

New Board Will Reorganize Monday; Invites Commission For Budget Talk

The new Belleville Board of Education will meet Monday night to reorganize for the coming school year and will put out the welcome mat for Caesar Romano and Richard Mahmarian.

The rejuvenated Board will find little time to relax, however. Facing the school officials are numerous educational problems presented by the space age seventies.

First problem on hand will be the 1970-71 budget, which voters for a third straight year declined to accept.

The budget will not come up for another vote as has been done in the past. A new state law now sends it directly to the town commissioners who will have 30 days to determine what amount of money is "necessary to sufficiently run the schools."

Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, winding up his term as president, a term marked by budget controversy, says his Board will invite the Commission to meet with them for consultation on the budget.

The current expense section of the budget went down, 972-1309, while capital outlay was rejected 893-1,307.

Caesar Romano, twice defeated in bids for a Board seat, came storming back this year to grab top spot on the ballot, polling 1,824 votes.

Richard Mahmarian, a newcomer to politics in Belleville ran second with 1,506 votes. James Risoli, also a newcomer, found his initial bout in the political ring a tough one, finishing last with 1,199 votes.

Voter turnout was 2,527, less than last year when five candidates sought two board seats.

The entire Board, including a few former members like Ernest Arvidson, jammed the Board conference room Tuesday night and listened anxiously while Mrs. Mary Shader, Board secretary, read off the returns.

When it became apparent that Romano and Mahmarian were the new members, handshakes of congratulations were extended to the two men. Risoli was not in the office at the time.

Both Romano and Mahmarian were jubilant about the results, and their supporters rushed to congratulate them. A victory party was held afterward in the Galaxy Restaurant.

Romano told the Times that the election was "a step forward," and hoped that the people of Belleville will rally around the Board in future months to raise Belleville "to the top of the county in educational excellence."

Mahmarian, who before the election results were in remarked, "this has been an education for me, a real experience," extended thanks to "all those who helped me in the campaign," and said he hopes the election will start a trend "toward positive growth in Belleville, so that we may be the best around."

Doctor Di Ruggiero, obviously disappointed by the budget results, was nevertheless pleased with his new Board members and said that "Mr. Romano and Mr. Mahmarian have the interest of the school systems at heart and I'm sure that we can work together as a team for the good of education in Belleville."

Asked about his feeling on the budget rejection, Dr. Di Ruggiero said "It's the will of the people."

Romano and Mahmarian finished one-two in every school except Number Four, where Risoli was expected to have considerable strength. The vote in that school was overwhelmingly for Risoli, who polled 317 votes, to 229 for Romano and 109 for Mahmarian.

Civilian absentee ballots followed the overall trend, with 22 votes for Romano, 20 for Mahmarian and 15 for Risoli.

The budget vote was closer than it has been in past years. Last year it went down by a 2-1 margin. School Three was the only one to pass the budget offering, voting yes 171-153 in current expense and yes 160-146 in capital outlay. Several schools were fairly close.

The budget was defeated most soundly in School Four, where it went down by almost a 3-1 margin. The vote was NO 204-88 in current expense, and NO 193-68 in Capital outlay.

At Monday's meeting new officer's are expected to be drafted. The budget will also be a topic of discussion. Of interest will be how willing Commission members are toward working with the school board. Relations between the two bodies have been none too friendly in the past.

Greco Draws Heavy Criticism For His Part in Teacher Crisis

By Nat Gottlieb

Last week's teacher walkout uncovered some underlying tensions in the Belleville school system which may have serious repercussions in the weeks to come for schools

School Officials At Conventions

Belleville school administrators will attend conferences throughout the country in February and March.

Approval of trips for six high ranking administrators was granted by the Board of Education last week, with reimbursement for expenses.

Making the furthest jaunt across the country are Michael Rossamilia and Robert Stepney, who will jet to San Francisco for the annual conference of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development on March 14-18. Rossamilia is head of curriculum matters for Belleville schools.

Mrs. Claire Amato Set As Heart Fund Leader

Mrs. Claire Amato has been named chairman of the 1970 Heart Fund Drive in Belleville which will take place now through the end of the month.

The announcement came this week from Joseph Barry, Heart Fund director for the Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge and Montclair area.

Mrs. Amato, who is the wife of Town Attorney, Nicholas R. Amato, will direct over 250 volunteers in canvassing the town.

A lifelong Belleville resident, Mrs. Amato is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Tortorello of 24 Mt. Prospect Avenue.

A product of the Belleville school system, the new chairman is a 1965 graduate of the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York. She has spent five years in the garment industry in New York as a children's wear superintendent, Anthony Greco.

Greco was caught in the middle of criticism leveled this week by teacher officials and Board President Dr. Frank DiRuggiero.

Both parties accused him of contributing toward communication problems in the school system and of lack of cooperation in last week's teacher crisis.

The superintendent denied the charges emphatically and said they were unfounded.

Greco, hired two years ago, comes up for a tenure vote in May, and sources close to the Board say there is a movement afoot to deny the superintendent because he allegedly has not cooperated with Board officials.

The sources preferred not to say who would lead the opposition. Dr. DiRuggiero said he wouldn't comment at this time on any such move.

The teachers walked off the job at dismissal time (2:30) on Tuesday, February 2 over stalled salary negotiations. They were scheduled to continue their walkout on Wednesday but a snow fall cancelled school and indirectly aided a settlement late Wednesday night.

(Last week The Times went to press with the knowledge that the walkout would continue Wednesday upon reassurance by teacher union officials. Because of the classes being cancelled, The Times' front page story on the Wednesday walkout was in error.)

The agreement calls for a $700 increase in starting salaries of teachers with a bachelors degree, to a $7,700 minimum and to a $12,400 maximum in 14 steps. Teachers with masters degrees will start at $8,400 with maximum of $13,900 in 15 steps. Teachers with master's degrees plus 32 graduate education credits will receive $9,100 with maximum at $15,400 in 16 steps.

Greco drew criticism from Belleville Education Association President Jerry Kennelly and teacher negotiator George Nucera for statements the superintendent was quoted as saying in last Saturday's Newark Star-Ledger. Dr. DiRuggiero's criticism centered on Greco's handling of the crisis.

Strumolo Schedules Free Vaccination

Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo announced this week that the Department of Health, in cooperation with the Board of Education, will conduct a town-wide immunization campaign against Rubella-German Measles.

This will be a public education effort to urge parents with children in kindergarten through fourth grade to take advantage of this free vaccination program. A date and sites for the immunization will be announced soon.

Participating in the program will be Dr. Hillard Mann of 431 Washington; Dr. Frank J. Noonan of 272 Holmes Street, and Dr. William Taffet of 413 Union Avenue, all of Belleville.

Strumolo, who is Public Affairs director, said in a prepared statement that the vaccine is "safe and effective." He also said the American Academy of Pediatrics and the United States Department of Health recommend that children receive this vaccine.

The commissioner further stated that Rubella is a common and relatively unimportant disease in childhood, but in pregnant women the virus can harm the fetus, and result in miscarriage, still births, and birth defects such as deafness, cataracts, heart abnormalities and mental retardation.

Since most cases of Rubella occur in school age children, the Commissioner recommended that this group be vaccinated.

Strumolo also said that judging from clinical nature of Rubella epidemics, the Health Department expects 1970 might be a critical year. The last major epidemic occurred in 1964, when approximately 30,000 babies were born with birth defects.

Special Meeting For New Budget

Belleville's 1970 budget is scheduled to be introduced next Thursday, February 19, at a special Commission meeting in Town Hall.

Preliminary figures released earlier this week calling for an $11,416,177 budget are already out of date. Commissioners have been paring down their departmental budgets all week, so that the figure introduced next week, is expected to call for a tax point hike less than the 82 points speculated earlier by Finance Commissioner McGreevy.

The special Commission meeting, normally scheduled Monday, February 23, is necessary because the budget must be introduced 28 days prior to the March 20 deadline for final adoption.

Several towns, including Nutley, have already introduced their budgets. Mayor Ken Smith says, however, that he isn't concerned with this fact, and reports that the Commission is having no problems formulating the budget.

The budget released earlier this week would create a new tax rate of $4.98. A breakdown listed Municipal appropriations up to 39 points; school funds up 38, and county taxes up five points. A tax point is $22,900.

A decision this week involving a large county tax refund to the City of Newark will result in an undetermined increase in Belleville's county appropriation, listed earlier as $2,853,305.03, a hike of $188,360.76.

A superior court decision Monday declared that taxes collected from Port Newark must be returned because they were levied in non-taxable areas. Refunds from 1967-1969 reportedly will amount to about $3 million.

Tax Complaints Will Soon Fall On Computerized Ears

Belleville will introduce data processing computers into its tax department in the near future, a move which will enable tax assessment in about two days instead of eight weeks.

A resolution authorizing the town to enter into contract with a data processing center was unanimously approved at Monday night's Commission meeting. The move was introduced by Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy.

The data processing will affect about 30 per cent of tax assessment operations, including rolls and bills. It will not be used yet on ledger sheets.

Belleville will have no trouble adapting to the new system, because both Town

Treasurer Francis McCoy and Tax Assessor Peter Torre have been taking computer courses at night.

Only four other communities in Essex County use data processing. They are East Orange, West Orange, Nutley and Newark.

The system is being projected for state wide use, however, with the help of a million dollar grant to the town of East Orange, which already has a computer center, for developing systems.

Mass Tomorrow For Patrick Greco

A Requiem Mass will be offered for Patrick B. Greco tomorrow morning at 10:30 in Holy Family Church of Nutley.

Mr. Greco, who died Monday in Rahway Hospital after a short illness, was for many years the largest building contractor in Belleville. He was 62.

The Rev. Francis Blake of Holy Family will officiate at the early morning mass, with interment following at Immaculate Conception Cemetery, in Montclair.

The World's Premier Repairman

Rene Morel was very impressed with the Belleville Music-Art Festival.

Sitting with his pretty wife Andree in the jam-packed high school gymnasium, he listened intently while student musicians performed pieces which took months to learn and perfect.

Of particular interest to Morel were the violinists and cellists, which is easily understandable.

Rene Morel, who lives at 87 Belmoir Street, is considered by many to be the greatest stringed instrument repairman in the world.

Working sometimes 12 or 14 hours a day in a basement workshop in his home, Morel repairs expensive instruments for the most renowned concert masters in the world.

His present project is a 280-year old violin, an instrument requiring meticulous work and craftsmanship.

He is also working on a violin repaired recently by an "expert." The expert apparently didn't do such a good job. Morel's additional work will cost the owner, a famous musician, about $4,500 and require over 500 hours to fix.

Among Morel's clients are cellists Pablo Casale, Bernie Greenhouse, Maurice Isenberg, Leslie Parnass, Lorne Monroe and Gerald Walberg. Greenhouse is the cellist for the Beauxarts Trio; Isenberg owns a music school in London; Parnass is first celloist for the Juillard Quartet; Monroe is first celloist for the New York Philharmonic, and Walberg is a millionaire who owns a $120,000 instrument which Morel has worked on.

Famed violin masters such as Yehudi Menuhin, Rogiero Ricci and Zvi Zeitlan also visit his New York shop on West 57 Street.

Priceless violins such as the Emperor violin have passed through his hands. He has spent uncountable hours repairing the Maximilian Stradivarius which was sold by its owner to the City of Berlin for $100,000.

Not all of his clients are concert masters, however. Some are doctors, lawyers and businessmen, like Abe Fortas. Morel has been besieged by these professionals to teach courses in his fine art.

Recently, he accepted an invitation to teach a course on repair and maintenance of instruments at the Manhattan School of Music. He makes a trip to the Rockefeller Institute each year to appraise research by scientists and physicists into the almost impossible question of why great instruments make such special sounds.

Morel, who was born in France, still finds time to take an interest in the activities of his two sons and daughter.

These breaks are rare for the 38-year old repair master, who spends (by choice) up to 14 hours a day at his table, often missing meals. His wife, like any Belleville mother, is annoyed when he does so, but has learned to live with it.

The long hours are worth it for Morel, who is confident of his abilities, yet possesses a modesty peculiar to great artists. A man of great energy who loves to talk of his work or his fondness for airplanes, he is hesitant about calling himself the "best in the world."

His clients, however, do not pause in heaping praise on the craftsman. Walter Trampler, a famed master viola player calls Morel "One of the finest craftsmen in the world."

Directors Try Cutting Expenses

Commissioner Joseph McGreevy were broken down into: Municipal, school and county expenses.

Municipal expenditures represent the following figures:

*Commission operations up 23 points ($631,427.26) to $2,080,833.01.

*Capital improvements decreased by ($6,000) to $55,000.

*Municipal debt service up six and a half points ($145,964.24) to $288,435.24.

*Deferred charges and statutory expenditures rose three and a half points ($95,390) to $554,950.

*Reserve for uncollected debts up six points ($123,001.59) to $742,084.02.

The school budget which was voted on Tuesday asks by taxation $4,674,990, a rise of 38 tax points or $860,964.48.

Most notable increase in the municipal section is a $222,000 salary hike for all town employees.

Insurance rate increases also took its toll on the tax dollar.

Rates were hiked 30 per cent for Blue Cross, 85 per cent for automobile insurance and 30 per cent for package insurance.

Also included in the town's reevaluation program and master plan are carryovers from a five-year emergency appropriation amounting to 3.5 tax points of the operating costs. McCoy said these payments finish in 1972.

Another substantial increase came in police and fire pension funds, where a rise of 55 per cent was recorded. Recent state legislation gave the Public Safety employees increased benefits which cost the town $71,377.18, setting the current pension fund figure for employees at $210,000. Currently retired police and firemen received a two per cent hike.

She also said that from past experience, the Heart Fund has decided not to join in the United Fund because it feels it will have a less effective program to combat heart diseases. Past experience, according to state representatives of the Fund, has shown that a joint effort leaves little opportunity for volunteer participation in educational and community service activities and inadequate financial support for essential heart research.

by East Orange's Mayor William Hart to a committee developing a standardized accounting system for the state. McCoy says the group is working on instituting cobalt language for the system.

