, Thomas Thatcher of the Old South Church in Boston, actually wrote the first medical text published in the colonies and acquired fame as a physician.

High School And College Students Volunteer Summer Time, Talents

The urge to "do their thing" this summer had led scores of junior and senior high school students and many college students to volunteer their time and talents to helping others.

In swimming pools, hospitals, day nurseries, nursing homes and playgrounds throughout Essex County more than 150 young people are putting their thing to work in one or more of the 10 Red Cross Summer of Service programs sponsored by the Essex Chapter's Youth Dept.

In June the young volunteers received Red Cross orientation and basic training in the type of work they had selected to do. This was followed by on-the-job instruction under the supervision of staff personnel in the specific agency or organization.

The majority of these young people have been trained as Junior Hospital Volunteers and are serving at the county's 18 community and veterans hospitals or nursing homes and institutions.

Many like Charles Hoens and his sister Helen, North Wyoming Ave., South Orange who are working in escort service, recreation and corrective therapy and in the dental offices of the East Orange Veterans Hospital have already decided to continue their service during the next school year. Both are students at Columbia High School.

At the Saint Rose of Lima Home on South 8th St., Newark, 18 girls from the Newark area have found a way to bridge the generation gap by helping to care for the 175 senior citizens who live there. Many are incapacitated. The girls, members of the Auxiliary of

The Little Sisters of the Poor, read and write letters, do errands and shop for them or assist in recreation therapy to pass what otherwise would be an existence of long and lonely hours.

Some of the students like Ellen McAteer, Myrtle Ave., Newark who is president of the Auxiliary and a junior at East Orange Catholic High School, help boost morale by attending to the needs of the residents in the Home's beauty parlor.

Under the supervision of Sister Lucie, the junior volunteers work both day and evening shifts. Consequently, a large room in the Home has been put aside where the girls can listen and dance to the latest "in" recordings, unwind on breaks or even sleep over night after working a late shift.

Though more than half of the junior volunteers are already veterans of at least one previous Summer of Service program, some like Sandra Munn of Runnymede Rd., West Caldwell are applying skills learned in Red Cross training courses. Sandy is head lifeguard and swim team coach at the Caldwell/West Caldwell community pool, having qualified as a Red Cross Water Safety Instructor at Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond where she is a senior. About 1,200 neighborhood children are learning how to swim this summer under her supervision.

In the Cedar Grove community pool, Ardith Gilligan, Elmwood Rd., a Red Cross trained Water Safety Instructor from Skidmore College takes time from her duties as lifeguard to teach pre-school youngsters how to have fun and be safe in the water.

Tom Keogh, a Colgate University junior, and sister Maddy, an East Orange Catholic High student, from Bryant Dr., Livingston are old time Red Cross Water Safety volunteers at the town's Northland Pool. Both are now lifeguards there and help coach an elementary school age swim team.

At Essex Chapter headquarters in East Orange, sisters Mary and Marion Broadfoot, Sanford Pl., Newark are among the 6 Youth Program volunteers who have already logged a grand total of more than 150 hours keeping lines of communication open through the chapter switchboard.

Junior Staff Aides also operate the switchboard and perform other clerical jobs like typing and filing in the Bloomfield District office. Several, including Cindy Gebert, Lombard St. and Rosemary Flannery, Ashland Ave., both members of the Bloomfield High School Red Cross Youth Council, also donate their time to helping the United Fund office in preparing materials for the fall campaign. These two girls have been selected to attend the Red Cross Leadership Training Center this month at Peddie School, Hightstown, where they will join 11 other Essex Chapter Youth Volunteers at a week long conference.

At the Children's Shelter of Essex County in Belleville, 15 year old Renee Bottana, William St., Belleville and Jaci Leff, 14, of Farrandale Ave., Bloomfield give half a day a week to helping the staff care for the nearly 80 less fortunate youngsters housed there. About 40 young Red Cross volunteers under the direction of Mrs. Arleen Kenney, superintendent of the Shelter, dress, bathe, feed and play with the tots.

Other young volunteers work with the staff of the Community Day Nursery on Freeman Ave., East Orange. Patty Egan, Devon Rd., Essex Fells, a freshman at Elmira College, N.Y., is one of several college students who do their thing in the Summer of Service program by driving patients to therapy centers, handicapped children to recreation centers and by keeping the important wheels of Red Cross Transportation turning during the summer months.

While some of the young people have learned to communicate directly with those who need their help, others like Mary Gamache, Ellis Rd., West Caldwell, Genevieve Tenot, a young visitor from the home of the International Red Cross in Geneva, Switzerland, and Carol Lowenstein, Bowers

Sept. 13, 1969 Happy birthday, world!

