Pipeline Breaks

Housewives Mad; Bad Water The Cad

The distress signal went up in Town Hall Monday.

"What am I going to do with all these ladies who've called in about their Monday morning wash?"

"I'm getting bombed with calls."

"One woman said her husband's good Dacron shirts were ruined."

Speaking was Commissioner Mary Senatore as she sat in her Town Hall office, besieged by countless phone calls from irate housewives who turned on the faucets Monday morning only to find their dishes and clothes immersed in black water.

What had caused the distressing situation was a 12" water main in Bloomfield, which broke in the early morning hours. Both Belleville and Bloomfield get their water from the same aqueduct out of Newark. Because of the broken line, other pipes had to pull greater loads, and consequently sediment lying on the bottom of the pipes was stirred up and sent into local households.

Bloomfield authorities received over 300 phone calls complaining about the dirty water. A group of angry housewives marched on that town's municipal building with dirty laundry draped over their arms.

Commissioner Senatore was visibly angry when she learned of the cause of the problem from the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority.

"I want these people to be compensated," she said to reporters.

The Commissioner was also annoyed that Bloomfield authorities hadn't notified anyone of the break which occurred at Foley Field when a payload doing improvements struck a water main.

"I think this is definitely wrong. I am going to check with the town attorney to see if these people can be compensated," said the Commissioner.

Town Attorney Nicholas R. Amato, reached by phone, said, however, that nothing could be done.

"In order for these people to be compensated for damage, there has to be proven negligence, either of omission or 'commission,'" said the attorney from his Washington Avenue office.

Amato also said that any irate citizen should write to the Town of Bloomfield and not Belleville.

The flooding of faucets in town with dirty water was the second such occurrence in the last three weeks. Three weeks ago repairs being done to a large water main in Newark caused dirty water to flow through local pipes. Belleville gets its water from Newark under a 10 year contract.

WATER PROBLEMS AGAIN - Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore found herself glued to the phone again when for the second time in three weeks, dirty water came pouring out of Belleville faucets. This time the Commissioner, who answered over a hundred calls, found the problem was caused by a broken water main in Bloomfield.

Clean-Up Week Set For Town

Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, director of Public Affairs, has announced that the fall Clean-Up Week will begin Monday, September 29 and will continue through Saturday, October 4 on regular garbage collection days.

In making the announcement, the Commissioner urged that residents clean out their cellars, yards, garages and attics.

Strumolo also emphasized that only certain objects would be picked up by the garbage-men. The garbage-men are under a contract which specifies that the following objects will be carted away providing the debris does not exceed 300 pounds:

1. Building materials such as wallpaper and plaster.
2. Fixtures, plumbing, refrigerators and furniture.
3. Scrap lumber that does not exceed four feet in length and is tied in bundles.
4. Waste paper, cans, bottles, crockery, glass, crates, rags, cartons and boxes.

Planning Board Is Silent Despite Key Town Issues

Is The Local Body Really Operating?

By Nat Gottlieb

Does the Planning Board still exist?

A Times reporter practically bunked all night outside the Council Chambers at Town Hall while such a board supposedly met behind closed doors. After nearly 120 minutes the body emerged from whatever it had been doing and a spokesman curtly told the reporter that "we didn't discuss anything of importance."

Last Thursday night the Board supposedly met again at Town Hall to discuss a controversial rezoning ordinance which had been referred to it by the Town Commission for approval.

There have been rumors circulating around town that a Planning Board approved the rezoning bill, but efforts by reporters to discover fact met with a mysteriously silent stone wall.

About the only sure thing is that the losers of the communication gap will be the taxpayers of Belleville.

Efforts to elicit comment from alleged Board members proved an impossible task. Building Inspector Vincent Mustacchio, purported to be a member of the Board, politely refused to comment on that body's proceedings, and recommended that the Times contact a John Connelly whom he said was the president of the Board.

About the only thing the Times learned from Connelly was that if a Planning Board was indeed meeting regularly to discuss matters central to the town, he has "no comment" on it all.

"I have nothing to say," the alleged president said. Asked how the taxpayers were to learn of the Planning Board's activities, Connelly flatly replied, "I have said all I am going to say."

Meanwhile a large group of Silver Lake residents will remain in the dark as to the fate of their quest to rezone a portion of the Lake area from business to residential "C."

The residents had petitioned the Commission over two months ago to rezone an area centered on Heckel Street when they learned that a lot owner on the street planned to build a depot for garbage trucks. The Commission was initially barred from voting on the rezoning issue by a court restraint obtained by the lot owner Fred Fierro, of East Orange, who claimed the rezoning ordinance was discriminatory against him and would do him unjust harm. Town Attorney Nicholas R. Amato succeeded in getting the court order lifted, but recommended the ordinance be sent to the Planning Board in accordance with state law.

Whether or not the Commission ever gets to vote on the ordinance will depend on whether the real Planning Board can be found. The Times will persist in its efforts to locate that body so that issues central to the Town of Belleville can be dealt with and so that the taxpayers can be informed.

WHERE IS THE PLANNING BOARD? - This blank space is reserved for the Planning Board of Belleville. Any citizen with information about that body's whereabouts is asked to contact the Times immediately.

Mayor Says Greco Told Press Incorrect Facts

Mayor Ken Smith, returning to battle with Schools Superintendent Anthony Greco after nearly a six month "truce," accused the education leader of making incorrect statements to the press on Board budget matters. The Mayor also suggested that the elected Board of Education be replaced with an appointed body and a board of school estimate.

"Mr. Greco's statements to the press are not correct," the Mayor told the Times in his Town Hall office. The Mayor was referring to statements made by Greco last week to The Times and The Newark News, in which the superintendent said that overcrowding and budget problems were distressing school officials.

"The Commissioners are not responsible for the Board's budget cuts as Mr. Greco has implied," said Smith. "The people of Belleville turned down his budget on two occasions and the Commissioners by law had to go over his budget which they did very carefully."

Smith accused Greco of making erroneous statements about the size of school population and of making "misleading and fallacious" reports about budget cuts.

Smith said that Greco was quoted in the Newark News as saying the Board of Education had no official budget for this year. The Mayor, however, produced the official Board of 1969-70 which was signed by the County Supervisor of Schools, William Twitchell and filed with the secretary of the Essex County Board of Taxation.

On the budget an increase in current expenses was listed for $523,153.69, of which $200,000 was state aid. The Board of Education had asked for an increase of $720,934.17, of which the Commission cut $205,777.48.

"He does have a budget," said the Mayor, "and it calls for an increase of $525,000 over last year's. That's quite a jump."

The budget also calls for a debt service figure of $85,564, an increase of $11, 035 over last year.

In his statements to the Times, Greco had said that the 172 extra pupils would need from $50 to $60 for textbooks, "and we don't have that kind of money."

Smith, however, called Greco's textbook estimate an "inflated" figure. "They can redistribute this money any way they want," Smith said.