The use of data processing is expected to produce numerous advantages to Belleville. Tax assessment, currently done on an addressograph machine, will be speeded up from eight weeks to a mere two days. In addition, the state has assigned a code number to all mortgage banks. These numbers are included in the computers and will enable direct tax assessment mailing to banks, which according to McCoy, handle about 70 per cent of mortgages in town.

Services Tomorrow For Greco

Mr. Greco, who was born in Newark, came to Belleville 57 years ago. He took over his father's contracting business after his death and built it into one of the most respected commercial firms in Northern New Jersey.

A great number of Belleville business establishments were built by Mr. Greco, including the fire house in Silver Lake, the Prudential Building, Newark Glass, Pantry Pride, and numerous businesses on Washington Avenue.

Mr. Greco's construction company at one time had the exclusive contract for building Acme Markets in Northern New Jersey.

At the time of his death, the deceased was doing a job for Pantry Pride in Lyndhurst. He lived at 87 Carner Avenue.

Mr. Greco is survived by his wife, Rose Pignatore; four sons, Patrick Jr., Frank and William of Belleville, and Thomas of Rahway; four daughters, Mrs. Antoinette Luberto, Mrs. Lucille Duva, Mrs. Theresa Massa and Miss Phyllis Greco, all of Belleville; five brothers, Peter, Thomas and Benjamin of Belleville, and Ralph and Anthony of Nutley; two sisters, Mrs. Ann Riefolo of Belleville and Mrs. Mildred Evers of Nutley and eight grandchildren.

The funeral will be from the Landolfi Home For Funerals, 503 Union Avenue, Belleville.

events, where many contestants, like the Russians, are government subsidized. In this way, money will stand in the way of an amateur athletes future.

The Belleville Rotary and Kiwanis have already adopted the plan, and will form a committee to select a deserving local athlete.

Cook also has scheduled meetings with national Kiwanis and Rotary representatives to try and sell the idea on a nation-wide basis.

Belleville Residents To Teach at YMCA

Two Belleville residents are instructors for the spring semester at the Newark YMCA's leisure-time learning and business school courses.

Ray Napolitano of 286 Union Avenue and Gerald Zoppi of 424 Union Avenue, both of Belleville, will be teaching courses at the Newark branch starting February 16. Napolitano will teach the fundamentals of acting and Zoppi will teach Hatha Yoga.

For further information of the range of programs available, which include poodle grooming, silk-screening, Spanish and social dancing, contact the adult program department of the Newark YMCA.

People often seek excuses for their failures instead of trying to do something about them.

Library Shows Movie Saturday

The children's department of the Belleville Public Library announces the second in a series of Winter Movie Hours.

The films will be shown at the Main Library, corner of Washington Avenue and Academy Street this Saturday, at 10:30 a.m.

The first colored film to be shown will be "The Golden Fish," featuring a boy, his pet canary, a prize goldfish, and a stealthy alley cat.

Also being shown is "Hercules," the tale of an old-fashioned fire engine which heroically saves the town hall. A black and white film, "Sad Clowns," starring Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton and Harry Langdon, will delight folks of all ages. Come! Bring a friend to the Saturday morning activities of the Belleville Public Library.

Superintendent Greco Under Attack

question said, "Although a mediator had been called from PERC (Public Employees Relations Commission), Greco attributed the success of the negotiations to school board members, who, he said, did not want a work stoppage." Kennelly and Nucera took vehement exception to this statement which they said was incorrect because a walkout was not indeed averted. They also said that further work stoppages were avoided partly because the BEA lowered its demands. The teachers said that contrary to Greco's "casual" mention of the PERC mediator, they felt he "did an excellent job," and played a vital role. "Greco's statements are misleading," Kennelly said. "In fact it was the mediator who was the one who had to push the Board to even meet the next night."

Nucera, who was chief negotiator for the teachers and is a past BEA president, said "it was a joint effort. We obviously lowered our demands to aid the settlement."

Greco, reached for comment, acknowledged that he had made this statement to the press, adding that he was "clearly on the side of management." He denied however a Star Ledger statement attributed to him that said "the new salary guide calls for a $400 across-the-board raise for teachers, without increasing the budget."

The teacher spokesman said that problems with Greco were not new. They accused him of stifling teachers in their efforts to become more actively involved in curriculum and other areas of education.

The teachers also leveled two specific charges against Greco concerning his part in the negotiations. They said he knew Monday of the impending arrival of a PERC mediator but made no effort to inform either Dr. DiRuggiero or the teachers. They also said he was asked Tuesday to warn Junior and Senior high principals of the walkout possibility on Wednesday so that bus schedules could be changed and that he hadn't done so. Kennelly and Nucera attributed this information to Dr. DiRuggiero, who affirmed the reports.

Greco, meanwhile, took a stance similar to other instances when criticism has been leveled against him. He denied charges and refused to elaborate because in his words, "I don't want to drag the school system through the press."

The superintendent countercharged the BEA officials with being 100 per cent wrong about a communications gap existing. He also denied that he failed to notify school principals and declined to comment further on the matter. Asked if he was the first to know of PERC's impending arrival, he said, no, "the Board told me first."

Dr. DiRuggiero, who was reached for clarification on the matter, expressed annoyance at Greco's remarks and told his side of the story.

The Board president said that Monday afternoon Greco "casually" mentioned to him that he received a call from PERC earlier in the day. Dr. Di said he asked the superintendent why he hadn't contacted him of this development, and instructed him that "as long as I am chairman of this Board you will inform me of everything happening of importance to the system."

Dr. DiRuggiero, also said he asked Greco on Tuesday morning whether he thought it a good idea to call high school principal Raymond Smith and Junior High principal Seymour Grossman to alert them of the walkout possibility. Greco allegedly answered "I don't see any need for it, Doc, but if you me to I'll do it."

The Board president said he waited until 2 p.m. and asked Greco if he had called the principals. Greco reportedly said he hadn't yet done so, prompting Dr. DiRuggiero to call the schools himself.

Smith, reached early this week by The Times, said he had telephone conversations with both men that day. The principal said Nucera had already tipped him off and that he phoned Greco Tuesday morning to ask for advice.

"He promised to call me back later in the day," Smith said. "A few minutes after two I received a call from Mr. Greco informing me that the walkout would start at 2:30 that day, and the following day at 12:25. We discussed bus schedules and problems connected with the cafeteria."

Smith also said that about ten minutes later Dr. DiRuggiero phoned him to ask what he was going to do about the walkout.

Greco also drew criticism from Dr. DiRuggiero about speculation he made on where money would be shifted in the budget to accommodate a teacher settlement.

Greco told The Times there was a "possibility" that money earmarked for hiring nine new teachers might be shifted.

"He has no right to say that," DiRuggiero said when he learned of Greco's speculation. "That's subterfuge for the public. Actually we hope to get the money from surpluses."

Dr. DiRuggiero said that Greco was "double-talking the public," because in "one breath he says we need nine teachers in the schools and in the other says we won't hire them."

The possibility of shifting funds in the budget to allow for a teacher settlement has been criticized all along by Nucera, who felt teachers would be blamed for taking money from other educational areas. He criticized the Board for putting the minimum in its tentative budget for teacher salaries.

The teacher spokesmen said that they were "satisfied that progress had been made in teacher salary schedules," and instructed their membership not to hold any grudges against Board officials.

A meeting to open communication channels between teachers and Board members has been promised sometime in the near future by Dr. DiRuggiero.

Essex County CYO Plans Spelling Bee Championship

Essex County took second place behind Bergen among all counties of the State in the number of adoption placements made in 1969 by the Children's Aid and Adoption Society of New Jersey.

According to Dr. Emil J. Piel, president of the Society's Board of Directors, 40 children who might otherwise have remained without proper homes, had been given a new start in life with that number of formerly childless Essex County couples. The number of such children placed with Bergen County couples was 58.

Board Anticipates 387 Graduates

The Belleville Board of Education anticipates the graduation of 387 seniors from the high school this June.

An order for that many diplomas was placed by the Board with the Clint W. Lee Company for delivery in June. Price for the graduation documents is $619.20.

The Board has also authorized payment of $999 to Center Lumber Company, Paterson, for the 1969-70 annual supply of white pine lumber for use in the high school general shop.

Final payment of $930 was authorized on school fire detection systems installed by Fire Signals, Inc.

The printing of forms for use in the Board secretary's office cost the town $892.40. Payment went to Berry

Business Procedures.

The February issue of the Belleville Schools Digest will cost taxpayers $350 plus five dollars for each picture printed by Rocco Press.

Emergency removal of the manhole and cleaning of the high school oil tank totaled $300 in payment to Wellen Oil, Inc.

The Board also paid $74.40 in final payment to Bickford and Spaeth Associates for engineering services rendered installing automatic dial monitoring systems.

Also voted on was the renewal of a contract with Public Service for the transportation of students under the National Elementary and Secondary Education Act in the amount of $63.60 per diem.

Hoffman-LaRoche

Nutley has many reasons to be proud. One important reason is the fact that we have within our boundaries one of the most prestigious companies in the world — Hoffmann-La Roche, Inc.

Last week President Nixon called upon the people of America to take meaningful steps to prevent air and water pollution. Coincidental with Nixon's announcement, there appeared in the papers throughout New Jersey a public interest message from the President and Chief Executive Officer of Hoffmann-La Roche, Dr. V.C. Mattia. In his message, Dr. Mattia pointed out that for many years Hoffmann-La Roche has been deeply aware of its responsibilities to its neighbors and the community it calls home. Dr. Mattia made it very clear that Hoffmann-La Roche continues its complete commitment to prevent air and water pollution. Dr. Mattia properly states, "This is not only a civic duty but an inescapable obligation to our children and our grandchildren."

In its effort to prevent air and water pollution, Hoffmann-La Roche does much more than is required by Government regulations. On the way at the present time is a $4 million program to eliminate pollution from waters discharged by the Roche industrial complex.

Roche is known as the world leader in the manufacture of drugs. Without the sound of trumpets, Roche has established itself as a world leader in the prevention of air and water pollution.

We salute this great neighbor and express the thanks of a grateful community for the many contributions Hoffmann-La Roche has made to the perpetuation of civic activities responsible for continuing Nutley's membership in the family of America's finest communities.

Judge Anthony Giuliano

Last week tragedy struck the home of one of the area's most prominent families. Judge Anthony Giuliano died of a heart attack leaving behind him a 50-year contribution to the welfare of our county and state. Judge Giuliano was a member of a distinguished New Jersey family. Together with his two brothers, the late Joseph and Superior Court Judge James R., Judge Anthony Giuliano made a lifetime commitment to public service. Collectively the three Giuliano brothers have given to our county and state over 135 years of dedicated public service.

Throughout his life, Tony Giuliano achieved the reputation for helping people less fortunate than he. If ever there was a living symbol of Santa Claus, the embodiment of that symbol was found in the life and times of Tony Giuliano.

Here was a man of great compassion whose every thought was of help to people in need. In terms of material things, Tony Giuliano died a poor man — evidence that throughout his long years of activity in public office, no price was placed upon his vote. His friends knew Tony as a good man of great humility and personal integrity.

Tony Giuliano has died, but the living monuments to his memory can be found in the hearts of the thousands he helped as he walked through life humbly doing God's work.

On Abraham Lincoln

On February 12, a hundred and fifty-nine years ago, a man who was to vitally affect the destiny of this nation was born in Hardin County, Kentucky. His life is a story symbolic of the United States, where humble men often rise to fame and fortune.

From a log cabin, preserved today, Abraham Lincoln grew up with his father in various places in Kentucky, Indiana and, finally, Illinois. His first business venture was a failure, and he carried the debt of a defunct general store with him until he was elected to Congress years later. Likewise, he met tragic grief in his first love. His sweetheart, whom he is said to have loved deeply, died shortly after their engagement. She was Ann Rutledge, of the Southern family of Rutledges. Lincoln is said to have been almost shattered by this blow.

At New Salem, Illinois, he was defeated in his first bid for public office, candidacy for the Legislature.

By the time he was twenty-nine years old, he had received the Whig vote for speaker of the Illinois Assembly and had been a member of the Legislature since twenty-five. He retired from Congress to practice law at the age of 40, but the controversy over slavery was to eventually bring him back into the public eye.

When he was defeated by Stephen Douglas, in a bid for the Senate in 1858, he thought permanent retirement had overtaken him. He said, "I am glad I made the late race. It gave men a hearing on the great and enduring question of the age, which I could have had in no other way; and though I now sink out of view and shall be forgotten, I believe I have made some marks which will tell for the cause of liberty long after I am gone." Of course, his speeches in the 1858 debates brought him the Presidential nomination in 1860 and his conduct and perseverance throughout the war years as President is a well-known story.

Town Bulletin Board

The Times-News publishes the Town Bulletin Board as a public service, not only to assist individuals in planning social calendars, but as an effort toward eliminating conflicting dates among local organizations. Club secretaries and program chairmen wishing to clear a date for a future activity may call the Times-News at 759-3200.

There is no charge for the Bulletin Board listing, but events should be limited to those of general interest. Be sure to mention date, time and place for each event being listed.

Listings for the Town Bulletin Board must be submitted to The Times-News two weeks in advance of publication.

Residents Comment On Teacher Strikes

By John Bunevich

Question: Do you think it's fair for teachers to strike if they believe it's necessary to demonstrate demands for higher wages or increased benefits?

Asked: of Nutley and Belleville residents.

Mrs. Dorothy Silvestri, 264 Rutgers Place, Nutley.

I think teachers definitely have a right to go on strike if they are getting underpaid. People have to realize that teachers too have families to support. Being a teacher is a difficult job I should know, my husband is a teacher, and I think he merits a high wage. If teachers didn't have the right to strike they would be at the mercy of their superiors and would have no bargaining power. People should be fair in their evaluation of teachers.