The first day of Tishri. This day the world was called into being, says the Hebrew liturgy. And it also is the first day of Rosh Hashanah when every man passes before his creator, his past actions are evaluated and his future judged.

This year why not plan to spend that Holy Day with us at Temple Menorah. Since it is the 'Day of Judgement', what else more important do you have to do?

VETERAN'S PARADE — This picture was taken in 1912 at Academy Street and Van Houten Place during a veteran's parade. The I.M. Tucker Post of Newark was organized by Joseph Wells.

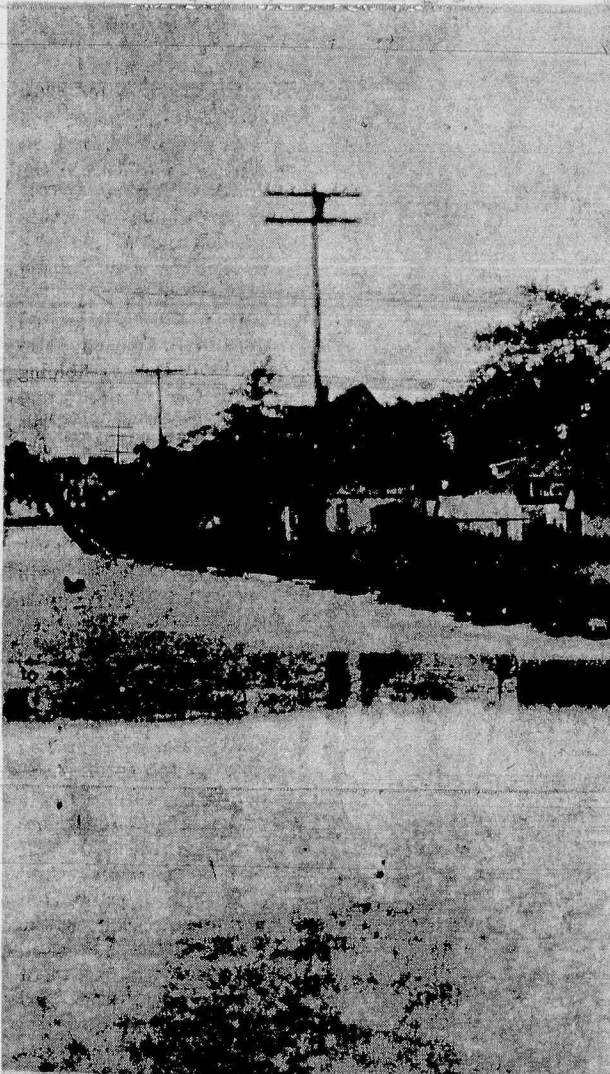

Willie Wells' Old Belleville: A Small, Quiet Town

OVERLOOK — This shot of Overlook Avenue from Floyd Street was taken on October 9, 1929. Streets looked awfully quiet, then.

DEWITT AVENUE — Dewitt Avenue looked a little different in 1929 than it does today. Notice how no cars are parked on the street.

LLOYD PLACE — Lloyd Place in 1929 is shown here from Hornblower to Dewitt Avenues. Notice that the street was not paved, and the curbs were not continuous.

GREYLOCK PARKWAY — This view of Greylock Parkway from Floyd Street was taken in 1929. Even in 1929, Greylock was an attractive street.

ANOTHER VIEW — Greylock Parkway was and still is a fashionable street, with its stylish divider island. Note how small trees were as compared to today.

MARCHING HOME — These veterans marched in full uniform after World War I, much to the delight of Belleville residents who were glad to have them home.