Greco had also told the Times that the Board of Education had asked $48,000 for textbooks, and had received only $16,000. Smith pointed out, however, that the Board's budget only asked for $32,000. In 1968-69, the Board spent $11,329.93 for textbooks. The Commission left $16,000 in the current budget for textbooks.

"I think it is ridiculous that Greco is quibbling for $17,000 for textbooks," Smith said. "He is also wrong in his figures for school enrollment," said the Mayor.

According to Greco, school enrollment this year totalled

5,685, an increase of 172 students. Smith, however, pointed to the school budget which had estimated an enrollment of 5,435. Added to the reported increase of 172 this would bring the total enrollment to 5,607. "He's misquoting facts," said Smith.

"Besides," the Mayor said, "172 pupils is less than one pupil per room and I'm sure that if Mr. Greco looked around the school system he could find the four teachers to teach them."

The Mayor said that school enrollment had remained steady over the last five years, totalling 5,419, 5,450, 5,459, 5,425 for the last four.

"I feel it is high time that Mr. Greco and the Board of

Candidate Has A Public Breakfast

Big Breakfast Held

The Democratic County Committee will hold its fifth annual Campaign Breakfast at the Fountain Restaurant at 10 a.m. on November 2. Several State and local dignitaries are expected to attend, including Democratic gubernatorial candidate Robert Meyner and Governor Richard Hughes.

The announcement was made by town Democratic Chairman Mary V. Senatore who said that tickets are available at $3.50.

Serving as co-chairman for the affair will be George Mitchell and Mrs. Alfreda Cameron of the County Committee.

Last Sunday a breakfast was given at the Fountain for Democratic candidate for the Assembly Carmen Orchio. Over 600 people turned out for the early morning affair during which time the political fortunes of the Democratic party were discussed.

Democratic Town Chairman Mary Senatore was in attendance and seemed pleased with the way the campaign was going in town. Several other local leaders were at the affair which lasted three hours.

Voter Registration Drive Set

An all-out drive to register Belleville voters will be conducted by the town Democratic committee under the direction of Chairman, Mrs. Mary Senatore, September 19, 22, 23 and 24.

The first day of the drive will be tomorrow on Williams Street in front of St. Peter's School. On Monday a second registration mobile unit will be placed on Joralemon Street in front of Bridge Brooke Gardens. The following day a truck will be parked in front of 63 Heckel Street for Silver Lake voters. The final date is September 24 at Grants Five and Ten store on Franklin Avenue Plaza.

All registration will take place from six to nine p.m.

Fornorato Suspended Sixth Time

Joe Fornorato, a sewer repair man for the Department of Public Works, has been suspended from duty for the sixth time in ten years of town service. A hearing to decide whether he will continue as a public employee has been scheduled for next Tuesday in Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore's office.

Three formal charges were brought against Fornorato by Commissioner Senatore, all dealing with an incident in which the repair man allegedly was seen drinking beer in a local tavern during duty hours.

Fornorato is also awaiting a decision from Municipal Court Judge Edward Abromson in which the public employee was charged with using town trucks for dump-

It's Back On The Road Once More

FORCED OUT - This "gypsy" family of 23 people was forced out of a store they had rented as living quarters by sanitation officials who found the living arrangements too crowded for proper health. The family said they were being picked on.

23 'Gypsies' Are Evicted

Some wandering gypsies found settling in Belleville a difficult matter last week.

Twenty-one of them had moved into a small store at 65 Washington Avenue, cleaned up the premises, and prepared to call it their home.

Police and Health Department authorities had other plans for them, however. It seems the band of travelers were in violation of a section of the sanitary code which forbids overcrowding in living quarters.

Dino Yonko, tenant of the converted store, and owner George Cluen, were given notice September 11 to vacate the premises within 48 hours.

The Yonkos, annoyed that they had cleaned up the store "for nothing," packed their 1969 Lincoln Continental and prepared for the trip to Hoboken, where Yonko expects to find work in the autobusiness. "They're picking on us," Yonko said. "But it doesn't matter because I don't want to live here anyway. The place is too small. Can you spare us any money?"

The store is empty now.

Bus Route Change Approved

A resolution authorizing Public Service to reroute a portion of the No. 37 Bus Line was passed by the Board of Commissioners by a 5-0 vote, Monday night. The proposal now goes to the State Department of Public Utilities for final approval.

The change calls for the bus to bypass Branch Brook Park, where there are very few passengers, and instead leave Franklin Street and travel down Belleville Avenue to Washington Avenue.

Final approval by the state could take up to a month, according to Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, who was responsible for obtaining the rerouting from Public Service.

Since the bus route would enable students to travel to football games at the Municipal Stadium, Commissioner Strumolo hopes that the buses may be rerouted in time for the first home game, October 4, against Bloomfield.

ing material from private homes.

Reached for comment, Commissioner Senatore voiced disapproval of the alleged actions of Fornorato.

Fornorato was seen drinking beer at 2:10 p.m. on August 27 in a local tavern, according to Senatore. He was formally charged with neglect of duty, serious breach of discipline and conduct unbecoming an employee in public service.

Town attorney Nicholas R. Amato will present the case for the town. If Fornorato is fired, he can appeal to the Civil Service Commission.

The repair men had been suspended on five previous occasions in his tenure as a public employee which began in 1959; on May 19, 1960, June 21, 1961, September 27, 1963, February 1, 1968 and April 25, 1968. The charges are all outlined in the Civil Service Code.

Express Service Granted To Newark

Commissioner David J. Goldberg today announced that a Federal demonstration grant has been requested to provide express bus service between downtown Newark and Newark Airport.

The request was contained in a letter to Carlos Villarreal, administrator of the Urban Mass Transportation Administration of the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Commissioner Goldberg said the project "is designed to determine how airline users and airport workers will respond to a more frequent and convenient public transportation service between a large business and commercial center and a major metropolitan airport."

The project, if approved, will run for 21 months, including one to two months of preparation, 12 months of bus service and seven to eight months for completion and preparation of the final report.

stops for the proposed bus service would provide direct connections with many local bus routes as well as with the suburban railroads at Erie Lackawanna Station and Penn Station.

Express trips to the airport would operate from early morning until nearly midnight during weekdays and would provide comparably effective service on weekends and holidays.

An essential feature of the demonstration project will be a public relations and advertising program to alert present airline passengers and airport employees to the new service and to reach future air travellers and potential airport workers.

Commissioner Goldberg said the project "will also be designed to measure the market for public transportation between the airport and contiguous residential areas" through the railroad connections and should provide indications of how public transportation services can be designed to meet the needs of increasing air travel in the future.

Cahill's FBI Service

Governor Robert B. Meyner, the Democrat candidate for Governor, is attacking Republican gubernatorial candidate Bill Cahill's service period with the FBI.

Cahill served with the FBI for a period of 30 weeks, 31 years ago. Cahill's political campaign literature carries a legend that he served with the FBI. It doesn't say for how long nor what point and time in his life.

Meyner argues that Cahill's use of a reference to his FBI service misleads the public.