Mrs. Silvestri

Mrs. Inez Masucci, 255 Hornblower Avenue, Belleville

In my opinion, teachers should have the right to strike to dramatize their demands. I think teachers should be dedicated, and a majority of them are, but that doesn't mean they should be underpaid. I feel that if my husband was a teacher and he was demanding more money he should have the right to strike. He has a family and has to support it. I don't think if teachers go on strike as a means of demonstration that it means they aren't dedicated to their profession.

Mrs. Betty Brogan of Nutley

I think they should have the right to go on strike if they feel they aren't receiving enough of money. After all, these days you see all types of professional people going on strike and wages and contracts going up, so why shouldn't the teacher get a share of the higher salaries. Everyone else is doing it. Teachers should be dedicated to their profession but I don't think going on strike would interfere with the way they conduct themselves in class.

Mrs. Brogan

Mrs. Pauline Bauer, 143 Academy Street, Belleville

I feel that teachers should have the right to go on strike if the grievance is legitimate. Teaching is a job not unlike any other job where the head of the house has to bring the money home. I know I wouldn't want to become a teacher and cope with children for so many hours. Teaching is a rough job and the people doing this work should be paid accordingly.

Mrs. Bauer

Seems Only Yesterday

One Year Ago

The Belleville voters rejected the 1969-70 school budget by almost 2 to 1 and elected the two men retiring member Ernest Arvidson backed - Joseph Casale and Leonard Back. The defeated budget was to be put to the voters again and it defeated again would go to the Town Commission.

The Belleville Italian-American Civic Association honored three young Belleville residents for outstanding leadership, scholastic and athletic achievements in high school and college. Receiving awards were Joseph Cervasio a 1965 graduate of Belleville High School, and Miss Suzanne Scaglione and Gerard Figurelli, both 1968 graduates of the high school.

With a cumulative total of 276 years of teaching at James G. Shawger School, seven teachers were honored for their service to the system. The esteemed educators were: Evelyn Potzo, Mrs. May Murray, Mrs. Mary Giallrella, Francis Barbone, Mrs. Pauline Shapiro, Lena Falco and Marge Gernert.

5 Years Ago

Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero and Mrs. Norma McCool were re-elected, and Rocco Saletta was elected to the Board of Education after a vigorous campaign that included ten candidates seeking election.

In response to requests by boys of high school age for a recreation program, the town recreation department decided to open Belleville Junior High School on a trial basis on Saturday afternoon for boys of 16 to 19 years of age to come in and play basketball.

Joseph Cervasio of 711 Belleville Avenue, Nicholas Grande of 113 Union Avenue and Leonard Luong of 175 Beech Street received nominations as alternate candidates for appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point.

10 Years Ago

Nicholas Juliano and Ernest Arvidson captured the two seats on the Belleville Board of Education. The Juliano-Arvidson victory and the simultaneous defeat of incumbent Mary Reilly Coronato shifted the balance of power on the Board away from President Frank DiRuggiero to the side of School Superintendent Evan H. Thomas.

New bus routes for Belleville were proposed by the Washington Avenue Merchants Association. Plans for the lines were pending final negotiations with the Public Service Transport Company and approval of the Public Utilities Commission.

Joseph B. Grosch announced that he had completed the final stages of the organization of the Heart Fund Drive for Belleville. Three vice-chairmen were appointed: Ralph A. Casale of 11 Emmet Street, William Chapman of 2 Belmoor Street and Philip R. Riso of 15 Jefferson Street.

15 Years Ago

A town budget which could have resulted in a $7.00 plus tax rate was introduced. The jump in the rate was attributed to a drop in anticipated revenue, particularly surplus; a $78,264 increase in operating appropriations; increasing sewage costs; and increased contributions to the public employees retirement system.

Sixteen booths were being prepared by Belleville's Boy Scout and Explorer units for the annual Cavalcade of Scouting to be held in the high school gym. The Cavalcade would cap a week's activity of Scouting in celebration of Boy Scout Week.

Reverend Vadakkan V. Alexander of Malabar, India, was scheduled to deliver a sermon entitled "Christian Witness in Asia Today" at the annual Missionary Day Service at Fewsmith Memorial Church.

25 Years Ago

Local fuel dealers predicted that there would be just six more weeks of wrestling with the heating problem. Although it was not known what percentage of their normal supply government regulations would allow, the 82½ per cent they were eeking out was expected to be aided by the advent of Spring.

The five branches of service under the production committee of the Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, during 1944, contributed 26,416 hours which could be translated into three years of 24-hour a day volunteer service. This estimate excluded the hospital work division of the Junior Red Cross which also contributed many hours of its own.

40 Years Ago

At the regular meeting of the Adjustment Board, the application of Northern Oil Company of New Jersey for a permit to erect a gasoline filling station on the corner of Union Avenue and Joralemon Street was denied on the grounds that it would be within 200 feet of Public School Number 3.

Speak Up

Told To Ignore Child's Assault

To The Editor,

On Tuesday, January 27, my daughter, who is 12 years old and attends Mount Saint Dominic Academy, was entering the No. 96 Trackless Transit Bus in Bloomfield Center, to ride home to Mill Street, in Belleville.

As she was going up the step into the bus, two boys were going out of the bus. One boy hit her sharply on the top of her head with a pair of drum sticks, and the other called her vulgar names, and they both proceeded to walk away laughing. My daughter asked the bus driver what he was going to do about this incident, and he said he didn't want to get involved. But she suffered with a headache all night.

On Wednesday, I called the supervisor of Trackless Transit Bus Lines in East Orange, and he said this is a common, everyday occurrence, and his drivers will not get involved, because when they have in the past, they have been subjected to intimidation and beatings.

I would like to know what protection people, and in particular, children have against this type of treatment. Is everyone so afraid of involvement, that they turn their heads? Are they so afraid of intimidation by these militant groups, that they become indifferent to the safety of the majority?

Is it not a basic tactic to slap a child's hand or scold him when he does something wrong?, and even punish him when he does something wrong?, because if you do not, he will not only persist, but become a bigger bully, with little or no respect for authority, especially when he knows no one is going to reprimand him!

I shudder to think what would have happened if my daughter was getting off the bus at the same time these boys were, and left at their mercy, because the authorities, and people in a good position to put a stop to this situation at the source, are afraid.

I am angry that this should be allowed to happen, I am sorry that people are so lacking empathy that they turn their heads when they see this happen, and the fact that I am told that nothing could be done about this everyday-existing occurrence, makes me afraid.

Yours sincerely,
Theresa Marie Stefanelli (Mrs.)

Welfare Dept. Gets Praise

To The Editor,

I am one of the many poor that live here in Belleville.

I wish to express my thanks not by just saying "thanks," but by telling all people what a great job some of Belleville's workers do. How much they do for few people realize.

I want to thank Mrs. O'Toole of the Welfare Board in town; Joe Marino of the Board of Health and last but not least, Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo.

Sincere thanks,
Mrs. J. Bryan

Astronomy Course Starts Tuesday at Union College

A four-session introductory course in astronomy will be offered at the William Miller Sperry Observatory at Union College beginning next Tuesday, for the North Jersey section of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

By MAX BECK

It appears as if the TV industry, presently, is the target for investigation by Government agencies. First it was the X-ray matter, which was blown up all out of proportion. Even the different agencies of the Government could not agree whether there was something to it or not. After making headlines for a while, the matter was put to rest. Our men who work on these sets under the worst conditions, with safety shields removed, after doing this work for over 20 years, are still hale and healthy. It is agreed that not one case is known that anybody was hurt by X-rays from TV sets.

Now it is the scare of a fire hazard. As we pointed out in an earlier column, everything connected to an electric outlet, an alarm clock, lamp, or radio, just to mention a few of the innumerable electrical gadgets and apparatus, is a potential fire hazard. The number of actual fires attributable directly to TV sets is insignificant, considering the many millions of TV sets in use.

There are a relatively small number of color TV sets, mainly produced in the years 1964 and 1965, which are considered a "hazard", due to the insulating materials on a certain type of high voltage transformer. This does not mean that everyone of these parts will cause trouble, far from it. Only if such a part should fail and if it should heat up and if the insulating wax should melt and if the transformer heats up to such an extent that the wax might be ignited, then there might be trouble, not necessarily a fire, since many sets have safety fuses which would blow. As you see, there are many ifs in the picture.

No doubt the publicity scared many people, needlessly. We have decided to check every set of these model years. We know the model numbers, and if a set has the part which possibly MIGHT give trouble, we are going to replace it, free of charge to you. The manufacturers are going to re-imburse us. Beck's customers have nothing to worry about, we will take care of you.

Narcotics Possession Goes To Grand Jury

Judge Edward Abromson, presiding over Belleville Criminal Court February 5, referred charges of possession of a narcotic drug and hypodermic needle against a young Kearny man to the Essex County Grand Jury.

Gerard L. Iovino of 111 Hoyt Street, Kearny, also had a charge of having narcotics in his auto referred to the Grand Jury for indictment. Similar charges against another young man were dismissed.

Belleville Detective Thomas Olivieri testified at the hearing that he, along with three other officers, responded to a routine call of trespassers in a burned out building at the corner of Schuyler and Cortlandt Streets on January 21.

Upon arriving, the detective testified, he saw an auto parked nearby. Investigation of the vehicle revealed seven packs of narcotics hidden under the seat of the car and a hypodermic needle in a pack of cigarettes.

Iovino was seated in the auto with William T. Lubertazzi of 30 Passaic Avenue, Nutley, Olivieri said.

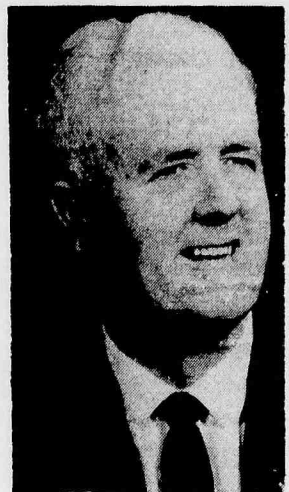

Iovino admitted that the narcotics were his and said Lubertazzi knew nothing of the illegal drugs.

Represented at the hearing by former Nutley town attorney Robert Citrino, charges against Lubertazzi, were dismissed by Judge Abromson.

Three Men Arrested On Lottery Charges

Two Newark men and a Belleville man were arrested February 5 by the Newark Gambling Squad and charged with possession of an undetermined amount of lottery slips.

Carlos Gojas, 37 of 320 Franklin Avenue, Belleville, James Kimble, 52 of 43 Seventh Street and Oralle Campbell, 56 of 323 South Orange Avenue, both of Newark, were released on $1,000 bail each.

Police said Kimble was arrested at the corner of E. Kinney and Market Streets, while Campbell and Gojas were apprehended at the corner of Camp and Broad Streets. The men at both locations, Police said, were allegedly awaiting the delivery of lottery slips by unidentified persons.

Pay Changes On Interest For Howard

In a move believed to be the most liberal in the metropolitan area, The Howard Savings Institution of Newark has changed its method of interest computation and adopted a uniform 5 per cent dividend rate on all passbook savings accounts. The announcement was made by John W. Kress, bank president following a special meeting of the board of members on Monday.

As part of this new approach The Howard will compound interest daily on a day of deposit to day of withdrawal basis. Interest will also be credited 12 times a year, payable on and after the first business day of each calendar month.

BASKETBALL

Costantino Assaults Record

by Nat Gottlieb

A capacity crowd is expected tomorrow night in the Belleville gymnasium when senior Vinnie Costantino makes a dramatic stab at becoming the first 1,000 point career scorer in Bellboy history in the season finale with Montclair.

The deadeye cage captain has 958 career points, and ironically enough, no one seems to know if he's Belleville's all-time scorer or not.

Sports reporter Marc Feldman, who has covered the star throughout most of his career, has met a deadend in his search for scoring records.

Coach Herman Jitty Wische, who has been connected with Belleville athletics for many years, says no one really knows for sure, but did indicate that no Bellboy has ever reached 1,000 points.

Thus, Vinnie may be to hit the magic number tomorrow night if he is to lay claim to the title of Belleville's all-time high scorer.

Vinnie, who has been averaging over 20 points a game, will lead his 4-14 squad into the season finale, hoping to climb over Montclair into seventh place and avenge an earlier loss at Montclair, 52-44.

On Tuesday Vinnie pumped in 24 points in a losing cause as the Orange Tornadoes upped their season record to 12-5 with an 88-60 victory at Belleville.

Joining Vinnie in playing a last game in a Bellboy uniform are seniors Joe DelConzo, Rich Motacki, Al Casaletto, Ron Schulz, John Paucullo and Sam Rossamilla.

Graduation will leave the Bellboys minus 7-12 players and one coach.

Wische, one of the most respected coaches in county history, will carry through on his promise to guide the Bellboys for one season only. The athletic director took the job when the last minute retirement of Paul Szem left the squad without a qualified coach.

Tuesday, Belleville stayed close in the first half, but lack of rebounding power enabled Orange to pull away safely in the third and fourth periods. Eric Gray led the tornadoes with 24 points and 23 rebounds.

	1	2	3	4	Total
Orange	25	20	19	24	88
Belleville	13	21	12	14	60

Jimmy Caraway also hit 24 points for the victors, while DelConzo nailed 10 rebounds and 13 points. The half-time score was 45-34.

What do you really know about Thomas A. Edison?

- 1 He was born in:
☐ Menlo Park, N.J.
☐ Milan, Ohio
☐ Columbus, Ohio

- 2 The date of his birth is:
☐ February 9, 1847
☐ February 11, 1847
☐ February 15, 1847

- 3 In his lifetime, he is credited with more than:
☐ 500 patented inventions
☐ 750 patented inventions
☐ 1200 patented inventions

- 4 Of all his inventions, his favorite was the ☐ phonograph
☐ electric light
☐ motion picture camera

- 5 It is true that he invented which of the following:
☐ incandescent bulb
☐ vote recorder
☐ carbon telephone transmitter
☐ alkaline storage battery
☐ first electric generating station
☐ wax paper
☐ motion picture camera
☐ first electric railway
☐ duplex, quadruplex, sextuplex and multiplex telegraph systems
☐ fluoroscope
☐ business dictation machine

Yes, Thomas Edison, born February 11, 1847, in Milan, Ohio, was responsible for all of the inventions at the left. Of his more than 1200 patented inventions, the phonograph was his favorite. (You are to be congratulated if you answered all the questions correctly.)