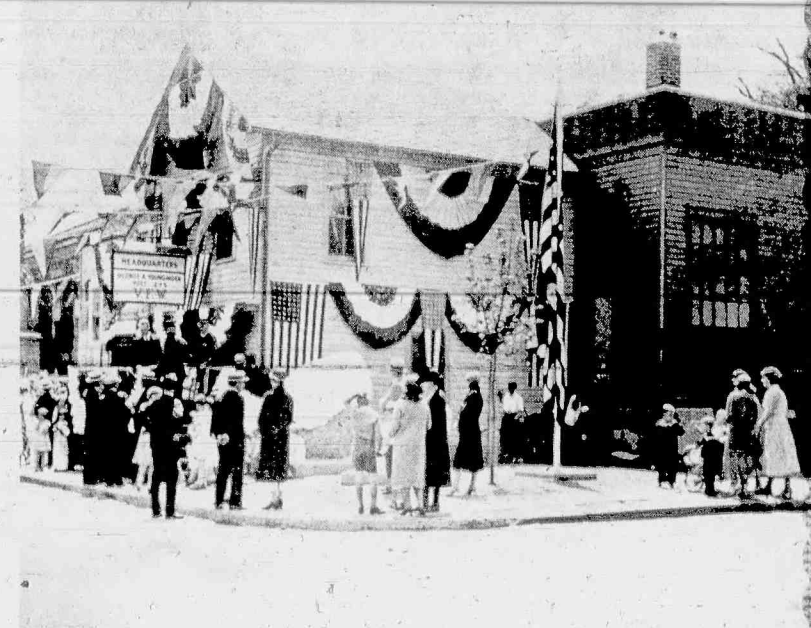

VAN HOUTEN PLACE — This view of Van Houten Place looking from Hornblower Avenue, was taken in May of 1931. Notice the street is not asphalt paved.

FALLEN TREE — Here work crews in 1928 remove a dangerous tree from the southwest corner of Stephen and Terry Streets.

FIRST VOLUNTEER COMPANY — This shot of the first volunteer fire company in Belleville has William Wells the second from the right on the bottom row.

THE DEDICATION — The dedication of the George Younginger Post VFW was a big event in Belleville, and it was captured by Willie Wells' camera.

BECK'S COLUMN

Last week we wrote about the Magnavox color TV sets which will be sold this fall and the new automatic "tint" control adjustment on these sets, which is unique with this brand.

You will read a lot about 200% brighter and 2½ times brighter color TV tubes this fall. One manufacturer will outdo the other in their advertisements.

This reminds us of the "numbers" game of the automobile industry, that is the number of horse power of their motors. What good is 500 HP if you can go only 50 or 60 miles an hour? That is about the limit on most highways with an occasional exception, where one can go 70 miles. Even the little VW beetle goes this fast and look at the tiny engine it has.

The new color TV tubes possibly may have much greater brightness, but what good is it for the picture? If you turn the brightness up, the color is all washed out and the picture "blooms", that means it becomes somewhat larger and unsharp. Try it on your present set, turn the brightness control, all the way up, and you have lots of brightness to spare, as you will see by the setting of the control. However, the picture becomes poor.

You will read about more sensitive phosphor and tiny black rings on these bright tubes and no doubt, other factories will come up with other explanations, but as far as the picture quality is concerned, the writer could not discern any difference. If you look at a color TV in a brightly lit room, the colors will be poor and cranking up the brightness control won't help a bit. Pulling the shades or use a dim rather than a bright lamp will make the difference.

ELECTROLUX
Fall cleaning begins with having all your efforts and physical labor rewarded by having a cleaner that is performing at the maximum as you operate it. Naturally with normal use and the accumulation of dirt and the normal wear of brushes, a cleaner after a time has lost some of its early enthusiasm. The youth in your cleaner can be recalled by having Electrolux trained mechanics put it into its best dirt fighting shape-new brushes, motor tuneup, general cleanup and more advanced overhaul. Municipal Lot Ordinances Passed By Commission

Two ordinances calling for a total appropriation of $16,000 for construction of a municipal parking lot adjacent to Town Hall were passed on final reading at the August 25 Commission meeting, by a 5-0 vote.

Mayor Ken Smith, who introduced the ordinances, told

Feast Proves Very Costly

Attending the St. Bartholomew Feast proved costly to a local man, when his car was broken into Sunday and a stereo tapeplayer-FM radio and nine tapes were stolen, all valued at $133.

Mrs. F. Dente; Born In Italy

Mrs. Frances Conforti Dente of 35 Washington Avenue, Nutley, died after a short illness, Sunday, August 24, at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, Belleville. She was 81.

Born in Italy, Mrs. Dente came to Nutley from Belleville 40 years ago. She was a member of St. Mary's Church, Nutley.

Predeceased by her husband Anthony Dente, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. R. Pierre Humbert of North Plainfield, Mrs. D. Bradley of Fla., and Mrs. A.P. Tirinato of Wayne; one son, George Dente of North Bergen; two brothers, Michael and Peter Conforti, both in Italy; four sisters, Mrs. Raffaele Mascia and Mrs. Vita Quest, both of reporters that the bills were a mere legal formality and that no new money was actually being appropriated.

Last year, the Mayor explained, $100,000 had been appropriated by the Commission for acquisition of property adjacent to Town Hall. Of that sum, $42,000 was left over after purchase. The Mayor sought to use this money for paving and installation of parking meters, but was told by bonding authorities that he must introduce new ordinances for these purposes. The original ordinance had specified that the money be used solely for property acquisition.

Of the money, $13,000 will be used for paving land the town has already purchased and leveled. Three thousand dollars will go toward striping and the installation of approximately 70 three-hour parking meters.

Smith said he will cancel bonds for the remaining $25,000.