We frankly do not think former Governor Meyner is on sound ground when he criticizes Congressman Cahill for the FBI reference in the Cahill literature. The fact is that Cahill did serve with the FBI, and since he has this experience, were ~~Cahill not to use~~ the reference, one who knew of his FBI experience might conclude that Cahill's termination of service with the FBI was under unfavorable circumstances.

We believe there are an adequate number of public issues to which Meyner could address himself with greater validity and more sense than the question of how long Cahill served with the FBI.

Of one point the record is clear—even though Cahill's service with the FBI was a short one, it was good enough to receive the commendation of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. We believe the people in the State of New Jersey are waiting for a meaningful debate on the real issues of the day and not a discussion on whether or not Cahill has a right to use an FBI work experience reference in his campaign literature.

Race Track Plan N.G.

A harness race track is proposed for Carlstadt, a community only eight minutes northeast of Nutley, on Route 17.

It is a matter of recorded experience that wherever race tracks are located, the area's life suffers—both family and business.

Money is siphoned off from the business community by people who can't afford to gamble. Broken homes follow in the wake of gambling losses. Lost jobs, interrupted careers, juvenile delinquency—you name it and a race track has it—even an overabundance of gamblers.

The meadows can be best used for industrial purposes. We oppose the development of a race track in this metropolitan area.

Too Young at 18?

Some people think youngsters 18 years of age are too young to vote.

The question of lowering the voting age will appear on the November 4 ballot.

We have 18-year olds working for us, and some even younger, and we are betting that our 18-year olds are as intelligent or smarter than some middle-age people we have met.

We believe good judgment and good sense can be as much a part of an 18-year old person as it can be of a person over 21.

Judging from some public officials elected by voters over 21, we are confident the 18-year old vote couldn't do much worse, and in many cases could have done better.

Yes, we favor lowering the voter age to 18. We urge our readers to give favorable consideration to the question when they visit their respective polling places on Tuesday, November 4.

"Be Good or Else"

Msgr. Edward J. Fleming, acting president of Seton Hall University, recently addressed the student body of the university and told the students in no uncertain terms that if they could not behave in accordance with the rules and regulations of the university they were free to leave the institution.

Louis Gallo of Ridgewood, president of the 25,000-member Seton Hall University Alumni Federation, said: "We feel proud that a representative of Seton Hall University has the guts to say what had to be said at this time."

We admire Msgr. Fleming for his direct approach to a difficult problem. We endorse his judgment.

There is one area of disagreement that exists between Msgr. Fleming and students on which we reserve judgment—and that is Msgr. Fleming's firm stand against closed-door visitations of men and women students in the dormitories.

The implication of Msgr. Fleming's stand on this question suggests that the behavior of students cannot be trusted behind closed doors. We like to feel that young people can be trusted whether or not the door is closed. In the absence of any evidence to indicate that students cannot be trusted behind closed doors, we think Msgr. Fleming should reconsider his stand on this divisive question.

Younger Voting Age Reactions Are Split

by John J. Bunevich

Question: There has been much talk recently about introducing legislation to reduce the voting age to 18. Would you favor such a proposal?

Asked: of Nutley and Belleville residents.

Susan Camassa, 147 Franklin Avenue, Nutley

I'm 19 now and I don't think I am responsible enough to vote. I feel I'm not mature enough and don't fully understand the current issues in the country today.

I believe the voting age should stay at 21. I don't think I'm capable of deciding any major decisions. Speaking of the majority of 18-year-olds and over, most of them are competent enough to vote. The average teenager of today knows just as much, if not more, about the current issues and political dealings. The majority of 18-year-olds should vote but I wouldn't.

Mr. Gene Borgo, 13 Mertz Avenue, Belleville

Yes, I think the 18-year-old of today should be allowed to vote. I have two teenagers of my own, a girl and a boy, and they are very conscious of the issues and problems of today. They would make responsible voters. They keep up on current events just as much as my wife and I do.

My daughter and son think they should vote. They have the confidence to make a decision—and make it right. The majority of teenagers today are in touch with the issues. Giving them the right to vote would teach them responsibility and give them a sense of participating in the events of today.

Jill Roberts, 151 Coeyman Avenue, Nutley

Yes, 18-year-olds should have the right to vote. I think they are more than responsible enough. What is good for them is good for the country. My sister is 18 and she attends college. She is a prime example of the youth of today. She is on top of the current problems and issues that face the nation. She knows what is going on. A lot of 18-year-olds are "in touch" with the problems of today. I'm not 18 yet but when I am I know I would want to be able to exercise the right to vote.

Mrs. Gregory MacDonald, 126 Academy Street, Belleville

No, I don't think the 18-year-old of today should be able to vote. The majority of the youths are not mature enough. A good example of this is their behavior on the college campuses around the nation. They are taking the law into their own hands and rejecting the rules and standard of conduct. How could you expect people who act like this to vote responsibly?

Granted, some of the youth just out of school today know as much or more about the functions of government than the average adult but the majority of teenagers don't.

'Lower Vote Age' Says Local Group

The Belleville Voting Coalition meeting at the Recreation House this past week issued a call to all interested citizens to lend their full support to passage of the November referendum which would give 18 year-olds in New Jersey the right to vote.

Bernard E. O'Connor, of 203 Franklin Avenue, Belleville, chairman announced that Rep. James J. Howard (Dem. 3rd Dist.) and Rep. William B. Widnall (Rep. 7th Dist.) have announced their full support of the referendum.

We are convinced that once the facts are known the people will vote in support of this crucial referendum," the Congressmen said.

Miss Piegario is asking any person in Belleville interested in joining the coalition.

Change Is Detected On Vietnam

To The Editor,

We were very interested in reading your editorial of September 4 concerning the Vietnam conflict. You now condemn the atrocities that you once thought healthy for the American Tradition.

This recent editorial brings to mind one of the fall of 1967 concerning a letter written by one whom you labelled as "not worth his mother's labor pains" and soundly condemned as every conceivable type of subversive because he held beliefs similar to your present ones. As the Pope said it is important to stay with your decisions or give the reason why.

We're glad you've been able to change your views on the subject but we think you owe Mr. Carl Hinke an apology.

Income Disclosure Urged By Senator

By Senator Clifford P. Case

Once again public confidence in the integrity of our government has been shaken by reports reflecting on a top official of the government, in this case a member of the nation's highest tribunal and most revered institution, the United States Supreme Court.

And, I believe, confidence will not be restored until Congress makes it mandatory for Supreme Court Justices and all other members of the Federal Judiciary, as well as members of Congress and high officials in the executive branch, to make full, regular, and most importantly, public reports of their income and financial activities.

Once considered an intolerable invasion of privacy, public financial disclosure is no longer a novelty. It has become almost routine for Presidential candidates. For years now a number of us in the Senate and the House of Representatives have voluntarily made such reports annually.

This year, under rules adopted last year, each member of the Senate and the House had to file both confidential and public reports concerning their income and "outside" activities.