Edison's range of inventive genius was extraordinary. Modern living would be hard to conceive without our having light at the flick of a switch or electricity to operate our machinery and turn on familiar electric appliances. What better reason, then, to dedicate the week of Edison's birth February 8-14 as National Electric Week, during which we pay tribute to Edison. Because of his accomplishments we can Live Better Electrically!

WRESTLING

Grapplers Challenge Irvington

The Bellboy grapplers travel to Irvington tomorrow night with several wrestlers hoping to gain momentum for the District tournament.

After Irvington, the squad closes out its season Friday, February 20 in a home match with Lynhurst.

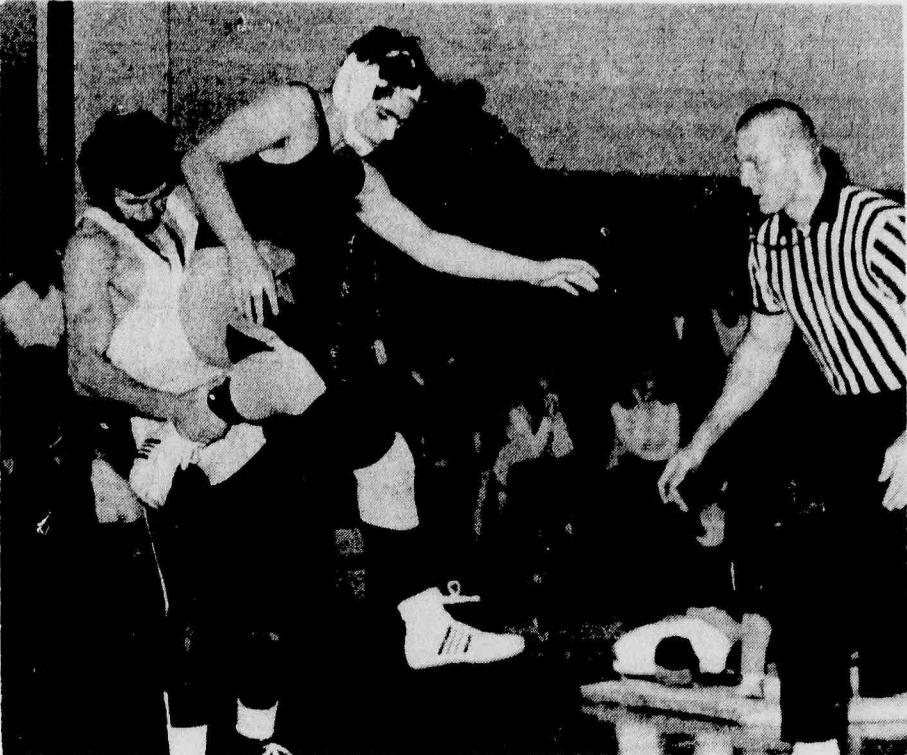

Prime district tournament prospects include Jessie Towns, who is 9-0 (the Times went to press prior to Wednesday's meet with Caldwell) and sophomore sensation John "Boff" Mustachio.

Towns, senior captain and last year's district champion at 130 pounds, has pinned six opponents this year in the 136 pound class.

Mustacchio, who heads a list of promising young grapplers for Coach Jim Silvestri, is a 8-2 and had won six in a row as of yesterday's match.

Coach Silvestri says Irvington shouldn't pose too much problem for his squad, but adds cautiously, "We can't take anybody lightly because we haven't won so many ourselves."

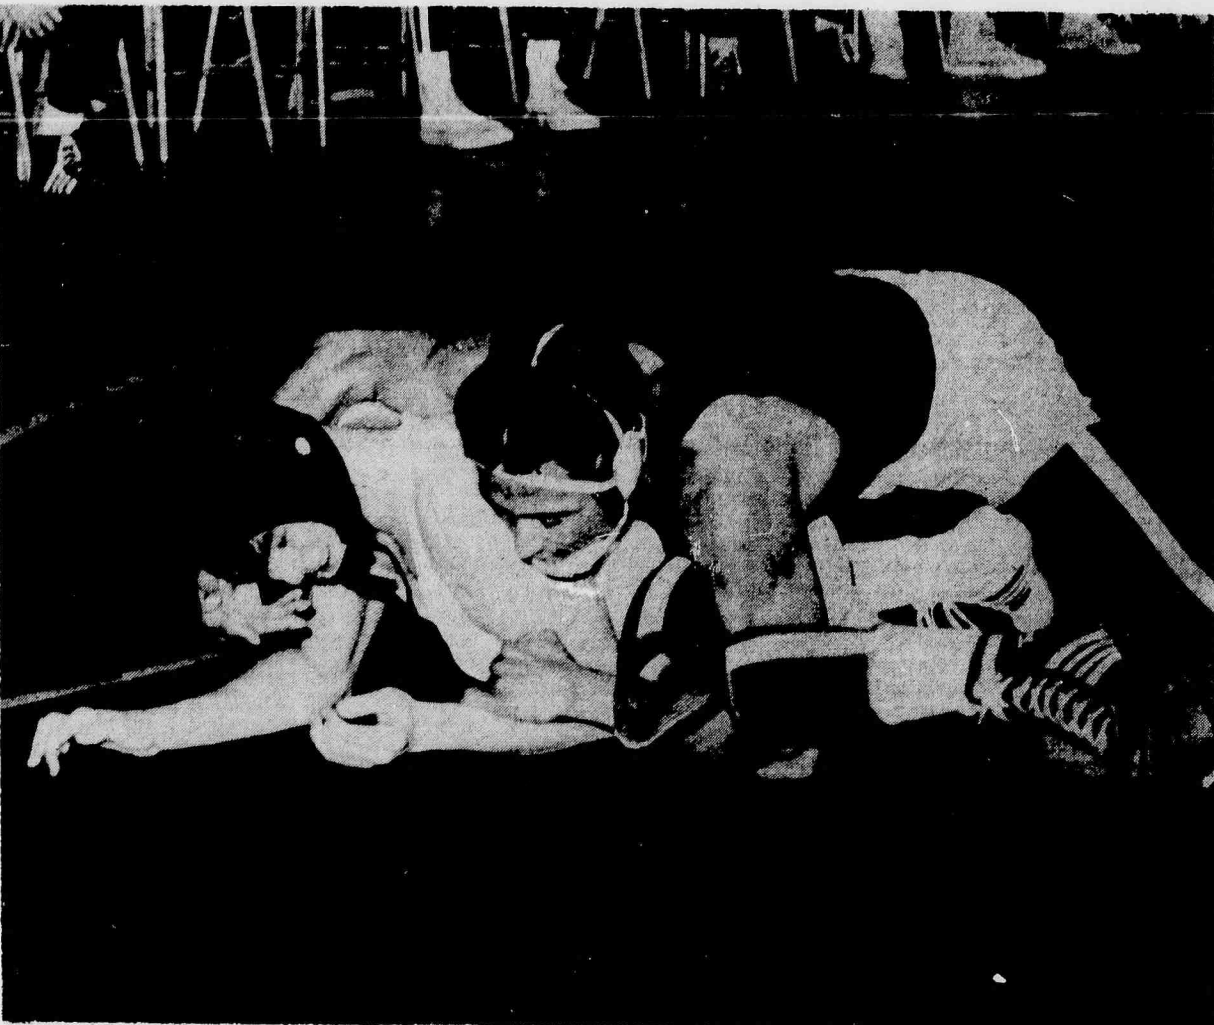

The popular five year coach is quick to add that in only one meet was his team not in close until the final buzzer, that being against Montclair early in January.

NEED A LIFT? — For the first time this season, Belleville's 130 pounder Vito Marcogliese has trouble trying to escape from an opponent while airborne. Vito lost to Nutley's Chris Kirk, 4-3.

The Bellboys haven't fared too well against Big Ten teams this season, showing a solo conference victory over West Orange and losses to Bloomfield, Montclair, Columbia and Kearny.

Team spirit, a problem a couple weeks ago, is vastly improved thanks to Silvestri's innovative idea of installing optional practice sessions.

A CHAMPION — Last year's District Champion, Jessie Towns victory, Towns' ninth straight win this season without a loss. Towns' ninth straight win this season without a loss. Towns' ninth straight win this season without a loss.

Week's Wrap-up

Rival Nutley Tops Bellboys 25-15

By John McCarthy

Belleville High School was handed its sixth defeat of the season by Nutley High last Friday night in the Bellboy's gym, 25-15. The Bellboys are 4-6.

Team captain Jessie Towns picked up his ninth win of the season, beating Lou Rossi of Nutley 9-1 in the 136 pound bout. Rossi scored his only point when Jessie was penalized for using a full nelson, his first penalty of the season.

Sophomore John "Boff" Mustacchio scored his sixth win in a row, a decision over John De Kenipp of Nutley. The 7-6 decision made Boff's record 8-2.

Belleville lost the first match to Nutley in the 98lb. class. Senior Kevin Sutton was shutout by Nutley's Joel Feitler of Nutley, 6-0. Feitler has only lost one match so far this season.

Angelo Zoppi tied up the team score 3-3 with a 7-0 shutout over Nutley's Carmen Gabriel. Zoppi scored on a takedown, two predicaments, and an escape and accumulated 2-41 riding time.

When Boff Mustacchio wrestled John DeKenipp at 115, it looked like Mustacchio might have been beaten up until the end of the second period. DeKenipp scored three times on takedowns, and Boff escaped each time but DeKenipp was scoring two points each time to Boff's one. In the end of the second period Boff escaped for the fourth time and got his first takedown, making the score 6-6. Boff rode DeKenipp out for the third period and was awarded a point riding time to win, 7-6.

Mike Egidio's pin in the 123 bout gave Nutley an 8-6 lead, their second of the day. Nutley's John Ganter pinned the Belleville sophomore in the third period with only 11 seconds left.

Vito Marcogliese lost his closest match of the season. The Belleville junior was beaten 4-3 by Nutley's Chris Kirk. This win gave Nutley an 11-6 lead.

As usual, the BHS captain Jessie Towns won in the 136 bout. Jessie's 9-1 romp over Nutley's Lou Rossi was his ninth in a row.

At 141, Belleville's John Salvato lost his fourth match of the season. The loss made Salvato's record 4-1. He was beaten by Nutley's Gary Torres, 6-5. At the end of the third period though, it looked like Salvato should have been given two points for a takedown, but the ref's decision was that Salvato didn't have full control over Torres.

Ricky Caruso's problems on the wrestling mat continue as the football star lost his fifth match in a row to another griddier, Steve Restaino of Nutley, 7-1.

Frank Savastano's problems also continued as he lost his seventh of eight varsity matches. Savastano was pinned by Nutley's Gerry DeFranco in the second period with only 48 seconds left.

Carmen Russomano, nicknamed the "Beast" by his fellow grapplers showed Nutley's Ted Potter how he got the nickname. Carmen scored the takedown in the first period, rode him out for the second and reversed him in the third. The Beast scored three more on a near fall and his eighth point on a stalling penalty against Potter. The final score, the Beast eight, the beaten 0.

Sal Bivona's problem with endurance continued as he was shut out by Nutley's Pete Hady, 6-0. Sal was penalized one point in the third period for stalling and was beaten on riding time, Hady 4:23, Bivona 0:04.

The highest scoring match was the heavyweight bout. John Atherton and Jack De Barbaris exchanged control four times in the first period before Atherton gained the final control of that period. The exchange continued throughout the match and ran the final score up to a 13-7 victory for Atherton.

The Belleville JV team also lost to Nutley, 37-11. Winning for Belleville on pins was Joe Valvano in the heavyweight bout. Winning of the Bellboy JV's on decisions were Rich Sulenski (115) 5-2, and Mot Senoj (178) 4-0.

Wins Posted By Rec Cagers In 2nd Round

In the second round of action in Recreation Senior Basketball at the Friendly House the Knickerbockers and the Bullets each posted their second wins.

It was tough battle all the way for the Bullets although they led through the first three quarters. They enjoyed a 10-4 lead at the end of the first stanza only to see that lead diminish in the second as Kent Robinson got hot and put in ten points for the Nets cutting the Bullets lead to 15-14.

Dollars and sense lay the foundations for big fortunes.

By John McCarthy

When Jessie Towns moved from North Carolina to Belleville, he was only 13 years old. Since then he has become one of the best wrestlers ever at Belleville High.

He has been wrestling in a varsity spot for three straight years and has never had a losing season. A senior, he is undefeated (9-0), after having a 7-4 season his sophomore year, and a 9-2 record last year when he became 130 pound District Champ.

The BHS wrestling captain has won six matches this season on pins, and the other three on decisions. In all of his decisions, Jessie's opponents have only scored one point. The scores have been, 6-1, 7-1, and 9-1.

When asked if he thinks he will take the District Champ title this year at 136 lbs, Jessie replied in his usual quiet manner: "I don't know yet, I'll find out when I meet the guys (at the tourney)."

"Last year in the districts Jessie shut out his final opponent Robert Smith of Bloomfield 6-0, but that's not the match of '69 that he remembers most. A match with Bob Bowers of Union during the preliminary round of the regionals stands out most.

Jessie had scored a takedown and rode Bowers for the rest of the first period. Bowers then rode Jessie in the second period, and Belleville's junior started the third period on top. Jessie was winning up till this point, but Bowers reversed to tie the score 2-2 and won on a riding time point.

Although wrestling is Jessie's only sport in school, he also plays basketball in the Rec Dept's Wednesday night league after wrestling practice. Jessie's team, the "Trotters", named after the famous Harlem Globetrotters, includes some real good basketball players, "Charles and Anthony Carr, Kent Robinson, Marvin Thomas, Byron Davis.

Jessie would like to go to college, but isn't sure if his C-average will get him in. His favorite classes are math, autoshop, and of course gym. The senior says, "I'll go if I get a scholarship, but history and English could hold me back". If he doesn't go to college Jessie would like to enter the Air Force after hearing about it from some of his friends who have joined.

The wrestling captain said he thinks this year's team needs a little more confidence, and pointed out four grapplers he thinks will be tough in the districts, Angelo Zoppi, 106, John Mustacchio, 115, Vito Marcogliese, 130, and Carmen Russomano, 168, were all said to "have a good chance to win."

Getting back to himself in the 136 lb. class, Jessie finally gave in to say who his toughest opponent might be. He feels that Charley Reilly of West Side will be a good contender if Reilly goes 136. In his usual non-boastful way, Jessie said quietly, "I think I can beat him."

Nutley Falls To Costantino's 35

By Marc Feldman

Belleville fended off a frantic finish and used a 35 point performance by Vince Costantino to score a 64-61 Big Ten basketball victory over Nutley, last Friday afternoon at the Raider gym. The victory was Belleville's third straight in varsity competition against their arch-rival, and second this season.

Nutley led for most of the game until a reverse layup by Rich Motacki and a Costantino field goal gave the Bellboys a 54-50 lead with 3:50 left. Nutley narrowed the gap to 59-57 and 61-59 but a clutch basket by Al Casaletto and a pair of foul shots by Costantino sealed the verdict.

Vinnie Costantino

The Maroon Raiders were hampered by an inability to convert Belleville's fouls into points. Nutley hit only 7 of their 24 free throw attempts for 29%, as compared to Belleville's 20 of 28, a 71% clip. Included in Belleville's foul shooting was 13 of 14 by Costantino, who is hitting 82% on the season from the line. Costantino missed his first foul shot, but hit his final 13 of the game.

The spark of Costantino's performance was accentuated by Nutley's failure to contain him. He had 11 field goals, attaining a 50% accuracy from the floor, as well as pulling down 13 rebounds. The unsung hero for Belleville's defense was Joe D'Alconzo who despite scoring only 3 points, had a career high of 16 rebounds.

The first four minutes of play resulted in a 10-10 deadlock. Tom Pandolfi was the sparkplug of the Nutley attack, scoring 8 points in the first quarter. At the end of the first period, Nutley led by four points, 18-14.

The second quarter was also a see-saw affair, as neither team could dominate play for an extended period. Three minutes into the quarter, the Raiders were on top by only one, 22-21. Then Nutley scored the next five points, four by Ralph Vicidomini, to take their biggest lead of the game to that point, 27-21. Belleville rallied for 10 points to Nutley's 3 in the next two minutes to regain the lead at 31-30 with 0:49 left in the first half. The Bellboy points in the streak came on 6 for 6 foul shooting by Costantino a driving layup by Rich Caravetta and a field goal by Rocco Marotti. Corky Austin scored for Nutley in the remaining time to send his team to the locker room with a 32-31 advantage.

Nutley regained the spark in the third quarter as their lead fluctuated between 5 and 7, for most of the period. Belleville made their move for victory with about 2 minutes left in the quarter and the score 44-37. Rich Caravetta and Joe D'Alconzo each hit a free throw and Vince Costantino converted a three point play with 0:26 left in the quarter to bring Belleville back within 2, at 44-42.

session, Belleville tied the score on Costantino's bucket from the left corner, but Nutley quickly regained the lead on Vicidomini's layup. After subsequent ties at 46 and 48, Al Casaletto gave Belleville its first lead of the second half, on a pair of free throws. The Raiders managed another tie on Corky Austin's 8 footer, but that was the closest to victory the Maroon came the rest of the way.

Top man for Nutley was speedy guard Ralph Vicidomini with 22 points. Corky Austin was second with 19 points on 9 field goals and a free throw. Belleville had no other player in double figures besides Costantino, as Rocco Marotti was second with 8 points, all in the first half.

The game's outcome broke one long losing streak and extended another. Belleville broke a 23 game losing streak on the road, dating back two years. Belleville's record moved up to 4-13, including a 4-12 mark in conference play. In addition, the Bellboys moved into a tie for seventh place with Montclair, their highest standing in a few years. The loss was Nutley's fourteenth in succession, but proved to be the last defeat in their string as they defeated Columbia the following night, 55-54.

First Place Tie In Senior Rec Ball

In spite of the ice storm last Wednesday the hardy athletes of the Recreation Senior Basketball again locked in battle.

Wins by the Falcons and the Eagles left them tied in the League at 7-1. The Imperials were dropped to second place on an ineligible player decision which put them at 6-2.

Tied up in the next slot were the Panthers, the Knicks and the Trotters all at 5-3. At 4-4 were the Saints, at 3-5 the Pros, the Rec, Boys and the Bullets, at 1-7 the Lakers and at 0-8 the Royals.

The Falcons recovered from their loss to the Eagles and returned to their winning ways as they beat the Bullets 46-31. A fast-breaking offense and a ball stealing defense aided by Tom DiModica's 14 points built the Falcon's victory. Breckenridge with 12 led the Bullet's scoring.

It was a tough battle all the way for the Eagles who edged the Knicks 53-47. Both teams showed a lot of class in this game 14-13 with Nicks ahead at the quarter then reversed at the half with the Eagles in front 31-27. At the third quarter the die was cast as the Eagles led 44-39.

An ineligible player cost the Imperials their game with the Trotters as well as their share of first place.

Holding the Rec. Boys to 2 points in the first quarter the Saints held the lead for the entire game despite a third quarter surge by the Rec. Boys, the Saints won it 44-29.

In wild scoring game the Pros posted their third win taking the Royals 71-55. John Lenehan and Bill Ross each got 22 points for the Pros, while Bill Carpenter led the Royals with 20.

Breaking the game open from the first play the Panthers routed the Lakers 42-28. Gary Trainor showed real style as he poured in 19 points for the Panthers. Frank Fury made a big contribution with 14 points and stand-out performance under the boards.

With only three more games to go the tension continues to mount in this League. Both of the leaders have tough games ahead. The Falcons have to get by the Imperials, the Knicks and the Saints. For the Eagles it will be the Imperials and the Panthers. It does look as though the Championship will be between these two titans but three of the four playoff spots are far from decided.

Assembly of God To Host Big Gospel Singing Rally

A Gospel Singing Rally will be held at the Nutley Assembly of God, 65 Bloomfield Avenue, Nutley, on Monday February 16 at 7:30 p.m. It will be presented by the Heavenly Echoes of Belleville.

Sycamore Drive, Belleville, who is leader and director of the Echoes has also invited the internationally known Couriers of Harrisburg, Pa. The Couriers were at the Assembly last October when 400 people came out to hear them.

Zaccone says they are the most sought-after gospel group in America and are now in their fifteenth year of full-time gospel singing. They travel over 100,000 miles a year bringing God's message through song. Their songs and singing are inspiring and encouraging.

The Heavenly Echoes are going into their fourth year of gospel singing. Most recently they sang on a program at which Pat Boone was the speaker. The members are Jim and John Cernero, who attend Nutley High School, Denise Zaccone who attends Belleville Junior High School Barbara Ruffo of Nutley and Sam Zaccone. Also singing will be the Evangelic Choir of Linden.

Proceeds from this once-a-year appeal to the public by the Lions will go to local charities.

The public is urged to support this affair with their attendance.

Tickets may be purchased almost anywhere in town at one of the following convenient locations, Yudin's Paint Store; Optician; Don's Florist; Boston Store; DeWitt Savings and Loan Association; Don Bowden Real Estate & Insurance; Don Ross State Farm Insurance; Caruso's Tailor Shop; People's Bank (Tri-State Office) on Belmont Ave., and Clara Maass Hospital (ask for Mr. Horak).

Don Ross is chairman of this fund-raising event, and Henry Lewis is president of the Belleville Lions Club.

Belleville Lions Present Bridge Next Wednesday

The Lions Club Annual Card Party will be held at The Fountain Restaurant, 46 Watessing Avenue, Belleville on Wednesday, February 18, at 8:00 P.M.

The highlight of the evening will be a fashion show presented by the Mary Dell Dress Shop of 120 Washington Avenue.

School Two Plans Meeting Tuesday

The Home and School Association of School Two will hold its business meeting February 17, at 8:00 p.m. They will elect a nominating committee to recommend officers for 1970-1971.

A feature of the evening will be a "casserole supper" planned by the executive committee and parents.

Mrs. Cecil Boyce; Born In England

Mrs. Caroline Nicholls Boyce of 24 Stephens Street, Belleville, died January 30 at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. She was 62.

Mrs. Boyce was born in England and came to Belleville from Nutley over 20 years ago.

Predeceased by her husband, Cecil Boyce, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Bergmann of Belleville; a son Donald Ryder of Maplewood; two brothers, William and Edward Nicholls, both of Belleville; a sister Mrs. Jane Skidmore of Belleville, and six grandchildren.

Services were February 2 from the Kiernan Funeral Home, Belleville, with the Rev. Robert Shaver of Belleville Reformed Church officiating. Interment was at Crest Haven Memorial Park, Clifton.

Leo J. McClinchy; Active at St. Peter's

A High Mass of Requiem for Leo J. McClinchy was offered Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Peter's Church, Belleville. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, North Arlington.

Mr. McClinchy, a life-long resident of Belleville, died suddenly of a heart attack on Sunday. He was 61.

Born in Newark, he retired two years ago as a cashier with P. Ballentine & Sons Brewery, Newark. He was a member of the Holy Name Society and the Knights of Columbus, both at St. Peter's Church.

His wife, Mrs. Emily L. Marshall McClinchy, died in 1958. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Ralph (Mary Rose) Estelle and Mrs.

Stanford (Elizabeth Ann) Hoffman, both of Belleville, and four grandchildren. Funeral arrangements were handled by the Kiernan Home, 101 Union Avenue, Belleville.

Does your house look like one of these?

LOOK HOW LITTLE IT COSTS TO KEEP THEM TOASTY WARM WITH

RADIANT ELECTRIC HEAT

All of these houses use Radiant Electric GLASSHEAT panels for heat. They are in good company. Over one half million homes, hospitals and business establishments are now equipped with this super-comfortable, healthful, economical kind of house heating.

Here's why the owners of these houses are so enthusiastic about heating with Radiant Electric Glassheat panels:

- 1. Their houses have never been so comfortable.
No more chilly floors and warm ceilings . . . each room individually controlled with its own thermostat. Flip heat on and off as easily as light switches. Radiant heat floods the room and eliminates "hot spots" and "cold spots". Corners are as warm as the center of the room.
- 2. Their houses have never been more healthful.
Radiant heat doesn't dry out the air you breathe . . . reduces dried out nasal passages and sinuses which cause congestion and difficult breathing. And radiant electric heat is the same heat given off by the sun, its purifying rays reduce germs and viruses in your home.
- 3. Their houses are heated economically.
Check the houses pictured above and see how closely your heating bill comes to the house that resembles yours. With our Electric Radiant panels there's no wastage of heat up the chimney or in rooms you're not using, or in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others. You get the exact heat you want — when you want it — through individual thermostats that control the heat in each room. Then let us show you how much you can save with Electric Radiant Glassheat panels.
- 4. Their houses have all the advantages of modern heating.
All flames, burners, smoke and ash are completely eliminated. So are the heating equipment headaches for there is no noise; no fuel worries; no tank; pump or boiler repairs; no valves to leak or fans to burn out; no chimneys or air filters to clean; no damage from leaking pipes; no sludge; carbonizing, clogging jets, oil lines, or burner nozzles, no maintenance, repair or replacement ever!

Let us demonstrate how good Radiant Electric heat feels in a few minutes in your home. Then we will show you, without obligation of any kind, how much Glassheat panels can increase the comfort of your home and decrease the cost of heat compared with your present heating system. Just phone us or send us the coupon.

DeWitt Hikes Dividends On Savings Accounts

Robert M. Williams, president of DeWitt Savings and Loan Association of Belleville, announced today that the board of directors of the 36-million-dollar association has voted to make major new increases in dividends on savings.

In the top category will be $10,000 minimum two-year limited issue savings certificates which henceforth will draw 6 percent per annum, compounded quarterly, effective March 1. The previous high rate for DeWitt's Savings Certificates was five and one fourth, according to Williams.

One-Year limited issue savings certificates with a minimum of $5000 will bear five and three fourth per cent annum, compounded and paid quarterly, effective March 1. Regular savings passbook accounts will be increased to five per annum, compounded and paid quarterly, effective April 1.

All three plans are subject to withdrawal at any time without notice and are subject to governmental supervisory regulations, Williams stated.

Williams also stated that all deposits are now insured up to $20,000 under the rules and regulations of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Amvets National Commander Robert Gomulinski was the guest of Belleville Post 26 at a dinner January 26 at post headquarters on Newark Avenue. Also attending was past national commander Dominick L. Strada.

Both men recently returned from a tour of the Far East and Vietnam.

Michael V. Marotti, state commander from Belleville, met the national Amvets leaders at Newark Airport and escorted them to the post for a three hour dinner and discussion.

The Amvets' trip was arranged by the Department of Defense to familiarize them with matters of national security and foreign affairs in the Far East.

Highlights of the 22 day trip included military tours of Honolulu and Pearl Harbor and briefings with Admiral John S. McCain, Jr., Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific. There were also staff briefings at the United States Embassy in Tokyo and meetings with United States forces there; a tour of Seoul and briefing at the office of the senior military member, United Nations Armistice Commission and a visit to the Panmunjom Conference site.

In Honolulu, they took a helicopter tour of the entire island of Oahu, with special emphasis on the Pearl Harbor complex where Strada spent many years as a Navy veteran and served during World War II, following the attack on the giant naval base.