But both Houses sharply limited the nature and scope of the public reports which in both cases are woefully inadequate. To many members, let alone the public, they seemed like an exercise in hypocrisy.

In the past, it has been argued that the protection of a disclosure requirement is neither needed nor appropriate for the judiciary. Yet the very fact that the judiciary is removed from the political arena makes public disclosure a peculiarly appropriate safeguard of judicial integrity. For judges are traditionally expected to remain silent and make no direct response to criticism, although even the appearance of impropriety can do grievous damage to public trust in a vital element of our political system.

Elected officials can be turned out of office. Executive officials can be dismissed or otherwise disciplined. Federal judges alone are appointed for life. Though this is qualified by the constitutional limitation of "during good behaviour", the process of removal is rarely invoked.

In these circumstances I suspect that many members of the federal judiciary would not object, indeed many would welcome, inclusion of the judicial branch, along with the executive and legislative branches, in the adoption of a full public financial disclosure statute.

The knowledge that one's financial activities and interests will become known is the best possible "stop and think" signal - the surest way to sharpen awareness of any possible conflict of public and private interests.

Secondly, the requirement for full regular reports puts into the public domain the facts essential to maintain confidence in our court system. And it does so without impairing the independence of the judiciary or the traditional reticence of judges to speak out other than from the bench.

Fornaroto Declares He Isn't Guilty

A Belleville Department of Public Works employee pleaded not guilty to charges allegedly illegally dumping trash on town property.

Joseph Fornarotto of 523 Union Avenue was the defendant at the September 4 Municipal Court hearing which resulted in a reserved decision.

Sgt. Herman Oliveri of the Belleville police testified at the hearing that he saw Fornarotto dumping trash off the back of his truck onto private town property on Mill Street.

Attorney Michael Fiolo, representing Fornarotto, argued that it was not private property according to his interpretation of state law.

Town Attorney Nicholas Amato said the plot was private town property.

Judge Edward Abromson reserved decision for three weeks in order to study briefs that will be submitted by the attorneys.

Youth Put On Probation On Drug Abuse Charge

Supporting his drug habit proved costly for a Belleville youth. Judge Edward Abromson in September 11 Belleville Municipal Court levied a two year probation period on the youth.

Jesse Zachery, whose permanent residence was not established by police, pleaded guilty to the charge.

Belleville Detective Bart Rossi arrested Zachery August 13 after the youth stole his aunt's TV set to support his drug habit. Shortly after being arrested, the youth admitted to the crime.

Judge Abromson suspended a six month jail term but had Zachery committed into the Essex County Penitentiary until it could be arranged for him to enter a drug program.

GERALDINE PAGE seems delighted at the good news she receives in the mail as housekeeper Roth Gordon looks on unaware of the danger which awaits here. "What Happened to Aunt Alice?" is now being answered at the Franklin Theatre in Nutley.

Local Adult School To Open The Doors

Director of the Belleville Adult School, Augustus W. McGinnis, announced today the opening of the adult school two evenings each week instead of the previous single evening. The school will open its doors on Thursday as well as Tuesday nights, allowing a series of improvements that have been long planned. Being open the additional night will permit GED students taking courses leading to a high school equivalency certificate to take all four courses in the GED curriculum instead of the two they had to choose in the past, conflicts in the use of school equipment will be avoided, and a choice of evenings should allow more people to attend.

Students may register for courses at Belleville High School, 100 Passaic Avenue, between the hours of 7:00-9:00 PM on the following evenings: Monday, September 29, Tuesday, September 30, Thursday, September 30, Thursday, October 2, and Friday, October 3. Additional registrations will be accepted on the opening nights of classes, October 7 and October 9. In addition, interested persons may register at the high school during the day from 9 to 4 on any regular school day. Brochures, which have been mailed throughout the community and made available in the library and local banks, contain mail registration blanks and can be sent by those who cannot appear in person. Mail registration is urged for all courses that are limited in size in order that those interested might not be disappointed. Information concerning courses may be obtained by calling the high school between the hours of 9 and 3, 759-4701, and asking for Mrs. Sanders.

Many new courses have been added to the school's offerings, some of which are offered for the first time in this area. Introductory and advanced tennis instruction will be presented by Mr. Sy Grubel, Staff Instructor at the Arlington Players Club. Mr. Leonard Marciano, a member of the staff at Belleville High School, will offer a course in Americanization for those desiring to become citizens. Instructions in reading, writing, American history, and naturalization procedures will be a part of the course. A new course in Securities and Investing, consisting of a series of lectures and question and answer periods, will be given by the Investors Information Program of the New York Stock Exchange. The program will feature a variety of experts in the field of investment together with film presentations. Mr. Ted Gabry will initiate a new course in Furniture Refinishing on Thursday evenings which will complement his regular Tuesday evening Woodworking course. For those who are plagued by balky lawn-mower engines, outboard engines, generator or chain-saw engines, a new course in Small Engine Repair will be added to the regular list of shop courses that have been offered in the past.

Two new courses especially for high school students are being added to the school's curriculum. Youngsters who have been unable to get typing into their regular high school schedule will find a special course in Typing For High School Students offered at a reduced fee on Thursday nights. Many educators feel that the ability to type is perhaps the single most helpful manual skill that a graduate can take with him to college or the business world. In addition, a course in Speed Reading For Students will also be offered on Thursday evenings - a course designed particularly for the college-bound student or the high school student expecting to take college board exams this year.

Reading Improvement Associates of South Orange will offer a Rapid Reading Course for adults on Tuesday night. This course should prove particularly useful to professional persons whose day-to-day activities include a great deal of necessary reading and for those who desire to improve their reading speed and comprehension for more personal reasons.

Additional courses being offered include, in the field of art, Portrait and Figure Drawing, Ceramics, and Oil Painting. The shops will continue with Woodworking, and Auto Mechanics. For the homemaker, Interior Decorating, Knitting, and the ever-popular sewing courses will be presented. The GED student will find instruction in English, Social Studies, Mathematics, and Science awaiting him. For the student desiring business courses there will be Bookkeeping, Typing, Shorthand, Business Machines, and Computer training available. Mr. George Cundari will offer Beginning and Advanced Guitar instruction and the golf enthusiast can get the help that he needs to improve his game from an expert in the field. Other courses being offered are Home Hairstyling, Law for Layman, Ballroom Dancing (both Latin and American), a Gym Night for Men and an Activities Night for Women, First Aid, and for the boating fan a course in Small Boat Handling presented by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. Mr. Leonard Miller, professional driving instructor, will give classroom instruction and behind-the-wheel driving experience. Mr. Michael Nardiello, Principal, No. 4 School, will present a 5-session course (offered without charge) for those desirous of substitute teaching.

As usual, residents of Belleville, 65 years or older, may take any course listed in the brochure without charge. Many of the town's senior citizens have taken advantage of this opportunity in the past and it is hoped that they will continue to do so.

Students needing assistance in selecting courses (particularly GED students) will find a professional guidance counselor available at the high school on registration nights.

Those taking courses will find all regular facilities of the school at their disposal during class periods.

Belleville Man Gets Sentenced By Town Judge

A Belleville young man was sentenced to four months in the Essex County Penitentiary by Judge Edward Abromson in September 4 Belleville Municipal Court after being found guilty of being under the influence of narcotics.

Michael Maioran of 96 Belmont Avenue pleaded not guilty to the charges.

According to Belleville police, they received an anonymous call July 12, at 5:30 p.m., to investigate a complaint of an unconscious man in the bathroom at 96 Belmont Avenue.

Upon arriving at the scene, police found Maioran and took him to headquarters to be examined by Town Doctor Donald Brown for possibly being under the influence of narcotics.

In court testimony, Dr. Brown said, "He (Maioran) was, in my opinion, under the influence of drugs. His pupils were dilated and there were needle marks in both arms."

Maioran, in defense of himself, told the court that he was suffering from a bad condition of hemorrhoids and passed out in the bathroom from the pain. He denied taking any illegal drugs.

Judge Abromson, before passing out sentence, pointed out that the defendant was now on probation after being convicted of a similar charge in the past. After weighing all testimony, Judge Abromson handed down the guilty verdict and jail term.

Most people mistake authoritative talk for intelligence.

This is the way it's going to be. Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not.

But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac.

Take Bonneville. From the strong, new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser.

Inside: instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional big boys are already screaming.

One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order. (It's an old Pontiac proverb that luxury should have power.)

Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait'll competition sees it pull the new 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form.

By now, you've spotted our '70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've thrown modesty to the wind and dubbed GTO "The Humber."

This is Pontiac '70. And we figure this is the way driving's going to be. So why wait?

It's at your Pontiac dealer's now.

Voting Age Should Stay At 21 Years

The Gubernatorial candidates are being asked whether they feel an 18 year old youth should be able to go to the polls and vote. Does a youth at 18 have the maturity-sufficient to determine his choice of a candidate? This was also asked of Louis Vander Plate, independent Republican candidate for the office of Governor. Said Vander Plate, "While we would all like to think that the youth of today possess more intelligence I am convinced that when our forefathers constituted the age of 21 as the legal age, it was done because the average youth does not achieve maturity until then. There are some exceptions, however, this is the normal rule. Many youth today, already in college, have no idea as to what profession they would like to pursue. While most youth have had 12 years of schooling by their 18th birthday, and some even more, I cannot," said Vander Plate, "equate education with wisdom. Wisdom is only acquired thru age. It cannot be expected at the young age of 18, let alone at 21.

"It is my belief," said Vander Plate, "that the youth of today, for some unknown reason, feel more superior to the youth of only a few years ago. They are more demanding in their desires, but this is not an indication to me that they are now more mature, more intelligent, and more capable of better thinking with a wiser judgment than when I was a youth of 18.

Governor Hughes and Candidate Meyner feel that today's youth are ready to vote at 18. I must," said Vander Plate, "disagree, since my hind sight is 20-20 vision and I recall my youth.

Local Health Fund Drive Receives Over $50,000

Proceeds from the 1969 Millburn-Short Hills Health Fund Drive were distributed recently to the five participating agencies at a special meeting of the campaign executive board and agency representatives in the Investors Savings and Loan Building, Main Street. At last week's meeting, the Health Fund paid tribute to its treasurer of many years, A. Lowe Rickert, vice president-comptroller of Investors Savings and Loan Association. A plaque was presented to Mr. Rickert by John J. Navin, 1969 general campaign chairman, and John

O. Lasser, a member of the executive board.

In thanking contributors to this year's Health Fund Drive, "particularly donors who responded even more generously than in last year's drive," Mr. Navin urged those who have not yet contributed to the 1969 drive, or who have indicated during the drive's follow-up telephone appeal that they would contribute, to send their checks, payable to the Millburn-Short Hills Health Fund, to the drive's headquarters, 64 Main Street.

Attending last week's meeting were Mrs. William H. Morton, executive director of the Arthritis Foundation (New Jersey Chapter); Mrs. Viola Vernick, executive director of Cerebral Palsy of Essex and West Hudson; Charles Audette, executive

BECK'S COLUMN

By MAX BECK

We wrote during the last couple of weeks about the new TV sets which we will sell this fall. Two or 3 factories report that they expect to have a so called "electronic" tuner. The writer goes to all the shows by the major manufacturers and reports in this column about "what's new".

Many sets displayed at these shows are "mock ups", that means empty cabinets. We are interested in the works, the chassis. Unfortunately, they don't let us take the sets apart at these shows. They never have technical information ready and so we have to wait, sometimes for months, until the sets are delivered.

There is one item in any TV set, color or black and white, which needs improvement, badly. That is the station selector. At one time or another everybody who has a TV set will have problems with the tuner. In order to get a station in, you have to wiggle it and fiddle with it, and after a while it will go off again anyway. The reason for this is, that the contacts corrode. Silver tarnishes, every housewife knows this, and the contacts in a tuner mostly are silver. Even if they were gold or platinum, they will oxidize in time. The first manufacturer who has a station selector without contacts will run off with the honors. He will save millions of people lots of money for the periodically necessary cleaning of the station selector contacts and eliminate lots of aggravation. Some day, we hope to have this and the writer expected it this year, but has not found it so far.

A LITTLE INSTRUCTION — Coach John Amabile takes QB Joe Papsidero aside and gives him a few pointers in the scrimmage held at Seton Hall last week.

The Coach...

THE RIGHT SNAP — Coach John Amabile steps up to center John Atherton to demonstrate the way he wants the vital snap executed. Amabile has three quarterbacks fighting it out for the position; Joe Papsidero, Charlie Ziegler and John Goscinski.

MY WAY — Amabile explains to the backfield candidates the way he wants the off-tackle sweep run. The coach says he has three strong candidates for running back jobs; Steve Banda, Ricky Caruso and Doug Brown.

HOLD IT — When a player interrupts Coach Amabile, he motions him to stop. The coach has been emphasizing self-discipline for the players in addition to his own coordination of the team.