After their visits to Korea, Commander Gomulinski and Strada toured Taiwan and met with defense command and Chinese officials, with a briefing at the U.S. Embassy. Their next stop was Hong Kong for briefings at the U.S. Consulate and a tour of the city. Then upon arrival in Saigon, they undertook a tour of the area under the military escort of Major Charles Clark, U.S.A.F., followed by a meeting at the U.S. Embassy and visits to hospitals.

Belleville's Master Craftsman

World's Master Musicians Flock To Rene Morel

way he can set up an instrument to get the best possible sound out of it. He has a special way of adjusting it. Its a rare gift."

Trampers wife, Karen, whom Morel says is also a gifted viola player, tells of a Bella Rosa viola she had which "sounded terrible." She brought it to Morel, and "he made it sound like the most gorgeous Stradivarius. It was incredible. Everywhere I play people ask me about the instrument. Good heavens we'd be lost without him."

Morel's talent is rare. It comes, from years of studying with master craftsmen, and a heritage which dates back to the 1700's.

He was born March 11, 1932 in a small French town - St. Remy-Aux Bois - which is near Nancy in the Northeast part of the country.

At an early age he moved to Mirecourt, a unique town known before World War II as the world capitol of violin construction. Almost every resident, including women is a violin maker.

Morel's own violin ancestry dates back to 1782. His father, who made "instruments which were very good," had to give up the practice because of a World War I incident at Verdun. Morel relates that his father's lungs were severely burned by gas in that battle, and he lay motionless on the battle field, given up for dead. The paralyzed soldier was saved when companions saw tears in his eyes and rushed him to safety. His lungs were permanently damaged, and he was forbidden by his doctor to work on violins because prolonged stays indoors were not good for him. His father is alive today at 76.

Morel began his training in this town at 11 years old. His first teacher was a cousin, Maurice Didier, who was in his 70's and yet directed over 70 violin makers in a shop.

By the time he was 13½, he had made 12 instruments, including a cello and double base, prompting people to label him as "gifted."

His father, however, wanted him to be an engineer. His mother and two uncles applied pressure from the other end, and eventually young Renee quit school at 13½ (after passing all his high school tests) and went to Amedee Dieudonne, the "greatest teacher who ever lived."

After seven years with Dieudonne, he went to a shop in West France where he had his first contact with the great instruments of renowned artists. He was happy with this quality work, but left when they asked him to sign a life contract.

Returning to Dieudonne, he repaired instruments bombed during the War. To support his hobby of flying airplanes, he began building commercial violins.

Flying eventually brought about a crisis in the young artist's life. Starting at 16 with a glider, he became an avid fan of aviation. He was not content, however, to merely fly. With a cousin, he built two airplanes which he flew many times.

Gradually flying began to intrude into his violin making career. The young man decided he wanted to be a pilot, and was prepared to quit flying. It was then that he met his wife (together they flew many times in his plane, although she "hates to go in a jet today.")

Morel was about to sign a five-year army contract as a pilot when pressure fell in on him from all sides. His whole family, with the exception of his father, was against the move. Andree issued an ultimatum which settled the case. If he signed the contract she was through with him. He didn't sign it.

Eventually he was drafted into the regular Army, however, and again the pressure began.

"The Army wanted me to fly for them. It was very hard for me. I loved flying but wanted to please my wife and family. I decided not to sign no matter how much pressure was put on me."

Then in 1954, an American firm in Chicago lured the French craftsmen to Illinois, where he repaired commercial violins. New York City called him a year later, and he went to the shop of Rembart Wurlitzer, one of the most renowned instrument dealers in the world.

Morel stayed with Wurlitzer until 1964, during which time he studies with Simone Sacconi, a leading violin restorer.

"He taught me how to appreciate the great Italian masters," Morel relates. "He taught me the greatest methods of restoration."

In 1964 he opened his own shop with Jacques Francais, a renowned dealer whose ancestors date to the 1700's in violin making and dealing.

Today, Morel is firmly established in the music world. He works only by appointment, with musicians flying from cities all over the globe to bring him instruments.

Oddly enough, Morel, who has spent his entire life surrounded by instruments, doesn't play one.

"I just have never had the time to learn," he says.

He does find time to hunt and play with his children. The craftsman spends sometimes a whole day at his bench, yet says he has no patience for fishing.

In addition to repairing the instruments, he makes most of his tools and treats the wood himself. He uses dental material and the tin for wine bottles and anything else which will help produce the special tones in instruments for which he is famous. He also does his own plumbing and electrical work and makes his own varnish.

Sitting on a stool in front of a large basement picture window, the handsome craftsman denies he is a genius.

"There is no genius, no superman. There are just people who are fortunate to have had great teachers and a gift in the field.

"No one can learn this field by himself. You must know how to use wood and to control your hands. Acoustics are vital. You must develop an ear for sounds so that you can adjust strings for masters who are very demanding."

Morel's oldest son doesn't want to follow in his dad's footsteps.

"He wants to be a baseball player."

Where do you go when you reach the top?

"I would like to make great violins someday. I would like to leave my name behind."

At 38, Morel is extremely young for his trade and is quick to point out that Stradavarius worked until he was 96.

He tells of a time when a famous violinist came to see him for the first time, and, upon meeting him said:

"Are you Rene Morel?"

"Yes."

"Is this true?"

"Yes."

"You're putting me on."

"No I'm not."

"I expected an old man with white hair."

Rene Morel is not an old man with white hair. He is one of the best stringed instrument repairmen in the world and perhaps a future Stradivarius. In any case, he is one of Belleville's finest citizens.

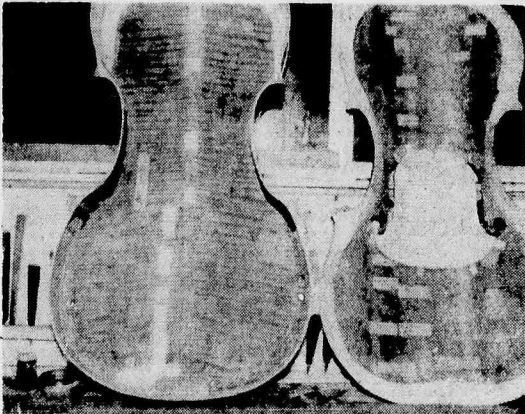

Second President In History Named For Union College

The appointment of Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen as president of Union College was announced January 29 by Hugo B. Meyer, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Dr. Albert E. Meder, Jr., chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee to Select A President.

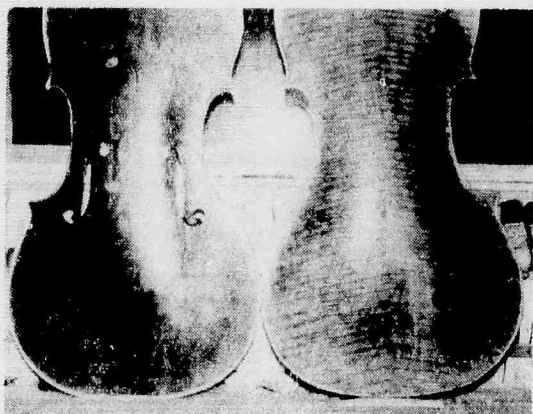

METICULOUS — Rene Morel, world famed stringed instrument repairman, works on the restoration of a rare violin.

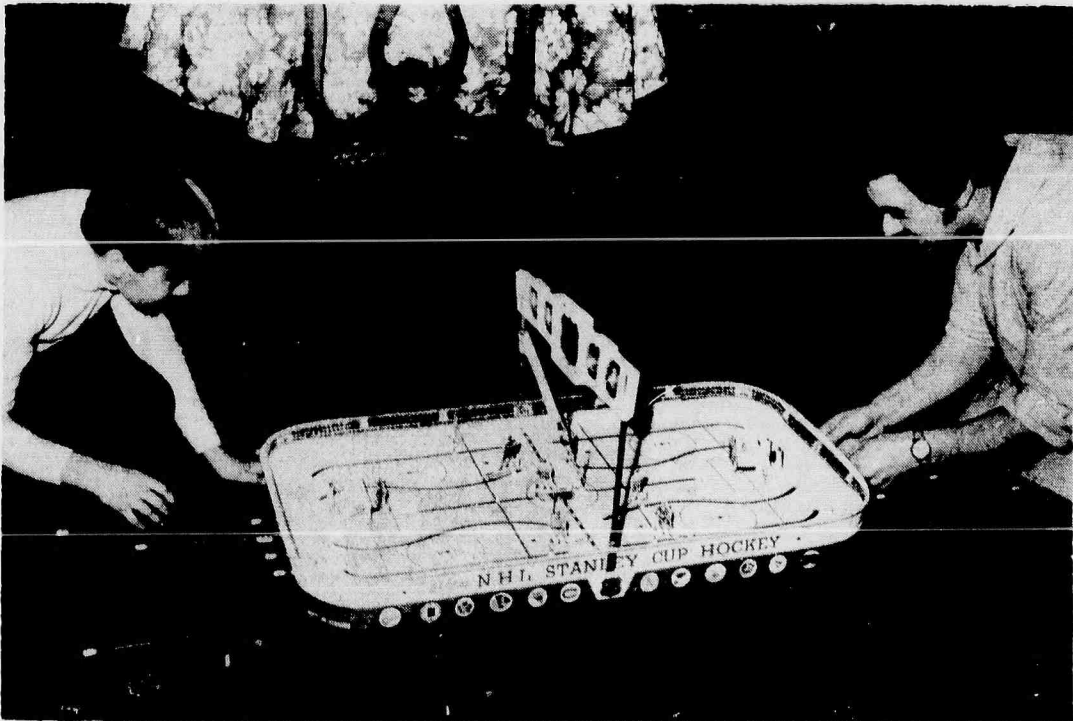

A Restoration

BEFORE — A famous artist brought Morel a Stradivarius cello valued at $60,000. It was badly in need of repair.

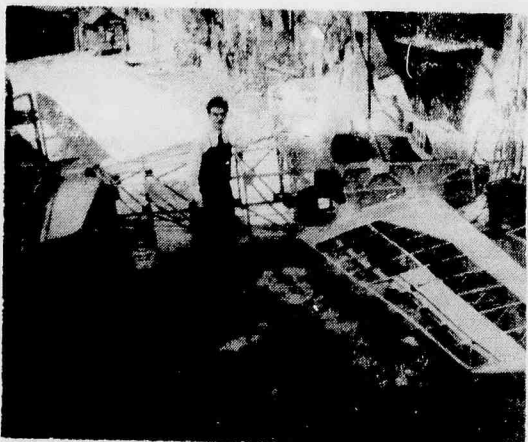

AFTER — Morel spent uncountable hours repairing this cello. The final stage was applying the right tone of varnish.

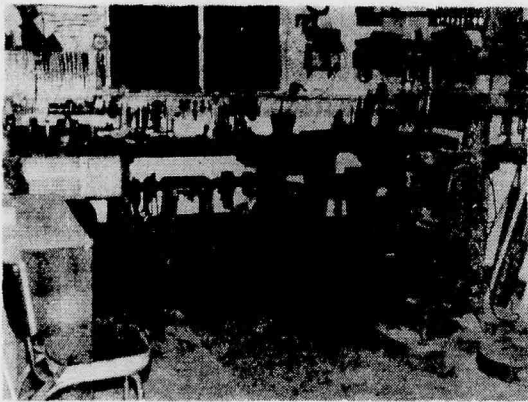

TIME OUT — The busy craftsman takes time out to do friendly battle with his oldest son.

ALMOST AIRBORNE — Morel works on an airplane with his cousin in France. The two collaborated for this and a another plane, which they flew all over France.

PRIDE — Morel, who did the wood work on this plane, says flying almost lured him from his life's work.

WORKSHOP — The master's workshop is a menagerie of fine tools and instruments, many of which were made by Morel.

THE FAMILY — The Morels in front of their Belleville home. Note the appropriate style house number.

The bride was escorted by her uncle, Richard Lillis. She had her sister-in-law, Mrs. Marilyn Lillis as matron of honor. Other attendants were Miss Caryl Newton, Miss Sharon Brett and Miss Gertrude Bagdon.

David Hildenbrand served as best man, Ushers were James Pryal, Eugene McCabe and Paul Addeo, Cynthia Lillis niece of the bride and Drew Lillis, nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring-bearer.

The couple will make their home in North Arlington after a wedding trip to Ireland.

Dance Planned By Local CYO

For the past 21 years, the Snowball Dance and accompanying Queen Contest has been the highlight of Essex County CYO's social calendar.

The dance will take on a special glimmer this winter. The CYO Teen Council has decided to break from tradition. For the first time since its inception the dance will not be held at Seton Hall University's auditorium - the scene will shift to the Mayfair Farms on Eagle Rock Avenue, West Orange.

Saturday night, March 14 has been selected as the date for the affair, which will be transformed into a dinner-dance this time, according to Teen Council president Ralph Orlando and Rev. Peter Cuttito, moderator.

Tickets, priced at $15.00 per couple, will include a 7 p.m. dinner and dancing to a rock band. Bands will be auditioning later this month in West Orange, and interested musicians are invited to contact the County CYO Office at 746-6867 for details.

The method of selecting a Snow Queen will also be altered. Unlike years past, the queen will be selected on the basis of the number of young people at the dance representing her parish.

Any young lady who is a sophomore, junior or senior in high school, and an active CYO member is eligible to enter. Deadline for candidacy filing is Friday, February 20. Dress for the dance will be formal or semi-formal.

Tickets may be secured from the County CYO office, 425 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair, any weekday between 10 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Temple Menorah Plans Brotherhood Program

The Temple Menorah Brotherhood, Temple Menorah, Bloomfield, will observe Brotherhood Week this year at its monthly breakfast meeting on Sunday, February 15, in the Malick-Shuster Hall, at 10 a.m.

Dr. Samuel S. Haas, Bloomfield, will be the guest speaker, and his topic will be "The Man of Any Year." A discussion, question and answer period will follow.