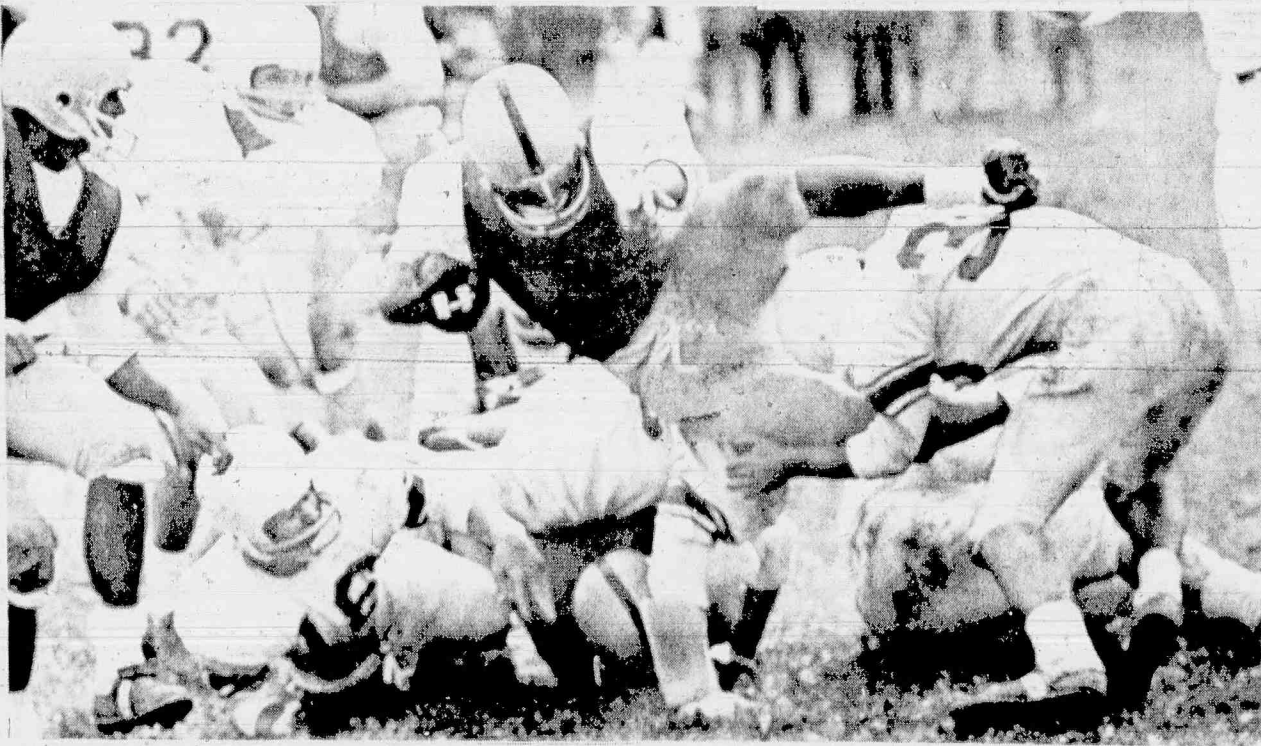

POINTERS — Coach Amabile explains to his backs that in making the end sweep, it is important to react to the position of the defensive end and corner linebacker.

GANG TACKLE — Bellboy tacklers gangup on a Seton Hall runner, demonstrating their prowess in the defensive department, an area in which the team's fate may lie.

...And The Bellboys

UPENDED — Doug Brown, Belleville's key fullback, gets upended in the Seton Hall scrimmage as he tries to buck his way off tackle for a two yard gain.

DRAMATIC CATCH — Vinnie Constantino stretches his arms out to make a fine grab of a pass from Joe Papsidero. Vinnie also does the team's kicking.

GET THE QB — A daring Belleville rusher leaps high, but is unable to stop a forward pass by the North Bergen quarterback at Municipal Stadium Saturday.

END SWEEP — Ricky Caruso takes a flip pass from quarterback Joe Papsidero as fullback Doug Brown takes off to lead him around end on a sweep play.

ROUGH GOING — Doug Brown is tripped up by two Seton Hall tacklers as the fullback tried to smash off tackle in the scrimmage held last week.

Bellboys Hope To Ride Defense To Victory

Coach Amabile To Take Games 'One At A Time'

By Nat Gottlieb

"We were an inexperienced ball club in the beginning of the year with only three or four boys back from last year with varsity experience."

This is the way Belleville High School football coach John Amabile summed up his team's season at the end of last year's 3-6 campaign.

Things are different this year, however, for Amabile finds himself with 17 returning lettermen in training camp with the prospects of one of the strongest defensive units Belleville has had in years.

Possibly the most important change in training camp this year is in attitude. Amabile reports that the boys are thinking like winners and expect to have a good campaign. Amabile has been caught up in the enthusiasm, and has himself been hustling about the field encouraging his pupils to produce 110 per cent.

After two scrimmages with Seton Hall and North Bergen, two things stand out which will test the team's ability to win this year. The first is defense. Amabile has said since the start of this year's training that defense will be the key to his team's success. Lettermen were returning this year at the guard, linebacker and end positions, but the tackle spots were the big question.

After the two scrimmages, Amabile is satisfied that his tackle problem has been solved in the forms of Mike Albertine and Roy Newman, backed up by John Mango.

The second important factor to immerse from scrimmages thus far is that the Bellboy passing game, key to a balanced attack, seems to have improved noticeably over last year.

A total of five touchdown passes were thrown in the two ball games, two by quarterback Joe Papisidero, two by fullback Doug Brown, and one by sophomore QB Joe Lo Triglio. Also vying for the quarterback spot is Charlie Ziegler.

With one of the toughest schedules in the area, the Belleville coach found a huge turnout of candidates greeting him for the opening of training. One hundred and eighteen candidates poured onto Municipal Stadium grounds to try out for the varsity, junior varsity and sophomore teams. Eighty-one freshmen also reported.

Renovations being done in the Stadium locker room have presented problems to the coaching staff.

"It's a big inconvenience because we are not geared for it," said Amabile.

Last year's main locker room has become this year's shower room and visa versa, with the result being that players will have more room to dress in. Currently the squads are utilizing the wrestling room and the basketball team room.

Thus far, practice sessions have been a pleasure for the young coach. "Because of our experience," Amabile said, "it has been the kind of practice where the kids and the coaches know each other; where everyone seems to understand what is expected of them to produce a winner."

One of the changes this year is the concept of self-discipline encouraged by Amabile. So far the senior class has served well as team leaders in this department.

The season is scheduled to begin September 27, when perennial powerhouse East Orange hosts the Bellboys. Tough games follow with Bloomfield at home and arch-rival Nutley away.

Basically the defense this year will remain the same in alignment as last year. Few changes are planned in the offensive department, where a winged "t" will be used with variations.

Leading the team will be the two co-captains, Vinnie Constantino and Roy Newman, both ends. Vinnie is in his third year with the varsity. Roy, played defensive guard and offensive end last year, but in addition to his end duties this year, he will be playing the defensive tackle position.

Another team leader will be Joe Ritacco at defensive end, whom Amabile calls "a heck of a good ballplayer and the best all-around man we have now."

By far the biggest surprise of the season has been Lonnie Bunch, a senior defensive safety, who has impressed the coach so much with his running that he is being shifted to halfback. Last year Bunch ran from the slot back and wing back positions.

Another surprise has been Carmen Russamano, a junior, who is giving veteran linebacker Frank Fury a "real run for his money at the position."

The offensive backfield promises to be a strong point for the Bellboys, according to Amabile. Steve Banda, a senior at wingback, Ricky Caruso a junior halfback and Doug Brown at fullback have looked well thus far. Brown is the biggest starting back at 187 pounds.

There was some problem, however, with the backfield in the North Bergen scrimmage. According to Amabile, the runners were not hitting the holes fast enough, and consequently the spots were closing on them. "We can overcome this," Amabile said.

Amabile had special praise for his two coaches, Vinnie Harris and Len Longo, who have been "doing a fine job." Longo is a former Bellboy All-State.

Of the East Orange game, Amabile said "We've taken it on the chin for two years now. We have a score to settle with them."

Asked to make a prediction for the season, Amabile hesitated, then sidestepped the question like a shifty back, and said he was going to concentrate on team weaknesses and take one game at a time.

Big Football Competition Date For Boys

Today is a big day for boys age 8 through 13 in the Belleville area for they can start registering for the ninth annual punt, pass and kick competition in which they will show their football skills in punting, passing and kicking and compete for trophies and the chance to represent Belleville and Nutley in future competitions.

Registration and entries will be accepted through October 10 at Mead-Ford, 515 Washington Avenue, Belleville. A parent or guardian must accompany the boys to register. The entire competition is absolutely free. There is no body contact in the competitions and all equipment such as footballs and kicking tees are provided.

Every boy who registers will receive a free punt, pass & kick tips booklet which features stories and competition tips from NFL stars Don Meredith and Mike Clark of the Dallas Cowboys and Billy Lothridge of the Atlanta Falcons. The booklet also features Don Shula, the coach of the Baltimore Colts, and includes physical fitness exercises for boys in the competition age group.

Every boy who participates has an equal chance to win for he competes only against boys in his own age group. Points are awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, with points subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line.

The overall competition is divided into six levels - local, zone, district, area, division and national.

The first level - the local competition - features 18 handsome trophies which will be awarded locally by Mead-Ford.

Gold trophies go to first place finishers, silver to second and bronze to third. The first place winners then move up to zone competition.

Winners of zone competitions will receive trophies and runners-up are awarded certificates. Zone winners move to district competitions where 216 district champions will be awarded trophies and go on to compete for area championships at NFL stadiums. Area champs travel to divisional competitions in NFL stadiums in Dallas or Detroit where twelve finalists are chosen - six from the NFL Eastern division and six from the NFL Western division. Winners are accompanied by both parents to all area competitions.

The twelve division winners go, with their parents, to the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., for the national finals during the annual NFL play-off game. All 12 national finalists and their parents will then tour Cape Kennedy, the site of the historic Apollo moon shots, and the Air Space Museum.

Scrimmage Shows Good Effort

Belleville High's football team made a good start against Seton Hall in their first scrimmage. Belleville scored three times, all on passes, twice from Joe Papisidero to Vinny Constantino and once from Doug Brown to Joe Ritacco.

Coach John Amabile praised almost the entire offense for the scrimmage. "They are further advanced than last year's team," he said and added that "last year's offense scored only seventy-seven points." Steve Banda, Ricky Caruso, and Doug Brown produced a lot of running yardage." Joe Paps was rated by the coach as "very good," as were ends Vinny Constantino and Joe Ritacco.

The timing and execution of plays were good said Amabile, and so was the pass blocking for the ends. On the offensive line, Mike Albertine and Alan DeFeo were the first ones mentioned for their part in blocking and pass protection.

Defense Hits, Tackles Hard

The defense's "desire to hit" still remained and they came up with some good tackles as they kept Seton Hall from scoring. Mike Albertine and Joe Ritacco went both ways and received high praise from the happy coach.

Frank Fury did a good job as linebacker and Charley Ziegler has been rated as "neck and neck" (to quote the coach) with last year's safety, Lonnie Bunch. Over all Amabile rates them as having "the best nitting in the last 2-3 years." Considering the last two seasons have been 3-6 the team should be better, but it is all summed up in Amabile's most used statement. "They really want to win."

Cross Country Sets 12 Meets

The BHS cross-country team will run almost all home races. There are twelve dual meets scheduled and only two are away. They will also enter the Big Ten and Essex County races on October 31 and November 5, respectively.

Giove Pici, a member of last year's BHS varsity football team, is going to be playing center for this year's Dubuque Football team. The Dubuque Spartans compiled a 4-5 season last year and this year will compete in the Iowa Intercollegiate Athletic Conference under Maury Waugh, past defensive coach for the Spartans and now starting his first year as head coach.

Frenchys Wins Loop Title In Recreation Softball

After a hard-fought season in each of the four Recreation Softball Leagues the respective league champions have engaged in a battle for the town-wide championship and the Creative Engravers trophy which goes with it. In the first of the play-off games the Jolly Cleaners met the Landolfi Home For Funerals and lost to this very strong team in a game that was filled with tense situations. Next, the Jolly's faced the winner of the Monday League, Frenchys. In the very first inning, Frenchys jumped out to a 7-1 lead, a lead that proved too much for Jollys to overcome. Frenchys took this one 12-4.

On last Tuesday Frenchys and Landolfis met for the first time. Some people felt that Frenchys had a big edge because they had actually won in two leagues (substantially the same players won in the Tuesday League playing as the Zig Zags) and, it was felt, the Wednesday League was not as strong as the others. However, it was Landolfis who drew first blood as they scored in the first inning and enjoyed a two-run lead. From there it was a see-saw game filled with great hitting, brilliant base running and fine plays. Finally, with Frenchys getting last bat, the score eight to seven in favor of Landolfis and all of the nerves as tight as banjo strings, Landolfis put Frenchys down one-two-three in the last inning to win and move half way to that coveted town-wide championship.

In the second meeting of the two softball titans, the Landolfis Home for Funerals stepped right out and scored in the first inning. However, this was to be a different game as the Frenchys lined up their booming bats and pounded out a 9-1 victory. Once again both teams played really fine ball with the same high quality of fielding and running. And so the town-wide championship went right to the wire.

On Thursday, Frenchys and the Landolfi Home for Funerals met for the decisive game of the 1969 Season. In this game it was again the big bats of Frenchys that made the difference. Landolfis put up a great fight and played great softball but Frenchys managed to poke out enough hits to pile up a commanding lead. This, combined with very tight fielding, gave Frenchys the win, the town-wide championship and the Creative Engravers trophy. On behalf of the vanquished Landolfis, it must be said that they have, in this their first season, proven themselves a power in the Leagues and a team to be reckoned with in the future.

Whistler Painting Sent To Germany By Local Museum

An early painting by James McNeill Whistler, "The Sea," painted in about 1865, leaves its home at the Montclair Art Museum this week for a trip to Germany. It will be shown in the large Whistler exhibition being presented next month at Berlin's Nationalgalerie. The exhibition is part of the 1969 "Berliner Festwochen."

The Whistler painting is one of several from the museum collections that are being loaned to other institutions this season. "Yellow Settee" by Leon Karp is currently showing in a Karp retrospective exhibition at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in Philadelphia and a portrait of John Sloan by Robert Henri will be included in a Henri Retrospective opening at the Gallery of Modern Art in New York October 14.

Local Hunter Returns; Bags Deer And Antelope

Len Cardinale, owner and operator of Butts & Bows, 468 Washington Avenue, Belleville, returned from a seven-day hunt in North Dakota.

He reported taking a large Mule Deer doe and on the last day of the hunt, a buck Antelope.