Dr. Haas, a professor at Bloomfield College, received his A.B. degree at Columbia University; his Th. B. degree at Princeton Seminary, and his Ph. D. degree in the Department of Oriental Languages and Literature, Graduate School, Princeton University. He has also served as pastor at the Totowa Presbyterian Church, Paterson. He was professor of Hebrew and Old Testament Studies at Bloomfield College and Seminary, and currently is professor of Latin and Old Testament Studies at Bloomfield College.

In 1954, for a period of seven weeks, he visited the State of Israel as a member of the Biblical Workshop, sponsored jointly by the National Association of Professors of Hebrew and New York University.

Samuel S. Goldsticker, Bloomfield, president of Temple Menorah Brotherhood will conduct a short business meeting prior to the program.

Miss Joyce Reinhart Woman Of The Month

"Firemen's Post No. 1851-Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S. Ladies Auxiliary have named Miss Joyce Reinhart of 1003 South Orange Avenue, Newark, as "The Woman of The Month" for January.

Miss Reinhart, born in Newark, attended St. Antoninus grade school, Hillside High School, Drake College, Elizabeth and Rutgers University, Newark. She is a member of the parish of Sacred Heart Vailsburg, Newark and has been employed for more than 12 years as secretary to Newark Fire Department Fire Chief Joseph Redden.

When not doing things to help others, Miss Reinhart's hobbies are reading, ceramics and needlepoint.

Old Plant Disease Will Attack Weeds

Here's real garden news -- a plant disease that attacks a weed.

But the disease needs some kind of harness to make it a real boon to the home gardener, according to Mr. William F. Munk, senior county agent of Essex County. The disease is "dollar spot" and it sometimes attacks golf greens and home lawns. It gets its name from the fact that it starts as a spot about the size of a silver dollar, and when conditions are right, the spots merge into a larger area of dead grass.

Dr. Douglass Bain of the Mississippi Experiment Station discovered that dollar spot can really knock out a rather new weed pest, nutgrass. This member of the sedge family grows fast, has a broad, tough leaf and forms by means of nut-like objects that form at the base of the plant.

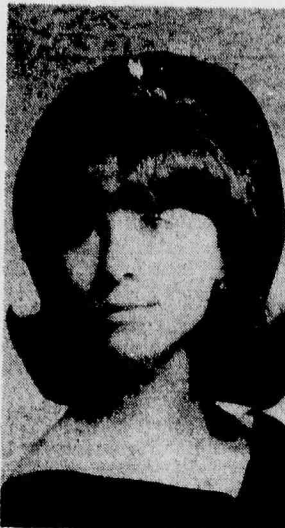

And now comes the real problem for plant pathologists. Before the discovery can be made practical, some way must be found to inoculate the nutgrass in the lawn, and not let the dollar spot fungus spread to the grass. This is a "good question, and perhaps there will never be a good answer."

Death is one thing that convinces some people that the world can get along without them.

Noted Poet To Lend Hand In Creative Writing Class

Noted New Jersey poet, John Ciardi, has agreed to play a part in a new creative writing program sponsored by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, announces Byron R. Kelley, council director.

Janice Ellen Ziel Selected Homemaker

Janice Ellen Ziel has been named Belleville high school's 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. Selected on the basis of her score in a Dec. 2 homemaker examination for which a record 646,041 senior girls in 15,040 of the nation's high schools were enrolled, she is now eligible for state and national honors. She will also receive a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the annual educational program.

Test papers of all school winners in the state are currently undergoing additional judging, and a State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named in March. She will be awarded a $1,500 college scholarship; the second-ranking girl in the state receives a $500 educational grant. Additionally, first-place winners from the 51 states and the District of Columbia - together with advisors from their schools - will receive an expense-paid educational tour of Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va., this spring. Climax of the tour will be naming of the 1970 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, whose scholarship will be increased to $5,000. Three runners-up will also be selected and will be awarded $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships. National judging will center on personal observation and interviews during the tour.

Begun by General Mills in the 1954-55 school year, the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow is designed to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. During its 16-year history, more than seven million young women have been enrolled in the program and scholarship grants total approximately $134 million.

The test which forms the basis for selection of winners is prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Chicago. Schools of state winners are awarded sets of Encyclopedia Britannica by Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc.

PTA at School Mails Clothes to Orphanage

In the true spirit of Christmas giving, the parents of School Number One answered a request by Mrs. Arthur Whitman, president of the school PTA and the executive committee for baby clothes, diapers, linens, blankets, instant milk and baby bottles to be sent to help the destitute children in an orphanage at Vin Sohn, Vietnam.

On December 5, the packages were mailed. The PTA hopes that in this small way they have helped to make tomorrow and the world a little brighter for these poor unfortunate orphans.

Thanks to all who contributed their time and those who sent in the articles mentioned above to make it a real Christmas.

School Announces Full Membership

The PTA of School No. 8 wishes to thank the parents and teachers for the 100 per cent membership enrollment for the 1969-1970 school year. This has been our second successful year. Mrs. M. Pica, president, School No. 8 PTA, would like to thank Mrs. P. Gilbert (membership chairman) and the Membership Committee for their fine work.

The less work some laborers perform the more pay they expect.

A VALENTINE'S WISH FROM US TO YOU

While traditionally Valentine's Day is a time for husbands and wives, sweethearts and friends, it is also appropriate for us to express our good wishes to those people, who choose us to be their pharmacy. For we consider ourselves to be a part of your family.

It delights us when the products we dispense help relieve your illnesses and stop pain. When you tell us a member of the family is better or recovering nicely, we take it as a personal compliment. Our Valentine wish to our friends is for continued good health and along with it is our pledge to always help in any way that we are able.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

Tri-Town BPW Holds Meeting

Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley held its monthly dinner meeting at Park Methodist Church, Bloomfield, January 22 with 55 members and guests attending.

The program "Drug Abuse Prevention", in the form of a seminar, was conducted by Ralph Colonna of Bloomfield, psychologist with the Essex County Narcotics Commission.

The following committee meetings were announced: civic participation, January 27, 8 p.m., home of chairman Eleanor Storer, 247 Whitford Avenue, Nutley; finance, January 29, 8 p.m., home of chairman Helen Hunt, 146 Hawthorne Avenue, Glen Ridge; card party, February 10, 8 p.m., home of co-chairman Miss Lucy Zarilli, 75 Pine Street, Montclair.

Secretaries Group Hears FBI Agent

Thomas W. Kitchens of the Federal Bureau of Investigation addressed The Berkeley School Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association at a 7:30 p.m. meeting February 11 at the school, 22 Prospect Street, East Orange.

Mr. Kitchens entered F.B.I. service as a special agent in 1950 and was assigned to the Omaha field office. In 1951 he was transferred to Washington, D.C., and in 1957 he was named to the Domestic Intelligence Division in a supervisory capacity. He became assistant special agent in charge of the Knoxville office in 1967 and now holds the same position in the Newark office.

The Future Secretaries Association is operated under the auspices of the National Secretaries Association, which sends a representative to each meeting.

Area residents among new members of the Future Secretaries Association are: the Misses Kathy Massa of 38 Dawson St., and Sandra Zvolensky, 50 Plenge Dr., both Belleville.

We know of very few instances where friendship suffered through the use of complimentary language.

Pharmacy Footnotes

An important source of drugs is animal tissue. Although ancient prescriptions mention such exotic items as "the flesh of a viper," "asses hoofs," and the like, effective use of material derived from the glands and organs of animals has been a development of only the past 50 years. Animal tissues are literally crammed with hormones and other chemical compounds. This was first realized in 1905 when thyroxin, the active principle of the thyroid gland, was extracted and used successfully as a metabolic stimulant. Since then there has been constant research in this area, with several outstanding results.

There is constant research and development of new drugs and ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956 keeps their stock up to date. Free Delivery... Complete prescriptions department open daily from 9AM-10PM, Sundays from 9AM-9PM. Baby Needs... "Your Doctor Knows Us—Your Doctor Trusts Us".

Tips On Tableware By Extension Service

The metal of which tableware is made need not be considered in the light of company best versus everyday. Sterling grows more beautiful with use and some stainless is handsome enough to use with any table setting. In each category, there is a range of prices determined by quality of metal, weight and balance, craftsmanship, and intricacy of pattern.

Sterling stamped on the back of a piece means that it is made of 929 parts silver to 75 parts of an alloy. Since by law, all silver is equally pure in silver content, the differences in sterling flatware are in the sharpness and clarity of pattern and the size, weight and balance of each piece. Personal preference is a major criteria in selection.

Besides its intrinsic value as a precious metal, sterling does not wear out. And it is appropriate for any occasion, from casual family dining to formal entertaining. Unlike other possessions, frequent, even daily use, makes silver more lovely. It acquires a patina, the soft, lustrous finish created by the blending of many fine lines.

When washed by hand, be sure to dry sterling silver thoroughly. All metals, including stainless steel, spot if left to drain dry. If necessary, use a soft, well-lathered brush to clean ornate silver.

Sulphur in foods and air cause tarnish. It is best to keep tableware from prolonged contact with salt, eggs or anything rubber. Store in a silver chest or drawer lined with tarnish-preventing cloth or in roll-up cases made of this material. And to achieve a uniform patina, rotate the pieces used daily.

Gold flatware is becoming more and more popular. Gold flatware is achieved by a process called electroplating. A layer of gold is deposited electrolytically on a base metal. Unlike sterling which is silver through and through, the amount of gold deposited on a piece ranges from about 12K to 23K. The higher the carats, the better the quality. In addition, design and craftsmanship are important when choosing gold electroplate service. Vermeil is gold-plated sterling silver. Although gold is non-tarnishing, it is a soft metal and should be stored carefully to avoid deep scratches.

Similarly, silver plate describes an article made of non-precious metal coated with a layer of pure silver by the electroplating process. The base metal may be copper, brass, or nickel silver. Again, the care required is basically hot water washing and rinsing and careful drying. Polish as necessary and store just like sterling in order to prevent excessive tarnishing.

Both gold and silver plate will wear away with use. A discoloration, known as bronze tarnish, may appear on plated pieces where the gold or silver has worn away. This is an indication that replating by a jeweler is necessary.

Stainless steel varies widely in price and appearance. This in turn, depends upon the alloy used, how the piece is made, and the finishing. The percentages of chromium and nickel with the steel determine color and rust-resistance. High nickel content in the alloy gives a whiter color and will look new longer. A bluish tone means more chromium is used. Pieces stamped from a sheet of uniformly thick metal, will be less expensive than those that are graded in thickness.

Fine finishing and polishing is also a sign of good quality. In well-finished pieces, the pattern is clear and all parts are smooth. Being a hard metal, it is difficult to create intricate patterns without costly hand-finishing. But stainless is available in designs that range from copies of traditional silver to the most modern.

Though better able to withstand rough treatment than its more precious metal cousins, even stainless will discolor from prolonged contact with certain food, and will then need a treatment of metal polish. Otherwise, ordinary washing will maintain the shine of stainless steel.

Most sterling silver, gold and silver plate, and stainless steel tableware may be washed in the dishwasher. Hollow-handle knives are an exception. High temperatures may loosen the cement which holds them to the blade.

Belleville Sisterhood Views Campaign Film

The Sisterhood of Congregation Ahavath Achim of Belleville held a meeting on Tuesday, February 10, at 8:30 p.m. at the synagogue, 125 Academy Street.

A film, "For Us and Those Who Follow," produced under the auspices of the National Women's League for the Combined Campaign of the Jewish Theological Seminary Torah Fund and Residence Halls, was shown. The combined campaign aids The Rabbinical School and the projected Mathilda Schechter Residence Halls.

In the past, 100 per cent of the membership of the local sisterhood have contributed to the campaign. Mrs. George Sosin, Torah Fund chairman, who is presenting the program, is striving for the same participation this year.

Weight Watchers Will Reveal New Way To Keep Weight Off

Anyone can lose weight, as "Weight Watchers" long has demonstrated.

The trick, according to "WW" Area Director Cecile Fein, is not in losing weight, but in keeping it from returning.

Now the current issue of the official publication, News & Views for Members of "Weight Watchers" in New Jersey, reveals that there is a startling breakthrough in anti-obesity techniques.

"Soon You'll be Able to Eat Your Cake and Not Regain Your Weight," predicts this estimable publication in its current issue.

For two years, it reveals, "Weight Watchers" in New Jersey and nationally has been engaged in pilot studies to determine what can be done to help weight losers maintain their lost weight.

Coordinating this development for Weight Watchers International, Inc. has been nutritionist Fay Burnett, who among other outstanding posts, has been dietitian of the highly rated Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center of New York City.

As a result, "Weight Watchers" is on the eve of launching what is believed to be the most effective weight control technique ever offered the overweight.

The several hundred "Weight Watchers" staff members in its far-flung New Jersey operation are being organized to offer this widely hailed "Maintenance Program" to the overweight.

Details won't be released until next month. This is soon enough for the new technique to be available to anyone who joins "Weight Watchers" now. By the time a member loses her weight the new "Maintenance Program" will be available to her.

School PTA Will Sponsor Fashion Show

Spring comes to School Number One on Monday evening, February 16, at 8 p.m. via a spring fashion show. Mrs. Alfred Ogilvie, program chairman and her committee have invited Mrs. Louis Candura, representative of Fashion Frocks, Inc. to show their new spring fashions. Many of the PTA mothers will model the clothes that night.

Mrs. Candura will take orders after the show if anyone wishes to place them. Refreshments will be served following the meeting. There is no admission charge so join the school in welcoming spring.

Realtor President Says There Is Mortgage Cash

Arthur Emerson, Bell Supervisor Addresses OES

The use and development of the ocean's resources was discussed at a New Jersey Bell lecture program, "The Silent World," presented to the Belleville Chapter, O.E.S. at the Masonic Temple on Feb. 5.

Arthur Emerson, public relations supervisor for the telephone company, described some of man's advancing methods of tapping the ocean's vast supply of natural resources — foods, chemicals and minerals.