"We had hard hunting and no breaks for the first five days, so I thought I'd better stop passing up the Muley does. If I was lucky enough to have another opportunity I would try to take one."

"Finally after much hard work I had a 25 yard shot at a beauty. I hit her solid and she traveled about sixty yards and piled up."

"On the last day about 3 p.m. a few hours before I would have to leave, a herd of five antelope came whizzing over the hill past me. There was a buck in the herd and as he past me running flat out, I shot at him quartering away at about thirty yards."

"He tumbled a complete somersault and lay still. The arrow had hit him in the top part of his neck where it meets the head and killed him instantly. The spinal cord had been severed."

The equipment used was a 53 No. Ben Pearson "take down" Signature Bow and Easton Aluminum 2018 arrows fitted with 003 broadheads.

YOUNG ACTOR — Bob Zanfani, a Belleville High graduate and teacher at the junior high school, spent an active summer in Coldwater, Michigan, working at the Tibbits Summer Theatre.

VFW Plans Penny Sale

The Younginger Alden Jr. Post 275, Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold their annual Penny Sale on Saturday, September 27 at 8 p.m. in the Post Home, 17 Belleville Avenue.

The affair is being conducted by the Post and the Ladies Auxiliary.

Past Commander Anthony Monte, in charge for the Post, will be assisted by Post President Mary Resciniti of the ladies auxiliary.

Ki Ro Aid Fund By Belleville Clubs

The Belleville Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs are combining their efforts to establish the Ki-Ro Athlete Aid Fund. Its purpose is to assist deserving Belleville athletes who are eligible to participate in regional and national athletic competitions by helping to underwrite their expenses for such participation.

Robert E. Cook of Rotary and Michael T. Rosamelia of Kiwanis have long recognized the need to institute some kind of assistance to America's amateur athletes who aspire to become Olympians, and they have been designated by their respective organizations to lay the groundwork for a joint committee to establish the fund.

Athletes from many countries, most notably Russia, are completely subsidized by their governments. This places Americans at a distinct disadvantage because they must find ways to pay their own expenses associated with competitions. It is hoped and expected the idea of service club sponsorship on a local level will be publicized by the parent organizations and spread to other clubs throughout the United States.

Local participation was initiated two years ago when Cook suggested to the Belleville Kiwanis Club that they sponsor Philip Grippaldi on his trip to the National Weightlifting Championships in California. Phil won second place that year and then went on the following year to win the Junior and Senior Nationals, then won the Pan-American Games.

Last year Phil represented the United States in the Olympic Games. This year he will be a member of the U.S. Team in the world

Temple Plans Yom Kippur Observances

Yom Kippur, Hebrew for Day of Atonement, the holiest day of the Jewish calendar, which includes the Ten Days of Penitence, will be observed at Temple Menorah, Bloomfield, on Sunday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m., and throughout Monday, Sept. 22, with morning services starting at 10 a.m., and the afternoon and memorial (Yiskor) services at 3 p.m. Rabbi Nathan H. Fish, spiritual leader, will officiate at all services.

The Yom Kippur eve service begins with the chanting of the 'Kol Nidre, a majestic and celebrated chant, by the Temple Menorah Choir directed by Thomas A. Davis, organist and choirmaster. On Sunday evening Rabbi Fish will have his sermon topic, "Broken Vows", and on Monday morning the Rabbi's sermon topic will be, "Of Time and Man".

A special children's service, conducted by Rabbi Fish, in the sanctuary will be held at 2 p.m., which will be followed by the afternoon and memorial (Yiskor) services.

Traditional hymns, responses and special musical numbers will be rendered at all services by the Temple choir directed by Thomas A. Davis, organist and choirmaster. The period of the Ten Days of Penitence ends at sundown on Monday (Yom Kippur) with the final sounding of the Shofar, the ram's horn, used for thousands of years in the High Holy Days, Rosh Hashanah (New Years) and Yom Kippur (Day of Atonement).

Have you ever wondered why it's so much easier to tell someone else how to do something than it is to do it yourself?

The time for a vacation is when you can get it. Don't worry about the work you leave behind, it will be there when you return.

Bridge might not be such a waste of time if the players would stop talking about the hands they played last week.

Union College Participating
In College Examination Program

Union College is one of 450 colleges and universities across the nation participating in CLEP, the College-Level Examination Program, sponsored by the College Entrance Examination Board, it was announced today by Dr.

Who is to forgive you?

Yom Kippur marks the end of the period known as the 'Ten Days of Repentance.' This is the 'Sabbath of Sabbaths,' as it is called in the bible. It is the holiest of days because the thoughts are distinctive, different, with an aura of nobility about them. They come from the majestic themes of the service:

Penitence.
Sincerity of heart and purpose.
Reconciliation and harmony.

Underlying these themes is the basic idea of forgiveness. On Yom Kippur, we ask forgiveness of God and men for wrongs we may have committed.

Why not come to Temple Menorah and join us in prayer? When the world is ablaze with war, when evil runs rampant in our midst... what else is there more important, more immediate you can do?

In this day and age of wonder drugs and medical miracles, it's easy to think of your doctor as your first source of health defense. However, in most illnesses, whether minor or major, your own body provides you with early warnings of trouble long before the doctor is ever consulted. In fact, you usually have to decide whether these symptoms or signs are serious enough, or troublesome enough, to call your doctor's attention to them at all. Thus, your own common sense in judging what symptoms mean is actually your first source of health defense.

Radiology School Opens At Hospital

For the past five years, the Department of Radiology at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital has been planning a school of radiologic technology to help alleviate the shortage of qualified X-ray technicians. The new School of Radiologic Technology became a reality on Monday, September 8, when 12 men and women began their two year course of study.

The new students are all graduates of an accredited high school or have received their high school equivalency diploma, and have indicated a willingness to work with sick and disabled patients. High school courses that will provide helpful background knowledge for the 549 hours of formal classroom instruction given at the School include general science, chemistry, physics, biology and algebra. The formal instruction will be supplemented by 3,250 hours of clinical practice in all sections of the Department of Radiology.

The School of Radiologic Technology is under the direction of Dr. Joseph Israel, Chief Radiologist. Educational Director for the program is Mrs. Margaret Leone, whose staff of instructors is composed of qualified members of the Clara Maass medical, nursing and technical staffs.

It will be the endeavor of the staff to develop technologists who possess the intellectual, technical, spiritual, moral and social qualities which will enable them to fulfill the responsibilities of their profession. When students satisfactorily complete the required course of study, a certificate in Radiologic Technology will be awarded by the Hospital.

To insure professional status, it is desirable for the technologist to become certified by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists and the Health Department of the State of New Jersey. A person may qualify for the examinations only after two years of training and experience in an accredited school of technology. Once registered, the technologist may then apply for membership in the American Society of Radiologic Technologists (A.S.R.T.) Those who pass the national and state examinations are allowed to append to their name the letters R.T.

In this day and generation there is so much information that one finds it difficult to select what to believe.