Mr. Emerson said the ocean is a "floating pharmacy," and showed color slides of sea creatures which provide the raw materials for drugs that may, in future years, revolutionize treatment of many human ills — tuberculosis, heart disease, ulcers and cancer — to name a few. These drugs must undergo years of rigorous testing before they will be available to the medical profession.

One new development discussed in the "Silent World" was the Bell System's 14-ton underwater sea plow, designed at Bell Telephone Laboratories, which enables telephone technicians to dig trenches and bury cable beneath the ocean's floor. Bell Labs is the research and development unit of the Bell System.

Mr. Emerson also highlighted the United States Navy's "Man in the Sea" experiments, in which aquanauts lived and worked for long periods of time on the ocean's floor.

These experiments were performed to test man's ability to live in an environment as hostile as space.

Rutgers Pharmacy Students To Speak At Association

Nine senior students at the Rutgers College of Pharmacy have been added to the cadre of lectures formed by the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association in its campaign against drug abuse and misuse.

Local Girl Scouts Tell Of Busy, Useful Year

The close of the calendar year brought to a close a busy half-year for members of Cadette Girl Scout Troop 950, Christ Church.

Serving as hostesses and helping in the cloakroom for the church's Fall Fair were Anita Corriveau, Diane Frazier, Susan Gasparini, Rosemarie Gomulinski, Carol Jackson, Lettie Leone, Ann Maloney, Janet Smith, Lois Smith, and Nancy Tripp.

Members of the troop also joined with other Belleville Troops to enjoy a morning of roller skating at Twin-City Arena. Approximately 500 registered girls and adults attended this event.

Rosemarie Gomulinski, Carol Jackson, Jeanne Kaeli, Kathy Janiec, Lettie Leone, Barbara Micchelli, Geraldine Palmisano, Carolyn Paterno, Donna Rainone, Margaret Ann Tufts, and Lauren Vitiello spent an afternoon at the Children's Shelter along with Miss Dorothy Minker, co-leader and Mrs. L. Paterno, troop committeewoman, helping the youngsters make marshmallow snowmen.

A second group including Lois Smith, Susan Gasparini, Anita Corriveau Elaine Drake, Roberta Harlow, Ann Maloney, Debbie Trignano, Francine Maratto, Diane Frazier, Nancy Tripp, Daphne Mair and Janet Smith under the leadership of Mrs. E. Cxypoliski and Mrs. E. Gasparini, troop committeewoman, returned to the Shelter to help make wooden dolls for the pre-school children. The girls especially enjoyed helping the children get dressed after their afternoon nap.

In hopes of bringing a little holiday cheer to the shut-ins at the Essex County Hospital, the entire troop spent an evening caroling through the corridors and speaking with the individual patients. The girls returned to Christ Church and were greeted by Mrs. Santa Claus and a party and gifts arranged for the troop by troop committee members, Mrs. E. Gasparini, Mrs. F. Tripp, Mrs. O. Paterno, Mrs. L. Leone, Mrs. R. Corriveau, Mrs. W. Kaeli, Mrs. R. Jackson, Mrs. L. Cardinale, and chairman Mrs. J. Janiec.

All three troops of Christ Church, Brownie Troop 711, Junior Troop 591 and Cadette Troop 950 made tray favors for Essex County Hospital for the month of January. This is a monthly project carried on by all Belleville Troops.

Roberta Harlow, Margaret Ann Tufts and Daphne Mair have been attending meetings at national headquarters in New York City as representatives from the Greater Essex County Council to the editorial advisory board of the American Girl Magazine. Enroute the girls visited St. Patrick's Cathedral and Rockefeller Center.

As the troop prepares for its social dependability challenge, the girls have been discussing good grooming and practicing hostess habits. One of the most exciting and informative evenings was a demonstration of hair styling and care given by Gabriel Micchelli, owner of the Micchelli Beauty Shop in Bloomfield. Models for the evening were Nancy Tripp, Susan Gasparini, Diane Frazier, and Lynn Cxypoliski from Senior Troop 981.

Attention is now directed to oregani, the Japanese art of paper folding as the girls prepare for the annual town-wide Scout-O-Rama to be held on March 14.

Troop 950 is under the leadership of Mrs. E. Cxypoliski, and Miss D. Minker.

COURT PLAYERS — "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" will be presented as a special feature by the Young People's Theatre this Sunday, 2:30 p.m., at the Montclair High School Auditorium. Above is a scene from the play featuring (l-r) Frances Ford, Christopher Allen, Harold Lubin and George McDaniel.

In "Summertime"

Nutley Resident Has Leading Role

Bruce Gandy, a new resident of Nutley, plays the leading role of the young man in the production of the play "Summertime" by Ron Cowen performed by the Studio Players, 14 Alvin Place in Upper Montclair.

Production dates are tomorrow and Saturday with an 8:40 p.m. curtain.

Gandy also appeared in the beginning of the season as one of the leads in the Studio Players' production of "King of Hearts". Last year he had featured roles in "My Three Angels", and "The Little Foxes", and has worked extensively with the Playhouse Laboratory Theatre.

He is a graduate of Montclair State College, majoring in drama, and has appeared there in many productions including roles in their Summer Theatre Workshop. For "Summertime" reservations, please call 744-9752. Tickets are $2.50, with a special price of $1.25 for students on the Friday night performances.

Jersey Symphony Set Tomorrow

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra resumes its Suburban Series at Montclair and Millburn High Schools tomorrow and Saturday.

Both concerts under the direction of Henry Lewis, Symphony Music director, will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Anthony diBonaventura, virtuoso pianist, will be the guest soloist with the orchestra. This is his second appearance with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. DiBonaventura thrilled a large audience with his performance at the Orrie de Nooyer Auditorium in Hackensack last February.

At the two concerts, diBonaventura will play Brahms' Concerto No. 2 in B-flat major. This piano concerto is considered the fruit of Brahms' maturity - sober, reflective and philosophical. It is a work of large structural dimensions; no other work in the literature of the concerto has greater scope and stature. DiBonaventura, who is recognized for a combination of technique as well as sensitivity interprets this concerto with the true understanding it demands.

Another highlight of the program will be the tone poem Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks by Richard Strauss. The source of Strauss' inspiration was the famous old German legend about an incorrigible rogue. A saucy theme in the French horn tells of his bent for mischief and is developed with considerable gusto.

An orchestral work, Concerto for Percussion and Orchestra written by William Kraft, will complete the program, which is identical for both concerts.

Upsala Chapel To Host Religious Rock Concert

A religious rock-in concert, designed to increase the student's awareness of the religious values in popular rock music, will take place in the chapel of Upsala College on Sunday night, February 22, at 8 o'clock.

Upsala Chaplain Stephen Johnson said the concert will mark a significant breakthrough in bringing rock music to the church.

"While folk music has often been integrated with religious programs, rarely has rock music been used in connection with established churches," Chaplain Johnson said. "With this program we are hoping to be pioneers in bringing rock and religion together."

The concert will be presented by a quartet known as "Shadofax" which name comes from the trilogy by J.R.R. Tolkien. Shadofax was a prize horse of a king and the quartet considers itself the prize rock group of Brooklyn. Comprising the quartet are Upsala student Wally Libero, a bass guitarist, of Brooklyn, and three students from Long Island University, Dave French of Baltimore, Md., and Stu Dayan of Brooklyn, guitarists, and Bill Heaney of Brooklyn, drummer.

Legion Urged To Support Dimes March

Joseph F. Ward, of Secaucus, state commander of the New Jersey American Legion, has announced that the first order of business for Legion Posts throughout the state this year is to add their support to the 1970 MARCH OF DIMES CAMPAIGN to combat birth defects which afflict one child in every sixteen born in the United States annually.

After personally meeting the 1970 National March of Dimes Child, eight-year old Marty Mim Mack, of Santa Clara, Calif., who represents the hundreds of thousands of youngsters in the United States crippled by birth defects, Commander Ward pointed out that the Legion's support of this year's Dimes Campaign is in keeping with the national Legion's Child Welfare Program, whose purposals to "add to the sum total of man's knowledge about children and youth through research and to make wider and more effective use of knowledge already possessed."

Legionnaires throughout the state are being urged to cooperate with their local March of Dimes committee by contributing to the campaign and lending assistance in the collection of funds for this national effort to finance medical care, scientific research and education programs in an effort to overcome the serious national problem of birth defects.

Koribanick Helps Insurance Agency Achieve Ranking

American United Life Insurance Company's general agency serving the local area, managed by Joseph F. Koribanick, 160 Rutgers Place, Nutley, achieved outstanding agency and individual sales results in 1969.

Koribanick's agency ranked tenth in sales volume and eleventh in premium volume during last year among American United Life's general agencies throughout the United States. Associated with the company since April, 1961, Koribanick is a past president of the General Agents Advisory Council.

Three members of Koribanick's agency, Michael Babayak, Jr., Dover; Leonard A. Clarizio, Parsippany; and Richard M. Tikijian, Woodridge, each sold in excess of $1 million of insurance in 1969.

Tikijian was named to the Century Club for having sold insurance to 100 or more clients during the year.

Koribanick's general agency offices are at One Route 46, Totowa.

Life becomes nothing more than a wrangle for those who think they must make friends and family do as they say.

DeCormier Song Group To Perform

The DeCormier Folk Singers will be sponsored as an extra event on Unity Institute's Concert Course on Sunday afternoon, March 1, at 3:30 p.m., in the Montclair High School auditorium.

The DeCormier Singers are an electrifying group, singing a program selected from the vast song repertoire of many lands and presented with all the verve and excitement of a theatrical entertainment. They are folk singers yet with trained voices. This idea is a rarity in itself.

Many folk singing groups of today try to make it mostly on showmanship. While the DeCormier group are certainly showmen, they are also musicians. They bring to the folk singing world a precision and exactness which most groups of this type ignore entirely.

Robert DeCormier, the founder and conductor, gained nation-wide fame through his work as conductor and arranger for the celebrated Harry Belafonte, both for his personal appearances and his recordings, and was the arranger and conductor for the Belafonte Folk Singers before he formed his own group.

DeCormier, a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music, is a creative and versatile musician. He has been represented as a composer both on and off Broadway. The DeCormier Singers bear the stamp of his musical good taste and theatrical know-how.

The only word for the DeCormier Singers is super-professional. The Folk Theatre will be presented at popular prices with special prices for students.

For further information and reservations, write or call Barbara Russell, director, Unity Institute, 67 Church Street - 744-6770.

American Cancer Society Aids In Television Show

"They don't sing, dance, or even act - but they soon will have their own television series." This statement refers to a five-part series entitled "Why You Smoke - A Self-Test" to be broadcast on NET television stations throughout the country Monday through Friday, March 2 to 6. Locally the program will be seen on Channel 13 at 7 p.m. on each of the five nights the series will be broadcast.

Vincent Strumolo, Frank McFadden, Get Cancer Posts

Belleville Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo and Frank McFadden of Fidelity Union Trust Company were re-elected to the board of managers of the Essex County Unit of the American Cancer Society at the Society's first general meeting of the New Year.

William Bowers of Livingston was re-elected as president of the unit, which has headquarters at 336 S. Harrison Street, East Orange.

Famed Valentino Stars For Essex Film Club Audience On Saturday

The idol of many moviegoers of 1920's, Rudolph Valentino, will be seen on the screen of the Essex Film Club at 263 Harrison Street in Nutley this Saturday and Sunday when the 1925 silent film, "THE EAGLE", will be un-reeled.

"THE EAGLE" shows Valentino as the legendary Russian Robin Hood, "Dubrovsky". The story was taken from the novel of the same name by Alexander Pushkin.

Valentino, however, finds time out from his many exciting adventures to have a romance with his leading lady, played by the glamorous Hungarian actress, Vilma Banky. Louise Dresser also given a memorable performance as Catherine the Great.

"THE EAGLE" was Valentino's next to last film before an untimely death. Stuart Oderman will play the accompanying piano score for this silent film.

On the same program is the 1919 silent film, produced by Thomas Ince, "DANGEROUS HOURS", with Lloyd Hughes, who was seen at the Club recently in the Colleen Moore, vehicle, "Ella Cinders". "DANGEROUS HOURS" was directed by Fred Niblo and was far ahead of its time in depicting Bolshevik infiltration into the labor movement. It was founded upon a story by Donn Byrne called "A Prodigal in Utopia" and was especially famous for its tremendous handling of the mob scenes.

The Saturday screening will begin at 8:30; Sunday film performance is at 7:30.

GUEST SOLOIST — Anthony di Bonaventura, young American pianist, will be the guest soloist tomorrow when the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra resumes its Suburban Series at Montclair High School.

First in Series

Young Pianist To Appear Locally with Symphony

Anthony di Bonaventura, the exciting young American pianist, will be the guest soloist when the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra resumes its Suburban Series at Montclair High School tomorrow.

The concert, under the direction of Henry Lewis, the symphony's music director, will begin at 8:30 p.m.

This performance will mark the second guest appearance of di Bonaventura with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. Just one year ago this month, di Bonaventura thrilled a large audience at the Orrie de Nooyer Auditorium playing the Rachmanioff Piano Concerto No. 3.

This talented musician gave his first concert at the age of four. By the age of six, he had won a scholarship to New York's Musical School Settlement, and at 13 appeared as a soloist with the New York Philharmonic. Di Bonaventura was a pupil of the great Russian piano teacher, Mme. Isabella Vengerova. Later, he was graduated from the Curtis Institute of Music, and during his two-year military service, he was a pianist with the U.S. Army Field Band.

Invited to London to play with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, this performance led to a recital tour of ten countries and engagements as soloist with six orchestras, including a five-city tour of Switzerland with the Vienna Symphony.

Acclaimed here and abroad for his mastery of the great names in music - Mozart, Beethoven, Chopin et al - di Bonaventura will play Brahms Concerto No. 2 in B-flat with New Jersey Symphony Orchestra tomorrow.

Tickets for this concert are still available, and may be purchased at Purdue's Radio Shop, 8 South Park Street, Montclair, or by calling the Symphony offices at 624-8203.
